A total of 169 students, 64 per cent of the seniors at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, will continue their education next year at colleges, nursing schools and institutions for secretarial and technical training. It was disclosed this week by Charlotte Singer, guidance director.

TRAFFIC HAZARDS at the intersection of S. Springfield ave. with Milltown and Shunpike roads could possibly be reduced by this plan for "channelization" of traffic prepared by Ensey R. Bennett, township traffic consultant. He adds that there are no present plans to put the new scheme into effect. It would make S. Springfield ave. a stop street entering the intersection from either direction, removing the stop signs now on the other streets. Cars entering on S. Springfield ave. would keep to the right of the projected raised concrete dividers, shown as shaded areas above. Cars turning right into S. Springfield ave. would keep to the right. Cars turning left into S. Springfield ave. would use the center channels through the dividers.

Dollars Saved By Making Sense On Traffic

Most pictures presented at Township Committee meetings are verbal ones, viewed through either rose-colored glasses or grim smoked lenses, depending on the vantage point.

When Ensey R. Bennett delivered an impromptu illustrated talk before the governing body last week, however, everything was in white and black — while chalk on a portable blackboard — and there was little room for partisan differences in perspective.

Bennett, municipal traffic consultant for the past five years, was replying to questions about possible dangers at the intersection of S. Springfield ave., Shunpike rd. and Milltown rd. between the Raymond Chisholm and Florence Gaudinier Schools.

FIRST AID SQUAD INVITES VISITORS TO SEE TRAINING

An open invitation to attend a regular training session of the Springfield First Aid Squad tonight at 8:30 at the Squad House, N. Trivett st., was extended by the squad this week as part of its current membership drive.

The invitation was directed particularly to residents who are "interested in the First Aid Squad but hesitant about signing a membership blank." Further information is available from the squad headquarters, DR 6-0582.

"We've been watching that specific situation for at least three years," Bennett comments. He based his presentation to the township fathers and the public last week on a possible plan for dealing with the area — which he and Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander had prepared several years ago.

"WE HAVE REFRAINED from taking action to change the traffic pattern there, however, because of the very low accident rate," Bennett explains. "We have had no more than perhaps five accidents per year at that intersection, all of them minor, even though there are frequent near misses."

"Perhaps the reason is that the intersection is obviously looks dangerous, and motorists use a good degree of caution. We are ready with our new plan, should it ever appear advisable."

Right now, Bennett prefers to wait, particularly with Highway Department bulldozers lurking at the figurative outskirts of town, ready to plow in with Rts. 78 and 24. He expects the new superhighways to bring about some major changes in local traffic patterns, which must be considered before changing any regulations.

Bennett's degree of preparedness on this one trouble spot is not at all surprising, at least to him. "We have statistics on every intersection or other spot where accidents have occurred in Springfield," he adds.

"If the number at any one spot is sufficient to become significant, we then review and examine the details of each accident to determine if there is a pattern. Then we can do something to change the pattern."

AS AN EXAMPLE, he cites the traffic light at Hillside and South Springfield avenues, installed some five years ago. This changed the pattern from right-angle to rear-end collisions, which might have been expected — but at least the rear-end crashes are usually less serious.

At the present time, Bennett goes on to say, he knows of no intersections in town where traffic lights would be of benefit.

One change he has instituted in several places is from the conventional stop signs to those saying "Yield Right of Way." These inspire much the same caution in drivers, he notes, but do not impede the Susanne C. Perker of Springfield is one of the 10 finalists who will compete for the title of Miss Union County Saturday at 8 p.m. at Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School. The contest is sponsored by the Fanwood-Scotch Plains Jaycees.

Judging will be on the basis of talent as well as appearance, according to Peter B. Robinson, general chairman. He added, "Any one of the contestants has the potential to capture the Miss New Jersey title in June and to represent the county and state ably in the Miss America competition in September."

Miss Perker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Perker of 156 Shunpike rd. A senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, she is vice-president of the Student Council and

Post Office Lists Quarter-Century Of Home Delivery

Home-mail deliveries were established 25 years ago this week in Springfield. Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio stated that on May 1, 1940, the Post-Office Department established city delivery service at the Springfield post office.

The first letter carrier appointed at this post office was Benjamin Denman, who still is delivering mail to local patrons. When delivery service was established, Denman was a substitute clerk at the Springfield post office, and he accepted the regular position of letter-carrier serving approximately 600 deliveries at that time.

Denman continues to serve the residents of Springfield in the area of lower Morris ave., Meisel ave., Linden ave. and South Maple ave.

The growth of Springfield is shown by the increase in the number of letter carriers required to provide delivery of mail, stated the postmaster.

Effective May 1, 1940, one regular letter carrier was authorized with the establishment of the delivery service. Within one year, this was increased to three mailmen.

Harold Ackerman of 121 Laurel dr., Springfield, was nominated by Gov. Richard J. Hughes this week to serve as a judge of the Union County District Court.

Survey Of Town Shows 84 Homes Building, Starting

Springfield currently has 84 houses in construction or about to start, as well as several commercial and industrial buildings going up. The figure is approximately the same as it has been in the spring for the past four years, according to Otto Fessler, municipal building inspector.

The Rosewood Realty Co. is constructing 23 homes on the west side of Mountain ave. between Shunpike rd. and Henschaw ave. Prices for these homes are in the vicinity of $30,000.

The only other development expected in the immediate future in the below-the-hilltop area of the township is a group of seven houses to be constructed off Meisel ave., near S. Springfield ave. An application for this project has been granted preliminary approval by the Planning Board and is awaiting final approval.

Work is continuing on the Clearview Estates project on Rolling Rock rd., according to the building inspector. The project, in both Springfield and Mountaintop, is half-way up the mountain, between Birn Hill circle and the Ballistol Top area.

When the development is completed, there will be 35 homes in the Springfield section. Prices are believed to range from $35,000 to $50,000.

Some 15 homes are now under construction in the Ballistol Top section, Fessler stated. These are being built by the Westmar Realty Co. and by other builders for families which have purchased individual lots. Prices here, too, are estimated to run from $35,000 to $50,000.

The only other houses for which permits have been granted, the building inspector added, are two on Tooker ave. and two on Mountain ave. at Shunpike rd.

Office Buildings

A permit has just been issued for an office building on Millburn ave., and work is being completed on another office building at the opposite end of the township. This is on Mountain ave., opposite Kipling ave.

Extensive renovations are under way at the former Garden of Eden on Rt. 22. The establishment will be reopened by

Traffic Expert Plans For Future Years

 The two worst spots in town were for traffic at the intersections of Morris ave with Main st. and Springfield ave, Bennett says.

One improvement which could be of great value, he states, would be to widen the approaches to the intersection of Mountain ave. and Shunpike rd. to provide for double lanes in each direction.

"THIS WOULD facilitate movement of through traffic past cars waiting to make left turns," Bennett says. He notes that he has made similar changes on Mountain ave. at the intersection with Henahaw and S. Springfield avenues and at the entrance to the Gen. Greene shopping center, with satisfactory results.

"We also have under consideration," he discloses, "introduction of realistic speed limits on certain streets — limits which have been determined through the joint efforts of township and state officials." These would apply principally to portions of "Meisel," S. Springfield and Mountain avenues.

Although Bennett declines to name a specific "realistic" speed limit, he says that some drivers would jump the starting gun, he says they are normally determined "from the actual driving characteristics of people using the roads under study."

The principle is to enforce the speed limit actually observed by 85 percent of the drivers. It is recognized nationally that only 15 percent of the drivers exceed the appropriate speed limits, and it is well within police responsibility to apprehend irresponsible and immature drivers of all ages, who fall into that category.

The traffic consultant goes on to say that his "pet peeve" is an "over-emphasis by experts and agencies on elaborate controls and regulations to avoid accidents. The real crux of the problem lies in teaching every driver to utilize his best judgment at all times. For example, we should not always be sure that having the right of way is a guarantee of our own safety."

"BOTH POLICE CHIEF Seander and I have seldom found an accident which is not attributable at least in some degree to poor judgment on the part of one or more drivers."

Besides his work in planning or reducing traffic hazards, Bennett also serves as consultant to the Township Committee, Board of Adjustment and Planning Board on all zoning matters which might affect traffic patterns.

He checks all plans for new construction to assure compliance with established standards for adequacy of parking facilities, internal circulation, manner of ingress and egress and ways in which the traffic generated will affect adjacent streets.

"Springfield is close to being a model community in traffic aspects," Bennett comments. "It was the first in the state to consolidate all of its traffic regulations into the model form recommended by the state. This was my first project here five years ago, and the example is now being followed elsewhere."

"A good example of foresightedness by past and present administrations is the retention of a traffic consultant. This not only saves time in dealing with problems but also makes proper solutions more likely."

"Usually only the larger cities have professional advice on these matters. Not many smaller communities realize the value of part-time assistance. The size of a community does not lessen the seriousness of its traffic problems."

Construction is also well under way for a warehouse and office building for Barwise, Inc. on Fadem rd.

Tri-County Council To Present Award In Field Of Traffic Safety

The annual safety award of the Essex - Union - Somerset Traffic Safety Council will be presented at a dinner to be held in September, according to Robert G. Plane, Springfield police commissioner and chairman of the award committee.

Plane said further details of the dinner will be announced at a later date but that the winner will be announced shortly. He pointed out that his committee has been sifting through a list of available candidates in order to find one who has done the most for highway safety in the state over a long period of time.

Plane's announcement was made at the Safety Council's monthly meeting held last week in the office of Mayor Thomas Dunn of Elizabeth.

At the same meeting, Thaddeus F. Gora, president of the Elizabeth City Council, was elected secretary of the Safety Council. Mayor Alexander Wright of Linden was elected to the board of directors, and Mayor Dunn accepted appointment to the task force headed by Mayor Hugh Addonizio of Newark to wrestle with the problems of the highway complex in the Newark Airport area.

The Safety Council discussed the question of dividers on Routes 1 and 9 and whether Routes 1 and 9 will be affected, the tri-county unit stated. A letter has been sent to Gov. Richard J. Hughes asking for clarification, but as yet there has been no reply.

Police Inspector Kenneth Melchior of Newark said that the Newark Police Department has asked for 60 state troopers to patrol the Newark Airport area, as suggested by the safety council.

The safety council plans to embark immediately upon a program to secure more dividers at the Routes 1 and 9 viaducts and to have the state adopt measures to provide greater protection from head-on collisions.

However, there is now some confusion as to when construction will begin, whether it will be adequate to meet the need and whether Routes 1 and 9 will be affected, the tri-county unit stated. A letter has been sent to Gov. Richard J. Hughes asking for clarification, but as yet there has been no reply.

Police Inspector Kenneth Melchior of Newark said that the Newark Police Department

LEADER PROFILE

MRS. JOHN SMITH

Mrs. John (Marie) Smith, Democratic candidate for tax collector in Springfield, voiced an opinion the other day as to whether or not a woman can be qualified to assume the duties of a tax collector.

"I don't think," she said, "the job of tax collection is specifically for any man or any woman. It is for the person best qualified to do the job."

And as the Democratic candidate for tax collector, Mrs. Smith is confident that she is best qualified to do the job. Her confidence, she says with feminine modesty, stems from the fact that in a tax collector's office, a person "has to be able to do everything."

Mrs. Smith, who at the present time is deputy tax collector, explained that she has worked under four tax collectors in her time, and has been in the tax collector's office, a person "has to be able to do the job for 26 years... and who trained me... and who taught me a great deal. He was just wonderful. In a very short time, he became a proficient teacher for me. What to me was all new and exciting — to him was more routine.

"ACTUALLY," Mrs. Smith said, "in our office you have to be able to do everything... not just specialize in one job. You have to be able to pitch in and help in any emergency or crisis."

"And I personally believe that it's easier for a woman to sit down and work the various machines, or collect money, than it is for a man. I also think everyone should be able to type... even if it's through the hunt and peck system. Mr. Huff typed... and he typed very well indeed."

"Right now," she said, "I'm the only one in the office working the bookkeeping machine. Working typewriters and bookkeeping machines is really cut out for women rather than men. A girl or a woman would take to it more than a man might."

"A man would probably prefer an executive position — but in our office, there is no room for executives — not unless we had more help."

Fred Braun, who is the present tax collector, was discussing the possibility of Mrs. Smith's becoming Springfield's new tax collector in a recent chat in the office, she recalls.

"WE WERE JUST tossing the idea around, talking about it some time ago," she noted, "and I said, 'If I had the backing of the party, I might consider running.' I never realizing that it would materialize."

"Some time later, when the opportunity did come up, I really became excited about it. I said to myself, 'Now's my chance. It's now or never. I might as well throw my hat into the ring and take my chances.'"

"Besides," she continued, "I have been in other tax offices in various cities here in New Jersey, and many of them have women tax collectors."

"Other than the official title, I perform all the duties of a tax collector now," she said. "I do tax researching, take in money, run the bookkeeping machines, make out the forms... just about everything."

Mrs. Smith said that she wasn't sure whether or not she would have to run against her boss. "He has to win in the primaries first," she said.

MRS. SMITH, who was born in Newark, was educated at Harrington High School there, Essex Junior College, and the former Newark State Teachers College, where she majored in business administration.

"I didn't quite finish the two years... because I was attending night classes and also working for Dan and Bradstreet as a clerk at the time." She lived in Irvington for a time, and then went to work for Philip H. Harrison and Co. in Newark. "They are general electric distributors."

She married John Smith in 1945 in Newark. "He was in business for himself at the time — in the restaurant and tavern business she recalled. "Now he's in the furniture business. He is assistant manager of the Huffman and Boyle furniture store in Springfield."

During her early years of marriage, Mrs. Smith "went back and helped out at the Harrison Co. on occasion, and also worked part time as a receptionist with the Prudential Insurance Co. in Newark."

The Smiths moved to Springfield in 1950. They have two daughters, Jacqueline, 17, a senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and Charlene, 12, a seventh-grade pupil in St. James School. "They are both delighted with my candidacy," she explained.

"IN THE VERY BEGINNING" Mrs. Smith said, "our county commissioner was (Continued on Page 5)

THE PUBLIC COLLEGE CRUSH — I

College Shortage 'Most Shocking Scandal'

EDITOR'S NOTE: New Jersey's public colleges have sent 25,000 letters of rejection to qualified high school seniors seeking admission in September. This six-part series from the New Jersey Education Assn. discusses the space crisis at the public colleges.

New Jersey's most shocking scandal has broken into the open — failure of the State to take care of its able young people. The public colleges have sent over 25,000 rejections to New Jersey youngsters seeking admission in September.

Over 15,000 of the rejections have come from the six State Colleges, now inadequate to accommodate even the major graduates of New Jersey's high schools.

Hutgers — the State University rejected about 6,500 applicants, 5,600 of whom were fully qualified and would have been admitted were there room. The Newark College of Engineering, the other college in New Jersey heavily subsidized by the State, rejected 847.

At the six State Colleges — Glassboro, Trenton, Newark, Montclair, Jersey City and Paterson S. C. — the admissions story this year was: "You're in; you're out; you're out. You're in; you're out; you're out." Although the applicants were the finest ever to seek entrance, the State Colleges had classroom space for only one of every three.

Among those turned away were high school valedictorians and many others of high academic standing, glowing recommended by their teachers, counselors and administrators.

Report
From Trenton
by State Senator Nelson F. Stamler (R-N.J.)

Through research, experimentation and patience, man has met many of the world's most feared diseases head-on in open combat — and has won.

Many killers of past centuries and even past decades have been reduced to minor threats and are now treated as matter-of-factly as the common cold. But as the way with this world of ours, there is still a great deal to be done. There are still many mysterious illnesses taking their toll as science searches for the answers that will eliminate them.

Some of these diseases strike often; others are rare, but all must be conquered as they are discovered.

While a state legislature cannot take an active part in direct scientific experimentation and cure, it can stand by to give whatever aid is needed to the medical profession in its fight against sickness. It can also make certain that the public will benefit immediately from whatever legitimate discoveries are made.

Such was the case last year when a number of legislators in Trenton sponsored a bill that would require the testing of newborn children for the purpose of early detection of phenylketonuria, or PKU for short, an inherited disease of newborn babies that has been found to be more widespread in this country than first believed.

In a 28-state study in 1962-63, 400,000 infants were tested for PKU in 505 hospitals. One case in every 10,000 births was found.

It had previously been estimated that the disease occurred once in every 40,000 births. Fortunately, PKU is a rare disease. According to published reports, it can be found by a simple test within a few days of birth, the damaging effects of PKU — mental retardation — can be completely prevented. Reports continue that if the disease is detected the child can then be fed a special diet which does not contain the chemical phenylalanine. As the child grows, this diet may be gradually modified, and in a few years, he can eat as any other normal child.

All things being considered, the above test is a relatively easy way of preventing some 400 cases of mental retardation in the United States each year. Thus far, however, only New York, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Louisiana and New Jersey have passed laws requiring PKU tests. Illinois, Oregon and Michigan have enacted legislation recommending the testing as a general policy. In other states some hospitals are testing even though there is no law yet requiring them to do so.

The cost can never be too great, nor the time too demanding even if only one child each year is spared the damaging effects of PKU in New Jersey because of the required testing demanded by the state legislature.

This is an example of your state government in action that I am proud to report upon. It is the sort of example you as citizens should be proud to hear of.

Police Questioning On Series Of Thefts

Springfield police are continuing to question several juveniles and adults in an attempt to clear up a long list of recent burglaries, thefts and acts of vandalism in various parts of town.

Police first envisioned a break in the cases when Ronald Brooks, 10, of 28 Giles st., Springfield, allegedly provided leads to several local thefts.

Brooks was first questioned by Springfield police after he was charged by Roselle police with armed robbery following a $100 holdup last week of Kegan's Liquor and delicatessen store at 100 Amsterdam near Roselle.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Letters to the Editor must be submitted no later than Monday of the week they are to appear. They should not exceed 300 words in length. All letters must be signed. Writers' names will not be printed unless the letter is of political nature. Names will be withheld upon request from non-political letters. The Editor reserves the right to edit or reject any letter.

ON POLITICS

Wasn't it Carmine DeSapio who said politics is "divine madness"? In any case, I personally heard a prominent judge say: "There are no friends in politics," and I am almost ready to believe it. I wish someone would tell me that I am wrong on that point.

I always try to do what is right. Long-term friendships are based on truth. It is not what the Springfield GOP clique did to me and others, but the way they went about it.

The first time, last October, it might have been a mistake, but after the manner in which they changed their slogans it must be intentional. Twice within seven months they have resorted to patterns of subterfuge — attempts to change, invalidate or block some aspect of my honest candidacy for Township Committeeman. I am a lifelong Republican, but the Democrats have never treated me anything like that.

I may not be willing to let the GOP clique dictate to me, but I believe I can do a good, forthright job as a Township Committeeman. If one can't live in an open manner, then there is no point in living at all.

To me, being a public official is the most sacred trust possible for mankind, and petty party politics is not about to change my high moral standards.

I am sorry I had to change my slogan to what it is now on the township level, but I was forced into it by machinations of the clique and it serves to alert the people of Springfield that something is going on out there. I am proud to say that I did maintain my other slogan as originally filed.

Voter Opinion Still Important, McDonough Tells County PTAs

Abstinence from participation in public life is the right of each citizen, but certain related obligations cannot be bypassed, Assemblyman Peter J. McDonough of Plainfield is scheduled to tell the Union County Council of PTAs tonight at Chi Am Cha-teau, Mountainside. McDonough is to discuss the PTA objective of "adequate laws for the care and protection of children."

"I respect the wish of any citizen not to work directly in politics, but still each has a vested interest and personal responsibility to let his thoughts be known to the lawmaker," he said in a speech prepared for delivery tonight. "Each opinion, as each vote, is important and may wield an influence far beyond the realization of the individual expressing it. Letters and public utterances guide and influence the course of any measure through the Legislature.

"Nothing is as disheartening to the legislator as to be told later by someone 'I didn't like your vote on that matter.' A letter or a telegram, or a telephone call might have changed the lawmaker's own view."

Assemblyman McDonough assured the PTA group he has no magic device, no formula for writing to legislators. He did counsel citizens to be direct and simple. "Write it. Say something. Ask a question if you want to be sure of an answer."

McDonough reminded the meeting of the election of President Rutherford B. Hayes over Samuel J. Tilden in 1876 by one electoral vote, in recent years, elections in South Plainfield and Linden, for instance, were decided by the narrowest of margins. These examples dispel the myth "my vote doesn't count, my voice won't be heard."

McDonough is chairman of the commission appointed to study the student drop-out problem in public schools of New Jersey. He is also chairman of the education committee of the Assembly.

Mrs. William Oplinger, of Elizabeth, is to preside at the business meeting, at which time the following officers are expected to be elected for a two-year term:

For And About Teens: 'Heavy' Girl Doubts Compliments

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I have a problem. I am heavy and my father and mother tease me about this very much. And when a boy tells me that I am cute, I don't believe him. Do you think the boy tells me this to be nice, or do you believe he really thinks that I am cute?"

OUR REPLY: It is more than likely that your parents tease you in a good-natured manner and you are not so heavy as you believe. If you are overweight, you can do two things about it. You can let your parents know that it disturbs you to be teased if this is the case—and you can do something to lose some weight. The second item should also be discussed with your parents. If they believe you should lose some weight they will say so and will see that you lose it properly.

Stop-and-think about it for a moment and you will realize that a boy has no real reason to compliment you "just to be nice," unless he compliments you one moment and then a second later asks you to help him with an arithmetic problem or lend him a dime until tomorrow. Don't be self-conscious about being heavy, or about receiving compliments. Do be realistic. If you have a tendency to be heavy, you may need diet instructions from the family physician to avoid having a serious weight problem later on. Be realistic, too, in the matter of compliments and don't ask yourself why the compliment was offered.

Over 42 Percent Go On To College After Graduation

A record-breaking total of 28,825 New Jersey public high school graduates went on to college last fall, the State Department of Education announced. This is an increase of 33 percent over the 21,638 who entered college in 1963, a study conducted by the Office of Secondary Education revealed. The Department notes that more than 42 percent of the 68,303 students in the 1964 graduating class pursued a college education. In 1963, slightly over 39 percent of the 53,056 graduates went on to college. Other facts disclosed by the study: Nearly 11 percent of last year's class continued their education in other post-high school institutions. In 1963, the figure was just under 10 percent. Slightly more than 36 percent of the 1964 graduates entered the labor market directly from school—about the same percentage as the year before. The number of students entering national service in 1964 decreased by one percentage point, while those "not in school or employed" went from more than three percent of the total to one-tenth of one percent.

E. H. Sargent Co. Receives Award

The 1965 Scientific Apparatus Makers Award, one of the highest honors in the field of scientific instrumentation, was presented to Thomas M. Mints Sr., chairman of the board of E. H. Sargent and Company, a Chicago-based manufacturer with a division in Springfield. The company has been manufacturing instruments and chemicals for 113 years.

An executive with Sargent for 42 years and known internationally for his knowledge of instruments, Mints was cited for "highest achievement in developing, research, education, health and defense."

Court Tells Trio To Avoid Eatery After Fight Case

Three men who pleaded guilty Monday night to creating a disturbance April 23 at the White Diamond diner were issued warnings by Magistrate Max Sherman to stay away from the Springfield eating place in the future.

To back up his warnings, Sherman gave each of the men a 10-day suspended sentence. He said the sentences would be enforced should they be seen either at that diner or at Rene's Diner, located just across Morris ave. from the White Diamond.

Two other men, allegedly involved in the same disturbance, had preliminary hearings postponed at the request of counsel. Charges against them were listed as assault and battery on a police officer and on the manager of the White Diamond.

The first three men were identified as Albert J. Oldroyd, 22, and Robert G. Della, 22, both of Chatham, and John A. Scott, 22, of New Providence. In addition to receiving suspended sentences, Oldroyd was fined $40 and Della and Scott, $25 each.

Charged with assaulting off-duty Milburn Patrolman John Goddard and the manager of the White Diamond, Darius A. McGahee, were John Della, 22, and Richard Woodward, 22, both of New Providence. They were alleged to have struck Goddard and McGahee after they and the other three men were asked to leave the diner.

School Registration Urged For Retarded

Mentally retarded youngsters who will be five years old by the fall will be registered with the local public school, states Joseph D. Ruddle, executive director, Union County Unit, New Jersey Association for Retarded Children.

He points out that state law calls for mandatory placement in appropriate classes of all educable and trainable retarded youngsters between the ages of five and 20. Some schools have made it a practice not to accept retarded children below the age of 7, says Ruddle, but such cases are decreasing as more schools observe the Board of Education Act passed in 1954.

"Forward-looking school superintendents, principals, school psychologists and school boards have helped blaze a trail which recognizes the ability of the retarded child to learn and profit from education. Five out of six retarded children will grow up to become at least partially self-sufficient citizens," Ruddle states.

He urges parents of retarded children to contact the principal of the elementary school the child would attend if he or she were normal. "You may be referred by the principal to the supervisor of special education who will make every effort to advise you about your child's education," he goes on to say.

Further information can be obtained from the County Unit at 562 Boulevard, Kenilworth, 276-6792.

The State Highway Department announced today that 40 percent of the new Interstate System in New Jersey has been opened to traffic. The remaining portions of the Interstate System should be completed before the October 1972 deadline set by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

A quarterly review shows that approximately 40 percent of the total mileage is open to traffic. 11 percent is under construction, final construction drawings and right-of-way acquisition are underway on another 31 percent and the engineering studies required for public hearings are underway on the remaining 18 percent of the system.

Mileage totals in the review show 142.3 miles open, 39.4 miles under construction, 116.1 miles involved in plan drafting and right-of-way acquisition and 89.5 miles under active preliminary study.

The department reports it has established a "critical path" schedule using electronic computers which take into account all of the hundreds of variables in timing and cost of carrying out the interstate highway work which still lies ahead.

Two of the interstate roads will pass through this area. Route 28 and Route 278. Route 28 is a $401 million freeway that has a total length of 89.4 miles between the Pennsylvania State Line near Phillipsburg and the New York State Line at the Holland Tunnel. Route 278 is an $84 million connecting route of nine miles proposed between Goethals Bridge in Elizabeth and Route 78 in Springfield.

A review of the status of Interstate Route 78 shows that 38 percent of the total mileage is open, another 20 percent is under construction, final engineering for right-of-way acquisition is underway on another 40 percent and the remaining four percent has had preliminary study in preparation for a public hearing.

A review of Route 278 shows that 10 percent of its length is open, 12 percent is in advanced engineering, and eight to ten percent is in acquisition stages. The remaining 78 percent is the subject of intensive alignment studies currently underway.

Other interstate roads include Route 76, a 6.3 mile long $12 million section in Camden County; Route 80, a $117 million freeway that covers 66.4 miles between the Delaware Water Gap and Teaneck; Route 95, a $134 million road covering 73.4 miles between the Scudder Falls Bridge near Trenton and the George Washington Bridge.

Also, Route 280, a $143 million connecting route of 18 miles that will tie Route 80 in Parippany-Troy Hills Township with Route 95 in Kearny. Route 287, 54.8 miles of road estimated to cost $102 million and running between Route 95 in South Bound Brook to West Mahwah; Route 295, a $182 million project 72.3 miles in length running between Deepwater in Salem County and Route 95 in Hopewell Township.

Routes 495 and 474, which total 4.7 miles, are open to traffic for their entire length.

Council Backs Out Of CUE Support

The Day Session Student Council of Union Junior College, Cranford, has withdrawn its support of and membership in C. U. E. (Committee for Undergraduate Education.) It was announced this week by Jerry Jones, president.

Jones said the student government at Union Junior College joined CUE with the understanding that its major aim would be better educational facilities for undergraduate students in all colleges and universities, public and private in New Jersey.

"It is our view that CUE's major goal is not a drive for better educational facilities on all our campuses, but just another attempt to arouse interest in a broad-based tax in New Jersey. Our Student Council feels that the fight over the tax issue will overshadow the push for better undergraduate education, and, moreover, would repulse the support needed for this vital project," Jones said.

History, Future Plans Of Cerebral Palsy Group Told

The events that triggered the end of neglect and section for the victims of cerebral palsy are highlighted in the 15th annual report just issued by United Cerebral Palsy Association, Inc., the nation's fifth ranking voluntary health organization.

According to the anniversary report, recognition of cerebral palsy as a major health problem calling for medical treatment resulted from the attention aroused by a polio flare-up in 1916, which drove parents of afflicted children to doctor's offices for a diagnosis. A survey that revealed that there were more than one-half million victims in this country, and the subsequent discovery that not all those with cerebral palsy were mentally defective.

Income of $11,200,000 was raised by the organization nationally through its 324 affiliates last year, according to the report.

Julius R. Pollatschek of Union, president of the Cerebral Palsy League of Union County, said that the funds raised will enable the agency to give increased emphasis to the field of prevention during the coming year.

Earlier identification of in-

Charge Koenig With 2 Holdups

A 40-year-old Union man was arrested last Friday and charged with armed holdups at 7-11 food stores in Union and Springfield.

Lawrence Koenig, who Union police said had roomed in town for less than a year, was arrested last Friday by Union detectives Joseph Spies and Lt. Herbert Trabe Jr. and charged with taking $380 at gunpoint from the manager of the 7-11 store on Stuyvesant ave. on March 23. Union magistrate Daniel G. Coyne held Koenig for action of the grand jury and committed him to the county jail.

After being questioned by Springfield police, Koenig was also charged with the April 10 armed holdup of the 7-11 store on Morris ave., Springfield. Police said $150 was taken during that holdup.

It was announced that membership in the assembly will be comprised of fourth degree members of St. Theresa's Council No. 4186, Kenilworth; Springfield Council No. 5580, Union Council No. 4504; Fr. fants born with brain damage will also be stressed in prevention programs, Pollatschek said. "If we can identify such children at an earlier age and learn more about their specific disabilities, we can minimize much of the severe disabling effects that are identified later in life."

Another area of major concern to UCPA is long-term care. Pollatschek said that the organization is actively gathering information on how long-term care is being provided and what patterns of organization, facilities, staffing and financing can be worked out.

UCPA, organized in 1949, points out in its report that cerebral palsy is centuries old and that because of prejudice and ignorance its victims were kept in institutions for years and regarded as hopeless.

The polio epidemic of 1916 brought many of these children to the attention of doctors because parents believed that their children were stricken with infantile paralysis. Although they were turned away, parents began to demand information and medical help for their child's condition.

What helped to change the medical profession were studies that revealed the high incidence of cerebral palsy in the population, underscoring the fact that it was not an isolated phenomenon. A few pioneers began to work with the disabled children and their findings that all cerebral palsy victims were not mentally defective encouraged the medical community to direct their attention to programs of treatment, Pollatschuk said. Although the public knew virtually nothing about the condition when the first fundraising campaign was launched in 1950, it contributed over one million dollars helping to establish treatment clinics, special education programs and vocational guidance programs. Today, some 52 community services are available to the handicapped and their families and more than $7,000,000 has been invested by UCPA in research programs that have yielded much information on the prevention and detection of cerebral palsy and related disorders, he said.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Mary Armstrong, County Home Agent

MAPLE SYRUP, HONEY, MOLASSES OFFER SWEET VARIETY

Those who depend always on plain white sugar for sweetening in foods miss pleasant flavor variety. They also lose out on some other qualities such as desirable minerals in molasses and the moisture holding factor of honey in baked goods. Molasses is a staple item all year round, but both maple syrup and honey deserve special attention at certain times of the year. Right now while both these products are in the news, smart housewives will lay in a supply. Molasses at most seasons provides flavor interest at thrifty prices.

The fragrance of early spring blossoms drawing honey bees to their appointed task reminds us of the good supplies of honey on hand from last year's exceptionally plentiful production. This is a time to be generous in using honey in baked goods; as toppings for desserts; as a spread for French toast, pancakes and waffles; in honey ambrosia drinks; for glazing a baked ham; and in salad dressings, or other preparations.

Honey devotees are about equally divided in their preference for light and dark honey. The flowers that provide nectar for the bees to make honey affect the flavor, aroma and color of the product. Sweet clover honey is one of the mildest and lightest honeys and buckwheat honey probably the strongest flavored and darkest table honey. Distinctively flavored honeys also come from orange blossoms and other trees and bush flowers. But much honey in today's market is a blend of floral types resulting in more uniformity of color and flavor.

Honey that has been graded for quality carries a grade designation on the label. Top U.S. Department of Agriculture grade for extracted honey—the most commonly sold honey in the country—is U.S. Grade A or U.S. Fancy. Next is U.S. Grade B or U.S. Choice. The most important factors in grading honey—honey are flavor and clarity.

Honey gives good-bread-making qualities—to hot breads and cakes. The following substitutions suggestions for sugar in recipes may be helpful: If a recipe calls for 1/2 cup sugar or less, you can omit the sugar and use an equal amount of honey in its place. In recipes calling for one or more cups of sugar, omit the sugar and use the same amount of honey, but reduce the amount of liquid called for by 1/4 cup. Add a little extra salt to bring out the sweetness of the honey and to prevent over-proofing. Lower baking temperature by 25 degrees.

around, it is produced only in the spring, and this year prospects are for a good supply. Maple syrup is expensive to produce. But new methods to gather and process sap have helped to produce a better syrup at less cost. For example, plastic pipelines collecting sap from several trees have replaced wooden buckets in some areas.

According to law in New York, top maple syrup products are marked pure. Color is an important factor in grading and classifying maple syrup. Flaying by grade helps to get the type of syrup desired. Top grade syrup, such as New York Fancy or No. 1, is light amber in color and mild in flavor.

WE DO THE REST!

Ask Amy
BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
We have a dog, a common, ordinary mutt, that we love very much. He is not permitted anywhere in the house except the playroom or the kitchen. We have some friends who also have a dog, a poodle with a yard-long pedigree. When they visit us, they are usually accompanied by the dog and they permit it to have the run of OUR house. My son resents this very much, and so do we, but I hate to hurt the feelings of my friends. But one day, after their dog wet my rug, I told them that they would have to keep it in the kitchen or playroom. It didn't help. Their feelings weren't hurt nor do they control their dog when they visit us.

I can feel friction in our house everytime they leave. My little boy starts to cry because their dog wanders in all the rooms and ours cannot. My husband complains about my cleaning up after their dog. We don't think it's worth having their company if it is going to cause this contention in our home.

Amy, Please tell us what is the right thing to do?

Mr. & Mrs. & Son
Dear Mr. & Mrs. & Son:
In my opinion, friends who go visiting with their pets have a nerve and those who ignore the rules and regulations of the house are even surlier. Ask them to leave their dog at home. If they don't have the courtesy to respect your wishes, I don't think it's worth having their company, either.

Dear Amy:
I am a sponsor (or God-mother) to a boy who is going to be 19 this month. He will graduate in June.
I have given him a gift for his birthday up to his eighteenth and also a Christmas gift every year including last year. I am now wondering when does the gift-giving stop?
I have children of my own, and as they are getting older, they need so many things that sometimes I feel I can't afford these extra gifts.
This young boy was confirmed at age 14 (I gave him a cash gift at that time), and someone once told me the gift-giving stopped after the person was confirmed.

Your opinion on the above matter, please?
Mrs. R. W.
Dear Mrs. R. W.:
You were never obligated to give the young man gifts. The only gift expected from you was at his birth. Godparents are to oversee the spiritual education of the godchild up to his confirmation. At this time in his life, remain his friend, confidant and advisor.

Dear Amy:
For some time now when my phone rings and I answer it, no one is on the other end, and honestly, I'm sick and tired of it. There must be an adult some where in my vicinity who is sick in the head.
This happens mostly during the day or late in the evening. At first I thought it was some child's prank, but at this point, I know better. Children are either in school or in bed at these hours.
The telephone company cannot help me. We do not want an unlimited number for a good reason. Is there some other way I could stop these very annoying disturbances?
High Pressure
Dear High:
Yes, You can request the telephone company to give you a new number.

Dear Amy:
I am writing to ask if there are any clubs for English "sway-brides." I am from England and would love to meet some girls from home.
Mrs. D. M. (Roselle)

Dear Mrs. D. M.:
I haven't heard the term "sway bride" since the 40's, nor do I know of any such clubs. However, if the readers from Roselle will inform me, I'll inform you.

SUMMER PLANS
What must you consider in order to make the most of a summer? Look over the various possibilities for summer activities and make a choice among them. Perhaps you have not felt like planning because of the cool weather, but don't delay—summer is almost here.

The choice is wide: from getting a sun-ban in the back yard to foreign travel, from cultivating new friends to strengthening old friendships, from improving skills already possessed to learning something new that you've always wanted to know how to do. The first step toward making a summer satisfying is to make a choice and develop a plan.

It is difficult for individuals to choose, but what of a family where each member wants to do something different? Father wants to go fishing. Mother wants to go to the shore. Bill wants to go to camp with the gang. Sally wants to stay home to be near her new beau.

Parents can't put their foot down and say, "You will where we tell you!" Even if it works, everybody is unhappy; the parents because they feel guilty, the youngster because he feels insulted and angry.

Making summer plans in a family group can be simplified when all the members get together and discuss what each would like to do. This means that everyone—from the oldest to the youngest—has a voice, and his opinion is respected. The selection of a final plan will not be so difficult a choice when everyone has a chance to say what he thinks, and has the opportunity to understand why some of the activities desired are impossible.

Lawn And Leisure Centers At Hahne's Feature 'Under The Season' Creations

Summer living, dining and entertaining in 1965, ranging from formal sophistication on porch-terrace to backyard picnics with decorative furnishings are on current display in the Lawn and Leisure Centers at Hahne and Co. in Westfield.

The "Under the Season" annual creation at Hahne and Co. will highlight town and terrace furniture collections for such makers as Woodard, Flicks Reed and Carolina Forge, featuring lacy wrought iron designs, oriental rattan and all-weather steel. Wrought iron designed sofas, loveseats, sectional settees, chairs, chairs and recliners, will have matching glass-topped tables, in black, white, avocado and mimosa, plus removable cushions in sturdy fabric prints and easy-care plastic.

A new concept in outdoor and patio furniture is on display in a collection of chair seats of molded plastic, contemporary oriental wood (rattan), a tea-garden set in avocado-finish rattan with mesh back chairs, gold Naugahyde cushions and plastic-top party table.

The "Valencia" collection has curved frame in mustard yellow-set off with deep turquoise canvas seat and back.

For indoor summer scenes (or outdoor), florist-like assortment of plastic green boxwood plants in wood buckets, giant-leafed philodendrons, summer flower arrangements, leafy ferns, hanging flower baskets are highlighted.

Chairs for sunning, wicker bars and stools, redwood chaise lounges, picnic tables and umbrella tables are exhibited, featuring white stiel furniture, petite "ice cream" three-piece sets for setting up a patio like a Parisian sidewalk cafe and an olive green lawn umbrella reminiscent of the Taj Mahal.

Outdoor-cooking promises a variety of equipment from small to giant barbecue kettles, charcoal ranges with built-in warming ovens and storage areas, completely equipped Sequoyah redwood chuck wagon for a backyard "rudeo".

There's an all-ceramic grill from California in powder blue or gray that withstands heat up to 300 degrees. Picnic essentials include completely equipped hamper, aluminum ice chests, insulated ice buckets, trays, gay place mats, bench and table covers, and casseroles.

AUTOMATION AT UJC College Gets Data Processing Equipment

"We can now complete our admissions report in three hours—a report that formerly took three weeks."

That was a typical comment made by Herbert Ehlers of Cranford, supervisor, in reporting on Union Junior College's new data processing equipment, which is being used for many of the college's record keeping and reporting tasks.

Ehlers said the new equipment has three basic applications at UJC: admissions, registration, and grade reporting.

"We have already completed 32-forms, reports and statistical studies to meet the college's record-keeping and reporting requirements," Ehlers, who is a mathematics instructor, said.

Ehlers said the new system was used for the first time for admissions, and registration for the current spring semester, and it will become fully operative for the fall semester in September.

In addition to the admissions report, the data-processing equipment is being used to produce a program card for each student who has been registered by Union Junior College, a bursar's bill, a student's schedule, and class lists. The new system also will handle all grade reports at mid-term and at the end of the semester. It also will prepare a comprehensive permanent record and transcript for each student.

Ehlers said the new system will relieve the office staff of routine jobs and free them for other tasks; will relieve the faculty of many clerical duties, will provide more records and more accurate records—and will increase the amount of information available on each student for use by teachers and administrators.

Union Junior College is

renting four machines for the system: a key punch, a sorter, a collator, and an accounting machine.

"To keep up with the vast increase in the number of applications, in enrollment, and in record keeping, it was necessary for us to convert to an automatic data processing system. It should save us a good many man hours, and should give us information we need more quickly and more accurately," Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, UJC president, said.

"Although there is a certain rigidity to this system, we believe it will help us to meet the challenge of numbers, which is facing every institution of higher learning. We are now geared to handle the task of record-keeping, and reporting for the foreseeable future."

"Even though the system has just now been 'debugged' and in full operation, Union Junior College officials are already looking into an expansion of the system through the use of a high-speed computer, which could be tied into the engineering and mathematics program.

WEEDER'S DIGEST

SEEDED DRENCH FOR INSEKANCE

In a cold, damp spring the seed you plant may need some extra help from you.

This kind of weather that holds plants back favors a fungus disease called "damping off." You can beat it by drenching your seedbed with a chemical called captan.

If you'd like to provide this kind of insurance for your seedlings, mix one tablespoonful of captan to a gallon of water and then sprinkle it at the rate of one pint to one square foot. A sprinkling can or a coffee can with holes works fine for this purpose.

The suggestion comes from Dr. Spencer H. Davis, extension plant disease specialist at Rutgers.

DON'T DISTURB SOIL

He says you should do this the last thing, after you have spaced, raked, leveled and planted. Just go along the row with your sprinkling can and don't disturb the soil.

The little bit of chemical solution that penetrates the soil a fraction of an inch is enough.

Captan is relatively harmless, as it's used also for diaper rash. So if you use more than the recommended amount you'll do no harm.

If the weather stays cold you can repeat the treatment, but wait at least 10 days.

Bans, peas and corn quite often are sold already treated, usually with a pink chemical, thiram, and that's good because it saves you time. "Treated" on a package of seed is your clue.

Commentary on a recent National Editorial Association Study Mission Around South America
 By TRUDINA HOWARD

Tenth of a Series
STROESSNER'S PARAGUAY
 "I do not have the people in my pocket, they have me in theirs."
 So said the man who is called by some "the dictator of Paraguay," but who is the president of Paraguay and General of the Army, Alfredo Stroessner. He was speaking to 14 selected members of the National Editorial Association Study Mission Group at a meeting in his office in the capital city, Asuncion, early this year. The group, totaling 46, was on a study tour through South America.
 There are many who feel, however, that Mr. Stroessner, who gained the presidency by a military coup in 1953 and has been at it ever since, not only has the people in his pocket, but right up his political sleeve as well.
 For those Paraguayans who do not like that "location" there is prison or exile. When we asked about these political prisoners and exiles at a later briefing, we were told that there were only a few prisoners and only about 25 to 30 exiles. But why even "a few"? and 25 to 30? "Because," General Stroessner has said succinctly, "they have said they will kill me."
 There is a report however, that about 300,000 to 400,000 Paraguayans do not live in Paraguay, and in a country that only has a million and a half to begin with, that is a considerable amount. These are mainly "economic" exiles though, it was stated, since better salaries are offered elsewhere.
 "Why," said one American, "you can say that I am an exile from Maine because I get a better job elsewhere." Well, you might say it, but you hardly would, for the American was the Ambassador of the United States.
 Ambassador William P. Snow seems to be pro-Stroessner. At least he seems to feel that things are not as bad as they are painted even though they may not be as good as they ought to be. He seems to feel that the president is doing as good a job as possible and is perhaps the only man in Paraguay in a later briefing. President Stroessner himself apparently thinks the same thing. After attaining the presidency through the military coup in 1953, he was elected to office for a five-year term in 1958 which then made two terms. The laws of the land state that a president cannot exceed two terms, but 22 President Stroessner liked the job so well, he wanted more of it. So it was declared that the first term "did not count" because it was not by election, and he ran again in 1963 and won. This then made two elected terms, one un-elected term but three total terms no matter what you call them.
 When we asked the president if he would seek yet "another" term in the 1968 election he answered that "as in the United States, the people would determine that."
 It is a general opinion that President Stroessner will find that the people will determine that he should. No one asked him how he would get around the two-term-law this time though.

AT A MEETING WITH THE PRESIDENT OF Paraguay, Alfredo Stroessner, in his office in the capital city, Asuncion. Trudina Howard, who was touring South America with the National Editorial Association Study Mission Group is at the left; the president is at the right. Miss Peggyann Hutchinson of Medford, Oregon, is in the center.

AT ANY RATE, it must be added that despite the "dictator-labeled" president, Paraguay is considered to be among the most anti-communist countries in South America and is progressing in its internal stability and in its meagre economy (agriculture, cattle and forestry). What's more, its money has been stable for seven years and that's something practically no other country in South America can say.
 At least before Stroessner there were so many presidents, one after the other, that Paraguay could barely get on its feet. "That isn't true," Stroessner has said, "that is chaos." Perhaps the Paraguayans agree with him and find that a steady diet of one man is a relief.
 Stroessner's regime, in any case, has never been as oppressive as his opponents have claimed and the government has settled down a great deal.
 The 53-year old president is the son of a German immigrant but it is said that he knows Paraguayans better than they know themselves, and that if everyone is 100 percent for Paraguay, Stroessner is 108 percent for Paraguay. BUT BESIDES the step-child problems, Paraguay is also handicapped in that it receives limited foreign aid. Branded "a dictatorship without a dictatorship," it is regarded with almost as much uneasiness by the West as by the communists. "I converted my own home to electric heat because I believe in the product I sell."

says Roy W. Borton, Electrical Contractor, Seaside Heights, N.J.

Roy Borton remodeled his home four years ago and decided on electric heating for the new addition. After two years with it he figured he couldn't do any better than make the entire house totally electric. Today he uses it as a prime example of the comfort, convenience and economy of what he sells, and he's managed to convert 22 other home owners in his area to flameless electric heating. It's a case of, "Ask the man who owns it."

"I feel much safer with electric heat," Borton says. And his wife attests to one of the features that pleases her most. "House cleaning has been cut to a minimum, and I have more time for family activities and the little extras that I didn't have time for before."

Jersey Central Power & Light
New Jersey Power & Light

Among the other electric conveniences she enjoys, Mrs. Borton's pride is the electric range. "Meats are juicier, kitchen stays cooler, pots stay cleaner. And the self-cleaning oven feature is fabulous."

One of the factors that has helped Roy Borton sell electric heating to others is the cost. Last year the rate for electricity in total electric homes served by JCP&L/NJP&L dropped almost 20%.

Municipal Civil Rights Groups Set May 22 Date For Meeting

Saturday, May 22 is the date set for a major state-wide conference for municipal civil rights commissions, the New Jersey Division on Civil Rights announced this week.

The day-long session, sponsored by the Division in cooperation with the Elizabeth Commission on Human Rights, the Newark Human Rights Commission, the Paterson Human Rights Commission and the Plainfield Human Relations Commission, will be held at the Labor Education Center of Rutgers University, Ryders Lane, New Brunswick, beginning at 9 a.m.

According to Division Director

George S. Pfau, the conference promises to be a most significant event. It will be the first such meeting to be held in New Jersey in more than 10 years.

Pfau said that the number of municipal civil rights commissions—official mayor's advisory bodies—around the State is growing at a rapid rate. "Where there were just 15 such commissions in New Jersey one year ago, there are now 37 with new commissions being formed nearly every week," he said.

The conference is intended to stimulate the formation of new commissions and to strengthen that already in existence by suggesting guidelines for structure and programs of action.

The theme for the conference is "The New Phase of Civil Rights," with emphasis upon the role of the local commission and commissioner in this era. Governor Richard J. Hughes and Attorney General Arthur J. Sills will be among the guest speakers, together with Director Joseph Monserrat of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Department of Labor-Migration Division, and Rev. John W. Collier of the Israel Memorial Church, Newark.

There will also be a recorded statement by Governor Leroy Collins, Director of the United States Community Relations Service, as well as workshop sessions and a panel discussion featuring the executive directors of the co-sponsoring commissions and representatives of the Division on Civil Rights. In addition to all local commissions around the State, Pfau said that mayors and representatives of other civil rights groups are also being urged to attend.

Sandman Attacks Dumont's Scheme To Have New Tax

New York's new sales tax isn't even levied yet and already they are talking about increasing it and cutting out some of the exemptions," according to New Jersey Senate President Charles W. Sandman Jr., who is seeking the Republican nomination for governor, in a statement this week.

New York's two percent sales tax, adopted recently by the state legislature, goes into effect August 1. New York City's four percent sales tax rises to five percent under the new law.

Commenting on the New York tax, Sandman, who is campaigning as the Regular Republican against the sales tax, said:

"This should serve as a warning to residents of New Jersey. Adoption of Wayne Dumont's sales tax in this state would follow the same road as similar levies in other states.

"First approve the tax and then establish exceptions; then raise the tax and eliminate some of the exemptions. It's a continuing process and the little

NO SECOND CHANCE

Parkway Truck Ban Tightened

After two years of extensive education, the New Jersey Highway Authority this week announced it is starting strict "no-second-chance" enforcement of the ban against all type of trucks on northern sections of the Garden State Parkway.

Authority Chairman Sylvester C. Smith Jr., said the two-year-old "illegal vehicle procedure" at Parkway Toll barriers has been discontinued and hereafter all trucks found north of Interchange 97A will be dealt with by State Police on the road.

Trucks are barred by law from the Parkway's 75-mile portion north of Interchange 97A, which links with State Routes 38 and 34 in Monmouth County. Violators are subject to fines up to $200 in local courts.

Under the special procedure adopted in mid-1963 as an educational enforcement aid, the Authority's Toll-Division maintained a record of each unauthorized vehicle and operator stopped at toll booths in Parkway sections north of the posted legal limits. A summons was issued by State Police only where a records check disclosed a repeat violation.

First offenders were given notice on the spot, and letters sent to the companies whose vehicles were in such violation an initial time.

A total of 1,479 were issued notices of violation during 1964 with one given a summons for a repeat violation. For the introductory part of 1965, a total of 907 offenders were issued the violation notice with again one given a summons as a repeater. For the four months of this year, 722 notices were issued, Smith said.

Realty Tax Battle Called By Dumont In Campaign Bid

Senator Wayne Dumont Jr., Republican organization candidate for governor, this week issued a call to New Jersey citizens to join him in a "War on Property Taxes."

Dumont, pointing out that New Jersey has the highest property taxes in the nation, in a prepared release, said "this will not end until together we bring to a halt the year-by-year increase of the already crushing local property tax burden in every community in our state."

"Our communities need 1,600 classrooms a year for the growing school population," ad Dumont, "They also need local roads and bridges. As the situation stands today, the only way we can get these needs taken care of is by further soaking the local homeowner and rent-payer."

BABE RUTH PLAY GETS UNDER WAY IN MINOR LEAGUE

The opening week of the baseball season in the Babe Ruth Minor League indicated that the hitters are far ahead of the pitchers at the moment. So many runs were scored, in fact, that two of the three games scheduled were not completed before darkness halted the action.

In the one game completed, Bunnell Brothers-outscored Nagei Pork Store, 10-15. The other games matched Bunnell and Park Drugs and Park against Nagei.

The main objective of this league, according to Bob Wittich, its director, is to "awaken the desire of many boys in the 13-15 age group to want to continue playing baseball."

"At this time, they make the change from Youth League to Babe Ruth League, with larger playing diamonds and a longer pitching distance. The boys need help and understanding. Our program has to be geared with this in mind."

The managers, Al Tonkin, Hank Jackson and Ron Minkitsky, are doing a fine job, taking into consideration the shortage of players. They were unable to start practice until a week before opening day.

"Now, in one short week, the spirit and enthusiasm of players and managers can be seen easily. The goal in the coming weeks is to score fewer runs and play more innings."

Slate Twin Bills For '65 Opening Of Adult Softball

The Springfield Recreation Department's adult softball league will open play May 16 with twin bills starting at 10 a.m. at the Meisel ave. and Washington ave. diamonds.

The adult softball leagues will shift activity to the Springfield Municipal Swim Club diamond upon installation of the arc-lights which were given approval by the Township Committee last Tuesday.

A special softball meeting will be held for all franchise holders in the league on Thursday May 13, at 8:15 p.m. All teams were requested to submit their player rosters beforehand. A league schedule is to be printed following this meeting.

Haselmann Begins With Twin Homers

Power hitting by Ronnie Haselmann highlighted the opening week of action in the Springfield Babe Ruth Major League.

Haselmann's slugging sparked Channel Lumber to an 8-4 victory over the Elks. He smashed a home run on the first pitch of the game, and then clouted another four-bagger in the second inning. Ernie Roig also hit for distance for Channel, with a home run and a triple.

The other runs for the Channel nine were scored by Fred Volherst, Barry Fishman, Bob Tafel and Pete Saykl. Ralph Benkus and Haselmann shared the pitching assignment.

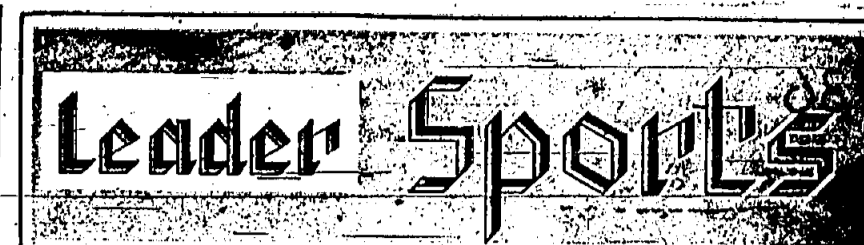

Morris Ave. Motors topped the Elks, 7-4, as Joe Bucci took the mound in relief of Danny D'Andrea and went the rest of the way.

BALTUSROL CLUB TO BE 1967 SCENE OF OPEN TOURNEY

The lower course of the Baltusrol Golf Club at Springfield, will be used for the 1967 Open golf championship. It has been agreed by the United States Golf Association and Baltusrol officials, including William Wither, president, and Robert Finney, general chairman of the club's committees for the Open.

Baltusrol has two courses, both of championship caliber. Tony Manero won the 1936 Open on the upper course with a score of 282. Ed Furgol won the 1954 Open on the lower course with 284.

The lower course is nearly 7,000 yards long, and for the Open will probably have a par of 70. As previously announced, the dates will be June 15, 16, 17 and 18, 1967.

Bulldogs Gain 1st Victories; Will Visit Clark Tomorrow

The Dayton Regional baseball team won two out of three games this week to boost its season record to 2-5-1. The first victory of the season came last Friday against Berkeley Heights. Then, on Tuesday, the Bulldogs defeated Hillside.

Both victories were slugfests for Dayton, which accumulated a total of 19 hits. The Berkeley score was 10-8, and the Hillside score was 10-3. Both games were won by Junior pitcher Bob Isler.

The loss of the week came at the hands of Westfield. The Blue Devils' Steve Wright held Dayton scoreless and permitted only two hits while his team-mates were collecting five runs on six hits.

Tomorrow the Bulldogs will face again Johnson Regional at Clark. The game will begin at 3:30 at Clark. In their first encounter two weeks ago, Clark defeated the Bulldogs 8-2 as Dayton ran through four hurlers.

In the only other game of this week, the Bulldogs will meet Union Catholic High School in the first game of the Union County Tournament. The game will begin at 9 Saturday morning on the Meisel Ave. Field.

Tuesday's victory over Hillside was sweet revenge for the Bulldogs, who had fallen to the Comets, 5-2, earlier in the season. After a double play in the top of the first inning, Dayton jumped off to an early lead by scoring three times in the bottom of the inning.

A walk, a single by Carl Yaras and an error by the Hillside third baseman loaded the bases with two outs. Bob Gertjan's base-on-balls then scored one run, and Ken Max's single to left brought in two more.

Dayton scored again in the second when Joe Jupa walked, stole second, and came home on another Yaras single.

The Bulldogs took a commanding 8-0 lead in the fourth when four runs scored on a walk by Joe Jupa, and singles by Keith Neigel, Leroy Mathis and Ken Max.

In the fifth, Hillside finally broke into the scoring column when two walks and an error allowed the bases to be filled. A sacrifice fly to center by Bob Lynch then drove in a run.

In the bottom of the fifth, Dayton scored twice more, however. Pitcher Bob Isler led off with a single and Ted Levitt hit a long triple to left field. Levitt then scored when Keith Neigel singled to center.

Hillside scored again — once in the sixth and once in the seventh — but Dayton's 10 runs were too many to be overcome. Pitching his 37th inning of the season, Isler got Ron Cocuzza to pop out to first baseman Leroy Mathis to end the game and win Dayton's second of the season.

The Dayton Bulldogs won Friday's free-swinging slugfest with Berkeley Heights, 8-8, on 10 hits. After Berkeley opened the game in the first inning with three unearned runs, the Bulldogs returned with a run in the bottom of the inning. Dayton's run came when Keith Neigel walked and sent home by Ted Levitt's double down the third base line.

In the third inning, Dayton grabbed the lead, by scoring three runs on three hits, a walk, and an error. Joe Jupa led off the inning with a single, was sent to second on Keith Neigel's sacrifice, and then scored on Carl Yaras' single to right.

Levitt, who had drawn a base on balls, then scored on Leroy Mathis' infield single, and Yaras scored when Bob Gertjan reached first on a bobbled grounder to the second baseman.

In the next inning, Jack Majoja scored another run for Dayton after reaching first on an error and being sent home on pitcher Bob Isler's sacrifice.

In the top of the fifth, Berkeley returned to tie the score at five-all with two runs on four hits, including a triple to left field by third baseman Bruce Corcoran. The Bulldogs got out of the inning, however, by catching pitcher George Bubrick in a rundown between second and third.

In the sixth, the furious scoring continued as Berkeley sent three runners home on two singles and three consecutive walks by Bob Isler. With a 9-8 lead, Dayton scored an insurance run in the bottom of the sixth when Leroy Mathis singled, stole second and scored off Ken Max's single. In the top of the seventh, Isler recovered his fire to retire Berkeley in order and win 10-8.

Saturday, Westfield's Blue Devils journeyed to Springfield and shut out Springfield on Steve Wright's wizardry.

Dayton's Ron Azarovitz also pitched a fine game, allowing only one hit and no runs outside of the fifth inning.

That fifth inning was disastrous for Dayton, however. Steve Wright started off the inning with a double to center. The next batter, Bob Flynn, reached first after striking out, when the catcher dropped the third strike. Azarovitz, apparently shaken, then allowed two singles and a triple by left-fielder Ken Smith. Smith was brought home by Rich James' infield single to give Westfield a five-run inning and a 5-0 victory.

Firemen In Shutout Over Bank Players

Opening week in the Springfield Youth Minor Baseball League saw 11 of the 12 scheduled practice games completed. The first official games are scheduled for next Wednesday, and the practice games are between teams in the American and National divisions. Official games are scheduled among teams staying in their own leagues.

Errorsless play featured a well-pitched game won by Fire Department over National State Bank, 1-0. Mike Sanders and Mickey Harmon shared the pitching task for the winning Firemen, while Steve Hartzel and Jeff Davis were on the mound for the Bankers.

Jeff Sarokin, Jeff Colandra and Gary Weiner starred in the field for the Firemen, chalking up a double play, and Mitch Fidel was the defensive star for the Bankers. Mark Weber doubled to drive in the winning run for the Firemen.

In another close game, Sam's Friendly Service pulled in the final inning to nip Geljack Jewelers, 9-8. After being held in check by the pitching of Larry Silverstein through much of the game, Sam's exploded for six late runs and the ball game. The big blows were doubles by Jerry Gardner, Matt Flynn, Scott Boydman and Jeff Elme.

Walt Kefauver helped Sam's with two key hits, Gardner was the winning pitcher, showing surprising control as he issued only one walk. Vince Davis and Leon Margules led the Geljack team with three hits apiece.

National State Bank whipped Sam's Friendly Service, 10-2. Reinette's Youth Center defeated Chamber of Commerce, 4-2, and Colantone Shoes won by the same margin over Elkay Products. Fire Department romped, 11-2, over Geljack.

Colantone blanked Chamber of Commerce, 2-0. Drexel Cleaners played to a 2-2 tie with Rex Dairy Queen, and 4-4 tie with Elkay. New York Life also played two games, 9-8 with Springfield Travel Agency, and 4-4 with Rex Dairy Queen.

Cresmont Keeps Unbeaten Record In Youth Majors

The Springfield Youth Major League opened its 1965 baseball season with a come-from-behind victory for Jayne Motor Freight, 4-3, over American Legion. Randy Hulton pitched well for the losers, supported by Jay Silverman's home run and two hits each for Scott and Keith Prusking.

The best defensive play, however, was by Carter-Bell's shortstop, Gary Vohrbach, when he picked off a line drive with two men on base in the third inning. In the seventh, Vohrbach singled to drive in the winning run.

Mike Hydock was the winning pitcher for Jayne. Alan Schlangner hit a home run, and there was timely hitting by Jeff Slater and Bill Harlem. Both teams played well defensively.

Last year's champions, Crestmont Savings and Loan, kept up the pressure to blank Jayne, 7-0. Bob Janukowicz was in full control all the way, yielding only two hits and fanning 15. Key hits were by Randy Slater, Jim Maxwell and Janukowicz.

Ricky Williams outpitched Billy Schwab as Rotary edged Lions, 4-3. Williams hung to to check a Lions rally in the final inning. Bobby Nardone, Dave Miniman and Williams were the key hitters for Rotary. Phil Stokes and Jimmy Sarokin hit well for the Lions.

Crestmont continued its winning ways, halting PBA, 4-1, as Randy Slater struck out 14 and gave away two hits. Crestmont has now won 20 straight games, over the three seasons. Bob Janukowicz, Jim Maxwell and Bill Benkus were the big batsmen for Crestmont.

Bruce Zabelski pitched well for PBA, with only one bad inning. Bernie Perlman and Robert Arnold had the only hits for the losers.

Rolay outscored American Legion, 6-1, behind the pitching of Dave Miniman and Keith Brownlee. Miniman contributed a home run to his own cause, aided by two hits by Tommy Falcone, a triple by Ricky Williams and singles by Jimmy Schoch and Bobby Nardone. Jay Silverman had his second homer of the year for the Legion.

The remaining game of the week was halted by darkness with the Lions leading PBA, 18-5. It will be replayed later in the year.

Policarpio Team Has Bowling Title

Policarpio's Atlantic swept to clinch the championship in the Springfield Municipal Bowling League last week at Springfield Bowl. Policarpio now leads by 7 1/2 games over D'Andrea Drive ways with six games left to play. D'Andrea is assured of second place. Third place is still in doubt, with Springfield Market leading Cardinal Garden Center by 1 1/2 games.

High scorers last week were Al Scott, 227; Anthony Gerdano, 205; Walter Schramm, 202; Ralph Policarpio, 202; Howard Soland, 200; Robert Anderson, 200.

BUILDING APARTMENTS REAL ESTATE HOMES FOR SALE HOME IMPROVEMENTS

TWO-STORY COLONIAL home on Effingham-pl., Westfield, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Haesler from Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT C. Taylor. This was negotiated through the office of Charles G. Meierdierck Jr., realtor, by Alice H. MacLaughlin.

REALTOR OF THE WEEK Her Part-Time Job As Saleswoman Eventually Led To Full-Time Career

Little did Helen M. Gorczyca realize 11 years ago that her part-time job as a real estate saleswoman would lead to a full-time career. Her idea at the time was to put aside some money to help in the upcoming college education of her sister son, Walter. Today she and her son operate the successful Gorczyca Agency, realtors of Roselle.

MRS. HELEN M. GORCZYCA

Born and raised in Elizabeth, Mrs. Gorczyca has lived in Roselle for 15 years. She was "simply a housewife" prior to entering the business world, (in fact today she's proud to say she still does her own housework). A woman in the real estate field, she feels, is a very normal thing. "There are natural advantages... perhaps a woman can bring out the highlights of a house better to a potential buyer," she observes. "Most real estate salespeople seem to aim their approach at the women of the family, it seems."

Son Walter Gorczyca was midway through his college career at Seton Hall, majoring in mathematics when he, too, was bitten by the real estate "bug". He switched his course to business administration and insurance and has been associated with the firm for the past four years. Another son, Edmund, a junior at St. Benedict's Preparatory School, has also shown an inclination toward the business. Daughter Barbara, 24, also has a "business mind," according to Mrs. Gorczyca's chief interest in the real estate field lies in the realm of investment property. On this subject her enthusiasm can be quite contagious. She is a strong believer in real estate as an investment. "Almost anyone can be an investor," she claims. She will recite chapter and verse on how people in all walks of life "have made their money work for them." "This is an educational process," she explains. "There are so many opportunities in real estate, not only in enjoying the comfort of one's own home, but in bettering oneself financially. My aim in life is to teach people how to stretch their dollars. There are many misconceptions about our business... so many terms that scare people... the realtors job is largely in educating the public."

Teachers Of Tots Slate Workshop At Scotch Plains

The New Jersey Association of Kindergarten Educators is planning a workshop, "Using the Children's Environment Through Exploration and Movement," for all persons interested in this phase of education. The workshop will be held Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. in the Scotch Plains High School.

The program will be led by Dr. Gladys Andrews, former professor at New York University; Dr. Robert Fleming, assistant commissioner of education; Yvonne Jaffe, music consultant for Bergen County, and Sal Abitanti of the New Jersey Department of Elementary Education. Everyone attending will be expected to help create rhymes, melodies and rhythmic activities and expressions.

County Unit To Hold Camp For Retarded

The Union County Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children will sponsor a day camp, Camp Star, for mentally retarded children during July and August at Echo Lake Park, Mountainside. There will be three sessions of two weeks each, beginning July 8. Children can be enrolled for one, two or three periods.

Facilities for the campers will include the lake for fishing and boating, a shelter, lavatories, water fountains, shade trees, a wooded area with tables and benches, playground equipment, a ball field and a hiking area.

The camp director will be Carol J. Price, a teacher of retarded children in the Scotch Plains-Fanwood school system. A staff of 25 counselors and eight volunteers will assist her.

Campers will be grouped with others of similar age and capability. Each group will be in the charge of a teacher of retarded children. This counselor will be aided by two college students majoring in special education or related fields.

Games, handicrafts, singing sessions, nature walks, calisthenics, cookouts, story sessions, boating and dramatics will be included in the schedule. There will also be special events and trips. Swimming will be included twice a week in an indoor pool.

Transportation will be provided from a point near the campers' homes. The children bring lunch, with milk and snacks provided by the camp. On rainy days, activities will be held at the Harry W. Kohler Day Care Center, Winfield Park. Further information can be obtained from the Union County Unit at 562 Boulevard, Kenilworth.

Two Hikes Slated For Walking Club

Two hikes are scheduled for the members of the Union County Hiking Club over the weekend.

On Saturday, Leo Zappe, East Orange, and Robert Gage, Summit, will lead a trail clearing expedition. Each hiking club associated with the New York-New Jersey Trails Conference is responsible for maintaining a section of trails used for hiking. The Union County Hiking Club is responsible for maintaining approximately 13 miles of the Appalachian Trail in the area of Greenwood Lake. The group will meet at the Administration Building of the Union County Park Commission, Warinanco Park, Elizabeth, at 8:30 a.m.

On Sunday, Nat Coyne, Irvington, will lead a 10-mile hike in the area of Butler. This group will meet at the park commission's Administration Building, Warinanco Park, Elizabeth, at 8:30 a.m.

Expert On China To Give Address

Dr. Mary C. Wright, Yale University authority on the history of modern China, will speak on "Communism and the Chinese Civilization" at the fourth Townsend Lecture Series program at Newark State College, Union, tomorrow at 2 p.m. The program is free and open to the public.

In addition to teaching graduate and undergraduate students at Yale, Dr. Wright contributes to numerous publications. She is currently preparing an analysis of the 1911 Chinese revolution.

Dr. Wright has been director of undergraduate studies for the Chinese program at Yale since 1961, advisor on the Far Eastern literature of the Yale library since 1959, and a member of the joint committee on contemporary China of the American Council of Learned Societies.

Mrs. Dwyer Cites Perils For Youth

The nation faces "truly difficult years" if the scourge of youthful corruption and the growth of juvenile delinquency are not curbed, Rep. Florence D. P. Dwyer of Union, R-6th Dist., told a gathering of Boy Scout leaders recently.

Mrs. Dwyer said she has urged Congress to back up the Boy Scouts and others working with young people by tightening laws against dangerous drugs, teen-age drinking and obscene mail.

In her talk before the Ranger District awards dinner at St. John's Lutheran Church in Summit, Mrs. Dwyer said that government's role in youth reform, although vital, is secondary to the duty of parents.

Parents, she stressed, must provide guidance, discipline, order and the opportunity to grow carefully into adulthood.
