Republicans Hail Town's Projects Of Beautification Planner, Hardgrove Cite Improvements In Business Areas

"Continuation of our long-range program for the beautification of Springfield" was stressed this week by Township Committeeman Robert G. Planer and former Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove, Republican candidates for election to the governing body.

"We are endeavoring to bring the public areas of our community up to the par of the residential areas. Springfield has long been noted for its well-kept neighborhoods and it will continue to be our goal to make the public areas equally as attractive," Planer and Hardgrove stated.

"Commencing with the improvement of Morris ave. and continuing with the recent authorization by the Township Committee to purchase and install planters along our main business thoroughfares, in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce," Planer and Hardgrove indicated that they were "on the right track as far as the overall needs of the community were concerned."

In addition to the planters, benches have recently been installed at the bus stop in front of Gen. Greene shopping center.

"Having met with universal approval, the Township Committee is making plans for similar installations throughout the municipality," Planer stated.

Hardgrove, who is chairman of the Board of Health, added that "many additional refuse cans have been placed in the commercial area of the town, and there are now plans to distribute these cans in many more strategic locations. The Board of Health is aware of the need for good sanitation practices on behalf of the township and it will continue to meet the needs as they arise."

Space Shortage Limits Activities At Town Library

The following is the third in a series of articles prepared by the Springfield Public Library board of trustees on inadequacies of the present library facilities.

The library board has conducted a number of surveys on future development, and it is expected to recommend that a new library building be constructed on a more central site and with more space than the present structure.

A variety of services should be an integral part of good library function. Despite the present lack of space, the library has been able to provide several types of programs.

In addition to the services normally provided, the library has been offering many supplementary programs. These include:

- (1) Story hour, designed for pre-school four-year-olds.
- (2) New York Times on microfilm. Anyone desiring to consult back files of the New York Times from 1880-83 (the Civil War issues), 1919-1922 and 1950-1955 may see the paper photographed on microfilm. There is a microfilm reader which magnifies and projects the film onto a flat, table-like space.
- (3) Photocopying services. Since the photocopier was installed a year ago, it has proved very popular for copying both library materials, such as books, pictures and magazines, and also papers which patrons bring in, such as birth certificates, school transcripts and maps.
- (4) Investment services. Businessmen and local industries in Springfield require special sources of information, periodicals to meet their needs, directories, yearbooks, and weekly supplements to basic financial information. Among these materials, the library already has

Town YES Group Calls For Women To Help In Office

Mrs. Leonard W. Garner this week issued an appeal for additional adult volunteers to staff the office of the Springfield Youth Employment Service.

Mrs. Garner, who is in charge of volunteer recruitment and training for the YES organization, stated, "This is a fine opportunity and a gratifying experience to be of assistance to the youth of our community."

Deputy Collector Of Taxes Returns After Altercation Tensions Are Cited As Assistant Seeks Election To Top Job

Mrs. Marie Smith was back at work Tuesday as Springfield's deputy tax collector, after an absence of two days arising from an altercation last Thursday afternoon with the tax collector, Fred L. Braun.

Mrs. Smith, a Democrat, is running against Braun, a Republican in the Nov. 2 elections for a four-year term as tax collector.

His actions in the dispute were strongly attacked in a statement issued by Henry Grabarz and Donald Mantel, Democratic candidates for the Township Committee. They termed his part in the matter "outrageously callous."

Mrs. Smith stated on Tuesday, "Mr. Braun told me to get out of the office last Thursday. He did not feel that my work was satisfactory, and he said that he would do better himself. I left at 4:30, at the end of the day. I did not come back to work on Friday or Monday."

Telephone Call

"I received a telephone call Monday night from one of the Township Committeemen asking me to come back to work. He said that Mr. Braun did not have the authority to fire me, and that I was still on the payroll and expected to return to work."

"It was also told that Committeeman Arthur M. Falkin would be there Tuesday morning to delineate my duties. He was not there, so I just went about my work."

Falkin, who declared that he was speaking for the township administration, stated on Tuesday, "This was strictly an internal misunderstanding regarding procedures in the office, leading to an unfortunate exchange."

PLEASANT SUPPORT — Donald Mantel, left, and Henry Grabarz, Democratic candidates for Township Committee, confer with Mrs. Marie Smith, deputy tax collector, on her dispute with Fred Braun, the town's tax collector. Mrs. Smith is the Democratic nominee opposing Braun's bid for election to another four-year term.

Aspirants Slated To Debate Issues Within Township County Contenders Will Share Platform At 2 Later Meetings

All contenders for local office in the Nov. 2 general elections will speak at the annual candidates' night meeting, to be held by the Springfield League of Women Voters Wednesday evening at 8 at the Edward Walton School. It was announced last week by Mrs. Henry Huneke, president of the Springfield League of Women Voters.

She added that the County League will sponsor programs for freshholder candidates next Thursday, Oct. 14, at the Livingston School on Midland rd. Union, and for State Senate and Assembly candidates Oct. 19 at Union Junior College, Cranford.

Township Committee candidates who will speak at Wednesday's meeting are Henry F. Grabarz and Donald L. Mantel, Democrats, and Robert G. Planer, Republican.

The contenders for election as tax collector will also take part. They are Fred L. Braun, Republican, and Mrs. Marie A. Smith, Democrat.

Each candidate will present a five-minute prepared statement and will also have three minutes for a rebuttal. The meeting will then be opened for questions from the audience. Mrs. Henry C. Dearborn, of Summit, will be moderator.

Freshholder candidates who will speak at the Oct. 14 meeting are Democrats William J. Kohnert, of Kenilworth, Hugh W. Spidwell of Plainfield and Arthur C. Fiedt of Westfield; Republicans Matthew J. Rinaldi of Union, Raymond Moore of Scotch Plains and J. Andrew Stemmer of Clark.

Phillip Del Vecchio of Springfield, Republican candidate for the Assembly, will speak at the Oct. 19 meeting. His running mates are Frank X. McDermott of Westfield, William M. Weaver of Rahway, Loreo Collins of Summit and Nicholas La Corte of Cranford.

Experts To Join In Discussion About Growing Up In Suburbia

"Growing Up Emotionally, Socially and Morally" will be the topic of the township public meeting to be sponsored by all Springfield Parent-Teacher Associations in cooperation with the St. James School Mothers Guild, Oct. 18 at the Edward Walton School.

The panel discussion program, including an interrogation period, is under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Martin P. Roth.

Among the three guest panelists will be Dr. Regina L. Sarason, principal of the Florence Gaudineer School, who will preview the "social" sub-topic. Dr. Sandmeier attended Columbia University and obtained her bachelor's degree from Newark State College. She received both her master's degree in personnel and guidance and her doctorate in education from Rutgers University.

When Dr. Sandmeier first came to Springfield, she taught various grades and languages arts and was later appointed principal of the Raymond Chisholm School. In 1953, she became principal of Springfield's newly-built and only junior high school, the Gaudineer School. In recognition of her outstanding efforts in behalf of the youth of the community, Springfield's newest elementary school was named for her.

For over 10 years, she has served as chairman of the juvenile conference committee of the Domestic and Juvenile Welfare Council. (Continued on Page 3)

Theresa In Oxygen; Stays 'Critical-Poor'

Theresa Gargalowitz is still alive, but any hopes for recovery are fading.

Although the pretty co-ed's condition remains "critical-poor," it was learned this week that she is being kept constantly in an oxygen tent at Overlook Hospital, Summit, where she has remained in a coma ever since she was injured in a head-on collision 18 months ago in Springfield.

Hospital officials this week said they would no longer comment on Theresa's condition. They would say only that her condition remains "unchanged." They would offer no prognosis on her coma.

Theresa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Gargalowitz of 2530 Hawthorne ave., Union, was critically injured on April 6, 1964, when her small foreign car skidded on a portion of unused trolley tracks on Morris ave., Springfield, and crashed head-on into an oncoming bus.

An evening student at Fairleigh Dickinson University, she was on her way home from classes at the Madison campus when the accident occurred.

Pay $5,000 Bill

Phillip Portnoy of Union, chairman of the Theresa Gargalowitz Fund, said he paid a $5,000 hospital bill on Friday, which has all but depleted the fund which has reached close to (Continued on Page 2)

DISCUSSION

Library Closing

The Springfield Public Library will be closed on Tuesday in observance of Columbus Day, according to a statement issued this week in behalf of the library board. The library will operate on its regular schedule the remainder of the week.

Artists Prepare To Exhibit Work Upon Town Mall

Plans have been completed for the township's first municipal art show, to be sponsored by the Springfield Association of Creative Arts Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. on the township mall in front of the Municipal Building.

Mrs. Sidney Singer is chairman of the day's events, and Mrs. Peg Bennett is chairman of the Creative Arts Association. They announced that, in the event of bad weather, the art show will be postponed until the following Sunday, Oct. 17.

Admission to the art show will be free, they stressed. Entries to be exhibited should be delivered to the mall Sunday between 8:30 and 10:30 a.m., and the show will be opened to the public at 1 p.m.

The Springfield Community Chorus will present a selection of musical numbers at 2:30 p.m. Mayor William F. Koontz will present awards at 3 to the top entries by local amateur artists. Professional artists, although encouraged to submit their works, are not eligible for prizes.

The winning works of art will be selected by a panel of well known artists, according to the committee. Names of the judges are being kept secret for security reasons until the day of the show.

Edward Hayes, a noted professional artist, will present a demonstration of water color techniques at 3:15. The show is scheduled to close at 5 p.m. Exhibitors are asked to remove their paintings or other entries between 8:15 and 8.

Further information on any aspect of the art show can be obtained from Mrs. Singer, art show chairman, at 51 Smithfield dr., DR 6-2171, or from Mrs. Johnson, Association chairman, at 143 Baltusrol way, DR 6-4130.

Fire Department Offers Program

The Springfield Fire Department will display its equipment tomorrow evening from 7 to 9:30 at the Gen. Greene shopping center. There will be eight pieces of equipment on display, in observance of Fire Prevention Week.

Included will be a hand-drawn tube reel which dates back to 1892. Motion pictures on fire prevention will be shown several times during the evening. Regular, volunteer and reserve firemen will be on hand to answer questions and demonstrate equipment. This will end a week of activity that started with a civil defense drill Sunday and open house at the firehouse last night.

Acute Space Shortage Limits Many Vital Library Services

Moody's seven-volume "Investment Services," "Dun and Bradstreet Middle Market Directory," "Macfae's Blue Book—A Product Director's," "Thomas Register of American Manufacturers," industrial directories and housing directories.

(5) Reference section—Headed by a well-qualified reference librarian. The reference collection is outstanding because of its depth, breadth, and scope, unusual for a library of this size.

(6) Current adult fiction. The library provides 700 new titles annually of the most recent fiction published.

(7) Current adult non-fiction. This includes biography, art, history, science and religion. Approximately 2,200 new titles are added annually (in addition to this, the total number of children's books added last year was 700).

Facilities Limited

In offering the present services, the library is severely handicapped by lack of space for efficient use of the following facilities:

(1) Story hour. During the preschool story hour and a shorter one for children seven to 10

Medical Mission To Be Discussed By India Doctor

Dr. Archibald G. Fletcher Jr., Presbyterian medical missionary in India, will speak at the 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. services Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church in Springfield. He will illustrate a talk at 7:30 p.m. for the Westminster Fellowship. A social and discussion hour will follow.

On Dr. Fletcher's previous tour through the local congregation helped him in securing an ambulance station wagon for the Miral Medical Center, where he is superintendent. The center includes a school for nurses and midwives and postgraduate work for nurses and doctors.

Dr. Fletcher was born in Korea, the son of a missionary in India. He was graduated from Princeton University and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University. He is married to the former Hulda Blair, a daughter of Presbyterian missionaries in Korea. She was a missionary nurse in Costa Rica. They have four sons.

years old, the Children's Room must be closed to other children and to adults while the program is in progress.

This should not be. The services of this department should be available at all times, for many parents consult the children's librarian. They also bring other children with them when a particular child is "at the story hour," so that the mother must either go home and come back, or sit somewhere else in the library and baby-sit with her children.

—There should be a separate area adjacent to the Children's Room which can be temporarily closed off for the story hour, while the rest of the room is open to the public.

While story hour is in progress for youngsters, if there were a multi-purpose room nearby, a librarian could talk to the parents about books for their own use at home or recommend reading on children's problems and interests. Such a room, if properly constructed, could have a separate entrance so it could be used for meetings when the library is not open.

(2) Microfilm. At present, noisy mechanical equipment such as the microfilm viewer must be housed in quiet-area locations. The microfilm viewer should be placed in a separate room where it does not interfere with readers who are trying to concentrate and take notes.

This would also enable the patron using the viewer to skip through crowded conditions, to use the microfilm reader in its present position is awkward. One must stand to read the film and to take notes.

(3) Photocopy. At present, the photocopy is right in the middle of the lounge area and interferes with the flow of traffic. Also, there is no room for a cabinet to store the necessary supplies.

(4) Investment services. At present it is impossible because of lack of space, to bring all these materials together for convenient use, so that they would be more accessible for comparison and study. There should be tables and chairs for patrons in the area.

(5) Reference section. Space here is very severely restricted, and a patron using the books must of necessity block traffic because of the congested area.

(6) Current fiction and non-fiction. These should be easily accessible to the public, but there is no place in the library where the new fiction can be put without having a browsing patron interfere with the flow of traffic around the charging desk.

(7) Main non-fiction collection. Because of lack of space, this collection must be dispersed throughout the library, making it difficult for patrons to find the desired books.

Additional Services

Additional space is badly needed in order to overcome the handicaps listed above, and also to make provision for these urgently-needed additional services:

(1) Space needed for patrons to sit down to browse and read books and periodicals; (2) Space needed for students to do reference work in connection with assignments; (3) Space needed for housing books so that they can be logically arranged and easily accessible; (4) Space needed in order to make provision in the Children's Room for browsing and elementary reference work; (5) Space needed for adequate accommodation of the present adult discussion group; (6) Space needed for young adult library use.

ST. JAMES CYO PICKS OFFICERS; TO HOLD DANCE

The Catholic Youth Organization of St. James Church, Springfield, has elected officers for 1965-66.

Elected president was John Bronnan of 91 Briar Hills circle, a junior at Union Catholic High School in Scotch Plains.

Mary La Rosa of 6 Albert st. was elected secretary. She is a junior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. The CYO will meet tomorrow night in the school auditorium to complete plans for a fall dance later this month.

—The board of trustees feels that any public library should provide certain additional library-related activities:

(1) Exhibits: space for exhibits of books is an integral part of any library. Displays of books on timely subjects should be set up here and there throughout the library to show people what books there are on a particular topic. Such displays not only would have information in book form but also related materials—magazines, newspapers, pictures and on microfilm.

(2) Government documents: Many thousands of government publications are published annually. While the library does not need all or even a majority of these publications, many of them do provide needed information on laws, consumer education, employment, civil rights and fair housing regulations. The library would be able to supply the public with these publications and the information they contain if it had space and filing cabinets in which to store them.

(3) Adult education: Additional space should permit the library to have an evening collection to meet the needs of young men and women attending local colleges or taking refresher courses; or nurses; or adults preparing for high school equivalency tests or civil service examinations.

Although the space needs indicated above are long and impressive, they are by no means complete. No mention has been made of expanded service areas—workshops and—recreation facilities. The library space is badly overworked as indicated above, and is in need of expansion.

Furthermore, this analysis does not include such services as might be considered in the future, such as circulating art collections and recordings which are assuming increasing importance in the library field.

Collection Record Cited For Braun's Return To Office

Springfield Tax Collector Fred Braun, republican candidate for re-election, cleared this week that the tax collector's office under his supervision has collected over 90 percent of all taxes on an average for the past three years.

He said this is an excellent record, since most municipalities in the state are satisfied with a 70 percent collection rate. Braun continued, "Taxes for municipal purposes have not increased since 1962. During my term of office, constant progress in tax collections has been made, and it is my constant endeavor."

He perfected and improved a method for collection of current and delinquent taxes, collecting thereby one of the highest percentage of tax collections in Union County.

"Since January, 1962, and including 1964, the three-year average has been over 97 percent with 1964 showing an average of 97 percent of total outstanding taxes collected. Efficient handling of tax collection by the method installed by me has returned over $200,000 in back taxes to the township treasury in this three-year period.

"Automation of Tax Office was initiated by me. The new accounting equipment did away with the old pen and ink method of making out tax bills and the ledgers. Supervision and transcribing of various books and forms of these old records to the new system was accomplished under my direction.

"This system has been instrumental in saving many tax dollars, in that tax bills are now sent only once a year instead of every six months. There is a most considerable saving in postage, stationery, printing of tax bills, envelopes, not to mention clerical help and time, by this new system."

Methods of improvement are constantly being discussed with other tax collectors and our day-to-day experience. The records of my achievements in the tax collector's office are proof that my re-election will insure a continuation of a sound fiscal program.

$16,000 still unpaid is a $338 hospital bill, plus doctors fees.

Recent contributions to the fund include a donation by the Bethune Temple No. 372 Daughters of the Elks of Union, a memorial gift for Miss Alice M. Robinson from Mr. and Mrs. Russel E. Frame, a donation in memory of Helen Anderson and a check in memory of Herman Parker from his widow, Mrs. Yetta Parker.

Children continue to sponsor events for the benefit of the fund. One group collected $30.25 at a cake sale. They are Penny Berger, Claire and Joan Alper, Nancy Dorb, Shelley Kaplan and Nancy Zuckerman.

A Mary Hopkins puppet-show enriched the fund by $7.58. This sum was collected by a group of children on Spruce st. and Layton dr. in Union. They are Paula Cherelis, Cynthia, Patricia and Christine Angele, Maryellen Wagner, Claire Quagliato and Gracelyn Mostagallo.

An additional $3.70 was collected at a lemonade sale run by Jeff, Karen and Sheila Wadie of Union.

Jo Wendy Ames and Linda Schwartz of Springfield held a carnival and contributed their proceeds of $10.

Muller Is Cadet In Air Program

Mark Muller, son of Mrs. and Mr. Paul R. Muller of 148 Glenshaw ave., Springfield, freshman at Rutgers University, has enrolled as a cadet in the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps.

The program runs for four years and leads to the commission of second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force. He was graduated in 1963 from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Creative Classes Begin Thursday

The Creative Workshop, sponsored by the Springfield Recreation Department, in conjunction with the arts and crafts program, will begin classes new Thursday afternoon from 3:30 to 5, and on Saturday, Oct. 16, from 10 to 11:30 a. m. in the Recreation House, Caldwell pl.

Children of grammar school age are eligible for the 10-week course, taught by art instructors. Those registering for the classes will be divided into age groups so as to enable the instructors to work more closely with each child's capabilities," said John S. Donington, assistant director. The fee for the course is $4.

Knights' Council Will Hold Dance As Annual Event

The second annual fall dinner dance sponsored by the Springfield Council No. 5560, Knights of Columbus, will be held at the track, Springfield Corral, West Orange on Saturday. A cocktail hour will precede a roast-beef dinner. William Harrison is chairman of this affair, and tickets may be obtained from him by calling DR 6-1775.

Democrats

she and Mr. Braun acknowledged their responsibility to the people is more important than either of their personal goals.

Braun has declined to issue any statement on the matter "out of respect for Mrs. Smith."

Candidates' Comments

Grabauz and Mantel, the Democratic candidates for Township Committee, characterized Braun's actions as "one of the most outrageously callous acts that has ever occurred in this municipal government."

"Since, Fred Braun," they added, "is the present tax collector, he is also Mrs. Smith's boss. Marie Smith, having been appointed to work under him in 1962.

"Last Thursday, after six years as court clerk, violations clerk and deputy tax collector, Marie Smith was fired. She was fired six weeks before election, and by her political opponent.

"Not only does such a dismissal represent a vicious disregard for Mrs. Smith's rights, it also in this particular instance represents a monumental lack of personal gratitude.

"Fred Braun had been ill since late summer, much of that time being spent in the hospital. During the five weeks of his absence from his desk at Town Hall, Marie Smith carried the entire burden of the tax office.

"She did Braun's work and her own with no additional help being hired for the office and no additional compensation being paid for her efforts. She asked for none, and was offered none.

"Was Fred Braun upset by the realization that his opponent had demonstrated clearly that not only could she handle the duties of the tax collector—she could handle them while at the same time performing her own work? It would appear so.

"Instead of gratitude, he showed only rancor, and fired Mrs. Smith within the first week of his return to work with the words, 'Get out and don't come back. I'll get someone else to do your work.'

"Right To Ask

"The people of Springfield have a right to ask just what is going on in the administration of Town Hall. This incident is only one example of a series of incidents between municipal employees and dissatisfaction over the conditions under which they work.

"A long-time employee in another department has given notice of termination after long-term service to the town of Springfield.

"This rash of dissatisfaction among many long-term employees certainly does not indicate a well-run operation. The truth is, there is confusion at Town Hall.

"In most instances, job specifications have never been detailed; chains of command are vague; supervision and guidance are lacking; accounting and bookkeeping methods employed are frequently primitive. It appears that many civic employees are finally fed up.

"The people of Springfield can only be the losers when their most experienced employees are being fired or resigning from their jobs at town hall.

"The firing of Marie Smith only highlights that the very foundations of the administration are shaky, an act is time to bring a needed change in the administration by electing me to office."

Par-3 County Links Urged In Township

Construction of a Par-Three golf course in Springfield by the Union County Park Commission was urged in a letter sent to the commission last week by Edmund Hoffert, a staff member of the Springfield Recreation Department.

Hoffert, who stressed that he was writing as an "individual who recognizes the need of such a facility," directed his comments to Rudolph Krestan, general superintendent and secretary of the County Park Commission.

He urged that the golf course be located on Park Commission land behind the Howard Johnson restaurant and motor lodge on Rt. 22, and that it be financed from the sale of Park Commission lands in Springfield to the State Highway Department, which is now being negotiated.

The letter to Krestan follows:

Par-3 County Links Urged In Township

Construction of a Par-Three golf course in Springfield by the Union County Park Commission was urged in a letter sent to the commission last week by Edmund Hoffert, a staff member of the Springfield Recreation Department.

Hoffert, who stressed that he was writing as an "individual who recognizes the need of such a facility," directed his comments to Rudolph Krestan, general superintendent and secretary of the County Park Commission.

He urged that the golf course be located on Park Commission land behind the Howard Johnson restaurant and motor lodge on Rt. 22, and that it be financed from the sale of Park Commission lands in Springfield to the State Highway Department, which is now being negotiated.

The letter to Krestan follows:

Text of Letter

"I am in receipt of your report on the meeting which was held at the Park Commission on Thursday, evening, Sept. 16, which was attended by mayors and municipal representatives of 17 communities (including Hometown from Springfield).

"The purpose of the meeting was primarily on countywide recreation needs, and also a request by the commission to submit plans in the near future on recreation by the communities.

"Your letter suggested that I submit my ideas or thinking which I thought might benefit the community or the county.

New Books Offered On Library Shelves

The Springfield Public Library has a variety of new books this week. With comments by the library staff, they are: Of general interest: "The Desert in California," by Raymond F. Dasmann. "Read, this book and find out what is happening to one of our most beautiful and most richly endowed areas. Professor Dasmann shows what conservationists and planners have achieved in California, but that the lack of an overall comprehensive scheme has limited these achievements. Will the same thing happen to New Jersey?"

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy: I agree with 'Carole from Manhattan.' Shorts on men in public look terrible. And putting on a sport jacket and sacot (as I have seen) doesn't help either. I think the frequent incidence of this blatant dress in public stems from the inflated ego. The more men are acquiring lately. Oh for the good days when men were men! Just sign me... Old Times

Dear Amy: As a national manufacturer of men's apparel, including the children, want to play a noisy game. Yet there just isn't enough space for everyone to go to a different part of the house. Social obligations become a trial—Parents want to entertain, but so do the children. Both should have a place for their friends, but where?

Problems caused by lack of space may seem small and inconsequential. But they are important. It is the small everyday things happening over and over again that "get on your nerves" and grow into overwhelming problems.

The key to pleasant living is found in understanding, then working out the problem together.

Dear Amy: I feel that I am better qualified than most men who wear shorts because I have scrolling legs. My lower extremities are not only hairy but are skinny and bowed to boot. I wear those awful shorts and even with my utterly scrolling legs, I am willing to bet that I look better than

See you at Sardi's in short shorts!

See you at Sardi's in short shorts!
 Anon

Well it finally happened, I have been reading your column for over a year now and have never seen anything enough to write about any of your readers' comments, but now is the hour. I am referring to the letter written by a Carole Ann Walters' about men wearing shorts. I noticed that you didn't even make a comment about it, and rightly so, for it is for the attacked party to answer to the righteous attacker.

I feel that I am better qualified than most men who wear shorts because I have scrolling legs. My lower extremities are not only hairy but are skinny and bowed to boot. I wear those awful shorts and even with my utterly scrolling legs, I am willing to bet that I look better than

 "A cottage small" may sound romantic to the newlyweds, but in a few years the combination of little space and a growing family will bring problems—and necessary adjustments.

Many modern homes are substandard in the important factor of mental health—space. Lack of space can be a real health menace, resulting in frustration because of overcrowding. Everyone needs privacy, a place to go and be absolutely alone at times.

When homes are crowded, there is conflict between the desires of various family members. Father may want to read quietly, teen-age Sally wants to watch television, the smaller

Ormont Holds Film

"High Fidelity," adult, Italian film, which began its second week at the Ormont Theater, East Orange, yesterday, is presented in four separate episodes, comprising an unconventional look at love—16 stars Claire Bloom in one of her greatest roles and is guided by four of Italy's top directors—Mario Monicelli, Elio Petri, Franco Rossi and Luciano Salce.

See you at Sardi's in short shorts!

ate this week named Michael J. Regan of Scotch Plains as his campaign manager. Regan, an attorney, is a member of the Union County Park Commission and treasurer of the Newark Parking Authority.

Leukemia Society Slates Art Sale To Benefit Fund

Katherine Cantlin, New Jersey State executive director of the Leukemia Society announced this week that a benefit art sale will be held at 1994 Morris ave., Union, from Oct. 1 through 10 between noon and 3 p.m. The proceeds derived from this sale will supplement funds needed to further leukemia research projects now underway at medical centers throughout the state. In addition it will help to provide patient aid financing throughout Union County.

The benefit art sale will consist of over 300 traditional and contemporary paintings in all sizes representing the efforts of over 200 exceptional artists. All paintings will be priced from $5 to $75. Any purchase will be considered a charitable contribution.

Mrs. June Gartling, secretary of the Union County Chapter, commented that "this will be the most exciting art sale ever conducted in Union County." Mrs. Gartling also announced that Guy Calles, Union prosecutor has accepted chairmanship of the 1965 fund drive in Union County.

The comedy will be presented on Dec. 16 and 17 in the theater of the Campus Center. Mrs. Mary Anne Rhodes of Cranford, faculty adviser, will be the director. The first in a series of casting tryouts were held last week in the theater.

annual meeting at the Hotel Suburban in Summit last Thursday.

A highlight of the meeting was the formation of a Summit Branch of the American Cancer Society, under the direction of Dr. Alexander D. Crosett Jr. of Summit. The branch was formed to provide a comprehensive program of cancer control on the local level and is the second unit of its kind to be formed in the State of New Jersey.

Others elected: vice-president, Eugene G. Wilkins of Linden and Dr. Alexander D. Crosett Jr. of Summit; treasurer, George L. Randall of Plainfield; assistant treasurer, Charles H. DeLeon of Scotch Plains; secretary, Mrs. Joseph A. Ligouri Jr. of Roselle; assistant secretary, Mrs. Walter H. Hildebrandt of Union; legal advisor, Irving F. Sturm, and delegate to the New Jersey Division, Mrs. Robert L. Heald of Summit.

Herbert W. Sarnenfeld, County Cancer Crusade Chairman, announced that the Union County Chapter has exceeded its 1965 goal of $143,000 and had raised the largest sum of money in its 19-year history, $153,547.66.

He presented citations to the community chairman that exceeded their goals who include: Mrs. Henry Cyphers of Berkeley

Dinner Tuesday For Mrs. Hughes

A speechless time has been promised for those who attend a fund-raising dinner for Assemblywoman Mildred Barry Hughes of Union, next Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the Kingston Restaurant in Union. Mrs. Hughes, a Democrat, is seeking reelection to the N.J. Senate.

Chairman of the dinner is Jerome Krusser, city attorney in Linden and a former state assemblyman. Mrs. Josephine McGann, president of the Union County Democratic Women's Club, is chairman of arrangements.

Tickets, which are selling for $5, are the concern of Miss Tecla Babold and Mrs. Francis Donovan. There will be a full course dinner, drinks and entertainment by Al Casals and his band.

Taylor Is Chairman Of Legislative Group

Donald P. Taylor, 438 Central ave., Rahway, an attorney at Merck & Co., Inc., has been elected chairman of the Employers Legislative Committee of Union County, succeeding George L. Lee, Jr., president of Red Devil Tools, Union.

Other officers elected are: Stanley Fraser, secretary-treasurer, Solar Compounds Corp., Linden; Rugh H. Moore, general manager, National Starch & Chemical Corp., Plainfield, vice chairman, and Stanley Dunsen, personnel manager, Union Steel Corp., New Market, secretary.

DON'T BE CARELESS PREVENT FIRES

Your firemen devote great skill and courage to putting out fires. But YOU are in a position to stop fire BEFORE it starts. Practice sound measures of fire prevention to protect valuable property and safeguard precious lives... including your own!

1. Keep plenty of ash trays handy and use them. Never smoke in bed.
2. Don't let rubbish accumulate in attic, cellar or anywhere.
3. Handle flammables with great care always.
4. Have an electrician check your wiring system for possible overload.
5. Have adequate electrical outlets in all rooms.
6. Have your heating system checked for possible fire hazards.

Dumont Outlines 'Bold New Plan' On Water Supply

A "bold new plan" to give the people of New Jersey adequate water supplies and to control pollution of waterways was unveiled this week by State Senator Wayne Dumont Jr., Republican for governor.

Dumont proposed a three-man commission fashioned after the Public Utilities Commission with board powers to effect a long-range, integrated water supply plan and to control pollution.

"We have primary sources of water for our State available for development. One is the Delaware River, the other is the vast underground supply of water in South Jersey, estimated by man xperpts as exceeding 20 trillion gallons," he said.

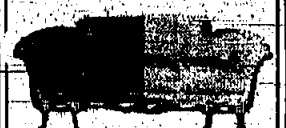

"Under the leadership of the commission I propose, immediate steps will be taken for the utilization of the underground water in our coastal plain. This water can easily be piped to every sector of our State."

Bel-Mart Opens Its Third Store

641 Felos, off-413 West Fourth ave., Roselle, a partner in Bel-Mart Stores, Inc. has announced the opening of the chain's third store at 33 Westfield ave., Clark.

"At Bel-Mart Stores all personnel on the selling floor are fully trained technicians. Bel-Mart operates one of the most modern service organizations in the state, manned by factory-trained personnel with many years of experience," Felos stated.

In addition to the new Clark store, Bel-Mart operates G. M. Electronics, in Hillside and Arrow Television, in Irvington.

HIDDEN TREASURE

This week has been set aside as "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week." It is intended to encourage public support of a practice which every right-thinking American will spontaneously applaud. Since it is acknowledged that perfect physical specimens are few, probably nine out of ten of the workers of the world are functioning under a physical handicap of some kind. We all are prey to everyday physical defects, from spastic colons to nervous twitches we include all.

Capital Punishment Favored According To Survey At Fair

A public survey conducted by the New Jersey State Bar Association, in conjunction with the State Fair at Trenton, indicates that New Jersey citizens are opposed to the abolition of capital punishment by a margin of better than two-to-one, it was announced this week.

George M. Hillman, president of the State Bar Association, which conducted the poll, said the survey shows that by nearly the same margin citizens are opposed to lowering of the voting age from 21 to 18.

The public opinion survey on a "fair trial" showed 2,607 expressing the opinion that a fair trial is received and 1,803 in the negative.

Bolduc and Greenstone said that the State Bar exhibit, which included materials furnished by the F.B.I., the American Bar Association and the New York Bar Association, attracted more than 75,000 of the visitors to the Fair.

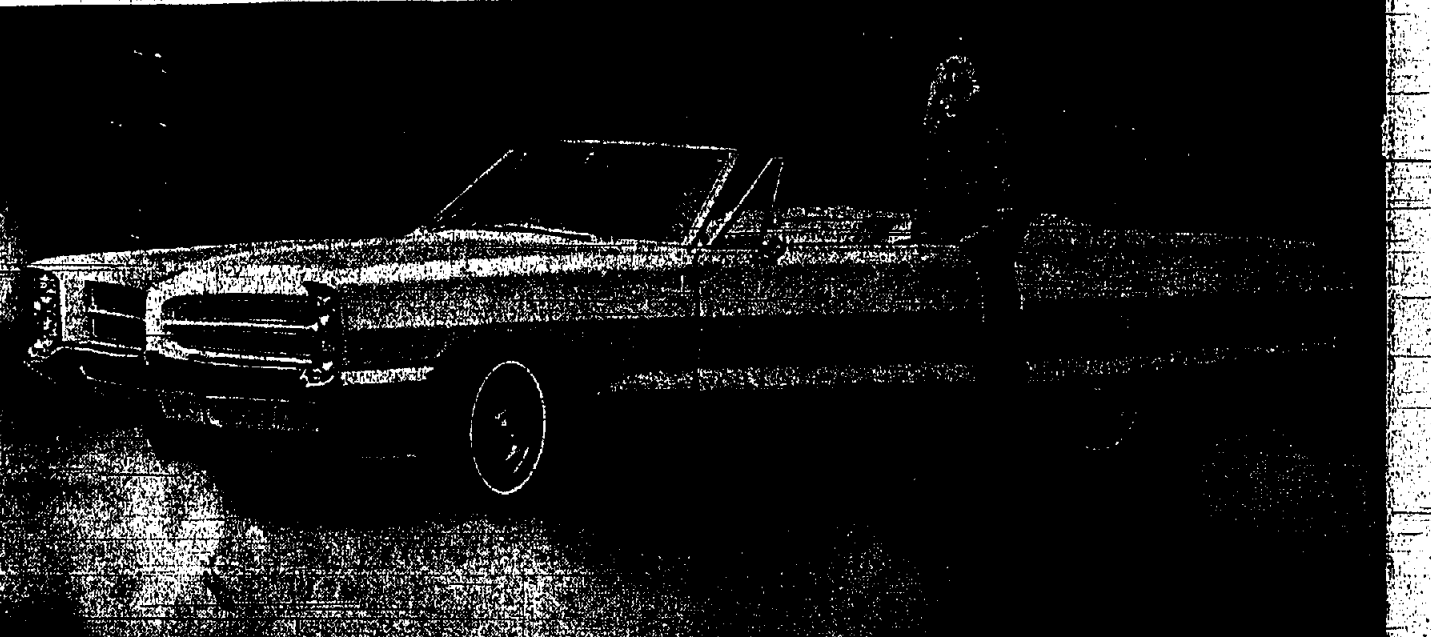

American Citizenship and numerous pamphlets dealing with such subjects as the importance of making a will and the need for a family lawyer.

The literature was supplied by the bar associations, the F.B.I., New York Life Insurance Co. and the Chelsea Title and Guaranty Co. Bolduc said that requests for additional literature had been made by teachers and representatives of law enforcement and civic groups who visited the fair and that the State Bar was filing requests for the literature.

The voting machine used in the samplings of public opinion was volunteered and serviced by the Automatic Voting Machine Co. of Jamestown, New York.

Numbers will be the subject matter of the Rutgers 1965 Saturday morning lecture series for children and their parents at the New Brunswick campus.

Originated in 1962 to stimulate the natural curiosity of children and answer some of their questions on subjects beyond their daily studies, the series has brought to 9 to 13-year-olds an introduction to science, chemistry and digital computers.

The 1965 series on "Numbers — As The Mathematician Sees Them" begins Saturday, October 16, at 9:45 a.m. in the lecture room of Van Dyck Hall on the College Ave. campus. It will continue to meet for five consecutive Saturdays for two hours each morning. While most children recognize the relevance of numbers to their daily living, this series introduces them to numbers as used by the mathematician. It will consider integers and unaccompanied geometrical configurations. Familiarity with addition and the multiplication of integers is suggested as a requirement by those planning to attend, a spokesman said.

Dr. Terence Butler, associate professor of mathematics for the Rutgers College of Arts and Sciences, is the instructor. For the past two summers Dr. Butler has also taught National Science Foundation seminars for superior high school students gifted in mathematics.

Each child or group of children must be accompanied by a parent or teacher.

Detailed information about the numbers series may be obtained by calling or writing the office of the New Brunswick Extension Center, Rutgers — The State University, 35 College Ave., New Brunswick, telephone CH 7-1766, extension 6244 or 6388.

The John Fitzgerald Kennedy Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, will hold a 'Charter Ball' at the Hotel Suburban, Summit, on Saturday evening, Oct. 16.

The charter for the newly-founded Assembly, which consists of members from Hillsdale, Kenilworth, Union, Springfield, Millburn, Irvington and Summit, will be presented to George J. Sheridan, faithful navigator, by James C. Rociford, master of the First New Jersey District of Knights of Columbus.

Guest speakers for this affair will be Gov. Richard J. Hughes and James J. Rooney, vice-supreme master. The Right Rev. Msgr. Francis X. Coyle, pastor of St. James Church in Springfield, will present the invocation.

The evening's activities will begin with a cocktail hour followed by dinner, presentation of the charter and dancing. Dinner chairman S. K. Fred Volkmert announced that early indications show that several hundred persons will attend.

WHO SAID IT? (RSV)
Following are seven Bible quotations. Underline the name of the person who is speaking. If you are not sure, look up the Bible reference.

1. "Zacchaeus, make haste and come down; for I must stay at your house today." Luke 19:5 (James, Paul, Jesus)
2. "These are the things which the LORD has commanded you to do." Ex. 35:1 (Moses, Aaron, Joseph)
3. "The Teacher is here and is calling for you." John 11:28 (Mary, Martha, Rhoda)
4. "Lord, do not hold this sin against them." Acts 7:60 (Jesus, Phiseo, Stephen)
5. "A fox and enemy! This wicked Haman!" Esther 7:8 (Mordcaai, Esther, Abasuerus)
6. "Can anything good come out of Nazareth?" John 1:46

(Nobodemus, Nathaniel, Herod)
7. "Send me Uriah the Hittite." Sam. 11:6 (David, Nathan, Saul)

Springfield To Seek Injunction Banning Highway Work Fires

Township Attorney James M. Cawley expects to obtain and serve an injunction today against the State Highway Department and the contractor clearing the ground for Rt. 278 in Springfield, banning them from burning leaves and other plant matter and debris resulting from the construction work.

"They are burning this material at the present time without having obtained the permit which is required by local ordinance," Cawley declared. "This activity is also in violation of the state air pollution code and the state nuisance code."

Cawley was authorized to seek the injunction at a special executive meeting held Monday night by the Township Committee. The action arose from a discussion at the regular meeting last week.

Besides the nuisance created for residents by the smoke from the highway construction fires, speakers stressed at that time, the smoke constitutes a major hazard for people with allergies and asthmatic conditions.

Cawley said that he is seeking a temporary injunction against the state agency and the contractor, Public Constructors, Inc., of Blackwood, N.J. If this is granted, he commented, additional hearings will be held during the coming week to determine if the order should be made permanent.

Highway Department To Make Engineer's Study For Rt. 278

BY ARNER GOLD

Efforts to clarify the meaning of a letter received by the township of Springfield this week from the State Highway Department were in vain, but apparently something is going on concerning Rt. 278.

The letter, signed by Joseph R. Cunningham, assistant state highway engineer, disclosed that the department had "engaged the services and made recommendations relative to Interstate 278 should it be necessary to extend this route westward from Rt. U. S. 1."

"Your engineers and planners will soon be contacted by representatives of the above-mentioned engineering firm in order to assemble all the local information that is available. This information will help immeasurably in completing their mission. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

"This letter is being sent to the city of Linden, boroughs of Roselle, Roselle Park, Kenilworth, townships of Cranford, Springfield and Union, and to the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

MISREPRESENTATION

"There has been so much misrepresentation regarding Rt. 278 that we wish to get this project started with proper perspective." (Yes, he did say prospective, a spelling which should be taken in proper perspective.)

Aside from the question of misrepresentation as to what and by whom, problems of interpretation arose as to the phrase in the opening paragraph: "should it be necessary to extend this route westward from Rt. U. S. 1."

"Does this mean that the survey will determine whether it will be necessary to extend Rt. 278?"

"Or does it mean that the survey will provide information to be used only in the event that other factors determine that the superhighway will pass through Springfield?"

Presumably, engineer Cunningham knows what he meant to say. Efforts to obtain further comment from engineers Cunningham and Elletts—two bits of information Cunningham is out of the state and will remain there all week, and no one else in the Highway Department offices in Trenton cared to make any comment.

NO FURTHER WORD

Walter Kozub, Springfield township engineer, stated on Tuesday that he had not received any communication from the Highway Department or from the engineering firm mentioned in the letter.

The Springfield Police Department, disclosed, however, that surveys had been noticed several weeks ago in the area of the Rahway Valley Railroad tracks, behind Hawthorn ave.

A policeman dispatched at that time to find out what was happening, was told by the surveyors that they worked for the Highway Department, with no further details. No one in the Highway Department, headquarters in Trenton cared to comment about that, either.

BRUSH STROKE

The community mentioned in the letter from Cunningham are Linden, Roselle, Roselle Park, Kenilworth, Cranford, Springfield and Union. They are those affected by the "brush stroke" on the county map issued at the start of this year.

The map contained a line, designated as the proposed Rt. 278, extending from the Goethals Bridge area in Linden, to a junction with Rt. 78 in the vicinity of Springfield ave. in Springfield. Highway Department officials at the time strongly denied any intention of extending 278, and particularly through the communities mentioned.

One bit of specific information, however, was provided this week by the Highway Department. A house in Springfield will be sold at auction by the department next Thursday at 2 p. m.

The property, with a 2½-story hollow tile and stucco dwelling with attached three-car garage, is located at 150 Baltusrol rd., in the Baltusrol Top area.

Morris Mansion Garage In Flames Monday Morning

At 3 a.m. Monday, the garage behind old Morris mansion on Morris and Wabeno avenues was destroyed by fire, said the Springfield Fire Department. The contractor clearing the ground for Rt. 278 in Springfield, was called to extinguish the blaze on the property, now owned by the National State Bank of Springfield.

Firemen were also called to put out a house fire on Baltusrol rd., opposite the Baltusrol Station. The house, owned by the state was scheduled to be razed for the construction of Rt. 78. Under the supervision of Chief Mesker, the entire company responded at 1:35 a.m. Saturday and reported that no major damage occurred.

Firemen were called to put out a brush fire at 854 Springfield ave. The fire was out on arrival at 7:41 p.m. Saturday, they reported.

The Springfield Fire Department also took part in the Civil Defense drill on Sunday.

2 Persons Hurt In Car Accidents Over Past Week

A 32-year-old Newark man has been released in a $300 bond to await a hearing before Springfield Magistrate Max Sherman on a drunken driving charge.

William C. Brown was arrested by P.I. Daniel Halsey of the Springfield Police at 11:15 Monday morning on Meisel ave., Springfield.

In other police action, two accidents were reported over the weekend.

A high school student was injured Friday afternoon in the Regional High School parking lot when he was struck by a car driven by another student.

Fred Goldberg of 23 Norwood rd., driving out of the lot, struck and knocked down David Booth of 138 Bryant ave., both of Springfield. The injured boy was taken to Overlook Hospital, and broke his right arm.

Summit, by the First Aid Squad, where he was treated for leg.

The incident was reported by the principal of Jonathan Dayton Regional High, Robert L. Vanture.

A 55-year-old woman was treated for back pains Saturday after she was involved in a two-car accident on Mountain ave., Springfield.

The woman, Mrs. Grace R. Cafala of 835 Mountain ave., traveling south on Mountain ave., and attempting to make a turn into a driveway at 537 Mountain, 28, of Cranford, who was going north.

Both vehicles were towed from the scene and Mrs. Cafala was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit.

RED SNAPPER WITH MUSHROOM SAUCE

1-1/2 lbs. red snapper fillets
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced
1 onion, chopped
2 tbs. minced green pepper
4 tps. minced parsley
1 tbs. butter or margarine
3 tbs. flour
1/2 cups light dry wine (Chablis or Sauterne)
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. salt
2 tbs. lemon juice
1-1/2 cups milk

(Place fillets on a rack in a large pan, add enough water to make 1 inch in the bottom of pan. Cover and steam for 20 minutes. Four cups cooked saffron rice (to make saffron rice, mix three strands Spanish saffron with two tbs. boiling water. Cook two cups converted rice according to package directions adding saffron solution to cooking water). Melt butter or margarine in a skillet, then add mushrooms, onion, green pepper and parsley, and saute until tender. Add one more tablespoon of butter and blend in flour. Now stir in milk and light dry wine and heat stirring constantly until thickened. Season with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Add fish, broken into small pieces, and heat thoroughly. Serve over saffron rice.)

Tips for TODAY'S HOMEMAKER

From MARY ARMSTRONG, County Home Economist

TURKEY-TIME IS ANY TIME SMALL BIRDS MAY BE BROILED

When your club plans a fall banquet, turkey as a main course is sure to be considered. And it is likely to be featured at many celebrations, public and private, long before the later holiday season for several good reasons.

Food shoppers will find turkey more plentiful this year than last, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service. Prices are forecast about as low as a year ago making the cost per serving very attractive.

The size and appearance of the bird lends a festive air and emphasizes the importance of the occasion.

Almost everyone enjoys turkey which nowadays is almost uniformly tender.

For home use, the availability of small turkeys, half turkeys and turkey parts, eliminates the formerly time-consuming and sometimes dreaded aspect of preparing and cooking a very large bird.

If you're in doubt as to how big a bird to buy, for a rough guide allow about 1/2 pound per serving, ready-to-cook weight. Should you want to use the turkey for several meals, select a proper weight accordingly. Remember, the larger the turkey, the greater number of servings possible because the increased proportion of meat to bone and less likelihood of shrinkage. For example, while a young four to eight-pound bird will yield about four to 10 servings, a 20 to 24 pounder will provide 40 to 50 servings.

To shop with assurance, look for the official round Government inspection mark on the label indicating that the poultry has been examined for wholesomeness. When the turkey also shows the USDA Grade A in a shield, you can be sure you're getting a top quality bird certified by a Government grader to meet the highest USDA quality standards.

When buying a frozen turkey, be sure that the wings are not torn or broken, and the bird is still solidly frozen.

For an easy-to-prepare broiled turkey for a small family, use a young bird four pounds or under, ready-to-cook weight, split in half lengthwise. These are the directions:

Snap the two joints in the legs and the wings to keep the bird flat during broiling. For uniform cooking, skewer leg to body and fold wing tip back under wing. If desired, rub broiling pan with cut surface of garlic or onion. Place turkey in broiler pan (without rack). Brush with melted butter, season with salt and pepper and place skin-side down. Broil seven to 10 inches away from heat source. Regulate heat or pan position so that turkey broils slowly and begins to brown lightly in 15 minutes. Turn two or three times during broiling, brushing with additional butter each time. Continue broiling until meaty parts are fork-tender, about 60 minutes. Serve with pan drippings poured over the turkey.

JAMES BENDER

Youthful Speaker Joins In Telecast

James Bender of Springfield, a senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, took part Sunday in a television debate sponsored by the New York Herald Tribune Youth Forum.

He joined with five other teenagers in a discussion of U. S. foreign policy at present and in the years to come, particularly in matters involving the underdeveloped nation.

The telecast was part of a series presented over the CBS network to select a top U. S. teen-ager. The winner will take part in an annual group-of-programs involving young men and women from all parts of the world. Bender was named to speak Sunday as a result of a preliminary competition with representatives of other secondary schools in the area.

He is president of the Student Council at Dayton Regional. Bender was selected as a Boy's State delegate last spring by the Springfield Continental Post-American Legion. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bender of 21 Ann pl.

Phone Company Delivering Books To Area Homes

The New Jersey Bell Telephone Company is delivering nearly 280,000 copies of the new 1965 Suburban Essex Directory. Delivery began in Montclair yesterday and will start in the Oranges and in the Summit area on Wednesday.

The directory contains listings for more than 185,000 homes and businesses. This is an increase of about 3,000 numbers over last year.

The multi-colored cover of the directory has seven panel illustrations showing typical New Jersey scenery from lake and seashore playgrounds to the industrial and research complexes in the northeast and Delaware Valley sections of the state.

In addition to names and numbers, the director has an introductory section which has been redesigned in a new easy-to-read format to simplify dialing and other instructions.

Telephone directories for other areas in New Jersey can be obtained free of charge by calling the local New Jersey Bell Telephone Company business office.

Night Hours Added By Social Security

The Social Security district office in Elizabeth will remain open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. each Monday through October for the added convenience of residents of the area, Ralph W. Jones, district manager, said this week. These evening hours are in addition to the regular 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. schedule of office hours, Monday through Friday. Jones pointed out that it is important for many people to get in touch with the district office to take advantage of the health insurance and other provisions of the 1965 amendments to the Social Security program. Although most people are able to visit the office during the day, many find it impossible to do so because of employment or home responsibilities. The three major groups of people who should contact the Social Security office are:

1. People who are now 65 or older but who are not entitled to Social Security benefits. Some of these people are eligible for benefits but have not applied for them because they are still working full-time.
2. Widows 60 or 61 years of age who under the old law would have been eligible for widow's benefits at age 62. They may now apply for Social Security benefits as early as age 60 if they wish to accept a permanently reduced amount.
3. Unmarried students 18 to 22 years of age who received Social Security benefits prior to becoming 18; also students who receive Social Security benefits and are nearing age 18, and who plan to continue in school. Upon application, monthly benefits can be paid back to January, 1965, to unmarried students who were under 22 in January, 1965, and who were dropped from the social security rolls when they reached 18. The Elizabeth Social Security office is at 268 No. Broad st. The telephone number is 351-3200.

Rothberg Named To Be Chairman Of Campaign Unit

Abraham Rothberg of 222 Morningdale ave., Linden, today was named Union County Chairman of the Pharmacists for Hughes. The appointment was made by James Delahanty, State Chairman of Pharmacists for Hughes. "Governor Hughes' programs are imaginative and progressive," Rothberg said in his acceptance statement. "Under his leadership New Jersey was the first state in the nation to develop a program in conjunction with the War on Poverty in which the State Department of Health will conduct health examinations and take remedial action on members of the youth corps and draft registrars. The extension of this program to school dropouts is planned," Rothberg continued. A graduate of Rutgers University College of Pharmacy, Rothberg is a member of the Linden Board of Education. He is director of the Alexian Board of the Union County Trust Company. He is a member of the New Jersey Manpower Commission, the Linden Kiwanis Club and of the National, New Jersey and Union County Pharmaceutical Association.

MILDRED BARRY HUGHES

Her Aim: 'Union The Beautiful'

Assemblywoman Mildred Barry Hughes of Union this week urged "energetic new local efforts" to extend the state and national goals of streets and avenues of Union County communities. "Halling the federal government's highway beautification bill, which is similar to New Jersey's, Mrs. Hughes said there is no reason why the aged in both laws cannot be desirable standards encouraged in our own neighborhoods and town centers."

"In our own way, we Union County residents can help make 'America the Beautiful' a reality," she said. Mrs. Hughes, Democratic state senate candidate in Union County, is the author of a 1962 bill prohibiting the display of billboard signs within 800 feet of state highways. Another bill also requires fencing around auto junkyards located along the highways. The federal bill does essentially the same things, making New Jersey a leader in the highway beautification campaign, Mrs. Hughes said. "But our efforts should not end with highways," Mrs. Hughes said. "All our communities should extend the desire for beauty to planning for new buildings and private and public facilities. "After all," she said, "beauty is no more expensive than ugliness."

Bulldogs Seeking 1st Grid Triumph, Will Face Hillside

Dayton Loses, 13-6, To Clark Regional; Lat Tally Decides

By MYRON MEISEL
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School football team, after a close loss to Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School of Clark by a score of 13-6, will confront Hillside High School away this Saturday, taking along a record of 0-2. The Bulldog eleven showed great progress Saturday over the opening game with Berkeley Heights and faces Hillside with a good chance for breaking into the winning column.

The Dayton offense basically played a running game, with both fullback Mark Anthony and halfback Danny Ginter strong drivers. The Bulldog defense tightened up, headed by Anthony, center Bill Burnett and tackle Ernie Miltner, but Dayton still failed to accumulate a significant amount of rushing yardage. The decisive factor in the contest, however, was key penalties called against Dayton.

The Clark offense was dominated by halfbacks, Al Prisch and Larry Buoni, and fullback Andy Buydos. The Crusaders fumbled frequently with Mark Gruzovich, Al Lobato, and Tom Martin at Dayton, accumulating four of these loose balls. The Bulldog eleven failed, however, to develop this advantage. As a result, the game remained scoreless for the first half.

Early in the third quarter, Clark received the ball on its own 28-yard line and ran it up field on two long runs by Prisch and several drives by Buoni. A 15-yard penalty against the Bulldogs put the Crusaders into scoring position, and Prisch ran five yards through the center for the touchdown.

With one-and-a-half minutes remaining, Clark had the ball on its own 40-yard line. A pass to end Bob Rice gave the Crusaders a first down. A Dayton penalty moved them up another 15 yards to the Bulldog 31. Another pass to Rice brought another first down.

Sturdy Football Players Grow From Little Sprouts

BY BEA SMITH

A husky, muscular football coach, sporting a healthy outdoor tan, lumbered over the other afternoon to chat about the Springfield football program for boys, (who would probably like to grow up to be husky, muscular and tanned).

"When I first started coaching the boys five years ago," Francis H. Shimshock boomed in an outdoor voice, "I had little babies to coach eight years old. Now I have 32 little ones, many of whom never played football before in their lives."

Registration, Shimshock says, usually averages between 125 and 150. "The kids are divided up by age and weight. And I have a wonderful assistant for my group, Sal Falcone, who coaches the line, and I the backfield."

The teams, he says, are sponsored by the Recreation Department of Springfield. "This year, we're at Meisel Field. We have four football fields laid out to one side of the high school field."

"We're teaching the kids to take a couple of blows in life—how to play in the back-ground—without competition."

"WE ARE TEACHING trips reverses to the boys—who have never played before. They're not experienced enough to pre-judge the coach. It's good experience for them, and eventually they will learn to tell the difference between the rights and wrongs of football."

"But let me tell you," Shimshock smiled, "the stars are adorable. And we've never had any serious accidents. Oh, there have been some minor bruises—but that's to be expected. During the last 40 minutes each week we play a football game. We try to even it up. They really don't have to win—just as long as they play ball."

Shimshock explained that since they play on Saturday mornings, they've lost some of the boys to Hebrew School. But we've managed to convince the rabbi to hold some later classes, so some of the boys can go to practice.

"I tell you," Shimshock tapped the desk with a large hand (it sounded as if he had punched it vigorously), "they're a strong group of kids. And we're only hoping that we can hold on to the older boys. You know, kids today are not too inclined to take a bruise."

"Once in a while, when they think it's going to be too hard, they leave to join other sports—deciding that baseball or basketball are much easier. But the fellows who really are interested in football stay on."

IN ORDER to find out who is and who isn't interested," Shimshock says, "we advertise in a way. We leave applications at different schools. Boys who are interested, fill in the forms and register—earning certificates from parents concerning the child's health—and receiving their parental permission."

Shimshock explained that credit must be given where credit is due—"And I'm talking about the recreation people, Ed Ruby and Scott Donington. They've been very cooperative."

Shimshock, who keeps himself busy all week long, also teaches Sunday School in the First Presbyterian Church in Springfield, and is an active member of the township Board of Education. ("My recreational work takes up my Saturdays, but my wife gives me time out for this. She's been very good about it. She chooses that time to be done around the house.")—He fills his daily hours—and spends his nights in the claims department of the home office in New York City of Fidelity-Union, N. Y.

"The man of many activities in one that football youngsters can look up to with pride. Nothing ever came to Shimshock the easy way. Born in New Salem, Pa. ("That's in Fayette County—an old coal town"), Shimshock was educated in the small town "I played football on a very good high school team there."

Shimshock says that when his grandfather came to this country from Poland in the late 1800s, the immigration officer couldn't spell the family name, Szymszak. "So, he spelled it phonetically. The oldest of six children, Francis Shimshock rarely had enough money to ride to the football field very often. "My dad used to work in a drug store, but during the depression, when the store went broke, he went to work as a clerk for the WPA.

WITH SIX kids to support, six miles away, and thumb a ride back when practice was over. Sometimes I didn't get a ride, so I walked,

"In the 30 years he lived in Fayette County, dad managed to become a justice of the peace; he was appointed sergeant at arms to the State House of Representatives. He was a little fellow—short (my mother was the husky one), and he always preached education to the kids. He used to say to me: 'Go to college.' "He didn't contribute any money toward my college," Shimshock grinned, "because he didn't have any to contribute. He just said: 'Go to college.'"

"So with seven dollars in my pocket, I set out to college. I tried out for a football scholarship, and got through Penn State's School of Education. My minor was Journalism. I became editor of the school paper—and that paid a salary. After Shimshock was graduated from Penn State, he got a scholarship to the law school at the University of Pittsburgh, from which he was graduated in 1941.

"I HAD A RESERVE commission in the regular Army, but when the war broke out, I weighed 280 pounds, so they put me on the inactive list. I got a job in the claims department of Continental Insurance Co. (now Fidelity and Casualty.)"

Between 1949 and 1954, Shimshock was stationed in the Alabama office of the company—in the claims management department. "I headed out an educational program for the claims adjusters. I ended up teaching law and became a writer of insurance textbooks."

Five years ago, he was transferred to the main office in New York. "I do a lot of writing now—I write the manuals for the company. I see, law—but only from a background point of view. You see," he admitted shyly, "I hate to argue with someone I love politics; but I don't want to fight with people."

Shimshock and his wife came to Springfield 12 years ago. "My wife also has been active—and she loves to bowl. She throws a fast ball and is very consistent," he beamed. "As a member of the Pine Presbyterian Church, Shimshock also serves as superintendent of the Senior Department High School youth."

"My wife, Pearl, and I, in our 25 years of marriage, never had any children. But we've worked with youngsters all the time. I think people ought to have more exposure to youngsters. We sure waste a lot of talent by not listening to their views on things."

What does Shimshock do in his spare time? "I READ. Everything. I average about three books a week—on whatever catches me at the moment. I go from a book called 'Jews in the Time of Jesus' to 'Lans', a western novel; I read insurance journals, legal documents—pertaining to my line of work."

"Where do I find the time?" Shimshock smiled. "I'm an early riser—I read with my coffee in the morning, and on the bus end train to and from work every day. "You sure can pile them up that way." Books or opposing football—playashe didn't specify.

Upon completion of a four-week intensive training program, Wright will be qualified to handle sales for the entire line of Volkswagen sedans, station wagons and trucks. He was graduated from Yale University.

Booters Tie Linden, Set To Visit Pingry

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer squad visits Pingry School today with a record of 1-1-1, after stalemating Linden High School last Wednesday with one goal apiece. A strong Dayton offensive was met by an equally strong Linden backfield to provide very spirited play.

An early break by Linden fizzled out, thanks to excellent play by Bob Morvins, and strong defense by Bill Murphy and Larry Budish. However, Dayton soon discovered how tough the Linden defense was, especially in the person of left halfback, Steve Regil. The Linden offense failed to show any strength at this time. Budish and Gene Zorn showed versatility and greatly sparked the Dayton attack in the first half. As the game progressed, Dayton intensified pressure on Linden, slowly breaking down its backfield. Early in the third quarter, a blitz by Dayton found an opening on the right side.

Derrol Brooks from the center, fed Mike Heinke on the right to have more exposure to youngsters. We sure waste a lot of talent by not listening to their views on things."

Head coach Jack Paffi commented on the team and its future: "Our offense is tough and has shaped up beyond my expectations, but our defense has had lapses which have been crucial. Pingry is in general a pretty good, but Pingry has a strong squad too. Their school places a great emphasis on soccer, which gives them a slight advantage. However, I feel that it will be a very good game."

"As a member of the Pine Presbyterian Church, Shimshock also serves as superintendent of the Senior Department High School youth."

Runners On Trail Of First Triumph In Cross-Country

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School cross-country team will travel to Warinanco Park, Elizabeth, tomorrow to race against Governor Livingston Regional High School of Berkeley Heights. Dayton now has a record of 0-2, following a defeat, 20-35, last Wednesday by North Edison High.

Leading all the runners was Ronald Fry of Springfield, the Dayton captain, who turned in a time of 13:40 in the 2 1/2-mile race. Bob Middleton and Don Knight, both of Kenilworth, ran seventh and eighth, respectively. Dayton also took ninth and tenth.

"Our greatest problem at present is our lack of runners, including the loss of a key man through an injury," coach A. Martin Taglienti said. "Governor Livingston is also in its first year of cross-country, but they have 16 runners as compared with our six. All that the team can really do is wait and see."

Hospital Director To Speak At YW
The head of Overlook Hospital in Summit, Robert E. Heinlein, will be the speaker at next week's "Kaffeeklatch" program at the Summit YWCA.

BUILDING REAL ESTATE HOMES FOR SALE HOME IMPROVEMENTS

BUILDER OF THE WEEK Paragano Construction Firm Known For 2 Decades Of Fine Craftsmanship

Builder Nazario "Larry" Paragano has had an unusual honor in his profession: Among the many homes he has built over the years, seven have been built for builders. This fact says a lot about the man and his product - a pride in design and craftsmanship that is not always evident in home-construction today.

The Paragano name has been synonymous with construction of better homes for two decades and represents a three-generation tradition of fine craftsmanship. Larry Paragano is more than a builder; he is a designer as well. His mark is apparent in the individuality expressed in tracts developed by Vincent Paragano & Sons, the family firm that he heads.

Irvington High School

A resident of Irvington for 20 years, Paragano attended Irvington High School. The main office of the firm is maintained at 564 Sylvan Ave. It was in Irvington that Paragano and his late father built their first home after World War II.

In an era when most buildings choose the middle income mass-housing field, the Paraganos concentrated on the luxury home market. "I always wanted to build something I could be proud of," he said. "I wanted a hand in its design... and I didn't want to compromise on quality." The firm has built in Morris-town, Summit and Mountainside but for the past 10 years its activity has been almost solely in Short Hills, completing the development of White Oaks at Short Hills, The Oaks, Silver Springs Estates, Paragon Park and the present Paragon Park East.

Paragano believes strongly in the use of terraces. Rather than change the property to the house, he would design the dwelling to fit its physical surroundings. Paragano has more than once been in the position, unique for a builder, of fighting to save trees that a home-buyer wanted to remove.

Distinctive Touches

Paragano-built homes are marked by distinctive architectural touches: Liberal use is made of railroading in, enbankments, tree-walls, and fencing. Balconies, open stairways and the use of skylights are among other features incorporated into the homes.

In a current model, Paragano has borrowed the "atrium" or sunken living room from ancient Rome and adopted it to modern living. In one wing is found dining room, kitchen area and den. Three bedrooms form another wing. The two wings are connected by the "open" living room flanked by fluted columns.

Larry Paragano is immediate past president of the Home Builders Association of Metropolitan New Jersey. He is a director of the Home Builders Association of New Jersey, and a member of the International Housing Committee of the National Home Builders Association, in which capacity he has traveled widely in this country and abroad. The travels have served him well in the new ideas and materials that he has brought to his homes.

Paragano is also a member of the N. J. Society of Residential Appraisers, the Grand Jury Association, Union National and Millman-Rolay.

Builder of the Week

Builder Nazario "Larry" Paragano has had an unusual honor in his profession: Among the many homes he has built over the years, seven have been built for builders. This fact says a lot about the man and his product - a pride in design and craftsmanship that is not always evident in home-construction today.

The Paragano name has been synonymous with construction of better homes for two decades and represents a three-generation tradition of fine craftsmanship. Larry Paragano is more than a builder; he is a designer as well. His mark is apparent in the individuality expressed in tracts developed by Vincent Paragano & Sons, the family firm that he heads.

Del Vecchio, Assembly Candidate, Wants Back-Seat Safety Belt Law

Assembly Candidate Philip Del Vecchio, Republican, former mayor of Springfield, announced this week that he will introduce legislation next year, if elected, to require safety belts in the rear seats of passenger cars. This requirement would apply to all new automobiles sold in New Jersey beginning with the 1968 models, explained Del Vecchio.

"The 1965 legislature wisely enacted into law, a requirement for seat belts in the front seats of new cars, which already has demonstrated how traffic fatalities can be reduced. Why not plan now to carry this law to its logical conclusion to protect the lives of rear-seat passengers as well?" Del Vecchio said he feels that the two year waiting period would give manufacturers adequate time to provide the added safety measure in their new models, without undue hardship.

SHOW SCHEDULED BY HANDICAPPED

T of Highland Park's Frank Zapata, there's complete truth in the song title "There's No Business Like Show Business." And he holds to this truth even though he's confined to a wheelchair.

Big, cheerful, crew cut Frank, who is a song writer, singer, and comedian, will be in an unusually happy frame of mind tomorrow evening. He'll put his talents on display as M.C. for a benefit show featuring all handicapped persons in the theater at Union Junior College, Cranford.

The show will be sponsored by the Highway Chapter of the Indian Sports Club, an international organization for physically handicapped. It will be a benefit for a scholarship fund the chapter is establishing at Union Junior College for physically handicapped young people.

Pledges Rate Probe

A thorough investigation of New Jersey insurance companies' operations was pledged recently by Henry F. Gavan, of Linden, Democratic candidate for the State Assembly.

Pointing out that hearings and investigations have been conducted by the state legislature as a result of complaints, Gavan said he believes there should be an expansion of the investigation.

"There appears to be an obvious need to protect the hundreds of thousands of persons insured with New Jersey companies as well as the agents. Both appear to need legislation as a bulwark against the disregard consistently shown by insurance companies," Gavan said. "Serious questions have been raised about the rates charged for all types of insurance and particularly for auto insurance."

THEORY THAT THOSE WHO SUSTAIN ACCIDENTS SHOULD PAY HIGHER INSURANCE RATES THAN OTHERS DOES NOT APPEAR TO HAVE HELPED ANYONE EXCEPT THE COMPANIES.

change to another insurer requires too much filling out of forms. This should be remedied, he stated.

The Democratic Assembly candidate said greater control is needed by the state. He asserted the legislature should give more power to the state commissioner of banking and insurance.

"Currently it is almost impossible to secure hurricane insurance, especially in some locations. This should be remedied. The duty of the state is to protect its residents against this type of discrimination," Gavan asserted.
