Enrollment decline expected to slow

Local public school enrollment which declined by more than 8 percent in the 1978-79 academic year, is expected to fall at a slower rate in the term which starts officially Wednesday.

Springfield township schools are preparing for opening day enrollment of about 1,000 in kindergarten through eighth grade (K-8), a drop of less than 7 percent from the previous September. At Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, administrators expect enrollment to decline less than 3 percent this year — to about 1,100 — after a drop of 8.5 percent the previous year.

Dr. Fred Baruchin, superintendent of the K-8 system, said the term will start with a big splash again this year — a picnic and party at the Springfield Municipal Swimming Pool and grounds from 8 to 10 p.m. Tuesday. The systemwide splash party, believed to be unique in the state as a school picnic, parents and pupils a chance to meet teachers, administrators and elected board members in a relaxed atmosphere, Dr. Baruchin said.

Families bring their own swim suits and picnic supplies, and the cost to taxpayers is no higher than that of a traditional parent-teacher meeting, according to school officials. Children say it's a lot more fun.

Freshmen at Dayton, which serves Mountaineer as well as Springfield, will be given their more traditional orientation on Tuesday — from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. on campus. The school bus schedule is published elsewhere in today's newspaper.

All Dayton students — ninth through 12th graders — will attend a full day of classes Wednesday. First through eighth graders will be dismissed after only half a day at the township school. The Wednesday session also will be shorter for kindergartners, 8:45 to 10:30 for morning pupils and 12:25 to 2:10 for afternoon classes.

For children who have moved to Springfield during the summer, registration at all township schools opened Monday and continues from 8 to noon today, then resumes again next Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

At the high school, registration already was completed for students who attended public schools last year in Springfield or Mountaineer. For those new to either community, registration is available from 8:30 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. any weekday except Labor Day, according to Principal Anne Romano. She said a new student, or the student's parents, should telephone Dayton at 376-6300 for an appointment with a guidance counselor who will help with class selections.

For parochial school pupils, school registration will be held on Tuesday on campus Tuesday and Wednesday to prepare for opening day Thursday at St. James School, located in Springfield and also serving a portion of Union.

The teachers' pre-opening program will include a luncheon and Mass on Wednesday.

"We want to begin with prayer," said Sister Marie Anna, new principal of St. James School, which operates nursery school through eighth grade.

Sister Marie Anna, superintendent of the school, administered by the Sisters of St. Benedict for 26 years and now under the direction of the School Sisters of Notre Dame.

Registration for the new academic year opened Monday at St. James School and continues today and tomorrow from 8 a.m. to noon.

Teachers in the public school systems will be back at work Tuesday — for faculty meetings, orientation, for one another and for closer-than-ever coordination of our programs."

For the Springfield K-8 schools, Baruchin said, inter-system coordination will be part of a year-long emphasis on communications — inter-school communication, inter-school communication and school-community communication.

To emphasize the relationship between schools and community, Baruchin said, K-8 faculty will move out of school buildings for the in-service education program conducted annually in the third week of school. The program will be from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 19, in the Springfield Public Library.

Baruchin said he will sponsor a series of brown-bag luncheon meetings starting at noon Thursday, Sept. 27, "for anyone who wants to come — from newer parents to grandparents, and non-parents will be welcome, too."

He said the series will be in the Raymond Chisholm building (Board of Education headquarters), "and I really want to chat with the community about the community's schools."

Troy Village residents demand police action

About 80 residents of the Troy Village apartment complex came to Town Hall Tuesday to complain about the police department and to demand better protection against vandalism, burglaries and physical violence.

"People are afraid, people are nervous," said Best Morrison, speaking for the group to the Township Committee.

Morrison, who is a resident of the apartment complex and a lifeguard at its swimming pool, recited a history of crimes committed at the village during July and August:

"The office has been ransacked twice and, on another occasion, was gutted by arson. That also damaged the roof and bathroom."

"The pool has been badly polluted twice with motor oil, once with paint."

"The superintendent's 18-year-old son suffered injuries inflicted by an alleged intruder. The audience claimed police treated the beating suspect ineffectively."

Another spokesman, Albert Janover, said village residents also have been the victims of at least five burglaries in recent weeks.

The group was especially incensed about injuries suffered by the superintendent's son last Saturday night when he was allegedly beaten by one of five suspected trespassers — two boys and three girls — whom he had spotted at the apartment complex.

Township Committeeman Robert Welchek, the police commissioner, said he will look into residents' claims that the superintendent's son suffered a nose-fracturing blow after police reached the scene, but allegedly failed to intervene effectively.

Welchek warned the audience, however, that it was "a very serious and nasty allegation" when several village residents accused the police of covering up for the beating suspect. Welchek said the audience apparently was conducting due process of the law — including a suspect's constitutional right to be presumed innocent unless found guilty in court — with a cover-up.

"We're not going to grab this young man (the suspect named by the audience) and lock him up or lynch him...Due process of the law will be followed," said Welchek.

But Welchek and Mayor Stanley Kash said they have instructed police to step up patrols of Troy Village. Kash said he also has been assured, by a spokesman for the county arson squad, that the Troy Village fire is under investigation. Kash said Chief George Parnell also intends to report to Janover on complaints about police performance.

In other matters Tuesday, the Township Committee:

— awarded a $24,000 contract to Crawford Electrical Contracting, also known as KBA Industries, Inc., which had submitted the low bid Aug. 14 for installing lights at the tennis courts on the campus of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. The courts, to replace the first night-tennis facility in town, will be operated under a joint-use agreement between the Regional High School District and the township.

— gave final approval to retroactive pay raises for school crossing guards and high-ranking firemen. The proposals had been introduced and discussed July 24.

— Received apparent low bids of $10,354 from Allen Blacktop Corp. of Plainfield for street resurfacing; $18,825 from Avantes, Inc., of Old Bridge for sidewalk improvements and $5,830 from European Painting and Decorating Co. of Plainfield, N.Y., for exterior painting of the Municipal Building. All bids — five on the blacktopping, two on the sidewalks, four on the painting — were referred to the township engineer to be reviewed before any contract is awarded.

— Introduced an ordinance that would allow a "three in ten" rule to offset higher costs of gasoline. But committeemen said they oppose a rate hike for another franchise holder, Suburban Cabotville. The township asked the state's Public Utilities Commission to deny Suburban's request to raise his basic monthly service charge from $8 to $8.50.

— Announced that the Planning Board is working on a zoning study of Morris avenue in the Maple Avenue-Colonial drive area. Kash said he expects the Planning Board to make a recommendation at its meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in Town Hall.

— Appropriated $15,000 to install a recording system in Municipal Court and to replace eight police radios.

— Instructed Township Atty. Edward Fanning to prepare proposed ordinance to finance town projects ranging from purchase of 30 new street-side litter cans to removal of pockets of coal on abandoned property near Rt. 24 Fire Chief Ed Eskine has called the abandoned coal a fire hazard and public danger.

Brighter street lights to be installed in town

Brighter street lights will soon be installed throughout Springfield as a safety measure, the Township Committee announced Tuesday.

Committeeman Robert Welchek, the safety commissioner, said Jersey Central Power and Light will begin the replacement of incandescent street lights with mercury-vapor ones during "the next few months."

Welchek said the township had contracted the township's ban on utility bills as a safety precaution.

SEI files court appeal on ban for Union Rt. 22 shopping mall

A proposal to build a shopping mall on Rt. 22 at the site of the Union Drive-In Theater is back in Superior Court after being turned down by the Union Board of Adjustment earlier this summer.

In the appeal, SEI Union Properties Inc. is asking the court to direct the board to issue a variance, charging that the denial was "arbitrary, unreasonable and capricious and contrary to the evidence."

Still before the court is a second issue, an SEI suit attacking the Union zoning code provision that bans shopping malls.

The 26-acre property where SEI wants to put up the shopping center, at present occupied by the drive-in movie and a little motor vehicle inspection station, is zoned for industrial use. SEI has proposed an enclosed mall in which the principal tenant would be K-Mart.

The plan has drawn objections not only from Union, where opponents organized into a group called PURB (Preservation of Union Residential Environment), but also from the neighboring communities of Springfield and Kenilworth. Objectors predicted that the already-heavy traffic on Rt. 22 would become even worse; residents of adjacent homes also expressed fears that property values would be affected.

Last year, with much of the opposition already on record, SEI filed a suit in Superior Court seeking to overturn the township's ban on malls.

In the action, the corporation charged that zoning code amendments adopted in 1974 and 1978 were aimed at "arresting SEI's lawful development" of the land. The 1974 amendment forbids shopping centers in industrial zones in Union; the 1978 amendment adds malls and mini-malls to the prohibited uses.

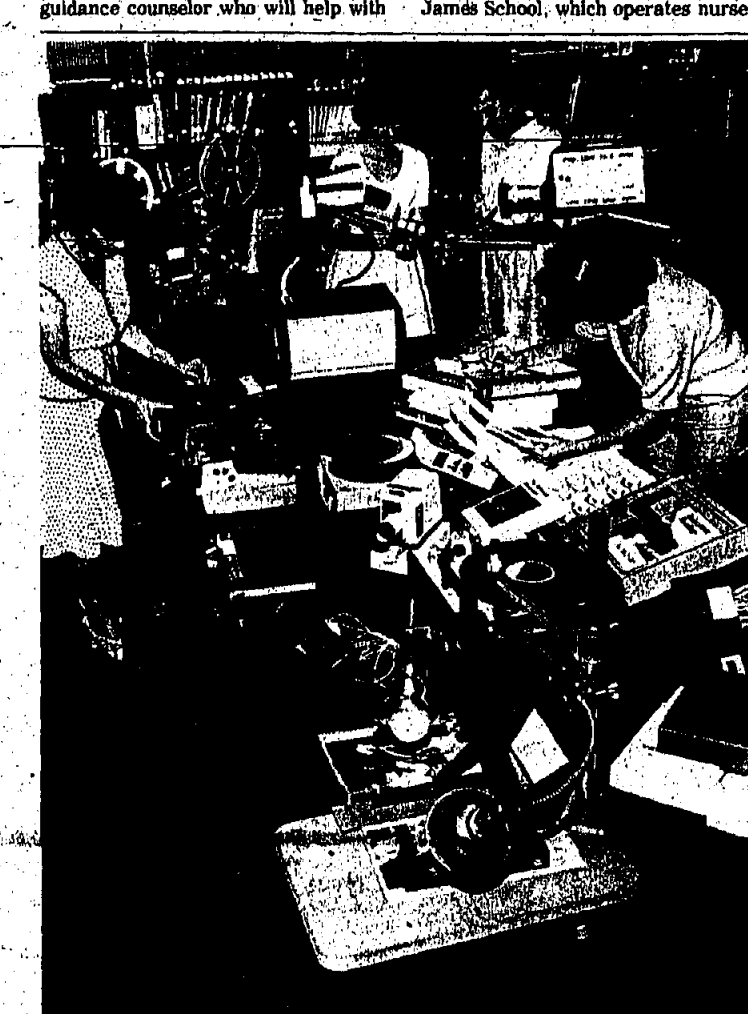

Ruling on the suit, Judge Milton Peller last September told the firm that it must exhaust administrative remedies that is, it must try to get a variance) before it can attack the constitutionality of the ordinance. However, he retained jurisdiction in case the variance were to be denied and SEI were to appeal.

SEI then went to the board of adjustment, which conducted a series of lengthy hearings that dragged on from March until June.

On June 28, the board formally adopted a resolution denying the variance, saying that the applicant had failed to meet the requirements set down by state law, showing proof that public good would result, not impairing the zoning plan, proving special reason why the variance should be granted and showing hardship would result if it were not granted. Instead, board members said, a mall would create more traffic, noise and air pollution.

County transport plan lists Rt. 22 connector

A connector between Springfield road and Michigan avenue is among the recommendations made by the Union County Planning Board in a recently completed transportation plan. "Because of its existing alignment, traffic desiring to cross U.S. Route 22 from Michigan avenue to Springfield road must encounter congestion and safety hazards due to merging, weaving and U-turning on U.S. Route 22," the report says. "Thus, a Michigan avenue connector should be built south of U.S. Route 22 and a grade-separated interchange constructed at U.S. Route 22 and Springfield road. This proposed grade-separated interchange will significantly reduce the number of accidents that occur due to weaving and U-turning while reducing delays caused by through traffic on U.S. Route 22."

Bus route expanded for Union College

Students attending daytime classes at Union College in Cranford will be able to go by bus from points in Elizabethtown, Roselle Park and Kenilworth under a newly expanded route for Transport of New Jersey No. 28.

Dance studio expands staff

The Yvette Dance Studio, Cranford, recently added two faculty members to its staff. Debbie Bier Probst, teacher of jazz at the Farworth and Hour Studio in New York City, has danced and toured with "The American Dance Machine" under the direction of Lee Theodore and Green Vernon since 1976.

Other Equity productions in which she has danced are "Promises, Promises" at the Paper Mill Playhouse; "Dance Yankies," "Sweet Charity," "Gypsy and Delia," "Kiss Me Kate," "No, No, Nanette," and "Irene." Among her television credits are "The Dick Cavett Show" and an NBC special. Teaching and coaching gymnastic floor exercises will be former California state collegiate champion and "All American" gymnast Ted Marriot. Marriot will teach beginner, intermediate and advanced levels.

McQuaid gets B.S.

Jeffrey R. McQuaid of Troy drive, Springfield, was awarded a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering by Rutgers University.

Going on record in support of the "connector" between Springfield road and Michigan avenue is the Springfield and Berkeley Heights, the report notes that the interstate highway is designed to relieve congestion on Rt. 22. "The value of this expressway to Union County in relieving traffic congestion on Route 22 cannot be overstated," the report says. "Route 22 is basically a land service facility in roadway with driveway for exiting and entering traffic, as opposed to a limited-access highway with numerous signalized intersections and insufficient capacity to carry existing volumes, let alone projected volumes."

"The county supports the New Jersey Department of Transportation in securing its services for the remaining section of Interstate Route 78 in Union County with every effort being taken to minimize unfavorable environmental impact." County-municipal swaps in jurisdiction over about 30 miles of roadway are among other proposals, though the exchanges are not expected to take place in the near future. The recommendations include making Springfield avenue from Morris avenue to the Union Township line a county road. Billable avenue from Mountain avenue to Rt. 22, a county road, would become a municipal street.

Vans targeted by thieves along Rt. 22

Vans are very popular on Rt. 22 among thieves, that is. In fact, two vans were stolen in the last three weeks—one of them while the owner watched from the parking lot of a highway restaurant, and another van was abandoned there, Springfield police reported.

On Aug. 17 a van disappeared from the parking lot of the Porge II restaurant, police said. The van, a 1977 Dodge with orange and yellow stripes, was taken from the lot sometime around 8:45 p.m. It was later found abandoned in Tolson.

The next day police investigated reports of a van parked in the back of a green Dodge Tradesman van parked at a gas station. The van was reported stolen from a parking lot in Jersey City, police said. About 11:45 p.m. on Aug. 22, the owner of a green Dodge Tradesman van stepped out of the restaurant with his friend and, according to police, wanted to show him his van. As the owner and his friend walked toward the spot where the van had been parked, the owner noticed a suspiciously familiar van moving past him and onto the highway. The driver was later involved in a chase and was captured by Union police reported.

"There's nothing really spectacular about these thefts," a member of the detective bureau commented. "Last year they were after Lincoln, now they're after vans. The highway is a great place for thieves to choose from."

Committee hopefuls rap pool conditions

Jerry Cohen and Ray Condon, candidates for election this fall to the Springfield Township Committee, this week took note of the disastatous and disconcerting conditions of the Springfield Municipal Pool and improvements that the pair say could best be accomplished by their own committee.

Cohen and Condon stated, "We have both been pool members for many years and have experienced the pleasures of the municipal pool facility, while at the same time noting many ways in which the facility can be improved for the additional enjoyment and pleasure of its members."

Cohen stated, "I am particularly disappointed in the fact that these chairs and the card tables are no longer available. While the pool membership fee has increased by 20 percent this year, members have experienced a reduction of service for their money. Good financial planning would dictate that a certain number of chairs be purchased every year and that there be needed maintenance on those chairs."

Both suggested that chairs and tables be purchased and rented on a daily basis for a nominal sum, which would more than cover the cost of chairs and maintenance of them with a daily cleaning of the chairs in their same condition. This would provide a convenient alternative to all pool members, who are now burdened with the job of carrying children's chairs and pool necessities, the pair noted.

"They said, 'Our opponents, one of whom is the Township Committee chairman of recreation in Springfield, has answered the question of how to maintain chairs and tables for the pool members by approving the decision to have them done away with. Was there no way for maintaining these chairs or alternatively utilizing our suggestion of renting chairs?'"

"Obviously, our opponents have answered these questions by saying the best thing to do is to do nothing. We are not satisfied with that answer."

Cohen stated, "I noticed that there are a problem at the pool, particularly in the snack bar area. This problem could definitely be minimized with the installation of an electric insect killer and by cutting the grass closer to eliminate the growth of clover, which the bees are attracted to. This is obviously a maintenance problem which clearer pool supervision by the township Committee could easily overcome."

Cohen said, "I personally have received several complaints from members that the pool itself is dirty particularly around the water line."

Carnival to aid charity

The third annual neighborhood carnival and fund-raising for muscular dystrophy will be held Saturday at Ruby Park in Springfield.

There will be games, prizes and refreshments. Some of the organizers for the carnival are Kimberly and Lora Condon, Susy Demetrio and Noreen Robitkus of Rose avenue, Springfield. They said they hope to surpass the $125 they made last year.

All proceeds from the event will go to the fight against muscular dystrophy and related muscle diseases, which disable many thousands of children and adults. Rain dates for the carnival are Aug. 27 and 28. Additional information is available at 467-0276.

Life of Gene Tierney

Film star looks back

By ROBERT SIMON

FIGHT FOR STABILITY
"Self-Portrait," by Gene Tierney

Unlike most of her contemporaries, film star Gene Tierney—who was featured in 33 films from 1940 until 1964—was "discovered" while taking a guided tour of the Warner Brothers Studio. Her decision to become an actress was rejected at first by her father. Later, with his cooperation, she signed a contract with Columbia, then started in the Broadway hit, "The Male Animal."

Ambitious, conscientious, she became a Fox star, living quietly with her mother. Against her family's wishes, Gene eloped with the famous dress designer Oleg Cassini. Marital difficulties, the birth of a retarded daughter, the divorce of her parents and her father's illegal takeover of her funds began to exert a severe strain on Gene's health. Separation from her husband and child (she had to be institutionalized) was somewhat balanced by the birth of her second (normal) daughter and her devotion to her work.

Mrs. Tierney relates her subsequent history—her friendships with Howard Hughes, Jack Kennedy and Aly Khan; the breakdown of her mental health; her commitment to the Menninger Clinic (twice); her agonizing experiences (electric shock treatments, cold-packs); her meeting with Lee Howard, whom she married, and her present mode of living.

A VICTIM OF APARTHEID
"Biko," by Donald Woods

This book is a personal testimony to Steve Biko, founder of South Africa's Black Consciousness movement and a friend of the author. It is also an indictment of the government and the policy and system it represents.

Although Biko had lived in obscurity (he was forbidden to speak publicly, he was quoted to function fully as a political personality), his death after 26 days of isolated imprisonment, daily torture and ensuing brain damage was a tragedy borne by his fellow-citizens and civilized people throughout the world. Among his mourners was Woods, editor of the liberal Daily Express, who was banned from publishing in South Africa after angry protests following the death of his good friend. When his life and that of his family appeared to be in jeopardy, they escaped to England, to await the end of Apartheid.

This account, secretly written, and smuggled to London in sections, is arranged in six parts—explanation of South African history, Biko's personality, his philosophy, the circumstances of his death, the subsequent inquest and, last part, an indictment of his killers.

THE WILL TO SURVIVE
"Naples '44," by Norman Lewis

A member of Britain's Field Security Service, Lewis kept a diary of the year he spent in Naples—then in ruins and smoldering of charred wood. It had been destroyed first by the Allies, then it remains were blown apart by German demolition squads. Even now their deadly action explosive devices added to the senseless deaths of civilians.

Lewis describes the incredible poverty and hunger of the Neapolitans—thousands searching for edible plants in fields seven miles away; children climbing rocks piled against the seawall, picking off lumps for food; inhabitants being forced to eat chicken heads, entrails, even cats; natives drinking coffee made from scum—but always there was malaria. Whenever he looked he saw people clothed in army odds and ends, in coats made from army blankets. In addition, they were now plagued by the eruption of nearby Vesuvius. Yet they met adversity with courage and dignity.

The intensity and acidity of the Neapolitan have been their salvation. The author tells of desperate efforts to exchange stolen goods for survival needs—food, blankets, medicinal instruments, manhole covers, penicillin, etc. He speaks also of the powerful Mafia, corrupt police widespread prostitution and the influx of Allied soldiers on native women. Lewis is charmed by the close-knit family life, the small pleasures, the miracle of St. Gennaro and the cultural heritage.

Soccer coach optimistic about UC prospects

Optimism was the key word as the Union College varsity soccer team practice this week, according to Roger Brauchi, head coach.

The Owls, coming off a successful 9-2 record last year, lost four starters to graduation, including All-American Junior Matt McGee, but Brauchi is still optimistic about his team's chances this year.

"Normally, the loss of four starters, some of whom were a two-year All-American, would have very much hampered us," Brauchi said. "But we have been very fortunate in our recruiting this year, and I am anticipating a banner crop of incoming freshmen. Besides that, we still have a strong nucleus of experienced sophomores led by first team All-American goal keeper Grant Cahill, and that should make us a team to be reckoned with."

Besides Cahill, the Union boosters will have standouts Sal Spada, a halfback-striker; Buch Toth, wing; fullback Jim Duggan, and Steve Hoffman at Kenilworth at the sweeper position.

Soccer coach optimistic about UC prospects

Optimism was the key word as the Union College varsity soccer team practice this week, according to Roger Brauchi, head coach.

The Owls, coming off a successful 9-2 record last year, lost four starters to graduation, including All-American Junior Matt McGee, but Brauchi is still optimistic about his team's chances this year.

"Normally, the loss of four starters, some of whom were a two-year All-American, would have very much hampered us," Brauchi said. "But we have been very fortunate in our recruiting this year, and I am anticipating a banner crop of incoming freshmen. Besides that, we still have a strong nucleus of experienced sophomores led by first team All-American goal keeper Grant Cahill, and that should make us a team to be reckoned with."

Besides Cahill, the Union boosters will have standouts Sal Spada, a halfback-striker; Buch Toth, wing; fullback Jim Duggan, and Steve Hoffman at Kenilworth at the sweeper position.

Soccer signup slated Tuesday for boys, girls

The girls will begin practice Saturday, Sept. 8 at the Echobrook field; fourth to sixth graders will meet at 2:30 p.m. Both groups will compete in the Tri-County Girls Soccer League. The registration fee is $4 per person; each player will receive a soccer shirt. Participants must provide their own transportation to and from games.

The boys will hold their first practice Saturday, Sept. 15, at Deerfield School. 'Quiet' homes available at 3 Williamsburg sites

One of the best ways to judge the structural values of a home is to listen to it, according to Dom Martelli, president of Williamsburg Associates, the homebuilding firm developing three single-family home communities in Monmouth County. "A well-built home is a quiet home," Martelli contends. "And to have a home turn out quiet means a lot of extra noise and effort in construction stages." Homes within Williamsburg at Collis Neck, Williamsburg at Manalapan and Woodlake Heights in Middletown, therefore, undergo sound-alienating virtually unparallelled in the homebuilding industry today. In building the living area floors, for example, a Redex underflooring is first glued and nailed to the floor beams. Then a 3/4-inch urethane carpet underlayment is nailed on top. The carpet padding is put down, and finally a thick wall-to-wall carpet is attached on top. As a result, Williamsburg home floors are as quiet as they are luxurious. The bathroom floors (there are 2 1/2 in each home) are exceptionally-crafted Concrete is laid evenly over the entire floor area and then the tile is put in with a silicone coating that facilitates smoother, unparallelled in the quieter operation. The steel front doors seal out both temperature and sound. The thick, R-15 wall insulation and R-30 ceiling insulation also contribute to a more quiet home. And since each home is set on a generous one-third or one-half acre property, the residences are also quiet in privacy. To make sure that people, as well as floorboards and walls, don't go bump in the night, all Williamsburg home closets have lights. And all lighting fixtures have bells in them, so that moving will be an exercise in night maneuvers. Also included in the standard price (from $68,400) of the homes of Williamsburg at Manalapan and Woodlake Heights are homes located off Gordons Corner road, two miles from Rt. 9, are woodburning, fireplace and central air conditioning. Williamsburg at Collis Neck is situated just off Phalanx road near Parkway Exit 109, offering custom homes priced from $169,000. And Woodlake Heights, off Nut Swamp road in Middletown, offers two-story home models priced from $115,000. The builders of the quiet homes have been making noise in the home development industry for more than 15 years, and have delivered more than 500 elegant residences. Williamsburg Associates is headquartered in Shrewsbury.

Many people are live-at-213 degrees F. It also creates a vacuum around the jars to seal themselves. Inspecting a water bath canner... the most important item to remember is size. It must be large enough so the jars can be put in the water with water, put a rack in the bottom, and turn on the heat.

Prepare the food for canning according to instructions: packing in clean, scalded, containers and putting on lids as directed.

Jars of raw (cold) food must be put in boiling water because the glass might crack; however, if the food in the jars is very hot, you can put them in without fear of breakage.

Process one type of food in one-size container. Use jar-lifters to lift and lower jars into the hot water. Place them away from the side of the canner and about one inch apart, so the boiling water will be able to circulate freely around them. If your batch is too small to make a full canner load, submerge open jars in the empty spaces to keep your capped jars of food from shifting around as they boil.

Y flea market on Labor Day

A wide variety of goods, knicker food and a space walk will highlight the Eastern Union County Y's flea market Monday, Sept. 3. The flea market will be held at the Y's on Green Lane, Union, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is free. Information is available at 284-1111.

Water bath canners require correct use

The boiling-water bath canner has at least two inches of water. It is to be kept constantly and not spilling over. A 28-quot. Boiling Water Bath Canner would be suitable to process 1/2 pint jars; but it not deep enough for quart-jars.

To use, your canner correctly, put it on the stove and fill it halfway with water; put a rack in the bottom, and turn on the heat.

Chain opening first Plus units

The first Plus discount food stores, offering savings of as much as 30 percent on quality food and general merchandise products, have been opened in South Plainfield and Bayonne with some 50 more scheduled to open in the next six months.

The new facilities, which stock 200 grocery products, including produce, dairy items, frozen foods, canned meats, bacon, luncheon meats, health and beauty aids, and general merchandise. About half the first-line products sold are packaged under the private label, "Plus," many of them processed in A&P-owned facilities.

Operated by Plus Discount Foods, Inc., a subsidiary of A&P, the new units are able to offer low prices by keeping operating expenses at a minimum. Customers serve themselves from product cartons and bag or box their purchases.

Only cash and food stamps are accepted. Checks are not cashed nor are manufacturer's coupons redeemed.

FRED Teelen, president of the new A&P subsidiary, formerly operated limited-assortment units for the year purchased a major share of A&P stock. The layout and product offering of the new Plus stores are modeled on their popular German counterpart, Teelen said.

"The limited-assortment concept of providing low prices by reducing operating expenses has a particular appeal to bargain-conscious shoppers," Teelen noted. "Plus offers top quality products. The Plus line of products are comparable to the best items offered in competing supermarkets," he said.

First Jersey tabs manager, vice-presidents

The appointment of Silvana Bucciantti as manager of the Union branch office has been announced by Thomas J. Stanton Jr., chairman of First Jersey National Bank. He also announced that Frederick Miller has joined First Jersey as vice-president in the systems and programming department. Miller, who had been with Equitable Life Assurance in New York, was graduated from Princeton with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering.

Edward Gurulis was promoted to vice-president, assigned to the Belmar Region.

Bucciantti, the new manager of the Union branch, joined First Jersey's management team in June 1974. She was promoted to administrator in 1977 and most recently was assistant manager of the Central Avenue Branch. Bucciantti, who was graduated by Rutgers University with a bachelor of arts degree in French, resides with her husband in Bayonne.

First Jersey National Bank, headquartered in Jersey City since 1864, has 27 offices in Hudson, Bergen, Monmouth, Essex, Union and Ocean Counties.

'Sunday close' ballot is sought

Union County Freeholders Chairman Everett C. Lattimore this week announced a petition drive to place the Sunday closing laws on the November ballot.

Union County is one of 10 counties in the state that still observes the blue laws. Lattimore said 25,000 signatures are needed to place the question on the ballot. The petitions must be filed by Sept. 31.

The Board of Freeholders unanimously passed a resolution earlier this year calling for the referendum.

Lattimore stressed that the petitions are not meant to establish a pro or con position regarding the Sunday closing laws on the part of the freeholders. Rather, they are an attempt to have county residents themselves determine whether Union County will continue to observe the blue laws, he said.

Fund drive set by United Way

The United Way of Eastern Union County will kick off its 1979-80 fund-raising campaign Wednesday at the Union County Courthouse in Elizabeth. A luncheon and volunteer training session will be held from noon until 2 p.m.

This year, the campaign goal is $1.1 million for the 40 member agencies in Eastern Union County.

"We hope to continue the United Way tradition of successful fund-raising. The citizens of Eastern Union County gave us a tremendous amount of support last year, and I know that we can depend on them again. Their cooperation helps in so many ways, and they know it is used where it is needed most," said C. Alan Spies, general campaign chairman. Spies is a vice-president of the United Way Bank.

Slomkowski seeks moped law giving municipality jurisdiction

Union County Prosecutor Edward Slomkowski has called for immediate passage of legislation pending before the New Jersey Legislature dealing with juveniles 15 and 16 years of age who commit traffic violations while operating mopeds.

The current law holds that juveniles committing traffic violations in this age bracket are handled by the juvenile court," he said. "The new legislation would allow the traffic violations to be handled in the municipal courts."

Slomkowski, a police officer in Union Township, warned: "The increased use of these mopeds and the inability of these youngsters to handle them on our streets and roads makes us think we are on the road to tragedy."

Youngsters who operate mopeds and commit traffic violations should receive the same treatment as any other traffic violator, he said. "These laws," added Slomkowski, "are for their own protection. I don't think these youngsters understand that we want them to have the moped, but we also want them to use them in a manner that will insure their safety and the safety of the motoring public."

He proposed that the state Division of Motor Vehicles issue an intermediate order requiring proof of age for the issuance of a permit to operate mopeds.

Slomkowski said he will introduce a resolution at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday morning during the passage of the bill and urge Union County municipal governments to do the same. Anyone who has witnessed these mopeds and their youthful operators in action, he concluded, "share my concern and are anxious for their personal safety."

Revelers plan Coward show

The Revelers of Rahway will open their season with "The Coward," a musical revue by Noel Coward, Sept. 7. It will run every Friday and Saturday night through Oct. 13, except Oct. 8 at the Kings Highway West Main Street. Reservations may be made by calling 874-1224.

The production stars Norman Neil of Union and Paul Bradley of Rahway.

Dinner is served upstairs in the Revelers restaurant starting at 5:30 p.m. Curtain time is 8 o'clock downstairs in the Revelers club.

Meeting slated by Choristers

The Choristers of Union, formerly the Essex Choristers of Union, will hold an open house at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 11 at the Recreation Center, 881 Stayman ave., Union.

Former members and those interested in joining are invited to attend, according to Dr. Anthony J. Godofski of Roselle, conductor. He said anyone who can't attend should call 913-3254 after 4 p.m. for further information.

The 35-voice chorus is beginning its second year under the sponsorship of the Union Recreation Department. It sings Broadway hits, nostalgic favorites, folk music and some serious music, Godofski said.

2 are selected to pilot booters

Tommy McDonald and Tay Downey, former professional soccer players from Elizabeth, will coach the Newark Rutgers soccer team.

Both are United States Soccer Federation coaches. McDonald is state youth coach and Downey is head coach of the Elizabeth City Recreation soccer program. They also have worked at soccer camps in the state.

Velour easy to sew—but it requires care

By CAROLYN V. HEALBY
Extension Home Economist
If you thought velour garments were costly last year, a look at prices this year should get you busy sewing one, suggests Mrs. Carolyn V. Healy, Extension Home Economist. The cost will be about a third that of ready-to-wear.

Velour is perhaps even more popular this season than last because it is suitable for garments for men, women and children. You will be assured success in this sewing venture if a few pointers are followed.

When purchasing the velour, look or ask for the care information. Most velour is machine-washable and should be washed and dried before cutting out the pattern.

It took a hundred years to make this boot.

Frye® started benchcrafting boots over 100 years ago, using only the finest leather available. Today, we still make them the same way, paying attention to details and handcrafting them to the old fashioned tradition. You'll love the durability and fashionability of Frye's new styles. The times change, and styles change, but our quality and craftsmanship remain the same.

The best.
