STRICTLY PERSONAL

Dear Pat and Marilyn: What can I do about my son? He refuses to answer questions about anything he does. Last Saturday he attended a wedding. I asked what the bride wore, what he was served at the reception, what he received as wedding gifts, etc. I couldn't pull one bit of information out of him. What do you think?

Restudy of Rt. 78 impact will stall highway

The State Department of Transportation, stalling by negative response to its draft Environmental Impact Statement on Rt. 78, this week decided to restudy alignment, interchange and environmental aspects of the superhighway through Springfield, Summit, Mountaineer and Berkeley Heights. The decision will delay construction of the highway by at least one year, possibly more. Another public hearing will be held next spring after the second draft of the Environmental Impact Statement, E.I.S. is released. The highway was first proposed in 1957 with a targeted opening date in the early 1960s. The road is now open between New York Heights and the vicinity of Harrisburg, Pa., with construction under way between Springfield and its terminus at New York Heights. The decision to prepare another draft E.I.S. will have no effect on construction of Rt. 78.

Jersey, county agree to clean river and ditch
Countyman William Ruocco reported at Tuesday's Springfield Township Committee meeting that there is now a 2000-chance township will be able to have PVT engineers clear the sedimentation out of the Rahway River below Rt. 78 "before the flooding season begins." He said that the transportation agency had wanted to wait until October before clearing the river channel. Approximately 30 citizens attended the meeting at Town Hall. Ruocco said that local officials and experts had met earlier in the day with Union County legislators and DOT engineers to study the site, which has been built up below the highway construction. He said that the sedimentation could aggravate flooding in the Marion avenue area.

Editorial comment APLACE TO LEARN

One advantage of writing newspaper editorials is that every once in a while the column can be used for a very personal note of thanks that might otherwise remain a private matter.

This June marks the end of a 13-year period during which this father's four children have in turn attended the Thelma Sandmeier School, starting from the day the school first opened its doors. Aside from having to step down as a senior member of the Sandmeier P.T.A., there are many other reasons for regret.

If we ever had to design a place for youngsters to begin their education, we would follow the Sandmeier model almost exactly. Of course we have not had experience with Springfield's other elementary schools, which may well be equally exciting and inspiring for parent and child alike.

Prime credit for any smooth voyage must go to the captain, and major responsibility for the very substantial contributions children have received at Sandmeier belongs to William Fallon, who has been in charge there since the fall of 1960 when the first chalk marks went on the blackboards.

We are well aware from this long experience that Bill Fallon knows exactly what is going on in the minds and emotions of all the several hundred boys and girls under his supervision.

Sometimes years ago we went to a P.T.A. meeting intending to ask the principal what we might do to solve a problem one child was facing.

Before we could even ask, he said, "I understand your daughter has had this difficulty. And this is what we have done to help her find her way out." As usual, he was both efficient and correct.

Not only parents, of course, deserves all the credit for an achievement. The great strength of the local school district is that each principal has the freedom to build a school suited to his or her own approach to education and to life.

The administration provides the teachers, offers continuous training and stimulates them to lead, or prod, our children along the path to maturity.

The Sandmeier faculty, with the benefit of this leadership from the school board, the administration and the principal's office, has constantly provided the patience, and when needed, the impatience, to encourage these very young people to develop all their talents to the outer limit.

At the same time, the teachers have instilled in our youngsters the joy of learning, the zest in the stepping knowledge for its own sake.

Sandmeier teachers have been, with very few and brief exceptions, understanding, supportive and, especially in recent years, open to the winds of change blowing across the educational landscape.

Other schools, including several here in Springfield, may well do just as good a job in meeting their young people.

But Sandmeier is the school we have known longest, and in many ways the most intimately. For a job exceedingly well done and for the particular flavor of enjoyment in learning which can last a lifetime, all we can say is thank you.

LIBRARY

A Russian tragedy

The Springfield Public Library has recently received books published by ROSE ESMON.

"Hope Abandoned," by Natalia Mandelstam. The history of a Russian-Jewish family—Russian—poet whose tragic death was symbolized by the Soviet Union's political policies during the late 1920s, is here discussed in Mrs. Esmon's previous publication.

"Hope Abandoned II." This book covers some of the suffering endured in her first one, but it also reports much more about her personal life from 1919 to 1933, and events in her own life following her husband's death.

From a more mature viewpoint Mrs. Esmon reverts to their meeting, friendship and union with other poets to establish the Accented (those who dared). She describes their travels, Mrs. Esmon's personal relationship, literary contemporaries, especially their devoted friend Anna Akhmatova and Mrs. Esmon's defiance of Stalin which led to his disappearance and death.

Mrs. Esmon shares her personal experience to discuss and interpret her husband's poetry, the difference between freedom and license, the superiority of poetry to theater, poetry's philosophic significance and the plight of Jews in Soviet Russia.

"AMERICA'S GREATEST SHOWMAN." "Dumbog," by Neil Harris. Not only has the author written a colorful biography of P.T. Barnum, America's greatest showman, but he has also brought us a view of the people and the atmosphere of his time. As a young man Barnum mastered the art of showmanship, he was seen, reported in a charlatan and a humbug. His imagination and instinct for excitement caused him to purchase a slave girl and exhibit her for publicity and profit.

Encouraged by his success in this and other ventures, he acquired the American Museum of Natural History, the first museum of its kind. His management of Tom Thumb, the Impertinent and the Elephant, the elephant, increased his reputation for having a keen business acumen and for showmanship. His business carried him to Europe and international fame.

Harris gives an account of Barnum's political and philanthropic activities, the development of the "Greatest Show on Earth," and the building of the Hippodrome. Although he was regarded as a "dumbog," his thoughtfulness and educational enlightenment to millions of young and old everywhere.

THE EAGLETON POLL: More favor impeachment

Almost a majority of New Jerseyans now feel that President Nixon should be impeached and removed from office. The latest New Jersey Poll, conducted earlier this month by the Eagleton Institute after the release of the edited transcripts by the White House, finds that impeachment is favored by a 49-42 percent margin.

Since the beginning of the year, sentiment in New Jersey has steadily shifted in favor of the President's impeachment and conviction. In late March, opinions were evenly divided with 49 percent favoring and 46 percent opposing impeachment. In late January, the poll found 49 percent opposing impeachment and 42 percent favoring it.

At the present time, opinion is more evenly divided on the question of the President's resignation with 47 percent in favor of his resigning and 47 percent opposed. In March, resignation was opposed 49-44 percent and in January 42 percent favored Nixon's resignation and 47 percent opposed it.

Although many people favor the President's impeachment, only 29 percent think that the Congress should act on it. The poll also found that 51 percent of those questioned by the poll, New Jersey Poll Director Stephen A. Salzman, noted, "Only 29 percent of those questioned favor Nixon's resignation by 72 percent to 25 percent and his impeachment by 70 percent to 22 percent."

Most people want President Nixon out of office. Eighty percent of those questioned by the poll, New Jersey Poll Director Stephen A. Salzman, noted, "Only 29 percent of those questioned favor Nixon's resignation by 72 percent to 25 percent and his impeachment by 70 percent to 22 percent."

IN PAST TENSE

WOMEN'S RIGHTS
"Sexist Justice," by Karen DeCrow. A lawyer and active member of NOW, she analyzes laws, legislators, judges, lawyers and law professors who make up our legal system. She believes that there will be no equity until our courts—decisions, statutes, state constitutions and legislative interpretations are written by feminist women and feminist men.

The author cites scores of cases in almost every area of law in which there has been and still is discrimination against women. For example, the percentage of women lawyers far lower here than in West Germany and Russia. Also, the New York Bar Association has never had a woman officer or member of a committee.

DeCrow exposes bias in government positions. She notes hypocrisy in the Equal Pay Act which would level compensation for women. She explores prejudice in areas of obtaining mortgages, credit, insurance and custody of children. There are interesting chapters on prostitution, abortion, and discrimination in education.

Finally, the writer describes the equal right amendment which, if passed, should see to it that women are on an equal footing with men in every area of life.

"THE UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY." By Kay R. Meyer. If we are to insure the survival of our past, we must follow the recommendations of the author, whose interest is not in the antiquities, it is intense and dedicated. The illegal international traffic in works of art and the sharp competition among acquisitive collectors and museums are in part responsible for the wholesale theft, mutilation and destruction of art everywhere.

In poorer countries, economic necessity induces many a peasant to steal or destroy. In rich lands the individual's greed is the cause of the destruction of our Indian culture.

Meyer speaks of the theft of famous paintings, Italy's like treasures, the case of the Elgin marbles (transported from Greece to London).

The author is now being impeded by aircraft vibrations and fumes from automobiles and motorcycles.

In recent years there has been a limited, indexed data bank for cataloging collections. Many are held by individuals and museums has made very little record. The author makes several proposals, for salvaging, for inventory. The appendices describe dusted sites in Mexico and Guatemala, and art thefts of the world, 1917-1972.

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE—Two students from Northeastern University in Boston recently completed a six-week clinical affiliation with the physical therapy department of the Children's Specialized Hospital, Westfield, Massachusetts.

Collegians learn physical therapy

Two coeds assist at Children's Specialized

Children's Specialized Hospital is more than a rehabilitation facility for physically handicapped children—it is also a teaching institution. This helps us know what happens with a patient 24 hours a day, not just during our one-hour physical therapy sessions.

Northeastern University in Boston is one of the colleges and universities affiliated with the physical therapy department at Children's Specialized Hospital, and two Northeastern students, Mary Lewis of Sudbury, Mass., and Nancy McDonnell of Scranton, Pa., recently completed work in the department under the direction of Victoria Preiner, chief physical therapist.

"Both girls have finished their didactic work," said Victoria Preiner, "and their six-week clinical affiliation here is part of their college curriculum."

Both Miss Lewis and Miss McDonnell cheer to come to Children's Specialized Hospital for the same reason—"the opportunity to work with children and the educational reputation of Children's Specialized."

At their affiliation heard an end, the students reflected on their experience at Children's Specialized.

"I've wanted to be a physical therapist since I was in the sixth grade," explained Miss McDonnell, "and I would like to work with children. I've learned so much here, and I had a wonderful time. I had a great time working with the children and the staff."

Miss Lewis explained, "I particularly enjoy the way our program here works. We are given a regular patient schedule. We plan treatment, and we are given the chance to apply their knowledge in a practical situation."

Students from Boston University, the State University of Pennsylvania and Hunter College also have clinical affiliations with the physical therapy department at Children's Specialized Hospital. In addition to physical therapy, other departments and nursing at the hospital have clinical affiliations programs.

Edison is chosen for college project

Thomas A. Edison College, New Jersey's State College for Extended Degrees, is one of six task force institutions from across the nation which will work with the Educational Testing Service in Princeton in a cooperative effort which has received a grant of $25,000 from the Carnegie Corporation to cover its first 16 months of operation.

The project, called the Cooperative Assessment of Experiential Learning (CAEL), is designed to help colleges develop improved methods of evaluating and giving students credit for what they have learned outside the classroom.

A 12-member steering committee, chaired by Morris T. Keaton, provost and vice-president of Antioch College, will direct the program's overall policy.

Group sets garage sale

The Union County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will hold its semi-annual garage sale on today through Sunday at 14 Faulkner Dr., Westfield, Florida. The garage sale will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The foundation raises funds for research into the cause and cure of these two diseases. The Union County chapter was formed two years ago, and has been active in raising funds and supporting one complete research grant. All proceeds from the sale will be donated to research.

Persons who would like to donate items or would like information about the organization may call 233-4641 or 241-2342.

Menza to speak at voc center's commencement

State Senator Alexander J. Menza will be the keynote speaker for the 1974 commencement of the Union County Vocational Center. The commencement will be held June 25, starting at 7:30 P.M. at the Scotch Plains campus.

Senator Menza, an Elizabeth attorney, was elected last November to represent the 20th District in Union County. He is vice-chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and also serves on the Institutions, Health and Welfare Committee.

He is the author of a child abuse law adopted last year that permits the state to hold battered children in protective custody pending investigation of their parents. He is also interested in the areas of mental health, prison reform, drug rehabilitation, landlord-tenant relations, consumer protection, flood control and mass transit, and has established a reputation as an active lawmaker in the New Jersey Legislature.

Senator Menza is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and the New York University Law School. He devoted several years as a volunteer worker in Newark helping drug addicts to rehabilitate. A former U.S. Army officer, he was mayor of Hillside in 1969 and won election to the State Assembly in 1971.

More than 1,000 turn out for senior citizens county fair

More than 1,000 persons, twice as many as had been expected, packed the Green Lane Y.M.H.A. last week when the Senior Citizens Council of Union County held its second annual county fair.

Peter Shields, executive director of the Union County Office on Aging, was the principal speaker at the program last Wednesday. There were exhibits of arts and crafts by senior citizen groups and service agencies, including Meals on Wheels of Elizabeth, HSPV (Heldreth-Parkinson Institute Program), Social Security, Heart Association and Office on Aging. The Berkeley Heights Kitchen Band played several selections.

Buses chartered to bring the senior citizens to the fair shuttled back and forth from the Y.M.H.A. between the Senior Citizens Council of Union County held its second annual county fair.

John Murphy of Roselle Park, chairman of the fair, and Mrs. Evelyn Frank of Union County president, said the council is planning to look for a large place in which to hold the 1975 fair. They expressed the hope that, by that time, communities throughout the county will have mini-buses to provide transportation for senior citizens.

YMHA renamed in Lebau's honor

The Eastern Union County YM-YWHA building on Green Lane, Union, has been renamed the Harry Lebau Jewish Center.

The Y board of directors approved a resolution changing the name of the structure at a meeting last week. The organization will continue to be known as the Eastern Union County Young Men's and Young Women's Hebrew Association, according to Irving Chvat, president, and Barry Sandler, executive director.

Lebau, who died earlier this year, served as the Y's first executive director when it was established in Elizabeth and was active in various community organizations in the Eastern Union County area.

National Guard 'recruits' telephone

Calls to prospects attract 949 volunteers

How do you get 1,000 National Guard recruits fast?

That's how New Jersey's Army National Guard is answering what could have been a serious problem when the draft ended last year.

No draft meant fewer Guard volunteers, and the Army Guard had suddenly found itself 1,000 short of the 14,500 citizen-soldiers it needed to fill its state units.

With its ability to serve effectively national and state emergencies threatened, the National Guard immediately prepared for an intense recruitment effort. To guard off-site, a telephone campaign seemed fast, easy, and economical, but recruiters' success in "closing a sale" with a prospect over the phone was meager.

At the suggestion of several guardsmen, including Charles Trabold, a New Jersey Bell salesman at 41 Col. Victor Arzonian, State Recruiting Officer, called the phone company for help in devising a more effective telephone recruitment campaign.

New Jersey Bell's solution to the National Guard's problem was its "Phone-Phone" program, originally designed to help businessmen utilize their telephones as more efficient sales tools. Phone-Phone specialists had phoned thousands of groups of recruiting officers.

"What we came up with was the 'dial an interview concept,'" explained Trabold. "Instead of trying to enlist the prospect over the phone, we suggested that recruiters first dial the prospect's home number, and then make an appointment for them to come down to the armory."

The idea was to dial the prospects over the phone, rather than asking them to come down to the armory where they could show them what the unit was all about.

During the interview, Trabold added, "we showed the prospects exactly what we do and acquainted them with our training program. We discussed the various services we offer, including medical care, communications and law enforcement. Programs like that have been successful in their private career plans."

Following Trabold's and Arzonian's suggestions, Col. Arzonian directed the National Guard to launch "Operation Guard Phone." Armed with lists of high school seniors, the National Guard contacted more than 500 recruiters in armories throughout the state west of work 14 hours a day for a two-week period.

The result of their efforts were nothing less than astounding. According to Colonel Arzonian, a total of 949 men, both veterans and non-veterans, enlisted during the 14 day campaign—a just 51 short of the 1,000 goal.

New Jersey Symphony lists soloists, program for season

Henry Lewis, music director of the New Jersey Symphony, announced this week soloists and repertoire for the 1973-74 season, his seventh with the orchestra. Twelve series of concerts in 12 communities throughout the state are now being offered on subscription, a practice which Lewis has found to be most predominate. They are Alicia de Larrocha, Rudolf Pirkany, Rafael Orozco, Maria Dichter and Alois Weissenberg. Violists include Aaron Rosand, Charles Treger, and Viktor Tretyakov; cellist Lynn Harrell and violist Jesse Levine, who is also Assistant Conductor of the orchestra, complete the instrumentalists for the season. Soprano Marilyn Horne and bass-baritone Giorgio Tozzi of the Metropolitan Opera will be featured on different evenings in programs of operatic arias.

Meadowbrook performs own miracle with a stunning 'Fiddler' in the round

By HEA SMITH

"Fiddler on the Roof," a difficult musical production for stage under normal conditions, practically impossible for a fiddler-in-the-round presentation (as far as this theater-goer was concerned), nevertheless CAN be performed on a limited, dramatically-remodeled stage.

That is if the theater-in-the-round happens to belong to the Meadowbrook Theater in Union, N.J. The director happens to be imaginative, creative, smart and witty. With some help from choreographer John Montgomery, set designer Larry Aronson, and with proper lighting by John Brannan, this fantastic show is turning skeptics into delighted onlookers.

A theater reviewer must take into consideration that theater-in-the-round, for an audience's indulgence, with less foot-dragging and more imagination, particularly when the critic is reviewing a personally favorite musical.

And if all but one score make it to the spotlight, a compromise under the circumstances, it is a triumph.

By the music by Jerry Block and lyrics by Sheldon Harnick are just about the most beautiful recollections for the New York stage. The music is just about the most beautiful recollections for the New York stage. The music is just about the most beautiful recollections for the New York stage.

The audience laughs with him as he sings in a deep, resonant voice. "If I Were a Rich Man," "My Life," and "The People Who Live Here" are his favorites with him as he sings (along with the company) "Tradition," "Sabbath Prayer," and literally cries with him as he sings "Sunrise, Sunset," "Little Chava" and "Anaprokha."

It was never his intention to stop making music forever, which means too much to Alpert for that to happen."

Levin asks boost in health benefits, cites rising costs

Citing Medicare's failure to adequately absorb the health care needs of the elderly, Democratic Congressional candidate Adam Levin called on Congress this week to expand program coverage and insure that future benefits keep pace with the rise in medical costs.

The 12th District candidate also urged passage of a national health insurance program to provide swift, comprehensive medical service for the average American and eliminate the threat of financial disaster resulting from a major illness.

"Since 1966 the rate of inflation for medical costs has far outstripped the increase in general consumer prices and now ranks as one of the major causes of personal bankruptcy action in the United States," Levin said. "Senior citizens have been squeezed hardest by this financial crunch because they are often forced to live on fixed incomes and had to pay out 28 percent of the $34 billion spent on personal health care in 1973."

Emphasizing inequities within the existing Medicare program, Levin said the failure of benefits to offset inflation means that the elderly paid $76 per person in out-of-pocket health expenses in 1973 as compared to only $24 before the inception of Medicare in 1966. As a result, the elderly population has not been significantly protected by Medicare.

A basic problem in the program is that Medicare increases are now tied to cost of living increases, although medical costs have been outrunning general living costs by 10 to 20 percent," the Union County Democrat continued. "Congress can restore the balance by basing Medicare hikes on medical cost increases."

Asked by his campaign managers, Mrs. Lacy DeVico and Dr. Myra K. Smith, Young has appeared before social agency, ministers and businessmen throughout the county. Jerry Epstein is youth coordinator for the Committee to Elect Young. Cliff Carter and Walter Perry head the fund-raising drive for the committee.

Young appeared at a cocktail party Sunday, starting a full week of campaigning before Tuesday's primary balloting.

Young stressed the importance of a freeholder's availability and said taxpayers should be assured their funds are being used for worthwhile projects. He noted that there has not been a candidate for freeholder from Union Township for 14 years and said it was time the township had a representative on the board.

Charter study group decision due soon

The Union County Charter Study Commission, which has completed the initial phase of its study of the present form of county government and is now considering the alternate forms available under the optional charter law, is expected to decide by June 11 which form of county government to recommend.

The commission concluded its series of meetings in county municipalities Tuesday night with a meeting in Summit's council chambers. On June 4, the commission will return to its regular meeting place, the Elizabeth Court House Annex.

26 courses added for summer at UC

Twenty-six new courses will expand options for students attending Union College's two six-week Summer Sessions. It was announced this week by Dr. Bernard Solon of Westfield, director.

Offered for the first time in the Summer Sessions will be Human Biology, Introductory to Drama I and II, Selected Topics in College Math, General Physics, Principles of Finance, Fundamentals of Speech-Communication, Introduction to Shakespeare, Appreciation of Music, Math for Management, Social Sciences, Concepts of Biology and Differential Equations. Also, Calculus and Analytical Geometry II, Patrol Administration, Police Role in the Community, Elementary Statistics, Learning American English.

In person registration for Summer Session I will be held Wednesday, June 5, and Thursday, June 6, at the Cranford campus. Tomorrow is the deadline for mail registration for Summer Session I, according to Dr. Solon.

Friday, July 12, is the deadline for mail registration for Summer Session II. Prospective students may also register at the college Monday through Friday, from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuition is $14 per credit for residents of Union County and $30 for all other New Jersey residents.

A comprehensive brochure outlining course descriptions, schedules and application procedures may be obtained by contacting the Admissions Office at Union College, Springfield Avenue, Cranford, N.J., or by calling 297-2000.

"What is needed in New Jersey and the nation is fiscal restraint and certainly not a new income tax," he said. "I have yet to see a tax proposal that isn't painted as something we need and must have."

Byrne is no different than all the other proponents of a graduated income tax. He says there will be a savings of $70 million to home owners and yet he calls for raising $1 billion in his own proposals.

That means that someone—and that someone is the people of New Jersey—is going to have to pay $250 million more in taxes.

"Under the Byrne proposal we pay more while the municipalities and counties lose control over their schools and welfare," Byrne said. "I oppose this plan, which will completely destroy local control over our schools. Anything the state funds the state controls," he concluded.

Publicity Chairman are urged to observe the Friday deadline for their proposals. Please include your name, address and phone number.

Young stressing availability as key in freeholder bid

Oliver Young, independent Democratic candidate for Union County freeholder, has distributed literature listing his qualifications and credentials throughout the county. He said this week.

Young stressed the importance of a freeholder's availability and said taxpayers should be assured their funds are being used for worthwhile projects. He noted that there has not been a candidate for freeholder from Union Township for 14 years and said it was time the township had a representative on the board.

Asked by his campaign managers, Mrs. Lacy DeVico and Dr. Myra K. Smith, Young has appeared before social agency, ministers and businessmen throughout the county. Jerry Epstein is youth coordinator for the Committee to Elect Young. Cliff Carter and Walter Perry head the fund-raising drive for the committee.

Match candidate with job—Sherk

Americans should make sure the candidates for whom they vote are "perfectly suited and matched for the jobs they seek," Lloyd J. Sherk, Republican candidate for nomination as congressional candidate in the 12th District, said this week.

The option of voting is a privilege enjoyed only in a free, democratic society," he said. "It is every citizen's obligation to use that privilege... to help keep our country strong, vital, honorable, and to provide a richer, more satisfactory life."

"In this trying hour... now is the time to unite at the voting polls with faith in ourselves and our candidates that each one is perfectly suited and matched for each job he seeks."

Dayton second in section meet; Heide wins two
The Jonathan Dayton Regional track team came in second in the North Jersey State Section 2 Group 3 championship last Saturday, finishing with 26 points to Millburn's 28.

Other Suburban Conference teams in the field were Summit, sixth with 14 points, and Caldwell, 15th with two points.

Winners for Dayton were Bill Bjorstad, with a time of 9:47 in the two-mile run, and Bruce Heide, in the shotput with a throw of 54 feet and in the discus throw with a record-breaking toss of 175 feet 11 inches. Heide's throw eclipsed the mark of 155 feet set in 1970 by Bruce Zabelski, also of Springfield.

Building finishers in the top five of each event included Hainesfield's leader, David in the high jump, Ken Conte and Bart Zabelski, third and fifth in the discus; Ben Gelseller and Gavin Widom, third and fifth in the 400-yard run; Gary Werner, third in the two-mile run, and the relay team of Gavin Widom, Jeff Spalrich, Ben Gelseller and Tim McCharmick which finished second in that event.

Meskin-Nevius no-hitter highlighted disappointing Dayton baseball season
By CLIFF ROSS
The Jonathan Dayton varsity baseball team's game against Verona, scheduled for last Thursday was rained out and was to be replaced this week. Dayton's record stands at 4-12-1. The Bulldogs are seventh place in the Suburban Conference with a 2-6 record.

The 1974 season produced one outstanding victory, the combined effort of Mike Meskin and Bill Navius against Whippany Park. Meskin and Navius will be among the many players returning to the team next season. Other pitchers are Gary Prossloff and Joe Graziano. Prossloff has great speed but his weak point was control. Should he show this problem, 1975 will be a great success. Graziano pitched sparingly but the sophomore is considered to have great potential.

Meskin, the team's win/loss pitcher (two) pitched as the top pitcher, on next year's team. Meskin can throw hard but depends on his consistent ball and control. Navius, lacked consistency in his performance this year but with more work, could develop into an excellent pitcher. The only graduating pitcher is Joe Pepe, who doubled as a first baseman. Pepe graduated from the infield will be catcher Tim Pimpinelli, third baseman Frank Zareba, shortstop Bill Palazzi and second baseman Jim Lokres. Pimpinelli, injured midway through the season, hit one homerun and was outstanding defensively, demonstrating a fine arm.

Zareba, injured two weeks ago against Summit, was the Bulldogs' leading hitter with a .30 average on nine hits in 30 at bats. Included in his total were one homer and two doubles. Palazzi was solid defensively and accounted for the other two of the team's four homers. As a junior, Lokres started at third base. Lokres moved into the starting position at second base midway through the 1974 season and held it for the remainder of that season and all of the 1975 schedule.

Gary Treasore is the only graduating outfielder. He possesses a strong, accurate arm and usually made contact while at bat. Returning for next year's squad will be Larry Maxwell, Russ Galway, Bill Johnson, Jerry Hagemeyer, Dave Norwood and Tom Crislin. Maxwell, who split the assignment in right field with Galway, will probably wind up behind the plate next year. He could develop into next year's power hitter.

Prossloff is also a good hitter and has good speed. Hagemeyer will pitch as the starting center fielder and is strong defensively but has potential in brief stints at second base. He can make the double play and can hit with authority.

Galway will play first base along with Meskin and has a good glove. If he hits with any kind of power it will be a big plus for next year's team.

The Westfield Jaycees will sponsor their annual "Westfield Tennis Tournament" from Tuesday through Sunday, June 3. The tournament, sanctioned by the USTA, is open to residents of Union County. High school students attending Union County schools. First round matches will be played at Tammages Park and the 2nd round courts in Westfield. The finals will be played at the Westfield Tennis Club.

The events will be boys, 10 and under singles; girls, 10 and under singles; boys, 11 and under singles; girls, 11 and under singles. Trophies will be awarded to winners and runners-up in each of the events.

Rick Morris' game high of 22 points was to prevail as the Red Robbs (6-3) dropped a 20-12 decision to the Bulldogs on Wednesday. Marc Hoffman, Cliff Ross, Bob Roth and John Loth scored 4, 8, 8 and 10 in a losing cause while Bullets' scorers included Hydock, 12; Nyttien, 4; Strigotis, 10; Tom Moore, 18; and Naticello, 6.

This week's action has Robbs at Diamonds, Picks at Gigs, Bullets at Gigs, Robbs at Huffs and Bullets at Huffs. Diamonds at Huffs and Bullets at Huffs will complete the first round of play.

The final round of the "DIPPER" activity Floor Hockey Showdown will be held in the boys' gym tomorrow morning, according to Director John Swedberg. Leading contenders for the goal is DIPPER cup are Robert Holt, 30 saves, 10 saves, Robert Gilbert, 30 saves, and Mike Bergsahl, 40 saves.

Offensive scoring leaders are Bill Bjorstad, 9 goals; Mark Roscoe, 7; John Esar, 6; Jeff Davis, 5; Scott Grayson and Joe Hagueni with 4 each. This event will wind up tomorrow National basketball season only championship and the new two-man team floor shooting second championship will take place during the final week of school. Everyone is eligible to compete.

Dreher honored by Montclair St.

Dennis Dreher of 18 Salter, Springfield, has been awarded the Margaret C. Brown Merit Award "for professional excellence as evidenced by achievement in scholarship and skill, professional ethics, service to others and promise of working creatively for the advancement of health and physical education."

The presentation was made at the 15th annual convocation, at which time winners Phil Grillo and members of the national championship weightlifting team were honored.

The convocation takes its name from Panzer College of Physical Education and Hygiene, which merged with Montclair State in 1958. Administered under the School of Professional Arts and Sciences, it encompasses the departments of physical education, health professions and intramural and leisure activities.

PBA rallies to defeat Lutons; Book Review, Wilpat also win

PBA, Book Review and Wilpat won games last week in the Springfield Municipal Adult Softball League.

PBA scored six runs in the first three innings in a 7-0 victory over Lutons. After Ken Wilbur singled, Ron Desantis scored him with the first of three doubles. Jack Horne opened the second, and Wilbur pitched a two-hitter, allowing only two runners to reach second base in the game.

Book Review and Wilpat won games last week in the Springfield Municipal Adult Softball League.

PBA's 8 in 2nd stops Rotary, 19-11; clinches National Division first place

The PBA clinched first place in the National Division of the Springfield Girls' Softball League this past week when they defeated Rotary Club, 19-11. Crestmont Savings took a second-place finish in the American Division of the Youth Major League with two victories this past week.

The PBA victory over Rotary, eight runs scored in the PBA half of the second inning with key hits contributed by PeeWee Huchins and Richard Costello. In the following inning, four Rotary errors helped PBA score seven more runs with timely hitting from Tony Santopietro and Richard Costello. Tony Tallent, 17-8, Rotary tried to battle back scoring three runs in the third on Hub Fishburn's triple and added another score runs in the fourth on six bases hits including Ty Parker's double and Jeff Vargas' triple. Also contributing hits for Rotary were David Vargas and Tom Haffado and Mike Lieb's triple. The PBA also received strong hitting from Handy Hain, Tom Zahn, Steve Navich, Adam Bain and Mark D'Agostino.

Scopy's defeated Jaynes Trucking, 5-3, with Tony Mckean leading the way, striking out 15 and helping his own cause with two key hits. Sid Schlein also collected two hits for Scopy's, one of which was a triple. Tony Kirichenbach was the hit for Scopy's, with two hits and long ball power supplied by Jon Levine. Scopy's won the game in the second and one in the third. The first two in the third and in the fourth, Crestmont was paced at the plate by Hub Markstein's three hits including a triple, a home run and four RBIs. Rich Tinnert scored against Occochee, L.L. on Saturday at 2 p.m. at Archer's Grove. I think it will be for the championship of the division but you can't tell until the Greek American game, 2-2 and 2-0, and they lost both games on the arbiter's table and then in the executive committee of the CASL. I will try to get more news for next week. These games were semifinal matches and it ended the season for the Elizabeth NS II.

The only Pilehigh team in action this weekend will be the nighty midgets who will go
