

Meyner names Bloom campaign coordinator

Former Springfield Township Committeeman Jay B. Bloom has been appointed campaign coordinator for Robert R. Meyner in the Springfield area.

Meyner, who served as governor from 1953 to 1961, is seeking to gain the Democratic nomination to run for the office again this November. While facing heavy opposition in the primary battle for the nomination, he is considered by Bloom to be, "obviously, the best candidate in either party for the office."

In accepting the appointment, Bloom noted that, "as far as I am concerned, Meyner had been making correct choices all the way back to the time he chose to go to Lafayette College and Columbia Law School," since Bloom, too, had graduated from these schools.

"However, his record while governor was outstanding by any criterion—not only for what was enacted into law but also for what was proposed, even if defeated by the Republican legislature of the time. Many of these were adopted years later and have been limited by other states.

In the realm of accomplishment, he reduced the State Debt by nearly $20 million, enabled the state to earn an AAA financial rating for the first time in 20 years, had the lowest per capita cost of running a state government in the nation and the fewest employees relative to population of any state government in the nation," said Bloom.

"Within this framework of fiscal responsibility, he tripled state aid to school districts, developed the first program to provide state aid for school construction, increased higher education appropriations by nearly three-fold and won needed salary and pension increases for teachers.

"His administration doubled the amount of land held for state parks and successfully recommended the $60 million Green Acres bond issue. He increased highway expenditures five-fold and developed a long-range water supply program that has insured New Jersey residents of having adequate water supply for years to come.

"While these quantitative achievements are impressive," Bloom continues, "I am even more impressed by the extent to which his proposals and achievements—of the 1950s suggest that he was 10 to 15 years ahead of the nation in his social thinking.

"In 1956 he called for developing methods to make adequate medical care available to the aged on a state-wide basis; in 1961 he urged laws banning discrimination in all kinds of housing; in 1955 he urged a referendum for giving 18-year-olds the right to vote; in 1960 he called for establishment of a consumer-credit agency; in 1960 he asked for a bill requiring disclosure of true interest costs; in 1961 he called for a series of two-year community colleges to supplement the existing state college system.

"This list of proposals that have since proven to be essential social legislation goes on and on. It illustrates clearly the extent to which Meyner was able to propose legislation in the 1950s that would be essential for the 1970s. It is because of this proven capacity for vision and accomplishment that I will work to see him nominated and elected come November," Bloom declared.

Collegians are offered course at Y

College-bound high school graduates of the Westfield area will get a chance to learn how to survive in college. The nationally recognized course "How to Study in College" will again be offered at the Westfield YMCA, Aug. 4 to 8.

The YMCA announced that the program, a one-week, five-evening series of lectures developed by two Purdue University professors, which will be held at the YMCA, is presented as a service to recent high school graduates headed for the gates of the nation's colleges this fall.

Because of the "tremendous favorable response" received from students who took the course last year, the Westfield YMCA and YWCA arranged with the authors of the course to present it here again this summer.

Not a remedial course, the "college survival" program is aimed squarely at a long-overlooked college entrance problem: the transition the student is forced to make from high school to the rigors of academic life at college.

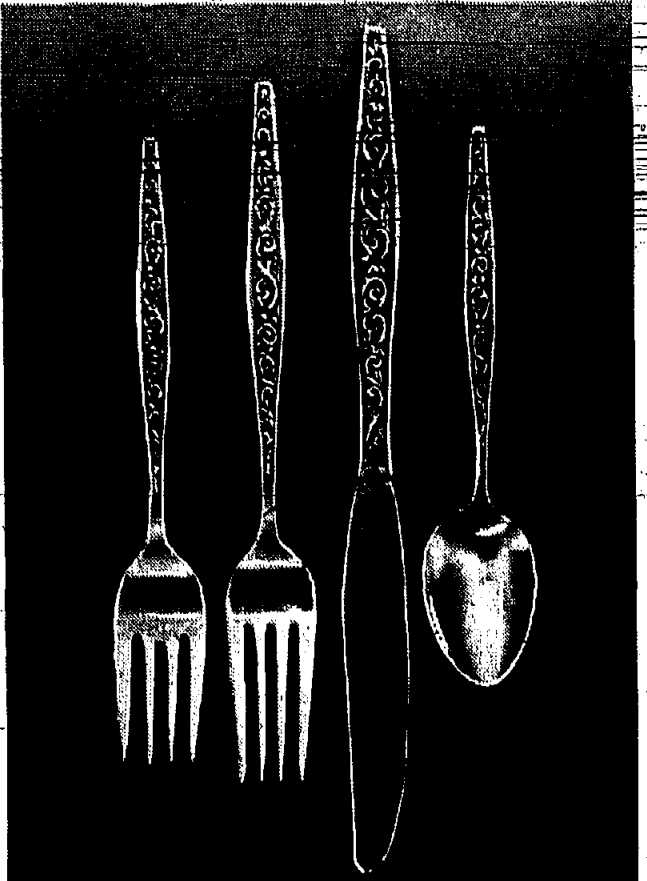

The course was developed a number of years ago by Robert F. Schwarz, dean of the Purdue University North Central Campus, and Howard D. Murdock of the chemistry department there. Since then, the course has been offered at all five campuses of Purdue University in Indiana and at YMCAs across the nation. In 1968, it was offered at YMCAs to more than 4,000 students in some 50 cities.

Report from Trenton

By State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo

One-time travel for regular users of the Garden State Parkway has moved a step closer to reality. The Assembly has approved S-309, my bill that would require the New Jersey Highway Authority to issue books of toll tickets to be sold at a discount of at least 20 percent of the regular charges.

I WOULD BE WILLING to serve as a clearing house for those who wish to impress upon the Governor their desire to see Parkway tolls reduced for regular users.

Inflation wipes out big wage gains

WASHINGTON — The purchasing power of the nation's rank-and-file workers was virtually unchanged in March, as a sharp rise in consumer prices canceled a large gain in take-home pay, the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported.

Gross weekly earnings of production and non-supervisory workers rose 97 cents over the month to $111.75, surpassing the previous record reached in September 1968. The advance was attributable to a two-tenths-of-a-cent rise in the work-week and a 1-cent rise in hourly earnings. After adjustment for price increases, gross weekly earnings were only slightly above a month ago but were up 1.4 percent over the year. March declines in mining, finance, insurance, and real estate, and trade were offset by increases in contract construction and manufacturing, where hours rose sharply.

Spensible earnings, or after-tax pay, averaged $97.82 in March for the worker with three dependents, an increase of $0.74 over the month (0.8 percent). All industries except mining registered increases, with the largest advance occurring in construction. Compared with March 1968, take-home pay for all rank-and-file workers was up by $4.52 or 4.8 percent.

Real spendable earnings — take-home pay expressed in 1957-59 dollars to take account of the effect of price changes — came to $77.88 in March for the worker with three dependents. An increase in purchasing power of manufacturing and construction workers was countered by declines in other industries. For the second straight month, real spendable earnings were below year-ago levels; the over-the-year decline amounted to three-tenths of one percent.

BOXING BENEFIT - Ed Segall of Springfield (right) has a few tips for Jerry Holloway, who will compete in the 148-pound open class on a benefit boxing program to be held at Eiertempel Field, Union, Wednesday night. Proceeds of the show will benefit the building fund of the Vauxhall United Community Center.

Vauxhall boxing show to offer 12-bout card

A 12-bout boxing program, to benefit the building fund of the Vauxhall United Community Center, will be held at Eiertempel Field, Union, Wednesday night. The card, featuring New Jersey Golden Gloves champions against New York titleholders, is being promoted by Ed Segall, a former Union resident who now lives at 10 Cayuga Ct., Springfield.

Jerry Holloway, the 1968 Golden Gloves runner-up, will be in one of the feature bouts on the card, meeting a comparable opponent in the 148-pound Open class. Holloway, 18, of 159-Carnegie-pl., Union, competed in the Mercer County boxing tournament last year and was a finalist in the Newark Golden Gloves competition. He competed in the U.S. Olympic Trials in Toledo, Ohio. He is taking a course in drafting at Bell Laboratories, Morristown.

Segall, state Golden Gloves runner-up in 1946 boxed for the University of Miami and was Southern welterweight champion from 1950-

1953. He has been active in the YMHA and at one time was on the staff of the P.A.L. Boys' Club of Union as an instructor and trainer. A number of sports personalities are expected to attend the benefit card, including football and track star Eulace Peacock, a former Union resident, Lou Halper, Alie Stolz, Ike Williams, "Red" Cochran, Jersey Joe Walcott and Charles Ray of the "Boxing World."

Tickets may be obtained from any Union police officer or Community Center member. General admission tickets will be sold at the door the night of the fights.

BE STRONG
It may not be necessarily true that the world is darkest just before the dawn. But—who can argue against the old expression "things are not so bad they can't get worse."
So, what is the answer when it seems the world is against you and the fate persists in handing you a joker with every deal? Give up? Roll over and play dead? Go to sleep and wait for tomorrow to bring better times?
Of course not.
Look to faith; Look to God for strength, the strength to do something now, to do as much as you can about the situation or the problem at this very moment.
Strength for now is what you need — and it's available. Just don't ask for tomorrow. Don't expect a sign from heaven, not in the least. Tomorrow's answer and promise to be wiped away with a single gust of wind.
But look within yourself for inner courage, for an awareness of what needs to be done, for the sense to know what can be done, and for the urge to begin to do it.
If you would be strong, look to God for guidance, then make a proper move to help yourself.

HER MAN SAYS NO WEDDING BAND

Dear Amy:
I am being married very soon to a swell guy (I thought). Last week he told me to go pick out my wedding ring. So I did and also chose one for him. When I told him, he informed me very politely that he had no intentions of wearing a wedding ring, and that's what I feel very hurt. All married men wear wedding bands, don't they, Amy?

About to be Wedded To Be Wed:
I know plenty of men who don't. Don't fret about the ring on his finger so long as you're the girl on his arm!

Dear Amy:
I'd love to add a line to your column in answer to the young girl with a mustache. We girls used to get a special very fine sandpaper, it was called "Baby Touch", but any fine sandpaper will do — with time and patience. And once you are rid of it, that does it! It's marvelous.

did recipe for "Wrong Sex" whose problem is a mustache. The recipe removes color from the hair without leaving the face with a "bleached" look.

For the face: 3 tablespoons 17 volume peroxide with 6 drops of ammonia. Apply twice daily until bleached.

I hope your friend tries this, it's inexpensive and it works.

Mrs. M.S. (Westmont, Ill.)
Dear Amy:
Recently my wife and I were divorced (the reasons are immaterial). She was awarded the custody of our children. Last week, my oldest child called me at 10 pm and through his tears told me that he had had no supper as yet nor had the other children. Naturally I immediately went to their apartment, fed them, put them to bed, and waited for my ex-wife's return.

She came home all right, but quite tipsy and proceeded to give ME a piece of her mind for interfering. I listened quietly, trying to understand her, and then left.

I then started asking questions in the neighborhood and found that my ex-wife was carrying on with an alcoholic and that if the baby-sitter didn't show up to give the children dinner, they got no dinner... while their mother was out making the rounds of the local bars.

I love my children, and in the light of what has happened, I want custody of them. I offered to take them at the time of the divorce but bowed to their mother's plea. What should I do?
Their Dad

Dear Dad:
A mother who would leave her children unattended for any reason seems "unfit" to me. See your lawyer.

I don't want to find out, but it hurts very much because I have friends who cheat on their husbands.
Ashamed and Worried
Dear Ashamed:
You confronted your husband with your suspicions and he said, "Not true." Now forget it and show him you love and love him as you say you do.

PERSONAL TO JOYCE:
Happy marriages are built on a conglomeration of things. In plain words what he meant to convey was: Take care of my life and I'll take care of your life!

State sees decrease in jobless rate

Total unemployment in New Jersey declined by 5,600 to 134,400 from March to April, with a 0.2 drop in rate to 4.6 percent, according to estimates of the N. J. Department of Labor and Industry. The decline was primarily a result of seasonal trends and new hiring in construction, services, trade, and farming. Compared with April 1968, however, unemployment increased by 2,200, although the jobless rate remained the same.

Trenton had the lowest unemployment rate of any major area, at 3.1 percent. Rates from the statewide low of 2.8 percent in the Phillipsburg area to the high of 10.5 in the Ocean City-Wildwood-Cape May Labor area, the rate declined over the month in 12 of New Jersey's 15 labor areas.

The department said that the downward trend of unemployment will continue throughout May, until the June influx of temporary jobseekers causes a rise.

NIH THE SEARCH FOR HEALTH
A REPORT FROM THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH BETHESDA, MARYLAND

SURGERY FOR BLUE BABIES

One of the best known, in-born heart defects is the Tetralogy of Fallot, which is actually a combination of four malformations. First, there is a hole, usually large, in the muscular wall between the left and right ventricles. If the hole is large, the blood does not circulate properly. Blood from the left side of the heart, which has just come from the lungs, is forced into the right side of the heart and may be sent back to the lungs again. The second defect is the displacement of the aorta so that it receives blood from both ventricles. The aorta sends this mixture of oxygenated and unoxygenated blood to all parts of the body. Third, there is a narrowing of the pulmonary valve or of the outflow tract leading to the lungs. Last, the right ventricle is enlarged due to the strain of trying to pump blood through the narrowed pulmonary artery. There is a reduced blood-flow to the lungs and a mixture of oxygen-poor blood and oxygen-laden blood being pumped to all parts of the body. Because blood low in oxygen is a blue-red color, the oxygen-starved baby takes on a bluish skin color. Sometimes the symptoms of Tetralogy of Fallot begin in the first few weeks of life with difficulty in feeding, a failure to gain weight and poor development. The child may have shortness of breath and weakness and often assumes a squatting position which seems to ease these conditions. The correction of this set of defects requires open-heart surgery. That is, the surgeon needs direct vision access to the heart for a period of time long enough to perform the operation. In order to do this, the heart-beat must be slowed or completely stopped. A heart-lung machine, which is outside the patient's body, takes over the function of the patient's own heart and lungs. It supplies oxygen to the blood and pumps it through the body. An incision is made in the wall of the right ventricle and the hole between the two chambers is closed with a Teflon patch. This patch keeps oxygen poor blood from flowing into the aorta and on to the rest of the body. Next, the blockage to pulmonary blood-flow is relieved so that blood can travel easily to the lungs to pick up oxygen. This may entail enlarging the pulmonary valve and/or widening the outflow tract just below it by removing a section of the muscle that narrows it. Sometimes a patch must be inserted in the incision to widen the passageway. Corrective surgery is usually postponed until the child is four years old or older. If symptoms are severe, another type of operation may be performed in infancy to temporarily ease the condition and keep the infant reasonably healthy until complete correction can be performed at a later date. The results of successful operations are often quite dramatic and improvement is striking. The pulmonary blood-flow and amount of oxygen in circulation is increased. The bluish tinge disappears and exercise tolerance is greatly improved so

State planetarium offers its very own star trek

The mysteries of exploring the earth with the help of distant stars will be discussed at the lecture-demonstration "Beacons in the Sky" during May and June at the New Jersey State Planetarium. While outlining some of the basic principles of celestial navigation, the Planetarium lecturer will transport the audience to the North Pole. From that arctic location they will plummet to the core of the earth. The Planetarium's unique, transparent earth projector will enable the audience to view the continents and seas of the globe and the stars simultaneously. Thus any traveler will better his understanding of the relationship of the earth and its rotation to the positions of the stars, and, ultimately, to his own position on land or at sea.

Besides using the stars as guides for navigation, the lecturer will explore the possibilities of some day using artificial satellites for "navigation stars." Tourists wishing to join the exploratory polar cruise can take off any weekend in May or June. Free public lectures are scheduled at 2, 3 and 4 p.m. every Saturday, Sunday and holiday including Memorial Day.

Prenatal care being stressed during 'Healthy Baby Week'

Healthy Baby Week is being observed this week through Saturday. During this week the National Foundation—March of Dimes will pursue its prenatal care programs with the assistance of various Junior Women's Clubs in the county who will deliver literature citing the importance of early medical care, show films, address club groups, conduct a radio panel show and set up exhibits — all geared at caring for unborn babies.

The National Foundation is concerned with the high infant mortality rate in the United States and feels that good maternal health, before and after pregnancy, will promote healthier babies.

In addition to being aided by the Junior Women's Clubs, several diaper services will distribute March of Dimes prenatal and baby care literature in their deliveries this week. In its efforts to prevent birth defects or to provide comprehensive treatment for those who are already victims of these conditions, the March of Dimes finances public and professional education programs with research, and supports more than 105 birth defects treatment centers, one located at Babies Hospital, Newark.

Vaccines to prevent German measles and R H incompatibility are expected to be licensed soon, thereby preventing numerous defective babies.

Anyone desiring more information concerning prenatal material may contact the Union County chapter office.

Camp shop now open on Rt. 22

Morsan, Inc., a pioneer in camping equipment since 1910, has opened its newest store at 2485 Route 22 in Union. The new 100,000 square foot camping and sports center is the third Morsan store in the New York area. Other locations are in Paramus and in Farmingdale, L.I.

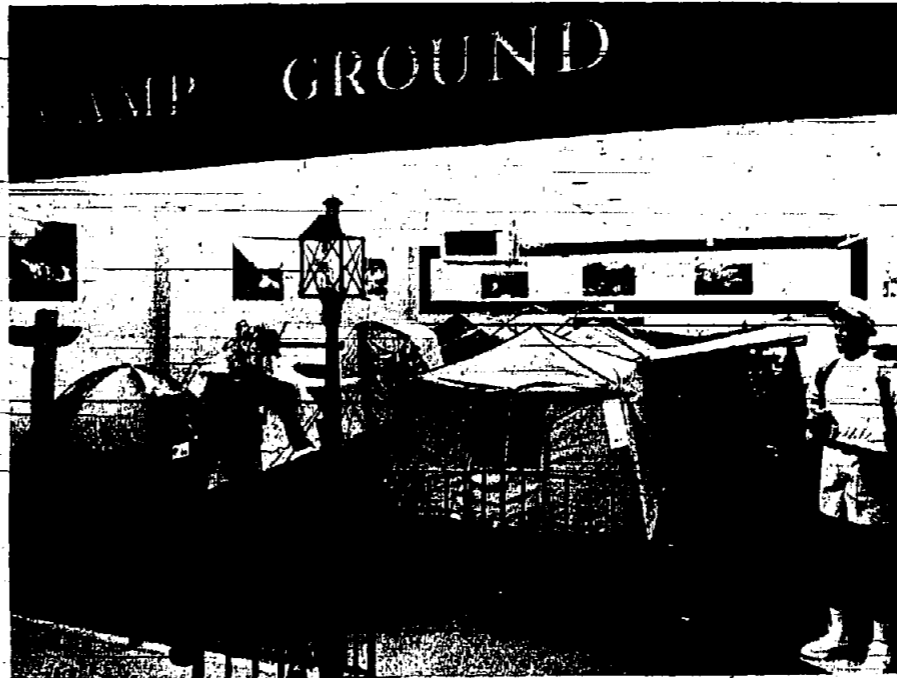

The Morsan chain has been growing along with the increasing urge of Americans to move outdoors during the warm weather months. "In Union, Morsan will be displaying more camping equipment under one roof than the area has ever seen," a spokesman said. Almost 100 tents, tarps and trailers will be permanently displayed indoors. The display is part of simulated campgrounds which will show a great variety of camping equipment in a natural setting.

According to Morton Jarashow, president of Morsan, campers in this area will no longer have to buy tents and other equipment from photographs or descriptions on a box. "Our huge displays enable a prospective buyer to see a tremendous assortment of tents already erected. He can see the precise size and all the details which will enable him to make a sound decision as to what is best for his family."

Although the Union store is very much like the other two Morsan outlets, it has a greater variety and depth of sporting goods. There is a well stocked gun shop for hunters and separate sections for fishermen and golfers. Jarashow said. In the bowling pro shop, balls are drilled to the exact size that a customer may request. He will also find a wide variety of bowling shoes. Tennis buffs will be able to choose from a big selection of rackets with custom stringings available. Names such as Wilson, Spalding and Garcla are featured in the sporting goods departments.

Shoes for every type of outdoor sport are available in the Morsan Bootery. They include hiking and trail boots as well as special shoes for track, basketball, football, baseball and golf.

Jarashow is particularly proud of the Morsan slogan which says "Morsan Services What Morsan Sells". A canvas shop exists on the premises to make any repairs or adjustments even a year after the original purchase.

Recruiting hours hiked by Marines

The Marine Corps Recruiting Office at the Five Points in Union has announced an increase in office hours. According to Sgt. Kenneth A. Kasmer, the local Marine recruiter, the office will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Previously the office was open only two half days a week.

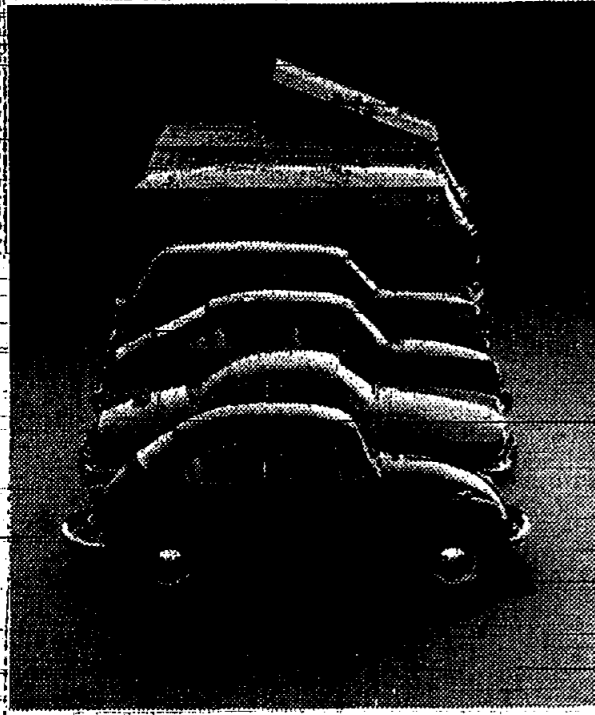

Sgt. Kasmer also said that the Marine Corps is now accepting enlistments of qualified men for periods of two and three years, with up to 120 days delay in assignment to active duty.

The Marine Recruiting booth has occupied a corner of the Galloping Hill Inn parking lot since 1966 when the space was donated by the owner of the inn.

ARMY RR BUILDERS
In 1827 Army officers were lent to the founders of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to initiate its construction. This was to become the first link in the Nation's great rail communications chain.

SHOES FOR EVERY outdoor need are available at Morsan.

That's all, folks.

One thing you don't get when you buy a new Volkswagen.

Confused.

Because all you get to choose from are six different Volkswagens. Instead of 30 or 40 look alike models some other car makers make.

So it's a lot easier to pick out a VW.

And a lot more comforting. You don't have to worry about your VW going out of style next year. Or turning out to be last year's dud, cleverly disguised as this year's stud.

Those six VWs are the very same ones we've been making (and improving) for years.

Starting with our little car. The VW Beetle. And our sports car. The VW Karmann Ghia. And our luxury car. The VW Fastback. And our big car. The VW Squareback.

And our great big car. The VW Station Wagon.

And our chock wagon. The VW Camptable.

And that's all, folks.

The Trimline® phone is the first phone ever to be selected for the design exhibition in New York's Museum of Modern Art.

Besides being beautiful, the Trimline phone introduces a new, better way to phone.

When you pick up the handset, the lighted dial or optional Touch-Tone® pushbuttons, which let you "dial" twice as fast, come to you. A new recall button, which lets you make a second call without first hanging up, also comes to you.

In short, everything you need to make a call, you hold in the palm of your hand.

Because it isn't necessary to see the base to call, the Trimline phone can go almost anywhere in your house. For instance, under a counter or on the side of a kitchen cabinet.

The Trimline phone is not expensive — only pennies a day. And there's no extra charge for color. If you want Touch-Tone service, the additional Touch-Tone charge covers all the phones on your line.

Wholesale, retail prices take one giant step during March

WASHINGTON—Retail and wholesale prices rose sharply in March, the United States Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics has announced. Preliminary data for April shows a slight increase in wholesale prices.

Regional band about to sound

The Music Department of the David Brearley Regional High School will present the symphonic band in "Reflections in Sound 69", tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

cent in March due to a 0.5 per cent increase for industrial commodities and a 1.4 per cent advance for farm products. Softwood lumber continued to climb sharply, and prices were raised for fuels, metals, and machinery.

PRICE INCREASES AFFECTED most consumer goods and services in March. Home ownership costs were up 1.6 per cent, with about half of the increase attributable to boosts in mortgage interest charges on VA and conventional loans.

Prices of used cars jumped nearly 6.5 per cent, following a 6 per cent rise in February and a sharp drop late last year. Retail gasoline prices averaged nearly 2.5 per cent higher in the wake of an increase in wholesale prices.

U. S. says strikes in 1st quarter idled 504,000 workers

WASHINGTON — Strike idleness accounted for 0.18 per cent of estimated working time in the first quarter of 1969, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

There were 1,230 labor disputes in the first 3 months this year involving 504,000 workers. In the first quarter of 1968, 573,000 workers experienced some idleness because of work stoppages.

Strike idleness declined in March to 0.14 percent of estimated total working time. The 420 stoppages that began in the month involved 112,000 workers less than in February.

Seven stoppages in March involved 5,000 workers or more each and accounted for one-third of the workers and a slightly higher portion of the idleness. Four stoppages longshoremen on the Gulf and Atlantic coasts, American Airlines, soft coal miners in West Virginia, and sugar cane farmers in Hawaii continued from February.

Wholesale prices of farm products, seasonally adjusted, rose 1.5 per cent in March and 2.2 per cent during the first quarter.

Former narcotics addicts visiting regional schools

The second of four day-long programs on "Prevention of Drug Abuse" scheduled in the Union County Regional High School District will be held Monday at Gov. Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights.

A team of rehabilitated ex-narcotics addicts and professional therapists from Odyssey House in New York City will be at the school throughout the day and evening.

The day's schedule will include assembly programs; meetings with faculty members and school professionals; and opportunities for students to talk individually with members of the Odyssey House team.

"If the students are given the facts," he said, "we believe they are mature enough to make the proper decision with respect to drug use."

"THE BOARD OF EDUCATION," Dr. Mersachuk continued, "is extremely concerned about the drug problem within the high school population in the regional district. We believe that it is important that steps be taken to alleviate this problem."

Through the end of 1968, more than 772,000 men, women and youths had taken job-skill training in about 600 different occupations through the classroom instruction provided under the Manpower Development and Training Act, the U.S. Department of Labor reports.

Union scout council slates dinner-dance for northern district

More than 200 adult Scout leaders will attend the annual meeting and dinner-dance of the Northern District, Union Council, Boy Scouts of America tomorrow at 7 p.m. at the Mountaineer Inn, Route 22 West, Mountaineer.

Leadership training awards will be presented to the following adult leaders by J. Howard Duff, district training committee chairman: Cubmasters' Key to Fred W. Teufel, Pack 68 and Frank J. Ott, Pack 67; the Scoutmasters' Key to Joseph Noel, Troop 69; Frank Bruno, Troop 85; and L. Wayne Probst, Troop 67.

NCE to offer 2 institutes

Newark College of Engineering will offer two tuition-free year-long institutes for high school teachers of physics and mathematics in the 1969-70 academic year.

Announcement of NCE's newest in-service institutes was made this week by Dr. Richard Griskey, director of research, as he announced that the National Science Foundation had allotted grants totaling $13,300 to fund the programs.

The institutes will be held at the NCE campus in Newark.

UC's mobile college data center set to roll again

Union College's College Information Center on wheels will make return visits to Union County communities this summer to interest young people and adults in college careers and other educational opportunities and to urge high school students to seek a college education.

The project again this summer will be financed by a special grant from the Bayway Refinery of Humble Oil and Refining Co. and the Bayway Chemical plant of the Enjay Chemical Co. The mobile center will visit neighborhoods in Elizabeth, Plainfield, Rahway, Linden, Roselle, Union, Kenilworth, Scotch Plains, Cranford, Westfield, and Summit.

Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, acting president of Union College, Cranford, said this year's program will be lengthened and expanded by providing two fulltime, experienced persons on the staff.

The College Information Center last summer attracted 945 visitors or an average of 28.6 per day of operation. Forty-one percent of the visitor's sought information about colleges and 17.5 percent sought information about Union College. Others wanted information on technical, business, vocational and nursing schools, financial aid; high school guidance, the state's Educational Opportunity Fund, high school equivalency, counseling, Summer Session courses, and veterans information.

"OUR COLLEGE INFORMATION CENTER has many roles to play—to stimulate interest among disadvantaged young people and adults in seeking higher education, to provide an informal, away-from-school place where parents can obtain information about colleges and about the means to attend college, to assist current high school students in planning their high school careers so they can gain entrance into college, and to recruit more disadvantaged young people into programs preparing them for college," Dr. Iversen said.

Union College's acting president emphasized that the Center will provide information about any and all colleges and universities and other educational and training programs.

"This project is not considered a recruitment effort for our institution, but a broad-based attempt to attract more young people with potential to seek college careers," Dr.

Iversen said. "It is our aim to work closely again with anti-poverty agencies, local school systems, civic organizations, and neighborhood groups to bring this information to as large a number of young people and adults as possible this summer."

THE ACTING PRESIDENT of Union College said the project stems from the report of Gov. Richard J. Hughes' Commission on Civil Disorders, which recommended the establishment of college information centers in ghetto neighborhoods.

"We took the commission's recommendations one step further by putting the center on wheels to bring the information to the people who need it most," Dr. Iversen said.

Three symphonic orchestras to play at Arts Center in June

The June opening of the Garden State Arts Center's second summer season will be a Classical Festival Month featuring three of the world's greatest symphonic orchestras. The Philadelphia Orchestra, the New York Philharmonic, and the Washington National Symphony are scheduled to appear, each with prominent guest performers, during the opening month of the Arts Center's 1969 season. With its subscription program having been extended to three classical series of six events each this year, there are still excellent seats available from the Arts Center for the top-rated symphonic performances and more. Subscription order brochures for any of the three classical series as well as six popular series can be obtained by writing to the Garden State Arts Center, Box 116, Holmdel 07733 or telephoning 264-9200.

The 1969 summer season of the Arts Center, located at Telegraph Hill Park on the Garden State Parkway (Exit 110), starts June 12 with the Philadelphia Orchestra conducted by Eugene Ormandy. The Rosewood Spital's first family of guitar, will perform with the Orchestra that night and the following Saturday. Almost every night of June (curtain at 8:30 Mondays through Thursdays and at 9 Fridays and Saturdays) will be filled by a symphonic performance of one of the three world-renowned orchestras with such guest stars as soprano Dorothy Kirsten, pianists Van Cliburn and Byron Janis, and Benny Goodman.

McDermott: State 'last' in federal aid

"We should be giving serious thought to setting up a State of New Jersey office in Washington, D.C."

With these words, State Senator Frank X. McDermott, Republican candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, began describing what he terms one of New Jersey's "urgent problems." According to the Senate president, PROVIDE FUNDS — Dr. I. Richard Zucker, director of cardiology, Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, examines child before Mrs. David Youneff, left, of East Orange and Mrs. Jerome Nurkin of 21 Skyview road, Union. Mrs. Nurkin is president of the Fidelity-Hulda Association, which donated $1,000 to the center for chemotherapeutic treatment of leukemic patients. Mrs. Youneff, president of the League for Cardiac Children, presented the hospital with $5,000 from the group for pediatric cardiology. Both groups are divisions of the United Order of True Sisters.

New Jersey comes in "dead-last" in terms of federal aid to the states. "Over the years," said McDermott, "the needs of various states have changed. Jersey today is troubled by urgent problems in areas

$7 million to help state fight crime

Congressman William T. Cahill, Republican candidate for Governor, has announced that New Jersey will receive more than $7 million in federal anti-crime funds in the next 13 months, under the Cahill amendments to the Omnibus Crime Act passed by Congress in 1967.

"This will bring New Jersey's share of the appropriation created by the original 'Safe Streets' Act to more than $8 1/2 million," Cahill said.

The original legislation sponsored by the Johnson administration, called for the entire appropriation of anti-crime funds to be made available to the U. S. Department of Justice, along with complete authority over how these funds were to be used in fighting both organized and local crime," Cahill explained.

"The Cahill amendments created the system of state block grants, by which each state would receive a share of the federal appropriation, with the authority to use these funds at its own discretion to solve local crime problems."

"In my judgment, this is the only effective approach to fighting crime," Cahill added. "New Jersey, for example, has a far greater problem with syndicated crime than most other states, and our anti-crime efforts must be tailored to this... Cahill explained that the federal funds available to New Jersey through the Cahill amendments are divided into... planning and action grants, with which we "can study local problems, decide how best to attack criminal operations, and then provide funds to implement our planning."

CLOTHES CARE COMMENTS

by SAM MANN
(Diamond Cleaners)

Care of White Garments
Too bad the White Knight can't charge up to all your non-washable white garments, work his magic, and make them bright and new-looking again.

From dresses, wedding gowns, formal, major clothing investments that can't be tossed into the washer. What can you do about spots, and how can you prevent such lovely delicate fabrics from turning yellow?

Be wary of home methods for removing stains from these modern fabrics. Some stain removers that do not damage fibers may change the appearance of the treated area so that it looks as bad as or worse than the original stain. If you cannot take the soiled garment to a dry cleaner immediately, experiment on a seam or hem with a mild detergent first.

Your best insurance against yellowing is to have your lovely white garments cared for frequently by a professional cleaner, such as DIAMOND CLEANERS, the White Knight with the skill and special equipment to keep your special white garments beautiful.

30 new policemen in training academy at Union College

A new crop of students will enter Union College, Cranford, on Monday as most of this year's classes get ready to close their books for the year.

Some 30 new police officers from Union County Police Departments and law enforcement agencies will begin a nine-week Union County Police Training Academy program. Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, acting president of Union College, and Chief Matthew T. Haney, dean of the academy, will be on hand to greet the new recruits at Opening Day ceremonies.

The academy curriculum, which covers all phases of police work, was developed by a committee consisting of Chief Carl H. Ehms of Elizabeth; Chief James F. Moran of Westfield; Chief Fred Falzone of Garwood; Mayor Edward K. Gill of Cranford; Dr. Iversen; Prof. Farris S. Swackhamer, chemistry professor at Union College, and Roy Smith, vice president-college relations.

Directing the program under Chief Haney will be Chief George G. Campbell, Jr., of Plainfield, administrative assistant and deputy director; Capt. A. Frank Burr of Cranford, dean of discipline; Lieut. Vincent L. Brinkerhoff of Cranford, assistant to Capt. Burr; Lieut. Henry Polidoro, director of firearms; Sgt. Harry W. Wilde, class proctor, and Lieut. Louis L. Guertin, supply officer.

Academy chaplains are the Rev. Joseph V. Derbyshire, assistant pastor of St. Michael's Church, Garwood, and the Rev. Robert G. Longner, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Cranford.

The academy is sponsored by the Union County Police Chiefs Association.

Police to study public speaking

A course in public speaking will be conducted for Union County police officers from May 19 to May 23 at Union College, Cranford, it was announced by Cranford Police Chief Matthew T. Haney, dean of the Union County Police Training Academy.

The five-day course will be taught by Special Agent Kenneth Hackman of the F.B.I. and is sponsored by the Union County Police Chiefs Association as part of a program of continuing education for police officers.

"The increasing role played by police officers in educational programs for the public makes it desirable for officers to have some training in public speaking," Chief Haney said. The course will be limited to 30 officers from Union County Police Departments.

The Sads-Willy Memorial Trophy will be in competition for the twelfth time in memory of two horses which accumulated over 40 years of service to troopers at Watchung. The trophy will be awarded to the winning pair of junior troopers.

The 1957 B.B. Miller Remembrance Trophy will again be in competition. This trophy is in memory of the children who assisted in bringing out 65 horses during the fire at the Watchung Stable on April 15, 1957.

College chorus will present 'Elijah' oratorio this Sunday

Mendelssohn's "Elijah" will be sung at the Newark State College Theater for the Performing Arts Sunday at 3 p.m. by the college's Festival Chorus. The conductor will be James Cullen, a member of the music department faculty.

The Festival Chorus is comprised of students, faculty members and other singers from communities throughout the North Jersey area who perform one or two major chorales every year, including an annual performance of Handel's "Messiah." There will be about 100 voices in the "Elijah" chorus.

The chorus was organized 11 years ago by Jack Light, chairman of the music department and has served since that time to identify the college as a cultural center for surrounding communities.

Soloists for the "Elijah" performance are Margaret Kallit of the Metropolitan Opera, soprano; Annjean Brown of the Newark State College music faculty, contralto; Willard Pierce, soloist at Central Presbyterian Church in New York City, tenor; and Fred Jones, oratorio and concert singer, baritone.

Miss Kallit, a member of the Metropolitan Opera since 1965, has appeared in oratorio and operatic performances throughout the United States and in Mexico. She has been soloist with leading symphony orchestras, including the New York Philharmonic with Leonard Bernstein conducting at Carnegie Hall

Negro honored by SBA in state

In the past, Jones, a native of Morton, Miss., has appeared on Broadway and the TV screen. Soloist with symphony orchestras throughout the country, he has had wide experience in oratorios. He is associated with the Metropolitan Opera studio and received much acclaim from New York music critics for his Town Hall recital. He has recently returned from a six months' singing tour of Europe.

Miss Rosalind Doble of Maplewood and Aden Lewis of the Newark State music faculty are accompanists for the performance.

The recipient of the honor was Donald M. Thomas, of Orange, who owns and operates a Chrysler-Plymouth agency in Newark. Governor Richard J. Hughes made the presentation in his office.

The annual award is made by the Small Business Administration which selects one businessman in each state "who best exemplifies the imagination, independence, initiative and integrity of America's five million small businessmen who make such a vital contribution to our national economy."

There are in the United States today some 17,500 authorized dealers representing the major auto companies. Of the total authorized dealers in this country only seven are black, Donald Thomas, at 38, is one of the seven.

CARE and a job well done: Fresh water for the villages

The people of a thousand villages in Asia, Africa and Latin America can now take a drink of water without risking a variety of diseases or parasites.

They are free at last from dependence on contaminated wells and polluted streams. Fresh water gushes up from new wells sunk deep into the earth with CARE equipment, and pours down from clear mountain springs through CARE pipelines.

Funds contributed by Americans and Canadians to the CARE Self-Help program supplied the pumps and the pipes. But the wells were dug and the pipes connected by the voluntary labor of the villagers, who jumped at the chance to help themselves when it was offered to them.

The wells usually are installed near the village school, since water is needed to prepare the high protein foods CARE serves every day to 20 million school children. Water converts powdered milk to fluid and goes into the cooking of dishes made with wheat, corn meal and flour and often with vegetables grown by the children with CARE seeds.

Sometimes the need for water is an immediate matter of life and death. That's how it was in 1967 in the state of Bihar, India, and food production. The aim is to meet a whole range of needs, in a vast program of economic development to support communities in their striving for self-sufficiency.

Water projects, like all CARE Self-Help undertakings, are cooperative efforts, bringing together the private donor, local government agencies and the needy people they are intended to aid. CARE donors provide food, tools and equipment; the host governments, technical assistance; and the villagers their will to progress and the sweat of their brows.

Past Presidents Night

The National Association of Accountants "Newark Chapter" will meet at the Holiday Inn Motel, East Orange, tonight at 6:30. The meeting has been designated as Past Presidents Night.

Passenger per plane increase in 20 years

In 1948, the average number of passengers on a single commercial airplane at any of New York's three airports was 18. Today, 51 passengers are the average.

People vs. prosperity

A runaway birth rate can have a "crippling effect" on a nation's economic growth. That warning comes from Robert S. McNamara, former U.S. Defense Secretary, McNamara, now head of the World Bank, the United Nations' monetary agency, puts it this way:

Imagine two developing countries with similar living standards, each with a birth rate of 40 per thousand. (This is the actual rate in India and Mexico.) Then estimate what would happen if, over a 25-year period, one of those countries halved its rate to 20 per thousand. This is still well above that in most industrialized countries. Never-

UC, County Tech establish joint liaison study committee

A joint Liaison Committee has been appointed by Union College, Cranford, and Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains. It was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, acting president of Union College, and Dr. George Baxel, superintendent of the Union County Technical Institute.

The committee will determine areas of mutual interest and responsibility and will bring together administrators and faculty members from both institutions to implement them, Dr. Iversen explained.

"This joint committee is further evidence of our efforts to coordinate our educational offerings in Union County and to provide for the citizens of Union County the highest quality program at the lowest possible cost," Dr. Iversen explained.

The recently-established Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education plans to utilize Union College for university-parallel transfer programs and Union County Technical Institute for technical and occupations related programs. Under the plan, students in college-level programs at the Union County Technical Institute will earn college credit and Associate In Applied Science degrees through Union College.

"There is no question that this attempt in Union County to use existing facilities is novel, and innovative, and will require close cooperation and articulation between our two institutions," Dr. Iversen said. "But it will be worth the effort, because it will provide for Union County the highest quality program at the lowest possible cost. Our educational offerings will be as broad and as comprehensive as any in New Jersey, and they will be widened and expanded as the needs arise."

Union College's representatives on the Liaison Committee are: Prof. Elmer Wolf of Cranford; acting dean and chairman of the Engineering Department; Roy Smith of Elizabeth, vice president-college relations; and Prof. Jean Etherington of Westfield, a member of the Chemistry Department.

Samuel urges post of county exec for efficiency's sake

Richard Samuel, New Democratic Coalition freeholder candidate, this week urged the election of a county executive for Union similar to the one in Nassau County, New York.

Samuel charged the freeholders with "sloppy management" that "no corporation or business of such a size would tolerate." The executive, he said, "could administer the operations of the county on a full-time basis with efficiency and professionalism."

Calling for independently elected county officeholders, Samuel also spoke out in favor of voter-oriented, rather than party-oriented candidates.

"The danger of patronage in the county system is more than just the money involved. Indeed, patronage actually becomes a tool by which the party bosses control the actions of appointed and elected officials," Samuel said. "When the party closes the doors to open primaries, then it is the voters who lose."

Samuel, who lives in Westfield and is a patent attorney with Bell Telephone Laboratories, was chairman of the successful 12th District McCarthy organization which elected an entire slate of delegates to the Chicago convention.

Food stamps increase sales in county

About $560,000 will have been added to the Union County economy by June 1, in the form of food purchasing power as a result of the Federal Food Stamp Program, which will mark its second year of operation in the county on that date.

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service, low income families in the county have paid about $1.3 million for food stamp coupons valued at $1.9 million since the program started in June, 1967. The difference of $560,000 represents the increase in food sales that has directly benefited county food merchants. About 5,300 persons participate in the program each month.

Currently there are 161 food retailers in the county authorized by USDA to accept coupons. Many of these grocers have increased their sales substantially in meat and dairy products, as well as in produce items since the program started, USDA studies indicate that in established food stamp areas, food sales increased an average of eight percent.

Under the program, which is administered jointly by the USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service and the Bureau of Assistance of the New Jersey Department of Institutions, eligible low income families invest the money they would normally use to buy food each month in coupons that have a greater monetary value. These coupons may then be spent at authorized grocers for the purchase of domestically produced food products and some specific imported foods. Grocers redeem the coupons at face value at local banks or authorized wholesalers.

Although the local welfare department is responsible for certifying recipients, low income families not receiving public assistance may also be eligible to receive food stamp coupons.

Army will honor Junior Hostesses

Forty-two members of the Junior Hostesses Club of the Elizabeth YWCA will be honored at a Special Recognition Dance tomorrow evening at Fort Monmouth Post Service Club. Other Junior Hostesses from Westfield and local groups will be honored at the same time. The Junior Hostesses and their chaperones will receive service awards in appreciation of their weekly attendance at the Friday dances at the Service Club.

Miss Gertrude Yeager, Service Club director, said in a letter to Miss Linda Karam, adult program director:

"Our special thanks to you and to your fine organization of young ladies who have contributed so much to the moral to the men in the Service and who are away from home for the first time. And too, a sincere thank you from all the men who attended and enjoyed your monthly parties at your YWCA during this past year."

Girls, ages 17-25 years may join the program. Further information can be obtained by calling 355-1500.

"Have I been working?"

Office worker shortage in county called critical

A critical shortage of qualified office and professional workers exists in Union County, it was revealed by a survey conducted by the local office of the Olsten Corp., a nationwide service organization providing temporary personnel.

The survey shows that the job-to-worker ratio, which is presently four jobs per worker, has been short on the employee side for more than a year, reported C. J. Cambria, area manager of the Olsten branch with offices in Union, Elizabeth and Fanwood. He said, "There is a particularly urgent need for competent office help to fill a wide variety of jobs ranging from file clerk to executive secretary. Many former office workers, women who subsequently married and raised families, are now returning to temporary work, which enables them the flexibility required to cope with job and home responsibilities."

Cambria noted that as a consequence of the labor shortage, office managers have been turning increasingly to temporary personnel. During the past three months, according to Cambria, a total of 797 "temps" were placed through Olsten — but some jobs still go "begging."

"With the summer vacation season coming up," he said, "opportunities for temporary jobs in Union County will really zoom!"

Johnson Regional High School, Clark.

Lynes, a graduate of Bard College, Amherst, and Union College, New York, served in the U.S. Army from 1958 to 1960 and was recalled to active duty in October, 1961, during the Berlin crisis. He was named director of admissions of Union College in 1965. Lynes was recently elected an honorary life member of Alpha Sigma Mu veterans fraternity at Union College. He serves as the fraternity's faculty advisor.

DR. RUSSELL SHEDD

Seminary teacher to speak at church Wednesday night

Dr. Russell Shedd, a missionary and an American biblical scholar who is presently teaching at the Conservative Baptist Theological Seminary in Denver, will speak at Evangelical Baptist Church, 242 Shunpike rd., Springfield on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Shedd has been a seminary professor in Portugal and Sao Paulo, South Brazil. He earned a Ph.D. degree in New Testament literature at Edinburgh University, Scotland, in 1955 and is the author of "Main and Community," published originally in Scotland and now in the United States.

He spent three years in Portugal teaching at Leiria Baptist Seminary and helping with the publication of books in Portuguese. In 1962, Shedd transferred to Brazil, where publishing costs are reduced and where there is a greater market for Christian literature in the Portuguese language.

In Brazil, Shedd helped establish Vida Nova, a Christian publishing company. The board of directors of Vida Nova is made up primarily of Brazilians, with representation from the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society and Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship. Shedd is serving as a missionary with the CBPM of Wheaton, Ill.

Shedd is a graduate of Wheaton College, Wheaton Graduate School of Theology and Faith Theological Seminary, Philadelphia. After graduating from Edinburgh, Shedd taught at Southeastern Bible College in Birmingham, Ala. Born and reared in Bolivia by missionary parents, Shedd said he considers the world his home.

Church observes Methodist merger at Sunday worship

Springfield Emanuel United Methodist Church, Church-Mall at Academy Green, will observe Heritage Sunday on May 18 at the 9:30 a.m. service of divine worship in the Trivett Chapel, and also at the 11 a.m. service in the sanctuary. The service will commemorate the merger of the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren churches in 1968, and their individual historical ties, according to the Rev. James Dewart, pastor of the local congregation.

"United Methodists United" will be the title of the morning sermon by Mr. Dewart. Members of the congregation will be introduced to the histories of Jacob Albright, founder of the Evangelical Church, and Phillip Otterbein who established the United Brethren in Christ, both in 1800 among German-speaking people. The denominations merged in 1968 to form the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The Methodist Church was started by John and Charles Wesley in England in 1738 with the origin of their first Methodist class meetings. The merger in 1968, to form the United Methodist Church created a denomination of 11,000,000 Christians.

The German language worship service will be at 9:30 a.m. in the Sanctuary with Emanuel Schwing preaching. His sermon will be titled "The Bridge of Unity."

The Bridge of Unity will be at 9:30 a.m. this Sunday. The nursery through sixth grade meet in Wesley House. The board of trustees will meet on Monday evening at 8 in the Mundy Room.

LWV asks U.S. to improve its relations with Red China

The National League of Women Voters has called on the U.S. to take initiative to normalize relations with Peking, Mrs. Herbert Forman, president of the Springfield League, reported this week.

The league called for the establishment of cultural, trade, and diplomatic relations with Red China and also recommended that the United States no longer oppose its representation in the United Nations.

The league's policy statement reads: "The League of Women Voters advocates U.S. initiatives which would facilitate participation by the People's Republic of China in the world community and relax tensions between the United States and Mainland China. Policies should be established which would encourage normalization of U.S. relations with the Chinese mainland, including travel, cultural exchange, and unrestricted trade in non-strategic goods. The United States should withdraw its opposition to representation of the Chinese People's Republic in the United Nations. The United States should move toward establishing diplomatic relations with the People's Republic of China."

At its 1966 convention, the league adopted U.S.-China relations as a major part of its foreign policy program. Since then, members of the 1202 local leagues throughout the country have been involved in extensive study and discussion as well as conferences with China's experts from universities, government, and the press. More than 100,000 copies of the League's 30-page booklet, "The China Puzzle," have been distributed. Mrs. David C. Bradley, chairman of the league foreign policy committee, in commenting on the China position, stressed that "the league is now in a position to urge changes in basic U.S. policies which have cut this nation off from communication or cooperation with the People's Republic of China. We want a U.S. policy designed to invite a peaceful response from the People's Republic, welcoming her participation in the family of nations."

THE LEAGUE'S POLICY POSITION ON U.S.-China relations represents a three-year study.

Mrs. Feuerstein will also attend a special leadership workshop to be held during the morning session at the Goldman in West Orange.

VARIED-MENU
Students have a choice of more than 500 courses in the Union County Regional High School District, ranging from data processing to auto mechanics.

The day's schedule will include assembly programs, meetings with faculty members and school professionals and opportunities for students to talk individually with members of the Odyssey House team.

According to Dr. Donald Merachuk, director of special services and coordinator of the programs, the Board of Education is primarily interested in presenting the facts about drug abuse to the students. Also, the programs are designed to inform the school faculty about the problem and how to help aid work with students who may be involved, and to alert parents and the community to the problem and its ramifications for the students.

"If the students are given the facts," he said, "we believe they are mature enough to make the proper decision with respect to drug use."

"THE BOARD OF EDUCATION," Dr. Merachuk continued, "is extremely concerned about the drug problem within the high school population in the regional district. We believe that it is important that steps be taken to alleviate this problem."

He noted that the rehabilitated ex-addicts from Odyssey House will be in a "favorable position to relate to the students and parents." In order to give the communities a chance to hear the Odyssey House team, an open meeting will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The meeting, co-sponsored by the Board of Education and the high school PTA, is open to anyone who works or lives in the regional district.

Mrs. William Rich, PTA president, said that a special newsletter has been mailed to all parents, outlining the program, and urging them to attend.

Also assisting in the Gov. Livingston program are the sending districts' representatives to the school board, Edwin Little and Dr. Fred B. Hagedorn, both of Berkeley Heights, and Dr. Minor C.K. Jones of Mountaineer. Among the members of the district-wide drug abuse planning committee named by Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent of schools, is Peter Festante, assistant principal at the high school.

The first program in the series was held Monday at Jonathan Dayton Regional in Springfield. Similar programs will be held May 26, at Arthur L. Johnson Regional in Clark, and June 2, at David Breenley Regional in Kenilworth.

New turfgrass developed at Rutgers

Seed of new breed found in Central Park

GREENER GRASS GROWS IN GOTHAM — The makings for Manhattan rye grass, a new variety of grass developed at Rutgers University, were found right in Manhattan, where some residents can go all day without seeing a blade of grass.

The average New Yorker can go all day without seeing a blade of grass, and even Rutgers turfgrass researcher C. Reed Funk didn't fully appreciate the green bonanza at his doorstep until years after he left the city.

main research interest. But he also dabbles in rye grass. "I just happened to see these patches of rye grass in the Sheep Meadow," Dr. Funk said.

"I called up the head horticulturist of the city park system, and he took me to the various parks. Whenever I saw good green patches of turfgrass, I'd take a dime-sized sample," he said.

The new rye grass is a specialty grass from New Jersey, best suited for sandy coastal areas, school playgrounds, and along roadsides. It is a perennial grass, quick and easy to establish, and grows on many types of soil.

Seismologists predict California earthquake

Jersey City State College will accept 120 Opportunity Scholarship Program students in its fall freshman class, Dr. James Mullen, president, announced this week.

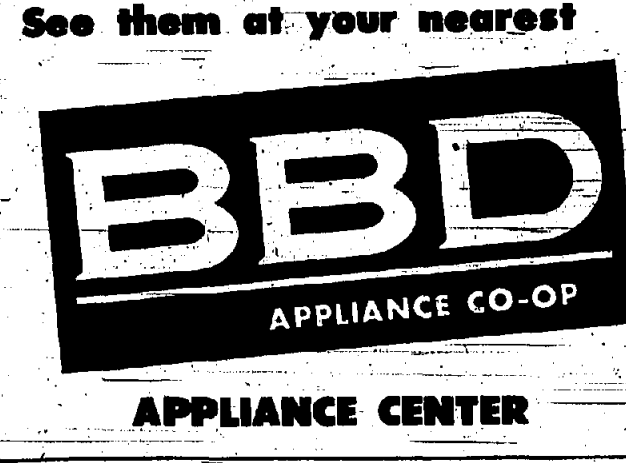

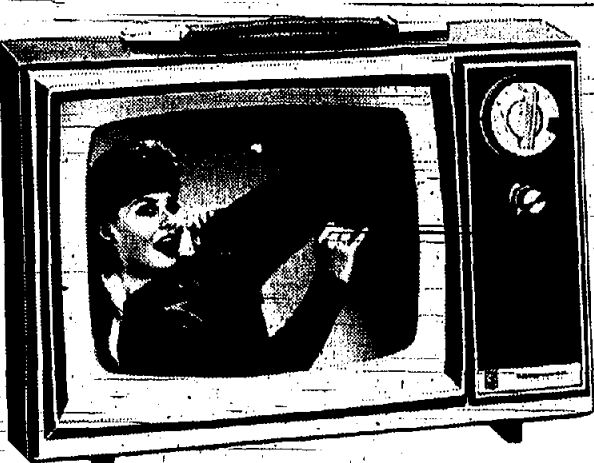

Is California about to sink into the sea? Perhaps not quite, but a seismic holocaust is a distinct possibility within the next 30 years.

Dec. 16, 1811, and Feb. 8, 1812, tremors centered in Missouri rocked the Mississippi Basin from Memphis to St. Louis. Landslides spread over 40,000 square miles.
