Visit by Bloodmobile scheduled on Oct. 29

The second of Springfield's two annual North Jersey Blood Center Bloodmobile visits will take place at St. James Church, 5 Springfield Avenue, on Oct. 29, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Members of St. James have been asked to make their donor appointments through Sister Stacie, at 686-2742, or Judith Nolan at 376-7428. Mrs. Stickle will be in charge of the event, and anyone may make an appointment through her. However, members of existing donor groups have been asked to arrange appointments through their own chairmen.

Participating in the drive are the following groups and their chairmen: Joint PTAs including Dayton Regional parents and students over 17 years of age; Maxine Melner; Lions Club; Harold Bishop; Temple Beth Ahm; St. James Catholic; Temple Shalom; Shalom, Dorothy Danziger; Presbyterian Church, church office; Sales-Gemie-Neumann-REGM; 4466 King; Ballou employees; Joseph Flaherty; staffs of Gov. Livingston and Dayton Regional; Catherine Astley and Jean Worthington—respectively individual donors and persons wishing to donate blood.

Individuals who are interested in donating blood are invited to call Mrs. Stickle at 686-2742 or Sue Kalem at 376-0282 for further information. Donors must be between 17 and 69, in good general health and weigh at least 110 pounds. Persons 17 or 18 years old need written parental consent to donate. Donations may be made every eight weeks, up to five times a year. Women who have been pregnant in the past six months must postpone donation, as must those who have had major surgery.

Those taking medications at the time of donation should check acceptability by calling Mrs. Kalem. Donors with a history of hepatitis, jaundice or malaria cannot be accepted; weight watchers were urged to check with their physicians first. A doctor sees all donors at the Bloodmobile; and makes the final decision regarding their ability to give.

"Giving blood is simple and nearly painless," a spokesman added, "and requires about an hour, from registration through post-donation refreshment. The donor's medical history is taken, followed by his temperature, blood pressure and a check to see if he is checked by the doctor and the blood is drawn by a nurse or technician. The donor then receives light refreshment after which he is ready to leave. Donors are reminded to eat their regular meals on the day of donation, but to avoid fatty foods and alcohol."

"The need for regular, voluntary blood donations is always great; it is the only way in which we hospital can assure themselves of having it."

Attorney general opinion asked in fee controversy

The Springfield Township Committee will check the state attorney general's opinion on whether the municipal government can refund an $11,780 building permit fee that the non-profit Senior Citizens Housing Corporation will pay under protest this week.

In an informal straw vote Tuesday night, township committeemen individually indicated they will vote to refund the fee if (1) the attorney general says it is legal, and (2) state and federal rules would allow the local housing corporation to use the money for improvements to the federally subsidized, 137-apartment housing project. The development is getting started with $4.9 million from a bond issue by the New Jersey Housing Finance Agency (HFA).

The Rev. Paul J. Koch, assistant pastor of St. James Church, reviewed the fee-waiver issue that had led to shouts at a Township Committee meeting two weeks earlier. The committee's Democratic majority had reacted angrily to charges of obstruction from the president of the non-profit corporation, Bob Einstein. Committeemen said they were only following Township Attorney Edward Fanning's advice that the fee waiver would be illegal, despite the township's promise to waive fees in a lease signed with the non-profit corporation. The housing project will be built on land leased from the municipality.

Father Koch publicly read a letter from the corporation's attorney, Lawrence J. Barisonek, denying that he had ever concurred with Fanning in the opinion that the waiver would be illegal. Barisonek's letter, said he neither agrees nor disagrees with Fanning on the issue.

"I have never been asked for a legal opinion on the issue; nor have I researched the question," wrote Barisonek. But Barisonek said he was of the opinion that if the Township Committee has the legal power to waive any of the permit fee, then it must do so under terms of the lease.

"The only legal question, therefore, is whether or not the township can control the entire permit fee, part of the permit fee or none of the permit fee," Father Koch quoted Barisonek. "If the township can legally waive all or part of the permit fee, it has already agreed to do so" by signing the lease.

The priest headed a delegation of half a dozen corporation directors at the township meeting. Earlier in the evening, the directors had met in another room of Town Hall to elect Father Koch as their spokesman while Einstein, the corporation president, remains hospitalized with a knee injury.

FANNING AGREED with Father Koch that it had been a mistake to include a provision for a fee waiver in the land lease if the township must legally collect the money.

"I'll confess that I'm human and, every now and then, I make a mistake like everybody else," said Fanning.

The township attorney pointed out that lease negotiations started before the state's Uniform Construction Code Act, requiring permit fees, took effect last Jan. 1. Fanning said that act, coupled with the New Jersey Administrative Code, stripped the Township Committee of legal power to waive such fees. Some how, Fanning said, all the federal, state and local officials who reviewed the lease, "including me," failed for months to discover the new law's impact upon the local project, he added.

Fanning indicated he would have no objection to calling in the attorney general's office over the dispute. The proposal came from Committeemen Robert Wilchek, himself an attorney, Committeemen William Russo and Nat Stolker immediately thereafter.

Freeholders meet tonight

The Union County Board of Freeholders will meet at 7:30 tonight in Town Hall in Springfield. The regular meeting will be open to the public.

Evangel plans events to mark anniversaries

Evangel Baptist Church, at 242 Shampke rd. in Springfield, will observe a dual anniversary, the 125th of its founding and the 10th year of its ministry in Springfield, on Nov. 4, 5 and 6.

For 115 years before building the new church and moving to Springfield, the congregation worshipped at two separate locations in Newark, under the ministry of nine different pastors. The Rev. William C. Schmidt Jr. is the present pastor.

On Friday, Nov. 4, there will be an evening musical program by the church choir under the direction of Mrs. Richard Dugan, by a brass quartet which formerly played together under the name of the Evangel Witnesses, and now reuniting for this occasion (Robert Thomson, Frederick Bayley, Warren Tucker and the Rev. Henry Bock); a group of former members of the church orchestra and a young people's singing group. The featured instrumentalists will be accordionist Don Landman of Mendham.

On Saturday, Nov. 5, there will be a family fellowship dinner. On Sunday, Nov. 6, the Rev. Wayne A. Hill, son of a former pastor, and himself pastor of the Columbia Street Baptist Church of Bangor, Me., will preach at the 11 a.m. service. Mr. Henry Bock, a former missionary to West Iran, and now pastor of the First Free Will Baptist Church of West Boston, Me., will speak at the 2 p.m. service. There will be special music at both services.

The public has been invited to attend the Friday evening concert and both Sunday services.

REPORTING TO PARENTS—Lillian Gushin, principal of James Caldwell School, and Dr. Robert Black Jr., principal of Edward Wallen School, look over the kindergarten progress report forms parents will receive in December. These two principals worked with committees that have reviewed reports below the sixth grade, with the biggest changes for grades three through five. (Andrich Studios)

New cards to extend competitive grading

Springfield parents of third, fourth and fifth graders this year will begin receiving the teacher's evaluation of how each pupil's work compares with that of his whole class.

The new system will report whether the public school child's performance is below average, average or above average when compared with standards set by the native class in reading, speaking, writing, social studies, art, spelling, music and physical education.

The change is apparently a major concession to parents who never liked the individualized graphic system of reporting work that has been used for about seven years and which made no comparisons between children below the sixth grade.

"Right or wrong, I've faced parents who want to know how their child's work stacks up with the other kids' work," said one teacher, complaining about the previous reporting system. "The checkmarks on the graph system might show that your child is making great progress and you're thoroughly content when the teacher explains that the child's work isn't up to par. Or it might be the other way around; your kid is doing above-average work, but the report card doesn't really say so."

Back to school

Fireman advises local families: Conduct own fire drills at home

NOTING that this is National Fire Prevention Week, Gerard Richelo, fire prevention officer for the Springfield Fire Department, has urged local families to prepare and practice a family plan for escaping from a burning home.

Richelo said experts in the National Fire Protection Association, which sponsors Fire Prevention Week in the first week of every October, recommend the following guidelines:

1. Start by figuring out at least two routes to the outside—from every room in the house, especially bedrooms. Allow for blocking of stairs and hall by fire and smoke.
2. Arrange a home fire alert signal, such as a sounding a policeman's-type whistle, to arouse everyone in an emergency.
3. Have everyone sleep with bedroom doors closed. In case of fire, the doors will hold back flames and smoke, allowing occupants extra time to escape by alternate routes.
4. If a window is the only alternate escape route from an upper floor, be sure it opens easily—and is large and low enough to climb through. Use any available porch, shed and garage roofs as ways down to safety, or have an escape ladder.
5. Designate an assembly point well away from the house—where all members of the household will meet for "roll call," and be sure everyone understands that the house must not be reentered for any purpose.
6. Always notify the fire department from someone else's telephone, not from inside your own burning home.

Richelo said family escape drills, or "Operation Edith," are a major local event in the week-long observance. "Edith" is an acronym for "Exit drills in the home."

U.S. and Canada...have developed these basic points for a family home-escape plan.

HONORED—Al Lehner of Springfield, right, receives a certificate of appreciation from Helen Kelly of Fanwood, assistant treasurer of the American Cancer Society, at its annual meeting held in Union. The tribute was for his service as the 1976-77 Springfield crusade chairman, raising $3,440 in the township. Mrs. Kelly also presented Dr. Warren Knauper of Hillsdale, left, with a plaque for his contributions to patient services and to public and professional audiences.

NJEA backing Dems' hopefuls

Harry Pappas of Springfield, Mel Cliven of Clark and Jim Spagnoli of Scotch Plains have been endorsed by the political action committee of the 100,000-member New Jersey Education Association. Pappas, former Union County purchasing agent, is seeking the State Senate seat in Legislative District 22, and Cliven and Spagnoli are his Democratic running mates for the Assembly.

The Democratic candidates, who were given the nod over their incumbent Republican opponents, received the endorsements on the basis of personal interviews conducted throughout the summer, according to the NJEA president, Frank Tollen.

"The Democratic candidates said they were mindful of the need to provide the type of support for education that is called for in these times. However, we also are aware that we must not forget the ability of taxpayers to pay for necessary programs. We regard the problem of providing adequate funding for education while not exceeding the taxpayers' capacity to support these programs as the most important challenge to face the next legislature."

Deborah group will conduct a 'walk-a-thon'

Members of the Suburban-Deborah League will visit outside the Florence Gaudreer School in Springfield Oct. 11 to 21 to register volunteers for the Deborah Save-a-Heart walkathon scheduled for Oct. 25.

Sponsors of the marchers will contribute 20 cents for every mile covered. At the end of the trail there will be a party for all participants. Music and refreshments will be served to everybody and, in addition, a bicycle will go to a winner participating in the trek.

The Deborah Save-a-Heart walkathon in Springfield is one of many being staged to raise funds to cover costs of treating victims of heart and lung disease at Deborah Heart and Lung Center in Browns Mills. A total of 126 Deborah chapters are holding simultaneous walkathons in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

Deborah Heart and Lung Center provides medical and surgical treatment to patients with heart and lung diseases, without distinction as to race, religion, national origin or ability to pay. It is known for its heart surgery and transplants in the New Jersey-Pennsylvania region in the number of cardiac surgical procedures performed. Admittance is arranged through the local chapters.

Mr. Kallies; UC secretary

Funeral services were held last Thursday for Mrs. Shirley Kallies, 55, of Springfield who died in the Cornell Conspicuous Center in Union.

She was an executive secretary with Union College in Cranford, where she worked for 22 years. She lived in Cranford before moving to Springfield 18 years ago. Mrs. Kallies was born in La Crosse, Wis.

Surviving are her husband, John, a son, James, a daughter, Mrs. Ginger Johnson, her mother, Mrs. Faye Davis, three sisters, Mrs. Kathleen Donnelly, Mrs. Margie Falk and Mrs. Patricia Powers and five grandchildren.

Bruder, Supel added to Y staff

Lenice Larkin, executive director of the Summit YWCA, has announced the appointment of two new directors to the YWCA staff.

Ellen Bruder of Springfield joins the staff as youth director, with responsibilities for classes, programs and activities.

Bruder graduated from Rutgers University with a B.A. degree in psychology. She has served as a director of Happy Days Nursery Day Camp and a specialist at Rutgers Community Mental Health Center, Newark, in charge of the rehabilitation center.

Patrice Supel joins the staff as assistant health physical education and recreation director.

Cieri, Kaish criticize assertions by GOP

Bill Cieri and Stanley Kaish, Democratic candidates for Springfield Township Committee, this week criticized the claims of accomplishment made by their Republican opponents. Cieri and Kaish characterized them as "groundless claims which the facts don't even support."

Cieri and Kaish stated: "Our Republican opponents have finally broken their silence. They have now listed for us their 'accomplishments' of the past six years they have spent in office. It is hard to see why they stayed silent so long. A number of the things they say 'just didn't happen that way, and we think the voters should be aware of it.'

"A big item on their list is a building at Maple and Morris Avenues that they pledged in their last campaign to buy. It is a combined town and school facility. We won't even dwell on the compatibility of these two groups. Let's just examine what they claim occurred."

"They say first, 'This was turned down by the Democratic majority because of parking and other reasons. Wrong on two accounts. That year, (1) there was a Republican majority, and (2) they never brought it up for a vote but considered one way or another."

"If they had, it would have been disclosed that the parking was inadequate. Its current occupants are a private lot across Morris Avenue and there is no guarantee they will be allowed to continue to do so. This is hardly the street for teenagers and senior citizens to try to cross from the parking lot to a daily bus. Actually, the building was just another campaign promise which they never pursued seriously."

"Elsewhere they write about the Democratic majority turning down their proposals for Town Hall expansion in 1972. In 1973, a trip to the archives shows that there was a Republican majority on the Township Committee in 1972."

"We are told about strenuous action on the traffic light in 1973. They know, of course, that the light was held up because we were waiting for state and federal money to be allotted to do it and that didn't come until last year, strenuous action or not."

"They point out accomplishments in flood control. Flood control efforts in Springfield are something we can all be proud of, but they are hardly something the Republicans can lay legitimate claim to."

"It is so significant that the list of accomplishments our opponents claim is by and large a modest one, and more so when the facts do not even support the modest claims they make. Springfield needs officials of real accomplishment. We urge the voters to turn out on Nov. 8 and elect Cieri and Kaish to the Township Committee."

Lions Club grid outing

The Springfield Lions Club, in conjunction with the Lions Sight Foundation, is selling tickets for the Army-Pittsburgh football game that will be played in the Springfield Civic Center on Nov. 12.

Lions member Arthur Bucher said tickets orders will be accepted through Nov. 11. He said ticket buyers should include their names, addresses and telephone numbers, specify the type of seating desired, and mail their checks to him at 135 Hawthorn Ave. or to Robert Huges, 311 Morris Ave., both in Springfield. Prices are $12.50 per ticket for mezzanine seating, $10.50 for upper tier, $4.50 for Sidelines and $2.50 for end zone.

Bucher said proceeds will go to Lions' program for blind and sight impaired people.

Republicans' survey lists 8 major issues

State Senator Peter J. McDonough and his running mates, Assemblymen William J. Maguire and Donald T. DiFrancisco, have unveiled an eight-point platform which they say represents the major issues of concern to the people in the 22nd District.

The three Republicans, all seeking reelection in District 22, said the issues were identified by a poll conducted for them during August and September.

The candidates, critical of Gov. Brendan Byrne's "obsession" with the income tax, said they would press for passage of the "sunbelt" legislation they have sponsored in both houses and will support a selective job freeze to trim the bureaucracy. They said particular emphasis would be placed on unclassified patronage positions.

Other issues include transportation, crime, job and the economy, energy, senior citizens and education.

McDonough, Maguire and DiFrancisco said they viewed a "strong anti-industry bias" in the Legislature. "We support a labor-management cooperation act and expanding job producing industry," they said.

Candidate profile For Township Committee

William A. Ruocco, a Republican seeking his third term on the Springfield Township Committee and his first on the county Board of Freeholders, hopes to be serving in office after victory in the Nov. 8 election.

Ruocco says the Democratic town-ship officials have made a "big mistake" in putting the election on the same day as the municipal election.

His problem is, would all the animals survive the starving people surrounding them? He said the author, editor of Esquire magazine, became interested in the Serengeti and interviewed prominent persons connected with the controversy: scientists, conservationists, park wardens, a game warden and, most important, the German zoologist, Bernhard Grzimek.

County opens new PR office in courthouse

Union County has added a new office to improve communication between government and citizens. The Office of Public Information began operation last week with the distribution of the County Government Directory within the 21 municipalities.

The new office will soon be equipped to receive citizen problems, complaints and questions through telephone calls and letters. Clubs and organizations will be kept informed of programs and services through a county newsletter and press releases.

The office will offer audio visual and speaking presentations to schools, clubs and other community organizations requesting information about the county. Guided tours conducted by staff members are being planned for individuals or groups.

The office will create displays in the County Administration Building in Elizabeth, and eventually will produce a film to promote the advantages of the county to business, industry and the community.

The office will also coordinate an internship program for college level students who wish to have work experience in government.

A large supply of documents, articles and pamphlets pertaining to Union County government will be made available to the public, along with informational pamphlets about county services.

The Office of Public Information consists of a director, Thomas W. Haeberich and three administrative officers. Additional information is available at 333-5000.

The lectures are co-sponsored by the Union County Consumer Affairs Advisory Committee, Union County Technical Institute and Vocational Center and Union College. The series is designed to help consumers use money more wisely and to develop a capacity for intelligent consumerism, according to Richard Kay of UCTI, coordinator of the lecture series.

Dems endorse use of county computer

The three Democratic candidates for Union County freeloader, Walter Boright of Scotch Plains, Joanne Rajoppi of Springfield and Thomas Dillon of Elizabeth, this week endorsed the continued use of the county's centralized computer services by local government.

"Every community in Union County can use the services of a sophisticated computer," Boright stated, "but not every town can afford one. The county's centralized computer-operated computer center is the obvious answer to a tax-savings of 800 percent."

"From my own experience in municipal government," Rajoppi said, "I know that computers can be invaluable aids in processing local payrolls and tax records."

"Shared time computer use is also a worthwhile venture," Dillon, an engineer, noted. "Because it is both practical and economical."

GOP hopefuls want welfare-CETA link

The Union County Republican candidates for freeloader, Herbert Hellmann, Robert Morgan and William Ruocco, this week called upon the Board of Freeloaders to establish a liaison committee between the Union County Welfare Board and the officials of the CETA (Comprehensive Employment and Training Act) program.

"They pointed out that through the use of federal funds under the CETA program the county is able to employ, train and prepare for employment for unemployed individuals," Hellmann stated. "Inserting welfare recipients into the job market and creating productive and economic lifestyle and growth for these individuals."

The candidates said that "many CETA employees are people who are skilled in areas other than those in which they are working, and are working in these particular areas simply because it is easier than finding a job in their own field."

The three Republican candidates called for the immediate appointment by the freeloader of a liaison official to establish a "meaningful communication with the Welfare Board" which would result in the prospective employment of welfare recipients as part of the CETA program.

"The candidates said that 'many CETA employees are people who are skilled in areas other than those in which they are working, and are working in these particular areas simply because it is easier than finding a job in their own field.'"

Rajoppi: park lands for seniors' housing

Springfield Mayor Joanne Rajoppi, a Democratic candidate for the Union County Board of Freeholders, this week called for a study of the feasibility of using unused parklands as sites for senior citizens housing.

"Noting that one third of the population of her own community is 65 years of age or older, Rajoppi said the growing demand for senior citizens housing was outstripping the available land."

"The Springfield Senior Citizens Housing, Inc., a non-profit organization," the mayor said, "recently received approval for a 137-unit complex after more than eight years of preparation. Several days ago," she said, "I appointed a mayor's committee to investigate the feasibility of land for a second complex, which I believe will be needed as soon as possible."

The mayor added that her committee on Aging has received more than 300 applications for the 137-unit project.

"The number of tracts suitable for such a use is diminishing rapidly in Springfield," Rajoppi added, "as well as the other 20 communities in Union County. One possibility might be to use surplus land belonging to the Union County Park Commission that abuts existing roads," she added.

"If such an idea is workable, I know of several sites along roads in Springfield, Summit, Union, Berkeley Heights, Elizabeth and Roselle that might be adaptable for this purpose."

Rajoppi stressed that she had no intention of using recreational land. "We in Union County have a great need for green space as residents of a highly concentrated, industrial county," she said.

In addition to all the 11 basic grading areas, the new cards contain marking spaces to evaluate individual effort in social skills and learning style.

Along with the comparative grades, 1 for below average, 2 for average and 3 for above average, the intermediate pupil will receive marks for individual effort: 0 for outstanding, S for satisfactory, SI for shows improvement and NI for needs improvement.

A child who gets 1 in reading (below average) might simultaneously receive an 0 (outstanding) for individual effort in one or more of five categories: use of word and decoding skills, vocabulary development, comprehension of written material, use of reference skills and oral reading.

THE INTERMEDIATE child will receive comparative grades—1, 2 or 3—in 11 categories. And each of these will be subcategorized for O, S, SI and NI marks. In addition to reading and science, these include:

Blood bank

(Continued from page 1) contain adequate supply of fresh blood of all types. The danger of serum hepatitis, although not entirely eliminated, has been very greatly reduced—wherever only voluntarily donated blood has been used.

The life span of fresh, whole blood is only 21 days, and supplies therefore need constant replenishing. However, the blood credits acquired by groups or individuals are good for one year and can be drawn on whenever needed.

Incidentally, Mrs. Gushkin and Black pointed out, there will be no change this year in the approach on reporting to the children.

"The child is entirely welcome at the conference, unless the parent decides against it," explains Mrs. Gushkin. "Springfield teachers want the children and children to communicate with each other. Well, parents, teachers, and children change through the years, and the reporting system must change."

"We don't want parents to get the idea that conferences are less important," he emphasizes. "We're not going to have conferences with more meaningful than ever. Many parents felt it would be more of a conference situation if the parents received written reports in advance. They want time to digest the information before talking about it with the teacher. If this is the way the conference is to be conducted, Black said the new reporting system will be considered only an experiment during the first year, and there may be further changes if it fails to achieve committee goals.

Actually, no reporting system is needed. Adequate supply of fresh blood of all types. The danger of serum hepatitis, although not entirely eliminated, has been very greatly reduced—wherever only voluntarily donated blood has been used.

School Lunches

(Continued from page 1) "In my 23 years as teacher and principal, we've changed the system many times... And why not? The whole point is to encourage parents, teachers and children to communicate with each other. Well, parents, teachers, and children change through the years, and the reporting system must change."

Mental Health

National Institutes of Health

EMERGENCY HELP FOR MENTAL ILLNESS. If a friend or relative has a sudden mental or emotional breakdown, what do you do to get help?

Your first call might be to the family physician. Your local telephone directory probably will have a listing for emergency mental health services facilities under county or city listings.

Also, a voluntary mental health association can refer persons to the right services. And if a critical situation has arisen, your local police department usually is well briefed on carrying resources and how to proceed.

The importance to the public of emergency mental health services during weekends, holidays and late evening hours has led to a nationwide inventory of "emergency" programs were defined as those set up with the primary purpose of providing psychiatric care in emergency situations by mental health staff—whether on duty or on call—specifically assigned for the job.

Among federally assisted community mental health centers, the 54 reporting, 84 percent provided walk-in emergency services and 91 percent provided these services by telephone during nonworking hours by personnel on call.

General hospitals operated by state and local governments with separate psychiatric services ranked well in the survey: 87 percent had emergency services.

Custom community offers buyer bargain

According to Luther Cuyler, a licensed professional engineer-turned-builder, he is about to offer what amounts to a considerable "bargain" at his new 25-home custom community on South Beers road, Holmdel Township.

Rolling Hills is offered for all age groups

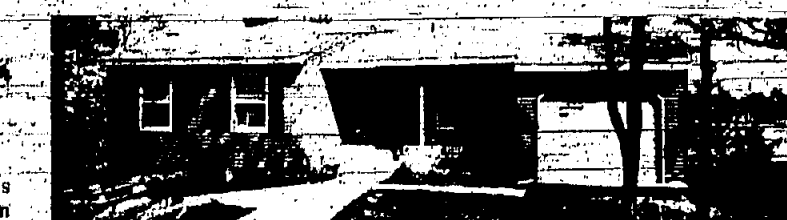

At the moment of its conception, Rolling Hills at the Windmill Club was an unusual family home opportunity. Now, with a special preview price of $38,490 for three-bedroom homes on separate lots, the community located on Route 1 between Freehold and Lakewood has become a basic of comparison with all other new homes.

Each neighborhood built on a private cul-de-sac. This means no through-traffic, no unnecessary noise and no automobile danger. The $38,490 model is the Dennington, with the other three models priced from $39,990 to $41,990 with no extra costs involved for the home purchases. All the models have attached garages.

10 sales listed at Oakfield in preview time

Maximum living convenience and the special feeling of a large home are drawing immediate responses to Oakfield, new estate-type single family home community in Lacey Township, NJ. Offering spacious, well-planned two-story colonial models are a view of a "country" style living area.

While all Oakfield homes are larger—offering three or four bedrooms, sitting rooms, plus family room and formal living and dining rooms—space within the homes is accentuated by large homesites, with tall trees and natural shrubbery preserved by the builder, wherever possible. The community also includes an eight-acre park and several recreational areas, in-creasing value and County seat.

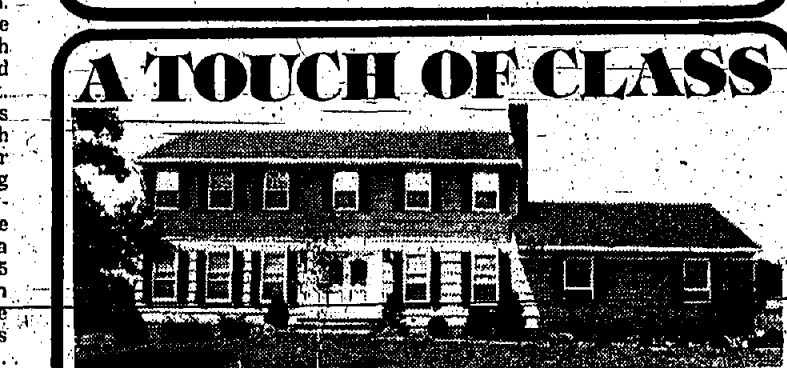

THE NEWBURY at Whiting Village—the new adult community, is offering three two-bedroom, single detached homes in response to consumer survey which showed preference for this type of housing, modestly priced, with outright ownership under fee-simple deed. Materials used in construction require little or no maintenance, and careful attention has been paid to economy of operation and conservation of energy. The new models are reached via Garden State Parkway, Exit 80 near Toms River, and Rt. 330, and are open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Detectors urged for fire safety

The New Jersey State Safety Council says that if all homes had emergency fire escape plans and smoke detectors, more than 40 percent of the lives lost in home fires could be saved.

The council suggests that once detectors have been installed, a fire prevention program be started in the home. Examine electrical cords and outlets for frayed wires and broken sockets and pay attention to housekeeping in the garage, basement and attic areas by throwing out old newspapers, magazines and anything that might contribute to a fire.

Wood cutting is permitted in designated areas. The permit must be secured in person from the state forest superintendent. The wood is for private use only and the volume per family is limited to two cords per calendar year.

Republicans stress concern for seniors

William A. Rucocco and Norman O. Baner, Springfield Republican Township Committee members, reviewed their performance on the Township Committee in matters concerning senior citizens during their terms of office, stated Rucocco. "I have served on the Community Block Grant Committee and played an important part in helping Springfield obtain $45,000 from HUD for the senior citizens' housing project at the Sarah Bailey House. Further, application has been made to the Block Grant Committee for additional funds to provide recreational improvement to complement this addition. This has been approved by HUD, and funds should be available this year."

3 Dem candidates call for 'accessible' offices

Assemblyman Donald DiFrancesco has set up shop in a building owned by a relative in Scotch Plains. "The state allows lawmakers $5,000 a year to set up offices that can most effectively serve their constituents," the Democratic candidate declared. "This is why we would make our offices an extension of state government in Trenton. The incumbents can't possibly accomplish this goal under the present set-up."

Pappas, a Springfield resident seeking election to the State Senate, and Spagnoli and Chilweick, his Democratic Assembly running mates, are implementing programs which will help seniors keep their present homes. The Senior Citizens Housing Repair and Maintenance Program (SCHRM) is a step in this direction. We have supported the Older Adults Referral Service, which is a valuable program to help seniors with their problems. "Finally, a stable and reasonable tax rate is important so that those on fixed incomes will not be taxed out of their homes. We both have worked very hard for minimal budget increases during each year on the Township Committee. We are proud of our record regarding senior citizens' programs."

SWANSON, who lives in Scotch Plains and Chilweick, a Clark resident, said Assemblyman William Maguire's office is in an "antique building" he also uses for his travel agency in Clark. "Used cars don't die, they just freeze with a low-cost warranty," said Maguire.

YM roll call seeks to collect $3,378 in area

The Summit Area YMCA is seeking a total of $3,378 from Y members and friends in its 1977 YMCA World Service Roll Call to help develop and strengthen YMCA projects and centers in 68 countries. According to the local committee, YMCA World Service works in the United States as well as overseas by helping immigrants and refugees adjust to life in a strange new land, by bringing counselors from Africa, Asia, Europe, and the Middle East to serve in summer camps, and by providing services in education, trade-training, counseling, and recreation for American Indian youngsters. Overseas, YMCA World Service helps teach job skills to brought victims in Africa which enables them to survive in their changing way of life, provides temporary homes for orphan children and refugees in war-torn or devastated areas, and helps young YMCAs. Because it is non-denominational, YMCA World Service has broad appeal and acceptance when other groups sometimes have trouble crossing national barriers. Y workers go only where invited with a goal to prepare and train local leaders to carry on their projects. Frequently the Y can receive matching funds from local governments on special projects. Checks made out to YMCA World Service may be sent to the Summit Area YMCA, 67 Maple St.

Soccer Bulldogs stop Caldwell, downed by Summit and Madison

BY MIKE MEIXNER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer team recorded its first victory of the season by shutting out Caldwell 1-0. Later in the week the Bulldogs dropped two close decisions to Summit, 2-1, and Madison, also 2-1, lowering their record to 1-3.

Summit, 2-1, and Madison, also 2-1, lowering their record to 1-3. The offensive star was sophomore Tim Harrigan, who scored the lone Bulldog goal. Harrigan excelled throughout the game in the right wing slot. "Ready, willing and able" Tom Ragno played back-up for Harrigan. The fullbacks chipped in with fine performances on the defensive end. The ace defenders included Tony Sangregorio, Dave Lathoff and Mike Wittenberg. The halfback tandem of Joe Sangregorio and Jay Harrigan controlled play around the midfield stripe. Mike French and Bob Shapiro also turned in aggressive performances.

At the summit bout, the Dayton booters were out-classed, but by no means demoralized. Throughout the game the tenacious Bulldogs searched their way to scoring opportunities, though none were converted. The defense hung tough throughout the match, giving up only two goals. Again, Shindler excelled in the goal. Lathoff, Sangregorio, Wittenberg and Rick Spina led the fullbacks to a strong outing. Harrigan, French and Mitch Pever all turned in solid performances. In the year's most exciting game, Madison converted on a penalty kick with 20 seconds remaining to nip the Bulldogs.

George Janera scored his first goal of the season to keep Dayton within range of the hustling Dodgers. The sophomore built until a pushing foul was called on a Dayton defender. The shot barely sailed beyond Shindler's outstretched arms and into the net. Despite the loss, Joe Sangregorio starred in defeat, as did his brother, Tony, a junior. Leading the linemen was Todd Melamed. The junior varsity squad recorded its initial victory by topping Madison, 3-2. Paul Jeka exploded for three goals. Later in the week, the JV's lost to Summit, 2-1 and to Caldwell, 2-1. Steve Gellman recorded the Bulldog goal against Summit, while Steve Tamer, team led the defense. Steve Gellman, Joe Huber and Scott Worwick excelled against Madison. The freshman booters outscored their foes 5-0 and 2-1. Coach Arthur Kuebler, standouts included Dave Gellman, Andy Dukler and Dave O'Connell.

Dayton host to Caldwell on Saturday

BY KIRK KUBACH
Jonathan Dayton Regional High School's football team will be home to Caldwell Saturday as it bids for its first victory this season. Last week, Dayton was defeated, 4-0, by a powerful Suburban Conference rival, Summit. The Bulldogs earlier had been beaten by Clark and Hillsdale. Sparked by Phil Gushney's three touchdowns and two by Kevan Phelan, Summit dominated the game despite a valiant effort by Dayton's defense. Playing for the defense were Jack Hirschberg at monster, Ken Bell and Don Easard as inside linebackers, Dan Pepe and Joe Dorfman as tackles, John Perry and Paul Matyssek at the ends and Dave Flood, Pat Picciotto and Jeff Vargas in the secondary. Starting quarterback was Albert Prestoli, who was later relieved by sophomore Ken Klebous. Bob Bohrod and Dave Flood occupied fullback positions and Ed McGredy and Larry Irene shared the wingback spot. Greg Shomo played at center, Nick Caricato and Lassari at ends, Perry and Matyssek at guards, and Bill Young and Bob Roff, who later was replaced by Skip Laquor, at tackles.

Leading the Mountside effort in the first half was the hard charging of Robby Martignetti, who consistently drove the opposing center into his own backfield. The leading tacklers were Doug Adams, Alex Calata and John Caricato.

The Springfield Minutemen C team battled to a 0-0 tie last week on a rain-soaked Berkeley Heights Field. Berkeley Heights won the toss. On the first play of the game, Anthony Romano sacked the running back for a five-yard loss. This was the beginning of fine defensive plays by Reid Jones, Kenny Burroughs, Michael Pishano, Danny Klingler, Tom Klesch, Anthony Gravano and Peter Peltio. In the second half, Danny Spots sacked the quarterback on fourth down, giving Springfield the ball. Berkeley Heights held Springfield's offense, although Glen Scheider made a first down for Springfield. In the third quarter, some great tackles were made by Mark Gross, David Salido, Anthony Romano and John Baber, stopping the Berkeley Heights offense. In the fourth quarter, Anthony Romano returned a punt for a gain of 10 yards. On a hand-off from Chris Clemson, Reid Jones made a spectacular 30-yard run through the Berkeley Heights defense. Berkeley Heights twice jumped offside, giving Springfield a first down on the Berkeley Heights 10-yard line as time ran out.
