Town Committee flood control report by next week

GOOD CITIZENS — Mrs. Jerry Rosen, left, of the Springfield League of Women Voters, helps local Girl Scouts distribute material publicizing the annual candidates' night to be held Wednesday at 8

Completion delayed by late changes Possible Regional plan could change proposal

By ABNER GOLD
The Township Committee expects to receive its consultant's formal flood control report this coming Tuesday, Mayor Phillip Del Vecchio disclosed at the governing body's meeting Tuesday night at Town Hall.
He said that the report, which had been scheduled for submission this past week, had been held up to provide for two items. The first is a change to provide better drainage from the Garden oval area into Van Winkle's Creek.
The second reason, Del Vecchio added, is to "integrate our plans with a possible plan being considered by the Regional High School District Board of Education." He provided no further information on what that plan might be.
The mayor noted that the Planning Board last week had turned down a permit for construction of homes on a tract between Tooker Avenue and Bryant Creek. He said that the board rejected the proposal because the homes would have been located on a flood plain, an area inundated in recent local floods. (See article on Page 12.)
The Township Committee, following the mayor's statement, then voted formal approval of the new official flood plain map of the township. Del Vecchio said that the map is now available for study in Town Hall by anyone planning to build in Springfield in the future.
The full flood control plan, the mayor went on to say, will be presented to the Township Committee for its study on Tuesday, and that the entire plan will be presented at the next Township Committee meeting on Oct. 24.

Stokes claims township paid 'windfall' land price

A piece of property was bought by the Republican-dominated Township Committee some 22 months ago from one of its appointees at a price "far in excess of its apparent value," Nat Stokes, Democratic candidate for the Township Committee, charged this week.
Stokes made his charge as he reported to the voters on an investigation he has been conducting into the records of real estate transactions between the governing body and Charles Remlinger, Remlinger was a Republican member of the Township Committee in the 1950s, and he has been a member of the Board of Tax Assessors since 1964.
The Democratic nominee presented documented evidence to the Leader in support of his charges that Remlinger had realized a "windfall profit" which Stokes said was approximately $32,500.
Stokes went on to say:
"On Oct. 1, 1968, the Township of Springfield paid Charles Remlinger $45,500 for the piece of property at the corner of Mountain Avenue and N. Trivett Avenue where the Dairy Queen once stood.
"Three years before, Remlinger had bought this property for what appears from the documentary stamp on the deed to have been $13,000. The property was assessed for $8,500 (at 50 percent of true value). Remlinger's profit was approximately $32,500.
"A more recent purchase by Remlinger bought the property; the Springfield Township Committee sought and received an appraisal estimating that the property was worth $25,000."
Stokes said that the town obtained another appraisal in 1967 for $37,500. The actual purchase of the property took place in October.

Ruby Scholarship receives donations for fund campaign

Robert Halsey, chairman of the Edward J. Ruby Scholarship fund drive, announced this week that several contributions have already been received by members of his committee. The scholarship fund drive is being coordinated with the testimonial dinner being given on Wednesday evening, Oct. 23, in honor of Ruby who has retired as director of the Springfield Recreation Department.
"The goal of our committee," Halsey said, "is to raise $2,000 or more so that a scholarship can be established that will assist future graduates of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School as they move on to college. It is our plan to form a non-profit, charitable corporation that will administer the scholarship fund."
Halsey said that the goal is to provide one or more scholarships each year to Dayton graduates selected by the school authorities on the basis of academic merit, character and financial need. Ruby girls and boys will be eligible for the fund.

Mayor lauds township for its 'many attributes'

There are many attributes that distinguish one town from another, and when you can successfully combine several of these factors as we have done in Springfield, you come up with an outstanding community," Mayor Phillip Del Vecchio told an audience at Republican campaign headquarters on Sunday evening. Del Vecchio is seeking another term on the Township Committee.
"As a member of this Township Committee, I have taken much personal pride in being a part of what has made Springfield the great town that it is, a town that is rated No. 1 in desirability by people looking for a home in which to relocate their family."
"Although there is beauty in a name, the value and the desire to be a part of a community is what has attracted many of you people to our town, and if I am re-elected on Nov. 4, I can assure you that we will build for the future based on the planning and accomplishments of the past," Del Vecchio stated.
"It is hard to point to any one particular feature and say this is what makes Springfield a fine community to live, when you stop to think at what is being offered in our recreation program, from the municipal pool to the diversified cultural program that encompasses all age groups, to the development of the Sarah Bailey Civic Center with the tremendous assistance of our 'Teet' Council."
"Or it could be the warmth that is generated by our Senior Citizens at their meetings and during their many craft programs. All of these things are part of what makes Springfield."

'Mail Call' list starts Oct. 23

"Operation Mail Call" published each year for the Christmas season, will begin in this newspaper next week, the issue of Oct. 28.
"Mail Call" lists the names and addresses of servicemen stationed far from home so that friends can send them greetings for the holiday season.
Relatives and friends of any serviceman away from home this year may send his name and complete address to "Operation Mail Call" in care of this newspaper.

Bloodmobile visit scheduled for St. James by Red Cross

Plans for the forthcoming Red Cross Bloodmobile visit to Springfield are well under way. It will take place on Saturday, Oct. 25, from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at St. James Church, 5 Springfield Avenue.
The purpose of the blood program is to maintain all times. Large monetary amounts and blood donations. By donating blood through the program, groups and individuals can save themselves of normal blood needs in advance. The blood they donate is credited to them, and the credit is good for one year anywhere in the USA, Canada, Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands. Donors and group members are also entitled to free blood derivatives, such as gamma globulin for measles and hepatitis prevention. Although blood credits are good for one year, and blood components are usable for a longer time, the whole fresh blood used in transfusions is good for only three weeks, and therefore needs constant replenishing.
Prospective donors must be between 18 and 61 (a new higher age), in good health and weigh more than 110 pounds. Persons between 18-21, not married or in the Armed Forces must have consent of a parent or guardian. Women who have been pregnant within the past 12 months must postpone donations.
The procedure for giving blood is simple and

Players prepare a musical revue

The Springfield Community Players is rehearsing a musical revue to be presented on the stage of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Dec. 11, 12 and 13. The production, which includes song, dance, comedy and drama, will include some 75 Springfield residents, some of whom are teenagers.
The group's president, Gerald Cohen, announced at the last rehearsal that there are openings for some teenagers. "There is some special material written for teens, he said, and the numbers could use some more teenage boys who can sing or dance. He stressed that they would be group numbers and not solos, "so no one need be afraid to show up any Tuesday or Thursday at the Sarah Bailey Civic Center."
Any boy interested is asked to see Messrs. Manfred Orbach, Cohen also announced that a special committee is now functioning to hire a director for a drama to be presented in February.

Program Sunday to conclude series on teen drug abuse

Mrs. Bella Wheeler of Wakefield, Mass., who has gained national attention for starting a New England town's battle against teenage drug abuse, will speak at a meeting this Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at the Florence Gaudin School on Springfield Avenue, Springfield.
The meeting, sponsored by ALERT of Springfield, is open to the public. Mrs. Wheeler's talk is the final program in ALERT's Drug Abuse Week.
Bernard F. Fiddis and Wally Kleitman, co-chairmen of the series of events aimed at the prevention of drug abuse through community involvement and education, extended an open invitation to interested persons to hear Mrs. Wheeler. They stated:
"A psychiatric social worker and adjustment counselor at Wakefield High School, Mrs. Wheeler helped launch Wakefield's battle against teenage drug abuse."
"A volunteer coalition of Wakefield citizens, including housewives, mothers, teachers, city officials and businessmen, have hammered out an impressive array of anti-drug projects, including a beefed-up school curriculum, drug detection instruction to parents and a 'hot line' for addicts in distress."
"Because surrounding communities are having the same problem as Springfield, we know that interested citizens would want to hear Mrs. Wheeler. The problem of drug abuse among teenagers must be met, Wakefield, Mass., is an excellent example of what one town has done to meet this tragedy head-on."
ALERT of Springfield was formed last May following a day-long educational program on drug abuse for students and parents at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School sponsored by the Union County Regional High School District Board of Education.

STORM CENTER — Nat Stokes, Democratic candidate for Township Committee, stands on land at Mountain Avenue and N. Trivett Avenue purchased by the township for municipal use. The purchase of the land has been questioned by the Democrats.

Lions Club given a report on Tokyo by Sobel, aides

Bernard Sobel, governor of District 16E of the International Association of Lions Clubs, recently visited the Springfield Lions Club. Sobel was accompanied by his cabinet secretary-treasurer Anthony Olan and deputy governor of Region 3, A. V. Del Vecchio of Springfield.

Sobel reported on the results of the international convention held last July in Tokyo, Japan. He also informed the Lions members of the objectives of his administration in 1969-1970.

Sobel stated that he desired a 10-percent increase in membership, a minimum of four new clubs to be established in District 16E and the establishment of six Leo Clubs consisting of young men and women. He also said that the districts of New Jersey would donate an electronic microscope, valued at $50,000 to the New Jersey College of Medicine, and that all clubs were expected to support this project.

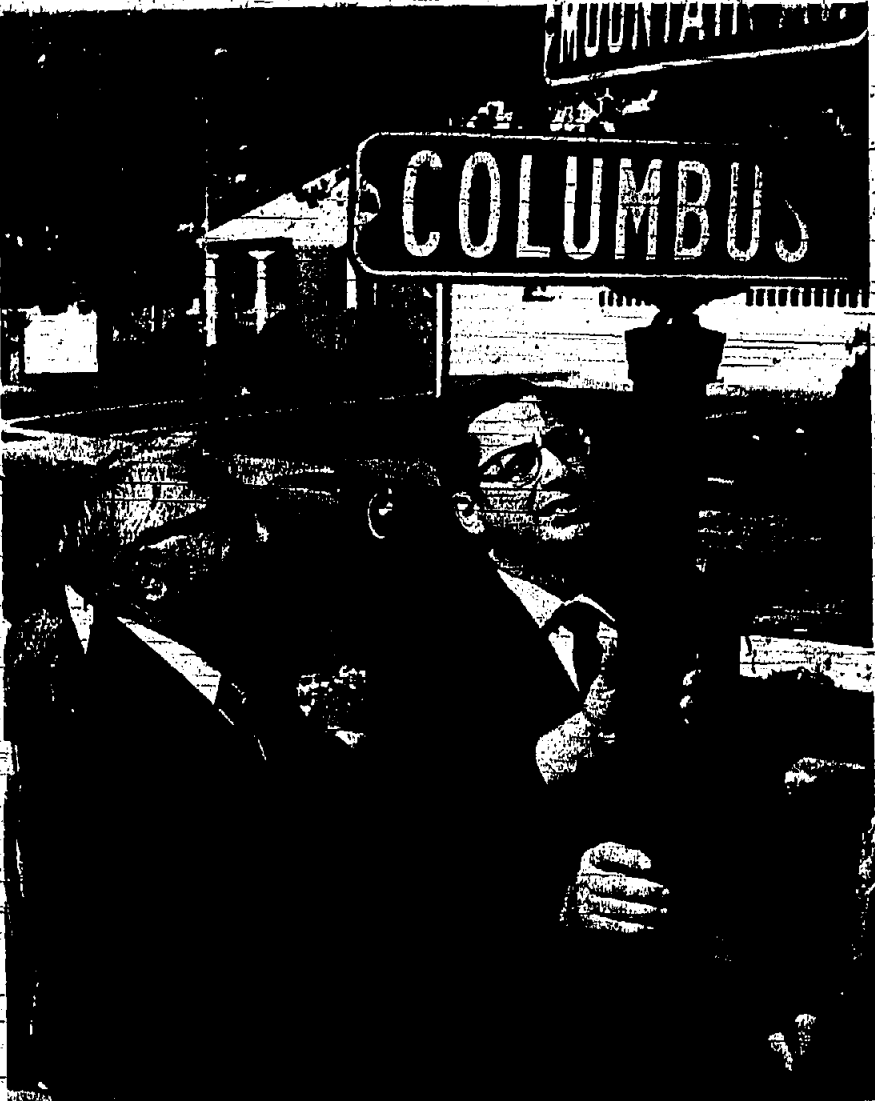

As part of the youth program of Lions Clubs, District 16E is contributing to the education of an exchange student from India who is attending Rutgers University.

The district governor, during his year of service, is required to visit each Lions Club in District 16E. There are 65 clubs in the district, which includes Essex, Union, Morris and Warren counties.

Food Service Society will meet on Tuesday

A general meeting of the New Jersey Chapter of the Hospital, Institution and Educational Food Service Society will be held in the employees-canteen of the Park Ambrey General Hospital, 530 New Brunswick ave., Park Ambrey, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Miss Margaret Ornati, in-service training dietitian at Park Ambrey General, will speak on "In-Service Training Aids."

SIGN OF THE TIMES—Vincent Scaleri, right, president of the Springfield Chapter of United Methodist Church, and Joe Di Palma, vice-president, put up a Columbus Square sign on the mall in front of the Municipal Building. The sign played a part in local observances of Columbus Day this past week.

Methodist church services will celebrate harvest festival

A harvest festival will be celebrated at Springfield United Methodist Church, Church Mall at Academy Green, this Sunday at all services. A long-standing tradition in rural areas in the United States and Europe, the harvest festival has its roots in the Jewish Sukkot feast described in the Book of Leviticus. Unlike the late national observance of Thanksgiving it is directly related to the harvest when there is an outpouring of gratitude for the fruits of man's labor.

Joseph Barner, chairman of ecumenical affairs for the local congregation, plans to display a model of the Sukkah or booth used in Judaism during the feast of Sukkot, and a description of the Sukkah is enclosed in the morning bulletin.

The day will begin with divine worship in the Trinity Chapel at 9:30 a.m., with Pastor James Dewart delivering the sermon about "God's Marvelous Ways." The Chapel and Sanctuary will be filled with fall leaves and flowers by Richard Walter and Emanuel Scheller.

At the same hour, the German worship service will be conducted by Emanuel Schwing, local preacher, whose sermon will be entitled "The Harvest Home." Church School also meets at 9:30 with the nursery through eighth grade in the Wesley House, the seventh and eighth grades on the third floor of the Church Annex and the Senior High in the Mundy Room. Coffee and lunch will be served at 10:30 by the Senior High in the Mundy Room, where there will be opportunity for fellowship.

A church nursery is provided during the service of divine worship and will care on the first floor of the Wesley House. A procession of a banner of praise, and the Wesley and Chancel choirs will open the service. Both choirs will render anthems including "All Things Bright and Beautiful" by the Wesley Choir.

William Roggelet will present an illustrated children's sermon related to the world of nature. Pastor Dewart's sermon will be entitled "God's Marvelous Ways."

The service will conclude with a symbolic litany of harvest beauty and gratitude with the offering at the altar of "God's Gifts to Man," followed by the harvest festival offering during which each member will present his personal gift at the altar.

The Wesleyan Service Guild will meet on Tuesday evening at 8, following the devotional service and business meeting. Mrs. Gene O'Connell will direct a ceramic workshop. Each person present will have the opportunity of making a ceramic vase or candlestick.

Artist wins first prize
Bea Scagull of Springfield won first prize in the amateur oil category at the recent 40th annual Art Fair held in South Orange. The festival, sponsored by the Art Gallery of South Orange and Maplewood, represented one of the largest outdoor art events in the state. Mrs. Scagull's work was entitled "Prince Street."

UN Day program by Woman's Club

Mrs. Arthur Robinson of 40-A Linden ave., the Springfield Woman's Club chairman, announced that the club will commemorate the United Nations Day, this week, with a program at Springfield, Oct. 22, at 8 p.m. at the Municipal Building. The program will feature an address by Dr. John Schemis, a professor at Newark State College. There will be a discussion period, followed by refreshments. The program is open to the public.

The Springfield Woman's Club was represented by its members at the annual meeting of the Seventh District fall conference, 1968 Monday at the Cobblestones, in West Caldwell.

The theme of the Conference was "Accent on Education, Service and Understanding." One of the highlights of the conference was an address by Mrs. Edward Preston entitled "The Power of the Family."

Air Force awards 2 combat medals to Capt. Wuestman

GWINN, Mich.—U.S. Air Force Captain Joseph W. Wuestman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Wuestman of 80-D Troyer, Springfield, N.J., has been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal for aerial achievement in Southeast Asia.

Capt. Wuestman earned the medals for his performance as a forward air controller during his tour of duty at Udon Royal Thai Air Base, Thailand. He was cited for his outstanding airmanship and courage on 122 successful and important missions under hazardous conditions.

He was decorated during ceremonies at K.I. Sawyer AFB, where he is now serving as a B-52 Stratofortress strategic bomber pilot with the 644th Bomb Squadron, a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

The captain, a 1960 graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, received his B.S. degree in education from the University of North Carolina, S.C., and was commissioned there through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

His wife, Judith, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Vondera of 317 Roosevelt lane, Kenilworth.

TO A QUEEN'S TASTE—Holly Quinlan, left, and her troop members enjoyed the spirit that Springfield Girl Scouts showed at their cookout Saturday at Nomahegan Park, Cranford.

Springfield Girl Scouts hold cookout at Nomahegan Park

Springfield Girl Scouts had a cookout Saturday at Nomahegan Park, Cranford. Troops from the James Caldwell, Raymond Chisholm, Edward Walton, Thelma Sandmeier and Florence Gaudineer schools participated. Each troop demonstrated various methods of outdoor cooking.

made pizza pies on reflector ovens. Junior Troop 11, with their leaders, Mrs. Walter Sutton and Mrs. Barbara Nagel, made pizzas with onions and peppers cooked in foil. Junior Troop 756 and their leaders, Mrs. Michael Herzlinger, Mrs. Archie Weiss, Mrs. Dave Lipschultz, and Mrs. Raymond Miles, cooked in different patrols. One used wagabond ovens; another made pioneer drumsticks and the third demonstrated mess-kit cooking.

Dr. Davis meeting with student press

A series of press conferences with the editors of the four student newspapers in the Union County Regional High School District has been instituted by Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent of schools.

Junior Troop 169 and their leaders, Nancy Morris, Mrs. Ralph DeFino and Mrs. Joseph Reo, did foil cooking. Junior Troop 280, with leaders Mrs. Daniel Duffy, Mrs. Randolph Erget and Mrs. Francis Lawrence, made shishkabob. Junior Troop 755, with Mrs. Paul Miller and Mrs. James Schroeder, made hot dogs in crust on a stick.

Designed to step up the line of communication with students, the sessions will be held periodically throughout the school year, Dr. Davis said.

Brookdale Troop 840, together with leaders Mrs. Joan Scallo and Mrs. Joseph Vasselli, cooked macaroni and beef. Mrs. William Schmidt's Brownie Troop 753 cooked spaghetti. Mrs. Lionel Moring and Mrs. Harry Clunie's Brownie Troop 869 cooked American chop suey.

The first press conference was attended by the student editors and their faculty advisors. Dr. Davis explained the need for a school expansion program in the district and then answered questions pertaining to the expansion program and other matters of student interest.

Mrs. Paul Kappel, Mrs. Judy Freund and Mrs. Raymond Rieger, with Brownie Troop 37, cooked hunter's stew. Mrs. Vincent Postman and Mrs. Richard Wainwright's Brownie Troop made Hungarian hot pot.

"Because of the success of this first news conference, others will be scheduled. It is important that more lines of communication be opened with the students, and one of the ways is through the school newspaper," Dr. Davis said.

In giving service to their community, the Springfield Girl Scouts have finished cleaning their centers-in-taxon in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce. The scouts are also cooperating with the Senior Citizens Club by saving nylon for them.

The Regions District is comprised of Berkeley Heights, Clark, Cranford, Kenilworth, Mountaintop and Springfield, and operates four high schools.

Publicity chairman are urged to observe the Friday deadline for other than spot news. Include your name, address and phone number.

But not anymore.

Sometimes, the name you grew up with just doesn't fit the grown up you. We understand. We had the same problem. In our infancy, folks knew us as the First State Bank of Union. And we wore the name proudly during 16 years of service to the people and businessmen of Union and its environs.

But that honored name just doesn't fit us anymore. Because our market areas extend far beyond Union. Soon we will have offices in Clark, Middlesex and New Providence. And our services have been expanded to provide everything you need, including the popular MasterCard, in the very near future.

So we changed our name to First New Jersey Bank. A name that reflects the wider area we serve. And our commitment to putting the interests of you — our customers — first.

Senator WILLIAMS Reports

ON WORK IN PROGRESS
 Since this is my first report following the summer recess of the Senate, I think it would be appropriate to go back a bit and catch up on the developments that have made news- important news — for New Jersey and the nation. There has been a couple of loose talk- ing about a "do-nothing" Congress, and recently about a "do-nothing" Senator, and the majority of his colleagues, the burden seats with the Administration. Messages and proposals have been painfully slow in coming from the President to the Congress. In spite of this trickle, though, things have been hap- pening.

I was gratified when the Congress approved my bill extending tough safety standards to con- struction workers on government projects. President Nixon signed the Construction Safety Bill on August 22, and when he did, he capped off a long campaign to make it safe to go to work in the construction trades. It never made sense to me that workers on Government- assisted projects should not be covered by Government-backed safety standards. Now they are, and in the weeks ahead we'll work on a comprehensive Occupational Health and Safety Bill to guarantee all workers that same kind of safety and security.

ON SEPT. 17, PRESIDENT NIXON signed the Older Americans Act Amendments, and again, a personal campaign of mine was re- warded. The Amendments include provision for a program of modest subsidies for volunteer work by the elderly in their own communities. For five years I have argued that older Ameri- cans are still productive Americans and are eager to serve their neighbors in a variety of ways. Now, thanks to the legislation which we enacted, the elderly will be able to draw travel expenses and out-of-pocket costs re- lated to volunteer work with young children in foster homes and institutions. In my view, there can be no better way to tap the wisdom and compassion of the elderly, while at the same time providing much-needed community service.

During the summer recess, the Special Committee on Aging held hearings in Bergen and Cape May Counties to sharpen our aware- ness of the economic crisis that faces many retirees and elderly New Jerseyans. We took testimony from private citizens, and others. What we found was simply this: there are large numbers of older people living at or near the poverty level — and there are a signifi- cant number of aged poor who thought they had planned and saved for retirement. Poverty is a stalking demon, and many of our witnesses on you — small-subsidy savings, pensions, Social Security and the rest are overwhelmed by rising costs and a widening gap between retirement income and retirement needs.

During the next several months, I will use the information I gathered in New Jersey to press for meaningful changes in our systems of retirement assistance. For starters, I will urge a much greater increase in Social Security than President Nixon's proposed 10 percent.

I also held a one-day hearing at New Brus- wick on New Jersey's education needs, and the problems the state would face if the Nixon Ad- ministration's education cuts were allowed to stand. Several of the state's leading education spokesmen told me that without full funding of education programs, the state faces a drastic reduction in education services and activities. New Jersey simply cannot afford to backslide in education, and I told the witnesses at the Afternoon organ recital set at 1st Presbyterian Church

An organ recital featuring the Rev. J. Richard Szeremany, will be held at the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield on Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Church Sanctuary. The recital will provide the community with the opportunity to observe the full range and harmony of the church's custom-designed pipe organ built for the church and installed by the M. P. Moller Organ Company of Hagerstown, Md. Arrangements for the concert have been made by the church organist, Mrs. Elsie Brooks, and the director of music, John H. Bunnell.

Apartment tenant organization plans parley with mayor
 The Mountainview Gardens Tenants Association, having completed a membership drive, has scheduled a meeting with Springfield Mayor Philip Del Vecchio on Monday at 8 p.m. to discuss the problems of the apartments' dwell- ers.

The meeting will be held in the Springfield Library, and is open to all the tenants of the Mountainview Gardens as well as other apart- ment tenants in Springfield who are interested in the topic of landlord-tenant relationships. The Mountainview Gardens Tenants Association, which has been in existence for a little more than one month, was formed because of a general dissatisfaction with the management according to association members, after indi- vidual efforts to improve the situation had failed.

Pedestrian injured Tuesday morning on Baltusrol ave.

A pedestrian, Warren W. Halsey, 76, of 72 Dehnam rd., Springfield, was struck Tuesday morning by a car driven by William T. George of 212 Baltusrol ave., Springfield. According to Springfield police, Halsey was taken to Over- look Hospital, Summit by George. Hospital officials said that Halsey was treated for a contusion of the elbow and later released.

A three-car collision took place on Wabeno avenue according to local police, on Monday when a car driven by John J. Vozary, 64, of N. Plainfield struck a vehicle operated by Henry J. Fox of 1088 Wabeno ave., Springfield. Fox's car then struck a car driven by Frank G. Whittle, 77, of N. Plainfield.

Vozary asserted that the accident occurred when he attempted to avoid hitting a young boy who had run into the street to retrieve a ball. He stated that he hit Fox's car, which then hit Whittle's.

Jewelers' father dies after illness

Funeral services were held last Friday for Eugene Braunschweiger, father of Herbert and William Braunschweiger, proprietors of Callick Jewelers, 241 Morris ave., Springfield. The funeral took place at the Grounny Funeral Home in Hillside, followed by interment at the Hollywood Memorial Park.

Mr. Braunschweiger died last Tuesday at the age of 72, after a long illness. He was born in the Black Forest in Germany. During World War I, he served in the German army and was awarded an Iron Cross medal for gallantry in action.

In 1925, Mr. Braunschweiger came to the U.S. and lived most of his life thereafter in Hillside. He worked for Michael Kohn Jewelers, Elmhurst, for 16 years before joining his brother in founding the Braunschweiger Bros. Jewelers in 1940 in Newark.

Mr. Braunschweiger retired in 1962. He is survived by his wife, Frieda Schindler Braun- schweiger; three sons, Eugene, Herbert and William; a brother Robert, of Morristown; three sisters, Mrs. Eugene Hauser of Union, Mrs. Phillip Georl of Hillside and Mrs. Louise Dammheim of Hillside, and seven grand- children.

DOUGLAS MOTORS of 430 Morris ave., Summit, offers the full line of 1970 Volkswagens, which go on public sale today. Included in the new models is the fastback sedan, which uses a computerized fuel injection engine for instant starting and smoother acceleration in almost any weather condition, according to Peter T. Liebman, Douglas president. A restyled front end adds more than four inches in length and 25 percent to the luggage compartment in the new fastback models.

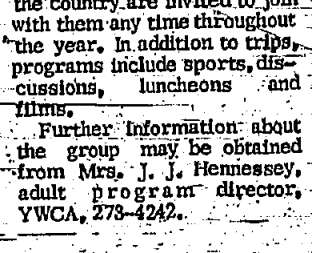

YWCA club plans tour

Philadelphia will be the destination for the Summit YWCA's International Club next Thursday, Oct. 23. They will leave by chartered bus from the YWCA at 9 a.m., to return at approximately 6 p.m. The International Club will be joined by exchange nurses from Overlook Hospital for the trip.

The joint to Philadelphia will give the young women who are members of the club and who hail from countries around the world historical background on their new coun- try's beginnings as they visit the Liberty Bell, Congress- ional Hall, the Betsy Ross House and tour the Franklin Institute.

The International Club, which was sponsored by the YWCA five years ago because of the need for young women from other lands to meet with others of similar experience, meets on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. Newcomers to the area or to the country are invited to join with them any time throughout the year. In addition to trips, programs include sports, dis- cussions, luncheons and films.

Sisterhood plans art auction, adult education series

The Sisterhood of Temple Beth Ahm, Temple drive and Balmoral way, Springfield, will hold an art auction in the social hall on Sunday evening...

The auction will be conducted by Howard Mann of the Art Center, Lambertville. Many noted artists will be represented.

Mrs. Benny Wildman and Mrs. Milton Wildman are co-chairmen. Ticket chairmen are Mrs. Al Erman, 376-3434, and Mrs. David Sanyour, 376-5770.

THE SISTERHOOD - this week also invited the public to attend its adult education lecture series. The first meeting of the "coffee and culture" group will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 22, at 12:45 p.m. in the youth lounge of Temple Beth Ahm.

Rabbi Israel Dresner of Temple Shalom, Springfield, will speak on Israel. A discussion period will follow his talk.

Overlook Hospital offers free Pap test for local women

As part of its community service and preventive health program, Overlook Hospital is offering a free Pap Test Day on Tuesday, Oct. 28, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. for all interested women in the Overlook area.

This mass screening for cervical cancer is sponsored by the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society, and a number of other area hospitals are participating.

Thousands of women have been saved from early death and long illness caused by cancer through the simple Pap test, which can be performed in just a few minutes.

No appointment need be made. The tests will be done on a simple walk-in basis. Overlook's intern resident and staff will perform the tests, supervised by a physician from the department of obstetrics and gynecology.

Dayton seniors take to road for driver education course

A group of 42 senior boys and girls will complete the first section of behind-the-wheel driver education course at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield tomorrow, according to John M. Brown, coordinator of health, physical and driver education.

Brown said: "In addition to students' learning the fundamentals of starting, stopping, steering, backing up, right turns, left turns, three-point turns, parallel parking, emphasis is placed on defensive driving."

A great deal of stress is placed on developing the proper attitude toward driving and also on traffic rules and regulations. Every beginning driver is impressed with the fact that laws are passed to protect the driver and not to hinder him.

The Dayton Regional behind-the-wheel program began about 1953. Every junior and senior boy or girl who is 16 1/2 or older is eligible to take this course, provided he or she has passed the classroom phase of driver education which is given in the junior year from September to November.

A dual-control Ford station wagon and Dodge Coronet with automatic shift are used by instructors to take these students each on the road every 47-minute period, for a total of 42. Every six weeks a new section of juniors and seniors is booked for the cars so that a total of 252 students will have completed the course by the end of the year.

In addition, students can also schedule driver education during the summer school sessions. The first section ends tomorrow, social section, Dec. 5; third section, Jan. 30; fourth section, March 13; fifth section, May 1; and sixth and last section for the year, June 12.

At the completion of the six-week training course, each student is given a certificate of completion, which many insurance companies honor by giving the beginning driver a discount on automobile insurance premiums.

The list of instructors and the 42 seniors on automatic shift are used by instructors to take these students each on the road every 47-minute period, for a total of 42.

Water Conservation bond issue

Editor's note: This is the final article in a series of three reports prepared as a public service by the League of Women Voters of New Jersey on the water problems in the state with special emphasis on the issues that will face the voters on the water-conservation bond issue in November.

An adequate supply of water is essential to the social and economic structure of the state. In fact, water is considered the most essential element to life. Yet, it is completely taken for granted by most people.

Experts warn that a serious water problem does exist in New Jersey. While the state's source of supply is adequate, storage facilities are not adequate to store an adequate amount of water available for dry periods and for future use, planning and development must begin now before it is too late.

The water needs in 20 years will be 2.3 times what they are now in order to satisfy the expected 50 percent increase in population and industry. Irreplaceable reservoirs are being lost by salt water encroachment.

The Department of Conservation and Economic Development has stated that $49,350,000 is needed now for the acquisition and protection of the sites and $275,900,000 for the construction of storage facilities.

In a related problem, the state is losing its battle against increasing water pollution. Adequate funds have not been available to build the needed treatment plants to handle the volume of wastes being generated by the increasing residential and industrial population.

Appropriations of federal funds have fallen far short of the amounts required and the state has not stepped in to fill the deficit. The Department of Treasury states that $722 million is needed now to make the state eligible for full Federal participation and to begin to stem the tide of pollution before it becomes even more critical.

The Water Conservation Bond Issue Referendum, if passed by the New Jersey voters in November, will provide the money needed for the purpose of researching, planning, acquiring, developing, constructing, and maintaining water supply and waste treatment facilities.

"The League of Women Voters of New Jersey after studying the subject of water resources for 13 years, feels that it is vital to the well being of the state that we vote 'yes' on the water referendum," according to Mrs. Robert Klein, state president, who adds, "The water needs of this state have been pushed aside too long. It is time to act. It simply is not good business to delay solutions to recognized problems until they become a crisis."

OBVIOUSLY NO ONE KNOWS when this may happen. But it's becoming increasingly apparent that it will happen. And this is where anticipation comes in: the effects on equity markets of such a development would be dramatic. And the psychological impact in terms of investor confidence should be immediate.

Therefore, it's necessary that we anticipate. Within this context there are certain areas which I believe offer attractive investment opportunities. First - utility stocks. With an escalation in troop withdrawals from Vietnam, investors should expect declines in spending for the Vietnam war. This could be the most dramatic government development with respect to reducing inflationary pressures (the beginning of this spending upsurge in 1965 actually provided the impetus for the subsequent buildup of inflationary pressures).

Thus, a reduction in inflation would reduce the need for further government intervention. It would buttress the President's case for his restriction on aid to the military side - would provide the opportunity for the FRB's easing of credit policy.

For a list of retail stocks that appear attractive, write to Arthur S. Pollack in care of this newspaper; Arthur Pollack is a stockbroker at Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

Survey indicates reservoirs of oil

A geophysical survey conducted in the east China Sea and the Yellow Sea last year have indicated that the shallow sea floor between Japan and Taiwan may contain one of the most prolific oil reservoirs in the world, comparing favorably with the Persian Gulf.

A committee of the UN Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East (ECAFE) has been studying the results of the survey. (UNESCO FEATURES)

Writers to be honored Chosen by English teachers

The New Jersey Association of Teachers of English will honor 111 New Jersey writers at its 10th annual New Jersey Authors Awards luncheon to be held at the Traymore Hotel, Atlantic City, Friday, Nov. 7.

Dr. Herman A. Berrin, professor of English at Newark College of Engineering and chairman of the authors award committee, announced the names of those to be cited, noting that this year's 10th anniversary occasion will honor the largest number of local writers. In honor of the occasion five special citations will be awarded. Special recognition will go to Mrs. Harriet S. Adams of Maplewood.

Give 18-year-olds 'piece of the action', says NSC's Weiss

Speaking at a recent dinner given for honor students of the Field Services division of Newark State College, Union, Acting President Nathan Weiss indicated that "one of the imperatives of our time is to give the vote to our eighteen-year old citizens."

Dr. Weiss said "we must show our young adults an act of good faith and we must give them a piece of the action!"

Dr. Weiss, a former political science professor, went on to develop the idea that "the current alienation of our youth is directly related to the sense of powerlessness that most young people feel when trying to express their opinions in our society." Dr. Weiss went on to state that "only by allowing our young adults a share in the decision-making process can we hope to mitigate this sense of alienation."

Dr. Weiss noted that historical precedence and analysis supports the efforts of the Voting Age Coalition's drive to grant the eighteen year old voting power. He added that "the Reform Bill of 1833, the Reform Act of 1867 and the Suffrage struggles all had a symbolic and psychological effect on the country." He also indicated that "all the dire predictions that were made in opposition to every other young reform have all been proven false."

author of the "Nancy Drew" and "Bobsey Twins" series, and to Andrew Svenson of Bloomfield, author of "The Happy Hollisters" and "The Tollivers." Books by those two New Jersey writers have sold about 110 million copies throughout the world.

Anniversary citations will also go to three husband-wife writing teams of children's books. Among those to be honored will be Wendie and Harry Devlin of Mountaineer, who most recently have written "How Fletcher was Hatched" and "What Kind of a House is That?"; Mary Elting and Franklin Folsom of Roosevelt for "The Book for Teen-Age Chefs" and more than 100 other books; and Lee and Robert Wyndham, Morristown, for "Monty's the Mighty Cat" and the "Chinese Mother Goose Rhymes."

Among those New Jersey authors who will receive citations are such nationally acclaimed writers as J.C. Furnas, "The Americans," Eric Goldman, "The Tragedy of Lyndon B. Johnson," Carlos Baker, "Ernest-Henry Longway," Gay Talese, "The Kingdom and the Lady," Roderick Thorp, "The Day After Tomorrow," "The King's Depart," John O'Hara, "The O'Hara Generation," Ashley Montagu, "Sex, Man and Society," and Mario Pet, "The America We Lost."

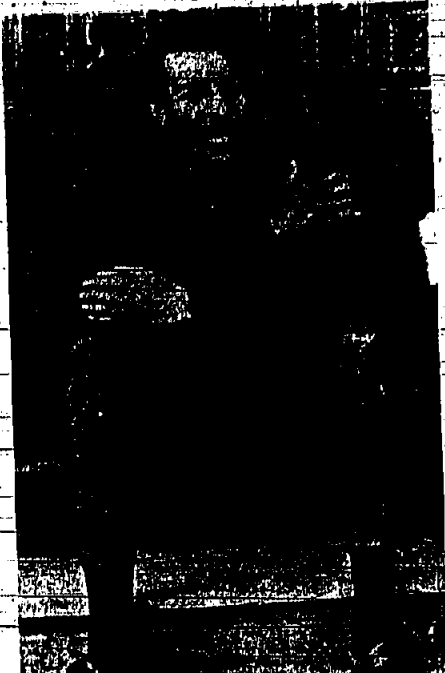

Thirty-five other writers will receive special mention for outstanding work in their particular specialty, in fields ranging from autobiography to sports and to religion.

State-wide other writers in 12 categories will be cited for their contributions during the past year.

As part of its annual program the New Jersey Association of Teachers of English has acquired copies of the works produced this year by these New Jersey authors. The books will be donated to the New Jersey State Library and will be on exhibit there from Nov. 17 through Dec. 29.

Later the State Library will sponsor a traveling exhibit of these books and tour the collection to New Jersey schools and libraries.

Those wishing to attend the New Jersey Authors Awards luncheon should write to Mrs. Alice B. Carrier, co-chairman, Department of English, Atlantic City High School, Atlantic City, for reservations.

Bryozoa lecture at Newark State

Newark State College, Union, in conjunction with the New Jersey Marine Science Consortium, will present a lecture entitled "Bryozoa" by Dr. Thomas M. Schoof today at 8 p.m. in Willis Hall on the Union campus.

Dr. Schoof is an associate of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute. He has worked and written extensively on the study of the phylum Bryozoa (invertebrate animals).

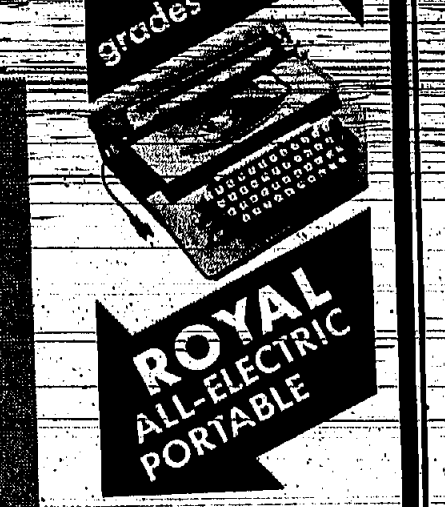

Famous diamond

One of the most famous diamonds in the world is the Kohinoor. It is said to have been worn by a King of India in 3000 B.C. It was given to the Queen of England in July, 1850. However, its refracting power was so disappointing that the Duke of Wellington recut the stone. When the operation was finished, this diamond had a brilliant blazer so much so it was called the "Mountain of Light."

Autumn foliage display now at peak Conservation unit cites picturesque areas

Nature's annual autumn foliage display is at its peak throughout New Jersey's northern mountain country, according to the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

High Point State Park, located along the Kittatinny Ridge in Sussex County, is carpeted with deep red, orange and yellow-appeal bushes. Foot trails enable visitors to explore sections abundant with several species of hardwood trees. The area includes the highest elevation in New Jersey (1,903 feet above sea level) which provides a sweeping view of farms, roads, lakes and streams stretching for miles in the valley below.

Nearby Snake State Forest also is picturesque, with the red, scarlet and yellows of oaks and maples splashed across the landscape. Killman Ravine, which is adjacent, is among the unique natural beauties in the state. The Vista features towering old growth trees more than 100 feet in height and great masses of native rhododendrons.

Ringwood State Park, Passaic County, typifies the scenic beauty of this sector of the state. A focal point of interest is Skylands International Gardens which features two long rows of flowering crabapple trees, each about one-half mile long. The Conservation Department recently completed plantings of several thousand chrysanthemums at Skylands.

CHEESECAKE STATE Park, located in the Raritan Bay section of Middlesex County, represents an outstanding attraction for visitors to central-New Jersey. Beach plum, laurel, cattails, and the fall fruits of bayberry, roses and partridge berry may be seen in great profusion.

New Jersey's picturesque pine barrens similarly are clothed in a galaxy of color. At Parvin State Park, Salem County, approximately 194 species of herbaceous plants, 49 varieties of shrubs and 38 types of trees may be seen, a representative sampling of the species throughout the southern portion of the state.

Roadways into the state-owned Wharton Tract, which covers sections of Atlantic, Burlington and Camden counties, are lined with about all species of pine barrens plants. Although easily reached by Route 206, the area is virtually primeval; hiking trails provide easy access to numerous bogs and ponds covered with water lilies, swamp magnolia and bearberry. There are 40 state parks and 11 state forests administered by the Conservation Department. One or more of these areas are within an hour's driving time or less from any part of New Jersey. Details concerning the facilities and attractions provided in each of these recreation areas may be obtained from the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development, Division of Parks, Forestry and Recreation, Box 1889, Trenton 08625.

Urban life to be theme of Newark State show

The Performing Arts Council of Newark State College, Union, will present "Wake Up, Man and Live," an original musical about life on "Diamond Street" in Big City, U.S.A., tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Theater for the Performing Arts.

The members of the cast are original as the play, Barbara Murphy of the "Philadelphia Bulletin" called them "talented, determined hard-working Negro teenagers from Philadelphia suburbs trying to convince a suburban audience that they should be given the chance to perform in the big time."

Part of the message that cast delivers is the need to eliminate the struggle which exists in our society today... the struggle to live together peacefully.

Dantele Perna is the director of the play. Or "Wake Up, Man and Live" he states "the play deals with family life, people and how to tell the kids how to stage a show. I tell them to do their own thing and its beautiful."

The ultimate goal of the producers of the play is to obtain scholarships and training for members of the cast and to foster community relations. The proceeds from each performance go entirely to a scholarship fund.

"Wake Up, Man and Live" is the first presentation of the Performing Arts Council of Newark State College. There will be no admission charge for the performance, and the public is invited. A piano recital by Lorin Hollander will be the next presentation of the Performing Arts Council and it is scheduled for January.

Worst prison

One of the world's worst prisons was the Bastille of Paris. Built in the year 1369, it was destroyed by revolutionaries in 1793. It held 50 to 100 prisoners—many of whom were kept for years awaiting trial. Treatment varied from starvation and torture to housing in luxurious suites. The worst of the place was that no man was ever free from the threat of imprisonment there at the whim of every minister.

Heating oil no pollutant, say dealers

Heating oil, even the heavy grades used by utilities, industry, commercial buildings and apartment houses, will play no part in the pollution of New Jersey's air this winter. A state law requires that all heavy oil entering the state since May 1, 1968 contain no more than 1 percent sulfur and users have long since consumed the last of the old higher sulfur product purchased before the cutoff date.

The oil dealers or owner who brings high sulfur oil to the state in violation of the law faces stiff penalties and Henry J. Kell, president of the Fuel Merchants Association of New Jersey, says this association of independent oil dealers is giving enforcement authorities all possible assistance.

"No. 2 heating oil," Kell added, "the type used in residential heating systems, has a sulfur content so low it couldn't possibly have an effect on the environment and has never been considered a pollutant by any responsible authority." According to the reports issued by the Bureau of Mines, sulfur content has actually decreased in recent years as a result of constantly improved refining methods.

Engineers and chemists associated with the council, point out that the heavy oils now being delivered are completely new fuels, and some are so highly processed that they are suitable for use in industrial gas turbines and diesel engines, which were not able to use the low cost but lower quality residual oil available before May 1, 1968.

Center for cryogenics moving to new quarters

The nation's only campus research center exclusively for the study of cryogenics, the science of low-temperature physics, is moving into its new quarters at Stevens Institute of Technology this month.

The three-story building at Hudson and Sixth streets, Hoboken, which housed the college library before a new library was opened last spring, has been completely refurbished with new laboratory facilities, study areas and offices. Here four full-time staff faculty members, several professors from other Stevens departments, seven graduate students and four research technicians will form the nucleus of a research team that will explore a variety of problems in this relatively new field.

In the two years since the center was founded at Stevens, many research projects have been launched, visiting scientists have taken up residence on the campus, and a weekly seminar and other lecture series have attracted industry, government and educational representatives. The institute also received a major "Thomas project" grant for cryogenics study from the U.S. Department of Defense, and three grants from Stevens in the past two years.

Dr. John G. Daunt, director of the center and internationally known for his research in low-temperature physics, said the center would help meet the need for scientists and engineers with knowledge and experience in cryogenics and will conduct basic research into unexplored areas of the science.

"Cryogenic fluids, such as liquid oxygen and liquid nitrogen, are very important for many industrial applications," said Dr. Daunt. "Liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen are used extensively in the nation's space program as rocket propellants, and liquid methane may be the jet fuel of the future."

Cryogenic techniques have also been quite valuable in medicine and biology. Dr. Daunt pointed out that human blood, frozen by a liquid nitrogen process at minus 320 degrees Fahrenheit, can now be safely stored for months or even years. There are also many applications in electronics, since some thermally activated effects become "quiet" at cryogenic temperatures and sensitive devices operate more sensitively.

"Basic research, however, will be the center's principal activity," said Dr. Daunt. "Cryogenics has important implications for studying the properties of matter. For instance, at temperatures ranging from about minus 423 degrees to minus 460 degrees F, some metals show superconducting resistance at all. At these temperatures, liquid helium becomes a 'superfluid' and, under certain circumstances, has practically no viscosity at all."

Reassures hunters on new gun law

"The Gun Control Act of 1968 was passed by Congress to help federal, state and local law enforcement officials in their fight against crime and violence," Harry Mattera, chief of the Internal Revenue Service's Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division for the Mid-Atlantic Region, said this week, adding that it was in no way intended to hinder the activities of hunters and sportsmen.

"As an example," Mattera said, "hunters and sportsmen can purchase ammunition in any state, and likewise can carry their own firearms across a state line as long as they are not convicted felons, or under indictment for a felony, rights from justice, unlawful uses of drugs, or mental incompetents."

He said hunters, sportsmen, competitive shooters or anyone legally using a gun in a state other than his home state can acquire another firearm if his rifle or shotgun is lost, stolen or becomes inoperative.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

PLEASE, SAY THANK YOU! Dear Amy:

My son, 31, was recently engaged to a seemingly nice girl from New York. I am happy about this and wracked my brain to figure out what to buy them for an engagement gift. I wanted the gift to be meaningful and lasting. Finally I decided to buy them a fine set of china, service for 12.

Five weeks ago they received my gift and I have yet to receive a note of thanks. I am a widow and this gift was very expensive. When I look at my chipper, which were 50¢ a piece setting at the super-market, I think how thrilled I would be to receive a gift of china like I gave them.

It is certainly sad to think my son and future daughter-in-law don't have the common sense to say "Thank you." Now I'm undecided what to do about the wedding gift which I will have to send soon.

Disappointed! Dear Disappointed: Send them a wedding gift, but this time include a return addressed, stamped envelope!

Dear Amy: I just got the paper, read what you had to say about the pill and hastened to write you. I am so upset about people not seeing your point of view on the pill.

I am 25 years old and have been married for 8 years. I have two wonderful girls, and most important of all was that I didn't have to get married either. I found it was so simple to say "NO" that I still the way I feel about the unmarrieds.

What is so hard about saying NO? Mrs. S. B. (Odessa, Mo.)

Dear Amy: I'm 19, and my boyfriend is 20. We've been dating for 6 years except for the 2 years we broke up because we both agreed we were too young to get serious. During that time, we both dated other people, but decided at the end of that time that we couldn't be happy without each other and we went back together. A few months later he received his induction notice.

When he came home after basic, he asked me to marry him, but I refused because I felt I wasn't ready for marriage yet. Now I feel I am. There's no doubt in my mind that he loves me, and I love him.

I'm not getting any younger. I work and I would continue working until he got out of the service and we could plan on starting a family.

Up until a couple of weeks ago, he came home every weekend, and believe me, it's been awfully hard not going all the way. If this keeps up, I don't think I'll be able to hold out much longer. That's why I need your advice as soon as possible.

Dear A.N.: While I am well aware that many young girls marry while their fiances are in the service, my advice to young people is to wait until their stint with Uncle Sam is over. Being single, it is difficult for you to realize the many hardships that service wives sometimes must endure and the loneliness that is always with you.

So I suggest, if you can keep your cool, wait.

Opera Theater has star casts

The Opera Theater of New Jersey will open its 1969-70 season with a performance of Rossini's "Barber of Seville." The opening night will be at Symphony Hall in Newark on Sunday, Nov. 9, at 6.

The opera will be presented with a full orchestra, directed by Alfredo Siliotti of West Orange. The cast will be headed by Metropolitan Opera star Jerome Hines, in the title role.

The cast also includes Linda Helmut of the New York City Opera as Rosina, Paul Pilski and Enrico di Giuseppe of the Metropolitan Opera, Franco Iglesias of the N.Y. City Opera, Elinor Parker of the Israel Opera, and Arthur Lloyd of the Opera Theater of New Jersey.

Special home-subscription performances for students will be given at reduced prices. The three operas in the 1969-70 series will also include Verdi's "Aida" with Eugenio Fernandi and Blanca Theodor; and Verdi's "La Traviata" with Lucia Evangelista of the La Scala Opera. Information regarding subscriptions or tickets is available at the Opera Theater of New Jersey, 288-9477, or at the Symphony Hall box office, 623-1815.

'Last Summer' continues in fall

'Last Summer' continues in the fall at the Millburn Cinema in Millburn. The adult picture, which takes a frightening look at growing up, concerns four teenagers who spend a summer at a beach resort and their lives undergo changes.

The young people are revealed as a combination of innocence, impulses and thwarted sex drives as well as wounds from the world of their parents. The film, which was photographed in color on location in five islands, was based on the best-selling novel by Evan Hunter, and stars Catherine Burns, Richard Thomas, Barbara Hershey and Bruce Davison. Frank Perry directed 'Last Summer.'

Prof proposes 'think tank' NSC artist-introduces concept

Carl Burger is a man with a mission. A member of the Fine Arts Department at Newark State College, Union, he is a sensitive artist who enjoys a reputation through the East for his paintings and sketches. But Carl Burger is also an individual who is stimulating others to thinking about the increasing damage being done to our environment.

Burger recently expressed his feelings regarding ecological damage in a play entitled "H2O - A-GO-GO" which he co-directed. "We are polluting everything around us, and while everyone has an opinion, everyone is still doing next to nothing about the problem."

His work has introduced a concept to the Classroom Renaissance program that will treat this subject as well as other critical matters facing man. "The term for the group that will be formed is a 'think tank' the object of the session is to have people objectively think and state what life will be like 15 or 20 years from today," he noted. "It's not as simple as it sounds, since people must set aside subjective feelings about themselves, their work and other personal feelings in order to formulate a group decision on what the future will be like."

The "think tank" uses encounter group techniques to help reach an objective projection of the future. According to Burger, "the tank" has unlimited potential as an education device."

Regarding the environment, "we hope to introduce in the session," Burger says "if more people are made aware of the total insanity of the situation, sooner or later the government will act concretely to alleviate such things as urban blight and the pollution of air and water."

Burger notes that "the concept of the 'think tank' has been successfully employed in various industries and governmental agencies." He added that "when people face the future objectively, they realize the gravity of immediate problems." He added, "I hope educators see the value in this technique and utilize their classes in the near future."

Stock agreement reported this week by Supermarkets

Supermarkets General Corp. announced this week that it had entered into an agreement with Diversified Retailing Company, Inc., to acquire from it all of the stock of Hochschild, Kohn & Co., Inc., Baltimore-based department store chain, for a purchase price consisting of cash and notes.

The transaction is subject to various conditions, and is expected to be completed in early December, following which the present management of Hochschild, Kohn will continue to manage the store primarily in six square feet of retail space principally in the Baltimore area and in York, Pa., and had sales during its fiscal year ended Feb. 1 in excess of $45,000,000. The 135,000 square foot York store was its first expansion outside metropolitan Baltimore, and was opened in September, 1968.

Supermarkets General Corporation acquired Genung's Incorporated in 1968, and that department store chain has added several new units since the time of its acquisition. The day in and out stores are located in New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Hampshire. In addition, Supermarkets General Corporation operates Supermarket supermarkets, gasoline stations and drug stores; the company's Ricketts division operates six do-it-yourself home centers, and is scheduled to open three more units before the end of 1969, adding about 220,000 square feet.

In commenting on the transaction, Milton Pecknutter, president of Supermarkets General Corporation, said, "We believe that Hochschild, Kohn is an outstanding retailer, with enormous potential for growth and for continued leadership in the department store field. We believe, moreover, that Baltimore and its metropolitan area are a fine market place, with excellent future possibilities. We look forward to the opportunity to associate ourselves with the great merchant tradition which Hochschild, Kohn represents. Our belief in the vitality of the department store business, and its significance for our company is shown by the fact that the combined annual sales volume of Genung's and Hochschild, Kohn is currently in excess of $100,000,000."

Need-to-know about DRUG ABUSE

(From National Institute of Mental Health)

WHAT ARE THE "UP AND DOWN DRUGS"? Amphetamines and barbiturates are the "up and down" drugs, usually taken in pill form.

They are said to "pick you up when you're down and bring you down when you're up."

For most people, amphetamines do have exhilarating effects, while barbiturates bring calmness.

They are powerful drugs, too powerful to play around with. Yet too many people are doing so. No one knows how many, but the best estimates are that about 200,000 — and perhaps as many as 400,000 — people regularly abuse these and other non-narcotic drugs.

THE CASE OF MARY JONES illustrates the matter. It's a hypothetical case, not a real name, but it is true.

Mary takes amphetamines to get going and barbiturates to put her to sleep. She does this day in and out. She takes the "up and down" pills without the supervision of her family doctor.

Mary is — or is on the way to being — a slave of these drugs, addicted to them, a "junkie" as the slang goes. What is worse, she doesn't know it. She doesn't know facts she needs to know, like these:

The "up drugs," pep pills also called "benzies" and "speeds," are a group of drugs known as amphetamines. They form one-half of what is perhaps the biggest part of the drug abuse problem in the U.S. today.

The other half of the problem are the "down drugs" — sedatives, sleeping pills, the large family of drugs made for medical purposes to relax a person.

What do the "down drugs" do?

They produce a relaxing effect for most people; in normal, medically supervised doses, they mildly depress the action of the nerves, skeletal muscles, and heart muscle. In abnormal doses, the effects resemble alcoholic drunkenness.

ARE THESE DRUGS addicting?

Cleaner Air Week proclaimed by governor; events planned

Governor Richard J. Hughes officially proclaimed next week as Cleaner Air Week at a statehouse ceremony attended by College G. Merrill Jr., dean of the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Sciences, and Richard J. Sullivan, director, Division of Clean Air, and William J. Department of Health.

Cleaner Air Week has been observed throughout the nation since 1949 in commemoration of the Donora, Pa., air pollution disaster. Cleaner Air Week is intended to focus on local air pollution problems and encourage a citizen effort to report and solve these problems.

Through coordinated activities of individuals and groups in the Union County area, the Suburban Air Pollution Commission, representing 13 communities, Bloomfield, East Orange, Irvington, Livingston, Maplewood, Nutley, Orange, South Orange, Union, Verona and West Orange, will sponsor a number of activities.

An in-cooperation with the East Orange Chamber of Commerce, will be held tomorrow at the Carriage Trade in East Orange.

Cleaner Air Week will be officially launched by Project Airlift on Sunday at 2 p.m. at Eagle Rock Reservation, West Orange. Project Airlift is designed to demonstrate the effects of local weather conditions on the transport of air pollutants. Tagged helium-filled balloons will be released by entrants in the project. The balloon, traveling the greatest distance and returned will earn its sender a prize. Last year the winning balloon travelled more than 500 miles to Maine.

The commission is also sponsoring a poster contest to be conducted in local participating schools. Prizes will be awarded for the best posters submitted. Judging will be conducted under the direction of the New Jersey Citizens for Clean Air. Exhibits will also be displayed in libraries of the participating communities.

Computer-fitting of contact lenses

Contact lenses may be worn by computers before being dispensed to patients, according to a new technique devised by Dr. Richard Hill.

It's conceivable your prescription will be fed into a computer allowing your optometrist to correct any particular physiological defects in design before fitting them.

The new development will be explained to more than 200 optometrists on Sunday, Oct. 26, at the fifth annual Contact Lens Seminar of the New Jersey Optometric Association at Fairleigh Dickinson University, Teaneck.

Explaining how to "try" contact lenses on the computer will be Dr. Hill, a biophysicist on the faculty at Ohio State University, one of the speakers.

Women's club will hold art program at museum

The New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs will observe its annual "Federation Art Day" today at the Montclair Art Museum under the direction of Mrs. Joseph V. Noble, state art department chairman.

Following a reception, a program entitled "Master Painters From Three Centuries" will be presented by Ann S. Rogerson, curator of the museum.

Dentist set as speaker

Dr. Irwin Geller, a Millburn dentist, will address the Parents of Children with Disabilities Thursday at 8 p.m. in Irvington General Hospital's meeting room.

Ice hockey competition

The 13th season of the Garden State Senior Amateur Ice Hockey League will open tomorrow at 11:15 p.m. at the South Mountain Arena, West Orange, with the Brooklyn Eagles playing the newly formed Essex Rockets.

Undeclared League champions for the past 11 years, the South Mountain Rockets have announced they will not participate in any league games this season. They will, however, compete with out-of-state teams in special matches at the arena. The team's absence from the league gave rise to the formation of the new Essex Rockets to round out the four-team loop.

The new team will be made up of graduates from the Metropolitan Junior Hockey League, the North Jersey Scholastic League and some veterans of the South Mountain Rockets.

Youths give draft advice

The Youth Advisory Committee to New Jersey's Selective Service System is now organized and ready to hold regular meetings. Colonel Joseph T. Avella, state director, said this week that the committee of 24 youths will be fully autonomous in its operation.

The committee members were nominated by New Jersey senior and junior college presidents, deans of graduate schools, high school principals, industrial concerns, A-1 Clubs and the Association of Parents of Young Men in the Armed Forces. The average age of the members is just under 20 years.

The committee was organized to advise the state director on the point of view of a typical group of New Jersey youth. It is evident, Colonel Avella said, "that these young people have a mind of their own and will not hesitate to make their opinions and criticisms known."

Fire damage up

NEW YORK — Fire losses in the United States in 1968 reached $1,829,922,000, reports the Insurance Information Institute. However, due to fire prevention efforts, the ratio of losses to the value of property subject to fire has declined steadily for many years.

Residents make their voices heard — Planning Board rejects new housing

The following article about last week's meeting of the Springfield Planning Board was contributed by Mrs. Robert D. Harbridge of 30 Ronald terrace, a former resident of the neighborhood concerned.

It was standing room only at the Planning Board meeting last week when more than 200 residents jammed the Municipal Council Chambers to protest the possibility of further flooding conditions in anticipation of a request by Seymour Meskin of Union for a preliminary subdivision in order to build 12 new houses in the wooded area between Seltzer street and Tooker avenue.

Peter Cooper of Montclair, Meskin's attorney, called upon Armand Fiorletti of Union, professional engineer and land surveyor, to explain his proposal. Fiorletti explained the plan and the provisions for piping the brook running through the new development.

Testimony also included comments and a letter regarding the flooding conditions by Richard J. Jaake, Township consulting hydraulic engineer.

Shortly before the meeting, Stanley M. Kroeger of Seltzer street summed up the situation: "During the past few years, particularly with the building of Rt. 78 which abolished the former large pieces of Union County Park property and took away many homes with wooded backyards, the flood have worsened to a degree that the streets, lawns and backyards of many of the existing homes are completely covered with water."

Basements were flooded in several homes to the extent that the water rose to one foot below the first floor. In some cases, it was necessary to break the windows on the opposite side of the house in order to let the water out.

Basement recreation room furnishings, washing machines, dryers and freezers were a total loss. The utility companies had to disconnect the electrical, gas and heating facilities of these houses completely.

"In the aftermath of the flooding, the streets and driveways were covered with red dirt silt and littered with tree branches and debris including the carcasses of dead animals. The silt was so stiff that it was, at times, impossible for a human being to cross the street on foot. It was a miracle that we did not have a loss of human life."

"When the proposal came for the 12 new homes, thereby taking away more forest area from this disaster-stricken neighborhood, the people were fearful that the flooding condition would worsen — a great amount of rain can soak into the ground whereas rain hitting hard surfaces might add to the already huge overflow of brook and rain water."

THE FIRST PUBLIC testimony came from Fred Edwards, an attorney and resident of the area, representing some of the neighbors. He described the flooding conditions and called the Planning Board's attention to a petition signed by more than 200 persons in his neighborhood asking that something be done to prevent the floods. This petition has been presented to the Township Committee.

Edwards said, "There was a meeting a week after we presented the petition, with persons from the county, state, Army Engineers and our own engineers. It is now about a year later and nothing has been done." He stressed that "a good part of the flooding comes from Rt. 78 property and from properties above the new road."

He went on, "Are these 12 houses going to affect the sanitary sewer? What is its capacity? We are not against the home building, but we say it will worsen the flooding situation."

John Arcaro of Lyon place also called the board's attention to the fact that "when Rt. 78 is paved, there will still be more water; if 12 new homes are built, it will mean more pavement, more roads and more water. The Planning Board should take this into consideration and alleviate the water problem by having now and not even consider building in a flood area."

Russell Post of Seltzer street, a resident since 1941, has experienced many floods. He had, at his own expense, built a 155-foot stone wall on the back end of his property to keep the stream water from his backyard. He stated, "Now, I have floods in the front. I can't build a wall in the front of my house. During the last flood, I had four inches of silt in my driveway and had to take it out in 12 loads in a wheelbarrow. I also had water in my cellar. This new development will add more water."

WALTER SCHRAMM of Brook street told the audience that he had seen the brook overflow many times. He related, "I was born on Rose avenue, and I used to drink out of that brook." He stated that the brook was not cleaned enough and complained that, because of recent flooding, he had lost a retaining wall three times.

Wally Peterson of Lyon place also emphasized "the importance of the sanitary sewer and the health aspects."

Township engineer Walter Kozub stated that the back-up problem had been solved. "After a short recess, the Planning Board meeting reconvened and Henry Buttman moved the denial of the subdivision on the basis that siting of this subdivision would be detrimental to the general welfare of the township of Springfield and particularly to adjacent and surrounding properties by adding to or aggravating the current flooding situation. The Planning Board unanimously supported the denial."

Holly Helpers — Mrs. Arthur Goldstein, left, and Mrs. Edgar Ward Jr., both of Springfield, are making final plans for the annual Holly Boutique, sponsored by the Orange Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. The event will be held at the Suburban Hotel, East Orange on Oct. 29 and 30 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The proceeds of the shopping extravaganza will be donated toward the renovation of the Pediatrics Department of the Hospital Center at Orange.

First car radio — The first car radio was installed in Fritz Wagner's Dolly Madison Baking Truck on Sept. 1, 1925. Wagner's was the first business in Springfield to have a radio. The radio was a "crystal set" and was powered by a battery. It was used for receiving news and weather reports from Westfield and neighboring towns.

Students at UC vote 2-1 for vote

Students at Union College, Cranford, favor lowering the voting age to 18 by a better than two-to-one margin, according to a student poll taken by government students at the college. A total of 1,177 students in both the day and evening sessions were asked to express an opinion on the proposal to give 18-year-olds the right to vote. And while the total vote was 1,059 for the proposal and 501 against, the preponderance of "Yes" votes came from day session students. They voted 718 for, 200 against, and 44 undecided. The vote in the evening session was 391 for, 301 against, and 34 undecided.

County Pap Test Day takes aim at curdible type of cancer

"Cancer of the uterus, one of the most common cancers in women, need no longer be a leading cause of death," Dr. Warren H. Knauser, executive committee chairman of the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society, said this week. "It is nearly always curable if found early and treated promptly. A very important, yet simple and effective, means of detecting uterine cancer is by the 'Pap' test," Dr. Knauser said.

The "Pap" test was developed chiefly by the late Dr. George N. Papanicolaou and is named for him. The technique is based on the study of castoff cells which are shed normally by living tissue, and the test can be given simply, quickly and without pain. The hospitals, co-operating include Alexian Brothers, Elizabeth General and St. Elizabeth's in Elizabeth, Muhlenberg in Plainfield, Railway Hospital in Rahway, Overlook in Summit and Memorial General in Union.

The "Pap" test is open to all single women over 21 and married women of any age who reside in Union County. Women wanting to participate should go to the nearest participating hospital. No appointment is needed. Women are reminded to wear loosely fitted clothing; skirts are not to be worn. The forms to be used for the "Pap" test will include blank spaces for the name and address of each woman's family physician. This information will be needed in case a follow-up is necessary. Because of the volume of testing, women will be notified of their results approximately six to eight weeks later.

Uterine cancer, once a most dreaded form of disease, could be dramatically reduced as a cause of death if every adult woman would have a "Pap" test.

Record rainfall in September

September, 1959, goes down in weather annals as the wettest September on record, according to Harold D. Duffco, meteorologist at the U.S. Cooperative Weather Station at Union College, Cranford. Total rainfall for the month was 9.47 inches, which was 6.51 inches above normal. Helping set the new record was the 4.45 inches of rain that fell Sept. 3 and 4. The month's eight days of measurable rainfall also brought the total for the year to 41.43 inches, as opposed to 30.10 inches at this time last year.

Basketball on the rebound: UC will field a team this year

A 13-game schedule for the first varsity basketball team at Union College, Cranford, in more than a decade was announced this week by William Martin, director of athletics. Union College will open its season on Dec. 3, meeting the Upsala College freshmen at East Orange at 6:15 p.m. The final contest for the Owls will be against Somerset County College Feb. 2, at 3 p.m. in Green Brook.

Upsala College, Rider College and Stevens Institute of Technology freshmen, Paterson State College, Newark State College and Princeton University jayvees, and Middlesex County College.

A highlight of the season will be an appearance in the new Jidwin Memorial Gymnasium against the Princeton University jayvees on Feb. 4, at 7 p.m.

Union College last fielded a varsity basketball team in 1958. The Owls will return to intercollegiate competition this year by fielding teams in golf and tennis as well as basketball.

Hughes to appear for Meyner at UC; GOP also invited

Governor Richard J. Hughes will visit Union College, Cranford, next Tuesday to address the students in behalf of former Democratic Governor Robert B. Meyner.

Congressman William J. Cahill, Republican gubernatorial candidate, has also been invited to speak to the students, according to Prof. Elmer Wolf, acting dean. Governor Hughes will be paying his third visit to the Union College campus. He visited the college during his own two campaigns for the governorship in 1961 and 1965.

Connor charges foe voted against mortgage reforms

John T. Connor Jr., Democratic candidate for Union County assemblyman-at-large, charged this week that his opponent voted against "one of the most important consumer protection bills to come before the legislature. He had a chance to take a solid step in the direction of providing more effective consumer protection. Instead, he turned his back on indignant consumers."

"The present law regarding second mortgage loans," Connor said, "contains many loopholes through which lending institutions can extract more from borrowers by imposing various closing, delinquency, extension, delinquent and renewal charges and appraisal and attorney fees, sometimes when these services haven't even been performed."

Synagogue convention

Judge Simon H. Rifkind, jurist, educator and a leader in Conservative Judaism, will deliver the keynote address at the opening banquet of the biennial convention of the United Synagogue of America, congregational arm of the Conservative movement, on Sunday evening, Oct. 26, at the Hotel Concord, Kiamessh Lake, N. Y.

Dedicated to the theme: "Will We Walk Together, Unless They Understand One Another?" (Amos 3:3), the convention which will continue through Oct. 30, will be attended by close to 3,000 delegates representing 826 congregations in the U.S. and Canada with an aggregate membership of one and a half million.

In his address, Judge Rifkind will explore the theme as a guideline for meeting the challenges that are confronting our society today for restoring harmony and goodwill on the road toward a better world.

Halloween angels in disguise: UNICEF trick-treaters

October 31st will soon be here, and you may think that it is Halloween. Well perhaps. But it is also something else. It is now "National UNICEF Day," too.

National endorsement was officially accorded "Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF" in 1967 when a Presidential proclamation set aside that day as UNICEF Day, and now each year thousands of young Americans ring doorbells mainly in behalf of UNICEF and other children — and not for apples and themselves. Chanting "trick or treat for UNICEF" and presenting the orange and black UNICEF cartons, youngsters in the U.S. have collected thousands of dollars each year to help needy children throughout the world. A staggering total of 900,000,000 boys and girls live in areas where a glass of milk is a luxury and where a minor disease can lead to death for lack of care.

The coins the young Halloweeners collect become life-saving penicillin or protective vaccine or health-giving milk or vitamins for those needy children.

Each penny that is dropped into the orange and black collection cartons provides the in South America from tuberculosis, or five cups of milk for a hungry baby in Asia. One penny can provide the vaccine to protect a child against smallpox, and five cents can mean the antibiotics to cure a child from trachoma, and for a single dollar 16 children can be protected from malaria for a year or one child can receive four years of leprosy treatment.

Extra benefits are reaped right here at home, too. The children who are a problem in many communities become a night of constructive participation in the vital work of the United Nations Children's Fund. Adult supervision ensures safe and responsible activities but all the fun of ringing doorbells, apple-bobbing and the collecting of treats is retained.

Last year, several months after "National UNICEF Day," U Thant, Secretary-General of the United Nations, received some of the young collectors at his offices on the 38th floor of the UN headquarters, too.

But this time the young collectors were giving instead of asking. Students of the UN International School, in colorful national dress, presented him with a check on behalf of UNICEF. Their gift was the past year's contribution of American citizens to UNICEF. The record sum of 7.7 million dollars included the Halloween collection by the children of more than 13,000 communities across the U.S.

The raincoat comes out of uniform.

Fashion enters the scene. Suddenly the raincoat isn't just The Raincoat. Sure, it's still ready to take the downpour, but without looking quite so bent on finding it. There's new style. New personality. There are the slick looks. The elegant. The short-coats. The into-the-first-snow coats. Sturdy and protective, in a great un-uniform way. Isn't it about time?

College Review Center forming another section

The College Review Center announced this week that a second Saturday morning section is now being formed to prepare high school seniors for the December and January Scholastic Aptitude Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. The formation of the additional group was made necessary by an increased demand which has exceeded the limit established by the directors of the Center for the size of its classes. The Boards for seniors will be given on Dec. 6 and again on Jan. 10. The scores achieved on these tests are one of the criteria used by colleges for choosing their entrants. The College Review Center specializes in preparing students for these examinations. The mathematics classes are taught by Morton Salzman, chairman of the mathematics department of Weequahic High School. The English classes are taught by Irving J. Goldberg, director of the Education Center for Youth.

The Center is also accepting registrations now from high school juniors who wish to prepare for the examinations that will be given in March. Registration forms and additional information about the courses may be obtained by calling 731-5995.

KNOW YOUR HEART

Some people are not sure about the size or location of their most vital muscle, the heart. It is about the size of your fist, and located near the center of your chest just below the breastbone.

This column is the third in a four-part series of heart terms, preferred pronunciations, and definitions.

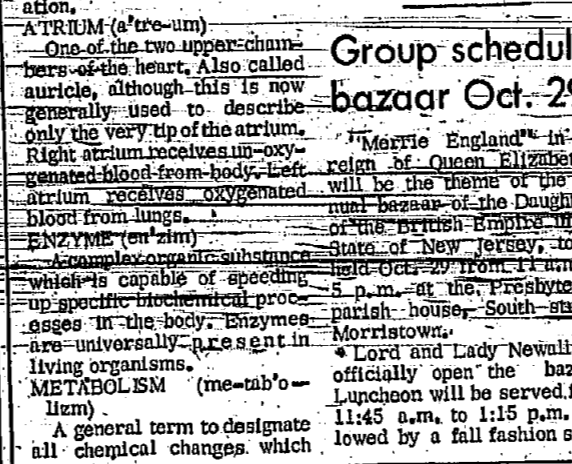

These words are mainly about heart parts and body activities. ADRENALIN (ad-ren'-al-in) One of the secretions of two glands, called adrenal glands, located just above the kidneys. This secretion, also called epinephrine and sometimes prepared synthetically, constricts the small blood vessels (arterioles), increases the rate of heart beat, and raises blood pressure. AORTA (a-or'-tah) The main trunk artery which receives blood from the lower left chamber of the heart. It originates from the base of the heart, arches up over the heart, then descends through the chest and abdomen in front of the spine. It gives off many lesser arteries which conduct blood to all parts of the body except the lungs. ARTERY (ar'-ter-ee) Blood vessels which carry blood away from the heart to the various parts of the body. They usually carry oxygenated blood except for the pulmonary artery which carries un-oxygenated blood from the heart to the lungs for oxygenation. ATRIUM (a'-tre-um) One of the two upper chambers of the heart. Also called auricle, although this is now generally used to describe only the very tip of the atrium. Right atrium receives un-oxygenated blood from body. Left atrium receives oxygenated blood from lungs. ENZYME (en-'zim) A complex organic substance which is capable of speeding up specific biochemical processes in the body. Enzymes are universally present in living organisms. METABOLISM (me-'tab-'o-'lizm) A general term to designate all chemical changes which occur to substances within the body. PULSE (puls) The expansion and contraction of arteries which may be felt with the finger. VEIN (vayn) Any one of a series of vessels which carries blood from various parts of the body back to the heart. All veins in the body conduct un-oxygenated blood except the pulmonary veins which conduct freshly oxygenated blood from the lungs back to the heart. VENTRICLE (ven-'trik-ld) One of the two lower chambers of the heart. Left ventricle pumps oxygenated blood through arteries to the body. Right ventricle pumps un-oxygenated blood through pulmonary artery to lungs. Capacity about 85 cc. Equipment used by heart specialists will be described in the next column in this series.

Write to NIH Feature Service, Bethesda, Md. 20014, for a free copy of the illustrated booklet of 350 definitions, "A Handbook of Heart Terms," Publication No. 1073.

Mrs. Jack Greenspan is division president and Mrs. Alan Levy, chairman of the program committee.

O'Brien appointed manager of Connor's Assembly drive

John T. Connor Jr., Democratic candidate for Union County assemblyman-at-large, has announced the appointment of Raymond D. O'Brien, former Elizabeth city attorney and campaign manager for Mayor Thomas G. Dunn in 1964 and 1968, as his campaign manager.

O'Brien, stressing "the importance of the days remaining until the election," said, "John Connor will be an outstanding representative of all the people of Union County. As assemblyman-at-large, he will represent the entire county, not just a portion.

"His intimate knowledge of many of the vast problems affecting our county and our state shows his tremendous awareness of the plight of so many Union County citizens. This bright, young man has many fresh, new ideas to help combat the tremendous burdens affecting all citizens, in their capacities as homeowners, commuters, consumers or otherwise," O'Brien added.

"His record of achievement and public service foretells a great future for him. His talents and dedication auger well his representing all the citizens of our great county in the Assembly.

A graduate of St. Peter's Preparatory School, Jersey City and of Georgetown University and its School of Law, O'Brien is state treasurer of the Knights of Columbus. A Lieutenant commander, USNR, he was named Outstanding Young Man of the Year in 1963 by the Greater Elizabeth Jaycees.

He has been a member of the Elizabeth Planning Board, president of the Union County Catholic Lawyers Guild, Union County deputy surrogate and member of the Elizabeth Anti-Poverty Board of Trustees.

He is a member of the Board of Managers of St. Elizabeth Hospital and is active in other community organizations.

Ahern named campaign head for Meyner in Union County

Former Governor Robert B. Meyner announced this week the appointment of Mayor William J. Ahern Jr., of Kenilworth, as executive director of Union County "Citizens for Meyner." Ahern, a former member of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, was finance chairman for Union County during 1966 and 1967 when the county tax rate was reviewed. He is an attorney and has served more than ten years as general counsel for Phillip J. Levitt, a real estate developer.

Ahern, ending his fourth term as mayor, of Kenilworth, said: "During my eight years as mayor, I have held taxes to an absolute minimum, so that Kenilworth ranks as one of the lowest taxing municipalities in the state. I firmly believe that Governor Meyner is committed to a policy of fiscal responsibility in state government which will serve as an example to all local governments to hold the line on taxes if he is re-elected governor.

Meyner Ahern said he has "noticed a great many independent and Republican voters favor Governor Meyner's candidacy because of his prior experience as Governor and because of the fact that he conducted himself on a non-partisan basis during his two terms, thus providing representation for all the people of the State of New Jersey. It is because of his concern for people and his independence that this 'Citizens for Meyner' group is expected to play a large role in the re-election of Governor Robert B. Meyner."

Ahern received his law degree from Seton Hall University and served his clerkship with Governor Richard J. Hughes, while the governor was a judge in Union County.

Eligibility for Medicare is wider than you think

People who have never worked under Social Security are eligible to enroll for Medicare at age 65, Ralph W. Jones, district manager of the Elizabeth Social Security office explained this week that there are two parts to Medicare: Hospital insurance and medical insurance. No work is needed to qualify for the medical insurance which helps pay for doctor's services.

Hospital insurance under Medicare is available to all persons who are 65 and eligible to receive monthly Social Security benefits, either based on their own work or, in the case of widows, dependent widowers and parents, the work of the spouse or child.

However, people who became 65 in 1968 and are not eligible for monthly Social Security checks need three quarters of coverage or about nine months of work under Social Security to qualify for the hospital insurance. Similarly, people born in 1904 will need six quarters of coverage (about 1 1/2 years of work covered under Social Security) to be eligible for the hospital insurance.

A person should enroll for Medicare during the three months before his 65th birthday, during the month of his 65th birthday and the three months after his 65th birthday.

In order to get coverage at the earliest possible date, individuals are urged to enroll before the month of their 65th birthday.

To sign up for Medicare, visit the Social Security office at 268 N. Broad St., Elizabeth, which is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day and until 8 p.m. on Thursdays.

Dr. Neblett new trustee

Hugo B. Meyer of Summit, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Union College, Cranford, this week announced the election of Dr. Richard F. Neblett of Plainfield as a trustee of the college. The election of Dr. Neblett brings the membership of the board to 24, Meyer reported.

"We are delighted that Dr. Neblett has agreed to join our Board of Trustees," Meyer said. "He brings with him a vast knowledge of public education acquired as a member of the Board of Education in his hometown of Plainfield, as well as an understanding of the desires and needs of our disadvantaged citizens in Union County."

Dr. Neblett, a research chemist with Esso Research and Engineering Co., Linden, has been a member of the Plainfield Board of Education since December, 1963, and served as president of the school board in 1965 and 1966. He began his current term as vice-president last February.

Collegiate party

The Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union, will sponsor a get-together for college students on Sunday, Oct. 26. The program will begin at 12:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Irwin asks freeze of real estate taxes for senior citizens

Assemblyman-at-Large Charles J. Irwin outlined legislation he is introducing to address the plight of senior citizens in a talk at Hillside last Friday night.

"I propose legislation to freeze the level of real estate taxes on many family dwellings at the level of which those taxes have reached when the head of the household reaches age 62," Irwin said.

"Thereafter, the real estate taxes would remain stable and would not increase as long as the head of the family or the surviving spouse continues to live in the home. The difference between the taxes paid by these senior citizens and the taxes which would otherwise be earned by the municipality if the freeze were not in effect would be paid to the municipality by the state from a fund to be established by the state."

"These payments by the state would operate as a lien on the premises and would be collected and reimbursed to the state either at the time that the home was subsequently sold by the retiree or at the time of the death of the husband and wives and the distribution of the estate.

"The state would thereby have a revolving fund replenishing taxes. The lien on the property caused by the state payments to the municipalities would be more than offset in most cases by the increment in value in the real estate which would result from the anticipated continuing inflation of costs.

"By implementation of this plan, your parents and mine will be able, in many cases, to stay in the family homestead and continue to make meaningful contributions to their community in the 'golden years'."

$16,740 collected by county office

A total of more than $16,740 collected by the county surrogate's office this month, according to Mary G. Kanane, surrogate.

The surrogate gave the following breakdown of receipts: probates, $3,481; administration, $589; guardianships, $193; certificates, $1,254; orders to limit creditors, $492; sales, $7,287; outstanding bonds and re-accounts, $445; petitions and orders, $375; leases, $445; miscellaneous, $2,277.

Total receipts for September, 1968, were $9,407.

Program on Thursday

Union Catholic High School, 1600 Martine ave., Scotch Plains, will present in concert "Chicago" (CITA) next Thursday night at 8:30. These visiting advance tickets may send $3.50 and a self-addressed stamped envelope for Tickets, P.O. Box 20, Scotch Plains, N.J. 07076. Tickets can also be purchased at the door for $4.

Costume awards featured at YMCA Halloween party

The Five Points YMCA will hold its annual family Halloween party on Friday, Oct. 24 from 7:15 to 8:45 p.m. at the V. Howard Merrick, branch executive, and Mrs. Lillian Brady, chairman of the event, in announcing the party, said:

"All members of the family are encouraged to come in costume as the party will begin with a grand march to select the winners with the best costumes. Two boys and two girls will be selected on the basis of merit, original, funniest or most scary. Based on the response from previous years, many parents come dressed for the occasion. There have been some very clever costumes so the committee this year decided to award a family prize. Those in charge of this part of the program are Mrs. JoAnn Yarussi of Union and Mrs. Margaret Dobbs of Roselle Park."

The party will include games, relay races and a magic show by J.B. the Magician. Mrs. Lorena Carrigino of Union will be in charge and will be assisted by Mrs. Frank Gargano and Mrs. Harry Anderson, also of Union.

Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Evelyn O'Brien, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. John Ricketts and Mrs. Claire Amabile of Elizabeth.

Decorations will be prepared by Mrs. Audrey Soukup, Mrs. Dorothy Moran, Mrs. Peter Usher, Mrs. Mildred Burkart, Carolyn and Michael Brady and Jack Lightholder.

The 1970 VW will stay ugly longer.

Just what hath Volkswagen wrought this year? A longer-lasting engine that's more powerful than the old engine. (Top speed: 81 mph vs. 78 mph.) It has better acceleration. But most important, it doesn't have to work as hard to get you where you're going. Thus, according to every calculation known to man, it will last even longer.

And just to make sure the engine and every other VW part leads a long, happy life, we have another surprise for 1970: The Volkswagen Diagnostic Checkup. Now before the name scares you away, listen to what it is: VW Diagnosis is an exclusive service checkup by specially trained technicians using specially advanced checkups free. What could be a better deal than that? You buy a bug. We take care of the bugs.

During a Diagnostic Checkup, our equipment can find and we can fix this problem in a matter of minutes. When you buy a new VW, you're entitled to four of these advanced checkups free.

East meets West through dance Philosophy prof illustrates course esthetically

An Upsala philosophy professor, who illustrates her class teaching with movements of the modern dance, had some strong words to say today about current dancing trends in the western world.

This summer, for the third time, she was a member of the East-West Philosophers' Conference in Hawaii. And what does she think of the hula? "It doesn't especially grab me," she replied.

FOSSIL STUDY - Dr. Richard K. Olson, associate professor of geology at Rutgers University, examines microscopic slides of ancient fossils taken from the ocean floor in the North Pacific.

Probing ocean's secrets Rutgers geologist in Pacific

Although man has set foot on the moon, his knowledge of the ocean is still very limited and unexplored. Scientists aboard a unique drilling vessel have been attempting since August, 1968, to unlock ancient secrets in the ocean floor.

Dr. Olson's notes, geologists are able to validate predictions that the ocean floor beneath the sediment in the Northeastern Pacific is rich in oil and gas.

Backing can backfire Play it safe until the next exit

Kick the backing habit, advises the Institute for Safer Living. Plan your driving route and stop to keep from backing as much as possible.

One of the surest ways to invite disaster is to pick up a missed exit by backing on the travel lane or on the shoulder. Hanging in there to the next exit may cost you a few precious moments on your schedule but it may well make the difference between saving a life and losing it.
