KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT

Means of strengthening legislative control of the fiscal affairs of government—where the executive branch usually has the upper hand—are being explored at both the federal and state levels, notes the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

The last Congress, while rejecting a $50 billion "ceiling" on federal spending, established a joint 32-member Senate-House Committee. Its purpose is "to recommend procedures for improved congressional control over budget outlays and receipt totals."

Lack of control over federal spending has been emphasized by a series of annual budget deficits and increases in the debt ceiling to its present level of a near half-trillion dollars.

A basic fault of Congressional fiscal procedure has been its failure to moderate as annual federal spending more than tripled in the past two decades to the near $200 billion budgeted for the current (1973) fiscal year.

Congress has continued to follow an antiquated process under which a dozen or so separate appropriations bills are approved by one set of congressional committees, almost without regard to the total revenue picture considered by another set of committees of the House and Senate.

The joint committee, which is to report its recommendations to the Congress, is empowered to study "procedures which should be adopted by the Congress for the purpose of improving Congressional control over the outlay and receipt totals, including procedures for establishing and maintaining an overall view of each year's budget and its relation to the total revenue picture."

Projects have occupied Congress previously, but the deficits continue. In New Jersey, where budget deficits are barred by the Constitution, both legislators and interested taxpayers are watching development of legislative "Office of Fiscal Affairs" which was created to strengthen the Legislature's fiscal machinery and control over spending of state government.

Recent resolutions concerning fiscal control have been introduced in the State Senate but remain in committee. Calls for study by the Joint Legislative Appropriations Committee to devise means of modernizing procedures for presentation and consideration of the Governor's budget message to the Legislature.

Another would create a special "value ribbon" citizens committee to review the state's fiscal programs.

LETTERS Museum opposed

The proposal to build a $75,000 museum house a collection of historical items is another in a recent line of paradoxical events that have taken place in this town.

A bond issue was passed to expand the Regional High School system because of overcrowding. This was followed by the closing of Chisholm School because the school population was declining and the cost of education was too expensive.

Our local school board refused to buy even kindergarten children who walk much longer distances over heavily trafficked streets because it was too expensive and they were not responsible for getting the children to school.

More recently, the Regional Board voted to bus high school students who had to walk along heavily trafficked streets, namely, Mountain Avenue, etc. It is amazing that the same traffic is more hazardous for the high school students than it is for kindergarten children.

The offer of one of our townpeople to donate all his historical collection is a noble gesture, but the price tag on the museum is outrageous.

What are the operating costs going to be for this building? How many curators, janitors, and other staff members are required? What is the cost of salaries, heat, electricity, and other essential items? How much money will be spent to expand the collection in the future?

Profiles of candidates Springfield Board of Education

Gregory C. Clarke
Drawing on his experiences of a decade of helping children in trouble, Gregory C. Clarke feels that he can do a good job as a member of the Springfield Board of Education, helping children, who are mostly doing quite well, do even better.

Born in Jersey City, in 1934, Clarke grew up in Chatham and graduated from Bates College in Maine. He also holds a master of social work degree from Rutgers University.

After two stints in the Army, 1952-57 and again in 1961-62, Clarke worked for the Vocational Insurance Company before joining the N.J. Division of Children's Services as a caseworker in the Newark office. He then served at several other offices throughout the state before returning to Newark as district supervisor from 1968 to 1971.

Since then he has been executive director of the Junior Memorial Hospital, a residential treatment center for disturbed and delinquent adolescent girls.

"There is no one reason why I decided to run for the school board," Clarke stated. "I want to help serve the community and I think I have something to offer to the board because of my background—my understanding of children and their problems. As a professional I am interested in helping what can be done at the local special education program. I also want to see whether there are any economies we can effect."

"This is an excellent school system. I have had no direct contact with the special education department, which helps children with all kinds of learning problems, but I certainly appear to be well staffed."

"And in general the pupil-teacher ratio is quite low, which is a healthy sign. But I want to be sure that from here on we get not just good but exceptional teachers."

"All in all, I don't think I can come up with a single negative comment about the school system. There are some things I want to know more about, but I don't want to be any more negative than I already am."

Profiles of candidates Springfield Board of Education

John Westerfield
For John Westerfield, who is one of a very small number of lifelong residents of the township, his candidacy this year for the Springfield Board of Education is above all the next step in his program of good citizenship.

"I have lived in Springfield all my life," he explains, "and in those 40 years I have seen the town grow from even less than a village to a well-rounded community—which has a very high quality of education that I would like to see continued."

He added, "Having been at most of the board meetings as a parent for the last several years, I have a general idea of what the board is up against, and with a son who is a graduate of the local schools and a daughter in the fourth grade, I want to make sure that the quality of our education is maintained."

"I feel that I have something to offer to the community of Springfield, as I did in the recent discussion of school reduction. I am glad of my contribution at least helped to bring about the changes this year with the closing of the Edward Walton and Thelma Sandmer schools."

"And like the new system, it is beautiful. We now have a much healthier situation and develops a more competitive attitude. This raising of children from all different backgrounds gives youngsters more to strive for if they want to be leaders."

"Westerfield went on to say, "I certainly want to see the quality of local education improved still further, and this can be done only through the proper administration. I feel the superintendent of schools, Dr. Fred Baruchin, is doing a darn good job. He needs the continued full support of the board and of the people."

"At the same time, I am very sorry to see John Kaufman leaving as principal of the Walton School. This will be a big loss to all the children there."

THE CANDIDATE is a graduate of the local schools and lives at 48 Diven at, Thelma Sandmer, a sophomore at Walton School. He served four years in the Army Reserves and is now a driver for Texaco in Newark.

He is married to the former Dolores Coleman of Plainfield and they live at 48 Diven at, Thelma Sandmer, a sophomore at Walton School. Daughter Joyce is a fourth grader at the Walton School.

A member of the First Aid Squad, Westerfield has also been active as a coach in the Junior Baseball League. He has coached the basketball team in the Summit YMCA League sponsored by Springfield's Ancho Baptist Church.

Perhaps his closest contact with the educational system came in the several weeks he served as a parent volunteer at the Walton School. He served four years in the Army Reserves and is now a driver for Texaco in Newark.

The Summit YWCA this week announced the addition of two new instructors to its teaching staff. Gloria Balaban of Orange, a graduate of the Julliard School of Music and a teacher in Livingston and West Orange, will teach group piano for beginners.

Rhoda Kaplan of Springfield, an experienced teacher, member of the American Artists Professional League and Artists Equity who has recently been named "Who's Who Among American Artists," will teach charcoal sketching for beginners.

Other teachers who are returning after the fall term are Martha Gibb, teaching creative drawing; Jan Marriott, decorative art; Ingrid Hofer, mixed media; S. Allyn Schaeffer, oil painting; and Marie Weis, sculpting.

Yuan Yeh will repeat Chinese cooking and Sylvia Zlatin offers dressmaking and sewing with knits. Christine Falciano continues with several levels of French and Gloria Anderson with bridge.

Creative drama workshop for boys and girls in grades 1 through 6 will be offered again on Saturday mornings under the direction of Sylvia Felder of New York. Mrs. Felder will also conduct an acting workshop for senior high men and women on Saturdays, including scene study, stage movement, interpretation and characterization.

Junior high girls will find new classes in "TeenTime" which will start on Feb. 12 and will be announced. Registration in this class is limited. "Aquaculture" for girls, through which it will be repeated swimming, games and crafts.

The health and physical education department has a program of activities for all ages ranging from Tiny Tot's to the young adults. Water Babies for 3 and 4 year-olds, water aerobics for 5 and 6 year-olds, swimming classes for youth from beginning to advanced swimming.

Also offered are diving and canoeing for youth, both co-ed and a co-ed team swim and a co-ed team swim and a co-ed team swim.

Also listed are modern dance classes for youth and adults, yoga, beginning to advanced, classical, rhythmic gymnastics and businesswomen's slim and swim.

Kindergarten classes in reading, mathematics and rhythm for kindergartners; "Live Yogi" for 3 and 4 year-olds the basics in coordination and rhythm and "Tumble in This" for older children. They are all described in the winter brochure now available at the YWCA.

Registration is now open. Winter term begins the week of Feb. 12. Readers may call the YWCA for further information regarding classes and fees.

For adults, aqua gym offers water exercises to keep fit; ladies learn-to-swim for beginners and adult learners; swim for men and women.

High praise for retiring school board members

Statements praising the services of Seymour Margulies and Ruth Weisman, retiring members of the Springfield Board of Education, were issued recently by Dr. Theodor Gaudinier, principal, speaking for the staff of the Florence Gaudinier School.

The statement on Margulies declared: "Whereas, you are about to retire from the Board of Education; and

"Whereas, you served seven hectic, lively, full, tempestuous years; and

"Whereas, you know everything in Title 18; and

"Whereas, your support helped to enrich the curriculum, the instruction and processes of children, the welfare of the staff, the feelings of the public; and

"Whereas, you represent that model of a board member who is astute, systematic, logical, flexible, thoughtful, sensitive, accessible, unbiased, liberal, intense, realistic, practical, superior, encyclopedic; and

"Whereas, you are a master at debating anything; and

"Whereas, you have blossomed under your warmth, wit, and wisdom; and

"Whereas, you owe a little time to your family;

"I announce my regretful acceptance of your decision to leave the Board of Education at this time; and declare my undying appreciation for your selfless service."

Six persons reported injured in five township car crashes

Six persons were reported injured in five automobile accidents in Springfield since Jan. 24.

The first mishap occurred at 3:20 p.m. Jan. 24 at the intersection of Meisel avenue and Milltown road. Police said one driver, Valentina Arnold of Westfield, told them she was traveling south on Meisel in traffic when her car was hit in the rear by one operated by Joseph M. Perrell of Newark.

Miss Arnold, complaining of pains in the back and the neck, was taken to Overlook Hospital by the Springfield First Aid Squad. Also taken to the hospital was Jennie Perrell, a passenger in the second auto, who suffered a cut over the forehead. Both were treated and released.

A Springfield youth was slightly injured last Thursday at 8:15 p.m. when he attempted to make a "U-turn" on Lockman avenue.

Police said Joseph C. Fantozzi of 11 Golf oval told them he thought he had put his car in reverse gear, but when he stepped on the gas found it was still in forward. The vehicle jumped the curb in front of 433 Mountain ave., crossed into a tree. Police said Fantozzi was bleeding from the nose, but refused medical attention.

At 8:09 p.m. on the same date, there was a two-car collision at the intersection of Morris and Maple avenues, scene of a number of accidents recently.

Police said one driver, Janet B. Estenes of Berkeley Heights, told them she was going west on Morris and didn't realize the light at the intersection was red. Her vehicle collided with a car operated by Richard A. Farnsworth of Jersey City. Police said both drivers agreed the accident took place on the over-shoulder side of the road.

Police said Estenes was taken to Overlook Hospital, where she was treated and released.

Another two-car crash occurred Friday at 6:30 p.m. on Rt. 22 near S. Springfield avenue. Police said Horace J. Williamson of 28 Meisel ave., Springfield, had pulled out of the Howard Johnson's lot into the right lane. He reportedly attempted to get into the left lane and his car collided with one operated by Roland P. Guren of Jersey City. Police said both drivers agreed the accident took place on the over-shoulder side of the road.

Police said Williamson, a passenger, complained of injuries to the neck, but said he would see her own doctor.

Two other accidents were reported involved in an accident Saturday at 7:27 p.m. on Shampine road near Mountain avenue.

Police said one motorist, Thomas F. Murray Jr., turned right onto Shampine, and in doing so hit the other car, driven by Jack P. Pizzuto. Murray was taken to Overlook Hospital, where he was treated and released.

Police said Murray was wearing a seat belt and was not wearing a seat belt.

Police report 2 break-entries at local apartment and home

Break and entries at a Wabeno avenue apartment and a Maple avenue home were among eight crimes reported in the township by Springfield police since Jan. 23.

Both break and entries occurred Friday. The theft at the apartment was thought to have happened some time between 6:45 and 8:15 p.m. A diamond ring valued at $200, a silver dollar and a watch were reported taken.

A Maple avenue resident notified police that evening that her home had been entered while she was at work, between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. Jewelry, a fur coat, and an undetermined amount of cash were reportedly taken by the thief, who apparently gained entry by jimmying a door.

On Jan. 23 at 4:15 p.m., a Jersey City man reported his 1969 black Chevy Camaro was missing from a parking area at Atlantic Metal on Fadem road. The following afternoon, the manager of Morris Motor Repairs notified police that a Roselle man who had brought his car in for work claimed $320 was missing from the glove compartment of the vehicle.

An employee of the Howard Johnson Motor Inn on Rt. 22 told police that sometime between 1:25 and 10:10 a.m. last Thursday, a color TV set, valued at $220, was taken from a motel room. The thief also reportedly took a bedspread and a pillowcase.

PI. Robert Rozaner notified headquarters Friday at 1:25 a.m. that someone had broken a glass pane in a door at Kaufman Carpet on Rt. 22 and Stern avenue. Police said the store manager was notified, but so far it has not been determined if anything was taken from the premises.

A Millburn resident reported Saturday that a 1972 Ford "Mustang" valued at $1000, was stolen from the trunk of his automobile while it was parked in a lot at Sak's Fifth Ave. on Millburn avenue.

At 3:25 p.m. the same day, an employee of Sav-On Drugs at Echo Plaza notified police that a man had entered the store and took a case of cigarettes, worth $122. The culprit reportedly ran out of the store with the case, containing 30 cartons, and escaped in a cream-colored car.

JCIPL's construction plans total 1.6 billion for five years

Jersey Central Power & Light Company and New Jersey Power & Light Company are aware of not only the national energy needs but also of the needs of their customers, according to Dr. Shepard Barntoff, JCIPL-NJPL president.

Order to stay ahead of this need, Dr. Barntoff said, the utilities are continuing planning ahead with their programs of construction of additional generating stations and related facilities.

He said that JCIPL-NJPL expects to spend about $1.6 billion within the next five years (1973-1977) on this new construction.

"In 1973 alone we estimate that we will spend approximately $300 million for our construction and expansion programs," said Dr. Barntoff. He said that more than $125 million of the total 1973 construction budget has been allocated for new generating facilities and for improvements to existing generating stations.

Also in 1973 the two companies will spend about $67 million on the addition of new transmission and distribution lines—447 million for distribution and $20 million for transmission. In addition, $1 million will be expended on miscellaneous projects and equipment and $1 million will be expended on nuclear fuel.

Dr. Barntoff said that the companies have budgeted more than $2.5 million for new 500,000-volt transmission lines. He also noted that the companies will continue to expand their 230,000 volt transmission system to keep pace with their generating facilities and will reinforce their 34,500-volt system.

The utility executive said that substations with a rating of 230,000 volts will be built or expanded and that modernization and expansion programs will be conducted throughout the companies' system.

Dr. Barntoff said that by the end of 1973, JCIPL-NJPL will install an additional 244,000 kilowatts of peaking generating capacity by the completed installation of combustion turbines which will be part of the combined-cycle generating units at their Gilbert Generating Station in Holland Township. When totally completed in 1974, the cost of the installation will be about $36 million, according to Dr. Barntoff.

Director is named of seniors volunteer program

Ruth Goldstein has been named director of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program of Essex County.

The purpose of RSVP is to develop significant volunteer service opportunities in local communities for persons 60 and older. Inherently a local program, this branch of the national organization is sponsored by the National Council of Jewish Women in cooperation with the YMCA. Federal financial and technical assistance is provided by ACTION (which also funds the Teacher Corps, Vista and the Foster Grandparent Program).

There is no education, income or experience requirement to become a volunteer with RSVP. The agency is concerned with a growing recognized role in the community to facilitate the development of a meaningful life in retirement.

RSVP has established opportunities for work in hospitals, schools, libraries, sheltered workshops, nursing homes, colleges, etc. Transportation (at the cost of travel) and lunch are provided for those who desire it. Insurance is provided partial-to-total while on assignment.

Group activities are being encouraged for those men and women who are reluctant to go it alone. "Tour and Study" trips are scheduled weekly to offer a chance to survey the establishments which offer jobs for retired volunteers.

Mrs. Goldstein is a vocational rehabilitation specialist. She is a member of the board of trustees of the Springfield Public Library and an admissions representative for Beaver College.

Mrs. Harris cited as Realtors' dinner, retiring president

More than 300 guests visited the Chantler in Millburn last Thursday night for the annual dinner-dance of the Board of Realtors of the Orange and Maplewood, honoring Florence M. Harris, retiring president.

Represented were member real estate firms from Springfield, Millburn, Short Hills, Livingston, East Orange, Orange, South Orange, and Newark. Albert Rubin, president of the New Jersey Association of Realtor Boards, was the guest speaker.

Harry R. Hartford, Maplewood Realtor, was installed as president. Inducted with him were: vice president, Norman J. Goldberg, Newark; Joseph W. Zahn Jr. of Livingston; treasurer, Richard T. Nienow of South Orange; and secretary, Georgia McCallen of Springfield.

Installed as trustees for 1973 were Georgia McCallen, Charles A. Benninger, Samuel J. Russo and Anne Sylvester, all of Springfield. In charge of the induction ceremonies was Grover Kayhart of Caldwell, vice-president for the 8th District of the New Jersey Association of Realtor Boards.

Group activities are being encouraged for those men and women who are reluctant to go it alone. "Tour and Study" trips are scheduled weekly to offer a chance to survey the establishments which offer jobs for retired volunteers.

POW coming home, parents now 'just waiting for that call'

Rutgers University before entering the Navy. A football and wrestling star in high school, he also was active in both sports at college and, on graduating in 1952, received the Rutgers outstanding student award for athletic ability, character and scholarship.

Friends from school days remember him particularly as an athlete.

Volden was "probably one of the finest all-round athletes in the history of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School," according to Herb Palmer, now athletic director at the Springfield school.

"He was a real kid," Palmer added. "We grew up together and had a very close relationship, competing together in both football and wrestling. I haven't seen him since his senior year in high school, 1948. He went into the Navy air arm right after he graduated from Rutgers in 1952."

Volden was a fullback on the Dayton football team, a member of the wrestling varsity and a hurdler and half-mile for the track team.

In his junior year he received a trophy as the school's outstanding wrestler — given in memory of two Dayton alumni killed in World War II.

After he graduated, Palmer said, Volden went on to be an outstanding offensive halfback for the Rutgers football team, and he was also on the wrestling team there.

Last June Volden was the recipient of the Ernest T. Gardner Memorial Award presented annually to a Rutgers alumna who, participating in interschool athletics and "has achieved public leadership or otherwise distinguished himself and the university."

His parents lived at 211 Minute Army in Union for seven years before moving to Manassas.

Candidates

Other candidates also saw the possible drawbacks. They noted, however, that Caldwell has more than 300 youngsters, large enough for a rounded group, and that the school administrators should be able to maintain equality in education at both ends of town.

On having all the candidates expressed sympathy for small children required to walk long distances on heavily trafficked streets. They all seemed to agree, however, when Mrs. Koppel commented that except in special cases she wanted to "suspend educational funds for education and not transportation."

Mrs. Rajoppi drew some criticism for her statements that she was familiar with the operations of the local board. She stressed that as a reporter for the former Newark Evening News she had covered educational developments throughout Union County, including the local school board.

IN DISCUSSIONS with the smaller groups, the candidates had an opportunity to answer questions and discuss their own qualifications in more detail.

Westfield emphasized his 10-year residence in town and his work with local young people. He particularly cited his experience as a parent chaperone on the Springfield eighth grade weekend trips.

Domington brought up a point on which he said the "big" question was "how do you deal with children at a Catholic parochial school. He said he sends them there for specific instruction "which a public school cannot and should not provide."

He declared that he has 20 years of service in local recreational activities but led him to want to serve Springfield children in a broader sphere and that "I could very willingly vote for benefits which I know my own kids would not share." In other discussions, Domington said he wanted to find out if there is some way to coordinate with the local teachers, despite the many obstacles he knows would face such a plan.

Clark noted that as a state civil service social work executive he had succeeded in actions against a tenured employee he regarded as unsatisfactory. He added, "You must find ways to keep the staff moving forward."

Revaluation

more money for the municipality. In reality, the tax rate is dictated by the budgetary requirements of the municipality when applied to the value of existing taxable.

"The need for a revaluation program is dictated by wide variations of assessed value from true market value of properties within the taxing district. Such variations indicate either an underassessment or an overassessment of said properties. The result of such a condition is an unequal distribution of the tax burden among the property owners."

"The true purpose of the revaluation program is to fairly distribute this necessary tax burden among all property owners. In essence, this means equalization."

Each property owner will be notified in advance when to expect a visit from one of the firm's appraisers. Each representative of the company will carry a letter of identification signed by J. Everett Longfield, tax assessor.

The preliminary phase would involve research and analysis of "recent sales" in order to establish a "basis" for determining true value of properties in all parts of Springfield Township. This is referred to as the market approach to value.

After the firm has arrived at the true market value of all real property in the township, each property owner will be notified as to the value placed on his property. He will also be given a specific time when he can meet with a representative of the company to discuss any questions that relate to his assessment.

process, with methods of constantly improving our teachers.

Westfield underlined his lifelong residence here and his "close understanding" of the town. He added, "I hope I can help in furthering education in Springfield to an ever better degree than the present situation."

Advertising stays where it pays.

We think advertisers use the Yellow Pages year after year because it works. And obviously our advertisers think so too. Because they not only keep coming back, but often increase the size of their ad. Or they advertise under new classifications or in several nearby directories.

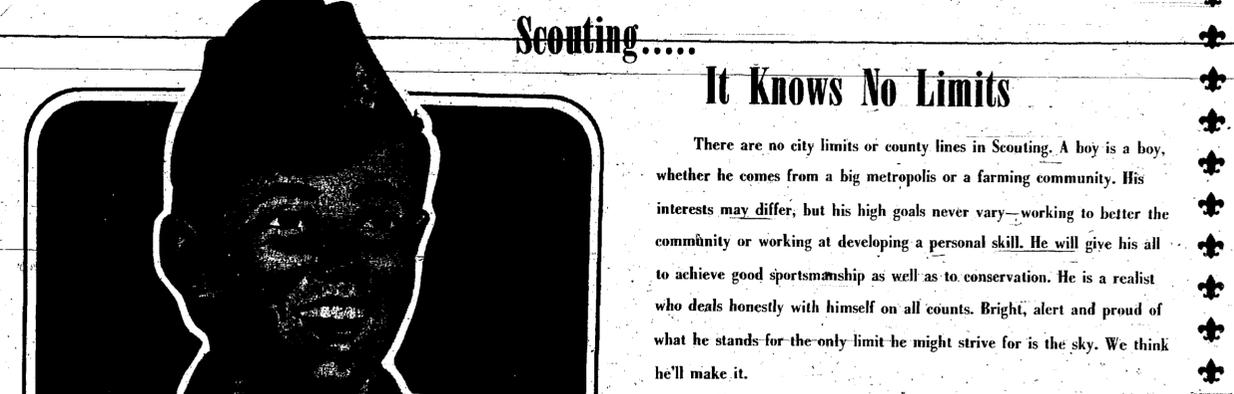

What makes the Yellow Pages such a profitable advertising medium? Well for one thing, advertisers use it—three out of every four. And 90% of them take action as a result.

But even more noteworthy is the fact that no one is ever "just looking" in the Yellow Pages when your customers reach for our book, they've already decided to buy, rent, repair, remodel or whatever. They're looking to be sold. So tell them why they should come to you, and they probably will.

Talk to our Yellow Pages representatives about developing sales getting advertising for you. You know why people use the Yellow Pages, why a potential customer deals with one advertiser rather than his competitor. So call today before the new telephone directories come out.

SCOUTING'S 63rd Anniversary Celebration

There are no city limits or county lines in Scouting. A boy is a boy, whether he comes from a big metropolis or a farming community. His interests may differ, but his high goals never vary—working to better the community or working at developing a personal skill. He will give his all to achieve good sportsmanship as well as to conservation. He is a realist who deals honestly with himself on all counts. Bright, alert and proud of what he stands for—the only limit he might strive for is the sky. We think he'll make it.

Dirigibles? Japan's GNP? Library handles all queries

Library handles all queries

Whether it be a count of the number of dirigibles still active in the world, the gross national product in 1970 for Japan, or pictures of an exotic automobile built in Asbury Park in the early part of the century, the quantity and variety of requests for precise information that are channeled through the Newark Public Library's Reference Department are staggering. The enormous scope of specialized knowledge that contemporary society requires to function at optimum level.

The science of pinpointing specific data, often critical to the writer, dissertation

Area theater group plans open house

The Hillside Community Players will hold an open house Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Firehouse Theatre, Maple Avenue and Oakland Terrace, Hillside. Refreshments will be served.

A spokesman for the group said it would like to attract new members, and all talents are sought: costume designers, technicians, painters, prop makers, production people, actors, ticket sellers and stage managers, as well as singers, dancers and actors.

Casting for the spring musical, "Promises, Promises," to be directed by Bernie Barr, will be held Feb. 19 and 20. The group is now in rehearsal for "Adaptation-Next," which will be presented Feb. 16, 17, 18, 20, 21 and 22.

Purchase of Savings Bonds with tax refund checks urged

An opportunity to convert 1972 federal income-tax refund checks into U.S. Savings Bonds was announced this week by Richard B. Sellers, N.J. industrial chairman for the Bonds program and president of Johnson and Johnson World-wide.

"The Treasury is estimating that this could be the largest tax-refund year in history," Sellers said, "with $22 billion going to some 10 million recipients—an average of nearly $400 apiece."

"The U.S. Savings Bonds Division, through the cooperation of the Internal Revenue Service, provides immediate opportunity for those recipients to convert their refund checks into bonds. A special bond application form is being mailed, with instructions, along with each tax-refund check. Persons wishing to turn their refund checks into bonds, need only fill out the form, taking it along with the check to the nearest Savings Bonds issuing agent—most likely the bank. There, bonds in the specified amounts will be issued promptly.

"This timely opportunity," Sellers continued, "permits individuals to buy Savings Bonds in the amounts desired, in a manner convenient for both the purchaser and the issuing agent. We encourage the citizens of our state to use their tax refunds to add to their future security, by buying Series E Savings Bonds, which draw 5 1/2 percent interest," when paid in maturity."

Kenyon chapter meets

The Kenyon Chapter of the New Jersey Association for the Education of Young Children will hold its mid-winter meeting today at the First Presbyterian Church, Cranford.

High school teachers or students interested in additional information on the program may write The Foundation at NCE, Newark College of Engineering's research affiliate, which is administering the program, in care of the college.

Planners will meet

Richard F. Babcock, a Chicago attorney and author of the Zoning Game, will deliver the keynote address at the 16th annual State Planning Conference to be held Tuesday, Feb. 6, at the Holiday Inn, Trenton.

The day-long conference is co-sponsored annually by the Division of State and Regional Planning, in the Department of Community Affairs, and the New Jersey Federation of Planning Officials. This year's theme is "The Responsibilities of State Planning."

More than 500 municipal, county, state and federal planning officials, as well as educators and business leaders, are expected to attend the conference.

Babcock, who will speak during the morning session, has written a number of published articles on land use regulation and planning.

50 enlist in Army for duty in Berlin

The U.S. Army, in a special ceremony Tuesday in the N.J. State Museum Auditorium, Trenton, enlisted 50 young volunteers from the state for assignment to the Berlin Brigade.

The unit of volunteers, called the Garden State Platoon, is comprised of young men from Central and Northern New Jersey, and will carry as its guidon the N.J. State Flag throughout basic training. After that, members of the Garden State Platoon will be assigned to the Berlin Brigade in Germany for a minimum period of 16 months.

The Berlin Brigade was created in 1951 to consolidate all the Berlin forces assigned after World War II to protect and defend Berlin with British and French allies. The brigade's mission, further, is to insure rail and road access to Berlin, which lies more than 100 miles within the Soviet-occupied zone of Germany.

P.O. protects consumer from 'anonymous' firms

Consumers who buy from a firm using a Post Office box number as its address can now obtain the name, address, and phone number of the box holder from their local postmaster.

In the past, consumers sometimes experienced problems when they bought by mail from a firm whose only advertised address was a post office box.

If the consumer was dissatisfied with the purchase or if he experienced non-delivery, he had no way of communicating directly with the seller.

Postmaster General William J. Carter has advised Richard Glens, Federal Trade Commission regional director, that according to the Post Office:

"When the holder has indicated on the box application his intention of using the box for commercial purposes, or when an inquirer presents documentation of such use, such as an advertisement soliciting business at the post office box address, this information may be revealed to any interested party."

If there is doubt as to whether the box is being used commercially, the information will be delayed until a determination has been made.

Advertising firm names Gruner new executive

Urban engineering will be offered for third time at NCE

Newark College of Engineering's Student Science Training Program in Urban Engineering will be offered for the third time this summer with the assistance of a National Science Foundation grant.

NSF has announced an award of $4,000 to support the program, which has received national attention.

High school students enrolled in the SSTP spend six weeks at NCE in a combination classroom and urban laboratory situation. Last year students conducted auto emission testing, an urban rehabilitation planning project, water and air pollution experiments, and a computer analysis of vehicles passing through the N.J. Motor Vehicle Inspections.

The 1972 program was enlarged through the support of N.J. Standard Oil Co. and East Research & Engineering, which permitted 32 high school students from 20 communities to participate.

Students for the cost-free program are selected on the basis of high school record, recommendations of science teachers, and personal interviews. Attempts are made to include both urban and suburban young people in order to make the program a social as well as an educational experience.

High school teachers or students interested in additional information on the program may write The Foundation at NCE, Newark College of Engineering's research affiliate, which is administering the program, in care of the college.

Predicting Weather - OR NOT

Officials of Turtle Back Zoo in West Orange are awaiting tomorrow's scheduled arrival of Woodrow K. Chuck, whose annual Groundhog Day appearance at the zoo is supposed to indicate how severe the rest of the winter will be. By tradition, the groundhog is supposed to leave his hole each Feb. 2. If he sees his shadow and returns to his burrow, that signals six more weeks of hard winter. If he stays outside his burrow, however, that indicates six weeks of mild winter weather. Turtleback Zoo will be open to the public March 24.

NEW JERSEY IS A GABBY STATE

New Jerseyans use their telephones more than any other state in the nation, or any other in the world, according to New Jersey Bell telephone statistics.

During 1971, each resident averaged 1,080 telephone calls, which is far above the national average. New Jersey Bell estimated that each Garden State resident averaged 1,117 calls during 1972.

The United States leads the world in phone usage, recording 820 annual conversations per person, with Canada logging 781 and Sweden hitting 607 during 1971.

Global telephone statistics can be found in the 1972 edition of "The World's Telephones," compiled annually by American Telephone and Telegraph from data submitted throughout the world. The worldwide figures are based on 1971 information because it takes a year to collect the statistics from telephone administrations and companies around the world.

THOUGHT FOR FOOD

In 1965, according to some economists, consumption expenditures will have increased in the following amounts over what we're paying today: food and beverages, 79 percent; personal and medical care, 185 percent; recreation and education, 149 percent; household operation and furnishings, 110 percent; transportation, 107 percent; and clothing, 80 percent. These predictions are based on a corollary forecast that all Americans will be receiving equivalently higher incomes.

The increasing number of wives who work away from home has influenced American living patterns in many ways. For instance, the tremendous growth of the food service industry is due in part to working wives. Not only do they patronize restaurants, but their husbands are dining out during lunch hour, but their influence is responsible for more family eating out of the home and a busy day. New decor in restaurants is in large part

Music topic set Sunday

HIGH SCHOOL SCHOLARS PROGRESS—Renee Wascher, 17, of Randolph, and Peter Weberfar, 18, of Roselle, are high-ranking sophomora science students of the Rutgers College of Arts and Sciences in Newark. Shown with Dr. Charles Pine, principal advisor to students in the High School Scholars Program, Renee and Peter entered Rutgers through the scholars program at the end of their junior year in high school in the fall of 1971.

Peter skipped to college Scholars Program successful

Under ordinary circumstances, Renee Wascher, 17, and Peter Weberfar, 18, this year would be adjusting to the rigors of college life as college freshmen.

But Renee, of Randolph, and Peter, of 152 E. 17th ave., Roselle, are not ordinary college students. Extremely bright, they are well-adjusted sophomora at the Newark College of Arts and Sciences of Rutgers University, pursuing their college studies at a pace and with a competence that would be the envy of many collegians.

Renee, who was the top student in her junior class at Randolph High School, has accumulated 29 credits in one year of study at NCAS, including eight credits for physics courses she took last summer. At this pace, she could complete her undergraduate work in three years and receive her M.D. degree (she's a pre-med major) by the age of 25. Her cumulative grade average stands at 1.2, a fraction less than perfect.

The attractive good looks she "works hard for" in her grades, but still finds time to go out with friends at school between her studies and commuting from her Morris County home daily by train. Keenly interested in science courses, she also noted she was pleased "that NCAS has really good science departments."

Peter also has continued his scholarly ways established in high school, while taking an active role in student government, administration and other facets of college life.

A physics major who is also interested in engineering and music, Peter chalked up a 1.2 cumulative grade average, while also serving on the Student Senate, an elective post. He is currently completing his one year term in the Senate, while also serving as a student member on NCAS's committee and a member of the high school scholars subcommittee.

"ALL IN ALL," declared Dr. Charles Pine, principal advisor to the high school scholars and chairman of the NCAS admissions committee, "it's been very successful. The students and the faculty are pleased with it."

During the program's first semester, the scholars made the Dean's List, an unmistakably good sign.

Dr. Pine attributes the record to the fact that students applying for the program are very carefully screened for motivation, maturity and intellectual ability.

"But," he added, "there are promising students who can benefit from early college admission, and these are the students we'd like to help."

Junior Minutemen top Union, then defeat Ivy Stars, 49-42

The Junior Minutemen won two games last week to tie their season record to 6-2. The Minutemen traveled to the Union Boys' Club last Tuesday night and won, 49-42. Last Saturday, the juniors played their third game against the Springfield Ivy Stars and topped the Stars for the second time this season, 49-42. The Juniors completely outclassed the Union Boys' Club as the team played top defense and controlled the boards at both ends of the court. The Minutemen outlasted the Ivy Stars in a hard-fought game, with the Minutemen breaking into the scoring column.

Ronnie Scoppettuolo led the Springfield scoring with eight points in the game. Ronnie hit three straight Minutemen away fast. Kenny Baskin was the big board man for Springfield. Kenny controlled the backboards at both ends of the court.

Willie Wilburn also helped off the boards and on defense. Willie was all over the court and controlled the boards to the attack. Israel Joseph had his best game of the season for Springfield. Joseph helped in the rebounding and in seven points. Todd Melamed hit six points for Springfield. Todd was outstanding in the back court as he used his speed to move through the Union team.

Eddie Graziano and Kenny Feld both were four point scorers for the Minutemen, while Skip Liguori tallied three points for Springfield. Other boys to hit the boards for the Minutemen were Johny Friari, Greg Moroz, and Neil Meisel. Other boys playing for Springfield were Jimmy Segal, Frank Zohn and Harvey Kalish.

The Junior Minutemen won their second victory in three starts against the Ivy Stars last Saturday evening on the Gardenier floor. The Minutemen broke fast in this game and then held a Stars rally in the final period.

Willie Wilburn led the Gardenier team with an outstanding overall performance. Willie was all over the court as he scored, rebounded, played great defense and directed the team. Willie, with 11 points in the contest, was not the high scorer for the Minutemen but he was the leader on the floor.

Scoring honors in the game went to Ronnie Scoppettuolo of the Minutemen. Ronnie hit 22 points in the game. Ronnie's point total was a personal high, as well as a season high for a Junior Minutemen. Ronnie was very hot in the opening period as he pumped 13 points to give the team an early commanding lead.

Top board work by a trio of Junior Minutemen helped to down the victory. Wilburn with 13 rebounds led all players. Kenny Baskin pulled down 15 rebounds for the Minutemen, while Jeff Bernstein called the ball 12 times off the boards. Bernstein also scored three points in the game.

Johny Friari also scored three points for the Minutemen, as he hit three times from the four corners in the game. The Minutemen played excellent defense. Kenny Feld, Israel Joseph and Jimmy Segal also participated in the game for the Minutemen. Skip Liguori and Greg Moroz also saw action for the Junior Minutemen.

Carson Apollita paced the scoring for the Ivy Stars. Apollita picked up the slack for the Stars in the final period of play as he helped bring them back into the game. Carson finished with 12 points. Kevin Lamb was again very strong for the Stars. Kevin did battle underneath and came away with nine points and a team leadership in rebounding.

Scott Pridmore and Jay Lee combined in the Stars' back court with a pair of outstanding performances. Scott and Jay both hit six points in the contest. Bob Coste scored three points in the game while in the Stars' lineup. Bob Liguori hit two field goals and finished with four points. Brian Belliveau hit a pair of free throws and contributed a solid floor effort to the Stars' attack. Other Stars seeing action in the game were Mike Stembach and Bob Lampert.

Unbeaten Pirates lead Chiefs by one in Sandmeier play

The Pirates remain unbeaten in the Sandmeier Small-Fry League, leading the standings by a game over the Chiefs. The Pirates crushed the Raiders Tuesday afternoon, while the Chiefs beat the Rockets and the Jets spilled the Comets.

The Pirates used solid team work and team defense for a 26-12 victory over the Raiders. Al Bertner led the Pirate attack. Al played a brilliant game, as he played both ends of the court. Al scored seven points and was outstanding defensively. Scott Henke tallied five points for the Pirates and was a good play-maker. Rick March also contributed a solid effort with four points and good team play. Rick also rebounded well off both boards. Larry Mair and Andy Wolfe each hit four points in the Pirate attack while Dave Goldman hit a bucket.

The Raiders were led by Roy Zilmer. Roy played good defense and led the attack with four points. Ed McDonald, Bob Meskin, Scott Coontino and Jeff Englehart each scored a bucket in the game. The Minutemen, Skip Liguori and Greg Moroz also saw action for the Junior Minutemen.

The Chiefs remained in contention in the standings as they scored a 23-17 victory over the Rockets. Mitch Polan was the big man in the victory. Mitch rebounded very well and played very tough defense. He also led all scorers with 12 points. Larry Walker saved the game for the Chiefs with three clutch buckets in the final period. John Ard had four points for the Chiefs and played a good floor game. Ard showed his mates some fine team work in helping the Chiefs to a big victory. Lenny Gleason also scored for the Chiefs.

The Rockets also showed outstanding team play. Ken Shulman played his best game of the season for the Rockets. Ken tallied four points in the game and had a bucket in the final period that narrowed the Chiefs' lead to a single point. Carson Clark was the high point man, as he hit six points in the game. Tony Park had good all-around game for the Rockets and four points. Dave Wasserman and Jimmy Cruser each played very strong defense for the Rockets and led to the attack with scores.

In the final game of the afternoon last Saturday, the Jets beat the Comets, 26-18. Jimmy Blakwell had a big game for the Jets to see the triumph. Jim tallied 16 points to lead all scorers for the day in league play. Jimmy, in addition to scoring to each period, was also top play-maker for his team. Adam Blatz had a good game for the Jets. Adam scored seven points and played strong defense. Andy Wolfe hit four points in the Jet attack, while Doug Forman rebounded well for the Jets. The Comets were led by Oreste Pulliam. Pulliam scored eight points in the game to pace the Comets' scoring. Pulliam also was his team's top play-maker. Jack Nugent hit five of eight shots from the foul line and led his team off the boards. Jack also turned in a strong defensive game. Jay Bender, Adrian Eytel and Mark Yoss each hit a bucket in the Comet attack.

'Poseidon' movie set tomorrow at Maplewood, Fox

The Poseidon Adventure, released through 20th Century-Fox Pictures, will open tomorrow at the Maplewood Theater and the Fox Theater, Route 22, Union.

The suspense-filled adventure story, which is based on Paul Gallico's novel, first published in Book 1 in August, 1969, tells an intriguing story that has become a classic.

Those who land together under the guidance of a forceful minister (played by Gene Hackman), include a detective (Ernest Borgnine), his wife (Stella Stevens), a former prostitute, a middle-aged couple (Shelley Long and Jack Albertson) on their way to visit a grandson in Israel, a singer in the ship's band (Carol Lynley), bachelor haremleader (Red Buttons) and two young people traveling alone (Pamela Sue Martin and Eric Shea) and a steward (Roddy McDowall).

The Maplewood is showing "The Garden of the Finches-Uncle" for the last time today, and the Fox has "Sounder" in its last day.

'Rosemary's Baby' mystery now at Jerry Lewis Cinema

Two adult mystery films, "Rosemary's Baby" and "The Last House on the Left," arrive yesterday at the Jerry Lewis Cinema, Five Points, Union.

Director-writer Roman Polanski adapted Ira Levin's suspense-filled which's been a best-seller into a devilish screen treatment of the story of a young bride in Manhattan who is trapped by evil-styled witches who want her unborn baby.

Allen's 'Sex' film is Park attraction

Two adult film comedies, "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Sex" and "Sleeper," arrived yesterday at the Park Theater, Roselle Park.

Writer-director Woody Allen works out his own wild elaborations on topics in the best-selling book by Dr. David Reardon, "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Sex," and satirizes sex, sex manuals, television, movies and literature. The picture has Lou Jacobi, Louise Lasser, Lynn Rodgare, Gene Wilder, Burt Reynolds and a host of other stars and was photographed in color.

The companion feature is "It's Tuesday, This Must Be Belgium," starring Elke Sommer.

FRIDAY DEADLINE: All items other than news should be in our office by noon on Friday.

Calcutta, 'Fritz' come to Elmora

"Oh, Calcutta" and "Fritz, the Cat," two adult films, opened yesterday at the Elmora Theater, Elizabeth.

"Oh, Calcutta," a filmed version of the Broadway stage production that jolled the theater with nudgy and frank language, stars Bill Macy and Margie Sengstack. Guillermo Martin Austin directed the production, which was filmed in color.

Highway Safety and the Drinking Driver... A Public Health Problem

January 1, 1973 was the first day that 18 to 20-year-old citizens could legally purchase and consume alcoholic beverages in New Jersey. This began a new era of responsible driving for approximately 480,000 young adults.

PROBLEM: Alcohol is the most important human factor known to be causally related to severe injury. Under certain conditions, and if drunk while driving, it may interfere with his or her normal alertness, especially the inexperienced driver or inexperienced driver.

ALCOHOL IS A DEPRESSANT: Some people have the mistaken notion that a drink gives a driver a better driver. Alcohol does not stimulate, it depresses. It depresses the central nervous system and removes inhibitions and social restraints.

NEW JERSEY LAW RELATING TO DRINKING AND DRIVING: 39-4-5(a) Operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol or drugs. 39-4-5(b) Operating while ability is impaired by alcohol.

WHO IS THE PROBLEM: The social drinker, in the past, has been labeled as the major problem in the drinking driver problem. More recent studies indicate that the major proportion of drinking drivers involved in crashes, especially severe to fatal crashes, have a high blood alcohol level.

RESULTS OF THE ABUSE OF ALCOHOL: The United States Department of Transportation in a report to Congress on alcohol and highway safety, indicated that the use of the drug, alcohol, by drivers and pedestrians leads to some 25,000 deaths and at least 800,000 crashes each year.

RELATIVE PROBABILITIES OF DRINKING DRIVERS CAUSING TRAFFIC CRASHES: A graph showing the relationship between blood alcohol level and the probability of causing a crash.

WHEN IS THE DANGEROUS TIME OF DAY: Crashes involving alcohol occur anytime of day. However, they are more likely to occur during late afternoon, evening and midnight hours, especially on Saturday evening and heavy Sunday morning.

WHY PEOPLE REACT DIFFERENTLY TO ALCOHOL: BODY WEIGHT: A 180-pound person has more blood and other fluids in his body than does a 120-pound person. BODY CHEMISTRY: Every person has special conditions in his own body, and many researchers believe that a person's internal functioning may affect his reaction to alcohol.

NEW JERSEY STATE SAFETY COUNCIL. A NON-PROFIT, NON-POLITICAL ORGANIZATION, SUPPORTED BY BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY, FOR THE PROMOTION OF ACCIDENT PREVENTION. 50 PARK PLACE, NEWARK, N. J. 07102, 642-3123.

'Quadrominium' introduced in 3 models at Lakewood

Three new model homes reflecting a unique architectural design concept are currently featured at Coventry Square, Kaufman and Broad's townhouse community for all ages, in Lakewood. In introducing the "quadrominium" (four attached single homes) for possibly the first time in the New Jersey area, Kaufman and Broad has included such features as open tread staircases, floor to ceiling fireplaces, and attached garages.

"We've introduced these new models to incorporate many items of customer preference," said Ernest A. Sereno, president of the New Jersey division of Kaufman and Broad. "So we know that our new features will appeal to a broad spectrum of personal tastes."

"The Falmouth," a one-story ranch style quadrominium, offers a spacious living room to accommodate a wide variety of furniture arrangements, a formal dining area for entertaining, a large, functional California patio kitchen with an abundance of counter and

2 Clearbrook sales execs top $2 million in 6 months

Two sales executives of Clearbrook, the planned 3,000-unit adult condominium complex in Moore Township, have sold a combined $2-million-plus in the past six months.

Walter H. Nielsen of Tom River has sold $1,000,947 and William Hoyle of Sea Girt sold $1,003,520 at the community, which is being developed by Aetna Construction Company, Inc. Clearbrook is situated south of its 105-home Section I and has a number of sales in Section II. Prices range from $23,400 for the Everglade to $33,900 for the Timberline at $29,400 and the Master Lodge at $33,900.

Nielsen had about 15 years experience in house and industrial construction and is presently recorded as the highest sales of condominiums for the month of January in Lakewood. He had spent 20 years as an engineer and marketing executive in Princeton, and 11 months in aerospace and military electronics field in which he held several patents.

Most of the buyers who purchased from the two sales executives are in the 40 to 55 years old age bracket. The development is midway between Philadelphia and New York, 20 miles from Trenton, 12 miles from Atlantic City, and 11 miles from New Brunswick.

The first Clearbrook clubhouse is a masonry construction and will include a swimming pool, shuffleboard and tennis, and garden areas. Inside will be facilities for billiards, meeting rooms and hobby rooms for 4000 members, including a 1000 sq. ft. auditorium.

Meet needs of young buyers in new homes, developer says

Home interiors and features must be designed to meet the needs of the young, first home buyers, says Leonard H. Sandelby, Jr., developer of homes at the new community of Hickory Hills in White Haven, Pa., offers a variety of homes such as this typical ranch model, on wooded lots. Several models, priced from $5,585 including lot, foundation and three-pieces toilet, are available at Hickory Hills on Rt. 940, 2 1/2 miles left on exit 80, adjacent to Hickory Run State Park and Big Boulder and Jack Frost ski areas.

"The Great Tudor" style clubhouse provides a variety of recreational facilities—swimming pool, tennis courts, gymnasium, saunas, billiard room, rec. room, private library and Great Hall Auditorium. Children especially enjoy play areas designated for their use and the Coventry Square Day Care Center which is now in its second year of operation. Fine schools, excellent shopping, and entertainment are nearby.

Coventry Square can be reached from Manhattan, Bronx or Brooklyn by taking the New Jersey Turnpike south to exit 11, then south on Route 9 to Kennedy Boulevard in Lakewood, then left and follow signs to Coventry Square. Sales offices are open Sunday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on alternate annual income Saturday only from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Ducca joins Underwood

Carmine A. Ducca of Livingston joined the home mortgage department of Underwood Mortgage & Title Co. of Livingston and Charles Forest Estates.

"These buyers," says the developer, "start with three basic requirements which must be met initially. These are at least three bedrooms for future family growth; one and one-half or more baths and entertainment rooms and areas which are away from the sleeping zone of the home so that party noise won't keep young babies awake at night."

"The wonder-working appliances which every bride dreams will make her a master housekeeper and chef have been installed in all models," the builder declared. "She has her kitchen complete with refrigerator-freezer, wall oven, countertop range, dishwasher, yards of counter work areas and abundant cabinets. A laundry area

Condominium deed filed

The master deed to the Imperial House, Monmouth County's first condominium in Long Branch, has been filed with the County Clerk of Monmouth County by Imperial House Inc.

In effect, the filing assures owners and developers of the 202-unit, 19-story high rise at 707 Ocean Dr. that Imperial House will operate as a condominium under the laws of New Jersey. Occupancy is expected to begin in May.

Growth of deposits at SETCO in '72 called encouraging

Summit and Elizabeth Trust Company's year-to-year deposit growth was encouraging, especially the 15 per cent increase in demand deposits, Thomas D. Sayles, Jr., president, told shareholders in a statement of condition for 1972.

Total deposits reached $189.5 million at Dec. 31, 1972, an increase of $14.8 million over the balance at the same date in 1971. Demand deposits increased from $81.3 million to $92.9 million.

Total loans were $182.6 million at year-end, an increase of $9.9 million compared with 1971. At Dec. 31, 1972, SETCO had total assets of $211.4 million compared with $197.9 million at the close of 1971.

Total operating income for 1972 was $12.4 million compared with $12.2 million in 1971. Sayles also said that the 1972 preliminary net income figure of $4,684,000 reflected the effect of the change in method of loan loss accounting, "as has been previously reported," as well as the $1,022,845 net income earnings per share decreased from $1.86 to $0.83 according to the 1972 year-end report.

Net income for 1972 before securities gains or losses and special charges was $725,227. Sayles explained that in December 1972 SETCO had changed its method of allocating loan losses from a five-year forward-averaging method to the net charge off method. The latter method recognizes loan losses fully in the period which they occur. He said the effect of the charge was to reduce SETCO's net income for 1972 by approximately $500,000.

Social Security benefits go up for most widows

"Widows can be sure that their Social Security benefits will receive careful attention when computing the amount due," Jones noted. The recent increase will result in a special one-time increase of $1.50 per month for widows who are 62 or older and have not yet reached full retirement age. This increase will be applied to the regular February Social Security check.

Jones suggested that widows call the Social Security office at 620-4000 if they have any questions.

Revaluation appraisers offer some questions, answers

Because of the many questions which it said have arisen as a result of the new Springfield property revaluation program, Revaluation and Appraisal Service Inc. this week issued a statement answering some of those questions most frequently asked:

1. Why is a revaluation program necessary for the township?

A. The primary objective of a revaluation program is to equally distribute the tax burden among all property owners in the township. Secondly, it will benefit the Township of Springfield to update their assessment list so that it will reflect current market values. This will help the township in the amount of state school aid received and it will help to lower Springfield's proportionate share of County taxes.

2. How often is a revaluation program necessary?

A. Generally a revaluation program is recommended every five years and certainly not longer than every 10 years. This depends upon how changing conditions have affected values in the community. The last revaluation program in Springfield was 15 years ago.

3. If there are two identical houses in the same area, and one is properly maintained while the other has been neglected, will there be a difference in the assessed value of these buildings?

A. If the dwelling that has not been maintained has deteriorated to the point where major repairs to the structure are required, then the value of this building will of necessity be depreciated. However, if the neglect involves only lack of normal maintenance such as painting, roof repair, etc., the value of one as opposed to the other should not differ.

4. How will you arrive at the value of my property?

A. First, the sales of properties in your area will be analyzed and the sales prices and sales listings studied, so that the current value trends within the municipality can be determined. Land sales will also be gathered, verified and analyzed according to the zone they are in.

5. What is the purpose of an interior inspection?

A. The purpose of an interior inspection is to record information relative to the structure which will affect its value. The information recorded at this inspection includes such items as the type of interior wall construction, number of bathrooms, type of heat, air conditioning, other than window units, percentage of basement and area of same finished for recreation or apartment use and the percentage finished of hallway or attic area.

6. Buildings will be measured, classified and valued according to the guidelines set forth by the New Jersey Real Property Appraisal Manual. The use of this manual results in uniform distribution of values. This current cost manual is published by the local property tax assessor, a division of the Treasury Department of the State of New Jersey.

Regional budget victorious with margin in 5 of 6 towns

The Regional High School District budget maintained its unblemished record in the annual school election on Tuesday, winning by a margin of 867 to 804 and carrying every town in the district except Mountainside. The budget has never been defeated since the district was organized in 1927.

Dr. Minor C.K. Jones of Mountainside was elected to his ninth three-year term on the Regional Board of Education, defeating Boneditta Naas, 219 votes to 151.

Natalie Wald of Springfield, board president, was elected to her third term, receiving 312 votes, with no opposition. John E. Collins of Garfield won his eighth term with 133 votes, to five for two written opponents.

The current expense item of $7,906,283 for the 1973 school year is the biggest margin in Springfield, 253 to 107. The budget item also carried in Berkeley Heights, 203 to 112, Clark, 187 to 117, Garwood, 64 to 54, and Kenilworth 81 to 75.

The budget trailed only in Mountainside, by a margin of 867 to 804.

School election results will be offered by LWV

The Springfield League of Women Voters will offer its "Who Won" service to township residents after the polls close next Tuesday. Anyone interested in the results of the local Board of Education election may call 379-9191, 273-2466, or 277-1212 between the hours of 9:30 and 11 p.m.

Polling places will be open from 7 a.m. at the James Caldwell School for District 1 through 6; Florence Gansler School, District 7 through 10, and Edward Walton School, Districts 11 through 12.

Candidates seeking the three board seats are Jerome Bongiovanni, Gregory C. Clarke, John Scott Donington, Irvin Koppel, Joanne Hajjogel and John Westfield. In addition, residents will vote on the budget for the school year 1973-1974 for the Springfield elementary schools.

Non-partisan voting information is available from the league's voters' service chairmen: Carole Szymanski, 273-5101, and Judy Markstein, 273-2926.

This evening's meeting of the Springfield League of Women Voters will be concerned with the question, "Apparitioning: Who Should Decide?" as part of its study of the New Jersey State Legislature. The chairman, Lori Greer, has prepared a program and has urged all members to attend and participate in discussion and consensus, in consultation with the Union League, at the Springfield Public Library, beginning at 8 p.m.

Mayor seeks to improve town meeting attendance

An appeal for greater attendance at a public participation in Township Committee meetings highlighted a statement issued this week by Mayor William A. Ruocco as the first in what he plans to be monthly reports to the people.

The mayor declared that he would like to expand on certain aspects of the Township Committee as well as what the Township Committee is doing in some of the requests made during the public portion of its meeting.

First, the transition to a new administration has been made rather smoothly as it has been done in the past. The new appointees are handling their jobs rather well and I would like to commend all that are serving our town on the various committees. These are dedicated citizens and we are thankful that we have a continuity of concerned citizens.

It is my feeling that if we can inform our citizens of what happens at our meetings as well as what the Township Committee does during the month, they will have a better understanding of its functions. These are accomplishments.

The Springfield Leader does an excellent job in reporting the business and public portions of

Police will be seeing the difference! Video equipment used in drunk, narcotic cases

Someone stopping in at Springfield police headquarters might be surprised to see local officers gathered around a television set. But don't worry, they're not shirking their duties. The men are utilizing some recently acquired video-tape equipment aimed at making their department an even more effective law enforcement body.

Lt. Richard Goetzke reported that the police have purchased a video recording machine, portable TV camera and two monitors which will be utilized in various areas, including gathering evidence on drunk drivers, narcotics arrests, traffic safety and in-service training.

Goetzke said that persons arrested for being under the influence of narcotics or alcohol will be taped when they are brought into headquarters. The suspects will be notified they are on camera, and the films will be admissible as evidence in court.

"Quite often, the persons we pick up as being drunk," Goetzke explained, "present an entirely different appearance in court. Those tapes will prove what he looked and acted like at the time of his arrest."

The portable camera, which can run on batteries, will also be used to tape traffic activity or hazardous streets or intersections. "Areas that need attention and action either in enforcement or engineering," Goetzke said. He explained that in the past, when a representative from the Department of Transportation came to the town to study a traffic area, he might have to remain at the site for hours to view the situation. "Now he can come into the office, view the tapes we've made, and know exactly what hazardous situations occur," Goetzke said.

He pointed out that tapes have already been used in surveillance of one high-accident area, the intersection of Morris and Maple avenues, scene of a number of recent crashes.

The tapes made by the police can be played back into a television set, a fact that will make the equipment ideal for safety instruction in schools and defensive driving courses. "We hope to video-tape certain traffic problems, and make a distribution tape. That way all the men on the force will see the tapes we've made," Goetzke said.

During December, the Springfield First Aid Squad answered 67 calls, 37 of which were emergencies. They ruled out 30 calls and put in a total of 204 voluntary hours.

A spokesman added, "Volunteering is a very personal thing, but for the members of the Springfield First Aid Squad, volunteering has become a way of life. Once a year, in September, we collect your names making for donations to support the squad."

"Now we're asking for another kind of support—members. If anyone is interested, he may call the First Department at 776-0104. Drills are held once a month on the fourth Tuesday during the winter, and twice a month from April to October. Meetings are held the third Wednesday of each month."

Aid Squad asks for volunteers

Members of the First Presbyterian, St. James Roman Catholic, Anglican Episcopalian and Holy Cross Lutheran churches will share in an optional service with Springfield Emmanuel United Methodist Church as host the Sunday at 8 p.m. The service will mark the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, and focus concern for 1973, a nationwide ecumenical evangelistic project.

Dr. Michael D. Ryan, associate professor of theology at Drew University, Madison, will be the guest speaker. His theme will be "The Quest for Unity."

Non-partisan voting information is available from the league's voters' service chairmen: Carole Szymanski, 273-5101, and Judy Markstein, 273-2926.

This evening's meeting of the Springfield League of Women Voters will be concerned with the question, "Apparitioning: Who Should Decide?" as part of its study of the New Jersey State Legislature. The chairman, Lori Greer, has prepared a program and has urged all members to attend and participate in discussion and consensus, in consultation with the Union League, at the Springfield Public Library, beginning at 8 p.m.

Mayor seeks to improve town meeting attendance

An appeal for greater attendance at a public participation in Township Committee meetings highlighted a statement issued this week by Mayor William A. Ruocco as the first in what he plans to be monthly reports to the people.

The mayor declared that he would like to expand on certain aspects of the Township Committee as well as what the Township Committee is doing in some of the requests made during the public portion of its meeting.

First, the transition to a new administration has been made rather smoothly as it has been done in the past. The new appointees are handling their jobs rather well and I would like to commend all that are serving our town on the various committees. These are dedicated citizens and we are thankful that we have a continuity of concerned citizens.

It is my feeling that if we can inform our citizens of what happens at our meetings as well as what the Township Committee does during the month, they will have a better understanding of its functions. These are accomplishments.

The Springfield Leader does an excellent job in reporting the business and public portions of

Police will be seeing the difference! Video equipment used in drunk, narcotic cases

Someone stopping in at Springfield police headquarters might be surprised to see local officers gathered around a television set. But don't worry, they're not shirking their duties. The men are utilizing some recently acquired video-tape equipment aimed at making their department an even more effective law enforcement body.

Lt. Richard Goetzke reported that the police have purchased a video recording machine, portable TV camera and two monitors which will be utilized in various areas, including gathering evidence on drunk drivers, narcotics arrests, traffic safety and in-service training.

Goetzke said that persons arrested for being under the influence of narcotics or alcohol will be taped when they are brought into headquarters. The suspects will be notified they are on camera, and the films will be admissible as evidence in court.

"Quite often, the persons we pick up as being drunk," Goetzke explained, "present an entirely different appearance in court. Those tapes will prove what he looked and acted like at the time of his arrest."

The portable camera, which can run on batteries, will also be used to tape traffic activity or hazardous streets or intersections. "Areas that need attention and action either in enforcement or engineering," Goetzke said. He explained that in the past, when a representative from the Department of Transportation came to the town to study a traffic area, he might have to remain at the site for hours to view the situation. "Now he can come into the office, view the tapes we've made, and know exactly what hazardous situations occur," Goetzke said.

He pointed out that tapes have already been used in surveillance of one high-accident area, the intersection of Morris and Maple avenues, scene of a number of recent crashes.

The tapes made by the police can be played back into a television set, a fact that will make the equipment ideal for safety instruction in schools and defensive driving courses. "We hope to video-tape certain traffic problems, and make a distribution tape. That way all the men on the force will see the tapes we've made," Goetzke said.

During December, the Springfield First Aid Squad answered 67 calls, 37 of which were emergencies. They ruled out 30 calls and put in a total of 204 voluntary hours.

A spokesman added, "Volunteering is a very personal thing, but for the members of the Springfield First Aid Squad, volunteering has become a way of life. Once a year, in September, we collect your names making for donations to support the squad."

"Now we're asking for another kind of support—members. If anyone is interested, he may call the First Department at 776-0104. Drills are held once a month on the fourth Tuesday during the winter, and twice a month from April to October. Meetings are held the third Wednesday of each month."

Aid Squad asks for volunteers

Members of the First Presbyterian, St. James Roman Catholic, Anglican Episcopalian and Holy Cross Lutheran churches will share in an optional service with Springfield Emmanuel United Methodist Church as host the Sunday at 8 p.m. The service will mark the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, and focus concern for 1973, a nationwide ecumenical evangelistic project.

Dr. Michael D. Ryan, associate professor of theology at Drew University, Madison, will be the guest speaker. His theme will be "The Quest for Unity."
