School board may delay Chisholm decision

Regional board in busing debate

A dispute between a member of the Springfield Board of Education and members of the Regional High School Board of Education over the regional board's school bus policies enlivened the regional board meeting Tuesday night at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

The Springfield board member, Mrs. Sonya Dorsky, based her remarks on an recent article in the Leader which stated that the regional board would begin bus service in the fall for students in Springfield living between two miles and 2.5 miles from the high school.
State law requires buses for high schoolers who must travel more than 2.5 miles, with substantial state aid. Shorter bus rides must be paid for by the school district.
Mrs. Dorsky earlier this school year brought the regional board to disclose that if buses some 300 youngsters less than 2.5 miles in Berkeley Heights and Clark, because of hazardous road conditions.
Noting that the service would now be extended to Springfield, Dr. Davis recalled that similar bus rides had been provided here before, where there had been no sidewalks or there were areas with hazardous conditions.
Mrs. Dorsky commented, "There is too much need in the Regional District to expect the Springfield taxpayer to pick up this kind of bill. We have a budget to vote on."

Enrollment predictions questioned

Board to study figures presented by a parent

By ABNER GOLD
The possibility that the Springfield Board of Education will not reach a decision on the future of the Raymond Chisholm School at its February meeting, as scheduled, developed at the board's meeting Monday night at the Florence Gaudineer School.
The problem arose after Mrs. Arlene Stein of 43 Gall court produced figures to challenge a key portion of the board's forecast of declining enrollment in local schools.
After a quick check of families in the Chisholm area, Mrs. Stein said that her figures indicated an error of more than 30 children in the board's prediction of an enrollment of 93 at Chisholm in five years.
Pending a complete study of her figures, board members declined to offer any comments. However, Robert Southward, president, and Seymour Margulies, chairman of the advisory school planning committee, both said that if their predictions were seriously challenged by the new figures, the plan would have to be carefully reviewed.
At earlier meetings, the board had indicated its intention to "phase out" the Chisholm School over the next five years. Such a course had been urged by the board's consultant, Dr. Henry Rissetto of Columbia University, to deal with an expected sharp decline in the number of local elementary school students.

THE REGIONAL BOARD will hold its annual budget hearing tonight at 8 at Dayton. The budget will come before the voters in the district's six communities on Feb. 4. Neither of Springfield's two members, Mrs. Natalie Waldt and Dr. Benjamin Josephson, comes up for reelection this year.
Avery Ward, board president, reported that the board would present the results of its "in-depth" study of future plant needs at the end of February. The survey is being completed by the board consultant, Dr. Henry Rissetto of Columbia University.
The board has indicated that it will submit a new building proposal to the voters in the form of a referendum following receipt of Dr. Rissetto's report. A previous proposal was defeated last year.
Ward noted that this year's freshmen from Mountside, now at Dayton, would spend their last three years at Coe-Livingston Regional, Berkeley Heights, as previously announced, and that next year's freshmen from Mountside would also attend Dayton for a year. He added that no decision had been reached about Mountside freshmen in 1970-71.
Ward and Dr. Davis discounted rumors that the present Mountside freshmen would remain at Dayton beyond this year. They said that rumors to the contrary had probably originated with students and athletic coaches who wanted the present students to remain.
Board members approved a change in policy concerning free and reduced price lunches for needy students, as required by state and federal law.
Mrs. Waldt reported that the Union County Park Commission was completing plans to regrade the Melsel avenue athletic field, and that work would begin in the early spring.
Five new teachers were hired, by a vote of five to four, as the minority objected that college transcripts had not been received for two of the teachers — from Newark State College and Rutgers University.

Staff completes 1st step in shift to new library

The Springfield Public Library has completed the first stage in its move to Mountainview quarters. Stage one began Wednesday, Jan. 8 and was completed three days later. During this operation all books and magazines were removed from the shelves, packed in boxes and transported to storage areas in the new library.
While the books and magazines are stored in the new building, some sections of the wood shelving in the old library will be returned to the factory for refinishing. This will require approximately three weeks.
As soon as the books were removed from the shelves, college and high school assistants began cleaning and polishing the wood shelves to remove scuff marks and otherwise make it look like new. The steel shelving will be wiped down.
Mrs. Helen C. Francis, director of the library, said that while no books are available for circulation and no books can be renewed at this time, the old library is still open during the usual hours so that books may be returned.
It is important to remember, she said, that books which are overdue are still subject to fines. The library is accepting books and overdue magazines to prevent their being lost and to avoid a deluge of returned books when the new library opens.
A Springfield public ordinance, enacted in August, 1965, requires the library staff to follow up on all overdue material. As public pro-

Minutemen rip St. Gen's, 75-52; beat All-Stars, 42-37, for seventh

The unbeaten Springfield Minutemen scored their seventh victory of the season last week at the Florence Gaudin School. Last Wednesday, Springfield turned back St. Genevieve's of Elizabeth, 75-52. Saturday, Springfield had its toughest test of the season but toppled the All-Stars of Elizabeth-CYO League, 42-37.

The Minutemen had their best shooting night of the season against St. Gen's. Springfield took an early 20-0 lead but a second period rally by St. Gen's tied the score at half-time. The Minutemen drew away in the second half, coasting to an easy victory with a 46-point half. Kenny Baroff, in his finest game as a Minuteman, tallied 22 points to lead all scorers. Kenny hit 10 shots from the field and two from the free throw line. Kenny hit from all over the floor in the contest. He popped from outside and hit and, when guarded closely, he drove for easy two-pointers. Al Willburn had another good game for the Springfield, scoring 16 points. Most of his two-pointers came on the end of steals and driving shots in front of the field. Al also contributed his usual top defensive job. Al, who always takes the other team's top player, did it again Wednesday evening and once again supplied the pressure which stopped the opposition's offense. Vince Davis, operating at center for the Minutemen, hit 12 points and grabbed a game high of 10 rebounds. Mark Weber was once again effective, as he shared the corner position with Davis. Mark contributed nine points to the attack and pulled down eight rebounds. Jerry Jones, Springfield's court general, played a big role

Lax to address award session of B'nai B'rith

The citizenship and civic affairs committees of the Springfield Men's Lodge and Springfield Women's Chapter of B'nai B'rith have announced that Oscar Lax will be the guest speaker at the award ceremonies to be held Sunday evening, Feb. 9, when the local groups will present their 1969 Citizenship Award to the board of trustees of the Free Public Library of Springfield.

Lax, who resides in South Orange, is a past president of the B'nai B'rith South Mountain Lodge, the largest B'nai B'rith lodge in the state. He is also a past president of the B'nai B'rith, and is the national B'nai B'rith commissioner of community and veterans service.

The award ceremonies will be held at Temple Beth Ahim at 8 p.m. All members of the community have been invited to attend. At the ceremonies, the library trustees will be honored for their community service in their promotion of the cultural and educational life of the people of Springfield. Members of the library board, in addition to Mayor Phillip DeVecchio and Superintendent of Schools John Berwick, are Milton Kappstatter, Robert Halsey, George Gleim, Mrs. Anita Epstein and Mrs. Winifred Yuckman.

Tributes will be made to the library board of trustees at the ceremonies by the Rev. Dr. Bruce Evans of the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield, a former recipient of the award, and by Robert Johnson, a member of the Springfield Board of Education and a guidance counselor in the Newark public school system.

ON THE JOB -- Kenneth Morrison of Springfield, new chief of the maintenance division of the Union County Park Commission, looks over one of his first projects -- rebuilding the boathouse at Warrinboro Park, Elizabeth, which was destroyed by fire.

Nadler at convention

Daniel Nadler of 48 Garden oval, Springfield, will attend the annual mid-winter meeting of the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association which begins Sunday and continues through Thursday. Crossingers in the New York Catskills will be the scene.

Morrison named to head Parks maintenance unit

Kenneth Morrison of Springfield, has been named chief of the maintenance division of the Union County Park Commission, effective Jan. 20. It was announced by John G. Walsh, president of the park commission.

Morrison, a 33-year park veteran, began his park career in 1936 as a laborer and worked in various units of the park system. In 1943 he was transferred to the Galloping Hill Golf Course, where he was named assistant greenskeeper in 1945. In 1949 he was transferred to the Ash Brook Reservation where he served as construction foreman in building the 18-hole golf course, which was completed in 1951. At that time he was named greenskeeper of that facility.

In 1956 he was transferred to Galloping Hill Golf Course where he supervised the construction of the nine-hole pitch and put golf course and was greenskeeper of the regular 18-hole golf course. Over the years, Morrison completed a number of courses in turf management and golf course management at Rutgers, where he served as an instructor for two short courses at the University of Massachusetts and at Pennsylvania State University. At the present time, Morrison is treasurer of the New Jersey Golf Superintendent's Association.

In his new position, Morrison will be responsible for the supervision and coordination of all maintenance work throughout the 27-unit Union County Park System. He succeeds Francis A. Salvador, who died last September.

Lions' lead in Friday Bowling now challenged by Chargers

Practically all season, the Lions have held a one-game lead in the Friday Afternoon Boys' Bowling League. But each week, it seems, the Lions find they have a new challenger in the Recreation Department-sponsored league.

Last week, the Lions entered competition with a one-game lead over the Falcons. The Lions divided their two-game match. But the Falcons dropped two to the Chargers, so the Falcons fell to third place while the Chargers moved into second place -- one game behind the Lions.

Russ Gabay paced the Lions last Friday as they split a pair of games with the Chiefs. Russ rolled a 244 series. Roy Greenberg contributed to the Lions' victory with a 241 series. Top bowler in the match was Ed Gerstein of the Chiefs, who rolled a 269 series. Danny Gecker (239) and Mark Jacobs (228) were also outstanding in the Chiefs' attack.

The Chargers' sweep over the Falcons was led by Steve Kosobow, who had a 288 series. Wayne Magara had a 259 series; Mike Magers a 258 and Steve Blumenkrantz a 254 for the Chargers. Mike Levine of the Falcons topped both squads with a 289 series. Billy Palazzi (263) and Bobby Lee (239) also rolled well for the Falcons.

Art Freeman of the Rangers paced all bowlers last week with a 319 series against the Jets. The two teams split the series. Buy Warman was high for the Jets with a 277 series and John Wachler added a 239 series. Mike Levine continues to lead the high average race, bowling at a 143 pace. Steve Harris is second place with a 134 average, followed by Tommy Lowy 130. Art Freeman and Steve Rosenberg tied at 127. Stu Garavitz 125, Danny Gecker 125, Justin Schneider 123, and Steve Blumenkrantz 122.

Ken Baroff was once again an important cog in the Minutemen attack. Ken tallied 14 points on four buckets and three from the line. The prettiest play of the game came late in the fourth period when Baroff dribbled through the Elizabeth team, passed to Weber in the corner, and received a return pass for a driving lay-up. Vince Davis played another top game for Springfield under the boards. Although he was fighting against taller players, Vinnie managed 11 rebounds to lead the squad. Vinnie also tallied six points on wistful drives.

Plan coffee hour between services at church Sunday

The Christian education committee of the Springfield Presbyterian Church will sponsor an informal coffee hour between worship services on Sunday morning in the chapel building adjoining the sanctuary. According to Alan Cunningham, chairman of the Christian Education Committee, this fellowship is being held to provide an opportunity for members who worship at the two services to meet and know one another better. It is also hoped that this venture will enable those who serve as teachers in the Church School to meet the congregation on an informal basis. The coffee hour will be held from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. on Sunday morning. Plans include Robert Merrick, Mrs. Howard Herrwagen, James Marshall, Alice Rieg, James Short, David Pierson and the ministers of the church. The Ladies' Evening Group, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Bruno Becker, will serve the refreshments on Sunday morning. It is hoped to continue these informal coffee hours once a month with various church organizations being responsible for the refreshments. The junior department of the Church School of the Presbyterian Church, which includes grades four, five and six, will hold a recreation day on Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30 in the Presbyterian Parish House. Volley ball, ping pong, shuffleboard, and other games will be the order of the day according to Harold Jones, general superintendent of the Church School, and Jack Cowles, superintendent of the Junior Department. These recreational programs are held several times throughout the year as an opportunity for the teachers and young people to meet and know one another on an informal basis during the regular classes on Sunday mornings.

(Continued from page 1) tainside. Opposed were Mrs. Waldt and Dr. Josephson of Springfield and John J. Cullen and Manuel S. Dios of Clark. A proposal to provide free adult courses for residents of the district seeking to complete their high school education was tabled, pending a study of the chances to get state aid for this program. Another proposal was also tabled. This would have authorized further investigation of a plan to hire exchange teachers from India and South America. If hired, without interviews and on the basis of written resumes and evaluations, the teachers would be paid by the district. Another question during the public discussion period concerned a possible lack of sex education courses at Dayton. There was no indication that this was related to the problems of the Springfield Board of Education, which is considering the closing of a school because of the declining number of young children.

Aid Squad

(Continued from page 1) Edward Street leads the fund drive committee, assisted by Robert Voorhees, Robert Peters, Thomas Poznanski and Richard Amos. Delegates named to the state first aid council were Robert Peters, Thomas Poznanski, and Herbert Simpson. Alternate delegates are William Barrett, Esther Poznanski, and Gloria Simpson. Insurance will be directed by Daniel Kalem, along with Bertram Bryder and Esther Sibole. The annual June picnic has a quintet of Herbert Simpson, Gerald Harvey, Robert Peters, Thomas Poznanski and Robert McCormick in charge. The annual year-end banquet has a committee of David Livingston, Ruth Force, Richard Amos, Gerald Harvey and Robert Voorhees. The balance of the committee are safety, William Seal; good and welfare, Amalia Terry, and publicity, Rose Marshall.

Town schools

(Continued from page 1) though the board has not yet reached an agreement with the Springfield Teachers' Association on faculty salaries and working conditions for next year. August Caprio, school government chairman, commented that "other problems than money" are among the major reasons for the delay in reaching an agreement. Mrs. Audrey Rubin, board secretary, added that both parties to the talks had agreed to make no separate statements on the progress of the negotiations. In his monthly superintendent's report, Serwick stressed projects aimed at acquainting parents with developments in the schools. The Walton School will hold a "Dads' Night Out" program Feb. 10 to explain recent curricular changes, particularly in science techniques. He also noted that the Synagogue School had launched a series of parent workshops on the curriculum, starting with audio-visual procedures. The next meeting will be devoted to the reading program. There are eight new teachers for next fall. She is Linda Luchs, now a senior at Newark State College, with a top recommendation for her student teaching in Springfield. She will be paid according to the new salary scale.

Services are held for Mrs. Berdick

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Goldsmith Berdick, 72, of 10 Richard dr., Springfield, were held Friday from the Suburban Chapel of Philip Apter & Son, Maplewood. Mrs. Berdick, widow of Meyer Berdick, died at her home Thursday at the age of 72. Born in Russia, she lived in Newark for most of her life, moving to Springfield 12 years ago. She was a member of Temple Beth Ahm of Springfield, Daughters of Israel of West Orange and Pioneer Women of Newark. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Tillie Solondz of Springfield and Mrs. Goldie Gurtzky of Union; a sister, Mrs. Rose Rosen of Springfield; a brother, Joseph Goldsmith of Newark; three grandchildren and one great-grandson.

AN INTERNATIONAL REGISTRY to collect information on the progress of all heart-transplant patients has been advocated by a University of Chicago cardiologist. He pointed out that although nearly 100 operations have been performed, almost no information is available on the progress of patients following the initial surgical period. "It is time," he said, "for a scientific appraisal of the success of such surgery to determine if it is worthwhile from the patient's point of view."

Group will attend program in Union

Youth Sunday will be observed this Sunday evening by the Westminster Fellowship of the Springfield Presbyterian Church in the Union. The group will leave the Presbyterian parish house at 4:00.

A worship service will be conducted by the Senior High youth group of the Union church centering on the life of Christ, the Beatitudes and the parables of the sowing of the seed, the prodigal son, the good Samaritan and the rich young ruler. This service will be conducted in contemporary youth idiom, featuring musical instruments, drama, dance and film. David Pierson, moderator of the Westminster Fellowship, has extended an invitation to all high school age young people to join in this special worship service.

Pre-school program for handicapped

A pre-school program for educationally handicapped children has been developed at the Kent Place School in Summit. The program is in addition to the regular pre-school programs already in existence.

Children ranging in ages from 3-1/2 to 5-1/2 years of age will be eligible for admission to the classes which will be limited to eight children. Classes will meet from 12:30 to 2:45 on Monday through Thursday afternoons. Mrs. Alan Handler, director of the Kent Place Nursery School, will serve as administrative director of the new program and will be assisted by Mrs. Raymond Yerich.

According to Mrs. Handler "The primary aims of the program are to give the handicapped child opportunities to develop a healthy self-concept, feelings of self-confidence, awareness of the needs of others as well as himself all-while learning to operate in a group situation. Feelings of isolation are often a hindrance to the handicapped child by definition is a dependent one and the program will endeavor to help him accept some responsibility for himself."

Parent education meetings will be an integral part of the new program and every effort will be made to help parents cope with difficult home situations. An individual educational program is essential for this special child and the consultant team of Child Development Services has been appointed to evaluate and plan individual programs for the children enrolled at the school. The organization of established educational consultants consists of Mrs. Hyta Garland, Summit, a psychologist; Mrs. Marcella Husk, perceptual-motor specialist; Dale Penwell, speech and language clinician; Richard Perry, learning disabilities consultant. Mrs. Handler will serve as Early Childhood Specialist during the evaluation period. It is an interdisciplinary team prepared to evaluate the exceptional child and identify his developmental and educational needs," said Mrs. Handler at a recent interview.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Handler at the school.

Open house of YMCA

The Summit Area YMCA will be host to parents, friends and other interested adults at an informal open house and coffee on Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon. Informal tours of the activities in the YMCA building will be conducted so that adults may see the Y at work with grade school boys in the Saturday morning gym, swim, club programs. Boys will give demonstrations of gymnastic and wrestling skills they have learned.

Saturday afternoon, the public has been invited to watch a swim meet between the Y's boys' team and the Princeton Y team at 2:30. Wives of the YMCA board of directors will be hostesses for the morning affair, which will climax National YMCA Week, during which churches, businesses, TV and radio throughout the nation have focused attention on the Young Men's Christian Association.

Board candidates list school problem views

The Springfield League of Women Voters this week released the answers to a question asked of all five candidates for the Springfield Board of Education.

The candidates are: David W. Brown, August Caprio, Robert H. Johnson, Sanford Lieb and Mrs. Ruth Weisman. The five are competing for three seats on the board.

The question asked all candidates was: "What do you consider the most critical educational problems facing the Springfield Schools, and what solutions do you propose?" Their answers, together with biographical material, are as follows:

DAVID W. BROWN, 22 Redwood rd., living in school district 12 years. Occupation: Senior engineer, gas department, Public Service Electric & Gas Co., Newark. Educational background: Attended K-8 in Woodcrest public school; graduated Woodcrest High School; graduated from Rutgers University, 1948, with a BS degree in civil engineering.

Children: Daughter, Lisa, 15, attended Raymond Christolm School grades K and 1; Thelma Sandmeier School, 2-5; Florence Gaudineer School, 6-8; presently sophomore, Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Son, David Jr., 11, attended Thelma Sandmeier School, K-5; presently grade 6 at Florence Gaudineer School.

Experience in education, administration and community activities: Enlisted in Army, 1942, commissioned in Transportation Corps, discharged 1946 with rank of 1st Lieutenant; taught in the Public Service Electric & Gas Co. evening education program six years; member Public Service speakers' forum; worked in Springfield Youth Football program three years; coached in Small Fry program four years; managed base ball team four years in Springfield Junior League; served two years as treasurer of the league; director of the Springfield Junior Olympic track and field program four years; representative from Springfield Recreation Department to the New Jersey Recreation Swim League 3 years; YMCA diving and swimming official; member of the U.S. Olympic training committee 20 years; member of the Newark Kiwanis Club; active in United Community Fund and United Hospital Fund in Newark; Rutgers Alumni Association; member of N.J. Gas Association; member of American Gas Association; member of the Gaudineer PTA; member of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School-PTA; Booster Club and Bank Parents Club; formerly president of Oradell Chamber of Commerce; formerly member of the Essexwood Rotary Club; formerly lay leader of the Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church; presently on the official board.

Looking into the future is the most critical educational problem facing the Springfield schools.

The Ribetto report, along with surveys made by the school administration, Board of Education and PTA, indicate that we are and will experience a decreasing school population over the next decade.

Our problem is how to continue the quality education that we now enjoy for our children, and at the same time use to the best advantage our school facilities.

In achieving this quality education for our children, we must not lose sight of the fact that the best value must be received for our tax dollars.

The solution is a careful study of the ever-changing problems of the community, and taking action that the best interests of the majority is served.

AUGUST CAPRIO, 12 Berkeley rd., living in school district 12-17 1/2 years. Occupation: Coordinator of foreign languages, Union County Regional High School District.

Educational Background: BA Columbia College, MA Columbia University; graduate work in administration and supervision, Seton Hall University (30 credits); NDEA French Institute University of New Hampshire; NDEA Institute, European American Study Institute, Indiana University, France.

Children: Dolores Ann, Caprio, graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and Newark State College; Teacher, Irvington; Vincent A. Caprio, graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and Lebanon Valley College, pilot, U.S. Air Force, Vietnam.

Experience in education, administration and community activities: Executive committee member of N.J. Foreign Language Teachers' Association; Milton representative to the National Federation of Modern Language

Teachers of America; member of American Association of Teachers of French; member of the American Council on Teaching of Foreign Languages; member of the New Jersey Education Association; member of the Columbia University Alumni Association; member of St. James Holy Name Society; faculty advisor, Kiwanis Key Club at Jonathan Dayton; former member of Swim Pool and YES Committee; former president and member since 1960 of Springfield Board of Education; former president of Union County School Boards Association; president, Springfield-Lions-Club.

"The most critical problem facing the Springfield schools is the implementation of new ideas, trends and innovations into our academic programs. Keeping abreast of modern technological advances; shifting out those that will be of most benefit to our students, and promoting their use in the classroom situation is a coherent challenge to the modern educator.

"At the present time we have adopted the AAAS science program, we do have a curriculum materials center, we do use programmed materials and do have team learning and individualized instruction.

"In the future our curriculum will be implemented by computer assisted instruction and other newer trends in education that have proven to be successful. It is inconceivable that schools may be upgraded that modular scheduling be instituted in our upper grade school or that undreamed of media will invade our classrooms.

"A forward-moving school system must always be focused on educational excellence."

ROBERT H. JOHNSON, 21 Ruby st., living in school district eight years. Occupation: Educator.

Educational Background: Benedict College, four years AB; Columbia University, two years; Seton Hall University, six years; Newark State College, 2 years. Children: Caprice was in public school system and Robin.

Experience in education, administration and community activities: 12 years' classroom experience in the field of special education, mental retardation; three years administrative work; coordinator of work experience programs for Montgomery-Prevocational School for Boys; Newark member of Human Rights Commission Springfield, (two years); member of South Springfield Community Club.

"The educational problems of the Springfield school system are those problems common to most school systems in our American society. The problems are: fluctuating school population; definition of moral values in a modern society; changing curriculum and new methods of implementation; matching school population to existing physical plant.

"There are no ready or pat answers to any of these problems. We are dealing with a variable, the living human organism, or just plain people. We meet and attempt to solve these problems by study, and long-range planning and implementation, before the critical point arrives."

SANFORD LIEB, 24 Gall st., living in school district three years. Occupation: Pharmacist, owner of Town and Country Pharmacy, Maplewood.

Educational Background: Graduate of South Side High School, Newark; BS degree Rutgers College of Pharmacy; Post-graduate courses at Seton Hall University, University of Arkansas and University of Michigan; extension services. Children: Two children currently in the Springfield elementary schools.

Experience in education, administration and community activities: Administering own business for eight years. Have attended many Board of Education meetings. Interested in community affairs - attended many meetings of Planning Board, Board of Adjustment, and Township Committee. Belong to Sherey Shalom Temple and its Men's Club, Member of Essex County Pharmaceutical Association, New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association and the American Pharmaceutical Association.

The decision of the Board of Education will make at its February meeting concerning the recommendations of the school advisory committee, will have the most far reaching effect on the Springfield elementary schools.

The recommendations are accepted as proposed in the Jan. 6, 1969, report; it will result in a larger number of public school classrooms in Caldwell, Sandmeier and Walton Schools; it will result in splitting-up of the family unit at the elementary level; it will entail spot re-districting; it will result in 22 of the fifth graders from Walton School being transferred to the mature environment of Gaudineer High School.

These recommendations should be deferred until such time as it should occur that the student population actually declines to the point where the students of Raymond Christolm School can be accommodated elsewhere in the system as a total unit.

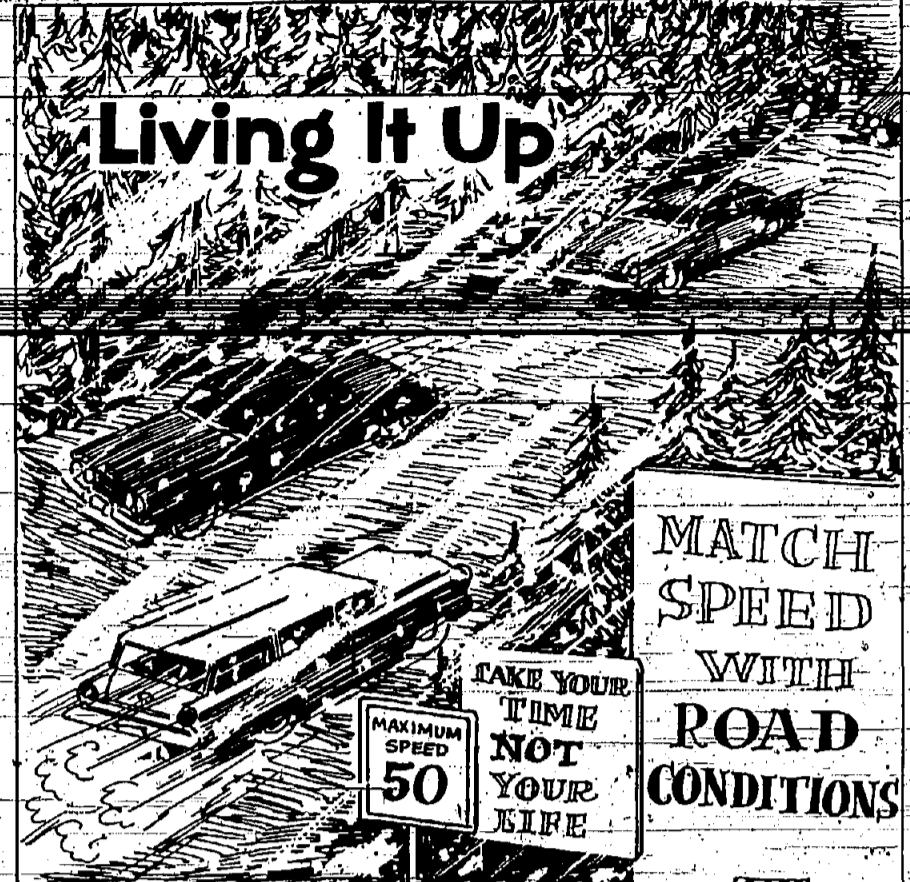

RUTH WEISMAN, 6 South Derby rd., living in school district 14 years. Occupation: Administrative Secretary, State Board of Examiners of Ophthalmic Dispensers and Ophthalmic Technicians.

Educational Background: BS in business administration, Rutgers University; studied at N.J. School of Social Work; Children: Are or were in the public school system.

Experience in education, administration and community activities: Social group worker; assistant director settlement house camp; executive secretary, past president, Sandmeier PTA; served on Religious School Board of Temple Beth Ahm; member, League of Women Voters; member, Springfield Board of Education; vice-president, Union County School Boards Association; legislative chairman, Springfield and Union County school boards; delegate to State Federation of District Boards of Education.

"I believe that the most critical problems facing the Springfield school district are: (1) maintaining quality education despite rising school costs which are mandated, specifically, by acts of the legislature and, generally, by a changing society and an accelerated technology; (2) the place of the Springfield school district in a New Jersey master school plan which will call for reorganization of school districts to achieve state-wide quality education through enlarged districts responsible for K-12 education.

"As a board member, I would support school policies which will encourage experimentation in new teaching techniques and the modification of school plans for these purposes; evaluate and act on proposed school legislation, particularly on the forth-coming report on state aid for education; and evaluate and act on any state reorganization plan to the end that Springfield will be able to provide K-12 education for its children with a maximum of local control."

In Past Tense

ONE-YEAR AGO

Township Committee introduces an ordinance setting new speed limits on three major north-south streets and authorizing construction of flashing lights in front of schools located on those streets. Increases from 25 to 35 miles an hour are proposed for Metcal, Mountain and St. Springfield avenues. SAUL FREEMAN is named president of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce, succeeding HARVEY SCHRAMM, who has served for the past two years. FREEMAN will continue his responsibilities as executive secretary of the organization during his term as president. JOHN SCOTT DONINGTON is named local chairman of the 1968 Heart Fund drive. He is a member of the New Jersey Bar Association and executive counsel of the Union County Chapter, Boy Scouts of America.

10 YEARS AGO

The Springfield Republican Club selects JOSEPH D. ZAZA as its president for 1959. Other officers include WILLIAM J. DOYLE, CHARLES QUINEL, ALMA R. BATES and EDWARD RYDER. The local Elks Aid Squad says a total of 483 calls were answered during 1958 by squad members. The two ambulances the squad uses put on 5,999 miles during the year. Members of the group put in 1,705 man-hours. The Springfield Board of Education's budget for the coming year is up five percent at $1,932,371. Increase in students is eight percent. DOMINIC LA MOTTA announces he has withdrawn from the local school board election contest. The six competitors for school board posts are MILTON H. KAP, STATTNER, H. LEE SAROKIN, WERNER W. RENARD, RUPERT H. HUMER, ROBERT H. MULTHAUP and ALFRED W. ROGERS.

20 YEARS AGO

OTTO HEINZ, Springfield postmaster, is named to the executive board of the Dahlia Society of New Jersey at the group's annual meeting in Princeton. SEYMOUR S. BASS takes part in a concert of the Oberlin College Symphony. A junior at Oberlin Conservatory of Music, he plays a clarinet solo in the concert. DR. WATSON B. MORRIS is reelected president of the board of managers of Bonnie Burn Sanatorium, Scotch Plains. This will be his 21st year as a board member and his 10th as president of the board. An area record shop advertises "Elo's off." Peter and the Wolf is on sale at $3.99. Garth Whitman's American in Paris' 78 rpm record sells for $2.80 on sale. Recording artists advertised are VAUGHN-MONROE, GLENN MILLER, FRANK SINATRA; TOMMY DORSEY, ELLA LOGAN and EDDY DUCHIN.

Report from Trenton

By State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldi

Governor Hughes' "State of the State" message to the Legislature last week charted an ambitious course for 1969. In my opinion, many of the programs requested by the Governor are commendable and deserve serious consideration. It is my sincere hope that the Legislature will weigh each program on its own merits, rather than reject a worthwhile proposal solely for partisan considerations.

While I sympathize with many of the goals enunciated by Governor Hughes, I was somewhat disappointed by what I regarded as serious gaps in the proposed method of implementation. For instance, the Governor has failed to explain exactly how these new programs would be financed. He should have spelled out his method of obtaining the required revenue.

The question again is one of priorities. How much can New Jersey afford to do? How quickly can — and should — it be done? These are difficult decisions the Legislature will be called upon to make. The Governor, by jumping all these proposals into one message without assigning priorities, has shifted the burden to the Legislature.

FOR TOO MANY YEARS, New Jersey taxpayers have suffered because our state government has failed to provide a program budget which would enable the Legislature to properly review state expenditures. As a billion-dollar-a-year business, New Jersey's government should establish a program budget, and try to put its financial house in business-like order.

This naturally leads to the matter of past performances. While the Governor has offered a number of suggestions, he has not mentioned the need for reviewing the programs that have been put into effect in the past. Exactly how well are they working out? They should be evaluated so that recommendations on altering or even dropping those programs that have proved ineffective can be passed on to the Legislature.

As one who has always fought for efficiency and economy in government, I welcomed the

PROFILE -- Harry E. Linkin

By BEA SMITH

Harry E. Linkin is a tall man with a tall job. The six-foot-tall Linkin's enthusiasm about his position as full-time director of adult education for Union County Regional High School-District No. 1 has a contagious quality.

"This is the first year we are operating an adult school program full-time," he beams.

Linkin says that he has been a member of the board of trustees, then director of the Springfield Adult School, director of the Kenilworth Adult School ("I initiated the program there"), then director of the regional adult education school on a part-time basis. "Now I'm on a full-time basis."

Prior to this he taught elementary school in Bloomfield "for 18 years. I enjoyed every minute of it. But I discovered that this is a broader educational challenge.

"It's a bigger area—a different kind of education. It has a big future in terms of continuing education. And the program involves more now—it's not just guitar, oil painting and social dancing.

"THE CLASSIFICATION of 15 subject areas includes Americanization education, elementary and remedial subjects, high school subjects, commercial and distributive, vocational and technical, civic and public affairs, homemaking and family education, English and literature, foreign languages, leadership training and group relationships, health, safety and physical education, music and drama, arts and crafts, avocational and driver education.

"Linkin says, "We have a five-member team—five administrators who work for the betterment of the schools. The directors of the regional schools: H. Loring Bantfield (Springfield), Joseph Martino (Berkeley Heights), William Miskowitz (Clark) and Jeanne Meeker (Kenilworth), myself. And without the 30-member lay advisory committee, we could not do the job we do.

"We get together frequently to plan programs and discuss administrative problems.

"With a full-time director," Linkin explains, "we are able to conduct program planning, recruitment of instruction, brochure planning, program coordination, guidance services for adults, expanded publicity and promotional programs. As of our last full semester (1968), we offered 190 courses, and of that, 160 courses operated. In the four schools, we had over 2,400 registrants.

"In Springfield," he continues, "we've cooperated with the Recreation Commission, with the SACA group, the Springfield Public Library and other agencies in our program."

LINKIN INDICATES that the Union County Adult School experienced a tremendous rate of growth since its inception in the fall of 1963, when a group of citizens organized the Clark Adult School. A total of 13 classes was listed with an enrollment of approximately 150 students.

During the 1959-1960 term, the school became affiliated with the Union County Regional High School District No. 1 Board of Education and hired a part-time director (Linkin). At that time, the school was running 47 courses with approximately 900 students. The following year, the school expanded to full programs in three high schools. Since the affiliation, Linkin says the number of offerings has multiplied and the enrollment increased 400 percent.

"Among the many courses we have to offer," Linkin says, "are such unusual ones as the 'Gourmet Kitchen' with Rebecca Caruba. This is scheduled on an afternoon so that the girls will be able to come. (The course runs from 1 to 3 p.m.)

"We offer what the people need, what they requested. And, incidentally," he adds, "we would be very happy to hear from business, industrial, governmental and volunteer groups desiring programs for their particular groups, and we would assist them in setting up the needed programs."

"Another of the 'unusual' programs offered is 'the weight-reducing course,' Slim Forester. 'We have in fact, two computer courses, two speed reading courses, two oil painting courses and one in Green Thumbery (landscaping).

"We try to diversify the program. In Berkeley Heights, we have a winemaking course, a leadership training course, income tax preparation course and a swimming course (at the Garden State Swim Club pool).

"TO NAME A FEW MORE," adds Linkin, "there are Basic Information for Parents of Potential College Students, in Clark and Kenilworth; a fashion course, Understanding Teenagers; and Film Festivals in three of the four schools. The films are selected from a list of requests by the students from the last film festival course."

Linkin says that "one of the projects that we are particularly pleased about is the one we call our formal education program, including English as a Second Language (for foreign born). Others are Preparation for Citizenship, adult basic reading and writing.

"And the high school equivalency program is specifically designed for people who do not have a high school diploma. By passing an examination administered by the state, a diploma is awarded. We prepare people to take that test. We assist them with making applications, and we provide counselling and guidance services. We are interested in assisting them in securing their certificates. The high school equivalency program has no age barrier—that is, anyone over 18 may apply.

Linkin indicates that "an important piece of legislation was recently passed that helps fund the high school equivalency program throughout the state. The state has recognized the importance of the high school equivalency certificate, and therefore, the legislation was passed to assist districts in the program.

"WE HAVE THE biggest program in Union County," says Linkin, "and our interest is in providing services to as many people as possible—and being able to offer the best quality of the course."

He indicates that there are areas of growth and experimental programs, and that "overall program evaluations will include a survey and analysis."

Linkin, who was born in the Bronx, was educated in Hillside public schools. He received a BS degree in elementary education at Newark State College, and a master's degree in educational administration at Newark State College; and a master's degree in educational administration at Teachers' College, Columbia University.

He served as chairman of the Union County Adult Educators Advisory Committee, is a member of the National Association of Public School Adult Educators, the Adult Education Association of the USA, a life member of NEA, and a member of the N.J.A. Association of Adult Education and the NJEA.

He lives in South Plainfield with his wife, Kathleen, and their five children, Robert, 16; Thomas, 14; James, 13; William, 9; and Margaret, 6.

He served in the Seabees during World War II for four years, and saw action in the Pacific Theater.

"I taught school in Bloomfield, until I got this job. It's a very, very challenging job in a challenging field."

FOR BETTER COURTS

For those of us who are winter tennis players, the courts in town leave much to be desired. Not knowing whether the Recreation Department or the schools are responsible for the courts, I call attention to the courts behind the Thelma Sandmeier School, which is torn up by frost, and the net doesn't work right.

I hope the Committee on Public Safety can effect proper maintenance on our courts soon, because I know he likes to play tennis.

County and chorus will operate center for drama, music

The Morris County Park Commission and the Masterwork Music and Art Foundation announced this week that dedication ceremonies of the new Morris County Cultural Center will be held next Wednesday from 4 to 6 p.m. at the center, 300 Mendham rd. (Route 24), Morris Township. The public and press have already been invited to attend.

The occasion will mark the opening of one of the first county cultural centers in New Jersey, and one of the few in the entire nation. It will culminate an agreement reached between the Morris County Park Commission and the Masterwork Music and Art Foundation under which the latter will operate a cultural program at the center, which will become an integral part of Lewis Morris Park.

The cultural program to be offered by the foundation, now in its 14th year, will include concerts, art exhibitions, and dramatic performances by professional groups, as well as instruction and an opportunity for citizens to participate as non-professionals in music, art, and drama programs.

The foundation is best known for its nationally acclaimed Masterwork Chorus and Orchestra, directed by David Randolph. This group has performed frequently in New York and elsewhere. They have just completed a very successful series of concerts at Philharmonic Hall and Carnegie Hall, where they sang Handel's Messiah in packed and enthusiastic audiences.

The State of New Jersey has re-imbursed Morris County for one half of the cost of the land and buildings, and the Federal Government has indicated, through a letter of intent, that further financing may be forthcoming under provisions of the Housing and Urban Development Act, Department of Housing and Urban Development.

HONORARY CHAIRMAN: Gov. Richard J. Hughes has been named Honorary Chairman of the 1969 Cerebral Palsy Telethon which will be telecast on WOR-TV (Channel 9) beginning Saturday night at 10:30. Looking over a proclamation declaring January as Cerebral Palsy Month are the governor and Bob Colletto of Elizabeth, junior telethon chairman.

Course scheduled on boat handling

The spring session of the small boat handling course provided by Flotilla 38 of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary will begin at Irvington High School on Jan. 28.

Present or future boat owners are invited to register Jan. 28 for this public education course held each Tuesday at 8 p.m. for eight sessions, a spokesman said.

Residents of Irvington, Newark, Union, Springfield, Mountaintop and Westfield will find their towns already represented by the membership of Flotilla 38 who have planned and executed the program of instruction," the spokesman said.

Lectures, slides, demonstrations and movies are presented by experienced boatmen who are members of the Auxiliary and are qualified instructors.

The course will cover charts and compass, navigation, rules of the road, maneuvering and marlinpike seamanship.

Turnpike brakes drugs, weapons

State Police on the New Jersey Turnpike reported this week that arrests made in 1968 on weapons and narcotics charges more than doubled the number for 1967 and represented 40 percent of all cases involving arrests on other than motor vehicle violations.

Praising the "outstanding job by State Police patrols on the Turnpike," William J. Flanagan, executive director of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority, said the drive against the illegal traffic in firearms and narcotics "will be pressed even more relentlessly until certain people realize that the Turnpike is not a safe place for gun runners and dope pushers.

He was commenting on the report from Captain William J. Kennedy, commander of State Police Troop D on the Turnpike, that of the 1,189 cases not based on motor vehicle infractions, 480 involved guns and narcotic drugs.

Newark businessmen are optimistic

Newark area businessmen, those living and working in Essex, Morris and Union counties, optimistically believe that 1969 will be an unprecedented ninth consecutive year of economic expansion, according to the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce.

The local optimism was clearly shown in the Chamber's annual Business Review and Outlook published yesterday, which reveals that 70 percent of the 216 Chamber of Commerce member firms sampled indicated anticipations of "medium" to "large" sales gains during the current year. Gains were defined as: "large," 9 percent or more; "medium," five to 8.9 percent.

The Business Review and Outlook includes two general conclusions that support the business outlook.

Local business firms, both large and small, should enjoy increased gross sales in 1969 and at least moderately improved net earnings.

"Total employment in the local area should continue to expand moderately, particularly in the service industries. Wages and salaries will show an average increase of about 4 to 5 percent.

However, inflation, the largest single threat to the economy, will cause average price increases of 3 percent, both in Newark and throughout the nation.

THE MAJOR CONCLUSION of the Business Review and Outlook is "a strong general outlook for business activity during 1969 both for the Newark area and the nation."

The Review reports doubt about whether the new administration in Washington can control inflation without applying heavily repressive controls to the economy. The prediction—however—is for a "successful, middle course in this effort. This should mean an orderly continuation of the forward motion which has carried the economy forward without serious interruption since 1961."

Part of the positive support given to the Newark area business outlook comes from the Review's analysis of employment statistics gathered within the Newark area.

These figures show that in October of last year, the most recent month for which data are available, there were 766,000 persons employed in the Newark Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA), which includes Essex, Morris and Union counties. This represents an increase of 4,700, or 0.6 percent above the preceding year.

THE REVIEW POINTS out that while the figure itself is not large, "it is important to observe that it occurred on top of a high total employment level attained back in 1966 and maintained through 1967."

The local SMSA employment growth is comparable to that of New York City, where a 1.3 gain was noted during 1968.

Other Review indicators that demonstrate continuing economic growth in the Newark area include comparisons of electric power consumption for 1968 and 1967, and similar analysis of waterborne freight tonnage and revenue passengers at Newark Airport—all of which show gains.

The Review also notes that 1968 was a good business year in ways that cannot be measured statistically.

"There was no repetition of the national riots which put Newark into the national headlines in the summer of 1967," the Review states, adding that "there was progress in bringing together business, civic, community and governmental groups for a joint attack on underlying economic problems in the Newark area."

Jerome Hines, Rabbi Prinz to open art exhibition Sunday

Dr. Joachim Prinz, rabbi of Temple Bnai Abraham, Newark, and Jerome Hines of the Metropolitan Opera, will open the exhibition, "Art in a Concentration Camp: Drawings from Terzin," in a commemorative program at the YM-YWHA of Essex County, 760 Northfield Ave., West Orange, Sunday at 7:30 P.M. Art works include 44 drawings and paintings by adults and 51 children who were interned in Terzin.

Dr. Prinz, a rabbi in the Jewish community of Berlin from 1925 to 1937, witnessed Hitler and preached against it vigorously. Since 1939 he has been rabbi of Temple Bnai Abraham.

Dr. Prinz, a prominent fighter against racism and bigotry, served as president of the American Jewish Congress from 1958 to 1966, when he was elected honorary president. Dr. Prinz served as chairman of the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations for two terms, 1965-67.

Hines, Metropolitan opera star, has become the first American-born basso in forty years to win world-wide acclaim in the great roles of the opera's repertory. His triumphs include a tour of the Soviet Union, where he became the first American-born interpreter of the Moussorgsky masterpiece, "Boris Godunov."

The Terzin Art Exhibit is sponsored by the Jewish Education Association and YM-YWHA of Essex County, with the assistance of Rabbi Max Gruenwald of Congregation Bnai Israel, Millburn, who conceived the project and recommended it to the sponsoring agencies. The works will be on exhibit until Feb. 12.

Roselle Public Land Sale

Two Building Parcels

Each Parcel Sold Separately
JANUARY 27, 1969 - BOROUGHS HALL - 8:00 P.M.

FIRST PARCEL: Block 170-2, Lots 68 and 69. A lot of land approximately 46' x 100' x 70' x 100' (irregular) on the northeast corner of Halsey Road and Bartlett Street.

SECOND PARCEL: Block 170-2, Lots 70 and 71. Vacant land on the north side of Bartlett Street.

MINIMUM PRICE: $4,800.00.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS: Purchaser shall construct on the premises within eighteen months from the date of confirmation of sale a one-family dwelling and a garage, attached or detached, sufficient for at least one automobile. The said dwelling shall have a floor area of living space of at least 1200 square feet including detached open porch, carport or recreation room built on grade level.

Purchaser shall install all improvements to property, including sewer, road pavement, curb and sidewalk along property line on Bartlett Street in accordance with requirements of the Borough Engineer filed and available at the Borough Engineer's Office, Borough Hall, Chestnut Street, Roselle, New Jersey.

GENERAL CONDITIONS: Reservation by the governing body after the completion of said public sale, to accept or reject the highest bid made in excess of and above the minimum bid, shall be made not later than the second regular meeting of the governing body following the sale. Should the governing body fail or refuse to accept or reject a high bid, an alternate bid, or a reserve bid, the said bid shall be deemed to have been accepted. The sale may be adjourned at the time advertised for not more than one week without re-advertising. Purchaser shall pay an amount equal to or in excess of the bid at the date said sale is confirmed. Subject to such date and time, an accurate survey, right of way, restrictions of record, and applicable local ordinances, cost of surveying, legal expenses, and revenue stamps shall be paid by the purchaser. When the property is sold, the purchaser shall deposit ten percent (10%) of the bid in cash, certified check, or bank check as a combination thereof. The balance of the purchase price together with the option aforementioned, shall be paid at closing of title which shall take place within thirty (30) days from the confirmation of sale.

Lo, the poor executive Expert calls him 'forgotten'

The American executive is the "Forgotten Man" in this country, according to an expert who has spent most of his adult life helping executives solve their career problems. "Although most people think the high-priced executive is sitting on top of the world, the truth is that executives are the most emotionally exploited, confused and unappreciated group of workers in our society," says Fred Chusid, chairman of the Chusid-Churuk Company, a career counseling firm.

Room for 3,100 new students next fall at Newark Rutgers

The Newark campus of Rutgers University will be able to accommodate some 3,100 new students at the start of the 1969-1970 academic year, Malcolm D. Talbot, vice-president of the state university, reported this week. The figure is a marked increase over the current year, he added.

Of the six colleges and schools on the Newark campus, the College of Arts and Sciences and University College — the evening undergraduate division — are prepared to handle the largest influx of new students, Talbot pointed out.

"Smith Hall, the new four-story 34-classroom structure opened this past fall, is the key factor that will enable us to handle a larger enrollment," Talbot, presiding officer of the Newark campus, declared.

The building which houses the mathematics and physics departments and will shortly become the new home of the world-renowned Institute of Animal Behavior, is already being used for both day and night courses. However, he said, "optimum utilization of all classrooms and laboratories isn't expected until next fall."

The Arts and Sciences College, consisting of 10 departments, will have 1,000 new students in 1969, compared with some 750 freshmen and 329 transfer students who entered Rutgers Newark in 1968.

University College — whose students are usually employed full time during the day — takes courses part time at night leading to bachelor of arts and sciences degrees. It will be able to accommodate approximately 1,050 students including 450 transfers, compared with a total of 898 students, including 350 transfers, who enrolled this past fall.

Ethical Culture Society offers humanistic study

Several humanistic studies will be offered by the Educational Center sponsored by the Ethical Culture Society, 516 Prospect st., Maplewood. They will begin the first week in February.

One of the courses will be "Religion Faces Changing Values," which will consist of question and discussion periods. Interested persons may obtain a brochure by contacting the society.

NCE to hold ten series of programs

Newark College of Engineering's Division of Continuing Studies has announced it will offer 10 separate conference series this spring.

Authorities from business and industry and from NCE's instructing staff will act as instructors for the different programs.

Among the college's offerings will be series devoted to Electrical and Fluid Power Control Devices, an explanation of the design of machine tools, Basic Circuit Design for Automated Systems, a workshop analyzing solutions for the design of modern control systems, and Computer Programming and Applications to Engineering Problems.

Also offered is the college's seasonal Sales Engineering Conference series, as well as lecture programs on Vinyl Plastics Technology, Water-Dispersed Coatings Systems, and the Technology of Paint, Varnish and Lacquer.

Continuing education series started in the fall will also be given. These include Fire Protection Technology II and III, Power Distribution Systems II, and Programming Numerical Control Machine Tools II.

A folder describing course details, schedules, prerequisite sites and fees is available upon request through Paul A. Burns, director of conferences, Newark College of Engineering, 323 High st., Newark.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:

I'm 16 years of age and have the same problem that most girls my age have. It's our parents. They like us to go out with boys of our own religion. I am of the Jewish faith and so are most of my friends. A lot of non-Jewish boys keep asking me out and I don't want to go out with them. I'm still young and have a long life to live, so I'm not going to marry the kids I go out with now.

Why can't I go out to have a nice time?

It's mostly non-Jewish boys who ask me out and I would really like to go. Your advice would be greatly appreciated.

Tied Down

I am of the opinion that the heart knows no religious barriers and that it's conceivable that your love would be given to someone out of your faith.

While in my eyes it is not a sin to fall in love with someone not of your faith, serious problems can arise. Parents do not want their children to be subjected to problems of this nature. That is the reason for their disapproval of interfaith dating. You won't change their minds, so don't try!

Dear Amy:

My husband just told me he doesn't love me and has left.

How can I start over? I have two small children and in no problem financially, but I just don't know what to do. How can I find another father for my children?

Help Please

Dear Help:

I don't know what prompted your husband to leave, but if you love him, make every effort to get him back home and settle your problems even if it means utilizing the aid of professional help (marriage counselor).

Dear Amy:

Early 60's during a man in similar circumstances. From time to time we associate with couples (mostly married ones) who knew him before I dated him. They have always been very nice to me. However, there is one woman married, by the way, to one heck of a nice guy.

Thursday January 23, 1969-who has always acted overly familiar to my friend whenever we chance to be in her company — always in the presence of her spouse.

I am not jealous, more embarrassed as I know my friend isn't aware of how foolish this looks.

Is it up to me to say something to him? I just can't imagine what he would think. He is so easy going and very fond of me.

What would you do?

Perplexed

Dear Perplexed:

This gal can hurt your romance if you let her get to you. It's clear that she's parroted by the others. So take a tip, button your lip and humor her.

NIH RESEARCH FOR HEALTH

A REPORT FROM THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH

"Lazy Eye"

Can you pronounce amblyopia ex anopsia? If so, you may be able to spread the word about this condition which can rob children of their sight. It's called "lazy eye" or amblyopia. "Lazy eye" does not see with the same degree of clarity with both eyes. The child thus learns to depend on only the good eye and the poorer one is not stimulated to develop. The pictures from the two eyes are so different that they do not fuse into a single image. The brain will not tolerate such double or confused vision and it ignores one of the images. The unused poorer eye cannot develop its ability to see clearly and the child's vision steadily declines.

Since the child has never experienced binocular vision, he will not know that he is missing anything. He will not know, for example, that he is without proper depth perception. But if by chance disease or injury destroys the sight in his other eye, he will probably be almost totally blind.

Treatment traditionally consists of placing the good eye at an optical disadvantage — with a patch or drops — forcing the child to use the amblyopic one. This eye must be retrained to focus properly and to work as a team with the other eye.

Ideally, every child should have an eye examination by his third birthday, including tests for amblyopia ex anopsia. Early discovery of vision defects of this type and prompt, proper treatment provide the best chances for a simple cure and normal vision.

Research in amblyopia is being carried out by the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Stroke (NINDS) at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md. Scientists working in laboratories and clinics are trying to find out why this condition occurs. They hope that through research they can find where amblyopia affects the eye mechanism and brain.

They are trying to find out if the nerve pathways are damaged by the amblyopia or if vision of amblyopia ex anopsia researches are looking for the interrelationship — of "lazy eye" and eyes that are turned in or out.

There is also research being done on therapy for amblyopia. A relatively new technique called pleocipics is being tested and evaluated. It uses flashes of light to train the inner parts of the eye back to proper function.

Award for Dr. Kessler Cited for rehabilitation work

Dr. Henry H. Kessler, medical director of the Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation and world-renowned leader in the field of rehabilitation, has been selected as the recipient of the annual citation for outstanding achievement by the Mental Health Association of Union County in recognition of 50 years of service to the handicapped.

The award will be presented to Dr. Kessler by Dr. Marshall J. Hanley, president of the Mental Health Association at its annual meeting next Monday evening at the Mount Pleasant Hotel.

The citation for this award, recognition was given of Dr. Kessler's role as a pioneer in the field of rehabilitation and his faith in the handicapped all over the world. Dr. Kessler estimates that he has treated about 10,000 persons in New Jersey alone during his long career here.

At this same meeting the Mental Health Association will present a very exciting and important play about the vocational rehabilitation of the mentally ill. The play "The Picnic Basket" was written by Nora Stirling for the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation and will be performed by a professional cast of Broadway actors.

Dr. Kessler succeeds a list of distinguished individuals who have been chosen for the annual citation by the Mental Health Association. Last year the award was given to Mrs. Bea Holderman, director of the New Jersey Rehabilitation Commission. This meeting will be attended by many leaders in the field of mental health and rehabilitation.

The Mental Health Association of Union County will announce at this meeting the opening of a new rehabilitation center for the mentally handicapped in the building which they have purchased in Elizabeth. This program, which will include after-care services, socialization and vocational rehabilitation, will serve about 500 residents of Union County annually.

The business part of the meeting will include election of officers and members of the Board of Directors.

The public is invited to attend the program which will begin at 8 p.m.

Parkway speeds retirement of $4 million in building bonds

The New Jersey Highway Authority this week reported it accelerated the retirement of $3,995,000 Garden State Parkway construction bonds last year, saving money in the process.

Commissioner Richard R. O'Connor, secretary-treasurer of the Authority, said the year's activity brought to $10,775,000 the total of Parkway senior bonds redeemed in advance of maturity dates since mid-1966.

Buying back the bonds, the Authority has realized savings of $1,621,104 in principal under par value of the bonds and reduced future annual interest payments by $311,539. For the 1968 purchases alone, it paid $846,922 less than par value of the bonds through soliciting tenders.

The Authority also retired an additional $7,200,000 of senior debt under its regular redemption schedule Jan. 1. Altogether, the Authority has now reduced by $49,725,000 its bond indebtedness to leave an outstanding total of $320,175,000. The latter sum includes $40 million in junior revenue bonds issued July 18, 1962, to finance improvements in the Essex County section of the Parkway.

Young adult group sponsoring dance

The Union County Catholic Young Adult Club will sponsor a dance Friday evening, Jan. 31, at St. Patrick's Parish Hall, 215 Court st., Elizabeth, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Free refreshments are included in the price of admission, which will be provided by the "Funda" Dress is casual. However, girls wearing slacks will not be admitted to the dance.

The C.Y.A.C. is a singles club composed of about 250 members whose age range from 18 to 26. The purpose of the C.Y.A.C. is to introduce young adults to new people through various activities such as ski trips, boat cruises, camping weekends, dances, theater outings, fund raising events and many more.

Young adults, regardless of faith or fraternities, sororities, or other organized clubs who would like to join the C.Y.A.C. or obtain additional information, are asked to contact Rich Brinton, chairman, at 688-7857.

Yule seal returns lag; follow-up plea sent area residents

Although the 1968 holiday season slipped into history about a month ago, the TB-Respiratory Disease Association of Central New Jersey--sponsors of the Hudson, Monmouth and Union County Christmas Seal Campaign--this week announced plans to continue its fund-raising drive.

Vondera, president of Kentworth, president of TB-Respiratory Disease Association, said that contributions already received by the association are approximately $10,000 less than the total at this time last year.

A follow-up appeal to area residents who have supported the work of the association in previous years, but who have not yet answered their Christmas Seal letter, was delivered last week. Vondera urged Union County residents to consider "the important year-round cycle of activities undertaken by the association" and to respond to its appeal.

Vondera pointed out that the Christmas Seal campaign--the association's only source of income--supports the group's tuberculosis, emphysema and other respiratory disease programs.

In addition to its community projects, TB-Respiratory Disease Association sponsors local, state and national medical education and research programs. This year, for example, the association will sponsor the attendance of eight area physicians at a postgraduate course on pulmonary function, which will be held March 24 to 28, at Boston.

Heilmann, Kiehn to try again with bill for 'toughest' gun law

Described as "possibly the toughest in the nation," a gun law will be re-introduced in the General Assembly next month by Assemblymen Herbert J. Heilmann of Union and Herbert H. Kiehn of Millway.

The new law, if approved, will provide for mandatory 15-year prison terms for any person convicted of using a firearm during the commission of a felony.

The original measure, which failed to get through the legislature, was introduced by Heilmann and Kiehn last year, shortly after the assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy.

"We were disappointed that we were unable to provide the same 15-year penalty for any person convicted of unlawfully carrying an concealed weapon," Heilmann and Kiehn said. "After some study, however, Heilmann and Kiehn decided the measure could conceivably open the way for overly harsh punishment of innocent persons, and the bill was withdrawn from the hopper for revision."

"With the initial legislation, there seemed to be the possibility that the innocent sportsman, who had simply failed to obtain a permit for his firearm, might be caught up in the penalties that we actually designed to thwart the criminal element," Heilmann and Kiehn said.

"As representatives of the people of this state, we could not permit such a possibility to be created, so we withdrew the bill."

THE NEW MEASURE, which the two Assemblymen said they will introduce shortly after the legislature re-convenes, will contain built-in protection for the innocent.

"The new law will honor two long-time employees of Summit, who have served as evening attendants at the front desk for 26 years, and Mrs. Louise Moore of Vauxhall, who was associated with the Y for more than 20 years as cateress and dormitory matron."

The YMCA staff, numbering 43 full and part-time employees, includes the professional and office staff, maintenance workers, desk and control room attendants, instructors and guards. Dr. Alexander C. Foster, president of the local YMCA, will speak on behalf of the board of directors.

Forest film Sunday at Trailside Center

"The Mighty Western Forests," a color, sound film, will be shown at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, on Sunday at 2 p.m.

The movie takes the viewer on an aerial tour of the vast tree-growing areas extending through 12 western states from the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific Ocean and from Canada to Mexico. The film also shows the benefits provided by the forests to mankind.

On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 30, at 4 p.m. each day, Donald W. Mayer, director of Trailside, and Miss Irma H. Hayer, educational assistant, will present half-hour nature talks for children.

Color slides will be illustrated with the Trailside Nature and Science Center is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m., and on Saturdays and Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to visit the Nature Center, view the thousands of indoor exhibits and participate in the scheduled programs.

Mayor to be cited by Republican unit

Mayor F. Edward Bierbaum of Union will be honored by the Union County Republican Committee at the annual Lincoln Day dinner to be held at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 12 at the Flagship on Rt. 22, Union.

Assemblymen Herbert J. Heilmann of Union and Herbert H. Kiehn of Millway have been appointed co-chairmen for the dinner, according to Richard G. Schoel, chairman of the County Committee. George C. Syme, ticket chairman, said tickets are now available.

Guests at the dinner will include Senator Clifford P. Case, Congressman Florence P. Dwyer and all Republican elected officials from Union County serving in state and county government.

YMC to honor 2 at dinner tonight

The Summit Area YMCA will observe National YMCA Week with a staff dinner tonight at the Y, which will honor two long-time employees. They are Mrs. Florence Brown of Summit, who has served as evening attendant at the front desk for 26 years, and Mrs. Louise Moore of Vauxhall, who was associated with the Y for more than 20 years as cateress and dormitory matron.

The YMCA staff, numbering 43 full and part-time employees, includes the professional and office staff, maintenance workers, desk and control room attendants, instructors and guards. Dr. Alexander C. Foster, president of the local YMCA, will speak on behalf of the board of directors.

'Wizard of Oz' on stage Feb. 9 at YM-WYFA

"The Wizard of Oz," the second in a series of live theatre programs for children sponsored by the Elementary School Club Committee of the Eastern Union County YM-WYFA, will be presented at 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 9, at the Y center, Green Lane, Union.

Special admission rates are available for groups of 20 or more, according to Mrs. Kermit Green, program head.

There are no reserved seats. Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Samuel J. Rosenthal at the Y office.

Directed by Ken and Kay Rockefeller, the play is one of nine for children produced by The Traveling Playhouse of New York City.

A grant from the Rockefeller Foundation enabled The Traveling Playhouse to initiate its current program of presenting plays for children. Now beginning its 20th season, it is entirely self-supporting and to date has given more than 4,000 performances before a combined audience of almost 3 million children.

East-year during school time as well as during the school holidays almost 30,000 children attended its performances in the Kaufmann Auditorium of the 92nd Street Y-WYFA in New York City. It also has journeyed widely throughout the entire United States.

CLOTHES CARE COMMENTS

by SAM MANN

(Diamond Cleaners)

The holidays are over, the decorations are down and stored away. It's time to settle back with that book you've been wanting to read, or the handwork you've been meaning to do.

But wait! Before you do that, there's one after-holiday task that should be a "must" in every home, I'm referring, of course, to the party frocks you showed off so happily in recent weeks.

If you have already hung them away, do by all means get them out, and check them for spots, stains and wrinkles. I know you wore them only a few times, and it's a temptation to put them away without cleaning.

But it can be false economy. "Hidden" stains develop when exposed to heat, and perspiration can ruin fine fabrics. Even if you find only wrinkles, please don't take chances. The next time you want to look festive, you can ruin the garment on the ironing board.

It's so easy to protect those party pretties now. The experts at Diamond Cleaners know how to handle even the most fragile fabrics to insure longer life and the pampered look you want when party time rolls around again.

Dayton widens lead; meets Union

By ARNOLD GERST
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team solidified its first-place position in the Watchung Conference last Friday by defeating second-place Scotch Plains, 77-71. The Bulldogs now have a 9-2 record and will meet Union High School in a home contest tomorrow night at 8.

Dayton's triumph over the Plainsmen was the biggest victory of the season. With a season high of 43 points in the first half, the Bulldogs built up a 10-point lead. Frank Buccelloni scored 16 points in the first two periods by hitting for 16 points and making numerous steals. His shooting enabled Springfield to jump out to an early 14-7 lead, and the Raiders were unable to overcome this deficit.

Dayton's offense was led by Buccelloni, who scored 25 points and made 10 of 17 shots by Buccelloni and strong board work by Danny D'Andrea and Dave Margulies let Springfield open the margin to 12 points.

THE BULLDOGS MAINTAINED their 10-point spread up to the 6:00 mark in the fourth period. With two minutes remaining in the contest Dayton held a slim five-point lead. Dayton quickly extended it as Ralph Losanno became the big man for the Bulldogs. Losanno pumped in 20 points and grabbed many rebounds. His shooting accuracy kept Springfield ahead by 5 to 10 points during the waning minutes of the game. At the 1:30 mark Dayton led by nine points and was no longer in trouble.

Coach Ray Yanchus remarked that Dayton played its best defensive game of the season. The Bulldogs were able to contain Scotch Plains' offense by holding them to 47 rebounds and shooting the Raiders, 39 percent - 35 percent.

Yanchus was pleased because Dayton was able to overcome its previously stagnant first-half scoring. In Springfield's four previous games the Bulldogs fell behind in the first two quarters and then had to battle back in the remainder of the game.

Yanchus noted that Dave Margulies, who scored 12 points, shot well throughout the game. Margulies guarded Jim McDede, controlled the high scoring center. Although McDede scored 25 points, Margulies blocked many of his shots and prevented him from getting key rebounds.

In THE SCOTCH PLAINS contest, Dan D'Andrea scored 15 points and pulled down 10 rebounds. Yanchus pointed out that D'Andrea is a very aggressive player. He is a fast reactor when the ball is in the air.

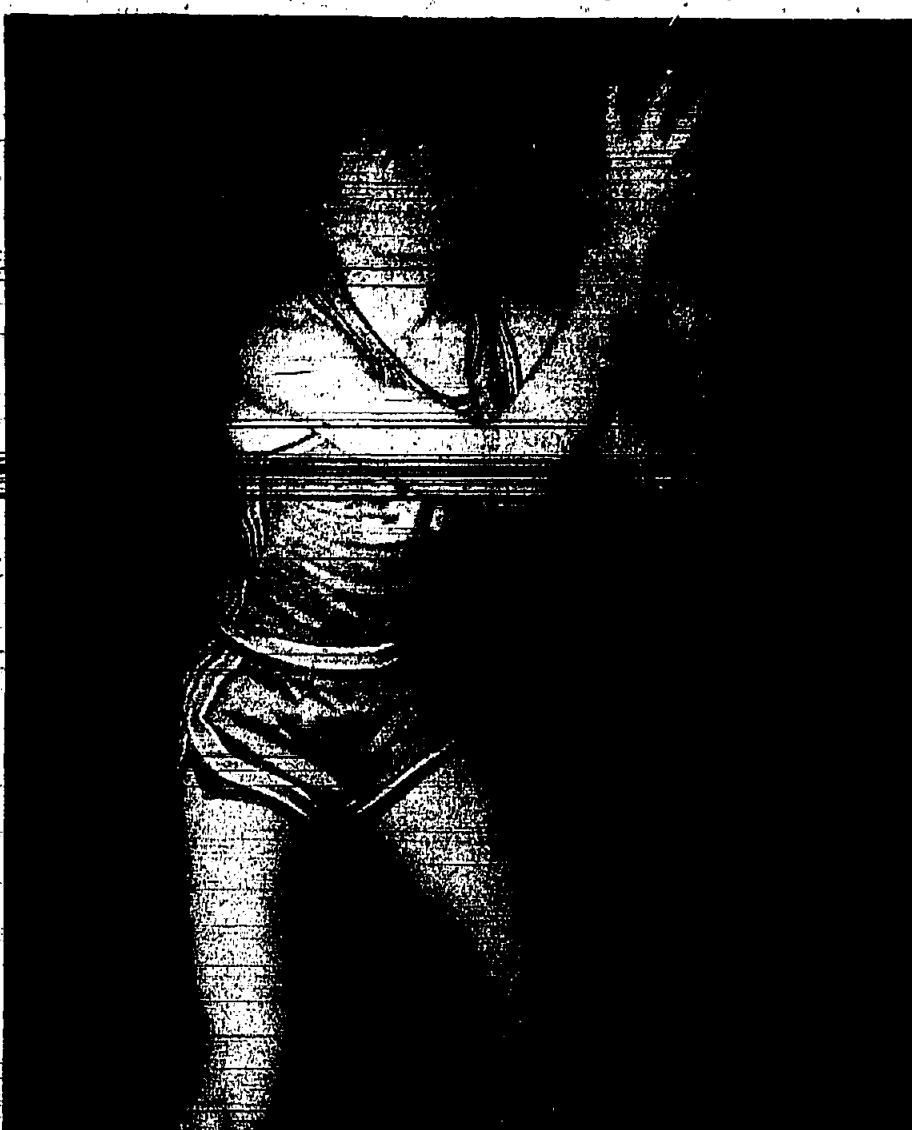

Dennis Lester, who scored 10 points against

Scotch Plains, has been doing an excellent job for Springfield all season. His shooting and ball handling have sparked the Bulldogs on many occasions, and his all-round performance against the Raiders help maintain Dayton's slim lead.

Ralph Losanno, who scored 20 points against the Plainsmen, is a very aggressive basketball player. Against the Raiders he grabbed 10 defensive and four offensive rebounds. Losanno's rebounding gave Springfield two and three chances to score, and this was the deciding factor in the ball game.

Frank Buccelloni, the team's leading scorer, who is averaging 18 points a game, has been the key man on the offense. When Lester and Buccelloni connect from the outside, Dayton rolls.

Dayton has nine games remaining on the schedule and all will be tough.

DAN D'ANDREA - Junior forward whose rebounding and scoring have contributed substantially to the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team, Watchung Conference leader.

Bulldog keglers Winless Dayton matmen top Highlanders; host Plains Saturday

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School bowling team defeated Governor Livingston of Berkeley Heights, 2-1, but tied in total pins. Dayton's record is now 3-2. Next Monday, the Bulldogs will meet Hillside at the Echo Lanes.

The Bulldogs were led by Bruce Gerstein and Leo Stein, who bowled a 530 series, while Mike Goodman rolled a 514 series. Steve Glover bowled in the 400s, while Bob Shindler rolled a 490.

Although Dayton was tied in total pins, the victory was awarded to Dayton because they won the first two matches by slim margins and lost the third game.

With Dayton now having a .500 record, the Bulldogs will challenge Hillside's Comets. Earlier this season Springfield lost to the Comets but bowled its finest games of the season.

As the last half of the season begins, Dayton hopes for more consistency from its top bowlers. As Coach Peter Scozza has stated, if the team can bowl as a unit, there will be an improvement.

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School wrestling team lost to Arthur L. Johnson of Clark, 31-14, and Hillside 32-6. The Springfield record is now 0-4, and on Saturday Dayton will meet Scotch Plains at 2 p.m. in a home contest.

Coach Richard Cook noted that against Clark, Andy Kriegman tied at 106, Gary Brannan at 115, Dave Pierson at 130, Gary Heydu at 157 and Gary Grant at heavy weight. All won for Dayton.

Cook said that Dennis Marino looked good in his match and noted an over-all improvement in the team's wrestling.

Against Hillside Heydu and Pierson were

Springfield edges Clark 5, 64-62

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School's basketball team continued its undefeated record in Watchung Conference games Tuesday by defeating Clark, 64-62. Their conference streak was extended to seven games and their overall season record now stands at 10-2.

Ralph Losanno, who scored 18 in the contest for Dayton, sunk the winning basket with nine seconds remaining in the contest.

The Bulldogs overcame an early Clark lead to jump out to a 10-point advantage at the half. Clark erased the Springfield lead with relative ease and in fact tied the game at 56-56 with 1:25 left to play. Joe Dunn, who scored 25, tied the game at that point. Losanno then scored six points, tying Springfield's victory with his final goal.

Other high scorers for Springfield were Danny D'Andrea and Dave Margulies with 14 and 17 respectively. Springfield's shooting percentage was far below what they have established thus far this season. Clark showed some improvement since the last encounter with the Bulldogs.

Undeclared Iowa, Oklahoma top State League competition

Iowa remains the sole unbeaten squad in the State League's Eastern Division, while Oklahoma is the lone undefeated squad in the League's Western Division. The State League meets at the Florence Gaudier School each Saturday afternoon as part of the Recreation Department's Youth Basketball Program.

Iowa beat West Virginia last week, 24-15. Rich Feldman paced Iowa with 10 points. Feldman, the high scorer, also put on a fine all-around performance for the league leaders. Timmy Plimpinelli played a top defensive game for Iowa, keeping West Virginia from getting easy shots. Jess Greenstein played a fine all-around game for West Virginia and led his team with six points. New Lesser was the top defensive player for the Virginians. Joey Knowles, Mitch Buffington and Dave Garner also played well in the game.

A thrilling overtime battle highlighted play in the Eastern Division last week as Kansas nipped North Carolina, 20-19. Art Cook's rebound shot for Kansas beat North Carolina, which had taken the lead in overtime on a free throw by Dave Kessler. Al Geist led Kansas with his fine overall play. Al Geist

Rockets' late rally tops Tigers, 17-16; Pirates win, 19-8

The Pirates and the Rockets remain undefeated in Sandmeier Small-Fry play. The eight-team league meets each week at the Thelma Sandmeier School as part of the Recreation Department's youth basketball program for beginners.

The Rockets put on quite a comeback last week, beating the Tigers, 17-16. The Tigers led a 13-6 lead going into the final period last Saturday but were outscored, 11-3, in the final six minutes. Steve Rotenberg paced the final period rally with five points. Buckets by Brian Deutch, Mark Roslin and Bob Lefredo contributed to the rally. Deutch finishing with five points. Mike Davis played a great game for the Tigers, leading all scorers with eight points. Joe Brunner of the Tigers played a fine floor game and tallied four points.

The Pirates stormed over the Chiefs, 19-8. Doug DeLeonard paced the Pirates with 10 points, playing a top all-around game for the winners. Jeff Feld also had a good game for the Pirates, while Ken Feld was equally effective. Eric Walker, Joe Monesaro, Mike Rosenberg and Mitch Johns all played a big role for the Pirates. The Pirates' defense, Kenny Fingerhut, was the top performer for the Chiefs with three points. Ken led the squad in all departments with a fine individual effort. Ted Parker, Dave Falcone and Andy Dobin all played well for the Chiefs.

The Jets gained their initial victory of the campaign with a come-from-behind 11-6 victory over the Chargers. Dave Schulman had a fine game for the Jets, as he paced his team with five points and some good board work. Fred Watkins had a good playing making afternoon for the Jets, as did Aron Adler. Keith Widom also played well for the victors, scoring three points in the final-period rally. Steve Hochstein, with a pair of foul shots, and Rick Greer, with one, rounded out the scoring for the Jets. Joe Pulice, Andy Morozco and Mark Buzin divided the Chargers' scoring equally. Joe and Mark hit big buckets, while Andy dropped in two shots from the free throw line.

The Comets beat the Rockets, 11-8. In a see-saw contest, Eric Davis showed a good eye from the foul line with four tosses from the free line in the final period. Kevin Mitchell led the Comets off the boards and played a good ball control game. Kev also hit a big bucket. Mark Kesselhaus hit three points for the winners, while Lee Davidson added a bucket during the final period rally. Rick Weber, with two consecutive buckets in the third period, gave the Raiders the lead going into the final quarter of play. Rick with four points was high for his team. Rich Minister with a bucket and some fine all-around play rounded out the Raiders' good play and a bucket in the big third period.

Penn, Harvard in battle of Ivy League unbeaten

Pennsylvania and Harvard remain unbeaten in the Recreation Department's Ivy League basketball competition. Harvard coasted past Brown last week while Penn staged a great comeback victory over Dartmouth. The boys in the Ivy League meet each Saturday at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

The league's two unbeaten quintets, Harvard and Penn, will meet in the final game of the afternoon, scheduled for 3:45 at the high school. The opening game will pit Columbia against Princeton. The other two contests pit Cornell against Dartmouth and Brown versus Yale. The first game will start at 1:30.

Penn topped Dartmouth last Saturday, 23-19. In one of the most exciting games ever played in recreation competition, Dartmouth opened up an 11-0 lead and extended this lead to 18-2 at half time. But in the second half, Penn ran the Dartmouth team off the floor.

Harvard gained a 20-11 victory over winless Brown, which put up a tough battle but lost to Harvard's third period rally. Ken Baroff of Harvard led all scorers with 13 points, hitting five times from the field and three from the foul line. Kenny Marzelle scored four points for the winners. Sam Kaplan added a bucket and Mike Klarfeld a foul shot. Mike was particularly effective with his all-round good play.

Brown showed a well-planned attack with Art "Poochie" James leading with six points, scoring twice on jumpers and twice from the free throw line. Mark Tasher had four points for Brown, while John Zurkof, Gavin Widom and Doug Weg all played well in a losing cause.

Bullets roll, 22-2, as Aggies, Pistons remain tied for 1st

The Bullets, Aggies and Pistons continue to roll along unbeaten in Small-Fry competition in the Caldwell League, one of two Small-Fry leagues played as part of the Recreation Department's youth basketball program. The eight-team league meets each Saturday afternoon at the James Caldwell School.

The Bullets trounced the Knicks, 22-2, as Scott Searies paced the Bullets with 12 points, all from the floor. He finished with three buckets in the final period to cap a fine afternoon. Greg Lies added six points and played a top all-around game. Jim Lopez played good defense and also had four points to aid the Bullets cause. The Knicks were not out-hustled. Keith was particularly effective with some fine rebounding and good defensive play.

The Pistons remained unbeaten with a narrow 5-4 triumph over the Lakers. Billy Bjorstad scored all the Pistons' points in a second-half rally for the victory. Brian Mercer played a hard game for the Pistons, hitting four of five shots. Tommy Ronco was outstanding in the Laker attack, scoring four points. Lou Fasulo, Pete Arons and John Graessle all played well for the Lakers. Teddy Johnson of the Lakers was called up to play in the State League and will put on a Texas uniform for games next week.

The Aggies kept their record unblemished with a 16-10 victory over the Celtics. Bob Fleishman of the Aggies paced all scorers with 10 points and after this game was summoned for State League play with the Oklahoma team. Marty Fishman and Bruce Holmes also played well for the Aggies. Marty tallied four points, while Bruce hit a bucket. Scott Grayson had another good afternoon for the Celtics, scoring nine points. Mark McCourty hit a foul shot for the Celts.

In the final game of the day, the Billkens put on a terrific second-half comeback to top the Nats, 16-10. Tommy Wisniewski was tremendous in this game for the Bills. Tommy scored 10 points and was all over the court. Steve Clarke played well for the Bills, with five points, while Paul Grigg hit a free throw and Billy Koonz displayed a hustling brand of basketball. Jeff Bromberg and Stair Roff led a well-balanced Nat scoring attack with four points each. Steve Bultz added a bucket for the Nats, while Eric Kromer hit a foul shot.

Gems go three up by sweeping Stars

The Gems firmly established themselves in first place, in the Tuesday Afternoon Girls' Bowling League at the conclusion of bowling last week. The high-scoring Gems topped their closest rivals, the Stars, last Tuesday in both ends of a two-game match. The twin victory gave the Gems a commanding three-game lead. The girls roll each week at the Springfield Bowl. The league is sponsored by the Recreation Department.

Debbie Kuskin and Diane Searies paced the Gems past the Stars. Deb was high for the league leaders as she rolled a 239 series. Diane was also again effective for her team, as she tallied 205 pins. Carol Foster was again terrific in the Stars' line up, leading all bowlers in the match with a 251 series on games of 130 and 121.

The Dancers continue to improve as they drew into a third place last week. The Dancers thumped the Charms as they swept their two-game match. Dona Haws stood out for the Charms and was high in the match with a 205 series. Sue Foster and Joann Foster also bowled well for the Dancers. Karen Landow was the top bowler for the Charms last Tuesday.

The Strikers and the Pacesetters split the final two game series rolled last week. Norell Geoghan of the Strikers rolled her

Hurricanes boost lead to five games in boys' bowling

The Hurricanes have moved to a commanding five-game lead in the Thursday Afternoon Boys' Bowling League after running neck and neck with the Bombers. The boys roll at the Springfield Bowl each week. The league is sponsored by the Recreation Department.

Joe Pepe once again paced the Hurricanes as they built their league lead by trouncing the Bullets in both ends of a two-game match. Joe posted games of 150 and 129 for a series total of 279. Joe's total topped all bowlers last Thursday. Rick Schwerdt also had a good afternoon for the Hurricanes. Rick rolled a 236 series. Other members of the first place Hurricanes are: Don Hetzel, Walter Philippi and Bob Dorsey. Skip Moore led the Bullets' attack last week. Skip rolled a 230 series. Todd Bellier also rolled well for the Bullets.

The Rockets swept a two game series from the Bombers' last week. The Rockets, who began the season in a slump, have been surging of late and tie two victories last week evened their season record. The Rockets are now only a game out of second place. Elliot Liebman, in a substitute role, paced the Rockets with a 251 series. Matt Levine was high for the regulars with a series total of 224. Bobby Wallick posted a 215 series for the winners. Brian Ogonski was the top bowler for the Bombers. Brian rolled a 233 series. Andy Mendelsohn rolled a 226 series for the Bombers, while Mark Shipman topped 220 pins in his match.

Joe Pepe has boosted his hold on the top average spot. Joe's career league leading average of 142.8 with his top performance last week. Rick Schwerdt is holding second place with a 125 average. Andy Mendelsohn is in third place with his 120 average. Skip Moore holds a fraction lead over Larry Frikus for fourth place. Both boys are averaging 117. The other boys among the league's ten best are: Brian Ogonski 112, Bob Wallick 110, Mark Shipman 110, Matt Levine 110, and Kevin Mercer 108.

Rinaldo again chairman of heart fund campaign

State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union has been named chairman of the Union County Heart Association's 1969 fund drive.

The February drive will represent Sen. Rinaldo's fifth year as chairman. During each of those years the drive realized a higher total. Last year $81,110.30 was raised in contributions.

The 1969 fund drive will be kicked off at a special meeting for volunteers next Wednesday night in the Kentworth offices of White Plains.

Rinaldo, an officer of the Kentworth consulting firm, is an industrial and labor relations consultant. A native of Elizabeth, he received a bachelor of science degree from Rutgers, and the degree of master of business administration from Seton Hall University. He has also undertaken studies at St. John's University and Columbia University, and is currently a candidate for a doctorate in public administration at New York University.

Sen. Rinaldo is a former president of the Union Township Zoning Board of Adjustment and served on the Union County Board of Freeholders in 1963 and 1964. In 1965, he was selected as the "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" by the Union Township Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In addition, he is a member of the adjunct faculty of Rutgers University, the board of trustees of the New Jersey Heart Association; the board of directors of the Union County Heart Association; the board of directors of the Union Chapter of the American Red Cross; the Rutgers University Alumni Association; the Union Lions Club; Union Council 4504, Knights of Columbus; John Fitzgerald Kennedy General Assembly, Fourth Degree, K. of C.; Union County Historical Society; the American Municipal League, and the American Society for Public Administration.

"This has been a year of spectacular accomplishment in heart disease research, culminating in a number of historic transplants," Rinaldo said. "We truly stand on the verge of the breakthroughs we have envisaged for so long will be coming in the next few years.

"It is imperative," he continued, "to sustain this effort. To ease up now would be to abandon a commitment to eliminate the nation's number one killer. Can we do less than carry through until this problem has been licked?"

"In the next few months," Rinaldo concluded, "thousands of county chairmen across the nation will be working with thousands more municipal chairmen and district volunteers to bring a message of need to you, the sympathetic public. We are counting on you to respond — as you have so generously in the past."

Spring registration next week at UC

Registration for the spring semester at Union College, Cranford, will be held next Monday through Thursday, it was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, acting president.

Students in the day session will register Monday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Registration for evening session students will begin Wednesday and Thursday from 6 to 8 p.m. Classes begin Friday, Jan. 31.

Total enrollment of 1,700 is anticipated, Dr. Iversen said. Union College is an independent, co-educational two-year college offering programs in liberal arts, physical and life sciences, engineering, and business administration. Course of study at Union College parallels the freshman and sophomore years at four-year colleges and universities. Students who satisfactorily complete their two years at the college may transfer to a four-year institution for their junior and senior years, or may terminate their studies with the degree of associate in arts.

Registrations being accepted for 'Y' mid-winter art classes

Registrations for varied mid-winter art classes in the elementary and junior departments of the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA are being accepted at the 'Y' center, Green Lane, Union.

Baller classes, directed by Sonja Nikol, will start their second series today at 3:30 p.m. for beginners and 4:15 for advanced students. The classes are open to girls in elementary grades, as well as junior high.

The second round of art classes in oils, watercolors and pastels, directed by Dave Clark, will begin Sunday. The elementary group meets for instruction from 2 to 3 p.m. and the junior and senior high convenes from 3 to 4 p.m.

Cooking classes also will continue into their second part starting Sunday. Two classes directed by Maria Robinson will schedule dinner and meet from 2 to 3 p.m. and 3 to 4 p.m. This has been a popular activity with girls in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

A creative crafts class, directed by George

Trogler, will begin its second portion on Monday, Feb. 10 at 3:30 p.m. This class is open to all elementary school children.

Sue Guthrie, director of a modern dance class, will begin a second series of instruction on Monday, at 3:45 and 4:30. The class is open to boys and girls in elementary and junior high school grades.

Additional information on registration may be obtained from Mrs. Samuel J. Rosenthal at the 'Y' office.

Family camp group to meet at YMCA

The Family Campers' Group of the Five Points YMCA will have its next program Sunday at the YMCA Building at 218 Salem St., Union.

The program will begin with a family covered dish supper and fellowship hour. Applications will be distributed in preparation for the June campout at the family camping grounds of the Hunterdon County YMCA located on a branch of the Raritan River near Chester.

Narcotics theme of open meeting

A lecture and film presentation on "Narcotics: The Teen-age Problem in Union County" will be given by a representative of the Union County Narcotics Clinic tonight at 8:45 at a public meeting at the Cranford VFW Building, Centennial and South avenues, Cranford. There will be a half-hour film, "Fix of Teapart," a 20-minute lecture and a question-and-answer period.

The lecture and film are sponsored by the Garden State Chapter 52, WAC-Veterans Association. There will be no admission charge.

A short meeting will be held by chapter members prior to the lecture. It will be open to all WACs, former WACs, WACs and Air-WACs.

Bograd raps ban on arms to Israel

The French embargo on military equipment and spare parts for Israel was attacked this week in a statement by Arnold Bograd of Elizabeth, chairman of the American Jewish Congress Chapter of Union County.

Bograd charged that President DeGaulle's action has emboldened terrorists and "can benefit only those Arab forces that refuse to make peace in the Middle East."

He urged France to "rather utilize its prestige and good offices to bring the Arab nations and the State of Israel to the negotiating table for a peace settlement that will insure a life of dignity, security and peace to all those who live in the region."
