Highways group backs bond issue for roads, transit

A proposed $200 million transportation bond issue has received the endorsement of the New Jersey Highway Users Conference. It will appear on the Nov. 5 ballot.

Chairman Arthur D. Metzger said, "This bond issue has several features of benefit to everyone in New Jersey."

"As proposed, the bond issue would result in a significant lowering of the state's accident rates by providing for long-overdue bridge repairs, elimination of hazardous features at traffic circles and other needed safety projects.

"Although a bond issue to improve highways, it also would have a positive effect on improving mass transit. It has to be recognized that the mass transit program in New Jersey is the best which must depend upon a good road network.

"In view of today's economic climate, we also must consider the fact that success of this bond issue would help the state's economy by creating needed jobs. This not only would be true for the construction workers who build and repair the roads, a better road system also increases capital expansion in the industrial and commercial sectors.

"A careful review of the Transportation Department's suggested program confirms that most of this bond issue money would be used to improve and make safer existing roads. There should be no doubt in the minds of the highway public that the suggested projects are urgently needed."

Search for history begins at home Attics, cellars combed by U.S. children

WASHINGTON, D.C.—If your children all of a sudden start delving through the attic or cellar, or storage shed don't be surprised. There's a good chance they are taking part in the commemoration of the nation's Bicentennial.

"Should your grandchildren or great-grandchildren show a sudden interest in how life was 'way back then,' reminiscence with them. If they want to trace your own memories, let them. You'll be contributing to the preserved history of the United States as it embarks on its third century.

Searching for old documents, photographs, letters, furniture, dress and other memorabilia from days gone by, or re-creating memories from the faded and faded of life in earlier times are part of a nationwide Above Ground Archeology Bicentennial Administration.

Sponsored by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA), the program is one means of tapping the "grass roots" history of the nation. By and large, ordinary citizens have left little recorded testament of their lives, but it is living history. A new effort to reach and reclaim that history is being made through the ARBA.

The ARBA has published a booklet describing the basic techniques of collecting and preserving items which can give the archaeologist an understanding and appreciation of what life was like in the past. Though developed primarily for high school teachers and students, the booklet and the program are available to any interested group or individual. Above Ground Archeology is available for 10 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402 (Stock No. 2405-6023).

Text of the booklet was written by Dr. John L. Cotter, associate professor of American Civilization at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Cotter is also an associate professor of American Historical Archeology, University Museum, in Philadelphia. The text was illustrated in behalf of the society for state and local history and the ARBA.

The booklet describes how, with patience and curiosity, one can capture the history of his or her community, and get a glimpse of how its citizens made their living, played and worked.

shipped as the nation was growing, it gives younger people a chance to gain personal appreciation of life before cars, planes, dishwashers, television, air-conditioning, and indoor plumbing.

The booklet carefully explains how to catalog and preserve historical documents and other items expected to be found in the nationwide search, and provides references sources for help and advice on this and other historical projects.

In the short time since the project began, it has caught up two major finds. An eighth grade student in Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania recovered a rare edition of the Federalist Papers in his grandparents' attic. A Knoxville, Illinois, boy, believed to be the second oldest boat built in the United States that is still in existence, was found in Dresden, Maine, attic. The craft is typical of the ones used on the Kennebec River before the Revolutionary War.

The booklet also suggests making an historic base map of your community, town, township or county. With overlays, it is possible to construct a map showing the succession of prehistoric periods, such as the earliest Indian, called Paleo-Indian life, up through a community's earliest settlement, to a record of the development of roads, farms, industries and, finally, the modern city, town or countryside.

Board will seek bids to raze Bednarek house

Under pressure from the audience, the Springfield Board of Education Monday night took the first step toward demolition of the former Bednarek house on boardwalk.

The Board's house was brought into discussion by Pat Zavadny, president of the Caldwell PTA and one of the 121 members of the audience at the Raymond C. Gaskins School.

Mrs. Zavadny's group had sprung had strongly urged use of the old frame structure for day-child-care and day summer-recreational activities of the school to accommodate the additional instructional areas.

Mrs. Zavadny on Monday asked whether the changes were regarded as satisfactory.

Michael McIntyre, board president, Zachary Schneider, vice-president, and Dr. Fred Baruchin, superintendent of schools, assented her way.

Candidates face to face on Monday

Public confrontation sponsored by LWV

Democrats Stanley M. Bruler and Edward J. Fanning and Republicans Norman O. Banner and William A. Rocco, contend for the Springfield Township Committee, will meet the public on candidates' night Monday at 8 at the Florence Gaudinier School.

The League does not endorse candidates running for public office. It is in the belief that "face-to-face confrontation with a candidate is more revealing and informative than any amount of written information."

Voters have their say on Nov. 5

Recommendations for revision in the present form of Union County government will come before the voters in a referendum on Nov. 5.

The proposal to institute a county manager system was formulated by a Union County Charter Study Commission, which was authorized by the voters in a referendum a year ago.

The county commission, which held hearings and conducted investigations on various forms of county government over the past year, is now recommending that voters approve a county manager plan.

"Through this plan would retain an elected public hearing, it would remove administrative functions from the freeholders.

placing these responsibilities in the hands of the manager. The freeholders would continue exercising legislative functions.

The county manager would be appointed by the freeholders to serve for an indefinite term and could be removed by the board and make the case.

Employment in the construction and auto industries. It down more than 20 percent throughout the region.

A house with a two-car garage. This has become the symbol of America's prosperity. The current economic situation is threatening the validity of the symbol and those who target are the ones who build the house and make the case.

Employment in the construction and auto industries. It down more than 20 percent throughout the region.

Interest rates drop most of blame for fall in housing, auto employment

Opponents of the proposed change say: (a) the freeholders do perform their functions well; (b) the county delivers its services under the present structure; (c) if more powers are needed, the state legislature is willing to grant them.

The League publication notes that if the county manager plan is adopted, all same company, are afraid layoffs because they're not buying goods.

"Small businesses are also hard pressed," said Fontana, who has learned of that sector's problems as a member of the Linden County Board of Federal Savings and Loan Association. "They just can't meet their obligations, they're at the end of their ropes. Sales are off, the people just aren't spending money."

Fontana said young people in the labor market are hit extra hard by unemployment. While many factory and construction workers who lose their jobs can collect unemployment insurance benefits, the young people who have never held full-time jobs aren't eligible.

"We've got 80,000 kids entering the labor market in New Jersey every year," said Fontana. "If there's no work to be had, they're out of luck."

County aid deadline the reason for rush

The Township Committee will meet in a special session next Wednesday morning to introduce a new storm drainage ordinance which would qualify the town for county flood relief funds.

Mayer Edward N. Sisco Jr. announced plans for the special session at the regular meeting of the governing body Tuesday night at Town Hall.

He told the 30 members of the audience that the new ordinance is being rushed into law as a result of a conference with county officials held last week. He said that the new measure will be based on model flood control ordinance prepared by the county.

Introduction of the new measure before Oct. 31 will qualify Springfield for county aid for five major storm drainage projects for which plans have already been drawn. The mayor added that his intent ordinance. He said that challenges against similar ordinances in other communities in the town's court battle to sustain its rest control ordinance.

Township Attorney Jay Bloom summarized developments, which he termed mostly unfavorable, in the town's court battle to sustain its rest control ordinance. He said that challenges against similar ordinances in other communities in the town's court battle to sustain its rest control ordinance.

He said that committee members should have replied to the criticism but had not.

In other business, the committee authorized a $10,000 contract with Alvin E. Gershen Associates of Trenton to prepare a feasibility study of proposals for the redevelopment of the Morris Avenue district. The vote was 4-0, with Mayor Sisco opposing.

Stokes said the town already has most of the needed information. He stressed that the study should be completed as soon as possible.

Plans for the annual Halloween collection for UNICEF, scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 31, have been announced by the Springfield PTA Council.

Worldwide food shortages are threatening the lives of millions of children, with famine and malnutrition.

Joseph Bruler, vice-president of the Springfield Township Association, defended members of the Rent Leasing Board from what he said was an unfair attack at the previous Township Committee meeting. He said that committee members should have replied to the criticism but had not.

TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE CANDIDATES

Profile -- William A. Ruocco

Political activism and participation in the government process are by now second nature to William A. Ruocco, Republican candidate for a second term on the Township Committee, who has been deeply involved almost since the day he moved to Springfield from Union 12 years ago.

Ruocco became a county committee man in the last District his first year in town, and he served on the Municipal Swimming Pool. He then became a member of the town's Industrial Committee and continued until he was elected to the Township Committee three years ago. He served as mayor during 1972.

"I went into politics as a natural result of my interest in all aspects of the community," Ruocco commented. "I felt I could get more done as a member of the governing body. To start with, I was frustrated by the slow progress of projects for food relief, particularly anything which might protect me and my neighbors on Joanne way."

"It was aware, even then, that all the delays were not entirely the fault of the Township Committee. But I felt that a frequent food victim was in direct touch with the problem and could be of more assistance."

The poll, conducted by the Eagleton Institute of Politics, showed that 29 percent of respondents gave Ford an "excellent" or "good" rating while 40 percent gave him a "poor" or "no opinion" rating.

Assemblywoman Wilson

Of the six questions we will be asked to vote on in the November election, the one that has drawn the strongest advocates of casino gambling is the very real possibility that gambling would lead to increased crime. In the opinion of those surveyed, law enforcement officials as well as New Jersey Attorney General William Hyland and U.S. Attorney Jonathan Goldstein, casino gambling would definitely increase criminal activity in New Jersey.

Casino pamphlet offered by Women Voters' unit

"We will earn $5 million or $50 million from casino gambling? You will be able to answer that question a lot better after reading 'Casino Gambling—A Place in New Jersey's Future'." This League of Women Voters Information Piece is designed to help citizens judge the amount of revenue casino gambling would return to the state treasury," said Leslie Zucker, president of the League of Women Voters of Springfield, in announcing the availability of the new publication.

The address, "New Jersey's 50 major and 150 minor casinos and 1,132 slot machine licenses returned $62.3 million to the state in 1972-73, while Puerto Rico's 22 casinos produced $2 million to the state treasury," said Leslie Zucker.

Couple arrested for robbery after identification by officer

A man and a woman Springfield police suspect held up and robbed the Du Dynasty Restaurant in August were arrested Monday night after they were brought to police headquarters in connection with a motor vehicle charge, and were recognized by the original investigating officer on the hold-up case.

According to police, an auto operated by the woman was halted on Rt. 22 at 10:45 p.m. by Patrolman Daniel Maulding and Edward Glassman for a routine motor vehicle check. When she was found to be an unlicensed driver, she and a male passenger were brought to headquarters for questioning.

Rotary Club cites Taglienti service to Dayton students

Presentation of a plaque to Martin Taglienti, track and cross-country coach at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, for his efforts to serve youth was featured at the Springfield Rotary Club's annual past-president's dinner-dance Saturday night in the Chanticleer, Millburn.

Taglienti, a resident of Chatham Township, has been associated with the high school's track program for about 20 years. His record was compiled by Adam LaSala, club member in charge of the award selection and by Martin Sherman, who introduced Taglienti to the club. Sherman said he is the parent of two sons who attended Regional and their interest in track was largely influenced by Taglienti.

Overlook holds all-day conference on quality control

Quality control—how a hospital safeguards its patients—is the theme of an all-day conference sponsored by Overlook Hospital and attended by medical and hospital experts yesterday at the Hotel Sheraton, Summit.

Chosen as one of 13 medical facilities in the country to demonstrate a system to assure top quality patient care, Overlook was reporting on a grant received last January from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation through the Hospital Research and Educational Trust, an affiliate of the American Hospital Association.

Rinaldo backed by county PBA

The 2,000-member Union County Conference of the Policemen's Benevolent Association delegates this week announced that its members have voted overwhelmingly to endorse Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo for reelection to Congress.

The organization, representing 28 PBA locals in the county, said that it had been impressed by Rinaldo's anti-inflation politics and his support for various benefits for the widows of slain police and firemen who die in the line of duty.

DAYTON DISPATCH

By MARC BLOOM

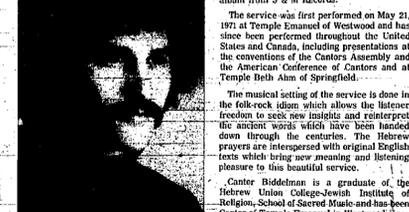

During the early 20th century, the nation's jails and prisons were filled with the minds, bodies and souls of our nation's hardest and most vicious criminals. It was known to the underworld as the toughest prison to break out of. It was called the Rock, as it was called. It was the pride of law enforcement, and the shame of its inhabitants. It was, vicariously, escape-proof. It was well known that when there are laws, there are lawbreakers. When there is authority, there is violation of authority.

FLOOD HAZARDS — Inspecting Rahway River in Springfield, where they charged state authorities had dredged only part of the channel, are, from left, Democratic freeholder candidates William J. McCleod, Walter E. Boright and John D. Molozzo and Springfield Township Committee members Ed Fanning and Stanley Brucio. They called on state and federal authorities to end this "horrendous condition" in the Rt. 78 construction area.

Halpin urges voters approve change in charter for county

Union County Clerk Walter G. Halpin this week announced his "full and total support of the Union County Charter referendum."

"A 'yes' vote would bring the first real change in county government in Union County in 17 years, when we were created as a county by act of the New Jersey Legislature," Halpin said. He also commended the nine Charter Commissioners and their staff for their long, arduous task and the efficient and articulate report and recommendation to the citizens of the county.

COUNTY CHARTER CAN BENEFIT YOU!

The County Manager Plan provides for the separation of powers between the Freeholder Board with clear legislative powers and a County Manager with clearly defined executive and administrative powers, all of which are clearly defined in the proposed Charter. Under our present system of County Government, there is no separation of powers. The Freeholder Board has not only legislative power, but is also burdened with executive and administrative detail.

Duties of County Manager	Duties of Freeholder Board
--------------------------	----------------------------

Duties of County Manager
Chief Executive Administrator County
Appoints and removes all department heads and all other officials in administrative service.
Prepares budget and annual message.
Introduces legislation.
May appoint an Assistant Manager.
If the Board of Freeholders creates the position.
Supervises the care and custody of all County property institutions and agencies.
Supervises the collection of revenues, audits and controls all disbursements and expenditures and prepares a complete account of all expenditures.
Shall designate the repositories of County funds.
Negotiates contracts for County services subject to approval by the Board of Freeholders.
Ex officio non-voting member of all appointive bodies in County Government.
May require reports and examine the accounts, records and operation of County Government.
Executes and administers the provisions of the Administrative Code adopted by the Board of Freeholders.
May remove employees in non-classified service subject to review by the Board of Freeholders.

Duties of Freeholder Board
Hires and fires the Manager by majority vote.
Manager can be dismissed only after charges have been filed against him and a hearing is held with reference to the charges.
Passes ordinances and resolutions.
Contracts with municipalities.
Adopts Administrative Code.
Passes Legislation.
Passes or modifies budget.
Investigates administrative department.
Appoints Counsel and Clerk to Board.
Appoints members of all Boards and Commissions and other bodies whose manner of appointment is not otherwise specified in this article.
May pass a resolution of disapproval of a suspension or dismissal of a non-classified employee by a 2/3 vote.
Creates, consolidates, divides or abolishes departments in the administrative branch of the Government.
May abolish or consolidate autonomous agencies, mandated by State statute provided such abolition or consolidation shall not alter the obligation of the County to continue providing the services.

The County Manager Plan rests on the assumption that a fully qualified professional manager is the best person to run a county government.

The Board of Freeholders hires the Manager and it may fire him, but only after charges and a hearing, but while he is Manager he is the Chief Executive responsible for the entire administration of the County. Under certain conditions, he can hire and fire - subject to disapproval by the Board - runs the administration without political interference and insures the efficient and effective administration of the Government.

The Manager prepares the budget reports annually to the people and the Freeholders, and may recommend legislation.

The Manager is an appointed official, follows policies adopted by the Freeholders. They set the general course that the County will follow; the Manager is responsible for following that course.

The Board of Freeholders has the authority under our present laws to appoint a County Administrator. They have done this. They have appointed a person who is well qualified for this post. However, the appointment does not result in a separation of powers. He is under the direct control of the Board of Freeholders. He has no legal, authorized executive or administrative powers except as assigned or delegated to him by the Board of Freeholders. He serves solely in a ministerial function; to carry out the explicit directions of the Board of Freeholders. His duties are not clearly defined as are duties of a County Manager in the Charter set out above. His duties and functions can be changed or altered or increased or decreased at any time by the Board of Freeholders. On the other hand, the duties of a County Manager are set out in the Charter (which is similar to a Constitution) and cannot be changed or altered, or increased or decreased without an amendment to the Charter Law.

Although the County Administrator has been appointed for a term of three years, as the present law provides, his term will end if a County Manager is appointed.

FRIDAY DEADLINE

All items other than spot items should be in our office by noon on Friday.

Students suspended from normal school activities, must sit quietly in this chastity chair (more appropriate than "rock" for the duration of a school day which is as long as 7 hours). Although this attention facility is presently a single chair, it will be expanded to include a number of chairs before a psychiatric ward will be constructed to house these students who suffer mental breakdowns from the confined environment of the school. Don't think heaven forbid, "rehabilitation" is confined areas being mislabeled. They are permitted to purchase a single daily meal either from the resident food facility or one brought from home. Water is also provided freely. The strict or "language" "rehabilitation" program has been developed, although it is expected that "language" students from this facility will be very adept at "sitting still and doing nothing."

A huge rebuff is upset about this case at Stouffer's Short Hills. After all, the safest place for a rule violator is not to make waves. While they're learning these skills, they're always volunteer for radical medical experimentation or blood donation.

Exam measures child development

Dr. Margaret E. Symonds, acting medical director of Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountsinside, a physical rehabilitation center for physically handicapped children, says the "wait and see" policy when parents feel a child is not progressing in development.

"It is best to wait and see if the child is simply developing more slowly and will have caught up in a few months," says Dr. Symonds. "How much better to give this anxiety through the developmental examination. Should this examination uncover a significant problem, the sooner help is given, the better. Early intervention pays off, as problems can be helped when a child is little better than they can when he is older."

Centers like Children's Specialized—where a child may receive a developmental examination and also be seen by a team of professionals in psychiatry, psychology, physical therapy, speech and occupational therapy—are relatively new, according to Dr. Symonds.

"I like to be the last member of the team to evaluate the child," says Dr. Symonds. After reassessing the young patient that there will be no "red flags," Dr. Symonds begins a pediatric examination "from head to foot."

"The things I look for are alterations in tendon reflex, or abnormal reflexes which should fade disappear," she says. "Patterns of movement are also important; not just can he do it, but how he does it, as these patterns are weak but basically normal. How well does his motor system work, and his fine motor movements such as buttoning buttons? Fine motor movements are also important; not just can he do it, but how he does it, as these patterns are weak but basically normal. Alcohol and teens focus of meeting

The Union County Division of the National Council on Alcoholism and the Union County Youth Service Bureau sponsored a conference Tuesday on alcohol and teenagers. The meeting was held at the Crawford Methodist Church and included the showing of a film, "99 Bottles of Beer."

The evaluation, when completed, is followed up with recommendations which help to improve the physical condition, or attempt the learning process.

"We try to help the mother plan a whole living situation that will work. We try to get adequate nursery school, or other school. We see that the child's medical needs get attention, and draw upon special therapists which can improve function. We also refer the parents to genetic counseling when we feel the problem may be helped by knowing their chances of having normal children, or if more children will also have genetic abnormalities," says Dr. Symonds.

If there is no remedy, if the handicap cannot be repaired, the child must be accepted as he is and taught to function to the best of his ability," Dr. Symonds adds.

"Where real neurological damage exists, or complicated, multiple problems, this is where the help of a child's Specialized Hospital is of inestimable value."

Regional reports rating of students

Union County Regional High School seniors this year received a rank in the state in the top 10, 20 or 30 percent in class. However, Dr. Francis Kenny, director of pupil services, stated that the "senior" request that their rank in class be numerically reported, as 1, 2, 3, etc., or no rank in class be reported on the transcript.

This ranking procedure will enable students to choose the means of reporting rank in class to meet their specific needs. The procedure will be used in each Regional High School and will record the rank in class of each senior in twelve if a student wishes to report a numerical rank in class or no rank in class, or he will have to indicate this request on a transcript release form.

VETERANS DAY

A Day Dedicated To World Peace

1918 - Veterans Day - 1974

Fifty-six years have passed since the original Armistice Day or Veterans day (as it is now called). Fifty-six years and many wars since the day in 1918 when "the war to end all wars" ended. We commemorate the anniversary of this day with the belief that peace will prevail and wars will end with the hope for mutual understanding between nations and good will among all peoples; and with a sincere tribute to those who have valiantly fought for our country.

County LWV to support county manager system

Mrs. Diana Trowbridge, president of the Union County Council of the League of Women Voters, has announced the league's consensus position on county government reform. "We agree," she stated, "that Union County's form of government should be changed because the present structure results in (a) waste of money through duplication of employees and equipment; (b) lack of proper evaluation; (c) an inefficient budgeting process; (d) part-time freeholders being asked to administer a full-time government; (e) legislative and administrative functions being performed by the freeholders; (f) possibility of excessive political patronage, both in hiring personnel and in making appointments; and (g) lack of accountability. "We support the Charter Commission recommendation for a county manager plan with also freeholders elected at large for staggered terms." Mrs. Trowbridge explained, "because this provides for separation of the legislative and administrative functions, with clear lines of accountability; removes freeholders from administrative tasks and gives them the responsibility for establishing policy and long-range planning. "The League of Women Voters' consensus," Mrs. Trowbridge stressed, also draws attention to the legislative role freeholders should assume. "Free of all administrative duties under the county manager plan, their major responsibility would be to measure the effectiveness of current programs and to assess the future needs of the county. The voter would then be able to see where the responsibility for the future needs of the county manager plan should be placed. "The Union County League will work for voter approval of the county manager plan because of the potential for improvement it offers," Mrs. Trowbridge concluded. The proposed governmental change will be referendum question No. 7 on the November ballot.

Christmas cards offered for sale by Cancer Society

Herbert W. Sanders, president of the Union County Unit, American Cancer Society, reports that orders are now being taken for American Cancer Society Christmas cards. "It is due to the increasing popularity and limited quantities of these cards that we have decided to offer the five selections at this early date," Sanders explained. "In the past, individuals and businesses alike have contributed an amount exceeding the cost incurred in sending traditional cards to their friends, family and colleagues in the business community," he said. Each card contains a statement acknowledging a contribution to the American Cancer Society with each box holding 50. The cards available this year include: a gold embossed partridge in a pear tree on a white card trimmed in red; three young carolers singing beneath a street light, in beige with a brown border; white with red trim across another card in gold lettering with the words "Season's Greetings"; a silver blue card with a blue velvet border depicting churchgoers on a snowy night; beige with a green border along the bottom with the symbols of six major religions adorning a branch. "Because the supplies are limited, orders may only be filled on a first come, first served basis while they last," so the Unit Office suggests that interested residents place their orders early," Sanders said. If you are interested in any of the cards mentioned, contact the Union County office of the American Cancer Society at 912 Westminister Ave., Elizabeth 07208 or call 354-7373.

Firemen's group endorses Rinaldo

The State Firemen's Mutual Benefit Association, representing 5,000 professional firemen in New Jersey, today announced its endorsement of Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union for reelection. James Heller, president of the State F.M.B.A., said that Congressman Rinaldo has supported efforts to improve fire safety while in Congress and during his five-year term as a state senator. He also pointed out that Rinaldo has backed survivor benefits for the widows of firemen who lose their lives in the line of duty. "Congressman Rinaldo is a proven friend of New Jersey's firefighters," Heller said. "He has carried on his outstanding public record in Congress. It is a record that we all know and trust."

Library exhibit focus on Italians in America

The State F.M.B.A. represents paid firemen in 60 municipalities in New Jersey. The endorsement was voted at a state meeting of F.M.B.A. delegates in New Brunswick. "Children of Columbus, the Italian American Experience," is an exhibit in the second floor gallery of the Newark Public Library, 5 Washington St., through Nov. 30. Featuring books, photographs, documents and various art displays, the exhibit captures both the individual and group experience of the Italians in America from the early 1700's to the present.

Investors Savings and Loan Association logo and name.

But don't take our word for it. Ask George P. Thomas of Summit. He'll tell you how one phone call to Matt Rinaldo was all it took to solve his social security problem.

Or ask Mrs. Rogelio Caparrros of Elizabeth. Matt went to bat for her when she had an immigration problem. She'll tell you it was Matt Rinaldo who cut through the red tape in Washington and solved her problem.

Or ask Mrs. Virginia Campbell of Union, or Ira Edelman of Cranford, or Harold Miller of Rahway, or any of the more than 1,500 people Matt Rinaldo has personally helped with veterans problems, or environmental problems, or pension problems - or any of the hundreds of problems that face the people of Union County. They've found out that the man to turn to, the man who gets action, is Congressman Matt Rinaldo.

It was Matt Rinaldo who pushed for fairer compensation for the families of police and firemen killed in the line of duty. When professional fishermen found their industry threatened they turned to Matt Rinaldo for action. They'll tell you that after years of excuses and inaction, it was Congressman Rinaldo who successfully fought for hearings in New Jersey on his bill to extend off shore fishing rights to 200 miles.

Of course, we have to admit that not everyone likes Matt Rinaldo. The farmers, for example, aren't thrilled with Matt. Maybe it's because he's always voted against wasteful farm subsidies that help keep our food prices high.

There are probably lots of people in the huge Federal bureaucracy who don't think much of Matt, either. That's because he's consistently voted to trim the Federal budget and eliminate all wasteful and unnecessary spending programs.

Matt Rinaldo hasn't got too many fans in Turkey, either. That's because he won House approval for his amendment to ban loans to Turkey until Turkey stops cultivating opium poppies.

You probably won't find too many wealthy tax avoiders who like Matt. Maybe that's because he's fought to close their tax loopholes.

And there's probably a rich young candidate for Congress in Union County who doesn't think too much of Matt. Maybe that's because Matt spearheaded the drive in the House to pass legislation that would prevent rich young men from using their inherited wealth to try and buy a seat in Congress.

So when you cast your ballot on November 5th, don't just judge Matt Rinaldo by the friends he's made - the real people of Union County - the people he's dedicated his public service career to helping. Remember his enemies, too.

We think that Mrs. Jennifer Heimmell of Elizabeth put it best when she wrote: "We are fortunate to have as our Congressman someone who really is interested in his constituents; someone who makes their problems his problems."

Matt Rinaldo. He's your connection in Washington. He's the kind of connection that money just can't buy.

TOMORROW'S STARS — Pete Ari, at quarterback, awaits the snap from center Anthony Castellani in a prelude to action in the Springfield Recreation Department's midweek football clinic. The clinic, under the supervision of Joe Rappano, is conducted for third, fourth and fifth graders and consists of instruction and coaching in football fundamentals, as well as an introductory play on a controlled-scrimmage basis. The program is held on Saturdays from 9 to 11 a.m. at Meisels (Photo by Jim Adams)

Recruiting dinner scheduled for high school football stars

A New Jersey Football All-Star Dinner will be held Wednesday, Dec. 11, to honor the state's scholastic gridiron champions. The players will be selected by a committee of sports writers from around the state. The dinner will be held at the Garden Court Restaurant on Rt. 34 in Madison Township. In addition to the scholastic stars, coaches from 100 colleges are expected to attend. Some who have already sent in their resumes are from Ohio State, University of Pittsburgh, University of Illinois, Dartmouth and Princeton. Following the dinner, the coaches will be recognized for further discussions between the players and the coaches. Chairman of the program is MITI

Fitness Council to hold regional clinic Nov. 4-5

The President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, in cooperation with New Jersey's State Department of Education, Division of Curriculum and Instruction, and the Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, will hold a Mid-Atlantic Regional Physical Fitness and Sports Clinic with the following states attending: Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania, on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 4 and 5. The clinic will be held at Monmouth College, West Long Branch. It will open with the registration on Monday at 8 a.m. in the new Public Auditorium. Programs will begin at 9 a.m. with a welcome by Dr. Richard Stoneifer, president of Monmouth College. C. Carson Connor, executive director of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, will introduce the clinicians and guests. The action lab clinics will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day with a break for lunch. But, cautioned Fontana, the veterans may not find it so easy to get into the clinic. "There are a number of bond issues throughout the state in addition to the transportation bond and voters, when they see a bond issue on the ballot, think 'higher taxes.' I'm afraid people may vote them down. If we don't get some money, I don't know what's going to happen."

Expansion slated for softball league

The Union County high school girls' softball league, sponsored by the Union County Park Commission, is planning to expand. Adults are invited to attend a meeting Monday, Nov. 11 at 8 p.m. in the administration building of the Union County Park Commission in Whippany Park, Acme and Canton streets, Elizabeth. Plans for the 1975 softball season will be discussed. This past year, the newly-formed league included five schools and one club. It is hoped more high school girls will be able to participate in the sport. For further information on the dinner and obtaining tickets, members may contact MITI, telephone 375-8341. For additional information readers may call the Park Commission at 375-8341.

Committee forms to seek support for housing bond

A better supply of housing and a boost to New Jersey's sagging economy are cited by a statewide group formed this week to seek voter approval Nov. 5 of the public referendum calling for a $50 million bond issue to stimulate new housing construction.

The "YES for Housing" committee is headed by labor, business, church, and civic leaders who see far-reaching benefits from this solution to the State's critical housing shortage. Treasurer is the Rev. Dr. Andrew Sebban, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Trenton.

"Though there are many undigested needs crying out for attention in New Jersey, none has placed such a tremendous burden on so many of our people as the critical shortage of housing," Dr. Sebban declared.

"It is our intention in these last few weeks before Election Day to show voters why this public question, listed on the list of six statewide questions, should be first in the minds of our citizens," he said.

Termed the New Jersey Housing Assistance Bond Act of 1974, the $50 million bond issue would generate more than $1 billion in construction of new or rehabilitated multi-family dwelling units over a five-year span, according to the sponsors of the legislation, Dr. Sebban said.

Workers earnings up; purchasing power declines

Gross weekly earnings of factory production workers in the New York-Northeastern New Jersey area rose $1.48 to an average of $126.66 in August. It was announced this week by Herbert Bierstock, the U.S. Department of Labor's assistant regional director for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, who leads the BLS office in New York. The August rise mirrored a 2.6 percent increase in the average workweek to 39.3 hours. Average hourly earnings declined seasonally by one cent to $4.48 in August.

Despite the increase in gross weekly earnings, the purchasing power of area factory production workers' paychecks declined 0.2 percent in August, as area consumer prices rose sharply by 1.6 percent. Purchasing power is measured by changes in real net spendable earnings, that is, average earnings adjusted for federal income and social security taxes which more than offset earnings gains.

Over the year August 1973 to August 1974, weekly earnings rose $12.29 or 8.0 percent. Purchasing power, however, declined 3.3 percent over the year, primarily reflecting a 10 percent increase in area consumer prices which more than offset earnings gains.

Nov. 6 Seton talk for Von Daniken

Swiss author Erich von Daniken, whose books have been translated into 32 languages, have sold more than 28 million copies, and are the top-selling titles on college campuses, will speak at Seton Hall University, South Orange, on Wednesday, Nov. 6, at 8:30 p.m. in the Student Center. He will discuss his controversial theories that the earth was visited in ancient times by astronauts from outer space who deposited seeds of today's civilization and then departed. Tickets are $3.50.

Dysautonomia chapter to hold dinner-dance

The Northern New Jersey Chapter of Dysautonomia will hold its 10th annual dinner-dance at the Patricia Caterers, Livingston, tonight at 6:30. Elaine Trisler is chairlady.

At the dinner, a check will be presented by chapter president Ticha Cohen to Dr. Edward Kudler, president of the Dysautonomia Foundation.

The theme of the all-day meeting will be "Technology and the Quality of Life." Dr. William J. McKeefery, president of William Paterson College, will deliver the keynote address following lunch.

Free heart exams for men 35 to 57

The College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ) has some good news for men aged 35 to 57. They can get a free checkup that will tell them if they have a heart attack.

If they're in the risk category, that's bad news of course, but then they may be eligible for further screening and expert treatment, and that's good news.

The invitation for a free checkup comes from Mr. FIT (Multiple Risk Factor Intervention Trial), a program being conducted in the state by CMDNJ-New Jersey Medical School, Newark, and CMDNJ-Rutgers Medical School, Piscataway, as part of a new nationwide effort of the National Institutes of Health to prove heart disease can be reduced by heeding certain risk factors.

The factors were identified by Dr. Norman Lasser of CMDNJ-New Jersey Medical School as excess cholesterol, cigarette smoking and hypertension (high blood pressure).

Both Dr. Lasser's team in Newark and the Piscataway team, headed by Dr. Marisa Gotlib, are arranging with community publicly health officials to observe the Friday deadline for other than spot news.

Men found to be susceptible to heart attack will receive two additional screenings, also without charge. Included are a complete physical examination and an exercise electrocardiogram.

Meeting is scheduled by unit to save infants

The New Jersey Chapter of the National Foundation on Sudden Infant Death will hold its first meeting of the year tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at the Shoreville VFW Hall, Shoreville.

Choral unit will hold rehearsal

The Riverdale Choral Society of New York and New Jersey will hold a "rehearsal" for interested singers from the New Jersey area Monday, Nov. 4 at 8 p.m. in the Kenan College Theater for the Performing Arts, Morris Avenue, Union.

Persons interested in performing choral literature, from recital to contemporary may attend.

The New Jersey Branch of the 11-year-old Riverdale Choral Society of New York was founded last year by conductor James Collier.

Professor of Music and coordinator of choral activities at Kenan College. The repertoire includes works by Bach, Brahms, Bloch, Heneguer, Mozart, Tsongas, Vivaldi and others. Some performances are given in combination with the choral groups from Kenan College.

This season the society will begin rehearsals of Arthur Heneguer's "King David" which is scheduled for performance in May at the College of Mount St. Vincent in New York and Kenan College.

Other concerts on the calendar are Donizetti's "L'Elisir d'Amour" on Dec. 5 and the Lincoln Center Library for the Performing Arts on April 19, both in New York.

The featured work from last season, "German Requiem," by Johannes Brahms, will be performed in the late winter at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Montclair.

The Commission unanimously recommends that the County of Union adopt the County Manager Plan under the Optional County Charter Law. For this reason, there shall be placed upon the ballot at the general election, November 5, 1974, as a public question to be submitted to the legal voters of the County of Union, the following:

YES. Shall the County Manager Plan of the Optional County Charter Law be adopted for Union County with provision for a board of freeholders of nine members, elected for non-concurrent terms and elected all at-large?
NO.
INTERPRETIVE STATEMENT
A vote of yes is a vote in favor of a new County Charter providing for a county manager appointed by a nine-member board of freeholders, all of whom are elected at-large for staggered terms.
A vote of no is a vote to retain the present Union County government with no County Charter.

SUMMARY OF THE REPORT

The Charter Study Commission recommends that the County of Union change its form of government to the County Manager Plan as described in the Optional County Charter Law, with a board of freeholders of nine members to be elected at-large for staggered terms. Change is necessary because the present form of County government can neither address current problems nor prepare for the future. The lack of a central professional administrative and planning capability, the excessive fragmentation of government, and the absence of policy control, all make Union County government inordinately expensive and highly inefficient. Union County is at a stage where it needs capable leadership with the tools for efficient management in order to meet the challenges of the present and future. The County Manager Plan offers political and legislative leadership in the form of an elected board of freeholders and administrative competence in the form of a County Manager, qualified by administrative and executive experience and ability to serve as the chief executive of the County. (Optional Charter Study Law).

The Freeholder Board of nine members would not be concerned with the administrative details of running the daily operation of the County and would concentrate its efforts on the job of legislating, making policy, and being responsive to the citizenry. Implementation of policy and supervision of departmental activities would be under the professional control and direction of the County Manager. At-large elections should be retained in order to ensure that the Board of Freeholders is representative and representative of all of the citizens. Staggered terms (three board members elected one year, and three in each of the following two years - all for three-year terms) will provide for continuity of experience while giving the voters a frequent opportunity to express their views.

LEGAL NOTICE

An additional benefit of adopting one of the plans described in the Optional County Charter Law is the inclusion, within the new Charter of provisions for removal of elective officers by recall, and voter initiative and adoption of ordinances through petition and referendum. The Commission concludes that Union County is spending now enough money to have a government which provides the elected leadership with good management tools. The present structure tends to frustrate these purposes. The recommended changes can produce better government and has a greater potential for reducing costs.

I. SUMMARY OF FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

THE ROLE OF COUNTY GOVERNMENT

This report proposes a county government designed to provide more economical and responsive services - under today's constraints - to the citizens of Union County. It is also one which can meet tomorrow's challenges without requiring any substantial change or amendments. As such, it recognizes both (1) the current need for improved administration and control, and (2) the emerging enlargement of the role of counties in providing those services which do not properly belong to the State or municipalities, and which can be provided more efficiently and effectively by counties.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

The Commission's basic findings, as they concern the present form of government in Union County, are listed below:

- General authority to run the government is too fragmented.
Executive power is diluted because there is no single responsible individual - and the existence of freeholder committees fosters parochial interest, at the decision-making level.
There is insufficient communication between the various autonomous and semi-autonomous agencies and the freeholders, between County agencies and State-managed and County-supported activities. On the other hand, there is excessive freeholder involvement in the day-to-day minutiae of County departments.
The freeholders are unduly involved in administration with the result that planning, budgeting, and evaluation of results are often neglected.
There is little opportunity for professionalism in the County government, due to the lack of executive power and the policy of making political appointments, even to the level of the head of the smallest department.
Because of the structure, too many officials see only a piece of the picture and overall direction of the County's affairs is frustrated.
The present system perpetuates wasteful practices and procedures and "government by crisis."
In their capacity as "department heads", the freeholders are also known as "directors" of departments - leading to the appearance, in practice, of a federation of eight semi-autonomous departments. The degree of autonomy is often a matter of the personality of the freeholder, the permissiveness of his colleagues, and the urgency of decision-making.
Were the freeholders to appoint an administrator, without a Charter change, he would have no legally authorized executive power; and would serve solely in a ministerial function, that is, carry out the explicit directions of the freeholders without any power of independent decision-making.
Annual re-assignment of departmental responsibility to freeholders, such as is now the case, causes confusion and an unevenness of expertise - but it is a product of "party in power" changes and the practice of politician administrators.
The present system inhibits general long-range financial planning and central budget preparation and control.

LEGAL NOTICE

The opportunity for direct citizen involvement is not reached independently. In fact, all members of the need for change - and each mentioned one or more of the above shortcomings - it is clear that Union County is spending enough to have good management; that the freeholders would like to have good management; and that the present structure tends to frustrate that purpose. It should be made clear that the above findings were not reached independently. In fact, all members of the need for change - and each mentioned one or more of the above shortcomings - it is clear that Union County is spending enough to have good management; that the freeholders would like to have good management; and that the present structure tends to frustrate that purpose.

SUMMARY OF RECOMMENDATIONS

Based on its findings, its analysis of the Optional County Charter Law, and its review of the experience of other jurisdictions, the Commission recommends:
The adoption of the County Manager Plan, as specified in the Optional County Charter Law, as the best available means of strengthening the government of the County of Union - and as the modern tool for obtaining more efficient, responsive, accountable, and economical County Government.
The adoption of an administrative code following the guidelines contained in Appendix B, a budgeting system, and freeholder policies which will both streamline the governmental structure and facilitate maximum benefit from resources applied.
Under the recommended plan, Union County will have:
A Freeholder Board with clear legislative powers, relieved of administrative detail, and charged with setting out policies and plans for the future.
A County Manager, appointed by the Board with clearly defined executive duties and powers - an extension to the solution of today's needs, qualities and tomorrow's service delivery responsibilities.
Clear separation of powers between the Board and the Manager - led with the Board having full power to serve as the independent critic and control of the Manager.
Unified administration centered in the County Manager.
Protections against abuses by County officials and safeguards against classified County employees. The right of direct citizen action is guaranteed through provisions for recall, and initiative and referendum.
Last, but not least, the recommended charter provides structural flexibility for reorganizing County departments by the newly elected Board of Freeholders along functional lines to permit fuller cooperation, eliminate duplication, and thereby promote greater economies.

THE COMMISSION

The County and Municipal Government Study Commission (the so-called "Mista Commission") in its report "County Government: Challenge and Change", made the following statements:

LEGAL NOTICE

County government can play an increasingly important role in a revitalized and strengthened local government system. While a decade ago many felt that any area-wide government was a threat to home rule, the Commission feels that such a middle-level government is an absolute necessity if we are to preserve the local government, do not, prevent the absorption of ultra-county problems in cooperation with other counties and state government. Counties have strong political, administrative, and functional roots in New Jersey, and they have sufficient territorial and population size to undertake area wide services. Moreover, their boundaries, while man-made, do not prevent the solution of ultra-county problems in cooperation with other counties and state government.

SUMMARY

In this chapter, the Commission has presented its recommendations for a plan of government designed to solve today's problems and to prepare for the future. As has been stated previously, and is reiterated here, the plan of government is not the skeleton but, if configured correctly, it can be adorned with the muscles, flesh, sinews, nerves, et al, necessary to bring efficient, responsive government to Union County. That, the Commission asks the voters for a frame, which with care and voter control can become their government.
The Commission deliberated, at length, relative to its recommendations, and had many lengthy discussions concerning the power given the County Manager in the recommended plan. In the final analysis, the Commission took the position that the current and probably future problems of the County were such as to require the most highly qualified professional occupying a position where he can be truly effective. This is not fully by keeping with the past trends in local government in New Jersey, but, in many cases, New Jersey experience has not been of a nature which should establish a trend. Thus, in its final decision, the Commission took the view that a clean break from the past is required if the necessary things are to be done.
The Commission also determined that the general provisions of the Optional County Charter Law would be of such major benefit to the County that they fully comprehend its view that strong professional leadership is, and will be, needed. This, combined with full protection of the status of current classified civil service employees, was a strong element in Commission deliberations.

The potential loss of current (and elected in 1974) freeholder experience is, in the Commission's view, a small price to pay for a chance at a new beginning, and this is buttressed by the fact that the incumbent freeholders may become candidates for the Board to be elected in November, 1975. But if the new plan has been accepted by that time, they will have to make a commitment in their campaigns to the new order of things.
VI. EFFECTIVENESS AND ECONOMY OF THE COMMISSION'S RECOMMENDATIONS
The Optional County Charter Law requires that the Commission make a judgment as to whether the government could be made more clearly responsible or accountable to the people.
Do the elected officials have the power and authority to take care of community problems? Is the government organized to permit the people to become involved in key processes such as setting priorities and allocating monies? Are responsibilities clearly defined so that public officials can be held accountable for their actions, or, conversely, lack of action? These are some of the questions the Commission had to resolve in making a judgment regarding the degree of responsiveness and accountability in each form of government.
The Law also requires the Commission to make a judgment as to whether or not the operation could be more economical or efficient, under a changed form of government. Economy in government is an objective that all citizens can appreciate and support. How the taxpayer's dollar is spent and the services obtained for that dollar are of vital concern to public officials and their constituents alike.
Efficiencies of expenditures are influenced by the organizational structure, the manner in which activities which administrative, budgetary, planning, personnel, budgeting) have been centralized.
However, in the opinion of the Commission, the primary economy in government is derived from the efficiency with which the budget monies are matched with the overall priorities and objectives of the County.
The purpose of this chapter is to present the expectations of the Commission, relative to the effectiveness and economy of the County Manager Plan in Union County.

EFFECTIVENESS OF GOVERNMENT

If a government is responsive to and meets citizen needs, and there is a clear accountability trail, then it is effective.
The Union County government is too remote from the people, it has no defined priorities, and it is so fragmented (at the top, and as a result of the plethora of agencies) that even experienced Court House workers often have trouble getting a decision. Probably, the most symbolic evidence of this fragmentation is that there are five work week duration (30, 35, 33, 37, and 40 hours) amongst the groups paid by the County. There is no budget staff (the outside auditors prepared the 1974 revenue estimates) and, therefore, no ordering of funding priorities. As for accountability, the best evidence of its lack is the absence of direct control over major County services (hospitals, parks, etc.). Thus, the County government today is structurally unable to learn what the citizens' needs are, and be responsive to them.
Ideally, the steps which would be followed in providing responsive government are priority setting, budget making, and executive oversight. Outlined below are the Commission's views as to how these would be accomplished under the County Manager Plan.

STEP COMMISSION COMMENT

1. Priority setting
The County budgets would reflect the priorities as set by the Board of Freeholders. Inputs to the Board would come from the Planning Board, the County Manager, the educational community, and the various advisory and autonomous bodies. Most importantly, through public hearings held by the Board, these priorities would be set prior to the development of detailed budgets and would be the basis for the preparation of the annual budgets by the County Manager. This latter effort, handled professionally, provides accountability in the sense that it is the Manager who is finally responsible for the budget submitted to the Board.

LEGAL NOTICE

2. Budget-making
The Optional County Charter Law requires that the operating budget outline financial priorities, describe the important features of the budget plan, and set forth reasons for changes from the preceding year. It also requires that considerable detail relative to revenues and expenditures be included in the capital budget. This detail, combined with the priorities set by the Board, should give the County a rational, specific plan for allocating its monies.
The Commission believes that the capacity of responsible public officials to oversee effectively the performance of County operations is a key determinant of good government. Under the present form, the Board of Freeholders, while working far more hours than should be expected from part-time officials, just cannot find time away from administrative detail to perform this function. The requirement that the County Manager make recommendations to the Board, report annually to the Board on the work of the County, advise departments and agencies, and review and forecast trends in County services places the executive oversight responsibility directly on him.
The Board's budget approval and ordinance resolution, passing budgets, provide a capability for further oversight of the Manager's performance.

ECONOMY IN GOVERNMENT

Efficient management of a complex service delivery system, such as County government, demands the institution of an effective means of integrating such activities as planning, budgeting, monitoring and evaluation. As noted earlier, these activities are now either not performed, or are done so in a hit-or-miss manner.
- There are no spelled-out goals or objectives.
- There is no mechanism for coordination of functional planning (i.e., health, recreation, welfare, transportation, law enforcement).
- There is no capital budget; in the true sense.
- Budget preparation is done in the absence of priorities or substantive (other than format) guidelines.
- There is no monitoring in the sense of there being a continuous review of actual accomplishments vis-a-vis those planned.
- Evaluation, the measuring of results, is also nonexistent.
The recommended County Manager Plan places responsibility for these activities directly on the Manager. This, then, is a first long step toward efficient government. But the knowledgeable citizen still asks what it will cost. There are the economies which will prevent County government costs from escalating nearly 100 percent in the next six years (as they have done in the past six years).
The Commission has taken the view that the economies to be anticipated from adoption of the County Manager Plan fall into two principal categories - short-term and long-term.
Short-term economies include such areas as reduction in numbers of top positions through consolidation of agencies, greater control of use of vehicles, elimination of over staffing, and closer budgetary control.

LEGAL NOTICE

The Commission did not, because of time constraints, conduct a detailed study of the budgets of the fifty governmental agencies at the County level. However, in the case of thirteen agencies, savings which would result from adoption of the County Manager's Plan were readily apparent. These, totaling $342,125, are identified in Table VI-A, below. The cost of the County Manager's Plan (estimated not to exceed $31,250) must be subtracted from this total, giving net possible initial savings of $310,875. The Commission is convinced that further study would identify significant additional short-term economies, and is supported in this belief by knowledgeable members of the County government.

TABLE VI-A

INITIAL ESTIMATE OF SHORT-TERM SAVINGS (Based on 1974 County Budgets)
Table with 4 columns: FUNCTION, PRESENT COUNTY COSTS, ESTIMATED SAVINGS, NET SAVINGS. Rows include Finance and Personnel, Staff Services, Planning, Public Works/Buildings, Roads, Bridges, Health Services, and a TOTAL of $342,125.

Long-term economies are a combination of direct savings and cost avoidance. Potential direct savings include (1) reductions in staffing of mandated agencies through work load analysis, (2) further agency consolidation, and (3) provision of contracted support services to municipalities, thereby obtaining economies of scale and the resultant lessened total tax bill. Obviously, long-term savings are impacted by the rate of inflation of costs and by the number and type of services offered by the County. In many cases, the result will be cost avoidance, that is, the provision of the required service under the new plan at a lesser cost than would have been possible under the current form of government.

Because there are currently no counties operating under one of the plans contained in the Optional County Charter Law, there is no factual evidence of the economies which can be anticipated in County government. However, there is factual evidence - in a Rutgers study of what happened in cities adopting Council-Manager or Mayor-Council Charter forms - that the Optional County Charter Act. In the case of these thirty-one municipalities:

- Actual level of per capita municipal expenditures in the first year under the new Charter was 4.5 per cent under the predicted (based on the trend of the preceding four years) level.
- Actual rate of per capita expenditures increases was almost 20 per cent lower than the predicted rate, in the four years after enactment.
Because the detailed evidence is not available, there cannot be any certainty that these cost avoidance economies realized directly from the change in governmental form. However, there is certainly solid reason to believe that improved analysis, more facts, direct lines of responsibility, and professional management will contribute measurably.

SUMMARY

In this chapter, the Commission has presented its analysis, leading to its conclusion that:
- The County Manager Plan will provide Union County with the necessary framework for a more responsive and accountable government.
- Under the County Manager Plan (on the basis of the 1974 County budget) short-term savings exceeding $300,000 can be expected.
- Long-term savings, based on the experience of municipalities which adopted a strong executive form, can be anticipated.

A PLAN OF ACTION FOR AN ORDERLY TRANSITION
The County Manager Plan will be installed according to the following timetable:

Table with 2 columns: DATE, ACTION. Row: November 5, 1974, Referendum on Charter, discharge of the Union County Charter Study Commission.

LEGAL NOTICE

November 4, 1975 Election of new Board of Freeholders
November 10, 1975 The new Board of Freeholders takes office and organizes itself (selecting a chairman and a vice chairman to serve until January 1, 1977, at which time another chairman and vice chairman election for one year terms takes place).
May 1, 1976 (not later than) The administrative code is adopted and all new agencies, officials, and relationships set forth in the code enter into effect at 12:00 noon.
The above are the requirements of the statute, but there are many other decisions which must be faced. Of major importance is the organization of County departments and agencies and the appointment of officers (the first of which should be the new County Manager).
The best method of setting up the departments is by writing the organizational structure into the administrative code. Since this document establishes the basic procedures for conducting County business, its preparation should be commenced during the year between election and approval of the new Charter. The current government should assume the responsibility for beginning this vital task and set aside sufficient funds in the 1975 budget.
As a result of the commencement of the administrative code effort, the new Board will be able to begin its decision making early in its life - and would then be in a position to recruit for the new manager early in 1976. This will permit his having time to review the draft code, make any suggestions for amendment and select his department heads - all by May 1, 1976.
In addition to the above there will be relatively minor costs incurred in rearranging offices, new stationery, and documentation (including computer changes) of the new organization. The tasks involved in changing to the County Manager Plan, along with these costs which can be estimated, are shown in Exhibit A-1.

TRANSITIONAL TASKS

- 1. Citizens vote on County Manager Plan
2. Determine costs of conversion (including preparation of administrative code, space for new Board and for County Manager, equipment needs, et cetera) and include in 1975 budget.
3. Assign and begin work on administrative code.
4. New Board takes office; make administrative and facility changes.
5. Complete preliminary action on administrative code and commence recruitment of Manager.
6. Select Manager.
7. Manager selects department heads, Board and Manager establish salary ranges.
8. Develop internal structure of new government and necessary classified employee reassignment plans.
9. Establish time tables for internal structure organizational and procedural improvements.
10. Constitute membership for legislative and executive boards and Commissions.
11. Implement administrative code, appoint Manager, and make personnel assignments.
12. Develop County goals and objectives and set 1977 budget priorities.

B. ADMINISTRATIVE CODE RECOMMENDATIONS

The Optional County Charter Law includes the following provisions relative to an administrative code:
The Commission may also draft and submit to the freeholders within its recommendations it deems appropriate for the efficient administration of County government. Such recommendations may include a model administrative code. Such recommendations may be adopted by the freeholders in whole or in part, whether or not a new charter proposal is recommended by the Commission or approved by the voters.
The adoption of the administrative code, on or before 12:00 noon on May 1, following the organization of the first Board of Chosen Freeholders elected under this act, the Board of Chosen Freeholders shall adopt an administrative code organizing the administration of the County government; setting forth the duties and responsibilities and powers of all County officials and agencies, and the manner of performance needed. Nothing in the administrative code shall change the duties or powers of County officers whose existence is mandated by the constitution or shall diminish the duties, responsibilities or powers of any elected or appointed head of the executive branch or chief assistant thereto or chief or County administrator.

LEGAL NOTICE

12. Effective date of administrative code: At 12:00 noon on May 1, following the organization of the first Board of Chosen Freeholders elected under this act, the administrative code shall enter into effect, and all hitherto existing agencies shall assume the form, perform the duties, and exercise the power granted them under the administrative code and shall do so in the manner presented therein.
The basic points contained in the law are (1) having found the shortcomings and needs of the County government, the Charter Study Commission has the duty to recommend not only the broad framework for change, but also the specifics of the internal structure, and (2) the administrative code is the primary operating guidance document by which the changed government is run.
The Union County Charter Study Commission concluded that adoption of a complete draft administrative code, as an element of its report, was not appropriate for the following reasons:
- The existence of a complete proposed code could reduce the area of discretion of the Board of Freeholders elected to implement the new County government plan.
- Further, there needs to be considerable additional discussion and analysis, on the part of both County agencies and autonomous activities, if the code is to be an effective basic governmental document. The Commission's schedule, as set by statute, did not provide sufficient time to do the complete job.
However, it is the Commission's view that changing the form of government, alone, will not bring to Union County the quality of government it must have. The recommended plan will provide the skeleton (and a good one) but it must have the nerves, muscles, and circulation provided by a carefully thought through administrative code. For this reason, the Commission is including in its report, a number of general guidelines which it recommends be followed in the drafting of the Union County administrative code. These general guidelines, keyed to the basic elements of the code, are given below:

BASIC ELEMENTS PROPOSED GUIDELINES

- 1. New configuration of the government.
The Commission found excessive fragmentation of County agencies and a general lack of internal coordination and control. It also detected some concern over the financial independence of the autonomous agencies. With these in mind, the Commission recommends that the administrative code provide for:
a. Consolidation of those agencies with similar skills and equipment. For example, a true department of public work could include the present Roads, Bridges, and Buildings departments, and the County Engineer.
b. Closer budgetary and financial control over autonomous agencies, (though, prior to any decisions relative to their absorption into the County government, there should be a definitive showing that a move would improve efficiency and reduce costs).
c. Creation of a comptroller agency which would include the present data processing and treasurer functions, and would also have a financial planning and program analysis capability. Also, financial functions now handled by the Deputy Clerk could be brought into the new agency.

d. Placement of County non-financial planning activities in one agency, and all County health and social (e.g., Youth Services) functions in another.

e. Establishment of a department of administration, including the personnel, printing, purchasing and non-building maintenance functions.

2. Relationship between and among and within departments, commissions, boards and other agencies.

As noted earlier, major changes in the program responsibilities of autonomous agencies should be made only after a definitive showing of reduced costs and increased effectiveness. However, the County Manager, through him, the freeholders should be given limited budget control and authority to manage cash resources of these agencies. In essence, these agencies will continue, but only under strict financial control.

In the case of internal departments, the basic philosophy would be to reorganize departments to be self-sufficient and to coordinate both amongst themselves and through the two staff-type agencies.

The Commission recommends that the administrative code include provisions:

a. Creating a County department of civil service, thereby providing for more effective and timely administration of the personnel function (it should be noted that under the law, such a department may not become operative until at least two years after a plan for its operation has been submitted by the freeholders to the State. In the interim, the personnel function would be included in the proposed department of administration).

b. For a budgeting system which permits:

- (1) Control of expenditures on an "exception" basis.
(2) Receiving spending proposals and controlling costs on program, organizational, object of expenditure, and fund bases.
(3) Fraction and control of capital outlays.
(4) Policy planning, monitoring of procedures, and evaluation of results.

LEGAL NOTICE

The present State system is designed for a "short form" and, as a result, it does not meet the needs of County management. What is needed is a restructured, more budgeting system, and a new agency.

E. THE PROPOSED CHARTER

Complete Text of County Manager Form As Recommended by the Charter Study Committee

Constituting of the applicable parts of The Optional County Charter Law

Note: A long form charter would provide fully for the structure, powers, organization, official relationships, and procedures of the County government. Counties in New Jersey, however, do not need such a long form charter because (1) many important matters of County government are governed by general laws applicable to all counties and (2) the administrative code required to be adopted by the first Board of Freeholders under the new charter, will spell out the internal organizational and relationship matters.

Technically all State general laws are part of every county charter, through the Optional County Charter Law. This permits significant local autonomy in the mechanics of their application. The actual charter voters are being called on to approve in a "short form" it makes no change in the great bulk of those general laws which now and in the future would apply to the County government.

ARTICLE 4. COUNTY MANAGER PLAN

A. Form of Government

45. Form: designation. The form of government provided in this article shall be known as the "county manager plan" and shall, together with articles 2 and 7 of this act, govern any county whose voters have adopted it pursuant to this act.

46. Officers: Each county operating under this article shall be governed by an elected board of freeholders and an appointed county manager and by such other officers and employees as may be duly appointed pursuant to this article, general law, or ordinance.

B. County Manager

47. Qualifications, appointment, term. The county manager shall be qualified by administrative and executive experience and ability to serve as the chief executive officer of the county. He shall be appointed by a majority vote of the whole number of the board of freeholders and shall serve for an indefinite term. He may be removed by a majority vote of the board subject to due notice and a public hearing. Such notice shall be in writing and shall be accompanied by a written bill of particular charges and complaints and public hearing on these charges shall be no less than 15 nor more than 30 days after personal service of notice and charges.

At the time of his appointment the manager need not be a resident of the county but after his appointment he may reside outside the county only with permission of the board.

48. Salary. The salary of the county manager shall be fixed by the board of freeholders; such salary shall be reasonable and commensurate with the fact that the position of county manager is and shall be a full-time position. The salary of the county manager may not be lowered during his tenure in office.

49. Vacancies. The office of county manager shall be deemed vacant if the incumbent moves his residence from the county without board permission; or he is by death, physical or mental illness, or other casualty unable to continue to serve as county manager. Any vacancy in the office of county manager shall be filled in the manner prescribed in section 47 of this article. The board of freeholders may appoint the deputy manager or any department head to serve as acting county manager until a successor has been appointed. During the temporary absence or temporary disability of the county manager the deputy manager or a department head designated by the manager if there be no deputy manager, shall serve as acting county manager.

50. Duties. The executive power of county shall be exercised by the county manager. The county manager shall:

- a. Report annually to the board of freeholders and to the people on the state of the county, the work of the previous year and he shall also recommend to the board his proposed action or programs he deems necessary for the improvement of the county and the welfare of its residents. He may from time to time at his discretion recommend any course of action or program he deems necessary or desirable for the county to undertake.
b. Prepare and submit to the board for its consideration and approval a proposed operating budget, a capital budget and a capital program; establish the schedule and procedure to be followed by all county departments, offices and agencies in connection therewith, and supervise and administer all phases of the budget.

LEGAL NOTICE

stary process as set forth in sections 132 to 141 of this act.
c. Enforce the county charter, the county's laws and all general laws applicable thereto;
d. Supervise the care and custody of all county property, institutions and agencies;
e. Supervise the collection of revenues, and he shall audit and control all disbursements and expenditures and shall prepare a complete account of all expenditures. He shall also designate the repositories of county funds;
f. Sign all contracts, bonds or other instruments requiring the consent of the county;
g. Organize the work of county departments subject to the administrative code adopted by the board. He shall further review their administration and operation and make recommendations pertaining thereto to the board;
h. Review, analyze and forecast trends of county services and finances and programs of all boards, commissions, agencies and other county bodies, and report and recommend thereon to the board;
i. Develop, install and maintain centralized budgeting, personnel and purchasing procedures as may be authorized by the administrative code;
j. Negotiate contracts for the county subject to board approval and make recommendations concerning the nature and location of county improvements and executive improvements determined by the board;
k. Assure that all terms and conditions imposed in favor of the county or its inhabitants in any statute, franchise or other contract, are faithfully kept and performed;
l. Serve as ex officio governing member of all appointive bodies in county government.

51. Powers. The county manager:

- a. Shall supervise, direct and control all county administrative departments;
b. Shall appoint the deputy manager, the heads of all county departments, and all other administrative officials from among those who are qualified by education, training and experience, and shall have authority to remove any official not prescribed elsewhere in this article;
c. May at his discretion, remove or suspend any official shall not alter the obligations of the county to continue providing the services previously provided by such established or consolidated agency;
d. May, at his discretion, delegate to any administrative officer power of appointment and removal of their departmental employees subject to civil service provisions; if the county manager does not so designate his power he may appoint and remove, subject to civil service requirements, all department heads, members of personnel provisions contained in the legislative enactments have been authorized by resolution of the board, by civil service, or as provided in the adopted county budget; and the manner of whose appointment is not prescribed elsewhere in the article;
e. May require reports and examine the accounts, records and operations of any agency of county government;
f. May, at his discretion, order any agency under his jurisdiction as specified in the administrative code to undertake any task for any other agency on a temporary basis if he deems it necessary for the proper and efficient administration to do so.

C. Freeholder Board

52. The legislative power of the county shall be vested in the board of chosen freeholders.

53. At its organizational meeting each January the board shall select one of its members to serve as chairman and one to serve as vice-chairman for the year. The chairman shall preside over board meetings during his tenure, and in his absence the vice-chairman shall preside.

54. The county manager may be present at all board meetings and participate in all deliberations, without the right to vote.

55. Board powers. The board of freeholders:

- a. Shall appoint a county manager under the provisions of section 47 of this article and may create the office of deputy manager;
b. May appoint a clerk to the board who shall serve at its pleasure and keep the records and minutes of the board;
c. May appoint a county counsel, to serve at the pleasure of the board, who shall head the county's legal department;
d. Shall appoint members of all boards and commissions and other bodies whose manner of appointment is not otherwise specified in this article;
e. May pass a resolution of disapproval of a suspension or dismissal, subject to the provisions of section 87 of this act;
f. Shall approve the annual operating and capital budgets;
g. Shall pass in accordance with this act whatever ordinances and resolutions it deems necessary and proper for the good government of the county.

D. Deputy Manager

56. Appointment. Subject to creation of such position the county manager may appoint a deputy manager who shall serve at his pleasure; the board may not prevent his suspension or dismissal by passage of a resolution of disapproval.

57. Qualifications. The deputy manager shall be educated, experienced and able to perform the duties of the county manager and shall be appointed by the board of freeholders. He shall be qualified to perform the duties of the county manager and shall be appointed by the board of freeholders.

LEGAL NOTICE

education, experience and ability be qualified to perform the duties established for him.
He need not be a resident of the county at the time of his appointment, but during his tenure may be outside the county only with the permission of the manager.
58. Duties. The deputy manager shall be responsible, only to the manager. He shall, under the direction and supervision of the manager, undertake to assist in the orderly and efficient administration of the county, performing whatever supervisory or administrative duties the executive deems necessary and proper.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the deputy manager from being appointed to head one or more departments on a temporary or permanent basis.

ARTICLE 2. INCORPORATION AND POWERS

24. Incorporation. The inhabitants of any county shall within the boundaries of that county be and remain a body corporate and politic, with perpetual succession.

25. Upon adoption by the registered voters of any county of any of the optional forms of government set forth in this act, the county shall thereafter be governed by the plan adopted, by the provisions of this law applicable to all optional plans, and by all general laws, subject to the transitional provisions in article 7 of this act.

26. General law. For the purpose of this act, a "general law" shall be deemed to be such law or part thereof, heretofore or hereafter enacted, that:

- a. Is not inconsistent with this act;
b. Is by its terms applicable to or available to all counties or
c. Sets additional laws or provisions of law whether applicable to all counties or to any category or class of counties, with one or more of the following subjects: the administration of the judicial system, education, elections, health, county public utilities, taxation and finance, and welfare.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the county from abolishing or consolidating agencies the existence of which has heretofore been mandated by State statute providing that such abolition or consolidation shall not alter the obligations of the county to continue providing the services previously provided by such established or consolidated agency.

The intent of this act is to enable a county that has adopted a charter pursuant to this act to exercise any duty that has been mandated to it by the Legislature to be performed in the most efficient and expeditious manner, and, absent a clear legislative declaration to the contrary, without regard to organizational, structural or personnel provisions contained in the legislative enactments which may apply to such county.

27. County powers. The county that has adopted a charter pursuant to this act may, subject to the provisions of such charter, general law and the State Constitution:

- a. Organize and regulate its internal affairs; create, alter and abolish offices, positions and employments and define the functions, powers and duties thereof; establish qualifications for persons holding offices, positions and employments; and provide for the manner of their appointment and removal and for their term, tenure and compensation;
b. Adopt, amend, enforce, and repeal ordinances and resolutions as defined in section 100 notwithstanding the effect of any referendum conducted prior to the county's adoption of its charter pursuant to this act;
c. Construct, acquire, operate or maintain public improvements, projects or enterprises for any public purpose, subject to such referendum as may otherwise be imposed by law;
d. Exercise powers of eminent domain, borrowing and taxation only as provided by general State law;
e. Exercise all powers of county government in such manner as its board of freeholders may determine;
f. Sue and be sued, have a corporate seal, contract and be contracted with, buy, sell, lease, hold and dispose of real and personal property, appropriate and expend money for county purposes;
g. Enter into contractual agreements with any other governmental body or group of bodies within or without the borders of the county; without regard to whether such other governmental body or group of bodies be a unit of State, county, or municipal government or a school district, authority or special district, to perform on behalf of that unit, any service or function which that unit would be authorized to provide for itself or for any other unit of government, provided, however, that no county shall contract to provide a service or function to any unit in any other county unless the board of freeholders of such other county shall first approve the proposed contract. All contracts under this section shall be specific as to the terms for rendering of services, the level, quality, and scope of the services to be performed, the cost of providing these services, and the duration of the contract. Such contract may provide for binding arbitration or for binding fact-finding procedures to settle disputes or questions arising as to the terms of service and quality and quantity of services to be provided under the contract. All services shall be performed on a cost basis, and no contract shall be for a duration of more than 7 years. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent two or more counties from jointly undertaking a contract to provide a service or function to any other unit or group of units. For the purposes of this section, the county shall be deemed to be the general agent of the other party or parties to the contract with respect to the performance of the service or services as specified in the contract, with full powers of performance and maintenance of the service contracted for and full powers to undertake any operation ancillary thereto, and all other powers of enforcement and administrative regulation which are or might be exercised by the contracting official. Except that no contracting party shall be liable for any part or share of the cost of constructing or maintaining any capital facility built by the county to provide such service unless such part or share of the cost of such capital facility's construction or maintenance is provided for in the contract between the two parties and the governing bodies of such contracting parties shall have ratified the contract. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the contracting for provision of more than one service or group of services by the county, and the county may become the agent of any other unit of government in the performance of any and all functions which the contracting unit sees fit to employ the county as agent to perform.

28. Municipal powers. Nothing in this act shall be construed to impair or diminish or infringe on the powers and duties of municipalities and other units of government under the general law of this State. It is the intent of this act only to permit municipalities and other units of government to employ services and facilities of the county for more effective, efficient, and adequate provision of services if and when such units may deem it desirable to do so. Municipalities are and shall remain the broad repository of all police power in terms of the right and power to legislate for the general health, safety and welfare of their residents.

29. Municipal advisory councils. Regional advisory councils. The board of freeholders may by resolution establish a municipal advisory council consisting of the mayors of all municipalities in the county and in addition to or instead of a municipal advisory council, the board may establish regional advisory councils consisting of the mayors of neighboring municipalities or municipalities that have common interests or problems.

The board of freeholders shall meet periodically with the advisory councils to discuss common municipal problems, county-municipal relations, cooperation in service problems, coordination of operational and capital facilities development, and other subjects of mutual interest in order to provide closer county-municipal relations and cooperation.

30. General powers. The grant of powers under this act is intended to be consistent with the Constitution of New Jersey and with general law relating to local government. The grant of powers shall be construed as liberally as possible in regard to the county's right to reorganize its own form of government, to reorganize its structure and to alter or abolish its agencies, subject to the general mandate of performing services, whether they be performed by an agency previously established or by a new agency or another department of county government.

Based on the need to develop effective services to meet problems which cross municipal boundaries and which cannot be met effectively on an individual basis by the municipalities, the State, or other units of government, this act shall be construed as intending to give the county power to establish innovative programs and to perform such regional services as any unit that has the least right to perform such services for itself may determine, in its own best interest, to have the county perform on a contractual basis.

ARTICLE 7. PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL PLANS

A. Relations Between the Executive and the Legislative Branches

80. Separation of powers. In any county that shall have adopted a charter under this act, the board of chosen freeholders shall deal with county employees only through the officials responsible for the over-all executive management of the county's affairs as designated in articles 3 through 6 of this act. . . . i. . . . through the county executive, the county manager, the county supervisor, and the board president, respectively. All contact with county employees, all actions, and communications concerning the administration of the county's government and provision of services, shall be through the aforementioned officials, except as otherwise provided in this act.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the board's inquiry into any act or problem of the county's administration. Any freeholder may require a report on any aspect of the government of the county at any time by making a written request to the head of the executive branch of county government. The board may, by majority vote of the whole number of its members, require the head of the executive branch to appear before the board sitting as a committee of the whole, and to bring before the board such records and reports, and such officials and employees of the county as the board shall deem necessary to insure clarification of the matter under inquiry.

The board further may, by majority vote of the whole number of its members, designate any number of its members as an ad hoc committee to consult with the head of the executive branch to study any matter and to report to the board's attention.

It is the intent of this act to confer on the board general legislative and such investigative powers as are permitted to the executive branch of county government, but to retain in the head of the executive branch full control over the county administration and over the administration of county services provided for in this act.

81. Appointments and dismissal. No member of any board of chosen freeholders in a county operating under a charter adopted pursuant to this act shall individually or collectively seek to influence the head of the executive branch to dismiss any person from, or to appoint or to promote any person to, any position in the executive branch of county government, except that the board may, by a resolution of disapproval, adopted by a 2/3 vote of the whole number of the board, prevent the dismissal of certain employees under conditions as set forth in subsection (b) of this section.

b. Suspension procedure. Suspensions will take effect immediately upon personal service of notice setting forth the order of suspension or dismissal. Dismissal or suspension for a definite term shall occur automatically in 30 calendar days from receipt of notice. If the officer or employee requests a public hearing on his dismissal or suspension for a definite term, no action beyond temporary suspension may be taken until the individual to be suspended or dismissed is given a public hearing not less than 15 nor more than 30 days after personal service of written notice of contemplated action. A copy of such notice shall be filed with the clerk of the board of freeholders immediately upon service of notice to the individual to be suspended or dismissed. In the event that within 30 days of receiving such notice, the board shall pass by a 2/3 vote of the whole number of the board: a resolution of disapproval of all proceedings and any suspension or dismissal of the individual, a vote of disapproval shall be deemed to negative the suspension or dismissal order and for purposes of pay and civil service standing the action shall be deemed never to have transpired.

If, however, the suspension or dismissal order shall allege that the individual against whom action is contemplated or pending has committed a criminal act in the conduct of his public trust, no resolution of the board shall stay proceedings and the matter shall be brought to a public hearing in the manner prescribed above. If at that hearing probable cause for prosecution is found, all evidence shall immediately be forwarded to the county prosecutor for further action.

If, however, evidence does not warrant referral of the case to the county prosecutor, a plea of guilty does not return an indictment against the individual in question, and if the board shall have passed a resolution of disapproval in the manner described above, said individual shall be restored to his original position without record of the action, or prejudice therefrom, and shall receive full compensation retroactive to the date of his suspension.

B. Recall

82. Elective officers: removal by recall petition and vote. Any elective officer shall be subject to removal from office for cause connected with his office, after he has served at least 1 year, upon the filing of a recall petition and the affirmative vote of a majority of those voting on the question of removal at any general, regular county or special election.

83. Recall petition. A recall petition shall demand the removal of a designated incumbent, shall be signed by registered voters equal in number to not less than 20 percent of the registered voters as of 60 days before last most recent primary or general election.

84. Signatures to recall petition. Each signer of a recall petition shall add to his signature his place of residence giving the street and number or other sufficient description if there shall be no street and number. One of the signers to each such paper shall take an oath that each signature appended to the paper is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be. Within 10 days from date of filing the petition the county clerk shall complete his examination and ascertain, whether or not such petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified voters, shall attach to the petition his certificate showing the result of his examination and shall by certified or registered mail send a copy of the certificate to the person filing the petition. If by that certificate the petition is shown to be insufficient it may be amended within 10 days from the date of said certificate. The county clerk shall within 5 days after such amendment make a similar examination and determination of the amended petition, and if the certificate shall show the same to be insufficient, it shall be returned to the person filing it without prejudice to the filing of a new petition to the same effect.

85. Notice to officer: recall election; notice of filing of petition. If the petition shall be sufficient the county clerk shall within 5 days notify the official whose recall is sought thereby: if such notice cannot be served personally upon the official affected, service may be made by registered mail addressed to the officer's last known address. If within 5 days after the service of the notice by the county clerk the official sought to be recalled by such petition does not resign or, having tendered his resignation, it shall have been accepted by the board of freeholders, the county clerk shall order and fix a date for holding a recall election not less than 60 nor more than 90 days from the filing of the petition. Notice of the filing of the petition and of the date of the election shall be posted for public view in the office of the county clerk and he shall also publish the notice forthwith in the manner provided by section 143 of this act.

Four Township Committee hopefuls answer questions at League forum

All four members of the Springfield Township Committee should be graded "A" for their performance in the past year, according to a poll conducted by the Springfield League of Women Voters Monday night.

The poll, which was conducted by Lealle Zucker, president of the LWV, asked voters to rate the performance of the four committee members: William A. Ruocco, Norman O. Banner, Edward J. Fanning and Stanley M. Steiner.

Fanning, Bruder cite issues facing township voters

Edward J. Fanning and Stanley M. Steiner, two of the four candidates for the Springfield Township Committee, cited the issues they believe are most important to township voters.

Fanning, a Democrat, said that the township's financial problems and the need for a new school building are the most pressing issues. He also mentioned the need for better roads and more services.

Banner, Ruocco cite advantages of 2-party balance

Norman O. Banner and William A. Ruocco, two of the four candidates for the Springfield Township Committee, cited the advantages of a two-party balance.

Banner, a Democrat, said that a two-party system would ensure that the interests of all citizens are represented. He also mentioned the need for better communication between the committee and the voters.

LEGAL NOTICE

135. Scope of capital budget and program: definitions. The capital budget and program shall be prepared by the budget officer in such form as required by law, together with such schedules and analyses as he deems desirable, or as may be required or approved by the board of freeholders.

136. Capital budget shall be a plan for the expenditure of public funds for capital purposes for the ensuing year showing as income: the revenues, special assessments, free surplus, in down payment appropriations to be applied to the cost of a capital project or projects, expenses of issuance of obligations, engineering supervision contracts and other related expenditures.

LEGAL NOTICE

139. Payments and obligations: certifications: penalties. No payment shall be authorized or made and no obligations shall be incurred against the city except in accordance with appropriations duly made. No obligation shall be incurred against any allotment or appropriation unless the budget officer or his designee first certifies that there is a sufficient unencumbered balance in the allotment or appropriation, and that sufficient funds therefrom will be available to meet the obligation concerned when it becomes due and payable.

LEGAL NOTICE

140. Other payments and obligations. Nothing contained in this section or otherwise in the charter shall be construed to prevent the making or authorizing of payments or making of contracts for capital improvements to be financed wholly or partly by the issuance of bonds; nor shall it prevent the making, when permitted by statute or ordinance, of any contract or lease providing for the payment of funds at a time beyond the end of the fiscal year in which the contract or lease is made.

Tenants' groups for Republicans

Springfield's three tenants' organizations this week announced their support of Republican Norman Banner and William Ruocco in the election for Township Committee.

The endorsement statement, signed by St. Joseph Parish, president of the Troy Village Tenants Association; Jack Resnik, president of the Springfield Tenants Association; and Paul Lippe, president of the Summit Hill Tenants Association, read as follows:

"Dear Springfield Towns:
"As those who led the struggle to keep rental increases at reasonable levels in Springfield until now, we ask you to consider the following:
"1 - Our entire rent situation may change if present court actions go against the tenants.
"2 - This will make a new rent law necessary in Springfield and rents may rise to impossible levels. It may also require costly appeals.
"3 - To help obtain these we are urging you to elect to the Township Committee Norman Banner and William Ruocco.
"4 - In your own interest, you should know that they voted for our present reasonable rent laws and have publicly promised to maintain reasonable rent levels if a new law should become necessary.
"5 - We do not believe that the matter of rental increases is a partisan issue and therefore political party designation plays no part in our urgent plea to you.
"For your own sake, write, and re-elect Banner and Ruocco."

19TH CENTURY HOME

This house of 701 Mountain Ave. is among those in Springfield selected for possible inclusion in the Union County Planning Board's Survey of Historic Sites. Erected sometime in the 1800s, the two-and-one-half story brown shingled structure rests on a stone foundation and exhibits other early American building features, such as a steep pitched roof and depressed roofline.
