Election issues debated by Vezza, Del Vecchio at annual League forum

By ABNER GOLD
The two candidates for Township Committee, Republican Philip Del Vecchio and Democrat Gerard J. Vezza, met for their first full-scale debate of campaign issues at the annual Candidates' Night program conducted by the Springfield League of Women Voters Monday evening at the Edward Walton School.

Training, skills for office listed by Del Vecchio

"On one of my campaign posters which asks the people of Springfield to 'Bring Phil Back' to the Township Committee, someone scribbled a single word—'why?'" Philip Del Vecchio, Republican candidate for Township Committee, declared this week.

He added, "Such a logical question honestly deserves an answer, and I feel that the people of Springfield should have that answer before Election Day on Nov. 8."

"My sincere reply to that anonymous scribbler and to all the voters of our town is—put to work, for the town I love, the talents which I may possess, so that our Springfield may be a better town for my children to live in, and one day, maybe their children too," said Del Vecchio.

"Why?" "Because of my previous experience as mayor and as a member of the Township Committee, I recognize the impact of tax increases upon the people. I can't promise to lower taxes, but I promise to endeavor not to increase taxes for municipal purposes. However, there are other taxes on your tax bill which the members of the Township Committee cannot control. They are: county tax, regional high school tax, grade school tax."

"Why?" "BECAUSE I have to deal with upwards of 100 men in my business, I've had some experience in management and organization. If returned to the Township Committee by the people of Springfield, I intend to suggest to my colleagues on the committee that we reorganize the Recreation Department, Shade Tree Department, Road Department and Sewer Department, Department of Parks and Public Property. This centralized pool of manpower will be responsible for all the 'old functions,' but on a more efficient, business-like basis, with a possible saving of tax dollars. I feel that such a reorganized department could better protect the town's investment in playground equipment and storm and sanitary sewers, and deal with the tree planting and maintenance program, and road repair and paving program in a better organized and more efficient manner."

"Why?" "Because of my background and education as a civil engineer, I would like to propose as a Township Committeeman that our town undertake a complete survey of our storm water drainage system. Springfield, which grew like toasty in the last 10 years, merely kept adding storm sewers to perhaps out-moded sewer trunks, to keep up with the pace of rapid residential development. I suspect that new and large drainage areas are discharging more storm-water into antiquated and overloaded existing trunks, causing back-ups and flood conditions in the low-lying areas of our town bordering the Rahway River. Without a comprehensive survey of the existing sewer system, such conditions can never be detected, much less corrected," Del Vecchio stated.

"Why?" "BECAUSE of my political involvement and the personal rapport I've established with members of Congress and the New Jersey Legislature, such as Sen. Clifford Case, Congresswoman Florence Dwyer and Sen. Nelson Stamler, I'm sure I can prevail upon them ately equal groups: political partisans with carefully prepared questions, Women Voters, who maintained their Nonpartisanship with a capital letter, and several dozen interested citizens—who sincerely wanted to compare the merits of the candidates.

Both candidates, in their prepared speeches and their less formal responses to questions, stayed within the outlines provided by their campaign releases of the past few months.

"Vezza, who spoke first, stressed that the four to one imbalance of Republicans on the Township Committee was the cause of a 'do-nothing administration.' He charged that the administration had failed to act on construction of a direct road to Baltusrol Top, opening of a Baltusrol Top playground, adoption of a code of ethics for township officials, measures to alleviate flood conditions, study of new methods for refuse collection and disposal and creation of parking areas for the Morris ave. business district.

DEL VECCHIO commented that competition through the two-party system is a prime source of new ideas. He traced efforts over the past few years to prepare a code of ethics and to solve the Morris ave. parking problems.

The GOP candidate renewed his previous call for a year-round civic and recreational center. "As we have done at our municipal pool," Del Vecchio said, "we can provide a year-round family room for all the people of Springfield. In the summer, we now have a place where people can communicate, break down their fears of the unknown neighbor." In his rebuttal, Del Vecchio replied to the charge of political imbalance by stating, "I pride myself on being an individual. It would be wrong to categorize me simply as a member of the Republican bloc." He added, "I would not want a less qualified member of the Township Committee just for the sake of bipartisanship."

He also listed achievements which he credited to the present administration. In the field of recreation, Del Vecchio cited creation and expansion of the swimming pool, establishment of a full-time recreation department, the senior citizens program, construction of three new playgrounds and formation of the Springfield Association for the Creative Arts.

VEZZA DECLARED, in his rebuttal, "I have stuck to the facts, to the things which have been promised and then not accomplished. With four people always agree on everything, as the four Republicans do on the Township Committee, something is going on that I do not understand."

Bloodmobile slates program Saturday for local donations

Springfield Red Cross volunteers say they are "situation Oct. 29," at St. James Church from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Last-minute appointments will be accepted if the donors will telephone Mrs. D. D. Kalem at 376-0582 or Mrs. Edward Kaye at 376-7429. A chapter spokesman added, "Donations of blood to the Red Cross Community Bank are urgently needed at this time, as the previously accumulated credits are nearly depleted. These credits are available through Red Cross for the use of all Springfield residents. Blood credits may also be assigned to a participating group or organization."

Leaf collections

The autumn schedule for leaf pick-up was announced this week by Walter Kozub, township engineer. Trucks will pick up leaves Mondays in Voting Districts 1, 2 and 3; Tuesdays, Districts 4 and 6; Wednesdays, 5, 7 and 8; Thursdays, 9, 10 and 13; Fridays, 11 and 12. Kozub urged residents not to mix grass or tree branches with the leaves, since clogs the loading machinery.

RINGING THE BELL FOR UNICEF, David and Joanne Gold practice their technique for the trick or treat expedition on Halloween, Monday evening. Children throughout the world will benefit from the funds collected by local youngsters in their UNICEF costumes.

Vezza discusses proposals for prompt municipal action

During "another week of non-stop campaigning," the Democratic Township Committee candidate Jerry Vezza stated, "Throughout this campaign I have refused to participate in any personality duels and have concentrated on the issues and programs. The people have had enough character assassination in municipal politics."

"The people want positive programs and workable solutions," Vezza added. "These I have provided. I have not only pointed out what must be done, I have shown the voters how it can be accomplished in a direct, logical manner."

"My program is simple let's get things done," Vezza declared. "This is what I believe must be done, and this is how I will do it." "I will immediately introduce a resolution to appropriate funds for the construction of the playground on Baltusrol Top. I will ask the committee to instruct the recreation department to complete plans for this playground during the winter, so that it will be a reality in the summer of 1967."

"UNLESS SOME UNKNOWN pressure group is exerting influence, there is no reason I can think of for delaying the start of construction of the road to the Top for another week. If such a group does exist, I will determine who they are and will expose my findings publicly. We will have the road." "One of my first proposals on the committee, I will be assured of a second to this motion, and the matter will be discussed publicly. We have had no public discussion of this issue because of the absence of a second. When the residents realize the importance of the code, they will demand that it be adopted. If the committee, which will still be dominated by the Republicans, 3 to 2, refuses to act in the face of public pressure, I will personally get enough petitions to make this a matter of public referendum. We will have a code of ethics."

"I have already been to the Union County Planning Board regarding the flooding conditions throughout town. As a committeeman, I will demand that the township apply immediately for the available federal funds to carry out the necessary engineering studies. I will also start negotiations immediately to have the construction funds available as soon as the preliminary study is completed. We will eliminate flooding."

"I will demand that the master plan for the township be updated immediately to provide traffic planning, land use programs and rezoning standards. This must be done now so they are available before the new highways are completed. I will personally publicize through 30,000 mail-pink collection cartons what the committee plans to do with their money and their land."

"I WILL INSTITUTE a cooperative program involving the municipality, the county and the merchants to transform Morris ave. into one of the most attractive and accessible shopping districts in the area. I will propose that the long-promised additional parking be brought as close to Morris ave. as possible, and that adequate signs be erected to indicate the entrances clearly."

"I will recommend that the land behind

Leaf burning ordinance, variance for 'auto clinic' hold spotlight at meeting

A wide variety of subjects occupied the attention of the Township Committee at its meeting Tuesday night. They included a possible lowering of the bar against leaf burning, a variance approval for an "automobile diagnostic center," plans for Rahway River flood control and a revision in plans for the park on the Fadum Farm property.

Other matters covered at the meeting included traffic hazards along Baltusrol way, no-parking regulations for the Molzer ave. area, the projected playground for Baltusrol Top, an official welcome for an exchange student from Brazil, a change in the name of Faltouts ct. requested by residents there and the award of a paving contract for Alvin Ter. Echoes of the election campaign were virtually inaudible.

The issue of leaf-burning was raised during the public discussion period by Irv Rosen, a frequent participant in township meetings who had long pressed for stringent regulations against burning finally adopted to protect sufferers from allergies and respiratory ailments.

Mayor Robert G. Planer conceded that there might be a relaxation of the rule, possible from Nov. 1 to April 1, primarily because the township is having increasing difficulty in disposing of the leaves it collects. He added that there will be "no quick decision." Rosen commented that November and December are known to medical authorities as a period of thermal air inversion, when smoke is kept down close to the ground.

A VARIANCE for the auto diagnostic center was approved after lengthy discussion and following a 45-minute recess at the end of the meeting. The center will be operated by Ramson Improvement Co., a subsidiary of the Ford Motor Co. It will be located along Rt. 22, just east of the Springfield House restaurant. The establishment will feature expensive equipment designed to find the answer to problems which might be beyond the scope of the average garage.

In addition to the testing and repair service, and described as necessary to meet the overhead, will be such other features as car wash facilities and retail auto parts sales departments.

A strong argument in favor of the plan was presented by Bill Guinee of 18 Faltouts ct., who was in the room with the group seeking to change the name of that street. Guinee, an employee of the Humble Leasing Co., an Esso subsidiary not at all connected with the applicant for the variance, said he was familiar with a similar center operated by Mobil Oil in Cherry Hill. He said that the center "does provide facilities a local service center cannot offer."

The variance was finally approved over the opposition of Committeeman Jay Bloom. He urged additional time to study testimony given to the Board of Adjustment.

Mayor Planer and Committeeman Arthur Falkin reported on talks with the Army Corps of Engineers on flood control work along the Rahway River. Reporting slow progress, they urged residents to be ready with estimates of damages suffered in floods in the past several years.

PLANS FOR PURCHASE of Fadum Farm, at Mountain ave. and Shumplaker rd., were revised to permit Temple Shalom to take 19,000 square feet of the tract for use as a parking lot. This leaves 84,309 square feet to be purchased, with a 50 percent federal grant, for park use, as well as 12,500 square feet reserved for municipal purposes.

Another speaker during the public discussion period was Mrs. Bert Goldberg, who called for prompt action to provide a measure of safety along Baltusrol way where it passes under Rt. 78. The committeemen agreed with

Junior goblins will raise funds to aid UNICEF

"How old must one be to share in the honors of the Nobel Peace-Prize? Just old enough and tall enough, it would seem, to be able to reach for a doorbell and ring it on Halloween—provided, of course, it is under the auspices of the United Nations Children's Fund."

That is the way a spokesman for the Springfield UNICEF Committee introduced the announcement that pint-sized ghosts and goblins will solicit UNICEF contributions in their black and orange half-pint collection cartons on Halloween, this Monday evening.

UNICEF received the Nobel Prize last year in recognition of its work providing food and medicine for the world's needy children since 1946. Springfield trick or treaters will have the UNICEF symbol of the mother and child on their collection cartons this Halloween.

Mrs. Irvit Kozub heads the committee of mothers who will distribute the cartons to children at all local schools on Monday. Assisting her are Mrs. Joseph Repka, at the Edward Walton School; Mrs. Abner-Gold, Thelma Sandmeier School; Mrs. P.A. Studer, Raymond Chisholm School; Mrs. Robert Day, James Caldwell School; Mrs. Maxton Fentch, Florence-Gardner School; and Mrs. Wilfred Murphy, St. James School.

'Operation Mail Call'

A cheerful Christmas or New Years message to Springfield men in service overseas. That is the objective of "Operation Mail Call" which continues today with the presentation here of a list of addresses.

If you know the addresses of other Springfield residents in service overseas, please submit them for publication in the Leader so that home town neighbors can send greetings to our servicemen.

Regional Boosters will meet, see films of Dayton varsities

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School booster club will hold its monthly meeting in the boys' gym on Monday, Nov. 7, at 8 p.m. Jack Cartlan, president of the club, announced that following the business meeting, booster club members "will have a chance to do some Monday night quarterbacking" as the new head football coach, Jack Horner, will be present to show films of this year's games. "Horner's Corner" at this meeting will give all boosters a chance to meet with the new coach. Cartlan also extended an invitation to all interested Springfield-rooters to join the organization by attending this meeting. "Many interesting and rewarding activities are being planned by the boosters to aid and support the various athletic activities at Dayton," he said. "Spirit and support are the key words of this year's group." Herbert H. Palmer, athletic director and former head coach of wrestling and football, is the faculty adviser to the boosters. Coach Ray Yanchus, head basketball mentor, will also be present Nov. 7 to show films of last year's contests. He will give a preview of his 1966-67 squad.

Ens. Johnson, Dayton 1961, gives talk about Coast Guard

ENS. RICHARD JOHNSON

"The United States Coast Guard has definite peacetime functions and its opportunities are varied and interesting," Ens. Richard F. Johnson told 25 junior and senior class boys at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School last week during the regularly scheduled guidance counseling information conference arranged by the director, Charlotte Slinger.

The speaker was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Johnson of 147 Pitt rd., Springfield. Johnson was a graduate of Dayton in 1961. He compiled an outstanding scholastic record—ranking third in a class of 293—and co-captained the track team in that year. He was Coach Bob Lummer's star hurdler and broad jumper.

His appointment to the US Coast Guard Academy was made through a competitive examination without regard to geographical locations, quotas or Congressional appointments. Johnson attended the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., where he majored in naval engineering. He was rated first in a class of 115 and was appointed regimental commander during his senior year. He graduated in 1965 and is presently stationed on the USCG cutter, Campbell, with its home base at St. George Station on Staten Island. Ens. Johnson is now on temporary duty for six weeks. His job is to visit 100 high schools and preparatory schools in the area -- not as a recruiter, since exams determine appointments -- but as an information officer for any boy who might be interested in trying for the USCG.

As a cadet, Ens. Johnson made two trips to Europe on the US Cadet Sailing Ship, Eagle, the only one of its kind in the country. As an officer, he saw service in Bermuda, Cuba, Puerto Rico, and Jamaica. His current five-year tour of duty may take him to any part of the world, as the Coast Guard is a world-wide service. Ens. Johnson also pointed out that the USCG's direct fleet operations are now consolidated on Governor's Island, which they took over this year. The newly created department of transportation is slated to take over jurisdiction of the USCG from the Treasury Department, which has guided it since 1790.

Ens. Johnson lives in Roselle with his wife, the former Carol Moran of Springfield, a 1960 Dayton graduate, who is teaching foreign languages in Maxon Junior High School in Plainfield. He plans to attend post-graduate school in naval engineering either at MIT, or engineering school in Monterey, Calif., or in Michigan.

Parents, teachers slate school parley at Dayton Regional

The Parent-Teacher Association of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School is holding its annual back-to-school-meeting tonight, as over 500 parents and 66 faculty members are expected to take part in special ten-minute abbreviated class sessions to allow the parents to experience a typical working day's schedule that their youngsters face.

Mrs. Leonard Waldt, PTA president, announced that a brief business meeting would open the session at Halsey Hall from 8 to 8:30 p.m. Principal Robert E. LaVanture will take the next 10 minutes to give the special "students" their evening class instructions.

The complete time schedule for the evening is as follows: 8:35 to 8:45, home room; 8:45 to 8:55, first period; the remaining periods from 8:55 to 9:55 will run on the same time schedule with 10 minutes for each class and 4 minutes passing time to the next class period.

The class procedure as explained by the principal includes picking up of student's class schedule in homeroom and meeting with the teacher. Classroom teachers will greet all "parent-students" in the listed periods and will cover the curricula presented.

The general aims of each course will be outlined and subject matter with texts, materials, and references shown. Types of classroom activities, drills, reports and other learning programs will be explored by the teacher. Parents will be given information about the types and number of homework assignments they can expect, plus the place of oral recitations, class procedures, special recitations and the method of computing report card grades.

Richard Kane, 69, was PUC director

Richard E. Kane, 69, of 101 Troy dr., Springfield, director of motor carriers for the State Public Utilities Commission, died Saturday in Beth Israel Hospital, Newark. Born in Princeton, Mr. Kane lived in Newark, Irvington and Summit before moving to Springfield, where he resided for the past three years.

Mr. Kane was employed by the PUC for 47 years. He was a World War I veteran. Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Florence Gartz Kane; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Watson of Springfield and Mrs. Lorraine Crater of Mountaineer; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Helme-meyer of Irvington; a brother, Frank, of Newark, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at George Ahr and Son Funeral Home, Irvington, with a Mass in Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountaineer.

DROP-OUTS
An estimated 604,000 Americans 14 to 24 years old dropped out of school before completing high school during the 12 months prior to Oct. 1, 1964, a study by the Census Bureau shows.

Kochanski urges planning with neighboring communities

A pledge for full support to the Union County Planning Board as an essential agency for coordinating plans by individual municipalities so that one does not hurt the other was made this week by Richard W. Kochanski of Linden, Democratic candidate for Freeholder.

He pointed out that important steps have been taken in the county with the setting up of the board, appointment of a director and application for Federal funds to support the agency's work.

"One of our biggest problems in this county under the previous Republican administration," Kochanski said, "was the lack of long-range planning. Things were decided on a piece-meal, expediency basis. Often, as in the case of the Courthouse garage and new annex, this cost the taxpayers many thousands of dollars."

Kochanski, who is adviser to the Linden Planning Board, said that the county body could study conditions throughout the 21 municipalities and develop guide lines they recommend. He emphasized that this would mean "not forcing the board's opinion on the municipalities, but seeking to encourage them to work together on issues that overlap from one community to another."

"A few of the important problems that are shared, he said, are flood control including storm sewers, real estate development and roads.

Kochanski pointed out that "when our municipalities are so close together that one municipality is on one side of the street and another on the other side, with a county road going down the middle, there is no question of the need for our all working together."

Local resident enrolled as freshman at Kenyon

Richard C. Cinqunia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Cinqunia of 101 Park lane, Springfield, is enrolled in the freshman class at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio.

A June graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Cinqunia was a member of the National Honor Society and was a participant in the county science fairs.

Placed on revoked list

Albert R. Sellinger Jr., 19, 75 Evergreen ave., Springfield, has had his driving license revoked for two months, effective Oct. 15, the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles announced this week.

Parental license plates

ST. CHARLES, Mo. (UPI) — New automobile license tags were issued to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Randall. Mrs. Randall got plates with the letter prefix "MA" and Randall's plates started with "PA."

New boxcar is different

NEW YORK (UPI) — It looks like a boxcar, but where are the doors? On the bottom. A new grain carrier called fleetmaster introduced by the New York Central Railroad and The B. F. Goodrich Company features a unique unloading system that enables it to carry 22 per cent more material than conventional hopper cars of identical over-all dimensions. Five cars now do the work of six.

The increased capacity is the result of a patented system of inflatable diaphragms made of high-strength, rubber-coated fabric. The design does away with the need for the exit slopes designed into conventional hopper cars. A BUSINESS OF YOUR OWN (Ind.-It through the Want-Ad Section)

Girl Scouts plan to observe birthday of group's founder

Sunday afternoon will find Springfield Girl Scouts gathered at St. James Church at a ceremony to honor the birthday of Juliette Gordon Low, founder of Girl Scouting in the United States. Two troops from each troop in Springfield will bring their troops' donation to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. The fund perpetuates the belief held by Mrs. Low that Girl Scouting can make a positive contribution to peace through the friendship of young people of the world who have the common bond of Girl Scouting and Girl Guiding, whatever their language or nationality.

It is one of the oldest voluntary funds of its kind. In Springfield, each scout tries to donate a penny for each year of her age. This money supports international friendship projects between Girl Scouts in the United States and Girl Guides of 58 other member countries of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts.

Prominent places to area educators at shore gathering

A number of educators and one musical group from Union County Regional Schools will have prominent places in the programs held at the annual convention of the New Jersey Education Association in Atlantic City on Nov. 3, 4, and 5.

Featured in the curriculum group of the New Jersey Music Educators Assn. is the chorale of the Governor Livingston High School.

Also participating in the program will be Dr. Donald Margach, director of special services for the district, chairman of the group discussing music therapy; Albert Dohout, choral director at Governor Livingston and chairman of the music curriculum group, and Edward Brown, general chairman, music coordinator in the regional district.

Other regional personnel taking prominent parts include John Hoagland, coordinator of English, and reactor in the English curriculum conference, and Walter Hain, science coordinator, chairman of the New Jersey Science Teachers Assn. award committee.

The program on boys' physical education is an all-regional presentation, with Louis Peragallo, athletic director at Arthur L. Johnson as chairman, and Russell Huncher of Governor Livingston and John Swadish of Jonathan Dayton as panelists.

Mrs. Gertrude Schifter, guidance counselor at the David Bradley School is chairman of a meeting devoted to "The Challenge to Guidance: A National View." She is also state chairman of the New Jersey Division of the National Vocational Guidance Association.

It finances international events for girls from around the free world at World Association centers in India, Mexico, Switzerland and England. Scouts from all parts of the world have the opportunity to camp with girls of other nations; they then return to their own countries and communities and are able to act as ambassadors, serving the ideals of their country and Girl Scouting.

Springfield's Juliette Low ceremony will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 at St. James. Scouts from all troops will be present. The public has also been invited to attend. The program has been planned by Junior Troop 756, under the leadership of Mrs. Michael Herzlinger and Mrs. Ralph Quortin. The girls have planned a rededication ceremony as part of their work for the junior badge, "My Troop, My Girl." Mrs. Frank Roux's Junior Troop 772 has written a short play about Juliette Low, which they will present to the community as a part of their work for the troop dramatics badge.

A cadette chorus under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Weiss will provide musical background for the evening. Girls from Mrs. Lee Andrews' Cadette Troop 273 will serve as ushers. Refreshments, have been donated by the St. James troops and will be served by the junior scouts.

Mrs. Louis Quinton, community chairman, will accept the girls' donations and present troop representatives with ribbons which are to be hung on each troop's flag as a sign of participation in world scouting activities.

Area girl selected to head committee

Deirdre O'Meara, daughter of Mrs. Thomas F. O'Meara of 61 Mountain ave., Springfield, and the late Mr. O'Meara, has been selected to head the cultural affairs committee at Trinity College, Washington, D.C.

Mrs. O'Meara, who will work in conjunction with the dean and dean of students in planning programs and events of cultural interest, is also a member of the French Club and the Young Republicans. She is a history major and a graduate of Mt. St. Mary's Academy, Watchung.

Drug addict guilty, will take treatment

William Robinson, 20, of Irvington agreed to obtain hospital treatment for his drug addiction, following his guilty plea Monday night in Springfield Municipal Court to a petty larceny charge, involving the theft of a portable television set last week from the home of Thomas Simone, 41 Maple ave., Springfield. Magistrate Max Sherman suspended a one-year jail sentence and placed the young man for probation for three years. He will undergo treatment at the Mt. Carmel Guild Hospital in Paterson; Robinson reportedly told police that he had been a narcotics addict since the age of 13.

her comments on the barricade blocking half the road, the lack of clear signs and other perils. They reviewed efforts to achieve action by the State Highway Department or the highway contractor and pledged some sort of improvement in the immediate future.

The parking regulations were amended to ban parking on Moller ave. from 7:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., Mondays to Fridays, and along Short Hills ave. for the same hours, Mondays to Saturdays. Parking was also barred at all times on the east side of Marcy ave., for the first 50 feet from Morris ave. The changes had been requested by residents to alleviate traffic problems.

IN RESPONSE to a question from Mrs. Wilbur Geiser, the committee stated that a playground will be ready in the Baltusrol Top area by next summer. They said that earlier plans had been stalled by problems of terrain and access.

The exchange student from Brazil was formally welcomed by the governing body and presented with a charm bracelet as a welcome-to-Springfield gift. She is Vanja Cavalcanti, who is living with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weisman and attending classes at John Jay Regional High School. Her stay here is sponsored by the Springfield Chapter, American-Field Service.

After lengthy discussion, and also following the late recess, an ordinance was introduced to change the name of Fatoute ct. to Oak Ridge, as asked by all the residents of the new street on Baltusrol Top.

They had stated that the name was hard to pronounce and harder to spell. They had also stressed that confusion with another Fatoute ct. nearby, in Summit, might threaten their safety in case of fire or other emergency. The change was strongly, but vainly, opposed by Ailyn Fatoute, a member of the old Springfield family for whom the street had been named.

A contract for reconstruction of Alvin ter. was awarded to the Della Pella Contracting Co. of Union, low bidder with a price of $19,205.

3rd book session planned at library for next Tuesday

The Springfield Public Library's book discussion group will meet for its third session on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the library building on Main st. Mrs. Marguerite DeCassar, one of the library's staff members, will serve as discussion leader. Topic will be, "We Have Always Lived in the Castle," a novel by the late Shirley Jackson.

"We Have Always Lived in the Castle" received many approving reviews when it was first published in 1962. Some critics called it one of Miss Jackson's best works. The New York Times Book Review described the novel as filled with "...the human ambivalences of guilt and atonement, love and hate, health and psychosis..." The story involves a woman acquitted of the arsenic poisoning of four members of her family, but is still considered guilty by her neighbors; the woman's strong and ruthless younger sister; and their house, to which the older woman has confined herself. Mrs. DeCassar said interested readers were asked to attend those library sponsored book discussions which are free. This week's selection has been published in paperback by Popular Library and copies should be available at local bookstores.

Mayor Planer asks support of Case, Dwyer, Del Vecchio

At a recent reception for the candidates, Springfield Mayor Robert G. Planer urged support of the Republican ticket of Clifford Case, Florence Dwyer and Phil Del Vecchio "on the basis of qualification, experience and dedication."

Referring to a recent statement by a local political figure that the Democratic candidate for Township Committee is the best qualified candidate of both parties for the past 10 years, Planer stated, "The voters of Springfield will not be misled by such an obvious misstatement and fallacy. I have had the pleasure of serving with Phil Del Vecchio and can personally attest to his tremendous ability and integrity."

"To even the most casual observers, Phil's interest and work on behalf of Springfield over many years, his educational and business backgrounds and municipal experience clearly stamp him far superior in every respect. I ask the voters to consider his record of accomplishments against those of the other candidate, a resident of Springfield for many years who suddenly, but I feel rather belatedly is 'so' concerned for Springfield.

"I would like to publicly commend Sen. Case and Congresswoman Dwyer for their assistance to our community since I have been a member of the Township Committee. They have always stood ready to assist in any of our local problems and are truly, in every sense, dedicated public servants."

"May I request the voters of Springfield to join me in support of Case, Dwyer and Del Vecchio."

New parking laws slated for Rt. 22

The New Jersey State Highway Department announced this week that new parking regulations will soon be in effect on Rt. 22 in Springfield. Stopping or standing will be prohibited at all times along the south (eastbound) side of the route from Victor st. to a point 350 feet east of the intersection.

A department spokesman said that a third lane for traffic has been created in this area and since the highway has no shoulders through the area, parking interferes with the safe flow of traffic using the outside or third highway lane. The new regulation will become effective with the posting of signs. This is expected within two weeks.

Film, discussion slated by John Birch Society

A film presentation of the John Birch Society is scheduled for next Thursday, Nov. 3 at 8 p.m. at the Sulphur Springs Inn, 715 Springfield ave., Berkeley Heights. The presentation is being sponsored by the local chapters of the John Birch Society and there will be no admission charged. The meeting is open to the public.

Following the film presentation, James Fitzgerald, state coordinator for the Society, will conduct a question and answer period.

Arts group offers trip to 2 museums

Another bus trip to two New York museums has been scheduled for Tuesday by the Springfield Association of Creative Arts. Mrs. Arnold P. Koldorf and Mrs. Martin M. Novich will be in charge of the visit, to the Henry Clay Frick and the Whitney museums.

The group will leave Municipal Parking Lot No. one (between Center st. and Mountain ave.) at 9 a.m. It will first go to the Henry Clay Frick Museum on Fifth ave. and view its extensive art collection, including artifacts of famous 17th and 18th Century European rulers.

After a luncheon, the group will proceed to the new Whitney Museum on Madison ave. This museum features the work of American painters and sculptors. The display will be the inaugural exhibit which was shown at the time of the museum's formal opening a few weeks ago. The return to Springfield will be at approximately 3 p.m.

SACA members, as well as the general public, have been invited. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Koldorf (DR 9-9139) or Mrs. Novich (DR 9-9071).

At theater party to open Berkeley social season

Cheryl Trolitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Trolitz of 106 Salter st., Springfield, attended a theater party and supper dance at the Meadowbrook in Cedar Grove last Friday to open the fall social season for the Berkeley School in East Orange. Miss Trolitz is a 1966 graduate of Jonathon Dayton Regional High School.

The students and escorts saw Gary Crosby in "What Makes Sammy Run." Members of the faculty and administrative staff were also present. The school plans to get acquainted next Wednesday at the Bow and Arrow Manor.

Politics is a hard game to play by ladies' rules

Local Republican candidates, who were hardly helped by the campaigns for the governorship and the presidency in the past two years, will get their biennial ride on the skirt-tails of Rep. Florence Dwyer when Election Day comes on Nov. 8. Helped by a change in the boundaries of her district and by an obvious lack of party organization support for her Democratic opponent, Mrs. Dwyer should win by an altogether un ladylike margin this year.

A skillful politician, Mrs. Dwyer campaigns efficiently 365 days every year, by means of constant attention to the specific needs and requests of her constituents. In addition, her generally progressive approach to the problems of Congress deserves support.

Her opponent, Dr. Robert F. Allen, represents a new approach for the Democratic organization. Having sent some of its best pros against the lady champion, the party turned to a professor. Dr. Allen teaches psychology at Newark State College, but his analysis of the thoughts of local voters appears to differ from that of many other observers.

Starting from expressions of the genuine concern which all perplexed Americans feel over the morass in Vietnam, Dr. Allen has moved in recent weeks a little further toward an advocacy of unilateral withdrawal than most voters seem likely to follow.

Most of us are unhappy over the course of events in Vietnam. Most of us would support U.S. policy there, if we could figure out what it is. Few of us, however, would agree with those who want us to ban the bomb, all by ourselves and get out of Vietnam by yesterday. Dr. Allen is still well within the limits of realistic policy; we hope that his genuine idealism, which is one of his most attractive qualities, will not lead him any further past the political point of diminishing returns.

We might add a note of caution to the party professionals who sent Dr. Allen to the starting line. This is their race, too, and if they continue to turn their backs on him they may well cut themselves off from the substantial minority of citizens who vote their ideals. This could be regarded as the college professor vote, which helped to elect Gov. Richard J. Hughes a year ago. Without it, the Democrats would run the risk of becoming a minority party.

At any rate, politics is generally regarded as a game with rules of its own. Rep. Dwyer plays according to ladies' rules, and her scores are generally a good bit better than par. She merits the new term she will undoubtedly win.

An opportunity to vote for true statesmanship

Citizens of New Jersey will have a rare opportunity to cast a vote for genuine statesmanship by returning Clifford C. Case for his third term in the U.S. Senate on Nov. 8. His opponent is Warren W. Wilentz, a newcomer to the state political scene who has waged a clear-cut, intelligent campaign which might well entitle him to election to other offices, in other times or other states.

Sen. Case is traditionally a poor campaigner, and he has been forced to run on his record. Fortunately for him, and for the people of New Jersey, that record is outstanding. His concentration on service to all the people, not of one party or one state, has perhaps made his record less attractive to some of his fellow Republicans than to many independents and Democrats.

His liberal record in many areas, including labor and civil rights legislation, has brought endorsement from many labor unions and other organizations which rarely wave the GOP banner. His obvious distaste for the fringe groups of the far right has led them to brew their birch beer in other states and other campaigns.

There are other legislators, though few Republicans, who can match his progressive philosophy. His views on foreign policy have been sound, though hardly exciting in a time when any look overseas must be depressing.

Above all, however, Sen. Case has provided a measure of moral leadership for the Senate, in an age of fully-stocked freezers, mink coats and generous expense accounts. His calls for a clear guide to proper behavior, personal and fiscal, by legislators have largely gone unheeded, but they will continue.

The obvious appeal which Sen. Case has to the voters of New Jersey, if not to all the Republican professionals, was reflected last spring in the difficulty which the Democrats had in finding anyone to run against him. For the sake of the state and the nation, we can hope that all the leading Democrats who did not choose to run were accurate prophets.

PRaises DR. ALLEN

On Oct. 13 a meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Leon Goodman, 16 Surrey Lane, Springfield, with the guest speaker Dr. Robert F. Allen, Democratic candidate for Congress for the 12th Congressional District. Dr. Allen spoke on the issues concerning all the people in this district and what might be his sensitive approach to help solve the important issues declaring that he is in favor of flood control. Mrs. Dwyer is making a big issue of this in the campaign. Florence Dwyer, Dr. Allen points out, voted against flood control insurance as proposed by the administration and now rushes to appear as though she has done everything to alleviate the problem.

I think the important aspects of Dr. Allen's platform for the votes of the 12th Congressional District is the question of the real flood, and that is not the water floods from a rain storm. The real flood is the problem of war and peace, the problem of poverty and slums, of education and job training, of white power sharing its political power with black power, and the problem of your sons and my sons getting killed in a war which we have no business being in.

It is true that the 12th Congressional District has candidates who must be heard, but what is more important is what you see every day in the headlines, that human beings are being killed, children are being burned and villages are being bombed. These things are really happening. They are not fictionalized tales. They are as real as the flood waters which Mrs. Dwyer means to make an issue of.

In my opinion, Dr. Robert Allen, professor of psychology and associate director of the Laboratory for Applied Behavioral Sciences at Newark State College, plus many other credits, is a candidate who must be heard. I hope that this communication reaches enough people to cause them to make an effort to hear this Democratic candidate for Congress. I believe he has many scheduled meetings coming up before the election. I do hope that my fellow human beings make an effort to hear his points of view and then decide.

'CANDID ENDORSEMENT'

I was surprised and disappointed to read Billy Koonz' response to my recommendation of Jerry Vezza as a candidate for Township Committee. I can only assume that Billy is letting someone else write his material for him. I don't believe that my candid endorsement of Jerry Vezza as the best candidate nominated by either political party in the last 40 years warrants a personal attack by Billy on my taste or my tactics. Whoever wrote that press release and invited Billy into signing it is certainly not "taking the high road" in his campaigning. Nor does the author's attempt to place in my mouth invidious comparisons between Mr. Vezza and prior excellent Democratic officeholder constitutes the "high road" in campaigning.

I am friendly with all of the fine Democrats referred to by the author of the article and I am certain that they took my praise of Mr. Jerry Vezza in the spirit in which it was intended, and I am equally certain that no one but the author of Jerry's press release believes that my conviction of Jerry Vezza's qualifications in any way demeans the fine accomplishment and contributions of these men.

Mr. Vezza has served the town well in an appointive capacity and, given the opportunity to serve as a Township Committeeman, I am sure, from my personal knowledge of him and of the office, that he will excel.

JAY B. BLOOM
Township Committeeman

SUPPORTS DEL VECCHIO

Every year at election time, the opposition finds much to criticize in the current administration's handling of municipal affairs. At this point, I feel compelled to answer some of their objections and to offer some complaints of my own concerning the Democratic Party's record. I find it very difficult to accept Mr. Bloom's statement that "Gerald Vezza is the best qualified" candidate in the past decade. Prior to announcing his political candidacy, Mr. Vezza, a 14-year resident of Springfield, had exhibited little public concern for Springfield's municipal affairs. Mr. Vezza's dormant political conscience appears to have been sparked by the lack of a road to Balmucio Top. In alleging a failure to construct said road, Mr. Vezza has shown himself to be unaware of the true situation.

The proposed Balmucio Top Road has appeared as a dotted line on the Planning Board map of Springfield for many years. However, only the present Republican administration has taken the steps necessary to ensure that the road will be built at no cost to the township of Springfield.

Mr. Vezza has also complained that "parking has been promised" on Morris Ave. Since Morris Ave. is a state highway, parking there is regulated by the State Highway Department. Therefore, ample parking lots convenient to Morris Ave. have been provided by our township.

In answer to Mr. Vezza's further complaint that "a municipal code of ethics has been promised," I should like to contribute the following facts. Democratic Committeeman Jay Bloom was assigned the task of drawing such a code in January, 1965. No action was taken on the matter until December, 1965, when Republican Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio moved that the code of ethics be brought before the Township Committee. Finally, in April, 1966, Mr. Bloom presented the code of ethics. I do not feel that this delay can be attributed to the Republican Committeemen.

Fortunately for Springfield, the complaints that the Democratic party has been able to voice through Mr. Vezza are very minor and can quickly be answered. I feel that the main issue in this election is which of the two local candidates has contributed more to the township of Springfield. The answer is simple. The public records at Town Hall which bear Philip Del Vecchio's name speak for themselves.

COMMENTS ON ANSWERS

This past week I had an opportunity to look at the annual data on local candidates distributed by the League of Women Voters of Springfield. Every year I have looked forward to reading and studying the information about the local candidates for Township Committee and their answers to the questions asked by the League. Normally, the information presented is informative and gives to a member of the electorate some idea of the candidates' views on problems facing our community. This year, however, I was shocked and surprised at the material presented by the Republican candidate for Township Committee, Philip Del Vecchio. The questions presented by the League were clear and of a serious nature. Mr. Del Vecchio answered the questions in one sentence.

His answers in my opinion were unresponsive and evasive and to me it showed a complete disinterest or lack of knowledge of the subject matters presented. I have been following the local campaign closely, and Mr. Del Vecchio's response seems to convince me further of his disinterest in making clear and convincing pronouncements.

On the other hand the answers given by the Democratic candidate, Jerry Vezza, were responsive and informative. He also appears to have taken time to find out the purpose and construction of the Union County Planning Board and did a fine job of explaining their function to the voters. I am glad to see that Mr. Vezza is taking time to answer the questions of citizens of the township in a manner befitting such a fine organization.

The League of Women Voters of Springfield deserve great credit for the programs they have fostered in aiding the people of Springfield to know their candidates for local office. It is a shame that Mr. Del Vecchio should make members of the League's efforts in no doubt prevail in the serious business of running a government, should he be elected to Township Committee.

FAVORS WATCHDOG

Some time ago the Springfield Woman's Club earmarked and donated a substantial amount of money to the Township Committee for the purpose of building a bus stop shelter in Springfield. To date nothing has been done and no site plans have been forthcoming. As is true with many of the other plans of the "Bring Me Back" regime, this necessary project has been pigeonholed by the Republicans, one of whom is running again for public trust. Who can trust a do-nothing attitude like this? Neighboring South Orange has a modest bus stop shelter at a nominal cost, and Union Township has the ultimate in heated facilities with toilets, hot water, and a nice, something decent and adequate as a place to sit for the people who must wait for buses in inclement weather.

To quote many notable public servants, America is kept strong by an active, balanced two-party system where one can "watchdog" the other. Why can't Springfield have something like that? Why can't the people have a regular pace to benefit all of the people? My choice in Springfield at this juncture is for an ameteur in politics with integrity to handle my tax dollars. To me, this type of committeeman is much to be preferred to a professional politician who shrouds diverse

PROFILE--Gerald J. Vezza

"Springfield is a beautiful town," says Gerald J. Vezza, Democratic candidate for the Township Committee. "Something should be done to preserve it and make it go forward, not backward." With this basic philosophy, he has been hard at work for the past several months, pounding the pavement, ringing doorbells, and taking his message to as many families, and voters, as he can. The reasons behind his decision to take on all the work of a hard campaign, to win a hard and thankless job, is a long story.

The Jerry Vezza story began in Newark, where he was born. After graduation from Irvington High School, he served in the Coast Guard in the European Theater of Operations during World War II. Vezza was a musician first class, playing the saxophone and clarinet in bands for hotels and restaurants and other installations. In his spare time from the bandstand, he piloted a landing barge. Vezza helped put the show on the beach in the invasions of Normandy and southern France.

Following the war, he attended Seton Hall University for a term, then went into business with a meat market. Vezza's business career included operation of two supermarkets, then a wholesale meat market. For the past seven years, he has been a sales representative for the Amerill Quartz Division of Ringier Industries.

At the same time, while earning a living and raising a family, and playing band music as a musician, Vezza also continued his education. He studied at Drake Business College, then went back to Seton Hall, four nights a week for seven years. He received his degree in business administration in 1961, with a major in marketing, and has an additional 14 credits toward a master's degree.

GERALD J. VEZZA

"One was presented early this year by Jay Bloom, the one Democrat on the Township Committee, and nothing has been done since.

"With the present highway construction and all the new routes coming through Springfield, we can anticipate the need for extensive rezoning. Property will have to be reassessed and evaluated once again. Since we know these roads were coming, I feel the master plan announced last year was premature.

"The Township Committee should have gotten to a study of these zoning problems by this time. To my knowledge, nothing has been done, and action is up to township officials. This is another reason why Springfield is so badly needs a balanced government.

"A code of ethics is particularly essential in dealing with all these property adjustments. I do not charge that there was any corruption involved in zoning disputes of the past few years, which led to several reversals by the courts, but there was certainly confusion on the part of municipal officials on what they could and should do. This could very easily have been avoided by having a clear code of ethics to spell out what local officials can do and cannot do."

ANOTHER PROBLEM which must be faced, Vezza declares, is the isolation of the Balmucio Top area. He says, "I think the people up in Balmucio Top should have a road connecting them to the major portion of the town, so that they will not remain cut off. It is imperative that they have a direct connection, for use in case of fire or other emergencies. I also feel that the people in Balmucio Top are certainly entitled to have a playground for their children, which they have been promised for the past two or three years."

Recognizing that he represents a "new element" in Springfield's Democratic Party, Vezza emphasizes, Republicans, Independents and Democrats should all vote for men who will represent the entire town.

"Our officials should think and act independently, in the best interests of all the citizens all the time. They should be open to suggestions, and open-minded enough to examine proposals made by any individual who sits upon the platform. They should act on those proposals to the best of their ability, regardless of party affiliations."

Summing up his attitude toward municipal government, Vezza declares, "People ask me if I think I am qualified to handle the job. The town is a corporation and it should be run like a business. It is not being run that way. The whole thing is as simple as that."

Senator CLIFFORD P. CASE Reports

The 89th Congress has adjourned, and most observers agree that the legislative output of the 1966-67 term has been responsive to a wide range of domestic needs.

Any list of our accomplishments must include two major breakthroughs in public policy—Medicaid and aid to schools.

The national program of medical care for the elderly opens a new era in the history of improving American health standards. And with passage of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, we closed the last great gap in the structure of Federal assistance to help meet the nation's need of equal educational opportunity for all.

I have been working for both of these objectives since I first became a member of the House in 1945. Their enactment was especially gratifying to those of us who had sat on the sidelines in the face of numerous setbacks. Under the terms of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, New Jersey schools received about $31 million in additional aid, or almost as much as the state received under all other programs administered by the Office of Education. This year we extended and expanded the program, so that more assistance will be available in the years ahead.

THE 89TH CONGRESS was equally concerned with the problems of higher education, where rising enrollments are straining our colleges and universities. Federal assistance to community colleges, which I pushed in action, started three years ago, will be increased under terms of the Higher Education Act of 1966, as will aid to four-year colleges.

The community college program will be of growing importance to New Jersey, where enrollment in two-year institutions is expected to reach 80,000 eventually. One of the most important measures enacted were a new G.I. Bill for plans in high-sounding terms and who is bent on garnering appointments for his own family and cronies.

I want a candidate elected who comes out in the open with a platform that is plain and which by people can understand. The man in this election has proven to be Jerry Vezza, thanks to the help of unbiased reporting by the Springfield Leader. On Nov. 8th Vezza will receive my vote and that of many of my friends.

HENRY S. WRIGHT

all veterans, expanded assistance to vocational rehabilitation, increased social security benefits and veterans' compensation. Our minimum wage and extended coverage to another eight million workers.

New laws to help improve auto and highway safety and lower pollution of our air and water are significant steps toward vitally important goals. As the sponsor of a bill in 1965 to create a comprehensive, balanced and realistic program to put a stop to rising prices, we enacted the Administration's only significant anti-inflationary request—a suspension of the investment tax credit—but Congress was denied access to facts about the Government's finances and commitments essential to timely lawmaking.

Congress was also denied effective assistance from the Executive Branch in our efforts to enact a civil rights bill this year. This legislation died in the face of a filibuster that would not have succeeded had the Administration sent up its proposals early in the session and made a real fight for them.

KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT

From N.J. Taxpayers Association

New Jersey's expansive network of local government, with its aggregate assets approaching two billion dollars annually, are being spotlighted in fiscal studies.

A 15-member County and Municipal Government Study Commission has organized for a major examination of the structure, function and performance of New Jersey's 21 counties and 567 municipalities as well as their interrelationship in the Governmental pattern. The creating legislation noted desirability of modernizing the county government structure as well as possibilities for joint action and better distribution of responsibility of services among the various governmental levels to "avoid costly duplication or waste."

The potentials of regionalization and consolidation among the State's 578 school districts will be explored by a 12-member committee of school officials recently authorized by the State Board of Education. Another 12-member Commission created by the Legislature was directed to report by Dec. 31 results of a study of distribution of state aid to school districts, which this year exceeds $220 million.

Exploration of means of overcoming political, legislative and geographic boundaries for more efficient and economical operation of local governments was suggested in the 1966 program of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association. Among recommendations it proposed: (1) enlargement of service areas of local government through functional consolidation, joint services agreements and joint mergers; (2) development of standards for district size and instructional programs in public education in connection with state aid formulae and dollar grants; and (3) study of improved forms of county government.

Modernization of State Government's structure was the objective of the 1947 constitutional revision. In the municipal government area adoption of New Jersey's Optional Municipal Charter Law of 1950 provided a partial advance, but there has not been a full dress review of county, municipal and school district governments since the 1931-32 study of the State Commission to Investigate County and Municipal Taxation and Expenditures. Meantime, the basic structure of county government has changed little since 1798.

Series on reapportionment Women Voters urge rejection

(Third of a series prepared by the Springfield League of Women Voters expressing its opposition to the proposal to be presented to the voters Nov. 8 for reapportionment of the state legislature. Mrs. Henry Hunkeler is president of the Springfield League. Mrs. Harry Einstein is reapportionment chairman and a member of the state LWV committee on reapportionment.)

An exception written into the New Jersey Constitution is interesting to note that proponents of the plan avoid mentioning this flaw. Included in the proposed reapportionment amendment is an exception.

The new plan for New Jersey calls for a different alignment of districts, with varying numbers of senators assigned to each district. The reader will note multi-groupings of 10 counties, with each group having one senator or more.

Wherever two, and only two, senators are designated for a multi-county district, (see 1st and 4th districts) the senators are not to be elected at large. In these special cases, each senator will represent only one double assembly district, which will be one-half of the total district, according to population.

It is highly possible that a county with its own senator or more than one, now in these multi-groupings, with future population changes will be absorbed into another district. (This will be within province of the reapportionment commission, which will function every 10 years.) This county would then become part of a multi-county district of three or four senate seats.

No provision is made here for anything but election of senators at large. Thus, the small county would lose its identity. Only those multi-grouped counties with only two senators are protected in the proposed amendment.

An amendment to the Constitution should not have exceptions which favor some counties. This is a great weakness in the plan and should be corrected before it becomes part of our state constitution.

This is but one of many points upon which the League of Women Voters bases its opposition to the proposed amendment.

A summary of the League's position will be presented next week.

2nd lecture slated in investing series at township library

The second lecture of the Springfield Public Library's investment series, presently being given by representatives of New York Stock Exchange member firms, will be at 8 p.m. today.

Petroleum, steel, and non-ferrous metals will be the industries discussed at the second lecture. Donald D. Burton, manager of the Newark office of Reynolds and Co. will be the speaker.

Burton has had experience as an investment lecturer. He has studied at the University of Virginia, New York University, and the New York Institute of Finance. During World War II, he was a pilot in the U.S. and Canadian Air Forces. Before becoming associated with the investment field, he was with the Ryerson Steel Co. and later managed his own insurance agency. He is a member of the Exchange Club, Morrisown Flying Club, the Morrow Friendship Club and lives in Chatham, N.J.

The public was invited to attend these lectures, which have been designed to meet local requests for more advanced investment discussion. Questions are invited during the session. Further information may be obtained from the Springfield Public Library (376-4930).

'Mr. Regional' title presented at dance to W. J. Murphy

William J. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Murphy of 13 Rose ave., was crowned "Mr. Regional" of 1966 by Jonathan Dayton Regional High School last Friday in the boys' gym by the senior class president, Barbara Ragucci at the annual senior sports dance.

Murphy received the award as the outstanding sportsman and athlete in a special election which saw six boys nominated: Robert Gartlan, Joseph Buccell, William Burnett, Dale Lee, Steven Hirschhorn and Murphy. The senior girls made the selection after the class nominations.

Murphy's credentials for the award include: playing basketball, center forward on the soccer team, and varsity track. He is captain for the Varsity Club, delegate to the Rutgers' Boy's State Convention and member of the Key Club. He is interested in architecture and may matriculate at Rutgers next September.

The dance closed as "Johnny and the Rumberos" and 10 cheerleaders and 10 twirlers in uniforms sang the "Mr. Regional" song.

Stephen Hart takes part in college performance

PUBLIC SERVICE ELECTRIC AND GAS COMPANY

American woman may be boss here, but in Britain, would you believe, no?

LONDON (UPI)—The woman boss in the United States is accepted as a major course. Not so, though in Britain, where a woman must work exceedingly hard to get anywhere near the top, must overcome quite a bit of male prejudice against females in the executive suite, and where she must be prepared to earn less than her masculine counterparts.

These were conclusions of a report from London's Junior Chamber of Commerce, it circulated 10,000 commercial and industrial companies to provide up-to-date information for girls leaving school or university.

But only 1431 questionnaires were returned, an indication of the massive indifference the majority of British firms feel towards the sex that operates the company typewriters, makes the women's wear, and marries the company's male executives.

The report has sad news for the ambitious girl with a mini skirt and smile for the boss but not much else. Feminine goals, it says, won't get a woman ahead, though it may help topple some of the barriers of prejudice against her.

A British girl in business also encounters stinginess. More than two-thirds of the women executives polled earned less than $4,200 a year, and only eight per cent get more than $7,000.

The women have comparable responsibility of male executives but very few men earn less than $4,300.

One firm observed: "We do not employ any women executives because all our buyers have to make frequent visits to extreme tropical climates, for which women would not be suitable."

Some of the firms also gave novel answers for not completing the questionnaire. Their type of business wasn't suitable for women; they hadn't had any applications from would-be women executives; they employed women, but they wouldn't call them executives.

It appears that a woman can be her own worst enemy in the second questionnaire, sent to already successful women executives, one-third answered "yes" to the question: "In your experience that the majority of able women prefer NOT to reach executive positions?"

Some women apparently "see" prejudice as one sees a mirage—a kind of defeatist thinking which justifies their own fears of inadequacy.

Most women, however, regard prejudice, where it exists as a challenge.

There are other solid obstacles in the path of the woman executive. A large majority of women interviewed did not consider that there is adequate, let alone plentiful, information available on careers for girls just finishing school.

Once she has decided to become an executive, a girl must lay out her campaign, says the report, writing to firms, inquiring about preparatory training, and aiming at higher education.

Although the survey found that higher education was not an absolute requirement, the trend seems heavily in that direction. Twice as many women under 30 had been to university as had the over 40's. Again, the higher the position, the greater the amount of education.

Senator HARRISON A. WILLIAMS Reports

WASHINGTON -- The 89th Congress has been acclaimed by President Johnson as a "great Congress."

As a Member of that Congress, I'll let history make its own judgment on its greatness or lack thereof. But there's no question that we enacted the greatest volume of major legislation since I first came to Congress in 1954.

There were new departures in air and water pollution, education, health care, housing, help for the cities, civil rights, and auto safety, and many old programs were broadened and strengthened.

And I am convinced that the pattern established by the 89th Congress is the pattern for the years to come.

The passage of these new laws attracted a great deal of attention. What was not so well noticed was the growth which was laid out for passage in the year-end bills. I am not going to attempt, in this space, to catalog all the legislation enacted and introduced. But I would like to capsule my own activities as an indication both of how furious the pace was in the 89th Congress and how busy we are going to be in the years to come.

SIX MAJOR BILLS of mine were enacted into law. They are:

FLOOD INSURANCE, first introduced following the March, 1962, storm which devastated the Jersey Coast. Calling for a Federal study aimed at providing a feasible means of insurance against flooding, it was enacted early in this Congress. The study has already been completed by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The report said a joint Federal-private program was entirely feasible and discussions with the private insurance industry aimed at working out the details already have begun.

TOWNSHIP, to establish a 40-thousand acre national recreation area on the upper Delaware River was enacted last year. Since the bill was enacted, we have been successful in persuading the Appropriations Committee to substantially speed up the schedule of appropriations for land acquisition called for in the bill.

MINIMUM WAGE coverage for 400-thousand farm workers -- along with 7.5 million workers in other industries -- has been in the legislative hopper since 1960. This Congress made history by attacking it into law.

HUDSON RIVERWAY BILL aimed at restoring the waters and the banks of the river to something approaching their original state was a relatively new idea to which Congress responded rapidly.

FEDERAL OPEN SPACE PROGRAM was expanded by increasing the maximum allowable Federal contribution from 30 to 50 per cent of the cost and making the money available for development of parks as well as land acquisition.

MIGRANT HEALTH PROGRAM was approximately tripled in size.

MASS TRANSIT PROGRAM was significantly expanded.

But the work of shepherding this legislation through to passage was only a small portion of what was, really, a furiously busy two years for me and for most other Members of Congress. And this presages what may be even more busy times ahead.

TO BREAK THE ground for passage of a series of migratory farm labor bills, the Subcommittee on Migratory Labor held a series of hearings in Washington, D.C., California, and Texas. As Chairman, I also made field trips to Oregon and the Southeastern States and sent staff personnel to West Virginia and the New England States.

One of the bills, minimum wage, was enacted.

UJC names seven from Springfield under tuition plan

Seven Springfield residents are among 475 Union County residents who are attending Union Junior College, Cranford, this semester under the tuition aid plan adopted by UJC and the Union County Board of Freeholders. They are Barry L. Antonacci of 46 Colonial ter., Richard Evans III of 42 Redwood rd., Eugene A. Foley of 457 Meisel ave., Miss Joyce A. Friery of 753 S. Springfield ave., Richard F. Healey of 87 Severna ave., Edgar J. Pittenger of 119 S. Maple ave. and Robert B. Thiele of 174 Hawthorn ave.

All Union County residents who are full-time students in the day session at Union Junior College qualify for tuition aid grants of $240 a semester. These grants reduce the $440 tuition for Union County residents attending Union Junior College by more than 50 per cent.

Tuition aid grants were inaugurated last year and go to both freshmen and sophomores. A student may receive tuition assistance of up to $960 over a two-year period. The tuition aid plan makes Union County the first to take advantage of the County College Act adopted in 1962 and marks Union County's first entry into the field of higher education.

Elderly people who are in good health need to remain active and feel useful. In today's society, where the family unit is seldom comprised of more than two generations, retired people are often relegated to the rocking chair.

To try to bring some Federal initiative and a very small amount of money to bear on this need, I have introduced legislation to create a so-called Senior-Service Corps.

Elderly people are among the worst victims of quacks and pitchmen. To provide some protection against the worst of the existing abuses, we have introduced a series of bills.

STAR STUDY SNAGGED BY EARTHLY PROBLEM

AIR POLLUTION is no longer merely an earthly problem; it is affecting our observations of the stars, says a University of Michigan astronomer. He explains that haze in the atmosphere, coupled with greatly increased night lighting, already has made observations of faint heavenly bodies impossible from optical telescopes near population centers. Smog is also rapidly becoming a problem for radio astronomers.

BALLOON-FLIGHT experiments recently conducted at Fort Churchill, Canada, by a University of Rochester expedition were the most successful since the university began sending research teams there in 1961. A preliminary data analysis indicates. The experiments were designed to measure the relative number of isotopes of helium nuclei in the cosmic radiation. The results will help the researchers determine the average "age" of the cosmic rays.

BEHIND EVERY CLOUD is a silver lining, but nowadays you just can't be sure, Georgia Tech scientists are lining their clouds with sodium and trimethyl aluminum -- not to shatter the fusions of optimism but to find the patterns and characteristics of winds at high altitudes. Sodium and trimethyl aluminum are used in the space study because of their ability to produce light.

Fellowship to hear of summer project

The Westminster Fellowship of the Springfield Presbyterian Church will have a special program on Sunday evening when the Rev. John Thomson, assistant minister of the Wyoming Presbyterian Church, Millburn, and several of the young people from that church tell of their experiences last spring while engaged in a church work project in Puerto Rico. Slides will be shown of their activities as they lived and worked in one of the remote mission stations in the countryside of Puerto Rico. Close to 30 of the young men and women of the Millburn Church worked for a week clearing land for planting, doing carpentry work and painting buildings for use in church work. Projects such as this are sponsored all over the western hemisphere by the United Presbyterian Church.

the stores on the north side be utilized for parking also, with the town providing easy access and, again, marking the area clearly with directional signs. With off-street parking on both sides, our main artery will be transformed into an uncongested shopping center on a throughfare. It will be unique and will provide convenient shopping for residents as well as out-of-town customers. "I will recommend the formation of a citizens' group to study the refuse collection problem now, well in advance of the expiration of the present contract. I will ask that they investigate cooperative programs with neighboring communities to prevent another $45,000-per-year increase for the cost of this service. In fact, we may be able to reduce the cost to the former level through this cooperative effort. "This same logical, direct approach can be applied in solving any problem facing the residents of Springfield. All that is required is the will to get things accomplished."

College officials to meet students at high school

College representatives will continue to descend on the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School conference room in the guidance office to address junior and senior class members this coming week. Charlotte Singer, guidance director, announced the following sessions: Tomorrow, Joseph Collier at 10:30 a.m., Butler University in Indianapolis; Lowell J. Moyer, University of Chicago, at 9 a.m.; Monday, John Klinging, College of Insurance of New York City, 10:30 a.m.; Donald Beinehan, Drexel Institute of Technology of Philadelphia, 1:30 p.m. Further information about this service can be obtained from Miss Singer at the high school.

Fined for fighting

Gene T. Sinegra, 34, of Madison paid a total of $85 in fines Monday in Springfield Municipal Court for participation in a fight last week in Walter's Two Bars. He was convicted as a "disorderly person for fighting and for using abusive language to a police officer. Magistrate Max Shitman also levied a $5 fine against Terrill Gahr, 30, of Summit, the other party in the dispute.

Del Vecchio, Vezza debate issues of election campaign

He declared that Jay Bloom, lone Democrat on the governing body, had presented a number of motions which merited further discussion, but had died for lack of a second. Noting that the township currently spends $57,000 per year for recreation, and that the eight gymnasiums and other facilities, particularly in the schools, "are not being fully utilized," Vezza expressed doubts over the need for a recreation center.

In response to a question from the floor, Vezza discussed his reasons for seeking office. He stressed, "I have no future political ambitions beyond the township level. I just see that there is a job to be done here in Springfield. Political experience is not necessary to serve on the Township Committee. We should run the town like a business, and my experience is as a business executive."

Del Vecchio reviewed for another questioner the history of plans for a direct road to Baltusrol Top, going back 15 years. By waiting the last three years to achieve an agreement, for construction of the road, with Houdaille Quarry and the Baltusrol Golf Club, he said, the administration had saved $300,000. In construction costs.

He did neither questioner that he had "no intention to run again for the State Assembly," as he did a year ago. On the other hand, Del Vecchio commented, "I would not refuse a bid to run, if the time and the district were favorable. We should not belittle those who serve their country." He noted that he had been active in the Township Committee while serving in the Assembly and said that he would not resign from the local body to hold state office.

IN REPLY TO A QUESTION about his governmental experience, beside his current membership on the Board of Health, Vezza said he had been active in "numerous civic affairs for the past 14 years. I have kept abreast of happenings as a citizen, even though I was not active politically for the entire time." He added, "I have learned more about our local government in three months as a candidate than the four Republican years in five years in office."

Del Vecchio, commenting on another question, said that a survey on the need for a civic center, undertaken several years ago with a $500 grant by the Township Committee, had indicated support by perhaps half the residents. "Because there was not a broad consensus," he said, "the matter was dropped. "As we did with the new library," Del Vecchio went on to say, "we do not need a referendum for a civic center to meet the needs of even a substantial minority of the people. "I would like to rise or fall on this issue. A civic center could be self-supporting on family membership fees, without cost to the general taxpayer. Revenue from memberships in the pool has been above our expectations. This center would be not just for athletes, but for all recreation. We would be able to mix all our beliefs in this one center. We cannot leave all our recreational needs to be met by church groups, which keep people apart."

Mrs. Nelson Lewis, voter service chairman for the League of Women Voters, opened the meeting. Mrs. David Ackerman of South Orange served as moderator. Mrs. Ackerman had little difficulty maintaining decorum, except for one moment.

This came when Del Vecchio, as a resident of Baltusrol Top, commented on Vezza's statement that a direct road link was needed to facilitate police and fire department services to maintain safety.

"Jerry Vezza, in his house down in the valley, is the one who has to be worried about safety," Del Vecchio said. "It can always start rolling boulders down the cliff at him."

Mrs. Ackerman noted, "This is not the usual type of problem we have to face at a Candidates' Night."

to fund their good offices to obtain state or federal funds for a comprehensive flood control project for the Rahway River, not only to Springfield area, which would not solve the problem, but in every community that borders the Rahway River. This periodic flooding of the banks of the Rahway River has been too long a condition which should have been corrected by the agency which has jurisdiction, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. I personally commend Mayor Planer for his recent efforts to have the Corps of Engineers reevaluate their flood control program for the Rahway River."

"Why?" "Because I had a small talent and some training in art, I would like to encourage the further growth of the Springfield Association of Creative Arts, to cover such other diverse arts as poetry, drama, music and crafts."

"Why?" "Because of my work in building construction, I think I can save the township some money and headaches when the new library—building—construction starts next spring. I did this same sort of watchdog work during the construction of the municipal swim pool while I was on the Township Committee, and I like to think it helped to complete the whole project in less than 12 weeks, without a basic flaw in design or construction," the Republican candidate continued.

Del Vecchio concluded by stating, "What our town wants and needs is a representative with experience on the Township Committee who will generate ideas for the benefit of our community, and who is willing to donate his services and talents to the town in which he and his family live."

"I ask the residents of Springfield to give me this opportunity on Election Day. If, by their vote, they bring Phil Back to the Township Committee, I pledge my utmost efforts to the betterment and well-being of Springfield."

Future housewife: Programmed punch card

While it is easy to predict what the consumer of the year 2001 may be like, a great challenge faces businessmen today, Woodrow Wirsig, president of the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan New York, said in a speech last week.

Tomorrow, your consumer may stay home in her house under Long Island Sound. After a nourishing lunch of processed seaweed, she may use the video phone and examine your products through the television color camera. Then she'll order, and pay for her purchase, through her own bank's computer services. You may know tomorrow's consumer only as a tiny electric impulse in your computer's simulation program or feed-back report.

Speaking before the 20th Annual Symposium and Exhibit of the Point-of-Purchase Advertising Institute, Wirsig said the businessman face their most difficult challenge—right now in deciding among several alternatives exactly what they want the consumer of tomorrow to be.

"YOUR CHALLENGE is that you cannot sit back and wait for her to happen," he said. "Your future focuses sharply on your responsibility to act now to develop a consumer of tomorrow who understands the values in our system, in our culture, and knowingly supports them."

The American woman, Wirsig said, is doing an extraordinary job. "She is wife, mother, companion, home-maker, career woman, intelligent shopper, and a conscientious citizen in our rapidly changing society."

But today's consumer, he said, is being pushed in a direction that presents businessmen with two alternatives. "One alternative might call the paralyzed consumer," he said,

"She is the consumer for whom the government-business, consumer protection and anti-trust groups are planning to make shopping easier...there are universities, the health, the profession of 'truth in packaging' bills, would continue until all packages looked the same and said the same thing, the ultimate being only one package for anything. Buying would require no thought or effort -- or eagerness...even her thinking would be done for her..."

N.J. SAR Society to take possession of Bonnell House

New Jersey Society, Sons of the American Revolution, will take possession of its new headquarters, the historic Bonnell House at 1145 East Jersey St., Elizabeth, at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

The house will be presented by Robert W. Parsons, president and current custodian, Elizabethan Historical Foundation, to Charles G. Miller of Philadelphia, the New Jersey SAR president.

Two other dwellings of colonial origin, the Belcher Mansion and the Boudoin Mansion, will both be open for inspection from 2 to 5 o'clock the same afternoon.

The SAR will present patriot medals to three of its members, Edgar M. Gibby, 138 E. Fifth Ave., Rutherford; G. Harold Leggen, Westfield; and Alfred H. Perter, Franklin. This is in honor of the efforts of the men in behalf of the society over a long period.

The Bonnell (sometimes Bonnell) House, believed to be the oldest in the city, and the Boudoin Mansion, a state project, and the Belcher Mansion, owned by another foundation, are within a block of each other and near the Route 1 exit to East Jersey St. All have been restored.

As the SAR has arranged for a long-term tenancy, its home for the last 45 years at 39 Lombardy St., Newark, will be sold. The final meeting was held there Oct. 14.

The Union County Historical Society will be a co-sponsor in the Bonnell House. In addition to a thorough and accurate restoration, a 20-by-40-foot parking room, a kitchen, lavatories, and appropriate offices have been added. The SAR retained the best of its valuable and venerated items at the Newark site to supplement authentic colonial-design equipment in its new quarters.

Absentee ballots are now available

Persons in active military service and patients in a veterans hospital who are qualified to vote but are not registered may still cast a ballot.

The League of Women Voters, which runs a telephone information service in Montclair, has announced that friends and relatives can be asked to apply for the absentee ballot for a military absentee ballot. The County Clerk or the Municipal Clerk in the home town can supply these forms.

According to Mrs. Charles Sage, one of 15 volunteers answering calls at the Montclair office, "it would be well to do this immediately, because the absentee ballot must be sent in time for him to mark it and return it before Election Day."

The League will supply election and voting information until Nov. 8 to those who call 740-1465 between 10 and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. It will also send, on request, a pamphlet with non-partisan information about Senatorial candidates and the public question.

With 296 Federal programs already in existence to help the public at an annual cost of almost $1 billion, Wirsig pointed out that in addition "there are universities, Chambers of Commerce, Better Business Bureaus, businesses and others who have consumer information programs far more specific and helpful than anything the Government could provide. Enough laws already exist to protect the public against consumer fraud."

THE ALTERNATIVE TO the paralyzed consumer, Wirsig said, is the "active, confident consumer."

"She is the one you can have next week and next year," he said. "In many ways, she will be exactly what she is today—only more so...Right now, she can choose from among 6,000 to 9,000 items in a supermarket. Yet the average shopper buys perhaps 32 items from 50 locations in about 15 minutes of shopping..."

Outlining a six-point program that will help businessmen reach and keep this active, confident consumer, Wirsig stressed the need for business to constantly review products, pricing and sales policies and to provide genuine new products that serve real needs.

He also urged that businessmen review the way that "you and your associates in industry conduct yourselves. Make sure that you are regulating yourselves in the public interest. At the same time, make sure you maintain your own freedom to do business creatively, aggressively and successfully... Consumers respond to good treatment, as you know. They will come back, again and again, to stores that give them value...that treat them with courtesy and dignity...and make sure they are satisfied with their merchandise."

Fewer jobs in Jersey

Nonfarm wage and salary employment in New Jersey decreased seasonally by 2,400 from August's record level. According to estimates prepared by the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry on the basis of its monthly survey, August's September employment, excluding self-employed, domestic, farm and unpaid family workers, totaled 2,357,000. Compared to September 1965, employment was up 66,700, or 2.9 percent.

Manufacturing employment showed a slightly less than seasonal increase of 7,700. All of this net gain was in the durable goods sector, where employment was up by 943 in miscellaneous manufacturing, and by 5,700 in transportation equipment—due to seasonal recalls and the settlement of a strike. Non-durable good employment was down by 400, as moderate hiring in several industries and services sectors met the needs in the paper-products industry failed to offset seasonal layoffs in the chemical industry.

Nonmanufacturing employment declined seasonally by 10,100. Employment was down 7,100 in services, 2,400 in contract construction and 1,500 in finance, insurance and real estate. Settlement of the airline strike was the primary cause of an increase of 1,800 in the transportation and public utilities group.

The average factory work-week lengthened by one-tenth of an hour to 41.2 hours during September. All of this increase was in the durable goods sector. Average hourly earnings of production workers rose by two cents to $2.85, helping to boost average weekly earnings by $1.40 to $17.42—only three cents below June's record level.

TURNTABLE TREATS (good listening) — ROCCOLO A-GO-GO: The Swingle Singers. This LP album features the composers of the Rococo period — that period of musical history, from approximately 1710 to 1775, the period that saw the transition from Baroque to the Classical period. So come along and swing with Cooper, Dayton, Feldman, Quanz, Muffar and Marcello. Selections include: "Concerto For Six," "La Couperin," "Gigue," "Fugue In D Minor," "Presto," "Larghetto," "Cocou," "Presto," "Allegro," "Andante Moderato" and "Vivace." (PHILLIPS-PM 200-214). Also on the PHILLIPS label (PHM 200-193) THE 4 SEASONS SING-HITS BY BURT BACHARACH. HAI DAVID AND BOB DYLAN. In this one, the singing Four Seasons, featuring the "sound" of Frankie Valli, re-create some of the hits of Bacharach, David and Dylan: "What The World Needs Now Is Love," "Anyone Who Had A Heart," "Always Something There To Remind Me," "Walk On By," "What's New Pussycat?," "Queen Jane Approximately," "Mr. Tambourine Man," "Like A Rolling Stone," "Don't Think Twice" (The Wonder Who), "All I Really Want To Do" and "Blowin' In The Wind." A "goodie" for the Four Seasons fans... a man... when he brings his young daughter to school and finds a teacher-less class literally tearing the place apart. Once upon a time, WCBS-TV Operations Director Robert E. Wiemer would have said the thing to do was take control until the teacher arrived. But having done just that recently he swears he'll never try it again.

Marionettes set for two shows on Princeton stage

The Stockholm Marionette THEATRE OF Fantasy will make its first visit to the Princeton McCarter Theater, Saturday at 11 a.m., with a repeat performance at 2:30 p.m. Michael Meschke will direct the troupe. The Swedish ensemble has performed for children in the Swedish school system and in its own theater. A "Wizard of Oz" type of presentation will be staged. "The World of Kurt Weill," starring Martha Schlamme and Will Holt, who will recreate their original New York roles, at the McCarter Theater for one night only — on Monday at 8:30. The production will include Weill songs from such shows as "Threepenny Opera," "Mahagonny," "Lady in the Dark," "One Touch of Venus" and "Lost in the Stars." The McCarter Theater has announced that tickets are on sale at the box office for the Nov. 5 Harvard weekend folk special, the appearance of flamenco guitarist Mantas de Plata, Spanish gypsy from Arles, France. This will be his first Princeton appearance.

IN LARGE-SCALE PICTURE — Charlton Heston has the leading role of the famed British general Charles Gordon in "Khartoum," panoramic film, also starring Laurence Olivier, Richard Johnson, Ralph Richardson and Alexander Knox. Picture in color opened yesterday at the Essex Green Cinema in West Orange, the Hollywood Theater, East Orange, and the Regent Theater in Elizabeth.

'Seconds' now playing in twin bill at Sanford

Rock Hudson has a serious dramatic role in "Seconds," film drama about a middle-aged man who gets a chance to try life again through plastic surgery. The picture opened yesterday at the Sanford Theater, Irvington, and co-stars Salome Jens, John Randolph, Will Geer and Jeff Corey. "Harper" is the associate feature at the Sanford, starring Paul Newman, Julie Harris, Lauren Bacall, James Leigh, Arthur Hill, Pamela Tiffin, and Shelley Winters. Jack Smight directed the picture in color.

'Music' continues

Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical extravaganza, "The Sound of Music," goes into its 69th week this week at the Bellevue Theater, Upper-Montclair. Julie Andrews stars in the leading role which Mary Martin had on the Broadway stage.

'Born Free' tops bill at Cranford

"Born Free," screen version of the best-selling book about a domesticated lion, Elsa, and the woman in Kenya who tamed her, opened yesterday at the Cranford Theater. The picture, photographed in color on location and directed by James Hill, stars Virginia McKenna and Bill Travers. The companion feature at the Cranford is "Big Hand For the Little Lady," a film version of a television script. The movie has Henry Fonda, Joanne Woodward, Jason Robards and Paul Ford in leading roles.

Broadway stage team makes bow at Ormont

The idea of turning the novel by Robert Louis Stevenson and Lloyd Osbourne, "The Wrong Box," into the film which started its third week at the Ormont Theater, East Orange, in Eastman color, belongs to the writing team of Larry Gelbart and Burr Shevelove. They wrote the screenplay for Columbia Pictures, making their initial bow as a screen writing team, and co-produced the madcap comedy. Gelbart and Shevelove are the authors of the musical comedy, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," which had a long run on Broadway. For several years, the team worked in the producing, directing and writing of comedy shows for television. On his own, Gelbart wrote the script for the Jack Lemmon-Kim Novak comedy, "The Notorious Landlady." "The Wrong Box" stars John Mills, Ralph Richardson, Michael ("Alfie") Caine, Peter Cook, Dudley Moore, Nanette Newman, Tony Hancock and Peter Sellers.

Palace Cinema features 'La Dolce Vita' picture

Anouk Aimee, French star and Marcello Mastroianni, Italy's top screen box office attraction, co-star in the controversial motion picture, "La Dolce Vita" (The Sweet Life), which came to the Palace Cinema in Orange yesterday. Federico Fellini directed the award-winning movie, which also stars Anita Ekberg, Yvonne Furneaux, Magali Noël, Lex Barker and Jacques Sernas.

Thiele to play in concert

On Halloween: wear white for safety

It's up to the parents of youthful trick or treaters to make certain that their children can see and be seen while participating in Halloween activities. Warren Don Costa, director of safety for the Allstate Insurance Companies...

drivers as they cross streets at night," Costa pointed out. "However, parents can help insure their children's safety by making or purchasing costumes that are basically light in color. The addition of white or yellow stripes or polka dots or other reflective colors to children's costumes will enable them to be seen by drivers after dark. A white bag for their trick goodies should be given them to carry. "Parents should also instruct their children to remove their Halloween costume masks when crossing streets to avoid having their vision obstructed, and remind the youngsters to cross only at intersections or pedestrian crossings."

"Drivers should take extra caution on Halloween by driving no faster than 20 miles per hour in residential areas," Costa urged. Although drivers always should be on the lookout for children, the added hazard of children crossing streets at night in dark costumes, wearing masks and caught up in the excitement of the holiday increases the danger of them being hit by a car."

Costa also expressed the hope that news media, police and civic groups will accept and use these suggestions in their promotion of Halloween activities.

Finally, Costa reminded homeowners that it's also a good idea to bring in trash cans, park automobiles inside their garages, leave homes well lighted at night and let outside lights burn to discourage vandalism.

Jewish women's program arranged for YMHA today

The Jewish Women's Day program will be held today in the YMHA building, Green Lane, Union, with 12 women's organizations participating. The event will start at 11 a.m. with a get-acquainted hour during which there will be an opportunity to view exhibits of the organizations.

Mrs. Frank A. Kaufman of Baltimore, Md., will speak at the luncheon which will begin at noon. Mrs. Kaufman, the daughter of Rabbi Morris Lazron and the wife of a federal judge, is president of the women's division of the Associated Jewish Charities and president of the board of managers of the Monroe Training School for Girls. She will speak on "Community Unity."

Two workshops are scheduled for this afternoon. Mrs. Alvin Stein of Elizabeth, president of the board of managers of the Monroe Training School for Girls will speak on "Community Needs on a Jewish Level."

The second workshop on "The Role of Women's Organizations in Community Togetherness" will have Mrs. J. A. Gold of Plainfield as the moderator. Mrs. Gold is chairman of the women's division of the New Jersey region of the National Jewish Welfare Board and vice-president of the New Jersey region of the National Jewish Welfare Board.

Invitations have been issued to presidents of the participating organizations for distribution to their memberships. Mrs. Reuben Nadelson, chairman, and Mrs. Samuel Rosenthal, coordinator, are in charge of invitations.

Allen: 'moral use of white power is real problem'

The real problem confronting the American people is not the question of "black power" but the "moral use of white power," Dr. Robert F. Allen, Democratic candidate for Congress told the congregation of the Calvary Baptist Church in Union on Sunday.

Dr. Allen said that "white power is being misdirected in our society in relation to our Negro citizens," and cited "numerous instances of denial of equal opportunities to Negroes throughout this congressional district" to illustrate his point.

He stated that in Union "where I live, Negroes face problems of underemployment. They are not able to get the kinds of jobs for which they are capable, because of discrimination." He declared that this is the reason "why Union faces the problem of a high percentage of school dropouts among Negroes; there is no motivation."

Dr. Allen said that he had been campaigning throughout the 12th District, urging his listeners to resist the so-called "white backlash" and to support a moral drive for full equality of opportunity for the Negro.

Lawyer named to post

Kenneth L. Estabrook of the law firm of Lindabury, McCormick and Estabrook, Elizabeth, has been appointed to serve as counsel for the Union County Park Commission. It was announced this week by Donald L. Ferguson, president of the park commission. Estabrook succeeds Frederick C. Kentz Jr. of Summit.

County LWV unit to hear candidates

All candidates for the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders have been invited to speak at a candidates meeting scheduled by the Union County Council of the League of Women Voters for Tuesday at 9 p.m. in Columbia Junior High School, 345 Plainfield Ave., Berkeley Heights.

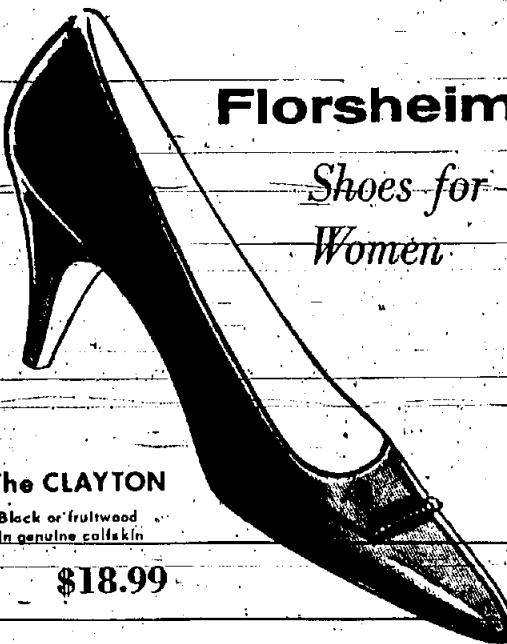

The candidates, representing the Democratic, Republican and Conservative Parties, will be asked two questions. They are: "What should be done by the Board of Freeholders in the critical areas of transportation, air and water pollution and sewage? Has the County Planning Board been effective in dealing with these problems?"

Mrs. Donald Van Dyke of Chatham will be moderator for the meeting which will be open to the public.

REMOVE MASKS IN CARS If you're attending a Halloween party this year, keep your mask off while driving, advises the Allstate Motor Club. Wearing one will impair your vision and keep you from "facing up" to any danger.

Two conductors to lead 'Y' dedication Concert

Benjamin Plotkin will conduct the Union County Symphony Orchestra at the Dedication Concert of the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Association building, Green Lane, Union. The concert is open to the public at no charge, and is sponsored by the Musician's Association Local 151 A.F. of M. of Elizabeth through a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund, a spokesman said.

Plotkin, of the Union Township public schools music department, has conducted the N.J. All State High School Orchestra and an operatic performance of "Carmen" for the Metropolitan Opera Guild. He holds his BS and MA degrees from New York University where he specialized in string and woodwind instruments. He has played with such well known conductors as Dr. Frank Black of NBC, Wilfred Pelletier on the Opera Auditions of the Air for the Metropolitan and with Artie Shaw.

The guest conductor for the concert at the YMHA will be Edward Goldman who will conduct his "Hebrew Rhapsody". Goldman is a graduate of the Longy School of Music, Cambridge, Mass. where he majored in piano and composition. He did post graduate work at the Juillard School, and has conducted the Bayonne Little Symphony for many years. Goldman has had his "Shalom" performed by Fabian Sevitsky at the University of Miami, his "Kaddish" has been performed at Greensboro, N.C. under the baton of Morgenstern, and his "Hebrew Rhapsody" had its debut under his direction in Bayonne. In 1965 he was soloist at the performance of his "Rhapsody For Piano" performed with the Elizabeth Civic Orchestra.

Other works to be performed at the concert on Sunday include the "Overture To The Marriage Of Figaro" by Mozart; "Finale From Water Music" by Handel; "Serenade" by Tchaikovsky; "Valkovanka" by Smetana; "Adon Olam (Lord Of The Universe)" by Goldman; "Havah Nagilah" folk tune arranged by Hilbert; and an orchestral tone picture by Gold of "Exodus".

Come in and drive a Pussycat wild.

Believe it or not, our Volkswagen Karmann Ghia has a lot in common with expensive sports cars.

(We named it the Pussycat to attract attention, not little old ladies.)

To start with it has a stick-shift with four forward gears. And to slow down you can down-shift, just like a race car driver. And to stop in your tracks, the front of every Pussycat now comes equipped with disc brakes.

Also like on many racers, each wheel has its own torsion bar suspension system. So if you're rounding a curve, or cruising along at 82 mph, a bump bumps only one wheel while the rest of the car sticks to the road.

Of course, if you'd rather not stick to the road, you can drive off with less chance of getting stuck, because a VW engine is in the rear. It bears down on the rear wheels, giving them extra traction in mud and snow.

A lot of people buy our Pussycat strictly for its looks.

Later they find out that it's more car than they bargained for.

Guide Tribes form at 'Y'

The Five Points YMCA at 218 Salem rd., Union, is forming Indian Guide Tribes for boys and their fathers, Joseph Simons, program director, said this week.

He said the Guides are an organization of fathers and sons. Activities, he said, range from Indian handicrafts to campouts, hikes and family outings. The age range for boys is from five (kindergarten) to nine (third grade).

Those interested in the program may call the YMCA at 687-5570.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

COOPERATION

Cooperation is a word that many people use only when they are seeking help or assistance. How often has someone contacted you with the words, "We'd like to have your cooperation?" Certainly, more often than you have been contacted by someone who heard you had a job that needed doing and was ready with assistance.

Working together is what makes a baseball or a football team a winning combination. But here, under the guidance of a coach, each man recognizes he has a job to do and by doing that job well he contributes to the success of the team.

In everyday life, many of us pass up the opportunity to do our part. We never volunteer when we see a job that needs doing. Someone else always takes care of it, sooner or later.

Look around you. Isn't there some way you can be helpful? Don't you have some time you can give to some worthy endeavor?

Select your own job that needs doing and offer to do it. You'll be surprised at how good it will make you feel.

Thank You, Flo Dwyer

FOR STAYING ON THE JOB AND WORKING FOR US AS LONG AS CONGRESS WAS IN SESSION. THOUGH 200 OR MORE CONGRESSMEN QUIT EARLY, YOU HAD THE COURAGE AND CONVICTION TO DO YOUR JOB.

And Here's What You Helped Accomplish for New Jersey and the Nation in Just these Last Few Days—

- Creation of the Department of Transportation with your amendment designed to strengthen the urban mass transportation program for New Jersey commuters.
- Blocking in a Senate-House conference committee on other $500 million in needless, damaging subsidies, in addition to the $750 million you defeated in the House committee.
- Approval of project to improve shipping channels in Newark Bay, essential to further development of Ports Elizabeth and Newark which bring hundreds of millions in payroll and investment to New Jersey.
- Passage of major advances in the fight against air and water pollution.
- Creation of a House Select Committee on Standards and Conduct, the first step in the effort you have long made to insist on high ethical standards for Congress.

These Few Examples of Your Great Legislative Record Show Why, Now that Congress Has Adjourned, We Take Great Pleasure in Saying—

Welcome Home, Flo Dwyer

Miss Joan Heller is married to man from Los Angeles

Mrs. Kenneth Daeubler introduced three new members, Mrs. Edward Hemple, Mrs. Edward Nee and Mrs. Lewis Stanton, Mrs. William Chimit, outgoing program chairman, announced that the next general meeting will be held Nov. 9 at the Mountaineers Inn. Jane Smith's of Westfield will present a program of Christmas table and gift ideas.

The antique study group visited Allaire State Park yesterday. Mrs. Edward Tuttle was in charge. The home and garden group will meet Nov. 10 at Public-Sea, vice Electric Co., Elizabeth, to hear a talk on gifts from the kitchen. Anyone interested in attending should contact Mrs. Helen Wolflin.

Mrs. Huber, chairman of the dances, announced that tickets may be obtained by contacting Mrs. McCarthy and Mrs. William Muckl. The "Mad Hatter" dance will be held Nov. 12 at the Springfield House. Former members are welcome.

A luncheon honoring the new board of directors was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. John Harrington, 370 Rolling Rock rd., Mrs. Osborne and Mrs. Irwin presided. Mrs. Chimit was chairman, Mrs. William Cullen, and Mrs. Wernag Hirschmann were co-chairmen.

The new board will meet next Wednesday at Mrs. Irwin's home, 600 Sherwood pkwy.

Mrs. Stephen K. Litter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Heller of 99 Ramer ave., Springfield, was married Oct. 13 to Stephen K. Litter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Litter of Los Angeles.

Rabbi Max Gruenwald, assisted by Cantor Joshua Steel officiated at the ceremony at the Crystal Plaza, Livingston. A reception followed.

Arlyn Joseph of Springfield was maid of honor. The other attendants were Miriam Bernman of Maplewood and Meryl Sauer of Jersey City.

Arvin J. Heller, of Alexandria, Va., the bride's brother, was best man. Ushers were Elliott Sustrin and Arthur Rettinger of Brooklyn.

The bride attended Upsala College. Mr. Litter is an alumnus of City Community College and is associated with Mercury Airports Co., Columbus, as a draftsman.

When they return from a 10-day honeymoon in Mexico City and Acapulco, the newlyweds will reside in Los Angeles.

Club observes 10th anniversary; original skit highlights program

The Mountaineers Woman's Club celebrated the 10th anniversary of its founding at a luncheon party held recently at the Mountaineers Inn. Highlight of the program was a skit, written and directed by Mrs. C. Gordon Green, entitled, "The Typical Mrs. Mountaineers Woman Club." In the cast were Mrs. Walter Stogryn, Mrs. Ralph Ullrich, Mrs. Harry Brannin, Mrs. Donald Hancock and Mrs. Frederick Bisterfeld.

A review of the club's civic contributions showed that over the years $5,000 has been donated to the scholarship fund, the local library, the Rescue Squad, the Citizenship Institute and the Linda Clark fund. In addition, members participated in hospital volunteer work, assisted in sending out Easter Seal envelopes, made flower arrangements for the open day of school and donated time and effort to many other endeavors.

Two past presidents, Mrs. Richard Kapke and Mrs. Green, were introduced as were the following charter members: Mrs. Jacob Bauer, Mrs. Bisterfeld, Mrs. Brannin, Mrs. Josiah Britton, Mrs. Wilbur Croves, Mrs. James Hall, Mrs. Ronald Hall, Mrs. Thomas Ingate, Mrs. Kapke, Mrs. Julius Kertesz, Mrs. Walter Koster, Mrs. Thomas Lynch, Mrs. Fred Mesina, Mrs. Fred Messinger, Mrs. Joseph Nohum, Mrs. William Saylor, Mrs. John Suski, Mrs. Vincent Warkila and Mrs. Walter Young.

Mrs. Lysen attended Wilson College and is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. She is with Control Data, Lysen is also a graduate of the University of Minnesota and is with Honeywell in Minneapolis.

Christmas bazaar scheduled Nov. 19 in Lourdes Church

The Rosary and Altar Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountaineers, will hold its annual "Holiday Bazaar" Nov. 19 in the parish auditorium at 300 Central ave. Mrs. Bernadette Carey is general chairman of the bazaar which will open at 10 a.m. and run until 7 p.m.

There will be several booths offering "one-of-a-kind" gifts. Most of the sale articles are handmade by women of the parish, including aprons, knitted articles, Christmas decorations, table centerpieces, baked goods and other foods, and children's gifts.

Other booths will feature games, grab bags, jewelry, attic treasures and many other items. A snack bar will be open all day.

Mrs. Carey reminds all parishioners residents that the holiday bazaar offers all members of the family an opportunity to do their Christmas shopping while helping support their parish.

Proceeds from the event will go to the parish's development fund. The bazaar is open to the public.

Lions Club to give awards to writers of essays on peace

The youth of Springfield have been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Club—a challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational or career assistance grant. The Springfield Lions Club, together with Lions Clubs throughout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the world's youth on the "most important world subject today—peace."

The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including the $25,000 first prize, eight semifinal awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago in July, 1967. At that time, the first-prize winner will be chosen from the eight local, district and multiple district awards will also be made. "We are hopeful one of our young people will win this world-wide prestige award," Robert Humer, president of the Springfield Lions Club, said this week in announcing the contest locally.

The contest, open to young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age as of Jan. 15, 1967, was announced by the president of Lions International, Edward M. Lindsey, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., during the recent annual international convention in New York.

"The purpose of the contest is to develop a formula for world peace because we feel peace is attainable," Humer said. He urged local young people to "accept the challenge" and enter his club's section of the contest. Closing date for the Springfield club's contest is Dec. 10. Students wishing to enter the contest may speak to one of the Springfield Lions to get full details of the contest, or to Dr. Randolph Jacobson at the Regional High School Board of Education office.

Student investors elect officer slate

The Student Investment Analysis Club of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School began operation for the current school year this week by electing the following members to office at its organizational meeting in the home-room of faculty adviser, Carl Matthews:

Stuart Kurtzer, president, Joel Wildman, vice-president, Alan Karp, secretary, and Robert Cohen, treasurer. The club also decided to buy a year's subscription, through the senior class magazine sales campaign, to the "U.S. Investments Clubs", a magazine devoted to assisting investment clubs.

Matthews said that about 20 members were present at the initial meeting, with at least 10 more prospective members ready to join. Membership in the club is open, and boys and girls interested in joining were asked to attend the weekly meetings held every Wednesday in Room 15 at 3:10 p.m.

YMCA presents dramatic playlet

"But Not Next Door," a dramatic playlet based on a real-life episode dealing with open housing, will be presented at the Summit YWCA's Wednesday morning Kaffeeklatsch on Nov. 2, from 10-12:30 a.m.

Members of the West Essex Human-Relations Council and Mrs. Fay K. Longacre of New Providence, will take part. Following the playlet, a panel discussion and question-and-answer period will be moderated by the Rev. Richard E. Nyström of the Central Presbyterian Church. Kaffeeklatsch, which is open to all women in the area, starts off with a half-hour time for coffee and conversation at 10 a.m., and the hour-long program follows at 10:30. Babysitting for infants 18 months and over as well as dance and rhythmic classes for three- to five-year olds are available to children and mothers attending the program.

Further information about the Nov. 2 program by future ones may be obtained by calling Mrs. Allan G. Ballard, program director at the YWCA, 273-4242.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Sheelan, County Home Economist

SMALL ROASTED CHICKENS FOR FALL ENTERTAINING
For a fall entertaining suggestion, serve small roasted chickens garnished with Chutney Peaches. Chicken offers quality and convenience to today's consumer.

As a result of the modern methods for chicken production, most chickens reach the market at the age of nine weeks. Such a young age offers a tender and juicy product that can be roasted in less time than was formerly possible. For a three pound bird, one and one-half hours' roasting time would be adequate. Chicken is also an economical choice and requires very little cleaning and preparation before roasting.

The Chutney peaches will add an Indian flare to the menu. They are prepared from canned cling peaches which are placed in the oven for the last twenty minutes of the chicken's roasting time. Their cavity is filled with chutney, raisins, nuts, and coconut.

When serving time arrives, the chickens are placed on a platter and surrounded by the peaches. The result is a dramatic dinner-party showpiece that tastes as delectable as it looks.

ROAST CHICKEN WITH CHUTNEY PEACHES
2 whole broiler-fryer or young roasting chickens

- 1 can (2 1/2 ounces) cling peach halves
- 2 tablespoons finely cut chutney
- 2 tablespoons chopped nuts
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flaked coconut

Sprinkle cavities of chicken with salt. Hook wing tips into back to hold neck skin. Tie legs together. Rub with softened butter or shortening, or brush with salad oil. Place on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes per pound (for a three pound chicken, 1-1/2 hours). Twenty minutes before end of roasting time, drain peaches (reserve syrup for fruit drinks, punches, etc.) Place halves, hollow side up, in shallow baking pan. Combine chutney, raisins and nuts. Divide among peach halves; dot with butter. Place in oven with chicken. Sprinkle with coconut last five minutes cooking time. When ready to serve, place chicken on serving platter. Surround with peach halves and garnish with parsley. Serve with cooked rice. Yield: four to six servings.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
My 15 year old son is my problem. He is in his first year high school and he doesn't like it. He plays "hooky" constantly. We have talked to him and so has everyone else telling him that he needs an education. We have bought him books to help him and have stopped his friends from coming over so that he will have more time to study. We won't let him go to shows or go out. He says he will go to school until he is 16 and then he's going to quit.

Perhaps we are too strict with him, but my husband and I know what it is not to have an education and we don't want to see our son drop out. Please let me know what to do.
Mrs. R. E.

Dear Mrs. R. E.:

You cannot force your son to study. Nagging and punishing will not help either. I suggest you enroll him in a vocational school where he can learn a trade.

It's too bad that so many young people are not mature enough to foresee the future they are making for themselves when they lack the desire for a good education!

Dear Amy:

I have two wonderful daughters. One is 22 and the other 24. They're planning a 25th wedding anniversary party for their father and me. They are going to have the party at a local restaurant and are inviting the family and many friends.

We are very happy about all this but there is one thing wrong: No one knows that this anniversary is our 24th and not our 25th. Over the years my husband and I never gave it a thought, but now we don't know what to do. We certainly can't tell our girls.

Any suggestions you could offer for a pair of very embarrassed parents would be greatly appreciated.

A Mother and Dad

Dear Mother and Dad:

Some things are better left unsaid when they cannot add to the future happiness of yourselves and your family.

Happy Silver Wedding Anniversary!

Dear Amy:

I November I will be 16 years old. My mother gave me permission to have a Sweet Sixteen Party. I'm planning my party early so I won't have any problems when the day of the party arrives. It's a month before the party and I already have a problem. There are 24 people on my guest list. (I can't cut it down.) Naturally that means I will have to buy an awful lot of food. Like, pop, chips, paper plates, etc.

Half of the people whom I'm going to invite are boys. No one is coming in couples. I'm worried about presents. Twenty-four gifts seem like too much for one person to get on one birthday. And yet, I don't want to tell my friends not to bring gifts because this party will be costing my parents a fair amount of money that must be spent wisely because there are 3 other children (younger than I) in the family.

When I invite my friends should I mention anything about gifts? If not, what do I tell them when they ask me about bringing presents?

Sweet Sixteen

Dear Sixteen:

One never mentions anything about gifts when extending an invitation to a birthday party. The invitation speaks for itself. . . . and I doubt that your friends will ask you.

I appreciate your thoughtfulness concerning your parents' pocketbook, but don't expect gifts to equal the cost of the party or you could be very disappointed. Stop worrying about the presents and have a happy birthday.

The Store That Satisfies

1200 STUYVESANT AVENUE, UNION -- 686-3030
Near Route 22, Garden State Parkway, Vauxhall Exit, Union

We took in over 3 billion dollars last year, and didn't make a dime.

But business has never been better.

Because we profited where it really counts: Over 8 million of our members were able to enter hospitals last year and say, "here's my Blue Cross card."

We think when somebody enters a hospital, the last thing he should have to worry about is money.

So we got together and started Blue Cross. Now there are 62 million of us. About a third of America.

And we contribute to pools of money which are ready to be drawn on when we need to pay hospital bills.

It's not very complicated. And of course, it's completely nonprofit. Like your local library, university, or church. We're just not in it for the money.

After all, Blue Cross is us. And you don't make money on yourself.

And if you joined us, we wouldn't make money on you. Because then, you would be us.

Grapes abundant for fall appetites, table decorations

A bunch of grapes will liven up fall appetites as well as fall table decorations, says Anne L. Sheelan, County Home economist.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports a bountiful grape supply for 1966. Such abundance should result in fruit of high quality that is reasonably priced.

Grape varieties are numerous, and differ according to their origin from the Western or Eastern section of the country.

Most Western grapes have skins that adhere closely to the pulp and are eaten with it. They are mainly of European origin brought to California by the early Spanish missionaries.

Eastern varieties, as the Concord, have skins that slip off easily. They are native to America in origin and were first found growing wild along the coast. Most of these native slip-skin varieties are used for juice, jelly and wine.

The most popular variety is the Thompson Seedless which is in great demand as a table grape, for raisin and wine production, and other fruit processing. It is greenish-white in color and has a tender, thin skin.

Tokays, another variety, are bright red, have seeds, and a thick, tougher skin. They are used mainly as a table grape.

Emperor, another table variety, is light red or reddish-purple in color, has seeds, and is thin-skinned.

All fresh grapes should be kept in a cool, dry place. They store well for a few days in the refrigerator and have a shorter life in room temperature.

These for grapes are numerous. Edible centerpieces are enhanced by a cluster of grapes. Fruit salads achieve color and a variety of textures when grapes are included. Concord grape pie and grape puddings result in delightful dessert. They are a perfect snack for children and adults alike.

Try the Tokay Tapioca for a fall dessert.

- TOKAY TAPIOCA
- 1 1/2 cups Tokay grapes, halved and seeded
 - 1 egg
 - 1/4 cup tapioca
 - 1/3 cup sugar
 - 1/4 tsp. salt
 - 2 1/4 cups milk
 - 1 tsp. grated lemon rind
 - 1 tbsp. lemon juice
 - 1 tsp. vanilla

TO PREPARE: Place egg in top of double boiler and beat slightly. Add tapioca, sugar, salt, and milk. In top of double boiler, over hot water, cook tapioca mixture until it bubbles, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add lemon rind, juice and vanilla. Cool about 20 minutes before adding grapes. Pour into refrigerator dish and chill thoroughly before serving. Serve plain or garnished with sweetened whipped cream. Makes about eight servings.

Miss Anne Volk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Vincent Volk of 1235 Rony rd., Union, was married Saturday afternoon to Robert W. Giese Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giese of 725 Hinewood rd., Union.

The Rev. Bernard Peters O.S.B. performed the ceremony in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Maplewood. A reception followed at the Lynn in Elizabeth.

Miss Sandra Seyfarth served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Judy Bruscia, Miss Eleanor Hand and Miss Nancy Wellman, Janice Giese, sister of the groom, was junior bridesmaid.

Robert McPherson was best man. Ushers included James and Roger Giese, brothers of the groom, Richard Volk, brother of the bride, and John Mageau Jr.

The bride and groom are alumni of Union High School. The groom also was graduated from Union County Technical Institute.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will reside in Elizabeth.

Dialogue sermon given Sunday at two services

A dialogue sermon was presented Sunday at both worship services of the First Presbyterian Congregation of Connecticut Farms, Sussex ave. and Chestnut st., Union. Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKenzie presented a message, "Is That What The Preacher Said?" The couple, one speaking from the pulpit, the other from the lectern, selected excerpts from the past year's sermons presented by the ministers of the church and then discussed them from the viewpoint of the "marriage gap."

Assisting in the services were other couples of the congregation. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glaser, Mr. and Mrs. George Reimer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Teufel and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Niec. Speaking for the stewardship committee, during "Concerns of The Church," was Steel Hutton, who reported on the program for the congregational dinner set tonight.

Suburban Deborah schedules bazaar in Kenilworth hall

The Suburban Deborah League will hold a bazaar Nov. 13 at the Kenilworth Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall at 21st st., Kenilworth. Doors will open at 12 p.m. and close at 10 p.m.

The bazaar will have sections and booths offering merchandise for sale, such as canned and packaged foods, baked goods, household items and supplies, sewing needs, toys, jewelry, clothing for families and cosmetics. A white elephant table and a table of "tired jewelry" for resale will be available.

Among the new innovations to the bazaar will be the talent sections. Members and their husbands will participate. Arnold Wolf will conduct an electric shaver clinic.

Mrs. Margie Leibner of Springfield, designer of children's fashions, will design and execute a special line of fashions to be sold exclusively at the bazaar. Miss Linda Slikin of Irvington, 12-year-old youngster, will decorate fancy cakes of soap.

A children's corner is planned by Mrs. Burt Bruder of Happy Days Nursery, Kenilworth. She is arranging for the children to do original art works while their parents shop at the bazaar.

Other services offered will be permanent waves, original works of art, repair to electrical appliances and a baby sitting offering, supplied by a group of teen-age girls headed by Helene Borsky of Irvington.

Mrs. Blanche Borsky of Irvington will display and sell her tile craft. Mrs. Alice Stark will be available for silhouette portraits at a nominal fee.

Proceeds from the bazaar will go toward the support of Deborah Hospital, Browns Mills. Mrs. Bernice Friedman of Springfield is in charge of receiving and marking all merchandise donated. Mrs. Yvette Zemel is in charge of working personnel. Mrs. Rita Swartz is treasurer; Mrs. Sara Borsky is over-all chairman; Mrs. Freda Denenberg is vice-president in charge of fund raising and Mrs. Shirley Straus is president.

Malwitz-Henrichs engagement is told

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Malwitz of Killian pl., Union, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elise Barbara Malwitz, to Frederick G. Henrichs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Henrichs of Union.

Miss Malwitz was graduated from Union County Technical Institute and attended New York Institute of Technology. She is employed by Bell Telephone Laboratories, Inc.

Her fiancé, who was graduated from Gordon College, Wenham, Mass., will receive an M.A. degree from Northeastern University, Boston. He is a teacher in the history department at Westford Academy, Westford, Mass.

A Christmas wedding is planned.

Temples offer joint program for adult Jewish instruction

Springfield's two synagogues, Temple Sharey Shalom and Temple Beth Ahm, will conduct their joint Adult Institute for eight Tuesday evenings, starting this week, at Beth Ahm. Classes will be offered in elementary and intermediate Hebrew, in "Project Parents," which is a course in Jewish customs and traditions in the development of Jewish thought and in cantillation.

The two Hebrew courses will meet Tuesdays from 8:15 to 9:30 p.m. Instructors will be Adrienne Gold for the elementary class and Amalie Salsitz for the intermediate group. Rabbi Reuben R. Levine of Beth Ahm will be in charge of "Project Parents," which he describes as "a new concept in adult education. It is a crash program designed especially for parents with the purpose of familiarizing them with Jewish holidays, practices, customs and ideologies, so that they will be better prepared to share in their children's Jewish education. Attention will be given to making Judaism relevant to the Jew in modern society." This class will meet Tuesday from 8:30 to 9:30.

Rabbi Israel S. Dresner of Sharey Shalom will present "Development of Jewish Thought," described as "how the major concepts of Judaism evolved, and their interpretation and application in various ages; how the Jew thinks - about himself, about God, about his people, about the non-Jewish world." Class time will be Tuesdays from 9:35 to 10:35. Cantor Israel Weisman of Beth Ahm will teach the course in cantillation, which he terms "the 'trop' or musical notations used in the chanting of the Haftarah and the Torah readings, an art usually left to Bar Mitzvah boys but one which should be mastered by the knowledgeable as well." Class time will be 8:30 to 9:30.

Registration, open to members of both temples and to non-members, will take place Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Beth Ahm. The spring session of the institute will take place Jan. 10 to Feb. 28 at Sharey Shalom. Details are available from the adult education chairmen of the two congregations: Leonard Golden of Beth Ahm at 379-9255, and Carole Chrysal of Sharey Shalom at 687-0141.

Junior Women serve town, nation

36-year-old club raises funds for numerous causes

By BEA SMITH
(This is the first in a series of articles about local clubs, their activities, events, drives, current officers and background. The series begins this week with the Junior Women's Club of Connecticut Farms.)

Gov. Richard J. Hughes has proclaimed the week of Nov. 7 to 13 as Junior Women's Clubs week. A local group, the Junior Women's Club of Connecticut Farms, with its 24 members, is one of the numerous Junior Women's Clubs through New Jersey, affiliated with and supporting the work of the New Jersey State and General Federation of Women's Clubs. The Union club, whose president is Mrs. Joan Wirth, was founded in 1930. Its object is to bring together young women of the community for the purpose of service to the community, the state, and the world.

THE CLUB'S EVENTS (held from Nov. 5 through May 13, 1967) are highlighted by a "Nite of Barbershop Harmony" on Nov. 5 in Connecticut Farms School, Union. The show, which will feature the Jerseyaire Chorus of Iselin, will be held at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Robert Cleveland of Mountaineer is in charge, and committee members, all from Union include Mrs. Charles Kleissler, Mrs. Raymond Macchik, and Mrs. Kenneth Rogers, programs; Mrs. Albert Presolone, tickets; Mrs. Paul Koehler and Mrs. L. Bovard Mayne, patrons list; Mrs. Fred Modrowsky, publicity, and Mrs. John Karsten, treasurer.

Tickets may be purchased from committee members or at the door on the night of the show. All proceeds will be donated for scholarships through Union High School.

Also on the agenda of the Junior Women's Club are: Dinner With 5388, Dec. 11, in Holy Spirit Parish Hall, Union; Chinese auction, Jan. 31, 1967, in McMahon's, Union; a luncheon and fashion show, March 4 in the Bow and Arrow Manor and a Junior Spring Convention, May 13, in the Chalfont Haddon Hall in Atlantic City.

THE CLUB HAS been instrumental in bringing

Union lawyer wins recognition award from B'nai B'rith

Mrs. Maurice (Peggy) Scotch of 2062 Emerson ave., Union, was the recipient of a "This Is Your Life" recognition at the Oct. 24 meeting of the B'nai B'rith Women of Union. Mrs. Scotch, an attorney, and her husband, who also is an attorney in Union, have two children, Benson Scotch of New York City and Mrs. Jack Schrieber of Long Island. Among the members of family and friends, who attended the surprise evening for Mrs. Scotch were Mrs. Scotch's sisters, Mrs. George Kucker and Mrs. Ann Berg; her brothers, Benson Rosenberg and Sam Rosenberg; the Scotchs' secretary, Miss Connie Forgiato; Eugene Lioita, Mrs. Scotch's first employer; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Swersky of Irvington, and Ben Regal of Union, who came to the United States from Europe by Mrs. Scotch's arrangements.

Mrs. Scotch, who is active in the community, was the first president of B'nai B'rith Women of Union, one of the founders of Congregation Beth Shalom; parliamentarian of Beth Shalom; a member of Hadassah, a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Memorial Hospital; a member of Connecticut Farms Business and Professional Women, a girl scout leader; and a 25 year member of B'nai B'rith Women. She practices law in New Jersey, but is semi-retired.

Church schedules recital on Sunday

An organ-piano recital will be given Sunday evening in the First Baptist Church of Union, in place of the regular evening service. The recital will be played by Mrs. Maurice Troutman of Union, and John C. Schmidt. Mrs. Troutman is the director of music at the host church and Mr. Schmidt is minister of music at the First Presbyterian Church of Connecticut Farms in Union.

The program will consist of musical selections chosen to represent the advent and nativity of Christ, His earthly ministry, and His passion and resurrection. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Richard H. Griffith, will read passages of scripture keeping with the selections. In recognition of Reformation Sunday, there will be an organ-piano duet of the Martin Luther hymn "A Mighty Fortress" and another duet of Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." Congregational hymn singing will also be a part of the program.

The public is invited to attend the service.

Lecture series set at Madison school

The Florham-Madison campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University will present a series of Teillard Lectures on Nov. 12, and in early spring at the campus. The series of lectures is being sponsored by the American Teillard Association and is being presented at the Madison campus by the Newman Club and the Organization of Biological Sciences. Professor Robert T. Francoeur, director of the Teillard Research Project of A.T.A. and biology instructor at Madison, is the coordinator of the lecture series.

The American Teillard Association is the American affiliate of the Association des Amis de Teilhard de Paris. Its purposes are to make known the thought of Teilhard de Chardin, a French Jesuit paleontologist and philosopher whose books on evolution are widely quoted. His most famous book, "The Phenomenon of Man," was praised by Julian Huxley as a book of "rare clarity, pregnant with compelling conclusions." Roger Garaudy, the leading French Marxist thinker who was responsible for seeing that the book was published in Russia, said that Teilhard offered the first sound basis for dialogue between the Communists and the West.

On Nov. 12, the Florham-Madison campus, four experts on the late Teilhard de Chardin will discuss Teilhard's basic theories of human evolution, as they perceive them. Mrs. Ruth E. Elsassor, biology instructor at the campus, and advisor of the Newman Club, will be the program moderator.

A Look at the United Nations with Trudina Howard The hidden talents of the UN...

The show that is the publicity of its debates on war and conflict; the show that is the glamor of its famous people, and the show that is the beauty of its buildings, are often the only program that people credit to the United Nations.

But it is the show that goes on inside that really counts. The bulk of the UN people and the bulk of the UN works are not in well-publicized meetings over inflammable, immediate crises such as Syria-Israel or Vietnam or the Congo, but in quiet, constant hours over a thousand every-day things to strive to eliminate the causes of war.

This is the real "hit" of the UN and this also is, many believe, the hope of the world. Few Americans realize how many shows there really are. Not many know, for instance, about the "hit players" who fight the lowly mosquito and the swampgrass, about those study-long hours to insure a better rice crop. They only hear of the "stars" who fight the war threats and who attempt to find a better solution to Vietnam. Few also fail to comprehend that the UN is constantly fighting human misery against oppression, cold, hunger, homelessness and injustice in a hundred peaceful ways.

ALL THIS, HOWEVER, necessitates giving people security, prosperity, understanding and education — and this takes work. And it is the United Nations' many specialized agencies, which are the "actors" assigned to the performance of this part.

Their parts are varied and difficult — and vital. The material work of the agencies — helping to build dams, raising a better rice crop, killing mosquitoes, teaching people to read, giving milk to needy children, killing weeds in infested areas, aiding a country to better its ports, supplying doctors, reducing diseases, etc., etc., etc., and the spiritual work as in drawing up the Declaration of Human Rights for All Peoples, setting up the Commission on the Status of Women, the Commission for the Peaceful Uses of Outer Space, etc., etc., etc., are every bit as important as conference talks on Vietnam, Israel or the Atom issue.

ONE OF THE GREATEST little shows of the UN is the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, better known as UNESCO. Concerned with the welfare of youth, with education, with the full exchange of dependable information, with the world's food supply and with the conquest of disease, it is no longer very little and is considered one of the most important of the agencies.

It is with a little arched surprise, however, that one hears that two out of the 121 nations of the UN have, on occasion, put a damper on this performer. Some others, and that they are Russia, which can be expected, but believe it or not, the other is the U.S. Russia, expectedly, delays matters constantly with the policy "how much power can we exert and who must get out of the way for us to do it?" But the U.S. has sections of American public opinion who find fault with UNESCO and everything else that matter with the surprising attitude: "What good will it do the U.S.?" and, "I suppose we are paying for everything." These critics fail to remember that UNESCO as well as the UN itself are WORLD organizations and not U.S. ones. The point is to benefit the world and not the U.S. alone. It is also a fact that the U.S. does not pay for everything. Dues and payments at the UN are assessed by ability to pay. Since the U.S. is the wealthiest of the members it pays the highest amount, but Russia is not far from the top. (Not to be confused with her peace-keeping debt mainly for the Congo, Russia is not in arrears with her other payments. By reputation she is noted for being slow, but she pays.)

ANOTHER AGENCY to feel the sting of the critics at times and which also is large and growing, is the United Nations Children's Fund or UNICEF. Originally called the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, it began as an aid to the war hungry and homeless children of Europe but it now encompasses the entire world. This agency specializes in helping children from caring for pregnant women to feeding a child as it grows. It has reduced children's diseases throughout the world and has supplied milk to millions. At that rate, it is surprising it would even get a frown.

In Jordan alone, for instance, it saw the heart-warming sight of hundreds of healthy children who would not have had that healthy look had it not been for UNICEF.

UNICEF even makes cows where there are none! The agency has helped research scientists find a way to make synthetic milk and one, Danu who sampled one version called Saridele has left a classical description: "To my palate," he said, "it tastes rather like the national drink of the U.S. — malted milk shake."

AT THE CURRENT SESSION of the General Assembly, the 21st, one of the largest productions for the assembly is that of the "developing nations." While Vietnam is on the Security Council agenda, and the Israel-Syria crisis arose along with the Congo-Portugal problem and the South West Africa one; and the matter of finances still persists and perhaps the new matter of finding a new Secretary-General when and if U Thant resigns will be difficult, the developing nations will play an important role in mind, two UN aid operations, the Expanded Programme of Technical Assistance and the Special Fund, were merged in January and a new "set-up" was born: the new UN Development Programme (UNDP). This is the world's largest multi-nation source of pre-investment assistance and technical-cooperation, according to its administrator, Paul Hoffman, and will assist the progress of these developing nations. Pledges equivalent to $8.9 billion by 101 member nations were announced on Oct. 6 for activities of the UNDP and taking into account the pledges that will be made by other nations, the estimated total is expected to reach from $162.4 million to $169.4 million.

U Thant stated that the UNDP was financing and participating in the administration of some 80 per cent of the technical and pre-investment assistance of the United Nations, the specialized agencies and the International Atomic Energy Agency to the developing countries.

THESE ARE JUST SOME of the "players" in the cast of the UN's agency list, but there are many more. To name only some of them will give some glimmer of the versatility of these unstung troops of the UN, and here they are: The IAEA, or the International Atomic Energy Agency.

The ILO or the International Labor Organization
The FAO or the Food and Agriculture Organization
The ICAO or the International Civil Aviation Organization
The WHO or the World Health Organization
The IFC or the International Finance Corporation
The UPU or the Universal Postal Union

The WMO or the World Meteorological Organization
The UNRWA or the UN Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East
The Disarmament Commission
The Scientific Committee on the Effects of Atomic Radiation
The Committee on the Peaceful Uses of Outer Space
The Peace Observation Commission

Flower growers will be surveyed

Commercial flower growers in New Jersey will soon receive a questionnaire from the United States Department of Agriculture asking which flowers they grow and the dollar value of their sales.

Those producing carnations, chrysanthemums, roses, gladioli, potted chrysanthemums and foliage plants and who sold a minimum of $2,000 worth of flower and nursery products during the past year will be included in the USDA's annual flower survey, which will get underway in January.

This year, 23 states will be included in the survey. These 23 states account for more than 90 percent of the national value of the flower items in the survey. The upcoming flower survey will include production and value of sales during 1966 and plans for 1967.

Last year's survey covered only four flower crops — carnations, chrysanthemums, roses and gladioli. Sales of these — four items — by New Jersey producers had a wholesale value of $4,142,000.

Moeller will direct American Legion membership parley

Albert J. Moeller, department commander of the New Jersey American Legion, will direct a membership promotion conference of post and county officers and membership chairmen from Essex, Middlesex, Somerset and Union Counties, at the home of Post 102, located at 112 W. Elizabeth ave., Linden, next Thursday at 8 p.m.

The purpose of the conference is to acquaint 1966-67 post and county officers with the Legion's membership program for the ensuing year. Legion Posts throughout the country are now accepting veterans of the Vietnam period (beginning Aug. 5, 1964) into membership, providing their active duty has been terminated under honorable conditions. The Legion's federal charter was amended, extending the privilege of membership to Vietnam veterans, by the Congress of the United States on Aug. 31, and the bill opening the new period of eligibility was signed by President Johnson on Sept. 1.

Walter Phillips of Roselle, Department Vice Commander who will be responsible for the promotion of Legion programs in the four counties, will preside at the meeting at Linden.

Dayton Bulldogs will meet Cranford in morning game away on Saturday

By MYRON MEISEL

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School football team will visit Cranford High School today morning at 10:30. The Bulldogs are still seeking a victory after five face-offs, including last Saturday's defeat at Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School, 28-6.

The Scotch Plains game started strongly, with the Bulldogs doing rather well offensively against the strong defensive team of the Raiders. It did not last, however. A second stringing halfback, Scott Lance, filling in for the injured defensive star, Joe Kozack, brought the Raiders not only their first offensive attack of the season but also their first triumph. Previously Scotch Plains had earned only two touchdowns. Lance was the only man who could run against a strong (for three quarters) Dayton defense, and although he was thrown for losses about 20 percent of the time he also broke through for quite a few fine runs.

Bill Burnett, the star of the Bulldog line, once again showed fantastic ability in both blocking and tackling. He was ably assisted by Doug James, the other stalwart of the squad. Mike Glasco, who was injured at Berkeley Heights in a beautiful 58-yard kick-off return, showed a good sense of timing on defense, coming through with critical blocks and tackles at crucial times. All in all, except for a defensive collapse by the Bulldog graders in the final quarter, the team had a very good, by comparison, and well-rounded game.

THE FIRST QUARTER was by far the most interesting from a defensive viewpoint, as both teams were displaying top-notch work in rushing and tackling. There were few errors made in these opening 15 minutes, and both teams were a pleasure to watch, with the Bulldog offense, however, the stronger of the two. Scotch Plains ran seven yards in three downs, only to be thrown back the same distance by superb defense, by Tom Pozanski and Brian Zabelski, who also had a hand in the other three tackles.

Scotch Plains received possession in the Scotch Plains 40, pressed eight yards in three downs with the ball-carrying Howard Rubenstein and Steve Jupa, Quarterback Jon Schoch, who shows the seasoning of several varsity contests now, was unable to push the extra two yards needed due to insufficient blocking. Burnett and James threw back the Raiders for three yards, and Nathan Edelman, in one of the most spectacular halves of the game, upended Lance by the ankle. Compounding their losses with a poor punt, the Raiders gave Dayton the ball again on the middle field. Again the Bulldogs penetrated into opposing territory but failed to gain the needed first down.

Scotch Plains now had possession on its own 12. Bit on third down Lance broke out around end for a 27-yard gain to the Raider 41. The Raiders did not score, as Tom Brown and Burnett threw the team back 12 yards. Dayton managed to gain its first first down, but was then forced into a punt.

Scotch Plains began in the second quarter, began a long drive from its own 29. Dayton played the defensive ball at the start but gradually began to disintegrate. Two first downs, including a 13-yard run, brought the Raiders to the Dayton 43. Then, in a key play, Lance drove for 15 yards to good position on the Dayton 28. Another near-miss first down ensued. Then, from the 19, three consecutive runs, mostly by Lance, made it first and ten on the Dayton 4. After a loss of yardage on the next two plays, Lance, taking a pitch-out around the right end, scored.

Dayton, returning the kick-off made a last ditch effort to score as time ran out on the half. Starting on the Dayton 32, the team punted for a first down. Then, on a Raider off-side, then a complete short pass to Bob Gartjan, thrown by Schoch, added eight yards, and Rubenstein plowed over the line of scrimmage at the 50 to post a 10-yard drive into the opposing field, Jupa, then Schoch in an end run and then a pass to Edelman added their efforts to a third first down. Now they were on the Raider 29, but the half-time gun sounded, ending a potential touchdown drive.

FROM THEN ON, Dayton hardly looked like a winning team. There were some excellent stops at crucial points, but the unfortunate thing was that there were too many crucial points, such as when two penalties, a completed pass (the Raiders' only one) to Lance in the flat for 18 yards, brought Scotch Plains to the Dayton 15, only to be stopped almost single-handedly by Burnett. The Raiders didn't score then, but they were warmed up.

They regained possession on their own 38 and accumulated 23 yards in two plays. Then they faced a dilemma. After an illegal procedure penalty, it was third and 13 on their own 48. The wingback crashed through the right side for 39 yards and the game was broken open. Both sides suffered total defensive breakdowns, but Dayton's was far worse in consequence.

It was an easy matter for Lance to score once it was first down on the Dayton 2. Two more touchdowns followed for the Raiders in a matter of two minutes. Dayton took the kick-off, suffered a 12-yard loss, and then Joe Kozack, star defensive end for the Scotch Plains graders, intercepted a Bulldog pass on the Dayton 25 and dashed for another Raider TD. Four more down later Scotch Plains again had possession. After four plays and two first downs, scored with halfback Ronald Coleman (no kidding) who sped around the right end for 24 yards.

DAYTON THEN TOOK command of the game. But it was a little late. Rubenstein, assisted by Jupa, spearheaded the offensive attack. Rubenstein, as he is called, led off with a 12-yard plunge from the Dayton 33 to the 45. A double reverse, giving the ball to Euse Rothfeld and on another hand-off to Rubenstein brought another first down.

Now on the Scotch Plains 44, Schoch gave off the ball to Jupa. But Jupa did not hold on to it; he fired a well-placed pass to Rubenstein on the left sideline.

KEY MAN in the forward wall for the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School football team is the center, Bill Burnett.

Soccer team plays Cranford after victory, tie in past week

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer team will face Cranford High School tomorrow at 3:30 at home and Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School away next Tuesday in the week's varsity action. The Dayton booters have a record of 3-2-2, excluding the game with Westfield High School on Monday. In the past week, the Bulldogs have scored one victory, 2-1, over Watchung Hills High School, and a 1-1 tie with Linden High School.

The Watchung Hills game was a come-from-behind situation with the Bulldogs trailing 1-0 in the first quarter. Then Bill Murphy crashed through the Watchung defenses for the tying goal. From then on it was only a matter of time before the ball passed the Watchung goalie again, this time with the credit going to Fred Telle.

On the other hand, in the Linden contest, it was the Bulldogs' guard that was let down. Ahead 1-0 in the final minutes of the game, goalie Howard Goldhammer, who was fine throughout both contests, was blocked out by the play by overly-aggressive Linden forwards. The Dayton half and fullbacks made a valiant effort to stop a certain scoring combination, but failed. Murphy scored the single Dayton goal.

Faber bowls 629 in temple's league

Syd Faber, with a score of 214-238-629, was top man for the 36th straight week in the Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield-Bowling League at H-Way Bowl.

Harriers race to 2 victories, to face Roselle

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School cross-country team will race against Abraham Clark High School of Roselle tomorrow and Cranford High School next Tuesday. The Bulldog harriers, before facing Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School of Clark last Tuesday, have an 8-1 record, besting in last week's races, Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School, 17-40, and the top-rated New Providence High School squad, 20-35.

The New Providence meet showed the Bulldogs in their finest team effort to date. Ken Shatten set a new school record for the 2 1/2-mile race, with a clocking 12:46. Nevertheless, he was up against Bob Cross of New Providence, number one runner in the state, who finished a bare three seconds ahead of Shatten. Ron Fry came up next in third. But despite these speedy showings, it was the efforts of three Dayton Back-up men that decided the contest.

Bill Aggar ran fifth with a 13:31 and Joe Buccol and Alan Todres tied for seventh with a 13:39. It was this capture of vital places for additional points that gave the meet to the Bulldogs. Aggar, Todres, and Buccol also came a long way since the opening of the season, cutting almost a minute off their respective times. The reliability of their running is the key to the overwhelming success of this year's Dayton team.

Against Scotch Plains, Fry and Shatten tied for first place with a 13:29, and Aggar in third placed the Dayton squad of the top placings. Todres was close behind with a fifth. Buccol had a sixth, and promising freshman Mury Walsh and Gene George were seventh and 10th, respectively.

The team is doing quite well by itself, having come from two difficult contests, against Summit and New Providence, with victories.

Tennis trophies for finalists as recreation tourney ends

The third annual Springfield Recreation tennis tournament ended this weekend with winner and runner-up trophies being handed out by Recreation Director Edward Ruby and Mayor Robert Planer at the Sandmeier Courts. Mayor Planer had been among the competitors.

The longest and most exciting event of the tournament -- the men's singles -- ended in an unfortunate manner as Murray Levine had to default his match to winner Harold Bass after spraining his ankle in the third and deciding set. Levine and Bass had split 6-3, 6-3, and battled to a 9-9 tie before darkness and old age forced them to postpone the decision set from the previous weekend. The deciding set was knotted at 2-2 when Levine twisted his ankle.

However, young Howie Levine, 11-year-old son of Murray, brought some consolation to the Levine household as he defeated Mayor Robert Planer's son, Bob Jr., in a tough three-set match 6-0, 3-6, 6-2, to bring home the singles championship for boys 14 years and under.

Harold Bass and Sid Banner advanced to the men's doubles finals Sunday morning by defeating Bob Letze and Ward Humphrey, 9-7, 6-3. The afternoon finals saw the team of Dr. Lou Fidel and Frank Letze prove too much for the Bass-Banner combine as the doctor and the school teacher stroked their way to a 6-4, 6-3, doubles championship. Last year Fidel teamed with Sol Allen for the doubles trophy.

Jeanne Fidel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Louis Fidel, captured the singles for senior girls by defeating Debbie Hutton in straight sets. Debbie promises to be back next year to give Jeanne a run for it.

Bobby Gartjan had his hand's full in the senior boys' singles as he came from behind to over come Dave Bass, 1-6, 6-4, 6-3, to advance to the finals. His opponent in the finals of the senior boys' singles was Steve Epler. The event was won by Gartjan, 6-4, 8-6.

Claire Foster has 192 score in league

Leading ladies in St. James Rosarians' bowling last week at 4 Seasons included Claire Foster, 192-160-456; Helen Seckle, 177-157-464; Ann Carozzino, 161-423; Dot Scrip, 156; Lois Vossy, 155; Gen Ammanno, 154-101; Mag. Maude, 153-413; Nancy O'Grady, 153-403; Helen Keppler, 152-400, and Dot Kameon, 151.

Sweeps were recorded by the Spares, Tigers and Strike Outs. Three teams are tied for first place with records of 8-4. They are the Hoopahs, H. Jinks and Try Hards. The Tigers trail by a half-game, with the Swingers in fifth spot at 7-5.

Dayton seniors in rehearsal for show, 'My Sister Eileen'

"My Sister Eileen," which will be presented by the senior class of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 18 and 19, is undergoing intensive rehearsals under the direction of Joseph F. Trinity. The three-act comedy, which describes the trials and tribulations of two young ladies who descend on Greenwich Village in New York City with the optimistic intention of winning success and fortune as a writer and actress, "glows with humor and delightful dialogue," according to a school spokesman.

Mark Gladstone and Alan Graham star as the male leads, Mr. Apollous and "The Wreck," while the female leads are performed by Millicent Rawitz and Jeri Goodman (both have attended dramatic schools) as Ruth Sherwood and "My Sister Eileen."

"My Sister Eileen," directed by George S. Kaufman, was first produced at the Biltmore Theatre, New York, by Max Gordon with Morris Carnovsky as Mr. Apollous, Shirley Booth (TV's "Hazel") as Ruth Sherwood, Jo Ann Sayers as "Eileen" and Gordon Jones as "The Wreck." The play director, Trinity, selected "My Sister Eileen" as his eighth senior play because it was performed for the first time at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School by the senior class of 1940 under the direction of Percy McCarthy with Frank Pitzinger, Margaret Brahm, Betty Jane Knuss and George Volden as the leads.

This is the first year that the Senior Class members will come from Springfield exclusively as the construction of sister schools at Clark, Berkeley Heights and Kenilworth have provided facilities in these communities of the Union County Regional High School District. Each school will now have its own senior class play.

Trinity has extended an open invitation to all members of the "1946 edition of Eileen" to be the guests of the class of 1966 as they revive the comedy 20 years later. The 16 members were urged to contact Trinity or John Swedish, public relations director, for their complimentary guest tickets.

Instruction to start in modern dancing for pre-schoolers

An additional modern dance class for pre-schoolers and half-day kindergarten boys and girls has been added to the dance series sponsored by the Springfield Association of Creative Arts in cooperation with the Springfield Recreation Department.

Mrs. Lucille Weiss of Springfield will teach the classes, starting this Tuesday. On Tuesdays and Thursdays, instruction will be given from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. to pre-school and some kindergarten students at the Springfield Recreation House, 59 Caldwell pl.

Other classes will be held at the Edward Walton School from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. for children in kindergarten, first and second grades, on Tuesdays only. Directly following at 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. will be a class for third, fourth and fifth graders. A fee of $10 will be charged for a series of ten lessons.

Mrs. Weiss, who holds a B.S. degree in physical education and a master's degree in elementary education, will stress fundamental rhythms, dance technique and creative dance for beginners as well as advanced students. Checks may be made payable to SACA and mailed to 143 Baltusrol way, Springfield. Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Leo Johnson (DR 6-439) or Mrs. Sidney Frank (DR 6-2287).

Helps in coordinating 'Y' chamber concert

Anthony Denner of 11 Briar Hill Circle, Springfield, is a member of the YM-YWHA of Essex County chamber music committee which is coordinating a program of Beethoven, Kodaly and Haydn string quartets on Nov. 30.

The concert is one of a series co-sponsored by the New Jersey Chamber Music Society, and held in the YM-YWHA headquarters at 255 Chancellor ave., Newark.

ARTHUR SELIKOFF

Teenagers fined $70 for disturbing the peace

Springfield Magistrate Max Sherman today night imposed fines against two 18-year-olds from Kenilworth who had been involved in a fight July 31 at the corner of Meisler ave. and Milltown rd.

Raymond J. Ralmond paid a total of $70 for disturbing the peace, attempting to elude a police officer, in a chase that reached speeds of 75 miles per hour, and driving with no registration in his possession. His companion, Joseph Machin, paid a $30 fine for disturbing the peace.

Morse lists his support of Dr. Allen

U. S. Sen. Wayne Morse will be featured speaker at a rally for Dr. Robert F. Allen, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 12th District tonight at 8:30 at the Connecticut Farms School in Union.

The Oregon senator, who is widely known as an outspoken proponent of immediate peace in Vietnam, stated that he was "delighted to speak for Bob Allen because of his positive stand on the Vietnamese conflict and because of the unique qualifications which he will bring with him into the United States Congress."

Sen. Morse praised Allen's letter to Congressional candidates throughout the nation, urging them to work for UN Secretary General U Thant's three-point program for peace as "providing the kind of moral leadership that is so necessary in Congress today."

The rally in Union will culminate a full day of activities which Morse will conduct on behalf of Allen, including a tea in Plainfield and two affairs at the Goldman Hotel in West Orange.

Dog's day at Rutgers

The old dog will have his day at Rutgers on Nov. 9. Canine geriatrics will be the topic of a conference on that date at the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science.

The conference is a response to the needs of veterinarians to know more about the health needs of aging dogs. According to one practitioner, about a fifth of the average veterinarian's "dog" patients are elderly.

Sponsors are the Veterinary Medical Association of New Jersey, the Norwich Pharmaceutical Co. and the College.

Morning speakers will be James H. Leatham, director of the Bureau of Biological Research at Rutgers, and Ashton B. Morrison, chairman of the Department of Pathology, School of Medicine at Rutgers.

Dr. Leatham will discuss the endocrinological aspects of aging, and Dr. Morrison, the physiological aspects.

In the afternoon Roy Bellhorn, veterinarian in Arlington and a member of the staff of the New York University Medical Center, will deliver a paper on the changes that take place in the sight of the aging dog. Robert S. Brodey, professor of surgery, School of Veterinary Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, will describe surgical management.

Sessions will be held in Bartlett Hall, the animal sciences building at the College.

Stocks still at old rate

LONDON (UPI)—American stocks traded on the London stock market this week are quoted at the pre-war exchange rate of $5 to the pound instead of the current rate of $2.80 to the pound. Brokers consider the figure "more convenient."

Student is selected for participation in Chemical Caravan

Arthur Selikoff, a scientifically talented high school student in this area, has been selected to represent Springfield in the 1966 Chemical Caravan.

The caravan, sponsored for the seventh consecutive year by the Chemical Industry Council of New Jersey, will bring 200 talented high school science students from all over the state to Rutgers University tomorrow for a varied round of activities, including lecture-demonstrations by leading scientists from the Rutgers Science Center at University Heights, Piscataway Township, and tours of chemical industry research installations. They will also attend a special luncheon and meet with executives of the nation's leading chemical companies.

Selikoff, son of Mrs. Charlotte Selikoff of 22 South Derby rd., Springfield, is a senior in Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. He represented his school at Northern New Jersey Science-Humanities Forum, and was also a representative at Engineers' Day. He plans to enter pre-medical school next fall.

Union County firms which are sponsoring Caravan students include: Allied Chemical Co., American Cyanamid Co., Borden-Myers Co., Celanese Corp. of America, CIBA Corp., E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co., Inc., Ely Chemical Co., General Aniline & Film Corp., Mark & Company, Inc., Schering Corp., Shell Chemical Co., and White Laboratories, Inc.

De Molay Legion of Honor to be conferred on local man

Walter W. Smith of 34 Troy dr., Springfield, is one of seven New Jersey residents who will receive the Legion of Honor degree at the International Supreme Council of the Order of DeMolay on Friday, Nov. 4. The investiture will be held at the Paterson Masonic Temple with William C. Chasey Sr., De-

Molay executive officer in New Jersey, presiding as Commander-in-the-East. Smith will receive an honorary degree, conferred upon a Master-Mason who has performed unusual and meritorious service on behalf of DeMolay. A past master of Mason Lodge 85, P. & A.M., a member of the Valley of Jersey City, Scottish Rite; and the Washington Society of New Jersey, Smith has devoted much of his life to Masonic, civic and DeMolay work.

He was a member of the Hillside Board of Education and is a past president of the Hillside Lions Club. He was grand master of Masons in New Jersey in 1965 and his activities in behalf of DeMolay during his term contributed to the advancement of the Order of DeMolay in New Jersey, the announcement stated.

Song, dance show slated at assembly in Dayton Regional Variety will spice the assembly program this morning at 8:30 when the music and drama department under the direction of Joseph Trinity presents the annual variety show at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. The program is designed to exploit the creative talents of the Dayton students. Tryouts were open to all interested players, and the following performers were selected:

The Latins, a group of dancers featuring Derrol Brooks, Woody Young, Larry Stewart and Larry Breedon; Bob Belliveau, folk singer and guitarist; Gary Jay and Mark Paul, folk song performers; Walter Dobuschak and Rita Weinback, accordionists; the Symphonettes, with Barbara King, Linda Rouseau, Rosejean Malgeri, Veronica Lee, Cynthia James and Rita Howell make up the Shangri-La group, while Steve Fried, Harry Slapin and George Franklin will perform as the George Franklin Trio. Richard Sneider will act as master of ceremonies for this year's festival of talent.

The variety show of 1966 was performed before the freshmen and sophomore students last Thursday, and today it will entertain the upper-classes.

Who'd take them seriously?

We would. We don't feel that anyone in this day can afford to do much scoffing at the developing thoughts and insights of a generation that will very soon have much to say about the way our society and our world go. These seven representatives of that generation are our delegation to The National Youth Conference on The Atom being held in Chicago. They'll be listened to—and in earnest. We are proud to sponsor them.

Join Our Special Housewives' Christmas Club
This year buy your Christmas presents with money you've earned yourself - in the few short weeks before the holidays arrive.
We have hundreds of high-paying jobs all over the city for housewives just like you. Girls who haven't worked in years. Don't worry about being rusty, we'll help you brush up free.
Work only the hours you're free. Do only the kind of work you like to do. And work only as long as it takes you to save the money you need. You can work a day, a week, or right up to Christmas. Never a job.
Join the club today. We'll give you an "Instant Christmas club" bonus of an extra $12.50 after your first 40 hours, so you can get an extra start toward the best Christmas ever. Just bring $15.00 with you when you register.
