Splash time set for noon on June 24

Playground programs scheduled for June 26

The Springfield Municipal Pool will open for the summer on Saturday, June 24, at noon, and 11 township playgrounds will begin their season on Monday, June 26, at 1 p.m. according to Edward J. Ruby, recreation director.

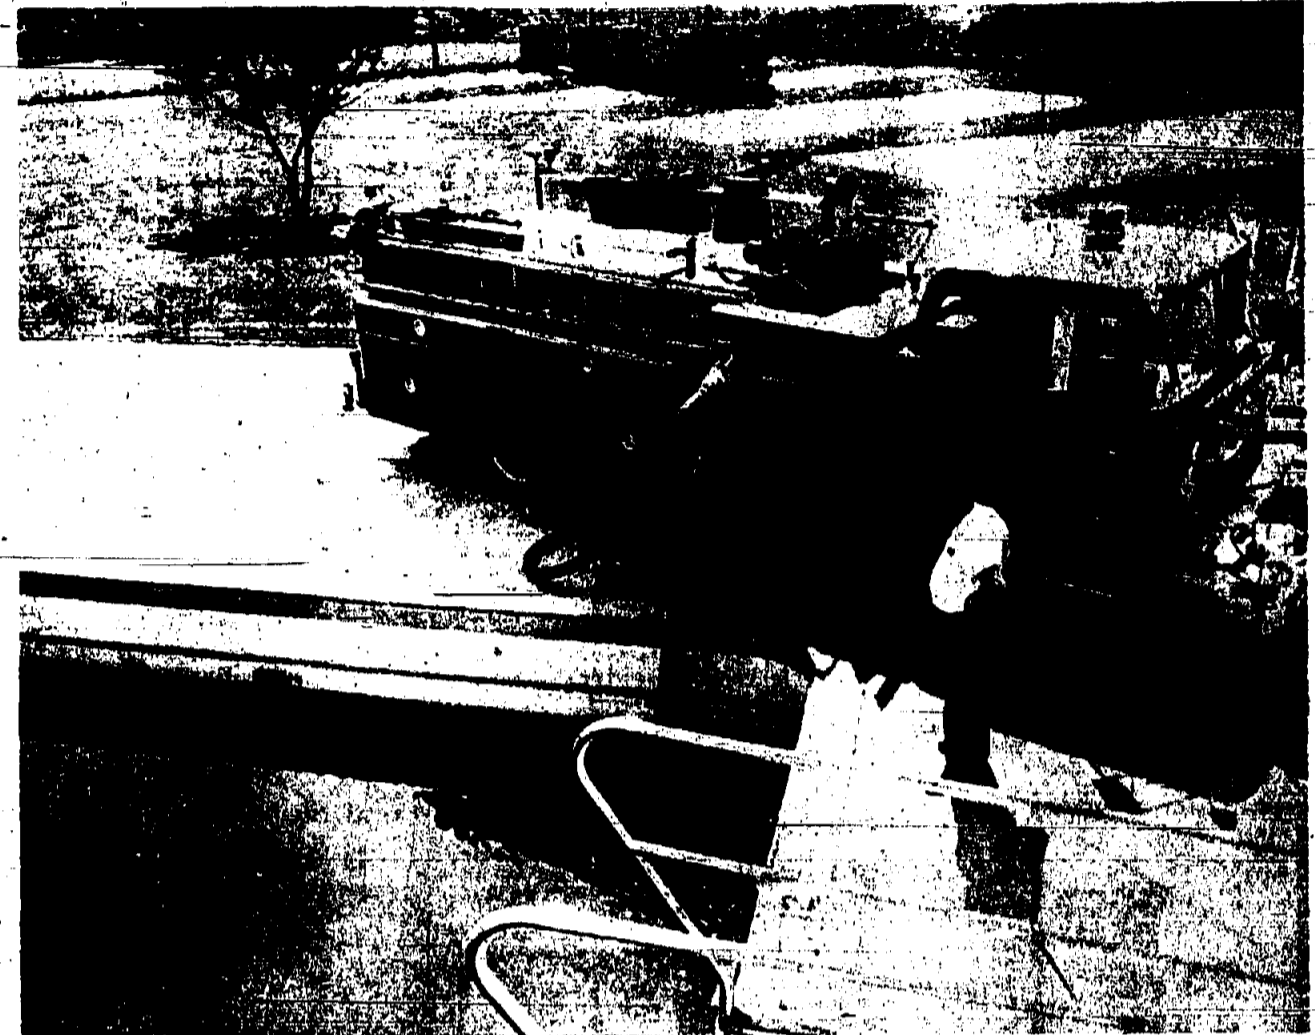

Ruby added that members of the swim pool will be able to obtain their badges at the Recreation Department office in Town Hall, starting next Thursday, June 15, every weekday until June 23 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The office will also be open for badge-seekers on Saturday, June 17, from 9 a.m. to noon and Monday and Tuesday evenings, June 19 and 20, from 7 to 9 p.m. All remaining badges can be picked up by members at the swim pool office, starting June 24, he said.

The recreation director commented that a few vacancies remain for memberships for the pool's fifth season, with application forms available at his office. He declared that several new improvements have been completed and a number of special events are scheduled. Plans are also being completed for the "learn to swim" program for beginners and advanced swimmers.

STANLEY WNEK will return this summer as pool manager. A Springfield resident, Wnek is varsity baseball coach at Irvington High School, where his team recently scored its 150th victory under his direction. Other major positions at the pool will be filled by Jack Roland as waterfront director, Jack Aggar as head lifeguard and Anthony Pilano as recreation supervisor. Lifeguards will include William Reickle, Greg Westar, Glen Albano, George Simpson, Martin Miktus, Sue Koneski, Marilyn Gordon, Linda Wolfkeil, Carolyn Cowles and Jackie Smith.

Evelyn Aronow and Selma Cohen will work at the entrance desk, with Dom Fabrizio and P. Barnwell in charge of the lockers. Robert Thell, Hank Duttman and William Murphy will be assigned to maintenance. The recreation staff at the pool will consist of Bob Gardian, Lucille La Morgese, Val-Dei Vaccaro, Phyllis Stoffman, Marion Keeley and Nancy Lester.

Jewish groups will hold Israel Emergency Rally

Plans for an "Israel Emergency Rally" Sunday at 8 p.m. at Temple Beth Ahm, designed to mobilize local support for Israel in the present crisis in the Middle East, were announced this week by Rabbi Israel S. Dresner of Temple Sharey Shalom and Rabbi Reuben R. Levine of Temple Beth Ahm.

The rally is sponsored by the two synagogues and by all Jewish organizations in Springfield, in conjunction with the national organization for the sale of State of Israel Bonds. The local community has established a goal of $250,000 in bond sales as a specific support for Israel during the current crisis.

The principal speaker will be Yehuda Hellman, executive secretary of the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations. This group, representing all aspects of American Jewish life, is acting as spokesman for the nation's six million Jews during the tense situation in the Middle East.

A proclamation designating Sunday as Israel Emergency Day in Springfield and urging all people of the township to express their support for Israel by participating in Sunday night's rally was issued this week by Mayor Arthur M. Falkin.

THE MAYOR DECLARED: "A war in any part of the world in our day, unquestionably concerns us, you and me. Regardless of how remote the location of the hostilities may be, with the weapons available to the world's armies, my war could be in our back yards, tomorrow. It is for this reason that I proclaim Sunday, June 11, 1967, Israel Emergency Day in Springfield and urge all people of the township to express their support for Israel by participating in Sunday night's rally which will be held at Temple Beth Ahm at 8 p.m. on Sunday, June 11, 1967, at 8 p.m., to raise their voices in an effort to correct the injustices that are even now occurring."

THE TWO LOCAL RABBIS noted that the Israel bond organization and the Israel Emergency Fund of the United Jewish Appeal are working together to raise one billion dollars in this country to help Israel deal with the present emergency and the armed opposition of all Arab countries. In addition to participation by Rabbi Levine and Rabbi Dresner, a number of local Christians (Continued on page 6)

Tourney to draw top stars, crowds

Springfield residents, merchants and police are preparing this week for a flood of some 100,000 visitors when the U. S. Open championship tournament gets under way Monday at Baltusrol Golf Club. The nation's top golfers will have Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for practice sessions, with the play-off competition to run from next Thursday through Sunday, June 18.

All available police will be on duty to cope with the anticipated crowds, and all streets in the vicinity of the golf club will be barred to parking for the entire tournament. Merchants will display banners welcoming all the visitors, and potential customers. Many local teenagers will work in various capacities at the tournament, through the cooperation of the Youth Employment Service.

Mrs. Black appointed new chairman of town youth employment agency

Mrs. Saul Black, who resides on Mountain ave., was appointed chairman of the Youth Employment Service of Springfield at a board of directors meeting held on May 24. The appointment was made by Mrs. Edith Gold, retiring chairman, with unanimous approval by the members of the YES board. Appointed also to serve on the board of directors were Mrs. Neum Gershin, who will now be co-chairman and who will, in addition, be chairman of volunteer scheduling; Mrs. Seymour Margulies, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Max Eruchter, recording secretary. Both secretarial posts were previously held by Mrs. Edward Lilen. Mrs. Gershin will succeed John Grifo in the position of co-chairman and will assume the duties of Mrs. Moses Wachtel, who was chairman for scheduling volunteers.

Members of the board of directors who attended the meeting and who will continue to serve on the board were Mrs. Frank McClatchey, Mrs. Robert Hardgrove, Mrs. Lillian, Mrs. Gold, Mrs. Black, Grifo and Martin Karp. Lawrence Burns and Henry Bedell were also present at the meeting, upon invitation of the board members. The executive board of YES accepted with respect the resignation of Mrs. McClatchey, former chairman of volunteer training. The present that evening expressed their appreciation for an "exceptionally well-done job" with (Continued on page 6)

Region moves to comply with new school bus law

Providing free bus service for students of private and parochial schools who live within the Regional High School District will be a major project for the district, according to Dr. Warren Davis, regional superintendent of schools, and Lewis Fredericks, school board secretary. The transportation is required under a new law signed last month by Gov. Richard J. Hughes. Busing is required, by the new law, for all students who attend non-profit secondary schools more than two-and-a-half miles and less than 20 miles from their homes. Regional school boards will be responsible for the busing of students from all communities within their districts, with costs to be met by local boards of education for the transportation of elementary school students.

Dr. Davis attended a meeting of all superintendents within the county last Friday, at which the new bus law was a major topic of discussion. He stressed that the busing of students to private and parochial elementary schools, more than two miles from their homes, will apply even to Kenilworth and Garwood, units of the Regional District which do not provide bus service for their public elementary school students. The other parts of the region, Springfield, Mountainside, Berkeley Heights and Clark, do have some public school youngsters at present.

"THE NEW BUS SERVICE will certainly require the regional board to hire a coordinator of transportation," Dr. Davis said. He added that this will probably be a full-time job. Fredericks disclosed that he had received 119 requests for bus service under the new law, and that he expected many more before the deadline for applications arrives on July 10.

The largest number of applications were for transportation to Union Catholic High School in Scotch Plains. There were 52 requests from students there. Other applications were for Oak Knoll School, Summit, 14; Far Brook School, Short Hills, 9; St. Benedict's Preparatory School, Newark, 9; Kent Place School, Summit, 9; Seton Hall Preparatory School, South Orange, 4; Holy Trinity High School, Westfield, 3; Roselle Catholic High School, 3; Pingry School, Hillside, 3; Newark Academy, Livingston, 3; Our Lady of Lourdes School, Mountainside, 3; Mt. St. Mary's School, Plainfield, 3; Short Hills Country Day School, 2; Hebrew Youth Academy, Newark, 1; and Mother Seton School, Clark, 1.

Fredericks stressed that all the applications received to date had been unsolicited. He said that he had not solicited or publicized the receipt of applications, because he had not yet received any information from Trenton on the procedures to follow. He added that all six local school boards within the district had been forwarding to him any requests they might receive.

"We will naturally comply with the letter of the law," Fredericks commented. "I don't know, but we will, somehow." (Continued on page 6)

Blackout of power causes emergency for safety agencies

The Springfield police and fire departments reported that there was considerable apprehension, but no major problem, during the power blackout which struck the entire area on Monday. Police headquarters received many telephone calls, particularly from motorists who feared that they would run out of gas. Most gas stations were unable to pump gas without any power.

Police were able to direct these callers to the Springfield Heights Garage, 721 Mountain ave., where emergency power for the pumps was provided by the motor from a power lawn mower.

Another potential crisis was avoided by the use of a gasoline-driven emergency pump at the local installation of the Commonwealth Water Co. With water pressure in Union well below the danger level, the Springfield Fire Department had been alerted for possible use of its hydrants if there were a fire in Union near the Springfield line. Fire headquarters added, however, that this aid was not needed. No fires broke out in Springfield during the emergency.

Police manned all major intersections in the township to direct motorists during the hours when traffic lights did not work. Headquarters was also prepared to call members of the First Aid Squad, whose emergency radios were without power. This service, too, proved not to be needed. All schools were able to maintain normal schedules.

The blackout began at 10:17 a.m., and power was partially restored at 11:45. A second power loss lasted from 12:07 to 12:45 p.m.

Boy Scout troop plans camping trip to lake in Poconos

Boy Scout Troop 70 of Springfield will go on a camping trip this weekend to Lake Ministink in the Pennsylvania State Forest area of the Pocono Mountains.

Other future activities of the troop will include participation in the Northern District Swim-O-Ree to be held on Saturday, June 17, in the Springfield Municipal Pool. All troops in the district will compete during the day-long event, which will include swimming races, canyoneering and Order of the Arrow ceremony. Explorer Post 70, which has Lawrence Burns as advisor, is planning a weekend camping and fishing trip to Sea Isle City.

Troop 70 recently went on a weekend trip to Gettysburg, Pa. The scouts camped in Caledonia State Forest, near Gettysburg, and went swimming and fishing. After touring the Civil War battlefield, the scouts went to Lancaster where they toured an Amish farmhouse and had a Pennsylvania Dutch smorgasbord dinner. On the way home, the group stopped at a shale quarry at Deer Lake, Pa., and obtained fossils embedded in shale.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Homeowners fighting the crabgrass war should realize that lawn fertilizers only make the problem worse, one crop scientist says.

He suggested a line of grasses called fescues as the best crabgrass enemy and lawn saver.

Shavuot festival celebrates giving of 'God's moral law'

BY RABBI REUBEN R. LEVINE, TEMPLE BETH AHM

The Passover festival, which was observed by Jewish people this year at the end of April, is essentially an incomplete holiday. Though this may sound strange to many, it is ideologically true.

Tradition views the Passover observance as a commemoration of the release of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage, and thus it celebrates human freedom. But this freedom was not viewed as an end in itself; there was a purpose for the liberation of these people, and the purpose of this freedom is recognized in another observance, separate from, yet related to, Passover.

The holiday referred to is Shavuot, or the Feast of Weeks, known also by the Latin name of Pentecost. Although it no doubt has origins in a pre-Biblical spring harvest festival, Judaism recognizes Shavuot as the historical remembrance of the establishment of the covenant between God and the Israelites, sealed by the giving of the Ten Commandments at Mt. Sinai. Thus we assert the very purpose of the Exodus: it was a necessary step in bringing a people to its greater moment of commitment to God and to His moral law. Tradition has it that it took the Israelites seven weeks to get from Egypt to Mt. Sinai and so, beginning with the second day of Passover, 49 days are counted. These seven weeks give the name to the holiday since the word "Shavuot" means weeks (or, literally, seven sevens).

THIS YEAR Shavuot will be observed from Tuesday evening through sundown next Thursday. Since it commemorates the presentation of law and divine teaching to mankind, it is customary for synagogues to mark the observance with events associated with religious education.

The highlight of the Shavuot season in most Jewish congregations is a confirmation ceremony for the graduates of the post-Bar Mitzvah and Bat Mitzvah educational program that they maintain. Such a ceremony will be held at Temple Beth Ahm this Saturday evening, when the largest class of teenagers ever to be confirmed at Beth Ahm will present a cantata entitled "What is Torah."

In addition to other graduation ceremonies on Sunday for children completing the regular five-year religious school program, further events are scheduled in conjunction with the holiday.

On Tuesday, at the first holiday evening service, newly elected officers of the brotherhood will be installed. There will be morning and evening services Wednesday and a morning service next Thursday.

So it is that Shavuot celebrates learning and moral education as one of man's highest pursuits. It emphasizes for Jews, and for all who derive spiritual inspiration from Biblical teaching, that man is destined to be free, but that this freedom is a means to higher ends— to intellectual attainment and commitment to a civilized, ethical way of life.

Men waste few glances at girls in loose panses

Now that the warm breezes blow and summer is upon us, we would like to make our position clear upon one vital issue. We are all in favor of miniskirts, not to mention minibikinis, but only in the proper time and setting. In other words, the miniskirt is fine when worn by a minitween, but not quite the thing when it adorns a maximatron.

While we are surveying the passing scene from an aesthetic point of view, we would like to stress our eternal opposition to one feminine failing which often arouses more horror than a size 10 pair of dungarees on a size 16 figure. We refer to the members of the fair sex who appear in public with their hair in rollers, looking precisely like Gorgons from the least cheerful pages of Greek legend. Hair that looks as if it is full of serpents is fine for classical myths, but hardly for modern misses.

In Past Tense

ONE YEAR AGO EDWARD J. RUBY township recreation director, admires a sign denoting a park area named in his honor, at ceremonies arranged without his knowledge. The Springfield Municipal Swimming pool opens on schedule, even though the Highway Department retreats a long way from its original promise to have the detour on Morris Avenue taking all traffic directly past the entrance to the pool, eliminated by that time.

FIVE YEARS AGO Petitioners objecting to Evergreen Lodge as the site of the new municipal swimming pool are being circulated, and even the present operator of the lodge is organizing groups against improving this site for the pool.

U.S. Congresswoman FLORENCE P. DWYER Reports

Each year, I poll a representative sampling of my constituents in my Congressional District in an effort to determine how they feel about major issues of public policy which Congress may be called on to decide. I have found that kind of public opinion survey to be one of the most valuable ways of keeping in touch with the thinking of the people I represent, and this year was no exception. In fact, the response this year was greater than ever. Of the approximately 14,000 constituents who received the questionnaire, substantially more than 25 percent replied — a fact which lends added significance to the results.

A-MUSING from the desk

'TIS THE SEASON TO BE... With the Little League season in full swing, a mother must pause and wonder... is it worth it? Is it worth the dinners prepared, eaten and hardly digested in five minutes flat? Is it worth the anxiety and worry of the young one as to whether the game will be rained out? Is it worth the worry and last-minute frantic maternal cry to add another shirt to insure sufficient warmth against the cold, non-spring-like weather? And is it worth it to bear the look of complete and utter dejection on the face of our super-star when he returns home with the sad bulletin, "we lost."

square and call them as they were? Or would he lean towards our team just a tiny little bit? (He did... much to the dismay of the opposing team's coach.) And then there is the superb playing of OUR boy. We aren't boasting or living in our own pink little cloud, but we do know that Mickey Mantle started in just this way. Yes, OUR son is the center fielder... all 50 inches of him. He plays that field as if it was made for him. He covers the area in much the same way as any one of the "finer" players in the major leagues. He catches those fly balls with one hand, running with his back to home plate... and whirls around to double a guy off first base.

PROFILE--Alfred Rutz

By BEA SMITH "I was classified 4-F in the beginning of World War II," says Alfred Rutz of Springfield, new county commander of the American Legion. "When I went for a physical examination at the beginning, they told me I had a heart murmur. That was the first I knew of it."

ALFRED RUTZ The family belongs to the First Presbyterian Church in Springfield. Rutz joined the American Legion Continental Post 228 in Springfield in 1956, because, as he says, he happens to be "a very active man."

Rutz, a husky man, who looks the picture of health, and who was elected county commander on May 10, explains that back in the early 1940s, when he was first rejected, he looked for a defense job. "That was the next best thing," he says. "And that's when I joined the CIBA Pharmaceutical Company in Summit."

AFTER SPENDING 34 months in the service, Rutz returned to CIBA, where he has been ever since. He is a pharmaceutical operator there. "I work in the granulating and compressing departments."

Rutz met the former Beulah Simmons of up-state New York at CIBA. "I met her at a union meeting," he says. "In fact, she was employed there before I was. After we were married, she took time out to raise a family, then went back to work in 1957."

Rutz, who always likes to be active, was president of the labor union, Local 9 of the International Chemical Workers, for three years. He was on the executive board for 10 years.

THE COUNTY CHIEF has "a variety of duties. I have to set up different committees for Legion programs. These include the American Legion baseball program, Americanism, safety, child welfare and rehabilitation, which is one of our biggest programs. I have a chairman for each of the committees, but my responsibility is to see that the programs are smoothly run."

"We have 23 Legion posts in Union County, and we install all of the officers. This, of course, is the duty of all the county officers. As commander, I run the installations. And I have to be present at all the county functions."

"I sat up till the wee hours sharing moments of the day with 12 wonderful girls whose caliber I should not exceed 250 words in length and should be typed with double spacing (not in all capital letters, please). All letters must be signed. Writer's name will not be withheld if the letter is of political nature. This newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any letter."

YOUTH EMPLOYMENT At a Youth Employment Service board of directors meeting on May 24, I appointed Mrs. Ruth Black to succeed me as chairman of YES, with the unanimous approval of the board members present.

Party for Girl Scouts and Brownies listed for June 28 at Municipal Pool

A swim party for all registered Brownies, Girl Scouts and adults will be held on Wednesday, June 28, from 9:30 a.m. to noon in the Springfield Municipal Pool, Mrs. Louis Quinton, community chairman, announced at the meeting of 25 leaders in the Recreation House last Wednesday. In the event of rain, the party will be held the following day. Mrs. Robert Ziegler is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Henry Hunke said that 250 Scouts and leaders attended the weekend at Kamp-Klamasha on May 19, 20 and 21 and asked those who attended for an evaluation of the event. Plans for another encampment this month were discussed. Mrs. Quinton outlined a tentative program for next year's scouting in Springfield as a community group.

Gifts were presented to Martha Benn and Anne Sylvester, members of Washington Rock Girl Scout Council, who are going to Europe for a tour. They worked with the Springfield scouts during the year. The Senior Scouts of Troop 246 served coffee and cake.

APPROXIMATELY 100 parents and friends attended the candlelight Court of Awards for the Junior and Cadette Scouts of St. James Parish on May 25 in the school. Colors were carried as follows: American flag, Deborah Davis and Nancy Smith of Troop 583; troop flag, Gloria Fernandez and Eileen Weir of Troop 501, and world flag, Marie Dlugosz and Eileen Zimmerman of Troop 556.

After the signing of "America" and the Pledge of Allegiance, colors were presented by Mrs. Robert Ziegler, Mrs. Leo L. Andrews Jr., parish coordinator, welcomed those present and thanked those who aided the scouting program during the year. She introduced the moderator, the Rev. Richard A. Nardone, who spoke and then blessed the badges presented to the scouts.

Mary Elaine Keller lighted three candles, one for each part of the Girl Scout Promise and recited the Promise which was followed by the Living Rosary. The Living Rosary was composed by 104 Juniors, Cadettes, Brownies and leaders, each representing a bead or a part of the Cross in the Rosary. The Rosary was led by Mrs. Anthony Graziano, assisted by Mrs. Ziegler. The prayers were offered for U.S. servicemen serving in Vietnam.

The 10 Girl Scout Laws were recited by Cadette Scouts from Troop 273. Merit badges were presented to Junior and Cadette Scouts. The following Junior Scouts became Cadette Scouts and passed over the bridge to the Cadette program: Kathleen Brennan, Susan Saffery, Maria Dieri, Gloria Fernandez, Sharon Johnson, Eileen Polewka, Mary Ann Rachel, Rose Wyglendowski, Julia Blaufox and Paula Adams. They were accepted by Mrs. Andrews, leader of Troop 273.

Mary Elaine Keller received the highest award in the Cadette program, the Challenge of the Girl Scout Promise, First Class Badge and First Class Pin. She received the challenge and badge from her leader, and Mrs. Keller, her mother, was given the honor of giving the pin to her daughter.

SENIOR TROOP 246, led by Mrs. Ziegler, is making curtains for the Recreation House and will be doing a complete spring cleaning project within the next few weeks to make the Recreation House a more attractive meeting place. The troop plans to meet during the summer. Their plans include boating, camping, fashions, trips, program-aid work and service for the United Fund. An invitation has been extended to all girls who will be entering the 10th grade in the fall to join the scouts when they meet at the Creation House or to telephone Mrs. Ziegler at 379-8816 for information.

Junior Troop 583, led by Mrs. Anthony Pepe, presented two plays, "Something for Mother" and "The First Girl Scout Troop in the U.S.A.," at the meeting last Wednesday. Refreshments were served by the troop members to mothers who were present. A display featuring historical Springfield was exhibited.

TWENTY-ONE BROWNIES flew up to the Junior Program on May 18 in St. James School. The new Junior Scouts are Elaine Clarke, Alicia Fernandez, Connie Funk, Mary Ellen Lotredo, Deborah Lusardi, Deborah Mast, Deborah Olszewski, Catherine Guinee and Lisa Zarello, all of Troop 31, and Mary Ann Burkhardt, Loretta Dieckert, Patricia Kooz, Lynn Kortenhaus, Linda Murnane, Linda Pepe, Carol A. Perrelli, Lori Ruocco, Mary Solazzi, Deborah Venduts and Bonnie Wengart, all of Troop 214.

The colors were carried by Bonnie Wengart, Mary Burkhardt, Deborah Olszewski and Deborah Mast. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Gloria Fernandez and the Brownie prayer by Carol Perrelli. Deborah Lusardi led the Brownie promise. Mrs. Leo L. Andrews Jr. welcomed the parents of the Brownies and friends. Mrs. Joseph Leonardi, Brownie troop consultant, spoke and Mrs. Anthony Graziano read a poem, "What is a Girl Scout?" Mrs. Edward Olszewski told the Brownie requirements. Troop 31 sang the "Brownie Smile Song" and Troop 214 sang the "Owl Song."

Brownie wings were presented to the girls by their leaders, Mrs. Graziano and Mrs. Olszewski. Then the girls were accepted by the Junior leaders, Mrs. Joseph Carroll and Mrs. Anthony Pepe. Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Guinee, assistant leader of Troop 583.

Here's some advice: Retire . . . and go broke

Retire and go broke. That is the prospect for older people that sociologist Abram Jaffe of Columbia University has drawn from a new study of the pension incomes of Americans. His advice: Don't retire if you can help it.

"An individual worker would be wise to remain employed as long as possible during times when productivity per worker is advancing," he declares in a report this week titled "Pensions, Labor Productivity and Inflation." It appears in the current issue of the New York Statistician, the publication of the

New York Area Chapter of the American Statistical Association.

Dr. Jaffe is director of the Manpower and Population Program of the Columbia University Bureau of Applied Social Research.

Pension incomes are far too low, he states, and pensioners' economic position in society is steadily deteriorating. In 1965, the average retired man and his wife received a Federal pension amounting to only 38 per cent of what he might have earned if he could have had a job at prevailing wages. In 1953, the pension was about half of job-earnings. A single man suffered even greater losses. Three-quarters of those pensioners who were single were living in poverty (under $2,000 annual income) in 1965, he reports.

"MOST PERSONS BEYOND the age of 65 have no alternative to a pension," Dr. Jaffe writes. "If our society cannot, or will not, employ them at prevailing wages, then the only alternative is a higher pension — one with a built-in escalator that will keep the pension at a level of not less than 75 per cent of prevailing wages."

There is no automatic escalator now in operation to raise pensions as the general wage level rises, Dr. Jaffe notes, adding: "Governments compensate for this deficiency to some extent by sporadically raising pensions, but never enough. Consequently, the longer the pensioned man lives, the more likely is his income to deteriorate in comparison with employed persons."

Assuming that the current productivity growth of the country continues at the conservatively estimated two percent each year, he reports, the executive who retired at a pension of $20,000 in 1965 will slip from about fifth place to 15th place among income receivers by 1980. And if inflation and productivity combine to increase incomes at the greater annual rate of 3.5 percent, he will slip to 30th place on a scale of 100 over the same 15 years.

For the average wage earner, the situation is worse. Assuming the same 3.5 percent growth rate, the worker with average earnings who retires at full pay is likely to be pushed to the bottom — into the so-called poverty group — within 15 years after he retires, Dr. Jaffe states.

"One of the basic facts of life in the United States in the mid-1960s," he reports, "is that the great majority of pensioned older people receive benefits only under the Federal Old Age Insurance program (Social Security). Very few — perhaps a maximum of one in 10 — receive pensions from private sources. Accordingly, the great majority are living off fixed pensions." This is the reason why an individual would do well to keep working as long as possible during times of advancing productivity.

Dr. Jaffe illustrates the loss to pensioners with the example of a married man without children who retired at 65 in 1953 from a manufacturing plant where he had been working for 25 years.

"For the first three or four years after retirement," he writes, "the OASI pension furnished the retired man and his wife with a little less than half of what his take-home income would have been if he had continued working. Of course, if he had earned well above the median income, he suffered an even greater loss in take-home income since he would not have received any higher pension."

OVER THE YEARS his pension deteriorated relative to job earnings so that 10 years later his pension amounted to hardly more than one-third of earnings. If he could have worked in 1964, for example, he would have had a yearly income of about $5,210 (after taxes). His pension, however, paid but $1,897. He lost two-thirds of his potential income that year by virtue of being retired.

The deterioration occurred despite increases granted by Congress in 1954, 1959 and 1965, the Columbia sociologist notes. "Such increases always lag considerably behind the increases in job earnings," he declares.

"Whether the older person prefers a job or his inadequate pension — and leisure is a meaningless question today. The fact is that he has great difficulty holding on to his job or finding a new one if discharged. For most persons there is no alternative: Retire and go broke."

SANDWICH SNACKS
 Sweet sandwiches for tea-time can be made from nut or datenut bread spread with cream cheese mixed with maraschino cherries, chopped and a bit of orange, lemon or pineapple marmalade.

Try a combo of sliced turkey and ham served open-face on slices of rye-bread. Top with lettuce and Thousand Island dressing.

Pizza sauce can season ground beef while it browns. Serve atop English muffins with a slice of Mozzarella cheese and run under the broiler to melt this slightly.

Mix slightly beaten eggs with cream and add some Chinese vegetables to them. Cook in a buttered small skillet (enough for a single serving, with stirring until done. Serve on white toast, folding the egg-vegetable mixture, if necessary, as in an omelet.

Have you tried sliced corned beef topped with cole slaw and then a slice of Swiss cheese in a Kaiser roll? It's wonderful!

Form fresh (bulk) pork sausage into a patty and cook for sandwiches on toasted white bread. Top the sausage with fried apple rings.

HELEN'S FAVORITE CHEESE BALL
 (For chips, crackers)
 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
 1/4-1/2 pound blue cheese
 1/4 pound grated sharp cheddar cheese
 1 small onion (minced)
 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 1/2 cup chopped pecans
 Finely chopped parsley
 Let all cheese stand in mixing bowl at room temperature for about 2 hours or until soft enough to mix. Add onion and Worcestershire sauce; beat well. Fold in pecans. Shape into ball. Roll in chopped parsley. Chill until firm.

Honorary degree awarded Saturday to Senator Hughes

State Senator Mildred Barry Hughes (D-Union) became Dr. Hughes on Saturday afternoon when she was awarded an honorary doctorate in humane letters by her alma mater, Georgian Court College at Lakewood.

The citation to Mrs. Hughes, the only woman ever elected to the State Senate, was read by Sister Mary Pierre, president of the college. The diploma was presented by the Most Rev. George W. Ahr, S.T.D., bishop of the Trenton Diocese.

It was the second time within a year that Senator Hughes participated in Georgian Court commencement exercises. She delivered the principal address at the 1966 graduation ceremonies and shared the spotlight with Helen Hayes, the first lady of the American theater, who was awarded an honorary doctorate at that time.

Following her graduation from Georgian Court College with a BA cum laude, Mrs. Hughes did postgraduate work in education at New York University, became a school teacher, and then a housewife. She married to Peter L. Hughes Jr., an Elizabeth attorney. They have three sons—two lawyers and one an engineer.

Mrs. Hughes served in the State Assembly from 1957 to 1965, when she won election as New Jersey's only woman Senator.

Sen. Hughes urges N.Y. convention: increase minimum drinking age to 21

State Senator Mildred Barry Hughes (D-Union) this week revealed she has urged the New York State Constitutional Convention to consider adoption of a provision which would set a 21-year minimum on the age for the purchase of alcoholic beverages in the Empire State.

She also has asked the Convention to officially give New Jersey an opportunity to present its case on the question.

Senator Hughes, chairman of the new Commission on Teen-Age Drinking, made the appeal in a letter to Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travis, president of the New York State Constitutional Convention. She suggested that the Convention, now in session, take action that the New York Legislature has bypassed on several occasions.

"It is possible," Senator Hughes commented, "that the Convention, which is less politically involved than the Legislature, might be more receptive to New Jersey's pleas."

In her letter to Assemblyman Travis, Senator Hughes said:

"As you are aware, the New Jersey Legislature and Governor Richard J. Hughes have been seeking for many years to have New York State adopt legislation which would coincide with New Jersey's prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages to any person under 21 years of age. We have appealed to the New York Legislature on numerous occasions but have been unable to get it to enact legislation to raise the minimum age from 18 to 21."

"I KNOW YOU and many others in New York State are familiar with our problem. For those who are not, it is simply stated: Teen-agers from New Jersey visit your state and are served or are permitted to buy alcoholic beverages which they consume on their return to New Jersey. Many of these teen-agers have become involved in motor vehicle and other tragedies.

"You and many of your colleagues have been sympathetic to us in our pleas for legislative action. Unfortunately, as far as

New Jersey is concerned, this sympathetic attitude has not extended sufficiently throughout your Legislature.

"However, we have not given up hope that some day New York will take the action necessary to prevent our teen-agers from taking a dangerously 'high' road home from New York.

"That day may come in your current Constitutional Convention. We feel that the Commission affords an opportune time for New Jersey to take the step which we in New Jersey believe will provide a protection for our youth—and would be a safeguard for yours—in New York State as well. We appeal to your convention delegates to give serious thought to the adoption of a provision which would set a 21-year minimum on the age for the purchase of alcoholic beverages.

"If it is possible for you to give New Jersey an opportunity to be heard on this important matter, please advise me when the schedule will permit. We have a newly constituted group, the New Jersey Commission on Teen-Age Drinking, which is working on the problem. I am its chairman, and we would appreciate being given a chance to present our case for a uniform 21-year age minimum for the sale of alcoholic beverages."

Booklet available for young families with information on social security

Why should a man with a wife and young children concern himself with anything that seems far away as social security?

A new booklet, "Social Security Information for Young Families," specifically designed to answer this question if now available, social security district manager, Ralph W. Jones announced this week.

"Social security is not just a retirement program, and it is not just for old people," Jones said. "This new booklet gives the young worker important information about the survivors and disability protection that he and his family have now.

Nine out of 10 families in the Union-Somerset County area have social security survivor protection which amount to over $75,000 in benefits if the breadwinner in the family should die, Jones pointed out.

Disability insurance is the other social security program of particular importance to the young worker. After just five years of work under social security, the worker and his family are eligible to receive monthly benefit payments if he should become severely disabled and the condition is expected to last a year or longer.

Jones said that "Social Security Information for Young Families" explains in detail survivors and disability protection, what it can mean to a family, and how to make application should it become necessary. Also included is information on how to check your social security account and the financing of social security.

Copies of this pamphlet may be obtained free of charge from the Elizabeth social security office at 268 North Broad street. The Elizabeth office is open between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The office is also open from 5 until 8 p.m. every Thursday evening.

The restaurant, to include a cocktail lounge and banquet facilities, will specialize in continental cuisine, with French decor. Darose Enterprises owns Encore. Stephen Potter is the architect.

Membership open in Watchung troop

Boys and girls nine years of age and older may now register for membership in the Watchung Troop, at the Union County Park Commission's Watchung Stable, Glenside ave., Summit. Registrations will be accepted at the Stable office on weekdays and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. until enrollment is complete.

The troop, organized in March, 1934, will start the summer riding season on Monday, June 26. Troopers will have a choice of riding on Mondays and Wednesdays, or Tuesdays and Thursdays, or on Fridays for five weeks.

It is not necessary to have previous riding experience to become a member. The troop is formed into squads for sub-novice, novice, advanced, and experienced riders. Every member gains riding experience by a progressive series of classes and drills that include every phase of horsemanship.

The fee for the troop is $33 for 10 rides and $26 for eight rides. Full fees must be paid at the time of registration. For additional information contact Robert J. Luffin, Director of Troops, Watchung Stable, Glenside ave., Summit.

Haddon appointed at Camp Endeavor

David Haddon of Plainfield, a former resident of Union, has been appointed director of Camp Endeavor at Watchung for this summer, according to an announcement from the trustees of the camp.

Haddon, a native of Elizabeth, was graduated from Union High School and Newark State College in Union. He served in the U.S. Air Force from 1958 to 1962.

Last summer he was named an eighth and ninth grade English teacher in the Fanwood-South Plain school system, where he also coaches wrestling.

His wife, Mary, will assist him in his duties at Camp Endeavor during the summer. Also assisting at the camp will be H. L. McConaughy, who recently retired after 14 years as director of Silver Bay YMCA Conference Center on Lake George, N.Y. He served as camping consultant.

Camp Endeavor has provided free summer camping for needy children since 1911. Donald McBoagall of Elm st., Westfield, treasurer, said that funds to support the approximately 400 youngsters attending are still needed. He urged that contributions be sent to him.

The first unit of its kind was initiated when the Missouri National Guard created an air section where members were taught flight and ballooning.

Savings on Expo tickets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans planning to visit Canada's Expo 67 can save as much as one third of the cost of admission tickets by buying them in the United States before leaving for Montreal.

The tickets, called "Passports," can be purchased at thousands of banks, airlines, bus and train ticket counters, many department stores, travel agencies and at all American Express Travel Offices. As an example of savings a single-day ticket of admission for adults costs $2.50 at an Expo 67 gate in Montreal but only $2.10 in the United States. For family groups, savings can amount to $15 or more per group.

POINTS FOR SELECTING A COOKBOOK FOR THE BRIDE

A shower for the bride-to-be is a popular event during this time of the year.

In deciding upon a gift for the new homemaker, if you plan on giving her a cookbook, choose it with care.

A beginning cook needs a basic, recipe-filled book with step-by-step illustrations, definitions of terms, and photographs of finished dishes.

Consider the author and his background. Cookbooks that have proven to be reliable through the years have been written by home economists and other food authorities.

Read the recipes. They should be easy to follow and have the ingredients listed in the sequence of their use.

Information in cookbooks printed ten years ago or more, and not revised, do not reflect the latest product development.

Two-county group to hear Dr. Dionne

The Essex-Union Section of the New Jersey Association for Brain Injured Children will meet on Tuesday, June 13, at 8:30 p.m. at Taylor Park Recreation House, Millburn.

The speaker will be Dr. Joseph Dionne, vice president of research and development at Educational Development Laboratories in Huntington, N. J.

Dr. Dionne's educational program includes Hofstra University, John Hopkins University, and Teachers College, Columbia University.

The New Jersey Association for Brain Injured Children is an organization of professionals and parents interested in establishing private and public facilities for research on and education of the personally handicapped child.

FOR THE BIRDS

By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER, professor, Union Junior College

Memorial Day was the occasion for the first neighborhood picnic in our backyard. Grandparents, parents, children and grandchildren from our house and the next two, as you go towards town, gather and enjoy a cooperative supper. My wife, librarian at a nearby private school didn't have the day off so my chores included setting the scene for the event.

This year as I was mowing the back lawn, cleaning off the yard furniture and bringing chairs out of the garage where they had hung unused, since last fall, I took time off to watch two male scarlet tanagers climb around the oak picking off inchworms. When all the arrangements were complete, I sat down and watched them, knowing they would probably soon leave and lead further north.

The sun was so low that only tops of the trees were illuminated when suddenly it seemed the tip of a high branch had burst into orange flame. A Baltimore Oriole had joined the pair of firebirds and was posing a moment before helping in the caterpillar roundup. People in town had called to say they had spotted these striking birds but this was the first I'd seen this spring.

Many nature lovers have written about Baltimore Orioles. Perhaps the most articulate was Dr. Winsor M. Tyler. "But the greatest day of the whole year is in early May when the season is well established, when the apple blossoms are opening. Many of the birds are already here and have been singing for days. On this day, not far from the eighth of the month, the Baltimore Oriole makes his dramatic entrance into New England. On every hand, in our orchards, among the high branches of our roadside elms, the little trumpeter is heard blowing his tiny bugle, all out-of-doors is animated by his buoyant personality."

It was THE American colonists in the 17th century who noted the brilliant orange and black colors were those of the Lords Baltimore, colonizers of Maryland. They named him "Baltimore-bird" and today he's the state bird of Maryland.

In Brooklyn, N.Y., Black received his B.A. degree in business from C.C.N.Y. He resides with his wife and family in Westbury, L.I.

Meadowbrook summer billings

"Gypsy," stage musical based on Gypsy Rose Lee's memoirs, and starring Ann Southern, continues at the Meadowbrook Dinner Theater, Cedar Grove.

And the strange actress, who utters no sounds throughout the film (except at the end when she says: "Nothing"), uses the innocent nurse as a puppet with which to play until she becomes bored.

The acting is superb as is Bergman's direction. But when he goes off on sideline tangents with camera tricks, even a Bergman fan can become distracted and somewhat baffled.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

EXAMPLE
 When do you acknowledge God? Is it only when you are in immediate need of help or assistance?
 Do you say a little prayer when it seems a "big break" or a "big deal" appear just out of reach?
 Have you ever thought of praying for guidance. Have you ever asked God to help you make the right decisions in every phase of everyday living?
 Do you ever consider that commitments are simple and there is no proper example of a good life than that which may be found in the life of Christ upon earth. Pray for faith and guidance, not just for help—and your life will be well directed.

St. James leagues headed by Morris Knights in minors

Morris Motors in the majors and Knights of Columbus in the minors continued to lead their respective sections in the most recent action in the St. James Little League.

On May 23 and June 1, Morris Motors defeated their contending rival, Springfield House, by 3 to 2 and 11 to 5 to take a commanding lead. Joe Rajano was both the pitching and batting star.

Rajano hit a home run to provide the winning margin on May 23, as team-mate Anthony Duva also homered with one man on.

Anthony Duva pitched and hit a bases-loaded home run to lead the way in the June 1 game. Morris Motors is undoubtedly the best in the league, with a well-balanced team.

Brian Mullen struck out 12 men as he pitched a 3 to 1 no-hit victory for the Knights of Columbus over Brunner Excavating. The Knights of Columbus appear to be headed for their second straight title.

Local group seeks names on petition urging 'Negotiation Now' in Vietnam

Plans for a local campaign to gain signatures for a petition seeking immediate cessation toward an end to the Vietnam war were announced this week by the Sp. of the Rev. and Laymen's Concerned About Vietnam, Rabbi Israel DeCener of Temple Shalom Synagogue, 45 South Main St., Springfield.

The petition urges the government to take the first step and end the bombing of North Vietnam now, as well as to peace talks, Episcopal Bishop of Newark, one of the New Jersey sponsors of the petition, said recently that negotiation is the only way to avoid further escalation, global war or a unilateral withdrawal from South Vietnam.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
My mother and father were divorced a few years ago and my problem is this: I live with my dad and stepmother who is very wonderful to my two brothers and me. I saw my real mom last month and she asked if we would write to her and send pictures of ourselves. We have written, sent pictures that my step-mother had saved for her, but all to no avail. I even gave my mom my bible and asked her to read it in hopes it would help her to straighten herself out. We haven't heard a word at all from her! Do you have any suggestions as to what we can do to get her to write or visit us? I certainly would appreciate an answer.

Dear Don't:
Don't stop writing or sending pictures... and get your brothers to do likewise. If your mother has a problem, hearing from you boys will help her to overcome it sooner. She will communicate with you, I know, as soon as she is able.

Dear Amy:
Shortly I am to be married. My question may seem unusual to you but I don't know how to treat my future in-laws. They are young modern and very nice, I admit I feel strange with them at times, but it's not their fault. I know the are food of me and they do everything to make me feel at home when I visit them. They're really very nice. I asked a friend and she said that I should act toward them as I would toward my own parents. But I can't do that because I honestly don't always talk to my parents very nicely. (You know how it is with your own parents not always being eye-to-eye).

Your suggestions would be appreciated.
Debbie

Dear Debbie:
Start out by talking to your own parents nicer. But no matter how kind you are to YOUR mother and father, be kinder to your in-laws. No matter what you say to your folks, they will forgive you because they love you. Your in-laws must learn to love you by your words and actions.

Dear Amy:
Is it proper for a bride and groom to give gifts to their bridesmaids, ushers, maid of honor and best man, or is this only done if the bride and groom can afford it or come from wealthy parents?

Dear A.J.:
It is proper and expected that the bride and groom give their bridesmaids, maid of honor, best man and ushers gifts as a memento of the occasion...and for their time, effort and personal expense. The gifts, however, should be in keeping with what the bride and groom can afford.

Milk prices increase

The minimum milk prices for North Jersey has increased one-half cent per quart as the result of an amendment to the New York-New Jersey Federal milk marketing order, the Office of Milk Industry announced. A delay in producer approval of the amendment prevented the increase from taking effect on May 1.

The minimum milk prices will be uniform throughout the State during June: For milk sold out of stores, 26.5 cents per quart, 48 cents per half-gallon and 90 cents per gallon. Minimum prices for home-delivered milk are three cents per quart higher.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Sheelan, County Home Economist

Refreshing and appetizing drinks are an essential ingredient for warm weather enjoyment. Three tempting drinks that will step right in:

AMBROSIA SHAKE
5 ripe bananas
1/2 cup orange juice
1/3 cup confectioner's sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Dash salt
1 quart chilled milk
6 orange chunks.

Mash four of the bananas until smooth with fork, boater or blender. Beat in orange juice, confectioner's sugar, vanilla and salt. Add milk and beat well. Pour into six glasses. Cut remaining banana into chunks. Garnish glasses with orange and banana chunks on long skewers. Makes 6 servings.

SPICY CHOCOLATE MILK
1 quart milk
1/4 cup chocolate syrup
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/8 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 cup heavy cream, whipped.

Pour two cups of the milk into an ice cube tray and freeze until firm. Just before serving, combine remaining two cups milk with chocolate syrup, cinnamon and nutmeg. Place milk cubes into four tall glasses. Fill with spiced chocolate milk. Top with whipped cream. Serve with tall chocolate shivers, if desired.

Lost items can run into real money

The old saying, "finders keepers, losers weepers," isn't always true, says Mabel C. Stoffe, County Home Economist. According to a recent report of the Institute of Life Insurance, we are a nation of losers. The thousands of dollars lost each month is beyond comprehension.

Places items are most commonly lost are in railroads, airlines, department stores, and taxi-cabs. The most commonly lost items range from umbrellas, attache cases, gloves and earrings to a pair of crutches.

We don't lose things just in transit either. Many things of value are lost right in our own homes. Small tools, sweaters, umbrellas and jewelry are commonly lost in the home.

We can save money by being able to put our hands on our possessions when we need them. This comes under the general category of conservation of resources—or stretching your income—after you've spent it. It comes under the same category as saving on heat by using storm windows on your house.

One way to visualize the dollar value of knowing where you've stored things is to estimate their dollar value. Then, perhaps, both you and other family members will pay more attention to where their items are kept. Especially if you see their replacement taking money you have saved for other things.

The best way to look out for possessions is to start an inventory of items and work out your own system of storage by category. Some families find it helps to classify and store by season of use—like most people do their Christmas ornaments.

Then, by storing the items for this season in the place of first use, you have a good clue to whereabouts.

Reference book on narcotics published for state teachers

A reference book for New Jersey teachers on the problem of youthful involvement with narcotics and dangerous drugs has been published by the State Department of Education.

The book discusses in detail the historical background and the extent of drug abuse, the "forces" which cause children to use drugs, the effects of drugs, treatment centers and methods, and the development of school programs to deal with the problem.

The document was compiled and edited by Marvin R. Levy, supervisor of health and safety education for the State Department of Education. It was published in cooperation with the State Department of Health and the State Department of Institutions and Agencies. Copies will be distributed to all schools in New Jersey and to key education agencies throughout the country.

It is made clear in the introduction that the book is not intended as a teaching guide, but it is aimed at providing teachers with facts and reliable information concerning narcotics and dangerous drug abuse and its relationship to youthful involvement.
