

'No-fault' benefit limits can not be cut by reimbursements, says McDonough

New Jersey Insurance Commissioner Richard C. McDonough said today that the state's new "no-fault" benefit limits can not be reduced by reimbursements from other sources.

NSC degree available without attending class

The board of trustees of Newark State College at Union has approved the development of a program in non-traditional studies. The program will enable "external" students to earn a college degree without attending regular, weekly classes.

holder because they reimbursed another company for payment of "no-fault" benefits. The commissioner said the act of receiving rebated benefits from other sources was attempting to reduce the liability coverage to the amount they pay to another company in no-fault benefits.

McDonough said, "The intent of the 'no-fault' statute is to provide prompt payment for personal injuries suffered in an automobile accident, and in no way is intended that a person be penalized."

McDonough said that some insurance companies hold that they are legally correct in reducing the liability coverage after making a "no-fault" payment because they say that they should not be required to pay more than the total liability limit under the policy.

FLOOD CONTROL—Crews work on channelization project along the east branch of Bryant Brook between Rt. 78 and Salter street. The work is part of a $400,000 undertaking along both branches of the stream designed to ward flooding from the highway past Town Hall of Van Winkle's Creek at Wabeno avenue. Financed primarily with federal funds and the proceeds of a lawsuit against the N.J. Department of Transportation, the channelization involves portions of more than 100 parcels of property. Schools to permit hiring of buses by recreation agency

The Springfield Board of Education has cleared the way for use of school buses for Recreation Department after school activities, board members disclosed to the eight members of the audience at the monthly meeting Monday night at the Florence Gaudinier School.

The meeting was the last to be held at Gaudinier. With the board offices moved yesterday to the Raymond Chisholm School, all board meetings will now be held at Chisholm, 1155 Montross Ave., from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. starting Sept. 17.

Progress on the Township Committee's request for recreational activity use of school buses was reported by board member J. Scott Donington. Plans elsewhere had been stalled by N.J. Department of Education restrictions on use of school buses for purposes not directly related to education.

Donington said, however, that Sanford Donington, township at-large member and board secretary, had been able to win approval from William West, county superintendent of schools. Donington added that the move will provide a substantial savings for local taxpayers.

Donington said that the board approved the naming of Loreta Dudley as "dance coordinator" at the Gaudinier School for the coming year, at a cost of $20 per session for some 60 sessions. The vote was five to one with one abstention.

Donington said that the board approved a similar plan for an artist-in-residence, said that she was not opposed in principle but that she wanted more details on how the new projects would be integrated with the rest of the curriculum. The school serves sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

Editorial comment PRAISE FOR DAY CAMP

Problems with flooding, disputes over tents and other controversies involving town government should not obscure the fact that Springfield this summer has taken a major step forward toward its goal of service to all citizens of all ages.

We refer, of course, to the day camp at the Municipal Swimming Pool. Tomorrow will be the final day for this new project—one that is both highly praiseworthy and promising of even greater service in the future.

The first purpose of a day camp is to help the children have fun, and we can attest at first hand to the success achieved over the past eight weeks. Other goals include steps toward objectives usually described in educational jargon—developing motor and behavioral skills, broadening each child's knowledge of the world in which he lives.

Amateur mechanics saving dollars
Technical school offers tuneup instruction

When Leo Eklund of Elizabeth paid $148 for a tuneup on his wife's Oldsmobile, he decided it was about time he learned what was under the hood of a car. Especially after his wife got stuck with the same car—the next day—

HAVEN FOR DO-IT-YOURSELFERS—Mrs. Nikki Brown of Colonia listens to Herron Colodini of Middletown (center) as he explains the installation of transmission filters during a recent engine tuneup and oil analysis class at Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains. Also present are Mrs. Michael Schreiber of Elizabeth (left), an experienced amateur mechanic, also enjoys the "hands-on" practice during class. Mrs. Brown is among several students who regularly take auto mechanics courses at the school.

To understand the extent of Eklund's experience with cars or the lack of it, it must be mentioned that he arrived at the first tune-up class with his own Chevrolet approaching 65,000 miles and with the original spark plugs, points, and filters. During the course of the six-week summer class, he did an entire tuneup himself under the supervision of Herron Colodini of Middletown, auto mechanics instructor.

"The car had never been worked and I only drive it back and forth to work so I didn't worry too much," Eklund smiled. "But when I paid $148 for my wife's auto tuneup and then the car stalled anyway because the job wasn't done properly, I did worry. I had to go to a dealer to still get a vacation advance and then have it installed by an auto mechanic. He told me that right has seen quick and satisfactory results during his short term at Union County Technical Institute."

200,000 goal for 3 hospitals in united drive
Union County GOP appoints Triarsi campaign director

A goal of $200,000 has been set by the Tri Hospital Fund with the launching of the first campaign of Abigail Brothers, Elizabeth General and St. Elizabeth hospitals in Elizabeth.

JOSEPH A. TRIARSI

The three hospitals are no longer a part of the United Way of Union County. Following a detailed study, they were asked to leave and raise their own funds through the United Way fund-raising efforts could not meet their requirements. In 1972, the three hospitals shared only $49,500, about two percent of the $2 million raised.

Friends on the Tri Hospital Council will approach individual and corporate citizens interested in the solution of the problem of quality health care in the area. Donors will be asked to contribute on an annual and continuing basis.

New northbound lanes open for Pike users in Middlesex

Three new northbound lanes have been opened as part of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority's $125-million construction program to widen the toll road from six to 12 lanes between Middlesex County Interchanges 10 in Edison and 9 in New Brunswick. The original northbound lanes, built in 1951, were closed last week and traffic switched over to a new three-lane stretch between the Raritan River and Interchange 10. The new phase calls for resurfacing the older lanes north of the Raritan River and lowering by an average of nine feet the original roadway between Lawrence Brook and the Rte. 19 bridge in East Brunswick.

On completion of the widening this fall, motorists will be able to travel an uninterrupted 29-mile stretch of 12 lanes from East Brunswick to Newark, where the Turnpike divides into separate six-lane eastward and westward alignments through the Hackensack Meadowlands.

OUR LOWEST PRICED HOTPOINT 2-DOOR REFRIGERATOR FEATURES A NO DEFROST REFRIGERATOR SECTION. 209⁹⁵

No, we don't try to tell you this is the biggest, most luxurious refrigerator you can buy (although Hotpoint does make one that is). What we will tell you is, that for the money, this is the best refrigerator you'll find anywhere. Here's why: despite the low price, this Hotpoint offers the kind of quality that has made them world-famous. And, it has the kind of features that most people are looking for in a new refrigerator. Things like trim design—just 20" wide—and big capacity—a full 9 cubic feet in the fresh food section—2.46 cubic feet in the freezer section—three door and a half shelves—pocketed egg racks—covered butter compartment—and, best of all, the fresh food compartment never needs defrosting. See it—and the complete line of Hotpoint refrigerators—at your convenient BBD store.

Newark State appoints 37 to faculty posts for 1973-74

Newark State College, Union, announced the appointment of 37 new faculty members to the School of Arts and Sciences and the School of Education, effective September 1, for the 1973-74 academic year.

Appointed associate professors were Dr. C. J. H. Bess, University of Burlington, mathematics; Dr. H. Bruce Field Jr., of Edison, botany; Dr. William Silverman of New York City, sociology; Dr. Bonnie Z. Strand of Warren, psychology; Dr. Jane F. Wase of Highland Park, sociology; Dr. Charles W. Wise of Lubbock, Texas, English.

Appointed assistant professors were Dr. Barry J. Aronow, of Highland Park, mathematics; Dr. Michael L. Jaffe of Hempstead, N.Y., psychology; Dr. Frank H. Olszewski, of Newark, N.J., psychology; Dr. Joyce Page of Long Beach, N.Y., psychology; Barbara J. Shierberg of Orange, sociology.

Appointed instructors were Shirley J. Edman of New York City, fine arts; Elyse D. Schulman of Billerica, N.H., philosophy; Mary C. O'Shea of St. Louis, Mo., philosophy; Marshall A. Forman of Newark, sociology; Abraham S. George of New York City, city, sociology; John N. Light of Plainfield, N.J., psychology; Dr. Charles J. Clark of Chicago, education; Klaus Nemets of Clifton, physical education; and Limes J. Welland of Brooklyn, education.

NJEA suggestions offered for teacher over-supply woes

"Although the oversupply of certified teachers gives every school its pick of top quality job candidates—many bright and creative voices are being lost to the teaching profession for lack of opportunity," according to the journal of the New Jersey Education Association, which suggests steps to bring the supply of teachers into balance with demand.

Some school districts have received 100 or more applications for a single teacher vacancy, reports an NJEA Review article by Susan M. Hake, assistant professor of education at Fairleigh Dickinson University. "Even to the best of the inexperienced, many school doors are closing."

Mrs. Hake blames the nation's colleges for recruiting too many students into the preparation programs and the state education departments for issuing "emergency" certificates "which still allow less qualified young teachers out of work."

Her article proposes:

- An immediate end to state practice of substituting teaching certificates.
- A quota on students allowed into college teacher-preparation programs.
- Strict criteria for admission into these programs.
- Setting counseling of college students to make them aware of supply and demand realities in various career fields.
- Earlier and more intensive exposure of college students to actual teaching situations—upgrading teacher preparation programs to include earlier chances to switch careers if they find they don't like or can't handle classroom teaching.
- Mrs. Hake deplores "the loss to the profession of bright, creative young teachers who have been trained to teach but whose professional excellence is unproven." Her recommendations, she believes, "could give the way toward a more promising professional future for both novices and veteran teachers."

Art show benefit for Viet children

Professional and nonprofessional painters, sculptors, photographers and craftsmen from throughout the state are participating in the annual Westfield Outdoor Art Show on Saturday, Sept. 8.

The show is sponsored by the Coffee House of the United Presbyterian Church, Westfield, N.J.

All proceeds of the show and concert will go to the orphan of Vietnam.

Old Bridge, special education, and Marjorie Vogel of White Plains, N.Y., education.

Appointed instructors were Judith A. Blinich of Chicago, education; Klaus Nemets of Clifton, physical education; and Limes J. Welland of Brooklyn, education.

Byrne appoints Kazmarek aide

Freeholder Thomas A. Kazmarek of Clark County has named Union County campaign manager for the general election campaign of Democratic gubernatorial candidate Brendan Byrne.

Kazmarek, elected to the Union County Board of Freeholders in 1972, is a former Mayor of Clark and formerly a member of the Town Council.

In making the announcement, Byrne said, "Tom Kazmarek was chairman of my campaign effort in Union County during the primary and he proved to be one of the most effective county chairmen in the state."

"For the remainder of the campaign, Tom will serve with Chris Dietz, chairman of the Union County Democratic Committee, in coordinating political activities throughout the county."

Kazmarek is a former president of the South Jersey Merchants Association, Elizabeth Avenue Merchants Association, and the Polish Merchants Association. He is also a member of the Union County Board of Freeholders. He lives with his wife, Agnes, and their three children, Nancy, Thomas, and Mary Jean in Clarksburg.

Campaign officers appointed by Cox

Former Assemblywoman Elizabeth L. Cox of Summit, Republican candidate for the state Senate term of Congressmen Matthew J. Rinaldo, has announced the appointment of Lawrence Newcomb of Scotch Plains and Jean McLeary of Elizabeth as co-campaign managers.

Mrs. Cox also named Robert D. Franka of Berkeley Heights as campaign coordinator.

Newcomb is serving his second term on the Scotch Plains Township Committee. He is the wife of Elizabeth GOP Chairman William A. D. Leary. She has long been active in Republican campaigns, starting with the Young Republicans in the Eisenhower years as coordinator of volunteer activities at state campaign headquarters.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

By Pat and Marilyn Davis
Copley News-Service

Dear Pat and Marilyn: This has caused my husband and me a great deal of trouble. We have been married two years and are on a strict budget. We do have a certain amount set aside for my husband's birth control pills every month. But we have had some trouble over that amount.

The problem is this one wash-and-wear shirt in 15 minutes. We have had them minutes.

Well, I tried myself and when they ask us to have dinner over some times. Well, I tried myself and when they ask us to have dinner over some times.

Hope you don't mind. I did it and I pressed the shirt. I did it and I pressed the shirt.

We don't want to appear cheap, but when people invite us to their home for a dinner, aren't they obligated to pick up the check?

Dear Sir: I have a question. I have a question. I have a question. I have a question.

State urges signup by senior citizens for lower bus fare

New Jersey's senior citizens who do not have Medicare cards are being urged by the Department of Transportation to register as soon as possible for the State's new half-fare bus service program which goes into effect Sept. 1.

This will permit the Department to process and return their identification cards by the starting date.

Medicare card holders may show them to bus drivers to take advantage of the fare savings until the official identification cards are required beginning Dec. 1.

Information brochures explaining the program and containing an application form are being distributed throughout the state to virtually all banks which are serving as registration centers. Application forms also are available at all county Offices on Aging.

Senior citizens, when applying for identification cards, must submit proof of age, proof of residency in New Jersey, and Social Security numbers.

The program will enable persons 62 years of age and older to ride at half-fare on buses and Interoceanic Liners during peak hours on regular routes within the State. The program does not apply to interurban, school, charter, special, or excursion buses.

Freshmen to become 'oriented' to UC

Students entering Union College this fall will get a preview of what's in store for them at a freshman orientation, to be conducted on Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 29 and 30, at the Cranford campus. It was announced this week by J. Harrison Morson, dean of students.

Freshmen enrolled in the liberal arts, education, urban studies, liberal studies, law enforcement, business and public administration programs will participate in freshman orientation on Wednesday. Students in the Educational Opportunity Fund Project will also attend this session, Morson said.

On Thursday, freshman orientation for students in the engineering, biological sciences, physical science, environmental engineering and environmental science curricula will be held. Students enrolled in the dental hygiene program, jointly offered by Union College and Union County Technical Institute, will attend orientation on Thursday, as will students enrolled in the Cooperative Program in Professional Nursing, conducted by Union College and the Schools of Nursing of Elizabeth General and Muhlenberg hospitals.

A special orientation program for evening students at Union College will be held on Friday, Sept. 7, from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

"Orientation provides an opportunity for the incoming freshmen to meet their counselors and administrators, faculty and student leaders," Morson explained. "It also helps them to adjust to the college environment in the way of academic, extracurricular and social responsibilities."

Orientation for all students will begin at 8 a.m. on the assigned days. Jay Avellino of Elizabeth, president of the Student Government Association, will act as master of ceremonies. Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, president of Union College, will deliver opening remarks about the philosophy and role of Union College in the community.

Prof. Elmer Wolf, dean of the college, will discuss academic programs. Douglas Sedgewick and Manuel G. Anzo, directors of the Plainfield and Elizabeth campuses, respectively, will extend greetings. Also participating in the introductions will be Morson, Dr. Robert Markoff, dean of arts, and Prof. John Sibram, dean of science.

20 years marked by Yvette Studio

The Yvette Dance Studio, 118 Walnut Ave., Cranford, will mark 20 years of teaching dance in Cranford at this season's registration which will take place Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 6, 7, and 8 from 1 to 5 P.M.

Beginning at her home studio in Cranford with a registration of 80 students, "Miss Yvette" was the sole teacher at her school. Today, some 20 years later, Miss Yvette boasts an enrollment of 600 to 700 students, a staff of 10 full and part-time teachers, and a centrally located studio consisting of two large dance rooms, a vocal room, two dressing rooms, a student study room, an office, kitchen and storage area.

All of the ballet teachers at the school are associated with the N.J. Dance Theatre Guild and its Ballet Company. Qualified students may audition for membership in this unique children's performing company.

Union College will begin Saturday classes in fall

Spending your weekends at Union College earning college credits was the invitation issued to area adults this week by Dr. Frank Deo, dean of education services, when he announced that Saturday classes will be instituted at Union College this fall at the Cranford campus, permitting adults to take regular college credit courses on weekends.

Courses in psychology, history, economics, marketing, accounting, business, law and English will be offered in three-hour sessions on Saturday mornings, Deo stated. Additional courses during other weekend hours will be added if interest indicates a need for them, he said.

Union College offers two-year programs leading to an associate degree.

WHOPPING GOOD IDEA - Sonny gives a hungry look of his little friend, Paul, Gaudich and Money Man, who are enjoying a big whopper. Paul and Money are preparing to eat a lot of burgers for 'Cancer Benefit Day' on Tuesday. The three Burger King restaurants in Union County are donating proceeds on this day to the American Cancer Society, Union County Unit.

'Cancer Benefit Day' slated at Burger Kings on Tuesday

Junior citizens across the county are supporting "Cancer Benefit Day" at Burger King which will be held Tuesday. The three Union County Burger King restaurants will participate in the event. The entire day will benefit the American Cancer Society's Union County Unit.

Local scout troops are organizing multi-bike-a-thon. Thomas Chastman, scoutmaster of Troop 28, Elizabeth, stated, "The boys will be riding their bicycles in the residential area surrounding the restaurants, and will be carrying signs and posters encouraging people to eat at Burger King."

"The boys have really taken the project to heart and are very enthusiastic. I hope everyone will join them in making this special event a spectacular success," he said. The bike-a-thon will terminate with the scouts lunching at the three restaurants.

The posters the scouts will be carrying were prepared by children on local playgrounds. Additional posters were made to be displayed in the Burger King restaurants as well as the windows of neighboring stores.

As a special treat for the youngsters on "Cancer Benefit Day," the real "Burger King" will make appearances at all three restaurants. The three parades are in Union County located on Central Avenue in Clark, Westfield Avenue in Roselle Park and Route 22 in Union.

Money raised will help support the American Cancer Society's patient service program. Under this program transportation to treatment centers, dressing, hair care, and other pre and post operative counseling for large tumors, mastectomies and ostomies are offered unconditionally to all cancer patients. For the medically indigent cancer patient, medications, nursing care, hospital care, services, extended care, and prosthetic devices are offered where there is need.

Anyone who would like to participate in the bike-a-thon should contact the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society at 618 Westminster Ave., Elizabeth, 554-7273.

NSC offers program on environment

Approval for a collateral program in Environmental Studies at Newark State College at Union was announced recently by Dr. Stephen J. Heston, dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. A. Lee Meyerstein, chairman of the Department of Earth and Planetary Sciences, introduced the concept to meet the need for government and industry with the benefits of the program. The program will be designed to evaluate and report on the environmental impact of development.

A preliminary survey shows that 18 percent of a selected sample of students are interested in pursuing the collateral program. Although designed principally for the professionally-oriented student, the program will also offer a problem-oriented focus for the general student who seeks greater knowledge in environmental studies.

Future plans include the establishment of an environmental studies institute staffed by a full time director.
