Regional school expansion bond issue loses

Heavy vote against plan in 2 towns

Mountainside support not enough for victory

BY ABNER GOLD
The Regional High School Board of Education's $4,355,000 bond issue to pay for expansion and renovation in all four regional schools went down to defeat Tuesday by a margin of 289 votes, as heavy negative votes in Springfield and Kenilworth outweighed strong pro-referendum sentiment in Mountainside and, to a lesser extent, in Berkeley Heights. The final tally was 2,524 to 2,235 against the board's proposal.

Avery Ward, board president, told a somber board meeting, "This vote has done nothing but damage to the people of the regional district. It is unfortunate what these people have done. The board will now have to consider its future course of action."

The tally by communities within the district, with the vote in favor of the proposal given first, was as follows: Springfield, 233 to 1,015; Mountainside, 1,125 to 188; Kenilworth, 63 to 711; Berkeley Heights, 581 to 251; Clark, 174 to 212; and Garwood, 53 to 147. There were also five absentee votes for the proposal, making a total of 4,759 voters.

Ward, who singled out the people of Mountainside and their board members, Dr. Minor C. Jones, for praise for their support of the proposal, declared that the defeat "must lead to over-crowding in all the schools, to the elimination of the home school concept and to a lowering of educational standards throughout the district."

He added, "As Jonathan Dayton Regional in Springfield, which is our oldest building, unless the bond issue is approved for all schools, the facilities cannot be upgraded."

WARD ALSO STATED, "We have in our communities what appear to be some very smart people who fail to realize the detriment to all students, particularly their own, of continuing to live at the lack of foresight on the part of the voters."

Ward also spoke bitterly of anonymous pamphlets distributed in Kenilworth on the eve of the election and urged the board to "consider whether the matter should be referred to the attorney general."

Mayor Frederick J. Wilhelm of Mountainside, speaking to the audience of less than 20 people at Dayton Regional Tuesday night, urged that the "same proposal be resubmitted as soon as possible."

He added, "There has been a marked lack of constructive criticism by the opponents. This has been killed by ill-considered and possibly illogical statements. Mountainside has supported those things the entire region has employed. Now we ask the same fair treatment. We want to work constructively with all the communities in the district."

Mrs. I.S. Yablonsky of Springfield, president of the Dayton PTA and a strong supporter of the bond issue, suggested to the board, "When the time comes to decide on resubmitting the proposal, consult with interested citizens, provide help so more people will understand the issues. This will lead to less incorrect (Continued on page 3)

HIT PARADE LEADER—All looks quiet above, but this Springfield intersection headed the list of the 25 most hazardous intersections issued recently by the Union County Planning Board. School board president appoints his committees

By PAT BAIRD
Springfield Board of Education committee members for 1968-69 were named by Robert Southard, president, at the board's monthly meeting, held at the James Caldwell School Tuesday night.

Named to the advisory school planning committee were Seymour Margulies, chairman, August Caprio, Mrs. Sonya Dorsky and John Gacos; building and grounds committee: Gacos, chairman, Caprio, Carlo Casale, and Margulies; finance committee: Casale, chairman, Caprio, Gacos and Mrs. Ruth Weisman; legislative: Mrs. Weisman, chairman, Mrs. Dorsky, Robert Johnson and Margulies; lunchroom: James Adams, chairman, Casale, and Johnson.

Named to the public relations committee were Johnson, chairman, Adams, Mrs. Dorsky, school government: Caprio, chairman, Adams, Casale, Mrs. Weisman; supplies: Mrs. Dorsky, chairman, Gacos and Johnson.

Representatives to the recreation department were Robert Johnson and James Adams, alternate. Named to the School Board Associations were Mrs. Ruth Weisman and Seymour Margulies, alternate.

At the beginning of the meeting, Mrs. Dorsky questioned the title of assistant superintendent of schools, mentioned in the minutes of the previous meeting in reference to Joseph Anderson. She said that there was no such title in the Springfield school system.

After checking the original amendment, her suggested change in the minutes was unanimously approved, to refer, rather, to assistant superintendent in charge of curriculum.

According to the monthly report issued by the superintendent of schools, John O. Berwick, attendance in the Springfield schools has increased by five since the beginning of the school year. Edward Walton School attendance increased by two; Thelma Sandmeier School attendance decreased by two, and Florence Gaudinier attendance increased by five.

The school board accepted the resignation of two Springfield teachers. Mrs. Myrtle Hardy, a second grade teacher, at the Sandmeier School will resign effective June 30. She has been a teacher in the Springfield school system for the past 11 years. Mrs. Lillian Hayward, a learning disability specialist, will retire after 17 years in the school system, effective June 30.

All residents who were members of the municipal swimming pool last summer have until March 31 to sign up for this year on a preferred basis, according to a reminder issued this week by Edward J. Ruby, recreation director. Membership will be opened to new applicants April 1 on a first-come, first-served basis, he added.

The fee is $65 per family, $35 for single membership and $15 for senior members. Checks, made out to the township of Springfield, should be sent to the Recreation Department, Municipal Building, Springfield.

THE BOARD UNANIMOUSLY approved the employment of four new teachers for the 1968-69 school year. A resolution was approved by the school board to provide $133 per month for a Springfield child to attend special classes in East Brunswick, effective March 18. They also awarded a bid of $29.50 per day to the S & E Transportation Company, to provide (Continued on page 5)

Two arrested; charges filed in narcotics case

Springfield police filed charges related to narcotics possession against two Union residents arrested Monday evening. The arrests were made at 8:30 p.m. in the driveway of 11 S. Maple Ave., where one of those arrested was living temporarily, the report added.

He was Robert G. Brauman, 25, of 411 Winthrop rd., Union, who was charged with possession of heroin and with failure to register as a narcotics user. In a hearing on Tuesday, he was held in default of $5,000 bail until he can have counsel assigned. His companion was Joanne Rudy, 20, a secretary, of 1313 Amherst Ave., also of Union. In a hearing Monday evening in Springfield Municipal Court, Miss Rudy was charged as a disorderly person on a count of transporting heroin. She was released on $100 bond, to await a hearing in Municipal Court on April 1. The case was handled by Detective Lt. Robert Tassie and Det. Samuel Calabrese.

In another case, Springfield police last Thursday brought charges of breaking and entering against John Till, 25, of 300 Revere Ave., Union. Till reportedly was arrested on another charge by police in Union. Following questioning, he was then charged with the break-in at the home of Herbert Gardner at 263 Milltown rd., Springfield. He was released on $1,000 bond pending action by the Union County grand jury.

This show is sponsored by the Ladies Benevolent Society of the church.

Pine glass and china from Marie Thompson's in Chatham, furniture from the Berleto's of Florham Park, antique jewelry from the Soevensons in Westfield, a display of stamps and coins by John Yammarlo, and clocks from Jacob's Old Time Shop will also add to the variety of the show.

Other exhibitors will include the Maxwells, participants for the past 26 years, as well as Richard Doelger from Shrewsbury, Dorothy Roeback from Dingman's Ferry, Pa., and the Foxes, from Lyme, N. H. Mrs. Alice Beatty of Plainfield, teacher of the art of hooking rugs, will have a display of her work. The Allenwood General Store, with cheeses and items of yesteryear, will be another feature of the show. Brown to conduct library discussion covering 'Magus'

The Springfield Public Library Adult Discussion Group will meet in the library next Tuesday to discuss "The Magus," by John Fowles. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Stewart Pierce Brown, formerly of Springfield but now living in Connecticut, will lead the discussion. Brown is vice-president of McCann-Erickson, Inc., in New York City and frequently visits his mother, Mrs. Eva P. Brown, at 121 Meisel Ave. It is one of these trips to Springfield that makes it possible for him to join the discussion group.

Brown has written short stories which have appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, Colliers Magazine, and Playboy. "Just for Kicks" appeared in Best Detective Stories of the Year (1961). Brown is a graduate of Rutgers University and was a lieutenant in the Navy during World War II.

"The Magus," by John Fowles, who also wrote "The Collector," is set on a remote Greek island where a young British schoolmaster encounters "The Magus," a master-style psychiatrist, who struts up a maelstrom of intrigue. The book concerns an experiment in illusion and reality.

Blood bank today

Dog and home owners warned

Township Clerk Eleonore Worthington and Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander this week warned that on April 1, licenses will be issued to all owners of unlicensed dogs. Licenses, prices at $3.50, are available in Mrs. Worthington's office at Town Hall.

In a separate statement this week, Chief Selander reminded all residents that leaving a light on when they are away from home is a major deterrent against burglary.

"Burglary is a problem," he declared, "but to avoid its happening to you, something can be done. Whenever you leave your residence to spend an evening at the movies, or take off for a weekend of fun in the sun, housebreakers can and will move in if they're certain you've left."

"Burglars spend their daylight hours canvassing neighborhoods, looking for uncut lawns and overstuffed mailboxes. They spend their spare evening hours looking for darkened houses or lights that are left on too long. You can help your police department reduce burglaries."

The chief urged all residents, when leaving for an evening or an extended period of time, to take the following steps:

Cancel all daily deliveries; leave a lamp or two connected to an automatic timer to turn lights on at dusk and off at bedtime; (Continued on page 5)

Program of YES receives backing of Vice President

A spokesman for the Springfield Youth Employment Service this week reported that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, during a televised interview this past week, stressed the importance of employment for young people during the coming summer months.

It was his contention that there will be part-time jobs available and that an effort must be made to make these jobs available to those youngsters who are capable and desirous of working. Humphrey said that it isn't enough to sympathize with conditions. Instead, everyone must take an active responsibility to the nation's young people and see to it that they are engaged in meaningful occupations during the summer months.

Whether one agrees or disagrees with Humphrey in his political policies, the fact remains that one cannot be opposed to his theories on this issue, the YES spokesman said.

During the interview, Humphrey discussed several types of agencies devoted to job placement for young students and among these mentioned was Youth Employment Service. It is the aim and purpose of YES to bring together employer and young employee—to fill both their needs.

If one of the underlying causes of juvenile delinquency is unsupervised freedom, then couldn't the activities of YES be one step in the right direction? the YES representative asked.

Volunteers are at the Youth Employment Service office in the Municipal Building, 379-2567, from Monday through Friday, 2 to 4:30 p.m. to accept student registrations and accept calls from prospective employers.

Miss Wilson, Miss Gerstein named to 'Mademoiselle's' College Board

Gail Wilson of 73 Warwick circle and Carla Gerstein of 44 Briar Hills circle, both Springfield, have been named to "Mademoiselle" magazine's College Board.

Miss Wilson attends Springfield College where she is a member of the class of 1969. Miss Gerstein is a member of the class of 1970 at Syracuse University.

Each College Board member will have an opportunity to contribute to "Mademoiselle" and help the magazine keep abreast of campus trends. College Board members report regularly to "Mademoiselle" on events at their colleges, research articles and help "Mademoiselle" fashion editors select models for college fashion features.

The board is composed of some 1,000 winners of the magazine's annual nationwide College Board competition, a contest designed to recognize young women with talent in art, writing, editing, photography, layout, fashion design, merchandising, retail promotion or advertising. Board members are selected on the basis of entries they submit showing ability in one of these fields.

Each girl will remain on the College Board until she graduates. During this time, she will accumulate a professional portfolio of work submitted to "Mademoiselle," which may well be valuable to her in finding a challenging job after graduation, according to a magazine spokesman.

Once a student has been selected for the College Board, she is eligible to compete for "Mademoiselle's" 20 grand prizes. Each year 20 of the board members are chosen to become guest editors. To win one of these positions, a board member must submit a second entry that shows superior aptitude for magazine work. The 20 guest editors spend the month of June in New York as salaried employees of "Mademoiselle." They help write, illustrate and edit "Mademoiselle's" August college issue, sharing offices with the magazine's regular editors. They interview well-known personalities and represent the magazine on visits to publishing houses, stores and advertising agencies. They are "Mademoiselle's" guests at parties, discotheques and screenings.

Cleric speaks to local group of Volunteers for McCarthy

The Springfield Chapter of the Volunteers for McCarthy held an organizational meeting last Monday evening at the local office of the National State Bank. An overflow crowd of 150 heard the Rev. Elmer Sullivan, rector of the St. Augustine Episcopal Church, Elizabeth, and a candidate for delegate to the Democratic national convention, speak on "Why McCarthy?"

"Sen. Eugene McCarthy offers a breath of fresh air on the American political scene," stated Father Sullivan. "When no one else was willing, McCarthy stood up and challenged the administration, creating an effective dynamic force to express the mass of public opinion in opposition to Lyndon Johnson's Southeast Asia policy."

Sullivan stressed that action was necessary to translate opinion into votes. "In this Congressional district we vote for 10 delegates to the national convention, five at large from the entire state, and five from our own district. The crux of the New Jersey primary election on June 4 is local. Elections of this type are won not on the basis of personality, but on local organization."

Father Sullivan said he did not think that the announcement of Sen. Robert Kennedy's candidacy had hurt McCarthy. "Kennedy works primarily through the same regular party machinery that Johnson does. Most of the votes he will win will be votes formerly committed to Johnson."

Lawrence Lerner of 158 Redwood rd., Springfield, local chairman, outlined the future course of action. "It is essential to contact every voter in Springfield and mobilize all voter support. All assistance, in time or money, is both welcome and needed," stated Lerner.

Lerner also cleared up what he termed some "misconceptions" about voting in the primary. "First, a vote in the primary for a particular candidate does not bind a person in any way in November. Second, anyone can vote in the primary, regardless of past affiliations, as long as he did not vote in the Republican primaries of 1966 or 1967. Third, voting in the Democratic primary does not put one's name on record as a Democrat. Voter lists in Union County are made up without party designations. The audience was also reminded of the April 15 deadline for registration to vote in the primary.

A meeting of the steering committee was set for next Tuesday evening at the house of Rose Lester, 37 S. Darby rd.

Baha'i New Year to be observed at Saturday fireside

Mrs. Lillian Frank and Mrs. Helen Bakum, both of Irvington, will be hostesses at a Baha'i Fireside at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rouse, 56 Denham rd., Springfield, Saturday night in celebration of New Year, which is the Baha'i New Year.

The Baha'i faith, which originated in Iran in 1844, has a calendar of its own, based on a solar year which consists of 19 months, each with 19 days, with the New Year falling on the vernal equinox. The solar year is equalized by four (five-in-leap year) intercalary days preceding the last Baha'i month. The years, months and days are named after the attributes of God: Splendor, Beauty, Sovereignty.

The most important principle of the Baha'i Faith is epitomized by the words of the founder, Baha'u'llah, who said: "This earth is one country and mankind its citizens." In its 124th year, Baha'i has spread to 311 countries and territories including 2,000 localities in the United States.

A SPRINGFIELD COUPLE, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Starr, cautioned the board against hasty ratification of the same proposal. Starr urged the board to "take into account the criticism of the plan. Don't ascribe it all to ignorance or illegal methods." Starr added, "This talk does not foster regional collectiveness. Public relations is a pretty costly approach to regional criticism."

Starr went on to say, "Last year, critics from Mountaineers stirred up a hornet's nest in Springfield. They made people think Dayton was not up to standard within the region." He concluded, "The League of Women Voters in Springfield is a reasonable and knowledgeable group, and it deserves the board's consultation."

Ward urged all residents of the district to submit to him any proposals they might have for revision of the expansion plans, or reasons to account for the defeat of the bond issue. Dr. Jones offered the final comment on the defeated proposal. "Despite the Springfield League of Women Voters, it was the anonymous leaflets and sound truck in Kentworth that caused the defeat."

IN ITS REGULAR MEETING, the board adopted a new calendar for the coming school year which institutes one major change. For the first time, the REGIONAL HIGH schools will be closed for three days on the "Teacher's days of Rest" (Washington and Van Buren).

Dr. Warren Davis, superintendent of schools, commented that the increasing number of Jewish students and teachers "makes it an impossible task to conduct our regular program on these days."

Committee assignments were announced by Ward, as follows, with the chairman of each committee named first:

Athletic committee, John J. Cullen of Clark and Robert W. Lockwood of Clark buildings, grounds and planning, Mrs. Natalie R. Wald of Springfield and John E. Conlin of Garwood; curriculum, Dr. Minor C. K. Jones of Mountaineers and W. Robert Powers of Berkeley Heights.

Legal and finance, Powers and Cullen; public relations, Dr. Jones and Dr. Benjamin H. Josephson of Springfield; safety and health, Dr. Josephson and Mrs. Wald; supply and equipment, Conlin and Mrs. Wald; teachers, Lockwood and Edwin Little of Berkeley Heights; transportation, Little and Conlin.

THE BOARD APPROVED rental of an IBM 1620 computer at a rate of $6,240 for next year. It will be used for a term of instruction in computer programming at A.L. Johnson Regional in Clark and a term at Dayton, as well as after-school club activity and the adult schools.

After some discussion, the board approved payment of $2,000 for the year for special education for a girl from Clark at the Our Lady of Grace Training School, Morristown, where she had been placed by the Union County Juvenile Court. Several members questioned the legality of paying tuition for a child at a sectarian school, even though the special education program there had been approved by state authorities as nonreligious in nature.

Dr. Davis reported progress in efforts to have the N.J. Department of Transportation leave the Nike base road through the Wachung Reservation, despite construction of Rt. 78. The road provides a link between Mountaineers and the Gov. Livingston School in Berkeley Heights.

Cpl. Elliott at El Toro

SANTA ANA, CALIF. — Woman Marine Lance Corporal Dorothy G. Elliott, daughter of Mrs. Hugh Halsey of 16 Caldwell pl., Springfield, N.J., is serving at the Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, Calif.

Woman Marines are celebrating their silver anniversary this year. More than 18,000 answered the call to "free a Marine to fight" in 1943, when the Marine Corps looked to woman power to meet an unprecedented demand for manpower.

Although the jobs of the early Woman Marines were "secretarial," today's lady leathernecks perform duties ranging from tower communications to training instruction. Lance Corporal Elliott is assigned to the Flight Planning Division as an aviation operation clerk. She entered the service in December, 1966.

Today's vernal muse writes of springtime

Hail the vernal equinox, Fúris an old saying invented specially for this occasion; it's time to change your winter socks. In other and more mundane words, yesterday was the end of the cold, gloomy months of winter and the beginning of another glorious spring.

Spring is beloved of many people, but the acclaim falls somewhat short of unanimous.

Take typical, average suburbanite Mr. A. for example. He's yours, because his wife won't keep him any longer. He's the one who kept pushing everything into remote corners of his cellar and garage, on the theory that he had plenty of time to get it all in shape before spring.

Don't look, buddy, but now it's spring, and where are you? Not cleaning off your golf clubs, if you have any desire to go on living.

Then there's the opposite case. Let's call him Mr. B. just for contrast. When he was just a little b, he heard the story of the ant and the grasshopper, and he never forgot. He worked like crazy for three months, polishing the blades on his power mower, cleaning the holes on his fern-a-full-grown Agri-co-phobia by the time he finishes a season of watching his magnificent fertilizer spreader and generally acting like a housewife with a guilt complex.

Last week he started to lift his heavy roller, so he could check all parts for rust. Right enough -- so he'll need at least three more months to rest his sore back. If he isn't off his rocker by now, he'll have garden flourish into a thicket. Another wrong of springtime is the one committed by the teenager who has been dreaming all winter of all that tall, lush grass which he could cut to earn enough for an out-board motor -- all his own this summer.

It seems he has a lady fair who just loves boating, and she pledged eternal fidelity, at least until September, if he could provide the vehicle for her beauty. Shoveling snow was a scoop in the right direction. To call a snow-shovel an empty spade, however, this winter was a bad let-down in the blizzard department.

Now, though, he can see all those pretty little seeds just below the ground level, all ready to burst into robust and eminently mowable lawn. But his girl just traded him in for a senior with a sports car.

One segment of the community, we must add, does love spring with no second thoughts, sticky mud and all. That group is the local canine and juvenile population, which loves the mud so much that it keeps tracking all the goo into the house. The only solution to this problem is to beat all offending children without mercy -- but never hit a dog; it might bite back.

On every block, we say in conclusion, there is always one neighbor who has the foresight and the energy to be ready for spring, to keep his lawn and garden neat but not gaudy, and still to his wife be true in such matters as attendance at PTA meetings and escort duty at the opera.

As noted, the statistical distribution of guys like that is just about one on every block. If only we could find a way to get rid of the one on ours.

In Past Tense

ONE YEAR AGO

There are "strong indications" that Township Committee JAY B. BLOOM does not plan to seek election to another term, it is disclosed by DONALD MANTEL, Springfield Democratic chairman. All men and equipment of the Springfield Fire Department, plus a crew from Summit, are needed to battle two blazes which raged at the same time. Fire Chief ORMOND W. MESKER later requires medical treatment for injuries suffered in the line of duty. The Springfield Board of Education will hold all district press the State Senate for public hearings on the bill to have school boards provide bus service for children attending parochial and private schools within a 20-mile radius. Pay raises for virtually all township employees are outlined in the salary ordinance for 1967, scheduled for a final hearing by the Township Committee next week. The mayor's salary is increased from $2,300 to $4,000; pay for committee men, from $2,000 to $3,500. The township clerk is raised from $8,000 to $8,500. The highest paid employee on the new scale is the township engineer, whose salary will be raised from $10,500 to $11,200.

TEN YEARS AGO

MR. and MRS. PAUL T. MURPHY of Springfield are named to the committee planning the sixth annual Benefit for Orphaned Italy. This year's event will be on the night of Feb. 23, 1968, at the Garden Hotel. The committee is headed by Mrs. Murphy. Other members include: Mrs. J. BONADIES, representing Springfield in a conference at Millburn Town Hall to discuss garbage collection and disposal plans. RAY BELL is named as president of the Springfield Rotary Club and CARL JELLEN is named vice president in a slate of officers presented to the members of the club. Construction is begun on a new nine-story building at Overlook Hospital in Summit. When it is completed, according to WALTER BEINECKE JR., president of the Overlook Hospital Association, the crowded and outmoded maternity section will be transferred to an entirely new section provided with "all the finest facilities for mothers and infants."

25 YEARS AGO

In a statement issued to the Springfield Sun, the Red Cross War Fund drive committee reports that its drive "appears to be failing. We have about 350 boys in the service. We must not fall them. If the 1,300 families in Springfield gave an average of $5 from each home, we would not fail." RICHARD J. HALL, chairman of the Selective Service Board for Union and Springfield, announces that there will be no quota for April. The past presidents of the Springfield Parent-Teachers' Association are honored at the 13th anniversary meeting at the James Caldwell School. All fishing in the Rully River and in the section of Green Brook under the control of the Union County Park Commission is being banned, starting immediately and until April 15, the opening day of the trout season, according to W. R. TRACY, engineer and secretary of the commission.

Menkin appointed to N.Y. internship

WINSTON SALEM, N.C. -- Allen Menkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Menkin of 55 Keeler st., Springfield, N.J., is one of 53 senior students at the Bowman Gray School of Medicine who received internship appointments for 1968-69. He will intern in pediatrics at Bellevue Hospital, New York, effective July 1. Menkin is a 1963 graduate of Drew University and received his M.S. degree from Rutgers University. He is married to the former Linda Susman of Morristown, N.J. Internship appointments are made through the National Intern Matching Program, which operates under the auspices of the Association of American Medical Colleges. The matching system utilizes preference lists, submitted by the students and the hospitals following interviews. Seventy-eight per cent of the class received first-choice appointments.

Springfield Public Library reports on newest books for local readers

The Springfield Public Library lists the following new titles among the books recently acquired:

SCIENCE -- "Jet Streams: How Do They Affect Our Weather?" by Elmar Reiter. With the discovery during World War II of jet streams, meteorology entered a new and exciting era. This book is the first popular survey of the jet streams and gives a dramatic description of how they were discovered and formed, and how they affect our weather and climate.

"Walkie Talkie Handbook," by Leo G. Sands. Because of their versatility, these instruments are finding ever-increasing usage wherever two-way portable communication is desired. The author explains how to select the proper one for a particular use, how they function and how they are maintained.

BIOGRAPHY -- "Senor Kon-Tiki," by Arnold Jacoby. A definitive biography of Thor Heyerdahl, who led one of the great true adventures of our century. The voyage of the Kon-Tiki and subsequent expeditions to Easter Island and the Galapagos won him renown and scientific respect. The behind-the-scenes stories of these achievements make a fascinating book.

RELIGION -- "Modern Theologians, Christians and Jews," edited by Thomas E. Birz. The demands of the modern world have changed the structure of religion, and the inflexible churchman of the past has been replaced by the versatile theologian. This volume has been formulated into five categories, the theologians being classified according to their respective areas, to indicate primary interests. The spectrum is wide-ranging, and the names of the subjects and the contributors are well known in the field. "The Happening at Lourdes," by Alan Neame. The happening itself is only the core and point of departure for this brilliant, often startling examination of its impact on France and the world, then and now. A book for everyone fascinated by history, by mystical phenomena, and by the inexhaustible juvility of human beings.

JUVENILE -- "Sam," by Barbara Corcoran. It was a strange name for a cat, but Sam didn't realize it until she went to high school on the mainland. Being brought up on an island with home tutoring.

Wall Street Notebook

By ARTHUR POLLACK

The "high flyers" have been grounded. At least temporarily. Analysts disagree as to whether this represents a temporary setback for the glamour/growth group, or a permanent loss of investor enthusiasm.

Why? Because today--more and more--the pressure is on for still greater "performance." Institutional portfolio managers are being pressured by their trustees, and individuals are pressured by their own determination to duplicate the success of the more aggressive institutional investors.

Unquestionably, many institutional investors have been extremely successful in the performance race. So--like crackerjack--the greater the success...the greater the urge for still more success.

This intensifies the competition between all investors--and all investment managers. In such an atmosphere--where do investors search for still greater performance? Traditionally the search has centered on those companies whose managements have demonstrated superior capability for increasing the momentum of earnings growth. Primarily, these have been the glamour stocks.

Is it reasonable to assume that the growing competitive pressures for increased performance--investors have a logical alternative to the glamour/growth group? I think not. The insistence upon still greater performance--in my opinion--restricts the spectrum of possibility to those areas where even greater growth of earnings per share appears likely.

If this is true, isn't it likely that the present disenchanted attitude with the glamour/growth group is only temporary? And if this proves to be the case--aren't some of the stocks in the glamour group (selling at substantial discounts from former highs) attractive for purchase consideration? What are some of these stocks? For a list of purchase recommendations, write to Arthur S. Pollack in care of this paper, Arthur Pollack is a stockbroker at Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

PROFILE--Martin Taglienti

By BEA SMITH
Martin Taglienti, cross-country coach and new track coach at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, appears to be very optimistic concerning the success of his team. "I believe," he says, "that we have a number of good boys out for the team. Some have come back from last year. However, I expect a little better turnout on the freshman level. We lack depth in a number of events."

There are "about 45 boys for the track team at the present time, and if they come around to their potential, we should have a fairly good season--barring any injuries."

The boys practice every day, says Taglienti. "And we'll have two practice meets before the season starts." (The season starts April 9, and the Dayton team will open against Linden.)

"We have a strong schedule ahead of us, but if some of the boys come through for us, we should be able to hold our own."

OUTSTANDING--AMONG the boys on the team, Taglienti points out, are "Derrol Brooks in the high and low hurdles; Jimmy Robinson in the sprints; Ken Shatton and Norman Reinhardt in the distance running. And in weight events we have some good boys. There are Gary Haydu in discus; Bill Chisholm in javel, Charles Foster and Mike Burns in shot put, and Ed Harback, Rocky Isanna and Dave Pearson in pole vault."

"There are Bruce Smith, Bob Sasse, Larry Stewart and Marty Joseph in the sprints. They show good promise. And Gary Vosburg, Mark George and Dale Yadosky. There are Dennis Loston in the high jump and Woody Young in the hurdle events."

Taglienti explains that there are "very good sophomores out for the team. And getting out of the Watching Conference will help. We'll meet our own size and calibre of schools."

The team has done "very well in cross country in the last three years." Taglienti notes that "there were 28 victories, eight losses and one tie."

In spring-time track, he says, the team needs "at least three or four boys in each event--and there are around 14 events, all told."

THE COACH SAYS that this season he hopes to "start off building the area. We will try to get the sport known more, so that in the next couple of years the turnout will be much better."

Taglienti gives a good deal of credit to the assistant coach, Bill Jones. "He has been working with sprinters, high jumpers and broad jumpers," he says. "He's a graduate of Susquehanna, where he took part in track and football. He's a good man."

"Although we haven't had a winning season

MARTIN TAGLIENTI

"In spring track in a number of years," the coach says, "Bill and I hope to have it this year."

Taglienti, who was born in South Orange, was graduated from Columbia High School in South Orange, where he was active in football and track. After spending two years in the U.S. Marines, Taglienti caught up on his studies. He was graduated from Fairleigh Dickinson University with a B.S. degree and from Monclair State University, where he received a teacher's certificate. During his stint in the Marines, he says, he participated in boxing matches.

"While I was attending college," Taglienti says, "I worked at the South Orange Community House as the boys' counselor." From college, he came directly to Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. "That was 10 years ago," he says. Taglienti teaches social studies and is the special services department.

He is married to the former Carol Ann Kleiser of South Orange. "I met her here at the school," he grins. "She taught home economics."

The Taglientis (Carol, Mark Joseph, 3 1/2 and Stephen Arthur, 2 1/2) live in a new home in Chatham Township.

"The boys are athletically-minded like their father," says the coach. "By the way," he adds, "we expect another Taglienti in May."

Report from Trenton

By State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo

One of the most pressing problems facing New Jersey is the need to find a way of providing college education for our young people who cannot afford them. There has been a hue and cry for a significant and very costly expansion of facilities in our public colleges.

However, faced as we are with urgent requests for spending in many other areas, it is imperative that we resolve the problem without resorting to costly expenditures for new facilities. One possible solution is embodied in a bill, S-423, to provide higher education tuition aid. This bill, which I co-sponsored under consideration by the Senate's Education Committee, of which I am a member.

Basically, it would provide tuition supplements to youths from lower-middle and low-income families. It would enable them to attend the college of their choice in New Jersey and help alleviate pressures for immediate expansion of existing facilities in state institutions.

Separate and distinct from the already existing state scholarship program, the tuition aid proposal would involve grants to all eligible New Jersey students, without regard to race, religion, creed or sex. Under S-423 the applicant must be a resident of New Jersey for at least 12 months prior to making a request for the aid. The applicant must also demonstrate financial need. The specific rules would be established by the State Scholarship Commission.

Tuition aid grants would be awarded annually to each qualified full-time student working toward a bachelor's degree at any accredited and approved New Jersey college. The bill proposes that the program be inaugurated with the freshman class entering college in September, 1968. Students would be eligible to receive the grants for eight undergraduate semesters. In order to continue receiving aid under this program, a student must maintain the minimum standards of academic performance in his college. The measure.

sure specifically excludes students taking courses of study leading to degrees in theology, divinity or religious education.

THE MEASURE LIMITS the amount of tuition aid for a student in one year, to $1,000. However, the amount of the aid in one semester should not exceed the regular tuition less $225.

The tuition aid program would not be open to students who are attending college under a state competitive scholarship. Nor would students coming from families with effective incomes of more than $9,000 a year be eligible. Effective income under this bill is defined as the total income of the student and parents subject to Federal income tax, less personal dependent exemptions and standard or itemized deduction, less an additional allowance of $400 for each dependent.

Students from families with effective incomes of less than $5,000 would be eligible for the maximum of $500 a semester or $1,000 a year. The amount of the grant for students from families with effective incomes of between $5,001 and $6,000 would be $400 a semester; between $6,001 and $7,000, $300 a semester; between $7,001 and $8,000, $200 a semester; between $8,001 and $9,000, $100.

I am hopeful of gaining sufficient support in the legislature to win adoption of this bill. It could, I believe, go a long way toward attaining the desired end of providing more youngsters with college educations without requiring us to spend enormous sums of money on expanding state colleges.

HONORED BY LODGE—Sidney Piller, right, past president of the Springfield Lodge of B'nai B'rith, receives citation from Jack Sobel, vice-president and membership chairman. A record group of 115 new members was inducted in ceremonies held last week honoring Piller.

Piller is honored by B'nai B'rith

Sidney Piller of 108 Madison ter., was honored at a meeting of the Springfield Men's Lodge of B'nai B'rith, by having the largest induction class in the history of the lodge named "The Sidney Piller Class."

Jack Sobel, membership chairman, in presenting Piller with a citation of service, said, "Our quota this year was 95 new members. At the present time we have enrolled 117 new members, and we expect to double the quota before the year's end. This showing was largely the result of the efforts of Sidney Piller."

Piller is a former president of the Springfield Lodge and is on the board of governors of the Northern New Jersey Council of B'nai B'rith.

Louis Spigel, president of the lodge, also cited Piller. He said, "Much of our success is due to the untiring efforts of Sidney Piller. During his term of the presidency and in the years following, he has never relaxed in his crusade to advance the ideals of B'nai B'rith."

Four other Dayton representatives reached the semi-finals in their event: Louis Stein and Eric Krueger in dramatic interpretation; Jim Kosnett in extemporaneous speaking; and Phil Cohen in original oratory. Spring home sellers offered some tips by realtors' board

Persons planning to sell their homes this spring were given some pointers this week on how to make the houses show to best advantage.

The advice came from Robert C. Klein, president of the Board of Realtors, of the Oranges and Maplewood, including Livingston, Millburn, Short Hills and Springfield, who noted that spring is an advantageous time of the year to sell a home.

"Buyers have been cooped up all winter and now are anxious to get out in the open and out of the rut they have been forced into by the weather," Klein said. "Many prospective buyers have put off looking for a new home because they dreaded moving in the middle of winter.

"In addition, nature helps out by providing a pleasant setting of greenery and spring flowers for most homes."

Klein recommended that owners clear the yard of any debris that has accumulated during the winter. As soon as possible, flower beds should be spaded and shaped, trees and shrubs should be cleared of dead branches, and, later in the spring, easy-to-grow, inexpensive annual flowers should be planted to fill out the landscaping.

"Arrange yard furniture attractively, even before it is warm enough to use. This will suggest to the prospective buyers relaxing summer evenings to come," Klein said.

When readying the exterior of the house, take down storm windows and doors, touch up paint where necessary, or, if required, repaint the entire house, Klein advised.

2 out-of-towners fined for speeding

Two motorists paid speeding fines Monday in Springfield Municipal Court, Judge George Lombardi of Union presided, in the absence of Judge Max Sherman.

Steven J. Arnold of Summit, charged with speeding 50 miles per hour in a 25-mile zone on Milltown road, and with passing a stop sign, paid a total of $45. James W. Bezanon of Middlesex was fined $14 for speeding 59 miles in a 50-mile zone on Rt. 22.

Judge Lombardi declared forfeit the $25 bond posted by Robert M. Barry of Orange, Minn., who failed to appear to face a charge of driving with no license in his possession.

Norman G. Jones of Montclair was fined $25 for driving an unregistered vehicle. Sam Ingaco of Newark paid $15 for passing a school bus. Milton Pierce of Summit was fined $15 for obstructing traffic.

Y award presented posthumously to former Summit general executive

The Summit Area YMCA presented its 18th annual Stuart Reed Award posthumously to the late Allan R. Devenney last Monday evening at its annual dinner at the Hotel Suburban. Mr. Devenney was general executive of the local YMCA from 1945 until his sudden death in June, 1967. Mr. Devenney's daughter, Margaret S. Devenney, accepted the Reed award which is the Y's highest recognition service. This marks the first time the award has been presented to a professional of the YMCA.

Mr. Devenney joined the Summit Y as World War II drew to a close and was responsible for many projects in the years of population expansion which followed. Returning soldiers were helped to readjust to civilian life through the Young Men's Civic Council; the merger and integration of the Negro-White YMCAs occurred; the family membership idea was developed; there was major extension and improvement of the Y's facilities; the Indian Guide movement was developed.

In addition, camping services were improved; YMCA World Service education was promoted; services to retired men heightened; and an open-door policy to community groups inaugurated. The Metropolitan Musical Theater, an annual summer drama project for college and older high school youth launched in 1945, was also one of Mr. Devenney's projects.

Mr. Devenney was associated with numerous organizations in Summit, including the Rotary Club of which he was a past president. He served as vice-chairman of the United Campaign, an honorary member of the Summit Old Guard, and a member of the Urban League. A member of Christ Church, he edited its bulletin and also served as book review editor for the Forum, a publication for YMCA secretaries.

TOM SKINNER

Teen gang leader, turned evangelist, speaking Sunday

Evangelist Tom Skinner, a veteran of 15 gang battles on the streets of New York, involving knives, clubs, fists and broken bottles, will speak at the Evangelical Baptist Church this Sunday at 7 p.m. The church is located at 242 Shunpike rd., Springfield.

Skinner in his youth once planned a truce that would team five gangs together to fight a group of gangs from the other side of the city. About 3,000 youths would have been involved.

Skinner led a double life. While serving as a gang leader for two years, he consistently made good grades at Junior-High School 139 in Harlem.

At church he was president of the young people's department, sang in the young people's choir and led Bible discussions. But looting, stealing and gang warfare were his real interests.

Skinner now says that "whenever possible, I go back to the people of Harlem. I've been in homes where there are seven or eight children who have come from as many as three or four families. I sat with such families by the light of a 75-watt bare bulb hanging from the ceiling. Cockroaches crawl on the walls, mice and rats run across the floor, but the people are my people."

"My job is to share with them the wonderful news of the man Jesus Christ," said Skinner, "and show them how He can be relevant in their lives. And God has given me more than a dozen young fellows through situations like this — leaders of such gangs as the Diablos, the Imperials, the Crowns and the Sportsmen."

Skinner said Harlem only points up the problem "that exists in every major metropolitan area of this country. It is a problem that revolves around various ethnic groups, with the Negro in the forefront. There are 22 million Negroes in the United States and nobody seems able to deal properly with the issues."

"That's because it is impossible to legislate good will in the hearts of men."

Water in vast quantities beneath Sahara desert

The Northern Sahara has one of the driest climates in the world: average rainfall is under four inches a year, and there are virtually no permanent water courses. Yet beneath the desert lies almost unlimited quantities of water: one alone of its two main artesian aquifers, known to hydrologists as the "Intercalary Continental," contains an estimated 6,600,000,000,000,000 gallons of "fossil" water which has percolated down to the reservoir over the past 100,000 years.

Now the first full-scale survey of the Northern Sahara's groundwater resources is to be carried out to see how they can be used most profitably and economically. Field work for the survey, which is being carried out jointly by the Governments of Algeria and Tunisia, with UNESCO technical assistance and financial aid from the U.N. Development Program, started last December.

The area under survey covers some 300,000 square miles, four-fifths on Tunisian territory. The oases round the existing artesian wells support a population of about 1,100,000 settled farmers, whose main source of livelihood is the cultivation of dates, a crop requiring large quantities of water.

International experts appointed by UNESCO and local specialists will work from two bases, one at Gabes in Tunisia, the other at Timgaht in Algeria. Their work will include a survey of hydrological data and the establishment of a network of stations for recording well levels and well yields; chemical water analysis, dating by radio-isotopes and examination of the use made of the water which is already being extracted; and a study of the dynamics of the charge and discharge of groundwater reserves with the aid of a computer or mathematical model.

Among the results of the survey, which will be completed in two and a half years, should be accurate estimates of the exploitable groundwater in each area, recommendations for the correct spacing for wells, the improvement of the yields of existing wells and better wells in the future.

The U.N. Development Program is allocating some $740,000 to the project, and the total contribution of the Tunisian and Algerian Governments will amount to nearly $1,600,000. (UNESCO FEATURES)

Urge public involvement in conservation education

A call for greater involvement of New Jersey citizens in conservation education efforts was issued this week by Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development in conjunction with this week's celebration of National Wildlife Week.

Conservation education is being emphasized during Wildlife Week this year, with the theme, "Learn to Live with Nature." State Chairmen for the observance are William Meyer of Edgewater Park and David G. Deane of Colts Neck, on behalf of the New Jersey State Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, State affiliate of the National Wildlife Federation.

Commissioner Roe said, "Opportunities for meaningful action abound... with government agencies and many private organizations conducting meaningful conservation education programs. The threats of pollution, litter and waste of natural resources make it a vital necessity that people learn to live with nature—not in spite of it.

The recent honor accorded Dr. Eugene Vivian of New Jersey's Glassboro State College as National Conservation Educator of the Year demonstrates the kind of cooperative effort being made by the State Departments of Conservation and Education and many School Districts.

HE WAS AWARDED a whooping crane statuette by the National Wildlife Federation, having previously received the State Award from the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs.

Dr. Vivian conducted teacher workshops involving some 40 southern New Jersey School Districts, resulting in more than 40 classes spending a week in the Pine Barrens for study of natural history, ecology and conservation principles. He will direct a permanent Conservation and Environmental Science Center for southern New Jersey.

"He was a prime mover in establishment of the State School of Conservation in Stokes State Forest. Nearly all students at the six State Colleges participate in this program, co-sponsored by the Departments of Education and Conservation, so that they begin their teaching careers with an awareness of the outdoors. Facilities are also available for school and camp groups.

"Teacher workshops are an increasingly effective means of imparting basic knowledge of natural resources to instructors whose daily classroom contacts enable them to communicate most effectively with the younger generation. Besides Dr. Vivian's efforts, the Conservation Department and the Rutgers Cooperative Extension Service are active in arranging such programs, as explained in the October 1967 issue of New Jersey Outdoors. Robert Lianna of the Extension Service, who was named New Jersey Conservation Educator of 1966, has compiled kits of teaching materials on conservation.

"PARENTS CAN ENCOURAGE their school districts to participate in a teacher workshop similar conservation program. Some Districts have established their own outdoor education camp programs to help youngsters learn to live with nature.

"Many private organizations make valuable contributions in this field. Besides the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, these include Scout Councils, 4-H groups, camps, watershed associations and groups dedicated to a particular cause or area. Typical of these efforts is the work of Mrs. Herma Lechner of the South Branch Watershed Association, named in 1965 as the first New Jersey Conservation Educator of the Year by the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs.

"Resource personnel from the Department of Conservation and Economic Development participate in many of these projects, particularly experts from the Division of Fish and Game and the Division of Forestry, Parks and Recreation. Wildlife Week is an occasion for this Department to pledge an ever greater effort to encourage, assist and coordinate programs aimed at stimulating public awareness of man's dependence on our natural resources."

Television show set on landscaping

A half-hour program of landscaping techniques will be presented on "New Jersey Speaks for Itself," WNDT-TV, Channel 13, New York City, on Monday at 7 p.m.

Produced by Sona Robbins, "New Jersey Speaks for Itself" will feature Mrs. John Poinier, Short Hills, a landscape consultant and James Corradi, Summit, a landscape contractor and a director of the New Jersey Flower and Garden Show. Dick Huber is the host.

The need for a master landscaping plan will be stressed by Mrs. Poinier, who will show several "before" and "after" scenes of homes in North Jersey. She will stress how important proper grading and selection of the right plant materials are to accomplish a desired effect. Proper care and pruning of shrubbery will be demonstrated by James Corradi with the use of live plants and the correct tools.

45¢ dividend declared by First National State

The board of directors of First National State Bank of New Jersey has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 45 cents per share. It is payable April 1 to shareholders of record March 18.

This represents the 270th consecutive dividend paid by First National State Bank since its establishment in 1812.

Parkway is 1st in safety

The Garden State Parkway is again No. 1 in the land. The New Jersey Highway Authority this week reported that final safety statistics for 1967 from the National Safety Council have ranked the Parkway with the lowest fatality rate of 0.93 per 100 million miles of travel as traffic deaths dropped to 17—including three pedestrians—despite substantial increases in the number of vehicles using it and the distance they rode.

The Parkway was previously rated tops in such super-highway safety for 1956, 1957, 1960, 1961 and 1963. It was second in 1958 and 1965. Full operation of the basic Parkway started in mid-1955.

In 1967, the Parkway carried an estimated volume of 129,648,000 vehicles for a total travel distance of 1.824 billion miles. These were respectively some 4 and 5.5 per cent above the marks in 1966, when 30 traffic deaths occurred on the 173-mile Parkway.

The National Safety Council's statistics for the 12 months of 1967 showed the lighting of fatality rates that among major toll roads the Illinois Tollway (1.1) and the Connecticut Turnpike (1.4) were next behind the Garden State Parkway (0.9).

Among all toll roads regardless of length and usage, only the Mountain and Western Parkways in Kentucky and the Hutchinson River Parkway in New York—each of which had less than 150-million miles of travel—last year—recorded lower fatality rates than the GSP.

Dakar organizes literacy program

A literacy program, part of a larger project for women's education, has been organized at the Centre of Bopp, a district of Dakar. During 1966-67, 218 women took courses at the center, and 180 more in other districts of the city. The students are taught in classes of 15-20 by volunteer teachers, mainly young men and girls between 18 and 25. These volunteer teachers are given a short introductory training course, and then take charge of one group for a whole year, or sometimes even two years. Some of the volunteers have already been teaching illiterates for four years.

$3 billion master plan for N.J. transportation proposed

Transportation Commissioner David J. Goldberg this week announced the Department's first Master Plan for Transportation in New Jersey. The plan recommends a 10-year program for meeting the first priority capital needs in highways and public transportation. Using a combination of bond funds and regular State appropriations, it provides for $1.4 billion in non-interstate highway construction, $375 million for public transportation improvements and $150 million in additional State Aid for local roads.

To cover the gap between the revenues anticipated from regular sources, Goldberg has recommended a three-stage bond issue totalling $1.2 billion over the next 10 years. The proposal outlined to Governor Hughes and legislative representatives of both parties would authorize issuance of the bonds in separate installments of $400 million each and would be completely amortized by a one-cent increase in the State gasoline tax in 1969 and another one-cent hike in the tax in 1974. Goldberg presented his recommendations in a highly detailed 128-page report stressing the urgency and magnitude of problems confronting the Transportation Department. The Transportation Act of 1966, which brought the Department into being, requires the Commissioner to develop and maintain a comprehensive master plan. The Commissioner proposed that the entire bond proposal be authorized at one time and that the $400 million installments be scheduled as follows: the first, or part of it, including $100 million for public transportation, this Dec. 1; the second, or part of it, including remainder of funds for public transportation, Jan. 1, 1971; and the final, Jan. 1, 1974.

"THE ACTION PROGRAM recommended while large, is no larger than the problem it seeks to handle," Commissioner Goldberg said in a preface to the Master Plan. "If this program is adopted, the Department is prepared to state that substantial progress can be made in solving New Jersey's chronic transportation problems, and that the cost will be more than justified in terms of improved safety, increased economic activity and greater comfort for the traveling public."

The Commissioner emphasized the importance of the decision facing the people of New Jersey. "If there is to be an answer to growing traffic congestion and the deteriorating service on our railroads, the Department of Transportation believes that it must be provided by New Jerseyans. There is no reason to believe that a program of the magnitude discussed in this report can or will be paid for by the Federal government or any other outside source."

"The issue, therefore, is whether New Jersey wants the transportation improvements mentioned in this report badly enough to pay for them. The alternative is to do without them."

State highway construction needs total approximately $2.75 billion, the Master Plan states. Of this amount, about $1.5 billion falls into a top priority and should be built within the next 10 years. About one-third of this amount would be used to construct important freeway and other highway facilities in communities like Newark, Paterson, Camden and Trenton. The rest would enable the Department to carry out urgent suburban improvements like the Rt. 24 Freeway in Morris County and the Rt. 18 Freeway in Monmouth County, as well as improving such existing key arteries as Routes 1, 206 and 45. The $2.75 billion estimate of needed highway improvements does not include the cost of Interstate System routes. The Department believes the Federal Government is committed to the cost of these projects.

The non-interstate highway needs are broken down to $1,545,400,000 worth of projects in "first priority" and $1,217,700,000 in "second priority."

In the public transportation area the plan recommends a $325 million capital improvement program which would permit complete modernization and reequipment of commuter facilities in the most populous sections of the state in five to six years. This would permit electrification where necessary, provide new high speed air conditioned commuter cars and improve parking and station facilities. Included in the $325 million total would be about $92 million for elimination of hazardous grade crossings.

Computers aid study

The role which a computer can play in the detailed study of literature will be discussed at a Congress of the International Federation for Information Processing to be held in Edinburgh, Scotland, from Oct. 5-10. Among the world's 4,000 leading designers and users who will attend will be the Rev. Andrew Morton, a Scottish minister who is one of the foremost experts in this field. His current work includes supervising the Homer project—an examination by the major British universities of the last book of the Odyssey and a part of the Iliad. Some scholars think these are late additions to the renowned poems. Morton will discuss the problems of authorship, dating and relationship of old writings and will explain how computer analysis can be used to compare works of disputed origin with those known to have been written by a particular author. With this type of examination, it has been proved that a writer's style changes little over the years and idiosyncrasies and stylistic rhythms can be detected in the earliest and latest of his works. Says 12 years left to stave off world hunger cataclysm

The affluent nations have about 12 years left to ward off a world hunger cataclysm, James MacCracken, executive director of Church World Service declared this week. Church World Service has passed its twentieth year of service to overseas needs. During that time the big service agency has distributed more than four billion pounds of food to people in need overseas and has spent approximately $100,000,000 in Asia, Africa, Latin America and parts of Europe.

The head of the church relief and rehabilitation agency made his statement on the eve of its annual One Great Hour of Sharing offering which occurs each year on the fourth Sunday of Lent. This year it takes place on Sunday in some 94,000 Protestant and Orthodox churches in this country.

"Today there are more than 15,000,000 refugees in Asia, the Middle East and Africa," MacCracken declared. "At the same time the population explosion is fast outpacing the world's food production, and it must be kept in mind that the population growth is not a simple, even-paced increase, but a geometric mushrooming. The world has been repeatedly warned that unless every available resource is thrown into the battle against hunger and the constant threat of famine, the situation may get completely out of hand."

In addition to direct aid in the world's starvation areas, and disaster assistance, Church World Service has conducted scores of food-for-work projects, community development programs, and has participated in joint efforts with Catholic counterpart agencies in many parts of the world. The Protestant agency works through indigenous Christian churches in the countries being assisted. In recent years Church World Service has stepped up its pace of family planning programs, and intends to increase that type of assistance in countries where governments and peoples become more aware of the need for such programs.

This year in its One Great Hour of Sharing appeal, Church World Service expects to garner approximately $17,500,000 through the denominations use Church World Service to channel goods and funds overseas to assist those in need.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

THE SUNNY SIDE

Life will always be more pleasant if one tries to follow the advice of the song and always walk on the sunny side of the street. Those who search for gloom will always find it. Generally, they fail to see the many bright spots along the way.

Life on this earth will never be perfect for any of us. There are good days and bad days. The trouble is that we often forget the good times when trouble looms on the horizon. We anticipate the worst and, in so doing, we see a darker picture and ignore a light of hope.

Some of us expect so much that we must be disappointed. We sit on the sidelines and wait for good fortune to come our way, when we should be on our feet, doing something.

Work and effort point the way to the bright road. Whatever happens, whatever needs doing, go forth with a strong will to do the very best that you can to see that things go as right as they possible can. Do this, and you'll always walk on the sunny side of life.

$200 million paid veterans, dependents in state in 1967

New Jersey veterans and their families received a total of $199,862,773 in cash benefits and services from the Veterans Administration during the past fiscal year, Paul M. Nugent, manager of the New Jersey regional office at Newark, announced this week.

Largest cash benefits were $127,761,580 in compensation and pension checks paid to 110,587 New Jersey living veterans and dependents of 42,668 deceased veterans, Nugent said.

The VA pays compensation for disabilities incurred in military service and pensions for totally disabled war veterans whose disability is not service connected and to certain dependents of deceased war veterans, he said.

GI insurance policyholders and their beneficiaries in New Jersey received $33,704,451 in dividends and indemnity payments.

The 139 New Jersey veterans who trained in VA's vocational rehabilitation program in 1967 to overcome the handicaps of their service-incurred disabilities, received $262,226 in subsistence, tuition and school supplies allowances, Nugent said.

Also, a total of 349 sons and daughters of deceased or totally disabled New Jersey veterans received $355,139 in educational allowances under the GI Bill.

Housing grants for paraplegics amounted to $170,000 in New Jersey, and $22,400 was spent for automobiles and other conveyances for severely disabled veterans.

Administrative costs and miscellaneous benefits accounted for the remainder of the expenditures by the Veterans Administration in Jersey during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1967.

Computer is opera 'hero'

An avant-garde composer and a nuclear physicist have co-operated in the creation of an unusual opera, "The Legend of the Great Computer," to be mounted at the Royal Opera House, Stockholm.

The composer, Karl-Birger Blomdahl, created a stir some years ago with his "cosmic opera" entitled "Anlara." The libretto of his latest work is based on a novel by Hannes Alfvén, professor of nuclear physics at the Stockholm Polytechnic Institute. It is a satirical vision of what would happen if the Great Computer were one day to take power.

discover that humanity was useless and try to eliminate it. The novel, which had an immediate success in Sweden when it appeared in 1966, was in turn developed from a story written by Prof. Alfvén for his five-year-old grandson.

STOP LIGHTS

A motorist can check his automobile stop lights regularly by a simple method described by the American Automobile Association. Place a small mirror or a bright tin can lid on the inner doorpost of the garage on the driver's side. When he drives in to put the car away, a glance backward after coming to a stop, or a glance into the rear view mirror, should show a red glow when he depresses the brake pedal.

Meyner to moderate 'Crime in Streets' panel

ROBERT B. MEYNER

Former Governor Robert B. Meyner will moderate a panel discussion on "Crime in the Streets" Friday, May 3, at the Connecticut Farms School, Union. Meyner is a member of the Governor's Committee on Civil Disorders.

Five prominent persons will appear on the panel. "To present their special knowledge of crime conditions now apparent in metropolitan centers throughout the country," Mrs. Lynn Downie, secretary of Union County Open Forum, said. The forum is sponsoring the discussion, which is open to the public.

Panelists will include Vincent Broderick, former New York City police commissioner; Frank X. McDermott, recently elected New Jersey Senate majority leader; Marshall Brown, president of the Plainfield NAACP; Herbert Romerstein, investigator for the House Committee on Un-American Activities; and Dominick Spina, director of police in Newark. Governor Meyner as moderator will lead the panel seeking knowledgeable opinions from forum speakers and will encourage audience reaction as an important factor in the discussion as to how the current American crisis in crime can be solved," Mrs. Downie said.

Tickets are $2 and are available by mail from the Union County Open Forum, 600 Lehigh dr., Westfield. "Supported by private sponsors and modest admission charges, the forum is non-partisan in presenting differing and divergent views on 'crucial' issues of the day," Mrs. Downie said. "It has presented, among others," Dr. Marc Rafferty, controversial superintendent of public instruction in California, and now a candidate for the U. S. Senate. Dr. Rafferty spoke to a capacity audience on contemporary public school policy and objectives and the fallacy of much of modern progressive ideology in education.

Bullets win easily against Aggies in final at Caldwell

The Bullets were crowned champions of the Caldwell Small-Fry League last Saturday afternoon at the James Caldwell School. The Bullets easily downed the Aggies for the championship by an 18 to 2 score. In a consolation game for third place, the Lakers topped the Celtics, 15 to 11. The final games brought the Small-Fry League season to a close. This evening a group of all-stars from this league will meet all-stars from the Sandmeier League at the Florence Gaudinier School.

The Bullets dominated every period of their championship game with the Aggies, as they rolled to a very impressive victory. The usually solid Aggie defense broke down early against the very strong Bullets attack. Joey Knowles, who had a great season for the Bullets, led his team in this final game. Joey tallied 10 points and sparked his team with a good floor game. Jess Greenstein also scored well for the Bullets, as he netted six points. Jess had been a top scorer for the Bullets this season. Jeff McQuaid, who had a very good play-off record, was once again effective in the Bullets' attack. Jeff hit on two free throws and played a solid game at both ends of the court. Pat Prete was the only Aggie player who was able to score. Pat hit a first-period bucket for the Aggies to avoid the white wash.

The members of the winning Bullets team will receive their awards from the Recreation Department tonight between halves of the Small-Fry All-Star battle. Players who starred for the Bullets' championship team this season are: Joey Knowles, Jim Lopez, Dave Musko, Gary Werner, Greg Lies, Jeff McQuaid, Scott Seales, PETE Cook, Tom Irhardt and Jess Greenstein.

Falcons lose two but keep lead spot in Friday League

The Falcons dropped a two-game match but still managed to retain first place in the Friday Afternoon Boys' Bowling League. The Falcons, who have led the league each week since opening day, have a one-game margin over the Tigers. The Tigers have been challenging the Falcons all season long but have been unable to unseat the leaders. The boys roll in this Recreation Department-sponsored league each week at the Springfield Bowl.

The lowly Rangers picked last week to roar, as they toppled the Falcons in both ends of a two-game match. Tommy Lowy led the Rangers in both games as he posted a 277 series. The Rangers defeated the Falcons by eight pins in the first game, and then took a three-pin decision in the second contest. Mike Klarfeld with a 246 series also rolled well for the Rangers. Billy Palazzi was the most effective bowler for the Falcons last week. Bill rolled a 256 series, Mike Levine also had a good series for the league leaders, as he posted a 240 series total.

The Tigers, with a golden opportunity to get a share of first place, were able to pick up only a single game on the Falcons as they split a pair of games with the Warriors. Steve Harris was the top bowler for the Tigers, as he rolled a 247 series. Ed Gerstein of the Warriors led all bowlers in the match with a 274 total for the two games. Roy Greenberg rolled a 256 series in the Warriors' camp, while Mark Sherman had a two-game total of 225.

The Chiefs, who were flirting with the cellar during the early going, continue to impress as the team to watch. The Chiefs won another pair of games last week to move their record over 500 for the first time this season. They dumped the high-scoring Royals twice to move even with the Royals in third place, only three games from the top. The league-leading bowler, Gary Neifeld, had another top effort to lead the Chiefs. Gary posted

Local artist's oil in exhibition at UC

Helen Frank of 445 Meisel ave., Springfield, is among 200 New Jersey artists whose works appear in the seventh annual state-wide exhibition of the Westfield Art Association, which opened last Sunday and continues through this Sunday, at Union College, Cranford. Her oil painting is entitled, "Monhegan Gulls."

The exhibition will be open to the public without charge from 1 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. in the gymnasium of Union College's Campus Center off Princeton rd. Winners of awards totaling $1,000 were announced at a reception last Saturday, for participating artists, members of the Westfield Art Association and officials of Union College. All entries went before a jury comprised of Will Barnett and Robert Riggs Kerr, both of New York City. Only original works in watercolor, mixed media and graphics by New Jersey artists were accepted.

Center notes anniversary

Georges Gorse, French information minister, and Tor Gjesdal, Unesco assistant director-general in charge of communication, presided at a ceremony at Strasbourg marking the 10th anniversary of the International Center of Higher Education in Journalism.

Founded in 1957 with the aid of Unesco, the Center was a completely new venture, for it was the first time that a university course in journalism had been offered on an international basis. Over the last 10 years, the Center has organized 14 symposia attended by journalists and communications experts from all five continents, and eight seminars for journalists and information officers from Africa and Asia.

The center's ordinary courses lead to a degree or even doctorate in journalism. There is modern equipment enabling students to produce newspapers, radio and television programs.

Following the success of the Strasbourg Center, Unesco sponsored the creation of similar centers at Dakar (Senegal), Quito (Ecuador) and Manila (Philippines). The Dakar Center organized an advanced training course for journalists from African countries south of the Sahara from Feb. 5 to April 3.

70 teachers learn to fly

A pilot training college for rural teachers opened recently in Yaounde, capital of Cameroon. Created by the Cameroon Government with Unesco assistance, the new college will principally train teachers as leaders for village communities.

As well as perfecting their knowledge of the basic subjects, the students will take courses in educational psychology, teaching methods, arts and crafts, agriculture and new farming methods, hygiene and health, physical education. Practical instruction is given in the annexes which the college has set up in a number of villages.

This year, the college has 70 students; next year, there will be 140, and in subsequent years, 210. It will also organize in-service training courses, and co-operate with other organizations in revising teaching programs and producing new textbooks designed for village teaching.

The U.N. Development Program, for which Unesco is the executing agency, has allocated $1,700,000 over five years for this project, while the Cameroon Government is contributing some $5 million.

Miss Redgrave stars at Bellevue

Vanessa Redgrave, who stars as Queen Guenevere in the Lerner-Lowe musical, "Camelot," currently sweeping across the Bellevue Theater, Upper Merion, came into her own as an actress when she appeared in British films, "Morgan" and "Blow-Up."

Both pictures won some Oscars, and "Camelot" is a contender for five Academy Awards. Miss Redgrave (of whom "Camelot" director Joshua Logan says "...is the answer to our industry") comes from a family of actors. She is the daughter of Sir Michael Redgrave and Rachel Kempson, and sister to Lynn Redgrave and Corin Redgrave.

Starring with Miss Redgrave in "Camelot" are Richard Harris as King Arthur, Franco Nero as Sir Lancelot, David Hemmings as Mordred, Lionel Jeffries as King Pellinore, Laurence Naughton as Merlin and Pleg O'Far as Sir Galahad.

'Newcomer' begins fourth year in films

Katharine Ross, who stars with Anne Bancroft and Dustin Hoffman in "The Graduate" (which was nominated for seven Oscars) now in its eighth smash week at the Milburn Cinema in Milburn, starred in 11 top television shows and five major films in the first three years of her career.

Her movies include "Shenandoah," "The Singing Nun," "Munster Building" and "Games."

Daughter of former U. S. Navy Lieutenant Dudley Ross and Katharine Ross, the young actress became interested in the theater when she joined the San Francisco Theater Workshop, a non-profit repertory company.

She then appeared in several television segments, was initially under contract to MGM, then signed with Universal.

COMING UP—the unique and individual humor of Ernie Kovacs is something you dig or you don't. There surely was no funnier moment in the history of television than the time Ernie opened a copy of "Camille" and a dry cough was heard.

Ernie was the master of the sight gag, the electronic gag, the weird-association gag.

Regional schools will meet to discuss expansion plans

Meeting set for Dec. 14 to give data

Mountainside freshmen to spend year at Dayton

The Regional High School Board of Education will hold a public meeting on Thursday, Dec. 14, at 8 p.m. at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, to announce distribution of student and four long-range expansion plans. Avery Ward of Kenilworth, board president, disclosed at the regular board meeting Tuesday night at Dayton.

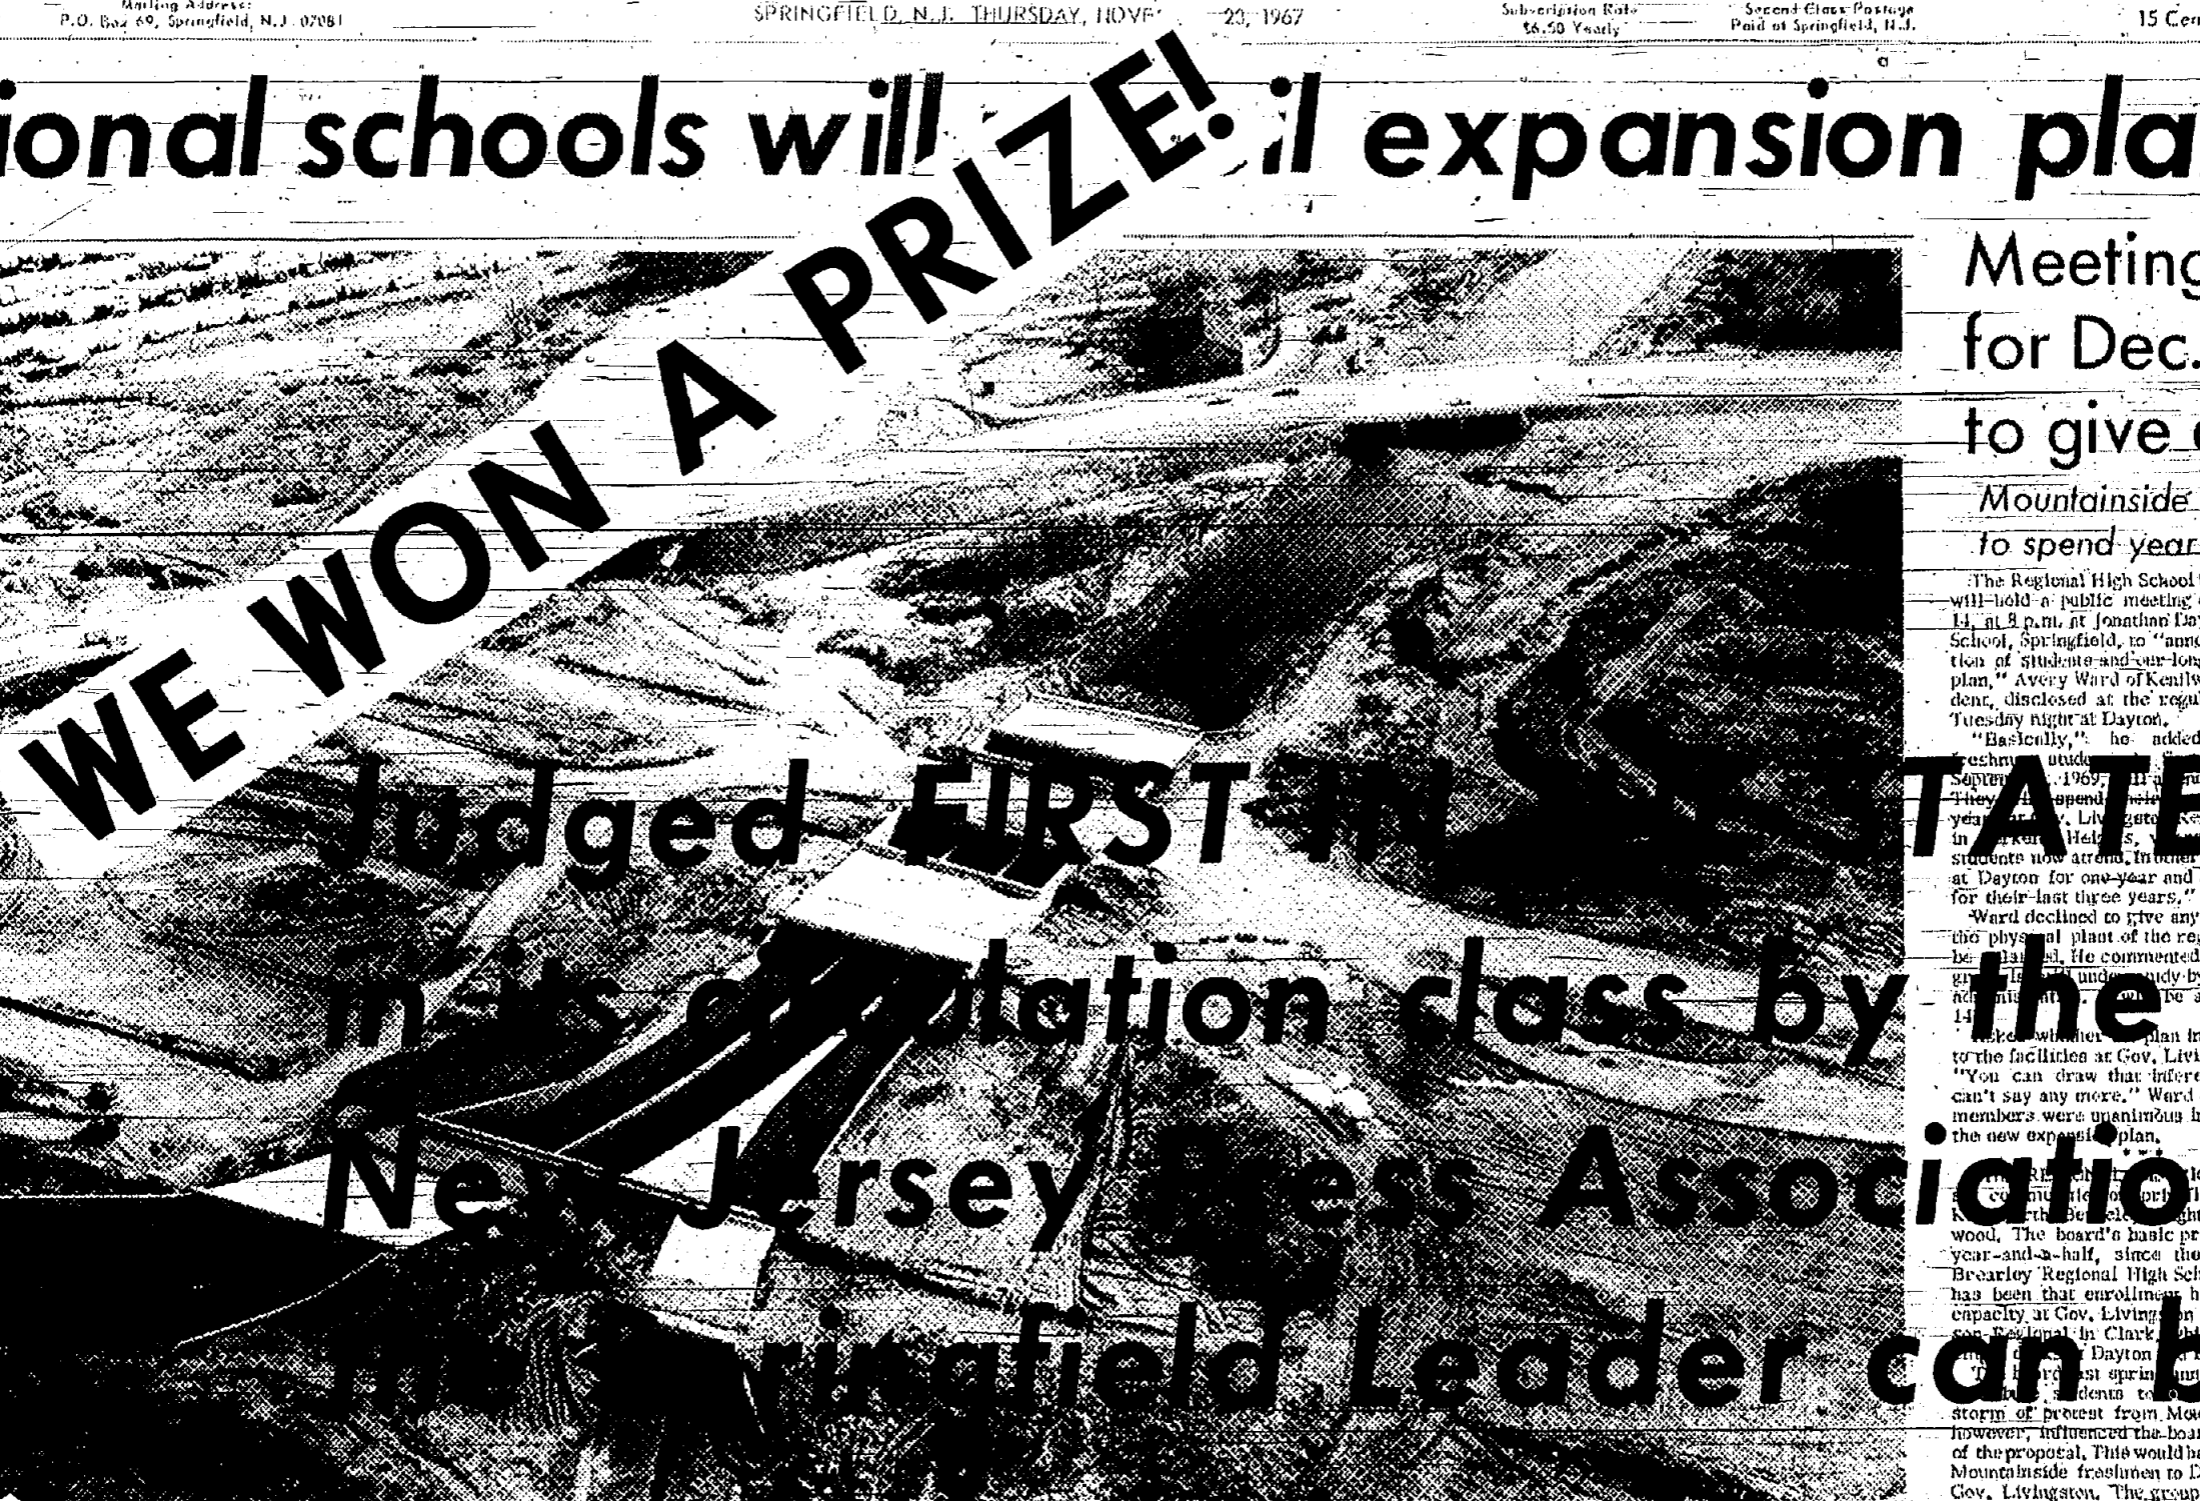

Ward declined to give any details of just how the physical plant of the regional schools will be expanded, he commented. "The whole program is being studied by the architect and will be announced on Dec. 14."

The plan included an addition to the facilities at Gov. Livingston, he replied. "You can draw that inference if you like," he said. "Any more," Ward did not say that board members were unanimous in their support for the new expansion plan.

Ward said that the plan would surprise the community because of the mountainside school, which has been a problem for the year-and-a-half, since the opening of David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, has been that enrollment has exceeded listed capacity at Gov. Livingston and at A. L. Johnson Regional in Clark. "There have been discussions at Dayton about the plan to transfer students to the mountainside school. A storm of protest from Mountainside parents, however, influenced the board to drop one part of the proposal. This would have sent this year's Mountainside freshmen to Dayton, rather than Gov. Livingston. The group, some 150 youngsters, would have remained at Dayton for the full four years, if that part of the plan had been put into effect.

Two other changes proposed at that time are now in effect. This year's freshmen from Garwood are at Brearley, rather than at Johnson. Other students from Garwood have a choice of whether to attend Brearley or remain at Johnson. Garwood parents have been assured by the board that all Garwood students will enroll at Brearley for the foreseeable future.

Freshmen from the Ballouer Top section of Springfield now attend Dayton, although they would have studied at Gov. Livingston in past years. Older boys and girls from this area were given a choice of schools, whether to remain at Gov. Livingston or transfer to Dayton. The plans were announced last spring. Officials expressed some concern over approval of any expansion plans by the State Department of Education. Even though approved, they said, it might be difficult to handle the plan while space remains in the schools. No interpretation was available at today's meeting on how, or what, the problem had been resolved.

Dayton moves to leave Watching Conference

Rival schools have larger enrollments to compose squads

A request for Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, to withdraw its athletic teams from participation in the Watching Conference was presented by Dr. Warren M. Davis, regional superintendent of schools, to the Regional Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday night at Dayton.

He noted that the request came from Robert La Vancura, principal at Dayton, with the support of Herbert Palmer, athletic director. Dr. Davis added, "The athletic department here sees no difficulty in scheduling games as an independent unit, such time as it is able to enter a conference of schools of similar size. I recommended that the board interpose no objection to the request."

Dayton has been a member of the Watching Conference for more than 10 years. The conference has been in operation. Particularly since Kenilworth students were transferred from Dayton at the start of last year with the opening of David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, the local school has been by far the smallest in the conference.

Dayton this year has approximately 270 students, boys and girls, in the senior class. Approximate figures for the number of seniors in each of the other member schools are: Gov. Livingston Regional, Berkeley Heights, 400; A. L. Johnson Regional, Clark, 370; Cranford, 400; Hillside, 370; Rahway, 410; Scotch Plains, 430; and Westfield, 590.

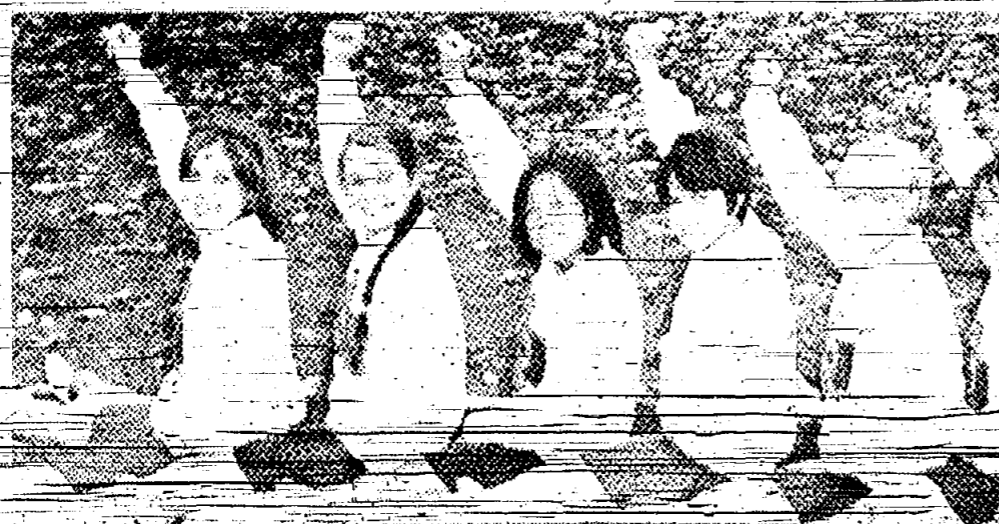

TWO OTHER SCHOOLS have previously withdrawn from the conference because they felt that they lacked manpower to compete with the larger schools, particularly in football where as many as 30 players are needed for a successful team.

They are Roselle Park High School and Abraham Clark High School of Roselle. Both now compete in the Garden State Conference, composed of schools of the approximate size of Dayton, ranging geographically from Clifford to Englewood in several in Monmouth County.

Following approval by the regional board, Dr. Davis commented, the Dayton resignation must then be accepted by conference officials. There will be no visible effect next year, he added, since the school has schedule commitments which must be met. Dr. Davis predicted that Dayton will meet at least two or four years to work out all its commitments.

Another factor in the Union County athletic alignment, now under study by a group headed by Dr. William West, county superintendent of schools, has been a desire for a county large-school conference.

The five largest schools in the county are

How to get best value in mattresses

Buying a new mattress is not a frugal purchase and yet to determine the best value for the money is not an easy job, says Carolyn F. Yukus, Senior County Home economist.

In shopping remember that mattresses are designed to be used with the corresponding box springs. It is false economy to put a new mattress on an old box or bed spring. Worn coils in the old unit can contribute to uneven support of a new mattress.

Perhaps the first consideration in looking at new mattresses is the spring construction. An innerspring mattress consists of a series of steel coils arranged in rows with insulation, padding and covering. Standard innersprings have coils which are fastened together by metal clips, ties or other springs.

Some construction has the coils sewn into individual cloth pockets and the pockets are sewn together. This allows each coil to respond independently to the weight put upon it.

Mattresses can also be made of either latex or polyurethane or a combination of both. Latex is a natural rubber product, while polyurethane is man-made. Both are light-weight, flexible, non-allergenic, mildew and odor proof.

The firmness of a mattress depends on the way the mattress and spring work together. This combination is determined by the number, size, gauge and placement of coils in each piece. Tufting also influences firmness.

To test a mattress it is important to lie down on it to determine the comfort and degree of firmness. Move around and notice if the mattress adjusts and conforms to the body.

Sitting on the edge of a mattress and pushing down with the hands is not a realistic test.

Try several different types of construction and varying degrees of firmness if you are uncertain.

Look for and check the bedding label that is required by law on all mattresses. The label should provide some helpful information to guide your selection.

Increase humidity for safety

Did you know that your house and home furnishings can be damaged by excessive dryness during the cold winter months, asked Carolyn F. Yukus, Senior County Home economist. Symptoms of this condition are sparks flying when you touch anything, clinging dust that is difficult to remove, having to vacuum the same area several times to pick up lint and pet hairs, spitting of carpet backing, and loose rungs and joints in chairs and tables.

Lack of humidity in heated homes can contribute to real damage to home furnishings during the winter.

A normal amount of moisture in the air is necessary to keep materials and woods from drying out and becoming brittle, and to keep static electricity at a minimum.

Modern humidifiers are now installed in many homes to impart moisture into the heated atmosphere of a home and this makes the air more comfortable, and cleaning easier.

Lacking a humidifier, the level of moisture can be increased by other satisfactory but less convenient methods. Additional plants requiring frequent watering or growing in water will help but will not be the complete answer.

If radiators are the type that have a special water tank attached, it will be important to keep these tanks filled with water.

For recessed radiators, it is possible to keep low pans of water under the radiators to create moisture.

Some heating systems have water tanks attached. These should be checked regularly to maintain a level of water. Even in the coldest weather some fresh air should enter the house to improve the humidity level.

Preparation of meals that include boiling or simmering foods will help the humidity level in the immediate area of the kitchen.

Static electricity cannot injure anyone under these conditions, it is merely uncomfortable. But it is one indicator that damage to furnishings can be done because of lack of humidity.

KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT

From N.J. Taxpayers Association

HALF OF STATE BUDGET WOULD AID LOCAL UNITS
State aid to New Jersey schools and local governments will total more than half-billion dollars under the State budget as recommended to the Legislature by the Governor.

The proposed $510 3/4 million aid program represents nearly half the $1,064,200,000 budget proposed by Governor Hughes for the fiscal year which begins July 1, next, and runs through the first half of 1969. It is 10 percent higher than current year State aid allocations of $463 1/2 million and more than double the $252 1/2 million distributed in the fiscal year 1965.

An annual analysis of the Governor's budget message prepared by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association shows that of the half-billion dollar aid proposal for fiscal 1969, $367 million, or more than 70 percent, would go for educational purposes. Principal increases are: teachers' pensions and social security, up $11.6 million; bus transportation, up $9.7 million; a typical pupil, up $5.8 million; vocational education, up $1.5 million; formula, library, and public school security, up $1 million each; county college operations, up $3.4 million, and nursing schools, up $0.7 million.

Almost $95 million is recommended by the Governor for welfare and mental health programs, or about $20 million over the 1968 level. Half of that increase is for aid to dependent children. New and expanded programs administered by the Department of Community Affairs are up $7 million.

Aid for local highways under the new 1967 law, grade crossing elimination, and sewerage grants and loans totaling $21 million were temporarily deferred, as was capital aid of $18 million requested for county colleges, pending a report by the special commission appointed by the Governor to evaluate capital needs.

The Governor's budget proposals are under consideration by the Joint Legislative Appropriations Committee. The State aid section, as highlighted in NJTA's analysis, follows:

It may be less grand than most station wagons. But it's also about a grand less.

If you're looking for a miniature moving van, our Squareback Sedan isn't it. Even with its back seat folded down it only holds half as much as the average station wagon.

Which means you can't lug 30 pieces of luggage. Or a full-sized double bed.

But maybe you just need a car that can carry 15 valises. Or a full-sized single bed. Then you can save a lot of money with a Squareback Sedan.

It costs only $2349.*

And it not only goes for less than most conventional wagons to begin with, it keeps on going for less.

A Squareback can get as much as 27 miles on a gallon of gas. It takes 5 pints of oil instead of 5 quarts. It never needs an ounce of anti-freeze, because it's cooled by air. And it avoids repair bills like a... well, like a Volkswagen.

So before you go out and buy some station wagon that has twice as much space as you really need, ask yourself this question:

Will all that extra grandness be worth an extra grand?

Red Cross lists assistance for servicemen and families

Almost 60,000 U.S. servicemen and their families were assisted by the Red Cross in New Jersey last year, it was announced this week in the state's Red Cross annual report.

David M. Henderson of Chatham, vice-president of New Jersey Bell and Red Cross state fund chairman, said the four-page report is available at all 39 state chapters.

The report cites the group's activities in disaster services, safety, nursing, student instruction, blood distribution, and volunteer programs. It notes that voluntary contributions in the state, amounting to $2.5 million, went for these projects as well as national and international programs.

Among the New Jersey statistics presented:

Age: Blood distributed: 39,355 pints, 49,800 milliliters of serum; 15,599 "ditty bags" (containing items such as shaving material and pens), which were prepared and sent overseas to servicemen in Vietnam; 375 layettes prepared for infants in Vietnam, and 605 families received assistance in emergency situations.

The booklet also points out that the Red Cross provided emergency services in 1967 for persons affected by Hurricane Baulah and the Alaskan floods. It also notes that about one out of every four servicemen or their families are assisted by the Red Cross.

"The statistics in the report reflect some of the effort," said Henderson, "but the real story is people. It's people helping other people through the Red Cross. When you see wounded boys coming back from Vietnam their eyes tell the story. Just a simple thing, like a free telephone call home from McGuire Air Force Base makes all the difference in the world. Of course, none of this would be possible without the generous contributions of money and service."

The annual report has been presented to Governor Richard J. Hughes, who has proclaimed March "Red Cross Month."

FLOATS ON TEARS

A contact lens doesn't really touch the eye but floats on a layer of tears, adhering by surface tension, states the New Jersey Ophthalmic Association.

REPORT ON SERVICE—New Jersey Governor Richard J. Hughes, seated, looks over the annual report of the Red Cross in New Jersey. Standing behind him are David H. Henderson of Chatham, Red Cross state fund chairman and a vice-president with New Jersey Bell, and Mrs. Dorothy Thropp, a New Jersey member of the Eastern Area Advisory Council of the American Red Cross. The governor has signed a proclamation naming March "Red Cross Month."

NCE to offer master's in polymer engineering

Newark College of Engineering announced this week that a new degree program in polymer engineering will be offered on the master's level through the college's graduate division beginning in September.

The announcement was made by Dr. Eugene H. Simichberg, dean of NCE's graduate division. He noted that the program in polymer engineering has been geared to meet specific educational needs of those who work in the processing of polymers and plastics.

Jersey architects press for state building code

A state-wide committee of architects has been named by Eugene A. DeMarin, president of the New Jersey Society of Architects to work in the direction of the adoption of the new state building code.

Julian W. Couzens, of Westfield is the state wide chairman of the committee comprising the nine chapters of the State Architect's Societies, of which Frederick A. Elsassser of Union represents the Central Jersey Chapter.

"The main thrust of the work will be in the direction of the adoption of the new state building code for all New Jersey construction, private, civic and institutional, etc. without loss of autonomy in any of these areas. At present there is little, if no, unity in the construction code situation in New Jersey. This results in needlessly expensive construction, a conglomeration of personal codes written by amateurs, specification codes rather than performance codes, differences in delineating definitions, as well as an unbelievable adherence to obsolete concepts with little hope of continual and vigorous revision and updating of building laws and regulations," Elsassser said.

The committee proposes to obtain an endorsement of the new state building code by New Jersey architects through local chapter studies. Each of the nine chapters, responsible to the New Jersey Society of Architects, will send two delegates to an Architects' State Building Code Convention in September in order to present their studies and recommendations before final ratification and endorsement.

In the interest of unity and cooperation within the building industry, the Committee has been in touch with the New Jersey Society of Professional Engineers, the New Jersey Builders' Association and the Building Contractors' Association of New Jersey, who are running parallel programs with the same objectives.

Once the new State Building Code meets the architects' approval, a public announcement to that effect will be issued by the Society. Thereupon, the architect's committee will campaign for code adoption by those municipalities not having done so. The Committee's further function will be to serve as consultants over all code changes and revisions as well as to ascertain that a State Code Agency will continue to exist and have enough monies to revise and re-write the code as necessary; this will assure New Jersey of a viable building code situation.

Investment seminar to be held Saturday

In depth discussions on "Planning Your Portfolio in Today's Market" and "Price/Earnings Ratios and Their Significance in Investment Analysis" are two subjects to be treated in the semi-annual all day seminar on Saturday at the Hotel Suburban, East Orange, sponsored by the New Jersey Council of Investment Clubs. The program is open to the public.

In addition, an address by Salvatore A. Bonterro, assistant to the president, Whippany Paper Board Company and former U.S. assistant Secretary of the State, will be featured and will precede a luncheon.

Can you think of a more convenient place for a telephone "dial"?

The idea was to bring the "dial" to the dialer, and that's what we've done. We've put it in the handset of the beautifully new and compact Trimline® telephone.

When you lift the handset, ten Touch-Tone® pushbuttons, which let you "dial" twice as fast, light up and come to you. A new recall button, which lets you make a second call without first hanging up, also comes to you. To get a dial tone, you just push the recall button.

Since you don't need to see the base to call and since the cord is 18 inches longer, you can put the Trimline phone in out-of-the-way places. For instance, on the side of a kitchen cabinet or under a counter or almost anywhere you'd like to put it.

The Trimline phone is inexpensive—only pennies a day. And there's no extra charge for color. If you want Touch-Tone service, the additional Touch-Tone charge covers all the phones on your line.

Put a Trimline phone in the palm of your hand. To order in either wall or table models, just call your Telephone Business Office.

Also available with standard dial in new compact design.

Upsets highlight State League play-offs as survivors reach semi-final round

Upsets have been the name of the game in the State League basketball play-off competition. All of the seeded teams were defeated in their first contest this past Saturday, while two of the squads, Oklahoma and West Virginia, which finished near the bottom of their respective divisions during the regular season, have advanced into the semi-final round. North Carolina and California are the other two teams to advance into semi-final play. North Carolina will play West Virginia, and Oklahoma will meet California. The respective winners will meet in tonight's State League championship game.

Barry key player as Rockets sweep to Sandmeier title

The high-scoring Rockets established themselves as champions of the Sandmeier Small-Fry League with a crushing 32 to 8 victory over the Chargers. The Rockets scored heavily in each period, as their high-powered offense easily rolled past the Chargers. The Pirates knocked off the Tigers, 17 to 10, in a consolation battle for third place.

In route to their championship victory over the Chargers the Rockets used a trio of players to score heavily. Bobby Barry led the scoring parade as he netted 11 points. Jimmy Plytyk tallied nine points for the winners, while Joe Natello, the third member of the high-scoring trio, knocked in eight points. Wayne Dostal hit three points for the winners, while Mark Tepper hit a free throw to fill out the Rockets scoring column.

North Carolina put the game away early as it outscored Florida, 19 to 4, in the first half. Bobby Hydock paced the North Carolina, both in the scoring and ball-control departments. Bob tallied 11 points and played well at both ends of the court. Stu Garowitz led a determined final-period Florida charge, which made the score respectable. Stu tallied seven points. Dino DiCocco tallied six points for North Carolina and played well, as did Brian Leonard, who tallied four points. Roger Frank and Wayne Rutz also played top games for North Carolina with their hustle in the back court. Both boys tallied on free throws.

OKLAHOMA MET TEXAS in a Western Division opening round game last Thursday evening at the Gaudiner School. Oklahoma topped the Texas team by a 38 to 31 score. The Okies received much scoring punch in this high scoring game from their three top rookie performers. Bobby Lee tallied 12 points for Oklahoma to lead the scoring, while Billy Palazzi and Mike Levine each netted 10 points. Lee was particularly effective in the final period when his scoring offset a Texas rally. Palazzi and Levine scored heavily in the early going. Bobby Wallick played a top game for Texas, as he led the attack with 10 points. Bobby and Jeff Greenberg paced a final-period Texas rally, which brought them close. Jeff finished with nine points, Roy Greenberg also netted nine points in this game for the Texas team.

California, which has been the highest scoring squad during the play-offs, won its opening round game over Wyoming by a 44 to 34 score. Johnny Gacos, a speedy back-court performer, paced the California victory with 13 points and a fine all-round performance. Bob Day

Johnny Baber broke loose in this final-period rally, as he earned seven points in the spurt. Dave Molien, with nine game points, played well for Wyoming.

West Virginia continued its upset design in the opening quarter-final round game. West Virginia stormed past Iowa and into the semi-final round. The final score was 27 to 24, as West Virginia held off a second half rally by Iowa. West Virginia, which was led by Billy Huntley and Frank Zarelo, left the floor at half time with a 19 to 2 lead. Iowa stormed back only to see the rally fall short. Iowa, which tied for first place during the regular season, was top-seeded in the tournament. Huntley tallied 10 points to lead West Virginia, while Frank Zarelo had nine points. Zarelo and Jeff Colandrea led the winners in the second half, as the Iowa team came close. NORTH CAROLINA MOVED to a semi-final berth with West Virginia, as it topped seeded Kansas by a 33 to 31 score. A final period North Carolina rally, which was paced by Bobby Hydock, told the story in this game. Hydock hit eight of his game total of 12 points in the second half, as North Carolina rebounded from an 18-to-14 deficit at half-time. Dino DiCocco also tallied 12 points to tie Hydock for scoring honors for the winners. Wayne Rutz hit four points and played very well for the North Carolinians, as did Brian Leonard, who tallied three points. Louis Klein scored for Kansas, which was eliminated from further play. Klein had his outstanding game of the season, as he tallied 17 points and "poked good" at both ends of the court. Klein contributed in every period, as he spread his scoring evenly throughout the game. Sam Kaplan hit seven points for Kansas, while Mickey Byrd tallied five points. Oklahoma kept its championship hopes alive in a quarter-final game, as it got needed Utah to the sidelines by a 32 to 30 score. This game was a real thriller, as the Okies took a big lead into the final period only to see Utah coming roaring back with 20 points in the final minutes to actually tie the game with seconds remaining. Billy Palazzi stole a Utah pass as the game showed only a few seconds remaining. Palazzi was fouled and he converted both shots on a one-and-one situation to save the victory for Oklahoma.

Palazzi, in addition to his last-second heroics, paced Oklahoma throughout the game, as he tallied a game high of 12 points. Mike Levine hit 10 points for Oklahoma, while Bobby Lee tallied five for the Okies. Mark Tasher packed an entire game into his final-period performance for Utah. Mark scored 10 points and was tremendous as he led his Utah squad back into a tie with Oklahoma. Palazzi's free throws ended the fine performance by Tasher. Mike Marler also played well for Utah in this final period; Mike tallied eight of his game total of 10 points in the rally. Justin Schneider hit seven points for the Utes.

Arizona, which had won its 10 regular season games without a set-back, was knocked out of the play-offs in its first game, as California turned its offense loose to beat Arizona, 42 to 29. California sank Arizona with a torrid second period, which saw them net 20 points to six for Arizona. Johnny Gacos, who led California in its opening round victory, paced the attack in this game. Johnny netted 17 points, as he scored heavily in each period. Bob Day was once again effective for California. Day dropped in 11 points. Tony Petruzello, with six points, had a fine game for the winners, as did Neil Anderson and Dave Mitchell. Ricky Rubinfield led the Arizona team with seven points, while Bruce Cohen and Glen Cooper had six points each. Charles Adickman and Ed Gerstein ended their seasons with Arizona with four points each.

Raiders, Hornets still even in Thursday Boys' Bowling

The Raiders and the Hornets remained tied for first place in the Thursday Afternoon Boys' Bowling League, while the Hurricanes dropped into third place. A week ago only two games separated the first six teams in the eight-team league. A week later, and there is some breathing room between the same six teams. Of the top six, only the Raiders and the Hornets were able to chalk up winning marks last week. The league is sponsored by the Recreation Department as part of its youth bowling program. All bowling is at the Springfield Bowl.

The Raiders met the Hurricanes in an important match last week and came away with two victories. The Raiders were led by torrid bowling from a trio of Keglers, Neal Turen with a 291 series and a second effort of 173 led the Raiders. Gavin Widom was a single pin behind as he connected for a 290. Richard Lan, the third member of the trio, continued his top bowling of the past few weeks. Richard posted a 280 series. The Raiders managed to win both games in spite of a top effort by Stuart Liebeskind of the Hurricanes. Stu led all bowlers in the match as he put together games of 162 and 141 for a 303 series. Andy Mendelsohn with a 254 series also rolled well for the Hurricanes.

The Hornets kept pace with the Raiders as Howie Fleischman led a two game sweep of the Atoms. Fleischman topped all bowlers at the alleys last Thursday as he posted games of 183 and 144 for a 327 series. Kenny Perlmutter was also effective for the Hornets in their rout of the Atoms. Kenny rolled a 274 series to continue his fine bowling in the recent Hornet surge. Larry Goldberg was the leading bowler for the Atoms.

IN ANOTHER MATCH last week, the Bombers split a pair with the Jets. The Jets managed to capture the second game to keep their record at .500 and remain in contention. Howie Levine paced the Jets as he has done all season. Howie posted a 294 series. Leon Margules was the top bowler in the Bombers' attack with a 219 series.

The Rockets, who led the league through most of the season, continued to slump as they dropped two games to the Bullets last week. The Rockets are now at .500 for the season and are struggling to stay near the top. Bob Goodman with a 251 series led the Bullets past the Rockets in two games. Danny Kotovsky with a 244 series was the Rockets top bowler.

Stuart Liebeskind raised his league-leading average to the 142 level with his good series last week. Howie Levine, in second place, is five pins away with a 137. George Robbins holds third place by a fraction over Bobby Goodman. Both boys are rolling at a 135 pace. The fifth place bowler is Ronnie Silverman with a 130 average. The remaining boys among the top 10 are: Gil Gleim, 128; Steve Silpe, 127; Howie Fleischman, 122; Leon Margules, 121, and Kenny Perlmutter, 119.

The 30-second oven cleaner 7¢

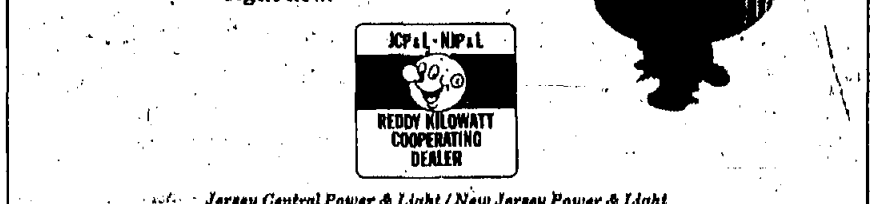

(It takes just 30 seconds of your time to whisk away the dirt. Costs less than you're now paying.)

Ladies, get your heads out of the oven. Now you can have an electric range with an oven that cleans itself automatically, for an investment of about 7¢ and 30 seconds of your time per cleaning.

You just put the surface-unit drip pans in the oven and turn a switch to "Clean". Spills and splatters disappear from the oven, racks and drip pans during the average 1½ hour-cleaning cycle, and only a trace of powder remains. You whisk that away in about 30 seconds.

There's no worry about scrubbing the surface units either, because spills disappear from them while you're still cooking. Only electric ranges can give you this "total cleanability".

So throw out the oven cleaners, the cans of stuff, the brushes, the steel wool, and the dirty rags. Buy a new electric range with a self-cleaning oven. You'll find a large selection at the local appliance dealer displaying the familiar Reddy Kilowatt seal. He's open right now.

Rep. Dwyer seeks answers on issues from constituents

Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (R-12th Dist., N.J.) has invited her 12th Congressional District constituents in Union and Essex counties to "tell me what you think" about the major issues facing Congress and the Administration.

For the eleventh consecutive session of Congress, Mrs. Dwyer this week is mailing her annual Congressional Questionnaire to approximately 16,000 residents of the suburban district. She also urged others to participate.

The opinion survey, which she terms "an especially useful way of obtaining the views of the people I represent," covers a wide variety of issues, from the war in Vietnam to stiff penalties for the illegal use of drugs.

Urging constituents to participate in the poll, Congressman Dwyer challenged them to surpass last year's record-breaking response of more than 25 percent, a rate Mrs. Dwyer described as "remarkably high and possibly unsurpassed in any other congressional district."

In addition to multiple-choice questions on attitudes toward U.S. involvement in the war in Vietnam, Mrs. Dwyer has utilized a method designed to measure, both relatively and in depth, people's attitudes toward federal programs in 16 major policy areas.

The congresswoman noted that she expects to obtain much more useful information than previously available about the degree to which constituents as a whole value individual government programs -- information, she said, which will be especially important in considering tax legislation, appropriations requests, and proposed changes and extensions in federal programs.

Though she stressed that poll results provide "valuable insights and useful guidance," Mrs. Dwyer also pointed out that she "accepts full responsibility for the votes I cast in Congress."

Explaining that the high cost of printing and processing questionnaires, which is not paid for by the government, prevented her from mailing the survey to every constituent.

Congresswoman Dwyer encouraged interested persons to obtain copies either from her District Office in Plainfield (Room 202, 40 Somerset St., phone: 754-6686) or her Washington Office (2421 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515; phone: (202) 225-5361).

Basketball team hits peak in loss to unbeaten Orange

By MYRON MEISEL

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team closed its 1967-68 season last Saturday night when it was defeated by Orange High School in the second round of the state tournament, 58-63.

The Bulldogs played superbly against Orange, winner of the Essex County tournament and undefeated in 24 games. From the beginning, Dayton's hustle and intense playing gave the Orangemen a serious challenge. The Bulldogs played fine defense throughout, holding All-Stater Bob Butler to only 10 points, and out-rebounded Orange despite its height advantage.

But Dayton's offensive attack lacked the necessary punch to topple Orange. Dayton shot only 31 percent from the floor and lost the ball over 20 times through turnovers. All in all, however, Dayton showed that it can play with the best of the teams in the state. The Bulldogs snapped to a quick 6-0 lead, as Cliff York, Ralph Losanno and Tony Gromek ran off three goals in the opening minutes. At halftime, Orange led by a small 29-23 margin.

In the third quarter, however, Orange pulled ahead on some fine outside shooting to lead 40-30. Dayton bounced back in the final period with effective use of the fast break and scored eight consecutive points in the final minute against an Orange freeze. Gary Kurtz' and Richie Campbell's defense and rebounding of Gromek and David Marquillas were highlights of Bulldog play. Danny Lester played strong team ball to round out a well-played contest by the entire squad.

regular contests. The Bulldogs made a remarkable comeback in the tournaments, however, playing a strong first half against Roselle Catholic in the Union County tournament and finishing with their power showings against Hanover Park and Orange in the state competition.

Dayton's victories included: Arthur Johnson Regional of Clark (2), Rahway (2), David Breezley Regional of Kenilworth (2), Governor Livingston Regional of Berkeley Heights and Union High School. Its losses: Westfield (2), Abraham Clark of Roselle, Hillside (2), Scotch Plains-Fanwood (2), Cranford (2), and Governor Livingston.

The Booster Club of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School this week announced plans to bring to Springfield an "outstanding display of Olympic and other sports." The exhibitions will be given at the boys' gym at the high school starting at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, April 19. Part of the admission price of $1.25 will be donated to the U.S. Olympic Fund to help finance the trip of American athletes to Mexico City for the 1968 Olympic Games.

Athletes from all over New Jersey, many of them of international fame, will come to Springfield to take part in the program. The three-hour program will include exhibitions in gymnastics, fencing, judo, weight lifting, table tennis and a sport that will be added to the Olympic Games in 1972, team handball.

Also participating in the table tennis competition will be Nat Stokes of Springfield, the former state senior champion. He will be joined by a former Springfield resident, Al Nochenon, now of Maplewood and a former doubles champion with Stokes. Rounding out the table tennis contingent will be Elmer Wengert, presently Class A champion, and Richard Nochenon, 15-year-old former Springfield resident, who is currently boys' champion and state junior champion.

Tickets will be available Monday at the athletic department at Dayton Regional High School and at the high school gym the night of the exhibition.

Singles and doubles exhibitions in table tennis will be put on by first-rank players from New Jersey who have also made their marks in world competition. Jeff Swersky of Union, who currently leads the N.J. Table Tennis League with an almost perfect record of 41 victories and only one defeat, will play a singles match against Harvey Gutman of Cedar Grove, a member of the state doubles championship team and a former representative of the United States in the boys' world championships.

Playoff victories listed by Harvard, Columbia quintets

The Ivy League play-offs were off and winging at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School gym last Saturday afternoon. Harvard won an opening round game as it went into overtime to defeat Princeton, 36 to 33. In the second opening round game, Columbia topped Duke, 34 to 20. Harvard will now meet seeded Dartmouth in a semi-final game, while Columbia will take on the other seeded team, Cornell, in another semi-final contest. The two survivors will meet in this evening's feature game at the Florence Gaudineer School gym.

The Harvard-Princeton game was a pressure-packed affair, which did not see Harvard lead at any time until the opening shot of the overtime period. Harvard fought back throughout the game, as the teams swapped buckets with Princeton always holding a lead. When Princeton lost its top rebounder, Arnie Blumenthal, with five personal fouls near the end of regulation time, Harvard took control of the boards.

A rebound shot by Vinnie Davis with just a few seconds remaining put the game into overtime. Gary Tiss began the overtime by hitting a jumper for Harvard. Davis added a free throw and Bobby Nardone put the game out of reach with a side jumper. Davis led the Harvard team with 15 points. Vin was particularly effective in the final period when he took charge of the Harvard offense. Bruce Jeffery hit nine points for Harvard. Jeffery rebounded well and made some important steals during the game. Gary Tiss also netted nine points for winners, as he hit important shots throughout the contest. Bobby Nardone tallied five points for Harvard and played a tough game.

Princeton put on a determined show in this game. Princeton, which was out-sized by the taller Harvard squad, brought the game to Harvard with a pressure offense and defense. Princeton held the lead in this game and it seemed as if they had held on to win until they lost Arnie Blumenthal. Blumenthal went to the bench with eight points and countless rebounds. Mike Kistfield and Mark Weber also played outstanding games for Princeton. Mike led the Princeton offense and hit many big buckets. Mike finished with eight points. Mark was particularly effective in the game, as he led the Princeton scorers with nine points. Steve Harris tallied five points for Princeton, as he played a big role in their determined bid.

COLUMBIA HAD a much easier time in moving past Yale. After a rough first period in which Yale held a lead, Columbia moved ahead in the second period and then put the game on ice with a terrific third period. Yale could not cope with Columbia's fast break once the boys in light blue had it rolling. Barry Pomp was outstanding for Columbia, as he drove through the Yale defense. Barry led all scorers with 14 points, and hit six out of seven shots from the free-throw line. George Robbins also had a top game for Columbia. George led the rebounders and tallied nine points. Kenny Metzger, on the front end of fast break, tallied four points for the winners. Steve Zwillman and Gavin Widom also scored for Columbia.

Yale began this game, as if it were determined to run Columbia off the floor. After taking a lead to the bench at the end of the first period, Yale began to falter before the superior fire power of Columbia. Yale, how-

Youth basketball will finish season in games tonight

This evening at the Florence Gaudineer School, the Springfield Recreation Department will present its conclusion to the 1968 basketball season. The Recreation Department, which operates the youth basketball program for 11 primary school boys at four local schools in the township, will conclude the season with a basketball triple-header. Each game will feature play in the various levels of development within the basketball program.

The opening contest, set for a 6:30 p.m. tip-off, will pit the All-Stars of the Caldwell Small-Fry League against the All-Stars of the Sandmeter Small-Fry League. The two small-fry leagues are the initial introduction to team basketball for many of the boys. The boys in both leagues are nine and 10-year-olds. Between halves of this game, trophies will be presented to the champion ship team from each league. The Bulldogs are the champions of the Caldwell League, while the Rockets are their counterparts from the Sandmeter League.

The second contest of the evening will be a battle for the State League championship. The State League was played this year in two divisions. The 12-team league was split into two six-team circuits. The battle this evening will feature the two squads that survived from play-offs in the two divisions. Awards will be presented to the winning squad, and an MVP award will be presented.

The final contest of the evening will be a battle for the Ivy League crown. The Ivy League is the final stage of development in the youth basketball program. The Ivy League is made up of the top players from the two leagues, and other boys who have shown a faster development and warrant exposure to a higher level of basketball. Awards will also be presented to the winning Ivy League team, and an MVP award will be given to the outstanding player in the Ivy League play-off.

A Recreation Department spokesman stated: "Everyone is invited to attend this final evening of basketball. These who come early and remain for all three games will be treated to development before their eyes. A few years ago, the boys who will star in the final game were struggling through their initial basketball efforts as small-fry players."

ever, was not at top strength as its top player, Mike Sanders, was below par with a foot injury. Mike played anyway and tallied four points. Perry Koplik led the Yale scorers with seven points. Jeff Slater played a top game for Yale and netted six points. Mark Berkowitz and Howie Tenenbaum hit buckets to fill out the scoring column for Yale.

Schedule ends for Minutemen with even split

The Springfield Minutemen split a pair of games during the final week of their regular season. The Minutemen will now await the start of the Springfield invitation tournament, which will get under way this Saturday at the Florence Gaudineer School. Last week the Springfield team brought its season to a close with a 30 to 16 victory over Nutley at Nutley last Tuesday evening, and a 63 to 44 loss to St. George's of Paterson Saturday evening on the Springfield court.

The Springfield boys took charge of the Nutley team early, as they planned their second-best of the season on the Nutley squad. George Robbins with another top effort for the Minutemen, led the squad with eight points. Eddie Cook played a top game for Springfield. Ed's eight rebounds led the squad. Ed dropped in six points for the Minutemen. Kenny Baroff continued his fine late season play, as he netted five points. Kenny moved the ball well in this game for the Minutemen and played a top defensive game.

Jerry Jones, who is getting more and more game experience, looked very good in this game as he ran the offensive with his crisp passing. Jerry hit a bucket with a big steal underneath the basket. Other scorers for Springfield were Vince Davis, Gary Tiss, Mike Sanders, Bobby Zucker and Bruce Jeffery.

The Springfield team played a talented squad of players from St. George's in Paterson on a standstill during the first half. The Paterson team, which has lost but one game this season, could not solve the tough Springfield man-to-man defense. The Paterson boys, however, started the second half with a zone press that caused many Springfield turnovers. Paterson roared away at this point to an easy victory.

Kenny Baroff, with still another fine game paced the Springfield team. Ken, who hit from the outside and on driving shots, led the Minutemen with 12 points. Ken will be counted on in Springfield's tournament bid. George Robbins, playing only the first half of this final game, tallied eight points for Springfield. Bobby Zucker, the Springfield captain, gathered seven points and was particularly effective on long jumpers. Bobby also played his usual fine floor game, as he chalked up many assists.

Vince Davis played one of his better games for Springfield. The big seventh grader, who is seeing a lot of game action lately, led the squad in rebounding. Vince outgrew the taller players before the 10 rebound. Vince posted in five points. Jerry Jones, another seventh grader, who has been coming on, impressed with another fine performance with a minor injury put him on the bench. Jerry doesn't score much, but his speed on defense causes many turnovers. Mark Weber is another younger player who played a good game. Mark hit four points in limited play. Bob Meisel had a nice floor game for Springfield, although he was held scoreless.

Strikers hold lead by 5-game margin in bowling for girls

The Strikers continue to hold their solid five game lead over the Stars and the Dancers in the Tuesday Afternoon Girls' Bowling League. The Strikers spurred away to big lead at the start of the season and have held fast to their position over the succeeding weeks in bowling. The girls roll at the Springfield Bowl each week in this competitive league for a firm school girls. The league is sponsored by the Recreation Department.

Last Tuesday, the Strikers divided a two game match with the Dancers. Barbara Owens was again the top bowler for the league leaders. Barbara was off her league-leading average but still managed to pace all girls at the alleys last week with a 231 series. Ann Marie Calamusa rolled a 181 series to help the Strikers notch a victory. Cindy Zarrell was also effective for the Strikers. Cindy, who is much improved over the early season, was far over her average with a 176 series. Debbie Kuskin paced the Dancers. Debbie turned in a very good 206 series effort. Cindy Zahn, with a two game total of 174, also bowled well.

The Stars moved back into a second-place tie with the Dancers and opened their season won and lost record, as they swept a pair of games from the Charms. Carol Roessner, rolling another solid series, paced the Stars. Carol posted a 220 total for the two games. Chris Kisch also rolled very well for the Stars' team. Chris topped 181 pins in the match. Janice LaMotta and Holly Quinton were the top bowlers for the Charms. Janice led the team with a 166 series, while Holly was close behind with a 160 total for the two games. Barbara Owens' league-leading average took a little dip last week, but still remains as the highest individual average in all the Recreation Department leagues. Barbara currently leads her league with a season mark of 152. Carol Roessner, who has been in the second spot since the second week of bowling, remains second with a 139 season average. Debbie Panckeri's 94 average places her in fourth place, while fifth place is held by Ann Marie Calamusa, who has a season mark of 89. The other girls who make up the league's top 10 individual performers are: Joann McGrady, 84; Sue Murphy, 82; Nina Kahn, 81; Liz Simpson, 78, and Janice LaMotta, 77.

Seal funds help regional TB unit broaden efforts

The TB-Respiratory Disease Association of Central New Jersey sponsors of the Christmas Seal campaign in Union, Monmouth and Hudson counties will broaden its tri-county fight against tuberculosis, other respiratory diseases and air pollution with the organizations received from area residents during the 1967 fund raising drive, it was announced this week.

Richard A. Vonderas of Kenilworth, president of the association's board of directors, announced that the board adopted a budget totaling more than $221,000 to be utilized during the 1968-69 fiscal year on community service programs, research and professional and public health education.

The regional association -- the first of its kind in New Jersey -- was founded in October when the Tuberculosis Associations of the respective counties merged. The merger will reduce the operating and administrative costs of individual organizations, thereby providing more funds to conduct the year-round cycle of programs.

Specific programs include the standardization of diagnosis, treatment and followup of Tuberculosis patients and their close associates (contacts), and developing and promoting area-wide acceptance by physicians and health agencies of "chemoprophylaxis" (preventative drug treatment) for high-risk patients.

THE ASSOCIATION WILL stage medical seminars and workshops for physicians, nurses and health officers, and work with health departments to see that they adopt local air-pollution ordinances in conformity with the guidelines recommended by the State Department of Health.

Also included in the budget are funds to maintain the Hudson County Tuberculosis Case Register and Contact File, a record system which keeps an up-to-date account of the histories of TB patients and their close associates. The association operates the case register and contact file at its headquarters in Jersey City.

In addition to its programs, the association will contribute $25,000 to the Union County Board of Freeholders to help defray the operating costs of the Tuberculosis Clinic at St. Elizabeth's Hospital; make a $10,000 grant to the New Jersey Tuberculosis and Health Association Medical Education and Teaching Fund; provide $6,000 for training inhalation therapists and sponsor the attendance of three physicians at the Pulmonary Function Seminar held annually in Boston.

Contact lenses answer to problems of athletes

Contact lenses are frequently becoming the answer to vision problems of athletes according to Dr. Leonard Strulowitz, president of the Union County Optometric Society.

"Participants in nearly all competitive sports find that contact lenses help them to play better. Even players with only slight vision deficiencies are discovering that it is worthwhile to have their vision corrected by contact lenses, since a small error in judgment or timing can mean the difference between winning or losing a game," he said.

"There is little need for concern about contact lenses falling out," the doctor stated. "Special prescription and fitting techniques are used by optometrists so that contact lenses worn by athletes are now virtually impossible to dislodge."

"Side-vision, important for everyone who participates in sports, is much greater when contact lenses are worn because the lenses turn as the head moves."

"There should be no concern about the danger of wearing lenses while playing," added Dr. Strulowitz.
