Schools open Wednesday

Bells will ring Wednesday at all Springfield elementary schools to announce the opening of the 1970-71 year. Bells for Jonathan Dayton Regional High School also will ring Wednesday for all upperclassmen and Tuesday for freshmen.

The starting hour for those attending Dayton Regional and the Florence Gaudineer Schools is 8:20 a.m. For those at the Edward Walton, Raymond Chisholm, Thelma Sandmeier and James Caldwell schools, it is 8:45.

About 325 students are expected to attend St. James School, run by the Benedictine Order, when classes begin Tuesday at 8:35 a.m., according to Sister Alexandrine, principal. Half-sessions ending at noon will be held the first week. There have been no curriculum changes. There are seven lay teachers and six sisters who will conduct classes.

The estimated enrollment at Jonathan Dayton is 1,295 students. The projected local figure for kindergarten through eighth grade is 1,765, according to the Springfield Board of Education. Last year's enrollment was 1,647, bringing about a decrease of 4 percent for this year.

Rooms have been painted, lighting fixtures have been replaced and new draperies have been installed in teachers' rooms over the summer. The driveway at the Gaudineer School has been repaved.

The school lunch program has been revised. Any students who want to eat in their elementary schools can now do so.

The projected phase-out of the Chisholm School has been postponed, according to the Board of Education. It now is scheduled to begin in 1972.

Innovative programs that were launched last year will continue. These include the AAA science program, the pilot program in individual instruction, team teaching and the use of closed circuit video tape systems, according to the board.

WET AND WILD — Barry Snyder, coach of the Springfield Municipal Pool swim team, comes to a damp and at the hands of team members at their party held last week at the pool. See article on the Sports Page for additional information.

Two of the main concerns this year are drugs and narcotics, according to a board spokesman. He said that the State Department of Education has requested that an in-service program be provided for teachers to help them give students insight and understanding of themselves.

About 15 new teachers have been hired for the elementary schools. They will attend an orientation day program today which includes a tour of Springfield, a reception and meetings in their respective buildings. There will be a general session with talks by John O. Berwick, superintendent of schools, and Raymond Winberry, president of the Springfield Teachers Association. They will review the services available in both the community and schools.

In-service days were held Tuesday and yesterday under the supervision of Mrs. Roseanne Gillis, science and mathematics specialist. Their purpose was to introduce the new teachers to the AAA science program which is being used in kindergarten to fifth grade in Springfield.

A faculty day program for all teachers will be held Tuesday. A reception and coffee hour at the Gaudineer School will begin the day. Faculty members will then meet in their respective buildings. Berwick, Winberry and Dr. Joseph Tamburo, assistant superintendent of schools, will address all teachers.

The more things change ... Helping the poor -- problem from start

By JANICE ADLER

It was common practice to hold more than one official office before 1817. In that year the Town Committee passed a resolution that only one position could be held at a time.

Reversing decisions made at previous town meetings is nothing new. The committee decided that the freeholders of Springfield were to "aid and assist in building the County Poor House of Ease." The following year, 1818, the freeholders were instructed to oppose building the poor house. Three years later a special meeting was held to decide whether the committee should consent to the freeholders aid in constructing the poor house. The resolution passed.

In 1819 a committee of four was appointed to examine sites in Springfield to build a poor house "as would best comport with the interest of the Township." One was never built, so far as is known.

The idea of a county poor house came up again in 1827. The township agreed that it would participate in building one "provided the house is built in the center of the County or as nearly so as is practicable." There was a poor farm on White Oak Ridge in Millburn until sometime in the 1830s. It was a little northwest of the intersection of White Oak Ridge road and Parsenage Hill road. There is no record of when it was built.

'Hot line' now operating for callers at 376-6440

Springfield's "hot line" telephone service went into operation Tuesday night, with the emphasis on drug-related problems, following a final planning meeting of the Mayor's Commission on Drug Abuse Monday at Town Hall.

The telephone, 376-6440, will now be manned by trained volunteers seven nights a week from 7 to midnight. Emphasis is on providing sympathetic listeners to help callers work out the solutions to their own drug problems and related mental health difficulties and on referring those who need help to agencies in the area equipped to deal with specific problems.

More than 40 "hot line" volunteers on Monday heard talks by Robert Southward, commission chairman, and Dr. Donald Merachnik, assistant superintendent of schools for the Regional High School District. A trained psychologist, Dr. Merachnik is in charge of training for the volunteers who have now started to man the telephones. Charles Danziger, "hot line" chairman, stressed the confidential nature of all "hot line" conversations.

The Mayor's Commission will meet again on Monday evening, Sept. 14, at Town Hall to survey progress of the telephone service and to map future activities.

ARNOLD GERST, youth co-chairman of the commission, reported on a 3 1/2-hour "rap session" held Sunday at the municipal swimming pool in an effort to improve communications between adults and teenagers in the area of drugs and drug-related problems. Gerst and Southward conducted the session, with participation by members of Integrity House in Newark.

Gerst stated:

"With over 100 people in attendance the discussion covered the drug problem throughout our society and in Springfield, and the lack of communication between the adult and teenager and other controversial topics.

"Because there was a mixture of adults and teenagers there were many opposing views expressed. The teenagers said that if their friends were involved with narcotics, they would not social on them because then they would be banned from their peer group. The representatives from Integrity House vehemently disagreed with this opinion and said that by not reporting someone they are only

TAKING CARE OF THE poor seemed to be a major problem up through, and including, the beginning of the 20th century. Money for this was always included in the budget. One of the overseers of the poor questioned whether James Whitehead and his family were eligible for care and whether or not they were "chargeable to the inhabitants of Springfield." Whitehead did not know where he was born, but knew that he lived in Union Township. A witness said that Whitehead was born in Union and "the deed that James Whitehead held was a spurious one conveying the tavern in Springfield from David Whitehead to James Whitehead," the record does not give the outcome of the 1818 hearing.

It was decided, in 1822, that the farmer of the poor had to take care of any paupers given to him. If he refused he was "liable to pay all costs and charges arising therefrom."

There always seems to be delinquents in paying taxes. The first recorded instance is in 1810 when Abraham Woolley and Isaac Sampson owed a total of $266.81 to the town.

Revenue raised from taxation was used to take care of the roads in, and running through town. The overseers of the highway were responsible for seeing they were in good repair. Apparently township residents didn't help matters because, in 1821, residents were held liable for the overseers' negligence and all damage to roads in their district.

IN 1824 THE COMMITTEE decided to raise $200 through taxation for future repairs of public highways. The next year it was resolved to use tax money for this.

Raising money to repair roads seemed to be a factor concerning several early town meetings. Fifty dollars were needed in 1830 "to work the South Orange Road," the present Valley street running from Millburn avenue to South Orange Center. A special meeting in 1870 turned down a proposal to raise funds

Tournaments, dance to climax pool's activities

Events scheduled for the final weekend of the Springfield pool season include, on Sunday, a bridge tournament, a mall long tournament, an adult treasure hunt and a staff vs. pool all-stars softball game. On Sunday evening at 8:30 an adult dance will be held. Dress for the dance will be informal. Members were asked not to bring refreshments to the pool in glass containers. The snack bar will sell club soda, ginger ale, Danish and coffee.

A ping pong tournament, a bocce contest, a kite flying contest and a tricycle race were held last week at the pool. The Ping Pong Tournament was held last Monday. The youngsters were divided into two groups, boys and girls.

For the girls the winners were first, Marcy Roth; second, Nancy Citron, and third, Sandra Nieman. The boys' winners were: first, Don Tischerberg; second, Jim Robinson, and third, Michael Rosenberg. Ribbons were awarded to the winners.

A bocce contest for youngsters was held on Tuesday. Twelve teams entered the competition and after elimination rounds the winners were: first, Scott Rusziser and Scott Efrus; second, Scott Pashalan and Peter Cook, and third, Dean Sagull and Scott Margules. The winning teams were awarded ribbons.

On Wednesday, youngsters participated in a kite flying contest. The winners were, for the girls, Bess Morrison, 9, and, for the boys, David Lerner, 8. These youngsters were also awarded ribbons for their victories.

The tricycle race, featuring competition in the shot put, long jump and 60-yard dash, was contested on Thursday. In the shot put the first three places went to Mike Meyerowitz, Melissa Purkhiser and John Sheehan. The long jump was won by Melissa Purkhiser. Second and third in this event were by Mike Meyerowitz and John Sheehan, respectively. In the 60-yard dash Mike Meyerowitz again finished in first place. Second place was won by Melissa Purkhiser. Third was John Sheehan.

ON SUNDAY, a paddlball contest and a bocce contest, both for adults, were held at the pool. In the paddlball contest, Elaine Bohrod and Blaholi were the winners. In second place was the team of Irene Frank and Simono Gochlik. Third place went to Mr. and Mrs. Vic Palazzi.

The victor in the bocce contest was the team of Doty Albert, Carol Szymanski, Joe Pepe and Ed Cook. The second and third

Crossing guards

Applications are being taken by Springfield police for school crossing guards. Both men and women can apply. The rate is $2.25 per hour. Uniforms will be supplied and instruction will be given. Anyone who is interested can call Capt. Leslie Bell during the day, or Lt. George Parsell after 4 p.m., at 376-6440.

END OF THE LINE — Arthur Lee Marchburn Jr. of Newark was pronounced dead at the scene after his car stalled sideways at the intersection of Caldwell place and Mountain Avenue Sunday morning. Marchburn apparently lost control and the car wrapped itself around a tree. No one else was involved in the accident. See article on Page 12. (Photo by Det. Howard Thompson)

Caprio and Weltchek assail 'spotty' code enforcement

Arthur Caprio and Robert Weltchek, Democratic candidates for Township Committee in Springfield, this week assailed what they termed spotty enforcement of local ordinances and codes by township officials. Charging in particular failure to control ragweed and the ignoring of improper use of garbage dumpers by apartment and commercial establishments, Weltchek and Caprio stated that the "haphazard enforcement of local building and health codes detracts terribly from health and safety of the community."

They also charged irregular enforcement of the swimming pool ordinance. While night use of the pool is prohibited in the ordinance, they said, the Recreation Department itself schedules a few events there after sundown and prohibits others during the year. Caprio and Weltchek had earlier stated that they favor regular use of the pool at night and called for repeal of an ordinance "that is so arbitrary that the town itself is tempted to violate it."

Their statement follows:

"We don't know if it is because of favoritism, apathy or inability, but it seems to us that increasingly Springfield's codes and ordinances are going unenforced. These rules have been enacted to improve the lives of the majority of us. When adhered to, they can do wonders to raise the quality of our lives.

"Ignoring them can detract terribly from the health and safety of the community. If it turns out that an ordinance was misconceived in the first place it should be changed or repealed. But as long as it is on the books it should be enforced by the agency in municipal government empowered to do so.

"TO PICK A CASE at random, consider ragweed. Each year rag-eyed, runny-nosed citizens appear before the Township Committee, pleading that ragweed growth be sprayed to relieve the most immediate source of their

I can remember when I was in elementary school, and time seemed to go unbelievably slow, I sometimes wondered if the hands on the school room wall's clock were really moving at all...

THE ARGUMENT HAS BEEN MADE that to fix a definite date for our withdrawal means only an enemy victory. It is claimed that the North Vietnamese will not wait for us to pass and then, when we are out, come in for the kill...

THE ANSWER TO THIS, I think I always have been, is that I believe that the United States should use whatever it can to help the South Vietnamese to defend themselves...

I APPLIED THE PRESIDENT'S decision to turn from escalation to deescalation of America's participation in the war and I approve of the actions he has taken over the past year to implement that decision.

But one can say this, if the process of withdrawal to whatever extent he finds possible.

But what if the period is too short? This answer is, we must get it. Why do I say this? I say it because the President makes it clear to the country that a longer time is needed, the Congress will surely act, and if the case cannot be justified before the people...

This is the way in which the great decisions of war and peace must be made in democratic America.

Study of earth, planets new at Newark State

ALEXANDER HALL
Dr. Nathan Weiss, president of Newark State College, Union, announced this week the appointment of Alexander Hall as chairman of the Earth and Planetary Sciences Department of the college.

A new department at Newark State College, the Department of Earth and Planetary Sciences includes research and instruction in geology, astronomy, astrophysics, meteorology, oceanography and other studies of the earth's geosphere and natural environment. Courses within the department are varied and include such topics as stratigraphy, paleontology (study of fossils and ancient life forms), glacial and Pleistocene geology and limnology (the study of the life of lakes, ponds and streams).

A specialist in the area of environmental sciences, Hall is a graduate of Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga., and later earned his master's degree in chemistry and physics from Atlanta University. In 1952 Hall entered as a National Science Foundation Faculty Fellow in Astronomy at the University of Michigan and the University of Wisconsin. He became a member of the science department faculty at Newark State in 1965, after serving as an associate professor of physical science at Morgan State College in Baltimore, Maryland.

Since joining the faculty of Newark State College, Hall has been active in efforts to expand opportunities for careers in science and technology. He is a member of a department of Higher Education and Industry committee concerned with developing scientific and technological careers for minority group members.

Dr. Weiss in his announcement stated "Hall is an energetic and innovative educator and scientist, who will contribute greatly in the expansion of the science programs at the College."

Freshman is 'alumnus' Remembers college as camp

"It was nothing—just bunk, thousands of people, many with babies—no one knew what would happen tomorrow."

That was Camp Kilmer in 1957, when the former Army post was home for the returning vets who fled Hungary after the uprising in 1956. Thirteen years later Camp Kilmer is Livingston College, the new liberal arts college of Rutgers, the State University.

"Where's the barracks? Where are the crying children? Where is all the sickness?"

Tall dormitories rise where wooden barracks once sheltered homeless families. And one of those crying children who lived in the barracks will return to the Camp Kilmer area this fall, to live in a dormitory as a student at Livingston College.

He is Gary Rony of Union, who was four years old the first time he came to what is now the Livingston campus across the Raritan River from the main Rutgers campus in this city.

Gary's memories of what it was like then are sketchy because he was so young, but for his mother, Mrs. Michael Rony, they are vivid and exciting. She recalls the bunk and crying children, the fighting in Budapest, the long trek through the woods that led to freedom and she recalls the camp very clearly when it was not making it at all.

With the child could not be found, Francis, the Rony's began to search for their son. The search was fruitless, and the family to search the snowy woods alone. After a while, recalls Mrs. Rony, "I heard a noise like a little mouse cat, and there was Gary, in the snow under a tree."

The family continued heading toward, and finally reached the Austrian border and camped, exhausted, by the side of a road. "We had nothing," she says. "We had everything home, except one teddy bear. We didn't know where we were," Mrs. Rony recalls.

Picked up by a horse-drawn cart, they were later sent to eight different camps in Austria, being moved often because the camp was overcrowded. For almost two months, they went to Germany where they boarded an American troop ship for the trip to the United States.

The voyage was far from a pleasure cruise, with 1,200 people sleeping on the decks or wherever they could find room, with February providing its usual share of stormy weather, and with Gary in the hold, fighting in an infection and 105-degree fever. But after two weeks it was over, and on Valentine's Day the Ronys arrived at Camp Kilmer.

FOR GARY, MUCH HAS HAPPENED since then. Now a tall, slender young man, he has developed a strong love of animals and an interest in medicine. At Livingston he will be a pre-med student.

Gary's father now is a designer in a New York fur salon. An older brother graduated from Fairleigh Dickinson University in June, and now Gary has a 12-year-old sister.

Gary's interests are animals in general at home, where the menagerie includes a cat, a parakeet, six tanks of fish, a parrot family and a program dog and away from home, where Gary is working this summer as a nature counselor at a camp.

Before that, he worked as an orderly at Paterson General Hospital, and did volunteer work at the hospital, where he belonged to the German Club, Hospital Club and Chess Club, and he is a member of the Passaic County Aquarium Society.

THIRTEEN YEARS LATER — Gary Rony, who will enroll as a freshman at Livingston College this month, is "returning" to an area he first saw as a four-year-old, at Livingston College. He is now a member of the Passaic County Aquarium Society.

Freeholders plan mass purchases to effect economies

Union County is preparing a comprehensive shopping list for mass purchases of goods and services to effect economies in the county, local governing bodies, and the long run, the taxpayer, money," Maguire said.

"If the appliance, department and grocery stores can form co-ops to purchase by the cartload, if industry can save millions yearly by utilizing the combined buying power of sister companies and if the federal government, through standardization and volume buying, can cut the cost of national expenditures, why shouldn't the county follow suit?" he asked.

Elizabeth town alumni host new freshmen

Innovation program begins third year with 100 projects

The State Department of Education's newly designed plan to help local school systems improve their educational programs will be in effect throughout the coming school year in 13 school districts.

The department plan, which will be undertaken on a pilot basis in the 13 districts, is designed to help a district assess its needs and to provide follow-up services to bring about improvement. A cadre of some 300 educators from throughout the state has been assembled by the department to serve as field consultants on department teams which will work with the districts on the self-improvement program.

The districts that will pilot the program in 1970-71 are: South Orange-Mt. Pleasant, Newark Township, East Brunswick Township, Woodrow Wilson Regional, Florham Township, Woodstown-Plainsboro Regional and Upper Merion Township.

In carrying out the program, a district initially will conduct a self-study of its entire school system, after which a visiting team will review the study and provide expert help in the determination of needs. A follow-up team will work with the district to produce improvement plans.

Each team will be headed by a staff member of the department's Division of Curriculum and Instruction and will include members of the cadre of field consultants. The cadre is made up of educators with expertise in 12 separate subject or program areas. For each area, there are approximately 25 educators, including teachers, supervisors, administrators and college personnel. Orientation meetings for the members of the cadre will be held by the department in June and further orientation and training programs will be held this fall.

AS THE NEW PLAN is implemented during the coming year, the 13 pilot districts will make use of guides prepared by the Division

Faculty to have a greater voice in UC decisions

Faculty members at Union College, Cranford, will play a greater role in decision making and in policy formulation under revised bylaws proposed by the faculty and adopted by the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, president, said the new bylaws will be implemented this fall with the election of a faculty chairman, vice-chairman, secretary-treasurer, and an executive committee.

A feature of the new bylaws is the formation of a College Council. The membership will include the faculty officers and members of the executive committee and Dr. Iversen.

The bylaws state that the purpose of the College Council "is to serve as a means of communications and cooperation between the faculty and the administration." The council will meet at the request of Dr. Iversen or the chairman of the council.

THE BYLAWS PROVIDE that the faculty will have "primary responsibility for educational and instructional matters, such as curriculum, course of instruction, research, and those aspects of student life which relate to the education process."

In addition, the faculty will establish the requirements for degrees and determine that such requirements have been met, will bear initial and substantial responsibility for determination of faculty status and related matters, and through the welfare committee "participate in the formulation of policies and procedures governing compensation and other benefits."

The faculty also will advise Dr. Iversen through appropriate committees in such areas as the framing and execution of long-range plans, the use of existing and prospective physical resources, long and short-range priorities in the deployment of financial resources, and the selection of the dean and other principal academic officers.

The executive committee of the faculty will consist of the chairman, vice-chairman and secretary-treasurer and three members-at-large: one in the liberal arts-business area, one in the engineering-science area, both of whom must be tenured, and one non-tenured from any area of study.

THE BYLAWS PROVIDE for the establishment of the following faculty committees: Personnel committee, welfare committee, library committee, academic evaluation committee, admissions committee, counseling committee, catalog committee, scholarship and financial aid committee, curriculum committee, faculty-student committee, and inter-collegiate athletic committee.

As ad hoc committees of the faculty and a special committee of the Union College Chapter, American Association of University Professors prepared the revised bylaws.

The members of the ad hoc committee and the AAUP committee are serving on a special committee appointed by Dr. Iversen to implement the new bylaws.

Democrats attack GOP freeholders for lack of initiative

Republican freeholders are quick to criticize their GOP brethren in the New Jersey Legislature about imposing costs on the county, but have shown little initiative in trying to solve the problems involved, four Democratic candidates for the Union County Board of Freeholders charged this week.

Seeking election to the board are Thomas W. Long, Linden educator; Harold Seymour, Cranford's tax collector; Everett Lattimore, Plainfield educator; and John Metzky, Elizabeth's chief tax assessor.

More than a year ago, the freeholders were asked to help the ailing De Corso bus line in Summit and they criticized Trenton for permitting the line to seek help, then approved the county's one-fourth share of the subsidy grant.

The Democratic candidates said in a statement, "In the year that followed, Chambers of Commerce in Plainfield and Easton Union County and others advanced plans for changes in the county's tax collection system and full public transportation plans."

"A little initiative on the part of the freeholders might have produced some results, but the board sat back for a year and did nothing. They only again criticized the Legislature and approved the 'smokestack' subsidies to meet the county share of the transit for two lines, De Corso and Plainfield Transit Co., the statement concluded."

Guard against heart attack Follow the 'rules of the road'

With the last long holiday weekend of the summer coming to this week, Americans will be asked to reduce their risk of becoming auto accident statistics. If the same caution was observed to reduce the risk of coronary heart disease the savings of life might be even greater, according to the Union County Heart Association.

A year-long campaign of risk reduction could cut sharply the death toll from heart attack, which now stands at more than 570,000 annually. The factors which make a person susceptible to heart disease are known, the Union County Heart Association points out, and many individuals can do something immediately about overcoming some of them.

With a doctor's help, they can correct or control the others.

According to the Heart Association suggests: 1. Get a regular medical check-up. 2. Stop smoking. The risk of death from heart disease can be lessened greatly when a smoker quits. 3. Begin a planned program of moderate physical activity to keep the heart in top condition.

Car down on foods that are high in cholesterol. There is much evidence that this will help guard against heart disease. The development of coronary artery disease which underlies most heart attacks.

Avoid emotionally stressful situations which can become magnified in individuals who are already stressed.

Seek your doctor's help to control such other coronary heart disease risk factors as high blood pressure, diabetes, obesity, and gout.

French visitor loves American cuisine He's guest of Lions official in Mountainside

Vincent Mouches will be packing as much living as possible into the next few weeks. And he's leaving that he has a giant ready-made family in north Jersey more than anxious to help him.

Vincent arrived last Friday from his home in Lyon, France, to the Lions office until Sept. 27 at Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klump of 1137 Geddes Brook rd., Mountainside.

Klump is the governor of District 16B of Lions International and this is the first time the director, which takes in Essex, Morris and Warren counties, has sponsored an exchange student in this country.

Lions International, however, has been sponsoring an exchange program since 1966. Vincent's visit here makes it about 2,800 the number of exchanges since the beginning of the program.

"We took him water skiing in the ocean off Ashbury Park last weekend," Klump said, "and that's all he's been talking about since. He's very keen on water sports," he said.

The Klumps next will take Vincent to Washington, D. C., for a few days in a week or so, but this week he'll be with a Lions Club family in Boston.

The highlight of that outing was a cruise around Manhattan. The Klumps next will take Vincent to Washington, D. C., for a few days in a week or so, but this week he'll be with a Lions Club family in Boston.

Vincent is a recent high school graduate. When he returns to his country he will enter college where he will take up business administration. But right now, Klump said, "he wants very much to study the American way of life."

"He loves American cooking," Klump said. "We've been having the same things we always have - nothing special - and he loves it. And he also likes the mountains and all the trout and lakes in and around Mountainside," Mr. Klump said.

The only hurdle Vincent and the Klumps have had to contend with is the language barrier. Vincent speaks only Italian and English, Mr. Klump makes sure everyone that talks to Vincent slows down to the kind of young visitor has a chance to understand. But the enthusiasm of both parties has about wiped out any communication problem.

Editor gets board post

The Christian Science board of directors announced this week that James H. Douglas, C.S.B., will retire from the board Oct. 1 and will be succeeded by DeWitt John, C.S.B., of Boston.

John has been editor of the Christian Science Monitor since May 1964. He will be succeeded in that post by John Hughes, the Monitor's Pulitzer Prize-winning Far Eastern correspondent who was named managing editor in June.

For 20 years, Douglas has served the Christian Science Church in various capacities. Committee of Publication for Texas, manager of the Washington, D.C., office of the magazine on publication, and a member of the Christian Science board of industry.

Next year, the District 16B Lions hope to send their first American youth off to Europe. At that time, simple things like just going shopping will be fascinating adventures, just like the adventures Vincent is packing into five weeks right now.

Lundy urges state to reject plea for railroad ticket boost

Daniel F. Lundy, Democratic congressional candidate in the 12th District, this week urged the New Jersey Department of Transportation to reject requests by commuter railroads in the state for increases in passenger fares.

"The burden of keeping our commuter trains and other means of mass transportation financially solvent must be placed upon the federal government, not the state, not the counties, not the municipalities and certainly not the commuter," Lundy said.

"Care," he said, "are the number one cause of air pollution in the United States and the only way that we are going to stop this contamination of our atmosphere and still provide adequate means of transportation is to develop better and more efficient mass transportation facilities."

Leadership in the area of mass transportation, her lack of initiative in this most important field has been a serious threat to our future progress in mass transportation."

Insurance program is supervised by the VA and administered by nearly 600 private insurance companies through a contract.

Nugent said that "protection under SGLI continues for 120 days following separation from service at no cost to the serviceman. However, the ex-serviceman must convert his group insurance to an individual permanent policy during the 120-day period and no physical examination is required."

'Getting Straight' being held over

"Getting Straight," an offbeat comedy starring Elliot Gould, continues at the Maplewood Theater, Maplewood. A timely film, it often assumes the style and wit of a television commercial.
 The movie is about the college campus today and centers around a young man, played by Gould, who is "out of the radical movement but carrying on his own private revolution. When campus upheaval begins to storm around him, he finds it impossible not to take a stand."
 Although critics have been reserved about the film as a whole, Gould has received rave reviews for his role as a teaching assistant at a university in Oregon. Director Richard Linklater has attracted comment for his unorthodox filming techniques, and Candice Bergen has been praised for her role in the film.

'Z' in final week at the Ormont

"Z," the Academy Award-winning film by Costa Gavras, is entering its eighth and final week at the Ormont Theater in Best Orange. The movie is being replaced by "Fellini Satyricon," beginning this Wednesday.

"Fellini Satyricon" is an imaginative film which draws images from ancient Rome. The movie is primarily pictorial and has received mixed reviews, having been called bizarre, spectacular, and amusing. Among those appearing in the film are Martin Potter, Hiram Keller, and Capucine. "Fellini Satyricon" is in Italian, in color, with English subtitles.

John Wayne film opens at Mayfair

"Chisum," starring John Wayne, has opened for its first week at the Mayfair Theater, Hillside. It is playing with "Viva Mexico!" a satire starring Peter Onofri.

"Chisum" is an all-star cast including Pamela Tiffin, Jonathan Winters, Kanan Wilks and Alice Ghostly. The movie concerns a Mexican general, played by Onofri, who tries to make the Alamo and throws San Antonio into bedlam. Directed by Jerry Paris, it is also in color.

'X' film held over

"Man and Wife," a lecture film about physical heredity in marriage, continues its run at the Art Cinema in Irvington Center. The movie, rated X, is restricted to audiences 21 and older. The cast is primarily unnamed.

Scott, who turns in an exceptional performance in the film, depicts a "strong-willed, glib-speaking man who strives to win the love of a woman who is directed by Franklin J. Schaffner and was directed in color.

Pins given to members of swim team; Hector wins gold at Livingston meet

BY LISA ANN BROWN
The Springfield Municipal Pool provided the setting for a swim team party on the evening of Aug. 24. Dinner at the snack bar preceded the evening's activities. Mrs. Helen Solla agreed to keep open the snack bar facilities for the party. Her staff prepared the hot dogs for the hungry Springfield swimmers. Fellow members of the swim team members volunteered as waitresses and provided various cold salads and several homemade treats for dessert. Ice cream was also contributed by the evening's activities. Mrs. Helen Solla, upon the completion of the meal, Coach Barry Snyder presented pins to all of the swimmers. Following the presentation of the pins, Coach Snyder extended his appreciation to the parents of the swim team members for their assistance in the preparations for the party and also for their encouraging words throughout the swim season. The coach gave special thanks to the Cooks, the Frestas, the Aultins, the Purdys, the Raines, the Koppels, the Browns and the Riccio. Snyder also expressed his gratitude to Stephen Magliano, the Springfield recreation director for the swim team. Snyder thanked Township Commissioner Arthur Falcin for his support of the swim team's endeavors.

'Max'imum effort makes 'Max rally' dog-gone success

Larry Ogden and Stanley Mazza, organizers of last Saturday's "Max Rally," termed the event a complete success. About 30 youngsters attended the schedule of five events in Springfield Park named in honor of a dog called Max.

In the boys' bicycle race, the three top finishers were Sid Schlein, Art Salinas and Harvey Kalsh.

Girls' bicycle race winners were Ilene Ogden, Michelle Gans and Ellyse Ogden.

The overall running champion was Harvey Kalsh.

In the relay race, the team of Randi Kessler, Scott Schlein, Elise, and Ilene Ogden, won.

The organizers thanked Sid Schlein, John and Ken Pingerhut, Elise, Ilene and Caron Ogden, Dennis Isaly, and Harvey Kalsh, for helping everyone on the rally.

miserable. Each year they receive plous promises. Look at the late lots in Springfield, including some owned by governmental agencies and you will indeed find that the rally was in profiting with only occasional and seemingly random efforts at enforcing the control of it.

A second case—apartment house garbage disposal. Most of the commercial establishments and apartment houses in town use dumpsters for garbage disposal. These are the large metal containers into which garbage cans are emptied and which in turn the garbage men empty into their trucks.

"They have the advantage to the property owner of facilitating garbage collection and hence reducing refuse collection costs. They have the disadvantage of having heavy doors which are difficult for apartment dwellers to open and close and which as a result are often left open, thereby creating offensive odors, flies and dirt.

"The zoning ordinance stipulates that refuse screens must have screening or buffers consisting of planted shrubs or fences. Many screens of dumpsters are in violation of this requirement, because if they did screen the refuse and the wind-blown refuse would have easy access to them and would have to raise their charges for garbage removal. Hence no screen, no permit. Many owners have been made to municipal authorities but these ordinances have not been enforced. We can only wonder why."

"THESE ARE BUT two areas in which city enforcement detracts from our community. Others can be named: Feeding of private swimming pools, papers littering business properties, use of residential property for business purposes, etc.

"One really extraordinary instance, however, concerns night use of the municipal swimming pool, which we have spoken out on before. The pool ordinance lists its hours of operation as ending at sundown. As a result, no regular night activities take place.

"Yet, there are exceptional times when night activities do occur. A theatrical group performs a vast mass. This week a dance is to be held.

"We are in favor of the night activities, but which is violated by the Recreation Department on occasion. If the ordinance is a bad one, change it. If it is a good one, enforce it. But ignoring it in one case and enforcing it in another opens the way to many arbitrary decisions based on favoritism, favoritism, or worse."

"Let's clean up the ordinance and code enforcement mess in Springfield. By electing Caputo and Welsch you will take a big step in that direction."

History

putting the Morris and Elizabeth Turnpike. The modern equivalent of this road is Morris Avenue through Linden and Springfield, the junction of Millburn Avenue and then west on Morris and Essex Turnpike.

In March, 1868, a resolution was passed to use $500 of the town's surplus to repair part of the Newark Turnpike—the present Springfield avenue—below the residence of John S. Woodruff. The resolution was rescinded a month later because the committee found out the place of road in question was not in Springfield.

The original boundaries of Springfield were laid in 1794 by the New Jersey legislature. The line began on the "bank of the Rahway River, in the line which divides the Ward of Springfield from Westfield; thence running in the said line to the Top of the Mountain, and from thence to the New Providence Meeting House; and thence to the top of the said mountain on a direct line to Keen's Mill; thence on a direct line to a bridge which crosses the East Branch of Rahway River, commonly known by the Name of Pierson's Bridge, by the Mill-Dam, and from down the said river to the Place of Boat-lifting."

"The discussion, which many times became heated, lasted for 3 1/2 hours. His major contribution was that it was agreed that the parent and teenager, and both sides of our society acted their views."

SOME OF THE LANDMARKS can be identified in the town. The house known as White Oak Ridge in Short Hills, Keen's Mill is unknown, Pierson's Bridge is where Pierson's Mill is on Valley street in Maplewood.

New Providence was created and broke away from Springfield in 1844. The township is recorded as having been bounded by Livingston, Clinton, Newark, Westfield, New Providence and Chatham. Summit broke away in 1869.

Springfield became part of Union County when it was established by the New Jersey Legislature on April 15, 1859. At that time Millburn, which had been part of the township, broke away and remained in Essex County.

Building the town hall, adoption of the township seal and other items will be discussed next week.

'Hot line'

On the subject of marijuana, the guest speakers said that not it is not physically addictive but that most hard drug users begin with marijuana. The speakers urged that laws for marijuana and narcotics should be made more severe. Many of the parents and students disagreed with this philosophy.

The organizers complained that there was a lack of recreation in Springfield. Many said that parents failed to support the Sarah Ballay Civic Center and therefore students don't have a place to congregate.

"Many adults felt that they can't establish a rapport with their sons or daughters. The parents said that every time they ask questions their son or daughter walks away or a long argument ensues between the parent and offspring. The guest speakers suggested that parents would gain a firmer line throughout the child's life the parents should face the communication gap during the teenage stage.

"Many teenagers said that the parents don't want to listen. They said that parents were too busy to listen to their problems.

"The discussion, which many times became heated, lasted for 3 1/2 hours. His major contribution was that it was agreed that the parent and teenager, and both sides of our society acted their views."

LABOR DAY

Labor Day is more than just a day of rest... it is a day of tribute to the men and women who are united together in the working forces of America. We can be proud of this country of ours, and the dedication that has given it greatness. Labor is the backbone of our nation, the forerunner of progress and invention, the provider. Let us sit back for a moment on this day and enjoy the fruits of our labor, and celebrate the great strides our country has made in all fields. Labor Day is a day of thanksgiving to all workers, for it is they who have shown America prosperity.

Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, president, said an enrollment of 1,500 full-time students and 1,000 part-time students is anticipated. The total includes 125 full-time and 200 part-time students at each of the urban campuses and 100 students from Elizabeth and Plainfield.

In addition, the total includes 80 students in the Educational Opportunity Fund Project for economically and educationally disadvantaged students, including 40 at the Cranford campus and 20 each at Elizabeth and Plainfield.

The Elizabeth campus is located in the Community Services Center (formerly the Bayway Community Center), South Broad street and Bayway, while the Plainfield campus is in the former Mayfair Supermarket, East Front street and Westmont avenue. Each campus contains classrooms, libraries, reading offices, counseling offices, student lounges, faculty offices, and administrative offices.

Registration dates set for students at UC

Registration for all students at Union College — Cranford, Elizabeth and Plainfield — will be conducted at the Cranford campus next Tuesday for day session students and on Wednesday and Thursday evenings for evening session students, it was announced this week by Prof. Elmer Wolf, acting dean.

New day session students at the Cranford, Elizabeth, and Plainfield campuses will register at Cranford during the morning, beginning at 9 o'clock and current students will register during the afternoon.

Evening students' registration hours will begin at 6 p.m.

PROGRAMS IN LIBERAL arts and business administration are planned at the Elizabeth and Plainfield campuses in both day and evening sessions.

Dr. Iversen said the Elizabeth and Plainfield campuses are designed to serve more students and to bring facilities to the people in Union County who had no access to higher education.

"Our goal is a completely integrated operation taking place in three different sites," Dr. Iversen said. "In normal programs, getting and serving, every effort is being made to provide the same quality of education at all campuses. This will be done by using experienced faculty and staff at the Elizabeth and Plainfield campuses, by making all services at the Cranford campus available to all students, and by developing a system of communications and transportation between all three campuses."

Prof. Fred Lang of Chatham, who is director of Union College's mobile College Information Center for the past three summers, will be director of the Elizabeth campus, and Ronald R. Fisher of 300 E. Westfield ave., Roselle Park, formerly assistant director of the Center Project, will be director of the Plainfield campus.

TO HANDLE THE INCREASED enrollment, 13 new full-time faculty members have been appointed.

They include two at the Cranford campus, Dr. Jensen of Colonia, and Dr. Brian J. Penkuch of Cranford. Dr. Jensen has been assigned to the Biology Department, and Dr. Penkuch to the Engineering-Mathematics-Physics Department.

New staff members include Dr. Irwin J. Zacher of Orange, as chairman of the English Department, and Frances C. Crosby of Wyckoff, a former faculty member in the Faculty Office of Investigation, who will be the first full-time law enforcement professor and will serve as coordinator of the law enforcement program. Seven new credit and four non-credit courses in the areas of history, philosophy, English,

UC faculty workshop

New faculty and staff members at Union College, Cranford, will attend a two-day workshop next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Central New Jersey YMCA Camp, Blairstown. It was announced this week by Prof. Elmer Wolf, acting dean of the college.

The workshop is intended to help orient faculty and staff to the two-year college in general and specifically to Union College, Woodbridge.

Innovative in its field, the workshop will explore the philosophy of the junior college, its role in post-secondary education, the types of institutions involved, and its status in New Jersey.

The four panel discussions planned for the workshop will also cover Union College specifically, its programs, students, and staff, along with regard to the community, county and state and the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education.
