Clergy, Township Officials Comment On Dr. King Visit

It is tragic that a man who has been awarded a Nobel Prize for his efforts on behalf of peace should be the focal point of an erroneous and unfactual attack by a perennial candidate for political office. It speaks well for Springfield that he is com-

Leader Will Offer 'New Look'

The new "most modern" look in newspaper printing and make-up will appear in this new paper of the Springfield Leader. We will begin printing by this method which is differentiated from letter press. Readers will notice that photo reproduction will be immeasurably better than in the letter press method. We will use six columns of reading matter on a four-column page. Combined with use of white space, this will result in the most advanced method of making your newspaper easier to use. Also, we will no longer use green paper.

Blazes Reported In Furnace Room And Parked Auto

Clothes piled too near a boiler in a furnace room, caused a fire at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, 6 Diven st., Springfield, Saturday morning.

A full complement of fire equipment responded to the fire, which destroyed all the clothes and the telephone wires.

When the fire crew got there, however, the fire was under control. Mrs. Johnson was putting it out with a garden hose.

The interior of a late model convertible auto belonging to Ted Ganska of 614 S. Springfield ave. was completely destroyed by flames last Wednesday night on Park st. Fire officials have not determined the cause of the fire. One engine was used to extinguish the blaze.

Two brush fires occurred within 35 minutes of each other Monday afternoon. The engine responded to a fire along the railroad tracks near Tooker ave. and another engine responded to a blaze on Baltusrol rd. near the Little Brook Riding Stables. No damage or injuries were reported in either case.

distribution of the code to the press without prior study or approval by the committee. Details of Bloom's proposals will appear next week.

Committeemen William Koonz reported on progress of negotiations with the Union County Park Commission for improvement of park property in Springfield.

He noted that the county agency had received more than $300,000 from sale of park lands for highway construction in the township.

Koonz expressed the belief that accelerated development, particularly along the Rahway River and in the vicinity of Meisel Field, should be under way within a year.

Public Discussion

In the public discussion period, Mayor Robert G. Planer ruled out of order comments which Henry S. Wright attempted to make regarding the coming appearance in Springfield of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, civil rights leader and winner of the Nobel Prize.

The mayor told Wright that the matter "is not the concern of his township board." When he started a reference to Planer's appearance with Dr. King, the mayor declared, "I don't have to defend my position, as an individual, in this matter."

In discussion of other business, Ben Yarrow and Norman Banner questioned the committee about traffic hazards at the junction of Mountain ave., Henshaw ave. and S. Springfield ave.

Mayor Planer noted that installation of a traffic light was under study. Stanley R. Bennett, traffic consultant, commented that a light at this spot, with a complicated traffic pattern, might create added traffic and safety problems.

He added a suggestion for pedestrians who have difficulty crossing Mountain ave. in this area. Bennett urged that pedestrians cross south of Henshaw ave., avoiding cars entering Henshaw and S. Springfield, and that they be barred from trying to cross north of Henshaw ave.

Girl Scout Program Lists Varied Events

The Brownies of Springfield Troop 214, led by Mrs. Anthony Graziano, made Easter favors for the children's ward at the N. J. Psychiatric Institute, Skillman, and also made small Easter baskets for distribution by the local Easter basket chairman of Springfield.

Baskets were given to Mrs. Warren Henderson for delivery at the last St. James co-ordinators' meeting. Brownies of this troop presented a play, called "Piddy Grows Up," which they themselves had written.

Scouts of Junior Troop 280, led by Mrs. Arthur Roth, last week attended the N. J. Artists Show of Westfield, at Union Junior College, Cranford. This visit was part of the drawing and painting badge requirements.

They include Susan Conklin, Susan Murphy, Cindy Zartelli, Holly Quinlan, Elizabeth Simpson, Margaret Voorhees, Stephanie Laird and Carol Durand.

Scout Nancy Soos was a guest for the afternoon. Mrs. Nicholas Zartelli, Mrs. G. A. Durand, and Mrs. Louis Soos, were the adults who accompanied the scouts.

Junior Troop 51, led by Mrs. Joseph Carroll held its meeting in the form of an Easter luncheon. Guests were Kathy Ziegler of Brownie Troop 31, Patricia Mulligan of Cadette Troop 273, John Laurencelle and Fred Steinhart.

Girls of Rose Ann Wylenowski patrol completed their hospitality badge requirements at the luncheon. Games were directed by Susan Kaiser.

An Easter egg hunt was led by Scouts Gloria Fernandez and Pamela DaQuino, assisted by Patricia Mulligan. Luncheon closed with teas.

The Scouts joined with the other troops in Springfield on a

City Schools Called
'Grossly Inferior'

Children in New Jersey's big cities and rural areas are getting education grossly inferior to schooling in the suburbs, the Governor's Council on Education was warned recently.

"The quality of urban education has slipped disastrously during the past 10 years," said S. Herbert Starkey Jr. of Trenton, director of research for the New Jersey Education Association. "Urban children often need especially good education, yet school quality in the cities is falling so far behind school quality in the suburbs that the question of discrimination in educational opportunity must be raised."

Compering 11 "well to do" suburbs with 11 urban areas, Starkey found that in 1955, the big cities were spending slightly more money for each pupil than were the suburbs. In 1960, the suburbs are spending $169 more for each pupil than are the cities.

In the key indicator of school quality, Starkey said, the suburbs have increased the percentage of teachers and specialists available to the student body, while in the cities, the pupil populations are outgaining the instructional help.

Rural districts have been able to increase the staff-per-pupil ratio slightly, Starkey said. But, because of a shortage of business, industry and other sources of expensive materials, rural districts have considerably higher school tax rates than do either the suburbs or the cities.

Said Starkey: "Big-city schools are falling behind — and in some cases deteriorating rapidly — because the Legislature has not provided an adequate level of State school aid to meet urban education problems. Big-city schools — and rural districts — need help, and in many cases they need it now, urgently."

TOT INJURED

Linda Foster, 14 months old, was injured last week when a car driven by her mother, Mary C. Foster of Union, was in an accident with a car driven by Louis Laskey of Wallburg.

According to police, Laskey was attempting a left turn into Springfield ave. from 38th st., Irvington, when the cars collided. Mrs. Foster's car was going east in Springfield ave.

Federal Tax Facts

Thousands of New Jersey taxpayers had their federal tax refunds held up last year because they forgot to send in certain statements required to complete their 1040's.

District Director Joseph M. Shotz said the statement forgotten most often was the one needed to claim the sick pay exclusion. Form 2440 should be used for this statement.

Special forms are available for certain deductions, credits and exclusions claimed on Form 1040. These forms are noted on Form-1040 and explained in the instruction booklet.

Director Shotz explained that when a required statement is omitted, the taxpayer has to be contacted, told of the missing statement and asked to supply it. Until it has been received from the taxpayer IRS cannot process any refund due.

Other forms available for required statements with the 1040 are Form 2003 for moving expenses, Form 2106 for employee business expenses, and Form 2950SE for payments by self-employed persons to retirement plans.

To avoid delay in the processing of returns and refunds, Shotz asked taxpayers to check their returns to see whether they are complete before they mail them in. Besides being sure that all required statements are attached, the following items should be reviewed:

- 1—Is the Social Security number correctly listed?
- 2—Are all W-2 forms enclosed?
- 3—Is the return signed (both husband and wife on joint returns)?
- 4—Are all exemptions included?

Shotz closed by reminding New Jersey taxpayers to mail completed returns requesting refunds directly to the Internal Revenue Service Center, 11601 Roosevelt Blvd., Philadelphia, Pa. 19154.

Wild West In New Jersey? State Had Its Vigilant Groups

Oh, those good old Wild West days in New Jersey. New Jersey? Impossible. The romantic Old West may seem a million miles away in both time and distance from urban, sophisticated and work-day New Jersey. And yet, something like the very essence of the pulse-pounding excitement of the frontier West—the posse and the vigilante society in action—was a fairly familiar sight in the Garden State as late as the turn of the century.

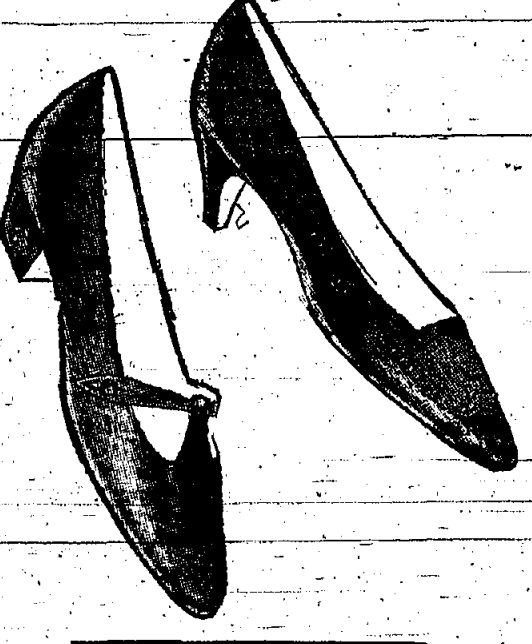

In nineteenth century New Jersey, particularly in the earlier part of the century, True, they were not exactly like the vigilante societies of the robust Old West, the very name is slightly different. But old records and quaint posters in the special collections at the Rutgers Library in New Brunswick show that these citizens' associations were running down lawbreakers and making arrests in New Jersey right up into this century.

The Rutgers Library, points out that the vigilante societies were distinctly more formal than the extremely casual law enforcement associations on the frontier.

TOWNSHIP OF UNION
PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the Ordinance set forth below was introduced at a meeting of the Township Committee of the Township of Union held on April 12, 1966, at which time the following resolution was adopted: That the Ordinance be referred to the Board of Adjustment for their consideration and report to the Township Committee at a meeting to be held on April 26, 1966, at which time and place parties in interest may be heard.

Union County Group Supports Sales Tax

Support for a state sales tax to finance New Jersey's growing needs in transportation, education and institutions and agencies has been announced by the Employers Legislative Committee of Union County.

In a letter to the county's two state senators and five assemblymen, Donald P. Taylor, E.L.C. chairman, said: "The Employers Legislative Committee of Union County recognizes and acknowledges the need for additional revenues to provide adequate support for transportation, education and institutions and agencies in New Jersey. In view of the already heavy tax burden carried by private citizens and business firms, the only solution seems to be a broad-based tax."

"We wrote to you previously in opposition to a state income tax, which we felt would hinder the economic growth of New Jersey by discouraging the recruitment of high caliber personnel by business and industry. We feel this is a particularly significant factor in view of the great concentration of research and development here."

"However, we are mindful of our responsibility to help maintain necessary state services and therefore respectfully urge your support for a restricted sales tax to provide the additional revenues needed by the state. We further urge that any sales tax legislation contain provisions which detail and limit the purposes for which such revenues may be spent."

Grip Device Unique Teacher Turns Inventor

By ADA BRUNNER
Robert Van Sadere wouldn't recommend the inventing business to anyone.

The process of making a model, obtaining a patent on it and marketing it is, for one thing, time-consuming; and for another, it's expensive — especially for a teacher.

Van Sadere should know. A gym teacher at Florence Gaudinier School in Springfield, he now has a patent pending on his first invention, grip and forearm developer which he tentatively calls "Adapto."

The device is unique in that it can be adjusted for four hand sizes and to various widths to simulate the grips used in different sports, such as golf, tennis, bowling and baseball. Two major sporting goods companies now are considering it for marketing, Van Sadere said.

HE WORKED OUT the first rough model of the invention in the attic of his home in Westfield, using home-made equipment including a gear from his daughter, Virginia's, shoe bar. Virginia, now three, is one of two children of Van Sadere and his wife; the former Sally Peak of Irvington. The other is Richard, nine months old.

When he had the working model made, Van Sadere started the long and complicated process of obtaining a patent. This was in his spare time — what time was left from his teaching duties at Gaudinier and a summer job as a "foreman with Ford Motor Co. at Metuchen.

A graduate of Gettysburg (Pa.) College, he served in the Marine Corps from 1956 to 1961; was associate physical director at the Orange YMCA and taught in Boonton Township before coming to Gaudinier three years ago.

Last year he began an experiment at the school designed to bring the children up to minimum standards of physical fitness.

THE YOUNGSTERS at the school — sixth, seventh and eighth grades — are given a national physical fitness test each year to determine their skill in seven areas.

These are the 600-yard dash, the 50-yard dash, the standing broad jump, pull-up ("probably the weakest area," Van Sadere said), shuttle run, sit-ups ("Springfield children do well at it") and softball throw.

For those who scored below average, Van Sadere started a program of two extra gym classes per week.

The emphasis in these classes is on exercises, particularly those designed to strengthen the upper body, and on running — the areas that Van Sadere considers the weakest.

By the end of the school year, he said, "we'll know how effective the program is."

The chances are that he'll learn the results of this Gaudinier gym program before he finds out whether either of the companies now considering his invention want to manufacture it.

14 Merit Awards At Arts Exhibition Go To Local Boys

Fourteen Jonathan Dayton Regional High School boys received merit award certificates for their exhibits at the New Jersey Vocational and Arts Association Convention at Asbury Park recently. Twenty other students were recipients of honorable mention awards.

John Scaglione, Douglas Sluoger and Frank Fulton received merit awards for their wood shop project exhibits. Edward Metz was their teacher. Kerry Tompkins, Peter Sayki, James Williams, David Gash and Donald Young were honored for their print and general shop projects under the direction of Ronald Abrams, instructor.

Albert Rollbard's mechanical drawing and wood shop students who gained merit awards were: Frank Laurie, Robert Heller, Thad Wygodowski, Frank Caruso, William Frank and Glen Kneehling.

Dayton Gets Award In Magazine Contest

NEW YORK — Seven calorie-conscious homemaking students who planned a "Diet Luncheon" to add spice to their regular teacher luncheon have won honors in a nationwide contest.

A foods class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, has been awarded second prize in Seventeen Magazine's third annual "Homemaking Party-of-the-Year" contest for their description of the luncheon they planned and prepared.

Six teachers were guests at the luncheon which included vegetable broth, chicken with orange-almond-sauce, a u.c.e. broiled tomatoes, salad with low-calorie dressing and baked apples with coffee. The teen hostesses carried out their "calorie counting" theme with placards garnished with diet foods.

The guest teachers, who were not chosen specially because of their need for this type of luncheon received "scaled" invitations showing their ideal weights. A golden balance scale, weighted with rich brownies (tipping the scales to show their higher calorie count) and light artificial fruit, served as a centerpiece.

According to Mrs. Stewart, the major objective of the luncheon was to give the girls a chance to plan and prepare a well-balanced meal, high in nutritional value and low in calories.

Students in the Foods III class are Ginger Barbarich, Kathy Francis, Joyce Macura, Pat Montello, Susan Savarin, Linda Small and Cheryl Trolliz.

The "Homemaking Party-of-the-Year" contest is conducted for school and club groups by "Seventeen-at-School," Seventeen Magazine's auxiliary publication for the nation's home economics teachers, which will list winners in its May issue.

Winning parties were chosen from group entries submitted by

How to make perfect Baked Alaska

- 1 1/2 round layer cake
- 1 large egg whites
- 1/2 cup room temperature
- 1 quart strawberry ice cream
- 2 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 electric range

PACK ICE CREAM in a round 8" bowl, and place in freezer. Cool layer cake in refrigerator. Beat egg whites until soft peak form. Beat in sugar gradually. Continue beating until you have a stiff, glossy meringue. Place layer cake on a board on a baking sheet. Loosen ice cream from bowl with spatula. Invert bowl over cake so that ice cream is centered on the cake. Cover cake and ice cream completely with meringue, sealing meringue to the board. Bake in preheated 400° oven for 3 to 5 minutes until meringue is a delicate brown. Serve hot. The meringue and the steady, even heat that you get in an electric oven assure that the ice cream won't melt. The fact is you can regulate electricity a lot more accurately than you can regulate flame. You get a precise, constant cooking temperature. Nothing's left to guesswork.

Want more successful electric range recipes? Free! Drop a postcard to: Recipes, Post Office Box 55, Morristown, N. J. Jersey Central-Power & Light/New Jersey Power & Light.

Good cooking is a lot easier on a flameless electric range.

Union County Government

(Editor's note: This is the first in a series of articles, "Know Your Union County Government.")

By ARTHUR C. FRIED
Freeholder

Realizing that an informed public is essential to good government, I believe the following information and that to be provided in subsequent articles concerning the various departments of the Union County Board of Freeholders, will be of interest to every taxpayer and student of government in Union County. I want you to know more about your county government. I believe you are entitled to know how your tax money is being spent, and the extent of the services provided for you. For that reason I hope this series of articles will offer a bridge to better understanding of your county government.

The State of New Jersey is the only state in the Union that has retained the title of Freeholder to designate the members of the county governing body. Throughout the United States there are approximately 25 different titles used to designate county governing bodies. The most commonly known and used title is that of Board of Commissioners, or Board of Supervisors.

The term "Freeholder" originated in medieval England. A freeholder was a man who held certain rights to real property. Only a freeholder was eligible to hold office on the county governing body, during the American Colonial period. The name has been continued through the years, although today a freeholder no longer has to own property to qualify for public office.

The basis law establishing the Board of Freeholders in New Jersey was enacted in 1798 and provided that each municipality be represented on the Board.

However, as the municipalities increased in number, the Boards of Freeholders grew to the extent where they became unwieldy. This led in 1912 to the passage of a law allowing counties to elect members to the Board from the County at large. The number of members was dependent upon the population of each county.

This 1912 law was permissive and subject to the approval of the voters at a referendum. Of the 21 counties in New Jersey, 17 are now governed by Boards ranging from three to nine members. Atlantic County, with 34 members, has the largest Board in the State.

Our County, Union, is governed by a nine-member Board, three of whom are elected from the county at large each year, for a term of three years. The Board organizes on the first day of January each year, at which time the newly elected members take their oath of office and begin their term. The Board elects one of its members to serve as Director of the Board. In addition to being a regular voting member of the Board, he also presides at all meetings.

Regular meetings of the Union County Board, beginning in 1966, will be held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 8 p.m. in the Freeholder rooms in the Union County Courthouse, Broad st., Elizabeth.

JEAN SHEPHERD SET AS SPEAKER AT UJC PROGRAM

Radio personality Jean Shepherd will be guest speaker at a College Hour program at 1 p.m. next Thursday at Union Junior College in the theater of the Campus Center, Cranford.

Shepherd, who has been described as a philosopher, wit, egotist, intellectual and humorist, will visit the Union Junior College campus in celebration of King Levisky Day. A committee from the Student Council is now researching reasons why King Levisky Day should be celebrated. They have yet to come up with an answer.

Shepherd is heard every evening, Monday through Friday, from 10:15 to 11 p.m. on WOR (710 on the radio dial) in programs of informal conversations, verbal essays and dramatic sketches. His topics ranged from comic books to cravats, baseball to babies, and his flying to kissing.

The College Hour programs are sponsored by the Day Session Student Council. N. Michael Lindenman, council president, said the public is invited to hear Shepherd's lecture. It was Shepherd who coined the concept of the "Night People," claiming they are far different from "Day People."

'66 Questionnaire Sent To Citizens By Mrs. Dwyer

WASHINGTON — From the war in Viet Nam and starvation in India to inflation at home, residents of the 8th Congressional District, Union County, are once again being asked to tell their congresswoman what they think.

For the ninth consecutive year, Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (R-8th Dist.) has mailed to constituents her annual questionnaire covering a wide variety of public issues, foreign and domestic, most of which will come before the Congress for action.

"While I am finally responsible, myself, for deciding how to vote on these and other issues, the views and attitudes and advice of the people I represent have been extremely valuable," Congresswoman Dwyer noted.

"Our representative form of government needs the nourishment provided by a continuing exchange of views between the people and those they elect to represent them, and because of the cooperation Union County people have shown through this questionnaire, I have benefited greatly," she added.

Special attention is focused on the requirement that Congressmen and Senators make public reports on their financial condition. Other issues include: commuter transportation and consumer protection. Questions cover a possible increase in federal subsidies to pay commuter rail service, public operation of commuter railroads, Federal standards for packaging and labeling, the "truth-in-lending" bill, and Federal safety regulations for cars and trucks.

Chamber To Hold Legislative Fete Before Primary

William A. Jamieson, president of the Union Township Chamber of Commerce, announced this week that the Chamber will hold its annual legislative dinner on Wednesday, May 25, at the Blue Shutter Inn, 2850 Morris Ave., Union. Cocktails will be served at 5:30 p.m., and dinner at 6:30 p.m., Jamieson said. He pointed out that the dinner is usually held after primary elections, but as the election appears to be postponed until September, the legislative dinner would conflict with the Chamber's "Citizen of the Year" dinner. Invited to speak at the May 25 fete are: Sen. Clifford P. Case, Sen. Harrison A. Williams, Rep. Florence P. Dwyer, State Sen. Mildred Barry Hughes and State Sen. Nelson F. Stamler.
