COMING QUESTION: WILL COMPUTERS EVENTUALLY THINK?
Are computers potentially intelligent? No one yet knows. But a University of Wisconsin computer scientist says there is a way to find out. He says research is under way to discover methods of teaching computers to think. He believes computers can shed light on the actual thinking processes of the mind. Apparent similarities between brains and properly programmed computers are sufficiently striking so that one can begin to speculate whether computers eventually can be programmed to think.

A TREMENDOUS INCREASE in the welding of nonferrous metals, such as magnesium, titanium, aluminum and zirconium, will occur in the next decade, it was predicted by ARC Products Manufacturing, Hanover, Pa. The company says that many of these metals will be used in applications, such as space frames, where their light weight and high strength are desirable. Some will be used in the manufacture of trucks because reducing the weight of a truck's body will enable it to carry more cargo and still meet weight restrictions on highways. Some trucking firms already are putting wheels made of magnesium on their vehicles as one method of decreasing the weight of trucks.

GENETIC TRANSFORMATION, the replacement of one gene or set of genes for another, is one of the ways in which heredity can be controlled, reports a University of Chicago biologist. He said that although geneticists cannot yet mold human progeny, they can control some aspects of bacterial heredity. Molecular geneticists can determine successfully the genetic fate of unborn bacteria by injecting normal bacteria cell cultures with genetic material extracted from bacteria that have acquired, by mutation, a resistance to antibiotics such as streptomycin and erythromycin.

AN INCH OF SNOW falling evenly on one acre is equivalent to about 2,700 gallons of water, according to hydrologists of the U.S. Geological Survey. However, water resources specialists point out that this figure is based upon the sale of a dumb that 10 inches of snow is equal to one inch of water. It can vary considerably, depending on whether the snow is the heavy, wet kind, or the powdery, dry kind.

Report from Trenton
Governor Cahill presented his $1.5-billion budget to the Legislature last week. At the same time, he sent a special message proposing the creation of a 25-man commission to conduct a broad study of the state's tax system.

Since I had previously introduced similar legislation to accomplish the same end, I intend to lead vigorous support to the Governor's plan. The Governor made his proposal after consulting with the leadership of both parties in both houses of the Legislature. As he indicated in his special message, there has been a wide divergence of opinion on the composition of the commission and its functions. The Governor also pointed out that there has been general agreement on the need for tax reform.

Under Governor Cahill's proposal, the members of the commission would be charged with recommending the reform and restructuring of the entire tax policy of this state. A study of the state's tax system is a major task. Over the years, inequities have been piled up. In addition to pointing out inequities in the existing system of taxation, the committee would have to examine the responsibility of the various levels of government and the present allocation of the costs of government services and to suggest changes, if required, in both the areas of responsibility and/or responsibility and reallocation of costs.

I am happy to give my backing to this proposal by the Governor, because I believe that swift action in this vital area is absolutely necessary for the state and its citizens.

370,000 fowl winter at shore
Nearly 370,000 migratory waterfowl are wintering along the New Jersey coast, the Division of Fish and Game of the state Department of Conservation and Economic Development reported today.

Wildlife biologists of the Division's Bureau of Wildlife Management conducted the annual mid-winter waterfowl inventory of coastal areas in January. This is part of a survey undertaken along the entire Atlantic coast in cooperation with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. New Jersey also runs periodic survey flights during the fall migration.

The estimated 359,300 waterfowl were found in the survey area, which runs from Raritan Bay to Cape May and up Delaware Bay to Poutaburo. This was about 150,000 above last year's winter figure, an indication that many birds had not yet gone south to escape the bitter cold which set in after the first of the year.

Brant accounted for part of the increase from last winter. They were 18,000 above last year's population, and remained one of the most abundant species, with over 90,000. Black ducks, the "brant and butter" duck of northwestern hunters, established over the 60,000 mark for the third winter in a row, numbering 60,700.

Scrap up 20,000 and account up 47,000 over last year showed the largest increases, some hunting seasons for snipe have been held in "crack" years in New Jersey. Other waterfowl-eaters strive to utilize the current abundance of brant.

British firm has edge on U. S. sword market
By ROBERT L. SHAW
A bit of the military dignity that is Britain's heritage is recognized by a Mountaintop firm. Wilkinson Sword Inc., 1121 Bristol Rd., a subsidiary of Wilkinson Sword Limited, is selling thousands of swords each year in the United States. The weapons, ranging from presentation swords to Scottish claymores, make up the bulk of Wilkinson's business, but today most of the company's revenue is from razor blades. Nevertheless, thousands of collectors order the special swords each year which start for sale at about $75.

Warren E. Denning, manager of the sword division, said that Wilkinson "has been putting edges on steel for 200 years." The company also holds Queen Elizabeth's warrant for manufacture of swords for the British government. Wilkinson has its beginning in 1772 when a London gunsmith turned to blades. His former apprentice, James Wilkinson, later acquired the firm and, according to tradition, was a friend of George Washington's.

The Royal Navy sword, based on an 1800 pattern and redesigned in 1925, is carried by all Royal Navy officers. In the United States, collectors' favoring the "brant and butter" sword, which was developed by the firm's founder, "Claid" Lichman. About 300 years ago the Claymore was a two-handed sword which was found to be too cumbersome against organized troops. The present design evolved from the Italian "schiaivona" and the Cavalier broadsword of 1650.

Today's Claymore manufactured by Wilkinson is based on an 1894 pattern and is carried by officers, staff sergeants and pipers of all Scottish Regiments. The firm also distributes company awards which are designed for presentations and decorations. Masonic swords and poloarcs, a special officer's sword, infantry officers' swords and Royal Air Force swords. Wilkinson also provides special design services to meet the customer's own requirements and renovated swords, from cleaning to complete refurbishing.

Dayton rides to glory with a coach and five

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team, as local sports fans are well aware, has accomplished a rare feat, winning two conference championships in a row, and in two different conferences.

In addition, the team at this writing is still undefeated and is a major contender for state championship honors. Whether or not the road keeps leading upward from here on, those responsible for the great success certainly merit the town's praise.

KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT From N.J. Taxpayers Association

From the office of the Governor

In the weeks since Gov. William T. Cahill took office, he has been busy with the creation of new jobs and the reorganization of his administration.

Local players have learned in the last few years that basketball is a game played at both ends of the court, or the great success certainly merit the town's praise.

Success for the six-foot-plus stars of the high school basketball for Coach Yanchus is not all fun and games. Most of it is hard work, endless drill in the fundamentals of the sport so that the brilliant touches are a logical result.

Revenues from New Jersey's sales and use taxes are expected to produce more than $1 billion dollars and provide about one-third of the total state government income.

'Christ Through African Eyes' to be Lenten sermon topic

Theology of the University of Rwanda will be the subject of the Lenten service this Sunday evening at 8 at the Springfield Emanuel United Methodist Church, 10th and Academy Streets. The Rev. Jonah Kawada, a Methodist minister from Rwanda, will share his view of "Christ in Africa" and the influence that the Christian faith has had upon the people of that continent.

Kawada, who is presently studying at the School of Theology, Drew University, Madison, received his AB degree from Oxford University by correspondence, and his degree in

LWV acts on study of school districts

Mrs. Herbert Forman, president of the League of Women Voters has announced the format of the group's study of school district reorganization. "Because of the complexity of the study, it has been divided into three parts," she said.

"They are: an examination of the theory and practice of school district reorganization; an evaluation of the present system of school district organization in New Jersey; a consideration of reorganization as a potentially positive and feasible means to achieve better quality in our public school system."

"Phase one of the study will be examined at the Feb. 26 unit meeting of the league, which will be held at the home of Mrs. C. Cohen, 54 Spring Brook rd., at 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. Forman and Mrs. Jay Simon, education chairman, have urged members and their friends to attend the meeting.

theology of the University of Rwanda, where he and his wife and three daughters are living in Westlake, N.J.

Through Kawada's relationship to the local congregation over the past year, a number of projects have been undertaken by various groups in relation to Rwanda. The German Mission Circle has sponsored the family of Mr. Kawada in bringing his family to the United States while studying in Madison.

The church school also began to assume an interest in scholarship for Rwandan students and is helping Norman Muzsonwa and Joel Chapeyama at Old Umali Methodist Center in Rwanda. Both young men are in the final years of their high school education, which they would not have been able to complete without assistance from the local group. The German Mission Circle has also assisted Kawada's son Jonathan in his high school education.

The Sunday services at the church also include morning worship at 9:30 and 11 a.m., in the Prayer Chapel and Sanctuary, respectively. Pastor James Desart will continue his sermon "Driving the Wedge," based on Psalm 51, the third in his series of messages on "Great Themes of Faith." In the sermon he will consider the predicament of human imperfection, and its involvement in man's estrangement with himself, his fellowman and God.

Church school will meet at 9:30 a.m., with the younger classes through the sixth grade in the Wesley House. The German language worship service at 9:30 in the sanctuary will be conducted by Theodore Reimlinger, lay speaker. Coffee and huns will be served by the senior high in the Fellowship Hall at 10:30 a.m.

The Wednesday morning breakfast study session will be held from 6:30 to 7:30. The sermon on the theme "The Life of Christ," the subject of the study, in keeping with the 1970 consideration of "The Life of Christ," Reservations for breakfast may be made with the church office, 376-1626.

Family talk at Summit Y

"You and Yours," an informal talk on family relationships will be the topic at the Summit YWCA's Wednesday morning Kaffeeklatch next week. Speaker will be Mrs. Margaret Harrigan, executive director of Family Service. Mrs. Harrigan's talk will be followed by a question-answer period.

A half-hour coffee time will begin at 9:45 a.m., and the hour-long program will follow at 10:15. Concurrent activities for pre-schoolers will include dance and Friday classes, and babysitting will be available for children 18 months and over.

11 at Upsala are selected as interns

Eleven Upsala College seniors have been chosen to work in the state's new academic phase of its Interns in Community Service Program. The students, who will receive academic credit for their work, will spend 12 hours a week for the next 14 weeks in such offices as the town administrator of Roseland, the Essex County Highway Board, the County Office of Newark, and the East Orange Model Cities program, among others.

The part-time community service jobs will be held by the students while maintaining a full academic schedule. They will be earning stipends based on standard Civil Service rates for student assistants.

Professor James Macle, director of Upsala's academic internships program, said monthly stipends will be deducted at which evaluation of the students' work and their supervising agencies will take place. The first seminar is scheduled for early March at the Civil Service Center of the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs, which will be in attendance.

The internship in each agency will be equivalent to one course of a student's major in social science or education as an elective course for any other major.

Upsala is one of four colleges in the state of New Jersey selected for the pilot program. The others are Jersey City State, Newark College of Engineering and Stevens Institute of Technology.

Public Service to cut coal consumption at generating plants to reduce pollution

When Public Service Electric and Gas Co. employees for the first time announced step toward reducing air pollution from its generating plant stacks, its ash emissions will be cut by more than 90 percent and sulfur dioxide emissions by nearly 50 percent below 1960 levels.

The State Health Department's Clean Air and Water Division announced the latest step last week — a switch from the use of coal to low-sulfur oil at the utility's Bergen generating station in Ridgefield Park and Hudson generating station in Jersey City. Engineering work on the changeover has already begun and construction is expected to be completed in about one year.

The move will eliminate all coal burning at the Bergen station and will sharply reduce coal burning at Hudson as a total of approximately $12 million. One unit at the Hudson station will continue to burn coal, but this unit has been covered so that it can burn natural gas as well.

BEFORE PUBLIC SERVICE began to step up its air pollution control program in New Jersey, it had already begun to cut coal use in its Jersey burner-coal. Now, most burn low sulfur oil. When this latest move is completed,

College president stresses obligation

Dr. Nathan Weiss, acting president of Newark State College, said recently that "a fundamental principle of democracy is accountability to one's constituents," and college presidents have that obligation. His statement was made in a speech before the college community at Newark State's first "mid-year" report by the president.

Dr. Weiss' speech, "Commitments Revisited," dealt with detailed progress reports on commitments which were stated at the opening of the academic year.

Among areas discussed were Newark State's participation in urban programs, efforts to improve environmental pollution, and expanded curriculum offerings relevant to the needs of today's society.

The president announced that a written report will be issued shortly containing detailed information contained in his speech. A final president's report will be issued at the end of the current academic year.

Drew U. gives furniture for rehabilitation center

Drew University has contributed two stock lots of used classroom and laboratory furniture to Drug Addiction Rehabilitation Enterprises, Inc. of Newark, arranged by an alumna of the University, William K. DARE is one of seven drug rehab centers in Newark supervised by the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry and funded by the National Institute of Mental Health. In addition to its Newark "re-entry" house, the organization operates an Island Heights halfway house and commercial hotel staffed entirely by rehabilitated addicts.

Drew Professor of Chemistry James M. Miller said that the 96 classroom chairs, seven tub-benches, three desks, two blackboards, and laboratory sink donated to DARE from the University of Newark are in excellent condition, replaced two years ago by a new Hall of Science.

Miller, a former development specialist in pollution control, was a post-graduate laboratory systems. It is a former student of Miller. In announcing the gift from Drew to DARE, both men stressed that it was part of an expanding program to bring the combined resources of the University and various organizations and corporations to bear on urban New Jersey's social and environmental problems.

Public Service is involved in research to eliminate air pollution and has taken other actions toward that end.

Application has been made to the Delaware River Basin Commission to construct the Kittanning pumped storage project which would provide New Jersey with 1,300,000 kilowatts of much needed generating capacity. This with the existing 350,000 kilowatts will be jointly owned by Public Service and Jersey General Power & Light Co. Pumped storage projects, which use water power, make it possible to curtail the operation of coal and oil burning plants during peak demand periods and thus further reduce pollution.

Dr. Mackay reports county education broadens advancement opportunity

The walk-in of Union College, Cranford, N.J., on Monday, Feb. 23, 1970, was a landmark event in the history of the county's educational advancement opportunity.

That prediction is made by Dr. Kenneth C. Mackay, executive director of the County Board of Education, in his annual report to the Union County Board of Freeholders.

Dr. Mackay cited the impressive annual budget program where students take courses at Union College, Union County Technical Institute, and the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry.

Union County's unique plan to provide community college services provides for Union College and Union County Technical Institute to have a "dual" educational offering.

Union County Technical Institute offers a social pre-orientation program for those students who need additional education in order to qualify for the regular career programs.

Dr. Mackay said that the program is both beneficial and experimental in nature. The Technical Institute also assumes full responsibility for placement of its graduates.

A SIGNIFICANT START was made in cooperative programming in the past year when Union College and Union County Technical Institute

The county park trap and skeet grounds are open to the public on Saturdays and Sundays from 11 to 5 p.m.

Kiwanis hears NWS president

Dr. Nathan Wedig, acting president of Newark State College, Union, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Elizabeth Kiwanis Club.

Dr. Wedig took issue with the street scene that Abraham Lincoln was a white supremacist. He cited historical examples, proving that Lincoln was in fact not a white supremacist, but was probably in advance of his day on racial matters and would probably be classified today as "moderate."

Dayton 4th Norm takes 4:21.3 mile
 Marty edges Benson in 1:57.2 half mile

Led by records in the mile by Norm Reinhardt and in the half mile by Marty Josephs, the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School track team placed fourth among 23 schools in the Group III competition at the state championship meet in the Jersey City Army last Saturday.

Reinhardt (4:21.3) bettered the mark by Larry Rush of Overbrook by six seconds. Norm's stiffest challenge came from Todd Henson of Dover, who has run a 4:26 mile, stayed close to Reinhardt through the last 300 yards, but was out of breath. Norm increased his lead by a sizable margin and eventually won by a very wide margin. Josephs had a tight race in the half mile as his 1:57.2 bettered Jon Chalfin's time of 1:57.7, set in 1967. Josephs and Larry Ross of Lincoln High School were in a head-to-head battle throughout most of the race.

With about 50 yards remaining in the race, Josephs turned on an extra burst of speed and nudged out Ross for the gold medal. The Bulldogs' other top performers included Paul Farnsworth in the quarter mile, Keith Thiele and Ken Hall the two miles, Carmen Biondi in the mile and a half, and Gary Joyce, Ron Shapiro in quarter mile, Arnold Gertz in the 60 yard dash, and Bob Ripp, Rapumo, Farnsworth and Benson in the mile relay.

The Springfield track team will continue to train throughout March, opening its outdoor season against Roselle Park at home April 1.

Springfield Minutemen suffered their first defeat, losing to Bloomfield in the opening round of the Jersey Invitational Tournament, Springfield, without the services of high scoring forward Howie Drew, had turned back Florham Park, 70-57, last Wednesday. Then Bloomfield upset Springfield, 67-51.

The Springfield-Bloomfield battle was split and took through three quarters. Then, at the fourth period corner, Springfield's Joe Pepe was charged with his fifth personal foul. An Joe went to the bench, the Springfield hoped went with him.

Through the first three periods Joe had pulled down 17 rebounds and was particularly effective against Bloomfield's fine 6-3 center, Dave McDonald. Dave dominated the game after Pepe's departure, leading his team to a 23-11 margin over Springfield in the final period. McDonald's 26 points topped all scorers in the game.

Dayton wrestlers vie this weekend in district tourney

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School wrestling team will compete in the district tournament tomorrow and Saturday at Hillside High School, Westchester, winning in the district will qualify for the state tournament. The probable Springfield participants are Frank Priest at 98, Curt Meyer at 106, Andy Kriegen at 115, Gary Branning at 123, Glen Sisk at 130, Stephen Max at 130, Mike McCourt at 136, Bob Lyons at 141, Brian Ruff or Ron Shapiro at 148, Rody Hunter at 157, Gary Joyce at 168, Don Astley at 178 and Gary Grant at heavyweight.

The Bulldogs continue to have up for their first round game against Roselle next week in the state tournament, scheduled for March 5 at Westfield.

Frank Bucci, who scored 39 against Caldwell, came back with 32 against Madison. He and Danny D'Arcy (24) led a first-quarter surge which gave Springfield a 20-15 lead. The Bulldogs couldn't shake Madison until the second period. The game was tied several times in the opening period and Madison remained within five points throughout the early moments of the second period. With 7:20 remaining, Dayton led 22-17.

Then the Bulldogs fast break went to work. With Charlie Foster and Bob Janakowicz rebounding, the Bulldogs took a 22-15 lead at the half and D'Arcy (17) at the half sent Dayton on a 2-2 apart to give the Bulldogs a 29-15 lead with 6:23 remaining. Three minutes later the Suburban Conference champions led 40-19 and carried a 47-35 lead into the locker room.

Madison pulled to within 50-42 with 5:22 remaining in the third quarter. Then two long outside jump shots by Ed Grzeskiewicz, who finished with 10 points, and one by Bucci, negated the outside jump shots. Dayton led after the third period, 66-50, and scored the first two points of the fourth quarter to ensure the victory. Bucci's rebounding was a key factor. Going through a season without a defeat is a remarkable feat. Dayton had close games during the season—40-38 at Summit (48-40) which Charley Foster won in the closing seconds and another to Union Catholic (76-70)—but the Bulldogs managed to come out on top.

Coch Ray Vanichas said before the Bulldogs began that if Dayton was to be in the thick of the conference, it would have to run and concentrate on tight defense. In 17 games this "Buck" worked his perfection. Springfield has averaged 80 points a game, hitting its opponents to an average of 57.

Byron now enters the tournament against a Roselle squad which he has beaten twice. Coach Peter Sococa called it Dayton's worst performance in seven weeks. The top six teams qualified for the second round of the tournament. The order of finish: Kentworth, Clark, Berkeley Heights, Hillside, Linden and Union. Dayton had defeated Kentworth, Clark, Berkeley Heights and Hillside during the tournament. The Bulldogs did not compete against Union or Linden during the regular season.

Springfield was led by Tom Herman who had an outstanding day. Herman rolled a 571 with a 205 game. Bob Kuhn had a 497 series with a 214 game while Steve Glover had a 526 series and a 182 game. Senior Bob Shallock had a 495 series.

Rockets take lead in Sandmeier play by topping Raiders

The Rockets topped the Raiders in basketball showdown battle for first place Saturday in the Sandmeier Small-Fry League as the Rockets defeated the Raiders, 44-37.

The game went into overtime before the Rockets registered a 21-18 victory. A bucket and a foul shot by Kenny Field sent Springfield to the lead. Jeff Bromberg offset an overtime bucket by Kenny Fingerhut of the Raiders. Todd Williams also scored for the Rockets. Springfield led by three points at the end of the second half. Springfield had 14 points in the front court to cement the victory. Gavin excelled defensively, taking the ball from the Raiders. Fingerhut led the Raiders with 13 points. Kenny continued his fine effort through the overtime period. Howie Drucker hit a bucket and Tom shot for the Rockets while Jimmy Staller had a two-pointer to open the game.

The Comets, with a final-period rally marked by a 13-10 run, pulled to within 44-37. Dave Baronek while their opponents were scoreless, took a 13-11 victory over the Chiefs. Baronek's eight points led all scorers. Coleman had three points and Frank Zahn a first-period bucket. Mike Schoy and Mike Storchbach played well for the Raiders. Fingerhut led the Chiefs with a bucket and a free throw. Rich Minor hit a bucket, while Dave Lyons and Steve Shallock were defensive strikers.

The Jets edged the Pirates, 14-12. Jeff Bromberg's seven points paced the Jets. Howie Drucker hit three buckets and Rich Kaplan had two buckets. The Pirates' Mike Kuzner and Dave Feldman played very well for the Jets. Joe Calabrese was outstanding for the Pirates. He scored seven points and was particularly effective from the line where he hit five of five attempts.

Chargers won their second victory of the campaign last Saturday, beating the Tigers, 6-3. In a tight defensive battle Dave Hays led the winning attack. Dave had a bucket and a final-period foul shot. Hays' start-up shooting put the Chargers into the lead. Dave Schlangler hit a foul shot for the Chargers. Tommy D'Arcy and Paul Kammogler led the Chargers' defense. Robert Schindler, with a final period bucket, brought the Tigers back into a challenging position. Hays' shooting hit six out of seven.

The Sandmeier League will conclude its regular season on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. The Rockets will start the Chiefs, to be followed by Pirates vs. Comets, Raiders vs. Chargers and Tigers vs. Jets. The league playoffs will start Saturday, March 7.

Rabbi will give lecture on Jewish view of abortion

Rabbi Reeve Brenner, spiritual leader of the Princeton Jewish Center will be the guest preacher at Temple Sharey Shalom, Springfield, at sabbath evening services tomorrow at 8:45 p.m. Rabbi Brenner is a member of the New Jersey Clergy Consultation Service on Abortion, an organization of ministers and rabbis who believe that the current laws on abortion are wrong, and who advise women—married and unmarried—on where they can get abortions at reasonable fees and in relative safety. Clergy Consultation Service groups similar to the New Jersey group are presently functioning in ten states.

Rabbi Brenner's sermon topic will be "A Modern Jewish View of Abortion." During the One Shabbat, following the service Rabbi Brenner will enter into dialogue with and answer questions from the congregation.

Rabbi Brenner, who serves a Conservative congregation, will be conducting the Reform services at Temple Sharey Shalom in the absence of Rabbi Israel Dresner, who is in Israel for the convention of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, the organization of American Reform Rabbis.

Rabbi Brenner and his wife and two children will leave for Israel in May. He will spend a year on a research grant from the Yivo (the Yiddish Scientific Institute), carrying on research on the Nazi persecution of Jews. Rabbi Brenner is a graduate of C.C.N.Y. and was ordained at the Jewish Institute of Religion in New York. After serving as an Army chaplain for two years in Germany Rabbi Brenner served Temple Beth Ahm in Monaca, Pa., near Pittsburgh.

While serving the Pennsylvania congregation he served as resident lecturer in Jewish religious thought at St. Vincent College and Seminary, a Roman Catholic school in Latrobe, Pa. Rabbi Brenner and his work in the field of abortion were the subject of an article in Parade Magazine, the Sunday newspaper supplement, on Aug. 17, 1969.
