Speed limit agreement with Trenton closer, but not final

State balks on flashing signal lights 35-mile limit nearing reality for 3 avenues

By ABNER GOLD

Further progress in negotiations with the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles... plans for a new Springfield speed and traffic pattern, but no final agreement, was reported by Township Committee member Robert G. Planer at a brief, sparsely attended meeting of the governing body Tuesday evening at Town Hall.

Following an on-the-spot survey by two investigators from Trenton, Planer said, state officials had agreed to a compromise on speed limits for Mountain, Meisel and S. Springfield avenues. The offer from Trenton had included, however, a provision for a delay in installation of flashing lights in the vicinity of schools along the main north-south thoroughfares, he added.

Until such an offer is included, Planer indicated following the meeting, he does not plan to introduce a resolution accepting the new speed limits, as urged by the state officials. An impasse had existed for some time until this winter, with Trenton seeking to raise the speed limit on the three streets from the present 25 miles per hour to 40 miles. Local officials this fall thought they had achieved a compromise agreement on a 35-mile limit.

The new proposal from Trenton called for the 35-mile limit for all three streets, Mountain, S. Springfield and Meisel avenues, with one exception. There would be a 40-mile limit on Meisel avenue between Laurel drive and Riverside drive.

The Trenton experts also recommended that the township wait until the new speed control and school zone warning sign are installed, and studied for a time to determine whether or not flashing signals are a necessity at the schools.

Planer indicated that when a local ordinance is introduced to authorize the new speed limits, it may well include provision for the flashing lights at the schools, with or without state approval. The schools involved are the Thelma Sandmeier, Edward Walton, Raymond Chisholm and Florence Gaudineer Schools, as well as Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Planer later indicated that state approval is expected shortly for a traffic light at the corner of Mountain, S. Springfield and Henshaw avenues, and that this approval is not directly related to the controversy over speed limits.

THE MEETING, which lasted a scant half-hour and was attended by some five citizens, (Continued on page 2)

Little Walter begins rule as first baby of new year

Tiny Walter L. Jackson Jr., who joined the world at 2:58 a.m. on Jan. 2, will reign throughout the year as Springfield's first baby of 1968. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Jackson of 59 Diven street.

Little Walter, who weighed in at five pounds, 13 ounces, when he made his debut at Newark Beth Israel Hospital, has a big brother, Marlon, who is 4. Mrs. Jackson is the former Lila Lindray of South Carolina. The family has lived in Springfield for the past four years. Walter Sr. works as a brick mason in Springfield.

To start his reign in truly royal fashion, baby Walter has earned an assortment of gifts from local merchants for himself and his parents. The gifts include:

- Geilack Jewelers, a child's porringer;
- Miller's Pastry Shop, birthday cake;
- The Hearth Restaurant, dinner for two for mother and father;
- Norma's Salon of Beauty, haircut, shampoo and style set.

Wayside Gardens, potted plant for mother; Reinecke Youth Center, $5 gift certificate; Park Drugs, a case of aluminum baby bottle sterilizer kit or a case of baby formula.

Adams outlines reasons to run for school post

JAMES ADAMS
James Adams, who filed his petition last week as a candidate for the Springfield Board of Education, this week issued a statement outlining his views on education and his reasons for seeking election.

Adams will run in the Feb. 13 election against three incumbents, Carlo Casac, Mrs. Sonya Dorsky and Francis Shimschock, for the three seats to be filled this year. The board will hold a hearing Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the James Caldwell School on its proposed $1,950,656 budget for the coming school year.

Adams declared: "When I returned to Springfield in 1964, having completed college and a three-year hitch in the Army, I decided to find a vehicle through which I could contribute to my town. At the time, I chose youth recreation and athletics, since my most immediate talents seemed to lie in that direction. My first exposure to Springfield's children came through this, and I quickly came to realize what a fine crop of young people Springfield had."

"The desire to know more had contributed more grew rapidly, and led, quite understandably, to a concern in Springfield schools."

Regional schools assign Jan. 23 for budget debate

The Regional High School District Board of Education will hold a public hearing Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 8 p.m. at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, to discuss its proposed budget of $6,628,523 for the 1968-69 school year.

The budget will be presented for approval by the voters at the regional school election on Feb. 6. The district operates four high schools to serve students from Springfield, Mountainside, Berkeley Heights, Kenilworth, Clark and Garwood. The schools are Dayton, Gov. Livingston Regional in Berkeley Heights, David Brearley Regional in Kenilworth and A. L. Johnson Regional in Clark.

The largest single item in the new budget is $3,427,315 for teacher salaries, an increase from $3,030,408 for the present school year. This would pay for a new teacher salary scale being considered by the board, but not formally adopted.

The new pay scale would call for a starting annual salary of $6,400 for a teacher with a bachelor's degree and no previous experience. It would sum up a top of $12,200 for teachers with six years of study. The present pay scale runs from $6,000 to $11,450. The new guide is approximately the same as the one under (Continued on page 2)

ON THE ALERT—The late Charles H. Ruby, later chief of the Springfield fire department, is at the reins of this combination hose and ladder wagon in front of the Springfield Fire House on Morris avenue near the present Caldwell place, in this picture taken in 1915. Chief Ruby was the father of Edward J. Ruby, the township's present recreation director.

From hand-carts to modern machines Firemen remember past, seek funds for future

The following history of the Springfield Fire Department, which will conduct its annual fund drive this month, was compiled by Matthew Allen of the Volunteer Fire Department, from records at Fire Headquarters in the Municipal Building.

The Springfield Volunteer Fire Department was organized at a meeting of citizens held on Feb. 3, 1906. George M. MacDonald acted as temporary chairman, and M.H. Higgins as secretary.

A resolution was adopted to incorporate under the following name: Springfield Volunteer Fire Department, Company 1, and the purpose of the organization, as stated in the articles of incorporation was: "To act as a volunteer fire company for the extinguishing of fires in the Township of Springfield, under the rules of the Township Government and the said Township of Springfield, and for the purpose to acquire, own, care for and use fire apparatus belonging to the said Township of Springfield as shall be entrusted to it by the proper authorities thereof."

Trustees of the corporation, named for a term of one year, were: William Flemer, Elmer Sickle and Peter H. Meisel. The first officers were: Perry E. Hall, president; Olin D. Sickle, secretary and Albert P. Cain, treasurer.

The certificate of incorporation drawn pursuant to an act to incorporate associations not for pecuniary profit approved April 21, 1898, was executed on Feb. 17, 1906, by William Flemer, Elmer Sickle and Peter H. Meisel, in the presence of George M. MacDonald, commissioner of deeds for New Jersey.

Springfield's first piece of fire apparatus was a two-wheeled hose reel, which was drawn to fires by man-power. It is said that help in pulling it was sometimes furnished by trolleys of the Morris County Traction Company, if they happened to be headed in the right direction. Then, in order to keep the tongue of the cart up while it was hitched to the trolley, it was necessary for two men to ride on the rear of the cart, and sometimes they had a wild ride.

Water pressure at the hydrants was furnished by the Springfield pumping station of the Short Hills Water Co., and pressure was stepped up when an alarm was sounded. This service was continued by the Commonwealth Water Co., which bought out the Short Hills company's plant in 1925.

FIRE HEADQUARTERS from 1906 to 1921 when the present Municipal Building was built, was in a frame building on the south side of Morris avenue, about 200 feet west of Mountain avenue, (then called Westfield ave); This building, which had been used as a carpenter shop, was leased to the Fire Department by Theodore Sickle, then by his sons, Olin and Irving, and later by Elmer, who became owner of the property.

A locomotive tire suspended in front of the fire house provided the way firemen were called to a fire. Blows of a heavy hammer against the tire produced a bell-like sound, heard from a great distance.

In 1910, John Koch, who ran a blacksmith and wagon shop, built a combination horse-drawn hose and ladder wagon for the fire horses owned by Charles H. Ruby, a member of the volunteers, and who later became chief.

The hose reel still can be viewed each Memorial Day, as the volunteers pull it through town in the parade.

In 1917, a Reo automobile chassis was purchased and part of the old wagon body mounted on it. This was to become Springfield's first piece of motorized equipment.

The first completely modern piece of apparatus, a Mack chemical hose and ladder truck was purchased in 1925. In 1927, a combination Mack pumper and hook and ladder truck, equipped with ladders up to 50 feet, was purchased at a cost of $15,500.53, including equipment.

THE GIFT OF the volunteers to the township in 1935, the Diamond 1 chemical and hose truck, still runs today. The Civil Defense Reserve Fire Department is in charge of running it.

In 1941, a Mack 80 was purchased. This was a 750-gallon per minute pumper, and was painted white. In 1951, a Mack 85 was purchased by the township, and it is one of the mainstays of the department today. Engine 2, as it is known, is the "second due" piece of apparatus at most fires.

The Civil Defense Fire Corps was organized in 1942, and was trained by the volunteers. This was due to the fact that many of the township's local men were called upon to serve their country in the armed forces. Today, there are approximately 10 men in this department which is headed by Saul Freeman (civil defense director) and Bill MacDonald.

In 1931, Charles A. Pinkava was sworn in as the first paid chief of the Springfield Fire Department. He died in September of 1952, after battling a fire. He was succeeded by (Continued on page 2)

Charles Schilling and then by the present chief, Ormond W. Mesker, in 1958.

When the department first began, the men had to work two-weeks days, two weeks nights, then one day off. Today, the working week is 42 hours.

As the present year started out, there were 15 paid men in the department. Chief Mesker, and Deputy Chief Robert Day, four captains and nine firemen make up the department. At the end of last year, a driver training program was begun. This was to train new men and refresh some of the older members on driving the five pieces of equipment. This is the reason residents have noticed the trucks out during the day.

DURING THE DAY, members are notified of a fire by the horns atop the Fire House, and by their "Plectrons." This is like a short wave radio set, and is activated at the Fire House at the time of any fire. This is the only way members are called out during the night, as the horns do not sound after 10 p.m.

Car fires, small brush fires and wash-downs after accidents are handled by the paid men. If there is a call for a house or building fire, then the volunteers are notified. Members are also called upon to help other towns in case of bad fires. The last time this occurred was when Geiger's Elder Mill, Westfield, was burned this fall.

During the summer, drills are held twice a month outdoors, and once a month indoors in the winter. Men are taught how to use each piece of equipment, and where it is located on the trucks. Films are shown, and when possible, representatives of firms that manufacture fire-fighting equipment give talks on their products.

Meetings are held once a month to discuss business and make plans for the different activities of the department. Officers elected for this year are: Warren Ruban, president; John Phillippi, vice-president; Matt D'Andrea, secretary; and Walt Schramm, treasurer.

Legion chiefs issue reminder of VA plans for Vietnam vets

Alfred Rutz of Springfield, county commander of the American Legion, and Randolph Frost, Springfield Continental Post service officer, this week reminded Vietnam veterans of the schedule for Veterans Administration benefits.

Veterans released from active duty have 10 years to obtain a GI loan from the V.A. office plus one year for each 90 days' active duty—no time limit to file at the V.A. office for compensation claims for injury or disease; no time limit to file at the VA office for pension claims, non-service connected; no time limit to obtain VA hospital care; no time limit to obtain assistance from the local office of the State Employment Service for finding employment or job training programs, and no time limit to convert term insurance at the VA office.

For additional information, any VA field office may be contacted.

The New Jersey Division of Veterans Services is seeking to aid severely disabled veterans and widows and has announced a new program, titled "Operation Brotherhood," Rutz and Frost declared.

The program is a rehabilitation project devoted to those veterans and widows who are so severely disabled that they are confined to their homes, hospitalized or bedridden, or are patients in private nursing homes.

The division has found that many of these veterans and widows are not aware of new legislation which would benefit them financially. They urge any person who may know of a seriously disabled veteran or widow who is housebound or institutionalized, to contact their headquarters, State of New Jersey, Dept. of Conservation and Economic Development, Division of Veterans Services, Post Office Box 1390, Trenton, N.J. 08625.

The two Legion officials added: "The states of Connecticut and Louisiana have already passed a Vietnam Bonus Law, to be paid as soon as hostilities cease. The maximum is $300. It is the hope of the American Legion,

Union County, that the state of New Jersey will be one of the next states to take this kind of action and not by-pass it as they did the World War II and Korean veterans, a disgraceful act on the part of this great state."

Adams outlines

Since that time, I've been a faithful follower of bonded activities, and have constantly sought more knowledge of the schools from individual board members, the superintendent, teachers, parents and the children.

"Using my own recollections of school, I have endeavored to be unbiased in the scope, progress and goals of the educational system. I was even most fortunate this past year, to have been allowed to participate, as a chaparrone and photographic observer, in the 'Experiment in Living' project at Stokes State Forest. It was a five-day experience not to be forgotten.

"I have fostered thoughts of seeking a board post for sometime, and when other unopposed candidates appeared likely, I decided to announce my candidacy to provide the people of Springfield with a contest, offering something a little different.

"My challenge is not based on opposition to one or more specific policies or persons, but rather on a desire to see the board as something viable, not merely for the sake of change, but for the change required to insure increasing 100 percent effort and desire on behalf of all concerned.

"Any governing or supervisory body without opposition cannot help but tend to interpret this in one of two ways: 1) either as complete public satisfaction in their work, or 2) complete public apathy. Either reaction must have a debilitating effect on the board's performance of duty.

"I regard my bachelor status as a definite asset, rather than as a drawback, to service as a board member. This will allow me that much more time to expend on the heart of a board member's labors, namely, committee sessions, where the real work is done.

"I saw no need to stand as a candidate on a platform calling for any major introduction of new, or repeal or modification of existing, standards, policies, or personnel. Rather, I stand for steady implementation and improvement of existing programs and procedures, with a corresponding readiness to act upon any developments which would benefit the community as a whole, and the students in particular.

"In this respect, I subscribe fully to the precept that board members should not run the schools, but see to it that they are well run."

Jazz group sets May appearance

The 16-piece Stevens Jazz Band will offer a wide range of typical American music at a "World Travel Show" to be held at The Mall at Short Hills in January.

Other groups selected for the show, which runs from Jan. 11 to 27, will offer the music of many foreign lands. The jazz band, an all-student group from Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken, is scheduled for two appearances on Jan. 13, at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. To accurately represent the uniqueness of American jazz, the band has selected works by Duke Ellington, Bert Kaempfert, Stan Kenton, Neal Holtz, Larry Wilcox and Antonio Carlos Jobim. Some of the music has been arranged especially for the group by Aaron Grosky, a saxophone player in the band.

Mrs. Leonard Brown of Troop 94 of the Thelma Sandmeyer School and her Brownies made several dozen cookies for the soldiers in Vietnam. These girls are also making favors for the Veterans Hospital in Orange for Valentine's Day. Mrs. Randolph Probst of Troop 840 of the James Caldwell School is presently engaged in making favors for the Veterans Hospital for Washington's Birthday.

Mrs. Louis Quinton of Junior Troop 280 and her assistant, Mrs. Daniel Duffy, held a holiday party and court of awards in December at the Presbyterian Parish House. The decorations and refreshments were planned and served by the girls working on the hospitality badge. This fulfilled their last requirement for the badge. The girls made apple pomanders and the ash trays as family gifts.

Badges were then awarded as follows: print badge: Peggy Ball, Debbie Duerr, Patricia Diane, Maureen Keller, Karen Lette; Carol Murphy; Patty Smith, Jeanne Kelly, Barbara Yaeger, Cheryl Stewart; collector badge: Debbie Duerr, Barbara Yaeger, Karen Lette; Pets badge: Margaret Voorhees; my home badge: Debbie Duerr, Laura Keefe, Patty Smith, Holly Quinton; housekeeper badge: Maureen Keller, Lesley Elkins, Mary Verlangeri; Kathy Shafray, Andrea Petzinger; water fun badge: Ruth Ann Adams; hospitality badge: Susan Murphy.

Holly Quinton, Elizabeth Simpson, Margaret Voorhees, Cindy Zarrilli, Beverly Stewart. The following girls earned their signs: sign of the arrow: Margaret Voorhees, Holly Quinton, Cindy Zarrilli, Susan Murphy. Following the court of awards, the girls exchanged gifts and had refreshments.

Cadette Troop 471, under the leadership of Mrs. Henry F. Huneke and Mrs. Louis Soos, went overnight to Camp Sinawik in the Watchung Mountains. The girls are working on their challenge of emergency preparedness and worked on the preparations toward their challenge, emergency first aid, emergency fuels and communications. Their challenge will be given to them, after all preparations have been completed, some time in March.

Proper reading of a compass was instructed by Mrs. Frank Madison. The menu included only canned, dried and packaged foods. Mrs. Robert Peters, a troop committee mother, helped on the weekend.

Girls participating were: Karen Dolshun, Virginia Harbach, Marilyn Howell, Holly Huneke, Doris Hoffman, Glenda James, Chris Eisch, Cindy Madison, Sherry Morales, Karen Peters, Dorothy Quinzel, Gladys Roth, Laurie Ross, Nancy Soos, Susan Weinstein, Mary Witowsky.

The service team meeting will take place today at 1:30 at the Recreation House.

Theseus-Davidson dies in California; long active locally

Theseus Clio Davidson, who died Dec. 29 in California at the age of 80, was active in many local organizations before he moved from Springfield to San Diego, Calif., in 1943. Mr. Davidson was a member of the Springfield Board of Education in the 1930s, during the planning and construction of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Long-time residents recall that Mr. Davidson used to lead the Springfield Fourth of July parade on horseback, and then read the Declaration of Independence as a feature of the celebrations, which were held on the site of the Flermer property, now bounded by Meisel avenue, Laurel drive and Milltown road.

Mr. Davidson was also for many years a leader of the Volunteer Fire Department. He was chairman for carnivals held when the Fire House was located on Morris avenue, before the present facilities were added to Town Hall in 1921. Born in Newark, Mr. Davidson lived for many years at 53 Mountain ave., which is now Caldwell place.

He leaves two sons, Walter Davidson of Millburn and Robert Davidson of Long Beach, Calif., a daughter, Mrs. Virginia D. Fischer of Manhattan Beach, Calif., and five grandchildren.

Architecture will be topic

"Houses—American and European" will be the topic at the Summit YWCA's Wednesday morning Kaffeeklatsch next week from 9:45 to 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Robert Kleh, a member of the New Jersey Historical Society and the Huguenot Society of New Jersey, will illustrate her talk with color slides.

She will compare Tudor and Colonial, Regency and Greek revival, ending with Victorian and modern on both sides of the Atlantic. Mrs. Kleh, who has had a life-long interest in historical houses, formed a Citizens' Committee in Lenonia to save the Vreeland house of early Dutch origin.

Kaffeeklatsch begins at 9:45, and the hour-long program follows. Babysitting is provided for infants 18 months and over, and dance and rhythm classes are available for pre-schoolers. The Wednesday morning programs are open to all women in the area. No reservations are required.

Further information about the current program or future ones may be had by telephoning Mrs. Allan G. Ballard, program director, at the YWCA, 273-4242.

FAMILY POT LUCK

An excellent way to use leftover vegetables is to put them in cream soups, single vegetable or a combination of several may be used.

A bowl of red and gold delicious apples and a plate of mild-flavored Camembert or Brie cheese will top off any meal. Send them to the table as "apples" and let the family help themselves.

If your wooden salad bowls are dry and rough from continual washing, here's a simple remedy. Rub a little salad oil into the grain of wood, repeating until bowls regain some of their glossy finish.

Don't overlook flank beef steaks if you like plenty of variety in your menus. Braise flank steak (brown it in hot fat) add a small amount of liquid, then cover and cook until meat is tender. The cooking liquid may be of your own choosing.

Butter is the natural fat of milk—it is a rich source of vitamin A and contains 35 calories per teaspoon. Helen's Favorite Creamed Cheese and Chives on Toast (Makes 4 servings)

Starting guns sound in school board races

Now that all the entries are in and all the deadlines past, Springfield citizens are faced with the entirely satisfactory situation of having contests in the elections for both the Regional High School Board of Education and the Springfield Board of Education.

No matter how fine a school system might be, or how capable and dedicated its board members are, one of the best ways to achieve better education is to require that the members present an accounting of their achievements, with the final decision up to the voters. For this reason, among many others, we applaud those who have taken the trouble to enter the contest.

We might also point out that the prize is simply an opportunity to serve. The hours can be long, the responsibilities heavy—and the only compensation is a feeling of service to the community. All candidates deserve consideration for their desire to be constructive citizens.

At the same time, the public, too, deserves consideration. The rules of the game may forbid overt campaigning. They most emphatically do not forbid the candidates from making their views known to the voters as completely and as clearly as possible.

There is one formal opportunity provided at the Candidates' Night forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters. Most school board candidates have sufficient respect for the public to take part.

However, we strongly urge all candidates to take advantage of the columns of this newspaper to express their ideas on education and to offer their specific plans for implementing these views in Springfield.

We also suggest topics on which the candidates for the two boards governing local education might express themselves to the benefit of the entire community.

To the four candidates for the one Springfield vacancy open this year on the Regional High School District Board of Education: How can the board and the administration best work in harmony with the teachers in helping the young people of Springfield develop to the utmost limits of their potential? We should never be satisfied with less, even while recognizing the many accomplishments already achieved.

To the four candidates for the three seats open on the Springfield Board of Education: How can the local schools be best supported in their efforts to continue their leadership in the field of elementary education? This is an area where the pressures of college admission requirements are felt much less directly than in the high schools, and the freedom for creative experimentation is perhaps greater.

We have one further question for the Springfield board candidates: To provide the maximum contribution from the board to the staff to the students, how much time and effort do you intend to expend in the next three years in behalf of the children of Springfield?

As the starting gun sounds for the race, we hope that the winners will be the children of our community.

Letters to Editor

Letters to the editor must be submitted no later than Monday of the week they are to appear. They should not exceed 250 words in length and should be typed with double spacing (not all in capital letters, please). All letters must be signed. Writer's name will not be withheld if the letter is of political nature. This newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any letter.

HIGHEST COMMENDATION!
Expressing thanks to those who have helped us bear our burdens and solve the problems of the receding year is a priority project on this New Year's Day of 1968 for me, I, Grandma Morton, speak for the whole Walter Sommer family.

In early November, Grandma Sommer, with whom I live, suddenly became very ill. It was during midnight, and a call to the Springfield Police and First Aid Squad brought them to us within minutes with oxygen and all facilities needed to transport a patient to the hospital. In a very short space of time, Grandma Sommer had been warmly wrapped in a blanket and placed on a stretcher for her ride to Overlook Hospital, Summit. Forced oxygen was administered, which was a real lifesaving procedure in this case.

I want to emphasize the outstanding importance of speed plus efficiency which was displayed in our home that night. Gentleness and cooperation were brought to a high peak of performance in a critical situation, and our praise and thanks are very real for this timely assistance. The volunteer character of this selfless aid prompts our highest commendation and grateful appreciation.

ON POLLING PLACES
For those readers interested in their voting franchise, I'd like to quote the N.J. school voting statute, Title 18:7-16: "Whenever two or more consecutive annual school elections there shall be more than 500 ballots cast, the board shall provide additional polling places for each 500 ballots cast or part thereof and shall so divide the district that as near as equal numbers of voters as may be possible shall be eligible to vote in the respective polling places provided."

In Regional High School District I last February's election produced 1,521 ballots concerning the $3.9 million budget, 1,316 for candidates and 1,194 in Springfield alone. The previous year, Feb. 1, 1966, 1,133 ballots were cast concerning the budget (only $3.4 million), and 1,331 for candidates.

For a primary election in Springfield, seven polling places are provided for as few as 800 ballots, and usually more than one voting machine per district in some of the 13 districts. The above statute would seem to indicate at least three distinct and different polling places (not just three machines) in a very short space of time, Grandma Sommer had been warmly wrapped in a blanket and placed on a stretcher for her ride to Overlook Hospital, Summit. Forced oxygen was administered, which was a real lifesaving procedure in this case.

Federal Tax Facts

Monday is the due date for the final payment of 1967 estimated Federal income tax, according to Joseph M. Stotz, District Director of Internal Revenue for New Jersey. An amended declaration of 1967 estimated income tax may be required from taxpayers who have had changes in income or exemptions during the last quarter of 1967 that cause substantial increase or decrease in income tax. The amended declaration form printed on the notice of installment received by taxpayers may be used to amend the original estimate of Form 1040-ES (Amended) may be obtained from any IRS office.

An original declaration of 1967 estimated tax should be filed by Monday on Form 1040-ES by taxpayers who just became liable for filing an estimate during the fourth quarter. Payment of the last installment, filing of an amended declaration or original declaration which would otherwise be due on Monday, need not be done if the taxpayer files his 1967 income tax return, Form 1040, and pays in full the balance of tax due on or before Jan. 31. Due dates are different for farmers and commercial fishermen. Document No. 5111, "Estimated Tax and Tax Withholding," furnishes additional information on this subject and may be obtained from any IRS office.

Pair of Bach cantatas to be heard at church

Christ Church, Short Hills, has announced a performance with orchestra, soloists and chorale of two complete Bach cantatas at the church on Sunday, Jan. 28, at 4 p.m., under the direction of Vladimir Iavsky.

These two works have been chosen from the nearly 200 which Bach wrote to be used in church on all Sundays and holidays of the church year. They are scored for two oboes, three trumpets, percussion, string orchestra, organ and cembalo, in addition to chorus and soloists.

"Why don't you put yourself into my hands, eh?"

In Past Tense

ONE YEAR AGO
Plans to open even broader channels of communication between the administration and local citizens are emphasized by MAYOR ARTHUR M. FALKIN, who urges using "any means we can of enticing the people to witness their government in action." Five citizens attend the committee meeting while FALKIN makes his remarks. CURT MERZ, a football star at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in 1955, will be starting guard for the Kansas City Chiefs in the Super-Bowl against the Green Bay Packers. The Board of Health elects LEONARD GARNER as its president for the coming term. The Township Board of Education and the Regional Board of Education both schedule hearings for their proposed budgets on the same date and same time.

25 YEARS AGO
A quota of $8,300 for the coming war fund drive is assigned to the Springfield Chapter by the American Red Cross, according to information received in a telegram by MRS. ROBERT D. TREAT, chairman of the drive. BENJAMIN F. NEWSWANGER is named to the newly-created post of principal at the Raymond Chisholm School. POSTMASTER OTTO F. HEINZ reports a substantial increase in business during the past year. Stamp sales during 1942 amounted to $16,910.60, compared with $14,067.22 during 1941. What the Sun advocates: Sidewalks wherever needed and extension of mail delivery by P.D. routes to all portions of the township. Regional High School's basketball team loses to Cranford, 36-34, even though the local court squad was ahead by eight points at halftime.

Springfield Public Library reports on newest books for local readers

The Springfield Public Library offers the following new titles among the books now ready for circulation:

BIOGRAPHY
"The Guggenheims and the American Dream" by Edwin F. Hoyt. The Guggenheims achieved their dream in one man's life-time. Hoyt makes a fascinating story of the building of their incredible empire, which covers three generations of the Guggenheim family as well as the lives of many other notable people.

"Pilgrim's Way," by John Buchan. This is a reprint of the autobiography of one of the finest English writers, who was also noted as a poet, historian, explorer and member of Parliament. The book presents an excellent social study of the British Empire during a happier time, and should be of permanent historical importance.

"Whatever Became of...?" by Richard Lamparski. As host of the radio program with the above title, Lamparski interviewed hundreds of people who were prominent public figures a generation ago. For this book, the author has selected 100 of the most popular names, provided a background for each one, as well as "then and now" photographs. It proves to be more than a nostalgic exercise—it is a record of personalities that, fashioned beyond all proportion, the shape and color of our present day.

THE FUTURE
"The Year 2000," by Herman Kahn and Anthony J. Wiener. Sub-titled "A Framework for Speculation on the Next Thirty Years," this book draws an imaginative picture of the probable, and the possible worlds to be, the study of the future has become a vital part of the conduct of public policy and the strategies of survival, and here, the authors are concerned with making it possible to plan ahead to secure a world in which life is more than merely livable.

JUVENILE
"A Handful of Thieves," by Nina Baldwin. With her usual flair for creating funny and suspense-filled situations, Miss Baldwin affords her youthful characters a chance to find the money stolen from Grandmother's teapot. Young readers will enjoy this story, full of unexpected twists and with a happy ending.

"The Fearsome Inn," by Isaac Bashevis Singer. The setting for this rather serio tale is an isolated inn run by a witch. On a stormy winter's night, it proves to be the only refuge for a group of young people. How they are rescued, and the evil spells broken, will entrance readers for a long time to come.

"I Love You Mary Jane," by Lorna Ballan. A big day for Mary Jane and for you, for Mary Jane is getting married. The author tells you how special until you come to the last pages. Charming illustrations by the author.

CONGRESS RETURNS TO FISCAL BATTLES
Although it may seem like only yesterday they completed their first term, members of the 90th Congress return to Washington Monday to open its Second Session—again overshadowed by war and economic problems of deficit financing, taxation and inflation.

Despite year-long Congressional debate at the 1967 session over budget economy demands to partially offset requested tax increases, it is expected that the Federal fiscal year will end next June 30 with the 16th annual budget deficit since 1946. Although domestic spending reductions by Congress at the last session approximated $4.5 billion current estimates place the 1968 fiscal year-end deficit at almost $19.5 billion. This would be the largest deficit since World War II.

The 1968 tax-budget-deficit battle will resume shortly after Congress convenes. The public's "home" will be watching this along with a host of issues on the domestic fiscal front.

Among needs at the Federal level, the 1968 Platform and Program of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association calls for "sound Federal finance through:

A meaningful and complete budget document understandable to the people, the members of Congress and those charged with its administration;

Mandatory review and revision of grant-in-aid programs to insure their relevancy, adequacy, and accomplishment;

An elimination of Federal competition with private enterprise and state and local governments in administration of services; and

A concern for the practical achievement within a discernible time period of new programs and objectives before they are adopted."

Science Topics

GROUND-UP NEWSPAPERS and molasses make a novel and nutritious cattle feed, report dairy scientists at The Pennsylvania State University. The finding could help alleviate the expected food deficit that now threatens the world by making available a cheap and nutritious cattle feed that would not compete with man's own food needs.

PORTABLE rail welding equipment will be used in Australia for the first time ever when it is used to weld rails into 1440-foot lengths for a special 265-mile railroad, reports Chemotran Corporation, Chicago. The railroad will carry ore trains from Mt. Whaleyback in the Mt. Newman range to the coast city of Port Hedland. A consortium of companies is developing the vast iron-ore reserves of Mt. Newman. Exploration work to date has proved the presence of 345 million tons of plus 64 par cent hematite, and geologists have inferred a total potential of better than 1 billion tons of high grade ore from Mt. Whaleyback, making it one of the largest single deposits of hematite in the world.

THE POLYNESIAN ISLANDS are being settled via computer by a University of Minnesota geographer. He is testing the theory that over a period of centuries the Polynesians settled their sprawling Pacific kingdom by accident. The geographer is trying to duplicate the migration to all the island groups (in an area that stretches from New Zealand to the Hawaiian Islands to the Easter Islands) solely through drift voyages of small craft long at sea.

A CONVERTED 16-inch naval gun is being used by the Space Research Institute of McGill University to fire projectiles into the upper atmosphere.

PROFILE-- Duane Brown

By BEA SMITH
The first man to fill the position of guidance counselor for the middle grades (in Florence Gaudineer School, Springfield) two years ago, Duane Brown feels that a position of this type is necessary and useful to grade school students.

"The position," he says, "was newly-created last year, and it seems that the way some of the new governmental programs are encouraging it, that it's going to go a long way in middle grade schools."

"As a counselor," Brown continues, "I make myself available to students, teachers and parents—to help them so that the latter two groups can help the children in school."

Brown is in charge of testing, administration, analysis, "I interpret tests for children and parents. We use the California achievement tests and mental maturity and intelligence tests. And this year, we've instituted a differential aptitude test. We're using it with the eighth graders so that we can help them make more accurate decisions toward high school offerings. It's a better diagnostic tool. And the tests are very good, we think."

"I am also a member of the child study team of the special services department," says Brown. "Children are, in fact, referred to me by teachers. Mostly, I do individual counseling in connection with children who have emotional or behavior problems in class."

"Along the same lines," Brown continues, "it is frequently necessary to have parents in— in terms of helping them help their children a little better. And," he adds, "the parents are cooperative."

DUANE BROWN

BROWN SAYS THAT his duties are "primarily counseling and working with individual students."

"Generally speaking, the most prevalent problem is with the boy student who seems to be an under-achiever. His tests come out very well, but his scholastic achievement is less than what is expected of him. That is the major area. It seems that the problem is lack of maturity."

Brown, who was born in Bayonne, enrolled in Panzer College in 1957. The following year it merged with Montclair State, from which he was graduated in 1961 with a B.A. degree. He went back to Montclair State in 1963 and received his master's degree in 1966.

Brown, who spent four years in the U. S. Air Corps, was an airman first class. He became a physical education teacher in Erie Hill School, Union, where he stayed for five years.

Then he came to the Gaudineer School two years ago as a guidance counselor. He says he didn't really change too much from physical education teaching to guidance counseling, because the two are closely related.

"A guidance counselor has to be closely observant of student behavior. And physical education, by its nature, lends itself best to the observation of students—the informality. You see children in an altogether different way. And you have the ability to observe behavior of students in a very effective way."

Brown says he has been in recreation work for years. "I spent almost all of my life working with children one way or another. In Plainfield, I helped establish probably one of the first teen-age centers of the type around. This gathering place in the Plainfield Teen Center, from the whole gamut of recreational activities, from dancing to volleyball. And all the recreation was housed in one place, with a variety of activities to meet the needs of almost all of the students. It is for the community which wants to avail itself of this sort of thing. You don't see that too much."

"It is still in existence," says Brown.

"and it is probably playing a pretty important role in that city right now, I think."

Brown says that he has been involved in every sports activity possible. "I served as co-director of the Optimist Baseball League in Plainfield for two years."

Brown, who is married to the former Evelyn Eno of Dunellen, a secretary, lives with his wife and son, Duane, 12, in Martinsville.

"I DON'T ACT as a guidance counselor to my son, Duane," he grins, "because I guess I'm a little too close to the situation. However," muses Brown, "doctors don't operate on their own children, and dentists send their children to other dentists—I don't know if that is in the same category, but it's on the same order."

Brown says that his type of guidance counseling is "one of the latest contributions made to parents. It gives them their own objectives. I think that helps them a little bit."

"One obvious difference between counseling for the middle grades and high schoolers is that one doesn't get involved with educational college-type or vocational problems. I think the middle-grade counselor probably spends more time with individuals in emotional and behavior problems in high school. A student is more able to explain his problems, but in this particular grade level, he doesn't have that. One must get behind the apparent feelings and help them get to the main problem of what is on their mind. We probably spend more time on this phase because of the nature of the student here."

"The middle grader needs a more sociological and psychological background in his preparation."

Brown, who belongs to the "usual teachers' associations," also belongs to the Union County Personnel and Guidance Association and he has served as a consultant to several recreational organizations. "I have helped Bridgewater-Raritan Township programs, and once served on a panel at a teachers' convention in Atlantic City for the New Jersey Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation."

Among Brown's hobbies are bowling, reading... "and I build model ships. But I'm involved in recreational sports most of the time."

1968 UTILITIES OUTLOOK
Based on their strong, built-in potential for gradual and dependable long-term growth of earnings and dividends, utility shares have been perennial favorites for conservative investment objectives. Nevertheless, the increasing emphasis of institutional portfolio managers on more aggressive types of equity investments has resulted in a sharp decline in utility prices/earnings multiples.

Recently, the relative appeal of utilities has been improving, and there is reason to believe that economic developments will continue to make an improving case for utility stocks during 1968. As the same time, current stock market psychology suggests that investors should be relatively aggressive in their utility investments, emphasizing: 1) the electric utilities with potential for the most rapid long-term growth in earnings, 2) the independent telephone companies, 3) the gas companies which are rapidly and successfully diversifying into related non-utility fields, and 4) smaller and relatively undeveloped utility operations.

The current appeal of utilities is based largely on their depressed price levels where they lagged not only after the promise of eventual recovery, but very limited down-side risks and attractive dividend yields as well. In addition, other considerations may have begun to improve the market environment for the group.

Earnings gains of utility companies should make substantially more favorable comparisons with the broad spectrum of industrial stocks over the near few years than was true during the 1962-65 period. Although utilities did very well at that time, they still lagged behind the extraordinarily rapid earnings growth of non-utility companies.

WITH THEIR CONTINUED ability to effect operating economies and their access to raw materials, utilities are in a stronger position to weather inflationary pressures than in many other groups. Of course, this is not invariably true, but in making my selections, I have given consideration to operating cost trends—regulatory climate as related to the individual companies.

Although long-term interest rates could remain at high levels for some time, it appears likely that most of the upward movement from the 1964-65 period has now been completed. Although utility stock prices are highly sensitive to interest rate movements, they can move independently when interest rates are not moving sharply in one direction or another.

Utility stock prices have reacted negatively to recent expansionary fiscal and monetary policies. It therefore seems logical that if these policies become more restrictive, utility stocks will react positively. Some recent strength in the electric-utility group coincides with devaluation of the British pound—a development which many investors believe will result in more restrictive fiscal and monetary policies.

from HISTORY'S SCRAPBOOK

President F. D. Roosevelt enunciated the Four Freedoms, Jan. 6, 1941.

The first Soviet ambassador arrived in the U.S. Jan. 7, 1934. The first U.S. bank opened in Philadelphia, Jan. 7, 1782.

DESPITE THE PRICE advance in the institutional growth favorites, I would continue to favor them for growth-oriented accounts. This is based on their superior long-range earnings outlook as well as my belief that market psychology will continue to favor them over income stocks. Recent prices of these issues have been consolidating—and I believe they are currently in an attractive buying range for long-term investment. This suggests aggressive buying on weakness from present price levels.

Where the investor is interested primarily in a high dividend return, I would again emphasize issues which are capable of commanding relatively strong support from institutional investors, even though this may mean giving up some current yield. This approach provides the investor with the opportunity to combine a relatively high yield with good potential for eventual price recovery.

Colby Club selects officers; Donald Schwerdt president

Members of the Colby Club of the James Caldwell School, Springfield, met in the school auditorium last Friday afternoon to elect officers. Donald Schwerdt was elected president, Teddy Johnson, vice-president; Scott Searles, treasurer, and Gregory Lies, secretary.

The Colby Club was formed last year by a group of third, fourth, and fifth grade pupils in preparation for a visit to the school of C. B. Colby, author of more than 80 books for young people. Colby was so interested in the affection he spent with the club that he promised a return visit in 1968 if the Colby Club were still in existence.

During the first part of this school year, seven pupils from Miss Finnerty's fifth grade class met to plan organization of this year's club. Laura Keefe, Gail Lawrence, Kathy Schaffrey, Cal Ackerman, Jimmy Pavona, Gary Werner and John Marshall decided that the aims and rules of the club should be similar to those maintained last year.

Each club member has agreed to read at least one library book each week and to keep a written record of all books read. Last year's club members concentrated almost entirely on Colby books. This year many of the Colby books will be read and discussed at club meetings, but books of other authors will also be included.

Membership in the Colby Club this year will be limited to pupils from the fourth and fifth grades. Those attending the meeting Friday were Gregory Lies, John Smith, Jerry Hovey, Teddy Johnson, Arthur Caprio, Donald Schwerdt, Cal Ackerman, John Marshall, Gary Werner, Janice Kroeger, Karen Leite, Debbie Dierr, Carol Murphy, Debbie Schwerdt, David

Women's club, four classes added to Summit Y program

A new club for career women and four new classes have been added to the roster of the Summit YWCA's winter-spring program of classes, clubs, Y-Tech and Junior High School girls' activities. Adult classes, both new offerings and continuing ones, require advance registration of one week before the beginning class, since there is a limited enrollment in all classes. Many evening activities are open to both men and women, and baby-sitting for children 18 months and over is available for daytime programs. Most classes will begin in late January or early February.

The new club, called "Career Girl Drop-In," will provide conversation, coffee and cakes, companionship and programs about subjects that relate to being a career girl today. The group will start on a Wednesday evening in February.

Class offerings added this season include a new English class for English-speaking men and women who would like to improve their basic skills in reading faster and better. It will meet on Wednesday evenings. Furniture refinishing, in which beginners will learn to strip, repair and refinish small pieces, is a new daytime offering. Pattern-making, designed for the "home sewer" who has fitting problems, will offer instruction in making a custom-fitted basic muslin pattern. Also for the home sewer is a class called "Sew and Save," in which instruction will be given in cutting, fitting and finishing children's clothes.

Other class offerings in the homemaking skills include intermediate sewing, tailoring and lampshades. The intermediate class in sewing is for the student who knows basic sewing. Proper pattern, fabric selection and fitting will be emphasized. An underlined dress will be made during the 10-lesson course. For the more experienced sewer, the tailoring class will reveal professional methods of custom tailoring. A wool suit or coat will be made, using professional methods. Lampshades will offer step-by-step instruction in the construction of cut-out, parchment-type lampshades. Scalloping and painting tips will be given.

Linguists, or those who would like to become fluent in another tongue, will find four French classes and three in Spanish being offered. Graded classes in English for non-English-speaking men and women are continuing from the first semester on Wednesday evenings. A second semester of 15 lessons will begin on Jan. 24. Intensive daytime classes for intermediates and advanced students are now open for registration. Instruction in understanding and speaking English as well as in reading and writing will be given.

The beginner artist or the experienced one will have a number of offerings in the art field. Professional artist Mrs. Peter H. Hofer will teach an evening class for the experienced or inexperienced in varied media, such as pastels, charcoal, water color and oils. Daytime offerings include charcoal and pastels, to be taught by professional artist Mrs. Philip A. Kaplan; oil painting, also instructed by Mrs. Kaplan; and water color, taught by Mrs. G.M. Randal, teacher and artist.

Site discovered of ancient culture

SITE DISCOVERED

Remains of a prehistoric culture, dating back to the sixth or even seventh millennium B.C., have been discovered in Yugoslavia, near the Iron Gate, where the Danube is forced through a narrow defile. Excavations have been in progress for some time in this area, which will eventually be flooded by the waters of a vast dam at present under construction.

On a site covering some 1,500 square yards near the village of Lepenski Vir, Yugoslav archaeologists have unearthed remains of 41 houses, several burial chambers and more than 30 stone carvings measuring up to two feet tall. The quality of these finds is superior to anything else of this date so far discovered in Europe, and can match that of the early cultures of the Near East with which they are contemporary.

Last year we spent $72 million to be sure Susan Young in Hanover has enough electricity when she has a family of her own.

This year we'll put another $74 million on top of that.

The area we serve keeps growing. It's our job to keep growing ahead — to be sure you always have all the low-cost electricity you need, the instant you need it.

The job takes planning. Years-ahead planning. And it takes money. Great amounts of money.

This year alone we'll be spending $74 million on new generating facilities to produce electricity, and on new distribution and transmission facilities to get it to where it'll be needed in the years ahead.

Of one thing young Susan can be sure. We'll be ready before she needs us. We wouldn't have it any other way.

Backup computer added at bank's Linden center

W. Emlen Roosevelt, president of the National State Bank, this week announced that an additional NCR 315 computer, set to begin functioning Monday, has been installed at the bank's computer center in Linden.

The $350,000 acquisition was purchased as backup equipment "to give our customers better service," Roosevelt said. Unesco Gift Coupons fighting hunger in India

Unesco Gift Coupons worth $70,000, the largest single donation ever made under the Gift Coupon Program, have been given to help fight hunger in India by the Unesco Centrum Nederland. The contribution is part of a total of $490,000 raised by the Netherlands Food for India Foundation to provide community receiving sets for the Unesco and FAO-aided Radio Rural Forums. The Foundation has already sent shipments of fertilizer worth $420,000 to India. The Indian Government will sell this fertilizer to farmers and use the resulting rupees to buy locally made radio receivers which it will distribute free to the villages. But some components for the sets have to be purchased abroad - and this is what the Unesco Gift Coupons, which are in convertible currency, will be used to pay for. The $70,000 will buy parts for more than 25,000 receivers and so help to bring the broadcasts to some half million villagers. The Radio Rural Forums are an important part of India's Fourth Plan strategy to increase agricultural production by promoting high-yield crop varieties in selected areas.

The Unesco Centrum was founded by the Netherlands Commission for Unesco to stimulate interest and support for Unesco activities throughout the country.

645 is the number of officers and staff members (men and women) who spend an important part of their lives working for the National State Bank in the communities we serve throughout Union County. When compared with the large figures appearing in our statement, it is small... almost tiny. But its importance cannot be overestimated for these are the people who take care of the banking needs of some other very important people... our customers. These are the human beings who cheerfully perform the "thousand and one" day-to-day tasks that enable our bank to meet the financial requirements of Union County industries, businessmen and families.

We salute them!

And when you read the figures above, remember... it's people who make a bank's operations efficient—and profitable.

Wesper named to direct college building program

John R. Wesper has been transferred from the State Department of Higher Education in Trenton to Newark State College, Union, where he will take charge of the building expansion program, according to an announcement by President Eugene G. Wilkins.

His appointment by Chancellor of Higher Education Ralph A. Dunton to the newly established position of co-ordinator of construction and utilization at Newark State will become effective on a full-time basis Monday. He has served the college on a part-time basis since Nov. 1, dividing his time between the college and the chancellor's office.

Wesper held the position of assistant co-ordinator of college construction for the State Department of Education from 1961 until his transfer to the chancellor's office upon the formation of the State Department of Higher Education.

At Newark State he is responsible for developing for the rapidly-expanding college and over-all building plan that will provide greater advantage for existing programs, make room for a steadily-increasing enrollment and facilitate the growth of the college from a primarily teacher-training institute to a multi-disciplinary college, Dr. Wilkins reported.

In announcing the appointment, Dr. Wilkins said, "Mr. Wesper's appointment will enable the college to develop a plan of program and plant projection for the next 10 years. His transfer from the college construction program at Trenton to Newark State brings to the college a wealth of background and experience. His work should be of invaluable aid, not only in long-term planning, but also in following through the day-to-day program of plant utilization."

BEFORE JOINING THE Office of Colleges Construction, Wesper served the State Department of Education from 1959 to 1961 as research assistant under Dr. David Winans, director of research, and in 1958 as auditor. Prior to this he worked as a group leader for All-State Design and Development Company, Trenton, and as an engineer for I.T.E. Thursday, January 11, 1968 Practical nursing school approved

Saint Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston, announced that approval for a School of Practical Nursing at the Medical Center has been received from the New Jersey State Board of Nursing. The School of Practical Nursing will admit both female and male students.

Mrs. Ruth Greenspan, associate director of Nursing Education, who has administrative responsibility for the School of Practical Nursing, said, "A hospital based school offers a much broader education in practical nursing because the student is receiving not only theory in nursing care but is actively involved in developing nursing skills in direct patient care."

The practical nursing course will be open to qualified high school graduates, ages 17 to 55, with the first class beginning this September.

Interviews for applicants may be arranged immediately, she said. More information regarding applications can be obtained by writing to the Saint Barnabas Medical Center of Practical Nursing, Old Short Hills Road, Livingston, 07039 or by telephone 992-5500, ext. 220.

Stan Bell lands 85-lb. tarpon in fight from bridge

Stanley Bell of 24 Archbridge Lane, Springfield, will be the first to say that one of the most difficult feats in tarpon fishing is to land it from a bridge.

Bell, who operates Ray Bell & Associates, Realtors, in Union, battled a tarpon from a bridge in the Florida Keys for an hour and 15 minutes recently.

During his battle with the 85-pound tarpon, Bell said he became sort of a tourist attraction. A sightseeing bus stopped and the passengers watched the struggle. Bell said another dozen cars stopped along the Overseas Highway and watched.

Bell said he succeeded in keeping it clear of the bridge piling until it fell behind and then led it off the bridge and landed the tarpon on the adjoining shoreline a quarter-mile away.

The tarpon, nearly six feet long, is now at the taxidermist and will soon join several other trophy fish in his main office at 1921 Morris Ave., Union.

FOR THE BIRDS

By FARRIS SWACKHAMER,
professor, Union Junior College

Stretching from the Yugoslav border to the Black Sea, lie the Balkan Mountains. Here Boreas, god of the north wind, was thought to live in a cave high on Mount Haemus. When he shook his wings, hair and beard, snow fell to the ground. Today we know he doesn't live in the temperate climate of Thrace but, rather, near the North Pole. When he puffs his cheeks, blowing the snowflakes from his beard, he sends the master storm of winter our way.

Generally it comes in January. "If the Old Man of the North had but sent us his couriers and errand boys before, the old graybeard appeared himself at our doors on this occasion," writes John Burroughs. Sometimes with the snow, he sends flocks of his feathered subjects. These are the invasion species, the boreal birds, that visit during occasional winters when Arctic food supplies are scarce.

In 1954, boreal chickadees were first tallied in Maryland—although most years they don't venture far south of northern New England. If you spot unusually large numbers of black-capped chickadees at your feeder this winter, look for their boreal cousins about a month later. Sporting brown derbies to go with their brown coats and black bibs, they feed with their more familiar relatives.

Among the feathered climbers, the red-breasted nuthatch is the "chubby little boy" among his white-breasted elders. He appears on a more or less every-other-year schedule. In flocks, red-breasts sound like a band of "merry penny-trumpeters," their call more nasal than that of their more familiar cousins.

If you spot a robin-sized rosy-redfinch with two white wing bars throwing a white spray of snow over himself as another bird would throw water, you have a rare pine grosbeak in your yard. He nests in the northern coniferous forests of Scandinavia, Russia and Siberia as well as in the spruce forests of Canada. An accomplished ventriloquist, he frequently lures your attention to the wrong perch.

COMMON REDBILLS USUALLY associate with goldfinches during their short winter visit. Only occasionally do they come to our feeders. Gray-brown streaked little fellows with bright red forehead caps and black chins, they breed up to the edge of the trackless Arctic tundra. Redbills arrive with the snow and, through some prescience of the coming of spring, go north before we've shed our mufflers and ear-warmers.

White-throated crossbills are quite tame and prefer a touch of salt on their food. Crossbills' beaks are uniquely designed for wrenching scales from cones, after which the bird picks out the tasty seed with his tongue. He also uses crossed bills as an aid in climbing and is sometimes seen to hang by it like a parrot.

No other songbird shows as much white as the snow bunting nor nests any further north. While walking along ocean beaches, sand dunes or open fields in winter, you may be taken unaware by an apparent flock of giant snowflakes wheeling in unison through the air. Beaches are the snowbirds' favorite habitat even above the Arctic Circle for there is where they find most of their food and a helping of sand to aid digestion.

If you spot a stranger in your backyard this winter, it may be one of those friendly boreal visitors. A variety of seed, including sunflower, may prolong their typically short visit.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
As a man, I don't care too much about writing to a woman for advice, but I thought you being a woman, you might have the proper insight on my wife.

The problem is my wife. One of us is crazy so I want you to tell me which one is. Understand, I'm not trying to get rid of her, I'm just trying to understand her. She likes people but dislikes them in some ways. I don't care for many people, especially those who are afraid. Though I don't go to church often, my wife goes every Sunday. The thing that bothers me the most is that she is always trying to do something. Like the time she tried her hand at painting. She was terrible. Then another time she wanted to work in a hospital. Oh, she made out fine, but then she said she wanted to do something else. Now she's on a writing binge.

I must give her credit, though, as she doesn't smoke, drink or run around and she has done a wonderful job with our 3 children. But why can't she be like other women who sleep till 12 and then lie around all day? I don't understand my wife at all.

If you think my wife needs help, please publish the place where I should take her.

Dear Amy:
I would like to hear from other men to whom this has happened.

I Am Sunk

Dear Sunk:
There is nothing wrong with your wife, sir. That's rewarding hobby wouldn't cure, you should feel extremely proud that she is not lazy and tries her hand at many things. You, on the other hand, lack understanding and the ability to see that she obviously needs the stimulation of being absorbed in doing something besides housework.

I'm sorry for you, and I would like to know where you get the notion that other women sleep till noon and "lie around all day". The women I know have more important things to do with their time.

Dear Amy:
My boyfriend has a car and a driver's license. He is 17 years old, has his parents won't let him have the car to go anywhere except to work unless they are with him. I just get to see him once every six weeks, and then the whole family is with him.

What should I do?

A 15 Year Old Girl

Dear Girl:
Enjoy the ride!

Dear Amy:
For some time now when my phone rings and I answer it, no one is on the other end, and honestly, I'm sick and tired of it. There must be an adult somewhere in my vicinity who is sick in the head.

This happens mostly during the day or late in the evening. At first I thought it was some child's prank, but at this point, I know better. Children are either in school or in bed at these hours.

The telephone company cannot help me. We do not want an unlisted number for a good reason, is there some other way I could stop these very annoying disturbances?

High Pressure

Dear High:
Yes, you can request the telephone company to give you a new number.

Dear Amy:
I'm 11 years of age. I love a boy so much and want to write and tell him so. But every time I do, my parents tear my letters up. What is your opinion? Should I do as they wish or do you think they should let me write to him?

A Girl in Love

Dear Girl:
Young ladies shouldn't send love letters if they want to hold a boy's friendship. Nothing will scare a boy away faster than much words of love. Listen to your parents. They are saving you from future embarrassment. Girls your age write their thoughts in a diary. Later on it becomes good reading...for laughs.

Address all letters to:

30 high schoolers will be selected for research program

Newark College of Engineering will soon be starting another talent hunt among outstanding high school students of New Jersey, looking for 30 young men and women who would like to learn the ins-and-outs of research this summer.

Announcement of the forthcoming summer training program came from NCE's affiliated research organization, the Foundation for the Advancement of Graduate Study in Engineering, which has received a $10,660 grant from the National Science Foundation to finance the special program.

At NCE the high school research training program will be directed by Dr. Avner Shilman of the College's department of chemical engineering and chemistry.

The object of the program is to acquaint young people with the working aspects of research and to broaden their understanding of engineering and science. It has been conducted at NCE for nearly ten years. As part of the eight-week program the selected high school participants will engage in their own research, assist NCE faculty research in special projects and become familiar with techniques used in university and industrial research.

Usually NCE has between 400 and 500 applicants for the 30 summer openings. It offers in the special program. Participants must be highly recommended by their high-school science teachers and principals; they receive a travel allowance during the eight-week session.

Formal announcements will soon be circulated to high schools throughout New Jersey. Qualified students will be able to submit applications late in the Spring.

State accepts plan for reorganization of National Guard

Major-General James F. Cantwell, chief of staff, New Jersey Department of Defense, announced this week acceptance of the troop basis offered by the Department of the Army for the reorganization of the National Guard.

The proposed reorganization of the Guard will become effective in New Jersey on Feb. 1. The change-over is programmed to insure minimum retraining and transfer of personnel, Gen. Cantwell said.

In revealing the list of units allotted to New Jersey, Gen. Cantwell said the state will retain the 50th Armored Division, less two brigades. One of the brigades has been allotted to New York, the other to Vermont, as replacements for deactivated units lost by those States.

The 50th Armored Division headquarters will remain in East Orange and the brigade headquarters will be located in Woodbridge, with subordinate units located in Vineland, Bridgeton, Salem, Pitman, Dover, Newton, Franklin, Hackettstown, Red Bank and Woodbury, Jersey City, Newark, Camden, Mount Holly and Burlington.

Other units of the Division Base consisting of the Artillery and Support Command elements will be located at Lawrenceville, Morristown, Coopers Plains, Flemington, Elizabethtown, Long Branch, Freeland, Bordentown, and Paterson, Teaneck, Westfield, Plainfield, Orange and East Orange.

GEN. CANTWELL said "the new troop allotment has decreased the Guard's strength by less than four percent. However, no problem is anticipated in the area of personnel since the plan provides a three-year period to absorb any excess strength. Normal attrition in the Guard should accommodate this volume in less than one year."

Under the reorganization plan, New Jersey

Births, deaths decline in New Jersey as migration helps push population up

Births and deaths fell in New Jersey during 1967, the New Jersey State Department of Health said in its annual report this week.

The department estimates there will be 117,641 births in 1967 compared with 130,116 in 1966, a two percent decline. This is the fourth consecutive year in which a decline will be registered. The birth rate of 16.6 per 100,000 population was the lowest in 16 years, the department said.

With the latest year-end figures still not compiled, the department estimates there will be 64,900 deaths in 1967 compared with 65,656 in 1966. The rate will approximate 2.2 per 1,000 population. The excess of births over deaths will be in the neighborhood of 52,750 according to estimates.

While births and deaths declined, the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development estimated that New Jersey's population increased 118,750 between July 1, 1966 and July 1, 1967.

"It is clear that the excess of births over deaths is not alone responsible for the increase in population. The answer appears to lie, in part, in migration into the state," the Department added.

The RANK ORDER of the nine leading causes of death remained unchanged in 1967. The departments said at least four of the leading causes of death may be associated in some way with dietary habits—diseases of the circulatory system, strokes, diabetes and cirrhosis of the liver.

The three big killers—heart disease, cancer and strokes—were responsible for 75 percent of all deaths, the state health officials said. Diseases of the circulatory system were the number one killer.

Breaking down causes of death during the year, figures showed: Diseases of the circulatory system, 30,955; heart disease, 28,483; cancer, 12,007; strokes, 5,905; all accidents, 2,728; diseases of early infancy, including congenital malformations, 1,949; diabetes mellitus, 1,390; cirrhosis of liver, 1,149; and suicide, 501.

Other significant statistics compiled during the year included:

*Not one case of polio was reported to the Department for the second consecutive year.

*Cases of measles are declining as immunization is pushed.

*There will have been 48,670 marriages in 1967 compared with 46,366 in 1966.

*A total of 117 hospitals, 56 nursing homes, 61 homes for the aged and five medical institutions were certified in 1967.

Aliens reminded to file addresses

The United States Immigration and Naturalization Service reminded all aliens in New Jersey this week that only a little over two weeks remain in which non-citizens must file their annual address reports as required by law.

Dominick F. Rinaldi, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Newark, pointed out that address report forms are available at all post offices for the convenience of non-citizens required to report their address.

Rinaldi urged all aliens to report their address before the end of January, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious penalties.

Miss Owens gains 150 average mark in bowling for girls

The Strikers, paced by the 1968 bowling sensation, Barbara Owens, continue to lead the girls' Tuesday Afternoon Bowling League. After five weeks of competition, the STRIKERS have built up a three-game lead over their closest rivals.

Miss Owens continues to build on her average-as-the-season progresses. Barbara moved her season average to the 150 mark with another top performance last week. The league is sponsored by the Recreation Department, and the girls bowl at the Springfield Bowl on Center street.

Last week the Strikers split a pair of games with the Dancers, the league's second-place team. Once again-it was Miss Owens doing a good portion of the scoring for both teams. Barbara had a 307 series for the two-game match, and rolled a second game of 175 to give her team the split. Ann Marie Calmus and Susan Murphy also rolled well for the league leaders. Ann Marie posted a 155 two-game total, while Sue topped 170 pins in the match. Darlene Panckert and Cindy Zahn were the scoring leaders for the Dancers. Darlene rolled a 167 series, while Cindy's two-game total was 169.

The Charms and The Stars also split a pair of games in another match last week. Carol Roessner of the Stars was the highest scoring bowler in the match. Carol led both teams with a 246 total. Carol put together games of 105 and 141. Peggy Graessle also rolled well for the Stars with a 164 two-game total. Diane Lunzer and Janice LaMotta were the high scorers on the Charms team. Diane rolled a 143 total for the two games, while Janice was a few pins away with a 140 two-game total.

Miss Owens has established a huge lead in the individual average contest. Barbara is rolling at a 150 pace to be the highest bowler in all the Recreation Department youth leagues. Carol Roessner, in her first season of bowling, has established herself as a top-notch bowler. Carol is in second place with a 108 average. Darlene Panckert is third with an 89 average. Ann Marie Calmus and Sue Murphy are tied for fourth with season averages of 84. The remaining five girls in the top ten are: Joann McCrady, 82; Robin Caulfield, 77; Peggy Graessle, 77; Debbie Grossman, 77; and Nina Kahn, 75.

State Basketball League begins play; high-scoring Texas swamps California

Last Saturday was the start of the newly revised State League. The State League is a part of the Recreation Department's youth basketball program. It is the intermediate stage of basketball development within the program. The league is designed for boys of the 11 and 12-year-old age group. The league was formerly composed of 10 teams within one circuit. This season the league has been expanded to 12 teams with two divisions. The boys meet for play each Saturday afternoon at the Florence Gaudineer School. Both gyms at the school are utilized for league play.

Action in the State League's Western Division saw Texas, Arizona and Oklahoma move away to opening game victories. Texas, in the curtain-raiser, left those in attendance gasping as it played in mid-season form while topping California, 40 to 17. Texas completely dominated the game, as the score would indicate. The winners became stronger as the game progressed, receiving a balanced scoring attack from both their regulars and reserves. Marlon Dennis of Texas paced the attack with 15 points. Jeff Greenberg hit for eight points.

Bobby Wallick scored six points, and Roy Greenberg netted five points in the Texas heavy attack. Bob Day was high for California with 10 points, while Neil Anderson had five points for the Californians.

Arizona nipped Utah in an overtime battle last Saturday. Arizona rallied from six points down in the final period to knot the score at the end of regulation time, and then proceeded to win the game in overtime on a foul shot by Peter Gelwarg and a bucket by Glenn Cooper. Arizona's three-point overtime period bested Utah's two-point effort on a bucket by Mark Tasher. Utah's Tasher was also the game's high-point man with 13. Tasher hit six times from the floor and added a free throw. Bruce Cohen and Peter Gelwarg were the leaders in the Arizona attack. Cohen tallied eight points and Gelwarg hit for six points. Both boys were particularly effective in the final period when Arizona rallied to tie the game.

Oklahoma bested Wyoming in the final Western Division contest of the day. The final score was 24 to 15. A pair of rookie performers led with 10 points each. Bruce Hoffman, coming from the Sandmeier Small-Fry League, tallied nine points to lead the squad. Billy Palazzi, from the Caldwell League, complemented Bruce very well and knocked in seven points. Another rookie, Bobby Lee, hit three early buckets for the Okies to contribute to the victory. Barry Gers with five points led Wyoming. Dick Eisenberg and Rick Silverstein also played well for the Wyoming team, as each boy hit for four points.

ACTION IN the State League's Eastern Division began in the Gaudineer School's boys' gym last Saturday. Opening games saw Kansas, Indiana and Iowa gain victories.

Kansas won the initial contest with a very impressive performance against Florida. The final count was Kansas, 28 - Florida, 7. Sam Kaplan of Kansas completely dominated the scoring in this game, as he hit for 15 points on seven field goals and a free throw. Mickey Byrd, with four goals for eight points, played very well in the Kansas victory. Alan Calist with a pair of final period goals helped Kansas increase the count. Dave Pacifico and Stu Garawitz split the scoring for Florida. Dave hit four points, and Stu was good for three.

In the middle contest Iowa tripped North Carolina by a 28 to 16 score. Key Merse, Art Freeman, and John Steger led the winners with strong performances. Kenny hit for nine points, while Art and Johnny scored eight points each. North Carolina received a balanced attack, as three boys led in scoring with four points each. Boys hitting the cords twice for the North Carolina team were Bobby Hydock, Kenny Conte and Dino DiCocco. Wayne Rutz added three points for North Carolina.

Another Eastern Division contest last week saw Indiana get off stringing with a 13 to 9 victory over West Virginia. This was a hard-earned victory for Indiana, as the battle was closer than the score indicates. Johnny Belliveau's five points led the way for Indiana and were high for the game. Joe Silverman added a pair of buckets for Indiana. Billy Humbley, with four points, led the way for West Virginia, while Brian Mullen and Frank Zarelli each hit a bucket from the floor for Indiana.

Western Division games next Saturday will feature Utah vs. Wyoming at 1:30 p.m., Arizona vs. Texas at 2:30 and California vs. Oklahoma at 3:30. The Eastern Division will have North Carolina vs. West Virginia at 1:30, Iowa vs. Florida at 2:30 and Kansas vs. Indiana at 3:30.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

ONE WORD

One word provides the answer to the riddle of a seething world. It is a simple word, but it implies many things.

Take this word and meet the challenges of difficulty with your neighbor. Take this word and give it to those who have known a history of hatred. Make this word a part of all that it implies—the quest of a man's relations with his neighbor, of a nation's relationship with contemporaries, and the answer to any dilemma emerges crystal clear.

The word is charity. If there is charity in your heart, there is no room for selfishness. Charity will not permit hatred, nor will charity tolerate false motives. Charity demands honesty—honesty with self, and with others. It is contingent upon recognition of the rights and privileges of others.

Admissions officer for Union College to speak at Dayton

George P. Lynes, director of admissions of Union College, Cranford, will visit Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, on Tuesday at 11 a.m. to meet with junior and senior boys who might be interested in attending the "two-year" college of the academic disciplines.

Lynes will outline Union College's educational programs, admissions requirements and procedures, and financial aid programs.

Union College, which is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, offers majors in liberal arts, engineering, science, and business administration, in both the day and evening sessions. The Cranford college is authorized by the State Board of Higher Education to award the associate in arts degree.

Expanded science and engineering programs will be offered with the opening of a new $1 million Science Building and the William Miller Sperry Observatory.

Union College has an enrollment of 1,500 in the day and evening sessions, including a nursing program conducted in cooperation with the Schools of Nursing of Elizabeth and Perth Amboy General Hospitals, Newark Beth-Israel Hospital and Somerset Hospital, Somerville.

A PAIR OF WINNERS—Karen Cohen, 13-year-old Springfield figure skater, and her partner, George McGill, are recent winners of both the U.S. Eastern and the North Atlantic novice pairs championships. Karen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cohen, is an eighth grader at the Florence Gaudineer School. She spends at least 12 hours per week on ice, with the 1972 Olympics as her long-range goal.

Bell gets a line in on record number of annoyance callers during 1967

A marked increase in the number of annoyance callers who were apprehended last year, was reported this week by New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

The phone company said that in cooperation with police agencies through the state, using electronic techniques to pinpoint the sources of annoyance calls without monitoring conversations, identified 628 annoyance call suspects, compared with 442 in 1966.

New Jersey Bell's $2.2 million communications center in New Brunswick topped the list of major construction projects begun by the company in its Raritan division during 1967. The division, covering a 518 square mile area that includes all or sections of Middlesex, Union, and Somerset counties, is part of the company's metropolitan area, largest in population of New Jersey's four operating areas.

Statewide, the company spent $165 million on construction last year, bringing its total plant investment to nearly $2 billion.

The six-story communications center in New Brunswick, scheduled for completion in 1969, will house equipment to handle an estimated 250,000 long distance calls a day.

Projects completed in the Raritan division under the company's 1967 construction program include the new Brownstown central office in Madison Township; an information center in Elizabeth; an employment center in Elizabeth; an employment center in New Brunswick; extensive additions to central offices in Perth Amboy, Rahway, Somerville, Edison, Murray Hill, Roselle, Unionville, and South River; and the installation of thousands of miles of wire in cable to interconnect central offices and to link customers with local switching centers.

Kenneth Loolain, vice president and general manager of New Jersey Bell's metropolitan area, said the new facilities were needed to keep pace with telephone growth and increases in the number of local and long distance calls.

State troopers on UC campus

Three members of the New Jersey State Police including a Kentworth resident, have been on the Union College campus since September, but their presence has nothing to do with a narcotics investigation or any other professorial.

They are enrolled in a special program which gives them up to 12 academic credits for their work at the State Police Academy. The program was developed by the Office of Two-Year and Community Colleges of the State Department of Higher Education, the Division of State Police of the Department of Law and Public Safety, and the state's two-year colleges.

In addition to receiving credit for work done at the State Police Academy, the state troopers qualify for scholarship aid.

Among those attending Union College under the program is William C. Black of Kent-

New transmission available on VW

Volkswagen has announced the availability of a new transmission for its "beetle" passenger car and Karmann Ghia which eliminates the clutch pedal and makes shifting virtually automatic.

Known as an "Automatic Stick Shift," the three-speed torque converter transmission, an optional extra with a suggested list price of $135—eliminates the need to change gears in traffic yet allows shifting for those who want it, said Peter T. Liebman, president of Douglas Motors Corp., authorized VW dealership at 430 Morris avenue, Summit.

The shift lever remains on the floor and the pattern encompasses three speeds, not only two gears—"Drive 1" and "Drive 2"—are needed for normal driving. The third speed is found in a "Low" range gear and is designed for steep hills and hard pulls with full loads. Shifting is fully automatic as there is no "clutch" pedal to depress, Liebman noted.

COPO plans installation

The Union County Chapter of the Catholic One-Parent Organization, known as COPO, will hold installation of new officers at its meeting next Wednesday at The Westwood Lounge, 438 North Ave., Garwood.

The retiring president, Mrs. Ruth Mangan of Roselle, announced that there will be music and dancing after the business meeting and the usual social evening.

All widows and widowers are eligible to join this group, which is affiliated with the Family Life Apostolate in Newark.

Maurice Doylo of Roselle Park will take office at this January meeting, along with Joe O'Neill of Elizabeth as treasurer, Mrs. Fran Rapp of Rahway as secretary, and John Paulik of Union and Mrs. Anita Loring of Perth Amboy as vice presidents.

Anyone interested in attending may arrive at the Westwood Lounge Wednesday at approximately 8:30 p.m.

Open houses slated at UC

Another in a series of open houses for high school juniors and seniors and their parents will be held Saturday, Jan. 20, from 10 a.m. to noon at Union College, Cranford, it was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean.

Dr. Iversen said that two previous Saturday open houses in November and December were so well attended another has been scheduled for January 20.

In addition, open houses will be held each Thursday in January and February from 2 to 4 p.m. to give high school students and their parents an opportunity to visit the Union College campus.

Dr. Iversen said the open houses are designed to provide an opportunity for high school students and their parents to obtain information on educational programs, admissions requirements and procedures, and financial aid. Members of the admissions, counseling and financial aid staffs will be on hand to greet visitors and to provide information about college admissions and financial aid, Dr. Iversen explained.

Wrestlers facing meet with Hillside

By MYRON MEISEL
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School wrestling team will have two home meets in the coming week, with Hillside High School tomorrow evening and with Thomas Jefferson High School of Elizabeth on Wednesday afternoon. The Bulldog grapplers now have an 0-2 record after dropping their first two matches to Summit High School, 45-8, and to David Brearley Regional High School of Kenilworth, 27-16. The junior varsity team, however, recorded two victories against the same opponents, 29-19 and 34-16, respectively.

Junior Dave Pierson, wrestling at 115, led the varsity with two victories, including a pin against his Kenilworth opponent, Senior Gary Vosburgh. Pierson for the only Dayton scoring against Summit, pinning his opponent at 1:30. Against Kenilworth, Barry Snyder at 130 and Robert Moskowitz at heavyweight won by decision, and Bob Gromek at 150 pounds won by forfeit to provide the other Bulldog points.

In a year of rebuilding, Dayton is counting on a strong JV showing to brighten the outlook for future years. So far, the junior varsity has done very well, particularly in the lower weights. Two freshmen, Gary Branning and Scott Harris at 99 and 106, respectively, have won both their bouts, with Harris pinning each time.

Junior Joe Frieri at 115, out for the second year, and sophomore Bob Lyons at 123, have also won twice. At 130 Sal Mucacio, also a sophomore, lost at Summit but pinned his man at Kenilworth, while Bruce Schwartz won at Summit but lost his Kenilworth bout.

Two strong heavyweights have emerged on the JV squad. Dennis Marino pinned his man at Kenilworth in 0:25, and Gary Grahame has won two bouts at 178. Both are freshmen.

Dayton five plays at Scotch Plains

By MYRON MEISEL
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team will travel to Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School tomorrow night and will entertain Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School of Clark on Tuesday afternoon. The Bulldogs lost two important games last week by small margins, to Hillside High School, 66-65, in overtime, and to Westfield High School, 48-44. The team now has a 4-4 record over-all and a 3-3 mark in the Watchung Conference.

Dayton was beating Hillside handily throughout the contest, leading by 10, 30-20 at the half and extending that lead to 48-35 by the end of the third quarter. Richie Campbell led the Bulldog scoring with 18, followed by Gary Kutz's 15, Tony Gromek's 12 and Ralph Losanno's 10. Dave Margulies scored eight and contributed a strong defensive game.

Hillside came back strongly in the fourth quarter, however, tying the game at the buzzer. Mike Drew of the Comets, who tallied 28 for the contest, sank two foul shots in the final seconds of the overtime period to defeat Dayton by one point.

Westfield tried to stall Dayton's fast break attack and succeeded just enough to take the contest. The small Blue Devil back-court man, Jim Reddy, led the stalling strategy. In the first quarter, Dayton fought the stall and its accompanying press strongly and scoring was neck-and-neck, with Westfield up, 14-12, at the quarter. Westfield opened up strongly in the second quarter to soar ahead by nine, 31-22, at the half. Despite a strong Dayton comeback late in the game, the Blue Devils maintained their lead.

The Westfield tactic kept both teams scoreless for the first four minutes of the second half, and each team scored only four points for the third quarter.

Faced with a well-executed freeze again in the final quarter, the whole Dayton team played its best catch-up ball so far this season, three times coming within four points of Westfield, but the few fouls that Dayton incurred in trying to steal the ball gave Westfield the few extra points it needed to win. The few crucial Dayton mistakes may have changed the outcome, but they were largely due to the tremendous pressure and were balanced by some fine defensive plays at other points in the quarter.

Scotch Plains is currently in first place in the Watchung Conference with a 6-1 record, having beaten Westfield and splitting with Hillside. The Raiders won the title last season, and four of their starters have returned. They are the team to beat, and Dayton will need an effort equal to its full potential to win.

Dayton defeated Clark in the opening game of the season, 73-61, and should do even better this time.

BIG MAN -- Tony Gromek, at 6-5, is the tallest player and a key rebounder for the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team.

Wrestling clinics to begin Monday

The Springfield Recreation Department will sponsor a series of wrestling clinics starting Monday for all township boys in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

Barry Rind of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School coaching staff will be instructor for the clinics which will be held in the Florence Gaudineer School boys' gymnasium four days a week, Mondays through Thursdays, until March.

Instruction periods will start at 4 p.m. and last for about an hour. Additional information is available from the Recreation Department, a spokesman said.

Basketball competition in Ivy League opens for top boys in town's program

The Rockets, rolling head-to-head with one of their closest rivals, managed to break the three-way tie that existed in the Boys' Thursday Afternoon Bowling League, and once again take sole command of the league's top spot. The boys roll at the Springfield Bowl on Center

Falcon team holds top place with split in bowling for boys

Although they could manage only a split last week, the Falcons held little trouble in holding the solid three-game lead they established in the Friday Afternoon Boys' Bowling League. The boys met in competition each week at the Springfield Bowl on Center street. The league is sponsored by the Recreation Department as part of its youth bowling program.

This particular league is in need of two regular bowlers and a few regular subs to roll each week. The league is open to any Springfield boy of sixth-, seventh-, and eighth grade age. Boys may join the league by applying at the Springfield Bowl.

The Falcons held first place last week by receiving a solid team effort. The Falcons split a pair of games with the Chargers, who are in second place. Tommy Falcone and Bob Lee paced the Falcon attack. Tommy rolled a 229 series, while Bob rolled a 218 series. Jamie Farber was the high scorer for the Chargers. Jamie had a two-game total of 244 to pace both teams.

The Tigers swept two games from the Royals to move into a second-place tie in the league's standings. Wayne Winnick paced the Tiger surge with a series effort of 248. Arnie Blumenfeld, who has rolled well all season, led the Royals with a 247 two-game total.

The Warriors also moved up in the standings by tripping the Chiefs twice in a two-game match. The Warriors accomplished this in spite of another tremendous effort by Gary Neifeld of the Chiefs. Gary paced all bowlers last Friday afternoon as he posted a 301 series total by rolling games of 160 and 141. Roy Greenberg led the Warriors as he topped 280 pins in the match.

The final match-of-the-day saw the Hawks and the Royals split a two-game series. The Hawks took the opener for the Royals. The Hawks took the match, Barry Salfon and Stu Garavito paced the "Cinderella" Hawks in this match. Barry rolled a 207 series, while Stu posted a 196 series. The Hawks are the league's only team without a veteran bowler or a bowler with at least a 100 average, and they are holding their own with the competition. Tommy Lowy paced the Rangers, as he posted a 268 two-game series total.

Gary Neifeld moved his league-leading average up a notch last week. Gary's league-leading individual average is at the 145 mark after eight weeks of bowling. Tommy Lowy is in second place with a 133 average. Roy Greenberg is in third place with a 130 average and has been moving up each week. Arnie Blumenfeld holds a slight edge over Perry Koplik for fourth place. Both boys are averaging 123 for the season. The other boys in the top 10 are: Steve Harris, 118; Robert Lee, 115; Mark Berkowitz, 113; Steve Blumenkrantz, 111 and Scott Herman, 109.

Freshman five stays unbeaten after 7 games

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School freshman basketball team looks likely to continue its undefeated mark for the remaining half of its season. The "fresh cagers," now 7-0 have tough competition in the next few weeks, but the team comprised of last year's championship Minutemen squad is continuing its fine record under the direction of Lou Piccolo, coaching basketball for his first season.

Leading starters for the team include center Bob Janukowicz, Ed Grassie, Marc Hollander, Jay Silverman, Scott Prussing, Alan Schlang, and Dave Whitman. Greg Spector, Mitch Wolff, Lee Adler and Steve Grau rounding out the first row units.

Until this Monday's 42-17 victory over Gov. Livingston Regional High School of Berkeley Heights, the team has scored 56 points or more in every contest, an unusually high figure for a freshman squad. Bulldog victories so far include Kawameah Junior High of Union, 61-21; McMans Junior, Linden, 61-42; Terril Road, Scotch Plains, 83-65; Arthur L. Johnson of Clark, 60-39; Park Ave., Scotch Plains, 78-73, and Orange Ave., Cranford, 65-47.

The remainder of the fresh schedule includes many tough opponents, including two face-offs against Soehl Junior High School of Linden. Whether or not the freshmen continue their unbeaten streak, they offer a promising future for basketball at Dayton in the coming years.

Volleyball tourney at Y on Saturday

The Summit Area YWCA will be host to 15 of the top men's volleyball teams in the East on Saturday in the Swart-Burt Memorial tournament. Matches will be played at the Summit Junior High School gym from 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. The public has been invited.

Participants will be YMCA teams from Summit, Plainfield and Ridgewood, West Side, Central and Staten Island, New York City, Woodcock, R.I.; Allentown and Main Line, Pa.; Albany and White Plains, N.Y.; and New Haven, Conn. Also competing will be the N.Y.C. Turnover, the N.Y. State Lavians, and the Washington, D.C. Volleyball Club.

Rockets break tie, take lead in Thursday bowling league

The Rockets, rolling head-to-head with one of their closest rivals, managed to break the three-way tie that existed in the Boys' Thursday Afternoon Bowling League, and once again take sole command of the league's top spot. The boys roll at the Springfield Bowl on Center street in this Recreation Department-sponsored Youth Bowling League.

Danny Kotovsky, a vastly improved bowler this season, led the Rockets to a sweep of two games over the Jets. Danny rolled a 284 total for the two big games to lead both teams in scoring. Ed Federovitch with a 242 series and Bruce Jeffrey with a 239 series also rolled well and helped the Rockets to the pair of victories. Tommy Jacques was the high bowler for the Jets with a 191 series total.

While the Rockets were re-taking their claim to first place, the Hurricanes were quietly moving into a contending position in second place by sweeping two games from the Raiders. The Raiders had been in first place before the afternoon's bowling started. Stuart Liebeskind paced the Hurricane team with his finest bowling of the young season. Stuart rolled a 334 series by posting games of 181 and 153. Stu's top effort tied the highest series of the season in league play and paced all bowlers last week. Joe Pepe of the Hurricanes also rolled well. Joe hit a 256 series to help lead his team. Larry Fridkus and Richard Lan paced the Raiders. Larry had a 259 two-game total, while Richard's series total was an even 250.

The Hornets received a solid team effort to top the Bullets. In a pair of games last week, Kenny Portmutter and Howie Fleischman paced the Hornet attack with a lot of help from Dave Chetkin and Marc Jaffe. Kenny rolled a 282 series, while Howie topped 279 pins in the match. Dave turned in a 262 series, and Marc had a 241 series total. Bobby Goodman with a 270 series was the Bullets' leader.

The Bombers upset the Atoms in two games to move out of the league's cellar for the first time this season. Ronnie Silverman paced the Bombers with a two-game total of 251. Gil Gleim was the pace-setter in the Atoms' attack. Gil posted a 229 series.

With his top series of last week, Stuart Liebeskind has taken over the leadership in the high average department. Stuart moved his average to the 142 mark. Howie Levine, who had held the top spot all year until this week, dropped to second place with a 137 mark. Bob Goodman is third with a 133 average. George Robbins is fourth with 132, and Dan Kotovsky is fifth with a 126 average. The other boys in the top 10 are: Leon Margulies, 122; Howie Fleischman, 120; Steve Sipe, 119; Ronnie Silverman, 117; and Gil Gleim, 116.

Boxing tournament to begin tomorrow

The New Jersey Golden Gloves tournament starts tomorrow night, and more than 200 amateur boxers are expected to be screamed Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Elizabeth Elks Club, scene of the eight-week competition.

The large entry was stimulated by the addition of three weight classes—106, 132 and 156 pounds—designed to conform with the National AAU and Olympic weights, a spokesman said. A New Jersey team will be selected from the Golden Gloves to compete in the National AAU tournament at Toledo, Ohio, early in April.

The other weights for novice and open boxers will be 112, 119, 125, 139, 147, 165, 178 and heavyweight, making 14 weight classes in all.

The Gloves applications are being handled by Ray Hoagland, secretary of the New Jersey AAU, at 167 Irving st., Rahway. The tournament ticket chairman is Joseph R. Lombardi, past exalted ruler of the Elks Club, George T. Cron, AAU official, is tournament director.

Honor student

Gregg A. Anderson of Springfield is on the dean's list at Wesley College, Dover, Del., for the first semester of the academic year. Anderson will be presented with an academic award certificate at the honor convocation on Jan. 24 in the auditorium, and Mrs. Robert S. Anderson of 35 Keeler st.

Torborg to attend baseball dinner

Jeff Torborg, catcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers and former Rutgers All-American, will be one of the featured guests at the 32nd annual Hot Stove Dinner next Tuesday, at Singer Recreation Hall, Elizabeth.

Also appearing will be Steve Whitaker, youthful New York Yankee outfielder. Whitaker is a young star who is highly regarded by the Yankee organization.

Tickets for the affair are $3.50 and may be had by contacting the Recreation Department, Union County Park Commission. Ticket sales close tomorrow.

A FEMININE LOOK ...AT AFRICA 1967

(Commentary on a National Newspaper Association Study Mission to eight African countries south of the Sahara.)

By TRUDINA HOWARD

Thirty-fourth In A Series THE END OF A JOURNEY

If you were speaking Luganda to a Baganda in Buganda in front of the kubaka—you would be in what Winston Churchill ("My African Journal") called, "the heart of East Africa." In other words, you would be in the country of Uganda.

Luganda is the language in Uganda, Baganda are the people, Buganda is the largest area in the country, and a kubaka is a king.

Today the last Baganda kubaka and former president of Uganda (until 1966), King Freddy, is in exile in London, and a new president, Apollo Milton Abote, the former prime minister, is head of government.

UGANDA IS ONE OF THE MOST Christian countries in Africa, outside of Coptic Ethiopia, with the population being one-third Catholic, one-third Protestant and one-third other beliefs such as Moslem and Animist.

According to many reports, it is also one of the most promising of countries for the tourist.

Within its borders are parts of Lake Victoria considered to be the head waters of the White Nile, a large part of the White Nile itself, Murchison Falls, modern Chobe Lodge and its game park area on the White Nile, endless other game parks, the capital city of Kampala with its highly respected Makerere University, Entebbe on the shores of Lake Victoria, King Freddy's ancestors' tomb and "go on and on."

The "tomb" of the kubakas of King Freddy's line is unusual and worth a visit. It is not marble, nor stone, nor even wood. It is a massive elegant grass hut, and it is elegant, thatched roof and all. Inside there are deep soft grass rugs and nothing more. No shoes are allowed and you sit on the floor in the sweet stillness while the guide softly tells you the story of it all.

THE TRIP TO THE WHITE NILE is not as comfortable. It is some 200 miles over hot, dusty, dirt roads, but once you arrive at Chobe Lodge you are back to the comforts of electricity and air-conditioning and good food.

Yet it is alone in the wilderness. It is a building plunked in the middle of an untamed area, and if you are not careful an elephant might even step on your toes. The staff of the hotel has trained a family of elephants to "come and get it" and every day at noon, Mom, Dad and Junior elephant prance up to the lodge for snacks. There you are munching on a delicious beef Stroganoff and an elephant sashays past your table. It can surprise you.

Chobe Lodge also has a verandah that almost hangs over the Nile where you can sit and have cocktails while you watch hippopotami play in the river. It was on this verandah that I experienced the most thrilling, yet somehow unfeared, thunder storm of my life. Just about twilight time, as we sat watching the glorious sky, the wind and clouds came up with great chains of lightning in the distance, and it was a spectacular show.

One word of advice: if you go to Chobe, reserve a seat on the small plane that serves the area from Entebbe (Entebbe is the city in which Kampala's airport is located, ten miles from Kampala) and the long dusty hot trip can be avoided.

POLITICALLY, UGANDA is considered progressive and on the way to unity. Its president is considered "one of the best in Africa," according to the U.S. Information Service informants there. He is very respected by his people although there is some dissatisfaction with his government and the attempt to abolish the entrenched positions of power in the tribes and to limit the kubakaships. But President Abote "has adroitly not eliminated the kubakaships entirely. Dr. Abote does not wish to be a dictator and wants a united Uganda," our informants in Kampala told us, "but since many Ugandans do not wish to give up preferred positions or kubakaships, the president's task is difficult."

Even our driver who was with us on safari to the White Nile said that since independence (1962) he did not like it as much as before. Things were more certain before, he said. "Now you can't tell what will happen from day to day."

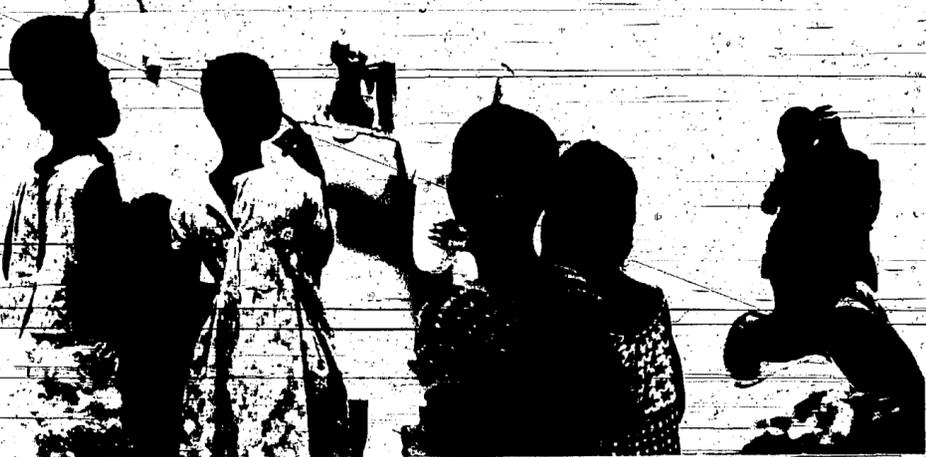

Be that as it may, whatever troubles the president may have or the kubakas or the drivers, Uganda is no problem to the traveler. Outside of the tons of flying insects on the shores of Lake Victoria at Entebbe and that long drive to Chobe, it is quite a pleasure.

But Uganda was our last stop and it was sad to have to leave Africa, for Africa too is a pleasure for the tourist. I hope I meet it again.

Fin!

AMONG THE PLEASANT MEMORIES OF AFRICA: The children of Africa and their wonderful full-blossomed smiles. Making them smile in glee and joyful anticipation is chewing gum, a great favorite among them. Will Maslow, Dr. Hertzberg opponents in debate Sunday

WILL MASLOW

DR. ARTHUR HERTZBERG

Will Maslow, executive director of the American Jewish Congress, will debate against Rabbi Arthur Hertzberg, author, educator and lecturer, in the third session of the debate-lecture series at Congregation Beth Shalom, Union.

Maslow, an authority on laws to protect civil rights and liberties, will uphold the affirmative on the question of "Jewish Involvement in the Negro Revolution?" The program in Bards Hall of the synagogue, Vauxhall road and Plane street, Union, is to begin at 7:30 p.m. Abraham Sles of Union will be the moderator.

Maslow, who is a member of the national board of the American Civil Liberties Union has drafted many bills that have become laws. Phi Beta Kappa at Cornell and a law graduate of Columbia University, he is now on the faculty of the New School for Social Research and the City College of New York.

A member of the New York and Supreme Court bars, he once practiced with Arthur Garfield Hayes. He served in the LaGuardia Franklin Roosevelt administrations. Dr. Hertzberg has held pulpits in Philadelphia and Nashville and has been spiritual leader at Temple Emanuel, Englewood, since 1956. He has a chaplain in the Air Force for two years and was Hillel director at Smith College.

A contributor to a variety of journals and an editor of the monthly "Midstream," Rabbi Hertzberg wrote "Judaism," "The Zionist Idea," "Fetide to Emancipation: The Jewish Question in France Before the Revolution." He is associate professor of Jewish History at Rutgers University and a member of the graduate faculty at Columbia University.

The concluding debate in the series is scheduled for Feb. 4 when Dr. Leo Pfeffer, a leading constitutional lawyer, will present the case against federal aid to private and parochial schools against Dr. Maxton Slagel, director of the department of education of the United Synagogue of America.

UC says 80 pct. of students receive financial assistance

—Eighty percent of the 755 students enrolled in Union College's Day Session are receiving some form of financial assistance in the current semester, it was reported this week by Mrs. Paul W. Selby, financial aid officer.

The 600 students with some form of financial aid qualified for 763 separate financial aid programs.

"This means some of our students are attending college by qualifying for three or even four different means of financial assistance," Mrs. Selby said. "We have one student, for example, who is a veteran who qualified for aid under the so-called Cold War G.I. Bill, holds a scholarship awarded through our college, and qualified for Federal work-study assistance. There are many more who are combining scholarships, loans and employment to finance their college education."

Mrs. Selby said the 80 percent figure does not include scholarship aid obtained outside of Union College, off-campus employment, or non-federal or non-state guaranteed loans.

The 80 percent figure includes students who hold tuition aid grants financed by the Union County Board of Freeholders, state scholarships, state incentive scholarships, on-campus employment, state loans, federal loans, and Union College scholarships.

"Surveys we have made in the past show that 80 percent of our students hold off-campus employment of some kind," Mrs. Selby said. "In fact, we are concerned that too many of our students work too many hours a week. This is one of the major reasons the tuition aid plan was developed with the Union County Board of Freeholders."

Under the tuition aid plan, all Union County residents qualify for annual grants of $480. If they win admission to Union College's Day Session as a full-time student, there are 512 students who qualified for this assistance this semester.

MRS. SELBY SAID the next largest category is 103 students who are attending Union College under the G.I. Bill.

"Financing a college education is becoming increasingly more difficult for our young people and their parents, as skyrocketing costs force our colleges and universities — especially our independent institutions — to increase their tuition and other fees," Mrs. Selby said.

Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, Union College president, said he foresees an effort to establish in New Jersey a program of tuition grants to students to help them attend the New Jersey college best suited to their needs and goals. Similar programs are already under way in New York, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Michigan, he pointed out.

"New Jersey must make maximum use of all its institutions of higher learning — public and private — if it is to meet its obligations to the young people of our state," Dr. MacKay said.

A system of tuition grants to students who attend independent colleges would "continue our heritage of providing the individual freedom to select the particular institution — public or independent — which best meets his specific needs and goal."

27th annual skeet shoot Sunday at county range

The 27th annual Union County Open Skeet Championship, conducted by the Union County Park Commission, will be held at the Union County trap and skeet grounds, off-Kentilworth boulevard, Cranford, on Sunday, beginning at 2 p.m.

A 6-7-8 grocery event will be held with the championship. The Union County Park trap and skeet grounds are open for public shooting on Saturdays and Sundays, from 1 to 5 p.m. Shells of all gauges are available at the grounds, a spokesman said.

FIRST BASEBALL GAME

The first baseball game between organized teams took place at Elysian Fields in Hoboken on June 19, 1846. The New York Baseball Club defeated the Knickerbocker Club in four innings, 23-1.

On Saturday, Dave Sutter of Clifton will lead an afternoon ramble in the Garret Mountain Reservation outside of Paterson. The group will meet at the Lambert Castle parking lot in Garret Mountain Reservation at 1:30 p.m.

On Sunday, Marjorie Gasser of Annandale will lead an eight-mile hike in the hills around Hibernia past old mines and the remains of the Split Rock furnace. The hikers will meet at the administration building of the Union County Park Commission, Warinanco Park, Elizabethtown, at 8:30 a.m.

Further information is available from the recreation department of the Union County Park Commission.
