Campaign months come to abrupt end

After months of campaigning for two seats on the Springfield Township Committee, the outcome was learned 30 minutes after the polls closed at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Campaign workers at Democratic and Republican headquarters scrawled the results on chalkboards. Everyone watched.

Democratic incumbents William Cieri and Stanley Kaish won the election, while Republican candidates scooped up the majority of votes in other elections.

At the Knights of Columbus building in Summit news of Reagan's victory blared on color television, while in another room Democrats cheered their sweep in the township committee election.

Democratic Mayor Robert Welton summed up the mood by saying, "Reagan carried Springfield and every Republican candidate in other races won, except for the two local races. Thinking people have returned the best men to office."

He was referring to the Township Committee race that has been hotly contested over two issues—rent control and completion of Interstate Route 78 through the Watchung Reservation.

"The outcome reflects the will of the overwhelming majority of people in Springfield," Kaish said. While bottles of Andre were being passed from table to table, Kaish talked about how many traditionally Republican voters had crossed party lines to vote for the Township Committee Democratic candidates.

"This is a victory not only for the Democratic organization but for the many people who worked for us," said Cieri.

Pleased with his return to the Township Committee, Cieri added, "I'm just going to go home and enjoy this."

The mood at Republican headquarters was more somber.

Campaign workers cheered earlier in the evening when results from district 8 were announced. The district—primarily apartments, including Summit Hills and Troy Village and it was one of three districts where the Republicans won.

However, by 8:30 p.m. the room was silent as the crowd learned their candidates, Ray Condon and Herbert Horn, had lost the election.

'Video lawyer' Gerst to debut on cable TV

Held Byers is cradling a maroon telephone between his ear and his shoulder. "Do you know about the new show '30 Legal Minutes'?" Yeah, it's a video lawyer, phone-in type show. That's my understanding. It's going to be a regular thing."

Byers leans back in his chair at the cable television programming studio in the basement of the Central Presbyterian Church in Summit. He continues to talk about shows for this week. Seven TV sets, their gray screens staring at him, are lined up in front of a window.

Through the window stand three television cameras pointed at three olive green chairs arranged in front of black backdrop.

It is in one of these chairs where Arnold Gerst will debut at 9 p.m. tonight as host of 30 Legal Minutes. Gerst is the man Byers has christened the "video lawyer."

The program will be taped live and aired to residents in Berkeley Heights, Summit, Springfield, Millburn and New Providence, who subscribe to Suburban Cablevision's Public Access station PA-2.

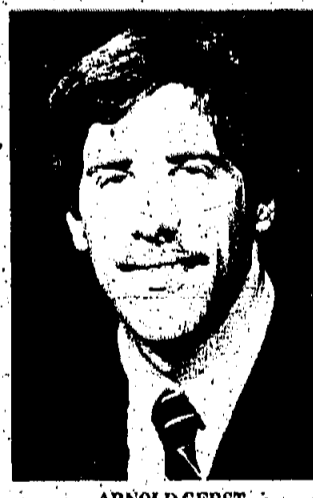

Gerst is a 28-year-old lawyer, who lives in Springfield, and who said he was curious about that resulted in writing and hosting the legal affairs talk show.

He is the first Springfield resident to host a show on PA-2.

Although Gerst had hosted a legal affairs radio talk show while he was a student at Suffolk University in Boston, he didn't have any television experience before joining PA-2's staff, Communications on Cable.

He said he is to join.

In his first show Gerst and Springfield attorney Seymour Margulies will discuss legal representation and how to choose a lawyer. "This is a program for the consumer," Gerst said. "The last 10 years lawyers have taken some bad rap. I think it's good for the legal profession to come into more direct contact with the public."

Gerst plans to host one show each week.

For Reid Byers, an associate pastor at Central Presbyterian and a producer for Communications on Cable, Gerst's show is an example of how a person with little or no television experience can wind up behind the cameras of PA-2.

"PA-2 is like an art center," Byers said. "It's a place to learn how to do something and to show what you've done."

The station signed on the air Sept. 16. Since then it has shown more than 100 programs.

The programs are still filmed in black and white, but in January Byers said the station will possibly be able to afford color camera equipment.

Right now that station is "funded mainly by the Junior League of Summit, and the Junior League of Short Hills and the Orange, Central Presbyterian, provides space for PA-2."

Cieri, Kaish re-elected; 85% of voters go to polls

Democrats William Cieri and Stanley Kaish won re-election Tuesday in their bids for the two seats on the Springfield Township Committee. Roughly 85 percent of the township's registered voters turned out to rainy weather at the polls. The township committee will be the only elected officers. Democrats won on Tuesday's ballot.

Cieri had 3,995 votes and Kaish 3,825. Republican challengers Ray Condon and Herbert Horn had 1,496 and 1,494 votes respectively. This was Condon's second bid for a seat on the Township Committee. He lost by 25 votes in the 1977 election.

The Democratic candidates won a majority of votes in all districts except the 5th and 6th districts, with the highest majority of votes received in the 10th and 12th districts. These are primarily residential areas.

Republicans had the highest majority of voters in their favor in the 6th district, which includes Troy Village and Summit Hill apartments.

In the presidential election, Springfield voters joined Ronald Reagan's Republican victory.

Reagan received 4,631 votes. President Carter received 2,796 votes. John Anderson had 1,005 votes.

Other presidential candidates who received votes included Gas Hall, 37; Barry Commoner, 13; Libertarian Party candidate Ed Clark, 36; Martin E. Mervolen, 1 and Ed Miller, McCarmack.

Republican Congressman Matthew Rinaldo of Union trumped his Democratic opponent Rose Monyck by a vote of 5,600 to 1,492.

In a bid for a three-year term as sheriff Republican Alfred Vardalis had 3,262 votes to Democratic challenger Ralph Froehlich's 3,169.

Republicans also swept the three seats up for grabs on the Union County Board of Freeholders. In that race Frank Lehr had 3,452 votes; Virginia M. McKenney had 3,367 and Peter P. Olszinski 1,548.

Democrats Jon D. Allen had 2,800; Doctor A. Martin, 2,800 and Herman Schreiber 2,582.

Independent candidates for the Board of Freeholders John Michael Perry had 65 votes; Kenneth J. Edwards, 61, and Gary Kevin Lally, 51.

With cases pending, Berliner resigns as rent board chairman

With urgent landlord-tenant cases pending, Paul Berliner resigned last Thursday as chairman of the Springfield Rent Leveling Board, he said. The job has become "too much work."

No one else on the board has expressed interest in the job Berliner has held for nearly three years.

As a result, the rent leveling board is "frozen" until an emergency meeting is called by the Springfield Township Committee to discuss, among other things, a proposed $1,500 annual salary for the board chairman and clerical assistance.

"The whole thing boils down to spending more money," Berliner said.

One of the reasons Berliner said he resigned is added duties to the township's rent control ordinance has created for the board. The ordinance, which increased maximum rental hikes from 2.5 to 6.5 percent annually, also allowed for vacancy decontrol. This means when a tenant moves, a landlord can raise the rent to any price he or she chooses. For the rent leveling board this means keeping vacancy decontrol records. The ordinance also caused tenants to contest the meaning of a 6.5 percent annual increase, as some tenants are paying 10.5 percent increase this year.

Ironically, the last piece of business the board finished before "freezing" itself was to approve a resolution that called the present rent control ordinance "unclear and ambiguous."

Berliner said New Jersey state laws that have changed the board from an informal to a quasi-judicial group was another reason for his decision to resign.

"We used to be like a family," Berliner said. "Now we're like a court."

Berliner said when the work began to pile up he asked the Township Committee to pay him an annual salary of $1,500 and to provide more office help.

He said the committee told him budget restrictions possibly could prevent paying him for his work and for clerical help.

The municipal budget restrictions are caused by a state-mandated cap on spending, which prevents any municipality from increasing budget expenditures more than 5 percent over the previous year.

The Rent Leveling Board has an annual budget of $2,300. Out of this money, $1,500 is paid to the board's attorney and $875 for a part-time secretary.

Berliner's wife, Renee, was the part-time secretary. But she also has resigned from the board.

The $425 left in the annual budget pays for such things as stamps, paper, traveling and copies.

"I've been working 20 or more hours seven days a week for the past nine months," Berliner said. "The work was caused by the way I believe the rent control ordinance should be carried out—telephone calls, meetings, court appearances, record-keeping."

"The issue is not what point does a 'personal' job cut too deeply into one's personal life?" Berliner, a statistics professor at Kean College and one of the founders of the Rent Leveling Board in 1972, said over the years the job has grown into "judicial, conciliator, administrator, record-keeper, analyst, researcher, and prosecutor."

As an example of his work, Berliner said, he has appeared in court eight times this year to enforce rent regulations.

In accepting Berliner's resignation, board member Milton Zisman said he faulted the Township Committee for not being "more sensitive to the situation that led to his (Berliner's) resignation."

Zisman said he also will resign from the Rent Leveling Board in January.

Elliot Fabricant, Rent Leveling Board attorney, said Berliner has "put in over 100 hours of work without one drop of compensation."

Fabricant said to solve the problem, he once asked the Township Committee to consider charging each landlord a minimal fee for each rental unit. This money then could finance the Rent Leveling Board. Fabricant said his idea was thrown out because the cap law requires that if funds are collected from the landlords, the money must go into the general treasury.

In other grievances, Fabricant said the board has no place in the township offices to keep its records, no one to keep the records and no one to prepare or distribute letters.

Berliner's resignation came at a time economic pressures and the "hotly debated" 6.5 percent annual rental increase are causing more landlords to file hardship cases and more tenants to complain about rent hikes.

Recurring conflict of arts versus athletics comes to head at regional board meeting

While high school teachers still are without a contract for the 1981-82 school year, the recurring conflict of drama versus athletics climaxed Monday night when more than 20 parents showed up at the Union County Regional High School Board of Education meeting.

The majority of the parents represented the athletic department at David Brearley High School in Kenilworth, where an Astrofrost weight room was the subject of the confrontation.

The weight room was formerly the drama room at the high school. But a few years ago when a drama teacher decided to move the class into a room in the Elgin department, the drama room—with its stage, high ceiling and proximity to the school's auditorium—was left up for grabs.

The athletic department then took over the room. Wall-to-wall Astrofrost was installed, among other improvements.

Now the drama department wants its room back, while the athletic department is determined to stay put.

Charles Vitale, board president, Bob Taylor, David Brearley football coach, told the board, "Damn, our athletes deserve a room of their own. We are fighting for the pride of our athletic program. We've been kicked around by the health class, the adult classes and now the drama class since 1977."

The weight room was formerly in rooms now used by health classes and adult education classes.

"Our town for a long time has been princely jack," Pat Haldinger countered.

"The drama department needs something close to the auditorium and the music room. The problem in the past has been that we haven't had a tenured teacher to fight for it."

Vitale agreed that for a long time David Brearley has had the reputation of being "athletic oriented."

"Every child must have the opportunity to develop in his or her direction," Vitale said.

The problem won't be solved this year, Vitale said. However, he assigned board member Stephen Marenski of the building and grounds committee to study the problem and to find a solution by the beginning of the next school year.

Although teachers' contract negotiations for the four regional high schools in Union County were not mentioned during the board meeting, a tentative agreement was reached last week between the Regional Board of Education and the Teachers' Association. A date has not been set for the ratification.

In other business, the board approved the resignation of Faith Townsend, head girls' basketball coach at Jonathan Dayton High School.

In her letter to the board Townsend said she resigned because "I simply have found that some concerning demands on my time make me unable to continue coaching."

The board also approved a bid for cleaning and repairing athletic equipment and general dry cleaning for the 1980-81 school year.

The total bid was $21,078.50 divided among Circle Swathm, Inc., Mercury Systems, Inc., Towne Cleaners and Raleigh Athletic Equipment Company.

Raleigh Athletics had the highest bid of $16,060.15 for cleaning athletic uniforms.

DIRECTOR'S TOUCH—Joseph Trintly offers a solution to student actor Scott Hewitt and actress Barbara Taylor during a scene from Flowers for Algernon. Trintly, drama teacher at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, directs the play that will be shown at 8 p.m. Friday at Halsey Hall.

Purity of available water supply threatened as drought continues

By DR. HENRY BIRNIE
Our lines of drought reminds us of the story in Exodus where the Israelites stopped in the desert and complained of thirst to Moses. Moses, in turn, held the political confidence of his people, told the challenge to God and he was told to smite a rock. He did and water gushed forth.

In New Jersey, if water suddenly came from a rock—even one smitten by the health commissioner, you'd be crazy to drink it. Especially in drought times, a drought goes on, then it's water. Not the best of first but the best of water in our state not quite trusted even when the supply is plentiful, cool and satisfying.

The worse a drought becomes the more we find a special earth-bone contamination of virus, bacteria and chemicals. So if you see water coming from a rock, or any other place other than a legitimate faucet, return to the Bible and believe what it says. "Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for your stomach's sake."

The drought water in our wells and reservoirs is becoming troublesome. When the dilution goes down, the immunity intensely goes up.

The rain forecast for the next 30 days is not good. Such forecasts are only 50 percent accurate but they do bias the probabilities. So we must start thinking about the increased risk of gastrointestinal illness. We also have to think about fire protection, sewage treatment, power supply, food and milk, hospital services, industrial needs, business requirements. For the most part water-borne diseases had been stopped in the civilized world about a hundred years ago. The prevention is now commonplace. When you hear hearing them you will say, "Sure, I know that!"

At the time of this writing the local drinking water is about as good as you may expect in New Jersey. But if the drought continues our water treatment facilities will have to extend into more intensive and protective water treatment. The treatment facility may also have to accept water from places it might normally avoid. Strange materials will have to be removed and chlorination of the supply may be increased. We may have to expect some untreated water to be discharged from water treatment plants because some of the work may be clumsy.

Governments don't plan for doomsday. The drought water in our wells and reservoirs had never been funded for the storm.

The present New Jersey drought is called "meteorological." We can accept the term when we think about excess drilling the water table, a term compatible with cosmic influence. The children of Israel may have thought how better off they'd be to face the meteorological desert if their leaders had arranged to take water from where there is too much to where there is too little. A primitive and inflammatory idea. But then, the Israelites did not have the faith in government we have today.

Under severe drought conditions we may expect leaching of contaminated water from earth into pipes. We may anticipate changes in pipe line pressure and backpressure and pipe scouring. We will see less water pressure, less water volume, more contamination.

The sewage effluent leaving a sewage treatment plant will be poorer bacteriologically, chemically and physically. This means the wastewater receiving this effluent will be badly hurt.

The State Department of Health has set priorities on drought water use. At the top are people receiving medical care, the elderly, nursing homes, hospitals, alcoholic beverages. After reading the health advice from the Bible about adulterated wine, manufacturers of alcoholic beverages must report adulterated wine to the health department so that those responsible can be traced.

Public water supplies are constantly monitored for bacterial and chemical content. But private wells usually are not tested enough. Owners of private wells would be wise to test the water frequently during a drought period.

During a drought water treatment plants must also provide more tests for chlorinated hydrocarbons, PCBs, soluble pesticides, nitroamines. Hospitals and physicians must report gastrointestinal infections to the local health department so that drought-borne disease may be traced.

The foodhandler courses presented by the health department are now augmented by a list of recommendations on what to do in the kitchen of a home or restaurant if our water does become hazardous. It may be well to keep the following 10 commandments in a top drawer in case you need them.

Foods to be eaten raw or without further cooking should not be placed in contact with untreated hazardous water supply.

Ice coming from ice machines made from any hazardous water supply is not safe.

For refrigeration, only water that has been boiled for 10 minutes or longer should be used for this purpose.

Pre-packaged, single-serve containers of food and sandwich prepared out of a hazardous supply must be properly refrigerated.

Whenever possible, use single-serve tableware—such as plastic or paper dishes, cups, knives, forks and spoons.

Glasses and kitchenware may be washed with water. Rinse with boiled or filtered water. Do not immerse and soak for two minutes in water containing a tablespoon of standard household chlorine bleach per gallon of water. Dishes must be separate. Any material left on them will activate the chlorine. Do not use steel, aluminum, silver, or chipped enamel. Disinfect by scrubbing.

To disinfect work surfaces, not stainless steel, after each use, scrub thoroughly with hot water and rinse with clear cold water. Then prepare a disinfecting solution of one tablespoon of standard liquid household chlorine bleach to each gallon of water. Apply this solution for

'Impostor' will give talk

Frank Abagnale, "The most famous impostor in the world," will be the guest speaker at the annual lecture and dinner at Union College Friday, Nov. 14, at 8 p.m. in the Campus Center Auditorium. Abagnale, who has posed as a pilot, a doctor, a lawyer, a stockbroker, an FBI agent, a college professor, and many others, will be the subject of a motion picture.

Following the discovery of his activities by Interpol and the FBI, Abagnale switched sides and now is helping fight white-collar crime. He has been retained by businesses to lecture on methods of preventing the crimes he executed so expertly.

In his lecture, he will describe his escapades, check forgery, counterfeiting, bogus documents, and other frauds.

The SGA Lecture and Entertainment Series is conducted primarily for the college community but tickets will go on sale to the public one week before the scheduled event.

Ticket information is available from the SGA office, 276-2438.

Financial aid workshop planned at UC Tuesday

Financial aid officers will be available to help prospective and current students fill out application forms and to provide information on various types of financial aid available at Union College and other colleges and universities.

The session is the second of three scheduled by the college this semester; the third is scheduled Dec. 9.

"This past year, we donated more than $2 million in aid to our students," said Mrs. Eberhart. "Nearly 70 percent of Union's full-time students received financial aid of one kind or another. An additional 20 percent helped pay for their college education through work-study projects and loans."

Information on the workshop or any phase of financial aid is available at the Financial Aid Office, 276-2600, Ext. 229. The workshops are free, even for students who do not plan to attend Union College.

Clouds hide asteroid from UC astronomers

Victoria, an asteroid which may or may not have an accompanying moon, apparently passed directly over the Sperry Observatory at Union College on Sunday morning, Oct. 26, at 5:26, but astronomers there did not see it.

Although the Sperry Observatory was reportedly one of the best places in the world to view an occultation of Victoria with a star whose position had previously been located, astronomers were defeated by one of their greatest enemies—weather. A cloud cover over Cranford made viewing of the eclipse, or occultation, impossible.

The astronomers will try out their research techniques again on Monday morning when asteroid Beiona comes into view.

Although the Sperry Observatory's telescopes are usually available to the public, they will not be on Monday because members of Amateur Astronomers, Inc. (AAI), who operate the observatory jointly with the college, will be using them to collect data.

Sunday's Victoria occultation, which occurred unseen in this area, involved the eclipse of a star by the asteroid. What astronomers were hoping to see was not one but two objects passing in front of the star. If they were seen in rapid succession, it would mean that Victoria was accompanied by its own moon.

6-MONTH SAVINGS CERTIFICATE

Rate available Week of November 6 - November 12

You'll earn the highest rate allowed by law on this short-term certificate. Minimum $10,000 6-month term.

These Savings Certificate rates vary from week to week; however, the rate in effect when you purchase your certificate is guaranteed until maturity. Withdrawals prior to maturity are not permitted. Federal regulations prohibit compounding of interest on new 6-Month Certificates. There are no commissions, overdrafts, and of course, savings are insured up to $100,000 by the FDIC.

This is an attractive annual yield assuming reinvestment of principal and interest if maturity is reached at the same interest rate. At the time of renewal your interest rate might be higher or lower than is now.

30-MONTH SAVINGS CERTIFICATE

12.94% 12.00%

Rate available October 30 - November 12

This rate is guaranteed for the 30-month term. Minimum $1,000. Interest is compounded continuously, payable quarterly. 30-month maturity. Federal regulations require substantial penalties for early withdrawal.

If your Investors Savings Certificate is automatically renewed, please come in and get your gift.

You are invited to attend-free An important Merrill Lynch seminar to help you save money on your 1980 taxes.

Some of the tax-saving ideas you'll learn at our free seminar are simple (but you'll be shocked at how many investors overlook them). Some are complicated and require careful planning. Some apply to virtually all investors, while others apply only to those in special situations. Some are earmarked for investors of more modest means. Others, frankly, are for the rich. (But they're fascinating!) And, best of all, there are many ideas you can put to work right now in time to save money on your 1980 income taxes, and for many years to come.

Weekend hikes set

A leisurely "six-mile" hike South Mountain has been made possible by the newly opened 2.2 mile section of the Garden State Trail. The hike will be led by Bill Crum of the Board of the Suburban Mountaintide, Ruth Symphonsky, Miller, who is the director of the Trailside Nature and Science Center, and Frederick Charles vocal coach and pianist at the New School of Arts, Mountaintide.

Tickets are $3 a person for general admission and $9 for patrons.

The fair will be part of the day-long activities at the Y. A bazaar bazaar will be held with two floors of new merchandise at discount prices, featuring clothing, toys, linens, cosmetics, paper goods, small appliances, jewelry, notions and gifts. It will be sponsored by the 30 chapters in the region. Mrs. Jane Perris is bazaar chairman.

All funds raised from the day's events will benefit ORT's EPIC (Earning Power Improvement Course), project whose aim is the immediate improvement in the earning capabilities of students in the global OTI network, a series of vocational technical schools in 30 countries, training 100,000 annually.

Now is time to save winter heating costs

Cold weather brings with it the high cost of heating fuel. Now, according to the N.J. Mortgage Finance Agency, is the time to take steps to reduce those costs.

Through its Home Improvement Loan Program (H.I.L.P.), the agency is offering 15-year loans with an interest rate of 8.75 percent.

The loans may be as high as $15,000 for a single-family house and are available to finance improvements to homes with from one to four units.

Improvements considered for the loans include new heating systems, insulation, door and window replacements, new roofs and new additions.

Sociology of U.S. Jews to be Kean course topic

Why do Jews have such a low fertility rate? How do women's lib affected students, the Orthodox community? What about the elderly course with an Israel on Jewish identity, Jewishness? How about intermarriage? Why is the number of Jews in America declining? These and other logical queries will be addressed by Dr. Sidney Langer of Kean College sociology department in his course, "Sociology of American Jewish Communities" in patterns and political direction of the country.

"For instance," said Langer, "Jews in America are concentrated in certain geographic areas. Why? Are they there because of trade, their economic power and poverty, voting on the political and social issues?"

Langer graduated from Mechnich High School of the New Israel Rabbinical College in Baltimore, and earned his undergraduate degree at Yeshiva University in New York. He has been a member of the Kean College faculty since 1978. Further information about the course is available from the sociology department at 22-2600. TUNAS SWIM NON-STOP. ### Carter: Two firsts Gymnasts 'team up' on county

By RON BRANDSDORFER

That's how Dayton's gymnasts spelled their victory in the Union County Championships last Friday night in Clark.

"It was a solid team effort," stressed Coach Howard Cushman, who watched his girls edge Cranford for the team title.

"Otherwise, we wouldn't have won the championship."

Junior Paige Carter was the big scorer once again taking first place honors in balance beam and vaulting competition, and finishing second in all-around exercises. Gina Pashalan also had a good outing, taking sixth in the floor exercises.

Points by Carter and Pashalan, combined with the points picked up by the rest of the girls, added up to Dayton's championship.

"We're a strong team," Cushman said. "We won this championship because of the other girls in the competition, not just because of Paige and Gina."

"The key to our success was that we had depth," he continued. "No one person went out and won the team title for us."

Cushman has been talking T-E-A-M all year, and it paid off in the county title. Picking up key points for Dayton were senior Vicky Saracino in vaulting, freshman Carol Carpenter in the uneven parallel bars, junior Trish Federico in the balance beam, freshman Karen Ross in the all-around competition and senior Sue Feig, the team captain in the floor exercises.

The girls warmed up for the county championship by taking the Suburban Conference title two weeks ago and winning a triangular meet with New Providence and Millburn to improve to 11-1.

"That's the first time in the school's history that the girls' gymnastics team has won championships back to back," said Cushman, who's assisted by Steve Fenton. "The school was really quite proud and pleased, and so were the girls and the coaches."

Dayton will now shoot for a sweep when the girls head to Butler Friday evening for the state sectional championships; Cushman will again count on a team effort to upset the likes of Montclair and West Essex.

Harriers pull upset for conference title

Even Martin Taglienti was a bit surprised at what happened last Friday afternoon at Warrinanco Park. And when you surprise a coach who has been in the business for 18 seasons, that's quite an accomplishment.

But then again, so was Dayton's third straight Suburban Conference cross-country championship.

"We went into the conference championships as the underdog," Taglienti stressed. "It was probably the biggest upset in years. New Providence and Caldwell had beaten us during the regular season."

As it turned out, Dayton returned to its championship form to take first, while Millburn came out of nowhere to place second, just one point from the title.

"The 1986 season has been a real raggedy one for Dayton's harriers, who have now taken the conference title four times in five years."

It didn't look like Dayton would even have a chance at the crown when the boys were just 3-4 after seven meets.

"I've had more talented groups over the years," Taglienti observed, "but I think this is the hardest-working group I've ever had. Not only did some of the boys post their best times in the conference meet, but they beat their best times by 65-90 seconds. It was just unbelievable."

Two runners, Jim Roche and Steve Wright, put together a sensational performance, but when you add the yardage lost on Matt Smith's 55-yard punt return (called back) and numerous other plays, the figures increase past 150 yards.

"I believe we played one of the finest games a football team has played here," said Dayton head coach Angelo Senese. "Our defense was superb. We held a team like Caldwell to less than 100 yards total offense."

Yes, there was a catch to the question. And yes, Dayton did play an outstanding game against Caldwell. And yes, the Bulldogs lost, 23-6, last Saturday in Springfield.

"Caldwell is absolutely physically superior to us," Senese stressed. "But our kids did a great job. I'm so proud of them."

Caldwell won the game on the scoreboard," he added, "but I really think we won it on the field."

Senese may have a point. The Bulldogs did almost everything right our quarterback sacked 10 times, nearly came back to haunt them.

"We absolutely shut Caldwell down," Senese said. "But penalties and having our quarterback sacked 10 times nearly hurt us."

And how: Dayton lost 88 yards on penalties, but when you add the yardage lost on Matt Smith's 55-yard punt return (called back) and numerous other plays, the figures increase past 150 yards.

For example, Dayton scored its only TD of the day when Kevin Talone, who picked up 71 yards for the afternoon, ran it in from the six-yard line, capping a 60-yard Bulldog drive. Senese called for an on-side kick, and it worked perfectly, as the Bulldogs recovered. But a flag called the play back, and Talone picked up the next kickoff and went in to score moments later.

Senese wasn't a bit disappointed with his defense. The third-year Bulldog coach was thrilled with the efforts of linebackers Ben Mirio and Jack Parent, defensive end Chuck Bell, and tackles Vince Parivessich, Peter Ball and Anthony Castellani.

"That's the kind of defensive performance the Bulldogs will meet against Verona Saturday afternoon at 1:30 in Springfield."

Dayton's 'D' shines in loss to Caldwell

By RON BRANDSDORFER

The final 23-6. Now quickly, are there the words of a winning football coach...or a loser?

"I believe we played one of the finest games a football team has played here," said Dayton head coach Angelo Senese. "Our defense was superb. We held a team like Caldwell to less than 100 yards total offense."

Yes, there was a catch to the question. And yes, Dayton did play an outstanding game against Caldwell. And yes, the Bulldogs lost, 23-6, last Saturday in Springfield.

"Caldwell is absolutely physically superior to us," Senese stressed. "But our kids did a great job. I'm so proud of them."

Bulldogs shock Rahway in UCT

By ROBERT A. BRUCKNER

Dayton's Bulldog booters pulled one of the biggest upsets of the Union County soccer season last Thursday, stunning Rahway, the state's 14th ranked team and the county's No. 2 squad, 1-0, in the opening round of the Union County Tournament.

The Bulldogs won it despite an ankle injury to keeper Andrew Great. Great, who notched his sixth shutout of the season in a 4-0 victory over St. Benedict a few days earlier, suffered the injury in the third quarter. But Jay Popopost came to the rescue, stopping Rahway the rest of the way.

The Bulldogs dominated play in the game, which was played at Greater Livingston High. Kirk Voggy scored the game's only goal midway through the second quarter, but feeling a shot into the right corner of the goal.

Playoffs begin in soccer league

The most interesting game two weeks ago was a battle between the Timber and the Blizzard, since both teams entered the contest undefeated.

The Blizzard wanted no time swapping their opponents, rolling to an easy 7-3 victory. A day belonged to Adam Miller, who fired six goals, while Dan Jansis poured on rebound for the final goal.

Dave Lissy kept the Timber's offense in check with several good saves, but Nat Zonerach managed to drill three goals past him. Robert Hamilton was the defensive player of the afternoon with several key slide tackles. Joan Novich played well for the Timbers.

In other action in the Middle Division, the Sting crunched the Fury, 5-1. Chris Monaco had two goals and an assist for the winners, setting up Peter Carpenter for a close-in score. Kanarion Boyzall scored twice for the Fury, once on a penalty kick and once off a pass from Rich Marocchio. Marocchio had a good day, too, drilling a shot off the crossbar late in the game. For the Fury, Lou Sals also hit the crossbar in the first quarter and Charles Wetzel scored in the third. Liz Pabst, and Peter Glassman played stubborn defense.

The Stompers had a close call against the Aztecs, finally slipping to a 4-3 victory. Peter Sadin pointed the Stompers in the right direction with a first quarter goal, assisted by Jason Yee. Sadin,

The team played one of its best games of the year," said a jubilant Joe Cozza, the Dayton coach. "Their real potential came through in this game. If the team continues to play like this, we could be the Cinderella team."

Dayton warmed up for the tourney game with a 4-0 victory over St. Benedict's and a 2-1 loss to Madison.

Against St. Benedict's, sweepster Henry Langoy capped Dayton's play with two goals in the third quarter.

The wind came a-gustlin' a week later, and that sent League competition spinning every which way.

All the games ended in ties, except for the Aztecs' tough 2-1 victory over the Fury.

In that game, Eric Schobel and Scott Leonard scored early in the game, the second goal coming off of Leon Marco's pass. The Fury came back, though, as Mike Zucker took Mitch Friedberg's pass and turned it into a 2-1 game. Chris Burkhardt and Greg Bibbo also played well for the Fury.

The Sting and the Blizzard got all mixed up in a 2-2 deadlock as Kanarion Boyzall scored a pair of goals for the Sting and Adam Miller and Dan Lissy smashed home the Blizzard goals.

David Lissy looked sharp in the nets and received plenty of defensive help from Jeff Greig.

In the most exciting game of the day, the Stompers managed a 3-3 tie with the Timbers. Peter Sadin's indirect goal was called back in the second quarter, but he scored just two minutes later. Dominic Barrone and Sadin drilled in second half goals, the second coming on Roger Basini's assist. Basini also made several key stops in the Stompers' net. Nat Zonerach, Ivan Novich and Marcello Regna scored the Timber goals.

These results in the Middle League complicated the upcoming playoff picture a bit. League standings going into these playoffs are as follows: Blizzard, 9 points; Timbers, 7; Stompers, 5; Aztec, 4; Sting, 3; and Fury, 2.

The difference was that the Tornados had a close call with the Rowdies. The regular game ended in a 1-1 tie thanks to goals by Dirk Schabel and Greg Kohn, the latter tying the game with one minute to go.

The game remained tied after the first round shootout," as Gion Rubenok, Ken Garguilo and Kahn matched Paul Nadan, Paul Teja and Schobel goal for goal. The difference was keeper Barry Roberg, who kept the game tied with some brilliant stops.

In the third contest, the Strikers rolled by the Lancers, 3-0, on goals by Alberto Gross and Pat Catullo. The third goal came off a wild scramble in front of the Lancer goal.

In a special first and second grade all-star game, Omega defeated Alpha, 5-0. Claudio Regna was the Omega star with three goals, while Justin Pettino also scored. Scott Korfalt, Clayton Mohr and Aaron Peltis held down the Omega defense. Leading the way for Alpha were Jeff Brooks, Justin Futral, Angelo Granati, Jim Corbett and Leo Gravina.

Jets improve to 5-0 as 'D' paces victory

The Mountaineers Jets "C" team made it five in a row last week with a 14-0 victory over Berkeley Heights.

The undefeated Jets combined stubborn defense with a strong running game to stop Berkeley Heights.

The first half was dominated by both defenses as neither team was able to sustain a serious drive until late in the second quarter. That's when the Jets went to work behind the running of Steve Squiders, Duane Connell, Kevin Rogers and David Martignetti. With Jeff Stoffer, Bart Barro, Matt Garppa,
