Proposed school budget raises tax rate 7.7 points

By PHILIP HARTMAN

If accepted by voters, the proposed 1982-83 school district budget would cause an increase of 7.7 points in the municipal tax rate, meaning if a family owns a house assessed at $100,000, the taxes would be $77 higher. For homes assessed at $50,000, the increase would be $38.50.

Those budget figures were presented for public comment Tuesday by the Board of Education, whose proposed expenses mark increases over last year of about five percent, which is below the allowable 6.6 percent cap increase set by the state.

In the 1982 budget, current expenses total about $4.8 million, or approximately $17,000 more than last year's expenses. More than half of that figure, $2.4 million, is allocated for instruction, including salaries for principals, teachers and secretaries, textbooks, the library and supplies. The projected salary figures are only estimates that the board "hopes will come out," according to Gregory Clarke, board president. He explained that even though collective bargaining is continuing with those groups, the estimates were necessary to form the budget.

If after negotiations those salaries force the budget above the cap, "the money will have to come from other sources," Clarke said.

Other sections of the budget include: administration; $190,843; attendance and health services, $86,450; transportation, $135,000; plant operation; $38,517; plant maintenance, $53,609; fixed charges, $58,390; food services, $16,000; student body activities, $1,000, and community services, $15,000.

The board has not budgeted any capital outlay for next year, although $299,600 remains from last year, consisting mostly of $175,000 allocated for improvements to the James Caldwell School.

That remaining money became a point of contention when some members of the public questioned why those funds were not included in the coming year's budget. They said it appeared to them that the funds were "lost" and could not be used.

Clarke explained that the funds couldn't be included because "that would be asking the public to vote on it again, that's why it's not shown." He added that $15,000 of the capital outlay would probably go to renovating lights at the Florence Gaudineer School.

However, that first mention of Caldwell touched off several arguments on the school that were unrelated to the budget, forcing Clarke to call the meeting to order several times.

A second budget item discussed several times was an allotment of $133,000 for special education services. In response to questions, Laura Rosebaum, board vice-president, explained the figure was that high because of the 14 special education students in the district had to be bused out. The board also added two students in computing that figure. "Just to be safe," she said.

The third major budget question was busing for next year's students who live farther than a mile and a half from the Edward Wallon and Thelma Sandmeier schools.

The $55,000 for busing breaks down into three buses, each rented for about $12,000, according to Dr. Fred Baruchin, superintendent of schools. Baruchin said that was a "high estimate" and will include insurance, gas and a driver. Definite busing costs will be obtained after bids are released, he said.

The board added that because there will be contracted services next year, school opening times may have to be changed if the contracted company has other obligations with their buses. Board members also said there would be no need for bus aids, even though Metel Avenue was recently designated a "hazardous" area by the county.

It's a winning start for Michael Steven

Michael Steven, an 8-pound, 14-ounce boy, was Springfield's first baby of 1982, born at 5:49 p.m. Jan. 1 at St. Barnabas Hospital in Livingston to Leona and Marc Kessel of Homelock Terrace.

"We just wanted a healthy baby," Leona said, although she also said "it was very nice they had a boy to go along with their daughter, Julie Beth.

Michael Steven, all 21 inches of him, doesn't yet resemble either one of his parents, Leona said, but that doesn't matter. "He's a good baby and isn't colicky."

Michael Steven was expected, and delivered, on Jan. 1, just 10 time for him and his parents to win the Springfield Leader's baby sweepstakes. The prizes they won from township merchants include: Springfield Banking Center, 223 Mountain Ave., Springfield, a $25 savings account; the Berkeley Federal Savings & Loan, 21 Bleeker St., Springfield, $25 savings account; The Howard Savings Bank, 722 Morris Turnpike, Short Hills, $25 savings account; Community Plumbing, 301 Route 22, Springfield, a $10 gift certificate; La Petite Patisserie, 721 Mountain Ave., Springfield, a delicious cake; Mack Camera, 200 Morris Ave., Springfield, $10 free film and/or film processing; Park Drugs, 225 Morris Ave., Springfield, a vaporizer; and Springfield Florist, 282 Mountain Ave., Springfield, a $10 gift certificate.

Insurance premiums to go up in 'hazardous' flooding areas

During the public portion of the Township Committee meeting Tuesday night, Committee member William Cleri informed the audience that citizens of the township who live in flood-prone areas designated as "hazardous" will be paying higher insurance premiums this year.

The Army Corps of Engineers has changed the specifications from a one-foot to a three-foot free wall in flood hazard areas," Cleri noted. He added that instead of Walter Kozub, the township engineer, testified in Rahway earlier that day against the specification change in a meeting with officials from the state Department of Environmental Protection.

"It will force people buying flood insurance to pay higher premiums, which is totally unfair, because it is to the good of no one except the insurance companies," he explained.

That statement by Cleri capped a meeting that lasted nine minutes and had exactly two people in the audience.

In other business, the committee moved to amend the township traffic control ordinance and make a no-parking zone on Mountain Avenue near Ashwood Road. Township Clerk Arthur Buchner said the amendment was prompted by complaints about a nearby beauty shop whose customers were crowding the street with their cars.

The committee also authorized the purchase for $65,000 of the French Tract, a piece of land off Colonial Avenue that was the subject of some controversy several years ago.

The purchase, for construction of a playground, is being funded along with the township by Greenacres funds, 50 percent, and by the Community Block Program. The acquisition will cost the township about $5,000, according to Cleri.

The lodge cited Stifleman for his "dedicated activity on behalf of our community and, in particular, for his deep concern for our youth."

Stifleman served in the Springfield Lions Club and for the Springfield United Fund, and is currently the honorary president of the Young Israel Synagogue. Professionally, he is a partner in the firm of Stifleman and Goldinger, certified public accountants.

Stifleman also has been chairman of fund drives for the Library Museum Fund, mental health and Red Cross.

He has been married to the former Leah Erlich for 46 years. They have a son, Frank, who is married to the former Susan Ross, and they have three grandchildren.

Historical unit slates pianist

A public piano concert will be featured at the 30th annual meeting of the Springfield Historical Society, Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Sarah Holley House, Church Hill.

After a short business meeting, Nicholas Mitchell, concert pianist of Newark, will present a program of compositions by George Gershwin and Ludwig van Beethoven. Included will be "Three Preludes," by Gershwin, and "Sonata 15, Opus 28," by Beethoven. Mitchell holds a bachelor of arts degree in music from Rutgers University and has studied with Chester Smith. He has given many performances in the metropolitan area.

The general public has been invited. President Madeline E. Lancaster will preside during the business segment. Program Chairman Howard W. Wiseman stated, "This is the first time that the Springfield Historical Society has ever had a concert pianist, and it is fitting that such an event take place at our 30th annual meeting."

Refreshments will be served by Mildred Lovens and Catherine Sless and the members of the Hospitality Committee.

Key Club to appeal for March of Dimes

Springfield Key Club members will lead the town's Mothers March Against Birth Defects this month as they join the March of Dimes battle to prevent birth defects. The neighbor to neighbor appeal for funds is scheduled for Jan. 23 to 31 in Union County. The participating members of the Key Club are students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

"We are asking Springfield residents and businesses to give us their support," said Joe Cohen, president of the Springfield Key Club. "People can do wonderful things if they open their eyes, and there is nothing more important than insuring the health and well being of all children."

"The American people have been the sole support of the March of Dimes since it was founded in 1939 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. January 30 marks the 100th anniversary of President Roosevelt's birth. Although a March honors him and all the volunteers who helped raise funds to conquer polio."

"Now the March of Dimes lends all its efforts to the prevention of birth defects. A contribution to Mothers March is an investment in the future," continued Cohen. "The well being of future generations depends on what we do now. Together we can make a difference."

Funds raised by all March of Dimes campaigns are disseminated locally and nationally for birth defects prevention programs. These programs include research, genetic counseling and in-utero diagnosis and treatment of birth defects as well as the development of intensive care units which monitor high-risk newborns and improve their chances for survival.

Those interested in helping the Key Club with Mothers March can call 761-0859.

State enticing towns to recycle

The township will have to decide whether to begin a recycling program or lose rebates it would receive from a state-projected $5 million fund collected in recycling taxes on solid waste dumped.

Twelve cents collected on every cubic yard of solid waste, or, by weight, 36 cents per ton, will go toward the fund and will be partly paid back to the township if they institute some type of recycling program. The 12 cent tax went into effect Jan. 1 of this year.

Currently, Aracs Bros. of East Orange is contracted by the township for its solid waste disposal. That contract will run for about another two years, according to the owner, Frank Aracs.

"That recycling tax is levied on Aracs Bros., who will eventually have to pass the cost onto the township. Because the contract still has some time to run and will probably not be renegotiated right now, according to Aracs, when it does run out there will be a substantial increase in costs to the township.

Because Springfield employs a private contractor, it will not be subject to rates set by the Board of Public Utilities, which determines rates for municipalities who run their own disposal, according to Joseph Kazar, a spokesman for the County Planning Board. However, private contractors are still subject to a foreclosure tax of 20 cents, a six cent increase over last year.

According to the state plan, if the township begins a recycling program soon, it can delay some of those costs by receiving rebates from the recycling fund.

Those grants offer a maximum of $25 per ton in recyclable materials and will be distributed by the state for recycling, administration and education purposes.

The township must present its rebate application by June 1 of 1982 to be eligible for any funds.

At a recent League of Municipalities Conference in Atlantic City the state issued information and outlined ways municipalities can begin recycling programs. They include selling recyclable materials to people who pay for newspapers, glass, bi-metals, aluminum and used car motor oil.

Montclair is an example of a town that has made profits from recycling, in 1980 averaging 46 tons of material per week and generating $75,000 through recycling.

Snowfall off 20 per cent from 1980

The snowfall for the year (rain and melted snow) was 28.26 inches, 15 inches less than the 43.46 inches of snow that fell in 1980. The 1981 total of 28.26 inches (which melted to 1.8 inches of water) occurred in only three months: January (17 inches), March (7.5 inches) and December (1.5 inches).

The greatest amount of snow to fall in any 24-hour period during the year (7.5 inches) accumulated on March 8. The record one-day snowfall (21 inches) was set on Feb. 3, 1961.

The high temperature for the year was 66 degrees, set June 18 and July 5, and the low was 12 degrees, set on Jan. 12. The mean temperature for the year was 49.9 degrees, with a monthly high mean of 74.9 degrees in July and a low of 28.8 degrees in January. The highest (103) temperature ever recorded at the station, which has been in operation for 22 years, was recorded on July 21, 1960.

The mercury descended to a chilly minus 8 degrees Jan. 15, which set the record for the past 22 years. The sub-zero temperature was also reached on Jan. 20, 1961.

The accumulated degree days for the year: total 5,364, an unusually high figure. While the heating degree day season normally runs from September through April, May 1981 was exceptionally cold so the 392 degree days from that month were included in this year's total. Degree days in 1980 totaled 5,487.

So far, however, the degree day season shows a lower figure since Sept. 1 than last year's at this time. The total through Dec. 31, 1981, was 3,114, compared to 2,197 from Sept. 1 to Dec. 31, 1980.

Jerseyans got $170 million in SSI assistance

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments of $170,000,000 were paid to some 44,100 needy aged, blind and disabled people in New Jersey last fiscal year, according to John H. McCutcheon, Social Security district manager in Elizabeth.

Of the total payments in New Jersey, the federal share was $144,000,000; federally-administered state supplementary payments added $26,000,000.

Some 4 million people are now receiving SSI. In fiscal 1981, payments totaled about $8.5 billion ($6.4 billion in federal funds and $1.9 billion in state funds).

The SSI program is a federally-administered program that provides a basic cash income to people in financial need who are 65 or older, blind or disabled. Currently, SSI provides up to $243.70 for one person and $397 for an eligible couple in monthly benefits.

"Everyone who qualifies for SSI will not receive that amount," McCutcheon said. "Some may get less because they have other income, while some may get more if they live in a state that adds money to the federal payment."

SSI is not the same as Social Security, even though the program is administered by the Social Security Administration. Money for SSI checks comes from general funds of the U.S. Treasury. Social Security benefits are paid from payroll taxes.

"People who receive Social Security checks may also be eligible for SSI, but a person does not have to be eligible for Social Security to get SSI. More information about the SSI program can be obtained by contacting the Social Security office at 800-972-1111.

County colleges unit given UC—UCTI audit

A preliminary pro forma audit of Union College, Cranford and Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, prepared by Arthur Young & Co., was accepted by the Union County Community College System Reorganization Committee.

The committee agreed to send the preliminary report to the governing bodies of both schools. County representatives have agreed to appear before both governing bodies to explain the contents of the report and to answer questions.

Bernard J. Mondt, chairman, said the contents of the report will not be made public until it has been reviewed by the governing bodies.

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders hired the firm to conduct a special study of the community college under the Rutgers Model to resolve problems of academic credit and duplication of programs and services.

The Rutgers Model provides for allocating the governance, control, conduct, management and administration of the Community College between two boards: A Board of Trustees, which would have 11 members, and a Board of Managers, currently the Board of Trustees of Union College, which would retain ownership and control over the land, buildings and other assets of the colleges.

The 16-member Reorganization Committee is comprised of representatives of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, County Manager George Albanese and representatives of Union College and UCTI.

The reorganization committee was organized to implement a mandate of the Board of Education of the Union County Vocational Schools as the UCTI.

The committee's mandate sheet of the colleges and UCTI for the same items. A combined statement of current funds, revenues, expenditures and other changes of the two institutions as of the 1980 and 1981 fiscal years also will be prepared by the firm.

The reorganization committee was organized to implement a mandate of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders that the Union County Community College System be restructured under the Rutgers Model to resolve problems of academic credit and duplication of programs and services.

The Rutgers Model provides for allocating the governance, control, conduct, management and administration of the Community College between two boards: A Board of Trustees, which would have 11 members, and a Board of Managers, currently the Board of Trustees of Union College, which would retain ownership and control over the land, buildings and other assets of the colleges.

AAI to discuss energy in space

"Energy from space—pros and cons of solar power stations" will be discussed at tomorrow's meeting of Amateur Astronomers Inc. at Union College.

Fredrick Osborn Jr. will present an illustrated lecture on the "space frontier," emphasizing the desire for renewable sources of clean energy from space-beamed-to-earth by satellite. His talk will cover the NASA space telescope and satellite astronomy as practiced by amateurs using satellite technology.

Osborn holds a bachelor's degree from Princeton University and has done graduate work at Trinity College, Cambridge, England. Long active in environmental causes, he is executive secretary of the Sunat Energy Council, Cold Spring, N.Y., a non-profit world-wide organization of scientists and academic people dedicated to the encouragement of the study and understanding of solar-powered satellites as possible sources of "base load energy."

AAI operates the Sperry Observatory at Union College jointly with the college. In addition, to regular meetings on the third Friday of the month in the Campus Center Theatre which features talks on astronomical subjects, AAI hosts weekly viewings of all heavens on all other Fridays in the Observatory. All programs are open to the public free of charge.

Home Owners Conven

by Jack Farrow & George Bauer

People often fail to look in an obvious direction while seeking to expand their present homes. An unutilized attic can be easily converted into a bedroom or den. An upstairs balcony can be transformed into a sun room or skylight. You can feel like an eagle perched high in your cozy treehouse. Colorful decorations work in harmony with the existing architecture. A professional contractor will take the time to give you the best advice on the cap of your home. This is a very cost effective way to lower heating and cooling costs.

Handy Hint

Think of finishing your attic when shingle or insulating work is imminent.

Yanchus loves balance as Bulldogs romp by 22

Bulldogs basketball coach Ray Yanchus isn't a difficult fellow to please. All it takes is a three-game winning streak, a 5-4 record and a 68-48 laughter over Middlesex on Tuesday afternoon in Springfield.

"We're 5-4 and improving," Yanchus boasted after the big Mountain Valley Conference victory. "We've won three in a row, all must games, and now we're over 500. That sets us up for a better psychological standpoint. The kids are really buying."

And they should be, too. First they came from behind in the closing seconds to stun Ridge, 44-43, on Friday and then they walked all over Middlesex.

Look out basketball world, here come the Bulldogs.

The victory over Middlesex couldn't have been more impressive, at least from Yanchus' standpoint. The Bulldogs received balanced scoring and rebounding and some outstanding defensive play.

Eric Saline was the high man with 17 points, but Geoff Bradshaw was right behind with 14. Danny Circelli led 12, Ron Fusco scored 11 and Kyle Hudgens added 10. And off the boards, Hudgens grabbed 13 rebounds, followed by Bradshaw with nine, Saline with seven, Circelli with six and Fusco with four. Circelli also made five steals.

No wonder Yanchus was thrilled. "I finally got a unit that's really clicking together," he beamed. "We've still got a ways to go, but these kids are looking for each other, hustling and helping each other out."

The outcome was never in doubt after a 19-2 opening spur. It was defense, defense and more defense after that, and Middlesex never had a chance. The visitors scored 41—the balance—by halftime.

The Bulldogs breezed to an early lead against Ridge, too, but they didn't maintain that intensity. It was a quick 25-15 lead soon became a 28-27 dogfight and Ridge was right back in the ballgame.

In fact, Ridge led by three, 41-38, with four minutes to go. Hudgens and Bradshaw hit jumpers to give the 'Dogs a one-point lead. But Ridge grabbed the lead again, 43-42, just seconds before

Kahn wows Yale with 39 points in township basketball opener

By ROBERT STEIR

Once again as January rolls around, there can be heard on Saturdays the roar of the basketball on the gym floor, the sound of a basketball swishing through the nets and the sounds of coaches directing their players.

Springfield's basketball leagues, all three of them, are alive and well even if the teams have fewer players this time around. The Ivy League began its first game on Tuesday night with Springfield and another playing on Friday.

The State League, for the second year in a row, has only six teams and the Small Fry League is the only one to remain in the same.

The season opened up with the usual league performances by some, and a very unusual effort by Dartmouth.

BROWN 38, COLUMBIA 17. Brown dominated the game from the start, opening up an 11-2 lead after one quarter. Columbia's player, Mike Parker, scored a basket.

SMALL FRY LEAGUE

RAIDERS 22, ROCKETS 10: The winners trailed, 8-4, at halftime, but outscored the Rockets, 12-2, in the final two periods to win easily. Chris Swanson's six points in each of the first and third quarters led the way. Billy Hart and Robbie Hamilton each scored four points in the winning effort, and Greg Berman added two points to round out the scoring. Ryan Peely led the Rockets with four points. Bob Sabol, Colleen Drummond and David Wicham each scored two points, and Andy Arnold had an outstanding defensive game.

CELTICS 10, BILLIKENS 7: Mattew Gallardo scored six first half points to lead the winners. Julie Kopkin added the other basket. The game was tied, 6-6, at the half, but baskets by Gallardo and Justin Peltano pulled the victory out.

PISTONS 18, BULLETS 11: A balance attack by the Pistons proved too much for the Bullets as they took an early first quarter lead and never looked back. Rick Lasker led the winners with 12 points while Matthew Applebaum, David Scieszka and Charles Waltman added four each.

JETS 12, LAKERS 10: Claudia Reyna led the winning basket with seconds left in overtime to win the game for the Jets.

The measure of your success starts with the best.

Investors Savings Individual Retirement Accounts.

No matter how young you are, there has never been a better time to consider retirement than right now. And there's never been a more rewarding place to save for retirement than at the best, Investors Savings.

Because starting January 1, 1982, the benefits of opening an IRA will be expanded by the federal government. By opening your IRA at Investors, you will be permitted to contribute up to $2,000 of earned income annually to your retirement account; if you have a non-working spouse, the limit is raised to $2,250. For the first time, even if you're in a qualified pension plan where you work, you can open an investors' IRA—and contribute up to $2,000 annually; if you have a working spouse, you can open two plans and contribute up to $4,000.

Every dollar you contribute to an Investors' IRA—and every dollar of interest it earns over the years—is completely tax deferred until you retire, when you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket.

Best of all, at Investors you'll earn a lot. And you don't have to deposit your funds all at once. Come in for full details.

Federal regulations require substantial interest and tax penalties for early withdrawal.

Investors Savings. Tax benefits now, a richer retirement later... because you deserve a full measure of success.

DINING GUIDE

A COMPLETE REFERENCE OF FINE RESTAURANTS

Clare and Coby's stands test of time

By JIM LEAHY
I sometimes measure how old I'm getting by thinking back to when I first started reviewing restaurants. Then I think of all the restaurants I've written about that are still in existence or have passed the way of so many that come and go in this competitive world today. Honestly, friends, I get chills up my back when I consider how many fine old established restaurants have changed hands over the years for better or worst.

One such restaurant that has been in the hands of its present-day owners for 26 years in the same location, and restaurant that with each passing year gets better and better (if that's possible), is a real favorite of mine, Clare and Coby's at the junction of Route 1 and 9 in Old Bridge.

This column I am now writing, about this fine eatery, is about the fourth or fifth I've written about being since the start of my career. Each time it gets easier and easier, because in all honesty, there's little doubt in my mind that it's one of the finest in the state.

Owner Andrew Arbes is a master restaurateur who has been responsible for making his establishment one of the most popular in the metropolitan area. Under his guidance and professional leadership, he has shaped his restaurant into such a masterful creation that there are few who, I'm sure, don't at least know someone who has eaten there in the past. If indeed, you haven't, you should.

What makes Clare and Coby's tick? Well, it's things like the magnificent décor that embellishes the interior as well as the exterior. It has a warm, charming, rustic, luster look. Everything is highly polished and the glassware and silverware, simply sparkle with cleanliness. The table and chair settings immediately top off our customers that are in for a gourmet's treat, even before they look at the menu.

The menu is a book of scrumptious cuisine unto itself and is testimony to why customers come from as far away as 50 to 60 miles just to dine. It consists of American and Continental dishes, as well as French and Italian.

It starts off with 14 different types of appetizers, including escargot in crock with garlic butter, Cognac Saint Jacques, Mornay and even stuffed mushroom caps with crabmeat. How's that for starters...and that's only a sampling!

After a choice of soups, we come to the seafood entrees that feature such interesting items as baked miniature bay scallops en casserole cooked in your choice of plain butter or garlic sauce. If that's not to your liking, try their famous broiled combination seafood platter, consisting of bay scallops, Italian shrimp, filet of sole and king crab leg. Again, this is only a partial list of the delicacies that are offered freshly netted from the Ocean. For the foodies, Clare and Coby's offers to express of meat and poultry, including my favorite, roasted Long Island duckling, cooked crisp and served with Bigarde sauce. There also is a roasted prime ribs of beef, broiled lamb chops, broiled pork chops, as well as broiled fillet mignon with mushrooms and mushrooms.

Let's not stop there, my friends. There's much more, including their famous Chef Bonet specialties. Here's where the true gourmet sits up and takes notice. This segment of the menu offers such mouth-watering delights as veal fraumance, veal marsala, veal piccata à la Coby's with linguine and their famous veal-cordon bleu. And take heart, gentle reader, there's more, such as chicken breast Oregona with rice and mushroom sauce and their combination breast of chicken and shrimp Francise.

I could go on and on, but this column grows short, but before I finish I must tell you Greek salad lovers that I think Andy Arbes invented the dish; it's fantastic and a must for you who dine there.

Not only does Clare and Coby's offer the before-mentioned dinner menu, if you're in the area during lunch time, go out of your way if necessary to delight in their scrumptious luncheon specials. There's everything from sandwiches to Greek and Spanish salads to sauteed boneless chicken Marsala and even seafood, on one of the most extensive and appetizing luncheon menus I've ever seen.

For yourself a real big favor, go to Clare and Coby's as quickly as possible. Make it a family affair; there's something for the kids as well as Dad and Mom or your favorite gal. Look around when you're there; I may be sitting at the next table!

ONE FOR THE ROAD:
RAN INTO A HAPPY READER the other day who couldn't thank me enough for introducing her to the gastronomical delights she had at Pipe's Pub, 322 North Broad Street, Elizabeth, as a result of the column I did on their fine restaurant. It sure makes me feel good that it people are taking my advice and eating at the places I suggest and Pipe's Pub is one of those on top of my list of recommendations. Not only is the food delightful, but if you like being treated like royalty, Pipe's Pub is the place to go...make it soon!

HAD ONE OF THE FINEST dinners I've ever had was at Mulberry Street, Route 22 at Sheffield Street, Mountaintop. Four courses of fantastic Italian cuisine made me walk away with a smile! I'll be telling you more about
