State parks cut boat launching, parking prices

A reduction in weekday and weekend fees at all New Jersey state parks has been put into effect by the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP). Summer parking rates from Memorial Day through Labor Day have been reduced by a dollar. For example, the weekday parking rate at Island Beach State Park is now $5 per car instead of $6, the holiday and weekend rate is $4 instead of $5. At Round Valley and Spruce Run recreation areas the weekday rate dropped to $2.

'Woman Talk' will resume at Keon College

Woman Talk, a women's discussion series at Keon College, will resume for the spring semester next Wednesday at noon in Downs Hall on the Keon campus in Union. Woman Talk is designed for campus women students, staff and faculty and guests from the community.

The season's offerings include presentations by prominent career women Joanne Rajoppi, journalist and political leader, and director of the group for the semester's initial discussion next Wednesday. A former news reporter for the Newark News, Rajoppi is currently editor of publication for the 17,000-member Carpenters Union. A cum laude graduate of Case Western Reserve University, she has served as a faculty member and director of the Blair Summer School of Journalism.

Prior to her election to the Union County Board of Freeholders in 1977, Rajoppi served as mayor of Springfield.

The series is free and open to the public. Upcoming discussions for the series include "Organization of Women for Legal Awareness" on Feb. 22 and "A Report on Houston: The 1977 Conference and Its Accomplishments" on March 1.

Additional information on the series can be obtained by calling 527-2226.

1-day program offers home gardening hints

The New Jersey Cooperative Extension Service and Cook College at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, will repeat its one-day home gardeners' school on the Cook College campus, Saturday, April 8, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The program is designed for the beginner and experienced home gardener. Sessions will include techniques and information that can be used by gardeners to improve the quality of their plants and the quantity of yields from their gardens.

Each participant will be able to attend six of seven sessions. Flower gardening, vegetable gardening, planning and care of small fruits, pruning, indoor gardening, foliage plants, container gardening, and their control, gardening in containers and small areas, canning and freezing fruits and vegetables, lawn care and home landscaping are among the topics being offered.

A brochure, including a registration form, is available at the county extension office. Each applicant is asked to indicate three choices for each session and return the registration form and fee by March 1. Due to space limitations, applicants are urged to register immediately. Wherever possible, first, second and third choices will be honored.

A special session, while open to all, will be held for individuals who are physically handicapped or who will encounter difficulty in changing between classes. Those interested in registering for this special program must indicate so in the space available on the registration form.

Instructors will include county agents, extension specialists, and teaching and research faculty from Cook College.

Lunch will be available.

Panel to study 'out-of-towners'

Mid Essex County College, Edison, is launching a one-day workshop by the Division of Community Services to case family problems caused when one spouse travels.

The "Women's Career-Information Center at the college is sponsoring an informal panel discussion on Monday, from 9 a.m. to noon. "The Out-of-Towners" workshop will meet at the West Hill Annex on the campus in Edison. Admission is $10.

Comprising the panel are women and men whose spouses' jobs entail traveling. A husband who travels will tell his story, as will, Chief Joseph Rousek, director of the Middlesex County College's director of police and safety, will point out safety precautions for women left alone.

Deverin gives Menza support

The Speaker Pro Tem of the Assembly, Thomas J. Deverin (D-Middlesex) today announced his support for Alexander J. Menza, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate nomination because he is the man who is most familiar with the problems of people and the person who has done more for people than any other person I know," Deverin said.

Menza, a member of the U.S. House of Representatives, has a long record of service to the voiceless people as a U.S. Senator. "Of all Legislators, he stands out as one who gives highest priority to individuals and their needs," Deverin has been a member of the General Assembly since 1970. He was chairman of the 1968-70 Institutions, Health and Welfare Committee and guided former State Senator Menza's bills through the lower house.

Menza served in the Assembly with Deverin in the 1972-73 session, before being elected to the State Senate.

Art class scheduled

"How To Look At Art," an eight week non-credit course in art appreciation, will start March 6 at Keon College, Union.

From old masters to pop art, instructor Marion Husid-Bensky will explain why artists paint or sculpt as they do and what elements an expert can discern in judging a work of art.

The class will meet Mondays from 7:40 to 9:10 p.m. The fee is $30; deadline for registration is Feb. 27. For further information, call the Keon Center for Continuing Education, 527-2115.

Mrs. Husid-Bensky, a member of the Keon fine arts faculty, has returned from a three-week tour of Rome, Marseille and Barcelona.

Draw offers foreign mime

Yass Hakoshima, called by the Montreal Gazette "the most extraordinarily proficient mime in history," will give a free public performance at Drew University, Madison, N.J., on Feb. 11.

Appearing in Bowtie Theatre at 8 p.m., Hakoshima will present his unique mime work combining Western and Japanese traditions. Born and educated in Japan, he has toured much of the world, appeared on television and in films in North America and Europe and taught mime in several schools and universities. In 1967 he received wide critical acclaim following his stage debut in New York.

$2.8 million school tab goes to voters

Candidates air views on school budget

The four candidates for the Springfield School District Board of Education agreed Monday that it was too soon for much second-guessing about potential solutions to the financial crisis in the kindergarten-through eighth-grade system.

Candidates Ellen Dahmen, Nancy Heller, Gary Kantrowitz and Elizabeth (Liz) Simpson appeared before about 60 prospective voters at a forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters in Gaudinier School II was the eve of the school district's major budget hearing to decide how it will respond to state orders that a projected local tax levy of $2,945,938 be cut to $2,800,061 for current expenses in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The candidates, all making their first "50" for-elective office, said state-mandated cutting would be difficult—and that it would be even harder to second-guess the current board's decision before it had been made. The budget was to be adopted Tuesday night to go to the voters Feb. 14, when the four candidates also will be competing for three seats on the nine-person board. The incumbents did not seek reelection.

If forced to cut, Dahmen said, she would look first at summer programs such as cooking, tennis and gymnastics. She said she also would ask groups, such as Boy Scouts, to coordinate their schedules so heating and janitorial services would be shared for after-school activities in any district building.

Dahmen ran into immediate opposition from Simpson, who called herself "a big supporter of 'extra-curricular activities' who would 'fight all the way'" to keep summer programs.

Dahmen and Simpson agreed with the other candidates on the overall budget picture. As Kantrowitz put it: "At least 90 percent of the time, the district isn't wasting any money," so it would be difficult to propose cuts before seeing the finished budget package and "going through it with a fine-toothed comb."

Using the same sentence, the four candidates also agreed that "it isn't 'fair' to consider closing Wallon School, a cost-cutting proposal that drew protest crowds last year. But they said state-mandated budget caps are not necessarily "fair."

Heller said she would view a school closing as "a drastic, drastic decision" that should be considered only if, when, "less drastic" approaches had been tried. But none of the four made any promises it will never happen.

Residents give blood on Feb. 23
Chairman notes supply shortage

Springfield residents plan a blood drawing Feb. 23 for the Red Cross hospital supplies "critically reduced" by recent snowstorms and flu that kept prospective donors home, according to Sue Kalem, community blood program chairman.

The drawing is scheduled for 1:30 to 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 23, in the Presbyterian parish house at 37 Church Mall in Springfield. This will be the first visit in 1978 from the North Jersey Blood Center mobile unit, which travels to Springfield twice a year.

The center supplies hospitals serving the Springfield area and its need for blood "is urgent," Mrs. Kalem said. She said local residents may make donor appointments through blood chairmen of the donor groups that will sponsor the drawing.

Maureen Melker, joint PTA, including Springfield elementary schools and Jonathan Dayton Regional High School staff, is the event's co-chair. Other staff members include: Harold Bishop, Lions Club; James Newman, Saks Fifth Avenue employee; Helen Kunkle, St. James Church; Wallace Callen, Temple Beth Ahm; Dorothy Darziger, Temple Sha'arey Shalom; Jane Kiss, Ruth Eskin Goldberg, Temple Sha'arey Shalom; Jean Wertham, Golf Club employees; Joan Wertham, Dayton High staff; Catherine Ashley, Gov. Livingston Regional High School staff. Members of the First Presbyterian Church, host sponsor, should make donor appointments through their church office. Mrs. Kalem said.

Regional board ballot: slim turnout expected

Voters in six communities, including Springfield, go to the polls next Tuesday to decide on the Union County Regional High School District's request for a $18-million budget in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Three Regional Board of Education incumbents who will be seeking reelection Tuesday, Charles E. Vitale Jr., board president, faces no opposition in Kenilworth. Neither does William Scoville in Berkeley Heights, incumbent Stephen Marcinak will be running against two challengers.

Election watchers expected a light turnout, probably not much different from last year when ballots were cast by fewer than 1,800 of almost 43,000 eligible to vote in the region.

Forecast of a 4 to 5 percent turnout were based on: (1) absence of board contests, except in Clark; (2) voter apathy about a relatively low increase in local tax levies.

John O'Hara, district finance officer, predicted actual reductions of the regional tax levy next year in the communities: Springfield, a drop of about 4.5 percent, and Garwood, 1.7 percent. Elsewhere in the region, increases would range from about 1.4 percent in Kenilworth to about 4.7 percent in Berkeley Heights. The average would be a 2.6 percent increase.

The Union County Regional High School Board had postponed its regular meeting scheduled election night until 8 p.m. Wednesday in David Brearley High School, Kenilworth.

Bookdrop open to traffic again

The Springfield Public Library's bookdrop on Hannah street was reopened to vehicular traffic Friday after 15 days of blockage by a state Department of Transportation (DOT) bridge-repair project over Van Winkle's Brook.

The donor groups take turns in providing a site for the semi-annual drawing in Springfield. Mrs. Kalem said, and each earns blood credits which are used by any member of the group.

"Anyone wishing to organize a new donor group, or to give blood in-kind, should contact Mrs. Kalem, whose telephone is 376-5852."

Mrs. Kalem said each eligible donor is 18 to 68 years old (or 17, with written parental consent), weighs at least 110 pounds, has never had hepatitis or malaria, has not had major surgery for at least a year and has not visited India for at least three years. She said persons with other eligibility questions should contact her.

"The actual giving of blood is simple," she said. "The entire procedure, from registration to post-donation refreshment, takes about an hour."

Flooded basements accompanied 'thaw'

Heavy rains and warmer temperatures last Thursday, melting some of the snow from the previous week's near-blastard, brought scattered basement flooding in Springfield. Townsman crews from the fire department helped residents of about 25 homes pump their basements Thursday and Friday.

The alternative would be program cuts in 1978-79 or filing and winning a court case challenging "cap" law.

"At this point, I can't project the 'chances for success' in a court case, the school board attorney, Seymour Margulies, said.

Decision on $10,880,893 toward current expenses and on $209,495 for capital projects next year. (The other $775,003 is for the 1978-79 fiscal year.)

The budget totals $15,026,387 for the fiscal year (1978-79) starting next July 1. This includes $13,280,059 for current expenses to operate the regional high schools in Springfield. David Brearley in Kenilworth, Arthur Johnson in Clark and Gov. Livingston in Berkeley Heights.

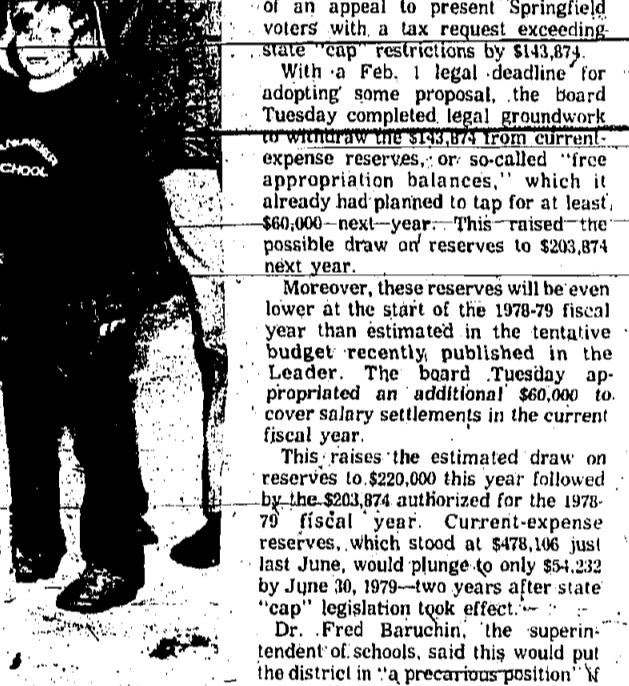

Merachnik said eight to 12-teaching jobs will be abolished. If possible, by non-replacement of teachers who quit or retire.

is requiring the district to "weed out" courses that are no longer appropriate. The total number of courses will be reduced next year, he said.

"This does not mean, however, that there will be no new courses," he pointed out. And there also will be some new activities next year.

Throughout the district, advanced foreign-language courses will be expanded from one to two semesters. Interscholastic bowling teams, abolished in an earlier move, will be reestablished at the request of many students.

At Dayton, a grant from the National Humanities Foundation will finance an experimental, interdisciplinary course for seniors. And, if enough Dayton students want it, they will get a distributive-education program combining jobs with study.

But Merachnik recommended only a limited summer school program—compensatory education and driver training—at Dayton. "If we have to be Dayton's turn for a full-scale summer school in 1978-79, but Merachnik said this would interfere with new construction, the district includes $165,000 to convert seven

Dayton classrooms into central offices for the district, which has been renting space elsewhere in Springfield.

Instead of banning new offerings, Merachnik said, the district is trying to offer all courses, actual or proposed, on the same scale of need and conformance to priorities. He said effectiveness testing also is being emphasized. The 1978-79 budget includes funds "for additional achievement testing of students and comprehensive in-service activities with faculty members."

Also, costs will shift from the state to the district for salaries and fringe benefits of two fulltime teachers and two half-time teachers who teach vocational courses for "special" students.

"Vocational education. High school students throughout the district are being surveyed on their interests in vocational education.

Graduation requirements. "It is time to take a fresh look at what should be required."

Gifted and talented students. Are there adequate opportunities for these students? A district task force will make recommendations early in 1978-79.

Computerization. The budget includes funds to hire an expert who would recommend how the district should meet all its computer needs, ranging from classroom to business-office requirements. "We are not looking to purchase hardware," Merachnik said, "but rather to plan how best to obtain services."

Special education. New state and federal law, as well as enforcement of old regulations, will increase the Regional District's responsibility for students who are physically handicapped, emotionally handicapped or mentally retarded.

Candidate night

question, said maximum capacity of the schools is 2,775 pupils, and they are now used by 1,282. But she was quick to agree with the questioner that maximum and optimum use are very different matters.

Children are not born neatly divided into grade levels, etc., so they cannot be evenly distributed to avoid any empty seats, emphasized Mrs. Gilbert Edelecker, who had asked the question about capacity.

"You can have a house that could hold 12 people, but it seems crowded with five," added Mrs. Edelecker. "It's the same way with the schools."

Overall, it seemed an evening of frustration for questioners as well as candidates — all judging the local elementary schools are basically very good, and most lamenting state orders to cut costs.

The four candidates agreed that no cutting should be at the expense of educational testing, psychological testing and speech therapy provided at public-school expense when requested for a St. James pupil. The candidates' stand got heavy applause from the audience.

Classes slated in foods, acting, crafts, dancing

The Summit YWCA youth program, 70 Maple St., Summit, will offer a wide variety of new classes and programs to junior and senior high school youth beginning the week of Feb. 13.

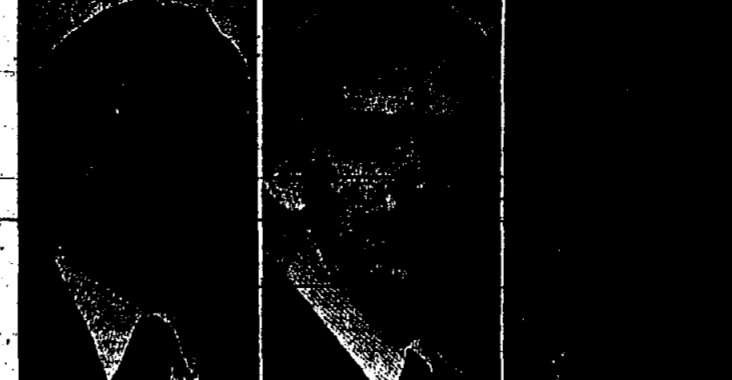

There will be after-school crafts on Mondays from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. The class will include batik, tie dye and dough art. The class will be from 3:30 to 4:30 beginning Feb. 27.

A special introductory course to acting will be offered by Kate Schlessinger, who has her master's degree in theater education from NYU. There will be an emphasis on acting, games and scenery. The class is held on Thursdays from 3:30 to 5, beginning Feb. 16.

There will be two new dancing courses taught by Debra Campbell, who also teaches at the Kathleen Louise School of Dance in Millburn. The first class is in jazz dancing, a beginning course which will include jazz technique and beginning tap. This class will be held on Thursdays from 6:30 to 8 p.m. beginning Feb. 16.

Miss Campbell will also teach a class in disco dancing for boys and girls. The class will be held on Thursdays from 9 to 10 p.m. beginning Feb. 16.

Howard Vogel will play a recital on the Becker pipe organ on Sunday, Feb. 12, at 2 p.m. at St. Stephen's Church in Millburn.

A graduate of the Gullman Organ School, Vogel did post-graduate work at New York University and studied with the late Dr. Harold Friedell of St. Bartholomew's Church in New York. Vogel's recital will include works by Buxtehude, Bach, Franck, Norman Dello Joio and Marius Monnikendam, among others. Tickets are $2 and are available at St. Stephen's Church or at the door on the afternoon of the recital.

The 20th Century search for new musical directions, yet building on the major traditions of the past, will also be demonstrated. Vogel has chosen to include, from the modern French style, an American white-footed woodpecker by Monnikendam, a Dutch composer, will cap the second half.

Master's degree added by Police Lt. Kennedy

Lt. Thomas J. Kennedy, one of the leaders in the Springfield Police Department's "education revolution," has received a master's degree from William Paterson College in Wayne.

Lt. Kennedy, who completed work toward the master's last December, and Det. Lt. Samuel Calabrese, who got a master's in 1976, led a back-to-school trend after joining the department with no formal education beyond high school. Today about half the town's policemen have completed at least a year of college and a fourth have completed four years or more.

Kennedy received "an associate degree in police science from Seton Hall and a bachelor's degree in public safety from Paterson before earning the master's in urban education and community affairs."

Bulldog Band will sell candy

The Jonathan Dayton Bulldog Marching Band will launch its annual fund-raising drive on Saturday, Feb. 11, by selling almond chocolate bars door to door in Springfield and Moon Township.

The "buy one, get one free" premiums are attached to each $1 bar this year. Buyers who save the candy wrappers can use them for tickets to a New Jersey New basketball game at the Rutgers University gym in Piscataway and for a free "Whopper" at the Burger King in Union.

Proceeds will be used for a proposed trip in May to the Blossom Festival in Niagara Falls, Canada, and for band scholarships.

School board adopts a 'bare bones' budget

Feinlich, Paul Potito and John Westerfield, plus three new members to the board, met on Tuesday to approve a "bare bones" budget for the Incumbents Cohn, August Caprio and Boris Citres did not seek reelection to the nine-person board.

Feinlich, Caprio, and Potito were the only candidates for the three seats, said she would oppose a court test of the "cap" because of the potential cost of litigation.

Baruch, who first learned of the state board's decision from the news media, speculated last week that Trenton officials expect a local school district to use its reserves before appealing the "cap." Baruch said he has since received official confirmation that his guess was accurate. He said the other districts had virtually no reserves to draw on.

Cohn, the retiring board president, compared the "cap" to "Catch 22" — referring to the Joseph Heller fiction in which a "catch" in the regulations prevents any legal escape from absurd situations.

Introducing Telephone Transfer

THE SUMMIT WAY

The closest thing yet to an interest-paying checking account!

TELEPHONE TRANSFER THE SUMMIT WAY is a totally new service that combines our top-rate SUMMIT Statement-Savings Account—paying 5% per year, compounded daily from day of deposit to day of withdrawal—with a free checking account. (Just keep a balance of $400 in your Statement Savings or Checking Account.)

Here's how it works. With TELEPHONE TRANSFER all it takes is a simple phone call to automatically transfer funds from your Statement Savings Account to your free checking account. So now, instead of keeping your money in a checking account where it can't earn interest, you can put it to work for you in a SUMMIT Statement Savings Account earning our top interest rate of 5% a year—right up to the moment you need to write a check! Then, just call SUMMIT's 24-hour, toll-free TELEPHONE TRANSFER line, give us your name, special I.D. number, and tell us how much you want transferred to your checking account. That's all there is to it! (Minimum transfer $100; transfers must be in multiples of $10.)

TELEPHONE TRANSFER is also available with a built-in cash reserve. If you qualify, you can have a personal line of credit that provides from $400 to $5,500 in overdraft protection. So, you'll not only have the extra-earning power of 5% per year on your bill-paying funds, you'll have a lot of extra buying power as well.

Y'overnighter' for area youths

The youth "overnighter" sponsored by the Summit Area YWCA Coquias basketball team, will be held this weekend, starting tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. The "camp" is for boys and girls grades 3-8, open to nonmembers and members, was postponed by the Jan. 20 snowstorm.

Activities will include a basketball game between the Coquias and Springfield Boys' Club, swimming, pizza and movie. After Saturday morning breakfast, the group will be bussed to the Mennan Sports Area for two hours of ice-skating. William R. Liebold of the YMCA professional staff is in charge of the "trip; a minimal fee will be charged.

SAGE offers musical revue

"Clippings from SAGE," a musical revue, will be presented during the annual meeting of SAGE at 3 p.m. in the YWCA, 75 Maple St., Summit. Meetings of SAGE are open to the older population in an area that includes Springfield.

The revue will be produced and directed by Mrs. Florence Leigh, with lyrics by Mrs. Virginia Huston, Mrs. Pat Macris and Mrs. Dorothy Bessell. The principals in the cast, Mrs. Leigh and Mrs. Norma McGough, will be supported by a chorus of Mrs. Betty Hale, Mrs. Carol Hale, Mrs. Jane Coter, Mrs. Mary Campbell, Donald Cottrell and A.J. Duis. Mrs. Alice Prim will be at the piano.

Hospitality for the meeting and revue will be provided by Mrs. Peggy Murray, who is in charge of the SAGE center at the Fair Oaks Hotel.

TRAVEL TIP: Travel with the little rather than the much. Then you will have an excuse for shopping, too.

Friedler stars in 'Old Times'

Maruta Friedler, formerly dancer-in-residence in the Springfield public schools and a teacher at Pleasant Hill, is starting with Leon Russell and Katherine Shepard in Harold Pinter's "Old Times," directed by Tony Balta, at the KRS Cafe Theatre in East Orange.

Performances are at 8:30 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays through Feb. 11. Reviewers have called "Old Times" Pinter's finest play. Tense and often witty, it deals with individual perceptions of reality and relationships.

Defects' found at restaurants

The Springfield Health Department ordered improvements in five out of six restaurants inspected during the first 18 days of January, Health Director Harry Blum said this week.

Defects at four of the five, however, were not serious enough to order the restaurants closed, according to Dr. Blum. The fifth restaurant met requirements to resume functioning within one day, he said.

Inspections of retail food establishments are part of a continuing program. The health director pointed out 83 food safety violations last year, resulting in 60 unconditional approvals, 68 conditional approvals and four orders to close until food-handling or sanitary defects were corrected.

Dr. Allen J. Spiegel was re-elected chairman of the annual organizational meeting of the Springfield Board of Health held here Tuesday.

Also elected were Rosalie Berger, vice-chairperson; Arthur H. Bucher, secretary and registrar of vital statistics; Helen E. Maguire, deputy secretary and registrar of vital statistics; Vincent A. Cluff, sanitationist, and Ben Davis, planning inspector.

In Past Tense

ONE YEAR AGO
Springfield shivers along with the rest of New Jersey as indoor temperatures drop to a maximum of 65 degrees (so in some cases) in schools, other public and private buildings. The governor, using his emergency powers during a fuel shortage, also has ordered employees to turn down water heaters. Local school officials say they are conserving fuel by squandering paper and plastic. Cafeterias, workers believe 110-degree water is too cool for sanitary dishwashing, so students are using throwaway plates and utensils... The N.J. Department of Transportation recommends a "heat and cover" alignment through Watching Reservation to complete Rt. 79 between Springfield and Berkeley Heights. Local environmentalists vow a fight to the finish to preserve the park.

Park use increases; renovations planned

Last year brought the Union County Park Commission increased demand for the use of recreational facilities, according to Commissioner President Norman O. Banner of Springfield. He said approximately 6,200,000 people enjoyed park activities, compared to 5,389,000 in 1976. The total attendance, which includes general activities, supervised activities, hikers and walkers, was approximately $40,000 over the previous year.

Rinaldo agrees capitol lobbies should tell all

Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo (R-12) met with Common Cause members last week to discuss the capitol lobby disclosure bill. Rinaldo said he would support the legislation, which would require lobbying organizations to file expenditure reports with particular attention to the legislative branch. He would apply not only to the legislative branch, but also to the executive branch. He also said he would support the legislation, which would require lobbying organizations to file expenditure reports with particular attention to the legislative branch.

Hospital doesn't want to overlook its people

Appointed to a new post at Overlook Hospital is Thomas J. Brown of Shari Hills, who leads a program of human resources development designed to improve the quality of patient care through programs and services that enhance the level of satisfaction for Overlook's 1800 employees.

Matthew Rinaldo

President Carter's half a trillion dollar federal budget is now with Congress, and over the next few months he is sure to undergo extensive changes. So the budget details are being heard and read out during the past week should not be taken as an inflexible account of spending levels and priorities to be followed in fiscal 1979.

A broad outline has been drawn, but significant details are open to revision. In particular, I want Congress to increase the tax cuts in the $22 billion level recommended by the President. In addition, I want a formula established ensuring that meaningful tax cuts go to middle-income families.

Future doctors will be offered Overlook tours

Future Physician's Day will be held at Overlook Hospital on Tuesday, Feb. 7, for incoming first-year students from Jonathan Regional High School and 18 other high schools. ### Winter adds to threat of carbon monoxide

Driving around on cold winter days with the cause of carbon monoxide poisoning is somewhat slowed by a small seepage of warm, but it could also threaten your life. The Overlook Hospital Department of Family Practice pointed out this danger to many people in a recent lecture on carbon monoxide, an odorless, colorless, tasteless gas that comes from the auto exhaust, rattles under the car, and is a leading cause of death from poisoning.

A setback thermostat is worth considering

Some take remembering on your part; a semi-automatic interval timer must be wound up for a given length of time each night. Its advantage is that it returns to "normal," he, automatically. This means that either you can wake up to a warm house—padding around in slippers to turn up the thermostat at 6 a.m.

Newman sees a good year ahead in '78

Martin Newman, director of marketing of the American Dream Builders Group, has summed up 1977 as an "excellent year." And 1978 is expected to be even better, he said.

"Solar energy is expected to be big in '78. Solar hot water heaters will be available in all American Dream developments. 'American Dream' is continuing its efforts to build energy conserving houses without charging extra for it. All homes now include Dow Styrofoam sheathing, the nationally acclaimed insulation that cuts fuel bills."

American Dream homes in the northern and central developments have prices from $51,990 to $72,990. Typical is the Florence Colonial with four bedrooms, two and one-half baths, at $57,990.

116 sales in 3 months is Sea View record

A reporting success has been reported for the townhomes of Sea View at Lakewood, the Woods of Georgetown, single family homes in Pine River, and Settlers Landing in Barnegat.

Most of the early purchasers came from the Spring Lake area, and they realized the value they were being offered.

Cost increase for mortgages is predicted

With a national inflation rate exceeding 9 percent during 1977 and with no lessening forecast during the months ahead, the Federal Reserve Bank predicts that the price of existing homes averaged $47,200 nationally during 1977, up almost $6,000 from the preceding year's figure.

Information on the national pattern is reported for 1975. The conditions affecting buyers of homes in either Rossmore or Clearbrook, where home buyers must be 45 years or older, are different from the national pattern because of this home ownership requirement, he said.
