Bloodmobile visit planned Oct. 25

On Saturday, Oct. 25, the Springfield Red Cross will hold the second of its two annual community bloodmobile visits. It will be held at St. James Church, 5 Springfield avenue, from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Edward Kaye will be chairman of the event. The participating donor groups are: St. James and the Presbyterian Church, Temples Beth Ahm and Shurey Shalom, the Joint PTAs and Saks Fifth Ave.

Their chairmen have been notified, and members of these donor groups are urged to make their appointments through them. Persons who are not members of any existing donor groups may donate to the Springfield Community Group. This will assure them and their families of receiving blood credits, should they require them.

Persons presently in need of replacing blood credits at hospitals were asked to call Mrs. Kaye at 376-7429, or Mrs. Daniel Kalent at 376-3592. Every effort will be made to fill all requests for blood by township residents. Further information and appointments can also be made by calling Mrs. Kaye or Mrs. Kalent.

Students grade their programs on drug abuse

More than half the students polled in the Union County Regional High School District said they learned a great deal from the series of drug abuse programs held in Springfield, according to a report made public this week.

The district conducted a series of four day-long meetings in the four high schools. Each of the meetings was scheduled for one of the high schools with activities designed to focus on students, faculty and parents and their roles in the conduct of the school-community drug program.

Student replies to a statement, "I believe the best way to stop students from using drugs would be to..." ranged from "to have more drug abuse programs to make the kids more aware of the dangers of drugs," to "there is no way to stop it through the schools. The home is most important."

The evaluation of the drug abuse program, the first of its kind in the district, was prepared by Dr. Donald Merachnik, assistant superintendent for pupil personnel services.

Dr. Merachnik said the results of a student sampling showed that approximately eight or nine out of 10 students in the four schools also said the program was "interesting."

HE SAID "THERE APPEARS TO BE AN inverse relationship between age and grade and attitude toward the program of drug abuse."

More ninth graders, he said, learned "a great deal" from the program than did 12th graders.

"Perhaps," the report said, "as students progress from grades 9 to 12, their attitudes toward drug usage change."

Because it was impossible to sample all the students, a ninth, 10th, 11th and 12th grade homeroom was randomly selected in each of the four schools.

Among the other comments by students on how to stop the problem, Dr. Merachnik said:

- Stop people from getting hold of drugs in the first place, so they can't distribute it to schools, etc.
- To have more drug abuse programs to make the kids more aware of the danger of drugs.
- Can't do anything about it.
- Don't make such an issue of it.
- Stop publicizing it so much.
- Let them see a junkie in misery trying to

Musical revue to be presented

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School will be the scene, Dec. 12, 13 and 14, of a musical revue, "It's a Small World," presented by the Springfield Community Players.

"Small World," written and directed by Evelyn Orbach of Springfield, includes tales on "audity, the generation gap and fairy tales on the material." The musical was written by Mrs. Orbach, a graduate of the Willard School of Music.

Mrs. Orbach was musical director of the Y Hits of Hits for 20 years. She has been a resident of Springfield for three years and was the musical director for Temple Beth Ahm's review, "Love Makes the World Go Round."

The Players' president, Gopold Cohen, announced that anyone interested in working backstage is still welcome. Rehearsals are Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Sarah Baley Civic Center, and anyone interested in working on scenery, lights or props may see Charlotte Chernus on any rehearsal night. Cohen also stated that tickets would be available very soon.

Meeting Monday of Booster Club

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Booster Club will hold its second meeting of the year on Monday at 8:15 p.m. in the men teachers' lounge in the high school. All parents of high school students have been invited to attend. The purpose of the Booster Club is to aid all athletic departments, including the cheerleading squad.

At the first meeting, all the coaches were introduced and plans for raising funds to accomplish their aims were discussed. The plans include: manning the refreshment stand at the home games of the football team, a membership drive and a benefit basketball game featuring the Harlem Diplomats.

CHECKING THE SCENE - Mayor Philip Del Vecchio, right, Republican candidate for another term on the Township Committee, and Committeeman Raymond W. Forbes look over operation of a municipal parking lot.

Responsiveness to needs stressed by Del Vecchio

"We are here to listen, to consider and then to resolve the problems of a growing community," Mayor Philip Del Vecchio told a large gathering at the opening of Springfield's Republican campaign headquarters at 166 Mountain Ave. on Sunday evening.

"I have found over the years that I have served as a member of the Township Committee that being responsive to the needs of the town is the most important attribute that a committeeman must possess," Del Vecchio said.

Being attuned to the varied problems that may develop from time to time, and keeping an open mind as to their solution has proven to be the key to the success of the present administration.

"The desire to serve Springfield can be demonstrated in many ways; the fact that the Township Committee is committed to remain in session until every person in the audience has had an opportunity to speak; the fact that the Township Committee is available and has a group of citizens concerning any problem, and then to resolve the matter."

"One example of our responsiveness was the purchase of the very unsightly gas station in the center of town at the corner of Main Street and Morris Avenue. The station was leveled and we created and constructed a landscaped area for shopper parking. This action also served to beautify the center of town and may be an example to our merchants to keep the exterior of their premises clean and free of litter."

Chamber appeals for help with costs of Christmas lights

The Springfield Chamber of Commerce this week launched an appeal for public contributions to help pay for Christmas lights in local business districts this winter.

Saul Freeman, Chamber president declared, "Through the help of the businessmen and some of our residents we were able to decorate our main streets with attractive lighted decorations last December."

"Once again it is necessary for the Chamber of Commerce to appeal to businessmen and our residents to underwrite the cost of providing Christmas lights this year. In the amount of $2,500, the Chamber is now in a position to finance the project and if we are to have decorations for the Christmas holidays, we must make this appeal."

Freeman urged readers to use the coupon printed below in sending in their contribution.

Students at Dayton launch campaign to improve education

The Student Alliance for Good Education (SAGE) has been founded by a group of students of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. The group's first public meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 15 at 8:15 p.m. at the National State Bank in Springfield Center.

Designed as a program for concerned adults of Springfield, it will take the form of a student panel to acquire Springfieldites with what the group believes to be many of the shortcomings of the education offered at Dayton.

According to a group member, "Our goal is to work for much-needed improvements in the education at our high school. At the present time, all SAGE members are students, but we hope to stimulate concerned adults to join the group and work with us during our organization on Oct. 15 which will be held at the National State Bank in Springfield Center, will consist of a panel of five students."

"The students will air their views on critical educational topics and present concrete proposals for specific improvements. A question and answer period will follow the panel presentation to afford students and adults in the audience an opportunity to express their opinions."

"We greatly hope to be able to stimulate interest in the adult community, for without such support, our efforts will be fruitless as they have been in the past. We have legitimate and valid criticisms and proposals which deserve to be heard by the people of Springfield."

"We strongly urge all Springfield residents who care about the quality of education which is being provided for their children to come out and hear what we have to say. We also welcome, of course, any students who do not yet belong to SAGE."

Ambulances from nearby communities help First-Aid Squad celebrate anniversary

Ambulances from nearby communities helped the First-Aid Squad celebrate its anniversary. The squad, which has been in operation for several years, was held a meeting at the high school to discuss future plans and activities. The meeting was attended by a large number of community members and was a success. The squad plans to continue its work and provide a valuable service to the community.

Springfield PTAs plan program at high school

On Monday evening, Oct. 13, a meeting on local drug problems will be held at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Mountain Avenue, Springfield. Under the leadership of the Springfield Council of PTAs, the organization representing the PTAs of Springfield's elementary and secondary schools.

Convinced that drug abuse is the "concern of everyone in the community, adult and child, parent and non-parent," the Council of PTAs is presenting a comprehensive program on the "practical" approach to today's drug problem.

The program will cover such topics as "why there is a drug problem" nationally and in our area; how the Springfield schools are dealing with the problem; and what the Springfield community and Springfield parents can and should do to cope with the social disease.

Mrs. Arthur Weiss and Mrs. Joseph Berkowitz, co-chairmen, announced that Dr. Sylvia B. Herz, will be the keynote speaker of the evening. Dr. Herz, a psychologist-sociologist and family consultant, is president of the Essex County Council on Drug Addiction and chairman of the pilot project on drug abuse prevention in the Essex County School System.

She is a member of the Essex County Mental Health Board and has been an instructor and lecturer at Rutgers University, Long Island University and Seton Hall University. She is the author of several books, among them "A Community-Based Drug Addiction Plan of Action," "Drugs vs. Sex on the College Campus" and the forthcoming "Teenagers and Drugs."

"A representative" from ALERT, a local group composed of residents, merchants, and professional people, will review the efforts being made in Springfield to combat drug abuse. The program will be presented by the elementary schools and the Dayton Regional will be represented by staff members from both systems.

Personal active in the school systems will act as discussion leaders for small group meetings which will follow the general meetings. Practical approaches to the drug problem, in terms of parent, school and community activity.

WIDESPREAD PROBLEM - Nat Stokes, right, Democratic candidate for election to the Township Committee, confers with pharmacist John M. Surmay, a member of the Union County Narcotics Commission, about drug problems in Springfield in relation to the situation throughout the county.

Stokes charges mayor is 'silent' on drug abuse

Nat Stokes, Democratic candidate for Township Committee, this week called on Mayor Philip Del Vecchio to break his "official silence" on the subject of drug abuse in Springfield.

Saying there were numerous cases of drug offenses, Stokes declared, "It is time for the leaders of Springfield to admit that a serious problem exists, and to take action. We cannot permit our children to be made victims of our sense of shame. It is time to be made aware. It is time to be alert."

In addition to criticizing the Del Vecchio administration on a charge of silence, Stokes recommended that the Township Committee take part in a community educational program to perform the following:

1. Encourage the Board of Education to have all teachers learn how to recognize the signs and symptoms of drug abuse.
2. Educate the parents to recognize the same symptoms of drug abuse, which in turn will provide the means of communication between parents and children.
3. Circulate throughout the entire community a list of the telltale symptoms of drug abuse and a glossary of terms favored by drug users.

Stokes said, "If elected I would make every effort to implement this program. If elected I would work closely with both the Police Department and Health Department and support their efforts in the difficult task of effectively combating drug abuse."

HIS STATEMENT went on to say: "Philip Del Vecchio is the mayor of Springfield. It is his responsibility, his job to give the knowledge he has to others. His knowledge of the severe problems of drug abuse in Springfield but he has kept silent."

Mayor Del Vecchio and the all-Republican Township Committee know that in the past years there have been hundreds of instances of drug abuse in Springfield. They have remained silent.

"Mayor Del Vecchio and his committee know of many arrests for drug abuse in Springfield, but they remain silent."

"Mayor Del Vecchio and his Republican Township Committee know that the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School parking lot was a hangout for the teenagers who gather to smoke marijuana. They remained silent."

"Mayor Del Vecchio and his all-Republican

League lecture looks at Regional schools

"A Survey of Your Regional High School" will be the first in a series of lecture-discussions presented by the Springfield League of Women Voters, part of the Union County Region's Adult Education Program. It will be held at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Wednesday at 8 p.m.

These lecture-discussions are open to the public. The series is entitled, "The League Presents."

Chamber of Commerce honors for Judge Sherman at dinner

Saul Freeman, president of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce, this week reminded "many friends of Judge Max Sherman" that the Chamber of Commerce will honor the judge at its seventh annual dinner dance to be held at the Chanticleer on Wednesday.

Freeman stated: "The Springfield Chamber of Commerce is privileged to honor one of its members who has contributed much to local community affairs. Judge Max Sherman is most worthy of this recognition."

Judge Sherman, who was appointed magistrate of the Springfield Municipal Court in 1963, is a graduate of Rutgers University, where he was awarded an L.L.B. degree in 1937. Before his appointment as magistrate, the judge served as township attorney from 1952 to 1958.

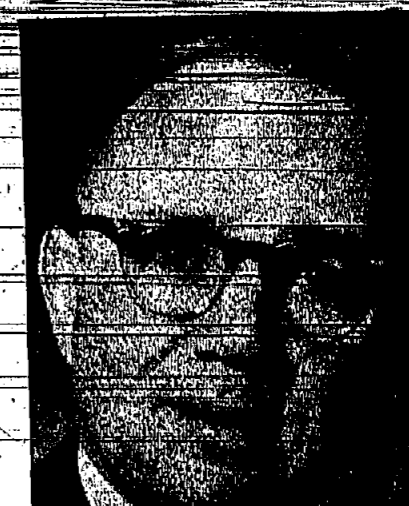

He is a member of the Essex County, Union County and New Jersey bar associations, as well as the American Bar Association. He was admitted to practice in the United States Supreme Court and has been also admitted as attorney at law by the New Jersey Supreme Court in 1938 and as counselor at law in 1945.

Judge Sherman is married to the former Martha Jane Keltz and resides at 64 Crestwood Dr. in Springfield. Judge and Mrs. Sherman have two children, daughter Rosalie, 26, married to Alfonso Conte, and son, Richard, 20, who is a junior at Franklin and Marshall College.

The civic activities of Judge Sherman include serving as Republican county committeeman and president of the Springfield Republican Club. He also has been a member of the B'nai B'rith of Springfield, Springfield Elks and Temple Beth Ahm Men's Club.

Judge Sherman is a member of the Overlook Hospital Association and Springfield Fourth of July Committee, also serving as its counsel. He has conducted fund-raising drives for the American Heart Association and the United Jewish Appeal.

J. Pastore funeral held

Funeral services for Jack Pastore of 151 Hillside ave., Springfield, were held Tuesday from Smith and Smith (Suburban), with Mass in St. James Church.

Mr. Pastore, 79, died Saturday at Royal Oaks Nursing Home, Madison. Born in Italy, he came to this country 61 years ago and lived in Springfield for 11 years. He operated the J. Pastore and Son paving and contracting firm until his retirement in 1957.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Josephine; two sons, Anthony of Madison and Danny of Mountainside; a daughter, Mrs. Josephine Alocco of Springfield; and four grandchildren.

Fund drive under way for Ruby Scholarships

Funds are being raised to establish an Edward J. Ruby Scholarship which will be awarded annually to a member of the graduating class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. The scholarship, based on academic merit, character and financial need, will be awarded to a girl or boy selected by the staff of the high school.

Under Ruby's guidance, the township has developed athletic programs that encompass swimming, baseball, bowling, football, track, basketball, and softball. Summer playground facilities have enriched thousands of children.

Robert Halsey, chairman of the scholarship fund, announced that the goal is to raise $2,000 or more so that the scholarship award can be made by using only proceeds from investment of the fund.

Presbyterians mark communion

Worldwide Communion Sunday will be observed in the Springfield Presbyterian Church on Sunday at the 9:30 a.m. service. The Rev. Dr. Bruce W. Evans, pastor of the church, will preach the communion meditation. The senior choir will sing the 9:30 service under the direction of John Bunnell and the girls' choir will sing at 11. Mrs. Elsie B. Brooks will accompany at the organ.

Halsey added that the group arranging the Ruby Scholarship fund decided that a scholarship in the name of the retiring director of the Springfield Recreation Department would be an appropriate honor to announce at the Oct. 29 festivities at the Mountainside Inn.

Protestants begin observance of Worldwide Communion on the first Saturday in October at 7 p.m. Services begin at that time in the RVJ temples and New Zealand. As the first Sunday of October dawns on each continent, members of all denominations will gather in this communion observance.

Summit nature group plans Audubon movie

"Our Unique Water Wilderness—the Everglades," first Audubon wildlife film of the season, will be presented by William Anderson Monday at 8:15 p.m. in the Junior High School auditorium, Morris avenue and Maple street, Summit.

In the local church, special significance is attached to the observance with the reception of new members—as the 11 o'clock service. The Sacrament of Baptism will also be administered at the 11 a.m. service.

These Audubon wildlife films are sponsored by the Summit Nature Club. Tickets for the series of five programs are obtainable from Mrs. John R. Whitlock, 14 Valley View ave., Summit, 277-2717.

Holy Communion services for Methodists on Sunday

Worldwide Communion will be observed at the Springfield Emanuel United Methodist Church, Church Hill at Academy Green, this Sunday at all services. Christians of all denominations join together on the first Sunday of October each year in the celebration of the Lord's Supper, beginning at the Tonga Islands, where the people are Methodists, and continuing around the three zones, until men of every race and nation have knelt at the Lord's Table. The 9:30 a.m. service of Holy Communion in Trinity Chapel will be administered by Pastor James Dewart, with the meditation presented by lone Lombardi, local preacher. She will speak about "Break Thou the Bread of Life." The 9:30 a.m. German language service of Holy Communion will be conducted by Theodore Reimlinger, lay speaker. At 11 a.m., Pastor Dewart will celebrate Holy Communion, assisted by Miss Lombardi.

This week in recreation

Fire Prevention Week, which starts Sunday, is intended to promote safety throughout the city. Fire Chief Robert E. Day said this week.

The chief declared:

"This week is set aside traditionally each year to emphasize fire prevention, as it should be practiced every day of the year by everyone. Preventing fires is not difficult, a little time and common sense is all it takes. We ask that each resident and business person stop, look around their property and ask themselves these simple questions:

1. Are all unnecessary combustibles removed from the premises and are necessary items stored in an orderly fashion?
2. Is the electric wiring in a safe condition? Are extension cords the proper size and used in the right way?
3. Are flammable liquids stored in a safe place and in the proper container?
4. Are we careful about our smoking habits?
5. Has the heating unit been serviced properly for the coming heating season?
6. Are the children aware of the dangers of playing with matches?
7. Have the oven and broiler in the kitchen been cleaned of accumulated grease?

"If you can answer these questions with a truthful 'yes' you have reduced the probability of a fire occurring to a large extent. We all know there are always the extenuating circumstances over which we have no control.

"During this Fire Prevention Week, as in past years, this department will play host to the kindergarten children of the local schools. The children visit to become familiar with the various types of equipment we have, how we operate, and, most important, they are instructed on the dangers and hazards of fire.

"This year through the courtesy of the Fire Insurance Agency, local agent for the Metropolitan Insurance Group, Bright Red Junior Fire Marshall fire hats will be given to all members of the kindergarten classes. During this week we will make presentations to the local schools to bring an important message to the children in grades one to eight.

"This year's theme is 'The Importance of a Home Evacuation Plan.' We hope the children will bring this all-important subject home to all parents as it is a very vital part of emergency action that should be taken in the event a fire erupts in the home, especially during the night.

"We invite all residents to visit the Fire House during this week as well as at any time. We are here to serve you. If you happen to have a particular problem perhaps we can be of some assistance.

"Fire knows no bounds, it can strike anyone, anytime, but through a good fire prevention program in the home and place of business the risks can be greatly reduced."

WILLIAM A. RUSSELL

New aide at utility

Jack H. King, vice-president of Commonwealth Water Company, has announced the appointment of William A. Russell to the position of assistant manager. His office will be in the Commonwealth Water Company building at 233 Canal Brook rd., Short Hills.

Russell, a native of Kentucky, joined the American Water Works Company system in 1963 and has held various positions at the Lexington Water Company, the most recent being customer relations manager at Lexington.

Books go with coffee

"Try to Behave Myself," an amusing book on etiquette by Peg Bracken, will be reviewed at the Summit Village coffeehouse on Wednesday morning by Mrs. John Landvater. A professional reviewer, Mrs. Landvater has lectured throughout New Jersey as well as in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Alabama, New York, and in other states.

Mrs. Landvater returns to KaffeeKlatch for the fifth consecutive year.

The book she will be reviewing covers such etiquette points as "Parent/Child Relationships," "Good Manners and Sex," "The Young and the Old," and "How to Balance Domestic Affairs in an Unorthodox but Wise Manner."

KaffeeKlatch begins at 9:45. After coffee and conversation, the hour-long program begins. Baby-sitting is available for children 18 months and older, and current dance and rhythm classes are provided for preschoolers. No reservations are required.

Further information about the coffeehouse program can be obtained by telephoning the YWCA, 273-4742.

Police searching for a fence 'fence'

Springfield police reported a valuable fence was stolen Sunday from the Evergreen Garden Apartments, 541 S. Springfield Ave. Three sections of fencing were taken.

Also on Sunday, two homes were broken into. A residence on Tree Top Drive was entered through a rear cellar window and the house was ransacked, police said.

A home on Mountain Avenue was entered through a rear door which had its window broken. Police said $100 was missing.

Electoral College program planned

The Springfield League of Women Voters will present a program entitled, "Who Should Elect the President," concerning the results of a two-year study of the U.S. Electoral College and the reform proposals being offered today. The meeting will take place Thursday, Oct. 16, at 8 p.m. in the meeting room at the National State Bank, Morris Avenue, Springfield.

"No one would dispute that we, the people, should choose the president and the vice-president of the United States," said Mrs. Herbert Forman, president of the Springfield League.

Over-hill, over dale... racing for a lonely grail

These days, as the baseball season loudly sinks beneath the horizon and the football fans cheer in unison for the three Ms -- murder, mayhem and masochism -- sports lovers would do well to remember that not all athletes perform in crowded arenas, or in front of excited throngs.

There are, for example, the dedicated young men known as cross-country runners. Theirs is indeed a sport in which athletes compete, not for glory or applause, but simply because the course is there to be run.

modern cliché, but it is a lonely glory that must be earned. Success in this sport, as in any other, must be earned through hard work, work which must be motivated by an inner drive.

The young man who forces himself to keep on going, up the endless hills, and then maintain his stride down the other side of each one, must be deeply motivated by the obscure pleasures of his solitary trade.

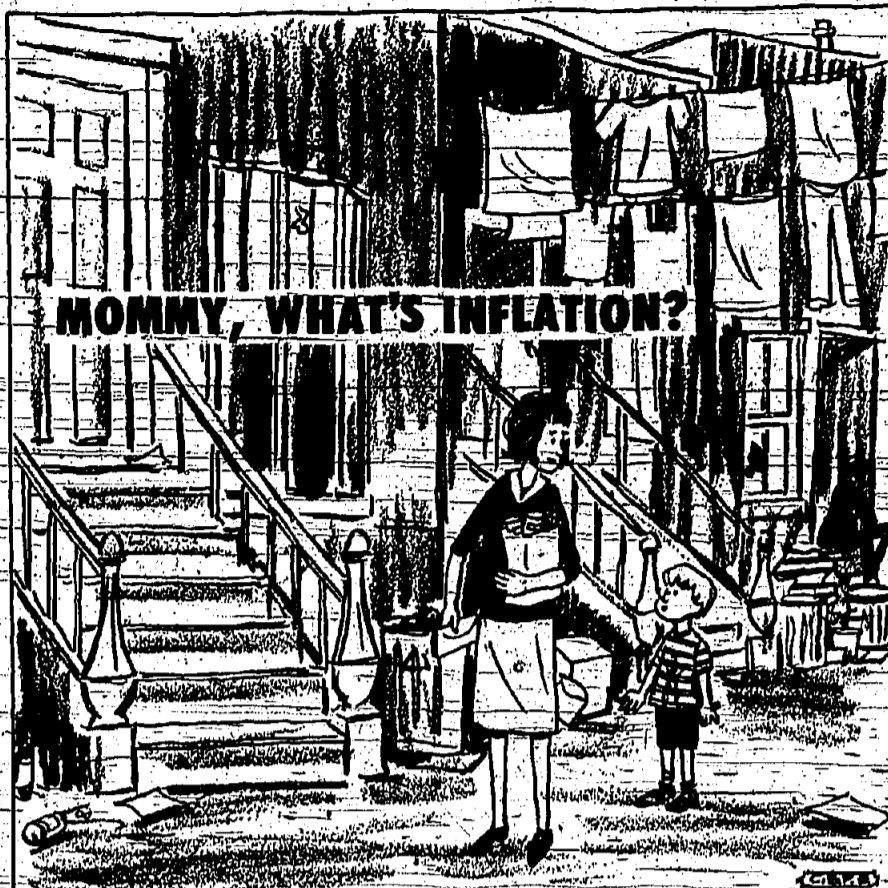

For spectators, unless they can manage to charter a bus, there is not much to see beyond a brief view of the finish line.

For the athletes, and for their coaches, there is little visible reward beyond a line in the final listings -- and the knowledge that there has been a gruelling task well done.

Runners in the more glamorous spring and summer track meets do have the excitement of performing before large crowds, with such ultimate and glamorous goals as the Olympic Games.

Many cross-country competitors, obviously, use their sport to prepare themselves for the shorter races on the cinder track, and many have done so with conspicuous success.

Still, they could not do so without the determination to wring the last scrap of energy out of their own human resources, by themselves, where nobody is watching, just because there is one more hill to climb.

Springfield Public Library reports on newest books for local readers

The Springfield Public Library lists the following titles among the books recently acquired:

ART
"Mondrian," by Frank Elgar, Piet Mondrian was one of the greatest leaders of the modern movement in painting.

MASONRY
"How to Work with Concrete and Masonry," by Barrett Huff.

LEGEND
"Fantastic Folklore and Fact," by Edward Rowe Snow.

LAW
"Civil Disobedience: Theory and Practice," edited by Hugo Black.

PROFILE -- Robert B. Meyner

This is another in a series on candidates who will appear on November's ballot.

The calendar says he is 61 years old. Except for the striking silver hair and the tanned, somewhat weathered skin, it is difficult to give credence to the calendar. He is a big man and he moves down the streets with the grace and deceptive speed of a lithe animal.

ROBERT B. MEYNER

MEYNER MAINTAINS that the major issue of the campaign can be distilled into the question of trust. Who is best qualified to run the state? In his early information campaigns, he hammered hard on this issue, hoping voters would infer that his Republican opponent's years in Washington would have left him ill-prepared to deal with the problems of this state.

HE AND Congressman William Cahill have faced each other in the first of a series of debates that will take them through the campaign. In the beginning last month in Irvington, it was a gentle "Bob-and-Bill" sparring match. Later the gloves came off as they tore into each other with ferocity.

HE WAS BORN in Easton, Pa., July 3, 1908. While a child, his family moved across the river to Phillipsburg, where he attended public schools. The Meyners lived in Paterson for several years but returned to Phillipsburg in time for Bob to be graduated from high school there in 1926.

MEYNER WAS A naval officer during World War II and rose to full commander in the reserves several years after the cessation of hostilities.

After the war, he became counsel to Warren County. In 1948 he made his first bid for major public office, a successful one by winning election to the state senate.

ONE YEAR AGO -- The Township Committee voted unanimously to refer a variance application to extend a parking lot from a commercial zone into a residential zone.

CONTRACTS are signed and actual construction work is started on a new restaurant to be located at the corner of Morris and Springfield avenues with the name of Sip and Suck.

Letters to the editor must be submitted no later than Monday of the week they are to appear. They should not exceed 250 words in length and should be typed with double spacing (not all in capital letters, please). All letters must be signed. Writers' names will not be withheld if the letter is of a political nature. The newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any letter.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY -- On behalf of the Springfield Historical Society, we wish to thank all the many members and friends who gave their precious time and many donations to our annual book and rummage sale. The sale was a great success and a large profit was realized which will be used for the care and maintenance of the historic Cannon Hall House of Springfield which predates the American Revolutionary War.

WE WOULD PARTICULARLY like to express our appreciation for the excellent coverage which was given by the Springfield Leader. Many customers and helpers and donations were obtained as the result of the news items which you printed.

OUR utmost gratitude also goes to the committee members who aided in the planning, organizing and carrying out of the event. Nothing to do

This will be my second letter about the so-called Recreation Department complaining about entertainment facilities for high school and college students. Since my last letter which was printed in July, nothing has been done to solve the problem of congregating in municipal parking lots. I am definitely blaming this problem on the present Township Recreation Department.

Most of us go to school and half of our spare time is spent doing outside school work. However, on weekends, we have not one place to go. We can't always afford to go out to a movie nor do we like to stay home. What we even dislike more is having nothing to do. This major problem could easily be solved, by having more dances and concerts. I suppose it is nice to have a job where you sit behind a desk, do nothing and get paid for it. Please help!

I am glad to see that the municipal pool fees were higher.

ON STUDENT LOAN BILL -- As prime sponsor of Assembly Bill 696, I am pleased that the bill was passed into law on July 1. I would like to see certain law effective in 1970.

Since there is no practical way for me to obtain information as to the effectiveness of the Student Loan Program, I would appreciate your printing this with the hope that it will reach other college students or their parents. Should there be any student who is having any kind of difficulty in obtaining a student loan to permit him to continue his education, I would like to hear from him.

Naturally, if any student has any suggestions or questions concerning the new loan program, they may contact me at 25 North Bridge-st., Somerville, NJ 08876. If enough students contact me I hope to get an accurate picture of how the program is working. After that if there are any areas that need correcting we will be able to take steps to remedy any deficiency.

SCHOOL LUNCHES -- FLORENCE GAUDINER SCHOOL -- Monday -- Juice, french fries, french onion, mustard, frankfurter roll, French fried potatoes, suetkruut, cookies, milk. Tuesday -- Juice, spaghetti with meat sauce, Parmesan cheese, celery sticks, French bread, butter, jello and topping, milk. Wednesday -- Roast turkey, gravy, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, carrots, bread, butter, milk. Thursday -- Juice, choice of either pork roll on a bun and coleslaw salad, with Russian dressing or sliced cheese, lettuce and tomato sandwich, fruit, milk. Friday -- Juice, grilled cheese or hot sandwich on rye sandwich, chili pie, fruit, milk. Menu subject to change in case of emergency.

Water Conservation bond issue

Editor's note: New Jersey voters will decide on a $37.1 million water conservation bond issue referendum this November. The League of Women Voters of New Jersey has made an extensive study of the water problem and has taken a stand in favor of the passage of this referendum.

Consistent with the League's purpose of informing the voters on important public issues, Mrs. E. J. Rooney, state water chairman of the League, has prepared an exploratory series of articles dealing with the problems of water shortages and pollution, the causes and solutions.

Water experts warn the public that New Jersey's water situation is far more serious than the demand for the public to ignore the urgency of the problem.

New Jersey has always been a water-rich state surrounded as it is by the Atlantic Ocean, the Delaware Bay, the Delaware and Hudson rivers. Its wealth is further emphasized by the many fine streams and rivers within its boundaries. Further, it enjoys a favorable annual rainfall.

Despite these positive facts, however, New Jersey has a serious water problem. Rainfall, the ultimate source of water is plentiful here, but too much runs off and is not available for use.

Bultman: Cost of conversion of Bailey House not 'buried'

Township Committeeman Henry Bultman in response to several recent articles, this week stated: "In the years that I have had the pleasure of serving Springfield I have always made a point of asking direct questions and probing for direct answers, and as a member of the Township Committee I would encourage anyone, especially the political opposition, to do the same."

Bultman continued, "I find it interesting to note that the questions that are being asked at this time are the same questions that were asked earlier in the year by the same people, and may I point out, were answered directly at the time of their original inquiry. But for the record and for the information of many people who may not know either the question or the answer, I would like to take this opportunity to clarify a point."

"Let's talk about the cost of the Bailey House which was converted from the 'Old Library' into the Sarah Bailey Civic Center. It has been implied that the cost of 'burying' this property was buried in the fall of 1968. I feel that this is a direct attempt to misrepresent the facts and for anyone, particularly as knowledgeable as the chairman of the opposing political party, to imply that this purchase was concealed, can only be construed as a direct attempt to cast suspicion."

"Let me rectify the facts: In the original will under which the people of Springfield were given the use of the Bailey property as a library, it was stated that if for any reason the building was no longer used as a library, the buildings and grounds were to revert to the Overlook Hospital."

"SEVERAL YEARS AGO when Overlook was embarking on a capital fund drive to finance the expansion of the hospital, their representatives met with the Township Committee to seek assistance. In the course of discussion Overlook's representatives were told that the Bailey House would never be allowed to pass from the hands of the people of Springfield.

"However, since Overlook is considered Springfield's hospital also, the members of the committee were favorable to assisting in the fund drive, as they have in the past, but they requested the board of trustees of the hospital to relinquish their claim in case of default of the library provision of the Bailey will, in return for a contribution towards the capital fund drive."

"The Overlook board agreed and funds over a three-year period were included in the Springfield Municipal Budget, which were approved by Trenton and are a matter of public record.

"At the time this negotiation was concluded there was much publicity concerning this matter since the Township Committee was extremely proud of the conversion of the 'Old Library' into the Sarah Bailey Civic Center which has brought so much joy to the people of Springfield, particularly our teen and senior citizens."

"The facts concerning this transaction have been a matter of public record and pointed to with pride for many years. For anyone, particularly a man who is a leader in our community, to imply that this purchase was concealed, since he was made aware of the transaction by members of the Township Committee earlier this year, in direct response to his inquiry, can only be construed to be an attempt at misrepresentation, an act I had thought was below the dignity of the opposition chairman," Bultman concluded.

Women Voters publish book on New Jersey government

The League of Women Voters of New Jersey has just published a comprehensive book about government in New Jersey, Mrs. Herbert Forman, president of the Springfield League of Women Voters, announced this week.

"New Jersey: Spotlight on Government" was prepared by the N.J. League of Women Voters to fill the need for an up-to-date and handy work on state and local governments," Mrs. Forman explained. "To help the reader grasp the overall picture, important past events and recent trends are incorporated in its lucid description of how the government works and what it does," she said.

"This guidebook should be invaluable to many people—from students and newcomers wanting a basic understanding of N.J. government to active citizens wanting to become more effective in civic affairs." The emphasis is on the government of the State of N.J., she noted. "But where local governments and the federal government play a significant part, their roles are described as well."

Among the book's 16 chapters are: the legislature, finances, local government, the courts, education, conservation, elections and the introductory chapter contributed by Dr. Richard P. McCormick of Rutgers. Besides 55 photographs, some 30 maps, charts, graphs and tables supplement the text.

"Because of the League's interest in promoting informed and active participation of citizens in government," Mrs. Forman remarked, "the book pinpoints governmental lines of responsibility and describes sources for further information and also indicates options that voters can initiate."

Mrs. Forman noted that local N.J. Leagues print informative booklets about their municipal and county governments and their school systems. "New Jersey: Spotlight on Government" is probably the most ambitious publishing venture of any state League in the country. Its publication coincides with the 50th anniversary of the League of Women Voters of the U.S., she added.

The 364-page, illustrated book may be ordered from Mrs. John Schlager, 379-5861.

Township extends an official welcome to AFS Dutch treat

Alexandra Valerio (Sandy) Dijkstra was officially welcomed to Springfield by Mayor Philip Del Vecchio at the meeting of the Township Committee in the Municipal Building last week. Sandy is from the Hague, Netherlands, and is a student this year at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School under the auspices of the Springfield Chapter of the American Field Service, of which the Rev. James Dewart is chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. James Klohr of 1 Far Hills rd., Springfield, are hosts to Sandy, along with their daughters, Kathy and Lynn, who are students at the high school, and their son James. Their new family member arrived in Springfield early in August, and was soon involved in youth activities when she attended an ecumenical youth institute with Kathy in New Hampshire.

She was introduced to the high school students at an assembly at which the "American Abroad" program was also presented by Betsy Dewey, Springfield's AFS representative in Germany during the 1968-69 school year.

A reception will be held to introduce Sandy to the adult AFS Chapter on Wednesday at 8

Science Club sees movie on Apollo 11 at its first meeting

The Earth Space Science Club of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School blasted off its first meeting of the school year last week with the showing of the NASA film, "Eagle Has Landed: Flight of Apollo 11." In addition to showing the film, newly elected club officers were installed by Leonard Ferrara, science teacher and advisor to the club. The new officers include: Dan G. Olasin, president; Joseph Mirabella, vice-president, and Joseph Mirabella, secretary-treasurer.

The club meets every Wednesday after school in Room 226, and is open to interested students. A program of scientific projects is planned, including activities that will stress astronomy, model rocketry, electronics, geology and meteorology. Films of a variety of scientific topics will be shown at the scheduled meetings.

The Museum of Natural History in New York City heads the list of field trips that begin next month, including visits to Bell Telephone Laboratories, a nuclear power plant, fossil beds and the Hayden Planetarium.

Committee chairman includes field trips, Lisa Peroutka; projects, Byron Ehlers; and film selection, Robert Quinn.

at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Klohr. Plans will also be announced at that time by Mrs. William Van Vranken for the international supper in November.

FAMILY POT LUCK

BY HELEN HALE

- For a colorful green and yellow salad, combine 1 cup cooked peas, 1/3 cup Italian dressing, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and dash of pepper; chill. At serving time, combine with 1/2 cup shredded or cubed cheddar cheese. Spoon onto lettuce leaves. Makes 4 servings.
- Beef and pork kidneys may be braised or cooked in liquid. Veal and lamb kidneys may be broiled or pan-broiled. In addition to braising or cooking in liquid, before cooking, remove any membranes and hard parts, such as tubes. Lamb kidneys are usually cooked whole; pork kidneys cut in half. Beef and veal kidneys are sliced or cut into smaller pieces because of their size.
- A high quality rib steak is perfect for broiling or cooking on an outdoor grill.
- Sardines—Parisienne
1/2 cup sliced red carrots
1/2 cup diced potatoes
1/2 cup green peas
3 tbsps. mayonnaise
1 tbsps. chopped chives or scallions
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced can (3-3/4 oz.) Norway sardines
12 pimiento strips
- Cook the vegetables in salt water until tender. Cool the vegetables and dry in napkin or towels. Mix together and add mayonnaise flavored with chopped chives or scallions. Arrange in two celery dishes. Place slices of hard-cooked egg over the vegetables and top each slice with a whole Norway sardine. Garnish sardines with pimiento strips. For an inviting serving arrangement, place dishes on a large platter garnished with tomato wedges, lettuce, bouquets of parsley and lemon wedges. Serve mayonnaise on the side.

Decision upholding street parking ban appealed to county

A ruling by Springfield Municipal Court Judge Max Sierman, upholding the enforceability of a municipal ordinance prohibiting parking on town streets between 2 and 6 a.m., is being appealed to the Union County Court of Appeals.

Dr. William M. Pack of 2 Shadow Lawn dr., Springfield, and his lawyer, Edward E. Pack, had challenged the ordinance, stating that it failed to comply with state statutes and that the six tickets Pack had received for parking violations were therefore invalid.

Edward Pack and the municipal prosecutor, J.S. Donington, earlier had submitted briefs to Judge Sherman Monday night. Judge Sherman ruled that the ordinance, which had been approved by the Township Committee and went into effect on June 15, 1969, was enforceable, had been approved by the State Division of Motor Vehicles and complied with the division's regulations. Pack was then found guilty and ordered to pay $12 in fines. Pack and his lawyer then submitted an appeal to the county court.

Also at the court session, Judge Sherman ordered Keith Brink of 178 Hensley ave., Springfield, held for action before the grand jury and his $500 bail continued. Brink was brought in by the Springfield Police on a drug charge.

A Philadelphia resident who had been charged with driving a car on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, Cecil Tucker, 64, was found guilty and sentenced to one day in the municipal jail.

John P. Lane, of Newark, was found guilty on a charge of abandoning a vehicle in Springfield and fined $15 and $20 for contempt of court in failure to appear for a scheduled hearing.

Five persons were found guilty on charges of speeding. Gregory S. Jones, 19, of 72 Warner ave., Springfield was fined $20. Elleen M. Redonki, 19, of Jersey City paid $20.

Also at the court session, Judge Sherman ordered several trucks received $10 fines for operating overweight vehicles on Milltown road. The drivers included Anthony Accocella, 38, of Bayonne; Stephen L. English, 38, of Elizabeth; Benjamin Geddi, 35, of Maplewood; and Willie Rivers Jr., 41, of South Plainfield.

L.S. Stevens, 59, ex-library trustee

Funeral services for Lemuel S. Stevens of 778 Mountain ave., Springfield, were held Saturday in Smith & Smith Suburban, Mr. Stevens, 59, died Wednesday at his home.

Born in Philadelphia, he moved to Springfield in 1947; he was an office equipment salesman. He had served on the Springfield-Public Library board of trustees for many years and was a member of the Springfield Lions Club and the First Presbyterian Church.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Ann Byrnes Stevens; a son, Charles R. Stevens of New York, and a grandchild.

Funeral rites held for C. Vincent, 75

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Charles J. Vincent Jr., 75, of 14 Warwick circle, Springfield, who died last Friday at Crispell Children's Hospital, Newark.

Born in Frankfort, N.Y., Mr. Vincent lived many years in Hillsdale before moving to Springfield 19 years ago. Until his retirement, Mr. Vincent was a laundry routeman many years for the Flint Co. of Newark in the Union County area.

Mr. Vincent and his wife, Mrs. Esther Sherry Vincent, had been married 52 years. He also leaves a son, Charles J. III of Parkville; two daughters, Miss Vivian Vincent of Newark, and Mrs. Geraldine Lorent of North Hollywood, Calif.; 11 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Services were held at the Smith and Smith (Suburban), 415 Morris ave.

Miss De Vita, 20, rites held Tuesday

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Miss Sandra S. De Vita, 20, of 114 Redwood dr., Springfield, who died last Friday night at Overlook Hospital, Summit, shortly after being admitted. Miss De Vita had been rushed to the hospital after becoming ill at home. Born in Newark, she lived in Springfield seven years.

Miss De Vita graduated in June 1967 from Union Catholic High School, Plainsboro, with honors. She was a Junior at Monmouth State College, majoring in home economics.

She leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul De Vita; her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John De Vita of Metuchen; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Martella of Newark; and a brother, Paul Jr., and a sister, Susan, at home.

Eight students at Regional win commendation for test grades

Letters of commendation honoring them for their high performance on the 1969 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test have been awarded to eight students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Principal Robert F. LaVature has announced.

Those commended include Steve Dorsky, Mitchell Goldberg, Mitchell Kaplan, Barbara Katz, Gary Katz, William Kneller, Keith Prussing and Lisa Wasserman.

They are among 39,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper 2 percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1970. The commended students rank just below the 15,000 semi-finalists announced in September by National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said: "Although commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their outstanding record in a nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their significant academic attainment gives promise of continued success in college.

"The commended student should be encouraged to pursue his education since their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development."

The commended students' names are reported to other scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices when they took the test in February.

Seniors start drive to sell advertising for 'Regionologue'

Seniors from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School are in the process of preparing the "Regionologue," a yearbook for the graduating class of 1970. Last week the annual drive to raise funds to meet the expenses involved in publishing the yearbook was launched by Peter A. Socca, advisor for the yearbook.

A committee headed by Richard Usian, editor-in-chief, began the task of canvassing Springfield and surrounding areas to sell advertising space.

Other members of the committee include assistant editor, Dennis DeLeonardi; layout editors, Nancy Tropp, Nick DiLiberato and Andrea Stein; business editors, Pat Lampert and Robin Gelger; literary editors, Janet Zerkovak, Jeff Lee, Cathy Scott and Susan Bault; sport editors, David Green and David Kungur; art editors, Karen Jacobs, Amy Scholander, Amy Kriegerman and Randall Sherman; photography editors, Ron Krowne, Rose DiPalma.

The drive for advertising and patrons will continue until March.

Work-study program completed by Fanaroff

Marc Fanaroff of Springfield has returned to classes at Bloomfield College after spending the summer in a work-study program at the Essex Child Development Center.

He was among 45 Bloomfield students who took part in the summer program of aid and assistance to several agencies and municipal departments in the area.

Lehigh prof starts study of fragments of the moon

BETHLEHEM, Pa. - A portion of the material collected by astronauts from the moon's surface at Tranquility Base during the Apollo 11 mission last July is now at Lehigh University for research purposes.

Dr. Charles B. Selar, professor of geological sciences, is a principal investigator for the Returned Lunar Sample Analysis Program of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

The former type, according to Dr. Selar, seems to have solidified from lava under surface or near-surface conditions. The latter appears to be the result of shock processes which have affected the moon's volcanic rocks.

Having examined this material...

Dr. Selar is one of 142 scientists around the world who are starting individual investigations in an attempt to unravel some of the mysteries surrounding the evolution of the moon's surface and the origins of the universe. The astronauts returned from their moon voyage with about 50 pounds of lunar surface material.

The former material will be at Lehigh for about three months, during which time Dr. Selar will attempt to assess its shock history by means of light and electron microscopy. Criteria for the study were established during the initial phase of the project, dating back to 1966.

Dr. Selar reported that his sample, which weighs about one-fiftieth of a pound, consists of about equal weights of loose fragments between one centimeter and a millimeter in size, and of very fine particles less than one millimeter in size.

The larger fragments consist of two rock types. One is a dark gray to black, fine-grained, porous volcanic rock closely resembling a terrestrial basalt. The other is a lighter gray to brown, fine-grained breccia composed of small crystal fragments, rock fragments, and dark brown glass occurring as irregular shards and spherules.

Dr. Selar reports that the composition and microscopic structure supports the concept that the returned lunar rocks consist of basaltic igneous rocks of basaltic type, and of fine breccia derived from the basaltic rocks by impact phenomena.

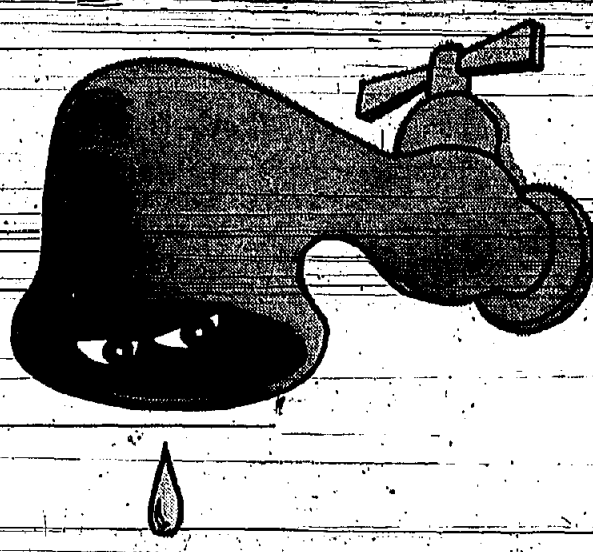

In January, a scientific conference will be held in Houston at which the findings of all the individual studies of the moon samples will be reported.

Overlook Hospital to conduct Nurse Career Day Tuesday

Better than watching "The Nurses" on television will be a real-life look at nurses in action, according to Overlook Hospital, which is presenting a special Nursing Career Day on Tuesday for students from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and 11 other area high schools.

Three accidents damage vehicles but no one injured

An accident occurred Tuesday on Morris avenue in Springfield, according to the Springfield Police, when a car driven by Bonnie Warner of Madison was struck while turning into a driveway. Herbert Davis of Union said Mrs. Warner's car turned in front of him while he was proceeding east on Morris avenue. The Davis car received damage to the right front fender while the Warner car received damages to the left door. Neither car had to be towed away.

This year Overlook is presenting five special health career days, to be focused on nursing, radiology, medical technology, social services, occupational and physical therapy, inhalation therapy and pharmacy.

Overlook Nursing Center Day will cover all aspects of nursing from the practical nurse to top administrative registered nurse positions, both in and out of hospital.

Other participants in the Overlook Nursing Day will be Gloria Antrim, assistant director of nursing; Mrs. Ann Temple, in-service education instructor; and Evelyn Mignot, director of Overlook's School of Practical Nursing.

In addition to a panel discussion of the opportunities in nursing, personal and educational attributes needed and different types of training, a special film will be shown, followed by on-the-floor tours and small teaching sessions with Overlook's head nurses.

Students will visit Overlook's Practical Nursing School and participate in an audio-visual teaching demonstration over closed circuit television. They will meet the nursing students for a face-to-face question and answer session which will give them the opportunity to exchange views with young women close to their own age.

For gripes' sake ... Teenagers list their pet peeves

The Springfield Teen Council this week announced some of the responses to its latest youth opinion poll, as compiled by Madge Geddes, Diane Verlangieri and Bob Reichman. Local teenagers were asked, "What is your pet peeve?"

Michele Sierchio feels that students today have too many pressures placed on them to achieve good grades. She feels that the majority of kids today are not learning for the sake of acquiring knowledge, but are instead pressured for academic superiority. There is too much emphasis on grades, and not on the actual comprehension of a subject.

Michele feels that a system should be devised to eliminate report cards and grades. Tests and quizzes should be given as an indication of a student's progress. Individual progress reports should follow a student through school and college. Michele feels that this would eliminate academic stress as well as "vicious" competition between students. This would also eliminate cheating and other methods used to attain superior grades.

Karen Harberger feels that we should learn by experience. She also feels that we should not have things forced upon us. Ricky Gleitsman's pet peeve is people who don't return things.

URSULA KRANKE believes that Springfield center is not a good place for shopping. One can go other places and buy anything at all. "What can you buy in Springfield?" Pam Klees feels that too many kids are concerned with credit for college. Many join clubs, not for the sake of interest and self-satisfaction, but because it looks good on their high school record. Pam also feels that enough people do not care enough about high school spirit.

Michael Joyner feels that 23 minutes for lunch at Dayton should be extended because you have to gulp down your lunch in order to get to your next class on time.

Peter May feels that the halls at school are too crowded, and this causes him to be late to class. Cathie Kauthold feels that twirlers practice just as hard as others but do not get enough recognition.

William H. Krauss killed in accident

Funeral services were held last Friday for William H. Krauss, 72, of 539 Midval ave., Springfield, at the McCracken Funeral Home in Union. Mr. Krauss died last Tuesday in Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield after an automobile accident in Westfield.

IF NATO wasn't here, maybe we wouldn't be here either.
The good things of life... The love, the quiet laughter—and the freedom to build the kind of life we want.
Twenty years ago, these things were pretty rare. After the most terrible war in history, people felt lucky to be alive, let alone happy.
That's why they invented NATO—the world's first effective peace force—just so it would never happen again. For two decades we've had NATO and enjoyed the good life, too.
NATO isn't the only reason why we dare hope that the next twenty years will be as good as the last. But it's a big reason.

ASK THE PEOPLE WITH "THE KNOWHOW"

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

MADAM, JOIN THE CLUB!
Dear Amy: I have been married to a widower for 18 years. During our marriage, my husband has never bought me anything on Christmas, birthdays or Mother's Day without me asking him to... and then he complains. Last Mother's Day, I asked him what he was going to get me. He said he had no money but turned around and bought flowers for his next wife's grave. Old jealousy got me to the bone because he had told me that he loves his first wife more than he loves me now. I feel that he only married me to be his slave and raise his children from his first marriage. His love for her is breaking my nerves. If only he would go to the 5 and 10 cent store and buy me a hanky all by himself, I'd treasure it. How much can a woman take?

Hearbroken Wife

Dear Wife: Women have been known to take as much as they want to depending on how much they love a guy. However, I suggest you join the international club of married women who, on the occasions you mention, take the bull by the horns, trot out to the shopping center, pick out their own gift and charge it to their so-called better half.

While a roof over your head, food on the table and a man around the house may not be your idea of wedded bliss, what guarantee do you have that you can do better if you give up what you've got?

Dear Amy: My friend and I have the same problem. A boy at school gave the two of us our birthstones and we don't know what to do about it. We would like to be friends with him, but he is too serious. If we keep the presents, he's mysterious and we are getting nervous. But if we give them back, it will hurt him. If we should give them back, how should we do it?

Two Desperate Girls

Dear Girls: Never concern yourselves about not accepting gifts from boys. If you do not want to accept a gift, thank the person, but say "No thanks." If you have accepted these birthstones and now realize that you should have returned them with a kindly explanation. Boys who give gifts to more than one girl are not easily hurt!

Dear Amy: What could possibly be wrong with a healthy 19 year old girl who quit a job in March, lies around the house all day and does not intend to look for a job until after she gets married in October?

Puzzled Mom

Dear Mom: The possibility of what's wrong with your daughter is in reality what's wrong with her mother!

Dear Amy: I'm fifteen and like this one

New coordinator for black studies

Dr. Kenneth B. O'Brien, Jr., president of Bloomfield College, has announced the appointment of Khalil (Aubrey) N'Komo as coordinator of black and urban studies at the college on a part-time basis for the fall semester.

N'Komo was born in South Africa in 1936. He received his BA from Natal University, South Africa, with work in psychology and politics; a BA, honors, in political economy from Reading University, England; and has completed the requirements for his masters in public administration at the Maxwell School of Syracuse University.

N'Komo is teaching at Herbert H. Lehman College of the City University of New York, where he is organizing and teaching materials on African and Afro-American studies with particular emphasis on the urban setting.

Candidates are in agreement on problems facing schools

New Jersey's pressing school problems need immediate state attention, says the New Jersey Education Association — and the two major gubernatorial candidates apparently agree.

"Among the issues in this fall's election campaign, nothing is more critical than the financial difficulties facing New Jersey schools," says an editorial in the current issue of the NJEA Review, the professional journal for the state's teachers.

The candidates voice agreement in articles written especially for New Jersey's education community. The Democratic nominee, Robert B. Meyner, lists educational financing as his "Priority No. 1," and Republican William T. Cahill insists: "For too long in education, has our state surrendered its rightful place among the other 49."

Writes Meyner: "It should be clear to all of us that any proposal that is put forth for strengthening New Jersey's educational system must be based on the hard reality that during the '70's more dollars must be devoted to education by the State of New Jersey."

Both candidates agree that the state should play a larger share of local school costs. Writes Cahill: "The state school aid formula is outdated and must be replaced by a more equitable one." Says Meyner:

"Priority No. 1 for the next governor must be to increase the state's role in the financing of elementary and secondary education. It must be clear that no New Jersey community can bear by itself the rapidly increasing costs of quality education."

Inflation and rising enrollments make increases in State school aid necessary, says the NJEA editorial. In addition, NJEA wants the state to:

- Boost school building aid, especially for replacement of obsolete facilities.
- Provide incentives for efficient organization and improvements in school quality.

Need for creativity in class stressed by Dr. Marburger

"Teachers cannot prepare students for tomorrow's needs by using yesterday's tools," Dr. Carl Marburger, state commissioner of education, told the Classroom Renaissance Arts-Humanities Institute held at Newark State College, Union, last Friday. He added that "relevance of curriculum, not tradition, should be the determining factor for today's educators."

Dr. Marburger, currently embroiled in a controversy with the New Jersey Education Association, indicated that "there is a need for creativity and innovation in the classroom," and that "we must test all aspects of our educational system."

Replying to questions from the audience, Marburger said that "as leisure time becomes increasingly available, the schools must instruct students with a greater knowledge of the arts and humanities so that the leisure time is properly enhanced." He said, "today's students are politically more aware and are closer to the reality of the adult world than the students of 20 years ago," and that it is not sufficient to use the schools of the state to meet college admission requirements alone.

State leaders join fund-raising affair

New Jersey leaders in government, business and civic affairs have joined in support of the "Sell-In" of the Children's Aid and Adoption Society of N.J., a fund-raising gala related to be held at the Governor Morris Inn in Morristown on Sunday, Oct. 19.

Honorary chairman for the affair is Bergen County State Senator Fairleigh S. Dickinson Jr., president of Becton-Dickinson Company of Rutherford.

Speaking for the group, Senator Dickinson says: "Work in behalf of disadvantaged children who can be given new homes where they are loved and cherished by adoptive parents that the Children's Aid and Adoption Society finds for them, is a most commendable enterprise."

"We are most happy to support the efforts of the staff and board of the Society in their desire to equip themselves to serve more and more children by way of the wonderful program called adoption."

NIH THE SEARCH FOR HEALTH

A REPORT FROM THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH, BETHESDA, MARYLAND

KNOW YOUR HEART
HEART CONDITIONS
Poets, songwriters, and lovers have been talking about heart conditions. Now nearly everybody is reading and talking about hearts, heart operations, and heart research.

Advanced heart research involves much more than heart transplants. Every day, various heart defects are corrected during operations that are less publicized but no less important than are transplants.

So you can know your heart better, this column will present a series of four articles containing lists of heart terms, their preferred pronunciations, and their meanings.

These words are mainly about heart conditions.

ANGINA PECTORIS (an-'juh-pok-to-'ris) or (an-'juh-pok-'ris)
Literally, chest pain, a condition in which the heart muscle receives an insufficient blood supply, causing pain in the chest, and often in the left arm and shoulder. Commonly results when the coronary arteries (coronaries) are narrowed by atherosclerosis.

CONGESTIVE HEART FAILURE (kon-'jestiv)
When the heart is unable adequately to pump out all the blood it returns to it, there is a backing up of blood in the veins leading to the heart. A congestion or accumulation of fluid in various parts of the body (lungs, legs, abdomen, etc.) may result from the failure to maintain a satisfactory circulatory system.

Academy moms hold get-together

The Mothers' Association of Newark Academy will hold a coffee and get-together to welcome mothers of new boys in the school today at 10 a.m. at the academy in Livingston.

Mrs. E. Standish Bradford is the headmaster's wife, and Mrs. Michael H. Scoppenolo of Short Hills, past president of the Mothers' Association, will pour.

State nicknames

Some of the 50 states in the Union have interesting nicknames, such as the Flicker state - North Dakota; the Constitution State - Connecticut; the Land of Enchantment - New Mexico; the Tar Heel State - North Carolina; The Yellowhammer State - Alabama; and the Pelican State - Louisiana.

CAR TO SELL?

CALL CLASSIFIED 686-7700

CORONARY OCCLUSION (kor-'o-nar-'ee-oh-'shun)
An obstruction (generally a blood clot) in a branch of one of the coronary arteries which hinders the flow of blood to some part of the heart muscle. This part of the heart muscle then dies because of lack of blood supply. Sometimes called a coronary heart attack, or simply a heart attack.

HEART BLOCK
Interference with the conduction of the electrical impulses of the heart, which can be either partial or complete. This can result in different rhythms in the upper and lower heart chambers.

HYPERTENSION (hi-'per-'ten-'shun)
Commonly called high blood pressure, a condition in which persistent elevation of blood pressure above the normal range, which may eventually lead to increased heart size and kidney damage.

ORGANIC HEART DISEASE
Heart disease caused by some structural abnormality in the heart or circulatory system.

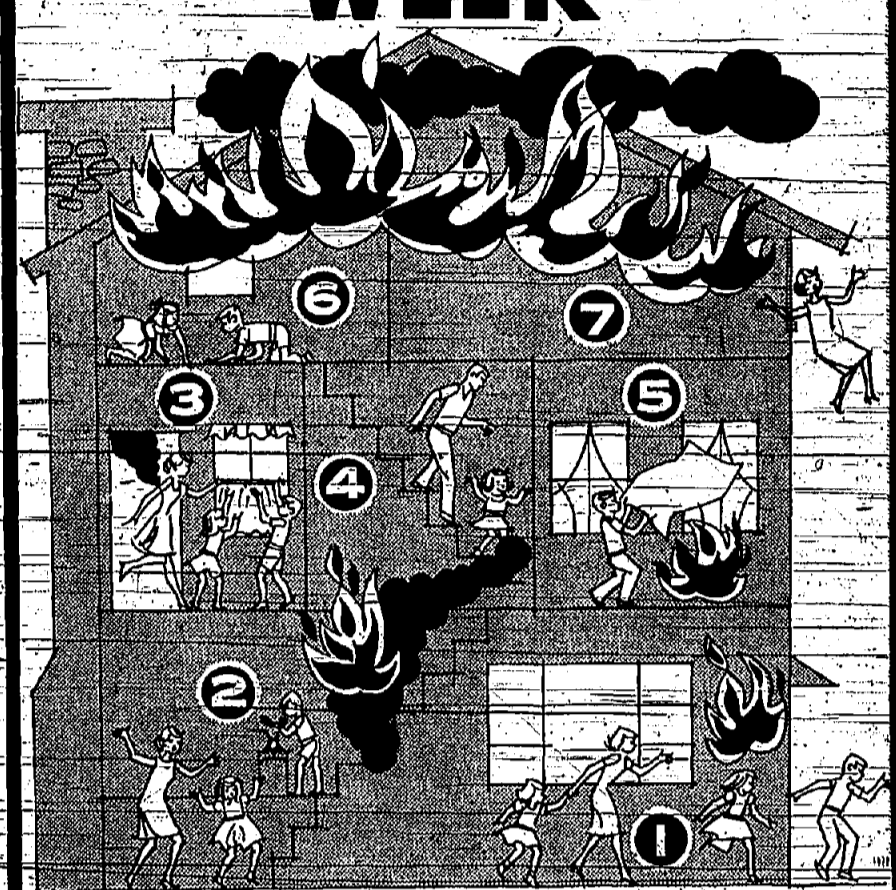

STROKE (stroke)
Also called apoplectic stroke, cerebrovascular accident, or cerebral vascular accident. An impeded blood supply to some part of the brain, generally caused by:

1. a blood clot forming in the vessel (cerebral thrombosis)
2. a rupture of the blood vessel wall (cerebral hemorrhage)
3. a piece of clot or other material from another part of the vascular system which flows to the brain and obstructs a cerebral vessel (cerebral embolism)
4. pressure on a blood vessel, as by a tumor.

Terms used in describing the effects of fats on the heart and blood vessels will be included in the next column in this series.

OCT. 5-11 is FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

1. If a fire breaks out in your home, get out fast — with your family. Fire can spread faster than you can run.
2. If you find smoke in an open stairway or open hall, use another planned way out. Teach your children how to use the phone to report a fire.
3. Make sure children can open doors, windows and screens to escape routes.
4. Make sure your family knows the quickest and safest ways to escape from every room in the house.
5. DON'T fight a fire yourself.
6. If you are trapped in a smoke-filled room, stay near the floor where the air is better.
7. DON'T jump. Many people have jumped and died — with only a few minutes' warning.

ELGENE TIRE & SERVICE

A WEEKLY FEATURE

PEOPLE, PLACES, THINGS

By JOE BELFORD

We AT ELGENE TIRE... HAVE BEEN WRITING ABOUT PEOPLE... THIS WEEK WE WOULD LIKE TO WRITE ABOUT PRODUCTS THAT PEOPLE MAKE! After all, people and products go together to become the GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT of the U.S.A. In last week's column we showed how much money was being spent on KEEPING THE PEACE... this week's column will show how all that money is being wasted.

To provide transportation for the goods and materials that are so necessary to a mobile army of the 60's, the U.S. Army has had to not only design its own equipment, but the methods of transporting it!

After many plans that have been revised and rejected... the military have finally come up with THE WORLD'S LONGEST VEHICLE!!!

The longest vehicle in the world is the 572-foot-long, 54-wheeled U.S. Army Overland Train built by R. G. LeTourneau Inc., of Longview, Texas. Its gross weight is 450 tons and it is capable of carrying 100,000 lbs. of cargo. It is driven by a 6-man crew, who control 4 engines with a combined H.P. of 4,680, which require a capacity of 7,828 gallons of fuel. It can carry a 150-ton payload at 15 m.p.h. for 400 miles.

We... at ELGENE TIRE, can if need be, provide you with tires that carry a 150-ton payload... but until you need tires that big, come to ELGENE TIRE for the Best for your car! FIRESTONE TIRES! We're conveniently located on Milltown Road (Between Route 22 and Morris Ave.), Opposite Archer's Grove, N.J. Auto Inspection Service, Shock, Batteries, mufflers, hubs, tune up, alignment. Open Daily 8-6, Mon. & Thurs. 8-2, Sat. 8-1, M-F 7-10.

Scientists investigating Antarctica

Seek information concerning origins of earth

As the moon begins to yield its secrets to man, science is tapping the uncharted mysteries of other great land masses — the mammoth glaciers that cover more than six and a half million square miles and contain three-fourths of all the fresh water in the world.

Biggest of all, according to an October Reader's Digest article, is Antarctica, "the world's largest desert" which covers about 5,500,000 square miles and is almost as large as the United States and Europe combined. Covered with a mantle of ice that ranges up to 11,000 feet in thickness, Antarctica is a kind of super refrigeration system, discharging heat into space and cooling the earth's atmosphere. It also serves as a gigantic water-hold which combines with the Greenland glacier about 665,000 square miles and others to hold some seven million cubic miles of fresh water. Should the Antarctic ice cap suddenly melt, the level of the oceans might rise as much as 200 feet, flooding coastal regions and engulfing the world's great port cities.

Scientists of a dozen nations are currently exploring the Antarctic, hoping to gain precious information concerning the origins of earth. For example, one team of American scientists and engineers last year drilled nearly a mile and a half into the ice; they brought up a continuous core, four inches in diameter, which author Paul Friggins says provides "a clear profile of polar history" — and an exciting "look into the earth's past."

"From air bubbles trapped in ice 25,000 to 100,000 years ago, for instance," he writes, "scientists will be able to trace the composition of the earth's atmosphere back to that early time. In ice 10,000 to 15,000 years old the Americans found layers of volcanic ash, possibly deposited during some worldwide cataclysm. At about 850 feet, they recovered ice that had fallen as pure snow at the time of Christ, and in the topmost layers they identified "dirty" ice containing thermoclastic "finger-prints" from our atomic age."

But aside from the past, what can the Antarctic glacier reveal to us? According to the National Science Foundation, "The Antarctic ice cap has a powerful influence on the world's weather. Any significant change in this great freshwater reservoir would affect man's environment by causing changes in sea level, rainfall, river flow and lake levels."

Is such "significant change" likely to occur soon? Probably not. Experts agree we're probably in the middle of an interglacial period that is, a period between "ice ages" — lasting several thousands of years. While the oceans are warming, slightly, and sea level is rising, the process is a very gradual one.

But there is one possible source of disaster — man himself. Writes Friggins: "The increasing carbon dioxide and industrial wastes emitted from cities, factories and vehicles, is perceptibly warming the world's climate. Such prodigal carelessness could, conceivably, hasten the melting of the great ice storage and retard the gift of the glaciers."

Census Bureau survey planned

Census Bureau representatives will take their quarterly survey of consumer buying and home improvement expectations in this area during October, according to John C. Chittinane, director of the bureau's regional office in New York.

The survey is part of a nationwide effort to gather information used to guide Federal agencies and other groups in developing programs based on consumer spending patterns. A sample of residents in this area will be asked if they expect to buy a house, car, or major appliance during the next year and if they have made recent purchases of these items. Homeowners will be asked about home improvements and repairs during the last three months and any planned in the future.

In the most recent survey of the series, taken in July, families in the U.S. indicated that their plans to buy new cars were about the same as they had been a year earlier, but that expectations for "big houses" were off sharply from a year earlier. The survey also showed a continued high level of expenditures for household durables.

Households in the sample to be surveyed are not identified. All answers are kept confidential by law, and information obtained will be published only as statistical totals.

Ackerman association to hold annual reunion

The annual reunion and membership round-up of the "David Ackerman - 1662" will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 17 at the Pompton Reformed Church, Pompton Lakes.

Samuel H. Ackerman of Ho-Ho-Kus, said the organization of descendants of the Dutch schoolmaster who arrived in New Amsterdam in 1662 is now seven years old, has more than 500 members and is still seeking additional cousins.

FRIDAY DEADLINE
All items other than spot news should be in our office by noon on Friday.

Employment rises to 2,580,100 total in state in August

Total nonagricultural wage and salary employment (excluding farm, domestic, self-employed, and unpaid family workers) rose by 801 in August to an estimated total of 2,580,100, according to estimates prepared by the Division of Planning and Research of the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry.

August jobholdings in manufacturing advanced by 9,500 because of seasonal hiring and returns from a strike in the food industry recently by the automobile industry of employees temporarily laid off during the model change-over period; and a 4,000 increase in the apparel industry.

Although government, services, and wholesale and retail trade had over-the-month declines — employment estimates for these industries still remain higher this August as compared with those of the same time last year. Construction, however, dropped because of a strike and small employment decreases on individual construction projects throughout the state. Non-manufacturing employment declined 9,100, bringing the total estimate to 1,681,300; but this is a seasonal pattern.

Weekly earnings of factory production workers averaged $132.44 — up 90 cents from the July estimate. Returns to work after vacation, higher incentive pay, increased overtime, and seasonal recalls contributed to the gain.

Average hourly earnings were up three cents

Thursday, October 2, 1969 — to $3.27, but the length of the work-week was six minutes shorter (40.5 hours). Transportation equipment earnings, at $118.06, decreased by $45.01 from the one-month earlier figure. This was due to a shorter work-week because of model changeover lay-offs. The hiring of low pay seasonal help and less overtime in some companies caused a few industries to have lower average earnings.

Color is a sensation

Color, an electromagnetic wave phenomenon, is a sensation produced through the excitation of the retina of the eye by rays of light. The colors of the spectrum may be produced by viewing a light beam refracted by passage through a prism, which breaks the light into wave lengths.

Bible-reading night planned on Monday by Rosary Society

On Monday evening, new members will be inducted into the Rosary Altar Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountaintop. After the ceremony in the church, members will conduct a special Bible reading program, followed by an open discussion. Mrs. Thomas Roche, chairman for the evening, urged all interested women to participate.

The society has planned several programs for the coming year. These include a Nov. 3 program concerning "Today's Nun" with Sister Elizabeth Noonan, principal of St. Mary's Parochial School in Jersey City, as guest speaker. The program chairman at that time will be Mrs. Sam Moschella.

On Dec. 1, a Christmas social is planned with Mrs. Garrett Wisnow as the program chairman. During the month of January, the society will have no meeting, but will resume on Feb. 2 with a Christmas auction. Mrs. Edward Capraun will act as program chairman.

An "Evening of Reflection" is planned for March 2 with Monsignor Henry G.J. Beck as guest speaker. Mrs. Thomas Roor will be chairman.

On April 6, the program will be entitled "Year 2001," with Mrs. John Miller of Mountaintop as guest speaker. Mrs. George Welch will be chairman of the program. The May program has not yet been announced by the society.

On June 1, the society will sponsor an evening Mass and installation of officers, followed by a dinner at Wianland's. Mrs. Casimir Ostelick will be chairman for this program.

Aspirant to House would hit industry fouling air, water

John P. Allaire Jr., Democratic candidate for Assembly District 9C, said he would impose a heavy tax on those industries that pollute the atmosphere of New Jersey and the atmosphere. Such a measure would be temporary until legislation could be passed to regulate pollution.

"My immediate goal is to hit industry where it hurts: in the pocketbook," Allaire said. "Every industrial plant in my district is polluting the air. A tax of some sort would be imposed on each resident, but it would also bring more money into the state."

"Government moves slowly," Allaire said, and in order to get legislation passed to regulate pollution and to set up a program, much time is wasted. Meanwhile, the tax I suggest would help us breathe easier and a permanent solution would be found," he said. "I am thinking of the average taxpayer—the little man. It seems he always pays in some way. With pollution, he is paying with his health and, in some instances, with his life."

According to Allaire, 12 million tons of sulphur is vented into the atmosphere each year. Jersey sends yearly about 16 million tons of waste extracted from the earth. "This is a half-billion-dollar worth of pollution," Allaire said.

Members will be toasted at AAUW sherry party

A sherry party for members and prospective members will be held by the Mountaintop Branch of the American Association of University Women on Tuesday from 2 to 5 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Gerald E. Gardner, 73 Shady Lane, Fanwood.

Members have been urged to invite prospective members to join them at the party. Anyone interested in attending or joining AAUW may call the membership chairman, Mrs. Julian Levitt, 296 Meeting House Lane, Mountaintop.

MISS MARYANN LORBER

Maryann Lorber wedding planned

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lorber of Racoon Hollow, Mountaineer, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Maryann, to Ronald A. Maggiasco, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Maggiasco of Cranston, R.I.
 Miss Lorber is a graduate of Holy Trinity High School in Westfield, Massachusetts, and a graduate of Providence College in Providence, R.I. Her fiancé is a graduate of Cranston High School and Johnson and Wales Junior College.
 A November wedding is planned.

Deerfield principal at national seminar

Herbert J. Brown, principal of the Deerfield Middle School, Mountaineer, was among school administrators from several states who attended a national seminar on middle school education last week at the Tappan Zee Motor Inn, Nyack, N.Y. Dr. Arthur Williamson, superintendent of schools, Chardon, Ohio, directed the seminar.
 The two-day conference was sponsored by Educational Leadership Institute, a division of Educational Leadership Services, Inc., to provide educational leaders with the information regarding current issues in the field.
 The seminar was designed for superintendents, directors of instruction, junior high school principals and other administrators. Speakers and consultants included Dr. William Alexander, director, Institute for Curriculum Improvement, University of Florida, and Dr. Gordon Vars, professor of education, Kent State University.

Seaman Palumbo serving on Ranger

Seaman Apprentice Frank Palumbo, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Palumbo of 301 Cherry Hill rd., Mountaineer, is serving aboard the USS Ranger of the Southern California coast.
 The ship recently participated in Operation Bell Express, a combined Navy-Marine exercise, preparing the units for conditions they will meet—only in Southeast Asia, but throughout the Western Pacific area.
 The participating fleet had to evade Navy aircraft acting as enemy surveillance planes as one of the maneuvers included in the exercise. Each unit was evaluated and graded on its performance.

Cadet Scouts plan Pennsylvania trip

Mountaineer Girl Scout Cadette Troop 424 began the fall season with a picnic supper at Watchung Reservation, The 40 Scouts present elected as their patrol leaders Leslie Keating, Kim Haas, Ginny Sprout, Nancy Thoman and Sue Gapanwan.
 At the picnic, plans were discussed for an October weekend trip to Pennsylvania. The Mountaineer Scouts will be the guests of a Cadet Troop of Media, Pa., with each girl spending Friday night in her sister Scout's home.
 Troop 424 will tour the Amish country on Saturday, camping that evening at a Salvation Army campground, where their Media hostesses will prepare supper for them. After church on Sunday, they will board their bus for the return trip to Mountaineer.
 Cadet Troop 424 is led by Mrs. Robert C. Spahr, Mrs. Helen G. Gorman and Mrs. Ronald Martin.

Letters to Editor

Letters to the editor must be submitted no later than Monday of the week they are to appear. They should not exceed 250 words in length and should be typed with double spacing (not all in capital letters, please). All letters must be signed. VOTE NO FOR BOND ISSUE
 Save Echo Brook School and site. It is economical to the taxpayers' advantage and more valuable as years go on.
 Your taxes are going up, up, up.
 Deerfield is too big now, and Beechwood is following. $200,000 for Echo Brook is a joke. We need more borough property now if some is available. Seven million Regional bond issue is in the offing.
 Next year's 1970 school budget and borough budget will be up a large amount; your taxes, too.

Completion by September, 1971, is a great question. Your approval, advertising for bonds, contracts and construction and again expense moving the school offices for the sixth time and not having Echo Brook during the construction, as the borough is to move in to complete the transfer, as so stated in their letter.
 Vote no on the bond issue and save your tax dollars.

Schools can learn... a lot more about each other

"Getting to Know You" is not only a song title from the Broadway hit "The King and I," but also the current theme of Union College, Cranford, and Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains.

Since both institutions are being utilized by the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education to provide a broad-based educational program for the citizens of Union County, the two schools have scheduled a series of exchange meetings to become better acquainted.

For example, a faculty meeting of the Union County Technical Institute will be held Tuesday at 3 p.m. at Union College, while a meeting of the Union College faculty will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 15, at 3 p.m. at the Scotch Plains campus of Union County Technical Institute.

The Board of Education of the Union County Vocational-Technical Schools, which operates the Union County Technical Institute, will meet in the Stanley Room of the Campus Center at Union College, also on Wednesday, Oct. 15. On Oct. 27, the board of trustees of Union College will meet at the Union County Technical Institute.

This Monday, the department chairman of Union College will be hosts to their counterparts at the technical institute.

In the future, the student councils of the two institutions will meet to discuss joint social and athletic activities, and joint meetings of the faculties and academic departments are planned.

agency, Union College and Union County Technical Institute have agreed to provide educational services in lieu of a county college for Union County. An agreement between the two institutions provides for Union College to award credit and to confer associate in applied science degrees upon students in the college-level programs at the Union County Technical Institute.

"These joint meetings are designed to acquaint trustees, faculty members, administrators and students with the programs and operations of our two institutions and to spur further cooperation," Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, acting president of Union College, said.

For the past several years, the two institutions have cooperated in admitting students and in exchanging students to meet the interests and needs of students of both institutions, Dr. Iversen pointed out.

The "Getting to Know You" meetings were arranged by the liaison committee of the two institutions, Union College is represented on this committee by Prof. Elmer Wolf of Cranford, acting dean; Roy Smith of Elizabeth, vice president for college relations; and Peter J. Edgington of Westfield, a member of the chemistry department, who represents the faculty. Union County Technical Institute is represented by Joshua S. Chow of Fanwood, administrative assistant for business; Richard Phillips of Westfield, dean of the Technical Institute; and Mrs. Genia Park of Westfield, medical coordinator of the facility.

Dr. Iversen and Dr. George Bazel, superintendent of the Union County Vocational and Technical Schools, serve as officers.

VA hospitals offer job opportunity for social work aides

The Interagency Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners this week issued an announcement offering career opportunities as a social work associate at the Veterans Administration Hospitals in East Orange and Lyons, depending on education and/or experience, the starting salaries are: Grade GS-5, $6,176 a year, or Grade GS-7, $6,659 a year.

Social work associates perform duties in support of professional social workers and typical assignments may include interviewing patients and their families for informational purposes, obtaining and compiling data; and handling selected referrals to social and health agencies.

Applicants for GS-5 must have a bachelor's degree from an accredited college with a major field of study in one of the liberal arts, such as social welfare, psychology, philosophy or English. For the higher grade, one year of experience subsequent to the bachelor's degree in social work with a voluntary, public, social or health agency, is required.

Copies of the announcement and application forms may be obtained from the hospitals, or by writing, visiting or calling (645-3673) the Federal Job Information Center, Room 134, Federal Building, 970 Broad St., Newark 07102. They are also available at several of the main post offices in the state, ASK FOR APPLICANT INFORMATION. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Optometrists cite importance of eye exams for youngsters

A delay in having an eye defect in a child go uncorrected could cause the problem to steadily increase.

This warning was issued recently by Dr. Mario J. Pallotta, chairman of the New Jersey Optometric Association's Committee on Vision-Problems of Children and Youth, and Dr. Leonard Strulowitz, president of the Union County Optometric Society.

"Many times parents will notice their child having some difficulty seeing and take the position he will grow out of it," Dr. Pallotta, a Glen Rock optometrist said. "But he won't. And as a matter of fact, the longer the situation exists, the chances are it will get worse."

"Many parents in New Jersey now take their school-age children for an annual eye examination," he said. "So the real problem lies with the preschool youngsters. They, too, should get a regular examination."

He said the sooner a defect is discovered and corrected, the better it is for the child. Dr. Pallotta urged parents to be alert for danger signals that their youngster is having difficulty seeing, since the child himself is too young to know if he is seeing properly.

He listed some of the danger signals:

- *Holds objects too close when looking at them.
- *Both eyes do not align at the object the child is viewing.
- *Falls to pick up small objects and toys when reaching for them, indicating poor hand-eye coordination.
- *Poor general coordination - stumbles into things, trips or falls over easily seen objects.
- *Turns head to view objects, squints or closes one eye.
- *Dr. Pallotta pointed out that early vision examinations will provide a valuable record for the future in the event that the child should develop a visual problem.
- "But parents should remember their child will not grow out of eye defects, despite the old wives' tale," he concluded.

County Symphony to present concert at Union YM-YW

Under the baton of its conductor, Benjamin Plotkin of Union, the Union County Symphony Orchestra will present a musical program Sunday, Oct. 12, at 2:30 p.m. at the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union.

Selections will include: Overture, "The Shepherd King" by Mozart; Hayden's "Glock" Symphony No. 101; music from the "Exodus" by Ernest Gold, and "Tzema, Tzema" (Hora). Admission will be free.

The music will be provided by the Musicians Association of Elizabeth, Local 151, A.P. of M. through the Music Performance Trust Fund.

Stephen Wolosonovich, violinist, will be the featured soloist. He will play Saint-Saens' Violin Concerto in B Minor. Wolosonovich is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music in New York. He was violin soloist for the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo and toured with Monty and other well-known orchestras. He has performed the concertos by Tchaikovsky, Mendelssohn, Vieuxtemps, Bruck, Mozart, Beethoven and Wieniawski.

Plotkin, the conductor, has a BS and MH in music education.

Cancer Society's county unit gives awards, elects officers

The 23rd annual dinner-meeting of the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society was held Monday night at Wicland's Steak House in Mountainside. Edwin E. Steward, assistant vice-president for Crusade with the national staff of the American Cancer Society, was the keynote speaker.

Steward praised "the hundreds of volunteers who devote uncountable hours unselfishly to further the society's three-pronged strategy of research, education and service against cancer." He said "volunteers are the American Cancer Society and without their efforts, the progress made against the disease to date and its long-awaited cure would be impossible."

Among volunteers honored were Mrs. Walter O'Neill of Berkeley Heights, Mrs. John Witte of Hillside, Howard V. Towle of Fanwood, Arthur M. Goldberg of Mountainside, Fire Chief George Link of Rahway, Richard Lyons and Frank Spezzano of Roselle, Fredholder Jerome Borchert of Scotch Plains, Robert Brenner, DDS, and Roy L. Forsberg, M.D. of Westfield and Frank Mastrolanni, M.D. of Elizabeth, all of whom received certificates of appreciation.

1969 CRUSADE CITATIONS went to S. Arthur Gayles of Clark, John T. Connor, Jr. of Cranford, Walter Borchert, Jr. of Kenilworth, Stuart D. McEwen of Linden, Mrs. Victor Cfoe, and Mrs. Roy Brown of New Providence, Miss Margaret Tumbltye of Roselle Park, Kenneth Adrians of Springfield, Mrs. Henry T. Gibson Jr. of Summit, Francis A. Kopeczyk of Union, Patrick D. Minogue of Westfield and Harold C. Berman of Scotch Plains.

Certificates of Merit, which recognize service over a long period of years, went to Mrs. Edmund T. Hamill, unit board member and chairman of the unit special event committee, and Irving F. Sturm, unit legal counsel and unit treasurer. Sturm is also assistant treasurer of the New Jersey Division, American Cancer Society.

The unit's second highest award, the Walnut and Brass Plaque, was given to two women whose combined efforts total nearly 30 years of service to the organization, Mrs. Arthur A. Dornier Sr. is local service chairman in Roselle and has been active organizing sewing units, teaching patients and sewing circle unit service committees.

The second plaque went to Mrs. Walter H. Hildebrandt of Westfield, who is active on the unit service committee, special events committee and as assistant secretary to the unit board. She also transports patients to and from medical appointments and has served as both community crusade chairman and community service chairman.

THE SOCIETY'S HIGHEST AWARD on the unit level went to William O. Wuester, M.D. in recognition of 23 years active involvement with the society. Dr. Wuester was one of the founders of the Union County Unit. For 20 years he served as chairman of the unit's executive committee and then as the medical delegate to the New Jersey Division, American Cancer Society. In 1946, he was honored with the Bronze Medal, the highest award given by the National Society and the first to be given to a resident of New Jersey.

RAYMOND J. DONAHUE

Two special awards were given, the first being given to two local women by the 1969 National Crusade chairman, television actress Virginia Graham. The recipients were Mrs. Arnold J. Morway of Clark and Mrs. Minnie Verillo of Rahway, who have raised more than $26,000 for the organization through a continuous fundraising campaign.

The other special award, a society service rhinestone pin, was awarded to Mrs. Ann Temple, RN, for her leadership and direction of the unit's nursing education committee. The committee is the first in the state society and this year won the Best Professional Education Project Award from the state for its presentation of a day-long symposium for nurses on nursing the cancer patient.

THE ANNUAL MEETING included installation of officers for the coming year by Raymond J. Donahue of 508 Princeton rd., Linden, beginning his second year as president. Other officers include George L. Randall of Plainfield, first vice-president, Charles H. Dotson of Scotch Plains, second vice-president, and Pericles Gianakis, also of Scotch Plains, as third vice-president. Irving F. Sturm of Roselle was installed as treasurer and Legal Counsel, Herbert W. Samentella, PhD as assistant treasurer. Dr. Henry Katers of Plainfield as secretary and Mrs. Walter H. Hildebrandt of Union as assistant secretary.

Entertainment was provided by a barbershop quartet, the Boutonniers of Linden. They are members of the Society of the Preservation and Enticement of Barbershop Quartet Singers in America and International Champion quartet for the Royal Order of Moose.

Pfaltz supports referendum to lower voting age in N. J.

Hugo M. Pfaltz Jr., Republican Assembly candidate from District 9B, announced this week that he is supporting the referendum to lower the voting age in New Jersey to 18 years.

"The referendum is one of the most important public questions which will be on the ballot at the general election Nov. 4," Pfaltz noted that this question was originally introduced as Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 34 under the sponsorship of the three senators from Essex and Union County, Matthew Rinaldi and Nicholas LaCorte. He said that "in this age of ferment among our youth, it is a wonder that we have waited this long to place this vital public question before the electorate."

Pfaltz said he finds support for his belief that 18-year-olds should be entitled to vote at the fact that society imposes many obligations upon our youth, including the obligation to fight and the obligation to pay taxes. One of the founding principles of this country was that every man should have a say in what his country demands of him.

"Our forefathers decried Britain's policy of taxation without representation. Therefore, since we draft our youth of 18 and over, I believe that they should have a direct voice in our governmental processes. They are taxed and asked to offer their lives for their country. Surely, they should be able to express themselves through the ballot box."

Pfaltz noted that by including young men and women in the electorate, the state "would not only establish a more just voting system, it would also add a new voice to established politics."

Benedicta Korvack, founder of E. J. Korvack and Allan J. Blumstein, former president of St. Francis of New York, have announced a special benefit preview of their new "Bazar" at 225 Millburn ave., Millburn, tomorrow from 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Admission will be charged, with all proceeds to be donated to the American Cancer Society, Essex and Union County chapters, members of which will be present to act as collectors and hostesses.

Refreshments featuring delicacies with an international flavor will be served, and musical entertainment will be provided by the Band of Steel, a group of steel drum players presenting the best in Caribbean rhythms.

The two-story Mediterranean style building, located at the Common, a shopping complex with parking for 400 cars, is the third unit of what ultimately will be a national chain of Bazar stores featuring a vast array of gifts and home furnishings embracing the fashionable as well as the functional - a selection of domestic items of unique design. The other stores are located at Woodmere, Long Island, and Bedford Hills, N.Y.

Besides enjoying the gourmet specialties and the music, those attending the special benefit preview will have an opportunity to stroll through the store and examine at leisure an assortment of most uncommon household, personal, and gift items from all over the world.

There will be dancing and live entertainment.

Four grants to NCE total $100,000

Newark College of Engineering's research activities through the National Foundation for the Advancement of Graduate Study in Engineering, has received four major grants since June for more than $100,000.

Dr. Richard G. Griskey, foundation professor in chemical engineering and research director, announced the grants, indicating that research support has shown substantial growth this year.

He reported all four grants are from government agencies and are in support of research studies already under way by the faculty.

Those receiving continuing grants include Dr. Lynn Metzger, civil engineering, who has received a Department of the Interior grant of $12,997 for work on a pollution problem, the "Effects of Fluid Properties on Stream Aeration."

Dr. Lawrence Suchow of NCE's chemistry and chemical engineering department, has received $25,100 from the National Science Foundation for continued work on "Complex Rare-Earth Chalcogenides and Phthalides."

Dr. Raj Misra, of the college's electrical engineering department, has received two grants totaling $4,938 for further work into the reliability of electronic components. The first grant is from the Department of Defense for the continuation of Dr. Misra's work on "Reliability Studies of Liquid Rocket Powerplants" and is for $18,000; the second from the Army Electronics Command to continue work on another project, "Low Temperature Second Breakdown Studies."

Williams: Act now to ease tight money

Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. (D-N.J.), member of the Banking and Currency Committee, said this week that tight money threatens to choke off the U.S. housing industry unless emergency steps are taken to ease the pressure.

Williams said that the depressed housing market shows no signs of rebounding by 1969, and that the Nixon Administration has declined to take any positive corrective steps.

He added that "Congress must act to free sources of loan money which could help savings and loan institutions make additional mortgage loans."

Williams made his remarks in a speech to the American Land Titles Association's convention in Atlantic City. He told the group that unless a break comes soon in the housing crunch, "there may be no titles to protect - no one will be able to buy a home."

Concert pianist at Carnegie Hall

Under the auspices of the Masterwork Music & Art Foundation of Morristown, Michael May, keyboard artist, will present a concert at Carnegie Hall in New York on Saturday evening, Oct. 11. May will perform on both the piano and harpsichord, and will be assisted by Joseph White, reader, and Danny Butta, percussionist.

The program is made up of works by Purcell, Schubert, Moszkowski, Scarlatti, Mozart, Ives, Bloch, Stravinsky and Beethoven.

U.S. Congresswoman FLORENCE P. DWYER

Reports

Like a healthy young tree whose roots must be buried in the soil from which it obtains its nourishment, an effective Congress must constantly renew its contact with those from whom it receives its power and authority and legitimacy -- the people.

This rather fundamental principle was strikingly confirmed, for me at least, by the late-August Congressional recess from which we returned recently. In every sense, it was truly the pause that refreshes -- the opportunity to shift gears, to escape the sometimes artificial and unreal world of official Washington, to see the faces and hear the voices once again of the people for whom this institution exists.

It came at just the right time, following closely the extensive round of hearings, investigations, and study which precedes committee action on major legislation and immediately before the numerous important legislative decisions Congress must make in the next three or four months -- decisions on taxes, military spending, social security and on the way we elect our Presidents and Vice Presidents.

IT WAS ALSO the first occasion since last December for most members of Congress to spend more than a very few days at a time back home in the districts we represent. As such, it confirmed for me the wisdom of the decision, which Congressional leaders made for the first time early this year, the decision to recognize the inevitability of year-long sessions of Congress and schedule in advance a mid-session recess. Many of us have fought to get this, both to allow for consultations between representatives and the represented and to permit younger Congressmen to arrange for rare but important vacations with their families.

However one chose to spend this time, it could not help but be refreshing and restorative. I chose to stay at home and the change was strikingly apparent -- not only in the physical sense of leaving the heavily circumscribed official environment of Washington for the more open, more relaxed, and less formal atmosphere of suburban New Jersey but especially in the more direct and candid way in which the big issues were faced and discussed by the people most directly affected.

It may be unavoidable, but the bureaucratic system with which Congress must constantly deal and from which we pick up some undesirable habits is frustratingly indirect and ambiguous -- an obstacle to the completion of issues rather than the quest for solutions. It hinders on the perpetuation of problems rather than their resolution. By seeing issues continuing in nature and as multi-faceted and interrelated in character, bureaucrats too often tend to postpone action or prolong the status quo to the evident concern and displeasure of the people back home.

AND PEOPLE ARE concerned today -- more, perhaps, or more openly, than I can recall being true in the past. They are concerned about problems which threaten them directly, problems which so far haven't yielded to conventional bureaucratic remedies, problems which could become far more destructive unless effective action is taken soon.

Based on literally hundreds of personal conversations with people throughout my district, these are the problems which most disturb them: the war in Vietnam, high prices, and interest rates, high taxes, and inadequate Social Security. Of the four, concern with our position and policy in Vietnam is clearly dominant. The remaining three are so closely related and so directly affected by our Vietnam involvement that they are basically one: the problem of too little money to meet too many demands, personally and nationally.

BUT LET ME DEAL with them one by one:

1. Vietnam. Disillusionment with the war in Southeast Asia -- its killing its costs, its disruption, its damage to our economy and our pride and self-respect -- has gone so far that today there are no longer any hawks or doves. Today, there are just people who are deeply sick and tired of the whole thing and who yearn to get out. Reasons differ, of course. Some believe we could have won the war militarily. Others contend that Western wars on the Asia mainland can never be won. While still others insist, we never had a right to be there in the first place. But all are united -- or nearly all -- in believing that our present course is fruitless and that we can't or won't or shouldn't do more.

So far, many opponents of the war are still inclined to credit President Nixon for wanting and trying to end the war. They continue to give this Administration the benefit of the doubt -- but, inevitably, the doubt is growing. They are struck as I am -- with the senselessness of prolonging a war that can be won with the brutality of death when the cause and purpose have all but withered away, with the poverty of skill or imagination or commitment which has lost opportunities to negotiate earlier and more effectively.

In this context, therefore, I am particularly encouraged by what I think is a growing consensus in recognizing that a real ceasefire is as an essential precondition to ending the war, stopping the fighting, and resolving the political issues. As a long-time proponent of such a ceasefire, and as one who has urged two Administrations now to explore more creatively the opportunities for a ceasefire, I suggest that the death of Chiang Kai-shek may be the time to move as vigorously as possible toward this goal.

2. HIGH PRICES. On street corners, in their living rooms, over the telephone, and especially in their supermarkets, prices are on people's minds -- prices that seem to go up and seem to come down -- prices that reduce their standard of living and deny them some of the basic necessities of life, prices that seem impervious to all efforts to bring them down.

People are being hurt by high prices and interest rates. And at the lower end of the income spectrum, that hurt is appearing acute. But at almost every level below the very rich, the pinch is being felt. It's a major burden to invest in a new house. It's a major burden to invest in one's own family, particularly if the investment is a simple food.

People recognize that Congress and the Administration have been trying, that high interest rates, higher taxes, and reduced Government spending are designed to relieve economic pressures, to discourage excessive investment, to stop competition for scarce funds, and thereby bring prices down. But where are the results, they ask. Why haven't these measures worked? And, more and more, they indicate a willingness to consider wage and price controls as a last desperate step to protect themselves against inflation.

3. BUT LET ME DEAL with them one by one:

1. Vietnam. Disillusionment with the war in Southeast Asia -- its killing its costs, its disruption, its damage to our economy and our pride and self-respect -- has gone so far that today there are no longer any hawks or doves. Annual recruiting campaign launched by Caldwell PTA

With October designated as PTA membership month, the James Caldwell PTA, Springfield, launched its annual campaign for membership this week.

Mrs. Joseph Pepe, membership chairman, reported that the drive opened with notices sent to parents inviting participation. Membership in the James Caldwell PTA is open to parents, relatives and friends. With a goal of 100 percent membership, Mrs. Pepe urged all parents to join the group and invited interested relatives and friends to join also.

"Help Your PTA" is the slogan for this year's drive, Mrs. Pepe stated. She added, "The PTA needs the help of every parent, particularly since education and teaching techniques and curriculum are being continually updated to keep pace with the times. It is more important than ever that parents and teachers work together. When your child sees you participate in their school and learning become more important to him."

Memberships were sent to the James Caldwell School with the form from the notice.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Sheelton, County Home Economist

PEPPERS ADD COLOR AND FLAVOR

Fresh peppers, sweet or hot, are a popular item in the market at this time of year. Most varieties of sweet peppers are marketed fresh at the green stage but vary in shape. Use the long slender ones cut up for salads, relishes, casseroles, and creamed dishes. The short chunky ones are desirable for stuffing.

The hot peppercorn varieties are found in the market either the red or the green stage, but are generally used raw. They vary from small chili peppers to the large sizes approaching the bell type. Commercial products made from hot peppers include cayenne pepper, paprika, and tabasco sauce.

When choosing either variety, select fresh peppers that are firm, thick-fleshed and well-shaped with a bright, shiny surface. Immature peppers are soft, thin-fleshed and pale in color. Aged peppers are shriveled, limp, and pliable. Examine surface blemishes to be sure that the blemish does not pass through the fleshy wall.

Peppers should be refrigerated to retain their crispness. They require the right temperature and humidity to retain their quality. If too much moisture is present, they will become slimy and decay. If kept too dry, they are apt to shrivel.

Peppers may be frozen for future use with or without pickling. After they have been frozen however, they are most suitable for cooked dishes since they lose their crispness. Use sweet peppers to add color and flavor to many dishes. The pungent varieties are used mainly in seasonings, relishes, and pickles.

For an economical and appetizing main dish try the following recipe for Stuffed Peppers:

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

4 large green peppers
1 cup boiling salted water (1 1/2 teaspoons salt)
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1/2 lb. ground beef
1 cup coarse dry bread or cracker crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon chopped onion

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Cut a thin slice from the stem end of each pepper. Wash, core and remove seeds. Remove all seeds and membrane. Cook peppers in boiling salted water 5 minutes. Drain. Mix rest of ingredients. Stuff peppers lightly with meat mixture. Stand upright in small baking dish. Bake covered 45 minutes, uncover and bake 15 minutes longer, 1 hour.

Labor unit announces rise in consumer prices

The Consumer Price Index rose 0.4 percent in August to 128.7 (1957-59 equal 100), the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics has announced.

As in other recent months, the increase resulted mostly from higher prices for services and food. The August index for all items was 5.6 percent above a year ago.

So far this year retail prices have increased by four percent, compared to 3.7 percent in the first eight months in 1968.

Charges for consumer services went up 0.7 percent, led by significant increases for mortgage interest, property taxes, residential gas and electricity rates, and home repair services. Medical care services continued to advance substantially in August, along with automobile insurance and repairs and movie admissions.

Food prices were up more than usual for August because of a sharp jump in egg prices, resulting from lower supplies. Prices of most fresh fruits and vegetables were lower, but the overall decline was less than seasonal.

Beef prices declined for the first time in eight months. These declines were offset by increases for other meats.

Women's apparel declined more than usual for this time of the year, while tags were marked up for men's and boys' clothing and footwear. Prices for new and used cars also declined with the approach of the 1970 model year.

Cigarette prices posted their third substantial advance in as many months in the wake of earlier wholesale increases. Other commodities which contributed to the August price rise included alcoholic beverages, gasoline, and housekeeping supplies.

Approximately 150,000 workers will receive cost-of-living pay increases based on the August Consumer Price Index. About 79,000 workers, mostly in the aerospace industry, will receive an eight-cent hourly increase, based on the change in the index since August 1968. Another 25,000 employees, also primarily in aerospace, will receive increases of five cents an hour, based on the quarterly change in the national CPI. Another 36,200 workers in the tobacco, aerospace and chemical industries will get increases ranging from one to three cents an hour, based on the increase in the index since May 1969, while approximately 11,500 employees in various industries will be given hourly pay increases ranging from four to eleven cents. About 2,800 transit employees in Washington, D.C., will get a 6-cent hourly increase based on the change in the Washington area index since May.

62,350 get Punch Line of the Week food stamp aid locally

A total of 144,678 low income persons in New Jersey were benefited by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food Stamp and Commodity Distribution Programs in July.

The total included 66,759 in Essex County and 6,591 in Union County.

According to the USDA's Food and Nutrition Service, 143,335 people paid $1,790,161 for food stamp coupons worth $3,121,051. The difference of $1,330,890 or bonus value of the coupons is USDA's contribution to the Food Stamp Program and is designed to provide participants with more and better food. There were 41,765 recipients who did not receive public assistance.

USDA donated commodities worth $1,343 persons in family units of which 610 did not receive welfare payments. Among the foods distributed were apricot nectar, canned green beans, butter, cheese, scrambled egg mix, flour, grape juice, corn grits, hard shortening, canned chopped meat, evaporated milk, nonfat dry milk, peanut butter, raisins, rice, corn syrup, canned tomatoes and tomato juice.

NCE to get $9,000 gift Montclair Art Museum plans exhibition series

Newark College of Engineering this week received a $9,000 pledge of support for its chemical engineering activities, a gift of Merck & Co., Inc., Rahway. The pledge of support was accompanied by a $3,000 check with the remainder to come in the next two years.

Presentation of the corporate gift was made by Dr. M. L. Brown, Merck plant manager, and was received by Dr. Robert W. Van Houton, president of NCE, and Dr. Joseph Jaffe, chairman of NCE's department of chemistry and chemical engineering. The funds have been accepted as undergraduate chemical engineering support and will probably be used to support NCE's highly regarded chemical engineering graduate program.

The Merck gift is among a growing number of business and industrial contributions NCE has received in recent years in recognition of the vital role the college performs for New Jersey's major industrial complex. Dr. Van Houton said.

Montclair Art Museum plans exhibition series

A series of five exhibitions at the Montclair Art Museum, beginning Sunday, for a period of two weeks each, offers the public an opportunity to take a capsule course in American art history.

Kathryn E. Gamble, director of the museum, announced the series which has been planned in a cooperative program with the fine arts department of Montclair State College. Under the program, exhibitions from the museum's American painting collection have been arranged to coordinate with a course in the history of American art given at the college.

Series I -- the first semester -- covers the Colonial period to the "Independents" at the turn of the 20th Century. Students of Assistant Professor Marlon Schtebel will utilize the exhibitions to study the major directions and figures of the time.

The public can make use of the exhibitions in a similar, though more informal manner, through the museum's "Open House" series. Special talks and discussion led by staff members are being scheduled for each of the five exhibitions in the series. Reference books will be available for use in the museum library, and the library will also make available a list of further readings.

The first talk will be given Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. on the opening exhibition "Traditions, 1750-1850." The roots of American painting will be shown through portraits by the Englishmen, Peter Lely and Cornelius Johnson; The Colonial and early American portrait painters to be considered are Gilbert Stuart, Charles Willson Peale, Thomas Mifflin, Benjamin West, Thomas Sully, Samuel F.B. Morse, Henry Inman and John Trumbull. The exhibition continues through Oct. 19.

Other exhibitions in the series are: Oct. 22 - Nov. 2, Hudson River School, Trompé L'oeil, Still Life, Nov. 5 - Nov. 16, European Orienta-

Art exhibit to be given

An exhibition of paintings by Albert Christ-Janer, director of the Pratt Institute Manhattan Center, and Roger Crossgrove, head of the Art Department of the University of Connecticut, opens Sunday at the Montclair Art Museum. It will continue through Nov. 2.

The exhibition, titled "Far and Near," presents a comparison of points of view. Christ-Janer, representing the "far," paints suggestions of landscapes from an aerial perspective of seemingly unlimited distance and space. Crossgrove, on the other hand, shows his subjects close-up in an intimate view.

The Montclair showing is the first the two artists have had together.

Realtors on mortgages: Seek and ye shall find

Economists and so-called financial experts should take the time and effort to check the actual real estate market place before painting an unrealistic picture of the home mortgage market in New Jersey, Chester Frankel, president of the Eastern Union County Board of Realtors said this week.

Director appointed

The Union County Unit, New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, announced this week appointment of John McManus as director of social services. His responsibilities will include the unit's information and referral service, intake work for unit programs, and counseling of retarded people and their families. His office is at the unit's headquarters at 562 Boulevard Kenilworth.

McManus has worked for the Camden Unit, NJARC, for three years. He earned a BA degree at the University of Tampa, with a major in psychology and minors in history and English.

Kopecky is named to ad hoc group of purchasing agents

FRANCIS A. KOPECKY

Freeholder Donald G. Dumme, chairman of the Department of Purchases of the Union County Board of Freeholders, announced at a meeting of the freeholders that Francis A. Kopecky of Union, county purchasing agent, has been named a member of the newly formed ad hoc committee of the New Jersey Association of Governmental Purchasing Agents.

"The committee will study the pros and cons of cooperative purchasing on a voluntary basis between various levels of government and will outline ways suited to implementing this kind of joint venture without contravening either the letter or spirit of the law," Dumme said.

The committee will submit a report of its findings together with conclusions and recommendations to the New Jersey League of Municipalities at its annual convention in Atlantic City in November.

Kopecky was appointed purchasing agent in January after 31 years as a professional executive of the Boy Scouts of America. A native of Elizabeth, he was the first assistant scout executive of the Union Council. He served the Greater New York Council which covers the five boroughs, four 26 years, lastly as assistant director of finance services charged with raising the funds toward meeting an annual budget of $1,750,000.

Kopecky, who lives at 1345 Vauxhall rd., Union, became the Republican municipal chairman in 1962. He is chairman of the 1969 Union Cancer Crusade and is also active in the Lions International and a 32-degree Mason in the Scottish Rite, Jersey City Consistory. He is a member of the township Board of Assessors, his children attend the Thomas Jefferson High School, Elizabeth, and attended Union College, Granford, and New York University.

Rev. Loreti named county CYO chief, new aide appointed

The Rev. Joseph F. Loreti, assistant pastor of the Church of the Assumption, Roselle Park, has assumed duties as director of the Union County CYO. Father Loreti, former assistant director, succeeds Rev. Roland W. Muenzen, who held the post for 16 years. Father Muenzen is administrator of St. Patrick's Church, Elizabeth.

In other changes, Raymond S. Molnar, CYO program director since 1953, has been assigned to the archdiocesan CYO office in Newark. He has been succeeded by Norbert G. Van Bergen, his former assistant.

Father Loreti, who has been assigned to the Roselle Park church since 1967, has been active in youth work many years. He played basketball, baseball, softball and football while in school, and was an instructor at the Hudson County CYO day camp while a student at the Immaculate Conception Seminary, Darlington.

Father Loreti, who will carry on his new duties in addition to assignments in his parish, has an office at the Community Service Center, 552 Bayway, Elizabeth.

Warinanco Skating Center puts it on ice starting Oct. 10

The Warinanco Park Ice Skating Center, Roselle-Elizabeth, will open for the 1969-70 season Friday, Oct. 10, at 6:30 p.m. It was announced this week by The Union County-Park Commission.

The ice skating center, with its own ice-making equipment, will enable skating enthusiasts to enjoy their favorite pastime without waiting for the necessary ice to form on the lakes, streams, and ponds throughout The Union County Park System.

With the opening of the center, skating will be available for about 165 days to the end of March. Last year a roof was built over the skating area to enable many additional days of skating, eliminating inclement weather as a factor.

The center opened to the public in 1961 and during the past eight seasons has been used by 350,000 skaters.

The public building contains a warming room featuring an open-hearth fireplace, a snack bar, skate shop, and locker rooms. In addition to the general skating sessions, a complete instruction program is planned for adults and children with classes for Girl Scout merit badges and a hockey clinic. Skating parties are welcome. Contact the recreation department of the park commission for further information and special group rates. Skaters may rent ice skates at the center.

GENERAL SKATING SESSIONS will be held every day except Mondays from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

Connor rips GOP on consumer bills at Candidates Night

John T. Connor Jr., Democratic candidate for Union County assemblyman-at-large, speaking at Candidates Night at McManus Hall in Linden, called for passage of several pieces of consumer legislation. "The record of the Republican-controlled legislature clearly shows a lack of concern for consumer protection," he said.

Connor said that only one-tenth of the consumer legislation introduced into the legislature was passed. He described "some of the trouble spots."

"Right now in New Jersey a consumer can be forced to pay twice for the same work and to pay for work not done. For instance, the present mechanic's lien law allows a supplier or subcontractor to place a lien against a home even when it can be proven that the contractor himself was paid in full for the work. A bill that would have cured this obvious injustice never cleared the legislative caucus."

"Another consumer complaint arises," Connor said, "when a consumer signs an installment contract for goods or services. The merchant sells the contract to a bank or finance company which makes collections even if the product is faulty or the services inadequate. Or one purchases the equivalent of having having secured the loan. Still the bank collected. The bill that would prevent this injustice lies in a Republican-controlled Senate committee."

CONNOR ARGUED that other bills which should receive immediate consideration would require the transparent packaging of fresh meat sold in retail stores and would outlaw unsolicited credit cards.

"Even when a firm violates laws already on the books," said Connor, "because of the leniency of present penalties, it may still make a sizable profit. Present law provides a $100 penalty for the first offense; $250 for subsequent offenses. Where profits of $1000 or more are involved, this is no deterrent. A bill which would have raised the allowable penalty never cleared the Republican Assembly caucus."

"In addition, a consumer who is sued on such contracts should be allowed to raise these issues in the same court. This right would be a most effective prevention of fraud or shoddiness."

FBI agent will speak at WAC-Vets meeting

Thomas W. Kitchens Jr., assistant special agent in charge of the Newark office of the FBI, will be the guest speaker next Thursday evening at a meeting of the Garden State Chapter 52, WAC-Veterans' Association.

The meeting will be held at the NEW Hall, South and Central avenues in Cranford. The public is invited.

Kitchens' topic will be "The General Activities and Responsibilities of the FBI." Kitchens served in the Marine Corps from 1943 to 1947 and received his Bachelor of Laws degree from Emory University Law School, Atlanta, in September, 1949. He entered the FBI in 1950.

Regional hopes to rebound Saturday after tough loss to New Providence

By ARNOLD GERST
After suffering a 19-12 setback to New Providence, the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School football team will meet Clark, N.J., Saturday at 2 p.m. in the first period on Allotco's. The Pioneers' quarterback, Frank Allotco, threw a 25-yard touchdown pass to Bill White for one score and ran for another in leading the New Providence attack.

Dayton fumble at the New Providence 23, Allotco ran to his own 38. The Springfield defense held for one down, but then John Cantano ran over the middle to the Springfield 34. New Providence got as far as the Bulldog 23 before Bob Vaughn pined Allotco for a three-yard loss. The Dayton secondary could not prevent Chris Berg from catching a pass on the eight, which eventually set up the first touchdown. Alan Lesewich then kicked the extra point to give the Pioneers a 7-0 lead.

Bulldog harriers remain unbeaten; run today

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School cross-country team continued to roll last week by defeating Millburn, Verona, Rahway and Roselle Park, by scores of 17-40, 20-37, 21-37, and 26-29.

On the following play from scrimmage, Janukowicz connected with Wolf on a screen pass and, with the aid of a tremendous block by Al Ramos, Wolf raced 67-yards for a score. With the extra point falling, the Bulldogs faced a 13-6 deficit at the half.

Today the Bulldogs will enter a triangular meet with Caldwell and New Providence at home, and another triangular meet against All-Johnson Regional of Clark and Edison Twp. is scheduled Tuesday in a road contest. Springfield's record is now a sparkling 4-0. Against Verona and Rahway both Norm Reinhardt and Marty Josephs broke the school cross-country record previously held by Ken Shatten with a time of 12:46 in 1967.

AS THE SECOND HALF began, it looked as if the Pioneers would score another touchdown but the Springfield defense toughened deep in its own territory. As Allotco tried back to pass on a third-down play, Bob Vaughn broke through the New Providence line and put great pressure on Allotco. In his haste, Allotco threw the ball right into the hands of Ed Grassie, who played an outstanding game.

Booters meet Caldwell in bid for fourth victory

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer team defeated Millburn, 2-1, and lost to Verona, 4-0, last week. Because of a forfeit by Morris Hills in the season opener, Dayton's record now stands at 3-1. The Bulldogs will meet Caldwell today, on the road, and Madison at home at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Woodcock season opens on Saturday

Woodcock hunting in New Jersey will open at sunrise Saturday. A special stamp is required in addition to a 1969 New Jersey hunting license during the first portion of the woodcock season, which closes at sunset Nov. 6.

Black bear, deer fair game, Oct. 4

New Jersey bow and arrow enthusiasts will take to the woods Saturday in quest of whitetail deer. Black bear, although limited in number, will also be fair game, according to Lester G. MacNamara, director of the state Conservation and Economic Development Department's Division of Fish and Game.

PLAYTIME — A staff member of the Union County Psychiatric Clinic, a United Fund agency, and a youngster acting as a patient depict a typical scene at the clinic, where psychiatric specialists try to discover the cause of a patient's emotional disturbance. Playing with toys, as in this scene, gets the staff-member and patient better acquainted and also gives an insight into the child's interests and abilities. Weekly interview sessions with the patients and their families are important in the clinic's treatment program. Community funds throughout the county, including the Eastern Union County United Fund, contribute to the support of the non-profit clinic.

County traffic deaths cut in half so far this year

Union County has cut its traffic fatalities to half this year as compared with the first nine months of 1968, according to a N.J. State Safety Council report.

Last year, traffic claimed 60 lives; this year, the total is 30.

A breakdown of the fatal traffic accidents in the county this year shows that 20 pedestrians, 10 females, have been killed. Nine were drivers.

More than 200 passengers and pedestrians were killed in a study of the location frequency of accidents; it was found that 11 persons were killed on state highways, nine on county roads and 10 on municipal streets.

More persons were killed in accidents at night. They totaled 20 while 10 were killed during daylight hours.

A look at the classification of accidents according to types reveals that 17 persons were killed in pedestrian accidents, four in single vehicle accidents and nine in multiple vehicle accidents.

Heart Association announces plans for Oct. 11 dinner

The Union County Heart Association will hold its 20th annual dinner Saturday, Oct. 11, at the Town and Campus Club in Elizabeth.

The highlight of the evening will be the crowning of two-year-old Leonard Mackie of Union as "Little Mr. Heart Fund, 1970." The youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mackie, successfully underwent surgery last summer to repair a congenital heart defect.

Leonard's 15-year-old stepbrother Aider of Roselle Park as the Heart Fund's poster child for the coming year. The two-year-old will take an active part in the Heart Association's February fund drive.

The township of Union recorded four deaths, three of which were pedestrians. Linden shows a record of three deaths with two pedestrian fatalities.

Roselle has recorded two traffic deaths, also including one pedestrian.

When compared on a state level, Union County ranks fifth in population in the 21 counties, with a population of 389,978, but only 15th on the "Traffic Fatality Record by Counties." Bergen County ranks first with the greatest number of fatalities.

"Traffic fatalities in the state have decreased but not as sharply as in Union County. The total number of fatalities is 859 persons as opposed to 275 in 1968, a reduction of 116 or 11.9 percent."

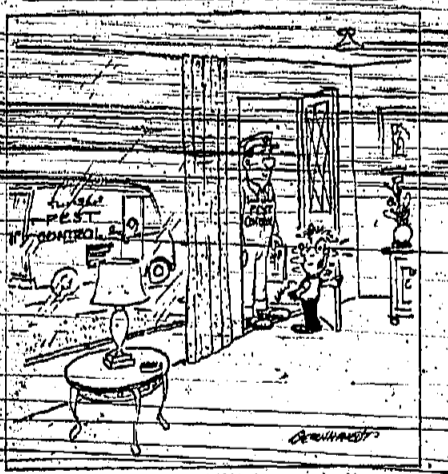

The township of Union recorded four deaths, three of which were pedestrians. Linden shows a record of three deaths with two pedestrian fatalities.

The Union County Heart Association will honor the 21 local chairmen of the drive that raised a record $98,805 during the February fund drive. State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldi, chairman of the county effort, will introduce the various chairmen and cite them for their efforts. Special awards will be presented to Crawford for exceeding its goal by the largest amount and Linden for consistently increasing its collections over the past 10 years.

Many small home fires could be controlled and damage could be held to a minimum if fire extinguishers were standard equipment in all homes. But a fire extinguisher can be of little value unless each member of the family old enough to operate it knows how.

"Too many homeowners rely on fire extinguishers they don't know how to use or maintain," warns Don Costa, safety director of Allstate Insurance Companies.

Learn how to use extinguisher to halt small home fires

All too often people buy an extinguisher, set it in a corner and never read the instructions on the label," Costa says.

He offers these tips about fire extinguishers for homes or apartments:

- Buy only an extinguisher approved by an independent testing laboratory such as Underwriters' Laboratories. Extinguishers which have not passed the test of nationally recognized laboratories may prove to be ineffective.
- Select the proper type of extinguisher for the principal hazard being guarded.
- Know how to use the fire extinguisher.
- Follow the manufacturer's instructions for charging, maintaining and operating the extinguisher.
- Recharge an extinguisher after every use or replace it with a new one.
- Examine the extinguisher a few times a year to make sure it's in good operating condition.
- One last tip: If the blaze is too much for an extinguisher to handle, call the fire department immediately and get out of the house. Don't try to put out a fire that's going to take professionals to quench.

Women's unit at Green lane Y will offer diversified courses

A diversified series of courses is included in the fall brochure of the Women's Division of the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Green Lane Y Club. The courses cover such subjects as "The Image of the Jew in Literature," "Living with Art," "Sex in Jewish Life," "Exploring the World of Crafts," "Flower Beading for Beginners," "Flower Beading for Advanced Students," "Painting," "Yoga" and "Bridge."

Mrs. Seymour Lamberg is in charge of registration. The fees for non-members will be slightly higher than those of members. For detailed information the office (289-8112) may be called.

The daytime classes will begin Tuesday and Wednesday and continue through the fall and winter.

The "Sex in Jewish Life" program will be conducted by Dr. Werner Steinberg four Wednesday mornings and cover such subjects as "Talmudic attitudes toward sex and normal sex laws and prohibitions including birth control and miscegenation."

The course on exploration of crafts will be conducted ten Wednesday afternoons from 12:30 to 2:30, with Lisa Kessler as instructor. Mrs. William D. Lallo will be the yoga instructor for ten Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 2.

Nomi Stein will be the instructor in flower beading for beginners eight Wednesday afternoons from 12:30 to 2:30. She also will direct advanced students eight Wednesday mornings from 10 to 11:30.

A course in oil and watercolor will be directed ten Tuesday afternoons at 12:45 by Jeffrey Beardsall. Mary Lebau will conduct a class for beginners in bridge ten afternoons from 12:45 to 2:45 p.m. starting Wednesday.

For six Tuesday afternoons—Dr. Irving Buchen will conduct a course on "The Image of the Jew in Literature."

Thomas Brown Wilber will present a series of illustrated lectures on "Master Painters" for eight Wednesday mornings from 9:45 to 11:45. The series will study in depth the works of individual artists of various periods.

Army opportunity: enlist now, stay home for Yule holidays

This year will be no exception to the modern Army policy of offering young men the opportunity to enlist in the Army now and remain home until after the Christmas and New Year holidays.

Men who enlist under the Delayed Entry Program cannot be drafted and are not required to attend any organized military meetings before reporting for active duty, SSG Lewis Devlin, local Army recruiter, said this week.

"In some cases, it is possible to qualify for this program and stay home for the holidays, even if induction orders have been received," Sergeant Devlin added.

Under the Delayed Entry Program, young men are sworn into the Army Reserve in inactive status. When they report for active duty, within 30 to 120 days, they are discharged from the Reserve and enlisted in the Regular Army. The time spent in the Reserve is counted for purposes of promotion and pay and toward the total six year military obligation.

Sergeant Devlin also pointed out that young men who enlist now but go after the holidays, have the same opportunity to choose a job training course as those who leave immediately after they enlist. Participants who qualify for the Army Service School Enlistment Option can obtain valuable training toward future career goals while fulfilling their military obligation.

Complete details about the Delayed Entry Program, the Army Service School Enlistment Option, and other Army enlistment programs can be obtained from Sergeant Devlin who is located at 772 N. Broad St., Elizabeth, phone 352-1025 or 352-1354.

Park, Elizabeth, at 8:30 a.m. On Sunday, William Myles will lead a 10-mile hike in the area of Tuxedo, N.Y. For further information contact the recreation department of the park commission.
