Town to offer new zoning ordinance

Board OKs courses for this summer

Program set to include expanded music school

Plans for classes this summer were completed by the Springfield Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday night at the James Caldwell School. There will be a regular summer school program at the Florence Gaudin School June 26 to July 28, as well as an expanded summer music school June 28 to Aug. 8 at the Raymond Chisholm School. An anticipated attendance of 320 students for the regular summer classes was reported by John O. Berwick, superintendent of schools. He noted attendance of 285 last summer and 185 in 1965.

Appointed to teach the classes were Joseph Blanda, Simone Gordon, Mrs. Doris Grzymalski, Mrs. Shirley Kurnos, Mrs. Angela Larcari, William Looney, Mrs. Lucinda Michelini, Robert Oldshott and Raymond Winkler, each at a rate of $600 for the term. William Hannah was named earlier to direct the school.

The music program will be conducted by Wesley Ecker and Mrs. Dorothy Stallworth. Ecker will provide basic instruction in vocal and instrumental music. Mrs. Stallworth will teach a new course in theory and harmony. Robert Southward, board president, commented briefly on the effects the new school bus bill will have on the local board. The bill has passed both houses of the State Legislature and awaits the signature of Gov. Richard J. Hughes. It calls for busing of all students who attend parochial or other private schools up to 20 miles from their homes.

Southward noted that the measure gives responsibility for the bus service to the Regional High School Board of Education. The local board will be charged for transportation of youngsters up to the eighth grade. Three-quarters of the cost will be reimbursed by the state.

THE BOARD RECEIVED the signatures of a number of teachers. They include Duane Brown, who will become a full-time graduate student; Mrs. Ruth Cohen and Mary Ann Zimmerman, both moving from this area; and Mrs. Sandra Zimmer, for personal reasons. Also approved was a maternity leave for Mrs. Bernard De Lucia.

Three new teachers were appointed for next year, each at an annual salary of $6,000. James Guinee is a graduate of Newark State College with student teaching experience in Scotch Plains. Irene Kazanick is an alumna of Miami University in Ohio. Glenn Brown, a physical education teacher, is a graduate of Springfield College in Massachusetts.

The board approved the participation of Joseph Anderson, assistant superintendent of schools, in the national foreign policy conference June 19 and 20 in Washington. Berwick noted that the invitation grew out of the state.

Offer of land swap for Nike site eyed by Regional schools

The Regional High School District Board of Education gave its primary attention Tuesday night to the possibility of exchanging its Nike site for the former Nike missile site in the Wachung Reservation for other land owned by the Union-County Park Commission.

Board members, meeting at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, discussed a proposal for the land swap initiated by the Park Commission for the county outdoor education program. The outdoor education unit could use buildings now standing on the Nike site.

The regional schools would prefer to use the land offered by the Park Commission. This property is closer to Gov. Livingston Regional High School than is the Nike site. Athletic facilities for Gov. Livingston, for which the land is destined, would be more convenient on the new property.

There is only one obstacle, the board agreed, but that may be insurmountable. The Nike site was given to the board by the federal government, to be used for educational purposes, with a 20-year reverter clause. In other words, if Washington is not satisfied with the use of the land for educational purposes at any time during the 20 years, the property will revert to federal control. The only way to achieve the land swap, then, may

SACA screen festival lists 3 short films tonight

A program of three prize-winning short films will be screened tonight at 8:15 at the Edward Walton School under the sponsorship of the Springfield Association of Creative Arts. The films are "The Red Balloon," a French fantasy; "Beaver Dam," from Canada, and "Universe."

"This is one time," a SACA spokesman declared, "that we urge you to bring your children. These films will be enjoyed by children and adults alike." Tickets will be on sale at the door, priced at $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

TAKE ME TO THE FAIR -- Jerrold Guss and Susan Miller, a pair of eager five-year-olds, practice for all the prizes they expect to carry home from the annual PTA spring fair this Saturday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. outdoors at the Edward Walton School. Highlights of the day will include games, refreshments and a rock and roll concert by the Cytes.

Request YES office to supply workers for golf tournament

The Youth Employment Service of Springfield is working in conjunction with the office of the U.S. Open golf tournament in an effort to supply students who can work at the Baltusrol Golf Club during the week of the tournament. The golf match will take place June 12-18.

The YES office has been asked to supply young men for ground maintenance and assistance in the parking lots, and young women to work in the refreshment stands.

Mrs. Felix N. Gold, chairman of YES, has stated that many high school students have already registered at the YES office for work at the golf club during the tournament week. However, since some of the required hours for working at the Open will conflict with high school hours, Mrs. Gold has suggested that any college students who desire to work at Baltusrol during the golf contest call the Youth Employment Service, DR 9-2567, or Mrs. Nam Gavshin, DR 9-2016.

Any young person, seeking employment through the YES office must fill out the required registration card at the office at Town Hall. The office is open Monday through Friday.

"I don't think we here in Springfield have to take our hats off to anything in European secondary education," is the way that Robert F. La Vanture, principal of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, summarizes his tour of European schools on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

He was one of a group of 26 educators from 17 states who spent 21 days last month visiting schools in Copenhagen, Moscow, Bucharest, Budapest, Belgrade and London.

The basic difference in education, La Vanture reports, is that "here we have comprehensive high schools, each trying to meet the entire secondary education needs of the entire community. In Europe, children are separated by academic ability, as young as 11 or 12, and each high school offers specialized training to a comparatively small, homogeneous segment."

He also notes, "Our schools are geared to meet the needs of the students. In Europe, and particularly in the Communist countries, the schools mold the young people to contribute to the needs of the state."

AS AN EXAMPLE, the local educator cites a high school he visited in Moscow, one which specializes in language studies. Other high schools might specialize in music or mathematics. Only about 10 percent of Russian children qualify for these schools, he adds, and virtually all of those will go on to college.

The caliber of language instruction, particularly English, is very high, La Vanture says. Besides instruction in English conversation and literature, the school offers classes in such subjects as biology, mathematics and history, also conducted in English.

Favorite writers of the students there, he notes, include such names as Hemingway, Steinbeck and Shakespeare. He was impressed by the way the Russian students learned by acting out scenes from Shakespeare and other playwrights.

On the other hand, he stresses, teaching is much more rigid in Moscow than in Springfield. The youngsters there never read any of the avant garde American writers, or anything which might question the principles of their society.

Most of the teaching is standardized, with few digressions from the assigned topics and little opportunity for questions by the students. Homework is plentiful, he goes on to say, most of it consisting of rote memorization and drill. Each student carries a marking book, receiving a grade for recitation in each subject every day.

THERE ARE ONLY two roads open to a successful career in Russia, he emphasizes -- exit.

Bultman will direct multiple sclerosis group in township

HENRY BULTMAN

Appointment of Henry Bultman to head this year's campaign in Springfield was announced this week by Arthur Whitley, Union County chairman of volunteers for the Upper New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

As local chairman, Bultman will now be responsible for all of the society's volunteer activities in the township. Long active in local organizations, he is now chairman of the Springfield Municipal Republican Committee.

The MS Hope Chest campaign, which takes place each year between Mother's Day and Father's Day, is the National Society's major public relations program for its broad program of patient care and services as well as the national research program to find the Business usage listed along Morris avenue

A new and completely revised zoning ordinance for the township will be analyzed in detail for the public at a special meeting of the Planning Board on Wednesday evening, June 7, according to an announcement this week by Arthur M. Falkin, board chairman, and Mayor

Falkin stressed that the new ordinance will replace all present zoning regulations, compiled in 1964, in the light of recent developments in Springfield, including the impact of Rt. 78 and other highway construction. The new ordinance is designed to implement the Master Plan for municipal growth adopted last winter.

The major change in the new ordinance calls for rezoning of all Morris avenue frontage, now either business or residential, to limited business. Falkin and Hancock stated that the change is designed to "encourage construction of office buildings" and to "get a better tax return from all the land available in the township."

ANOTHER CHANGE is intended to promote development of the industrial property south of Rt. 22. Land in this area is now zoned for a minimum of 60,000 to 90,000 square feet for each tract. The new ordinance zones this land for 40,000 square feet, approximately an acre.

Copies of the new ordinance will be available at Town Hall next Friday, May 26. A new land use map, showing the permitted use of every place of property in Springfield under both the new ordinance and the old one, will be introduced at the special meeting June 7.

A location for the special meeting has not yet been determined. A letter of invitation will be sent to all residents of the township approximately 10 days before the meeting. Formal action on the new zoning code will be undertaken by the Township Committee after the special public meeting, probably some time in July.

"This is an attempt," Mayor Falkin stated, "based on careful analysis and considering the construction of Rt. 78 and major paths of traffic through Springfield, to find the best use for every lot in town."

PANICANI COMMENTED, "We tried to prepare an ordinance that would minimize the number of variance applications that the Board of Adjustment would have to hear. The new measure more clearly defines both permitted usages and prohibited uses for every zone in the community."

"This would prevent the constant need for patched-up planning in the form of spot zoning left up to the Board of Adjustment. The whole plan is a 1967 concept, well beyond the ideas of 1954, when the present zoning ordinance was adopted. The new ordinance should be effective for at least 20 years, since it follows all major suggestions outlined in the Master Plan for growth over at least that much time."

Members of the Planning Board are: Panicani, chairman; Richard Colandrea, vice-chairman; Albert Evans, secretary; Arthur Kesselhaut, Raymond Forbes and Leslie Rosenbaum; Committeemen Philip Del Vecchio, as liaison with the Township Committee, and Mayor Falkin and Township Engineer Walter Kozub, as ex officio members.

The new zoning ordinance was prepared with the help of the planning consultants, Alvin E. Gersten Associates of Trenton, who were represented on the project by Leo Laaksonen.

Senior at Regional earns scholarship to attend Princeton

Ronald W. Fry, a 17-year-old senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, has been awarded a four-year scholarship by the International Nickel Company, Inc. and will enroll in Princeton University this fall. Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Fry of Springfield. His father is a securities assistant in the treasury department of International Nickel's New York office.

The scholarship offers complete cost of tuition and other fees, plus a stipend of $300 toward living costs and books. Four such scholarships are offered each year to children of International Nickel's employees on the basis of an outstanding record in both scholastic and extracurricular activities.

In addition to maintaining an outstanding academic record, Fry has served as captain of the cross-country track team, and is a member of the National Honor Society, the school newspaper staff and the varsity chemistry, radio and German clubs. He received a letter of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and served as a delegate to the 1966 New Jersey Boys' State.

Fry also completed a 60-hour seminar in advanced chemistry and studied at the University of Bonn Summer School (American Institute for Foreign Study) during the summer of 1966.

Fry will enroll in an electrical engineering course at Princeton.

As part of International Nickel's broad program of aid to higher education in the United States, the scholarship also provides a gift of $500 each year to the college, plus by Fry's parents. The program has provided 55 children of the company's employees in New York and other offices and plants in the United States have received such scholarships.

Summer recreational program set for emotionally disturbed children

The Children's Institute of 337 South Harrison St., East Orange has announced plans for a six weeks summer recreational program for emotionally disturbed children, it was announced by Mrs. Joan K. Faber of Springfield, director.

The program will be from 1 to 4 p.m., running from July 5 through Aug. 11, and will be conducted at the Institute. Applications for admission to the program are now being accepted for disturbed children between the ages of four and 10 years. The program will include games, arts and crafts, trips to local places of interest, and other activities suitable to the age and abilities of each individual child. A mid-afternoon snack will be served.

In announcing the summer program, Mrs. Faber said, "We have planned this program to fill a specific need in the community. This summer, this will be the only program in the area that is specifically geared to the problems and needs of severely disturbed children. It is essential for these children to have some kind of structured program during the summer months so that they can maintain the gains they have made in their special schools during the year. While the program is strictly a recreational one, it will be supervised by specially trained people in the field."

Frank Malm, 81; Bell Labs official, former AEC aide

Funeral services were conducted Saturday from the Smith and Smith Funeral Home, for Frank S. Malm, 81, of 31 Forest dr., Springfield, a former special consultant to the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

Mr. Malm, who died May 11 at home, was born in Lemont, Ill. He lived in Millburn for 25 years before moving to Springfield 14 years ago. He received a degree in chemical engineering from Marmour Institute, now a part of Chicago University.

Mr. Malm began his career with the Bell Telephone Laboratories in 1906 at the Western Electric Co., Chicago, a subsidiary. In 1908 he joined the rubber division and later took charge of chemical engineering and development work on soft and hard rubber. He was transferred to the submarine cable development branch in 1920, and eight years later, to the submarine cable group of Bell Laboratories.

That year, he was sent to Germany to supervise the manufacture of a cable to be laid between Key West and Havana. He later became involved in the development of Alphet cable sheath, a substitute for lead.

During his career, Mr. Malm had worked on the development of rubber and synthetic plastics of all kinds. He wrote papers, contributed chapters to several technical books and received patents for new rubber products.

He retired from Bell Telephone Laboratories, Murray Hill, in 1950, as the supervisor of a group involved in rubber technology. He had been with the company 44 years. A specialist on cables, he had served in Europe for the AEC in 1953. During World War II, Mr. Malm had been a consultant on wire and cable problems for the rubber director's office.

Mr. Malm had been a member of the board of directors of the rubber division of the American Society, a fellow of the Institute of the Rubber Industry (British), a member of the New York Chemists Club, the Old Guard of Millburn and Austin Lodge F and AM in Chicago. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma Bohrens Malm; two sons, Frank B. and Donald L., both of Springfield; and a sister, Mrs. Sigrid Encke of Mount Morris, Ill.

Honor Robert Hart

Robert K. Hart of 35 Forest dr., Springfield, long-time trustee of the Millburn-Short Hills Scenic Historic Boosters Association, was honored with the presentation of a plaque at the meeting on Thursday night in the Taylor Park Recreation House.

In announcing the award, Irving Hirschman, president of the Boosters, stated that in addition to Hart's long-time chairmanship of the important student aid committee, he has been responsible for bringing in more than 200 members during the past several years.

cellence in studies or activity in the Communist Party. The price for failure or rebellion in school is so high that there are no real discipline problems. La Vanture notes that every effort is made to solve personal problems, by guidance specialists, teachers and committees of fellow students.

The students have already been carefully screened, however, and the threat of expulsion is so severe that major adjustment problems are extremely rare.

La Vanture notes that Russian schools provide almost no extra-curricular program for students. Students spend their spare time at Pioneer Palaces, youth centers for Young Pioneers, aged nine to 14, and Komsomol units, 14 to 26.

These centers provide facilities for social activities, hobby groups and athletic activity and instruction. Their primary purpose, he emphasizes, is to form a cadre of Community Party members to provide community leadership.

"YUGOSLAVIA, at least on the surface, seems to be a totally different country," the Springfield principal continues. "The people in Belgrade, and even the children in the schools, appear to have a great deal more freedom."

He notes that the Belgrade schools were virtually the only ones he saw where students do not wear uniforms, and that the students encompassed a wider variety of ability and interests.

He comments that the Yugoslavs are working to emulate the American system, with 12 years of compulsory schooling for all children, of all ability levels. Nevertheless, La Vanture stresses, the classroom still offers a "teacher-dominated situation" with the instructor doing "our" information and the students taking it in, basically without much questioning.

Yugoslavia's basic problem, he adds, is that the country still lacks the wealth to implement much of its school planning. Even though the goal is 12 years of schooling for all, students in many rural areas are lucky to get more than four or five years.

SUMMING UP, La Vanture says that he "saw nothing to substantiate widely spread claims that the European schools are better than ours."

"The performance level in the top schools in Russia, for example, is very high. It should be, because the students are so carefully selected and placed under so much pressure. Their top students, however, do no better than our top students here in Springfield, and we offer so much more to so many more."

"Our students are much freer, to question and to learn to think independently. They admit that our universities are much better. They have a tremendous drop-out rate at the university level, and this is where their problems of secondary education are made evident."

be a special act of Congress.
Board members accepted the resignation of Mary Ann Ulbrich, district coordinator of home economics, at her own request, to return to full-time teaching duties.

Also accepted were the resignations of two Dayton teachers, John Polli and Mrs. Betty Sale, Patti, mathematics teacher and soccer coach, is leaving the teaching profession. Mrs. Sale's husband is being transferred away from this area.

Dr. Warren Davis, a regional superintendent of schools, was authorized to attend a national foreign policy conference for educators June 19 and 20 in Washington. The board also authorized him to investigate the possibility of the board's taking over complete operation of the regional adult schools for next year. This would involve naming a full-time director for the adult schools, with two-thirds of his salary to come from federal funds.

Board members also approved a request by the Dayton Regional basketball team to park cars in the Dayton lot on the last two days of the National Open golf tournament, June 17 and 18. Profits would go to provide needed auxiliary equipment.

Summer camp review for undecided parents

The sands of time are rapidly running out for parents stranded between the horns of a dilemma on what to do with their children this summer. Camps of all sorts, and for all sorts of children, are closing the gates on their registration for this summer.

Many are already filled to the last upper bunk, but a few still have room for youngsters who need their specialized services.

Camp Alcatraz, for example, can still take several more boys in the younger group, as well as a few more junior teen girls. This camp features a strong sense of discipline and personal obligation. The sight of the whipping post in the quadrangle should encourage parents of youngsters who want to think for themselves, and of themselves, at all costs.

Another likely spot for the youngsters with particularized needs is Camp Gung Ho. This Mecca for the muscle-bound emphasizes intensified sports training on the advanced level for boys with talent or fathers with hidden dreams of glory. The head counselor is Tiger Thompson, formerly known as the king of the bush leagues. The list of the big leaguers he started on the road to glory is a long one. Unfortunately, we can't seem to think of any at the moment.

For the girl who knows just what she wants out of life, Camp Glamour comes highly recommended. This starts with special classes in eye make-up for the sub-sub-deb group and goes on from there. Teenagers can study proper manipulation of a cigarette holder, what to do with a cocktail glass and other niceties. Climax of the summer comes at the camp's own Junior Prom.

Other youngsters, boys and girls, have come back glowing after a summer at Camp On Your Toes, which operates on the theory that everyone can be a ballet dancer. The camp is laid out along streets with quaint names to illustrate the kiddies' goals, such as Entréchat lane and Pas de Deux boulevard. Boys and girls with outstanding talent are also guided in the choice of exotic names to suit their careers.

Many parents have been impressed with the achievements of Camp Survival, which stresses the advantages of a truly primitive way of life. Each child is equipped, at the beginning of the summer, with a bedroll, frying pan and trench knife. Those who complete the eight-week session come home tanned and healthy, well nourished from the bunny rabbits, field mice and other woodland creatures they have snared. The others don't.

Designed to appeal to mothers who can't let go is Camp Just Like Home. Counselors are not permitted to say no to the little campers, no matter what. Each cabin is equipped with a rug to sweep dirt under. Cookies and candy are provided 24 hours a day, and transistor radios are encouraged. Each boy or girl is guaranteed to return home pale, undernourished and spoiled, just as he started.

In Past Tense

ONE YEAR AGO
A bus trip for a visit to three New York museums is planned by the Springfield Association of the Creative Arts. Residents of Troy Village put a halt to fund-raising activities of members of the Junior Baseball League in Springfield, including boys aged nine to 13. The Springfield Public Library's application for a federal construction grant is approved by the State Library Division in Trenton, providing $62,576 for the project. Seventh graders from St. James Catholic School receive instruction from RABBI ISRAEL DRESNER, who explains Judaism and Jewish ritual objects used in the synagogue. HARVEY SCHRAMM, president of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce, announces plans to begin a United Fund theater at the Plaza Shopping Center. The township's WINE CAMP is first place winner in the Bike Safety Week competition sponsored by the Optimist Club.

FIVE YEARS AGO
The Springfield Board of Adjustment unanimously agrees to recommend to the Springfield Township Committee for approval the application of Echo Plaza Inc. requesting a variance for operation of a motion picture theater at the Plaza Shopping Center. Township Commissioner VINCENT BONADEI is named to the board of directors of the Travelers Aid Society of Northern New Jersey. MRS. THELMA SANDMEIER, principal of the Florence Gaudinier School, addresses the League of Women Voters on the topic of juvenile delinquency. Outside renovations of the First Presbyterian Church and grounds are now underway. PAMELA ANN BURLEW is the two-year old "Child of the Week." MRS. THERESA DOHERTY accepts the award for "Citizen of the Year" from Springfield's UNICO chapter. ROBERT GRAY, GERARD W. DEHNER, JOSHUA J. WARD, STEWARD HARTSHORN and PAUL S. Springfield Public Library reports on newest books for local readers

The Springfield Public Library offers the following titles from their list of new books, with comments by the library staff:

PUBLIC WELFARE
"The Poorhouse State," by Richard M. Elman. A powerful and moving book about the American welfare system as seen from the point of view of the consumers—the poor themselves.

GARDENING
"Japanese Garden and Floral Art," by Mrs. Paul Kinkaid. How the Japanese achieve beauty with natural things: plants, miniature trees, flowers, stones and water. Flower arrangements, Japanese gardens and houses are included. Illustrated with excellent photographs.

THE ARTS
"Masterpieces of Sculpture," by Hans Koepf. A magnificent history of sculpture through the ages—from the masterpieces of classical Greece to the classics of modern times. The full-page color plates are superb.

"The Plebeians Rehearse the Uprising," by Gunter Grass. This German tragedy is the author's first full-length play. The plot is supposedly based on factual circumstances in East Germany during the 1940s. Then a documentary report of the actual happenings in East Berlin during the same period is appended.

BIOGRAPHY
"Bird: The Legend of Charlie Parker," by Robert George Reiser. The fabulous story of Charlie Parker, America's greatest jazz artist. A vivid inside picture of the jazz world including some 50 photographs.

"John P. Holland, 1814-1914," by Richard K. Morris. John Holland was the inventor of the modern submarine. Many try-outs and launchings of his trial crafts were in New Jersey waters, from Elizabethport to Perth Amboy. Old photographs are included as well as descriptive specifications and drawings of his submarines.

JUVENILE
"Emily's Voyage," by Emma Smith. This heartwarming story of the voyage of Miss Emily Gurnea—she proves to be a voyage of pure delight, to read again and again.

"The Wedding Procession of the Rag Doll and the Broom Handle and 'Who Was It,'" by Carl Sandburg. This is one of Carl Sandburg's old Rorabaugh stories, made into a charming little picture book by a young artist of unusual originality.

"The Story of World Religions," by Katharine Savage. The story of people and their religions for older children. The foundations of faith are clearly and objectively described in a book that will appeal to everyone who is interested in his fellow man.

Letters to Editor

Letters to the editor must be submitted no later than Monday of the week they are to appear. They should not exceed 250 words in length and should be typed with double spacing (not all in capital letters, please). All letters must be signed. Writer's name will not be withheld if the letter is of political nature. This newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any letter.

LITTLE LEAGUE MANAGERS

The letter appearing in the May 11 issue referring to the Little League was one which was grossly unfair to the majority of Little League managers. The glory of the managers appeared to be the major factor for not playing all boys. The opposite is really true. The parents and spectators take for granted the many hours the manager has spent with his team. All of this time, without recognition, and in many cases, without a thank you, but rather abuse from frustrated ballplaying parents. Glory is nowhere to be found, every winning team. The sense of satisfaction which the manager obtains from actually participating in a community program is his only reward.

The actual reasons for not playing all boys in every game are:

1. Games played in the first few weeks of the season last only 3 1/2-4 innings. During the game, it is difficult to play all 15 boys. However, many managers will start the boys in the next game who did not play in the previous one.
2. Some boys don't like practice or are "behavioral problems." A manager must exercise his judgment concerning whether a boy must play or not, depending on non-game activity.
3. It is not true that every boy who participates in Little League wants to play. Rather, it is a frustrated parent pushing his son. These boys have no interest, are usually very poor ball-players and are very susceptible to serious injury. To explain this to a parent is virtually impossible. Unfortunately, Little League is slowly becoming a parents' outlet for showing off their sons rather than organized ballplaying for young boys interested in the game. I only hope that the managers who are really the unsung heroes will continue to ignore the outside league pressures exerted upon them.

PROFILE--Joel Schwartz

By IIA SMITH
Joel Schwartz is an unusual young man who has done more and seen more in his 27 years than many men twice his age.

Schwartz, the son of Mrs. Clifford Schwartz, 844 Mountain Ave., Springfield, was recently chosen as dramatic director in charge of the Experimental Theater Workshop of the S.A.C. (Springfield Association of Creative Arts), which began its workshop sessions yesterday.

"They wanted someone to come up with new ideas," Schwartz says. So young Schwartz will be presenting his "new ideas" to about 15 people (of all age groups), for six weeks at two hours a week.

"We're meeting on Wednesday nights at the Recreation Building here in Springfield," he says. "I'm anxious to look at the forms of the 20th century theater with as much revelation as we can, of what's going on now. We will look into 'The Happening,' the new rage in theaters today, and we will consider whether it's good theater or bad theater. We'll use it pretty much as a point of departure for the rest of the course," Schwartz explains.

HE SAYS THE GROUP "will probably first look at the traditional forms of theater and style, and what constitute the four different styles: tragedy, comedy, melodrama and farce."

Schwartz goes on to describe the various experiments. "We will do brief scenes from 'Bockett'—try them in each of the four styles, then go into what are probably two of the most important movements in the theater: 'The Theater of Alienation (Brecht's idea)' and 'The Theater of Cruelty (originated by a Frenchman named Artaud, whose style, most recently was played up in Peter Brook's production of 'Marat-Sade'). Everybody seems interested in that," he says.

Actually that is just the beginning, according to Schwartz. He also indicates that the group will then go into a week on "sound in the theater," a week on movement, and a new acting approach developed by a group in Cambridge, Mass.

"Then we will try to put together the different elements and work on a new style of theater which involves all the different aspects which we will have covered.

"Finally, we'll see how this kind of theater differs from all the other styles and 'The Happening,' and 'grain' Schwartz. "We have about 12 hours essentially in which to accomplish all of this."

Schwartz, who has been writing plays and who is employed as assistant editor of text books for Prentice-Hall in Englewood Cliffs, was born in Newark. He was graduated from Weequahic High School and from Harvard College in June, 1966, where he received a bachelor of arts degree in Chinese language and history.

Why Chinese? "I've had a philosophical inclination in that direction for years," says Schwartz. "It was a language I couldn't teach myself."

AT HARVARD, Schwartz had seven plays produced. "Eventually," he says, "I want to be a professional playwright."

Schwartz says he wrote one long and one short comedy. "and the rest were serious plays." He directed 10 productions at Harvard, six of them were my plays, plus two operas, 'The Glass Menagerie' and a comedy by Lorca.

He received an award from Harvard upon graduation—the David M. Ford prize for outstanding creative contribution in the senior class. Following his graduation, Schwartz worked as an attendant in a mental hospital in Brookline, Mass. ("I wanted involving work—that was the reason"). Two summers ago he left for Europe. He hitch-hiked through France, Italy (then across to Greece, I had fallen in love with the island of Greece and I knew I had to come back).

He did—last September. "I lived in Wales for about three months and studied Welsh. I went through France, Germany, Yugoslavia, then on to Greece."

"I got a house on the island of Santorini, 60 miles north of Crete. I also hitch-hiked through Turkey, Turkish incidentally," muses Schwartz. "It's the most difficult language I ever came across. But I did get fluent in Greek, which made me feel pretty good."

WHEN SCHWARTZ RETURNED to America in January, he didn't even have time to unpack his bags, when he—"flew to San Francisco for a few weeks. I had a couple of friends out there. I also conversed with a director friend of mine."

When Schwartz returned from California, he got a job at Prentice-Hall.

He recently received a fellowship to spend the next year at the University of Minnesota "with a stipulation that I must write a full length play that they will produce at the end of the year."

"Their department is affiliated with Tyrone Guthrie Theater," he says.

Schwartz says he has an agent in New York who handles all of his writing. "It's just a matter of how much writing I do and in finding a producer for my plays."

Schwartz' family (his sister, Molly, 13, attends Florence Gaudinier School) moved to Springfield about a year ago.

How do his parents feel about his vegetable varied life? "My parents," Schwartz says proudly, "really have been great about the whole thing. They've given me a free hand in everything, provided I earn my keep along the way."

PARK PARTNERS
The federal government has become a full partner with state and local governments here in New Jersey, in recent years, in establishing and developing parks and recreation areas.

This was brought home to me very forcefully as I prepared an address for delivery this past weekend at a beautification conference sponsored by the Bergen County Board of Freeholders and Park Commission.

Symbolically, the conference was held in Darlington County Park in Mahwah. Some of the money for the establishment of Darlington County Park was provided by the Federal Open Space program, which I authored in 1963.

And Darlington County Park is only one of three parks in Bergen County which received assistance from the Open Space program.

New Jersey is the fifth smallest state in area, but it ranks third among the 50 states in the utilization of the Federal Open Space Program, behind California and Illinois.

Some $11,250,000 has been committed to New Jersey. This is almost 10 percent of the grants awarded nationwide.

Residents staff blood bank unit for Red Cross

Springfield Red Cross Blood Program volunteers staffed the May 15 visit of the bloodmobile at the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Elizabeth for the Eastern Union County Blood Bank.

Mrs. Edward P. Kaye, captain for the day, credited 14 Springfield volunteers with a total of 56 hours service. Those contributing time were: Mrs. Joseph Bender, Mrs. Stanley Plytynski, Mrs. Larry Roland, Mrs. George Gleim, Mrs. Harry Quinzel, Mrs. F. J. Holler, Mrs. George Williamson, Mrs. W. M. Clarke, Mrs. Lewis Gash, Mrs. John Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Walter, and Nelson Boudreau. Two registered nurses donating a total of eight hours were Mrs. David Feldman and Patricia Green.

Anyone in this area who wishes to replace blood or make a donation for future needs may use the services offered by the Red Cross Eastern Union County Blood Bank on the second Monday of each month at the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Elizabeth. The American Red Cross, Springfield Chapter, will supply further information.

Springfield B'nai B'rith Men's Lodge will install new officers for the coming year at special ceremonies on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at Temple Beth Ahim.

Heading the list of officers and trustees to be installed is Louis Spiegel, the incoming president. Spiegel, who resides at 69 Garden oval with his wife Bernice and daughters, Marcia, Carol and Sherry, has been active in lodge functions for several years. He has served as head of the fund raising, programming and membership committees.

Other officers to be installed at the ceremonies include Wallace Callen, first vice-president; Sam Miller, second vice-president; Jack Sobel, third vice-president; Jerry Haimowitz, financial secretary; Arthur Miniman, recording secretary; Marvin Simson, treasurer; Arthur Kesselhaus, monitor.

Trustees to be installed include Rudolph Bamberger, Lester Elias, Stanley Grossman, Stanley Kashi, Jack Kaplan, Irving Marlorasky, Irving Merkin, Sydney Miller, Nathan Ostroff, Dr. Barney Spielholz, Robert T. Weiteck, Herbert Weiss and Sol White.

Past President Sidney Miller will act as chairman of the program. The discharge and installation of the officers and trustees will be conducted by Irving Chvar, third vice-president of the Northern New Jersey Council.

Utility anticipates budget in millions

More than $72 million will be spent by Jersey Central Power & Light Company-New Jersey Power & Light Company for new and expanded power facilities this year, it was announced recently by William H. McElwain, president of the companies.

On a nationwide level, the investor-owned electric utilities will spend a record $5.5 billion in 1967, bringing their total investment in electric plant and equipment to around $20 billion by the end of the year.

JCP&NJP's 1967 budget reflects the substantial growth of the 43 per cent of the state served by the two utilities.

Public Service to bypass river in cooling operation

Public Service Electric and Gas Company will not use Delaware River water for cooling purposes at its proposed Burlington Nuclear Generating Station, the company announced this week.

Plans had called for the use of 1,000,000 gallons of water a minute at the station. The water was to be pumped from the river to the giant plant's turbine unit, where it would be used to condense steam before returning to the river.

Although the water does not come in contact with the plant's nuclear reactor and is therefore free of all radioactive material, the rise in temperature of the water was a matter of concern to the Delaware River Basin Commission. It was estimated that river temperatures would rise two to nine degrees at the plant site, depending on river flow and weather conditions. Representatives of the commission and Public Service had studies planned to measure the effect of the warmer water on fish and plant life in the river.

The Delaware River Basin Commission announced guidelines on March 2 for cleaning up the river, among which were limitations on water temperature.

To meet these standards, Public Service has agreed to construct cooling towers at the Burlington site, which is 11 miles down-river from Trenton.

Each of the two towers needed for the 993,000-kilowatt generating station will rise 410 feet in the air and measure 420 feet in diameter at the base.

The towers, which will look like large top hats, will be built on reinforced concrete. They will act as vertical wind tunnels, cooling the warm water as it cascades over splash bars to a basin below. After it is cooled, the water is re-circulated to the turbine unit in a closed system, never coming in contact with the Delaware River. Cost of the towers is approximately $10 million.

Four similar towers have been constructed at the Keystone Generating Station in western Pennsylvania, a project owned by seven utilities, including Public Service.

Public Service applied to the Atomic Energy Commission on Dec. 13, 1966, to construct the $125-million Burlington Nuclear Generating Station on a 140-acre site which straddles the Burlington Township-Burlington City boundary. The Atomic Energy Commission is now studying the application and is expected to set a public hearing on the matter sometime this fall.

On April 17, Watson F. Tait Jr., chairman of the board, revealed that the company was planning a second nuclear unit also with a 993,000-kilowatt capacity, for operation in 1974. No final decision has been made on the location of the second unit.

A FEMININE LOOK

At Africa 1967

(Commentary on a National Newspaper Association Study Mission to eight African countries south of the Sahara.)

By TRUDINA HOWARD

Sixth In A Series
SENEGAL

The little French-speaking country of Senegal is in big trouble.

Nobody wants a lot of peanuts and peanuts is what Senegal is big in.

Even France, the largest buyer of the peanuts, appears to be slackening its intake and the 900,000 tons of peanuts-in-shell which French oil factories reportedly export from Senegal, may dwindle.

According to Foreign Minister Doudou Thiam, economic development is Senegal's main problem—and it would seem that the peanuts are not helping as much as they should.

The country is in need of a second crop or a second industry, and in a land that is mostly dry with only one lush agricultural area and only one major industrial area (80 per cent of industry is around Dakar, the capital,) that is a big problem.

Fisheries, with tuna the lead item, are favored as the next best possibility if the peanuts become non-sellable, and there is high hope for oil in the coastal waters north of Dakar.

Corn and rice growing, and some mango area in the south, but this is mainly to support the country itself so it will not need to import these products and pay the high prices and transportation costs of imports. A ship from Canton, China, for instance, was in the fine harbor at Dakar when our NNA group was there and it was loaded with rice for the Senegalese. This does not mean that Senegal is communistic. The country is pro-western but trades with various communist nations for some of its needs.

Several new industries, such as furniture making, shoe making and weaving—on imported cotton predominantly—have been started but are not important yet. Besides the ground nuts or peanuts, the raw materials of Senegal also include rubber, skin for shoes, rums, cattle, minerals, stone and copper, but again, not in enough quantity to be of importance.

And so Senegal is worrying.

WE FLEW INTO THE CAPITAL CITY of this worrying nation one day last January on the first stop of our African journey. We came in one fell swoop so to speak, for we flew non-stop out of New York, taking only six and a half hours to fly from 40-degree U.S. to 85-degree Africa. We stayed at the N'Gor Hotel which is only five minutes from the airport and directly on the ocean, with a lovely beach, balcony, beautiful view, soft breezes, good weather, good food—and the peanuts did not bother us a bit.

But in the subsequent days, in looking about, they began to Dakar seemed to have changed. Four years previous it had looked just a little crispier, a little more vital. This time there seemed to be a dejected air about the place and the people. Perhaps it was just my imagination, but it seemed too still. Nevertheless, Dakar is a pleasant place to be in at the end of January and Senegal still has the same president it had four years ago and not many African states can say that.

SENEGAL IS A COUNTRY which lies on the most western tip of Africa right on the center edge of the "hump" making it, geographically, the closest African nation to the U.S. Here the Atlantic Ocean is blue and tranquil with many lagoons on the coastline. Here a January day can be 85 to 95 degrees and a June or July day can be even hotter.

It is a country where the president, Leopold Senghor, states that he hopes to fashion it, at least politically, after the U.S., and which claims to be one of the most stable of the French-African nations.

The country is about the size of South Dakota and is mainly desert type land. Its population is about three million of which about 47,000 are white, and 40,000 of which white folk live in Dakar. The total population of Dakar is 525,000. Most of the Africans are of the Toucouleur, Serer or Wolof peoples. The Wolofs are the darkest, the most handsome and the most in number. The Serers are lighter and the Toucouleurs the lightest. Yet Senegal is a country where there is no racial or religious discrimination problem. The president himself is an African, a Catholic, and is married to a European. Within his own family there are Catholics, Protestants and Moslems. "We really all speak to one God," he said.

In fact, the Senegalese say the only discrimination is at the economic level. A man earns what he is worth regardless of his color. Depending on how educated, how clever and how good a position he attains, will determine his house and his activities, not his color. The best street in Dakar, for instance, where the American Ambassador has his residence and which overlooks the city, has both white and black people living side by side.

SENEGAL GAINED ITS INDEPENDENCE in September of 1960 after being French-owned since 1856. Before that, European penetration dates from the mid-fifteenth century with the arrival of the Portuguese, then the Dutch, English, and lastly, the French. In the city of Dakar the French influence lingers in the lovely French colonial style buildings, and there is a "shop" which believe it or not, is a branch of the Galleries Lafayette, a large department store in Paris! The "suburban" store? Four years ago I bought a sun dress there for 64 francs, 64 U.S. Francs that is, which is "Communaute Financiere Africaine" Francs, which are the francs that the French-African nations use in common, and I still have it. The dress that is.

The look of the city is nice. It is a white city. The great majority of the buildings are painted white and besides the French style buildings there are also a goodly number of modern ones and the great new University of Dakar, founded in 1957. There is also the Medina or native quarter. Our hotel, which was modern style, was not in the city proper but 10 miles outside it on the fringes of the airport. Surprisingly the airport did not disturb us even though it was a jetport.

THIS AIRPORT ALONG WITH ITS NEARBY two hills, was famous in World War II and a welcome sight to many a flyer. The hills which are rather feminine in outline were given an endearing name by the pilots, for when they saw their voluptuous outline against the sky, they not only were cheered, but knew they were safely near a friendly airport. So the two hills have a very special spot in the hearts of many men, even outside of Africa.

OKEFENOKEE MEANS
Okefenokee Swamp, a huge mass of cypress and water in southwest Georgia, is an Indian name meaning "Land of the trembling earth."

ONE OF THE WAYS to sell the prime product of Senegal and the only way to carry a baby or a bundle in Senegal. A young woman of Senegal offers bags of peanuts to our Study Mission group with Maurice Alice of Flemington, a fellow-traveler, looking on. On her head is an extra supply of the peanuts, and on her back, the baby holder.

SPRINGFIELD REALTOR WEEK Chairman Georgia McMullen receives first litter bag container from Howard M. Raymond Jr., Realtor Week chairman for the Board of Realtors of the Oranges and Maplewood, Livingston, Millburn, Short Hills and Springfield. Realtors will distribute litter bags through local banks and stores as part of their annual observance next week.

Realtors seek cleaner towns through litter bag distribution

In conjunction with the annual Realtor Week observance beginning Monday, the 88 offices making up the Board of Realtors of the Oranges and Maplewood, Livingston, Millburn, Short Hills and Springfield are initiating a litter bag distribution.

The Realtor Week chairman, Howard M. Raymond Jr., of Maplewood, said, "We feel that it is appropriate for our profession to participate in such a project. The 'More Beautiful America' effort advocated by President and Mrs. Johnson has to start with the individual neighborhood. Realtors, being so aware of property values, realize full well the importance of a neighborhood's appearance. Nothing detracts more than the accumulation of litter. The condition of many of our streets and sidewalks is a disgrace, not only in the cities but in suburban towns as well.

"Realtors are proud of their communities," Raymond continued. "By focusing the public's attention to this problem we can give some measure of service to the community. Realtors, too, are conscious of local taxes. The cost of keeping our streets clean is fantastic and is paid with our precious tax dollars. If only a portion of this money could be saved or put to a more useful purpose, it would be a contribution."

The board will distribute 25,000 litter bags within the eight communities it serves. The bags will be available in banks, stores and other public places.

NEIGHBORS WANT YOUR used items... Tell us what you have. We'll pay a fair price. Call 686-7700.

The week-long observance will be capped with the Realtors' Week luncheon on Wednesday at the Hotel Suburban, East Orange, Nicholas Friday, president of the New Jersey Association of Real Estate Boards, will be guest of honor.

Methodists to buy new parsonage on Country Club lane

Members of Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church, Main st., at Academy green, voted on May 10 to purchase a new parsonage at 58 Country Club lane, Springfield, and to use the present parsonage at 46 Main st., for temporary Christian education facilities.

The meeting conducted by the Rev. George Watt Jr., superintendent of the southern district of the Northern New Jersey Methodist Conference, was attended by 150 members and friends of the congregation.

Plans call for the location of a pastor's office and church office on the first floor of the present Christian education building, the location of the nursery and the first seventh grades in the present parsonage, and the use of the Sunday Room for the adult Bible Class. The senior High Youth will meet in the church office, and the eighth grade on the third floor of the Christian education building.

Friedrich Kleine, Eugene Kieffer, Paul Miller, Mrs. John Rippe and Mrs. James Dewart were appointed to the parsonage committee to select needed furnishings, and the board of trustees was empowered by the congregation to purchase the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tranchand were elected to the board of stewards by the quarterly conference which met briefly following the church conference.

Sandmeier School has music festival by 4th, 5th grades

The fourth and fifth grade classes in the Thelma Sandmeier School combined to present a music festival last Monday in the Sandmeier School auditorium.

The Sandmeier orchestra under the direction of John Stelski opened the program with a medley of familiar marches. The Glee Club sang a group of folk songs especially for the kindergarten and first grade children. Mrs. Dorothy Stallworth, vocal music teacher, led the Glee Club in an arrangement of "East Side, West Side" and "In the Good Old Summertime."

One of the features of the afternoon's show was a song and dance number, "Thoroughly Modern Millie," performed by an octet and backed up by the Glee Club. Mardi Cooney, Debbie Jo Muhl, Debbie Weiss, Karen Blaser, Janice Mikulicz, Randi Rotwein, Ina Schoch and Susan Hager were the performers. While the Glee Club sang, Abby Sarokin danced to "Walking Happy." Abby also was the choreographer for the number.

A medley of "Soon It's Going to Rain," "Cabaret," "Georgy Girl" and "On a Clear Day" rounded out the glee club part of the festival.

The orchestra played several favorites including "Grandfather's Clock," "Shorty's Bred" and "Deep River." Michael Fanelli received a big hand from the audience for his accordion solo. "Themes from the Second Hungarian Rhapsody." The other soloists were equally well received. Lorraine Walumuh played "Sunrise, Sunset," Abby Scanger performed "Moon River," and Esther Salitz played "Tarantella" on the piano. Alan Getz's clarinet solo, "Fascination," received a good round of applause.

The fifth graders took over the last part of the music program. After singing "I Like It Here," the children sang a group of songs from the Old World—from some of the countries whose settlers have helped build our country. Czechoslovakia, Italy, Spain, Denmark, England, France and Germany were represented by familiar songs.

Members of the fourth grade classes joined the fifth graders for the finale: the singing of "Let There Be Peace on Earth" and "One World."

Week set aside to honor realtors

Next Week, real estate boards throughout the country will join in the observance of "Realtor Week." Realtors, who are members of a local Board of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, have pointed out that their status is a formal matter and differentiate them legally from "real estate agents" and "real estate brokers."

real estate board may identify himself as a realtor, which is a registered designation. Most realtors were at one time a broker or an agent whose record has been reviewed by a board in considering the applicant for membership.

Those associates who are accepted into membership on a board of realtors have undergone careful investigation to assure that they have the accepted qualifications personally and professionally.

A realtor must also have an established place of business and have fulfilled certain time requirements.

Concert by Union Symphony to be recorded for broadcast

The Union Symphony Orchestra's final concert of this season, to be presented at 8:30 p.m. next Thursday at Connecticut Farms School, will be recorded and broadcast over the Seton Hall University radio station a week later.

The broadcast will be heard on "International Concert Hall" on station WSOU from 9 to 11 p.m. June 1. Alfred W. D'Allesio is in charge of technical arrangements, assisted by Ben Link and Richard J. Kozlop, station engineers.

Stephen Wolosonovich will be soloist in the concert in Max Bruch's Concerto for Violin and Orchestra.

The 60-piece orchestra conducted by Leo Rindler also will play the "Simple Symphony" by Benjamin Britten, selections from Lerner and Lowe's "My Fair Lady" arranged by Robert Russell Bennett, the "Blue Danube Waltz" by Johann Strauss and the "Ritual Fire Dance" by Manuel de Falla.

Tickets to the concert are available free of charge by calling Rindler at 686-8082 or Sherman Parr at 686-9771.

Firm begins using computer in testing

A test chamber to be programmed and operated entirely by a computer has recently been completed by Tenney Engineering, Inc., stockholders were told at the annual meeting last week. Monroe Seligman, president of the color-based engineers and manufacturers of environmental test equipment, said, "Tenney is proud to have been a pioneer in this development, which is one of the rewards of our modernization and expansion program."

"Computerization, which is certain to expand, will permit far more detailed and thorough testing programs, under closer supervision, than are now possible," he said.

"The applications of computerization in the field of testing are virtually unlimited."

Although he declined to make a specific projection, Seligman said he believed the outlook for 1967 is "favorable."

U.N. Association plans annual state conference

The New Jersey United Nations Association of the U.S.A. will hold its annual state conference Saturday, starting at 10:15 a.m., at Seton Hall University in South Orange.

The luncheon speaker will be Lord Caradon, United Kingdom permanent representative to the United Nations, whose topic will be "Dangers and Hopes of the United Nations."

TV TOPICS: No one can say Pat Hingle doesn't get along with his backstage crew. He revealed to co-star Joanne Deu while filming a recent Chrysler Theatre episode that he did his initial acting at the U. of Texas where he met his wife—his first stage manager. . . Bradford Dillman, who's just completed an NBC-TV feature film about LSD and the "hippy-cod" generation, is scheduled to appear on a TV special. . . Edie Adams is often asked by reporters why she doesn't do more TV guest spots. "I'd like to do live TV," says Edie, "but they just aren't doing much anymore. Filming or taping a show takes all the excitement out of it." . . Bobby Vinton says that there are so many secret agent shows on TV that NBC's peacock is now wearing a trench coat. . . Barry Nelson has signed on for another year in the Broadway hit, "Cactus Flower," at a salary like plus the thing he fought hardest to get—an escape clause for a TV series, unprecedented for producer David Merrick to grant.

TELEBRITIES: Carol Lawrence nearly tore up the Goldwyn Studios when she tried her hand at driving a two-ton truck for a TV play. She got through the four gears, but couldn't make the truck turn left. "I'm spalled by power steering," said Carol. To which the transportation man replied, "Let's change the script and make it a jeep!" . . . As soon as she completes the taping of her upcoming CBS-TV special, Barbara Streisand packs up for Hollywood and the movie version of "Funny Girl." . . Bobby Morse told Murray Close that he "seems to have" the chief expert of Washington, D.C. is money. . . Houston's spectacular Astrodome may be the setting for a big-budget TV series.

Nulton elected new chairman of board at Five Points YMCA annual meeting

Edmund W. Nulton, of 394 Putnam rd., Union, was elected chairman of the Board of Managers of the Five Points YMCA last week at the annual meeting in the Four Seasons Restaurant, Union.

Clark A. Waage of Kentworth was named vice-chairman and Mrs. Paula McElroy of 649 Lehigh ave., Union, was elected recording secretary.

Nulton succeeds Marco DiGiovanni, who will continue as a member of the Board of Managers. Re-elected to the board were Robert Thwaites and Anthony Richel of Kentworth and Mrs. Paula McElroy of Union and new members elected were Dr. Warrington Lee of Roselle Park and Warren C. Rorden of Union.

Howard B. Merrick, newly appointed YMCA executive director, and Mrs. Merrick were introduced by Waage, the dinner chairman. Nulton reported that planning has begun for a new YMCA facility and that membership now stands at nearly 700. He thanked the Union Rotary Club for its assistance in the special YMCA physical education program for retarded children and the local newspaper for its assistance in calling attention to YMCA activities.

The Five Points Branch annual meeting was held in conjunction with the 67th annual meeting of the YMCA of Eastern Union County, elected to office in the parent organization were Mahlon M. Scott, president; Henry M. Waitz Jr. and William P. Hourihan, vice-presidents; Charles W. Marlow, recording secretary; John S. Anderson, treasurer; and Albert G. Davis, assistant treasurer.

The YMCA of Eastern Union County Board of Directors approved the creation of a "Central Branch" YMCA to center its activities in the Association's building on Madison ave. In Elizabeth, Carroll A. Baden was named chairman pro-tem and Thomas Sharkey, secretary pro-tem of the newly established branch. Jerry H. Croushore has been appointed executive director of the Central Branch with Marvius T. Easton, general executive director of the Association.

Senator to be speaker at organization meeting

Seymour Goldberg of Linden, president of the Association of Conservative Synagogue Presidents in North Jersey, announced that State Sen. Matthew Feldman of Teaneck will address the organization at its meeting next Thursday at the Short Hills Caterers, Millburn.

Sen. Feldman is chairman of the education committee of the State Senate, and is former president of the Jewish Community Center in Teaneck. His topic will be "The Synagogue President and the Community." Henry N. Rappaport of Scarsdale, N.Y., national president of the organization, will attend the meeting, Goldberg announced.

Trailside to show film

"New England and New York" a travelogue will be presented by George Baird of Cranford at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, on Sunday at 3 p.m.

The film takes the viewer from the State of Maine through Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, and the Long Island area of New York ending with a tour around the island of Manhattan.

The film was made by Baird and will be narrated by him. On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 25, at 4 p.m. each day, Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of Trailside, will present one-half hour of nature talks for children.

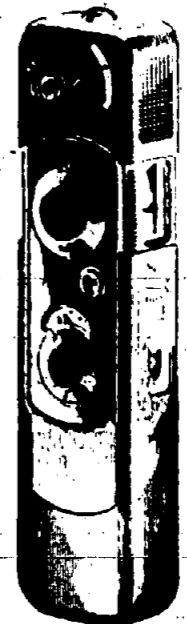

The topic to be discussed during the four days is "European and Australian Mammals," the talks will be illustrated with color slides and admission is free.

The Trailside Nature and Science Center is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 1 to 5 p.m. and on Saturdays, Sundays, and Holidays from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to visit the Nature Center, tour the live-animal area, view the thousands of indoor exhibits and participate in the scheduled programs.

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

By Mabel G. Stele, County Home Economist

MAKE LEARNING AN ADVENTURE

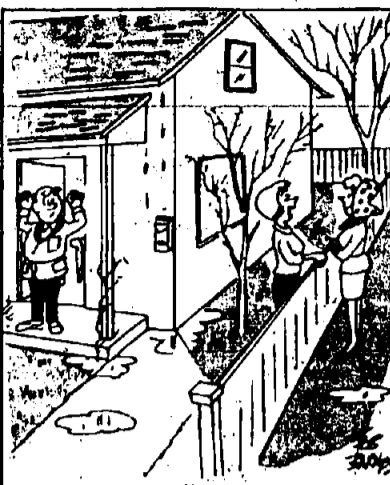

"Look Mommie, see what I've picked for you!" says Jane, three years old, as she holds up a big yellow daisy with leaves and roots. "If you know that you have no daisies, that were picked from a neighbor's garden, what do you do? Do you immediately ask—'Where did you pick that? Don't you remember, I've told you not to pick other people's flowers?' Or, do you say, 'My isn't that a pretty flower. Did someone pick it for you?'"

Your child's spirit of adventure and exploration, held in check all winter, are bound to be awakened by the warm sunny days of May. Encourage curiosity but teach your child respect for other people's property through taking advantage of such incidents.

Graduation speaker

Ernest A. Gross, former United States ambassador to the United Nations, will deliver the commencement address at Rider College's 102nd graduation exercises on Sunday, June 4, in Alumni Gymnasium. There will be 530 students receiving degrees during the ceremonies.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"I really look forward to this time of year when the old sap begins to stir."

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Sheelon, County Home Economist

To prepare the torte start with a prepackaged pudding and pie filling mix. Add fresh lemon rind and juice to give a delicate and pleasing spring-like air. Two cups of fresh whole milk, milk that is so important to every member of the family, makes the dessert nutritious and creamy rich.

When foods are delicious and good for you as well — how can you go wrong? Now that spring is in the air, let it be on your dessert table as well. It might become such a family favorite that you will be serving it throughout the year.

LEMON CREME TORTE

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 package (3 1/4 oz.) vanilla pudding mix (not instant)
- 2 cups milk
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
- 1 cup (1/2 pt.) whipping cream, whipped
- 2 pgs. (3 oz. each) lady fingers, split in half

Whipped cream for garnish. Line 9 by 5 by 3 inch loaf pan with heavy waxed paper. Soften gelatin in cold water. Prepare pudding mix according to package directions using two cups milk. Add gelatin; stir until dissolved. Stir in lemon juice and rind. Cool until mixture begins to set. Fold whipped cream into pudding mixture. Spread one half of pudding evenly over bottom of pan. Stand lady fingers upright in pudding around edge of pan. Cover pudding with half of the remaining lady fingers; repeat. Chill until firm. Turn out serving dish. Slice and serve with additional whipped cream, lemon patties and mint. Makes six to eight servings.

Candidates pledge to oppose new tolls on state Parkway

Assemblyman Frank X. McDermott of Westfield, Matthew J. Kinaldo of Union and Nicholas S. LaCorte of Elizabeth this week pledged their determination "to lead the fight against the imposition of tolls on the Garden State Parkway's presently free sections." The three Republican candidates for State Senate said they planned to spearhead a drive for the repeal of legislation that has permitted this sword of Damocles to hang over the head of every Union County motorist.

McDermott, Kinaldo and LaCorte said they were "unequivocally and unalterably opposed to the imposition of tolls on the presently free sections of the Parkway." McDermott noted that he had moved last week to remove from an Assembly committee, a bill that would require the New Jersey Highway Authority to leave toll-free any road it should acquire that was constructed with federal funds.

It was defeated by a 26-21 vote, and all 26 votes against McDermott's motion were cast by Democrats, the Assemblyman charged. Commenting on his running mate's efforts, Kinaldo said McDermott was thwarted by a rubber-stamp group of legislators who acted in the interests of party bosses, not in the interest of the people. When we are elected this fall, we will represent the people of Union County, not the Democratic bosses.

LaCorte called the Parkway toll issue "a classic example of the Democratic legislature's willingness to be manipulated by the political power brokers in their party hierarchy. The voters of Union County will remember in November which party is trying to put the toll-gate in front of their cars. And they will vote Republican because it's the only way to halt this great coin-grab conceived by Gov. Hughes and his fellow bosses."

Action continues, despite bad weather, on St. James Little League diamonds

Despite the bad weather, St. James Little League action has been vigorous and hard-fought, with excellent pitching and some long-range hitting.

Major League action shows Morris Motors and Springfield House tied for the lead. Morris Motors defeated Gaylin Buick, 3 to 1, and First State Bank, 7 to 4.

Morris Motors met last year's winners, Springfield House also with a current 2-0 record in what was the game of the week. In a tight, six-inning pitchers' duel, both teams remained deadlocked at 0-0.

Joe Rapunzo of Morris Motors pitched no-hit ball, striking out 10. His performance was saved in the sixth inning by first baseman Larry Kammen, who, with one out and men on first and second, snared a line drive and made an unassisted double play. Phil Lambert of Springfield House allowed five hits and struck out 12 as he shut out Morris Motors to maintain the pace.

Morris Motors appears to be rejuvenated this year with a few new players such as Bill Huntley, last year's Minor League MVP, who has gotten four hits for seven at-bats; one was a triple which won the first game.

In the top fielding play, an unassisted double play at first base, Ron Zessor started behind the plate.

Zarello was on the mound as John's Caterers whipped Kaiser Electric 2-1. The game ended with a triple play. Zarello pitched to Poles, all with grand slam home runs. Wroblewski also had a homer. John Asilo and Zarello each had three hits.

Joe Nadello smashed a grand slam homer to spark Unico to a 20-3 triumph over Spring Enterprises. Joe Corrigan started on the mound for Unico, striking out five men. Nadello took over in the fourth and struck out the side. Ricky Hector was the Unico catcher. Russell Corcoran and Nevin Scierwall pitched for Spring, with Mike Palmer behind the plate.

John's Caterers suffered its first loss of the season, 6-4, at the hands of Brunner. Frank Zarello homered in a losing cause.

The Knights of Columbus remained undefeated by posting a 2-0 victory over Kaiser Electric. The combined pitching of Mike Kocur and Brian Mullin was the highlight of the game. In the bottom of the fourth inning, Kocur tired and was relieved by Mullin with the bases loaded and no outs. He retired three men in a row on strikes. Bob Hydock struck out 11 batters and contributed a base hit for Kaiser Electric.

Students honored for piano audition

Gold and silver certificates were awarded to the following piano students of Hazel Hoerny of Union, in the annual N.J. Music Educators' Auditions which were held recently at Clinton Place Junior High School in Newark.

They were Peter Hambarak, Trudy Bordoff, Martha Lemgold, Debra Fraser, Phyllis Ferro, Stephen Hehl, Owen Lomakin, Barbara Menkelson, Diane Mihalke, Donald Nuzio, Neal Roden, Roberta Rosenthal, Peter Russell, Lori Schwartz, Laurel Sobin, Joanne Starniak, Lucretia Stettin, Robert Walters, Nancy Welter, and Maria and Ellen Yannell.

Trudy Bordoff and Peter Hambarak received gold certificates for the fourth successive year. Donald Nuzio and Lucretia Stettin were awarded gold pins for three successive years of excellent performance. Phyllis Ferro and Trudy Bordoff will perform in the last M.F.A. student recital of the season to be held on Sunday, May 28, at the Maplewood Womens Club.

MOON TRIP TIME
ST. LOUIS (PUI) — A McDonnell Company spokesman says it'll take a manned spaceship 63 days, 36 hours and 36 minutes for a trip to the moon, 238,000 miles distant. McDonnell was prime contractor for the Mercury and Gemini space capsules.

Hospitals really hurt

CHICAGO (UPI) — The hospital bill continues to hurt the pocketbook — and the extent of the pain's bound to increase, according to statistics from the American Hospital Association. Higher wages and more personnel have resulted in an increase of $5.31 in total hospital expense per patient day in January, 1967, compared to the same month a year ago. In January of 1966 a hospital's cost of caring for a patient for one day was $48.55; this year the cost went up to $50.86.

Kearny Marians name candidates

At a recent board meeting of the Marians (a group of Catholic women employed by Western Electric Co.), Miss Dora Sodomani, nominating chairman, assisted by Miss Candy LaManna of Union among other officers, announced the group's slate of nominees. Among the nominees was Miss Sodomani as candidate for president.

The Marians will sponsor a dance for teenage girls of St. Mary's Residence, May 26 at 8 p.m. in the recreation room of the residence. A pizza party will be held earlier in the evening for the younger children.

Sister heretic of the Order of Charity, advisor to the Remembrance Committee, has announced that this year's high school graduation will take place June 15 and some of the girls will be in need of temporary homes after graduation.

Miss Elise D. Johnson of Westfield is president of the Marians; Sister Mary Celine is in charge of the Residence and the Rev. Edward J. McHugh is the moderator.

Alumni Club sets dance

The Catholic Alumni Club of North Jersey will hold a cocktail dance tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at the Suburban, Route 4 Eastbound, Paramus. All Catholic men and women who are single and college graduates are invited. Miss Mary Jane Parrish, 945 Savin Place, Union, is co-chairlady.

present, Mrs. Elizabeth Swift, who will be 91 in August, and a boutonniere went to William Russell Kline who is 87. Acknowledgements went to Clement Johnson who has resided in Union for 75 years and to Mrs. Grace Williams who has 28 descendants.

The program was opened with a moment of silent prayer and then a welcome by the Rev. Russell C. Block, associate pastor of the church.

The topic, "The Future of the Senior Citizens through the Multi-Service Center," was presented by Dr. Harry A. Lawrence Jr., chairman; the Rev. Elmer Williams, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Norma Frank, corresponding secretary, of the Union Township Action Organization, Inc.

Mrs. Frank reviewed the lecture series and commented that sufficient interest has been shown to continue the informative discussions. Everyone signed a special guest book as well as "A Cheery Hello" card to Mayor Bierbaum.

Special certificates of appreciation were presented to Connecticut Farms Presbyterian Church, First Baptist Church, Mrs. Esther Egbert and Mrs. Pauline Schaefermann. Mrs. Frank stated that the certificates are an expression of thanks on behalf of Senior Citizens for participation and interest in the community effort to meet the needs of Senior Citizens.

Additional certificates will be awarded during the month.

33 pupils receive diplomas June 16 at Lourdes School

Graduation ceremonies for the eighth grade students in Our Lady of Lourdes School, Mountaintide, will be held June 16, the principal, Sister Gertrude Agnes, announced this week. The name of the graduation speaker will be announced shortly.

The traditional Communion breakfast for the graduates will be served on June 15 following the 9 a.m. Mass in the church on Central ave.

The mothers of the pupils cooked and served a spaghetti dinner to the 33 graduates last Thursday. The spaghetti dinner was established as a tradition last year when Our Lady of Lourdes graduated its first class.

Sister Gertrude Agnes, who has been principal of the local parochial school since it opened in 1961, will be leaving Our Lady of Lourdes at the end of this school year for a new assignment.

In announcing the plans for the graduation ceremony, Sister Gertrude Agnes also reported that the 20 members of the graduating class who took the competitive examinations for entrance into Catholic secondary schools qualified for admittance.

Ten of the students, six girls and four boys, have been accepted at Union Catholic High School, Scotch Plains. Four girls will attend Mount St. Mary's Academy, Plainfield and four boys will enroll in St. Benedict's Preparatory, Newark. Two of the boys won full four-year scholarships to Regis High School, New York City, an all-scholarship preparatory school operated by the Jesuit priests.

The 13 other members of the class did not take the examination since they plan to attend Governor-Livingston Regional High School.

NEW OFFICERS of the Springfield Woman's Club are, from left, seated, Mrs. William Peacock, second vice-president; Mrs. William W. Anderson, president; Mrs. Fred Mercurio, first vice-president; standing, Mrs. C. V. Mentzer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Henry S. Wright, treasurer; Mrs. Frank E. McCourt, third vice-president; Mrs. Herbert O. Myhrberg, recording secretary.

Walton PTA plans elections Tuesday

Elections and installation of new officers will be held at the final meeting of the year of the Edward V. Walton School PTA, Springfield. The meeting will be held in the school auditorium Tuesday morning at 9:15.

Nominations are: Mrs. Jack Newmark, president; Mrs. Paul Koppel and Mrs. Melvin Zoller, vice-president; Mrs. Melvin Seymour, recording secretary, and Mrs. Patricia Blake, corresponding secretary.

Entertainment will be provided by students in the first and second grades, who will present a show entitled "It's a Small World." The fourth and fifth grade choir, under the direction of Elaine Scorsio, will sing a medley of Broadway show tunes.

Recognition dinner

William H. Groszkinsky of 268 Birch Lane, Mountaintide, General Aniline & Film Corp. for 30 years, was among those honored at a service recognition dinner held recently in New York.

Professor of Asian subjects to be Women Voters speaker

The Springfield League of Women Voters will hold its annual spring luncheon next Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in Ciro's Restaurant, Echo Plaza, Springfield, for members and friends.

The Rev. William Scott Morton, associate professor in the departments of Asian studies and history at Seton-Hall University, will be the speaker. He will speak about Red China, which is being studied by the LWV. The Rev. Mr. Morton is a graduate of Cambridge and Edinburgh universities. He was ordained as a ministerial missionary of the Church of Scotland and sent to Manchuria. He studied in the College of Chinese Studies, Peking, and was in Manchuria from 1933 to 1938 and in Japan from 1940 to 1941. During World War II, he was a Royal Air Force chaplain in Canada. He has lectured at Edinburgh and Glasgow universities, has taught at the University of Pittsburgh, Chatham College and New York University, and was assistant director of the National Defense Education Act Institute in Asian History for secondary school teachers at Seton Hall University last year.

Members of the Springfield League, together with the other 145,543 League members in the country, have undertaken a two-year evaluation of United States relations with the Peoples' Republic of China. The first year of the study focused on Chinese historical and cultural factors which have had significant importance in shaping contemporary China. During the second year, the league will study the problems and major issues that divide the United States and mainland China.

Reservations for the luncheon for members and the general public can be made by calling Mrs. Leonard Kriegman at 379-4893 or Mrs. Howard Ross at 376-1193.

At the league's annual meeting last week the nominating committee proposed a new slate, which was elected. War Dads Auxiliary to attend JWV Ladies' installation event

An invitation to the American War Dads Auxiliary of Union Chapter, No. 1, has been extended by the Ladies Auxiliary No. 636, Union, Jewish War Veterans, to attend its installation of officers ceremonies tonight. Officers will attend the affair which will be held at the First State Bank of Union auditorium.

Members plan to attend the Veterans Memorial Day church service at the Union Methodist Church, Sunday morning, May 28. They also will participate in the Memorial Day parade on May 30. Both events are being sponsored by the Veterans' Alliance of Union Township.

The Auxiliary also has accepted an invitation from the Union Lodge of Elks, 1583, to participate in the Elks' annual Flag Day ceremony, on the evening of June 8 at the Elks Lodge, Chestnut st.

At the auxiliary's meeting May 10, plans were made for a delegation from the auxiliary to attend the 25th anniversary of the National American War Dads dinner, dance and ladies' night, which is being sponsored by the Elizabeth Chapter, American War Dads, Inc., Elizabeth, June 2 at the Elizabeth Carteret Hotel, Elizabeth.

The auxiliary will assist chapter members at their annual strawberry festival to be held on the evening of June 15 at the Municipal Grove, Swannstrom d., by preparing and serving the bill of fare.

Final plans will be completed for a chartered bus trip to Atlantic City, rescheduled for Saturday June 24 at the next auxiliary meeting at the home of Mrs. Alfred Stein on June 5. Plans also will be made for the Expo-67 trip scheduled for July 16. All trips are sponsored by the auxiliary, and the public is invited to attend. Reservations may be made with the auxiliary secretary, Mrs. Michael Canonicco at MU-6-3446 or Mrs. Stein at MU-6-0340. Officers and members of the auxiliary were invited to the regular monthly meeting of the American War Dads Chapter 1, May 10 in American Legion Hall, Bond dr. Mrs. Stein, auxiliary president, and the auxiliary delegation, were welcomed by chapter president Albert Aaronson.

'Loving Couples' now booked on Art screen

The Swedish adult film-drama, "Loving Couples," opened yesterday at the Art Theater, Irvington Center. The picture marks actress Mal Zetterling's initial directorial bow. The associate film at the Art is "Of Wayward Love," an Italian movie production, set in three parts; one about an aging Don Juan, a bored matron tourist in Sicily; and a soldier and a widow on a train. Nino Manfredi, Lilli Palmer and Catherine Spaak head the cast.

Ann Sothorn is versatile on Meadowbrook stage

By B.F.A. SMITH
"Everything's Coming Up Roses" at the Meadowbrook these evenings, particularly with the versatile, refreshingly wonderful veteran star, Ann Sothorn, portraying the indomitable Rose in "Gypsy." The Arthur Laurents-Jule Styne-Stephen Sondheim musical version of Gypsy Rose Lee's memoirs of life with mother is still as intriguing and electrifying on the stage at Cedar Grove as it was on Broadway. Audiences feel a very special attraction to the attractive Miss Sothorn, and on opening night, she received a standing ovation from those who remember her in her films of the late 1930s and 1940s of her Malsic movies, and as the memorable Private Secretary on television.

All paid tribute to her for the many years of entertaining them and more particularly, for the evening's entertainment, as she roused her bulk of fans with her compelling performance of the much-married, "typical" stage mother who "had a dream" that her two daughters, June and Louise, would become stars. Well, her daughters became stars, but not much in the way she'd visualized.

Her Baby June (June Havoc), who ran off to get married at an early age, and to get away from mother became a fine dramatic and comedy movie star, as the world knows. And Louise, well, we all know what happened to Gypsy Rose Lee.

Still—it makes for fine entertainment Miss Sothorn's voice is extremely good, and the accompanying cast who sing along with her and on its own is exceptionally good. And who can forget such numbers as "Let Me Entertain You," "Some People," "Small World," "If Mama Was Married," "Together, Wherever We Go," and of course, "Everything's Coming Up Roses?" Sothorn enters in lovely and has an equally lovely voice, and the others, Alan North, Avril Gantless, Connie Otto, Ernestine E. Mercer, Warren Burton, Alec Alexander Susan Towers and Tina Faye do justice to their roles.

The burlesque sequence, "You Gotta Have a Gimmick," is still a show-stopper. And however you look at it, when those people on the Meadowbrook stage sing, "Let Me Entertain You," they know what they're talking about!

'Blonde' is held for second week
Czechoslovakia is the latest country to have its entry in the cycle of New Wave films, and the latest from that country is Miles Forman's "Loves of a Blonde," which starts its second week at the Ormont Theater, East Orange, Wednesday, May 17.
"Loves of a Blonde," which was shown on opening night at the fourth New York Film Festival at Lincoln Center, and which received an Oscar nomination in the recent race, stars Hana Brejchova and Vladimir Pucholt.
The picture is a bittersweet comedy concerning the first episode of romantic love in the life of a Czech teenager.

Star from Jersey leads 'Grand Prix'
Eva Marie Saint, who portrays an American magazine-fashion editor in the Cinemascope production, "Grand Prix," at the Claridge Theater, Montclair, was born in East Orange.
Miss Saint won her early acting spurs in campus dramas at Bowling Green University in Ohio. After five years in television, she scored on the Broadway stage opposite Lillian Gish in the 1953 play, "The Trip to Bountiful," which led to her film career. Her screen credits include "North by Northwest," "Kodak," "All Fall Down," "36 Hours," "The Sandlot" and prior to "Grand Prix" "The Russians Are Coming," "The Russians Are Coming."
"Grand Prix" also stars James Garner, Yves Montand, Brian Bedford, Jessica Walter and an international cast. An extra matinee has been scheduled on May 30, Decoration Day.

'Sand Pebbles' set for Bellevue screen
An all-star cast is featured in "The Sand Pebbles," large scale motion picture, which opens Wednesday at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair.
Steve McQueen leads the host of stars opposite Richard Attenborough, Richard Crenna and Candice Bergen in a story, based on John Hershey's best-selling novel about American gunboat diplomacy in China during the 1920s. Seaman are caught in the web of a fruitless, super-patriotic reliance on U.S. force in Asia.
The picture was filmed in color and wide-screen.

PREPARING FOR CONCERT — Mrs. Lois Mosing of Springfield, who will be contralto soloist in the Summit Chorale's annual spring concert at New Providence High School Saturday, goes over a score with Mark Orton, conductor.

Springfield woman to appear as soloist in annual concert

Mrs. Lois Mosing of Springfield, contralto, will be one of four soloists in the annual spring concert of the Summit Chorale, to be presented in the New Providence High School auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

The chorus, directed by Mark Orton, will sing Mozart's "Requiem in D Minor" and Robert Starer's "Aria—Visions of Isaiah." Soloists, in addition to the Springfield woman, will be Mary Evelyn Bruce, soprano; Seth McCoy, tenor, and Fred Jones, bass.

Mrs. Mosing, a member of the Chorale for several years, previously appeared as a soloist in the group's performance of Bach's "Mass in B Minor."

She also has sung in church choirs, operettas, musicals and madrigal groups and has taught music in public schools in New Jersey and Indiana.

Miss Bruce, a graduate of Westminster Choir College in Princeton, has toured the Soviet Union and South America as a soloist with the Robert Shaw Chorale. She has previously appeared with the Summit Chorale as well as with other New Jersey groups, including the Princeton Chamber Orchestra, Montclair's Oratorio Society and the Northern New Jersey Philharmonic.

McCoy has also toured extensively as soloist with Shaw and has appeared with both the Cleveland Orchestra and the Chicago Symphony. Two years ago he was soloist with the Summit Chorale in its performance of Bach's "Mass in B Minor."

Jones will be appearing with the Summit Chorale for the first time, but has performed before in New Jersey with the Northern New Jersey Philharmonic and has toured with Columbia Artists series. In addition to being soloist at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church in New York, he sings with the Metropolitan Opera Studios and the American Opera Company.

Tickets, with special rates for students, may be purchased from members of the Chorale or at the door. The school is located on High-st., just off South-st. in New Providence.

Summer program director appointed at Five Points 'Y'

Joseph Simons will direct the Summer Fun Club and Learn to Swim programs, it was announced by Marco Di Giovanni, chairman of the Five Points YMCA in Union.

Simons, who is a reading teacher in the Newark school system, is currently the 'Y' program director. He received his BS in 1959 and MA in 1963 from Newark State College in Union and has completed additional graduate work in guidance and supervision. Simons was with the Eastern Union County and Newark YMCA camp programs until accepting the position on the Five Points YMCA staff.

The Summer Fun Club and Learn to Swim programs will open July 3 and will operate for four two-week periods. Campers may register for one or all of the periods. The 'Y' is located at 218 Salem rd., Union. Enrollment is limited to 60 children from first through fourth grade and is on a first-come, first-served basis.

Simons, his wife, Sandra, and their two children, Nancy Lynn and Michele Beth, reside at 1687 Earl st., Union.

Canadian veterans plan memorial rite in Linden

The Middle Atlantic States Command of the Royal Canadian Legion announced this week that it will conduct its annual memorial service at the British Commonwealth Veterans' Cenotaph at the Rosehill Cemetery, Linden, on Sunday at 11 a.m.

The cenotaph is a memorial vault for Canadian veterans who are buried elsewhere. The public was invited to attend the service.

QUICK STARTER -- Howard Rubenstein, senior tri-captain for the Bulldog track team, has been Jonathan Dayton Regional High School's top sprinter this season.

Trackmen will compete in conference title meet

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School track team has a full schedule next week, largely thanks to postponements on account of rain. The squad will compete today in the Watchung Conference meet to be held at Scotch Plains, and will travel tomorrow to Rahway High School, Monday to Gov. Livingston Regional High School of Berkeley Heights, and Tuesday to Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School. The team, under the direction of head coach Bob Lummer, now has a record of 2-4-1, following a 74-52 victory over David Breatley Regional High School of Kenilworth.

Greg Baskin once again emerged as the team's mainstay as he took three first places in the shotput, discus and high jump. Bill Chisholm also showed well in the field, winning the javelin event and placing right behind Baskin in the shotput.

On the track, hurdler Derrol Brooks and Larry Stewart alternated for first place in the low and high hurdles, while Bill Apgar led a Dayton sweep of the one-mile race. Apgar finished in the lead, with Bulldogs Dale Yadosky and Mike Davis second and third. Dayton also completely captured the discus event. Baskin was first, with Gary Haydu and Mike Burns taking the other places. Kenilworth, however, did make one event its own; the Bears took all the places in the long jump. The Bulldogs led on the track 43-29, as on the field, 31-23.

THE RESULTS of the Kenilworth meet: Low hurdles: Brooks, first, 21.9; Stewart, third, 22.8; high hurdles: Stewart, first, 16.6; Brooks, second, 17.5; 100: 10.7; Howard Rubenstein, second, 10.9; Jim Robinson, third, 11.1; 200: 24.8; Rubenstein, second, 24.8; Robinson, third, 25.3; 440: 53.3; Alan Best, second, 55.9; Gary Voesburgh, third, 56.3; 880: 2:10.7; Marty Joseph, second, 2:19.5; Ray Haines, third, 2:22.0; one-mile: Apgar, first, 5:03.7; Yadosky, second, 5:09; Davis, third, 5:19; two-mile: 10:29.7; Ken Shatten, second, 10:52.0; Mark George, 11:15.0.

Shotput: Baskin, first, 48.9; Chisholm, second, 43.6; discus: Baskin, first, 140-6 1/2; Haydu, second, 127- 31/2; Burns, third, 112-11.5; javelin: Chisholm first, 166-7; pole vault: 10-6; Ed Harback, second, 10; Rocky Ienna, third, 10; high jump: Baskin, first, 5-4; long jump: 18-3 3/4 no Dayton placings.

Next week the team will compete its regular scheduled season. The Watchung Conference has two powerful teams in Westfield and Scotch Plains, but otherwise is a very close conference, with all the other teams just about equal. Throughout the season there have been a very few wide-open meets, and Dayton has been beaten by any losing record, has not been beaten by any large margin, with the notable exception of Westfield. As a result, the Bulldogs are much in the running today at Scotch Plains.

On the other hand, an exceptionally strong finish is needed if the Bulldogs are to end with their first winning record in years. Rahway and Berkeley Heights are both good teams, but Dayton has a very good chance of winning either or both of the meets. Scotch Plains look to be an uphill fight, as the Raiders are in close contention, at this time, for the Watchung Conference crown.

Church teenagers to leave tomorrow for weekend outing

Forty-five young people of the Westminster Fellowship of the Springfield Presbyterian Church will leave tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. for the Presbyterian Parish House for a weekend retreat at Camp Watonga in Hawley, Pa. Serving as counselors for the group will be James Beffert, Ellen Rutz, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sim, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wendlandt and the Rev. Donald C. Weber, former associate minister of the church.

The theme for the week-end is "Youth at Work." Discussion sessions will evaluate what the Westminster Fellowship accomplished during the past year and project plans for next fall. Work projects at the camp site will be performed and recreation periods will round out the week end program. A variety show and dance are scheduled for Saturday evening.

The newly elected officers for next year will be installed by Mr. Weber during a Saturday night candlelight vesper service. Morning night devotions, evening vespers and a Sunday morning worship service will all serve to heighten the spiritual response of these young people," a spokesman stated.

The group will return to the Parish House on Sunday afternoon around 5. This retreat will be the concluding activity for the young people for this year.

Accepted at Bloomfield

Andrea Sherman of 102 Jefferson ter., Springfield, has been accepted at Bloomfield College. It was announced by James A. Muller, director of admissions and registrar. Bloomfield College is a four-year liberal arts coeducational college, which will observe its 100th anniversary of its founding in 1968.

Summit youth fined

Springfield Magistrate Max Sherman on Monday fined Walter J. Winouski, 19, of Summit $25 as a disorderly person and suspended a jail term of 10 days. Winouski was charged with loitering in the parking lot of the White Diamond diner on Morris avenue.

Bulldog nine faces 4 games in week

Team splits encounters of last week

By MYRON MEISEL
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School baseball team will play two teams twice in the coming week: Gov. Livingston Regional High School of Berkeley Heights today at home and away on Tuesday afternoon, and Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School in a double-header Saturday at 1:30 at Meisel Field. The Bulldog diamond varsity now has a record of 2-7 following last week's victory over David Breatley Regional High School of Kenilworth, 1-0, and a loss to Westfield High School, 13-2.

Bulldog pitcher Steve Jupa, a sophomore, gave up just one hit on the mound against Kenilworth and only weak Dayton batting kept the score down. Dayton scored its only run in the fifth inning, when with first baseman Ralph Lossano on first, left fielder Tom Brownlie smashed a solid drive to right field for a double, driving Lossano across the plate. But the victory rightly belonged to Jupa who fanned 12 batters out of the 22 he faced.

WESTFIELD, who squeaked out a 3-2 victory over the Bulldogs in the last game in their last encounter, routed the Dayton team completely. The Bulldog defense took a sharp down-turn, and the hitting, which had slumped of late, failed to constitute any real threat. Westfield's hitters connected early for two runs in the first, one in the second and an astounding 10-run third inning that beat practically the entire Dayton pitching staff.

Center fielder Don Buehrer led the Bulldog hitting, batting two for three. Buehrer's single in the third set up one of the two Dayton runs. Third baseman Jon Schoch sacrificed to advance Buehrer, and advance Buehrer and a follow-up single by Rich Campbell drove in the run. In the seventh, hits by Ralph Lossano and Gary Kurtz scored once again for the Bulldogs.

Gov. Livingston has one of its strongest teams in years, and Scotch Plains, although not as good as it was last year (when a championship Dayton team swept both games of the double-header) still is a tough team to beat. Dayton will have a hard time of it this week unless its fielding can stay clean and its hitters can develop a stronger threat.

DAYTON VETERAN -- Ron Azarewicz, hard-hitting senior for the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School baseball team, has played consistently for the Bulldogs this year in both the infield and outfield.

Hurricanes to face Tigers tomorrow in bowling wind-up

The Springfield Recreation Department's "World Series of Bowling" moved past the semi-final round last Friday afternoon. The Hurricanes survived a close battle with the Rockets and the Tigers swamped the Rangers in the two semi-final contests. The two teams will meet tomorrow afternoon at the Springfield Bowl to determine the Recreation Department champion for the 1967 season. Awards will be presented to the champion team, as well as the runner-up squad.

The opening semi-final match pitted together the two teams that finished the season one and two in the Thursday League, as the Hurricanes faced the Rockets. The regular season champs, the Hurricanes, were the winners in a close battle. The Hurricanes grabbed the first game, but the Rockets rebounded to take a decision in the second contest. The Hurricanes won the match by virtue of better pin-fall. The winners totaled 1,243 in the match, while the Rockets were a slim 110 sticks away with a 1,233 total. The Hurricanes will be going for a grand slam when they face the Tigers in the finale royal tomorrow.

Craig Nowinski paced the Hurricane semi-final victory, as he rolled a 316 series, Craig rolled games of 177 and 139 in reaching his total. Todd Herman was another tower of strength on the Hurricane team. Todd put together solid games of 163 and 130 for a series total of 293. Ronnie Silverman also added to the victory as he rolled a 235 series in the Hurricane effort.

Mac Hollander was the big roller for the Rockets. Marc hit the magic 300 series right on the nose, as he rolled games of 165 and 135. Mitch Wolf and Eddie Graessle also rolled well for the Rockets in a losing effort. Mitch rolled a 260 total for the two-game series, while Eddie topped 245 pins in the match.

TV game show winner man from Springfield

League for softball to launch schedule for summer action

The Springfield Adult Softball League had its final spring meeting last Thursday evening at the Springfield Recreation House. At this final meeting nine teams entered teams in the men's softball league. The league is sponsored by the Springfield Recreation Department and all games are played on the lighted field at the Springfield Pool.

Teams which have entered franchises for the coming season include: A.R. Meeker Co., Remlinger Real Estate, Spring Liquors, Somerset Bus Co., Wilpat Associates, PBA, Anderson Plumbing and Heating, March Advertising and A. Best Pharmacy. The nine teams will meet in a regular schedule where each team will face each of the others twice. At the conclusion of the regular season, the first eight teams will meet in play-off competition.

The league will open its 1967 season with an 8:15 game scheduled for Monday evening, May 29, at the swim pool field. The opening night will feature a game with Wilpat Associates against the Somerset Bus Co. Wilpat is the defending league champion.

Scott Donington will be the league's executive secretary for the 1967 season. Donington will work with the Recreation Department in the administration of the league. Those elected to the board of trustees of the league for the 1967 season are: John Erhardt, Sam Calabrese, Joe Pepe, Joe Blanda and Vince Palaia. These men will decide league policy for the new season.

Forum on Vietnam planned for tonight

A cooperating committee from Springfield is supporting an open forum on Vietnam to be held at Grant School in Westfield at 8 p.m. today by Foreign Affairs Concerns Every-one (FACE).

The Administration viewpoint will be presented in a Defense Department film, "Why Vietnam?" and a talk by Thomas J. Devine, a partner in the investment firm of Train, Cabot and Associates. The anti-Administration viewpoint will be represented by an American Friends Service Committee film, "The Time of the Locust," and by Tom J. Farrer, assistant professor at the School of Law, Columbia University.

Arrangements for Springfield persons wishing to attend the program are being made by M. A. Zeman, 376-5629.

Legion team undefeated to lead in Youth Majors

American Legion held first place at the start of this week in the Springfield Youth Major League, with three victories in as many games. Second in the league for boys up to 12 was Rotary, undefeated in two games.

Strong pitching by both sides featured the game in which Lions Club edged Jayne Trucking, 2-1. Neither side was able to score an earned run. Lions used three pitchers, Ken Baroff, Steve Di Benedetto and Howie Levine, who hurled the last two innings to gain credit for the victory. Gary Tiss went all the way for Jayne, giving up only three hits. Mike Klarfeld had two hits for Lions, and Mike Levine had the third. Stu Garowitz had two hits for Jayne, and Gary Neifeld and Mike Marder each had one.

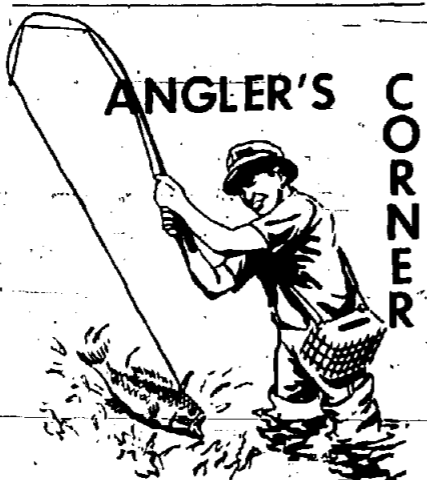

Rotary swamped PBA, 19-4, behind home runs by Bill Cook and Mark Weber. Cook had four hits and Weber had three for the game. Jim Schoch pitched a three-hitter to win easily, helped greatly by a bases-loaded double play. Jerry Jones slammed a home run for PBA.

Back-to-back home runs by Larry Wyman and Dick Fishbein in the first inning sparked American Legion to a 7-5 triumph over Crestmont Savings. Joe Pape and Warren Schlepner each had two hits for the winners. Dick Fishbein pitched all the way for the Legion, striking out five men and yielding six hits and just a single walk. Crestmont used four pitchers, finishing with a strong job by Steve Harris. Big blows for Crestmont were a triple by Gil Gleim and a homer by Bill Sivolella. Rotary exploded for six runs in the third inning to defeat Crestmont, 8-6. Jim Toll was the winning pitcher, in relief of Jim Schoch. Schoch recorded five outs on five strike-outs. Schoch had three hits, and Bob Nardone and Mark Weber each had two. Ken Flockhart, one of three Crestmont pitchers, struck out the side in the first inning with the bases loaded, and Steve Harris struck out the side in the final frame. Gil Gleim and Bill Sivolella were the big hitters for Crestmont.

PBA did all its hitting in the first two innings to coast past Reinettes, 12-5. The PBA batters had eight hits in the opening frames, aided by five walks and four errors. Tony Petrozello led the attack with a triple and double, and John Bahr also had two hits. Petrozello and Gary Weiner each scored twice. Weiner was the winning pitcher with a six-hitter. Gene Shute had two hits for Reinettes.

Warren Schlepner and Dick Fishbein combined for a two-hitter as American Legion defeated Jayne Trucking, 7-2. The only Jayne hits were a bunt by Gary Schillman and a single by Mike Marder. Three Jayne pitchers struck out 14, but had control trouble. For the Legion, Tom Botte had a double and singler, Joe Pepe, a triple and single, and Tom Lowy, a bases-loaded single.

ANGLER'S CORNER

New Jersey fall hunting regulations will be discussed at a public hearing on the evening of June 13, according to Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

The text of the Proposed Game Code was adopted by the Fish and Game Council following last week's meeting. The hearing will be held at 8 p.m. in the 13th floor auditorium of the State Labor and Industry Building, Trenton. Interested citizens are urged to comment on the Code at the hearing and to attend the preceding afternoon session, at 1:30 p.m. in Room 702, dealing with all aspects of the State Fish and Game Program.

Good small game prospects were reported to the Council by the Bureau of Wildlife Management. Excellent native pheasant hunting has been observed, and spring rabbit populations appear above normal, especially in southern New Jersey.

A recent Wildlife Management workshop on 4-H pheasant and quail rearing was commended by the Council. The enthusiasm of the 4-H leaders is expected to add to the quality of the birds produced by young cooperators.

Trout tag returns from Spruce Run Reservoir indicate good catches of both Donaldson and New Jersey strain rainbow trout stocked this spring. Large Donaldson trout released in January and holdover rainbows from last year were also caught in good numbers.

SOME 15,000 northern pike fry, obtained from the Pennsylvania Fish Commission are being reared in a new impoundment at Stafford Forge, Ocean County, a site purchased through the Green Acres Program for warmwater fish rearing. Private stockings of northern pike in Shepherd Lake and State stockings in Lake Wawayanda have added to fishing opportunities.

FAR FLYER — Paula Natiello of Springfield set a new county and state record in the running broad jump for girls ages 12 and 13 with a leap of 15-6-1/2 in the county Junior Olympics track and field meet for boys and girls held Saturday in R. way.

Miss Natiello smashes state girls' track record

Eight first places were captured by the township as 36 Springfield girls and boys participated in the Union County Junior Olympic track and field meet held Saturday at the Railway River Park, Rahway. The meet was held by the New Jersey Amateur Athletic Union.

The Springfield group returned with 49 medals. The outstanding competitor was Paula Natiello, who competed in the junior girls' division, for ages 12 and 13. Paula set the 50-yard dash in a new meet record time of 9.2 seconds.

In winning the running broad jump with a leap of 15-6-1/2 she broke the county record by two feet and the state record by a foot. She also anchored the 400-yard relay to a second place.

Rick Fuchs in winning the junior boys' high jump set a new county record with a leap of 5 feet. He was also off the winning 440-yard relay team. Rick also placed third in the hop, step and jump. Andrea Petzinger in the banner division won the standing broad jump with a new county record of 6-8. She anchored the 220-yard relay team for second place, and placed third in the 50-yard dash.

The following are the Springfield results in the meet according to the age divisions:

BANTAM GIRLS: Andrea Petzinger, third in the 50-yard dash, first in the standing broad jump, and ran on the second place 210-yard relay team; Cathy Alexy, second in the softball throw; Amy Werfel, Karen Lette and Gail Lawrence, second in the 220-yard relay.

BANTAM BOYS: Bruce Blumenfeld, second in the 50-yard dash and anchor on the third place 220-yard relay; Kenneth Cohen, second in the standing broad jump and third in the running broad jump; Russell Gabby, third in the softball throw, and second in the 220-yard relay; Carmen S. Appertuolo and Michael Corey on the second place 220-yard relay team.

MIDGET GIRLS: Dana Haws, third in the high jump; Debbie Kishan, third in the softball throw; Donna Hamilton, Renee Sevus, Giles Lee and Marilyn Howell, third in the 220-yard relay.

LACKED LICENSE PLATE — Springfield Magistrate Max Sherman Monday fined Patsy J. Fallivene, 50, of Newark, $10 for driving a car without a rear license plate.

MIDGET BOYS: Jerry Jones, second in the 50-yard dash, second in the high jump, and anchor on the winning 220-yard relay team; Joey Gardner, third in the softball throw; Tom Lowy, Neil Anderson, Mike Levine, the winning 220-yard relay team.

JUNIOR GIRLS: Paula Natiello, first in the 50-yard dash, first in the running broad jump and anchor on the second place 440-yard relay team; Gail Wilson, first in the 75-yard dash, and on the second place 440-yard relay team; Linda Bultman, second in the high jump, and on the second place 440-yard relay team; Jodi Rothberg, third in the softball throw; Lisa Brown, on the second place 440-yard relay team.

JUNIOR BOYS: Carmen Bove, first in the running broad jump, third in the 75-yard dash and anchor on the winning 440-yard relay team; Rick Fuchs, first in the high jump, third in the hop, step and jump; Paul Fanoff, third in the 100-yard dash; Denis Haller, second in the standing broad jump; George Robbins, second in the softball throw; Robert Weir and Larry Kameen, on the winning 440-yard relay team.

Dave Brown, coach of the Springfield team, will take the local winners to New Providence on Saturday for the state meet. Participating will be: Andrea Petzinger, Tom Lowy, Neil Anderson, Mike Levine, Jerry Jones, Paula Natiello, Gail Wilson, Carmen Bove, Rick Fuchs, Robert Weir and Larry Kameen.

Police marksmen face league match

The Springfield Police pistol team will meet the Union County Sheriff's Office on Monday in a County Police League match. The Springfield marksmen dropped their two matches last week, in Westfield, by a score of 1,150 to 1,134, and to Elizabethtown by a score of 1,194 to 1,121.

High scorers for Springfield against Westfield were Edward Baumer, 295; Gene Polozinski, 280; Bob Maguire, 283; Dick Gootko, 270. Extra shooters were Bill Sodlak, 247, and Bill Cleri, 234. Top men against Elizabethtown were Pedersen, 292; Baumer, 291; Maguire, 279, and Sodlak, 261.

Greenstein pitches shut-out ball game in National League

Jess Greenstein fired a two-hit shut-out, striking out nine men, as Concrete Block beat Elkay Products, 6-0, in the week's feature game in the Springfield Youth Minor National League. Marc Shipman also pitched a two-hitter for Elkay, with 10 strike-outs, but ran into trouble with bases on balls.

Sam's Friendly Service outscored Rex Dairy Queen to win a close game, 11-10. John Mercer had three hits and drove in five runs for the winners, Anthony Francis drove in three runs with a double, for Dairy Queen. Kevin Macco's was the winning pitcher.

Sam's Friendly Service walked Wesley Jewelers, 18-7, as Scott Herman drove in five runs with a pair of triples. Bob Manheimer added a triple and single. Larry Maxwell pitched well for Sam's giving six hits and only one walk, striking out four. Steve Weiss turned in the game's fielding gem with a fine catch in right field.

Jim and Matt Levine each had two hits for Wesley. Matt Levine starred on the mound as Wesley Jewelers edged Fire Department, 5-4. Levine granted nine hits but walked only one and struck out 10 men. Eugene Horowitz led the Wesley attack with two hits. Donald Peskin struck out 12 men for the Firemen, but was

Men's volleyball

Men's volleyball competition will get under way this Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at the Springfield municipal pool. Weather permitting, there will be a men's game every Sunday until the end of October. Details are available from Harry Lowy or Michael Herzlinger.

Award for fencing

William F. Lynch of 171 Tucker ave., Springfield, received a varsity letter in fencing last week at a sports award dinner of Seton Hall University, where he is a sophomore. The fencing team has completed its season with a record of 9-4.

In trouble with walks, Peskin and Joel Goldberg each had three hits for the losers. Chamber of Commerce defeated Bunnell Brothers, 14-3, behind the six-hit pitching of Wayne Camp. Chamber led the game with seven runs in the third inning. Bill Kilian had three hits for Bunnell.

Sam's Friendly Service exploded for 17 runs in the second inning to whip Fire Department, 21-5. Alan Lipton was the winning pitcher with a five-hitter.

COURAGEOUS MOM — Mrs. Walter Robinson of Union, named "Mother of the Year" by the Upper New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, poses with sons, Walter Jr., and Ricky. Mrs. Robinson has had two crippling attacks of multiple sclerosis in the past four years.

Union woman selected MS 'mother of year'

Joseph F. Hobbins, chairman of the Upper New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society this week announced the selection of Mrs. Walter Robinson of Union as Union County MS Mother of the Year. Mrs. Robinson was selected because she "exemplifies the courageous handicapped individual who continues to function as mother and homemaker despite a severe handicap." Mrs. Robinson is the 27-year-old mother of two sons, Walter Jr., 7, and Ricky 5. Her husband, a member of the Union police force, has just completed a six-week training course at the New Jersey Police Academy.

Mrs. Robinson has had multiple sclerosis for four years. Her first attack came shortly after the birth of her second child and confined her to a wheel chair. She has had three other severe and similar bouts with the chronically crippling disease since then. Each time she has been unable to walk and forced to use a wheel chair.

Despite the severity of these attacks, Hobbins pointed out, Mrs. Robinson "has never lost her courage or her desire to fight and to continue to perform her role as mother and homemaker. Even when confined to her wheel chair, she managed to care for her small family. Today she says that she is doing very well, and with the aid of a walker, she does all of her own housework. She does admit, however, that keeping track of two very active little boys does take all of her energy."

Hobbins said Mrs. Robinson hopes she will not suffer another attack. "Her prayer, like most all patients," he said, "is that through the research efforts of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society an answer will be found to this mysterious disease which cripples so many young people, parents of small children like herself, who may not be quite as fortunate and must spend the rest of their lives in wheel chairs."

Tulip time at Warinanco

The Holland-grown tulips in the Henry S. Chatfield Memorial Garden in Warinanco Park, Elizabeth and Roselle, are now in bloom. It was reported by Robert A. Koller, chief horticulturist for The Union County Park Commission.

The garden contains nearly 14,000 tulip plants ranging in color from dark purple to white. The focal point of the formal display is the center bed with 600 "Dreaming Maid," cottage-type tulips with lilac-mauve petals merging to a silvery-white color. The beds in the inner perimeter of the garden feature "Helen Keller" — a cottage-type, clear canary yellow petal with yellow stems, and "Southern Cross," a lemon-yellow breeder type.

The center perimeter beds feature "G. W. Leak," a geranium scarlet cottage-type and "Pink Supreme" a bright pink Darwin-type, "Glacier" and "Majestic," both of the Darwin type featuring a white color are in the beds in the outer perimeter of the garden with a rich green tuxedo hedge background.

The tulip garden was first planted in 1936 to honor one of the original park commissioners and commission president for the first six years of its existence, 1921-1927.

A stone bench nearly 20 feet long supporting a bronze tablet rests at one end of the garden as a permanent memorial to Mr. Chatfield.

Teacher's hobby down to earth one

John Colagrande, a science teacher at Union High School, is a man whose hobby is down to earth. He collects fossils.

At the present time his collection includes clams, snails and ammonites (related to squid) from Canada and New York State; fossil ferns and club mosses from the coal mining area of Pennsylvania; scallops, sharks' teeth and whale bones from Maryland, and oyster, reptile bones and dinosaur footprints from New Jersey. "Some of the fossils date back as far as three-quarter billion years," Colagrande said. Colagrande said he has been collecting his

Union High graduates on Berkeley dean's list

Three graduates of Union High School have been named to the spring dean's list of the Berkeley School, East Orange.

Named were the Misses Nancy Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Coates of 968 Townley ave.; Elaine Lewinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewinski of 891 Dona rd., and Barbara Ann Matyssek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Matyssek of 1072 Sterling rd., all of Union.

fossils from about five years and its strictly a hobby.

"I GET LEADS on where to find the fossils from museums and newspaper articles. It's difficult to place a monetary value on my collection. I wouldn't even try."

He found his dinosaur footprints in Lincoln Park and figures they are 180 million years old. Holmdel has turned up reptile bones and fish vertebrae in rock structure estimated to be 100 million years old.

Parts of his collection have been on display at Union High School, Montclair State College and the Orange Public Library. Colagrande lives in Orange.

What is he doing this summer? "Looking for fossils," he said.

Former candidate supports opponent

Dr. Robert Allen, who was defeated last year in his bid for the 12th District Congressional seat which he sought as a Democrat opposing veteran Republican Rep. Florence P. Dwyer, this week praised Mrs. Dwyer's stand on the war in Vietnam.

Dr. Allen said, "I am pleased to see that Mrs. Dwyer has responded to the unprecedented outpouring of peace sentiment by clergymen, laymen, students and others by exposing the hypocrisy of the administration on Vietnam."

Dr. Allen cited a speech by Mrs. Dwyer recently wherein she asserted that the Johnson Administration "is perpetuating the war in Vietnam by making it impossible for North Vietnam to negotiate peace."

PLEASE DRIVE SAFELY

The sunroof works even when there isn't any sun.

When you slide back the sunroof on a Volkswagen Station Wagon, the sky's the limit. That's because "odd-shaped" loads you'd have trouble fitting into an ordinary station wagon can stick up out of a VW like a tree. Or a refrigerator. In fact, you never know what might pop up.

And even when the sunroof's closed, the Volkswagen still gives you almost twice as much space at other wagons.

And a 4' by 4' door that lets you get right at all the room inside. (You don't have to be an engineer to move big, bulky loads in and out.)

And whenever you don't want to put big things inside your VW, you can use it for big people instead. It seats 9 of them and holds 13 pieces of luggage. All at once.

Other wagons only hold about half as much as a VW. Even if you hit the ceiling.

But after the VW's all filled up, you can still go through the roof.
