Speakers oppose new zoning ordinance

Critics fight 3 changes in measure

Planners to review bill, consider modifications

By ABNER GOLD
Members of the Planning Board held a public hearing on the proposed new zoning ordinance last week at the Florence Gaudineer School, and they heard plenty -- three hours of citizens' comment which ran the gamut from anguished predictions of civic doom to zealous appeals against encroachment on residential neighborhoods. More than 300 citizens attended.

Following the meeting, Mayor Arthur M. Falkin and Azeglio Pancani, Planning Board chairman, said that all the complaints and criticisms would receive careful consideration at an executive session of the board next Tuesday.

Once any changes in the proposed ordinance are completed, it will then be submitted to the Township Committee. The entire text of the ordinance will be published in this newspaper at that time.

Mayor Falkin commented after the meeting that there will be time for all residents to study the public notice with the text of the ordinance before the Township Committee holds its public hearing on the measure and then reaches its final decision.

PUBLIC CONCERN at last week's meeting appeared to center on three sections of the ordinance.

One would rezone the property on top of the mountain, running south of Shampike road, where the Houdaille Quarry is now a non-conforming use in a residential area. The new ordinance would list this land for industrial, research or mining purposes.

The second disputed section would extend the neighborhood commercial zone on Mountain avenue, running south from Hillside avenue. The expanded commercial area would include one house facing on Lelak avenue, as well as property, now zoned residential, adjoining homes on Lelak avenue, N. Derby road and Albert court.

The third portion of the ordinance questioned at the meeting calls for an expanded apartment-office zone the length of Morris avenue. Residents of Lewis drive expressed the fear that this would downgrade their neighborhood through encroachment of commercial uses on their block.

TAKING AIM -- Several top professional golfers brush up on their putting on the practice green at Baltusrol Golf Club, Springfield, where the U.S. Open tournament will take place today through Sunday. Club officials expect the event, the nation's most prestigious tourney, to attract some 100,000 sports fans to Springfield. (Staffer photo by Bob Baxter)

Mayor seeks comments on proposal to admit guests to township swim pool

Mayor Arthur M. Falkin, at the close of Tuesday's Township Committee meeting, called on residents for comments on a proposal to permit admission of guests from out of town to the Municipal Swimming Pool during weekdays.

His request came after the governing body, in a late evening caucus, found itself unable to reach agreement on the change. The committee also introduced three new ordinances, for final hearings on June 27, and voted final approval for a fourth. One new measure would authorize issuance of permits, to residents only, for all-day parking in the rear of Parking Lot No. 2, on Morris avenue opposite Caldwell place.

Committee member Robert G. Planer noted that many out-of-town commuters were clogging the Springfield lot while they took buses to Newark and New York. He also reported possible plans to install parking meters in the front part of the lot, to insure availability of spaces for Morris avenue shoppers.

A SECOND ORDINANCE was caused by traffic jams in the area of Morris turnpike, caused by R. 2 construction. Planer noted that local taxis are sometimes tied up in traffic for as much as an hour on trips to that end of the township. The new measure increases tax rates from 75 cents to $1.25 for trips to Morris avenue and Morris turnpike, west of Baltusrol way. It would be temporary, expiring July 1, 1968.

The third ordinance authorizes a $4,900 bond issue for purchase of 79 new parking meters. The one measure voted final approval rescinds a previous $88,000 bond ordinance for a road to connect with projected parking facilities behind stores on the north side of Morris avenue. Plans for the parking lot have been blocked by a failure to achieve the cooperation of all property owners involved.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the committee deferred action on a variance request by Dominick De Bellis to build and operate a plant nursery at 160 Springfield ave., stretching back to the Alvin Playground area. The variance was opposed by a number of residents of the area.

George Lancaster of 23 Alvin ter. presented a petition signed by some 30 families. He declared that fill needed for the land in question would aggregate 100,000 cubic yards of Alvin terrace and Warner avenue.

James M. Cavley, township attorney, noted that the State Highway Department had raised the level of relocated Springfield avenue some seven feet above the old roadway. He added

PRECAUTIONS AMES, Iowa (UPI) -- Most poisoning accidents involve persons who either are very old or very young, reports Dave Mick, extension entomologist at Iowa State University. Mick said persons who care for those people should make their homes poison-proof, making sure all potential poisons are stored and used in as safe a manner as possible. He said all medicines, cleaning materials and cosmetics should be kept in original containers and out of reach of children. There should be enough light in the bathroom to identify medicines needed at night.

OPTIMISTIC WASHINGTON (UPI) -- Although building is still sluggish, the outlook for housing and home building in 1967 and beyond is optimistic, according to Mortimer B. Doyle, executive vice president of the National Forest Products Association.

Doyle forecast that the housing market should be back on its feet by mid-summer, mainly because of a loosening of credit which has resulted in significant declines in interest rates. "Other indicators of more normal money conditions," he said, "are the discount rate drop from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent by the Federal Reserve Bank and a cut in the number of points sellers are paying on mortgages."

 that more copies of the ordinance be made available to residents.
 An attorney, Margulies, opposed a section of the ordinance which states: "The building inspector, the township engineer, the chief of police, the fire chief, the mayor and the president of the Board of Health or their duly authorized agents must at all reasonable times be permitted access to inspect any buildings, structures, lots or land, whether already erected or put into use or the course of erection and putting into use, for the purpose of determining whether or not the provisions of this ordinance are being complied with."

Margulies stressed that this was a "vast exercise of police power" which would not stand up in court, particularly in light of several recent Supreme Court decisions.
 Several other speakers also criticized the same section. Mayor Falkin and David Zurav, planning board attorney agreed, and said that the clause would be revised. Falkin noted that the wording was the same as in the present zoning law, and had been in effect for the past decade.

Margulies also opposed plans for a garden apartment zone between the homes on S. Derby road and the Rt. 22 commercial area.
 He drew applause when he declared, "I am more concerned with keeping Springfield a decent residential community than with the tax problems of the municipality. There must be a balance to permit proper financing and to prevent downgrading residential property."

Other speakers opposed to expansion of the Mountain avenue commercial zone included Frank Plinski, 34 N. Derby rd.; Irving Melbart, 231 Lelak ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Goldberg, 232 Lelak ave.; and Ily Kuperstein, 2 Albert ct.

THE INDUSTRIAL, RESEARCH AND MINING ZONE proposed for the quarry property drew sharp criticism from a number of Balmistol Top residents. They declared that mining and related activities would sharply reduce the value of the town's most expensive homes and would create many hazards.
 Speakers stressed that stone crushing, a permitted use under the new ordinance, would create enough dust to threaten the health of the entire township. Their remarks were interrupted several times by heavy applause.

Speakers from Balmistol top included Bill Davis, 17 Tree Top dr.; former Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies, 44 Trosetop dr.; and Judge John Ard, 72 Green Hill rd.
 Judge Ard commented that "It is at least a debatable question" whether or not court action could limit operation of the quarry in a residential zone, prevent further expansion and perhaps force a complete halt.

He added, "If so, the best interests of the community would be served by fighting the quarry tooth and nail on this point."

PROPOSED EXPANSION of the apartment-office zone along Morris avenue drew criticism from Mrs. Mildred Galpa of 22 Lewis dr., who presented a petition signed by 51 residents of her area.

"We resent the extension of a business zone another 50 feet into our street," she told the board. "This will slice off more residential property. It will depreciate the value of our property, and it will make our neighborhood a blighted area."

One of the final speakers of the evening was Judge Harold Ackerman of 121 Laurel rd. "I am not a neighbor of the quarry property," he said, "but I can speak with some authority, since I wrote the state's mine safety law some years ago."

He stressed that health hazards will increase as quarry operations move closer to Balmistol Top homes. He also cited the "legal consequences to the township as continuous dynamiting undermines some of our prime real-estate."

Looking at the ordinance as a whole, Judge Ackerman urged that the board ask itself, "Is this in the interests of the residents of the community or in the interests of a privileged few?"

He went on to say, "Some of the proposed changes thus seem to require considerable modification."

Firemen fight flames in home, metal factory

Springfield firemen responded to an alarm last Thursday morning from the H. Lee residence at 47 Meckos st., where a fire had started in the electric stove. They reported extensive smoke damage to the kitchen.

Another alarm came that afternoon from the Atlantic Metals factory on Fadem rd. The Fire Department reported slight damage from a blaze in the metallic dust bins.

Town meeting

 that owners of property adjoining the raised roadway now had the right to raise their land to the same level. Cawley stressed, however, that the property owners are not permitted to increase the flow of water of adjoining land.
 Action was deferred to permit committee members to inspect the property for which the variance had been sought.

THE GOVERNING BODY also delayed the awarding of a contract to provide air conditioning in Town Hall. Bids were received as follows:
 A. J. Siciliano, Inc., Hillside, $39,700; Clark

Engineering Co., Linden, $39,985; Lee A. Dobson & Sons, Verona, $40,982; Atlantic Conditioning Co., Caldwell, $44,000; and C-K Air Conditioning, Inc., Jersey City, $60,075.
 After a quick examination of the bids by Walter Kozub, township engineer, and several consultants, Mayor Falkin reported that the three lowest bids were so close together that a thorough study of several alternate proposals in the bids would be needed before a final decision could be reached. He said the contract would be awarded at the next meeting, on June 27.

ALL COMMITTEEMEN joined to praise the services of Ensey Bennett, township traffic consultant, who is leaving to become traffic engineer for Salina, Calif. Falkin noted that Bennett's seven years of service here had bridged two rival administrations. He presented the traffic expert with a special citizenship award.

 Bennett thanked the local officials, staff and press for cooperation with his work. He particularly praised all citizens of Springfield for accepting the need for a professional traffic consultant.

The meeting closed with a renewal of the sermo-comic warfare between Falkin and Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio over the latter's campaign to have the no smoking signs removed from the committee chambers.

It started when the mayor praised the pictures from last weekend's art show, sponsored by the Springfield Association of Creative Arts, which decorated the room.
 Del Vecchio then denounced the yellow and red "Op Art" no smoking signs as offensive to the decor and called for their removal. He was supported by Committeeman Robert D. Hardgrove and opposed by Falkin and Plener.

The mayor then suppressed a report by the Board of Health, of which Hardgrove, a smoker, is a member -- on the grounds that it was against the public interest. Another move by Del Vecchio to lift the no smoking ban also failed, with the same vote.

Committeeman Jay Bidom, a sometime smoker who would have had the deciding vote, was absent. Falkin then adjourned the (smokeless) meeting.

Township zoning plan still has rough edges

Last week's special hearing on the proposed new township zoning ordinance, held by the Planning Board at the Florence Gaudineer School, provided a typical example of democracy at work.

There were a number of speeches by citizens, either aggrieved or concerned. Many of the speakers had valid points to present, and there will undoubtedly be many changes before the proposed legislation becomes reality.

There were also a few private axes ground, both from the floor and up on the platform. Still the permitted maximum of partisanship was not exceeded by a great deal.

A few tempers grew somewhat short as the evening drew to a close. This, too, could have been expected, and should not be permitted to obscure a clear look at the basic problem.

That is the inevitable conflict between the desire of residents, quite properly, to prevent any downgrading of their neighborhoods, and the desire of the township, also quite properly, to provide for all possible tax-producing commercial and industrial property.

Last week's meeting produced four specific areas of disagreement. The first is on the fringes of the new apartment-office zone proposed for the length of Morris Avenue, particularly among residents of Lewis drive and other neighbors of Saks Fifth Ave. The border between commercial and residential zones is often a source of dispute. We hope that this problem can be minimized with cooperation between Town Hall and grass roots.

The second and third problems are related, at least by location. They concern the proposed extension of the neighborhood commercial zone on Mountain Avenue and the planned introduction of an additional apartment zone in the area bounded by Mountain Avenue, S. Derby road and the Rt. 22 Commercial zone.

Most homeowners regard zoning regulations as a contract between themselves and the municipality, guaranteeing the kind of neighbors they will have. If the town has promised them one-family homes as neighbors, they feel that this promise should be kept.

We feel that this viewpoint should be given precedence over the interests of commercial developers. This is all the more important, as was brought out at the meeting, when owners of the property have resisted previous efforts at residential use of their land.

The final problem spotlighted at the meeting concerns use of the quarry property adjoining the town's most expensive homes, on Baltusrol Top. If there is no legal recourse against the quarry operations, as a long-existing nonconforming use, then the township must take all possible steps to limit the practice and mitigate all discomfort.

If, however, as was suggested at the meeting, there might be a legal means to halt or reduce the operation, immediate study, followed by prompt court action, must be undertaken.

One other issue was cited at the meeting, but this should be cause only for action, not for debate. The new bill gives unlimited right of access to private property to virtually anyone investigating any sort of zoning violation. Particularly in the light of recent court decisions, this is clearly an unwarranted (and the pun is at least partly intentional) extension of police powers.

This clause in the ordinance repeats the wording of the present measure, in effect for more than a decade. Everyone last week appeared to agree that it should be changed. No good can come of trying to blame any one person, or faction, for a mistake for which every citizen of the township must bear some responsibility.

Looking at the total picture with as much objectivity as we can find, we feel certain that there will be extensive changes in the ordinance to meet the valid objections of many residents.

We look with confidence to another public hearing in the future, at which virtually all the objections will be met. And we also look forward to the next period of growth, in which municipal development will be planned for the welfare of all citizens.

"NATIONAL PROBLEM"
The following excerpts were taken from an editorial titled "The Fight to Breathe," by Norman Cousins, editor, "Saturday Review," June 3, 1967.
"According to some officials, environmental poisoning is second only to Vietnam in the public mind as a national problem. The skies are darkening from one end of the country to the other. We are living in the first period of human history in which nature's ability to purify and replenish the air is being critically impaired. The natural restorative cycle by which oxygen is returned to the atmosphere is being broken."
"Each year for the past decade in the United States, several million acres have been taken out of cultivation by our spreading cities and proliferating superhighways, what was formerly open space is being filled by pollution-causing agents—buildings, furnaces, incinerators, industry, automobiles, buses, trucks."

"All this sets the stage for the key question: What would happen if the rate of population growth, industrial growth, automobile growth, and highway growth of the past two decades were to remain constant, or to increase, assuming a continuation of the present scale and pace of attack on the problem?"
"The conclusion is inescapable that most of the large cities in the United States would be considered uninhabitable within seven to 10 years. Enough episodes would have occurred by that time to warrant the general conclusion that the highly populated industrial centers are unfit for human habitation. A vast acceleration of anti-pollution planning and activity—national, regional, and local—is now critically needed if our cities are to remain safe and fit for human habitation."

AND FEATURE

PROFILE—Johnny Farrell

By BEA SMITH
A large crowd was gathering along the beautiful grounds and sidelines of the Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield last week when this visitor hurried to keep an appointment with Johnny Farrell, 66-year-old golf pro at Baltusrol.

Curiously, this reporter peered between small openings of groups of well-dressed men and women. Something very special apparently was going on. High on the green was Farrell, looking sprightly in a bright yellow shirt, white flannel slacks and a small hat perched on his head. He was holding a golf club and chatting with another pro—Gary Player of South Africa. They seemed to be discussing putting strokes—and perhaps the forthcoming U.S. Open championship tournament (to begin today and run through Sunday. More than 100,000 visitors are expected to view the event).

Finally, Player went to tee off, and the crowd went wild for him, as the well-tanned Farrell joined this reporter in the pro shop for a chat.

FARRELL, WHO HAS LIVED in Springfield since 1934, has spent more than three-quarters of his life playing professional golf.

"I've always loved golf," he said, "from boyhood on."

Born in White Plains, N.Y., Farrell worked in a pro shop in Westchester County when he was 15. "I was a caddy in the golf clubs up in that area. And I learned to play after school and on Saturdays and Sundays."

"I played my first professional game at the age of 18," he recalled, "and my first National Open tournament at 19." He became a champion in 1928. "Many years ago," he ventured, taking in the general area, this was just a farm, but members from the Social Register began to form a club here on these grounds. And that's how it became a golf course."

"Across the street on Shampke, there also was a farm. It was used as a parking area for those who played golf here. Now the members have to park right up here on the upper course," he said.

Farrell said that back in 1927 he played eight tournaments in succession. And in 1928 he won the U.S. Open tournament. "I was three times on the Ryder Club team—that's a pro team that plays against England every two years." He also won the New Jersey Open in 1937, and numerous other events.

Farrell explained that when he came to Springfield with his family, he had decided that it would be better if he got a steady job in a place like this rather than tour around the country.

"Being at a club like this where they have a National Open is very exciting," he said. "In fact, this golf club will play its fifth U.S. Open championship tournament, and that's a record. No other club has had that many."

HOW DOES his family feel about having a pro golfer around?

"My family," Farrell said proudly, "is a golf family. In fact, my son, Billy, has qualified for next week. This is the first time a former champion's son plays in an Open."

"Billy always loved basketball," Farrell chuckled. "He didn't particularly like golf until he served as a caddy for Ben Hogan in a National Open. Suddenly, he had a great desire to become a professional golfer. He won the New Jersey Open in 1962. Now he has a good job in Greenwich, Conn.

"Another son, James, is a pro in Warrenbrook. And still another son, Johnny Jr., is also interested in golf. However, he stayed an amateur. Johnny won the club championship here two years ago."

"I also have two daughters," Farrell said. "One is Mrs. John McGuire Jr. and the other is a Dominican nun, Sister Mary Campton. She's a teacher in Chicago."

He explained that recently "we won the Golfing Family of the Year award, and we were honored at a big dinner at the Americano. Sister Mary Campton made the invocation, which was quite unusual. It was a very memorable occasion."

Even Mrs. Farrell likes golf, her husband added. "She's the national chairman of the American Women's Voluntary Services. The women go to Lyons and various other veterans' hospitals once a week in the summer to play golf with the patients. It's great therapy for the men. So," he smiled, "whichever way you look at it, it's a golf family."

THE BALTUSROL GOLF CLUB will honor Farrell this week by naming two pavilions after him. "They will be supplements for the people's clubhouse."

What sort of advice would Farrell give to a young golf enthusiast who would like to go pro?

"Well," he said thoughtfully, rubbing his chin, "if he really likes golf and can play a real good game—break 70 once in a while, he might follow a career in golf."

"But I'd advise him to get an education and go into the business world before I'd advise him to go pro. I know the money's pretty good in the pro field, but very few get it. And believe me, it's hard to get."

U.S. Senator HARRISON A. WILLIAMS Reports

Last Monday's four-state power blackout apparently started closer to Washington than it did to Newark. And, so far as can be determined, it was sheer chance which set the electric failures cascading north instead of south.

This caused great inconvenience, disruption to essential services and economic loss to Newark, Philadelphia, Trenton and other cities which were affected.

But, without minimizing the effect on those cities, it is frightening to think what might have happened had all power been shut off in Washington, right at the height of the Middle East crisis.

It is not beyond the realm of possibility that a miscalculation, based on lack of communications and information, could have involved us in a far more serious way in this crisis.

And, it is also not beyond the realm of possibility that our involvement in an active role might have been followed by similar involvement by Russia.

THE COST, THE inconvenience, the disruption to essential services and, indeed, the threat to our national security, make the threat of future massive power failures intolerable.

Fortunately, the Federal Power Commission has been working on this problem since the 23-state blackout of November, 1965. And Lee White, the Commissioner, submitted the legislation to the Congress last week. It is titled "The Electric Power Reliability Act."

As a cosponsor of this legislation, I look forward to public hearings so that it can be refined and put into shape for passage as quickly as possible.

The threat of power blackouts must be ended.

21 COUNTIES BUDGET NEARLY $356 MILLION
New Jersey's 21 counties, together, this year plan to spend at an aggregate rate of almost a billion dollars a day.

A statewide tabulation shows budgeted 1967 spending by all counties totals a record $355,882,146. This is an increase of more than $44 1/2 million, or 14.3 percent over actual spending in 1966. Last year, budgets were 10 percent higher than 1965 spending.

Largest percentage increase this year was reported by Hunterdon County which upped its 1967 budget 11 percent, by slightly more than a million dollars, to $3,584,260. This was still the smallest county budget in the State.

Smallest 1967 budget increase, both in dollars and percentage, was reported by Cape May County which budgeted $4,706,247 this year, up $113,794, or 2.5 percent over 1966 expenditures.

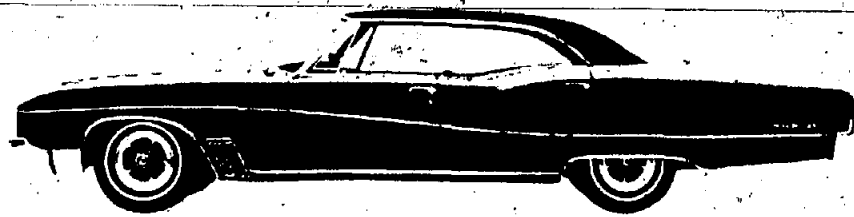

In Union County, last year's actual expenditures of $19,896,405 compared with a spending budget of $21,056,168 adopted for 1967, a rise of $1,159,763. This 10.5 percent increase places the County 16th in rank according to percentage of rise among the 21 counties.

In Essex County, last year's actual expenditure of $67,774,173 compare with a spending budget of $67,892,063 adopted for 1967, a rise of $17,890. This 11.7 percent increase places the county 14th in rank.

Essex, the State's largest county, also had the largest 1967 budget, $47,921,064, and showed the largest dollar increase—more than $7 million—over actual spending in 1966. Its percentage increase of 11.7, however, ranked it 14th among the 21 counties.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy: For nine years we have been reading your engaging and informative column. Jokingly, of course, we ask, "Who helps you with your problems?"

May and Jay

Dear May and Jay: The following verse caught my eye. So, tongue in cheek, I give a sigh, And submit another author's work

SUNDAY'S SERMON

"Give me a smile, and I'll pay the price."
What would you pay for a smile? When someone you know and love is blue or despondent, how much effort would you exert to put just a small measure of sunshine into their life? You can't place a price upon a smile, no more than you can upon happiness.

A BUSINESS OF YOUR OWN
I find it through the West Ad Section!

To this question I am often posed While helping others with their woes. "JUST ASK ME!"
"Ask my advice, watch me unfold, While casting on you, pearl-by-pearl, My bits of wisdom, common sense, Drawn freely from a source immense. Tell me of your problems, I am sure I'll have the answer, have the cure. The only problems I have known That had me baffled were my own."
RICHARD ARMOUR

Dear Amy: My friend doesn't know how to swim. I'm trying to teach her how to do-paddle. She is scared of the water, but wants to learn. I want to know if I should just give her confidence, threaten her or what I should do?

Shanna

Dear Shanna: Your attempts to teach your friend would be less frustrating, if you suggested that she contact the Red Cross or the Y.W.C.A. These organizations have swimming programs operated by professionals for those who want to "learn how" properly. Save a life and urge her to get into the swim now. They are as close as her telephone.

Dear Amy: A month ago my family celebrated a sacred holiday of the Hebrew religion (Passover). Our son could not be home with us for the seder dinner (the first and second nights of the holiday though the holiday lasts for 8 days) because he is 1000 miles away at college. My husband and I, needless to say, were depressed knowing that he would not be home, so we came up with the idea of contacting our local college and inviting a Jewish student from out of state to share our holiday dinner with us.

Very nice young man took our son's place at our seder table. A lovely evening was had by all. When he left, he thanked us so warmly for

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Sheelan, County Home Economist

AN ELEGANT SALAD FOR A SPECIAL OCCASION

Spiced combinations in warm weather, especially those made from shellfish, poultry, or eggs, need to be handled cautiously to prevent spoilage. They cannot be made in advance, leftovers do not store well, and they should not stay at room temperature while waiting to be served.

- In the lobster salad suggested, unless you purchase frozen tails, the lobster should be purchased immediately before it is used.
- CITRUS-STUFFED LOBSTER TAILS
- 6 rock lobster tails
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
- 3 tablespoons minced celery
- 1 teaspoon minced onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon dried leaf tarragon
- 1/8 teaspoon celery seed
- 3 cups orange sections (approximately 3 oranges)
- 2 tablespoons orange juice

Cook lobster tails according to package directions for boiling. Remove undersides; remove and reserve lobster meat. Rinse shells and keep refrigerated until ready to use. Cut lobster meat into chunks. Combine mayonnaise, celery, onion, salt, tarragon, and celery seed. Stir in lobster meat. Measure two tablespoons of orange juice from the fruit which has been sectioned and add to lobster mixture; mix well. Refrigerate to let flavors blend. Fold in orange sections. Spoon into lobster shells. Serve on lettuce. YIELD: five to six servings.

NSC to offer summer music program

A revolutionary method for developing musical ability in young children will be demonstrated at Newark State College, Union, this summer.

Called the "Kodaly method" after its inventor, the late Hungarian composer Zoltan Kodaly, it will be taught in a three-week summer course and at a two-day workshop, both at the Morris Ave. campus.

The Kodaly method aims to impart music fundamentals to children in the early elementary school grades through rhythmic exercises and games that teach relative pitch and the skills of reading music and writing from dictation.

Miss Doris Engelhard, a member of the Music Department faculty, who will teach the course under the title, "Music in the Elementary School," has used the method to train classes at the Campus School. She has presented demonstrations to faculty groups from area schools and at the New Jersey Education Association Convention.

The two-day workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. July 11 and 12. It will be led by Miss Mary Helen Richards, whose book, "Threshold to Music," provides the American adaptation of the Kodaly method.

MISS RICHARDS WAS accompanied by a group of music educators throughout the United States in April on a one-month tour of Hungarian schools to see the Kodaly method in operation there. Miss Engelhard was a member of the touring group, called FOMI, because of its dedication to the development of the "potentials of music education."

Miss Richards says that music educators are just "beginning to understand the tremendous music learning capabilities of small children."

"Every child," she has said, "has a potential in and through music almost completely unrealized until now. Possibly music is to our entire lives what the exercises bar is to the ballet dancer."

"When music is taught correctly, all the faculties are used constantly and together. Seeing, hearing, and feeling rhythm and relationships of tones and melodies and understanding their use is a daily exercise. The memory is sharpened. Instant reactions to aural and visual stimuli are demanded and given."

"It is possible that the very first reading experience a child has should be reading rhythmic notation, symbols used in the Kodaly method, rather than the alphabet or word-symbols. In this way a positive attitude toward the use of symbols is established," Miss Richards says.

17 county bankers will serve this year on N.J. committees

Seventeen Union County bankers are serving on committees of the New Jersey Bankers Association for 1967-68, it was announced by N.J.B.A. President W. Robert Davis, president of the Camden Trust Co.

Bankers serving on the various committees from Union County are: Chair-G. Bradley, business development and public relations, and Donald M. Dougall, trust legislation; National State Bank, Elizabeth; Gavin P. Spofford, executive and federal reserve relations, Summit and Elizabeth Trust Company, Elizabeth; Raymond W. Bauer, N.J.B.A. vice president, and Harry C. Foehl, trust operations, both from Union County Trust Company, Elizabeth.

Also, John F. Cavicchia, data processing, National State Bank, Linden; Robert E. Rockhill, bank operations and management, Community Bank of Linden, Linden; Charles A. Eaton Jr., executive, Plainfield Savings Bank, Plainfield; H. Douglas Davis, executive, G. Maxwell R. Morse, trust division executive and trust legislation, Kenneth N. Norman, consumer credit, and Kenneth W. Turnbull, consultant, all from Plainfield Trust State National Bank, Plainfield.

K of C Assembly gets thanks for support of Administration

A resolution passed last month by the John Fitzgerald Kennedy General Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, condemning "public opposition" to President Johnson's policies, has brought letters of thanks from the White House, the Department of Defense and the Supreme Council of the K of C.

The letters praising the assembly's stand were received by Charles L. Spingola of Union, faithful navigator.

Paul M. Poppo, assistant to the President, wrote that the President "appreciates your courtesy in bringing his expression of views to his attention," adding that "the support of your organization is very gratifying to the President."

Richard Fryklund, deputy assistant secretary of defense, wrote on behalf of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara:

"At a time when national unity is so highly important and essential, it is most gratifying to Mr. McNamara to receive patriotic expressions such as this."

The resolution also brought a letter from John W. McDevitt, supreme knight of the K of C, who said the national organization agrees "completely with the substance and form of the resolution."

COLLEGE ENTRANCE MAKE-UP COURSES

Elizabeth Prep has arranged a program where students who lack one or more subjects for college or engineering school admission may make up this deficiency. Students who have not completed high school may do so in half the usual time or less with full credit given for prior high school work (if any).

Summer or Fall term students interested in attending are urged to do so promptly so that they may be properly programmed prior to the start of classes.

A special thorough review course in English grammar is being offered in both the day and evening.

Staff member wins bachelor's degree, to attend seminary

GEORGE J. SHERIDAN JR., George J. Sheridan Jr. of Union, an editorial staff member of the Suburban Publishing Co., received his bachelor of arts degree on Sunday from Eastern Baptist College, St. David's, Pa. An English major, Sheridan completed his course requirements in January and since then has been enrolled at the Eastern Baptist Seminary in Philadelphia.

He will enter the Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Ky., in September. Sheridan lives at 270 Colonial Ave., Union. He is a graduate of Union High School and attended Newark Colleges of Rutgers University. He received a Key Award for leadership while at Rutgers and served on the student newspapers and literary magazines at both Rutgers and Eastern Baptist.

Sheridan is also youth director at the First Baptist Church of Union and editor of the church newsletter. A number of young people from the church attended the graduation ceremonies on Sunday. Before joining the Suburban Publishing staff three years ago, he worked as a reporter for the Daily Journal, Elizabeth, the Springfield Sun, the Citizen of Morris County and the Dover Lakeland News.

Secretaries' unit installs new slate

Two Linden women were among the officers installed by the Union County Chapter of the National Secretaries Association at a meeting held last night at the Winfield Scott Hotel in Elizabeth.

There were Miss Dolores F. Orst, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Anita F. Ellbacher, recording secretary.

The installation ceremonies were conducted by Mrs. Ruth Schmidt of Linden, a past president of the group, and Miss Theresa L. Kechn of Plainfield, outgoing president.

Miss Anita Steiner of Union High School and Miss Ann Romano of Summit High, winners of the chapter's annual scholarships, were invited to the meeting as guests of the organization.

FALSE ALARM
ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP) — Paul Revere's famous ride was a short jaunt compared with the one taken by Sam Brown in April, 1866, to save western Minnesota from what Sam thought was an impending Indian invasion. Brown alerted settlers along a 60-mile route, then had to take his ride over again through a blinding snowstorm to confess that it was a false alarm.

Parents take part in events sponsored by Five Points Y

Parents took part in programs held recently by the Five Points YMCA of Union. The father and son Y Indian Guides held their annual spring overnight Pow-wow at Camp Linwood in Sussex County.

Highlight of the weekend was a campfire program. Longhouse Chief Erwin Whitman of

On Sunday morning a chapel service was held in the outdoor Chapel under pines. Catholic fathers and sons attended Mass in Branchville.

The Indian Guide program is open to first and second graders. Those interested were urged to call Howard Merrick, branch executive, at 667-5570.

A "Parents' Day" was held at the Y to conclude the Spring Wrangler Club and the Spring Baton Class.

The Baton Class, which meets Thursday afternoons, is taught by Miss Alice Kennedy of Linden, a student at Newark State College, and is open to all girls. An advanced baton class is planned for next fall.

The Wrangler Club is a program for youngsters in kindergarten through third grade. It is also directed by Miss Kennedy, assisted by Arlene Simon, Joan Kundin and Arlene Silverman, all students at Newark State, and Ernest Blunk of Union, a counselor in training.

"Alfie," British film satire of a ladies' man who destructively uses others and who tries to shirk life's responsibilities, arrived at the Art Theater, Irvington Center, yesterday. The picture stars Michael Caine, Shelley Winters, Millicent Martin and Julia Foster. It was directed in color by Lewis Gilbert.

"Funeral in Berlin," an espionage adventure film story about a British agent who is caught in a web in Germany, involving Israeli intelligence.

Star of Bellevue has a top career

Candice Bergen, latest talent to hit the local screens, has the lead role in "The Sand Pebbles," which begins its fourth week Wednesday at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair.

Miss Bergen, daughter of Edgar Bergen, veteran comedian-ventriloquist, has a multi-million dollar film career. Following the completion of her second film, "The Sand Pebbles," ("The Group" was her first), she rejected several top roles, but accepted a part in "The Day the Fish Came Out."

Miss Bergen says she would like to write and photograph but "I just can't make up my mind on a career." She was a New York model at the age of 17, then attended the University of Pennsylvania for two years. "It's all been so hurried that I haven't had much time to think."

If you're undecided about buying a new Volvo, drive an old one.

Old Volvos can tell you a lot about new Volvos.

The first thing they tell you is that they hold up. In Sweden, Volvos are driven an average of 11 years. In Sweden, there are no speed limits on the highways, over 70,000 miles of unpaved roads, and driving is virtually a national pastime.

An old Volvo will also tell you that new Volvos age gracefully. If you're going to be driving a car for a long time it should be a car you don't mind looking at for a long time.

Of course, we still think the way a car works is more important than the way it looks. You may be disappointed that Volvos don't have four headlights, but you'll get over it quickly enough when you find out that Volvos give you nearly 25 miles to the gallon, even with automatic transmission, and run away from every other compact in their class.

If you're a Volvo, keep it a long time and don't let all those big new cars your neighbor keeps buying give you an inferiority complex. Remember, the probably still hasn't paid for his Volvo yet.

Marketing electric cars presents major problem

NEW YORK (UPI) — Much of the talk about electric automobiles seems to miss the point — that producing a practical electric car is more a marketing than an engineering problem.

A recent suggestion that cars be equipped with both gasoline and electric motors — to run on both the highways and on electricity in the cities — shows how wide of the mark much of the thinking is. Buses with such dual power plants were used in several cities years ago — but they got their electric power from trolley wires. A practical electric car must run on batteries.

A silver zinc battery that will drive a car 50 to 60 miles with a reasonably good mileage range already is available. Within two to three years there is an excellent chance that a zinc air battery that is 50 per cent more efficient than the silver zinc battery and vastly cheaper will be available.

It is not necessary to design cars especially for electric power. Any standard compact passenger car or delivery van can be converted to electric power simply by removing the gasoline power train and bolting the right size electric motor to the differential gear on the rear axle.

The real problem is to make efficient batteries widely available so the rundown battery can be removed from the car and a recharged one substituted in about the time it takes to buy a tank full of gasoline.

That means the electric car will depend on rental batteries — and on a rental system that pays.

There's another reason why an instantly changeable rental battery makes sense. The prime need for electric cars is in big cities — for taxicabs, buses, delivery vans and salesmen's cars. Many of these must be operated on long shifts, double shifts or even around the clock. They can't be idled eight hours out of 24 for recharging and earn their keep.

Making a rental system pay would not be easy with the silver zinc battery. Not long ago, I drove a little Renault powered by silver zinc batteries made by Yardney Electric Co. of New York. The car performed perfectly, accelerating quickly to 50 mph.

But at that time, silver zinc batteries were good for only perhaps two score recharges. Since then, Yardney engineers have made breakthroughs in the laboratories and claim they soon will be able to make silver zinc batteries that will last three years or 40,000 miles.

Batteries of this type big enough for an automobile cost $1,500 to $2,700. Therefore, even though 80 per cent of their value is in silver, which is 100 per cent recoverable, the depreciation and resulting rental cost still would be high — and the batteries would present a constant threat of pilferage.

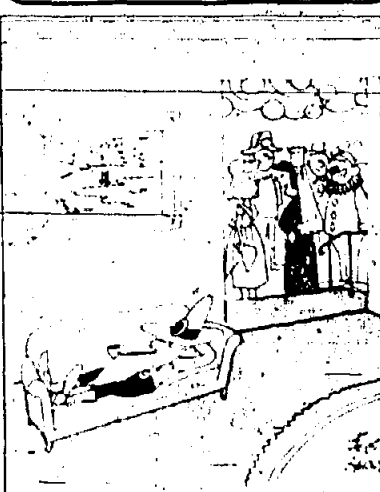

The zinc air battery, on the other hand, would use only cheap materials and would be seven times as efficient per pound as the common lead acid battery.

At least four American zinc air battery projects are well advanced. One is that of Yardney Electric and Ford Motor Co. Another is a joint venture of the Edison Electric Institute, General Dynamics Corp. and Joseph Lucas Industries, Ltd., of Britain. General Electric has the third while Lesons Moss Laboratories of Great Neck, N.Y., has made successful high energy, small zinc air primary batteries for experimental use in aerospace projects.

The four groups are engaged in mechanical differences of version of the same basic principle — liberating electricity stored in a zinc electrode by oxidizing the zinc in the presence of a stream of air and electrolytic bath, generally potassium hydroxide.

As electric power is given off, zinc oxide is released. Oxygen is supplied by a pump

New VA program for outpatient care

A new program for providing outpatient care for veterans by private doctors will be placed into effect on July 1, Reuben Cohen, hospital director at the Veterans Administration Hospital, East Orange, announced this week.

This program will be administered by the Veterans Administration Outpatient Clinic at 20 Washington pl., Newark. It provides for a simplification of the administrative procedures which have been in effect and will result in a reduction of the cost of Veterans Administration furnished outpatient medical care and at the same time improve service to the veterans and physicians alike.

Additional details on the program can be obtained from the Clinic Director, Veterans Administration Outpatient Clinic, 20 Washington pl., Newark.

50-LAP STOCK CAR RACE

A 50-lap final event will mark Saturday night's weekly stock car program at Flemington Fair Grounds, Jack Hamilton, who won a 50-lap event last week, is expected in the field. Al Tarnady is due back after missing last week's competition.

In the car, but a rental system would require that it be lifted out of the car and recharged on a rack.

The General Dynamics engineers claim that their principal remaining task is to scale the battery up and package it for most efficient and conventional operation in an automobile.

But at a Defense Department conference some weeks ago on scientific aspects of electric power, other engineers privately expressed mystification over just how the General Dynamics engineers hope to solve certain problems of electrolysis and rapid stepping up the amperage in their battery.

Meanwhile, the silver zinc battery is ready to go if a system to market and finance it on a rental basis can be worked out.

A FEMININE LOOK ... AT AFRICA 1967

(Commentary on a National Newspaper Association Study Mission to eight African countries south of the Sahara.)

By TRUDINA HOWARD

Tenth in a Series
BACK TO IVORY COAST
AND INTO GHANA

As I was saying—
Ivory Coast impressed us. It wasn't only because of the lack of TV commercials either, but more. (See Feminine Look June 1) However, there is one little drawback. It is rather expensive. Gas is about 60 cents a gallon, and hotels, dinners and cocktails run high; even as in France. It is another French-speaking city however, and not Abidjan, Ivory Coast, that has the reputation among travelers for being the most expensive city in the world; to wit: Dakar in Senegal.

On one afternoon in busy, Frenchy, expensive Abidjan, we met with the Minister of Information, M. Madieu Ekra, and heard other interesting facts about Cote d'Ivoire, but there was one thing Monsieur Ekra couldn't tell us. Nobody could. Why is a fromager tree (cheese-maker or cheese-keeper tree) called a fromager tree? Not a single soul we asked could tell us. Nothing on the tree looks like cheese and nothing from the tree is used for cheese.

Nevertheless it is a cheese-maker tree. It is a beauty though, and it is a giant. It is also taboo to cut one down, and directly in front of our svelte Ivoire Hotel stood one. It was a noteworthy specimen, the decorative piece de resistance and the hit of the hotel guests. Nothing the owners could have purchased could have been as effective, yet they almost took it down.

The hotel is some 15 stories high and the tree is ten, so you can understand how much effect there is. But when they built the hotel, they were going to chop away the tree to put a pool on that very spot, as if there wasn't another inch of ground around.

There are only about ten dozen other acres to choose from, all free and open. Luckily, the tribe which owned the land on the lagoon that was desired for the new hotel, had more sense, or more tabo, and said, "Nope, you can't." And the only way the chief of the tribe would permit the building of the hotel at all, was with a promise to save the tree and a certain payment.

ONE CASE OF SCOTCH? The tribe still lives way down on the shores of the lagoon, the fromager tree still stands tall and straight on its spot—with the pool next to it—but the certain payment undoubtedly has run out.

That tree should at least be a Scotch tree. The Minister of Information, at any rate, would then have an answer for its name.

SOMEONE IN OUR GROUP who had never met a Minister of Information before, asked "What does a Minister of Information have information on?" For that there was an answer. In this particular case, the minister was responsible for writings, speeches, pictures, radio, press, television, cinema, newspapers and magazines for the state-owned news media. In most cases it is a variation of the same theme.

Since the word "state-owned" disturbs a lot of people, the Ivory Coast Minister hastened to explain that "free enterprise was more developed in British colonies than in French ones, and the people in the French colonies are used to state-owned news media." Anyway, they have no TV commercials. Most of the programs on television are educational; mainly teaching the people to read and write. "But there are some amusing things to keep people interested, even if there are no commercials," the minister coyly added. The Voice of America, which is transmitted from Liberia, is popular on the radio. Radio has a "little bee" commercials and "It will soon come to television too," Mr. Ekra confessed at last.

The telephone company is owned by the government also and it costs $60 to have one phone installed and 30 francs (about 15 cents) per call after that, within the city limits of course.

With a city of 400,000 people, that could be a very franc project.

Of the four million people of Ivory Coast, 65 percent are animists, 25 percent are Moslem and 10 percent Christian. Polygamy is illegal, which is not true in a great part of Africa. One fourth of the population comes from outside Ivory Coast where there is an excess of workers, mainly Upper Volta, then Guinea, Togo and Dahomey; and about 30,000 are French or European personnel, administrators, managers and businessmen.

THERE WAS ONE BIG THING we did not like in Ivory Coast, and that was having to say "no" to a very choice invitation. The Minister of Information offered us two government planes to fly 500 miles into the interior to see Baoua Game Park, and we could not go. We were due to leave for Ghana instead. It was a keen disappointment not to see the animals. They are a beautiful experience, to see, not to kill, and we had not visited any game parks on the western side of Africa.

But off we went to Ghana.

IT COULD VERY WELL be said that what Ivory Coast is...Ghana "ain't." Where one nation is, on the rise, the other seems on the wane. Where one reportedly is prospering, the other reportedly is going broke. There is a comparison in most everything over to the governmental officials. Even the capital cities have names which are pertinently different. Abidjan means "good morning" in some tribal tongue, and Accra means "ant." The city is riddled with ant hills. They are as high as a person and ominous looking, believe me.

Simply, Ivory Coast seems to be building and Ghana seems to be falling apart—except for the ant hills.

According to an official in Accra, Ghana's indebtedness is 778 million dollars, or on a Gross National Product basis in the U.S. that would be equal to 12 billion dollars. For a country the size of the state of Oregon with only seven million people, that is a considerable economic problem.

Some say the reason for Ghana's leanness is Nkrumah, its former president, who reportedly went away with a goodly share of Ghanaian gold. Still others say he was "not all that bad," and really did a rather good job. He just happened to be a normal politician and normal politicians do such things.

Be that as it may, and for whatever reason, Ghana has an economic problem, an administrative problem, all kinds of problems—and it shows. This does not mean to say that there are not some good things in Ghana, both in men and buildings, and perhaps in better things to come. It just sounds that way.

your tribute to dad — distinguished gifts with the hallmark of good taste

It comes in three economy sizes.

These are just some of the sizes Volkswagens come in. Regular, large and giant economy size.

The one on the right, our big bus-like bug, and the one in the center, our medium sized Squareback sedan, are only about 7 inches longer than the beetle.

But don't let their size on the outside fool you, about their size in the inside.

Just open a door and you'll find enough room for more than enough things.

Then there's the lambar bug. While it's not as big as the other two Volkswagens, it has plenty of room for 4 people and a small dog. Plus a suitcase for everybody but the dog.

All three Volkswagens do everything you expect from a Volkswagen. Except look silly. One of them (the Squareback) looks exactly like a car. They have air-cooled engines in the rear that won't freeze up in the winter or boil over in the summer.

They won't use any anti-freeze and are very easy on gasoline. (The bug and the Squareback average about 27 miles on a gallon of gas. The bug about 23 miles.)

And they all go about 35 to 40,000 miles on a set of tires.

So you see, no matter what size we make VW's, they're all pretty economical.

Why not come in and see one of us?

Close shave for Baltusrol greens

America's most critical bit of turf trimming today is 150 of the nation's top golfers will be the 5:30 a.m. precision mowing of the tees, greens and fairways of the lower course at Baltusrol Golf Club, Springfield, for the 1967 United States Open Championship. The veteran golf course superintendent at Baltusrol, Edward J. Casey of 1152 Caldwell ave., Union, plans to have the course "trimmed as precisely as a Marine's haircut" for the Open.

The bent grass tees and greens will measure in at exactly three-sixteenths of an inch when Casey and his crew of 25 finish the cut just before the placement of the cups by the United States Golf Association officials. The early morning procedure will be followed each day of the tournament.

Professional golf course superintendents leave nothing to chance in the conditioning of a golf course and Casey will make a daily close inspection of the 3- and three-quarter acres of greens, two and a half acres of tees and 40 acres of fairways on the 250 acres of the lower course at Baltusrol.

Ed Casey will be equipped with two-way radio communication with other club and tournament officials throughout the Open. His maintenance crew, once finished with the day's cut, will remain at the ready with 14 fairway mowers, 25 specialized greens and tees mowers and 10 rough mowers for any further action that might be needed.

Management of major golf courses today is an administrative task like any other business, and Ed Casey assigns trusted associates with the care of specific holes throughout the tournament. Depending on the location and size of the hole, individual maintenance men will be in charge of the perfection of three or four holes.

Temple will honor 3 youths, 2 Religious School leaders

Worshippers at Temple Beth Ahm's Friday night service tomorrow will participate in a twofold tribute. The service will be conducted by three young men who are being honored by the "Mitzvot" group within the temple that maintains the weekly services.

The youths are being recognized for their regular and steady attendance at the daily service for five years from the time of their Bar Mitzvah to the present, when they are graduating from Jonathan-Dayton Regional High School and are about to enter college.

The service will also take two of the temple's top educators.

The young men and the colleges they are about to enter are: Kenneth Miniman, Rutgers University; Jeffrey Peskin, University of Pittsburgh; and Steven Piller, University of Pittsburgh. They have also been active in the temple's United Synagogue Youth, the national organization of young people in Conservative synagogues.

The presentation will take the form of plaques which Rabbi Reuben R. Levin will present to the youths on behalf of the religious affairs committee of the temple, in honor of their sons, the families of these young men are presenting the temple with a bronze hand-wrought quotation from the Psalms, which will be affixed as an embellishment on the ark wall of the temple's chapel, the prayer room in which Mitzvot services are held.

The Hebrew verse which will occupy a 10-foot strip of space reads: "Great is the Peace of Those Who Love Thy Teaching." The letters are being designed and executed by Maxwell Chayot of Springfield, artist-craftsman whose other ritual sculptures are a major aspect of Temple Beth Ahm's decoration.

THE OTHER TRIBUTE to be made tomorrow night is in honor of two of the temple's educators, both of whom will advance to other institutions in the Fall, Edwin Schoffman, principal of the Religious School, will be recognized for his part in the administration, Mrs. Irving Neibart, the school's most prominent teacher, has completed courses with the Hebrew Union College certifying her as a religious school principal, and will fill such a post in Westfield next year.

Miss Henry playing on tour with all-star youth ensemble

Pam Henry, a sophomore at Jonathan-Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, has been selected to travel with the All American Youth Honor Band on its 10-day summer concert tour of Venezuela and Aruba, which began on Sunday. She plays the French horn.

The All American Youth Honor Band has been organized to give outstanding young American instrumentalists an opportunity to utilize their performing ability, to further international understanding and to develop good will through music. The band is conducted by Alfred Reed, associate professor at the University of Miami School of Music and also one of the most frequently performed composers writing for concert band today. Reed was director and composer-arranger for some 20 nationwide TV shows on major networks.

Miss Henry is one of 90 youths being accepted by the 1967 Youth Honor Band. These students are from all over the U.S.

She plays the French horn in the Dayton Regional Concert Band, under the direction of Anthony Armento, and the Union County Regional Orchestra, conducted by Walter Bock. Miss Henry also studies privately with Jack Trager of Union. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Dutton Henry of 132 Collier Ave., Springfield.

Democracy for students Sweden's SECO a parliament

By O. STIG BERGENSTEN
United Press International
STOCKHOLM (UPI) — College students organize, demonstrate, strike and even riot in other countries to change education methods. But Sweden has a unique setup that gives pupils a taste of helping run their own affairs long down the age scale.

And Swedish educators believe the Swedish Pupils Central Organization (SECO) helps avoid the friction between college students and proponents that clouds educational relations in some other countries.

SECO members are students in high schools and junior high schools from 13 to 20 years old. The president of the organization is always a student who takes a year from his studies for the full-time job of running the show and draws a salary of $180 a month.

It aims, according to this year's president, Hans Dahlgren, 18, to create a "school democracy" in which pupils join government and school authorities in making decisions.

"Schools are trying to teach students the democratic method," Dahlgren said. "But when teachers are dictators and pupils are punished if they protest, it's difficult to convince the pupils that you really mean democracy."

SECO was born in 1948 from a group of Pupils' Councils. These councils had been set up in the early 1930's to act as intermediaries between teachers and pupils. In 1952 it was given its present name, Sveriges Elevers Centralorganisation. It had 70,000 members then and now has more than 320,000.

Once a year the SECO Parliament, its supreme body, meets for two or three days with some 120 delegates from the 25 SECO districts. The proceedings are modeled after parliamentary conduct and some critics have argued they are too formal and "the kids sound like middle-aged politicians."

Last year a liberal-socialist majority recommended salaries for students. This year there was a conservative majority and the proposal was removed from the SECO program.

"We are not working against the school authorities," Dahlgren said. "On the contrary we are trying to help the teachers and make their work easier."

Many Swedes were skeptical about SECO but they changed their minds during the Swedish teachers' strike which left 500,000 students without faculty last year. The SECO councils "appointed" students to take the classes and maintain order.

Officials said they did it pretty well and the Minister of Education, Ragnar Edenman, praised SECO saying "without the contributions by our students the strike could have been catastrophic."

FAMILY POT LUCK

BY HELEN MALE

Tall, Cool and Wonderful!
Add a touch of glamour to the punch bowl with a colored ring of iced fruit juice: first place, slices of oranges, or lemons or both, alternated, at the bottom of a ring mold, then pour in orange or lemonade and let freeze until solid. Unmold, and place in punch bowl with the punch to keep it cool and pretty. Flowers such as well washed roses and carnations might be used to replace the fruit.

Raise our jam, jelly and preserve jars with milk and serve the fruit-flavored milk to youngsters for a snack. They'll like it!

Freeze lemonade or fruit juice (leftover) in ice cube trays and serve in tall glasses with iced tea or fruit punches.

Fancy an ordinary fruit juice drink with a scoop of sherbet, a milk drink with ice cream.

Make drinking straws look like kabobs by alternating on them maraschino cherries, pineapple wedges, preserved quinces or melon balls and mint sprigs.

Helen's Favorite:
Creamy Blue Colelaw
(8-10 servings)
6 cups shredded cabbage (about 1 medium head)
4 ounces blue cheese, crumbled
1/4 cup sugar
teaspoon salt
1/3 cup vinegar
1 cup dairy sour cream
Combine blue cheese, sugar, salt, vinegar and sour cream. Pour mixture over cabbage and toss lightly. Cover and refrigerate for at least 30 minutes before serving time.

Dayton Regional baseball team closes season at 6-11

Successes through play of Gartlan, Kurtz, Jupa

By MYRON MEISEL

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School baseball team completed a disappointing season this spring with a record of 6-11, the first losing Bulldog season on the diamond in several years. The season did have some highlight spots, however, notably the streak of National State nine defeats N.Y. Life in American play

Strong defensive play by both teams marked a close contest in the Springfield Youth Minor American League, won by National State Bank over N. Y. Life, 6-4, Ed Hockstein and Bruce Hoffman shared the pitching duties, and Hoffman and Billy Bohrer teamed up for a double play for the winners. Rick Sierchio hit a double, then ended the game with a spectacular catch with the bases loaded. Jim Dewey pitched well in defeat and had two base hits, Larry Klarfeld also had two hits, and Larry Ogintz had a home run.

Scoring in almost every inning, Saks Fifth Ave. edged Burger 'n Shake, 12-11. Richard Gaipa was the winning pitcher, aided by a grand slam homer by John Gacoy, a triple by Joel Silverman, and a double by Ronald Miller. For Burger, Stew Anker had four hits, and Wayne Otto had a double and single.

Gary's outaced Ace Brake, 17-14, in a free-scoring contest, with Bill Bauman as the winning pitcher. Steve Kubisch had five hits for the winners. Ken Cohen had a double and three singles, and John Fisher also had four hits. For Ace, Joe Wostok had five hits, including a home run; Wade Cooperman, three hits, including a homer, and Vic Horowitz, three triples and a single.

Rich Ross made the fielding play of the game to help National State Bank gain an 8-5 margin over Saks Fifth Ave. Ed Hockstein was the winning pitcher, and Mark Cooper led the attack with a home run. John Gacoy had two singles for Saks, and Todd Siegel had a double.

Led by Ed Zurav, with five hits, and stellar defensive play by Dave Mantel, Colantone Shoes whipped N. Y. Life, 17-8. Barry Pink was the winning pitcher. Greg Prussing and Jim Dewey both homered for N. Y. Life, and Larry Klarfeld had three hits.

Steve Kubisch pitched a three-hitter and fielded his position well as Gary's rounched Burger 'n Shake, 22-5. Ken Cohen and John Fisher each had three hits for the winners, including a bases-loaded triple for each, Mike Neubart, Don Hietel, Marc Roslin and Jon Roth each helped with two hits.

four victories out of five contests near the close of the season. The all-around playing of pitcher-catcher Bob Gartlan, the slugging of shortstop Gary Kurtz and the two one-hit performances by sophomore Steve Jupa on the mound against Kenilworth also were highlights.

The winning streak included defeats of Edison Technical High School of Elizabeth; Governor Livingston of Berkeley Heights and David Brearley of Kenilworth, Regional High Schools, and a split double-header with Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School.

Dayton, down 8-2 in the third, shaved away the Edison Tech lead with key hits by Kurtz, Richie Campbell, Tony Gromek, Tom Brownlie and Jon Schoch. First baseman Ralph Lozano clinched the contest for Dayton with a three-run homer in the sixth, Edison's defense collapsed, and the Bulldogs triumphed, 10-9. Gromek's superb pitching in relief and two singles helped him earn the triumph. Jupa hurled a one-hitter against Kenilworth for the second time, and Bear errors gave the game to the Bulldogs, 2-0.

Dayton then shut out Berkeley in a tight 1-0 contest. Twice Highlander runners loaded the bases, and both times catcher Gartlan made the out, catching one runner at the plate and picking another off first-to-end-the-game-in-the-seventh.

GARTLAN ALSO drove in the only Dayton run after Richie Campbell reached first on an error and stole second.

In the second game of the double-header against Scotch Plains, Tony Gromek outpaced the opposing Raider pitchers, and Dayton hitters sealed the 5-1 triumph. Lozano hit three singles during the game, chopping a well-placed ball to short right to load up the bases in the second. Outfielder Don Buehrer sacrificed in a run, and a balk by the Raider pitcher brought in another run. Jupa scored Schoch on a long-ball triple in the third, tagging up on a deep fly hit by Gartlan to score himself. Kurtz got an RBI when his single drove in Campbell, who had singled and stolen second. Scotch Plains scored on back-to-back doubles in the fourth.

Dayton's other victories came over Hillside, 5-2, and Kenilworth, 1-0. Jupa defeated Brearley of Kenilworth by pitching a one-hitter in his first full mound assignment. Gartlan led the Bulldogs in competition with Hillside, with strong defensive play assisting. Gartlan threw a four-hitter and in addition, batted four for four, two singles, a double and a home run. Kurtz also slugged well with three hits. Gartlan, Kurtz and Ron Azarewicz all singled in the first to gain a early lead of 2-1. Gartlan's three-run homer to left field in the second and his scoring on Jupa's single in fifth rounded the Bulldog's winning total.

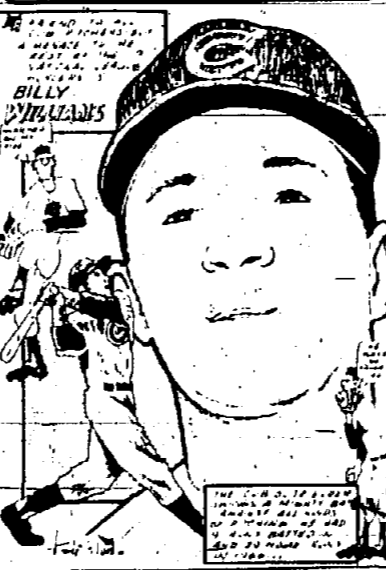

ALTHOUGH BULLDOG defensive errors hurt early in the season, it was predominantly the weak hitting of the squad that lowered its record. The team batting average was .168, despite the .335 hitting of Kurtz and the .333 average of Gartlan. Buehrer hit fairly well, and Azarewicz, Lozano, Campbell and Jupa came through with key hits, but the lack of firepower was the major factor in the losing record.

The team should be better next year, as the entire infield will be returning, with the notable exception of Gartlan. The infield is leaving completely, except for sophomore Phil Boneduce.

It has been a youthful squad, one of the rare teams with three regularly-playing sophomores. The added experience should count for something next season. The loss of students to Kenilworth was the main cause of the lack of depth, and it should be several years before head coach Ed Jasinski can rebuild the team so that it can take its former powerful position in Watching Conferences ball.

The Bulldogs lost once to Scotch Plains, 2-1, despite a superbly-pitched game by Gartlan topped by his homer that hit the track at Meisel Field, to Cranford twice, 6-2 and 7-0, in a wrong end of a no-hitter and one of the few badly-lost contests, to Millburn in a razor-close 807 loss; to Westfield twice, 3-2 and 13-2; to Rahway, which finished below the Bulldogs in the WC ratings; to Clark, 5-3, and Hillside, 5-3.

Tennis coach forsees winning season in 1968

By MYRON MEISEL

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School tennis team, completing its first year in varsity competition with a record of 4-4, looks ahead to a winning season next year, according to head coach Norman Pollack.

"We came very close to a 500 mark this season," Pollack said, "and should have made it. We lost two matches to teams that we should have beaten, Scotch Plains and Berkeley Heights. Otherwise all of our losses came to teams that reached the semi-finals in this year's state tennis tournament: Westfield, Summit, Hillside, and Cranford. Considering the toughness of the schedule, the team did extremely well."

"Next year we will be losing three key seniors: David Bass, team captain; Barry Fishman, the winningest regular on the squad with a record of 5-4, and Steve Miller, the most consistent and steady player, who went 5-5."

"But it is encouraging to note that six of this year's nine-man team will be returning, and only one of them will be a senior, Lenny Burstein played fine tennis all season, and he will be joined by two sophomores, Dennis Insley and Warren Danziger, as well as three extremely promising freshmen; Hank Dohan, who will probably be a steady singles man next year; Mike Chotner, his partner in doubles this season, and John Edwards, this year's most improved tennis player, who netted a record of 4-0. We also hope for some other boys who did not come out this year as well as a few freshmen to round out next year's team."

POLLACK COMMENTED on the prospects for next year. "Our experience should help considerably. Most of the top teams in the conference will be losing a good number of their strong players, and we should join in the competition next year. We will be adding Roselle Park to our schedule, which makes for a 13-game season. With most of our squad being underclassmen, I feel that within the next few years Springfield can emerge as a definite power in tennis in Union County. The outlook is very good."

Pollack also registered disapproval as to the tennis facilities available in Springfield. "It is unfortunate that there are so few courts available in Springfield, and those existing are so abused and in need of repair. No area has more than two tennis courts. Tennis can be a valuable recreational facility, but Springfield needs to expand its current facilities to meet the present need."

The Bulldog netters defeated Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School of Clark twice, 5-0; New Providence High School, 5-0, and Rahway High School, 4-1. The squad lost to Cranford High School, 4-1, and to Westfield, Hillside, Summit, Scotch Plains-Fanwood, and Governor Livingston Regional of Berkeley Heights, 5-0.

Elks team clinches Babe Ruth crown, defeats Angleton's

The Elks clinched the 1967 championship in the Springfield Babe Ruth League by winning their 11th straight victory of the year. They defeated their closest rival, Angleton's, by a score of 9-2, behind the four-hit pitching of Mitch Wolff, the keynote of the game, as it has been all season, was the steady defensive play of the entire Elks squad.

Richie Deusch held the edge over Randy Stec as Elks won another game over Angleton's, 4-2. Deusch gave up five hits, while Stec allowed only four. Phil Snokes had two hits for the Elks. Alan Schlanger and Richie Falcone led the Angleton attack.

Channel Lumber gave the Elks their first defeat of the year, 8-7. Evan Wasserman scored the winning run in the bottom of the sixth, just beating the onslaught of darkness. The run scored without a hit. Wasserman walked, stole second and third and then came home on a suicide squeeze bunt by P. J. Burns. Wasserman was the winning pitcher in relief of Dave Miniman. For the Elks, Joel Millman, Bill Schwalbe and Bob Shindler combined to pitch a two-hitter, but they

Picnic will close baseball season

The Springfield Junior Baseball Leagues will close their 1967 season with their annual picnic Wednesday at 6:15 p.m. at Meisel Field.

Trophies will be presented to the players, managers and coaches of the championship teams in the Babe Ruth League, the Pony League, the Youth Major League and the Youth Minor National and American League. Sportsmanship trophies will be awarded to one boy in each league.

Township team splits 2 games, will play tonight

The Springfield American Legion baseball team split its first two games in county league competition last week, dropping the opener to Westfield, 17-1, then rebounding to edge Kenilworth, 2-1. The team, sponsored by Continental Legion Post, will play tonight at Kenilworth, tomorrow at home against Elmwood and Monday at home against Rahway. All home games are at Ruby Field.

Ron Azarewicz and Jeff Black shared the honors in the 2-1 victory over Kenilworth. Black pitched a five-hit game for the Continentals, striking out seven men. Azarewicz tripled in the first inning and scored when Rich Ambrose was hit by a pitch and then drew a bad throw while stealing second.

Springfield scored the winning run in the third on singles by Black, Steve Jupa and Azarewicz. Ambrose had the only other Springfield hit, a single later in the game. Sharp defensive play by the Continentals also played an important part in the victory.

The Westfield team ran up its high score when coach John Sihan put all his younger squad members in the game to give them experience in Legion ball, since the result was no longer in doubt. Loose fielding due to inexperience led to many of the Westfield scores.

The lone Springfield run came in the third inning on singles by Dominick Fabrizio, Rich Ambrose and Azarewicz. Ambrose had another single for Springfield, and Rich Johnson also had a single for the Continentals.

also gave up 13 walks and hit one batter. P. J. Burns pitched a four-hitter to lead Channel Lumber to a 9-2 victory over Morris Motors. Mark Haulander pitched well for Morris, but was badly hurt by errors. Will Benkus had two singles for Channel, while Jim Maxwell, Don Lan and Burns had doubles. Keith Prussing had two hits for Morris, with the other hits by Ed Graessle and Bob Dlum.

Trailing, 8-3, at the end of three innings, the last-place Morris Motors nine charged back to defeat Channel Lumber, 13-8. The big Morris' inning was the sixth, when the winners scored six runs on one hit, five walks and an error. Bob Dlum was the winning pitcher; Keith Prussing doubled twice for Morris, and Steve Max had two singles. Will Benkus, Danny Williams and Dave Miniman each had two singles for Channel.

Two teams remain unbeaten in men's softball league play

The Recreation Department's Adult Softball League moved past its second week of action at the Swim Pool Field. Highlighting action last week were high-scoring victories by A. Best Pharmacy and Spring Liquors. The Best squad and the Spring nine concluded last week's action at the top of the standings. The two teams are the lone undefeated clubs in the loop.

In action last Friday evening, the pharmacists rolled past the 1966 defending champs, Wilpat Associates, as they unleashed a 25-hit attack, which turned back Wilpat by a 21 to 8 score. The Best squad was paced in the field and at the bat by shortstop Jack Apgar. Apgar was brilliant on many difficult plays and chipped in with four hits, batting from the lead-off position. Larry Doyle and John Konecny also starred at the plate for A. Best. Doyle had three hits and seven runs batted in. Konecny blasted round trippers in successive at-bats in the third and fifth innings. Both of Konecny's home runs cleared the right field fence with much to spare.

A. Best was particularly effective in this game during the third and seventh innings. In the third stanza they sent 11 men to bat and scored six runs. The seventh inning saw the team rally best, as 14 men batted for Best, pushing nine runs across the plate. Bob Levicich hurled his second victory for Best, as he limited the Wilpat batters to seven hits. Gary Faucher and Vince Palaia hit well for the Wilpat team. Both men had two hits and a pair of RBIs.

SPRING LIQUORS opened the action last Monday at the Swim Pool, as they blasted the Somerset Bus Co. by the score of 25 to 3 in a game played under the lights. Spring put the game away in the opening inning as they tallied 11 times on 11 hits. Consecutive doubles by the first four batters set the stage for the romp. Those cracking the first four big hits were: Butch Arnold, Bill Ehrhardt, George Keller and Mike Pisano. Arnold and Ehrhardt paced the attack for the heavy-hitting Spring team. Butch and Billy both belted out three hits, and each scored three runs. John Ehrhardt hurled the best game of the young season, as he limited Somerset to six hits and three runs. Ehrhardt tossed his second victory of the campaign.

Ben Marzano, Sam Carr and Al Pruden did all the hitting for the bus drivers, as each player stroked a pair of hits. Carr lashed out the game's only home run in the fourth inning to provide the big spark to the Somerset attack.

IN A SINGLE GAME under the lights last Tuesday evening, the PBA turned back March Advertising by 12 to 6 count. This was the policemen's initial victory of the season, while March tasted defeat for the first time. The PBA broke up a close contest in the top of the sixth inning, as they sent eight runs across the plate. Walt Saville and Jim Crowley sparked the uprising with home run blasts during the big inning. March opened fast in this game, as they tallied four runs in the opening inning. The March squad, however, was able to dent home only twice thereafter against the slants of the PBA pitcher, Ray Jazkoff. Jazkoff twirled the entire game for PBA and was credited with his initial triumph of the season. Len Atkin hurled the game for March and had the PBA batters shut out for five innings until the roof fell in during the sixth. Andy Longello was once again the big batter for the March forces. Andy drove out three hits in four times up, including a pair of doubles.

A BIG DOUBLE-HEADER was featured at the Swim Pool Field last Wednesday evening. The opener saw Wilpat ease past Remlinger. The final count was 7 to 6. Wilpat tallied the winning run in the top of the seventh inning when John Mistretta belted a two-out double and rode home on Roger Kaiser's third hit of the game. Kaiser paced the Wilpat attack with three safeties and three big runs batted in. Gary Faucher had a big hit for the Wilpat team. Faucher belted a home run in the fifth inning with two mates on base. This was Faucher's third round-tripper of the young season. Bill Savarin hurled the victory for Wilpat, as he limited the Remlinger batters to seven scattered hits.

Stan Wlesniewski and Tony Nardone paced the Remlinger attack with each contributing a pair of RBIs. Stan and Tony, each drove in runs with key base hits in a close game. Don Caszernova hurled the game for the real estate men and lost a heart-breaker.

THE SECOND CONTEST saw the PBA register their second victory in as many nights, as they drove A.R. Meeker from the field with a 19-run and 17-hit attack. Ray Jazkoff, on the mound for the winners, held Meeker to nine hits and six runs. Walt Saville completed a big week for the PBA. Walt hit a pair of towering home runs and lined a two-bagger to pace the winning attack. Walt had cracked a home run in the PBA victory on Tuesday. Bob Intoradano also had another big night for the PBA. Bob drilled three hits that accounted for six runs. Ron DeSantis, Jim Crowley and Tom Baker each had a pair of safeties for the winners. Meeker, who dropped his second decision of the season in as many starts, was paced by Ralph Drew, Tom Mountford and Ken Hendrickson, all of whom had two hits. John Miller, pitching for the Meeker squad, dropped his second verdict of the season.

Vietnam unit lauds actions to end war in Mid-East lands

At the home of Donald Grant of Springfield, an emergency meeting of the Springfield Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam was held recently, and a resolution was unanimously passed commending the "leadership for peace our government demonstrated by helping Israel and Egypt achieve a cease-fire through the United Nations."

The Springfield committee posed the question to the administration: "Why not use the same power and prestige to achieve a cease fire in Vietnam through the UN under Secretary General U. Thant?"

In light of this experience, the national campaign of Negotiations Now for peace in Vietnam assumes greater urgency, according to the local group. In Springfield, local sponsors are the Rev. James Dewart, Rabbi Reuben R. Levine, the Rev. Clarence Alston, and Rabbi Israel S. Dremer.

A local door-to-door campaign is planned to help gather more than one million signatures nationally to present to the president. Volunteers were urged to call Donald Grant, 12 Surrey lane, Springfield, 376-1976 or 376-5629.

N.J. Residents Find Poconos Perfect Retreat Summit, veteran realtor and land developer. "These families, weary of the pressures, clamor and hustle-bustle of city living are seeking a leisure-time haven... rustic and secluded... an 'away-from-it-all' spot from which they can return to their work-a-day environment relaxed and refreshed." "This is what we have for them high above the Delaware Water Gap in the green-forested Poconos. It is among the best of the region's mountain sanctuaries." Another developer, Richard Norman of Hackensack, says, "Because of their high altitude, up to 2,500 feet above sea level, their magnificent mountain scenery, their many lakes and their pure, dry health-giving air, the Poconos are often called 'The Colorado of the East.' Folks in North Jersey are just beginning to realize that this wonderful mountain region can be reached over new super highways within two hours and is available for low-cost summer and winter vacations." This combination of accessibility, good air, spacious surroundings, and a variety of summer and winter sports activity, has made the Poconos an increasing favorite retreat for New Jersey residents. Long a favorite with vacationing Pennsylvanians, the Pocono Mountains have become a lure for more and more Jerseyans over the last few years... and as land in the Metropolitan area becomes scarcer and more expensive, it is expected that the trend to the Poconos will continue. "There's no question as to what motivates the hundreds of N.J. residents who have made the Poconos one of the prime second-home markets in the East," says Robert H. Steele of

Hughes, in NSC address, urges candor by legislators

I am proud and honored that you have asked me here today to share with you what must surely be one of the most meaningful days in each of your lives. And I share as well the pride that each of you and your families must feel upon your successful completion of the academic progress signified by this ceremony.

Many of you will shortly embark upon new careers in education, and the opportunity awaiting you in this regard is an exciting one. As you know, New Jersey is engaged in a major and comprehensive effort to bring excellence to our education system at all levels, and all of you, in a sense, are direct participants in that most worthwhile and rewarding activity. In fact, I hope that all of you will soon become, in and of yourselves, active participants in and contributors to all matters of public concern and public endeavor in this nation and, particularly, this State. And I want to tell you that your involvement in public affairs has become, as has the involvement of all good men, increasingly necessary to meeting the needs and demands of modern times.

I need not set forth to you today the complex and serious challenges which today face our communities, our State, our nation and the world. For they are challenges which must be apparent to even the most casual observer of current events. And it must also be apparent to all of you as it is to me that these challenges call for a new kind of action and present to private citizen and public official alike a new measure of responsibility. No longer is it possible for private citizens to remove themselves from political, social and economic problems, leaving the affairs of government solely in the hands of public officials. In the same way, it has become increasingly important for all public officials to live up to their solemn responsibilities to apprise the people of the realities of the times. Every man who aspires to public office embraces to some degree a certain philosophy of government—that is a guiding principle regarding his responsibilities to the people he represents. And this principle determines, in great measure, his course of conduct in carrying out the duties of his office. One approach to government, which, quite frankly, has from time to time served the best selfish interests of some government officials, seems to be based upon a theory that an undisturbed citizen is a happy citizen and results in a practice of sweeping major problems and controversial issues under the proverbial rug.

UNFORTUNATELY, THIS HAS occasionally proved to be an effective practice for those whose sole concern is the winning of the vote. But it is a most dangerous procedure, particularly in modern times when we can only hope to solve our many, many problems—problems like the improvement of education, the expansion of transportation, the preservation of the public health and safety, the revitalization of our communities and community life, the furthering of human rights and the fullest utilization of human resources. In short, all the vast moral, social and economic problems of the day—through extensive public dialogue and public discussion as expressed at the polls and through elected representatives.

Of course, it is only human nature that most people, including myself, are frequently reluctant to face the unpleasant realities of life and to make difficult decisions. As you all know, this applies not only to the life of a community or a state but also the everyday lives of every family and every individual. Thus, there may be considerable political difficulties for the public official who fulfills his responsibility in going to the people with any particular issue at a particular time.

However, I believe that a public official is elected to do exactly this—to advise the people concerning the facts in all issues, regardless of how unpleasant those facts may be, and to let the people make their decisions in the light of those facts. Such a procedure, may, as I have said, involve political risk, but, then, risk is inherent in the nature of politics. And as our late President John F. Kennedy once said,

"The business of government is the business of the people."
And I have learned through my own experience as a public official that this responsible and truthful approach can at times prove to be the most rewarding, not only for the politician but for the people as well. I recall, for example, the bond issue of 1963. As you may recall, and as I recall very painfully, this program was resoundingly defeated by the voters. But I can honestly say, with a certain measure of personal satisfaction, that while the battle was lost, if you will, the war was being won. The people may have opposed a specific program which I recommended as a partial solution to many of our pressing problems, but there is every indication that a most important by-product of this bond issue campaign was increased and improved public understanding of the real needs of this State—needs in education, institutional care, transportation and so many areas that had been neglected for too long.

I DOUBT THAT THERE IS ANYONE who enjoys being reminded of these needs and, more significantly, the burden of thinking about the major effort required to do something about them. But I do know that my continuing faith in the wisdom of the people of this State was justified by their decision to vigorously support not only myself but those legislators who advocated a program of action to meet New Jersey's present and future needs.

I am sure that most of you are familiar with the events which, as a result of this general attitude on the part of responsible men, led to enactment of a bipartisan program—the sales tax—which has enabled us to move so far ahead in our efforts to meet the challenges of tomorrow. So many new and meaningful State programs have been immeasurably strengthened because this new money is now available.

Above all, the greatest need of our time—education—has finally been recognized through the appropriation of those urgently required funds which have at last enabled us to move ahead at all levels to improve the quality of education for every New Jerseyan. In the past two years, we have been able to nearly double our State aid to local school districts, from $120 million to $228.5 million. We have been able to appropriate $34 million for the expansion of our higher education facilities—including Newark State College—in the fiscal year which begins on July 1, 1967. Most significantly, in our new budget for the 67-68 fiscal year, we have been able to allocate $200 million for educational needs that are not available in the year prior to the enactment of the sales tax. And in other areas of public concern as well, the record shows, as a matter of simple mathematics, the greatest share of the vitally needed revenue from this sales tax is being returned to our communities and our people—in fact, and happily for the second year in a row, our total State aid appropriations in the new budget

Rates for groups—set at county pools

Special group rates for swimming in the pools operated by the Union County Park Commission, located at John Russell Wheeler Park, Linden, and Railway River Park, Rahway, were announced by the Park Commission. Union County groups with a minimum of 40 persons may use the pool facilities on weekdays, Monday through Friday, except holidays, for a fee of 25 cents per person. Group reservations are now being accepted at both pools.

Union County groups may also rent the pool facilities with exclusive use for a two-hour period for "splash parties" at a fee of $50. The pools may be reserved from 8 to 10 p.m. on weekdays, Monday through Friday, and from 7 to 9 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays for group use. Reservations for this service are being accepted at both pools.

The purpose of the above swim plans is to encourage Union County groups to visit and use the swimming facilities of the County Park Commission. Both pools offer sand beaches, refreshment stands, and large parking areas. The pools are supervised by qualified life guards certified by the American Red Cross, a spokesman said.

County pool opens season Saturday

The swimming pools operated by the Union County Park Commission, located at John Russell Wheeler Park, Linden, and Railway River Park, Rahway, will begin operating at the full-time summer schedule on Saturday.

Beginning Saturday, the pools will open weekdays, including Saturdays, and holidays, at 10 a.m. On Sundays the pools will open at 11 a.m. The pools will remain open on weekdays until 8 p.m. and on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays until 9 p.m., weather permitting.

Children 13 years of age and under, may swim free of charge from 10 a.m. to noon, each Monday, except holidays.

Boys and girls, eight to 14 years of age, may now register at either pool for the annual "Learn to Swim" school which will be conducted daily from 9 a.m. to 9:45 a.m., beginning Monday, June 26 at the Railway River Park Pool, and Wednesday, June 28, at the John Russell Wheeler Park Pool. Union County residents may still take advantage of the "Family Membership Plan" now being offered at both pools. A family may apply for a special rate of $25 for the entire swimming season and this will entitle husband and wife and all their children, 18 years of age and under, to swim in the pools without additional charges during the summer. Applications are now available at both pools. Each pool has a sand beach and a refreshment stand, a spokesman said.

PAINTINGS ON DISPLAY

exceed those for the operation of State government.

I tell you all of this for a reason. I know all of you realize that the great Legislature elected in 1965 will this year face the people with an account of its stewardship. And this submission to the verdict of the people should be based upon absolute honesty and candor.

YOU KNOW, A TRUTHFUL and rational approach to government most often demands great courage on the part of those who govern. Obviously, it takes courage for a public official to set forth before the people the truth on vital issues—would not it be far easier to merely tell the people what they want to hear? And it requires great political courage to enact vitally needed legislation in the face of heated and emotional arguments to the contrary on the part of a small but vocal minority.

I firmly believe that the New Jersey Legislature in the two-year session just completed, has, indeed, displayed just such political courage—the courage to rise above political expediency and do what is right for New Jersey and its people. I tell you that as a man with a profound faith in the wisdom of truth and a profound belief in the fairness of the people,

Beyond its own accomplishments for the State, I hope and pray that the courage evidenced by this Legislature will invoke a new kind of courage and a new candor on the part of all our citizens—a candor which will be evidenced by all men in all discussions of public issues. And I hope that the day will soon come when the people who use platitudes to denounce the sales tax, for example, will realize that they are actually denouncing all that the sales tax provides for our State and its future—the State and the hospitals, the colleges, the health measures and the hundred other things they would not dare criticize in plain language. I hope that the small minority who adopt the emotional platitudes of special interest groups who oppose our gun control law will soon realize—as most of us already do—that they are actually advocating the indiscriminate sale of dangerous weapons to convicted criminals, narcotics addicts and the mentally unbalanced, about 2,000 of whom have already been intercepted in the short life of this gun control law designed to save lives. In short, I look forward to the day when all New Jerseyans will come to understand, as the majority of conscientious citizens already understand, that, while rational dissent is fundamental to the American way of life, irresponsible and emotional charges and counter charges are, in reality, a most serious attack on the principles of democracy and the future of this State, this nation and all mankind.

If I may leave you with one thought today, I would like it to be the strong suggestion that you put to good use the reason and good judgment which you have developed in the important years just concluded as you participate to one degree or another in the public affairs of men. In this way, and only in this way, will it be possible for responsible men of both political parties to guide our State and nation on a course of progress to a realization of our legitimate goals. For our very future is dependent upon the wisdom and cooperation of all good men in a joint effort to further the common good," as Cicero said, the Res Publica.

As I have here today I want to send with each of you my personal and official congratulations and best wishes for your future success and my faith in the ability of each of you to share fully in shaping and reaping the benefits of a realization of the American dream.

Film on sun at Trilside

"Our Mr. Sun," a color, sound film, will be shown at the Union County Park Commission's Trilside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, on Sunday at 3 p.m. The film shows the story of the Sun and its effect upon all life on earth.

On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 22, at 4 p.m., each day, Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of Trilside, will present one-hour nature talks for children. The topic selected for the three days is "Seashore Birds." The talks will be illustrated with color slides and admission is free.

The Trilside Nature and Science Center is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m., and on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to visit the Nature and Science Center, view the thousands of indoor exhibits and participate in the scheduled programs.
