United Fund drive failing to reach its goal

Town is given complaint on industrial incinerator

RONALD J. PIKOR

Dayton singers to blend voices in holiday event

The vocal music department of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, under the direction of Ronald J. Pikor, will present its annual Christmas concert tonight at 8:15 at Halsey Hall. The department will also present special programs of traditional and popular Christmas songs and music at school assemblies today and next Thursday. On Tuesday at 7:30, the group will perform at the Shore Hill Mall.

The concert choir will open the program with "I'll be Home for Christmas" (Heaton) with trumpets by Sam Katz and John Wessell and trombones by Walt Duboshak and Jerry Veza providing the solo. This will be followed by "Lo, How a Rose in Blooming" (Praetorius), Janice Hardgrove, soprano soloist, will sing "I Wonder As I Wander" (Appalachian Carol-Niles). The Concert Choir will conclude with "The Little Road to Bethlehem" (Head-Rose).

The Glee Club will follow with four selections, entitled "My Little Tree, Dear Lord" (Schubert-Balet), "What Child Is This?" (old English), "Softly, Tread, the Child is Sleeping" (Snow), and "Lullay, Lullay" (old English).

The Chorale will carry on until intermission with another group of four Christmas favorites: "What You Gonna Call Yo' Pretty Little Boy" (Ehret), "Lullay, on Christmas Morning" (Gretschinoff) with Elayne Golden, soprano soloist; "Rise Up Shepherd and Follow" (Grant), and "Do You Hear What I Hear?" (Kinyon, Shayne-Simeone).

After intermission, the Chorale will return to the stage to render a group of popular Christmas tunes, including "Sleigh Ride" (Purcell-Anderson), "Merry Merry Christmas" (Rock), "Let It Snow, Let It Snow" (Slyne-Collins-Agnard), "Winter Wonderland" (Smith-Bernard) and "It's Christmas Once Again" (Strucchi).

The meeting started with an audience of two citizens, and the operators never managed to outpace the five committee members, plus township engineer, attorney and engineer.

The complaints about the incinerator were brought by Isadore Lemm, owner of 104 Evergreen ave. He backed up his charges with a stack of photographs of the incinerator, just constructed and not yet in use. (See picture below). The device is located in the rear of the Builders' Fair, Inc., property, site of the Daily-Midweek News store on Route 22, he declared.

Lemmman attacked the installation on the basis of air pollution, violation of the municipal anti-burning ordinance and as a fire hazard to adjoining property of the Union Energy Park Commission, as well as a nuisance to other residents. He also questioned whether the property owners had ever received a building permit for the incinerator. The committee promised immediate action on the matter.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the governing body voted final approval for four ordinances. The ordinance appointing two alternate members of the Board of Adjustment. A second amends the zoning law to permit construction of municipal facilities in any district. This eliminates need for a zoning change for every new building, such as the new library.

The other two ordinances were to revise arrangements for the purchase of Fadam Lane, at the corner of Mountain ave. and Hamphire rd., for parking use and for a possible future township building. The changes were made to permit sale of a portion of the land to Tompkins-Sharkey-Shalom to expand its parking lot.

Also approved was the introduction of an ordinance to provide an additional $25,000 for the new library, as requested by the library's board of trustees. This measure also calls for another $25,000 for the library, to be repaid by a federal grant.

On the recommendation of Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander, the committee voted to promote Raymond St. Calabrese to the rank of detective. Calabrese had served as a plain-clothesman for the past 18 months. Among other duties, he heads the department's narcotics investigations.

Committee member Robert W. Hardgrove noted a change in the schedule of proposed capital improvements for the purchase of Fadam Lane, at the corner of Mountain ave. and Hamphire rd., for parking use and for a possible future township building. The changes were made to permit sale of a portion of the land to Tompkins-Sharkey-Shalom to expand its parking lot.

ZONING VIOLATION CHARGED -- Several complaints against Builders Fair Inc., for erecting this incinerator behind the Daily-Midweek News store on Route 22 were presented by Isadore Lemmerman of 104 Evergreen ave., at the Township Committee meeting on Tuesday.

Ceremonies to break ground last Friday recall origins of town's Free Public Library

Ground-breaking exercises for the new building of the Springfield Free Public Library held last Friday at Mountain ave. and Hamphire st., recalled for many residents the origin of the first library, which was opened in 1932.

The first account of the events which led to the erection of the first library is contained in an article written by Don Palmer, curator of the library museum, when the addition to the present library building was dedicated in 1957.

The text of that article follows:

The formal dedication of the newly enlarged Springfield Free Public Library, this Sunday, calls attention to the remarkable growth of this institution, since it was established, just 35 years ago. It has now become such an in-

YES group presents report, lists holiday season workers

The Springfield Youth Employment Service is about to round out its second year of obtaining employment for the youth of the town. Mrs. Felix N. Gold, chairman of YES, reported this week that, since the first registration dates of Dec. 29 and 30, 1964, the total list of student applicants has climbed well over the 500 mark. This figure represents both college and high school students.

She added, "In addition to the enthusiastic response from our young people in their desire to seek employment, local employers have been equally cooperative in the hiring of YES applicants." The volunteer staff in the office noted that approximately 85 percent of all youth registrants have been placed in jobs, and that the only job requests which could not be filled were those for which the employer's requirements could not be met.

The second annual report stressed that the YES office operates entirely on a voluntary basis, with all work handled by unpaid volunteers. Except when special holidays or summer schedules are in effect, these volunteers staff the office in the Municipal Building from 2 to 5:30 p.m. every week-day, Monday to Friday. During office hours, student applicants are registered and employer applications are processed. Since the welfare of the registrants is stressed at all times, encourage the young applicants to continue their education and give their education top priority at all times.

WITH THE CHRISTMAS holiday season around the corner, the office announced that it can supply young people to help with many tasks. Among them are girls to address greeting cards; boys to help put up trees and decorations; girls to help serve and clean-up after family dinners and pot-togethers; and young people to help with many other chores that crop up at this time of the year. It is also important, at this time, that prospective employers of baby-sitters for New Year's Eve and over the holidays contact the office well tegral part of this community life that it seems almost incredible that as recently as 1931 there was no such thing as a public library in Springfield.

On Jan. 30 of that year, a group of citizens, feeling that it was high time Springfield had a library, brought the matter up at a meeting of the Springfield Parents-Teachers Association, and A. C. Trundle, president of the P-T-A, appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. A. B. Anderson, chairman, Mrs. Ralph Titley, Mrs. Edward M. Cook, Miss F. Wahl and Fred J. Hodgson, to study the possibilities. The report of this committee was favorable, and arrangements were made for a public meeting on March 16, 1931, to discuss the project. Sarah Askov, secretary of the State Library Commission, came up from Trenton to address the meeting. It was decided to proceed with the plan and the original committee was augmented by the appointment of seven additional members: Mrs. N. C. Schmidt, Mrs. John C. Cummings, Mrs. Frank Geiger, Rev. William L. Reed, Dr. George A. Liggett, Rev. Father Larkin and Gabriel Larson, chairman of the Township Committee.

DURING THE SUMMER, this committee was active in its efforts to further the organization of a Library Association. Contributions of books and funds were solicited from members of the association and various efforts were made to establish a library. Support for the project was valuable support for the project.

Ruling by Trenton could end Stokes, Williamsburg trips

A ruling issued this month by the state's acting Commissioner of education could bring about the end of such educational projects as the trips taken by Springfield youngsters to Williamsburg, Va., in the seventh grade and to Stokes State Forest in the eighth grade.

Acting Commissioner Joseph E. Clayton ruled that educational field trips must be paid for by the local school system and not by the parents of the children taking part. His ruling, however, did contain a number of qualifications and loopholes which might still permit continuation of such trips as those taken by Springfield students.

School officials in Springfield, as in most nearby communities, declined to comment on the ruling, until they receive a copy and have an opportunity to study its exact text. Both Springfield trips are paid for by the students' parents.

Dr. Clayton's ruling was on an appeal from a decision of the Board of Education in Colts Neck, Monmouth County. The appeal was filed by Melvin C. Willett, a teacher and member of the Colts Neck Board of Education. Willett opposed a board policy of "having parents pay for

ROADBLOCK UNBLOCKED -- Morris ave. traffic last week flowed unhindered below the new bridge for Route 78, for the first time in approximately a year. The superhighway will be continued over the gap at right, where all cars driving along the main thoroughfare had been detoured on Morrison rd. The opening of the new segment of Morris ave. foreshadows the end of the emergency school bus service conducted by the Township Committee for the past year to transport youngsters across the hazards of the highway construction area. ### Leaders hit local apathy in campaign

Call on all residents to look into mirror

Springfield's first United Fund campaign is falling far short of its goal, for reasons ranging from community apathy to religious bias, according to a report issued this week by the four top leaders of the campaign.

The statement was signed by Jack H. Stufelman, general chairman; Harvey A. Seligman, vice-chairman; Saul Freedman, financial chairman; and Walter V. Tervecchio, publicity chairman.

"There comes a time in the lives of each of us when we must look into the mirror and take stock of ourselves. That time has arrived for the township of Springfield.

"When the committee first conducted the feasibility of a United Fund drive, it was determined that with 5,000 families living in Springfield, 150 commercial and industrial businesses, and some 55 professional offices in the town, a total of $39,750 should be easily attainable. Yet at this time, we have attained only 25 percent of our goal.

"The vital health, welfare and youth services are in jeopardy because they have, in large measure, been abandoned by the people of our community. This startling pronouncement is a sad commentary on the lack of compassion, civic awareness and consideration for our less fortunate neighbors and our youth by too many of us.

"THE UNITED FUND of Springfield came into being as a result of years of neglect by you, the citizens of Springfield, because you were being plagued by so many solicitations from various charitable organizations.

"The formation of the Springfield United Fund was spearheaded by the Chamber of Commerce, which spent almost $1,000 and many months of hard work to bring this program to fruition.

"As of this day, too few people have participated, and too many have failed to recognize their responsibility.

"The United Fund was formed because the committee was gratified that it could offer a great deal of assistance, both financial and financial. Too many of these so-called well-wishers have failed to come forth in any manner whatsoever.

"TWO MONTHS of the campaign have passed, and the following are an example of some of (Continued on page 5)

Campaign figures for township drive listed in two areas

Two residential collection districts of the United Fund, Baltusrol Top and Troy Village, have completed their contact lists, making record collections of over $1,200 and $1,400 respectively. It was announced this week.

In the Baltusrol Top area, 95 percent of the home-owners were contacted; 50 percent gave donations ranging from $5 to $100, and 35 percent gave optional contributions. Some 80 families were responsible for $1,200 of the district's gift to United Fund.

In the Troy Village Apartments, contacts were made with 60 percent of the occupants, and approximately 100 families were responsible for the donation of the greatest part of the collection.

Campaign leaders said that the success of the United Fund drive in these areas can be attributed greatly to the enthusiasm of the individual collectors who gave their time to the cause.

Participating in Baltusrol Top were: Mrs. R. T. Smith, Mrs. E. Prebracha, Mrs. Philip Seligman, Mrs. G. R. Schmidt, Mrs. James Murphy, Mrs. Thomas F. Hilterson, Jr., Mrs. G. E. Freund, Mrs. R. W. Tryon, Mrs. C. R. Bottger, Mrs. R. H. Perry, Jr., Mrs. R. E. Stelnick, Mrs. S. C. Fulton, Mrs. J. T. Poulos, Mrs. Leo L. Holland, Mrs. Morton Panish, Mrs. David Frischman, Mrs. Bernard Karp, Mrs. C. E. Conatas, Mrs. R. M. Miller, and Mrs. John C. Pinsky, area chairman.

In Troy Village the collectors were: Mrs. Aaron Lasker, George Brown, Mary Brown, Mrs. Henry Martin, Sherrill Newton, Mrs. William Baldwin, Mrs. Samuel Freedman, Mrs. Celia Rice, Mrs. John Carrothers, area chairman, and Harold Ross, assistant area chairman.

PTA sets speaker on narcotics perils

"Narcotics in Our Community--What Can Parents Do?" will be the topic for an emergency meeting of the PTA at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, on Tuesday, Jan. 10, at 8 p.m., at the school. It was announced this week by Mrs. Leonora Wald, PTA president.

Plans for the meeting were prompted by the recent disclosure by police that a group of local teenagers had been involved in the test of marijuana. The PTA has issued an invitation to all parents, educators, clergymen and other members of the community to attend.

Dr. F. Thomas Mueller of the narcotics squad, Essex County sheriff's office, will speak and present a film, "Narcotics Evil." He has spoken and displayed the film more than 1,400 times throughout the country.

Carols to be sung at Town Mall tree

Mrs. Louis Quinlan, community chairman, has extended an invitation to all residents to join the township's Girl Scouts and Brownies in a Community Caroling around the Girl Scout Tree on the Town Mall this Sunday at 5 o'clock.

Permission to place a Christmas tree on the Town Mall was granted by the Township Committee through the cooperation of committee member William Koontz. Lighting of the tree, which will remain on the Mall until after the holidays, will also take place on Sunday evening.

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE By Gov. Richard J. Hughes

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

GOVERNOR RICHARD J. HUGHES, in his first year of his Presidency, laid down this challenge to the people of the United States on the need for a national program to combat mental retardation. "The manner in which our nation cares for its citizens and conserves its manpower resources," he said, "is more than an index to its concern for the less fortunate. It is a key to its future. Both wisdom and humanity dictate a deep interest in the physically handicapped, the mentally ill, and the mentally retarded." That challenge has now been taken up by the Nation.

Hurricanes ahead with 3-game edge in Thursday action

The Hurricanes took a commanding lead in the Boys' Thursday Afternoon Bowling League at the conclusion of play last week. The Hurricanes, Craig Nowinski, the league's top bowler, rolled a 289 series to pace the Hurricane sweep. Todd Herman, with a 275 series, and Ronnie Silverman, with a 244 series, also aided in the sweep. The other team members, Joe Pepe and Karl Mendel, were also effective in the Hurricane victories. Top bowler for the Jets was Steve Glover, who rolled a 241 series total. In another important match last week, the second-place Rockets split a two-game series with the third place Atoms. Mitch Wolf and Marc Hollander teamed with a pair of terrific efforts to pace the Rockets. Mitch had a two game total of 322, while Marc had a series effort of 321. Ed Graessle, with a 241 series also rolled well for the Rockets. Jay Silverman and Dave Kitzman were the top performers for the Atoms. Jay hit 292 for two games, while Dave had a series total of 271. Alan Schlanger hit a 262 two-game total for the Atoms in this very high-scoring match.

The Raiders kept their season performances at .500 last week. It they divided a pair of games with the Hornets. Mike Demmer with a 275 total topped the Raiders. Steve Graut turned in the league's top performance of the afternoon with a 323 series effort. Steve rolled a 193 game in this series effort.

The final match of the day saw the revamped Bullets sweep two games from the Bombers. Greg Spector of the Bullets topped all bowlers with a 260 series total. Top bowler for the Bombers was Robert Goldman, Bob had a 252 total for the two games.

Craig Nowinski liked his league leading average to a 142 mark with his good performance last week. Mitch Wolf jumped from fifth to second place in the high average standings. Mitch is rolling a 139 pace.

Mike Demmer at 138 is in third place, while Jay Silverman is fourth with a 137 total. Steve Graut holds the fifth spot with his 137 total. The other boys in the top 10 are: Todd Herman, 135; Billy Schwab, 133; Marc Hollander, 133; Steve Glover, 129; and Robert Goldman, 125.

in the mental retardation field. Such needs call for coordinating of planning, referral, research, screening, treatment and rehabilitation. There are excellent efforts being made in this area, but the nature and extent of the problem -- and our efforts resulting from new legislation and availability of new funds -- need some coordinating body, some formal mechanism to assure the total effectiveness of existing diagnostic, instructional and rehabilitative services. There are suggestions that the new Department of Community Affairs, being so close to local problems, might develop this kind of coordinating body.

I am not certain that this is the only solution. But I am certain that such a policy-planning body is necessary in state government to coordinate the many very good special services now provided, for example, by the Department of Health, the Rehabilitation Commission and the Departments of Education and Institutions and Agencies. And I fully intend to see to it that such coordination becomes a reality.

A major problem concerns the reform of legal charges and penalties for the life maintenance of the mentally retarded child. Certainly the gross inequities among counties, which have been reported, makes this both a problem of conscience and of economics. Something must be done. Recommendations vary from establishing a cutoff for family payments after age 21 to the State, with public support after that time. Others suggest some adjustment in fees based on new criteria of income rather than total wealth. The Department of Institutions and Agencies now has a task force ready to provide recommendations on this by the first of the year. I assure the parents of institutionalized mentally retarded children that something will be done soon to achieve an equitable and humane solution.

In this regard, and as a new measure to relieve the financial burden to these parents, I signed earlier this year several bills which extend beyond age 18 family coverage under health, dental and surgical insurance plans for mentally retarded children who are physically handicapped individuals. This means that the handicapped child over 18 is now covered by extra premiums since he is still dependent on the family for care and support.

A major goal to which we must give continued and priority attention is the county-munity-centered program for the mentally retarded. This has a number of virtues, not the least of which is alerting the public locally to the existence of the retardation problem. It also underscores the fact that although state government has a critical responsibility, local public and private responsibility is an indispensable element in any comprehensive program for the retarded. That is why the state's day care program, initiated in 1964 and now almost $435,000 under this administration, is so important -- not only for the immediate relief it brings to families that need day care, but also because it is a more effective way to keep retarded individuals close to their families and in their communities.

Board offers name of Region director to hold state office

The Regional High School Board of Education last week formally proposed to Warren M. Davis, superintendent of the Regional system, to fill the present vacancy in the post of commissioner of education for New Jersey. His suggestion was contained in a resolution forwarded to Gov. Richard M. Hughes.

It declared that the board is "deeply concerned with the status of public education in New Jersey and the fact that there is now a vacancy in the office of its commissioner of education."

The resolution added that the board had "observed the superlative leadership that has been provided" to the Regional system by Dr. Davis in the past 10 years, "wherein educational, financial, operational and cultural programs have been directed that have inspired students, professional and non-professional personnel alike and have aroused national recognition and emulation."

It also declared, "The outstanding administrative achievements of Dr. Davis have been recognized, for example, by such groups as the American Management Association in calling upon him to address its seminar on public education." The board also referred to his recent election as secretary of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools "to administer the accrediting program of this association."

3 Springfield drivers placed on revoked lists

Three Springfield residents have had their driving licenses suspended under the state's excessive speed program, the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles, announced this week.

Revoked were the licenses of: Phillip D. "Phinny" 44, of Avon rd., effective Dec. 11; Lee R. Barnes, 44, of 17 Juniper Way, 30 days, effective Nov. 1; and Bruce L. Goldman, 17, of 6 Fernhill rd., one year, effective Nov. 10.

Teachers receive racist pamphlets calling for segregation in classrooms

Attention — A racist pamphlet from a Southern, right-wing organization is being mailed, uninvited, to teachers in New Jersey for the second year in a row.

The publication, "How Classroom Desegregation Will Work," claims the Negro race is "less advanced in an evolutionary sense" than the white race and has smaller, lighter, less fissured, more primitive brains. It asserts that "integrationists" are trying to promote intermarriage.

Says Dr. Frederick L. Hupp, executive secretary of the New Jersey Education Assn., "This booklet is a disgrace to the intelligence of teachers."

The mailing, from the Patrick Henry Club of Richmond, Va., contains a post card asking the teacher to rate the pamphlet as excellent, good, or poor. Further inquiries if the pamphlet should be sent to civic groups and newspapers in the area.

In evaluating the pamphlet during its first mailing last year, Everett C. Curry of Middle Junior College, Cranford, by Barry E. Antonucci, of 46 Colonial Ter., Springfield, a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, under the supervision of Prof. Bernard Salton of Westfield, the instrument, which will enable students to easily document organizations studied in research projects, was purchased with funds provided under Title VI of the federal National Defense Education Act.

Overlook Hospital campaign reports continued progress

Overlook Hospital's "Final Round Campaign" last week reported that the three and a quarter million dollar mark has been passed, with an added $250,000 raised since the campaign reopened in mid November. "Tremendously encouraging — we are $110,000 ahead of last year at this point in the campaign; but we still have three-quarters of a million to go," commented Howard F. Casselman, of 57 Clark Lane, special gift chairman for Springfield and member of the Overlook board of trustees.

"December is traditionally the month of largest giving to the hospital with end-of-the-year gifts of stock and other securities, or an extended pledge. We urge all residents who might have need of Overlook's facilities to make their hospital their Number One Charity in this final phase of campaigning," Casselman emphasized.

Overlook's total program now stands just over $8,000,000, the largest undertaking in the hospital's history. This includes modernization of the 1953 wings to bring them up to date with more recent patient facilities, as well as the new seven-story wing, and the self-liquidating lock-making structure and the nurses' garden apartments.

With the current $250,000 added to the $3,000,000 already raised, Overlook is nearing its goal of $4,000,000 in fund raising. The remaining $4,000,000 will be on mortgage commitment.

An interesting sidelight on the campaign, according to hospital authorities, was that 67,000 of the year's hundreds were accompanied by enthusiastic notes, praising Overlook's services and progress. Typical of the comments which came with check or pledge enclosed was the following from a past substantial contributor who extended his pledge for an added year: "I am an enthusiastic check ($1,000) with all good wishes and based on my experience last winter (as a patient) — with respect for the way in which the hospital is being run."

Careful adherence to this newspaper's Friday deadline for material submitted for the issues of Dec. 29 and Jan. 5 is advised, because of legal holidays which fall on Dec. 26 and Jan. 2. Organizational, social and most other news items for the issue of Dec. 29 should be submitted by Friday, Dec. 23. All material for the issue of Jan. 5 should be submitted by Dec. 30.

Rotarians set date for Yule party

The Springfield Rotary Club has planned a Yule party for Tuesday, Dec. 27, at Mountain-side Inn, Rt. 27, Mountain-side. Members, their wives and children are expected to attend.

Seven members of the Springfield club attended the 25th anniversary luncheon of Union Rotary last week. They were: Max Weiss, president; Ted Edgar, ladies' chairman; Charles Rembler and Milton Kesler.

William Lathrop, Jr., president of the Union group, conducted the meeting which featured talks by Mrs. Weiss and Mrs. Edgar. Editorial Comment

Never place a hatchet near a Christmas tree

Diligent research by our unauthorized experts has provided substantial proof for the theory that toys are the major status symbol among this nation's pre-literate set.

nates balls, bats, bayonets, steam-shovels, lassos, bowling sets, dolls made of hard materials, bows and arrows, little spy torture sets, little CIA counter-espionage sets, little principal interrogation kits and little almost anything else.

In conclusion, we would like to extend our best wishes for the Christmas season to all our readers--and to hope that all the children are happy with their rag dolls.

The hungry days

This is the season we watch the calendar just so many days left for shopping, for mailing Christmas cards, for arranging holiday parties with our families and friends.

To half the people on earth, dates mean nothing. Tomorrow will be like today and yesterday--days of hunger and suffering. World leaders warn that the gap between food supplies and people in the underdeveloped countries may lead to mass starvation.

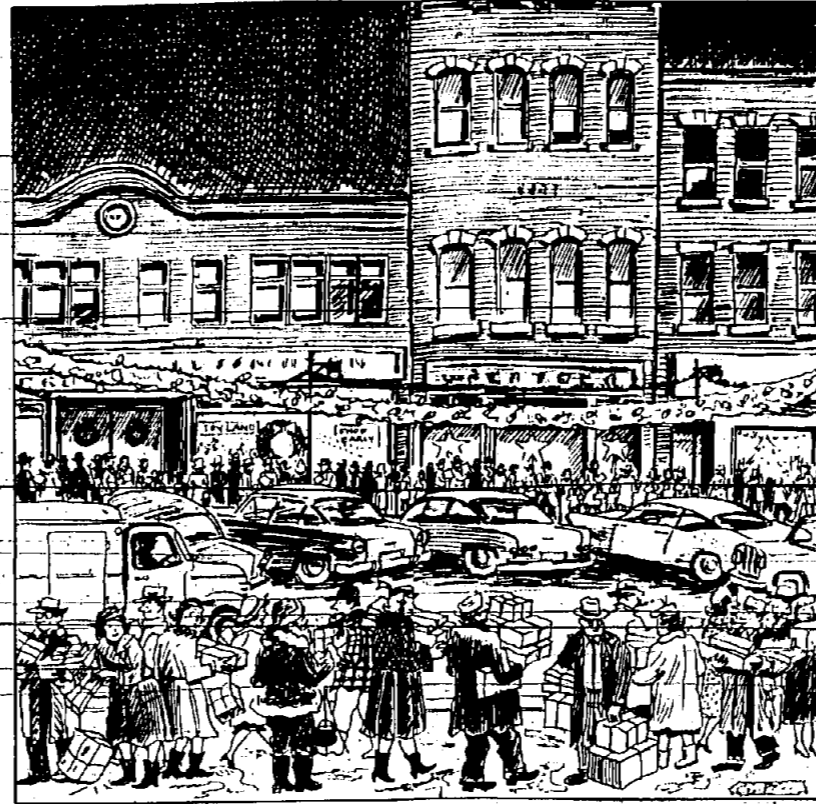

The holiday-season CARE Food Crusade appeal offers a way for Americans to help, with gifts in the true spirit of goodwill and concern for mankind. By combining public contributions, U.S. donations of farm foods and host government support toward local costs, CARE seeks to feed 40,000,000 persons in 32 countries during the coming year, in the name of the American people.

To complete this plan CARE needs $6,500,000, to provide 6,500,000 food packages at a dollar per package. The gifts will nourish famine victims in India, war victims in South Vietnam, helpless children and despairing adults on four continents from Latin America to Africa.

Examples of such awards are items or money received from radio and television give-away shows, door prizes, raffish, lotteries and sweepstakes.

THE LIGHTS OF SPRINGFIELD The "Lights" of Springfield--when do they go on? What has happened to the Christmas spirit in this Revolutionary town? Did my forefathers and my wife's forefathers who lived in Springfield die in vain? Was it a waste of good books when they passed out Watt's hymnals at the battle of Springfield?

and Merry Christmas signs or decorations are practically non-existent. I do make a purchase in a local store. I am told to "have a Happy"--have a Happy. What? I'd rather not be greeted at all, or just with a simple "thank you."

FOR FUN AND FOR SPRINGFIELD Through your columns, we want to reach the many art lovers of Springfield--those who appreciate music, drama, painting, creative writing, dancing, singing, fine craftsmanship--those who yearn for and seek expression in cultural endeavors. We have musicians in town who satisfy their musical urges out of town. We have artists who exhibit out of town. We have singers in town who harmonize out of town.

Those who attended the various sculpture and art classes found them gratifying enough to warrant more of the same this winter, and again next summer.

Future plans, among others, include classes in creative writing and group excursions to theaters in and around New Jersey.

PROFILE -- Mrs. Leonard Waldt

When in the presence of Mrs. Leonard (Natalie) Waldt, president of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School PTA, Springfield, one feels compelled to "snap to attention" to receive orders, then do an about face, and get things done without delay or waste.

MRS. LEONARD WALDT

It is no doubt stems from her U.S. Army days during World War II when she served for three-and-a-half years as a sergeant. "The Army made me very well organized," Mrs. Waldt announced the other morning during an exceptionally well organized profile interview. She, in fact, feels as if she'd been promoted from sergeant to top leader. "They tell me I conduct meetings like a general," Mrs. Waldt chuckles. "Perhaps, she muses thoughtfully.

"I'M AN EARLY RISER, and I have my days pretty well set. I feel that getting around and wasting away is not my cup of tea!" Mrs. Waldt and her PTA officers had been pressing the issue of "top quality education" and a search for ways to persuade the Regional Board of Education to approve the costs of the program "over the past year."

Mrs. Waldt, a particularly active person in Springfield during her residence here for the past four years, and before that in Union for 10 years, served as president of the Franklin School PTA, Union, from 1959 to 1961; was awarded a life membership in the New Jersey Congress of PTA in 1961; served as PTA president at Burnet Junior High School in Union, 1962-1963; was a director of the Union County Mental Health Association for three years, and a Girl Scout leader for five years in Union. She has been active in community centers. She served as chairman of the Mental Health Drive in Union, chairman of the student division of the March of Dimes Drive in Union, pre-school chairman of the Union County PTA for one year and was a district leader in Union.

"I was in charge of 1,000 women. So," she smiles, "I've gotten to know women very well."

"I was married Leonard M. Waldt in 1943, while both were sergeants in service. My husband served in the Pacific for three years."

"AFTER THEIR ARMY DAYS, the Waldts lived in New York City. I was very active in civic activities. Mrs. Waldt recalls, "Since moving to New Jersey 14 years ago, Mrs. Waldt has continued to be active. "I had been attending New Jersey PTA Congress conventions for the past 14 years. In fact, I first met some Springfield people there."

"I love working with people--and especially with kids."

"Mrs. Waldt, incidentally, is a candidate for election to the Regional Board of Education."

"We will have candidates' night on Jan. 23 at Gaudineer School," she says, "sponsored by the League of Women Voters in conjunction with the 12th As. Election will be held Feb. 7."

"I have my days pretty well set. I feel that getting around and wasting away is not my cup of tea!"

with insuring this kind of education with top quality teachers, adequate budgets and a proficient, well-paid school staff. During a recent meeting, PTA members voted to carry their case to the regional board.

"Mrs. Waldt mentions that she is 'very civic minded. It's important to take part in all civic activities of your town,' she says. 'We always believed that the only way to keep happy is to be involved.'"

"But when the war came along, she joined the Army. 'I was sent to Arkansas Polytech University in Russellville to study leadership and supply, and served for three-and-a-half years in the Third Air Force in the states."

Girl Scouts plan film showing, holiday sale as fund raising project Saturday afternoon

Springfield Cadette Girl Scout Troop 151 will present a recently-titled color, full-length Hollywood movie on Saturday at 2 p.m. in the new auditorium of the Florence Gaudineer School. The two-hour show will also include several cartoons. There will be a nominal admission charge, a Scout leader said.

The Cadette Troop's leader, Mrs. Arthur Weiss, stated, "The girls were particularly pleased to be able to obtain this movie since it has an interesting and wholesome appeal to children as well as adults. It also has a lengthy sequence which takes place in various parts of Disneyland. Many current top Hollywood stars and famous television personalities are in the cast."

While the show is in progress, troop members will hold a cake, candy and holiday gift sale. Among the items will be choice home-made plastic domes containing home-made cookies. Some of the Cadettes will be usherettes.

The girls, who are raising funds for an educational trip and service work, have done all of the planning themselves, with guidance from Mrs. Weiss and the co-leader, Mrs. Joanne Lantz.

Participating Troop 151 members are: Diane Andrews, Bonnie Bernstein, Jewel Brands, Susan Deener, Jean Bereshow, Shari Doros, Beth Forrester, Linda Fovee, Karen Friedman, Margaret Gehegan, Amy Grant, Barbara Goldstein, Wendy Grossky, Lucille Hargrove, Patricia Laska, Rauli Meyer, Roberta Murchison, Barbara Quinn, Helen Quartin, Nancy Roth, Dale Seroff, Candy Schwartz, Arlene Sheehan, Carol Stahl, Judy Steinhart, Dale Stokes, Lisa Thibarger and Nancy Weiss.

NINE CADETTE Scouts from Springfield visited the Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, and entertained 40 youngsters with songs and dances from the "Mary Poppins" album. Several of the Cadettes made cookies, others brought juices and Susan LaQuaglia and Carol Ann Reister made and presented a large wooden spoon decorated with 40 lollipops. Cadettes who attended were Eleanor Meyer, Gail Lindenfesler, Dawn Stearns, Chris Crump, Natalie Johnson, Mary Jane Catterfeller, Deborah Grayson, Susan Kaiser and Karen Squiblock from Troops 471 and 273. Mrs. Robert Ziegler directed the Cadettes in songs and dances. Mrs. E. W. Crump and Mrs. Lee L. Andrews Jr. assisted with transportation.

SEVENTY-FIVE BROWNIES, Scouts, leaders, parents and friends attended the annual Girl Scout Investment for Catholic Girl Scouts at St. James Church on Sunday. Twenty-one new Brownies and 24 new Junior Scouts received their pins. Karen Weber and Valerie Henderson received blue ribbons as new Cadettes.

Mrs. Edward Ostrowski, Mrs. Ewald Funk, Mrs. Anthony Graziano, Mrs. Warren Henderson, Mrs. L. E. DiProffo, Mrs. Tony Papa, Mrs. William Lynch, Mrs. William Guipier Jr. and Mrs. Robert Ziegler received blue ribbons with new Girl Scout pins.

The Rev. Richard Nardone, moderator, conducted the investiture and Msgr. Francis X. Coyle presented the Brownie and Junior pins and ribbons.

Cadette Mary Elaine Keller led the Scouts and Brownies through the Scout program. Flags were carried by Scouts and Brownies from each of the six troops in St. James.

Library

was given by the Lions Club of Springfield. At a meeting held on Nov. 16, the Springfield Free Public Association was organized, with the following officers: A. B. Anderson, president; Mrs. N. C. Schmidt, vice-president; Charles Phillips Sr., secretary; Mrs. Ralph Tildy, treasurer; E. J. Hodgson, A. G. Rundle, and Mrs. B. M. Woodruff, trustees. In February, 1942, Mrs. R. T. Bunnell was added to the roster of officers, as assistant treasurer.

All arrangements were finally completed, and an announcement appeared in the "Springfield Leader" on December 1, 1942, that the Public Library will open to the public on Wednesday, March 16; hours: Monday and Tuesday evenings, Tuesday and Saturday afternoons.

The problem of securing quarters was solved when Robert Bunnell, owner of the Brookside Building, donated a section of that building at the corner of Adams and, now occupied by the First National Bank of Springfield, and for several years thereafter, Mr. Bunnell continued his contribution of free rent. Charles S. Ginzler, donated interior painting, Harry C. Anderson Sr. provided free plumbing work, the Burt Electric Service donated electrical fixtures. Mrs. B. M. Woodruff gave material for curtains which were made and hung by Mrs. N. C. Schmidt and Mrs. E. M. Cook. Mrs. Woodruff was the first librarian, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Tildy, Phoebe Briggs and a staff of volunteers composed of Mrs. G. Arno, G. Wright, Mrs. J. A. Dannelberg, Mrs. Charles Annis, Miss Wolfe, Mrs. Duxweller and Evelyn Day.

On the opening day, the Library Association had an enrollment of 165 members, and there were 1,000 books on the shelves, ready to be loaned. Borrower's card No. 1 was issued to Sarah A. Bailey, an ardent supporter of the library. The first book loaned was "Evidence of the widespread interest in Springfield's effort to have a library, letters of congratulations were received from President Herbert Hoover and Governor A. Harry Moore.

During the five years that followed, the stock of books was augmented, and the library proved its value to the community many times over. The average circulation per month for 1936 was 1,075 books—the number of borrowers, 937.

IN SEPTEMBER 1937, the board of trustees of the Library Association, feeling that further benefits to the public could be secured by turning the library over to the township, petitioned the Township Committee to have referendum placed on the ballot for the general election of November 2, proposing that the township assume the ownership of the library. This was done, and the proposal was approved by the voters. This enabled the Township Committee to accept the library, and the dependence on private contributions was no longer necessary.

On July 24, 1940, Miss Sarah A. Bailey died at the age of 95, and by the terms of her will, carried out as a promise given when the public library was first organized, she donated the 30 Main St. building eventually to be made available for use as a library.

However, the will also provided that Rev. William Hopough, who had lived in the house since 1886, should have unconditional use of the dwelling during the remainder of his life, and it was not until Mr. Hopough's death, on Jan. 9, 1943, that the Library Association actually came into possession of the property. Mr. Hopough, also a supporter of the library idea, left a will which asked his extensive library of books and some property in Hunterdon County to Miss Bailey's bequest.

The original part of the house is believed to have been built by the Rev. Dr. Hopough's father, Samuel Bailey Jr., purchased the lot on which the house stands on Feb. 28, 1833, and the house was probably built about 1840. The frame was made of oak timbers, put together with wooden pins, after the manner of the early 1800's. Originally, it was a one-and-a-half-story structure, with the kitchen in the basement, and by the way, the original open fireplace and beehive oven are still there, carefully preserved during the recent major alteration job. Some years later, Mr. Bailey had the house raised and another story added, making it the two-and-a-half-story dwelling which the library acquired. He also enlarged the house by an addition on the rear.

While preliminary work was necessary before the house could be made suitable for use as a public library, and the details were worked out by architect Frederick A. Pissano, and the Residence Construction Co., of Springfield, originally, it was considered necessary to strengthen by steel girders, sections of the old "dry-wall" foundation were replaced with modern masonry and extra brick piers were built to support the first floor. The installation of a gas heating plant, new linoleum on the floors and repainting and in advance, so that they will not be disappointed.

The report noted that the most frequent calls over the year have been from busy sisters, yard and lawn workers and general maintenance help. Other students have been placed in full or part-time jobs as office workers, mother's helpers, ironers, restaurant waitresses, restaurant bus-boys, model maids, stock boys in a variety of businesses, cashiers, actors in both academic and musical fields, drivers for drug stores and food services deliveries, township recreation aides and house painters.

With the snow season imminent, the office staff urged all boys interested in snow shoveling to contact the YES office and state their availability, as there is a separate list of boys used specifically for this purpose. Last season, the YES volunteers were kept very busy filling requirements for boys to shovel snow.

AT A RECENT YES fund-raising committee meeting, it was decided to initiate the annual solicitation for contributions in January. Financial assistance is necessary to enable the volunteers to maintain the YES program as their budget must cover the cost of telephones, printed forms, office equipment, postage and miscellaneous expenditures.

Mrs. Gold announced the following hours for the holiday season: The office will be closed on Monday, Dec. 26, and Monday, Jan. 2, Office hours will be from 3 p.m. Dec. 27 to 30, and the volunteers will be back on their schedule starting on Tuesday, Jan. 3.

The board of trustees for Youth Employment Service this week thanked the "many women who have given their time to serve the office throughout the year." The board also announced that it is seeking more women volunteers to help in the office. The board is offering a weekly, semi-weekly or substitute basis.

New library listings present both views of controversies

The modern library is geared along progressive lines. New approaches to established ways must be considered and a definite effort made to provide books that will offer a clear-cut interpretation of both sides of any question no matter how controversial it may be, the library staff commented this week.

The report on new book, added: "Since political matters are much in the news, it might be both interesting and enlightening to read 'The Tweed Ring,' by Alexander B. Callow Jr."

"The factor that made possible this political ring, which is termed a classic in municipal fraud," and the history of its machinations constitute an intriguing story.

"Another book on the political and historical scene is 'The Adenauer Years,' by Richard Huscock. It covers the post-war era in Germany and the achievements of the man Adenauer.

"Among other new books at the Springfield Library are:

"The Myth of Automation," by Charles Silberman. Silberman attempts to prove that, contrary to the accepted belief, automation is not producing unemployment.

"Two new books about famous Americans offer pleasant reading: 'Robert Frost: The Early Years, 1874-1915,' by Laurence Thompson, and 'The Great in Our Society,' edited by John H. Lucks.

"A new title published by the American Heritage Junior Series, 'George Washington and the Making of a Nation,' and Henry Treece's 'The Last Viking,' make worthwhile additions to the children's collection."

Deadline set to file UJC applications

George P. Lynes, director of admissions, reminded all prospective students that tomorrow is the deadline to file applications for the coming Spring Semester at Union Junior College, Cranford.

The deadline applies to both the Day and Evening Sessions, and to matriculated and non-matriculated students, Lynes said.

The Spring Semester will begin on Feb. 2. Registration for the Day Session is scheduled for Jan. 29-30, and the Evening Session registration will be held on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1.

Lynes said students are permitted to begin their college careers at the Spring Semester by completing their service projects, those who desire to go to work first and then start college, and those who change their mind about going to college.

Four courses in liberal arts, engineering, science and business administration will be offered in the Evening Session during the coming Spring Semester. They include English composition, Western European literature, beginning and intermediate French, German, and Spanish, general psychology, mathematics of finance, unified calculus I and II, economics and United States history.

A two-year community college, the academic disciplines of Union Junior College offers majors in liberal arts, engineering, science and business administration, and awards Associate in Arts degrees to students in both the Day and Evening Sessions. About 85 percent of all UJC graduates transfer with advanced standing to more than 400 colleges and universities.

Tuition aid a must for most, says Union Junior president

Most students at Union Junior College holding tuition aid grants from the Union County Board of Freeholders "would find it extremely difficult to launch or continue their college careers without this financial assistance," Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president of the Cranford School, said in a report to the freeholders and the college's Board of Trustees.

seriously impair his academic performance if he has to work too many hours to pay for his college education," Dr. MacKay said. "In view of the fact that many of these students plan to continue their career objectives into graduate and professional schools, this financial assistance in the early and critical undergraduate years enables them to plan accordingly."

College schedules defense speaker

Dr. Gordon J. F. MacDonald, vice-president for research of the Institute for Defense Analyses, Washington, D.C., will be guest speaker tomorrow at 8 p.m. at a meeting of Amateur Astronomers, Inc., in the theater of the Campus Center at Union Junior College, Cranford.

Dr. MacDonald's topic will be "The Origin of the Moon." He formerly was with the Institute of Geophysics and Planetary Physics, Los Angeles, Calif. Anthony Pano of Westfield, president, said the public is invited to hear Prof. MacDonald's lecture. Dr. MacDonald, a former professor of geophysics at the University of California, earned bachelor, master and doctoral degrees from Harvard University. ## VA announces new system for handling income reports

The Veterans Administration is announcing an important change in procedure, this week reminded area veterans and their families this week of income reporting requirements. Each year, early in December, the VA mails annual income questionnaires to more than 55,000 pension recipients in this area. The questionnaires are scheduled for return to eight special locations throughout the country, instead of the Newark regional office as in the past. For this reason beneficiaries are being furnished with the questionnaire and a pre-addressed envelope to be used solely for return of the completed questionnaire to the Veterans Administration. Use of this envelope is emphasized for prompt handling and avoidance of interruption of payment. Most veterans and widows getting non-service connected disability and death pension from the VA will receive these questionnaires.

In addition to the annual income questionnaires which are sent out each year to pensioners, parents receiving death compensation will receive their questionnaires which are sent out every three years. Also, veterans rated 50 percent or more for service-connected disabilities, and who are receiving additional compensation for dependent parents, will be receiving their questionnaire which also is sent out every three years. The Newark regional office manager, Paul M. Nugent, advised those on VA's pension rolls to review carefully the instructions appearing on the back of the card. Several thousand cards had to be returned last year, mainly because all the items were not completed as required. Emphasizing the need for an entry in each of the spaces provided, he cautioned pensioners (1) to be certain of the accuracy of the information being submitted, (2) to report income for veteran's wife or widow as requested, but not to include income received on behalf of children, (3) to sign the card and double check the Social Security numbers, (4) to return the card in the envelope provided, taking care to see that the VA address on the card is visible in the window. As a closing reminder, Mr. Nugent said that while the card is not difficult to complete, VA representatives are ready to furnish any assistance needed. In the Newark area the VA Regional Office is located at 20 Washington Pl., Newark, and business hours are 8:15 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

UJC students play Santa for 40 kids

Union Junior College students will conduct a Christmas party today for 40 children at the Union County Cerebral Palsy Center in Cranford. The Cerebral Palsy Center is in the old Grant School, which was Union Junior College's "home" for 17 years. Martin R. Sampson of Clark will play the role of Santa Claus and will distribute gifts provided by employees of the Weston Electric Co., Newark. The UJC students will put up and decorate a Christmas tree and will serve hot, green and other refreshments to the children and their parents.

James E. Kern of 154 West Ninth Ave., Roselle, heads the UJC committee. Serving with him are: Miss Kathleen J. Brighton of 539 East Grant Ave., Roselle Park; Miss Rita C. Hawkins of Cranford, and Frank E. Habbeger of Kearny. The Christmas party for the children of the Cerebral Palsy Center has been a traditional event for the Day Session Student Council since UJC moved to its new campus in 1959.

YULE TREE FIRES
Christmas trees spread so quickly, according to Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies, that a person should make sure the rest of the family is out of the house and the fire department has been called before he tries to put the fire out.

Leading builder calls most cities 'beyond recall'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's leading homebuilder thinks the government is banking on the wrong tree in trying to save America's cities. William Levitt, who has built more than 75,000 houses in the United States, Puerto Rico and France, told a luncheon meeting here that most U.S. cities are simply "beyond recall."

"We're too stupid to know how to rehabilitate the cities," Levitt said. How then can we house the 200 million additional Americans who will be around by the year 2000? Build hundreds of brand new, self-sufficient cities out West, said Levitt. That sounds like "new towns." But according to Levitt, it's not. As he sees it a town must have two things before it can qualify for the title of "new town."

One is its own jobs, so the people who live there also can work there. No commuting into a central city. The other requirement is "from schools" and stores to opera houses. No New Towns By these standards, up to now no new towns have been built, started or even projected in the United States, Levitt said. That goes for Reston, Va., and Columbia, Md. — two of the better known "new towns" — both near Washington, D.C. It goes for "the various enterprises" in the Southwest and California. It goes for the string of new communities that General Electric says it will build near existing big cities. According to Levitt, all these towns are suburbs, planned near most suburbs, but suburbs none the less, "bedroom communities, adjuncts of existing cities and therefore extensions of urban sprawl." Levitt calls his new towns, "pet towns."

Urge review of Yule parties Seek tighter cork for safety

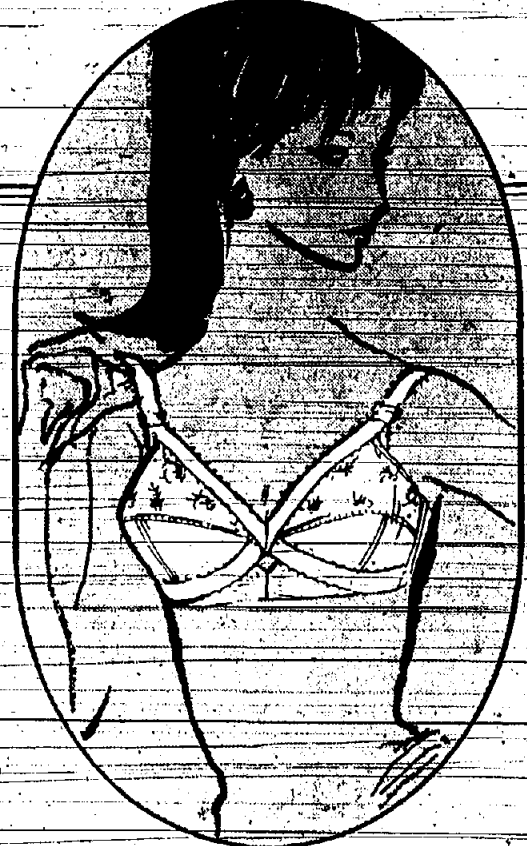

Employers were urged this week to take a good hard look at the Christmas office party. The request came from the New Jersey State Safety Council, which blames the flowing-bowl at the office party for getting the Christmas traffic toll off to a dizzy, dangerous start every year. "A national survey," said the Council, "shows that a sizeable percentage of Christmas traffic accidents occur in the early hours of the holiday period. Many of these can be traced back to the office party and its highball hilarity." The Council emphasized it is not trying to dampen the traditional Christmas spirit.

"Just the opposite," it asserted. "We are trying to eliminate a definite source of highway accidents — accidents which can completely ruin Christmas for anyone they touch. You just can't have a merry Christmas if someone you love is hurt or killed."

The Council is asking the business and industrial leaders to take a new approach to office parties and either tighten the cork in the bottle or eliminate the parties. "Drinking and driving," it said, "are a lethal combination — not only at Christmas parties, but any time, anywhere." "And it is especially and tragically ironic to celebrate Christmas — a holiday dedicated to 'Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men' — by turning people loose on the public highway in a condition to injure or destroy their fellow men." "There is no better place to apply practical religion than behind the wheel of a car. And certainly there is no better place to express good will toward men. The most dangerous drink ever concocted is 'one for the road'."

SUNDAY'S SERMON

THIS SEASON is this the year you will take some of the "I" from the holiday that is known as Christmas? Indeed, Christmas is the season of joy. It is the greatest of all holidays, around the world. Yet, Christmas began as a Holy Day, not a holiday. Through the years much has been added to the observance of Christmas. You need not cut down on your gift giving, nor prepare a less sumptuous meal. And let that feeling of friendship for all the world surge within you. Still, look deeper, and seek to dwell more in your thoughts upon the deep significance of the First Christmas. Remember the birth and the life of Christ upon earth. Consider the meaning of Christianity. You will find, perhaps, a holiday and a Holy Day, one you shall long remember.

'For a little fun, play bridge' is slogan of town card classes

by HAZEL HAREGROVE

A phrase attributed to Arthur and Katherine Murray of dancing school fame is, "For a little fun in your life, try dancing." Under the auspices of the Springfield Recreation Department (and for a small personal fee), the saying has been slightly changed to "For a little fun in your life, try playing the game of bridge."

For beginning players or those with some knowledge of the game, a delightfully serious course was conducted for 10 weeks with expert instruction by Illide Steckler, Miss Steckler, whose "Witticisms are droll but always pertinent to the game of bridge, firmly believes, with a twinkle in her eye, that, "There is nothing more important than bridge."

The Goren system was taught in regard to the strategies of bidding and playing. The lessons included explanations of honor points, distribution points, suit points, guarded and unguarded honors, balanced hands, proper bridge etiquette, liddable suits, rebidable suits, no trump efficiencies, proper responses and over-calls at different levels, jump-raises, jump-shifts, trick values and scoring, and explorations of game and slam possibilities.

After a lecture period, the students were given pre-arranged hands, which under the teacher's guidance, they practiced bidding and playing. A few of the other bridge systems were briefly touched upon when they applied to the lessons.

The two Springfield classes were well attended. One was held on Thursday evenings, attracting husbands and wives, and the other took place on Friday afternoons, for ladies who were able to attend while the children were in school or for those who had free afternoon time.

Miss Steckler, an Irvington resident, is a certified master Goren teacher. She has also had considerable experience as a duplicate and tournament bridge player. In addition to the courses given in Springfield, she also conducts classes in Maplewood, Millburn, Bloomfield, Livingston, South Orange, and Paramus.

Prospective bridge students may contact the Springfield recreation director, Edward J. Ruby, at the Municipal Building regarding the start of new classes.

Glue sniffer given probation and fine by town magistrate

An 18-year-old New Providence man was handed down a 60-day suspended jail sentence, placed on probation for two years and paid a $25 fine after being found guilty of sniffing glue in Municipal Court Monday night.

Springfield Magistrate Max Sherman imposed the penalty on Donald Fusco after hearing accounts of the offense from both the accused and Springfield Police Sergeant Edward Roessner, who made the initial arrest.

According to Roessner, Fusco was apprehended in the parking lot of the White Diamond Restaurant, Springfield, at about 10:30 p.m. on Nov. 9. Roessner said the youth was found in an intoxicated condition and brought to police headquarters. Two paper bags and tubes of plastic model glue were found in the vehicle, police asserted.

Roessner said the glue emits an intoxicating aroma or fumes causing dullness of actions and stupor somewhat to the effect of drunkenness, but more dangerous.

In other matters, Willie J. Robinson of Newark was fined $10 for disregarding a sign at the "Louise Goren" of New Providence was fined $20 for driving an unregistered vehicle; William P. Morley of Plainfield received a $10 fine for blocking the right lane; and Vernon N. Roneau of 606 S. Springfield, received a $20 fine for speeding 55 miles an hour in a "50-mile-an-hour" zone.

Regional assembly sees color slides, display by Fisher

James L. Cooley, a representative of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, presented a program of color slides and demonstrations at a recent assembly at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. The theme of the program was "creativity," and a look into the future was a feature to the assembly. A notable "drawing ground" related the importance of high school courses to the training required for a career in the future. Cooley explained to the students the guild's model car competition, which entitles any school-aged boy to compete for $117,000 in university scholarships and cash awards.

Construction of model cars is aided by a booklet entitled "Designing and Building a Model Car" which is sent to each student who enters. The Guild's official publication, the "Guildsman," is also sent at intervals three times during the school year.

In an interview with Cooley the students were told the breakdown of awards offered in the competition. These boys who were not present at the assembly may write to Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, Warren, Michigan, 48090. This year's competition will close on midnight, Friday, June 2, 1967.

Educators at seminar on budgets

Several local educators attended a seminar on "The Local Association Looks Inside the School Budget" conducted by the N. J. Education Association last week at Montclair High School. The meeting was the second of a series of new regional NJEA workshops for local teacher groups in Essex, Union, Morris and Sussex counties.

Representing the Springfield Teachers Association were William Hannah, a mathematics teacher, and Joseph Blanda, an English teacher. Both are on the faculty of the Florence Gaudineer School.

Dennis N. Fox, vice-president of the Union County Regional High School District Teachers Association, attended in behalf of his organization. A social studies teacher at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Fox heads the Teachers Association at Dayton.

Also taking part in the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Waldt. Mrs. Waldt is president of the PTA at Dayton Regional.

'Roses' now in Millburn

Frank Capra's Pulitzer Prize-winning play, "The Subject Was Roses," returns by popular demand to the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn this week. It is about human rights within a typical American family, and stars Maureen O'Sullivan, Chester Morris and John Karlen.

PUPPET SHOW—Julie Andrews, as governess to the seven Von Trapp children, joins some of her charges in presenting a puppet show in "The Sound of Music," film extravaganza, photographed in Todd-Ao-DeLuxe color, and derived from the Rodgers and Hammerstein stage smash. The 20th Century Fox movie begins its 75th week at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair, this week.

Star at Clairidge toured with Bard

Academy award-winner, Julie Christie, who is currently appearing as star of "Doctor Zhivago," on screen at the Clairidge Theater, Montclair, was born in Assam, India, where her father was a British tea planter. She attended school in England, but moved to Paris when she was 16 years old to study art. Later, she became a dramatic student in London, gained experience in repertory, and appeared on television before making her screen debut in "Billy Liar."

Miss Christie toured Europe, Russia and the eastern United States with the Royal Shakespeare Company, and has appeared most recently on the screen in "Young Cassidy" and "Darling," for which she was named Best Actress of the Year by the New York Film Critics and the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Sheelan, County Home Economist

TIPS FOR PERFECT HOLIDAY COOKIES

It's Christmas cookie baking time. An assortment of holiday cookies, gaily decorated or plain, in a variety of shapes, textures and flavors add to the festive spirit of this season. Professional looking homemade cookies are easy to acquire when you follow the directions closely and are conscious of a few hints common to the basic variety being prepared. Pressed cookies, which include the recipe for Spritz given below, should have a well-defined shape, be tender, and have a rich buttery flavor.

When preparing pressed cookies, mix the dough as directed. It should be pliable. If it is warm, chill for a short time. However, if it is too cold, it will crumble. One secret to success is to use a cool baking sheet. If the baking sheet is warm, the fat in the dough will melt and the cookies will pull away from the sheet when the press is lifted. Having the correct baking temperature will prevent spreading while they are in the oven.

Drop cookies, which include the Holiday Fruit Drop recipe featured, should have a fairly uniform mound shape and a delicately browned exterior.

For drop cookies, if the dough seems soft, it can be chilled. Place the dough on the baking sheet by spooning up the amount recommended in the recipe and pushing it off with another spoon. Leaking up the dough will result in the mound effect after baking. Drop cookies are baked when no imprint remains when the counter is lightly touched with your finger.

Roll cookies, which include the Zucker Kuchen recipe, should be of uniform shape, lightly browned, and crisp texture.

The secret of success with rolled cookies is in limited handling and not working too much flour into the dough during the rolling process. Rolling the dough to uniform thickness is essential for an attractive product. Dipping the cutting knife in flour makes this process much easier.

In general, most cookies store well. Crisp, thin varieties should be placed in a container with a loose cover, soft varieties in a container with a tight-fitting cover.

SPRITZ

1 cup butter or margarine
2/3 cup sugar
egg yolks
1 teaspoon flavoring (almond or vanilla)
1/4 cup flour

2 1/2 cup flour

Heat oven to 400 degrees F. (moderate) Mix butter, sugar, egg yolks and flavoring thoroughly. Measure flour by dipping method or by sifting. Work in flour. Using one quart for dough at 2 time, force dough through flaky press on ungreased baking sheet in desired shape. Bake seven to ten minutes or until set but not brown. Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

HOLIDAY FRUIT DROPS

1 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar (packed)
eggs
1/2 cup sour milk, buttermilk, or water
3 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt

1 1/2 cups broken pecans, 2 cups candied cherries, halved, 2 cups cut-up dates

Mix shortening, sugar, and eggs well. Stir in sour milk. Measure flour by dipping or by sifting. Blend dry ingredients, add in, stir in pecans, cherries, and dates. Chill at least one hour. Heat oven to 400 degrees F. (moderate) Drop rounded teaspoons of dough about two inches apart on lightly greased baking sheet. Place a pecan or candied cherry half on each cookie, if desired. Bake eight to 10 minutes until almost no imprint remains when touched lightly. Makes about eight dozen cookies.

ZUCKER KUCHEN

1/2 stick (1/4 cup) butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 cup dairy sour cream
3 1/2 to 4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder

TOPPING: 1/3 cup butter or margarine melted, 1/2 cup crushed vanilla wafers, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons whole anise seed, crushed or ground.

Cream butter or margarine. Add one cup sugar and continue creaming until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in the cream. Sift together the flour, soda and baking powder. Fold into the creamed mixture gradually. Blend thoroughly. The dough will be soft and somewhat sticky. Place about 1/4 of the dough at a time on a well floured pastry cloth or board and shape into a rectangle. Roll out dough 1/4 to one eighth inch thick. Turn or move dough occasionally so that it does not stick to the cloth. Be careful not to work too much flour into the dough, or the cookies will not be tender. Brush rolled out dough with melted margarine, sprinkle with mixture of vanilla wafers, 1/2 cup sugar, and anise seed. Cut into rectangular shapes with a pastry wheel or a sharp knife. Place on a baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Baking time will depend upon thickness of dough. Cool.

Yield: Eight to nine dozen cookies, about two and 2/3 inches.

Weeder's Digest

Choose your Christmas poinsettia to fit a particular location.

A compact, low plant is best for a table, while a large specimen will show off best on the floor or a low stand.

This is part of some timely advice from Malcolm R. Harrison, extension floriculturist at the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science. He says that New Jersey poinsettia growers are turning out a quarter-million plants this year, all designed to fit every taste and need.

Usually they group three or more plants in a single pot. This produces large bracts (the showy parts usually called "flowers"). Such a plant has a rather formal appearance.

Sometimes growers remove the growing tips of their plants to make more branches with somewhat smaller bracts. The result is an informal plant that many prefer.

BETTER AND BETTER

Growers are also making use of information and experience turned up in research at Rutgers and other universities in growth retardant chemicals. These enable growers to produce well proportioned plants with large bracts.

Such developments, along with constant breeding work, are producing poinsettias with brightly colored bracts on strong stems that do much better than their ancestors under the artificial indoor conditions of the modern home.

Among these new varieties is one called Paul Mikkelsen. Another is Spotlight, a bright red. Varieties named Snowflake and Snowcap are white. Among other new ones is a bright pink.

Still at the top of the popularity list, though, is a variety with large, brilliant red bracts named Barbara Ecke Supreme. This is the result of a selection by a Bergen County florist several years ago.

Whichever plant you buy, shield it from drafts of either hot or cold air, Harrison advises. Keep it well supplied with water and give it adequate light.

Here's an idea to help you plan your

Seek grand-dad for national title

NEW YORK (UPI) — The search is on for the grand-dad with the mostest. The most grandchildren; that is, and the reward will be an all-expenses-paid trip to New York City where V.I.P. treatment will await the man named 1967 Grand-Dad of the Year.

The contest, sponsored by the more than 49,000-member Grand-Dad Club, will close June 15. Grand-Dad's Day in 1967 will fall on Sept. 10.

Selection of the grand-dad with the most grandchildren is a departure from regular club procedure. In the past the Grand-Dad of the Year has been selected by voting through the club newsletter. Honorary grand-dads such as former Postmaster General James A. Farley and U.S. Ambassador to South Vietnam Henry Cabot Lodge (the 1966 winner) have been named Grand-Dad of the Year.

In addition to the search for the grand-father with the most grandchildren, the youngest grandfathers in the nation also will share the honors.

Nominations for grandfathers who might qualify in either category should be sent directly to the National Headquarters of the Grand-Dad Club, 99 Park Avenue, New York, New York.

Distribution of state aid explained in summary

The New Jersey Taxpayers Association has published a 13-page summary report on the more than 20 state programs and formulas in current use for the distribution of $232 million of state aid to local school districts, public libraries and county colleges.

Prepared as part of its public service program, the summary compares formulas enacted by the 1966 Legislature with those previously in effect. Utilizing anticipated income from the state's new sales tax, the Legislature this year increased aid to school districts by $95 million and created a 12-member state school aid study commission which is reviewing present distribution of state school aid and the need for revision of formulas.

Dayton basketball team splits 2 games, ready to face Kenilworth, Westfield

By MYRON MEISEL

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team spent its season with a flying start, with an 85-65 smashing victory over Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School of Clark on last Friday. The Bulldogs cagers, despite a 63-54 loss to Scotch Plains-Fairwood High School the following night, show considerable promise for future Watching Conference contention, with a critical conference game against Westfield at home next Tuesday at 8:30. Springfield will also face the Bears of David Brewster Regional High School of Kenilworth for the first time tomorrow evening at 8:30 at Kenilworth.

The Dayton cagers, under the guidance of head coach Ray MacCabe, did a superb job against the Clark Crusaders. Everything that Springfield dreamed about last season was there, and more, and further, it was coming from last season's team. The Bulldogs' approach to the situation and the could well afford to be a worthy teammate and help to the school's basketball program.

Perhaps the most impressive factor was the lack of any individual stars. Everyone played team ball, and the Bulldogs looked like a machine in good working order. Of course, there were outstanding players. Mike Lester, who scored 14 points, grabbed 14 rebounds, and had 10 assists. Steve Harris, who while scoring less than last season, set up plays with amazing skill and proved the nucleus of the team. Joe Buccci, Kyrbie Campbell and many others. With the exception of the final quarter and the consideration of opening game matters, Dayton looked like a possible championship team.

THE STARTING TEAM consisted of seniors Buccci, (the school and Lester and junior, Campbell and Cliff Kurtz. Dayton started with spurts of speed that would stand it well throughout the coming game. However, Clark's defense was quite spirited in the first portion of the contest. In the latter part of the game, the Bulldogs became apparent; three for Dayton, one for Clark in the first minute. (Clark forced rather poorly on the foul-line, sinking only about 20 percent, ironic showing considering that in last year's opener against the same team, Dayton shot the same amount of the same weakness in foul-shooting.)

Neither team particularly excelled in the opening minutes, both being sloppy in execution. But the advantages of the strong Springfield defense, despite the large number of fouls it made, slowly gave the Bulldogs a definite edge. Dayton finally scored its first goal after Hirschorn, in a fine display of finesse, set up Bill Murphy, who had entered the game. Murphy faked beautifully and sank the shot. Lester took his turn next, stuffing a Crusader of over six feet, then driving for the score as well as drawing a foul. Campbell, who appears to be a sturdy teammate and help to the school's basketball program.

With Lester leading the defense, Buccci easily made his deadly-accurate outside shot. With one minute to go in the first quarter, Dayton was not only controlling the boards against a much taller team, but also was gaining offensively momentum. After a long series of fast breaks that more often than not succeeded, and as the buzzer sounded, the Bulldogs held a lead they would never relinquish, 15-5.

THE SECOND QUARTER started with Dayton's biggest victory, a 25-point victory. The team consisted now of a completely different quintet: seniors Brian Sheehan, Bill Murphy, Bob Gartlan and Bob Belliveau and junior, Cliff Kurtz. Sheehan, Lester's replacement at center, did no less of a fine job.

Sheehan evidenced a delicate touch in his shooting, and he only missed. Despite Crusader G. Gofsk's excellence, Clark did little against the second Dayton squad. The Bulldogs lengthened their lead in two minutes by six, 26-10.

The original quintet came back off the bench, completely ready for action. Campbell opened with an unusual shot that from the poor vantage point of the bleachers seemed to be something of a backward-jump shot and layup. Lester continued his fine play with two more goals, extending the Springfield lead to 17 points, as well as dominating the boards.

Hirschorn then scored, drawing a foul, and was fouled by 20. Lester with four foulers himself, was taken out and replaced by Sheehan, who, faced with the difficult task of following Lester, did admirably. Nick Jan of Clark now led the Crusader mass, but it was Dayton's game, as the half ended at 39-22.

Dayton in the third quarter truly looked exceptional. The Bulldogs displayed a depth of play, all well executed. Dayton's depth allowed its players to rest, but Clark plodded on with few substitutions. Campbell and Buccci led the Bulldogs now, with Hirschorn displaying spasmodic brilliance on the court. Murphy was invaluable on defense, and York began to emerge as a real threat. York scored a goal with 30 seconds remaining that pulled Dayton ahead furthest; 58-37. Clark began to pick up, but no real attack materialized.

LESTER REENTERED in the fourth quarter with no perceptible variance from his prior superb play. Joining him were Gartlan, Murphy, Belliveau and York. Dayton's passing never looked better. But Clark began to rally and actually dominated the play of the final quarter.

Since many of the Bulldogs were near to the five-fouls that knock a player out, the Crusaders were permitted to shoot more than they had been previously. Dayton collected 25 fouls for the game. Clark's defense was tight, and, although the Bulldogs were remarkably smooth in execution, their shooting was off. With 5:08 left to the game, Lester fouled out and left to a standing ovation from the crowd, including a few Clark partisans.

Buccci continued to be a mainstay, and Sheehan was quite skillful, pushing Dayton back up to a strong lead, 69-48. One representative play had Gartlan challenging a Crusader just past the mid-court line, stealing the ball and rifling it to Sheehan who scored.

Then Dayton began to make errors. They certainly could afford them, but Clark took decided advantage of them. After York fouled out, Gartlan pitched in with virtuoso ball-handling and shooting that placed him up in top consideration with the rest of the team's stars.

THE SCOTCH PLAINS' competition seemed like a protracted variation of the weak Bulldog line in the Clark game. Rochester and the Bulldogs for the first four minutes against a Raider squad that had the same overabundance of balance—the fast break well-executed, coupled with tight defense. But the ball-handling of Campbell and the shooting of Buccci and Kurtz gave Dayton 16-8 lead with two minutes left in the quarter. Suddenly a fantastic Raider blitz rolled up 10 points in the final minute of the quarter, and continued to score six more before Gartlan broke the streak. By this time, Scotch Plains led, 23-19. From that point on, Dayton never quite looked as good.

Belliveau did some nice rebounding, and there were a few surprises from the previous night in the beautiful pass patterns, but too frequently, Belliveau's passes were intercepted and the Raiders controlled both boards and ball. Dayton did not look bad by any standards, but too many errors were made at critical times. Scotch Plains' staff had a 38-30 lead at the half—eight points.

The third quarter was Dayton's strongest, indeed, for some time, it seemed possible that the Bulldogs might even catch up. Campbell and Kurtz led the attack, but the offensive's effectiveness lies in the over-all effort. Dayton came within two points of the Raiders—41-39, but Scotch Plains made another quick comeback, ending the quarter at 45-39.

THE RAIDERS HAD the upper hand, and knowing this, their play grew better. Numerous Dayton threats failed to materialize as crucial shots were missed. The Bulldog shooting percentage in this quarter fell to about 20 percent and otherwise skillful offenses did little to halt the expanding Raider lead. Tom Atkinson of the Raiders—their top scorer—was held to no score at all in the third quarter. Now he cut loose, and only missed once. Buccci saved the last vestige of Dayton pride by sinking two foul shots to keep the margin under 10.

In next week's games, Westfield represents a formidable challenge as always. This year, however, the Bulldogs are up to it. Their play is erratic, but shows a great deal of potential. And the team spirit is the kind that bears teams like Westfield. It will not be easy, but the Bulldog showing on Tuesday could indicate a lot.

Kenilworth does not pose much of a threat, but it will be a test of Dayton's ability to hold its lead in the final minutes of a game. Of course, the contest should prove interesting. Kenilworth will be the first non-conference game.

Tigers sweep to gain share of top place in boys' bowling

The Tigers were the outstanding team in the Friday Afternoon Boys' Bowling League last week. The boys' bowling league is a contest to move into a first-place tie with the Hawks and Warriors, who held the top spot at the start of bowling last week. All three teams have records of 2-1. This boys' league is sponsored by the Recreation Department. All bowling is at the Springfield Bowl.

The Tigers fashioned their rise in the league standings with a two-game sweep of the Chiefs. Steve Harris, captain of the Tigers, paced his team to victory with a 272 series total. Mike Levine with a 236 series also bowled well for the winners. Gary Neifeld bowled the Chief attack with a 209 series total.

The Hawks held their position of first place as they managed a split with the Royals. Jeff Slater once again led the Hawk attack with a 217 series total. Steve Harris bowled for the Hawks, hit a 212 series. The Royals all bowled equally well with Howie Levine and Bobby Zucker leading with series efforts of 211 and 210 respectively.

The Warriors kept pace with the other league leaders, as they divided two games with the Hawks. The Falcons have rolled at a 280 pace all year. Roy Greenberg rolled the second highest series of the season to pace the Warriors. Roy rolled games of 178 and 152 to complete a 330 two-game series. Alan Lipton with a 223 total for two games rolled well for the Warriors. Stuart Liebowitz topped the Falcons in scoring, as he hit a 288 series total. The final match of the day saw the Rangers rebound from their recent slump to score a two-game sweep over the Chargers. Scott Prussing and Dave Rubin led the attack for the victorious Rangers. Scott had a 235 series, while Dave rolled 215 for the two games. Mark Berkowitz was the top bowler in the Chargers. Mark scored a 265 series total. Steve Rosenberg with a two-game effort of 223 was also effective for the Chargers.

Jeff Slater continued to lead all bowlers in the Friday Afternoon League, although Stuart Liebowitz has narrowed his lead to three points. Jeff is first with a 137 average, while Stuart holds second with a 134 mark. Roy Greenberg has moved into third place. Roy is rolling at a 133 pace.

Gary Neifeld with a 131 average is fourth, while Scott Prussing is fifth with an average of 127. The remaining five boys among the top 10 bowlers are: Howie Levine, 128; Mark Berkowitz, 122; Myles Harmon, 122; Neil Elliot, 117; and Steve Harris, 115.

Dayton team loses to Rahway quintet

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team now has a record of 1-2 following a 80-65 defeat here Tuesday at the hands of Rahway High School. Rahway, one of the stronger teams in an exceptionally tough Watching Conference, dominated most of the play, hitting the hoops with extraordinary accuracy as well as controlling the boards.

Dayton only once led during the game, with a score of 4-0. Rahway promptly captured a large lead and held it for most of the contest, although the Bulldogs narrowed the margin to seven in the third quarter. Springfield's fouling, particularly hurt in this encounter, as Rahway cagers sank 28 foul shots.

Mike Lester, Bob Gartlan, and Cliff York were mainstays for the Bulldogs. Tony Grocek, a junior, made his varsity debut and turned in a good performance.

Coach announces starters for Dayton team in 2nd annual holiday wrestling tournament

TOM MCCABE

Head coach Tom McCabe, starting his second year as wrestling coach at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, says he is wondrously optimistic as he prepares his charges for the second annual Union County Regional High School District Invitational Wrestling tournament, which will be held at the Dayton gym this Saturday, with preliminary sessions scheduled at 10 a.m., semi-finals at 2 p.m., and the finals at 8 p.m.

McCabe has selected the following athletes to represent Dayton in the district classic: Mike Popolillo (98), Dave Pierson (106), Jon Broom or Pete Mullin (115), Howie Galhammer (123), Tom Smith or Steve Carter (131), Dale Liles or Joe Sarno (136), Gary Layda (141), Ed Camalleri or Glenn Behrens (148), Howie Rubenstein (157), Al Silverman (168), Brian Zabelski (178) and Greg Baskin (heavyweight).

The McCabe men will have their work cut out for them in this year's tournament. The defending champion, Westfield, which took the team trophy last year with 17 points, will have Dave Wright (115) and Jon Gayton (178). Both of whom won individual honors, back to defend their titles. Coach Gary Keller also has a strong veteran squad back. He posted an 11-1 record last year to run his total career non-loss-tied record to 78-13-1.

If the Bulldogs get by the Blue Devils of Westfield, they must also contend with the second-place Raiders of Coach Mike Sorrentino of Scotch Plains, who garnered 30 points in the tournament. Ralph McGinias (130), who was 9-1-1 last year; Rudy Lanza (136), who posted a 10-1 record and was third in state competition, and heavyweight Jeff Bandula are some formidable fighters who will confront the local grapplers. Third-place Governor Livingston, headed by new coach Jack Mitchell, will be out to improve on its 18-point performance of last year. Columbia High School, coached by Dayton graduate, Al Hector, will present a tough bunch of Cougar matmen. Hector compiled a 7-7-1 record last year, winning his two-year total to 15-3-1. Jon Cossman (106) was 7-0 last year and runner-up in his bracket in the district events, and Steve Sacler (7-1) (141) was also a runner-up in the districts. He will be on hand to improve on their tied-for-fourth-place standing. Haverly with 12 points, Hillside with 7 points, Arthur L. Johnson with 6 points, and Dayton with 2 points, complete the eight-team tournament.

Herbert H. Palmer, Dayton athletic and tournament director, announced that first-place and second-place team trophies and individual trophies will be awarded. Admission for the tournament is $2 at 50 cents and $1 for the first two sessions and 75 cents and $1.25 for the finals.

A Volkswagen, obviously.

It's easy to spot a VW. It's the one that keeps moving through the snow.

A VW will go up icy hills when other cars won't go at all. The engine is in back, where it gives the rear wheels much better traction.

And because the VW engine is cooled with air, not water, there's no need for anti-freeze. No chance of the block cracking. (No boiling over in summer!) No straining. No flustering. No rust. You can park a VW outdoors in sub-zero weather and it's ready to roll as soon as you turn the key.

If there isn't any ice and snow around when you try a VW, don't think you can't judge the car's extraordinary abilities. Just come in and take a VW for a run. Through some sand or mud,

Home dyes for holiday easy to use

For last minute gifts and holiday decorations, reports Carolyn F. Yuknus, Senior County Home Economist, home dyes can be a big help.

Home dyes are now so much easier to use and more effective than they have been in the past that you will be amazed what a little dye will do.

For example, your old rope-tinsel has tarnished and looks dull. Make it a new color by dipping it in a cool dye solution. You need a pair of colored shoes to match your holiday dress. It is easy to paint white or beige fabric shoes with a hot dye solution to match any color.

A faded cloth purse or scarf will look like new with the same treatment.

Even plastic jewelry or pearls can take on new color. It is allowed to soak in a cool solution of dye.

Perhaps your supply of saved ribbon is faded or the wrong color. A solution of dye will make it look like new and fit into one selected color scheme.

Christmas tablecloths, place mats or other tableware can be made to fit the season after going through a dye bath.

If you like to make your own candles, dye can be added to melted paraffin wax to give a variety of colors. Use empty milk cartons, tin cans or gelatin molds and fasten a heavy cord or wicking to the bottom. Pour colored wax into the container and allow to harden. Remove from container and use plain or decorate as you choose.

For dried grasses with cool dye, or have variegated fresh flowers by arranging them in a solution of cool dye and watch the color change.

Different depths and durability of color which are achieved depending on how long it is applied. If an item of cloth is simmered in a dye solution, greater durability of color is achieved. Items done in warm water in the washing machine will be less intense in color and may be removed with repeated washing and bleaching.

Dyeing done with a cool solution of dye is the quickest but least durable.

Tinted paint wears well

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) -- Tinted or colored paint used on exterior wood withstands weathering much better than white paint, 16 years of experiments at the Pennsylvania State University indicate.

In the long-range tests, researchers found that when repainting with tinted or colored paints, two-coat applications usually are sufficient. The experiments showed two coats are best when using exterior white paints.

Oscar A. Kimmel, assistant professor of farm mechanics, says repainting of exterior wood is most effective if it is done just before film cracks develop. The trick here, he adds, is to watch closely for first signs of cracks and repaint as promptly as possible.

Methodist Church will sponsor party for 'Family Night'

"Christmas Family Night" will be sponsored by the commission on education of Springfield Methodist Church, Main St., at Academy Green, this Sunday at 4 p.m., according to Audrey Young, chairman of the commission.

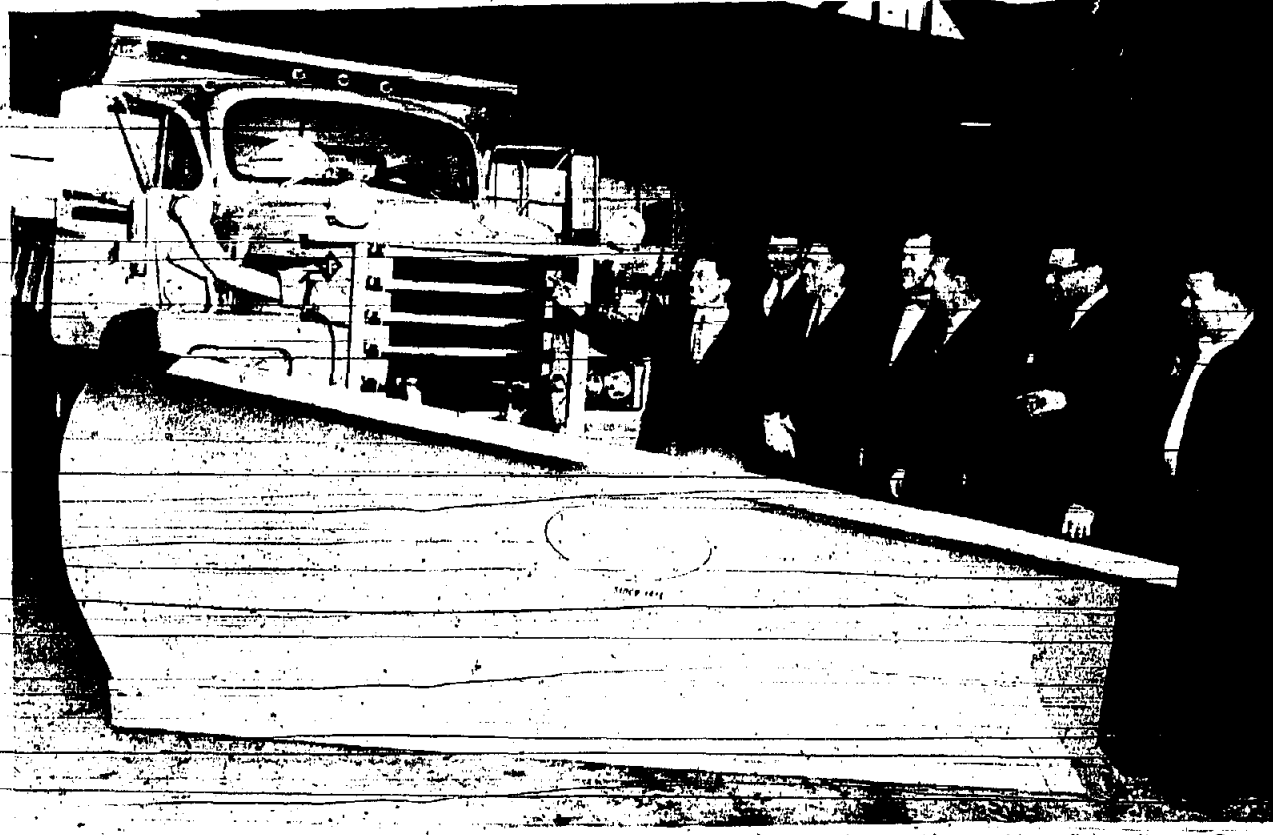

The program will begin with the decoration of the Christmas tree in the Mundy Room, each family having been asked to bring various materials with which to make its own decorations for the tree. This will be followed by a period of singing favorite Christmas carols, during which the Wesley and Carol choir will share some of the carols which they have learned recently.

A box supper will be arranged at 5 p.m., with the Wesleyan Service Guild, of which Gertrude Sale is president, serving dessert and beverage. Families should bring their own sandwiches or favorite Sunday night snack.

The Senior High Youth Fellowship will show slides of the Church of All Nations located at Second Ave., New York which they visited last Sunday for the purpose of taking the Christmas Sales to president, according to the church school and congregational choir.

The evening will conclude with Nativity tableaux presented by children in the kindergarten through the sixth grade, and the lighting of the outdoor Christmas tree.

The Sunday morning schedule will include divine worship at 10 a.m., with Pastor James Stewart speaking on "God's Truth." Church School will meet at 9:30.

Girls' bowling play sees 4 teams in tie with 6-4 records

A very tight championship race is developing in the Tuesday-Afternoon Girls' Bowling League, as only the Wildcats are trailing in the six team league. The Charms, Alley Cats, Strikers and Bowling Anchovies are knotted in a first place tie, at 6-4, while the Stars are a single game behind. The girls bowled at the Springfield Bowl in the league sponsored by the Recreation Department.

The Charms lost their hold on first place last week when they dropped both ends of a two-game series to the Bowling Anchovies. As a result of this double victory, the Anchovies moved into first place. The Bowling Anchovies and Linda Mutschler faced the Anchovies' victories, as each rolled a 192 series. Debbie Cravenman with a 189 total for two games topped the scoring for the Charms.

The Strikers moved to the top of the league standings with a sweep of two games over the luckless Wildcats. Virginia Vogt rolled a 285 series to lead the Strikers. Ginny rolled a 285 two-game total. Lisa Brown with a 202 series transportation and other costs of field trips, except in cases of financial hardship.

The board cited the educational value of the trips and declared that they would have to be drastically curtailed without the payments by parents.

Dr. Clayton ruled that state laws "indicate a clear intent to provide public education at no cost to parents. Admittedly a field trip is not a textbook or a supply, but it is an integral part of the program of instruction employed by teachers as a device for teaching and learning."

"As such it is analogous to other instructional materials, equipment and techniques which boards of education are required to furnish without cost to pupils," he added that field trips "are an educationally sound and important ingredient in an instructional program, and the expenses of such approved excursions are a proper charge to instructional funds."

Dr. Clayton stressed that his prohibition against having parents pay costs "is limited to field trips and such other activities as are part of the regular classroom program or instruction or course of study."

"It does not extend to and is not applicable to such other school affairs as dances, concerts, dramatic productions, athletic events and the like, for which admission charges are ordinarily made. Such activities, while certainly part of the total school curriculum, are not part of the classroom teaching program. They occur after normal school hours, and attendance therein is voluntary."

He also declared "the commission is aware, also, that the cost of a field trip is sometimes borne by a donation from the Parent-Teacher Association or similar group, or from use of internal funds of the school. The prohibition made herein does not extend to or preclude such practices."

"The prohibition in this case is directed and restricted solely to the adoption of a rule by a board of education which required parents to bear the costs of approved field trips, as that term has been defined."

be for an administration building for the school board.

Mayor Robert C. Planer read a proclamation designating today as Bill of Rights Day in Springfield, commemorating the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the first 10 amendments to the U.S. constitution.

After a brief compilation, the committee awarded the municipal gasoline contract for 1967 to the firm which was called for at $15.40 per gallon. The only bid on hand was from the Tidewater Oil Co. A representative of the Sinclair Oil Co. arrived at 9:05 and told the committee that he had been delayed by snow-covered roads.

The township attorney, James M. Cawley, cited precedent to state that the bid could be accepted if the bidder had made a fight-against effort to get on time and had been delayed by unexpected conditions, such as the bad weather. Following a short recess to study the complicated formula on which the bids were based, the contract was awarded to the Sinclair firm, which had entered the lowest bid.

Driver suffers cut lip after 2-car accident

A 72-year-old Springfield resident suffered a lacerated lip following a two-car accident Thursday morning.

Charles E. Beecher, 652A Troydr., was treated by his own doctor. Patrolman Daniel Halsey said he apparently lost control of his car while driving south in S. Springfield ave. and crashed into a parked car owned by Richard E. Battelle of 207 S. Springfield ave. There were no summonses issued.

VFW Post begins membership drive at meeting Sunday

Veterans of Foreign Wars, Battle Hill Post 7683, Springfield, held a regular meeting and a social affair Sunday at the Guy Bosworth Post, American Legion, Millburn. The purpose of the meeting was to start a membership drive, of eligible veterans in the community, and of members of our Armed Forces now fighting in Vietnam.

Commander Frank G. Rebel reminded the members that "any member of the Armed Forces fighting in Vietnam can have his application initiated by the parents and accepted while the veteran is overseas." He further stated that the parents, and any veteran who served overseas and has an honorable discharge, may contact him at 61 Woodcrest circle, Springfield, or by calling him at 726-1129, for application and information.

The guest of honor for the day was District Commander John Kopik of Union County, who also is the N. J. State Dept. Americanism chairman. Among the topics covered in his talk were the N. J. sales tax as it affects the VFW, Americanism and membership program of the organization. He urged cooperation of the members and the citizens of Springfield to write to Robert Costigan, director of sales tax, Trenton, N. J., 08605, to have the sales tax removed from the sales of American flags.

After the meeting the Post served as host to the Auxiliary members and guests at a cocktail party and a buffet supper.

B'nai B'rith men at groundbreaking for Rutgers Hillel

A B'nai B'rith delegation from Springfield joined New Jersey Attorney General Arthur J. Sills and Dr. Milton W. Gross, president of Rutgers University, at the groundbreaking ceremonies for the Rutgers-Douglas Hillel Center in New Brunswick Sunday.

The groundbreaking, climaxed by 17 years of effort on behalf of the new facility to serve the 2,100 Jewish students at the New Brunswick College of the University, was held on a 2.4 acre site on the Douglass campus which will be the location of the new center. Since 1944, the Hillel Foundation has been quartered in what had been a left structure on Church Street in downtown New Brunswick. Since that facility was opened, the enrollment of Jewish students at Rutgers and Douglass Colleges has almost quadrupled.

B'nai B'rith, the national Jewish fraternal order, sponsors Hillel Foundations on campuses throughout the country. Hillel serves the spiritual, cultural and social needs of Jewish college students. The Rutgers Foundation, since its founding in 1943, has become the special interest of New Jersey's B'nai B'rith men's lodges and women's chapters. Rabbi James J. Funk has directed the Rutgers Hillel Foundation since its founding, counseling thousands of Rutgers students in those years.

Youth gets arm wound

Salvatore De Palma, 18, of Glenview Dr., Springfield, was shot in the arm last Friday night in Staten Island in what police there described as an altercation between two groups of youths from New Jersey. He was reported in fair condition in St. Vincent's Hospital, New Brighton, Staten Island.

According to the police, De Palma and two friends were outside a tavern in the Elm Park neighborhood, about 11:30 p.m., when three more young men arrived in a car with New Jersey license plates. There was an argument, the report continued, after which the car left. De Palma and his friends chased it on foot. Six shots were then reportedly fired from the car, and one struck De Palma in the arm.

Traffic death toll increase predicted

Despite the new federal safety regulations, the traffic death toll may get worse before it gets better, warned Harry Porter Jr., manager of the National Safety Council's Traffic Department.

Pointing out that it will take a number of years for the new vehicle standards and expanded highway safety programs to take effect, Porter listed the following "negative" factors that will tend to push death totals up in the years immediately ahead:

More young drivers, higher speeds, motor cycles, increasing travel, failure to use seat belts and alcohol consumption.

"In the face of these almost overwhelming pressures, it seems almost certain that the total number of fatalities will creep slowly upward for several years at least, barring any major economic or military reversals," said Porter. "By then we hope and believe that the positive pressures resulting from new legislation will begin to take effect, turning the accident curve downward."

In the meantime, the safety authority cautioned drivers not to expect any overnight lessening of traffic hazards. "On the contrary," he warned, "the next few years will be an especially crucial time for drivers when it will be up to the individual to accept the responsibility for his own well-being as never before."

ing carefully to see if wheels spin; or brake gently to see if they skid. Reduce speed accordingly.

2. Increase your following distance. It takes three to 10 times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry pavement.

3. "Pump" your brakes to slow or stop — don't jam them on. An intermittent pumping action keeps the wheels rolling and helps maintain steering control.

4. Have good tires with good treads. Better yet, use snow tires which provide half again as much pulling power in snow as regular tires. Studded snow tires offer still more help on icy surfaces.

5. ALWAYS CARRY reinforced tire chains in the trunk of your car for use during severe snow and ice conditions. They provide four to five times as much traction on snow or ice as regular tires.

6. Keep your windshield and windows clear at all times. Replace streaking wiper blades from exposure to sun with new wiper blades. Be sure that your windshield washer solution contains adequate anti-freeze.

1. Get the "feel" of the road by accelerating carefully to see if wheels spin; or brake gently to see if they skid. Reduce speed accordingly.

Flower Show reports anniversary exhibition

The International Flower Show will celebrate its golden anniversary at the New York Colliseum from March 4 to 12, 1967. The show will be even larger this year due to an increase in floor space and in the number of exhibitors.

"In the face of these almost overwhelming pressures, it seems almost certain that the total number of fatalities will creep slowly upward for several years at least, barring any major economic or military reversals," said Porter. "By then we hope and believe that the positive pressures resulting from new legislation will begin to take effect, turning the accident curve downward."

AS A TIMELY example, Porter cited the added hazards facing drivers during the critical winter months and pointed out that safer winter driving is largely a matter of individual responsibility.

"Reduced visibility and inadequate traction are the principal additional hazards of winter driving over and above those normally encountered all year," he stated.

He reported that the following tips for safe winter driving have been advocated by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards:

Congresswoman FLORENCE P. DWYER Reports

HAIL AND FAREWELL
When I completed my "Final Report to the People" last October, in the "winding hours" of the 89th Congress, it never occurred to me that I would be communicating with you before the convening of the new 90th Congress in January. But a number of factors have emerged in recent weeks which seem to justify this further report, so please consider it a sort of postscript to the 89th or, perhaps, a preface to the 90th.

Here is what I want to do in this report: -- say goodbye to you who live in Elizabeth, Linden and Rahway; -- extend a welcome to my new constituents in western Essex County; -- express my heartfelt gratitude to all the people of the 12th District for the wonderfully encouraging vote of confidence with which they honored me on Election Day, 1966; -- indicate my concern at what appears to be the continuing failure of the Administration to develop and articulate effective economic policies; -- and suggest what I believe will be Congress' unusual opportunity during the next two years to play a more constructive and meaningful role in formulating major national policy.

Elizabeth, Linden and Rahway become a part of Hudson County's 13th District and our remaining 18 communities, together with eight communities in western Essex County become the new 12th District from which I was re-elected last month.

The fact that, under the "one man, one vote" principle, Union County had become too large in population to remain a single Congressional District, does not -- for me -- diminish the sense of loss. It only makes it inevitable, but no less painful. During my years of representing the people of Elizabeth, Linden and Rahway in Trenton and Washington, we have come to know each other well. Our relationship, as is true of others I continue to represent, has seemed as much personal as official. This association, as it has progressed over the years, has been a very enriching experience for me. All of you -- those who are leaving and those who are staying -- have made my work much more than a job to be done. You have made it a source of interest and pleasure and satisfaction. For which I thank you. To those of you who will no longer be my constituents, I can only say that I shall miss you and that I wish you all the best in the years ahead.

OLD FRIENDS AND NEW ONES
There is, happily, another side to what might have been a totally dismal picture. The majority of Union County, approximately two-thirds of our people, will be together in the new 12th District, and we shall be joined by the residents of eight municipalities with whom we have much in common: Millburn, Short Hills, Livingston, Roseland, Essex Fells, Caldwell, West Caldwell and Fairfield. This is a pleasant opportunity, therefore, to welcome those of you from Essex County, to assure you of my desire to be of service in every way, and to invite you to utilize the facilities and services of your Congressional office whenever you believe my staff and I can help. I look forward to the same kind of relationship I have long enjoyed with the people of Union County.

In this regard, I plan to move my District Office this month from Elizabeth to Plainfield where I expect it will be more accessible to more of the people of the new district. As in the past, this office will be open five and a half days each week to serve you. And whenever I can return home from Washington on weekends or during periods of recess, I plan to continue holding office hours as I did in Elizabeth. In one major respect, of course, the new 12th District is already in being. I refer to the Nov. 8 election which used the boundaries of new Congressional Districts as determined by the State Legislature. But I refer to the election chiefly because I want to thank my constituents -- new and old -- for the wonderful vote of confidence you gave me. More than a month later, I am still somewhat overwhelmed at the 75.6 percent margin of victory, a rather far cry from the 50.6 percent of the votes I received when I was first elected to Congress 10 years ago. To say I am deeply grateful for your confidence and support is a grave understatement. The best way to express my appreciation, I believe, is to continue doing everything possible to justify the trust you have placed in me, and to this end I pledge all my efforts in the 90th Congress.

LOOKING AHEAD
Space today permits me only to mention briefly two issues which I shall be discussing at greater length in future newsletters, the Administration's continuing indecisiveness in economic policy and the opportunity for the 90th Congress to make a uniquely important contribution to responsible and effective government in the United States.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
Santa Claus told me (confidentially) that I'm getting a new vacuum cleaner from my hubby for Christmas. But I would rather have something personal. Why do husbands buy something for the house instead of a personal gift?

Since the friend is the one with the car, it would be nice for "Ann" to help pay for the gas. Perhaps the friend is pulling this little dare because she's tired of hauling "Ann" around free!

Dear Marta:
Maybe hubby feels the carpets need it more than you do. That ever, I think he's being very practical. But maybe Santa hasn't told you everything. Have you been a good girl this year, Marta?

Dear Amy:
My problem concerns my husband's uncle (by marriage). Very few in the family like him or care to have him around. His wife and son are nice, and that makes it difficult for us to ignore him.

Dear Amy:
How old do you think a boy should be before he goes on his first date? How old are most boys when they start dating? Can you put this in your column because I think that quite a few boys want to know how old they should be before dating.

Dear Amy:
I'm pretty discouraged about the whole situation. Please tell us what you would do in our position?

Dear Gary:
I think a boy should be in his late teens before he "Single" dates. But most boys start in their middle teens.

Dear Gloria:
You and your husband are master and mistress of your own home. Considerate people do not walk in for dinner unless they have been invited. Only "spontaneous" would have to serve to top in uninvited and ask for a meal. Inform them that you have already had your dinner and offer them a cold drink, a hot drink or a bowl of fruit.

Dear Amy:
Here is the answer for "Anne L." the woman who pays her friend's bills because her friend only has a $50 bill. "Ann" should figure how much her friend owes her and the next time she says she has all the money, she should change it. When "Ann" gets the fifty in her hand, she should hand her friend the difference between the amount owed and the $50.

Dear Amy:
I need your help desperately. My problem is that I'm always talking back to my mother! I know it's bad talking back to mother, but to anyone else who is older than I, but it happens that everytime my mother and I have a little argument, it always turns out to be a big fat one.

That's what I would do.

ALL ABOUT PEOPLE

by GENE ROSENFELD

ELGENE TIRE CO.
EVERY SUNDAY during the football season millions and millions of fans from coast to coast, watch football in the stadiums, or in the comfort of their homes. During recent years the kick (the punt) has come back in football, and the football players and others have made kicking their specialty.

Is this New? Not to James Hexall, who says you can kick three times with you, out of football. James Hexall of Princeton fame, kicked the longest field goal ever recorded in collegiate play, 65 yards, and that was back in 1882.

Mark Payne, All this gentleman did, played for Dakota Wesleyan in 1915 was to DROP KICK a field goal of 63 yards, and Albert Hagan, who played for San Francisco, and in 1917 he really put up a kick. He punted the football 89 yards IN THE AIR. These three men really put the foot in football and their records are not likely to soon be forgotten, even though Soccer kicking has been added to the Football Game. (Do you think the Soccer kicker can be as effective at 45 yards and beyond?)

WE ADHERE TO HIGHEST INDUSTRY STANDARDS

We sure won't kick down here at ELGENE TIRE if you stop in and see us about NEW or RETREAD Tires. We're conveniently located on Milltown Road (between Route 22 and Morris Ave.) opposite Archer's Grove. Stop in soon, even if it's only to put air in your tires.

Weeder's Digest

Choose your Christmas poinsettia to fit a particular location.
A compact, low plant is best for a table, while a large specimen will show off best on the floor or a low stand.
This is part of some timely advice from Malcolm R. Harrison, extension floriculturist at the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science. He says that New Jersey poinsettia growers are turning out a quarter-million plants this year, all designed to fit every taste and need.
Usually they group three or more plants in a single pot. This produces large bracts (the showy parts usually called "flowers"). Such a plant has a rather formal appearance.
Sometimes growers remove the growing tips of their plants to make more branches with somewhat smaller bracts. The result is an informal plant that many prefer.

BETTER AND BETTER
Growers are also making use of information and experience, turned up in research at Rutgers and other universities in growth-regulating chemicals. These enable growers to produce well proportioned plants with large bracts.
Such developments, along with constant breeding work, are producing poinsettias with brightly colored bracts on strong stems that do much better than their ancestors under the artificial indoor conditions of the modern home.

Among these new varieties is one called Paul Mikkelson. Another is Spotlight, a bright red. Varieties named Snowflake and Snowcap are white. Among other new ones is a bright pink.
Still at the top of the popularity list, though, is a variety with large, brilliant red bracts named Barbara Ecke Supreme. This is the result of a selection by a Bergen County florist several years ago.
Whichever plant you buy, shield it from drafts of either hot or cold air, Harrison advises. Keep it well supplied with water and give it adequate light.

Christmas taboo

BERLIN (UPI) — Christmas comes just once a year—and the Communist regime in East Berlin would be overjoyed if it never came at all. In Communist East Germany, official reference to Christmas is taboo. There a Christmas tree is called a "Winter tree" and Santa Claus is known as "Father Frost."
