Adams, newcomer, leads school board election field

CANIO A. CASALE

MRS. SONYA DORSKY

JAMES M. ADAMS

Budget wins approval by 390 to 108

Mrs. Dorsky, Casale reelected as members

Newcomer James M. Adams led the field with 431 votes to win membership on the Springfield Board of Education in the annual school board election on Tuesday.

Two incumbents were also elected: Mrs. Sonya C. Dorsky with 409 votes and Canio A. Casale with 403. Francis H. Shimschok, another incumbent, received 379 votes to run fourth in the race for three seats.

The two budget items on the ballot also won handily, with current expenses for the next school year, coming to $1,693,376, receiving approval by a margin of 390 to 108. The capital outlay item of $37,700 was also approved, 380 to 134. A total of 690 voters took part in the election.

With 196 voters recorded at the James Caldwell School, Casale was top man with 162 votes. Shimschok received 158, Adams had 134, and Mrs. Dorsky trailed badly in this section of the town, with 65.

She led by a wide margin, however, at the Florence Gaudineer School. The results there: Mrs. Dorsky, 229; Adams, 179; Shimschok, 125, and Casale, 120. There were 295 votes tallied at this polling place.

With 195 voters listed at the Edward Walton School, Adams received 126 tallies to head the list. Casale had 119, Mrs. Dorsky received 111 and Shimschok had 95.

There were also four absentee ballots, with all four supporting Mrs. Dorsky. Two each supported Casale and Adams, and one voted for Shimschok.

The vote in favor of the current expenses budget item was as follows: at Caldwell, 125 to 32; at Gaudineer, 145 to 45, and at Walton, 116 to 31. The tally for the capital outlay item was: at Caldwell, 123 to 38; at Gaudineer, 148 to 57, and at Walton, 105 to 39. All four absentee voters favored both budget items.

New budget for township introduced, increases local tax rate to $7.19 level

By ABNER GOLD

The township Committee on Tuesday introduced its budget for 1968, calling for $1,031,599 to be raised by taxes for municipal purposes, out of a total tax revenue of $5,014,645.

The new budget will raise the Springfield tax rate 60 points, from the present $6.59 to $7.19 per $100 of assessed valuation. With property currently assessed at 50 percent of estimated market value, this means that the owner of the traditional, hypothetical Springfield home worth $20,000 on today's market will pay $719 in taxes for the coming fiscal year.

The final hearing on the budget is scheduled for the Township Committee meeting on Tuesday evening, March 12. An informal budget hearing, at which interested residents will have an opportunity for more complete discussion, is scheduled for the previous Saturday, March 9, at 10 a.m. The full text of the budget will be published in this newspaper next week.

Of the total $7.19 tax rate, the governing body noted, $2.80 will go for local school purposes; $1.76, regional high school purposes; $1.02, county purposes; $1.3, veterans and senior citizens, and $1.48, for municipal purposes, the only item over which the Township Committee has any authority.

Exact comparisons with the 1967 budget figures are complicated, the committee noted, by a change in the tax structure. As noted in the introduction to the budget, "the business personal property valuations formerly assessed and collected by the municipality are now assessed and collected by the state. The loss of these valuations is replaced by a new item of replacement revenue from the state, which amount is required to be reflected entirely in the budget for local municipal purposes as anticipated miscellaneous revenue."

Allowing for this factor, the amount listed for local school purposes shows an increase of $.02; for regional high school purposes, $.20; for county purposes, .19; for veterans and senior citizens, no change; and for municipal purposes, .15. The amount for county purposes, thus, shows by far the largest proportional increase.

COMMITTEEMEN OUTLINED several items which led to increases in the municipal portion of the budget, in addition to general pay raises for "virtually all township employees, these included the addition of one new fireman and one new patrolman. A clerical worker was authorized for the police department. This addition will permit the juvenile officer to devote full time to that job.

Three new workers were added to the parks and public property staff, which will include maintenance of the new Fadem Farm property. Some $5,000 was authorized to rent equipment to clear riverbeds as an aid to flood control, and $10,000 was listed for a preliminary flood control survey. This will be reimbursed by the federal government if a project is actually launched in the flood control field. The budget also includes some $7,000 for nine flashing lights along main roads in the area of local schools.

Regional School Board reelects Ward, Powers

Avery W. Ward of Kenilworth and W. Robert Powers of Berkeley Heights were reelected as president and vice-president, respectively, of the Regional High School District Board of Education at its annual organization meeting Tuesday night at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

Installed for three-year terms were Dr. Benjamin Josephson of Springfield and Edwin Little of Berkeley Heights, new board members, and Robert W. Lockwood of Clark, who was elected for a second term.

Dr. Josephson succeeds William J. Melick, who retired after 16 years on the board, including service as president and vice-president. Melick commented that he had enjoyed his years on the board, and that the "new members will get from the board what they put in."

Ward thanked Melick for his years of service, adding, "All six communities owe you a debt of gratitude."

In its regular business, the board voted to hire a new social studies teacher and progressive wrestling coach for Dayton Regional. He is Richard J. Cook, now a senior at Wilkes College in Pennsylvania, Cook is a two-time national small-college wrestling champion.

THE BOARD VOTED to adopt teacher-salary guides and new policies affecting teachers, both of which had been outlined at previous meetings.

The report by Charlotte Singer, guidance director at Dayton, noted that 59 students received college acceptances during January. Emphasis during the month was on mid-year course changes, preliminary work on seventh-semester reports to colleges and the beginning of registration procedures for next year.

An orientation meeting was held Jan. 25 for incoming freshmen and their parents. December College Board results were received and distributed. Representatives from college and industry met with interested juniors and seniors, and three students were placed in part-time jobs.

Because of stepped-up research assignments, Barbara Dimmers, librarian, reported, total library attendance rose to 3,184, highest figure of the year. There were 3,177 books circulated, for an average daily circulation of 144.

Building maintenance work at Dayton was as follows: painted stairway, replaced panels in fire doors, boarded up the Meisel Field house after three break-ins in two weeks, repaired driver education guide posts and cleaned out sewer lines.

Richard Samuel, a Westfield attorney, will speak on the structure of the volunteer group formed to support the candidate for the Democratic nomination for President. He will discuss the relationship of the volunteer unit to the Springfield and Union County Democratic organizations, the 12th Congressional District and the state organization of Volunteers for McCarthy.

Plans for the program were made at an executive committee meeting held Sunday morning.

At that time, the group discussed McCarthy's charges of a "deepening moral crisis in America: discontent, frustration, and a disposition to extra-legal, if not illegal, manifestations of protest."

Members noted that McCarthy has said he hopes his candidacy can "alleviate the sense of political helplessness and restore to many people a belief in the processes of American politics and American government."

Dayton High PTA will discuss ABCs of marking system

The ABCs of Grades, a panel discussion dealing with the marking system in today's schools, will be featured at the PTA meeting tonight at 8 at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. A PTA spokesman urged all parents to attend.

Dennis Fox, social studies teacher and head of the Dayton Teachers' Association, will serve as moderator. Other speakers will be: Dr. George King, director of admissions at Montclair State College; Helen Crawford, Dayton guidance counselor; Mrs. Theresa Doherty, mathematics teacher; Paul Karish, social studies teacher; Mrs. Robert Starr, a Dayton parent and a sociology instructor at Rutgers University; and Paulie Adickman and John Vasselli, both students at Dayton.

The program will also include a question-and-answer period. Following the discussion, Mrs. Lewis Gash and her committee will be in charge of refreshments in the school cafeteria. Mrs. I.S. Yablonsky is PTA president.

Recreation will fill summer openings

Edward J. Ruby, director, announced this week that the Springfield Recreation Department is now accepting applications for employment at the township playgrounds and the municipal swim pool.

There are openings at the pool for life guards, recreation personnel, snack bar workers, locker room attendants and maintenance help. Leaders are needed at the playgrounds to supervise play and games.

All applicants must be 18 years of age before June 1. Springfield residents will receive first preference. Applications may be obtained at the Springfield Recreation Department, Municipal Building, Springfield.

Volunteers' group backing McCarthy will meet Tuesday

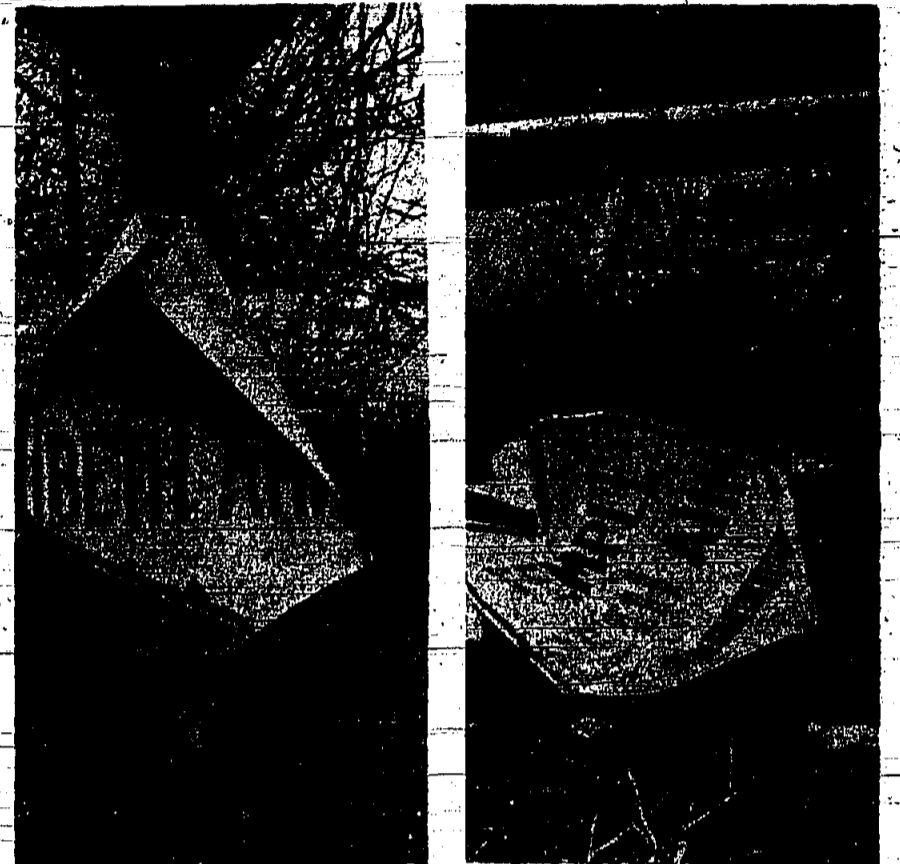

The "Volunteers for Sen. Eugene McCarthy" will hold a public meeting at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Grant of 12 Surrey Lane, Springfield.

Richard Samuel, a Westfield attorney, will speak on the structure of the volunteer group formed to support the candidate for the Democratic nomination for President. He will discuss the relationship of the volunteer unit to the Springfield and Union County Democratic organizations, the 12th Congressional District and the state organization of Volunteers for McCarthy.

Plans for the program were made at an executive committee meeting held Sunday morning.

At that time, the group discussed McCarthy's charges of a "deepening moral crisis in America: discontent, frustration, and a disposition to extra-legal, if not illegal, manifestations of protest."

Members noted that McCarthy has said he hopes his candidacy can "alleviate the sense of political helplessness and restore to many people a belief in the processes of American politics and American government."

REPEATED INCIDENTS of vandalism have been reported this winter involving signs directing motorists to Temple Beth Ahm. Most of the signs vandalized have been along Baltusrol way and Bryant avenue. Police have been unable to discover those responsible for the damage to the signs.

Board members outline expansion program aims

The aims of the Regional Board of Education's proposed expansion program are outlined in a letter being sent by the board's two Springfield members, Mrs. Natalie R. Wald and William M. Melick, to all borough residents. They urge approval by the voters.

In the letter, Mrs. Wald and Melick, who is retiring from the board this month, said: "In order to clarify any misconception about the referendum which will be presented to the public on March 19, preceded by a public hearing on March 7 at the Jonathan Dayton School, we, the Springfield representatives of the Regional Board of Education, would like to enlighten you regarding the expansion improvements which will come under the proposed referendum."

Over the past year a complete survey was made of your desires for improvements in the physical and educational requirements of our high school and its system. Your desires were then coupled with the expressed desires of the high school administration and staff, keeping in mind at all times that quality education for our boys and girls is of the greatest importance for all of us as parents. All of the items were approved by a highly competent consultant. Our requests were discussed and accepted without reservation by the other members of the Regional Board and the improvements as listed below are included in the referendum to be voted upon by you.

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, the first to be built, was completed in 1937, with an addition completed in 1953. The Board feels the present pupil capacity is sufficient to provide for the present and future Springfield student population. All the new additions (new construction) are confined to special educational areas. Considering the age of the building, redevelopment of existing areas to meet current educational standards is proportionately more extensive than required in the other buildings.

Additional (new construction)

- (a) New Library and Educational Materials Center;
- (b) New Instrumental Music Room;
- (c) New Vocal Music Room;
- (d) New Auditorium Storage, directly connected to stage;
- (e) New Field House (attached to existing Ag. Building)

Redevelopment (alterations)

1. Convert two existing classrooms to provide Librarian's Office, work space and storage in the one, and Audio Visual and Technical Process in the other.
2. Convert the existing Library into three classrooms, conference and teachers' work room.
3. Convert the existing Physics Laboratory and the adjacent classroom into one large combined New Physics and Chemistry Laboratory.
4. Convert the existing Vocal Music Room, classroom No. 218 and the new second floor building area over the new stage storage to provide offices for the Educational Coordinators.
5. Enlarge the existing Guidance Department by moving the adjacent Health Office into a large classroom across the corridor.
6. Convert the existing Instrumental Music Room into practice rooms, instrumental, and uniform storage, etc.
7. Convert several existing large classrooms into small and large group instructional areas by installing sound-proof folding partitions.
8. Convert the existing Agricultural Shop into new Print Shop and Art Room to which will be added the new Field House.
9. Convert the existing Print Shop into a new Faculty Dining Room and Kitchen Service. This will provide additional cafeteria space for Students' Store which the students requested.

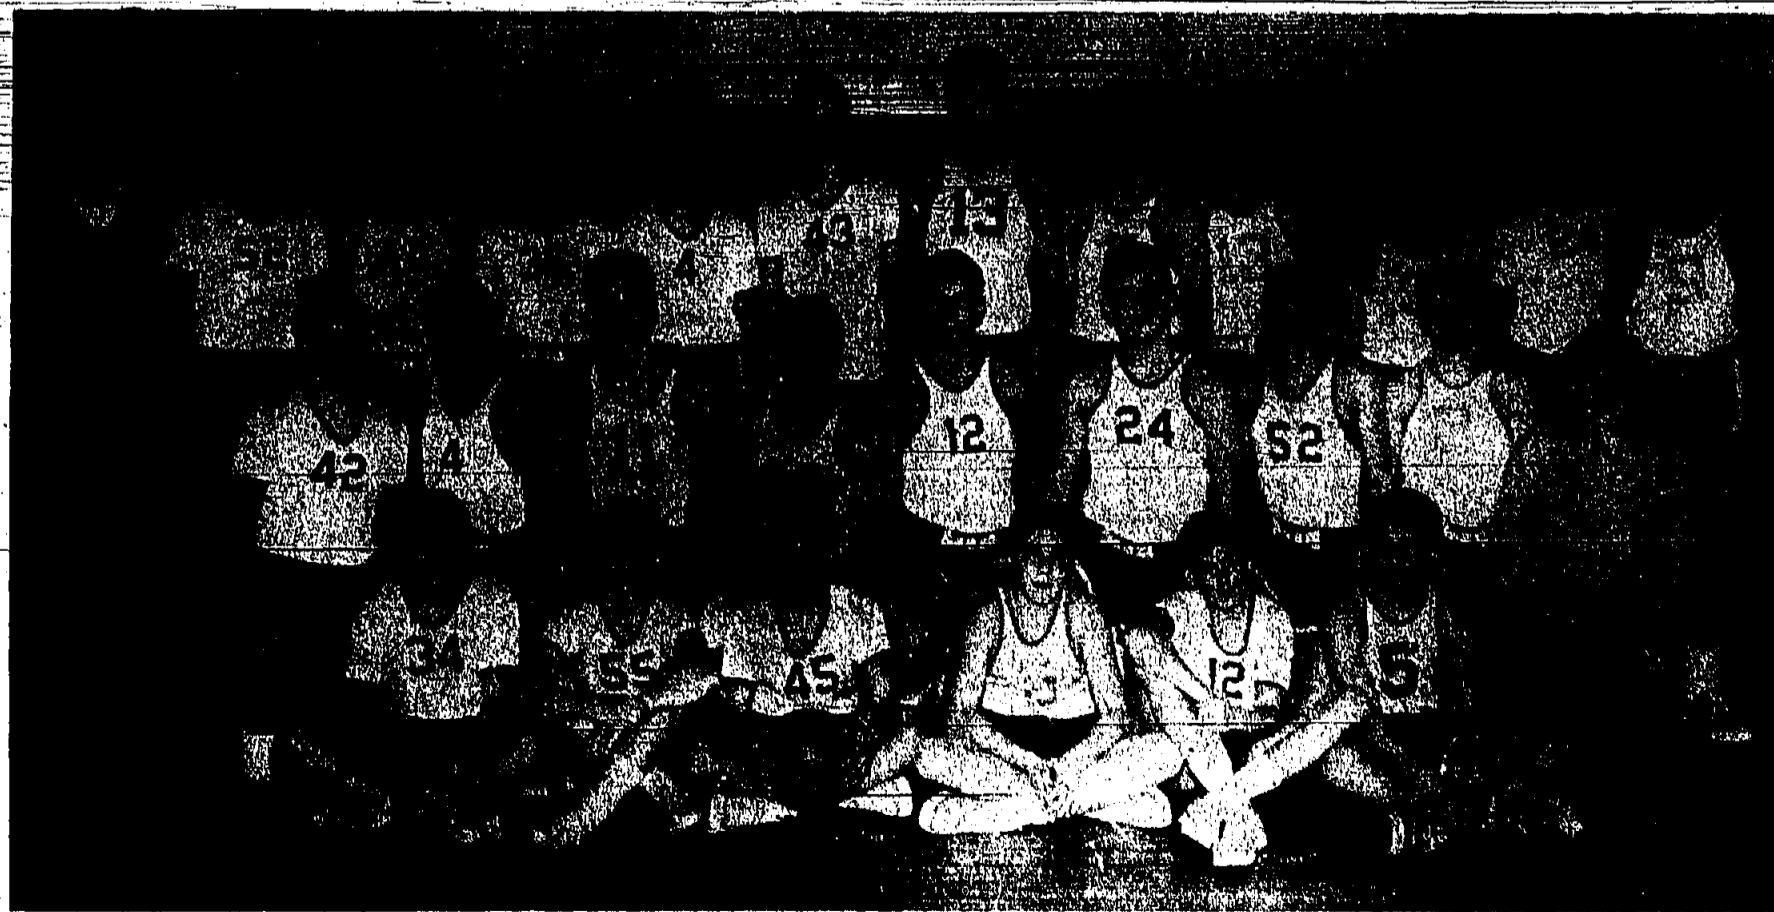

Due to all the new construction and alterations we are gaining eight teaching staff only.

The cost of this construction at the Jonathan Dayton School in the coming referendum will be three-quarters of a million dollars. You must remember that this referendum is based upon a consensus which seeks to improve the education and educational facilities in our high school system, with the future in mind.

The recent passage of the 1968-1969 budget assures further up-dating above and beyond the improvements in the referendum, since it includes repairs to the boys' and girls' gym; new cafeteria furniture; lighting; new classroom furniture; new auditorium stage and window drapes; new roof; band uniforms; gym ceiling; repairs to heating distribution system, etc.

A more complete review of the entire referendum will be presented to you in a formal brochure within the coming weeks.

We look forward to seeing you at the forthcoming public hearing on March 7, where any further questions you might have will be answered.

Dog-tag deadline

The deadline for obtaining 1968 dog licenses is already past, Mrs. Eleonore H. Worthington, township clerk, warned all dog-owners this week. She stressed that all canine offenders will be apprehended, and summonses issued to their masters.

Springfield Elks to mark centennial of order this year

Members of Springfield Lodge 2004, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will participate this year in observance of the 100th anniversary of the BPOE.

George Brogan, exalted ruler of the lodge, said a centennial committee is planning a series of activities during 1968. One of the highlights will be an initiation of 15 new members into the lodge tomorrow evening. The lodge will be open to the public and a buffet will be served.

The BPOE was organized by 15 actors and entertainers on Feb. 16, 1868, to encourage good fellowship among men of the theater and lend a helping hand to members in distress. Today, the Elks spend more than $10,000,000 yearly on benevolent, educational and patriotic programs.

The Springfield lodge was organized by Richard Blake of Springfield. Blake had been a member of the Hillside Lodge for six years and felt that the Millburn-Springfield residents wanted a lodge of their own. With the help of Max Weles, Ernie Nagel and other local residents, the lodge received its charter in July 1956. The members met for a short time at Walter's Two Bars and the Evergreen Lodge before moving into a permanent home on Morris avenue. Then the new highway forced them to seek another meeting house, which resulted in the purchase of the Twigs, their present location on Rt. 24.

Springfield woman new vice-chairman of Beth Israel unit

Mrs. Donald Rotwein of 25 Sycamore ter., Springfield, has been appointed vice-chairman of the community relations committee of the Women's Auxiliary of Newark Beth Israel Hospital. It was announced this week by Mrs. Abraham Melik of Maplewood, chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Melik said that Mrs. Rotwein would assist her in coordinating the activities of the committee in interpreting to the community the work of Newark Beth Israel Hospital in the areas of patient care, research, medical education and community health.

The community relations committee is divided into two sub-committees. One arranged for "behind-the-scenes" guided tours of the hospital for women's groups in the community. Groups making the tours will meet with heads of the various hospital departments who will discuss aspects of their department's work.

The Sisterhood of Temple Beth El of the Oranges and Maplewood will tour the hospital, Monday, Feb. 26.

The second committee will serve as a speakers bureau, arranging for trained speakers to address women's groups in the community. Mrs. Rotwein said that the program of guided tours is already underway at the hospital and that the services of the speakers bureau would be available immediately after Labor Day.

Church to conduct commissioning for missionary couple

DR. PAUL E. FREED
Pastor Warren W. West of the Evangelical Baptist Church of Springfield has announced the commissioning service for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kellner, missionaries to Trans World Radio. This service of commissioning will be held at 7 p.m. on Sunday, Feb. 18, at the church.

Charge to the missionaries will be brought by Dr. Paul E. Freed, president and founder of Trans World Radio.

Trans World Radio is a missionary broadcasting organization transmitting the gospel in 28 languages. It operates two large transmitting stations, one in Monte Carlo, Monaco, and the other in Bonaire, Netherlands Antilles. The total transmitting power employed by these stations exceeds 2,000,000 watts. Recording studios are maintained in Germany, France, Spain and Lebanon.

All of their personnel are missionaries dedicated to this work and supported by gifts from churches and individuals. The Kellners have three children, Mark, 7, Joy, 4, and Paul, 2. They will leave for the Bonaire station on Feb. 26. Bonaire is a small island 60 miles off the coast of Venezuela. Here the Kellners will work in the studio and music departments as part of the staff of more than 70 missionaries.

New inquiry class to begin at church

A new adult inquiry class will begin at Holy Cross Lutheran Church on Sunday at 9:30 a.m. Discussions and explanations in the course will center around basic beliefs of the Christian faith and contemporary practices in the Church.

The class will meet for approximately 12 sessions from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. on Sundays. The Rev. Kenneth J. Stumpf, pastor of Holy Cross, will be the teacher. According to him, "Anyone who is either interested in joining the Christian Church, or simply curious, or already a member is welcome. Should anyone find the designated time is restrictive, private arrangements can be made."

FRIDAY DEADLINE
All items other than spot news should be in our office by noon on Friday.

Cartoon show

The PFA of the Raymond Chisholm School, Springfield, will present a full-length color cartoon film, "One Thousand and One Arabian Nights," plus a single color cartoon on Thursday, Feb. 22, at 11:30 a.m. and again at 2 p.m. In order to avoid over-crowding, it was requested that the children from the Caldwell and Sandmeier schools attend the 11:30 a.m. showing and those from the Chisholm and Walton schools attend the 2 p.m. performance.

SOCIETY PRESIDENT

Annual elections at church tonight

The annual meeting and elections of Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church will be held this evening at 8 in the sanctuary with the Rev. George Watt Jr., Southern District Superintendent of the Northern-New Jersey Methodist Annual Conference, presiding.

Following a devotional service conducted by the Rev. James Dewart, pastor, the Rev. Mr. Watt will call for the report of the nominating committee and the election of church officers, stewards, committees and commissions for the year beginning May 1.

In addition, reports will be received from all church officers, committees, commissions, organizations, the board of trustees and the pastor for the calendar year 1967. These reports will also be presented in mimeographed form and preserved in the historical file.

A social hour will conclude the evening, with the Woman's Society of Christian Service in charge of refreshments.

Bosworth Post to attend service

Members of Guy R. Bosworth Post 140, American Legion, will attend the 11 a.m. service Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Millburn, in commemoration of "Back to God Sunday."

The service will honor the four chaplains who lost their lives in a naval disaster during World War II. Special prayers will be offered for them.

School health aide writes on strength in group's journal

The current issue of "The Reporter" magazine of the New Jersey Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, features an article entitled "Psychology of the Sub-Strengthened Individual," written by Donald Merachuk, Ph.D., director of special services of the Union County Regional High School District No. 1 in Springfield.

The article is a report of a speech given by Dr. Merachuk at the NJAHER annual convention of the New Jersey Education Association in Atlantic City on Nov. 9, 1967.

"Sub-strength," according to Dr. Merachuk's report, "is merely a descriptive term which denotes youngsters who (because of one or more factors—one of which might possibly be a disease entity) show lowered physical fitness or lowered physical stamina and prowess. In comparison to most physical education students of the same age and sex.

"Youngsters who show sub-strengthened development" the article said, "may come from a variety of backgrounds. These might include: delayed development where maturation is late and incoordination is prominent, family background in which physical activity and exercise are relegated to a low priority, genetic factors in which anatomical and muscular development is at a lowered level, environmental conditions which breed faulty nutrition and inadequate health care, unwholesome patterns which do not permit sufficient sleep, rest, and relaxation, psychological trauma which might produce youngsters with little motivation and interest for work and activity, and a background of poverty in which individual pursuits are geared to keeping alive with little concern for essential, wholesome activities."

The article concludes by listing methods of identifying these students, explaining their behavior patterns, and recommending a remedial physical education program to meet their needs. Dr. Merachuk has been head of special services for the past 12 years and has written many articles and given many talks during his tenure at Springfield.

Tickets go on sale for young people's series of concerts

Tickets are now on sale for the annual series of three Colonial Little Symphony Young People's Concerts conducted by Henry Bloch of New York which will begin March 2 at 11 a.m. at Madison Junior High School, Madison.

The opening concert, "Music of the Gaslight Age," will highlight music of the romantic composers and will feature Larry Berthelson's Pickwick Puppet Theatre of New York who will present the story of "The Arabian Nights" set to the music of "Scheherazade."

"Music of the Candlelight Age," on March 16, will feature music of the baroque and renaissance period. Guest artists for this program will be "The Friends of Early Music," who will describe and demonstrate instruments of the time. The concert will also include the winner of the Young Artist Competition, Robert Taub, 12-year old Metuchen, N.J. artist.

Walter S. Kimmel of New York, composer, teacher and member of the Electronic Music Center at Columbia University, will be the featured guest at the final concert, "Music of the Electronic Age," March 30. He will discuss and demonstrate electronic devices. The program will include the first concert performance of a section of "Electronic Suite for Children," which was commissioned especially for this series. "The Elastic Band," a rock 'n' roll group from Fairleigh Dickinson University, will also perform at the concert.

Series tickets for the hour-long concerts, which are directed toward children from 7-12 years old, may be purchased by mail order to Young People's Concerts, 2 Cross Cases, Madison, or from Mrs. Wilton Marcus, 8 Briar Hills circle, Springfield.

EARLY COPY
Publicity chairman are urged to obtain the Friday deadline for other than spot news. Include your name, address and phone number.

Marionette show at Kaffeeklatsch

An original marionette show, entitled "Percival and Jacques," will be presented at the Summit YWCA-Kaffeeklatsch on Wednesday, from 9:45 to 11:30 a.m. The show will be put on by Janice Gardner and Virginia Steinback, both of Springfield. Mothers were invited to bring their school-age children to the program.

A half-hour coffee time precedes Kaffeeklatsch programs, allowing women to become acquainted with others in the area. The hour-long program follows at 10:15. Special rhythm and dance classes are available for pre-schoolers, and baby sitting is provided for infants 18 months and over.

Further information about the current program or future ones may be had by telephoning Mrs. Allan G. Ballard, program director, at the YWCA, 273-4242.

Red Cross calls to 'sweethearts'

A Springfield Red Cross spokesman noted yesterday — Valentine's Day — the need for American Red Cross volunteers. "Sweethearts," the spokesman said, are needed to help carry on the work of the chapter as drivers for motor service, donors for the March bloodmobile, blood program workers, hospital volunteers, and service to military families personnel.

The spokesman, who noted that the "sweethearts" could be men or women, said some of the volunteers work at East Orange Veterans Administration, Lyons and Rumlins hospitals. Especially needed are volunteers to help patients celebrate their birthdays. The spokesman said that "a brief visit, cake and a gift on this special day can do wonders for a patient's morale."

Other volunteer work, the spokesman said, includes feeders, ward assistants, escort service, recreation therapy aides and clerical and supply workers. Drivers are needed regularly to transport patients to therapy, clinics, from hospitals to nursing homes and to provide transportation for other chapter services. Blood program donors and volunteers are called upon at bloodmobile visit times, the spokesman said.

Temple plans to sponsor dancing for boys, girls

A new series of dance lessons, for boys and girls approaching Bar Mitzvah and Bat Mitzvah age, was announced this week by the Sisterhood of Temple Shalom, Springfield. The lessons will be given at the temple, under the direction of Mrs. Parsons.

Enrollment in the course is limited, according to a Sisterhood spokesman. Details are available from Mrs. Sol Gabay, 379-6386, or from Mrs. Ralph Leventhal, 667-2258.

Organizing Jaycee unit to represent Springfield

Efforts to organize a Jaycee chapter in Springfield will continue with a meeting Wednesday evening at Town Hall. Local residents who attended a recent planning session expressed an open invitation to all interested young men in the community to take part on Wednesday.

The initial session was conducted by the Hillside Jaycees. Dennis O'Shea, state membership chairman, outlined the range of programs conducted by Jaycee groups. Further information on plans for Springfield is available from Michael Goldberg at 354-4451.

Editorial Opinion

Freshman athletes win everything on schedule

Spectators at last Friday's varsity basketball game at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School had an added feature with the introduction of members of the freshman basketball team, who had just completed an undefeated season. With Dayton varsity teams competing in the Watching Conference against seven other schools of substantially larger size, undefeated seasons—in anything, are a rare event indeed.

The undiluted success of the freshman athletes, of course, testifies as to the skill and determination of the young men involved.

It also reflects the ability and dedication of the young men's young coach, Lou Piccolo. An interesting sidelight is that the coach carried a squad of 27 boys the entire season. When asked to arrange for a picture at the end of the season, Coach Piccolo, with the endorsement of the athletic department at Dayton, set his own conditions.

He declined to arrange for a shot of the five starters on the team, or the seven or eight boys who saw most of the action. There were 27 players on the team, he stressed, and they all worked equally hard to achieve success. There would be a picture of the entire squad, he said, or none.

That's why the front page of this newspaper this week carries a picture of the entire squad, even though a shot of the starting team would undoubtedly be more attractive from a journalistic standpoint. It may not win any prizes for newspaper composition, but it does say something significant about the kind of men who coach our sons at Dayton Regional.

In giving credit for this year's successes, a large share should also be directed to John Scott Donington, who coached most of the same youngsters to virtually as spectacular a season last year, when they represented the township Recreation Department as the Minutemen.

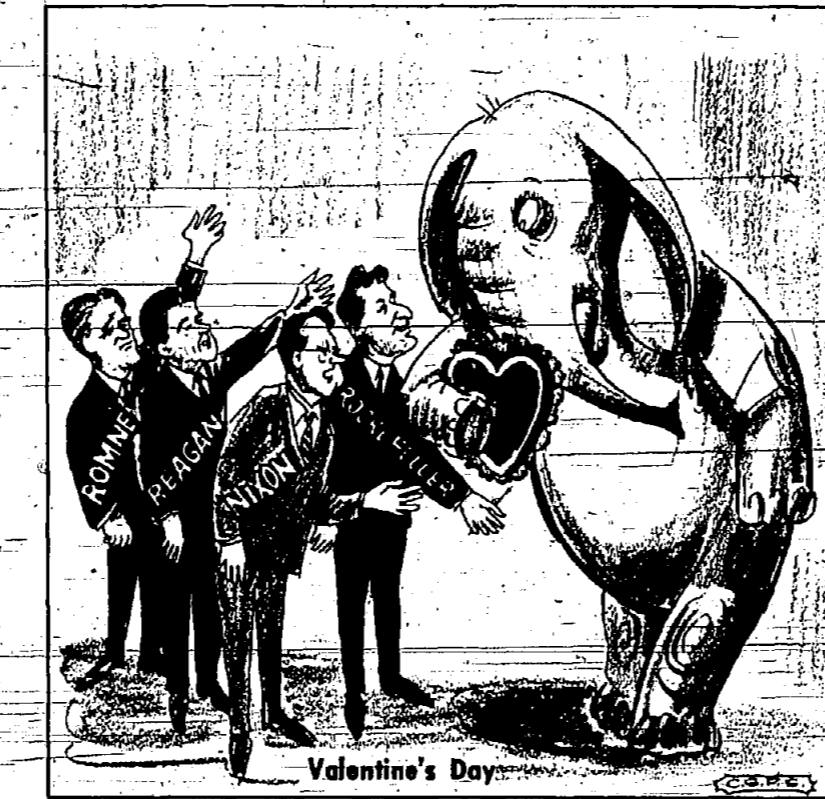

Most of the boys who wore Dayton's colors with such outstanding success this season were in their sixth year of organized basketball competition, starting in the township's small-fry leagues when they were fourth graders.

They learned how to play basketball from the many dedicated fathers and other coaches who have made the basketball program a key part of the Recreation Department's operations.

The boys who made such a spectacular record this year, and the ones who will go on to play at the varsity level and then in college, are the obvious stars produced by the recreation program.

Equally valuable, of course, are the lessons in sportsmanship, poise, self-confidence and determination learned by youngsters who may never take part again in competitive sports. For all this, we all owe thanks to the Recreation Department.

And some day, we may even be able to point with equal pride to a similar program for our daughters.

U.S. Congresswoman FLORENCE P. DWYER Reports

I don't often indulge in speculation about the future, but a prediction may be in order. It goes to the heart of many of our problems.

Unless the President changes course soon, and does so convincingly, both he and his program will be in serious trouble in the Congress—trouble of the Administrator's own making, largely, and trouble that could be avoided.

What this country needs—and what the Congress, I believe, would support overwhelmingly—is a "More For Your Money Program." But this is something the President hasn't even bothered to mention so far this year, let alone propose in any concrete form. Until he does, until he demonstrates a determination to make our tax dollars bring greater results through such means as Executive Branch reorganization, improved administration, better program coordination, and other ways of reducing waste, duplication and inefficiency, then Congress will continue to deal roughly with his recommendations, especially those for new spending and new programs.

Just why the President has refused to face this central fact of life baffles me. He is hemmed in from all sides by heavy demands for funds—to support a vast defense establishment, to pay for a 25-billion dollar a year war in Vietnam, to meet the ever-growing interest charges on our huge national debt, and to apply at least token amounts to the critical needs of our cities and ghetto areas. On the supply side, the President faces an economy on the brink of an uncertain future, a steady increase in the cost of living which both raises the cost of government and dries up available sources of revenue, a crisis in the nation's balance of payments position, and a record high budget deficit this year with prospects of a similar deficit next year.

In the face of this unsettling dilemma—the unceasing demand for more spending; on the one hand, and the need for greater spending restraint, on the other—the President is still relying primarily on his request for a 10 percent surtax, a notably inadequate response to the challenge. In fact, the President has not yet convinced Congress that a tax increase is either necessary or desirable.

Aside from the tax increase, the President has had unfortunately little of major significance to offer—as a way out of his, and the country's grave difficulties. A look at his program as outlined in his three principal messages to Congress is revealing.

The State of the Union message was, by general agreement, a pedestrian and uninspiring document. It contains little evidence of the hard thought, deep analysis, and new ideas which our situation requires. And it included not a single word about streamlining the Federal establishment or introducing new efficiencies into Federal activities.

The President's budget message was, in general, more of the same. Though it paid lip service to the importance of controlling expenditures and establishing priorities, it was not convincing on either count. Without the 10 percent surtax, for instance the budget deficit for the new fiscal year will be at least as high, and probably higher, than the present deficit—20 billion dollars or more—a fact the Administration would like to hide. And its sense of priorities is twisted; to say the least, when it proposes to cut back sharply on education for disadvantaged children and job training for ghetto residents in favor of added spending for projects like the Super-Sonic Transport—a huge government subsidy whose sole purpose is to speed high-fare passengers across the two oceans a few minutes faster.

In his Economic Report, the President again warned of inflation and balance of payments troubles. But to control inflation, he seems able to suggest little more than a tax increase and a toothless appeal to management and labor to cooperate. And his balance-of-payments proposals, as one commentator noted, concentrate on "stopping Aunt Minnie from spending more than five dollars a day in London or Oslo, while ignoring the fact that much of the gold drain is caused by uncontrolled sales of grain to foreign speculators."

Obviously, something more is needed. And that something is a top-to-bottom reevaluation and reorganization of Federal programs and agencies, a tightening-up of slow and clumsy government operations, a strengthening of programs that work, and the elimination of programs that don't.

It can't happen overnight, but if it's done properly it can save billions and provide better service and more realistic help to Americans who need it.

PROFILE—Henry Rogers

By BEA SMITH
Editors of high school newspapers sometimes tend to stray off the major track of the functions of high school newspaper editorials and decide to delve into the patois of controversial world subjects, such as the war in Vietnam, drug addiction problems and politics.

"The major problem of school newspaper editors," says Henry Rogers, Jonathan Dayton Regional High School newspaper advisor (of the Dayton News), "is to keep the editorials to where they will be of most interest to most of the readers...remembering at all times that the school paper is a voice of the school administration."

"If somebody has a personal gripe, I don't feel the school paper is where it should be voiced. It seems," says Rogers, "that some kids are less prone to write about the good things—things they have and should be grateful for."

"THIS IS A COMMON PROBLEM for school paper editors," Rogers says determinedly. "The situation is explained to the students, they will understand a school paper functions to be an organ for everybody in school. Daily and weekly newspapers are full of politics, drug addiction and other such subjects. We should stress school activities instead of world activities."

Rogers explains with patient indulgence, "an advisor is always caught in the middle, because he has to please the school, parents and the rest of the townspeople. And this is not always very easy," he sighs.

The regional schools held their second annual regional journalism workshop conference Feb. 7. Rogers served as host advisor.

Each of the four regional schools was represented by its advisors and editors. The advisor for Berkeley Heights Regional was Mrs. Diane McMullin ("The Highlander"); David Brantley Regional in Kenilworth, Ann Impertico ("Bear Print"); Arthur L. Johnson Regional in Clark, Mary Fogarty ("The Crusader") and of course, Rogers for Jonathan Dayton Regional.

"The conference took place here at Jonathan Dayton," says Rogers. "It entailed getting 10 youngsters of each of the four regional schools who are active on their school paper to attend the conference."

"The purpose was to have workshop meetings to discuss the problems of getting out a good school paper, and there were different meetings of different categories."

"There were meetings for editorial, news, features, layout, sports, business, photography and copy. The meetings were scheduled by students who are past editors or who are active in that area on the school papers."

"THERE WERE NINE meetings in the morning—three or four were going on at the same time," says Rogers. "After the meetings, we got together again and discussed the benefits of the day. Each chairman gave a brief report on his or her chaired meeting."

Rogers says that the Springfield school paper has "about 25 or 30 teen-agers engaged in writing for the paper or who are involved in some capacity."

"We have a Quill and Scroll chapter, to which any junior or senior can aspire after two years of active work on the paper. Some kids who get into it, some have gone to work on college newspapers."

"As newspaper advisor, Rogers explains that his duties for the nine issues a year ("one a month") include "seeing that stories get in on time, chasing the page editors, checking the layout, proof reading it, taking it to the printer.

"The papers cost 20 cents a copy. The last issue was very popular," he says. "I'd like to see more interest on the part of the student body—similar to the interest in the other school activities."

"As soon as one issue is out," he continues, "we have a meeting covering articles of importance for the next issue. We check the school calendar, special events, honors, sports. Then the page editors get the material together. We have to see editors-in-chief who work together. They are Sam Weisman, Judi Zuckerberg and Barbara Miller."

"THE BUSINESS END of the paper is handled by Peter Scocca and his business staff. They take care of all the advertising and distribution of the bills."

Born in Vienna, Austria, Rogers came to the United States in 1938. He served in the U.S. Army for two years, then was graduated from Rutgers University in 1950 with a B.S. degree in education. He received a master's degree from Seton Hall University. "I'm currently still attending Rutgers University for advance graduate work in German."

"I attended the summer institute at Princeton for German in 1962, and in 1966 the Syracuse Seminar on Journalism sponsored by the Newspaper Fund."

"The 42-year-old Rogers, who teaches English, German and sometimes journalism in Dayton Regional, lives in Pluckhmin with his wife, the former Charlotte Huber of Hamburg, Germany. She is an interior decorator. Rogers, who has been at Dayton for five years (this is his second year as newspaper advisor), says that in his spare time he teaches German at the evening division of Rutgers University. "I teach two nights a week."

"I am also very involved now in fixing up my house. And I'm looking forward to the spring to do my gardening."

Springfield Public Library reports

on newest books for local readers

By EVA P. BROWN
The Springfield Public Library lists the following titles among the new books now in circulation:

BIOGRAPHY
"The Cape Cod Years of John Fitzgerald Kennedy," by Leo Damore. A chronicle of an extraordinary segment of American life—Cape Cod and its people. A friendly, entertaining book which explores the years when the Kennedy clan tradition began, with intimate portraits of the Kennedy parents and their children—which show the warmth and closeness of this remarkable family. John F. Kennedy and his family are now a part of the history of Cape Cod, and this book offers a fresh look at the man and the place.

"La Belle Otero," by Arthur H. Lewis. A Spanish dancer, Otero, from an American debut in 1890 until she retired in 1914, probably earned more than any courtesan before or since. Millionaires and royal princes followed in her wake, and Lewis has done a remarkable job in capturing her personality and the magical, glittering era in which she operated. The book is witty and vastly entertaining and is promptly illustrated.

"Animals in Our World," by Jacques Leconte. A book filled with fascinating facts and anecdotes about animal life, bringing into focus the "secret" world that is all around us. The author explores this non-human world seeking to prove that man is not the sole and unique center of the universe.

"FRENCH ACCIDENTS," by Robert R. Lewis. The author studies the fatal year one out of 100.

WAR GAMES FILM

Senator Eugene McCarthy has sounded a warning about the possible use of tactical nuclear weapons in Vietnam. Although there have been official denials that there has been no categorical denial by the State Department or the President that they will be used in the future.

For those who still believe that "limited" wars can prevent the ultimate nuclear confrontation between the great powers, as against patient diplomacy and negotiation, would recommend the highly praised, "The War Games," an Academy Award-winning film recommended by the National Council of Churches.

The film will be shown in Cranford at the Union College Auditorium, Saturday at 8 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults and

Report from Trenton

By State Senator Matthew J. Rinoforo

Many Union County citizens have expressed strong support for my proposal that 30 percent of sales tax revenues be allocated for direct aid to counties and municipalities in order to reduce local property taxes. The importance of making these funds available has been underscored in recent weeks by the sharp increases in budgets proposed by county and local governments and the resultant jumps in property tax rates.

During the campaign for a broad-based tax, it was strongly implied that a statewide levy would provide relief for our beleaguered property-owners. With the exception of 1966, when extraordinary aid was given to municipalities, the fulfillment has fallen far short of the promise.

Since the day I took office I have been working on a bill to ascertain that counties and municipalities receive an adequate share of sales tax revenues. Part of the problem in having

DENTAL HEALTH AND YOU

This is the first in a series of articles on dental health published by this newspaper, and prepared by the Union County Dental Society.

"I am a heavy smoker, and my dentist has warned me that I'm a possible candidate for cancer of the mouth. I am trying to stop smoking, but it's difficult, so I'm cutting down gradually. Is there any way a dentist can tell if a patient has mouth cancer, or should I check with my family physician?"

If your dentist is concerned that you may develop oral cancer he will, of course, perform a thorough examination of your mouth and oral structures. In the past few years, dentists have been using a simple screening test to check for possible cancer at abnormal appearing areas in the mouth. This test is called oral cytology and is similar to the "Pap" test for uterine cancer in women.

If your dentist observes an abnormal area in the mouth, which can yield cells for examination, he may take a relatively painless smear of the area for microscopic study. If the examination finds any suspicious cells—indicative of cancer—he will recommend a biopsy. The biopsy may determine whether or not the lesion is malignant. If it should be cancerous or pre-cancerous, appropriate treatment will be instituted.

Oral cytology is an important procedure in the detection of early cancer and is critical to the prevention of the disease. Oral cancer kills about 7,000 people annually, and about 20,000 new cancers are diagnosed every year. If it can be detected early in its course of development, the chances for complete cure are very high.

CERTAINLY, IN YOUR case, I would recommend that you stop smoking entirely. And, don't make the mistake of substituting a pipe or cigar for cigarettes. Pipes and cigars are considered to be triggering mechanisms in the development of cancer of the tongue and lip. With all the evidence relating cancer of the mouth and lungs to smoking, it is amazing that so many millions of people continue to smoke. While it is a difficult habit to break, it should be broken.

You can help your dentist in the detection of early cancer by examining your mouth for any abnormal areas and having regular dental checkups. Some of the signs to watch for are:

- A sore red spot or ulceration of the lips, tongue or other area in the mouth which persists a week or longer;
- A white scaly area inside the mouth;
- Swelling of the lips, gums, palate, cheek or other areas which may or may not be painful;
- Repeated bleeding in the mouth with no apparent cause.

One of the reasons the death rate from oral cancer is high is because the condition is often painless in its early stages. Thus, a malignant tumor may continue growing in the mouth for a long period of time before it causes discomfort or pain. Oral cancer is often discovered only after it has already spread to other areas. This decreases the chances for survival or, at the least, may lead to radical and disfiguring surgery.

Regular dental checkups, plus vigilance on the patient's part, will greatly help reduce the death and disfigurement rates from oral cancer. As with most dental diseases—decay, gum problem and oral cancer—prevention is the key to good oral health.

Vocal music, art to highlight program for Caldwell PTA

The James Caldwell School PTA, Springfield, will hold a "Founders' Day" on Monday afternoon at 1:45 in the school auditorium. Mrs. Jerome Bongiovanni, Founders' Day chairman, announced that the tea honoring the originators of the national PTA also will pay special recognition to past Caldwell PTA presidents. Former presidents in attendance will be Mrs. Alan R. Cunningham, Mrs. Stanley Kroeger, Mrs. George Kunc and Mrs. John Schuch.

The program will include a musical presentation by the James Caldwell 5th grade chorus under the direction of Elaine Scurtis, vocal music teacher. A short illustrated talk on the cultural arts program initiated by the Caldwell PTA for the school will be given by Mrs. Bernard Weiss, chairman.

A PTA spokesman commented: "The cultural arts program was introduced this year to acquaint the pupils with some of the great masters such as Holbein and Gainsborough. By placing a large reproduction of a famous painting in the classroom, the children are exposed to art. No definite teaching outline is followed, as each teacher uses her own technique to present the background of the painter and the picture. Thus, in constant close association over several days or weeks, the pupils begin to relate to the picture and artist. Through exposure they begin to understand and appreciate the expression of art. "As a sequel to this program for the 1968-69 school year, four paintings have been chosen for each grade level. Small pictures of these selected pictures will be purchased. As each painting is discussed, in the classroom, the child will receive his own copy of the great master. With specific pictures designated for each grade level, a continuity to the program is assured. It is hoped that the collection will be expanded each year to broaden the scope of the program."

Refreshments will be served at Monday's meeting by the hospitality committee, with Mrs. Fred Grosso as chairman. The tea will conclude by 3 p.m. to allow parents to be available when school is dismissed.

Dr. Etrog to speak at first in series

"Prelude to Victory," a lecture-discussion series analyzing the events and personalities which created and are molding the destiny of the Jewish State, will be held on four consecutive Sunday evenings beginning Sunday in Springfield. The announcement was made by Mrs. Marcus C. Nusbaum, president of the New Jersey Region of the Zionist Organization of America (ZOA), a co-sponsor of the series with Temple Beth Ahm and Temple Sharey Shalom of Springfield.

Rabbi Dr. Chaim Etrog who holds five university degrees and formerly lectured at Columbia, McGill and Yeshiva Universities, will be guest lecturer at the first program on Sunday at 8 p.m. at Temple Sharey Shalom, Springfield. In his lecture "The Dream," Dr. Etrog will analyze the roots of Zionism in Jewish history and its influence on the Jewish people. Rabbi Reuben R. Levine, spiritual leader of Temple Beth Ahm will be the moderator.

Dr. Martin Feinstein, Commander Yehudah Benron and Harry Torczyner will be the guest lecturers at the three subsequent Sunday evening programs.

Participating synagogues are: Beth Shalom, Dr. Elvin T. Koso, Union; Bnai Israel, Dr. Max Gruenewald, Millburn; Jewish Community Center of Summit; William Horn, Rabbi; Summit Temple Beth El, Rabbi Sidney Shanken, Cranford; and Temple Israel, Rabbi Gerald Zeltzer, Union.

Subscription series and individual lecture tickets are available through Temple Beth Ahm and Temple Sharey Shalom.

Close contests in Ivy League lead to 3-way tie top place

The Ivy League race in the Recreation Department's youth basketball program was once again thrown into a wide open battle. Last Saturday at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Cornell upset Princeton to create a three-way tie for first place among Princeton, Cornell and Dartmouth. Columbia is only one game away in fourth place. Last Saturday's scores read: Cornell, 13 - Princeton, 12; Yale, 20 - Harvard 16, and Dartmouth, 23 - Columbia, 21.

The Princeton-Cornell contest was the opening game of three played at the high school last Saturday afternoon. The game opened as if Princeton was to make a romp. Cornell, however, led by Bobby Miesel, roared back in the second period to draw within two points. Miesel kept up his steady scoring after the half-time intermission and led the Cornell squad to a 13 to 12 upset over favored Princeton. Bobby finished with a game high of 11 points, as he hit five times from the field and added a single free throw. Ed Cook was the rebounding star for Cornell as he controlled the boards. John Zurkoff, Joe Pepe and Larry Silverstein also played well for the Big Red, as the trio hustled all over the court.

Princeton received scoring from four players in this game. Jimmy Schoch and Mark Weber, each scored four points, while Arnie Blumenthal hit a bucket and Steve Harris hit a pair of free throws.

THE FINAL GAME of the afternoon was a thriller, as it saw Dartmouth come from behind in the final minutes to nip Columbia, 22 to 21. The victory was made possible by the fine pressure foul shooting of Bobby Zucker. Bobby dropped five consecutive free throws at the end of the contest to raise Dartmouth from a 21 to 18 deficit to a 23 to 21 victory. Zucker finished the game with seven points and was high man for Dartmouth.

At Wilbourn also played a fine game for the winners. Al was particularly effective on defense, as he harassed Columbia's high-scoring center, George Robbins, throughout the game. Wilbourn's close guarding forced many Columbia turnovers which led to Dartmouth scores. Kenny Baroff hit five points for Dartmouth, all from the free throw line. Wilbourn also scored five for the Big Green, while Marc Jaffe hit four points and Tommy Lowy scored a bucket.

Barry Pomp had another brilliant shooting game for Columbia. Barry's long-range bombing in the third period put Columbia into a lead that they held until the final minute. Barry was also effective from the free throw line. Barry hit five of six foul shots and was good three times from the floor for a game high of 11 points. George Robbins scored seven points for Columbia. All of George's points came during a third period rally that saw Columbia take the lead in the game. Kenny Merser hit a final period tip-in for Columbia.

IN ANOTHER GAME last week Yale ripped Harvard, 20 to 16, for its second triumph of the season. Yale, noted this season for its evenly distributed scoring, put enough points on the board and then held off Harvard's Vince Davis to gain an important victory. Six players hit the cords for Yale with Howie Feischman leading the way with his best performance of the season. Howie hit six points to lead the team. Howie's two big buckets from the corner in the final period kept Yale on top in this close contest. Warren Schleppner hit four points for Yale and played a strong game. Howie Tenenbaum, Jeff Slater and Mike Sanders each hit three points for Yale, while Perry Koplik was good once from the free throw line.

Vincent Davis, who seems to be getting stronger each week, led both teams in scoring with 11 points. Vince and Bobby Nardone led second-half rally for Harvard, which brought them twice within two points of the winners. Davis controlled the boards in the game and was very effective on driving shots from the key hole. Nardone's scrappy play resulted in steals and buckets for Harvard. Gary Tis hit a field goal and Dickie Colandrea a free throw to conclude the scoring.

Three games will be played at the high school gym this Saturday afternoon, as part of the regular season Ivy League schedule. The opening contest at 1:15 p.m. will pit Yale against Dartmouth. Harvard will play Cornell at 2, while Princeton will meet Columbia in the final game, set for 2:45.

Church to present 'Time for Burning'

A film on race relations, entitled "A Time for Burning," will be shown in the Fellowship hall of Holy Cross Lutheran Church Sunday at 7 p.m.

The film, produced for and shown on television several times in the New York area, is a documentary, recorded as it happened, which shows how one Christian congregation reacted to racial issues. There are no professional actors or prepared script.

According to John Andrus, chairman of Holy Cross' Adult Fellowship, which is sponsoring the presentation, "This film perhaps will shock some people, both in regard to its contents and also that Lutherans dared to produce it about Lutherans as a service to all citizens of any community where it is shown. The public is invited."

Scouts, Explorers take part Tuesday in Citizenship Day

Five Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts represented their units in the annual Springfield Citizenship Day program on Tuesday. This event was conducted by the Union Council, Boy Scouts of America, in cooperation with the Springfield Township Committee.

Arthur Falkin, Township Committeeman, was host to the young men at a special program at the Town Hall at 8 p.m. on Tuesday. Representing the scouting organization in town were Eugene T. Finney, scout committeeman; James M. Cawley, vice-president of Union Council, BSA and Herbert Handschuch, local area committeeman.

The boys elected were: Vincent Burns and James Wellan from Boy Scout Troop 70, First Presbyterian Church; Eugene Schute, Boy Scout Troop 73, St. James Roman Catholic Church; Walter Dlapa, Explorer Post 73, St. James Church, and John Edwards, Explorer Post 70, First Presbyterian Church of Springfield. The boys served as "committees" for the regular Township Committee meeting. Certificates were presented to each boy at the conclusion of the meeting.

Regional ninth graders finish cultures course

Seventy-five members of the ninth grade at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield concluded an unusual course of study in world cultures by visiting the Cloisters and Metropolitan Museum in New York City last week.

Patricia Ketcher, coordinator of the social studies department of the Union County Regional High School District No. 1, said that the world cultures course was introduced into the curriculum last year at Dayton as a team teaching endeavor with two faculty members, David Carl and Mrs. Claire Mason, as cooperating teachers.

The four units covered during the year included: "Economic Development of the Western World," "Political Development of the Western World," "Religions of the World," and "Art Appreciation," which have now been completed. In explaining the "Art Appreciation," unit Carl said, "students are encouraged to express feeling for art and have had experience with different art media (painting, drawing or writing). Examples of student's creative efforts are to be found on the bulletin boards of their classrooms."

The team teachers stressed the fact that the "impulse to create is an integral part of the expression of differing values of a society. Art is affected by cultural diffusion, religious diffusion and geography. It enables students to gain valuable insight into different cultures and areas. A combination of painting, sculpture, architecture and music from primitive to modern times," Mrs. Carl Mathews, Mrs. Warren Danziger and Mrs. John Doran, parents of some of the students, accompanied Carl and the group as chaperones.

Dr. Fidler to address group on diagnostic center proposal

A proposal by the Union County Psychiatric Clinic to establish an expanded diagnostic center for children with perceptual learning problems will be discussed by Dr. Jay W. Fidler, medical director of the clinic at a meeting of the Union County Organization to Aid Children With Learning Disabilities. The meeting will be held next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m., at the YMHA, Green Lane and Magie Avenue, Union.

Dr. Fidler, who was appointed to his present post a year ago, has been in private practice in Plainfield since 1952. He graduated from Rutgers University and the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. In addition, he has served as past president of the New Jersey Group Psychotherapy Association and as a member of the Union County Mental Health Board and the advisory committee for the New Jersey Rehabilitation Commission.

The Union County organization is an association of professionals and parents for the advancement of legislative, educational, medical and recreational programs for neurologically impaired children. The special learning disabilities of this group of handicapped youngsters have only recently come to the attention of doctors and educators.

The public is invited to attend. Additional information may be obtained from the following: Mrs. Ross Carle, 452 Grove St., Westfield; Mrs. Walter Flatto, 1049 Plainfield Avenue, Plainfield; and Mrs. Irving Dickman of 94 Konilworth Blvd., Cranford.

Readiness class at UC

Union College, Cranford, will sponsor a College Readiness Program this summer for recent high school graduates planning to attend college next fall. It was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, Union College dean.

The College Readiness Program will open Wednesday, June 26, and continue daily, Monday through Friday, until Tuesday, July 23.

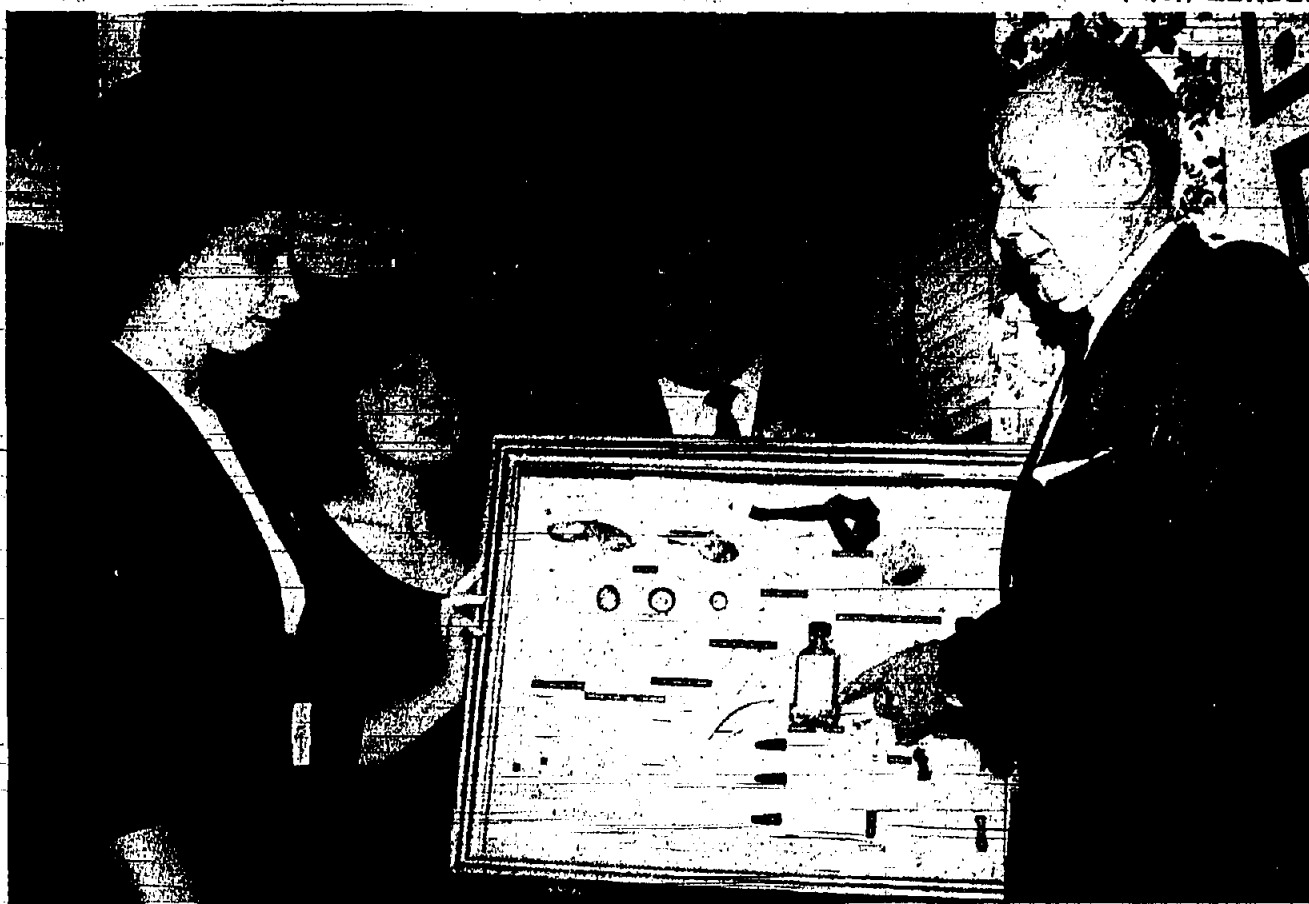

Dr. Iversen said enrollment in the College Readiness Program this year will be limited to 100 students. This will be the seventh consecutive year Union College has sponsored the program, Dr. Iversen said.

The major aim of the College Readiness Program is to reduce the high attrition rate among college students, Dr. Iversen said. He pointed out that nearly half of all the young men and women who enter freshmen classes each year do not complete the four-year program. Dr. Iversen said the program's emphasis is on an orientation to college life plus a quick review of the basic skills of reading, English composition, and problem solving.

"A significant number of freshmen do not make it because they cannot adapt to the college situation—even though they have the intellectual ability to do college work," Dr. Iversen said.

The College Readiness Program carries no college credit and is limited to high school graduates who plan to attend college for the first time in the fall.

HELP FOR ADDICTS — Discussing plans for a series of Union County Home Economics Extension Service-PTA session on drug addiction, are, left to right: Miss Mabel Stolte, county home economist; Mrs. Leonard Tandul; Michael F. Bowen Jr., director of the Union County Narcotics Clinic; and Joseph F. Grall, assistant director.

Narcotics clinic series will begin next Tuesday

The Union County Home Economics Extension Service will hold its next information session on the Union County Narcotics Commission and Clinic next Tuesday from 1:15 to 2:30 p.m. at the Clark Public Library Meeting Room, 303 Westfield Ave., Clark.

The second in series of meetings is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 27.

"A drug addict," according to Michael Bowen, director of the clinic, "is a person who has a physical and mental dependence on drugs and cannot live without daily use of the drugs—generally, heroin. A few days usage is enough to start the habit."

The clinic, formed by the Board of Freeholders and the sheriff's office, is now open and available for free personal consultations. "They (the clinic) are well aware, however, that without you, the parents, understanding and assuming your responsibilities, they are helpless," Bowen said.

BOWEN SAID the habit of drug abuse "leading to addiction, is an important, dangerous and potential problem to all Union County families and their children."

Bowen said youngsters begin using drugs for one of several reasons: (1) their friends use the drugs; (2) just for kicks—it's a new experience and pleasure; (3) a need to feel a sense of importance—they have arrived and have "grown up"; (4) for release and relief from parental, social or business pressures or a feeling of failure.

"Unhappy home life" also has been found to be a primary cause," Bowen said.

"Hiding your use of pills or tranquilizer drugs from your children is not the answer. You can't hide your feelings from your children. Actions will tell."

THE UNION COUNTY Narcotics Commission, Bowen said, cautions parents not to try and play detective. He said there are common physical signs which all parents can easily detect. "And if they are present, go for help to your clergy and the Union County Narcotics Clinic."

He said signs of possibilities of drug abuse include basic physical symptoms such as changes in personality. "New friends and failing grades in school, likewise, go along with drug abuse."

The clinic is located at 43 Rahway Ave., Elizabeth. The clinic also has a citizens aid program offering 24-hour service to drug addicts and their families.

COPO plans meeting

The Union County Chapter of the Catholic One Parent Organization (COPO) will hold its next regular meeting next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at the Westwood Lounge, 438 North Ave., Garwood. Ray Barton of Westfield will provide music for dancing. Refreshments will follow the brief business meeting.

Construction plans announced at NSC for fine arts center

Groundbreaking is expected late this summer for a new building to house the fine arts and humanities at Newark State College. Union John Wesper, coordinator of construction and utilization, announced this week. Completion is scheduled for July, 1970.

The building, which has been in the planning stages for over two years and for which federal and state money has already been appropriated, was given unanimous approval by the college's Board of Trustees at its 17th public meeting. Final authorization of the building was reserved for the board by Chancellor of Higher Education Ralph A. Dungan as part of his policy to grant "as much autonomy as possible to the colleges," Wesper said.

Total cost of the building is estimated at $2,531,109. Of this amount $481,109 has been provided by a federal grant under Title I of the Higher Education and Facilities Act of 1963. The rest was provided by the state legislature under its 1966-67 fiscal appropriations for colleges construction. The architectural firm for all Newark State construction is Scrimenti, Swackhamer and Perantoni of Somerville.

Wesper said that the four-story sculptured building, which features aspects of cantilevered design, "is symbolic of the growth of Newark State into a liberal arts college. It is probably the most flexible building ever constructed on a college campus," he said. "Even the furniture and equipment will be designed for both specified and general use."

A children's theater and a small experimental theater located on the first floor will be adaptable for all forms of theater or lecture or classroom facilities. Of the building's 25 laboratories, classrooms, and studios only three will not be convertible, if necessary, to other uses. The three specialized rooms will be the ceramics and sculpture studios and the kiln room. The building will also contain 34 offices, four lounges and two conference rooms. Studios for staging and display, will permit faculty members to integrate the fine and performing arts. Other studios will be used for textile design, metal work, painting and print-making.

In other action the board approved the college seal and motto, designed in the spring of 1966 by the traditions and procedures committee.

Prediction: people who buy Volkswagen Station Wagons will have it sold in 1968.

For the last 17 years, Volkswagen has been making a big tough, never-say-die station wagon. Which could grind out up to 23 miles on one gallon of gas. And take in over 176 cubic feet of whatever you wanted to carry.

Yet in spite of all that, certain people have been avoiding the VW Station Wagon. There's no need to mention names. You know who you are. And we know why you've been avoiding our wagon. Because driving it was something of a big, tough, never-say-die experience. The fact is, our wagon lacked luxury.

Okay, all you people. Get ready for a surprise. We have taken the VW Station Wagon and padded the stuffing out of it. We've put extra padding on the armrests, the dash, the front of the ashtray, even the window crank knobs. And if our wagon can't exactly be called a bed of roses even now, it can at least be called a seat of them. (We went somewhat crazy with padding in that particular area.)

Then we put in 6 ventilation ducts all over. (You'll be able to give yourself airs if you own a new VW wagon.)

We also added a whole new suspension system underneath. It'll be easy come, easy go, all the way.

And with all of that, the new bus for softies still has the old bus' hardy virtues.

So 1968 should be a good year for all you people who love your comfort. You've been going without the Volkswagen Station Wagon's wonderful gas mileage and storage capacity for a long time.

But you don't have to deny yourselves anymore.

Did you ever think of ads as guardians of your individuality? They are, you know.

In a time when the edges are being eaten off our personalities and we're all being reduced to card-index numbers, we need to hang on to some things.

Like our freedom of choice. And that choice is yours only so long as competition and free enterprise and advertising are working for you. Guard them. For they stand between you and a dull and standardized life.

Pediatricians remind parents about driving responsibilities

Millions of automobile drivers will receive safe driving reminders this year in a cooperative effort of the New Jersey Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics, the State Department of Health, the Division of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Law and Public Safety and the New Jersey Turnpike and Garden State Parkway.

The accident prevention committee of the American Academy of Pediatrics has prepared the reminder, a one-page statement called "Safe Driving—a parental responsibility." The State Department of Health paid for printing 4,000,000 of them. They will be distributed at motor vehicle inspection stations and at toll booths, restaurants, and gas stations of the Turnpike and Parkway.

Amory to discuss TV at Fairleigh conference

Cleveland Amory will address an intercollegiate conference of "Mass Communications: The Fifth Dimension," to be held tomorrow and Saturday at the Florham-Madison Campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University. Amory's topic will be "TV—The Medium Medium."

A widely published writer Amory is a columnist for the Saturday Review and This Week, book editor for Cosmopolitan, and weekly critic for TV Guide. He is a commentator for NBC and CBS and has appeared on the Merv Griffin Show.

Station Breaks

By MILT HAMMER

TURNABLE TREATS (good listening) — HERB ALPERT'S NINTH, by Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass. Herb has come up with a real ear-pleaser in this, his latest LP on the A & M RECORDS label. (SP-4134). Selections include: "A Banda," "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," "The Trolley Song," "The Happening," "Bud," "Love So Fine," "The Love Nest," "With A Little Help From My Friends," "Fla Fla," "Cowboys And Indians," and "Carmen." Incidentally, "The Boat of the Brass" starring Herb and the boys will air on CBS-TV, April 22. MISTY ROSES: by The Sandpipers. The ten vocal "goodies" in this album include: "Guando Sal De Cuba," "And I Love Her," "Fly Me To The Moon," "Saranga Song," "The Highway Blues," "The title number "Misty-Roses," "Today," "I Believed It All," "Daydream" and "Wooden Heart." (A & M RECORDS SP-4135).

Also on the A & M RECORDS label, POWL PLAY: by Julius Wechter and The Baja Marimba Band (SP-4136). Eleven good sounding instrumental selections which include: the title number "Powl Play," "Summer Samba," "Yellow Days," "Sounds of Silence," "Fiddler On The Roof," "Along Comes Mary," "She's Leaving Home," "Baja Humberg," "Rhode Island Red" and (from the flick "Casino Royale") "The Look of Love"....

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy: To be told to do what should be asked of me is irritating. Being pushed into believing an insanity which should be worked up as a fervor is unreasonable. To be forced to do what should come freely from the heart is an injustice. Seeing people who are trained to be intelligent rise to the heights of stupidity is troubling. Especially to think that those who have stood up against fanaticism are the fanatics. To see the money which I worked hard for given to thieves, given to them for being worthless and immoral is truly heartbreaking.

The only reasonable thing left is to go. I will not go fanatically or with unreasonableness, but calmly, with weeping and looking back because I cannot be worked up into a fervor, and I shall not be forced.

Dear Anon: Don't despair! Don't go! There is so much you can do to rectify the irritants, injustices, troubles and heartbreaks you speak of. Roll up your sleeves and gain fresh strength for the battle.

Dear Amy: Please tell me where you get the information that the bride's parents pay the entire cost of the wedding party including beverages.

The girls I work with have a different view of this and they quote Emily Post. I feel common sense is to look at it this way: With an invitation to any dinner, one is not expected to pay for the drinks.

Thank you.

Dear L. E.: When a young lady is to be married, her parents are to assume the cost of the reception including beverages. There are other costs connected with the wedding that they are also to assume as there are costs that are assumed by the groom. I will not go into that now since your concern seems to be mainly the wedding party and beverages.

My final authority on etiquette is Amy Vanderbilt. She is world renowned and is etiquette advisor to the White House.

Dear Amy: I was 10 when mom died. Dad's relatives took us under their wing. We saw them often. They always called to see how we were, came to see me in school plays and never forgot a birthday. Without their kindness and understanding I couldn't have pulled through. We loved mom dearly, but mom's side didn't have time for us — or for mom when she was alive.

I'm married now and own a second home — a cabin in the hills. Now when we do see mom's family (which is very seldom), they constantly hint about an invitation for a vacation at the cabin and throw up to us that we only invite dad's side of the family.

Now they want to come some time this winter while the snow is on the ground because there is skiing and tobogganing nearby.

We don't feel that close to them and don't want them to come. I'm tired of making excuses and don't know how to say "No" without hurting their feelings.

A Faithful Reader

Dear Reader: If mom's side of the family hasn't got the picture as yet, then you will have to clear the air and be blunt about it. Since they have never considered your feelings, nor those of your dad's, in the past, why be concerned about their feelings now!

Slate jazz concert at Rutgers center

The Gary Burton Quartet will present a jazz concert next Wednesday, 8 p.m., at the Campus Center of Rutgers in Newark, 350 High St. The program is sponsored by Rutgers' Institute of Jazz Studies and the Carnegie Hall Corporation. Admission is free.

The quartet includes Burton on vibraphone, Larry Coryell on guitar, Steve Swallow on bass and Bob Moses on drums. The four, some all 24 years old, have drawn high critical acclaim, and their role in jazz in the sixties has been compared to that played by Dizzy Gillespie, Miles Davis and Willie (The Lion) Smith in their respective decades.

Burton, who has been playing since he was six, was involved in country music before he discovered jazz about nine years ago and began studying at the Berkley School of Music in Boston. Coryell has been drawn to the Indian music of Ravi Shankar and played with a rock and roll group before joining Burton.

FAMILY POT LUCK

BY HELEN HALE

Thrifty buys in meat cuts include pot roasts, stew meat, and ground meat. Such cuts not only help to trim the food bills, but also give variety to family meals.

Long, slow cooking and just-right seasonings are important for stews and pot roasts.

Here's a quick treat: graham crackers on baking sheet, sprinkled with chocolate, butterscotch or caramel flavor chips, topped with half a marshmallow, cut side down. Heat in oven at 350 degrees for about five minutes. Top cracker with another one and serve as sandwich.

How about some chili sardines? Add 2 tablespoons of mayonnaise to contents of 1 (3 3/4 oz.) can of Norway sardines. Mash and mix thoroughly. Serve on toast fingers. Decorate with a dash of chili sauce or tomato catsup.

Helen's Favorite:
Apple, Bacon Baked Beans. (Serves 4-6)
2 cans baked beans
1 apple, grated
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1 2-inch piece salt pork

Based on the success of Jerry Butler's single "Disc, Mr. Dream Merchant," MERCURY RECORDS has used the same title for a just released LP album by Jerry. Listen to this talented young vocalist in the numbers: "The Way I Love You," "Mr. Dee Jay," "I Come To You," "When A Woman Loves A Man," "Alfie," "his up and coming "Lost," "Beside You," "To Make A Big Man Cry," "100-Lbs. Of Clay," "Yesterday" and of course "Mr. Dream Merchant." (SR-61146).

FRIDAY DEADLINE
All items other than spot news should be in our office by noon on Friday.

4 slices, bacon, cooked
Pour contents from one can of beans in bean pot or baking dish. Sprinkle with half the grated apple, and half the butter and brown sugar. Repeat this process with remaining beans, bury salt pork in bean mixture and top with crumbled bacon. Bake in a moderate (350 degree F.) oven for 30 minutes.

Rinaldo for study of lottery proposal

State Sen. Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union said last week he would not oppose a resolution calling for a referendum on the question of a state lottery.

Before any lottery is adopted, he said, a "thorough study should be made to determine the amount of revenue it would realistically raise, its stability as a source of income for the state, and any effects it may have on the economy of the state."

Rinaldo also said he has serious doubts about the wisdom of relying on a lottery to finance the operations of state government. He said his "misgivings" are tempered by my steadfast and strong opposition to the imposition of any new taxes on an already over-taxed citizenry.

LBJ wins Union College straw vote

Students at Union College, Cranford, think President Lyndon Johnson will be reelected in November.

In a poll conducted by the Social Sciences Department, President Johnson "received 52 percent of all the votes cast, topping seven other candidates. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York was second with 17 percent. Trailing them in order were: former Vice President Richard M. Nixon with 16 percent, Gov. George Romney of Michigan with eight percent, Sen. Robert Kennedy of New York with five percent, and Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Wisconsin and former Governor George Wallace of Alabama with one percent each.

Fifty-four percent of the students said they favor President Johnson's Vietnam policies, while 46 percent opposed them. They said "crime in the streets" was the most important domestic issue followed by integration, expansion of government regulation, and full employment.

The poll showed that 35 percent of the students consider themselves Democrats, 32 percent consider themselves Republicans, and 33 percent consider themselves independents.

THOSE WHO CONSIDER themselves Republicans favor Vice President Nixon as their party's presidential nominee. He received 41 percent of the total Republican vote. Trailing him were: Gov. Rockefeller, 33 percent; Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, 16 percent; and Gov. Romney, 10 percent.

Students who consider themselves Democrats favor President Johnson as their party's nominee. He received 50 percent of the votes. Trailing him were: Sen. Kennedy, 35 percent; Sen. McCarthy, eight percent, and Gov. Wallace, seven percent.

Republican students favored President Johnson as the Democratic presidential nominee, while Democrats favored Gov. Rockefeller as the Republican nominee.

Evening Session students indicated a Republican preference, while the Day Session students tended to be more independent. Thirty-six percent of the Evening Session students said they consider themselves Republicans, 34 percent Democrats, and 30 percent independents. Forty-one percent of the Day Session students, on the other hand, consider themselves independents, 34 percent Democrats, and 24 percent Republicans.

About 70 percent of Union College's 1,500 students are residents of Union County, which has three Republican State Senators, five Republican and two Democratic Assemblymen, and six Republicans and three Democratic freeholders. Union County is considered a swing county politically.

Farms Junior women to enter Federation Community contest

The Junior Woman's Club of Connecticut Farms, Union, is preparing a duplicate entry in the General Federation of Women's Clubs—Shell Oil contest and the Community Improvement program sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

The report concerns the Pre-School Art Workshop and the Union Township Library Story Hour which the Junior Woman's Club of Connecticut Farms has been assisting.

The Pre-School Art Workshop, sponsored by the Union Township Recreation Department, and assisted by the Junior Woman's Club, is held on Monday mornings at the Recreation Center, and the Story Hour, originated by the Juniors in cooperation with the Union Township Library, is held on Tuesday mornings.

The literature and education department chairman, Mrs. Joseph Fitzgerald and the art department chairman, Mrs. Anthony Iorio, have been participating in preparing the report.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Sears-Roebuck Foundation have been working since 1955 to encourage Federated Women's Clubs throughout the nation to join with other organizations and peoples within their communities, in cooperative efforts, to analyze and solve the problems of the communities. These programs are continued over a two-year period, and the local club's working in the second half of the 1966-67 program. It was announced that any General Federation Woman's Club conducting a program which aids young people of its community to further their education is eligible to enter the General Federation of Women's Clubs—Shell Oil Company education program. The Shell Oil Company entry covers an education program conducted between Feb. 15, 1966 and Feb. 15, 1967. Cash prizes amounting to $55,000 will be available to clubs throughout the nation. This year's topic is "Built with youth for a better world."

The Juniors held their monthly meeting Friday at 8 p.m. at the McMahon Realty Co., Morris avenue, Union, Mrs. Kenneth Rogers, president, presided.

Mrs. Albert Fresolone, second vice-president and program chairman, introduced speaker, Dr. Alan N. Kleidermann of Linden, Dr. Kleidermann, a member of the American Heart Association and Union County Heart Association, presented a film entitled "Better Odds for a Longer Life." Dr. Kleidermann is on the staff of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Elizabeth, Elizabeth General Hospital and Memorial General Hospital, Union.

Millburn movie 'The Graduate' is excellent fare

"The Graduate" is an unusually well-produced film epitomizing the lost, searching youth today's upper-middle-class society, who is as uncertain of his future as he is of his around-the-corner step into the adult responsible world. Laden with his uncertainties, beset by his awkward handling of a love affair with an older woman, the youth finds himself on a whirling, swirling merry-go-round.

The youth in this picture, currently on the Millburn Cinema screen, is Dustin Hoffman, who, because of his lack of acting experience gives a simple authenticity to his role. The actors in this story about a young man who is seduced by his father's partner's seductive wife, and who, in turn, ironically falls in love with her daughter, are excellent under the superb direction of Mike Nichols. Anne Bancroft, as the older woman, is most memorable, as she runs through her role with an ease and smoothness affected only by the highest professional actresses. Katharine Ross, as Miss Bancroft's daughter (who, incidentally, bears an amazing resemblance to Miss Bancroft), shows promise of great things to come.

The background music, offered to presently the young crowd, does not take a bit away from the time, but the actors, the story, the unusual direction, and the fine color tend to make up for the minor flaw.

"The Graduate" at the Millburn Cinema is attracting numerous crowds, and the long lines during its opening week, remind a viewer of the lines at Radio City Music Hall — even when the pictures weren't half as good as "The Graduate."

'Ulysses' held over; 'Man, Woman' next

The film version of James Joyce's "Ulysses" started its fifth week yesterday at the Art theater, Irvington Center.

The management has announced that the Art's next attraction will be "A Man and A Woman," Grand Prix winner at the Cannes Film Festival, which will open Wednesday.

The picture, filmed in color, Sepia and black and white, tells a love story about a deepening romance between a widow and a racing car driver; Anouk Aimée and Jean-Louis Trintignant star. The picture was directed by Claude Lelouch.

The prize-winning featurette, "Time Piece," will round out the bill at the Art.

Ormont features double movie bill

"Ski on the Wild Side," Warren Miller's first major motion picture on skiing, which took him 1,500,000 miles around the world, opened yesterday at the Ormont Theater, East Orange. The associate film is Roman Polanski's "Cul-De-Sac," which won a Best Film award at the Berlin International Film Festival and the Critic's Award at the Venice Film Festival. "Ski on the Wild Side," produced, directed and narrated by champion skier, Miller, the picture features such skiing champs as Canada's Nancy Greene and France's Jean Claude Killy. Highlighted in the film is the World Series of Skiing at Vail, Col. and Jackson Hole, Wyo.

"Cul-De-Sac," which was photographed in England, centers around an off-beat couple, held prisoners in their own castle by a pair of colorful gangsters. The picture stars Donald Pleasence, Francoise Dorleac and Lionel Stander.

Group to hold benefit for Deborah Hospital

Betty Chodakowsky Memorial of Deborah will sponsor a dessert card party at Sinai Congregation, 1531 Maple ave., Hillside, on Thursday, Feb. 22, at 8 P.M. All proceeds will go to Deborah Hospital, Brown Mills, a non-sectarian hospital for tuberculosis, heart surgery and all diseases of the chest, a spokesman said.

'Finian's Rainbow' is a lively vehicle for Carmel Quinn

You don't have to be Irish to enjoy "Finian's Rainbow." But it's all the more fun if you are, and it's particularly pleasing to feast one's eye on a red-haired, green-eyed Colleen, who not only looks and sounds as if she comes from Ireland, but who actually is a native of that country. That lass is Carmel Quinn, and she brings a 11 1/2 bit of Ireland with her in a role, natural to her—the role of Sharon McLonergan on the Meadowbrook stage.

The Meadowbrook's production of the B.Y. (Hurlberg-Fred Saily) musical story about the McLonergans (father and daughter) who bring a pot of gold (and three wishes) to Rainbow Valley, Missouri, highlights such well-known tunes as "How Are Things in Glocca Morra," "Old Devil Moon" and "The Degat."

Jim Hawthorne, handsome in his role of Woody Mahoney, has a fine voice which complements that of Miss Quinn's. The cast is effective, particularly Sarah Jane Smith, Donald Burr, Richard Kenter and Phyllis Nash. Larue Watts is a funny man, and funnier still in the role of Og, Tod Jackson directed and staged "Finian's Rainbow."

Bellevue's 'Camelot' is lavish film

"Camelot," the large-scale musical production, which is currently sweeping across the wide screen of the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair, continues to ring with its clash and clamor—its music and glamour and its mixed emotion and devotion, even after a patron leaves the theater.

The Lerner and Loewe motion picture version of their long-running Broadway production, has scope and color and an excellent performance by its star, Richard Harris, who portrays King Arthur. Harris, who is no singer, gives to "Camelot" what Rex Harrison gave to "My Fair Lady," and he is nearly as effective. Also, of all the actors in the film, including Vanessa Redgrave, Lionel Jeffries and Laurence Naughton, Harris seems to be the only one who appears to have read and studied "The Once and Future King," by T. H. White, upon which, "Camelot" is based, and acts accordingly. He is superb as the bumbling, uncertain, peace-loving king.

Miss Redgrave, as Queen Guenevere, is stately and looks her royal best, but then Guenevere was much more than that. And because of Miss Redgrave's one-dimensioned portrayal, she falls short of her goal.

THE PICTURE, IN SPITE of all it has to offer, in action and love, in thought and idealism, is rather stilted, and the fault must go to the director, Joshua Logan, who is primarily a stage director, handles the film as if it were a production confined to the limitations of the stage. Franco Nero, an Italian actor, seems to be the most unlikely person to portray the deep feeling Sir Lancelot, who has an affair with the Queen, under the eyes of the tortured Arthur. And David Hemmings as Mordred, the King's illegitimate son by his half sister, is equally miscast.

The music, however, is beautifully presented, and such tunes as "Camelot," "How to Handle a Woman," "What Do the Simple Folk Do," add credence to the musical version of "The Once and Future King"—that is, "Camelot."

Prospective members are invited to contact Mrs. Charles Griffith, 16 Mary Elwell Dr., Edison.

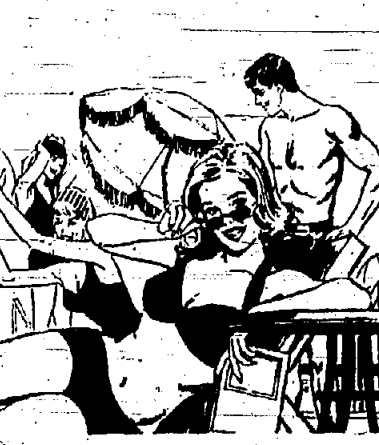

He will discuss Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," which will be the final offering of the season on April 19 and 20 at Westfield High School.

Freshman quintet beats all foes for perfect year

By MYRON MEISEL

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School freshman basketball squad has done what no other team has ever done in the history of the school. It finished the season with a perfect record. The frosh won 16 games this year and lost none, for a superlative first season for the team.

"They are a fine bunch of athletes," commented Piccolo. "They always played at the peak of their abilities and never quit, even when they were down."

"The boys developed a lot this year, including a strong man-to-man defense. We had the advantages of height (most of the starting unit was six feet or taller), great depth and a will to win."

Piccolo commented on the leading players, "Bob Janukowicz and Ed Graessele were our most consistent scorers, while Marc Hollander and Jay Silverman served as our ball-handlers, and Alan Schlanger was a valuable man on both scoring and rebounding."

"Scott Frussing, a strong defensive man, filled in for Silverman during illness. David Minzman substituted strongly for both Janukowicz and Graessele, and Mitch Wolf came off the bench in the Hillside game to win the contest with strong rebounding and scoring in crucial situations. The entire team provided strong support throughout the season."

The squad clinched its perfect record last Friday afternoon with a 44-27 victory over Governor Livingston Regional High School of Berkeley Heights.

But not every game was so clear-cut as the final one. Against Hillside Ave. School of Cranford, the frosh were down, 35-28, at the half but a switch to a zone-press defense in the second half enabled them to squeak out a 57-54 triumph. The baby Bulldogs faced another tough one against Burnet Junior High of Union, where Burnet's three-two zone stopped the Dayton attack for the first half. Janukowicz pulled out the victory in the last 30 seconds by connecting with two foul shots in a one-and-one situation for a final score of 46-44.

The greatest cliffhanger of the season, however, was the contest with Soehl Junior High School of Linden, which trounced Dayton 18-4 in the first quarter. The Bulldogs never quit, and finally managed to win decisively, 54-48.

Other scores of the freshman games: Kawanowicz of Union, 61-41; McManus of Union; Linden, 61-42; Terrell Road, Scotch Plains, 63-65; Arthur L. Johnson of Clark, 60-39; Park Ave., Scotch Plains, 78-73; Orange Ave., Cranford, 65-47; McManus, 78-61; Rahway, 44-30; Hillside, 60-57.

Piccolo, the varsity soccer coach, this year served his first season as frosh basketball coach. Piccolo stated, "I would like to thank both head coach Ray Yanchus and JV coach Mike Iannelli for their assistance. As for the future, I can't predict anything but I certainly hope our success continues."

Falcons, Tigers maintain deadlock in Friday bowling

The two top teams in the Friday Afternoon Boys' Bowling League, the Falcons and the Tigers, remained tied last week as each split its match. The boys roll each week at the Springfield Bowl. The league is sponsored by the Recreation Department.

The Falcons squeezed out their second game with the Chiefs to earn the split. A top effort by Tommy Falcone in the second game gained the tie for the Falcons. Tommy, with a 227 series, and Gary Weiner, with a 229 series, were the leading Falcons. Gary Neifeld, the league's top bowler, was once again the most effective bowler on the lanes. Gary led the Chiefs with a 325 series. Gary's first game effort of 195 was the highest game rolled in the league this season.

The Tigers ran into a buzz-saw in Tommy Lowy of the Rangers and were fortunate to get away with a split. Tommy, rolling at the top of his game, turned in a 321 series as he posted games of 139 and 182. Barry Flunk was the top bowler for the Tigers. Barry had a 256 series.

The Chargers and the Royals split a high-scoring match last week. Jamie Farber of the Chargers led all bowlers in the match as he posted a 268 series. Perry Koplik was high man for the Royals with a 266 series. Arnie Blumenfeld was also effective for the Royals with a 258 series.

The final match of the day saw the Hawks move into a third-place tie as they raised their season average to the .500 mark, with a two game sweep over the Warriors. Jeff Davis led the attack for the Hawks, who are moving their team average up each week. Jeff rolled a 238 series. Gene Davis also rolled well for the Hawks. Larry Wyman was the top bowler last Friday for the Warriors.

Gary Neifeld's top series last week enabled him to move his league leading average to the .44 level. Tommy Lowy, the second-place bowler, also moved his average up with a top performance. Tommy is now rolling at a 136 pace. Roy Greenberg is third with a 131 average. Steve Harris at 122 holds a slim lead over Perry Koplik, who is fifth. The remaining boys in the top 10 are Arnie Blumenfeld, 121; Mike Levine, 119; Mark Berkowitz, 116; Jamie Farber, 116; and Barry Flunk, 114.

Billikens take 6th to remain unbeaten in small-fry action

The Billikens continue to roll in the Caldwell Small-Fry Basketball League. Last Saturday afternoon the Billikens won their sixth game in as many starts to remain at the top of the loop. The Billikens seem headed for final game show-down with a strong Piston team, which won its fifth game against a single set back last week. The Pistons and the Billikens will meet a week from Saturday in the final game of the regular season in Small-Fry League play.

The Billikens moved past the Bulls last week by an 18-10 count. A strong third period by the Bills enabled them to score a victory over a strong Bull team. The teams played on even terms through the other three periods of the contest. Mitch Buffington and Ken Mercant led the Billikens, as each boy defied the cords for six points. Steve Clarke, Jim Carapano and Mitch Kotler each scored two points in the well-balanced Billiken attack. Joey Knowles paced the Bulls. Joey scored four points and was particularly effective as a ball handler. In this game, Joey's sharp play kept the Bulls close throughout the game. Greenbaum also scored four points for the Bulls, while Tom Ehrhart hit a bucket.

The Pistons, proving to be stronger as the weeks go by, ripped a strong, defensive-minded Aggie team last Saturday by a 17-10 score. Six players scored for the Pistons, who are preparing for a big end-of-season show-down with the first-place Billikens. The Pistons are in sole possession of second place. Vin Mirabelli, Teddy Johnson and Gregg Prussing paced the Piston victory last week with four points each. Steve Pepe and Joe DelMaurio also played big parts in the triumph. Steye hit on two free throws in the early going, while Joe hit a bucket in the final period to insure the victory. Bobby Pleschman, with six points, was high man in the game and led the Aggie attack. Buckets by Pat Prets and Dave Dello filled out the scoring column for the Aggies.

THE CELTICS put on a strong performance last week to breeze past the Knicks, 21 to 12. Mark Cooper went on a first-period scoring spree to put the game away early for the Celts. Mark tallied all of his game high of 10 points in the early going, as he netted five field goals in the first period. Bruce Blumenfeld took over thereafter for the Celts. Bruce hit for nine points and played a top floor game. Phil Zisman hit the final two-point shot for the winners in the fourth period. Billy Phillips led the Knicks with six points, and played another strong game. Dave Garner with four points on a pair of buckets and Neal Lester with two points were the other point-makers for the Knicks.

Another small-fry contest last week at the Caldwell School saw the Lakers win their first game of the season, as they knocked off the winless Nationals by a 10 to 2 score. Tommy Ronco led the Lakers to victory with four points. Tommy was also effective as a floor leader for the Lakers' team. Jeff Melroy also tallied four points for the Lakers, while John Kashless hit a single bucket in a third period. Eric Bromer provided what offense the Nats could muster. Eric hit on a first-period bucket, as the team drew the whitewash the rest of the game.

Next Saturday's feature contest will see the Pistons encountering a strong Bull team in a 240 p.m. game. The Pistons must gain a victory over the tough Bulls to keep their regular season championship hopes alive. The Nats will face the high-scoring Celtics in the opening game at 1:20. The first-place Billikens will meet the Lakers at 2, while the afternoon will conclude with the Knicks meeting the Aggies at 3:20.

Minutemen top Nutley for season's 1st victory

The Springfield Minutemen chalked up their first victory of the 1968 season last Saturday evening at the Florence Gaudineer School, as they defeated a squad of eighth-grade boys representing the Nutley Recreation Department. The final score in this game was Springfield, 45 - Nutley, 36. The victory snapped a losing streak of eight straight setbacks suffered by the Springfield boys. The latest setback prior to the team's initial victory came in Linden last Wednesday evening, when the PAL team turned back the Minutemen, 68 to 28.

The Springfield team put together its finest effort last Saturday as it turned back Nutley. The Minutemen received a solid effort from its first five, as well as many good moments from the reserves to bring forth their first victory. The starting quintet in this game was made up of Jim Schoch, Bobby Zucker, Barry Pomp, Ed Cook and George Robbins. Vince Davis and Al Wilbourn gave the Minutemen valuable help up front, while Howie Tenbaum helped in the back court.

The Minutemen opened fast in this game, taking a 12 to 6 lead after the first period. The teams played on even terms throughout the middle periods, only to see Springfield spur in the final session to take the victory going away. Jim Schoch, the Minuteman captain, played his top game of the season. Jim led the team in most departments and hit his season-high of 16 points. Jim scored half his total points in the final period, when the Springfield squad moved to victory.

Ed Cook, with heavy rebounding, was a terror off the boards in the first half. Ed's rebounding gave the Minutemen control of the boards. Ed grabbed 10 rebounds in the first half before foul trouble sent him to the bench. Ed had a game high of 14 rebounds and four-point game. Bobby Zucker played well in the back court for Springfield. Bobby was effective on defense, was a top playmaker and clipped in with four points. Barry Pomp hit five points for Springfield and also gave a solid performance.

George Robbins played a fine second-half for Springfield. George netted 12 rebounds in the game and tallied eight points. George hit a pair of clutch shots in the final rally to the wire. Vincent Davis played a big role in the victory. Big Vin came off the bench when he tallied three points and helped the Minutemen control the boards with eight rebounds. Al Wilbourn, also in a reserve role, played a top defensive game.

Nutley showed Springfield a fine back court performer in Vern Shepard. Vern was all over the court for Nutley. He led the team with 16 points and was general of the Nutley offense.

PRIOR TO GETTING their first victory of the season over Nutley, the Minutemen traveled to Linden's McManus Junior High to take on the Linden PAL. The Linden team topped the visiting Minutemen 68 to 28. The Minutemen played by far their poorest game of the season, as they could not get untracked on the Linden court. The strong Linden squad scored heavily in each period to roll over the Minutemen.

A bright spot for the Minutemen in this game was the development of two of their top reserves. Both Vince Davis and Al Wilbourn, who will be counted on next season, came into their own in this contest.

Vince and Al came off the bench to provide what spark the Springfield boys could find against Linden. Vince led all Springfield scorers with seven points. Vin also led in rebounding. Al came off the bench in the second half and contributed five points. The two boys, who will make up the Springfield front court in the 1969 season, will be counted on more this season on the strength of their performance last Wednesday at Linden.

Tommy Lowy, another seventh grader, also played well in the tough Linden game; Tommy played a hustling game and tossed in three points. John Zurkoff, a sixth grader, also played well for Springfield in a brief appearance. John hit a two-point shot for the Springfield team.

The Recreation Department announced last week that the Minutemen had filled out their 1968 schedule. The Springfield team will play every Wednesday and Saturday at the Gaudineer School through the middle of March. The starting time for Wednesday games will be 7:15 p.m., while the Saturday contests will start at 7:30 p.m.

Hurricanes, Rockets divide matches, stay tied for lead

The Hurricanes and Rockets remained deadlocked at the top of the standings after play last week in the Thursday Afternoon Boys' Bowling League. The two first place squads split their matches last Thursday to keep the status quo. The Hornets, in third place, also kept pace by winning one of two games. The boys roll at the Springfield Bowl each week in this Recreation Department league.

The Hurricanes and the Bombers divided a pair of games in a feature match last week. Stuart Liebeskind of the Hurricanes paced both teams in the match. Stu rolled a 288 series. Stu's second-game effort of 188 earned the split for the Hurricanes. Hal Wasserman was the top bowler for the Bombers. Hal, reaching also his 1968 peak, rolled a good 245 series. Ronnie Silverman and Leon Margules also rolled well for the Bombers. Ronnie posted a 245 series, while Leon had a two-game total of 241.

The Rockets protected their portion of first place by splitting a match with the Raiders. After being trounced in the first game, the Rockets rebounded for a victory. Bob Nardone's top effort earned the split for the Rockets. Bob had a 250 series, with a second-game effort of 154. Danny Kotovsky was the top bowler for the Rockets with a 261 series performance. Steve Slips was the pace-setter in the Raiders' line-up. Steve turned in a top performance with a 313 series. Steve rolled games of 168 and 145. Richard Lan also rolled well for the Raiders. Richard rolled a 287 series.

The Hornets remained in second place with a split of two games with the Bulls. Marc Jaffe and Kenny Perlmuter were the top bowlers for the Hornets. Kemy had a two-game total of 275, while Marc rolled a 273 series. Steve Sklar and Bobby Fox of the Bulls, however, were the top bowlers in the two-game match. Steve led all bowlers on the day, as he rolled a 316 series. Steve posted games of 140 and 176. Bobby Fox was also hot for the Bulls with a 288 series.

The Atons dashed the hopes of the Jets, as they swept two games from the Jets team. Gil Gleim led a trio of Atom bowlers, who rolled well to send the Jets down to a pair of losses. Gil rolled a 284 series. Steve Zwilman with a 270 series and George Robbins with a two-game total of 276 were the other top performers for the Atons. Alan Lipton and Frank Geiger led the Jets. Alan rolled a 238 series, while Frank was high over his average with a 231 series.

Stuart Liebeskind with a 142-season average continues to pace all the league's bowlers. Bobby Goodman with a 136 average is second while Howie Levine is in third place with a 135 average. George Robbins is fourth with

Cranford edges Regional team in overtime contest

By MYRON MEISEL

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team closed its regularly-scheduled season last Friday evening with a narrow 60-58 loss in overtime to Cranford High School. The final Bulldog cage record is 9-10. The team will now compete in the Union County and state tournaments.

Dayton made a strong showing for most of the game, making the most of its superior speed. Bulldog ball-handling was a little sloppy, but Cranford shooters were unusually cold. The game was extremely tight throughout the first half, with the Cranford Cougars leading most of the way by a slim margin. Cranford was "up, 28-27, at the half-time buzzer."

Dayton had many opportunities to catch up in the third quarter but failed to capitalize on any of them, and the Cougars managed to extend their lead slightly to 44-39 at the end of the quarter.

Then in the fourth quarter, the Bulldog offense exploded in a continuous series of successful fast breaks. In the opening minute the Bulldogs pulled up to within one point of the Cougars. Cranford regained its lead, marking up a 49-43 advantage. But Dayton, piloted by guard Richie Campbell, eliminated the deficit quickly to again trail by a point, 50-49. A Cougar offensive foul gave the ball to Dayton forward Cliff York who drove the distance to put Springfield in the lead for the first time with three minutes remaining, drawing and sinking the foul shot. A Dayton freeze proved unsuccessful, however, as Cranford twice stole the ball to regain a two-point margin of 54-52. With a half-minute remaining, York drove full-court to make the layup and tie the game at 54 - all.

Dayton, carrying over its momentum from the final quarter, dominated the first part of the three-minute overtime. Campbell, fouled while shooting, made both foul shots. Soon after Campbell eluded four Cougar defenders to feed York for another two points and a 58-54 margin.

But foul trouble undid the Bulldogs. Campbell fouled out with 1:20 remaining. Dayton then fouled the Cougars twice, once for a one-and-one situation and another time for two shots, and the Cougars sank all four, the latter two with three seconds remaining. Cranford also connected from the floor for the tying bucket.

Bulldogs muzzled in county tourney; JV scores upset

Roselle Catholic out-shot, out-rebounded and generally out-classed Jonathan Dayton Regional High School's basketball team Tuesday night on the way to a 71-44 victory in a first-round game of the Union County Tournament. The contest was held at Arthur Johnson Regional High School, Clark.

The teams appeared balanced through the first period which ended with Springfield leading 17-15. The game remained relatively close through the second period and the half ended with Roselle Catholic leading by seven, 35-28.

The Lions turned on the pressure in the third quarter, opening a 20-point margin. The team was in complete control of the boards in the period and didn't allow Dayton's Bulldogs a single second shot. Dayton scored only four points in the third quarter.

The Lions will face Scotch Plains, Saturday, at home in the second round of this tournament. Scotch Plains defeated Berkeley Heights, 56-45, Tuesday night.

Springfield's junior varsity team scored an upset victory over Rahway Tuesday, 35-30. The team will face Roselle Catholic's undefeated Jayvees (16-0) at Westfield Saturday, 1 p.m. The Bulldog Jayvees are 10-9.

Seeing action for Springfield in Tuesday's game were Charles Foster, Woody Youngs, Frank Bucci, Danny D'Andrea, Keith Brownlie and Marty Josephs.

Stars surprise Strikers, gain 2 games on leaders

The Stars gained some ground on the first-place Strikers last week in the Tuesday Afternoon Girls' Bowling League. The Stars moved their season record to an even 10 and 10, as they gained second place with a sweep of two games over the league leaders. The Stars are four games from first place. The girls roll each week at the Springfield Bowl in a league sponsored by the Recreation Department.

Carol Roessner, who is improving with each successive week, led the Stars in their upset victories. Carol rolled games of 114 and 136 for a 250 series total. Carol Durand and Joann McGrady also rolled well in the Stars' lineup and helped cement the twin victories. Carol Durand rolled a 204 series with a second-game effort of 126, while Joann turned in a 197 series total. Barbara Owens once again led all bowlers, as she paced the Strikers with a 273 series. Barbara rolled a 156 in the opening contest. Ann Marie Calusio also rolled well for the Strikers as she posted a 199 series.

In another match last week the Charms topped the Dancers in both ends of a two-game match. Diane Lunzer and Holly Quilton were the top bowlers for the Charms in the match. Diane rolled a 159 series, while Holly topped 141 pins in the two games. Nina Kahn and Loretta Losanno were the pace-setters for the Dancers. Nina put together two good games for a 177 total. Loretta also posted a good series as her efforts posted a 174 series total.

Barbara Owens continues to maintain a huge lead over the remainder of the league in the individual average race. Barbara, who has accounted for a 235 game and a 423 series during the season, is maintaining a 157 league leading average. Carol Roessner has established herself as the league's second-most effective bowler. Carol has a 108 season average. Debbie Kuskin is in third place with a 94 average, while Darlene Pancker is fourth with 92. Ann Marie Calusio is in the fifth spot. Ann Marie is rolling at a 88 pace this season. The remaining girls among the top 10 are: Sue Murphy, 83; Joann McGrady, 83; Nina Kahn, 80; Diane Lunzer, 77, and Liz Simpson, 75.

Your Garden This Week

By Your Rutgers Garden Reporter
Evergreens for beauty in the home landscape. Evergreens attractive all year. Evergreens for bloom.

Not today's little Christmas tree evergreens that will grow to be trees. Glants in your front yard before you know it, but broad-leaved evergreens with flowers and berries and sometimes sweet smell.

JAPANESE AND AMERICAN hollies offer wide choices and they grow well in shade or sun. Their display of bloom is never spectacular, but the bright red berries of American hollies can be something special.

Social Security boosts begin in March checks

Social security increases will be reflected in checks beneficiaries receive on March 2. Ralph W. Jones, district manager in Elizabeth said this week.

Cycle inspections begin next month; standards listed

Under the motorcycle law, effective since Jan. 1, all motor operated vehicles of the bicycle or tricycle type must be inspected to be driven on New Jersey public roads and highways.

Since motorcycle registrations expire in March, director of the state Motor Vehicle Division June Strelecki announced last week, 1968 registered motorcycles must be inspected at New Jersey Motor Vehicle Inspection Stations during March, April, May or June of this year.

Vehicles registered for the first time after June 30, 1968, must be inspected within 14 days of issue.

To qualify for an inspection sticker, the driver must present his motorcycle at the inspection station with his registration certificate, his operator's license and his reflectorized-helmet that must be of the type approved by the Director. He must also show for inspection his approved goggles or an approved face shield unless the motorcycle is equipped with an approved wind-screen, the director said.

The required rear light and reflector, license plate light, must function according to the applicable standards of the Society of Automotive Engineers. Every motorcycle must have at least one and not more than two headlights. Motorcycles with motors over five horsepower must have multiple beam headlights as well as a beam indicator. Other motorcycles must have either a single beam or a multiple beam headlight. With a driver's seat, the single beam headlight must be aimed for a nine-inch drop in 25 feet. The high beam of the multiple beam headlight must be aimed for a four-inch drop in 25 feet.

The muffler must be equal in quality and performance to the manufacturer's equipment type designed for highway use and not cause excessive or unusual noise.

All seats, hand holds and foot rests for passengers must be adequate and permanently attached and equal in quality and safety to manufacturer's equipment.

Every motorcycle must have at least one brake adequate to control the cycle in motion and to stop the vehicle within a safe distance. The tires must also be in good condition.

The director said fenders must be kept the proper size to shield passengers, drivers and pedestrians from being water, mud or dirt splattered by the wheels.

When the motorcycle meets the listed specifications, a two-inch by two-inch sticker will be placed on the right side of the rear fender. When this year's sticker expires, the new sticker will be placed over the expired one. If he chooses, the director said, the motorcycle owner may rivet or weld a metal plate to the right side of the rear fender for the sticker.

Alcoholism, abortion, air pollution
Rutgers medical students study diverse topics

COMMUNITY MEDICINE—Dr. Richard J. Cross, professor of medicine and associate dean of the Rutgers Medical School, prepares material for his course on man and his environment. Sometimes called "community medicine," the course is intended to show medical students how a physician can help citizens deal intelligently with the ever increasing social problems of a dynamic society.

Topics as diverse as alcoholism and abortion and traffic accidents and air pollution come under study and discussion in an unusual course required of all students in the Rutgers Medical School in New Brunswick.

Sometimes called "community medicine," but operating at Rutgers under the title, "Man and His Environment," the course is taught by Dr. Richard J. Cross of Princeton, professor of medicine and associate dean of the State University's medical school.

"The course was started on an experiment," Dr. Cross said. "Intended to show medical students how a physician can help citizens in his community to deal intelligently and effectively with the ever increasing social problems of a dynamic society."

Dr. Cross said he believes such a course has just as important a place in a modern medical curriculum as do such traditional courses as anatomy, physiology, medicine, pharmacology and pathology.

"With this course," he said, "we try to give students an understanding of problems that affect the health of large groups of people and how to deal with these problems, and also to acquaint students with important social problems influencing health and health care and with the sociological consequences of medical programs."

Other objectives of the course, Dr. Cross pointed out, are to show patterns of occurrence and distribution of disease in the population and the epidemiological method of studying health problems; to provide students with a rational basis for dealing with the ethical problems they will encounter in the practice of medicine; to interest students in planning for improved medical care; to identify organizations and programs functioning to preserve or promote public health; to inform students of primary prevention of disease through individual practices and control of the environment, and of methods used to detect disease in presumably healthy persons.

THE COURSE in community medicine is taught to all 16 students in the second year of the two-year curriculum at the Rutgers Medical School. It features outside lecturers and has this year brought to the campus Dr. George James, dean of the Mt. Sinai (N.Y.) School of Medicine, and Dr. William Dougherty, director of the Division of Local Health Services of the New Jersey Department of Health.

The students are given a long reading list (although there is no formal reading assignment) and face, in addition to examinations, the requirement of preparing a paper, five to 10 pages long, on a subject of their choice in the community health field.

Dr. Cross said that his course recognizes a third area of instruction, beyond the traditional scientific and clinical areas, necessary to round out programs of medical education.

"This new area," he said, "explains the physician's responsibility to the community, in which he lives and practices. It becomes increasingly important," he pointed out, "as, for example, narcotics' use and incidence of abortion continues to rise."

He said the average American expects his physician to be an expert on sex and often confides in him and seeks his advice on the subject.

"In all too many cases the physician is less of an expert than the patient thinks," Dr. Cross said.

"When I was in medical school," the associate dean recalled, "information on community medicine, if taught at all, was broached from a public health point of view. The material included discussions of sewerage problems and other non-physician oriented information, which helped to make the course dull."

"At Rutgers, we teach the course from a physician's viewpoint and instruct our students in areas where they will eventually encounter questions and problems."

He said that problems related to sex, alcoholism and drug addiction have been the most popular discussion topics in the course, but that more routine matters such as Medicaid and Medicare, Blue Cross and Blue Shield and the differences among federal, state, county and municipal and voluntary and proprietary hospitals are given equal time.

Next year's curriculum, he added, is almost certain to include study of the morals and ethics of tissue and organ transplantation.

Doll festival to be held at Montclair museum

"Hina Matsuri," a Japanese girls' doll festival, will open at the Montclair Art Museum Sunday. In the museum's reenactment of the ancient ceremony, groups of children will take part in the traditional ritual which centers upon a display of very old Japanese ceremonial dolls and a miniature Japanese house and garden.

The exhibition will be on view through March 31. School groups may schedule visits by calling the education office of the museum at 746-5555.

U.S. Senator HARRISON A. WILLIAMS Reports

Recent action at the subcommittee level indicates there are bright prospects this year for enacting two pieces of legislation which are of great importance to migratory farm workers.

Perhaps the most important is the bill to bring farm-workers under the collective bargaining provisions of the National Labor Relations Act. Also vital is the bill to extend and expand the Migrant Health Program.

I first introduced the collective bargaining bill in the 86th Congress and have introduced it in every Congress since then. (This is the 90th) Quite frankly, it hasn't had a chance of passage until now.

Basically, the bill would give migrant farm workers the same rights and obligations industrial workers have had for more than 30 years when it comes to organizing into unions and bargaining collectively on wages and working conditions.

However, recognizing that the mechanics of union elections and bargaining might impose a burden on small farmers, the bill which I have introduced would apply only to big operations, which do $50,000 or more business a year in interstate commerce.

THIS WOULD EXCLUDE the family farm where the labor is supplied by the family and a few employees.

This bill was reported favorably by the House Labor Subcommittee, headed by Rep. Frank Thompson of New Jersey, in November and by the Senate Subcommittee on Migratory Labor, which I head, in January.

Every indication is that the bill will be reported favorably by the House Labor and Education Committee and by the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee by mid-March.

This will be the first time either committee has voted favorably on the bill. Moreover, though there will certainly be opposition when it comes time for debate and vote by the Senate and House, I am optimistic about the chances for passage, at long last.

In the past eight years, we have enacted a good deal of legislation in behalf of migrant farm workers, starting with the Migrant Health Act and continuing with education, sanitation, housing, child day care and other measures.

But, until farm workers were brought under coverage of the minimum wage law, last year, none of these laws had dealt with the basic inequities which have kept the migrant farm worker the poorest and most exploited segment of the American work force.

The collective bargaining bill would attack this problem at its roots. It would enable farm workers to organize into unions - if they so choose - and bargain for the kind of wages which will enable them to earn for themselves the necessities - and some of the amenities of life.

THE MIGRANT HEALTH Program was launched in 1962. It provides the kind of routine health care that most Americans get from their family doctor - prenatal and postnatal care, obstetric services, immunizations, examinations and treatment for ordinary ailments.

Operating through state health departments, the program goes out into the migrant labor camps and sometimes into the fields, to find its patients - and bring the care to them. Payment of hospital costs, for necessary care, also is authorized.

The Migrant Health Program began with 31 projects serving migrants in 114 counties in 20 states. The program has been steadily expanded since then and we now have 115 projects serving migrant farm workers in 300 counties in 36 states and Puerto Rico.

Yet the need far outpaces the available services.

We are operating this year with $7.2 million. We could use almost double that amount of money simply to do a more effective job in the existing projects. In addition, we have many applications for new projects which the Public Health Service has been forced to turn down because of lack of funds.

The bill approved by the Migratory Labor Subcommittee would authorize up to $15 million for the program for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969; $20 million for the year ending June 30, 1970; $25 million for the year ending June 30, 1971, and such amounts as may be necessary for the two succeeding fiscal years.

We don't anticipate difficulty in extending the Migrant Health Act. The program has proved itself. Because of the tight budget situation, the dollar authorization may be cut down some. I hope every dollar means a better life for a migrant farm worker - or members of his family.

NCE establishes broader program in computer study

A new Department of Computer Science has been authorized by the Board of Trustees of Newark College of Engineering to begin operation in September, 1968.

The announcement was made this week by Dr. L. Bryce Andersen, Dean of Engineering, who noted that the need for the new department has developed through the growing impact of computers on engineering, on science, and on many other aspects of society.

"The computer has revolutionized engineering and engineering education; it is now an indispensable tool for all modern engineering graduates," he said.

"We plan to offer a full program of computer science to young men and women who have an interest in this field, and of course, many of our present students will elect courses in computer science as well," Andersen said.

"We are developing bachelor's and master's level programs in computer science and eventually hope to offer a doctorate in the field," he said.

The new program will make it possible for the College to serve a greater number of the young people of New Jersey who would be oriented toward mathematics and information processing. Andersen anticipates a relatively large attraction to this new area, but is quick to note that computer science is evolving so rapidly that any detailed speculation would be unwarranted.

Newark College of Engineering has offered undergraduate and graduate courses in computer science for several years. A Master of Science option in the field has been available, and it will be strengthened under the direction of the new department.

"Many of the courses in computer science

Sales tax table set up to aid with income tax deductions

A new state sales tax table has been prepared for New Jersey taxpayers who are itemizing deductions on their 1967 Federal income tax returns.

Joseph M. Shutz, IRS District Director for New Jersey, explained that the new table was prepared because 1967 was the first full calendar year covered by the state sales tax. The table used last year was specially prepared to cover the first six months under the state sales tax law.

The table does not make allowance for the sales tax paid on automobiles. Any taxpayer who bought an automobile during 1967 may add the sales tax paid on the purchase to the amount shown on the table.

Shutz pointed out that taxpayers are not required to use the table. It was prepared for the convenience of taxpayers who want to deduct a set amount for these sales tax payments rather than keep detailed records. Taxpayers who choose, may deduct the actual amount paid for the tax but they must be prepared to substantiate their claim - if their return is examined.

In using the table taxpayers may take into account nontaxable income such as social security and railroad retirement in arriving at an allowable sales tax deduction. A taxpayer including non-taxable income in determining his sales tax deduction should attach a statement and related facts are already offered by our mathematics department, and we will add many more in the next two years. All of our students are now required to take two or more courses in computer programming and numerical methods," Dean Andersen said.

Closely related to the establishment of the new department is the College's recent acquisition of a third-generation solid state computer of great capabilities.

ment to the return listing such income. Separate deductions for New Jersey state sales tax payments can be made by only taxpayers who itemize their deductions.

For And About Teenagers

"THE WEEK'S LETTER: 'I am 14 years of age and will be 15 in July. My friend is really nice, calm, good looking, smart in a sense. He is 16 years old and has a '60' Ford. My parents like my friend just as I do. But... I do have two problems with my friend in which I want him to stop. How can I tell him without losing him? Please give me a reply."

OUR REPLY: A proper answer would depend upon a better idea of what the two problems concern. Let us just say that a girl fourteen who has dated with an auto-driving boyfriend, no matter his age, is wise to stay away from the "parking" bit. The automobile should be a means of transportation - getting there and getting home, with no random stops in between. If you ask the boy to stop and he doesn't stop, lose him. You'll save yourself some future grief and at the same time be assured that some boy will come along with a later model automobile and a completely satisfactory disposition.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss - or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORD, KY.

Moon mining is proposed

MOON MINERALS
It may prove worthwhile in the future for man to exploit the moon's mineral resources, providing the cost of space travel can be reduced. This is the conclusion of Prof. George Mueller of the Universities of Concepcion, Chile, and Miami, Fla., writing in a recent issue of "Nature."

Top grade mineral deposits on earth, rare in any case, are gradually being exhausted, writes Prof. Mueller, and rather than rely increasingly on lower grade deposits, man may prefer to exploit the top grade deposits which are likely to be found on the surface of the moon. With the advent of the atomic rocket, mining on the moon might become an economic possibility.

Basing his speculations on recent rocket photography of the moon and on certain comparisons and extrapolations from terrestrial geology, Prof. Mueller suggests that certain minerals - such as uranium, oil, coal, tin and aluminum - are unlikely to exist at all on the moon; but that some others may be found in equal or superior grade and volume, among them chromium, arsenic, selenium, copper, platinum metals and diamonds, formed by the impact of meteorites.

They learn about others

How to weave a Persian rug on a primitive loom, how to write Japanese characters, how to cook spicy Iranian dishes - these were some of the things that groups of 7 to 10 year-old to four European countries learned to do at their primary schools recently.

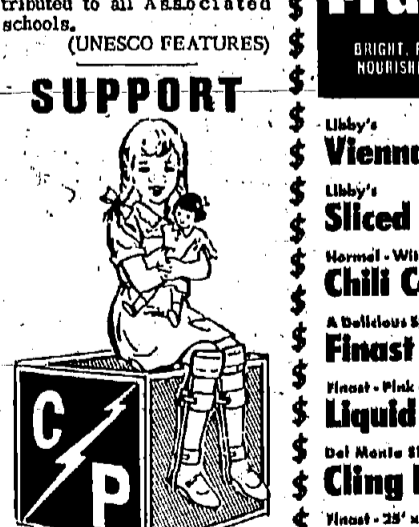

These unusual classroom activities were part of a teaching experiment organized in a total of 12 primary schools in France, Western Germany, Switzerland and the United Kingdom, by the International Federation of Teachers' Associations (IFTA) on behalf of Unesco.

The purpose was to discover the best ways and means of teaching young school children about distant peoples and civilizations. The summarized results of this experiment are included in a booklet that published by IFTA.

The booklet also contains an analysis of the treatment of Asia in the textbooks used in primary schools in the four countries mentioned and a guide for the use of primary schools participating in Unesco's Associated Schools Project. It is published in English and French and is being distributed to all Associated schools.

After 10, these many years our humble little bug has gone automatic. Gone is the clutch. Gone is the wily whine, "It's cute, but I can't drive it."

Gone is an era of Volkswagendom. Sniff. And in its place? A Volkswagen you can drive all over town without shifting.

Only on the highway do you shift. Once, this is an economy move. Which, after all, is still the name of the game!

But you do have a choice in the matter you can drive it the easy way I described above. Or you can start out in low and take it through the gears like a regular stick shift.

The new Ultronic by Royal has an electric carriage return never before available at a price this low. It also has an electric tabulator, electric backspace, a repeat space bar and a motor twice as powerful as any comparable electric. It has four electric repeat characters: underscore, hyphen, period, and crossout "X". It's a fully electric typewriter in every way. Except price. In the past, the power-actuated fully electric typewriter cost $250. And even then, it didn't have such Ultronic features as Magic Margin, Magic Meter scale, electric-ribbon feed, vertical half spacing, and a detachable case. The Ultronic is a great typewriter at any price. At $179.50 it's in a class by itself.

NOTICE OF HEARING

At a regular meeting of the Municipal Council of the Township of Irvington, New Jersey, held the 13th day of February 1968, Councilman Blain introduced the following ordinance, which ordinance will take effect on the date of reading and passage.

ORDINANCE TO AMEND AN ORDINANCE ENTITLED, "THE PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF THE CODE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF IRVINGTON, NEW JERSEY."

SECTION 1. The ordinance shall be amended to read as follows: "The penalty for violation of the Code of the Township of Irvington, New Jersey, shall be as follows: (a) For a first offense, a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment for a period of not exceeding sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the New Jersey Revised Statutes limiting the authority of the town to punish the violation of any particular provision of this Code or other town ordinance, rule, regulation or order promulgated pursuant to the authority provided in this section, the violation of any such provision of this Code or any other ordinance, rule, regulation or order promulgated pursuant to the authority provided in this section shall constitute a separate offense, unless otherwise provided.

Whenever any such fine is imposed upon any corporation, such fine and costs and charges in addition thereto may be collected and an action of debt or in such other manner as may be provided by law.

SECTION 2. All ordinances or parts of ordinances which are inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 3. This ordinance shall take effect after the final reading as required by law. NOTICE is hereby given that the Municipal Council of the Township of Irvington, New Jersey will meet on Thursday evening, February 22, 1968, at 8:00 o'clock p.m. in the Council Chamber, Municipal Building, Civic Square, Irvington, New Jersey, at which time and place, at any time and from time to time, any ordinance or any other ordinance which such ordinance shall from time to time be amended, all persons interested in or affected by such ordinance will be given an opportunity to be heard concerning such ordinance, and all persons interested or affected by such ordinance will be given an opportunity to be heard concerning such ordinance for a second time.
