Early state poll shows 31% of voters unsure

Early poll results show that New Jersey voters favor Democratic Assembly candidates over Republican candidates, but a large portion of the electorate is still undecided. The latest Eagleton Poll, conducted in September, found that among those who report being registered voters, 41 percent favored Democratic candidates, 27 percent favored Republican candidates and 31 percent had not yet made up their minds. When the undecideds were asked which way they "leaned," the Democratic margin over Republicans became 50 to 33 percent, with 17 percent still expressing no preference. Both bond issues also were favored by New Jerseyans. The $30 million bond issue to improve higher education facilities was favored by a 50 to 27 percent margin, with 23 percent undecided. When the undecideds were asked which way they "leaned," the margin favored the higher education bond issue by a 50 to 27 percent margin, with 23 percent undecided. When the undecideds were asked which way they "leaned," the margin favored the higher education bond issue by a 50 to 27 percent margin, with 23 percent undecided.

Stephen A. Salmore, Eagleton's associate director, noted, "The low level of interest in this year's election probably reflects low levels of information. In such low-information situations, voters tend to fall back on their basic predispositions. Democratic voters favor Democratic candidates and Republican voters favor Republican candidates. Since, in New Jersey, Democrats outnumber Republicans by two-to-one, the Democratic candidates are starting off with a natural advantage. "However," Salmore said, "since Republicans are more likely to actually vote in a low-interest and low-turnout election such as this one, the Democratic advantage will probably be much reduced on election day." The latest Eagleton poll was conducted between Sept. 10 and 21 and is a scientifically-selected sample of 1,000 New Jersey residents, 18 years and older, were interviewed by telephone. The sample included 429 respondents who reported they were registered to vote.

Bloodmobile visit is scheduled at St. James Church Oct. 27

Preparations for the township's second Community Bloodmobile visit of the year are continuing; it will be held Saturday, Oct. 27, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at St. James Church, S. Springfield Avenue. The Church will act as host group for this visit, with Helen Slickle, chairman of the St. James Group, in charge of the visit; she will arrange for donor appointments and volunteer workers, who will be assisting throughout the day. She can be reached at 688-2762. All other donor group chairmen were asked to make donor appointments for their members. The groups expected to participate, and their chairmen where available: The Joint PTAs (including JDRH parents and students over 17); Temple Shalom, Mrs. Dorothy Danziger; Temple Beth Ahm, Wallace Gallely; Presbyterian Church, the Church Office; Lions Club, Harold Blahof; REGM, Mrs. Jane Kias; Municipal Employee's Association, Don Dausser; staffs of JDR and Livingston High Schools, Mrs. Nancy Milchenfelder and Mrs. Catherine Atley, respectively. Anyone not a member of participating group may donate as an individual or form a donor group in their home or other organization or places of work. Mrs. Slickle (688-2742) or Mrs. Kalem (376-6826) can provide information. Donors must be between 17 and 66, in good general health, and weigh at least 110 lbs. Donors between 17 and 18 need written parental consent. Women who have been pregnant within the past six months must postpone donation, as must persons who have had their ears pierced or had a tattoo within six months. Surgery will postpone donations for 6 to 12 months. Persons taking medication on a regular basis, or at the time of the visit, can check their acceptability by calling Mrs. Kalem. Weight watchers should check with their doctor. Persons with a history of hepatitis cannot be accepted; anyone having a tooth extraction or dental surgery must wait 72 hours to donate. Anyone who has had malaria, or lived in a malarial area during the past three years, also cannot be accepted. If there is a question of acceptability, donors may call Mrs. Kalem. Donors may give blood every eight weeks, up to five times a year. Before giving blood, donors should eat a well-balanced meal, avoiding fatty foods and alcohol. The entire procedure, from registration through post-donation refreshment, takes about an hour. The donor's medical history is taken, as are temperature, pulse, blood-pressure and hemoglobin. Once the donor has been medically accepted, a trained technician draws the blood. The pint of blood taken is replenished by the donor's body in 24 hours, the taking of blood not more than one or two hours after he was informed the township did not have one. Debbie Martocchia, Rotunda's secretary, testified the inserted the necessary list in the first bid envelope, but did not include one in the second bid envelope because she judged it was sufficient for her to have submitted a list the first time. Philip Schifano, the treasurer of Allen Blacktop Co., said he objected to

Bill would establish housing availability

A N.J. Senate bill, part of the political controversy in Springfield, contains only a mechanism to conduct a survey of low-cost housing availability, says the township Democratic hopefuls. Senate Bill 505 "further calls for a state council to set guidelines and supervise the county operation," they added. While noting that the bill would add to the bureaucracy, the two Democrats said, "If we protested every state bill calling for more bureaucracy, we would do little else." "There is no state quota for minorities," Welch and Stokes said. Citing 1,248 low-cost housing units, a number referred to by the Republicans, the two Democrats said the number can be used by the members of that group during that time. "The bill contains provisions for a survey of housing availability in the different counties," they said. "It also calls for establishment of a mechanism at the county level, with participation of each municipal mayor to accomplish the survey." Senate Bill 505 "further calls for a state council to set guidelines and supervise the county operation," they added. While noting that the bill would add to the bureaucracy, the two Democrats said, "If we protested every state bill calling for more bureaucracy, we would do little else." Bidding dispute arises in blacktop projects

Action was deferred on the award of a contract for blacktopping of streets in the township after a hearing of the two companies involved in the bidding process at Tuesday night's meeting of the Springfield Township Committee. The committee heard the bids for the second low bidder, Allen Blacktop Co., to the choice of S. Rotundi and Sons as the low bidder on the grounds that S. Rotundi and Sons had not included a list of stockholders in their bid papers. The list is required by state law, according to Edward Fanning, township attorney. The Community Block Grant Development program awarded $45,000 for the blacktopping projects, but the township has not received the funds. Walter Kozub, the township engineer, was called on by Mayor Stanley Kalish to urge the county to release the funds. The engineer said he would get in touch with county officials on Wednesday. The township is pressed for time, having until Nov. 15 to complete the project. If not completed by then, the township would have to pay for the project with its own funds. During the hearing, Angelo Rotundi, president of S. Rotundi and Sons, represented by Attorney Andrew Jacobs, testified that he submitted a bid sometime near the end of August or the beginning of September. He further stated that a second bid was delivered to the township, as part of normal bidding procedure, and that he submitted a copy of a stockholders list when he was informed the township did not have one. He said he delivered it in person not more than one or two hours after he was informed the township did not have one. Debbie Martocchia, Rotunda's secretary, testified the inserted the necessary list in the first bid envelope, but did not include one in the second bid envelope because she judged it was sufficient for her to have submitted a list the first time. Dems lack initiative, GOP candidates say

"After almost nine years as township committee, it is apparent that our Democratic opponents have lost their vitality, their initiative and their effectiveness in serving the people of Springfield. It is now time for a change," said Jerry Cohen and Ray Condon, Republican candidates for Springfield Township Committee. Cohen stated: "In 1974, when I was a candidate for township committee, I said that two terms as a township committee member should be the maximum that any person should serve. I made that statement because I truly believed that after so many years in office, one loses his sense of creativity. Now that my opponents have been in office for nine years, their record over the past several years is barren of new policies and new programs, and it is clear that their service to the people of Springfield is now one of reaction to crisis rather than planning for effective government services." "Nine years is more than enough," said Condon, "and I believe that Jerry Cohen and myself have the ideas, initiative and desire to revitalize Springfield government by reviewing existing policies and practices and creating new programs."

Campaign letters

In order to prevent the dissemination of charges and criticism without adequate time for replies, this newspaper will not print letters concerning the political campaign in its issues of Oct. 25 or Nov. 1. The final opportunity to print letters concerned in any way with the campaign is in the issue of Oct. 18. This will leave time for their criticism to reply. All letters must be in accord with the laws of libel and good taste.

LETTERS

Letters to the editor must be received no later than 1 p.m. on the Friday preceding the date of the issue in which they are to appear. They should not exceed 500 words and should be typed with double spacing between all lines (not all in capital letters, please). All letters must include a written signature, a complete address and phone number (for verification purposes only). The writer's name will be withheld only in most unusual circumstances, and at the editor's discretion. This newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any letter.

"WONDERFUL LIBRARY"

I should like to take this opportunity of once again telling the people of Springfield how very fortunate we are to have such a wonderful library available to us. The scope of their activities, not to mention the variety of books, is truly wonderful. The recent up-door jazz concert was a delight, and a wonderful way to spend part of a Sunday afternoon.

However, on a more personal note, I recently took my grandchildren, (age 2 and 3) to the children's library, and was totally delighted at everything there. The books, toys and reading area were all so inviting, and we left only because we did not want to get locked up for the night.

My hat is off to all those who make this great place what it is. Thank you.

Public Library The book business

By ROBERT SIMON

The Springfield Public Library lists its new acquisitions for the month of October. The list includes a variety of titles, including a new book on the book business.

LITERARY AGENT SUPREMACY
"A Talent for Luck."
by Helen M. Strauss

Here is a woman who has succeeded in a man's world, who refuses to acknowledge that she has been discriminated against, and who has not been solicited to join the Women's Liberation Movement. Since she has always believed herself at least equal to any man, she never felt hostility. Yet she has battled with many of them, and never mixed business with sex.

For 23 years she was a prominent literary agent, representing some of the most talented, temperamental, tormented and tormenting authors and personalities of those decades. Prejudice had functioned officially (in a minor capacity) for major film companies and for the Reader's Digest. Strauss reviews her early life, her several jobs associated with film companies, and her disastrous marriage. After separation (divorce came 10 years later) she wandered from one assignment to another (a period of four years), gradually building up from associate story editor for Paramount to a post in the literary department of the William Morris Agency (1944).

Among her numerous clients she counts George Abbott, Tallulah Bankhead, James Michener, Santha Rama Rau, Robert Penn Warren and Gore Vidal.

Fortuitously, and with engaging good humor, the author continues her memoirs, offering a readable, enjoyable (and lucky) life.

HOPE FOR WOMEN
by Madeline Gray

Born Maggie Higgins into a large family, she rebelled against her religion (Catholic) and her father (a rancher) leaving home in Corning, N.Y., when she was 20. Married to a poet, architect, William Sanger, she was torn between a career (crusading for birth control) and family life (she bore three children).

She searched tirelessly for a foothold, for a place to call home. She was a poet, a writer, a mother, a wife, a friend, a lover, a woman who explored her own mind.

She also examines the work of Anne Bradstreet, Charlotte Brontë, Natalia Ginzburg, Susan Griffin, Anne Sexton, Simone Weil and Virginia Woolf.

THE PUBLICAS VICTIMS
"Victims Circle"
by Jonathan Kwitny

Perhaps the most important book published in the past year is Jonathan Kwitny's "The Victims Circle." This book is an investigative report of the powerful hold Organized Crime has on the legitimate business activities of our country and the price the public must pay for it. Kwitny, a reporter for the Wall Street Journal, presents a list of appalling scandals involving consumer goods and services, food, clothing, transportation, banking etc.

One of the most horrifying revelations concerns "dirty meat" distributed to supermarkets (presumably government inspected, processor and union-sanctioned).

The complex story of Iowa Beef, the speak at candidates night, WILBERT W. LAZARUS of Springfield is included as president of the association of Municipal Assessors of Union County. A snow fire costs $15. Consumers are paying 20 cents for a head of cauliflower and less than 21¢ for a boy's sportcoat.

Courses by Newspapers Technology, change: The silent revolution

By PETER F. DRUCKER

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of 15 articles exploring "Connections: Technology and Change." In this article, social scientist Peter F. Drucker discusses how technology has changed our lives and institutions throughout history. This series was written for Courses by Newspaper, a program developed by University Extension, University of California, San Diego, and funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Major technological developments from television and computers to satellites and nuclear energy are profoundly affecting the way we live. They are thereby causing concern about the social impact of technological change.

Technology does indeed often have great social or political impact. But it is far from predictable whether this or that technology will have impact, let alone what it will be. The impact depends as much on the response of people and cultures as it does on the technology.

For example, the first women's liberation occurred in the 11th and 12th centuries. In the history books, this sharp change in the position of women is recorded in terms of literature.

Technology does indeed often have great social or political impact. But it is far from predictable whether this or that technology will have impact, let alone what it will be. The impact depends as much on the response of people and cultures as it does on the technology.

READING YOUR FACE

A science which is no longer taken seriously but was respectable in the late 18th century was physiognomy. Physiognomy is today a pseudo-science but in the late 18th century it was a science—"of reading personality traits in the features of the face."

Opisbaum studies Venus

Dr. Roger Opisbaum, an atmospheric physicist at Kean College of New Jersey, is working with scientists to analyze data received from the first Venus orbiter, Pioneer Venus, in orbit for 10 months.

Dr. Opisbaum spent a good part of the summer and continues to devote one day each week to this work as a consultant at the Goddard Institute for Space Studies in New York City, which is funded by NASA.

According to Dr. Opisbaum, the planet Venus not only is shrouded in whispy layered clouds of sulphuric acid, there seems to be a haze or fog above the clouds.

He explained that view of the edge of the planet reveals that the "limb" or the edge is not smooth. He said, "We are trying to determine the nature of what it is that is causing this non-smoothness."

Opisbaum, who is interested in the upper atmosphere of Venus, said answers to questions about the altitude at which haze occurs and the number of layers there will not necessarily be forthcoming.

Although the information is diffuse at any given time, Opisbaum said it is particularly hard to tell at this stage. He explained that the data is currently being processed and that a lot may depend on the latitude, longitude and perhaps even the time of observation. "That determines what you see."

Although more complete data will be compiled by December, Dr. Opisbaum stressed that this is preliminary research and the information called for will be rudimentary and general.

For the Birds

By FARRIS B. FRICKLEMAN, Professor, Union College

A few weeks ago a young lady who attended a party in New York and Pennsylvania, in order to raise funds for the treatment of heart and lung diseases.

She said they had the silhouette of blue jays and sounded like those of blue jays, but she said they were all white. Last winter one of my fellow birders, who lives only a few blocks from me, mentioned that he had a partially-white chickadee visiting his feeder. In 1978 when the first broods of house sparrows were about to leave their nests, another birder called to say that two of the offspring in a sparrow nest near her window were all white. These birds were either wholly or partially albino. This is due to an absence of pigment in the bird's feathers and skin. Without any pigment, feathers reflect all light that hits them and appear white. The skin and eyes are usually pink, due to the color of hemoglobin within surface blood vessels.

Birds exhibiting pale coloration are not albino but probably have reduced melanin, the typical black pigment of feathered creatures, in their plumage.

Midgets travel to Chatham after 8-0 loss

The Springfield Minutemen football team lost to Mountainide, 8-0, last Sunday.

Capitans for the Minutemen were Gerry Woland and Eric Storck. Mountainide won the toss and had possession of the football first. The Minutemen's defensive linemen, Timmy Francis, Woland, Jeff Finaberg, Kenny James, Storck, and Jon Cora fended Mountainide to kick after a short drive. A fumble on the punt return gave Mountainide good field position.

A touchdown drive was stopped by middle linebacker Robert Fucso when he recovered a fumble on the Mountainide four-yard line.

Springfield quarterback Chris Anderson, who was brought down in his own end for a safety, hit Springfield when the teams left the field. Springfield was down only by these two points.

Starting off the third quarter, the Minutemen had the ball. The offensive drive going and drove 15 yards and kicked by quarterback Wickham. Wickham found going against the Mountainide defense.

In the fourth quarter, Mountainide scored the first touchdown of the game, making the score 8 to 0.

Springfield finally got its offensive drive going and drove 15 yards and kicked the clock out, leaving them on Mountainide's 10 yard line.

Other players seeing action were Nick Calafato, Mike Elson, Mark Gross, Walter Jackson, Matt Magee, Darren Marcantonio, and Chris O'Connell.

The Springfield Midgets, now 0 and 2, have only four boys returning from last year's team. Coaches Ed Klach, Lou Barkala, and Mike Wickham have been working hard with the boys, building an offensive and defensive team. The coaches are placing more emphasis on how to play rather than winning.

Springfield's next game will be Sunday at Chatham Bar.

Jets win, 6-0; Souders' run bear Chatham

The Mountainide Jets' lightweight team won its second straight game, beating Chatham Township, 6-0.

The first half was a defensive struggle with Chatham having the edge. Mountainide's defense, led by Jose Palitta, David Martignetti, Duane Connell, Jeff Stoffer, Kevin Rogers and Jim Clifford, kept Chatham from scoring.

The second half was dominated by Mountainide. Behind the running of Marc Costello and Steve Souders and Michael Wood's passes to Chris Dooley, the Jets moved to two consecutive first downs. Steve Souders then went off to play for 40 yards and a touchdown.

* Key blocks in the scoring drive were made by Joe Costello, Bart Barre, Willie Heckler, Jeff Stoffer, David Martignetti, David Clifford, Jim Clifford, Andrew Solomon and Joe Souders. The defense kept Chatham in the territory for the remainder of the game.

Cuthill sparks UC's booters

Outstanding goal keeping by Berkeley Heights' Grant Cuthill is keeping Union College's soccer hopes alive in the Garden State Athletic Conference.

In conference play last week, The Oria tied Middlesex County College, 2-2, and beat Burlington County College, 1-0. Cuthill had 14 saves each in the two contests.

Jim Duggan of Berkeley Heights scored Union's second goal against Middlesex on a head ball off a corner kick by Jose Lobebo of Plainfield, while the first score was by Steve Francis of Rahway on a tremendous assist by Percy Penda of Maplewood. Union now has a 1-1-2 record.

Dayton faces Summit Saturday; 7 fumbles help Madison win

The Jonathan Dayton High School football team gave the state champion Madison "all it could handle" for a while last Saturday before losing, 41-0.

For three quarters, the boys were giving Madison all it could handle, said Coach Angelo Senese.

A Dayton fumble during the opening series of plays gave Madison a 10-0 lead. Dayton had an opportunity to tie the score at 10-10 in the fourth quarter.

Early in the second, the Bulldogs drove down the field and Kenny Kleibous gave Dayton a 10-0 lead. The two-point conversion was unsuccessful. During the ensuing play the second quarter Dayton turnover allowed Madison to score twice.

The third quarter was tough and go until Madison scored with less than three minutes remaining. Four Dayton turnovers in the fourth quarter resulted in three Madison touchdowns. Overall the squad fumbled seven times and Madison capitalized for five touchdowns. Senese said, "You can't turn the ball over to the best team in the state."

Dayton got only 73 yards rushing; Eddie Francis had eight carries for 25 yards, Robert Irone 17 carries for 29 yards, Sal D'Addario four carries for 15 yards, Anthony Cirelli four carries for 10 yards and Kenny Kleibous eight carries for 15 yards. Kleibous hit on four of eight passes for 106 yards.

Anthony Cirelli led the defense with seven unassisted tackles. Linebacker Jack Parent and defensive end Robert Dooley performed well. Joe Pollicastro had an interception and Steven Kessler a quarterback sack.

The Jonathan-Dayton junior varsity defeated Hillside, on a touchdown by Kevin Lacey. Mike Carricato's pass to Anthony Cirelli resulted in a two-point conversion.

The top runners for Dayton were Jeff Knowles (3), Jay Bruder (4), Steve Wright (5), Adam Silverstein (6), Scott Conoly (7), Jim Roach (8), Glen Eltz, Steve Halpin and Louis Salamy.

Coach Martin Taglietti, disappointed in his front runners, gave the credit for the victory to his middle and back runners. Taglietti is also worried about ailing Knowles, Bruder and Silverstein.

With the season half over, Dayton is ranked first in the conference. Taglietti is very pleased with his team overall, especially the younger runners, such as Scott Conoly.

Regional's next meet will be at home against Verona Tuesday.

After a scoreless first half, Sean Healey of Scotch Plains and Rich Kaplan of Springfield scored goals to lead Union College's soccer squad to a 2-1 victory over Somerset County College last week.

Weeks on varsity

Carlyn Weeks of Mountainide has been chosen as starter for the 1979 women's varsity volleyball team at Bucknell University. She is a sophomore and a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Dayton's gymnasts overpower Verona

The Jonathan Dayton High School gymnastics team gave an impressive performance Oct. 2, to defeat Verona High School, 4-0, at Verona, N.J.

As always, Paul Carter scored an exceptional 9.8 on the first event, vaulting. Penny Levitt placed second with a 6.55 and Hannah Reimann's 6.4 was a close third.

Reimann went on to win on the uneven bars with a 7.0. The balance beam performance was awed by Dayton gymnast Carter. Reimann and Sue Feig, Reimann then surprised the crowd by placing first on floor with a hard-to-achieve 7.4. Routinely by Judy Baker, Trisha Federico and Josy Buff each contributed substantially to the team's first score, Dayton 71.50, Verona 48.00.

Past Friday the team met with less than a 7.0. The balance beam performance was disappointed with the entire competition and is counting on the girls to "get their act together in the future."

Vaulting went relatively well and gave Dayton an opportunity to take the lead. Unfortunately, Kearsy pulled ahead on the uneven bars and then strengthened their lead on the balance beam. The powerful efforts of Susy Baker, Penny Levitt, Vicki Sarich and Josy Carter on floor were not enough to surround Kearsy's score. Dayton ended with 61.45 points to Kearsy's 61.65. Trisha Federico and Josy Buff performed well; two junior varsity members, Jean Calzaro and Debbie Kearsy made their gymnastic debut.

The coming portion of the Dayton gymnasts' schedule is undeniably the toughest. Tomorrow they will host a meet with David Breaerly High School of Kenton, Tuesday, the squad will be at Cranford. The gymnasts are also preparing for the Union County High School Gymnastic Tournament at the end of October, when they will have an opportunity to prove their potential against several teams met earlier in the season.

Springfield shuts out Jets; to face Summit

Springfield's undefeated B football team (3-0) defeated four-time Mountainide Jets, Sunday at Millburn, 19-0.

Springfield's first touchdown came in the first quarter when Reed Jones broke tackle for 44 yards to the four. On the next play Levent Bayrasi scored on a sweep around right end.

On Springfield's next possession, Frank Romano broke up field on a 25-yard run to set up a touchdown by Chris Clemens on a three-yard quarterback sneak; behind the blocking of center Dan Klingler. The score at half-time was 12-0.

In the second half Springfield's defense was led by Don Lazere (quarterback sack), Irving Webb (pass interception), Anthony Buff (two unassisted tackles), Mike Sabarese (two unassisted tackles), Richard Francis (one unassisted tackle) and John Woland (two unassisted tackles).

In the fourth quarter, a Mountainide offensive drive was stopped by David Clemens on a three-yard quarterback sack and dashed 27 yards for a touchdown. Springfield's B Team will play Sunday at 3:15 at Millburn against Summit's Blue Team.

Booters face Millburn today for tourney bid

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School varsity soccer team brought its record to 2-3-1 with a 3-1 victory over West Orange last Thursday. This afternoon, Dayton travels to Millburn hoping to reach the 500 mark necessary to qualify for the state tournament.

Against West Orange, "we played well enough to win," commented coach Joe Cozza. "We played too conservatively in the fourth quarter. Scoring for Dayton were Marty Swanson, George Largy and Mike Waskiw, who leads the team with four goals. Dayton was strong off the bench and in goal with Andrew Grett and Scott Worwick.

Regional had earlier played a 3-1 tie at Verona. Cozza was pleased with the team's aggressiveness and intensity. Scoring for Dayton's were Dan Demarecki, Steve Tenenbaum and Mike King.

Cozza, noting that this is a very young squad that is improving with every game, attributes the losing record to a lack of experience. Many of the players started to learn soccer two or three years after players from other teams.

Dayton's junior-varsity team, under coach Mario Kawczynski, is becoming a good team despite its 2-3 record. All the losses have been close, said the coach, who looks forward to a winning season. The players feel they are the equal of any team they have played. They lack the skills of some of the other teams but they make up for it in hustle and intensity.

Some of the better players are Jon Lovien, Henry Rueda, Len Glasman and Steve Vitolo. Three of their best players, Matt Gallagher, John Klimas and Yuran Rubanenko, have moved up to the varsity.

According to the coach, Dayton players must start playing at a younger age and play all year.
