ADVERTISEMENTS

THIS WEEK'S HEALTH NEWS

Because of the varied use of the term "doctor," we should all know just what we are referring to when we use this term. Originally, the term meant "teacher." From the medical point of view, a doctor is a person licensed to practice medicine or dentistry. Never take this term for granted. Always make sure that the doctor you choose has been properly educated and licensed. When you select a health supervisor, never take chances.

A practicing pharmacist is a person licensed by the state to compound and fill prescriptions. They are college graduates who must pass examinations before this license is granted. Always check prescriptions for immediate attention here.

Library continues exhibit of stamps about early flying

The Springfield Public Library is holding over for the month of April the museum exhibit of American airmail stamps issued in the early years of the century.

"Especially interesting is the sheet of Col. Charles Lindbergh airmail stamps issued on June 18, 1927, commemorating his transatlantic flight. There are also air mail covers dating from the early years of the century, when the American airmail was in its infancy, and a desire to fly air mail once more over his old route from St. Louis to Chicago and return in 1928.

"Stamps issued for the first flight of the China Clipper flown by Capt. Edwin Musick are displayed with a map of the flight. Shows alongside is an envelope addressed by Capt. Musick at Don Palmer's request in 1933. Parcel Post stamps issued in 1932 are now a fairly scarce item. A Graf Zeppelin cover can be seen; it was carried on a flight from Los Angeles to Lakehurst in 1930. There are also photographs of the planes that made these memorable flights and of the men who flew them.

PEOPLE'S CHOICE

Now is the time for all good parties to come to the aid of the men and women seeking nomination to run for local, county and state office.

Without implying any criticism of the devoted public leaders who make up all the screening committees, for screening or screening out, we do have a few suggestions as to the types of candidates best qualified for all the lines on the annual budget.

Since relevance is not always our basic concern, we include some offices which will be on the ballot this year, as well as several which won't.

For tax collector, naturally, we should find someone like Robin Hood, who specializes in on-the-spot contributions from those who can afford the bite and dispenses aid to the deserving toothless.

For nomination to the State Legislature, our best model is Chicken Sukiyaki, the last of the retired Japanese kamikaze pilots.

Since both of our great parties in the statewide level are so frequently consumed by a death wish, we need someone who has a proven instinct for survival.

Nominees for municipal office should be along the lines set forth by Ludwig Steinway, the first and greatest of the piano tuners.

All our officials pride themselves on being in tune with the voice of the public, so we need people with professional expertise.

For our county committee leaders and co-leaders, the best examples are provided by Bill and Cora Baird, world-famous for their skillful manipulation of puppets.

In selecting nominees to run for the Board of Chosen Freeholders the major requirement often seems to be representation for all ethnic groups in the electorate.

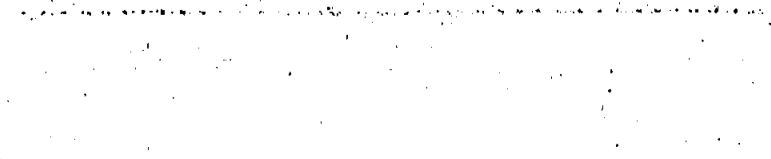

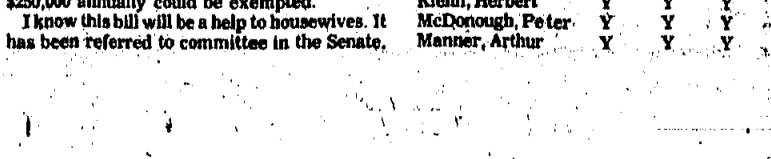

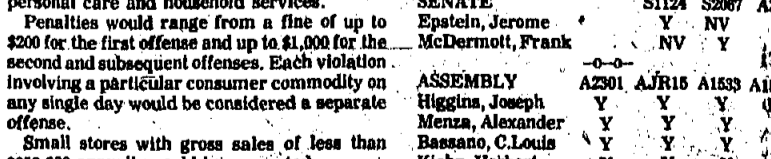

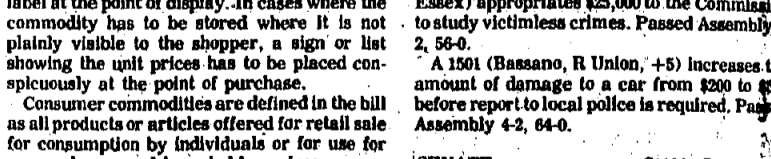

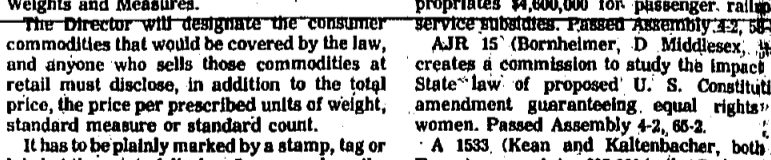

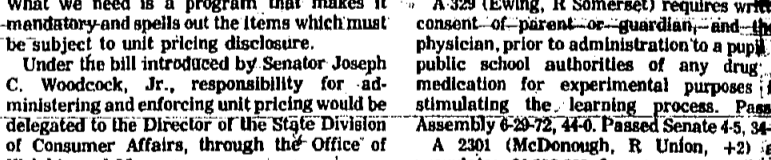

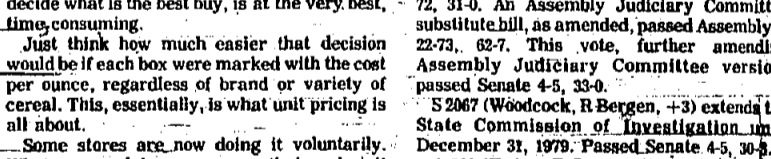

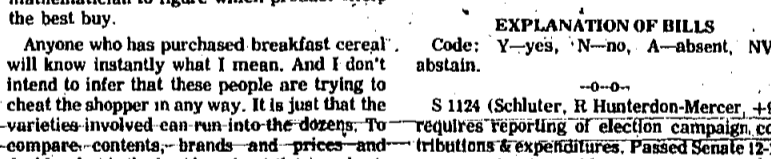

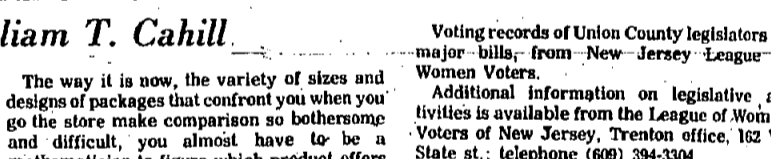

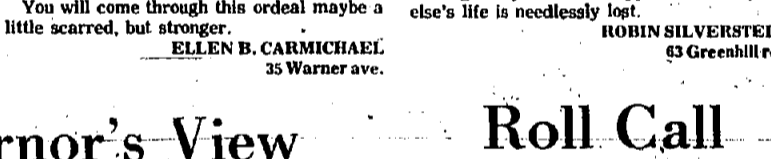

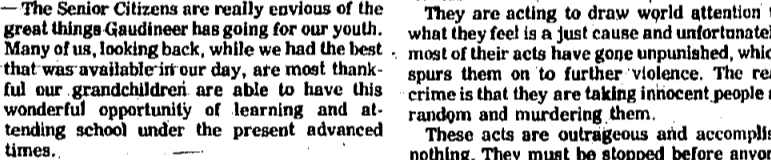

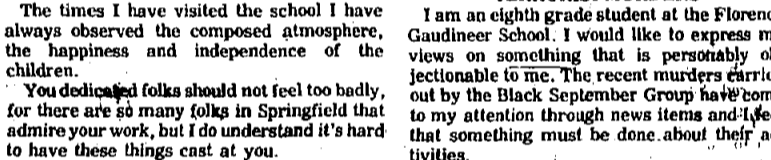

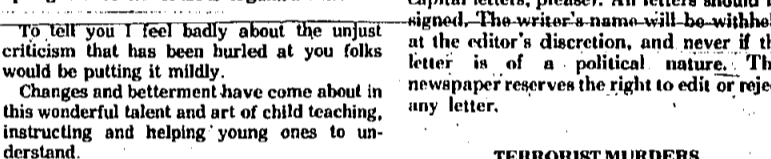

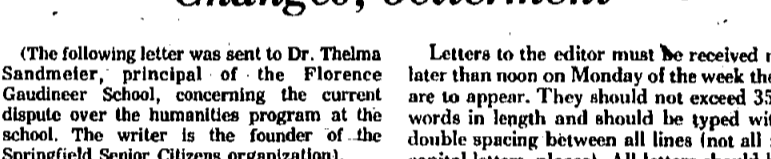

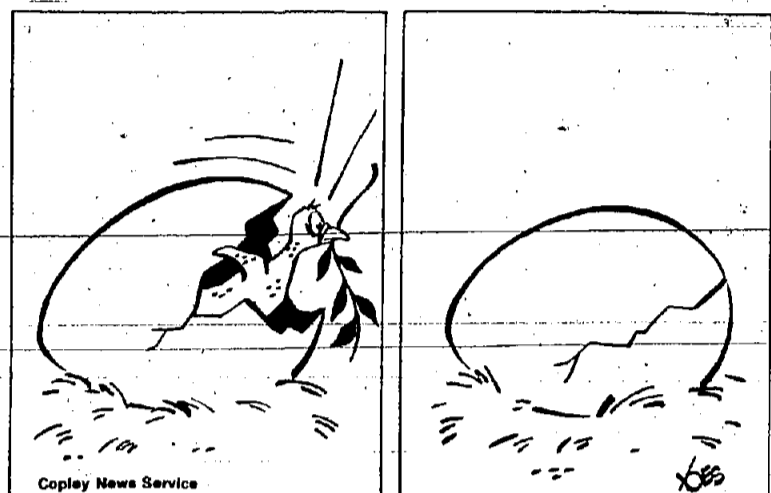

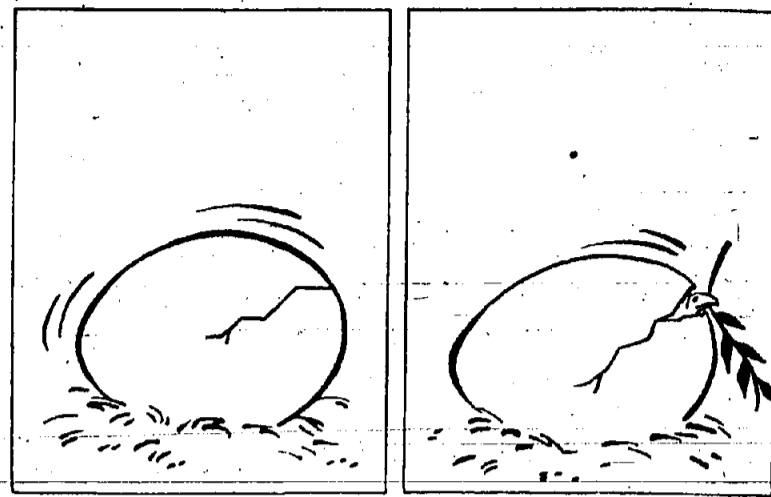

Perhaps the best nominee would be a reincarnation of the long-vanished Missing Link from whom all of humanity descended.

Besides, he would have thousands of years of practice at being missing when every controversial matter comes up for a vote.

And then, every once in a while, the party hierarchy looks for a candidate who will be serious, hard-working, dedicated to the public welfare, above petty disagreement, compassionate and beyond reproach in professional and private life.

The choice to meet all those requirements, of course, is simple. The only one who ever fits that description is the local newspaper editor.

THE EAGLETON POLL Nixon's rating fairly firm

President Nixon's rating among New Jersey citizens has remained fairly stable since January according to the Eagleton Institute's New Jersey Poll.

The poll, conducted a statewide random sample of 1,223 persons in and over by telephone March 23-31.

Respondents were asked "How would you rate the job Nixon is doing as President—excellent, pretty good, only fair, or poor?"

The current poll shows 13 percent of the sample rating Nixon's performance "excellent," 55 percent "good," 24 percent "only fair" and 8 percent "poor," with a percent registering no opinion.

The same questions asked in January showed Nixon's "excellent" rating at 16 percent with 50 percent saying Nixon's performance was "good," 23 percent "only fair" and 8 percent "poor," with 5 percent no opinion.

Although Nixon's rating has remained fairly stable overall, some change is evident among groups in the population.

The important change is a shift, according to Donald G. Herzberg, Eagleton's director, lies in the fact that "the Republicans more favor neither the Democrats nor the Republicans—evaluate the President less favorably now than in January.

The poll showed 12 percent of the Independents rated Nixon "excellent" and this dropped to 5 percent in March. Nixon's "good" rating among Independents was 19 percent in January, 27 percent in March.

How Jerseyans voted

The data on questions on which this analysis is based are as follows. How would you rate the job Nixon is doing as President—excellent, pretty good, only fair, or poor?

Table with columns: Party, Excellent, Good, Only Fair, Poor, Opinion. Rows: Democrat, Independent, Republican, 60 yrs. and over, Working class, Whole sample.

Persons came from older citizens. Among persons over 60 years of age, 35 percent rated Nixon's performance "excellent" or "good" compared to 46 percent of the same age group in January.

The results of the New Jersey Poll were tabulated by Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton.

LIBRARY From the New Deal

BY ROSE F. SIMON The Springfield Public Library lists the following titles among the books recently received.

"FEDERAL WRITERS' PROJECT 'The Dream and the Deal,'" by Jerry Mangione. The Federal Writers' Project was established in 1935 and ended in 1941.

"The decorative motifs of interlaced leaves and flowers are punctuated by grotesque figures (chimeras) such as 'manitous hybrids, diabolical folk, hideous crooks, leopards, muscians and comical monkeys and shields, birds and swans are cleverly placed, as are the small abstract designs used to separate parts of the text."

Kidney sufferers get helping hand Dialysis machine given to Kenilworth girl

Maryann Colony of Kenilworth is alive today because a kidney dialysis machine was given to her. And a 12-year-old Ohio girl will be the next to get one.

The "Frank Benigno Civic Association for Kidney Dialysis Operation in Union County" sponsored by the group.

Frank P. Benigno, owner of the Villa Roma Restaurant in Elizabethtown, suffered a kidney attack during World War II. He told himself that if he lived through it he would give help to other people with kidney problems.

A priest told Benigno about the Colony girl and in October the association was formed. It now has 300 members and Congressmen

Matthew Rinaldi and Edward Patten and Mayor John T. Gregorio in Linden have pledged their support.

According to Benigno, there were 65,000 deaths in the United States last year due to kidney problems. In Union County alone, there were 14 cases reported last month.

Benigno said, "I didn't know how important the work would be when I made that promise during the war."

He claims there is only one hospital in Union County which operates a dialysis machine. It costs more than $100 a session to use the machine and a kidney patient must go three times a week for six hours a session.

The association held a dinner-dance in February to raise the money for the first machine, which cost more than $3,000. The group plans to hold an affair annually to help a person in need of a dialysis machine.

The first affair raised nearly $2,000. With the additional money, a scholarship fund was started to help send kidney dialysis patients to college.

A second dinner dance will be held in October or November to raise money for the machine which has already been promised to the Union girl.

The association plans to sponsor a trip to Home next year which will include an audience with the Pope. Benigno said that if 200 people go on the trip, more than $3,000 will be donated to the association. Benigno and his wife visited the Vatican in February and asked the Pope to pray for kidney sufferers.

The association solicits money only in Union County and in turn will give kidney dialysis machines only to patients from Union County. Benigno invited anyone who wants to help to come to the next meeting.

Benigno said, "You have to have a heart of steel not to have tears in your eyes when you see the thanks on the face of Maryann Colony." And he plans to see quite a few more thankful faces before he is through.

Open house is planned at UC for all prospective students

What's the real story about Union College? Prospective students can find out the answer to that question themselves when the admissions office conducts a tri-campus open house on Thursday, April 12.

The admissions officers at each campus will discuss the various academic and technical programs available at Union College and Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, which form the comprehensive community college in Union County.

Admissions officers will be available to answer questions and provide information on each campus during the open house and no appointments will be necessary. Student assistants will conduct guided tours of campus facilities.

The open house may also attend classroom lectures during the open house and visit the laboratories, student organization and publication offices, and library facilities, Lynes said.

The open house will be held at the following locations: Union College, Cranford; Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains; and Union County Community College, Cranford.

Fiscal problems cited by clinic

Fiscal problems of the Union County Psychiatric Clinic, caused by a combination of expanded services and increased payroll costs were outlined by Benjamin H. Haddock, executive director, in a report to state mental health officials and the county mental health board.

The clinic's report is required by the state before considering grants and other financial assistance for the clinic.

Haddock cited the addition of five professionals to the clinic staff required to meet the clinic's role in the new Elizabeth General Hospital Mental Health Center. Federal funds must be used in the center, which is serviced by the clinic for outpatient care, consultation and education. The center is a new, federally sponsored concept in the delivery of mental health services.

The clinic reported hiring six additional staff members last year for offices located in Plainfield, Summit, Elizabeth, Rahway and Linden. Hired were a psychiatrist, three psychologists, social workers and two mental health aides.

"These appointments may have pushed our budget beyond fiscal limits unless requests to our commission for a share of federal revenue funds are honored," Haddock observed.

Gaudineer pupils entertained by dramatic, musical groups

A recent day at the Florence Gaudineer school, Springfield, started out at 10 a.m. with "The Story Book Theater" from Arthur Johnson Regional High School in Clark. The group put on the story of the ugly duckling but changed the fairy-tale into a comedy.

Jack, Beanstalk will be dramatized

After lunch the latest continued as the Johnson Regional sent another group of students on the stage to perform "Godspell Medley," one of the scenes in the Broadway musical. One hundred thirty-five students took part in the show as they sang "Aquarius" and other songs from musicals. It ended with an entire cast circling around the theater clapping their hands, singing and encouraging the audience to participate.

Chesley again tops in insurance sales

HARTFORD, Conn. — William J. Chesley of Springfield, N.J., assistant group manager with the New York City group insurance sales office of Phoenix Life Insurance Company, took the number one spot among all the company's group sales representatives throughout the country for 1972. This is the second year in a row that he has earned this honor.

During 1972, Chesley wrote new group insurance benefits on employees of more than 200 business firms of all sizes. He has been one of the company's top group sales representatives seven times since joining Phoenix Mutual in 1963.

Chesley and his family live on Northview terrace, Springfield.

County group joins women's caucus at 'Coalition for Power'

The Union County Women's Political Caucus recently participated in the first annual State Women's Political Caucus conference at Douglass College, New Brunswick. The conference, entitled "Coalition for Power," brought together members of 17 county caucuses to adopt a constitution and elect officers for the coming year. The Caucus members attended workshops and generated resolutions that were acted on by the entire conference.

Union County was represented with nearly one-half of its entire membership attending the conference. Union County Caucus member Elizabeth Cox of Summit, received a special commendation from the State Caucus for her work in chairing the committee which wrote the newly adopted state constitution.

Ground-breaking slated for UCTI unit Monday

Groundbreaking ceremonies for Union County Technical Institute's new Health Technologies and General Services Building will be conducted Monday, April 16, at 3:30 p.m. on UCTI's 42-acre campus. Construction of the $2.7 million building was approved in January by the State Board of Higher Education. Eppel and Seaman of Morris Plains is the architect; Winsor Inc., the contractor.

State and county officials and representatives of the educational community have been invited to attend the groundbreaking, according to Dr. George H. Baxel, president, James Avery of Scotch Plains, chairman of the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education, has been invited as guest speaker. Union County Executive, Director Edward Miller, William McKinlay, president of UCTI's Board of Education, and Dr. Edward Kilpatrick, assistant commissioner of Education for N.J., also will participate in the ceremonies.

Dr. Baxel also invited all residents of Union County to attend the ceremonies. He explained that the three-story building will permit UCTI to double current enrollment in health technologies, add new health technology programs and expand enrollments in its business and engineering technologies.

complete, 20-station dental clinic, five special purpose laboratories, three general science laboratories, five classrooms, a 150-seat lecture hall, student lounge, a game room, snack bar, faculty offices and an audio-tutorial learning center. Opening of the new building will permit the implementation of recently approved programs for physical therapy and initiation therapy assistants, Dr. Baxel noted. UCTI currently offers two-year associate degree programs in dental hygiene, dental laboratory technology and medical laboratory technology and one-year programs in dental and medical assisting and practical nursing.

Enrollment in all of these programs has been curtailed, Dr. Baxel said, because of lack of facilities. "With the completion of the new building by the fall of 1974, we will be able to double the enrollments in these fields."

The space in the Technical Institute now occupied by the health programs will be used to provide for expanded enrollments in the business and engineering technologies. "We are getting 77 percent utilization of the building now and, at a time when more students are seeking a technical education, we are not able to provide for them for lack of space," Dr. Baxel said. Union County Technical Institute in partnership with Union College is serving as Union County's Comprehensive Community College. Students completing approved programs at the Institute are eligible to receive associate in applied science degrees conferred by Union College.

Wetlands life studied Probe mosquito spray effects

Small, fiddler crab, marsh grass, killifish - if it lives in the New Jersey wetlands, a team of Rutgers researchers is finding out practically everything about it.

The study which will determine how safe the current mosquito spray programs are for creatures other than mosquitoes, is one of the most detailed and extensive ever conducted.

"We're trying to trace the effects of these sprays on all species of plant and animal life, not just to see if they're safe directly but if there are more subtle effects - if perhaps the fish lay fewer eggs or if the grasses grow more slowly," explains Dr. Andrew J. Forghash of the Department of Entomology and Economic Zoology at the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, who is coordinating the study.

It might seem a small matter but the wetlands where the mosquitoes breed are also vital habitat and feeding grounds for many kinds of birds, fish and small animals, which in turn serve as food for larger living things.

If this web of life is disturbed, the effects can snowball - so they need to be weighed in deciding what's best to do about mosquito bites and mosquito-borne diseases.

Minority business-finance course set

Sanford Wolfe, coordinator, Federal Government Accountants Association, N.J. Chapter (FGAA) announced this week that the FGAA and the Office of Minority Business Enterprise, Washington, D.C., in coordination with the Intracultural Council For Business Opportunity (ICBO) of New Jersey will again present its course in financial management instruction for minority businessmen at Union College, Plainfield.

The course will start April 30 and are presented free of charge. Minority businessmen interested in attending should call Bernard H. Sapovstein, ICBO Educational Director, (201) 622-4771, or write to ICBO, 24 Commerce St., Newark.

Egg display shaping up Annual contest in Woodbridge

Eggs of every color, eggs decorated with lace, ribbon, velvet, sequins, eggs made in the shape of clover, honey dumplings and animals - no matter what, you will find it on the hundreds of decorated eggs on display at the Woodbridge Shopping Center, Routes 1 and 9, from Tuesday through Easter Sunday. All of them will have been made by New Jersey school children in kindergarten through grade six.

To date, more than 3,000 requests for entry forms have been received, insuring that this will be the biggest display yet presented in the annual contest, which is sponsored by the New Jersey Poultry Products Council of the State Department of Agriculture and the Woodbridge Shopping Center Merchants Association, said a contest spokesman.

Judging of the eggs will take place on Tuesday. The young winners will be notified by mail on Wednesday. There will be three prize winners in each of the seven grades. The top prize will be a trophy and a $5 cash award. The second-place winners will each receive $3 in cash and a ribbon. Two-dollar cash prizes and ribbons will go to those rated third in each of the grades. The winning entries will be on display at the State House in Trenton, April 24 through April 29.

Hyman Cohen supervisor, dairy products for pubarmis, Macleas and someone from the Woodbridge Shopping Center Merchants Association will judge the display.

New UC program explains preparation for GED exam

"Everything you've always wanted to know about the GED exam before taking it" is the purpose of a new information program established by Union College's Walk-In Center for Educational Development (GED) Test Center, headquartered at the Plainfield campus.

According to Christian Hanna, GED director, the first testing skills seminar will be conducted by assistant Oscar Morfitt next Wednesday at the New Brunswick High School. The GED staff is presently scheduling seminars at other adult education centers.

The GED program, sponsored by the National Department of Education, is based on the assumption that many adults, through experience and self-teaching, have acquired the equivalent of a high school education outside the framework of a formal classroom experience and should be given credit for it. Mr. Hanna explained. GED diploma are accepted in lieu of a high school diploma for admission to many colleges, including Union College, job-training programs, and technical schools.

The GED exam includes testing in six areas - reading comprehension, grammar, social studies, natural sciences, literature, and mathematics. Union College administers the GED exam in English or Spanish. Adults wishing to take the GED exam may contact Hanna at 276-2000, ext. 274, for more information.

11 fire precautions listed for the home

Fire in the home, according to statistics, is the leading cause of death in the United States. Each year, more than 2,000 people die in fires in their homes. The fire loss in the United States each year is estimated to be $2.9 billion. In 1972, 12,000 dwelling fires caused more than 6,000 deaths and injuries. The fire loss in the United States each year is estimated to be $2.9 billion.

1. Know the location and proper use of your fire extinguisher.
2. Never overload electrical outlets. It is surprising how many homes disregard this common safety rule.
3. Use covered metal containers for rubbish and waste paper, and move them outside the house.
4. If the home has a fireplace, make certain it has a screen. Children and others should be kept away from the fireplace.
5. Keep a small fire extinguisher handy for kitchen and workshop use.
6. Having the security of home appliances is not enough. A few spare minutes of thought and effort often mean the difference between a happy home and a fire trap. Coala added.
7. Know the location and proper use of your fire extinguisher.
8. Never overload electrical outlets. It is surprising how many homes disregard this common safety rule.
9. Use covered metal containers for rubbish and waste paper, and move them outside the house.
10. If the home has a fireplace, make certain it has a screen. Children and others should be kept away from the fireplace.

Law students learning about police procedures

About 35 young men and women have been learning about law enforcement from the back seats of police cars and in station houses throughout the state. All are law students participating in "Police and the Courts," a course presented at the Seton Hall School of Law in Newark.

Law professor Joseph Slowinski, who likes to emphasize out of class assignments in the course, said the students are working closely with the police department in Newark, Orange, Elizabeth, Belleville, Abury Park, Little Falls and Plainfield and at the State Police Academy in Sea Girt.

Each student spends at least one evening riding on patrol. He also spends time at a station house, where arrest procedures, bookkeeping and lineups are observed.

PLEASE HELP PREVENT FOREST FIRES.

Unless you're a speed reader, it should take you about 20 seconds to read this ad.

Which is about 5 words per second.

Forest fires in that same amount of time, will have ravaged and burned over 200 trees.

Which is about 2 trees for every word you read.

Or by the time you finish this sentence, 118 trees.

And does the damage add up!

In a year's time that's over 420 million trees, over 4 million acres burned, and hundreds of thousands of animals left homeless.

Not to forget the ecological havoc forest fire will have wreaked where it passed.

And it's all such a senseless waste too.

Because with only a little time, most man-caused forest fires could be prevented.

An extra second to grind out a cigarette.

Another minute to pour more water on your fire, scatter the coals, cover it with dirt.

A moment to refresh yourself on fire safety.

A few extra minutes can save years of growth.

And that's time well spent on saving our forests.

Just like reading this ad.

UC to offer option this autumn in public administration field

A public administration option to the business administration curriculum will be added to Union College's educational offerings in September. It was announced this week by Prof. Elmer Wolf, dean of the College.

The new program, Prof. Wolf stated, reflects the growing demand for professionally trained administrators in federal, state and local government and in business.

The public administration option will lead to an associate in arts degree. The program will also be articulated with existing programs at four-year institutions, permitting students to transfer to those institutions to complete requirements for a baccalaureate degree.

"The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics," Prof. Wolf noted, "reports that the long range employment trend in state and local government has been moving steadily upward and that this rapid growth is expected to continue through the seventies."

The public administration curriculum will include courses in accounting, government, economics, business administration, English, mathematics and the social sciences.

"A review of the curriculum requirements in public administration at such institutions as Newark State College, Seton Hall University and New York University shows that the option is well designed for transfer purposes," Prof. Wolf stated.

With the addition of the public administration program, Union College will offer public career programs in four areas: Urban studies, environmental science and environmental engineering work added to the curriculum in September, 1972.

Dear Consumer

By Virginia Kneiser, Special Assistant to President Nixon for Consumer Affairs.

The party was a great success and your floor shows it. Surveying the party area, you notice stains resulting from those drinks your husband served. Not to mention a few cigarette butts.

What can you do?

According to a new consumer booklet—Floor Polish and Floor Care, published by the General Services Administration—you get those stains and burns out of your floor by using a little floor wax.

For removing stains caused by alcoholic beverages, the booklet recommends this: Rub 'til' stain with a cloth that is dampened in a solution of liquid detergent and warm water. If the stain won't come out, rub it with a different cloth dampened with denatured alcohol.

To get a cigarette burn out of a wood or cork floor, rub the burn with a cloth coated with a paste of cigar ash and water.

On ceramic tile, brick or stone floors, the booklet recommends a different first aid method: Rub a cloth dampened with a solution of lemon juice and water.

In addition to providing information on stain removal, the new booklet also tells consumers how to select the different kinds of floors, how to apply the polish or wax, and how to maintain it. It also shows how to remove the old polish efficiently and safely.

The booklet also contains information on the types of floor polishes and removers out of the reach of small children, as they can be poisonous if swallowed. If you are treating a child or removers, don't leave it open and unattended. If small children are around.

If your child accidentally swallows some polish or removers, do not panic. Read the label for recommended procedures and call your doctor or the local poison control center. If any delay occurs in getting medical help, you can take certain emergency action yourself.

Quarter Horse show tomorrow

A sure sign of spring in New Jersey is the "hunting out" of horse shows. One of the state's biggest will take place tomorrow through Sunday when the New Jersey Quarter Horse Association sponsors its 12th annual show at Blue Creek Farms, Long Valley. Entries will come from throughout the United States.

The show will feature a wide variety of western events. On Saturday, re-buses will get underway at 8 a.m. Included will be jumping, working hunter, western riding, barrel racing and calf roping.

On Sunday classes will start at 8 a.m. Some of these will be junior reining, versatility, junior bridal path pack and senior western pleasure. On Friday there will be a change for spectators but none on Saturday and Sunday.

Sandburg model features family activities center

"The Sandburg" model family activity center half-story above the main level of the home, has been introduced at Whittier Oaks on Hillsborough road, off Route 206 in Hillsborough.

William Steinfield, vice-president of marketing for U.S. Home, points out that placing the family room in this location puts it at the hub of family living and presents a dramatic view from the high-ceilinged gallery entrance. The wrought iron railing that runs along its interior edge adds to the attractiveness of the "entrance" by making visible the fireplace at the rear of the room.

The distinctive interior design of "The Sandburg" and its traditional exterior appearance is the result of research studies of home buyers in other U.S. Home communities. Steinfield points out that: "While today's consumer is ready for innovative interior design, he cannot be motivated to purchase a house that falls to blend with the neighborhood."

Subsequently, "The Sandburg" presents a conventional appearance compatible with the community, while offering an innovative interior created for today's family life styles.

Priced at $55,490, the nine-room home features maintenance-free exterior of hand-split shakes and antique brick front facade with covered porch. The four bedrooms with two full baths occupy one level. The family room is on a level-by itself. The third level has a formal dining room and country-style kitchen with country-style breakfast area. Sliding glass doors open into the rear yard. The laundry room adjoins the kitchen.

The 24-foot long living room is off the room-size reception foyer and runs the entire depth of the house. Its location sets it away from the activity area of the home, so it can be kept "company clean" for formal entertaining. This was one of the desirable features stressed in the U.S. Home buyer research survey. A first floor powder room and two-car garage completes the ownership at Whittier Oaks.

at Hillsborough offers custom-style homes on approximately 1/2, or an acre or larger sites. Models are patterned along the lines of Early American architecture, and include the most modern living features, conveniences, and two-car garages.

Sanitary sewers and water are being installed simultaneously with construction on each section of the 40-home community. Paved streets, sidewalks and curbing are being installed by U.S. Home.

Other models at Whittier Oaks at Hillsborough include: The Longfield Ranch at $55,490, with four or five bedrooms, three full baths. The Emerson split-level at $52,490, with cathedral ceiling raised living room, formal dining room, four bedrooms, and oversized master bedroom suite with private bath and two one-half baths. The Spring Meadow Colonial at $53,490, with covered porch and two-story colonial exterior. The Greenbush at $55,900, has first floor family room, three bedrooms, master bedroom on separate level and two one-half baths. The Spring Meadow House, with country-style kitchen, four bedrooms and two one-half baths, is priced at $56,490. It is completely decorated and furnished. The third level new interior concept featuring new designs, colorings and new finishes in home furnishings.

"Home buyers at Whittier Oaks will have the advantage of U.S. Home arranged mortgage financing, which means that 90 percent of the buyer's down payment can be financed. This means that buyers can obtain mortgages up to 90 percent of the purchase price. In addition, other buyer advantages in the financing area are that there are no additional costs for closing, and that the mortgage is for a term of 22 years. U.S. Home of New Jersey is a division of the U.S. Home Corporation.

MODELS AND MODEL HOMES - Students from the Lo Jolla School of Modeling in Point Pleasant are shown in front of the new Sandburg model home. The event, sponsored by Reiniro's developers, Kaufman and Broad Homes of Patin, was part of a special preview of the single-family housing community in Lakewood.

Oil heat savings cited by builder

"It costs less to heat a home with oil than with gas or electricity, and those savings are passed on to the homeowner," says a major Garden State builder now installing oil heating systems in more than 500 new single family and multi-family homes in Ocean County.

More than half the residential units being built in this fast-growing residential center county by Total Building Systems Inc. will be heated by oil, according to TBS President Eugene Pliskin.

TBS, which is headquartered on Rte. 33, Farmingdale, is building four communities in Ocean County—The Mews, Windward at Barnegat, Burnt Tavern Manor and Pennant Club Apartments. The Mews is a single family home community located in Toms River, with homes starting from $31,490. Windward at Barnegat is a single family home community opening late this spring. It is planned for 500 homes, with the first section offering homes on half-acre sites. Prices start at the low $20,000 range.

Burnt Tavern Manor offers 296 apartment units and 70 townhouses in a condominium community in Brick Township, with prices starting at $19,900. The Pennant Club Apartments, in Jackson Township, will be a 372 multi-family home community opening this Spring.

More than half of the 1,000 units within the four communities will be oil heated, Pliskin says, adding that "aside from being a clean, heating, reliable fuel in plentiful supply, oil proves out to be most economical to the homeowner."

"Another advantage to the home buyer in heating with oil is that there is a flexible supply and source of service." The major oil company working closely with TBS in planning original engineering and installation as well as supply of oil for home heating is Meenan Oil Co. Inc., with offices and supply depots throughout the Garden State. Meenan has more than a quarter century of successful experience in home heating engineering, installation, service and follow-up supply of fuel to homeowners throughout Long Island, New York, and Pennsylvania.

Meenan is now working closely with large and small builders throughout New Jersey in planning and providing economical oil heat for single family homes and multi-family developments, both condominium and rental. The company recently became publicly owned, offering its stock over-the-counter. It has enlarged its distribution facilities throughout the Garden State so that it can meet the needs of the building industry in engineering, installation, and service and supply to builder and homeowner alike.

'Clear trend' seen to condominiums

"Condominiums are growing so rapidly in popularity that they may soon replace the apartment as the traditional haven for young marrieds, working couples, and career-minded singles and older couples." This opinion was recently expressed by Michael A. Sunstein, vice president of marketing for the New Jersey Division of Kaufman and Broad, nationwide housing giant.

"The condominium wage is one of the most clearly defined trends in the housing industry in recent years," Sunstein added. "In rapidly increasing numbers, people of all ages and income levels are being attracted to the economic, social and psychological advantages of condominium living." He said, "Economically," Sunstein explained, "prices on all types of housing are continuing to rise because of the lumber shortage. And while single family homes are still in great demand, this type of housing is experiencing the steepest increase in price. Quite simply, it's cheaper to buy a condominium than a single family home, and it's more economically sound to buy a townhouse than to waste money renting an apartment."

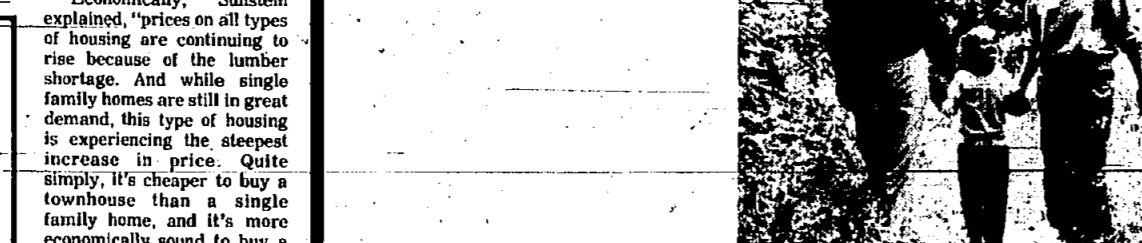

Sunstein pointed out that prices on condominiums are typically average $5,000 to $10,000 lower than an average home in the same area. Monthly payments are attractive and down payments are very low, he said.

"For example," said Sunstein, "The Palmetto model at Coventry Square, our condominium community in Lakewood is priced at $21,990 with a minimum of $1,190 at five percent down and with monthly carrying charges of only $22 including taxes, principal and interest and complete maintenance dues. The layout of the Palmetto includes a living room, dining room, California patio kitchen with decorator styled oven and range, utility laundry room, and two-car garage."

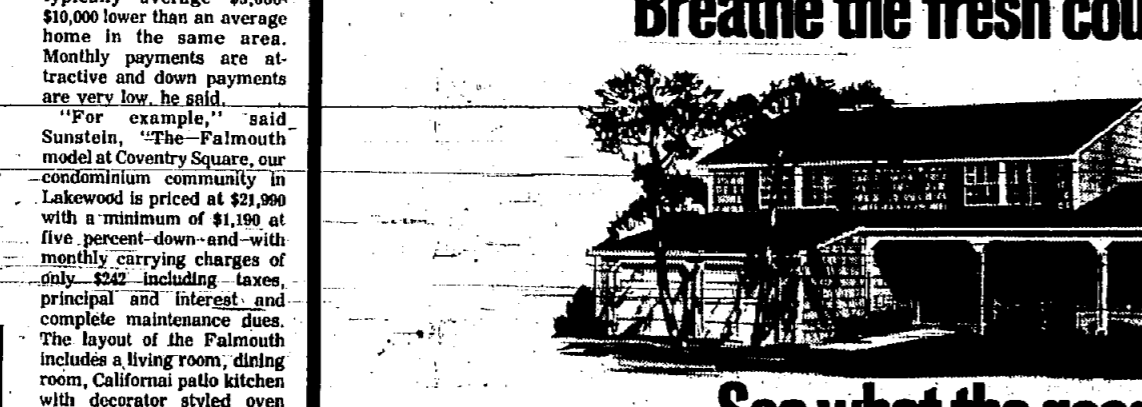

Great Hall auditorium. Residents have more time to socialize with family and friends because their maintenance fee covers all upkeep of their property and the grounds. In addition, the clubhouse for the homes in a condominium community creates a unique social setting where both the desire to own a house of your own, and to belong are met.

reason, builders will include many attractive recreational features within a condominium community. For example, has a spacious outdoor style clubhouse for the exclusive use of the residents. Its recreational facilities include a swimming pool, tennis courts, gymnasium, saunas, billiard room, recreation center, private library and

High Point notes sales to women

An interesting outcome of "Women's Lib" is the increasing number of women who are purchasing their own condominium homes at High Point at Lakewood, a condominium home community offering one and two-bedroom homes starting from $17,990.

High Point sales manager Art Schilling notes that more than 10 percent of the homes within the community are being purchased by women—unmarried or previously married.

"This shows not only that High Point has a high appeal to 'singles' but that mortgages are becoming available for the working woman as for a man in the same income bracket," Schilling says.

"We also have retired women who have chosen to live at High Point and enjoy the social stimulation of the community and the convenience of compatible neighbors and, of course, the no-work, no-upkeep of the overall maintenance situation," Schilling says.

This is in line with a recent survey of 42 savings and loan institutions, which points out that "three quarters of these institutions have lowered their mortgage policies toward women."

Among other things, the report showed that a "career woman 35 to 50 or older has the same buying potential as a man."

At High Point, the "single woman" resident population is growing. It includes nurses, teachers, a director of a child study center, secretaries and retired teachers, as well as widows and retirees of many areas of the business world.

High Point at Lakewood offers condominium homes in a garden setting with many community facilities within easy walking distance.

Each home has private entrance and either terrace or balcony, full wall-to-wall carpeting, air conditioning, central air in bath and all electric color-coordinated appliances including a refrigerator, washer, Royal Rose eye-level oven, ample work area and elegant wood cabinets, all of which make planning and entertaining a downright joy.

Within the building itself are facilities enough to make the life style year round fresh water indoor pool with lifeguard, whirlpool baths and massage rooms; fully equipped health club with card rooms, poolside snack bar, and a recreation suite for cards, chess, backgammon or just plain relaxing.

Pending approval from agencies with jurisdiction plans for an outdoor pool are also in the works.

Apartment home ownership at Harbour Mansion also entitles you to your own "caboose" as well as a private beach fronting the building.

Sales by the foot at Holiday Lake stress land value

A new approach to land sales is being adopted at Holiday Lake, the year-round family recreational community on Clove road in Montague. Henry K. Wilster, developer of the 1,270-acre tract, is offering land as low as 20 cents a square foot.

The new emphasis is to show the value represented in land purchases. "If you buy carpet or floor covering of any kind," Wilster said, "you'll have to pay a lot more than 20 cents a square foot in today's market. Yet, after buying the carpet, how much will it be worth in five or ten years from now? The land you can safely predict, will be worth two or three times as much, because there won't be more land, although you'll still be able to buy carpet."

Individual home sites start at $3,885 at Holiday Lake, where the condominium development has been introduced to make lakefront or linkside ownership available to more people. The lakeside and the linkside plots are the premium ones at the colony, with the lower priced units in pioneering sections where the buyer does not expect to build for two years or so. This system enables the buyer to take advantage of today's prices so that by the time he is ready to build his land has already appreciated in value.

Homes that sold for $13,000 five years ago are now resales at Holiday Lake, Wilster said. He is offering two-bedroom condominium units either bordering or facing the golf course, with a full kitchen, full bathroom, and a completely finished one family home offered from $10,000.

Long-term conventional mortgages are offered on the home purchases, with 20 percent down required. Land buyers have five years to pay, with down payments of one-third.

SHERWOOD FOREST

A Private Four Season Community In the Pocono Mountains...

Sherwood Forest is more than a beautiful, secluded community of private homes. It's cool, full trees. Fresh clean air. Swift trout streams and placid lakes. Horse trails winding through woodland beauty. And pure, white snow for winter fun.

Sherwood Forest is indeed unique. Once the private estate of one of America's wealthiest art collectors, Sherwood Forest started with more full facilities than most ever reach! Its castle-like home is your clubhouse. And there are stables for horseback riding... a ski lodge with breathtaking view... and a variety of craft shops, where European artists once worked on restoring masterpieces.

Now is the perfect time to select your choice homestead at Sherwood Forest!

Charles Quinzel, former Springfield official, dies at 91

Funeral services for Charles S. Quinzel, 91, of 102 Mountain ave., Springfield, a former member of the Springfield Township Committee and Board of Education, will be held this morning at Smith & Smith Suburban, Morris avenue, Springfield.

Mr. Quinzel, who was an active member of numerous local organizations, died suddenly on Monday at Overlook Hospital, Summit, he was 91.

Mr. Quinzel, the grand-uncle of Springfield Chief of Police George E. Parsell, was born in Cranford and was brought to Springfield as a child. He lived here for 90 years. For 60 years, he operated Charles Quinzel & Sons, a painting and decorating contracting firm, based in the township.

Mr. Quinzel was a member of the Springfield Board of Education from 1922 to 1926. From 1929 to 1930, he served on the Township Committee.

A member of the Springfield Lions Club and the Springfield Republican Club, he was serving as president of the latter organization at the time of his death.

Mr. Quinzel also retained active membership in the Springfield Volunteer Fire Department, the Exempt Firemen's Association, the Springfield Historical Society, Colonial Lodge No. 109 F&AM of Millburn, the Supreme Council of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, the New Jersey Consistory 2820 of the Grand Lodge of the Scottish Rite and the Friends of the Springfield Public Library.

A member of Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church, Mr. Quinzel also was active in the Church's Men's Club.

Mr. Quinzel had been the husband of the late Mrs. Charlotte "Frisco" Quinzel, surviving two sons, Harry T. Quinzel and Charles R. Quinzel, both of Springfield; and two daughters, Mrs. May Dapic of Verona and Mrs. Louise Harbitt of Orlando, Fla.; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

DEP sponsoring free auto emission tests in Springfield

Motorists have the chance to obtain free auto exhaust emission tests, similar to those currently in use at state motor vehicle inspection stations, today and tomorrow at the Metropolitan Air Pollution Control field office, Rt. 22, Springfield.

A testing van, operated by the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), will be stationed in the office's parking lot from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. both days. The lot is located off the eastbound lanes of the highway next to the Dairy Queen. The free demonstrations will be conducted by technicians from DEP's Bureau of Air Pollution Control.

"The mobile unit is equipped with the same type of emission-measuring instruments used at motor vehicle inspection stations," a DEP spokesman said. "The free demonstrations are being offered in order to familiarize motorists with the tests which become part of the annual motor vehicle inspection procedure last July 5."

Although presently used simply to warn motorists of excessive motor emission, the tests will be used on a "pass-fail" basis starting this July.

Owners of vehicles taking advantage of the Springfield tests will be given literature explaining the methods and purposes of the inspection as well as suggestions for reducing emissions if they are found to be too high.

SCOOPIING SNAILS AT THE SEASHORE — Ms. Linda Stahl, laboratory technician for Rutgers-montclair, inspects study-collects snails from the shore of a local creek marsh. Researchers want to learn whether insecticides used to control mosquitoes affect other living things — even if they're only snails.

Egg display shaping up Annual contest in Woodbridge

Eggs of every color, eggs decorated with lace, ribbon, velvet, sequins, eggs made in the shapes of claws, humpy dumplings and animals — no matter what, you will find it among the hundreds of decorated eggs on display at the Woodbridge Shopping Center, Routes 1 and 9, from Tuesday through Easter Sunday. All of them will have been made by New Jersey school children in kindergarten through grade six.

To date, more than 3,000 requests for entry forms have been received, insuring that this will be the biggest display yet presented in the annual contest, which is sponsored by the New Jersey Poultry Products Council of the State Department of Agriculture and the Woodbridge Shopping Center Merchants Association, said a contest spokesman.

Judging of the eggs will take place on Tuesday. The young winners will be notified by hand at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, to receive their awards. These will consist of three prizes for winners in each of the seven grades. The top prize will be a trophy and a $5 cash award. The second-place winners will each receive $3 in cash and a ribbon. Two-dollar cash prizes and ribbons will be given to third in each of the grades. The winning entries will be on display at the State House in Trenton, April 24 through April 29.

Hymen Cohen, supervisor, dairy products for Pathmark Markets and someone from the Woodbridge Shopping Center Merchants Association will judge the display.

The first season was held April 11 in the township municipal building. It was assisted by his wife, Lois, and by Ruth Fogarty, an introductory demonstration of first aid procedures.

The course is offered at no cost to employer or employee. Persons interested in attending were asked to call Hines at 279-6333. Arrangements will be made to schedule classes at the student's convenience, a spokesman said.

Wetlands life studied Probe mosquito spray effects

"We're trying to trace the effects of these sprays on all species of plant and animal life, not just to see if they're injured directly but if there are more subtle effects — if perhaps the fish lay fewer eggs or if the grasses grow more slowly," explains Dr. Andrew J. Forgaik of the Department of Entomology and Economic Zoology at Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, who is coordinating the study.

It might seem a small matter but the wetlands where the mosquitoes breed are also a vital habitat and feeding ground for many kinds of birds, fish and small animals, which in turn serve as food for larger living things.

If this web of life is disturbed, the effects can snowball — so they need to be weighed in deciding what's best to do about mosquito bites and mosquito-borne diseases.

In the field, the Rutgers study team is counting, weighing and examining the living creatures in an unimpaired area, and comparing their findings with a second section of marshland that has been treated with insecticides.

Local educator on UC committee

Prof. Judith Mayer of 113 Irwin st., Springfield, is among 70 members of the Union College faculty having committee assignments for the current 1972-73 academic year, according to Prof. George Zirkle, chairman of the board of trustees. He is a member of the English department.

The Union College faculty is governed by faculty bylaws, and subject to the approval of the board of trustees. The by-laws serve as a guide to the faculty in exercising its responsibilities in establishing educational policies.

Faculty members are appointed to standing committees by the executive committee of the college. These committees have given literature to include: curriculum, academic evaluation, faculty-student, admissions, athletics, counseling, library, welfare, scholarship, catalog and steering.

Prof. Mayer, a member of the English committee and first aid instructor, was appointed to the catalog committee.
