

Insurance reduces hurricane woes

June through November—a period embracing the best and worst of Mother Nature's offerings—is the breeding period for one of her most vicious destroyers of lives, homes and dreams: the hurricane.

Residents of the East and Gulf Coast areas of the United States are particularly vulnerable to these storms, which can carry winds up to 100 miles an hour and six to 12 inches of rain.

While nothing can be done to stop this vicious and destructive force of nature, the insurance information institute notes that much can be done to blunt its effects.

To begin with, flood insurance—not generally available until a few years ago—now can be purchased in more than 3,000 towns and cities under a program operated jointly by the federal government and private insurance companies. The insured communities include Irvington, Kew-Forest, Mount Pleasant, Newark,

Roselle, Roselle Park, Springfield and Union. Flood insurance is available through the Federal Insurance Administration of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the program is administered by the National Flood Insurance Association, comprised of approximately 100 private insurance companies.

Flood insurance provides protection against losses caused by the overflow of inland or tidal water or unusual and gradual accumulation or runoff of surface waters from any source.

The flood insurance program recently was expanded to increase the available coverage from $17,500 to $25,000 on a one-family house and from $30,000 to $100,000 on two-to-four family structures and small business properties. The coverage, for contents of residential buildings was increased from $5,000 to $10,000 and for contents of non-residential buildings from $5,000 to $10,000.

The new program also includes new rates. The annual premium for each $100 in coverage is 25 cents on the building and 35 cents on contents of all residential buildings and 40 cents on the building and 75 cents on the contents of non-residential buildings. The new rates do not apply to outstanding policies, but they do apply to coverage added to outstanding policies.

Flood insurance may be obtained through a local property and casualty insurance agent or broker.

The institute urges property owners to examine their insurance coverage thoroughly and not to hesitate to seek the counsel of their agent or broker if necessary. They should learn exactly what coverage they now have and what additional coverage they should consider.

While most property insurance policies do cover wind damage, the usual property insurance policies—except joint limited circumstances—do not provide protection to homes or household possessions for damage caused by tidal water, high water or overflow whether wind-driven or not. An exception is a loss caused by rain entering a building through an opening made by wind.

The institute also points out that there are many kinds of insurance which cover movable properties in case of floods. For example, the automobile comprehensive policies cover losses caused by flooding.

The insurance industry stands ready to move into any hurricane-threatened area with special catastrophe procedures.

Special loss adjusters are often on their way to an area—even before the hurricane hits—to open emergency field offices and then to be in a position to begin immediately adjusting losses and speeding settlements and payments to owners of damaged property.

In order to enable insurance companies to serve you more quickly and efficiently when you do have a loss, the institute points out several steps you can take now:

—Make an itemized list of personal property, including furnishings, clothing and valuables. Photos are helpful. Then list the items and adjusters in settling your insurance claim and also help to prove uninsured losses, which are tax deductible.

—If you do not understand or have questions about your policy, contact your agent or company representative.

Child abuse laws outlined by group in new brochure

More than a thousand brochures describing the state's child abuse laws are in the mail as the first phase of a community education program planned by the Citizens Committee for Children of New Jersey (CCCNJ).

The organization developed the brochure as a result of a task force on the implementation of New Jersey's child abuse reporting law which CCCNJ completed last year. The survey found a widespread lack of information about the child abuse reporting law and the methods of reporting.

The first mailing is going to district offices of the Division of Youth and Family Services, pediatricians, hospitals, county welfare boards, juvenile judges and county prosecutors, according to Mrs. Rene Levy of CCCNJ, community education chairman.

A mailing in the fall will cover all school districts and day care centers. Brochures also will be sent to United Way's private family agencies.

CCCNJ also is developing a slide program and a manual on child abuse for use by District Nurses of the Child Evaluation Center at Hackensack Hospital. Volunteers will be trained to give the slide lecture to interested groups.

A state-wide group of citizens devoted to eradicating child abuse in children recently moved to new headquarters at 29 Park St., Montclair. Mrs. Belle Mantel, formerly a planning associate with the Hospital and Health Planning Council of Metropolitan New Jersey, Inc., became coordinator for CCCNJ June 17.

New officers of the organization are Mrs. Sally Orr of Montclair, president; the Rev. Salvatore Cirrullo of Elizabeth, administrative vice president; Mrs. Joann Goetzer of Upper Montclair, community vice president; Mrs. Shirl Bowerman of Short Hills, secretary; Henry Boardman of Cranford, treasurer.

Pathmark earns award for 'Hot Line' campaign

Pathmark Stores have been awarded the American Marketing Association's award for "Hot Line" campaign in the market place.

The award is presented to the food chain for its "Hot Line" consumer campaign.

The award-winning campaign was designed to help consumers get the most out of their purchases during the summer months. The campaign featured a series of advertisements in the Pathmark stores, and a "Hot Line" consumer campaign during the second half of 1973.

Pathmark's consumer advertising efforts were also recognized when it received eight awards during the Super Market Institute convention, the largest number of awards ever received by a single food chain in the competition.

Dem hopefuls cite opposition to Byrne plans

Edward Fanning and Stanley Bruder, Democratic candidates for Springfield Township Committee, announced their opposition to Gov. Brendan Byrne's tax plan. They said the plan would place an "undesired and inequitable financial burden upon the taxpayers of New Jersey, particularly the citizens of New Jersey, particularly the function of the executive and, especially, the judicial branches."

The resolution said that such radical constitutional, statutory and policy changes are more properly the function of the legislative branch of the government, subject to the approval of the citizens of New Jersey, rather than the function of the executive and, especially, the judicial branches.

The resolution also called for an "immediate and equitable financial burden upon the taxpayers of New Jersey, particularly the citizens of New Jersey, particularly the function of the executive and, especially, the judicial branches."

A 39-year-old Newark man, charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol, was penalized with a 10-year revocation of his driver's license when he appeared Monday before Judge Joseph A. Horowitz in Springfield Township Court.

The motorist, Howard Maxwell, also paid a fine of $50 for driving while under the influence of alcohol. Maxwell had been arrested April 15 on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. Maxwell had been arrested April 15 on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Township Committee votes to oppose Byrne's tax plan

The Township Committee Tuesday night voted a resolution of "strong opposition" to the plan for a state income tax proposed by Gov. Brendan Byrne and now under consideration by the legislature.

Four of the five committee members, with only Commissioner Nat Stokes in the minority, voted in favor of the resolution. The resolution also called for an "immediate and equitable financial burden upon the taxpayers of New Jersey, particularly the citizens of New Jersey, particularly the function of the executive and, especially, the judicial branches."

Editorial comment LIVES IN DANGER

We usually try to limit our comments to matters of specific local concern, but there are times when we find our attention wandering to a much larger arena.

One example is these remarks, which were prompted by a series of fascinating TV programs devoted to the growing likelihood that whales and dolphins might well have intelligence that can be measured on the human scale—all the while several species are being exterminated in the name of commercial profit.

Our nation does have legislation designed to halt the hunting of endangered species, and the laws have been of value in reducing the profits, and thus slowing the extermination of many creatures, from leopards to alligators.

Certainly this should not be the only criterion of our foreign policy, but the United States has treaties providing commercial and military aid to many nations where freedom of religious freedom, and where it is hard to determine any community of interests.

These include autocracies of the left and of the right—Spain, Greece, China (both Red and Nationalist), both Vietnams and the Soviet Union, to name only a few.

Certainly diplomacy must call for many strange alliances to bring closer the ultimate goal of world peace, but there are other goals for this planet—which are little less valuable.

The whaling nations of the world recently seemed to seek further reduction of the commercial trade in at least some of the endangered varieties of this giant and still mysterious mammal.

We feel that the U.S. Congress could well strengthen the sanctions against nations which permit and even encourage commercial ventures designed to further the elimination of species of life from the Earth.

Since the motive is profit, perhaps we could reduce those profits by denying some aid, or some favored-tariff advantages, to those countries whose fleets and whaling hunters are dedicated to preying on the last remnants of some of our most important co-residents of the globe.

The two major whaling nations are Japan and the Soviet Union, and both are vulnerable to economic pressures from Washington.

CHAMPIONS OF THE PAST by Peter Heller. For nearly three years, this young sports writer has been basing champions for a time. He visited and spoke with them and tape-recorded their conversations which are reprinted here.

A humbling sketch of the champion's life precedes each chapter, placed in chronological order by decades—from the teens through the '60s.

The idea of the man started as very poor boys who had to overcome almost insurmountable odds to become champions.

Among the well-known occupants of a humbling sketch of the champion's life are Jack Dempsey, Mickey Walker, Willie Pep, Rocky Graziano, Sugar Ray Robinson, Bruce Lee, Jackie Gleason, Floyd Patterson, and Joe DiMaggio.

Last week, the House passed and sent to the President a bill extending for 30 days the legal authority of the Export-Import Bank to conduct operations.

Opposition to extension of the Export-Import Bank has centered around two issues: the low-interest subsidies on loans made by the bank and the requirement that the bank extend $100 million in loans to the Soviet Union.

CURRY BUTTER BARBECUE

Three 3 packages (8 oz. each) South African rock lobster tails, with kitchen shears, cut underside membrane around edges and remove. Chop tail in both hands and beat backwards toward shell side to crack in several places. Insert skewers to prevent curling. Cross-grill and arrange tails, flesh side up, on rack. Broil 10 minutes. Mix 1 teaspoon curry powder and a few drops lemon juice with 1 cup melted butter and keep warm on side of grill. Turn. Grill for 5 minutes, baste with warm Curry Butter. Rock lobster tails are done when meat is opaque and tender when pierced with a fork. Serve with remaining baste.

Candidates for board against tax

The Democratic candidates for Union County Board of Freeholder seats this week announced their opposition to the proposed state income tax. The three: John D. Molinari, former Hon. Eric Park Councilman; Walter Borgh, former Kenilworth councilman now residing in Scotch Plains; and William J. McCloud, Elizabeth City Council president, said that they were "opinionated" that the income tax, proposed by the Byrne Administration, would be defeated by the Legislature.

If you're so rich, why aren't you smart?

So you're making a good salary. But you're not saving any. Instead, you want to go after the "big deal" that's going to make you a cool million. Maybe.

What happens if your big scheme goes sour? You've still got to get through the future. And, let's face it. Nobody can afford to take tomorrow for granted.

So maybe you'd better join the Payroll Savings Plan now. Just sign up at work. An amount you specify will be set aside from your paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

That way, you can still afford to take a few financial risks. If that's your bag, but you'll always have a solid cash reserve to fall back on. And that's being smart.

Take stock in America.

Delays common in redecorating

BY CAROLYN F. YUKNIS, Senior County Home Economist. Redecorating a room is often started with a set design in mind. This practice leads to frustration because of delays in delivery, wrong orders, damaged goods, and other various reasons. Many decorators dream of being able to redecorate a room in a short period of time. Long delays in delivery can often be avoided by ordering a room a week or two in advance.

'Sunshine Boys' Guilford, Jacobi at the Paper Mill

"The Sunshine Boys" starring Jack Guilford and Lou Jacobi, opened at the Paper Mill Playhouse in the State Trust Building on Tuesday and will continue until Aug. 4.

Both Guilford and Jacobi have been recognized for their roles as the "sunshine boys" — two aging vaudevillians who acted together for 42 years, split up and are reunited again for a TV special about their old act.

"This is the third show that Jack and I have done together," said Jacobi. "First, 'The Diary of Anne Frank,' then 'Paddy Chayefsky's 'The Death of a Salesman' and now 'Sunshine Boys.' Jack and I are good friends although the 'Sunshine' script calls for us to appearingly hate each other on stage. We work very well together."

STRICTLY PERSONAL

Dear Pat and Marilyn: I met Ron two months ago and am madly in love with him. He has been seeing me at least a couple of times a week but this terrible, awful feeling that he is not doing objects is always with me. I have stopped seeing everyone else so my "conscience" is always free for Ron. He never asks me on the sly nights and I am afraid that if I make another date that will be the very night Ron will call. He also tends to call me the last minute and seldom makes plans more than a day ahead.

What I want to know is how can I catch Ron? I am really in love.

'Cure' rate aided by chemotherapy

In 1964, only one in four cancer patients could expect to survive extended five years or more by effective therapy. Today, this proportion is one in three and still rising.

The reason for this increase in "cure" rate can be attributed to chemotherapy.

Chemotherapy is the use of drugs to kill cancer cells. It is one of the most effective treatments for cancer.

The use of chemotherapy has led to a significant increase in the survival rate of cancer patients.

SOCCER SCENE

It is over and West Germany won it. Last Sunday it was West Germany and Holland in the final game of the World Cup 1974, and the Germans won, 2-1. After a one-hour closing action, from my vantage point in Madison Square Garden, I saw Holland control the ball for the first two thirds of the game without scoring. West Germany came in late in the second half and took care of the game. The final whistle blew and the German penalty area by his shadow Berthel Vogt and George Schwarzenack, who came over to help him. Neskens took the penalty shot and faked goalie Sep Mauer to move to his right and sent the ball into the net right past the goalie just vacated.

Health, insurance commissioners balk at conditions of federal grant

State Health Commissioner Joanne E. Finley, M.D., and State Insurance Commissioner James T. Sheeran said this week that they would not agree to federal-imposed conditions under which the Hospital Research and Educational Trust, a subsidiary of the New Jersey Hospital Association, would receive a grant of $250,000 to evaluate and revise New Jersey's existing system of hospital budget review.

The conditions imposed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for final approval of the grant provided for the commissioner's acceptance of the current budget review process and their endorsement of it for at least two years of the grant, 1975 and 1976.

Budgets of New Jersey hospitals are currently reviewed by an advisory committee for the purpose of establishing Blue Cross reimbursements. The advisory committee is comprised, to a large extent, of health care industry representatives.

Both commissioners said they were dissatisfied with the existing system and that endorsement of it for two additional years would hamper their efforts to bring about a needed revision.

"We are not going to allow a system that we do not endorse for further extension," the commissioners said. "We stand by this system this year because, as health commissioners, we had no alternative and we will not allow our hands to be further tied in designing a new and more effective system." They pointed out that the grant money is a negligible amount compared to the savings to the public that a workable system of budget review would bring about.

"Only one percent decrease in hospital costs," they said, "would save the public $16,000,000 a year."

Classes get 'involved' Experimental theater studied

A look at experimental theatre is being taken by a group of students at Upsala College, East Orange, this summer as part of the school's special sessions curriculum.

Studying new theatrical trends that have developed since the late 1940s, the students attend varied off-theater shows, participate in classroom improvisations and study from theatrical text books.

The course is a first at Upsala and Prof. Robert Marcezo is confident the school will offer similar courses that give a look of the current theatre scene and the innovations that are taking place. He points out that Upsala makes classes to offer a course, at its January session, on the New York underground (theater, films and other artistic areas).

So far this summer students have attended performance of "The Tooth of Crime" in a converted New York City apartment house and spectators can't be told apart without a scorecard. Spectators must climb a ladder if they want to find a center seat and the actors perform amid the group. One spectator was in a seat needed by an actor, so he picked her up and performed his scene while she sat on his lap. An actress proceeded to strip in the middle of the audience.

Back at the campus, students perform improvisational scenes among themselves and with Marcezo as director of Upsala's Workshop theatre. These have included scenes, themselves coming into the classroom, including Marcezo, must attend his scenes while he is in the classroom. Spectators, it is feared, might destroy the close relationships established by the actors.

One of these early "improvisations" was designed to prepare the participants to "freely" express their spontaneous impulses. To accomplish this the students closed their eyes, concentrated on what they felt and heard, on their heartbeats and muscular tension and on the roar of fantasy.

Among the text books they are reading during the five-week course are "The Theater of the Absurd," "God on the Greenmore Floor" by critic Walter Kerr, "Towards a Post-Modern Theater" and "Eight Plays from Off Off Broadway."

Marcezo emphasized that experimental theatre is becoming "more and more fascinating" as it gains prestige.

"Many critics of the stage contend that the theater is dying and film and television are."

Mozart work featured at Masterwork 'Sing'

The next in a series of 14 "summer songs," informal choir readings sponsored by the Masterwork Music and Art Foundation, will be held Wednesday evening, at 7:45 in the Student Center, County College of Morris, Centre Grove road and Rt. 10, Randolph. The work to be sung will be Mozart's "Hocquet."

Martin Kacich, newly appointed director of Community Development for the Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey, will act as organ between the college and the federation, which will be responsible for analyzing and reviewing the effectiveness of the program and will receive reports on it.

Earlier this year, the federation sponsored the Jewish Club of Kean College for Jewish students studying there. One who was struck at Upsala College.

After a two-year experimental basis, it is hoped that the "Department of Modern Languages of Kean College will assume entire responsibility for the program, and that it will be expanded to include a full range of Jewish studies.

N.J. restores early schedule on auto exhaust

In case of emergency call 376-0400 for Police Department or 376-7470 for Fire Department.

State Environmental Commissioner David J. Bardin this week announced an order to restore the original schedule of the automobile exhaust emissions testing program, and provide a variance procedure for specific classes of pre-1980 motor vehicles.

The implementation of the emissions testing program is divided into three phases. The first phase is in progress. The second phase of testing originally was to have gone into effect one year after the beginning of phase one. Last year, the legislature voted to delay the start of phase two to July 1, 1975, but neglected to adjust the start of phase two and three accordingly. The order promulgated today will re-establish the one-year duration of phases one and two as originally intended.

"At each stage over a three-year period, the test criteria for carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons becomes more stringent," Bardin explained, "and a full year of on-line operation between stages is called for in the program. It is necessary to adjust the start of the second phase to July 1, 1975 because of the original delay voted by the legislature. The date for the beginning of phase three also is being adjusted to July 1, 1976."

The variance procedure adopted today provides a means by which the Division of Motor Vehicles, after approval by the Department of Environmental Protection, can waive the testing requirements for certain classes of pre-1980 vehicles because of their design, cannot meet the standards no matter how well they are tuned. Such vehicles are those with less than 1.2 percent of New Jersey automobile population.

Jerseyans urged to mark history

The American Revolution Bicentennial is being marked in New Jersey by the state's citizens to use the New Jersey Bicentennial as a time to inaugurate a program of annual commemorative observances that will increase public awareness of the state's role in American history.

The Commission, headed by historian John T. Coatsworth, announced a number of specific events, persons and dates to provide the people with a framework for celebrating their own history and the achievements of their state, and for acquiring a sense of identification and pride in American history.

The list, which appears in the June issue of the commission's newsletter, includes several commemorations already established: American History Month, Negro History Week, Historical Preservation Week, Jersey Day, and Commander John Barry Day.

It also proposes the celebration of an anniversary associated with the lives and works of such noted figures as Woodrow Wilson, Deborah Lynde "Dix" Wall, Whitman, and Thomas A. Edison. Finally, it suggests commemoration of New Jersey's first state constitution, the Battle of Trenton, and Freedom of the Press.

Jennifer Felberbaum captures title in Little Miss competition at town pool

The main event for the week at the Springfield Municipal Pool was the Little Miss Springfield "Pool-Contest." Girls between the ages of one and five competed for the title on Sunday afternoon in the pool.

Jennifer Felberbaum, 4 years old, captured the title. Her competitors were: Deborah Lynde "Dix" Wall, 3 years old; and Thomas A. Edison, 4 years old.

The contest was held at the Springfield Municipal Pool, 376-0400.

Town schools not for dogs

"Dogs must do their duty elsewhere," the Springfield Board of Education declared this week in urging local residents not to walk their pets on school grounds in order to keep the grounds available for children's play. A community ordinance also forbids those people, and the board hopes that this reminder — as well as signs on school grounds — will do the trick.

"It is expected that the owners of dogs which cannot read will pay heed."

Benjamin Heard dies at 91; helped pupils learn of past

Benjamin Heard, a community deeply interested in its history, lost a personal link with that past last week with the death of Benjamin Franklin Heard, who had been a township resident for more than 60 years.

Mr. Heard, 91, who died July 8 in the Ward Township, Maplewood, had a special place in his adopted community. A former township commissioner, he had been involved with the Springfield Historical Society since its inception and was called a "dedicated charter member" and a "lifelong friend" of the Springfield Historical Society. Mr. Heard took the job of caretaker, a position he held until his restoration project on the house. Mr. Heard was instrumental in assisting the town's history and his historical knowledge of it in educational materials.

Mr. Heard's early life was spent on a farm and a career as a painter and exterior decorator in the Springfield area. He was a member of the Springfield Fire Department for several years. Mr. Heard had been a member of the Township for 40 years.

According to "An Historical Sketch of the Township of Ward," he was elected to the committee on the Democratic ticket at a time when he was probably the only Democrat in Union. He was

Insurance reduces hurricane woes

June through November—a period embracing the best and worst of Mother Nature's offerings—is the breeding period for one of her most vicious destroyers of lives, homes and dreams: the hurricane.

Child abuse laws outlined by group in new brochure

More than a thousand brochures describing the state's child abuse laws are in the mail as the first phase of a community education program planned by the Citizens Committee for Children of New Jersey (CCCN).

The organization developed the brochure as a result of a task force on the implementation of New Jersey's child abuse reporting law which CCCN completed last year.

The first mailing is going to district offices of the Bureau of Youth and Family Services, pediatricians, hospitals, county welfare boards, juvenile judges, and county prosecutors, according to Mrs. Rose Key of Tenafly, community education chairman of CCCN.

A mailing in the fall will cover all school districts and day care centers. Brochures also will be sent to United Way and private family agencies.

CCCN also is developing a slide program using material on child abuse compiled by Dr. Phyllis Hukon of the Child Evaluation Center at Hackensack Hospital. Volunteers will be trained to give the slide lecture to interested groups.

CCCN's statewide group of citizens devoted to improving services to children, recently moved to new headquarters at 251 Park St., Montclair. Mrs. Belle Mantel, formerly a planning associate with the Health and Health Planning Council of Metropolitan New Jersey, Inc., became coordinator for CCCN June 12.

New officers of the organization are Mrs. Sally Orr of Montclair, president; the Rev. Salvatore Citarella of Elizabeth, administrative vice president; Mrs. Jeanne Goetze of Upper Merion, community vice president; Mrs. Sylvia Eisenberg of Short Hills, secretary; Henry Boardman of Cranford, treasurer.

Distaff credit problems topic of Rutgers leaflet

"Unequal pay, unequal treatment under the law and unsatisfactory assumptions about women have combined to give a sometimes inaccurate and fragmented picture of women and credit," says Mrs. Denise Matejka of Rutgers University.

"As women's horizons broaden," she says, "they are becoming more aware of the financial discrimination in which they have been subjected. Now both practice and legislation are beginning to move."

The leaflet, available free from Rutgers, is a 11 x 17 poster or a 4 x 6 leaflet. It is a management specialist with the New Jersey Cooperative Extension Service at Cook College. Mrs. Matejka says that women are moving from dependence to independence: from playing a mostly supportive role to assuming full responsibility for their own lives.

Roselle, Roselle Park, Springfield and Union. Flood insurance is available through the National Flood Insurance Association.

Flood insurance provides protection against losses caused by the overflow of inland or tidal water or the unusual and rapid accumulation or runoff of surface waters from any source.

The flood insurance program recently was expanded to increase the available coverage from $1,500 to $25,000 on a one-family house and from $3,000 to $100,000 on two-to-four family structures and small business properties.

The annual premium for each $100 in coverage is 25 cents on the building and 25 cents on contents of all residential buildings and 40 cents on the building and 75 cents on contents of non-residential buildings. The new rates do not apply to outstanding policies, but they do apply to coverage added to outstanding policies.

The institute urges property owners to examine their insurance coverage thoroughly and not to hesitate to seek the counsel of their agent or broker if necessary.

While most property insurance policies do cover wind damage, the usual property insurance policies—except under limited circumstances—do not provide protection to homes or household possessions for damage caused by tidal wave, high water or overflow whether wind-driven or not.

The institute also points out that there are many kinds of insurance which cover movable properties in case of floods. For example, automobile comprehensive policies cover losses caused by flooding.

The insurance industry stands ready to move into any hurricane-threatened area with special catastrophe policies.

Special loss adjusters are often on their way to an area—before the hurricane hits—to assess damage, help adjusters in their position to begin immediately adjusting losses and speeding settlement and payments to owners of damaged property.

In order to enable insurance companies to serve you more quickly and efficiently when you do have a loss, the institute points out several steps you can take now.

Make an itemized list of personal property, including furnishings, clothing and valuables. Photos are helpful. These steps will assist the insurance adjuster in settling your claim and also help to prove uninsured losses, which are tax deductible.

If you do not understand all the questions about your policy, contact your agent or company representative.

Keep your policy in a safe place, such as a safety deposit box. Know the name and location of your agent and the company which issued the policy.

Don't assume your settlement will be the same as your neighbor's. Policy forms differ and storm damage is erratic.

Contact your agent or company as soon as possible. If you have to leave home, leave an address or telephone number where you can be reached.

Township Committee votes to oppose Byrne's tax plan

The Township Committee Tuesday night voted a resolution of "strong opposition" to the plan for a state income tax proposed by Gov. Brendan T. Byrne and now under consideration by the legislature.

Four of the five committee members voted their opposition to the income tax proposal, with only Committeeman Nat Stokols in the minority.

With 25 persons in the audience at Town Hall, the governing body voted on the insertion of an income tax to provide more equitable support for local schools, in response to a court mandate, a radical change.

Dem hopefuls cite opposition to Byrne plans. Edward Fanning and Stanley Bruder, Democratic candidates for Springfield Township Committee, this week announced their opposition to Gov. Brendan Byrne's income tax package as proposed.

Editorial comment
LIVES IN DANGER

We usually try to limit our comments to matters of specific local concern, but there are times when we find our attention wandering to a much larger arena.

One example is these remarks, which were prompted by a series of fascinating TV programs devoted to the growing likelihood that whales and dolphins might well have intelligence that can be measured on the human scale.

Our nation does have legislation designed to halt the hunting of endangered species, and the laws have been of value in reducing the profits, and thus slowing the extermination of many creatures, from leopards to alligators.

Certainly this should not be the only criterion of our foreign policy, but the United States has treaties providing commercial and military aid to many nations where freedom is equated with treason, and where it is hard to determine any community of interests.

These include autocracies of the left and of the right—Spain, Greece, China (both Red and Nationalist), both Vietnams and the Soviet Union, to name only a few.

Certainly diplomacy must call for many strange alliances to bring about the ultimate peace, but there are other goals for this planet which are little less valuable.

The whaling nations of the world recently convened to seek further reduction of the commercial whaling, at least some of the endangered varieties of this giant and still mysterious mammal.

We feel that the U.S. Congress could well strengthen the sanctions against nations which permit and even encourage commercial whaling designed to further the elimination of some forms of life from the Earth.

Since the motive is profit, perhaps we could reduce those profits by denying some aid, or some favor, or tariff advantages, to those countries whose fleets and whose hunters are dedicated to preying on the last remnants of some of our most important co-residents of the globe.

The two major whaling nations are Japan and the Soviet Union, and both are vulnerable to economic pressures from Washington.

In Past Tense
ONE YEAR AGO
The Township Committee gives final approval to a $75,000 bond ordinance to construct a museum wing on the library, authorizes preparation of a $10,000 bond ordinance for the Springfield playground and awards a $600,000 drainage contract to a construction firm for straightening and channelization of both branches of Pleasant Brook.

Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo

Last week, the House passed and sent to the President a bill extending for 30 days the authority of the Export-Import Bank to continue financing a huge complex that would extend the bank for another four years.

Opposition to extension of the Export-Import Bank has centered around two issues: the low-interest subsidies on loans made by the bank and the reluctance of the Soviet Union to permit Jews, intellectuals and other citizens to leave Russia freely.

As a result of the extension, the Export-Import Bank would be permitted to extend $180 million in loans to the Soviet Union for a huge complex that would produce fertilizer and natural gas.

Because of this transaction, Congressman John Dent of Pennsylvania and I have sponsored legislation that would limit the Export-Import Bank to $100 million in loans to the Soviet Union.

The prime rate charged by commercial banks here was hovering around the 12 percent mark at the time the $180 million loan was made. Eximbank's rate for this transaction was 10 percent.

Activities move into high gear at township playgrounds

With a little help from the weather, activities in all of Springfield's new playgrounds moved into high gear last week. A wide variety of activities of all sorts and a wide variety of volunteer groups were seen to be providing recreation for everyone.

WASHINGTON PARK
Jo-Ana Hepler, Art Leaks
After a three-hour chess marathon, Thomas Merkelahe defeated Danny Korchel. An Indian wrestling tournament was held Monday. Diana Rose was the victor after defeating finalist Joey Heo and Thomas Merkelahe.

WOODLAND PARK
The arts and crafts program began Monday. The first project was key chain making.
A football-bowling contest was held Wednesday. James Papper won in the younger division with a time of 30 seconds.

Danny Korchel took first place with winning times of 25 seconds and 1 minute 20 seconds and the park record of 2 minutes 2 seconds. Second was Joey Heo with a time of 52 seconds. Thomas Merkelahe ran the relay race with Danny with a time of 1 minute 7 seconds. The final win was disqualified for bowing.

Because of vandalism, the volleyball, basketball and tetherball tournaments were canceled.

Projected activities for the coming week are as follows: Monday, morning arts and crafts; Tuesday, egg roll, 1-5; Wednesday, bike race, 1-3; Thursday, pet show; Friday, bubble gum hunt, 1-3.

DENHAM PLAYGROUND
Chris Seawick
Last week at Denham Playground a number of new events took place. A foot shooting contest started the week with the following winners: Tony Carrol, Kevin Jickel, and Jeff Knudsen. Other contestants were Joe and Jackie Denham, Kevin Jickel, Bobby Carrol and Kevin Herque.

The children were enthusiastic about the arrival of a new no-kick hockey tournament. Steve Wright, Jackie Denham, Valerie (tag), Harbra Kovach, Kristian Weeks, Brian Kohberger and Cynthia Souza, and Wednesday's winners, Brian Gannon, Scott Kim, John Gaudin, Eric Shelt, Jill Denham, Bobby Carrol, Barbara Kovach and Nancy Kalk. The winning team consisted of Captain Kevin Jickel, Karl Sorenson, Jackie and Joey Denham, Richard Spillane and Brian Kohberger.

Later on that day a kirkball game took place. Mark, Jimmy and Paul Steinhilf won on the team of Doug Clarke, Jean and Tommy McCabe and won 7-5.

On Tuesday Mary Hat Pariducci, Kevin Brown, Lori Smith, Wendy Whitford and Douglas Colandrea had a hockey series. A game of Trickle was also played by Norbert Hohens and Wendy Whitford.

On Wednesday a board dack card game was played by Ann Calamusa, Diane Vertanzer, Lori Smith, Doug Colandrea and Mary Hat-Pariducci. The winner was Doug Colandrea.

The children made beaded key chains in the shape of little men. Doug Clarke, Lori Smith, Mark, Paul and Jimmy Steinhilf, Jean and Tommy McCabe, Doug Colandrea, Kim Conlan and the two park leaders participated.

ALVIN PLAYGROUND
Freddy Grassie, Carol Stefanoy
Alvin Playground started its second week with a variety of activities. A softball game was held in the regular relay race. Dennis Schward was a losing cause. The Alvin All-Stars were by Ed Drummond and Steve Benz in a close second place. There was a tough battle for the no-kick hockey championship between Peter Pepe, who finished first, and Chuck Bell who came in second. Dave Vargas finished third. Other challengers were Rich Policastro, Joe Difino and Ken Bell.

On Friday afternoon a picnic was held at the park even though it rained most of the day. Perry, Barry and Beth Truchalbaum, Paul and Steve Benz, Marci and Geri Gettes, Jennifer, Mary Beth and Gail Agnello, Nancy and Glen Shneider, Chip and Roseann Haines, Dennis Schward, Jeff Kronert and Guy Seale attended the picnic and ate their lunch at the park that afternoon.

In a no-kick hockey competition Guy Seale defeated Jeff Kronert and Glen Shneider. Seale first place winner and Glen Shneider second. The high event of the week turned out to be the tennis tournament in which Joe Sangregorio won first, Jamie Ehrhardt second, Alan Weiss third and Jeff Kronert fourth.

On Tuesday morning after arts and crafts, a treasure hunt was held in which clues hidden all over the park led the hunters to the treasure, which was found by Mary Beth Agnello.

Board offers compromise as it rejects 3 Gov. Livingston student proposals

THE ONE DISPUTE among board members arose in dealing with a request by Dr. Donald Merachuk, superintendent of schools, to approve participation by the Brearley hand in the Columbus Day parade Oct. 13 in Elizabeth.

Noting that the sponsor, the American Italian Cultural Society, will donate $200 to the band for its services, the board voted to charge the band for the $22 bus fare. Vitale, who represents Kentworth, was the only dissenter. The board maintained its stand despite strenuous objections from the public. It did, however, pledge to restudy its policy regarding transportation for band trips and to take another look at this matter following the policy review.

Board members unanimously approved band camps to be held at Dayton and Gov. Livingston Aug. 26-30, with bus costs of approximately $60 each to be paid by board.

Thought for food

CURRY BUTTER BARBECUE

Thaw 3 packages (8 oz. each) South African rock lobster tails. With kitchen shears, cut underside membrane around edges and remove. Grasp tail in both hands and bend backwards toward shell side to crack in several places or insert skewers to prevent curling. Grasso grill and arrange tails, flesh down on rack. Barbecue fresh fish for 8 minutes. Mix 1 teaspoon curry powder and a few drops lemon juice with 1-cup melted-but butter and keep warm on side of grill. Turn brush liberally with Curry Butter and continue grilling. Shell side down over coals. Grill for 8 minutes, baste with more Curry Butter. Rock lobster tails are done when meat is opaque and tender when pierced with a fork. Serve with remaining butter sauce.

Consumers' Corner

FREEZE TIME CONSUMERS' CONCERNS

Recipes often call for ingredients that need to be chopped, grated, sliced or minced before you can use them. Often, it's possible to do this time-consuming work ahead of time and freeze the ingredients until they are needed.

Cheese can be grated a pound or two at a time. One pound makes four cups of grated cheese. Measure the grated cheese in one-cup containers.

Bread crumbs can be kept in the freezer. Save bread heels until you have several. Grind them in the blender, or between two sheets of wax-paper with your rolling pin. Store in an air-tight freezer container. If you like, you can lightly butter the heels before grinding them to make buttered crumbs.

Do you have...

- ...a headache? Use the power of heat. Apply a warm compress to your forehead.
- ...a sore throat? Gargle with warm salt water.
- ...a cold? Use steam inhalation.
- ...a fever? Use a cool compress.
- ...a burn? Use cool water.
- ...a bruise? Use ice packs.
- ...a sunburn? Use aloe vera.
- ...a rash? Use calamine lotion.
- ...a dry nose? Use saline drops.
- ...a dry mouth? Use sugar-free lozenges.
- ...a dry cough? Use honey and lemon.
- ...a dry skin? Use a rich cream.
- ...a dry hair? Use a conditioner.
- ...a dry scalp? Use a shampoo.
- ...a dry hairbrush? Use a hairbrush.
- ...a dry comb? Use a comb.
- ...a dry hairbrush? Use a hairbrush.
- ...a dry comb? Use a comb.

INGIS, his enthusiasm for the plan to add facilities for senior citizens to the Sarah Halley Civic Center on Church Mall. He said the planned addition would be more modern in design and too large and would take up parking space used by the civic center and the Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

Prattman proposed that the township buy the building on Morris avenue, adjoining the Cannon Ball House, which he said has ample facilities. This plan, now under study by the governing body, was endorsed by Madison Lancaster, president of the Springfield Senior Citizens Association, as a recreation commissioner, reported that the major problem is a shortage of usable chairs. He urged that members bring their own chairs on weekends. He added that the pool is "well attended, but there is still some room for new members. The day camp, however, is full."

Wellchek disclosed that the N.J. attorney general's office has sent a formal warning to the property owner responsible for a stream encroachment at Hillside and Mountain avenues. If the owner fails to act by tomorrow, he said, the state will begin legal proceedings.

Fireworks count faced by man, 19

A 19-year-old Irvington man is scheduled to appear in Springfield Municipal Court Aug. 5 to answer charges of illegal possession of fireworks.

Springfield police issued a summons for that charge against Michael J. Frayne who allegedly was in possession of the illegal devices while at Pizza Town, 311 22nd Friday night.

A companion of Frayne's, Raymond Valdes, 22, of Irvington also will appear in the local court Aug. 5. A summons for alleged assault and battery has been signed against him by the Borough of Jersey City as a result of an incident at Pizza Town.

Mr. Hausmann, 71, retired bartender

Funeral services for Richard E. Hausmann of Irvington were held Tuesday at Immanuel and Ruth Calquhoun Home, Union.

Mr. Hausmann, a resident of Springfield for many years until moving six years ago, died Sunday in Irvington General Hospital. He was 71.

Born in Germany, Mr. Hausmann was a bartender at Oscar's, Union, for 25 years before retiring four years ago. He was an Army veteran of World War II.

Surviving are his wife, Florence, and a brother, Herman.

Holiday mishaps: only one injury

Springfield fared well traffic-wise over the holiday weekend with township police reporting only one person injured in an accident.

Police said the mishap occurred at 5:20 p.m. Saturday on Springfield avenue near Victory Road, when no other vehicles were present. Police said the driver of a car, which was reportedly unlicensed, struck the rear of a truck.

The driver, who was not injured, was taken to Overlook Hospital for a leg injury. He was taken to the Summit facility by the Springfield First Aid Squad.

Pool events

In the kickball contest, winners for girls aged 10 to 16 were Jane Austin, Cara Novich, Amy Walsh and Paula Edelberg. For girls aged 11 to 12, the winners were Vicki Sarrachio, Pat Harrison and Mary Walsh.

Boy winners were, for ages 8-10, Todd Leonard, Frances Clemens and Christopher Clemens. For ages 11-12, Tony Gardoglio, Jeff Rosenfeld and, tied for third, Richard Banel and David Getman.

Dog show at Mall scheduled Sunday

The Twin Brooks Kennel Club will hold its 27th annual all-breed dog show in the Mall at Short Hills on Sunday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Held under the auspices of the American Kennel Club, 16 AKC-licensed judges from nine states represent the panel of judges. The "best in show" will be chosen from the major groups—sporting, hound, working, toy, and non-sporting. Represented in these six groups are 117 breeds totaling 1,247 dogs.

Dorothy MacDonald of Santa Monica, Calif. will judge 71 boys and girls who will compete in junior showmanship for the Gertrude Rockefeller Dodge trophies.

The largest entries represented in the show are 100 puppies, 50 adult dogs, 40 Siberian huskies, 40 shepherds, 30 doberman pinschers, 30 boxers and 30 Irish setters.

If you're so rich, why aren't you smart?

So you're making a good salary. But you're not saving any of it. Instead, you want to go after the "big deal" that's going to make you a cool million. Maybe.

What happens if your big scheme goes sour? You've still got to get through the future. And, let's face it, nobody can afford to take tomorrow for granted.

So maybe you'd better join the Payroll Savings Plan now. Just sign up at work. An amount you specify will be set aside from your paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

That way, you can still afford to take a few financial risks, if that's your bag. But you'll always have a solid cash reserve to fall back on. And that's being smart.

Candidates for board against tax

The Democratic candidates for the Union County Board of Assessors announced their opposition to the proposed state income tax. The three, John D. Molitor, former Roselle Park Councilman; Walter Borlight, former county engineer; and William J. McCloud, Elizabethtown City Council president, said that they were "opinionated" that the income tax, proposed by the Byrne Administration, would be defeated by the Legislature.

"There is a great outcry from Union County residents in total opposition to the tax plan," he said. "and it is clear that our county wants this plan defeated."

The candidates said, "any tax plan should, at the very least, have the support of the people. It seeks to burden the poor and the middle income wage-earner that will be affected most severely. This proposal is in our own interests and clearly it does not have even a small segment of support."

Molitor, Borlight and McCloud pointed out that prior tax plans by the Hughes and Cahill administrations were defeated, "but only after the people had made known their total opposition."

"Under the Byrne tax package," they observed, "it will be the middle income wage-earner that will be affected most severely. This proposal is in our own interests and clearly it does not have even a small segment of support."

The three candidates said that their mail and phone calls were being overwhelmed by the public's response.

Firms win medals from United Way

From the ranks of all the good, silver and bronze awards presented to companies and employees by the United Way of Union County and Eastern Union County for outstanding contributions to the 1973-74 campaign, there can be no shortage of the precious medals in Union County.

Three local gold awards for contributions of over $20 per capita, 20 silver awards for $10 to $20 per capita and 20 bronze awards for $5-$10 per capita were presented by David P. Bowe, vice-president of Airon Welding Products, the United Way's vice-chairman of campaign for 1973-74.

This year's recipient of a special award for the highest per capita corporate gift is City Federal Savings & Loan Association. A special award was presented to Western Electric Co., Springfield, for the highest per capita employee gift. Certificates of merit were presented to 20 companies for their participation in corporate employee gift campaigns.

John L. O'Marra, president of the United Way of Union County and 1973-74 campaign chairman, praised the companies and employees for their continued support of the 80 voluntary agencies serving Union County.

"Supplying the resources for meeting the human needs of our citizens is our goal. The need for community services continues to grow, especially in these times of economic uncertainty," he said. "It is gratifying to know that our community recognizes the need and continues to provide the financial assistance for its maintenance." "It is working the United Way," he said.

Your Guide To Better Living in the SUBURBAN REAL ESTATE MART

Model apartments open at Claridge II in Verona

Completion of an on-site preconstruction program for the Claridge House II model apartments, about mid-July, will formally open sales for the Claridge House II community. The 12-unit model apartment building at Claridge House II is being built on the site of the existing Claridge House I, which was completed in 1962. Apartments will be sold as three bedrooms with two baths, or as two bedrooms with one and a half bathrooms.

$90 million Water resources unit details application, permit backlog

A report detailing the backlog on applications and permits pending for the $90 million water resources unit, submitted to the state Division of Water Resources, was released last week by the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection. The report indicates that the backlog of permits for water resources projects is estimated to be between 100 and 125. The report also indicates that the backlog of permits for water resources projects is estimated to be between 100 and 125. ## Top much can be a 'spoiler'

It's a bad case of amateurism can ruin a week at the beach sure as a seven days of rain. To help you avoid that personal "cool-down," Aetna offers these suggestions:

—Your first few exposures to the sun are crucial. Make them brief — 30 minutes the first day, substantially less if you're fair-skinned. If you can, get started on a tan before your vacation.

'Sunshine Boys' Guilford, Jacobi at the Paper Mill

The Sunshine Boys, starring Jack Gilford and Lou Jacobi, opened at the Paper Mill Playhouse, the State Theatre of New Jersey on Tuesday and will continue until Aug. 4. Jack Gilford and Lou Jacobi have been much acclaimed for their roles as the Sunshine Boys — two aging vaudevillians who acted together for 43 years, split up and are getting together again for a TV special about their old act.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

Dear Pat and Marilyn: I met Stan two months ago and am madly in love with him. He is also dating others in at least a couple of times a week but this terrible, awful feeling that is also dating others is always with me. I have stopped seeing everyone else so that my evenings are his. He never asks me on the same nights and I am afraid that if I make another date that will be the very night Stan will call. He also tends to call me at the last minute and seldom makes plans more than a day ahead.
