Largest turnout ever

Gomes, Monaco, Adler are elected

As a result of the district reorganization controversy, Springfield voters turned out in record numbers Tuesday and chose George Gomes, Lou Monaco and incumbent Barbara Adler for the Board of Education in an election called by some the most contested in the township's history.

The $4.3 million current expense portion of the 1982-83 school budget also passed, but by a slim margin of 158 votes, 1,199 to 1,041.

The winners: Gomes, 2,166 votes; Monaco, 2,251; Adler, 2,241 votes. The other three candidates, Dennis Francis, Jim Basile and Saul Grohs, received 2,150, 2,098 and 2,121 votes, respectively.

Adler will be serving her third three-year term on the board. Gomes served a one-year unexpired term on the board in 1979, but was defeated in his re-election bid in 1980. Monaco will be serving his first term.

Union County Regional High School District voters approved the current expense portion of the budget Tuesday night, 3,678 to 3,359, but voted down the $24,300 capital outlay portion, 3,525 to 3,180.

Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth and Springfield voters cast ballots against the capital outlay proposal.

Three candidates, Natalie Waldt of Springfield, David Hart of Mountaineer and John Conlin of Garwood, all ran unopposed for three-year terms. In the only race for a one-year unexpired term in Berkeley Heights, Harold Donaldson defeated Alfred D'Emilio, 338 to 217.

The regional board now must meet with representatives of the six municipalities it serves no later than the morning of April 28 to determine what cuts, if any, will be made. All six groups must agree before a formal decision is made. After a decision is reached, the regional board has 20 days to appeal the decision with the state Board of Education.

Approximately 4,240 of the 9,140 registered voters, or 47 percent, came to the polls, making this the largest turnout ever for a township board of education election. The numbers were so high that the lowest vote total for any candidate was higher than the total for any previous winner in the history of the elections, according to Gomes.

As expected, Gomes, Monaco and Francis drew most of their support out of the 1st and 2nd districts of the James Caldwell School.

Adler, Basile and Grohs swept in the 3rd and 4th districts at the Florence Gaudineer and Edward Walton schools. The heavy turnout in the 1st and 2nd districts was the most notable—where 66 percent of the registered voters in those areas voted. In past elections, an approximate 16 percent voter turnout was the norm in those districts.

Adler, Basile and Grohs also swept the absentee balloting, defeating their opponents by about a 2 to 1 margin. Adler drew the most absentees with 188. Voting totals for the four districts were: Gomes: 715 in the 1st, 771 in the 2nd, 352 in the 3rd, 242 in the 4th.

Monaco: 761 in the 1st, 811 in the 2nd, 346 in the 3rd, 253 in the 4th.

Francis: 707 in the 1st, 758 in the 2nd, 345 in the 3rd, 242 in the 4th.

Adler: 152 in the 1st, 202 in the 2nd, 826 in the 3rd, 813 in the 4th.

Basile: 87 in the 1st, 211 in the 2nd, 831 in the 3rd, 765 in the 4th.

Grohs: 104 in the 1st, 214 in the 2nd, 847 in the 3rd, 772 in the 4th.

Gomes and Monaco were supported by the Citizens' Alliance for Unifying Springfield's Education, or CAUSE, while Adler was supported by the Committee on Saving Taxes in Springfield, or COSTS.

The election of Gomes and Monaco puts two members on the board who are in favor of overturning the 5-4 vote in November to close the Caldwell School and transfer children to the Walton School. Of the five board members who voted in favor of closing the Caldwell School, former President Gregory Clarke and former Vice President

Laura Rosenbaum were up for re-election, but declined to run this year.

The board has already voted, 5-4, against status quo, which leaves the possibility that with two more votes in favor of keeping Caldwell open, the board could reverse its decision and close another school, most probably the Walton School.

Passage of the current expense portion of the budget was, by district: 203 yes and 102 no in the 1st, 244 yes and 169 no in the 2nd; 230 yes and 304 no in the 3rd, and 355 yes and 266 no in the 4th. Absentees were 106 yes and 104 no.

Victors feel election may affect town politics for years to come

By PHILIP HARTMAN

Although the end Tuesday of one of the toughest Board of Education campaigns in memory may only mark the middle of the James Caldwell School controversy, candidate reelection following the voting results was centered on more than district reorganization.

"There were a lot of people all over town who actively worked in a campaign for the first time... they learned a lot—I have a feeling it will be reflected in township politics for years to come," commented Barbara Adler, who won her bid for re-election to a third term on the board.

"Only a short time later a crowd of more than 100 people who had worked for the CAUSE candidates gathered in the Springfield Knights of Columbus Hall and talked about continuing to support their views and to turn out in larger numbers for future elections.

"What happened tonight, for all of us, has really been a victory for principle," George Gomes, who will be on the board for his second time, told the crowd.

"All six candidates in this election gathered more votes than any previous winner in any other Board of Education election in Springfield's history."

All of the candidates agreed that the unusual events of this year—candidates being supported by committees, district reorganization—may bring a permanent change to Springfield politics, but they also expressed relief that the election, which had been postponed two weeks because of the April 12 blizzard, was over.

"I feel both elated and a little bit empty," Gomes said.

"What we've done this evening... is probably something that will never be replicated again."

Lou Monaco, who received the most votes among the candidates, called his victory "very bitter-sweet."

"The town has dictated what it wants... the people who came to the polls and voted for us indicate they wanted the school open."

He added: "For the first time we got this town to wake up."

Monaco said he was surprised by the split vote, but was sure that there will be continued support to keep the Caldwell School open when that question is introduced to the board following its reorganization meeting.

"What started with a meeting at Caldwell turned into one of the most powerful organizations this town has ever seen, and it's going to stay together."

The results were not exactly what everyone was predicting," she said.

"The high turnout proves the town did express its point of view," Adler added. However, she said she was surprised at those voters who "ignored the school budget completely."

She said the large number of votes cast was evidence that the issue was clear to the voters, but she was disappointed that her entire ticket, including Jim Basile and Saul Grohs, did not win.

Monaco and Gomes also said that they wished their running mate Dennis Francis had won.

"Of anybody, he deserved to win... he certainly made it possible for me to win," Monaco said.

The Board of Education will reorganize at 8 o'clock tonight in the cafeteria of the Florence Gaudineer School.

The meeting scheduled for April 19 was cancelled due to the election postponement. The reorganization will be followed by a conference meeting.

Regional board of ed postpones action on substitute teacher list

By J. W. BURNETT

As the final votes in the Union County regional district election were being cast, the Regional Board of Education held its last meeting before next week's reorganization.

With almost no members of the public turning out for the meeting, the board met in a nearly empty room and spent most of its time discussing a list of proposed substitute teachers for next year.

"I guess someone had a problem with someone on the list," Stephen Marcinko, board member. Natalie Waldt, another board member, said there was so much discussion over the list because "we want more information on the people and the job descriptions."

The board decided to put off a decision on the substitute teachers until its post-election reorganization meeting next Tuesday night.

In other business, Lewis Fredericks, assistant superintendent for Facilities and Maintenance, presented the board with plans to repair the Jonathan Dayton Tower.

Fredericks said they could either paint and repair the tower, put aluminum siding on it, or remove it and put up a new, completely aluminum tower.

"If you take a wooden structure and put it out in the rain, sun and wind for 45 years, some wood deteriorates," Fredericks explained. He added, though, the tower is in no danger of falling.

Paint is supposed to protect the wood, he said, but "with today's paint you have to paint it every few years."

The tower was painted just four years ago.

Frederick's plan calls for bids on each repair scheme—the painting, aluminum siding and total replacement.

"There is a company that specializes in making exact aluminum replicas of structures like this one," Fredericks said. The other repair plans would still leave some areas exposed to the elements.

Using aluminum siding would work only on flat areas of the tower because decorative panels could not be covered. Painting the tower is costly and has to be repeated every few years.

According to Fredericks: "Painting a tower is different from painting a house. You don't just hand two kids a paint brush and bucket of paint."

Dance slated for students

The Springfield Recreation Department will sponsor a dance for students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Saturday, 7:30 p.m. to midnight, at the American Legion Hall, Trivet Street.

Music will be supplied by "Pleasure," a disc jockey. The event will be recorded and televised at a later date on PA-1, the local cable station.

The cost of admission will be $1.50 before 8:30 p.m. and $2 after that time. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Springfield Recreation Department at 376-5884.

Smoke alarm check

The Fire Department has asked residents who have not registered their smoke detectors to do so.

The registration enables the department, as a public service, to remind smoke detector owners once a year to replace the batteries.

The department phone number is 376-0144.

Saul Freeman, 68; town civic leader

Services were held Friday in Orlando, Fla., for Saul Freeman, 68, a former Springfield resident who operated business in the township for more than two decades and who held many positions in local civic organizations.

He died April 17 in Orlando.

Mr. Freeman came to Springfield in 1948 from Manchester, England, and moved to Orlando six years ago. During World War II he was a member of the British Army tank corps.

Freeman was director of the Springfield Civil Defense and Disaster Control unit, executive secretary and president of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce; executive secretary and one of the organizers of the United Fund of Springfield; president of B'nai B'rith; and exalted ruler of the Springfield Lodge of Elks 2084 BPOE.

He was chairman of the Elks Crippled Children Committee for 10 years, and also served as chairman of the following: Heart Fund, Boy Scout fund drive, Girl Scout fund drive, Rössner fund drive, Spiesbach fund drive and the Lady Lee fund drive.

"These activities resulted in his being named 'Citizen of the Year' by the Board of Realtors, Oranges and Maplewood; in 1970, B'nai B'rith; in 1971, Springfield Chapter of United, and in 1973, Springfield Chamber of Commerce."

"There wasn't a more prominent citizen in the town," according to John Cotlage, the current Civil Defense director.

Freeman also involved himself in the Springfield United Way and headed the reorganization of the police reserve in 1969.

He was a chairman of the library study group and served on the Cancer Fund committee.

He also was a member of the Lions Club of Springfield, chaired several committees in the club and was a member of its board of directors.

Freeman owned Hi-Way Tailors on Center Street in Springfield for 25 years, and prior to his death had been teaching tailoring at Seminole Community College in Sanford, Fla.

It was from that tailor shop that Freeman ran most of his civic activities, using three or four phone lines and housing the Chamber of Commerce office, the Civil Defense, the United Way and other organizations there.

SAUL FREEMAN

"He was involved in so many things he was in perpetual motion—he had a tremendous enthusiasm for everything he did," commented Cotlage.

Before his retirement to Florida, civic leaders in Springfield honored him with a "Salute to Saul Freeman" dinner-dance "for the many services he performed for the general welfare of the community."

He was a fine guy—he did whatever he could for crippled children in Springfield and in the area," said John Luciano, a member of the Elks and a longtime friend of Freeman's.

Surviving are a wife, Lillian, of Orlando; a daughter, Lynn Schmidt, of New Hampshire; a brother, Ike Freeman, of Springfield, and, a sister, Betty Freeman of Orlando.

Spring forward

It's that time of the year again. Even the snows of the first-ever April blizzard have melted, and daylight saving time is coming in this weekend. Clocks move ahead by one hour Saturday night—for sticklers, the exact time of the change is 2 a.m. Sunday.

The State We're In

By David F. Moore, North Jersey Conservation Foundation

"Give us more time, time, time..." In so many words, that's the message of the Clean Air Act. It's a message of urgency, a message of warning, a message of hope. It's a message that says: "We're in a race against time. We're in a race against time. We're in a race against time."

Why all this activity all of a sudden? Because this is the year when the Clean Air Act expires, and Congress must act to renew or otherwise replace it. How is this to be done, obviously, is why the special interests are spending so much money. They know they have a friendly administration in power and they are counting on Congress to pass clean air legislation which, while it might look reasonable to the innocent, would set us back a long way.

Of course it's profitable to pollute, except for those of us who pay untold billions for things like medical bills and the expenses of funerals. Somehow, it's hard to "prove" that these costs are so real to all of us. Just as it's hard to "prove" that acids of sulfur and nitrogen in the air cause many smog-related and automotive emissions are causing acid rain. The whole thing would be funny if it weren't so awful.

Last November, a group called the Coalition for Environmental Equity Balance (CEE) ran an advertisement in the New York Times and probably other newspapers, chipping away at the public's understanding of acid rain. The ad cleverly built on the fact that Most economists agree that interest rates would fall if Congress reduced the projected $91.5 billion deficit for fiscal 1983. As long as we face deficit, it will be difficult to gain the confidence of the financial community, which is essential if the cost of borrowing money is to go down.

Federal spending could be sharply reduced by eliminating inefficient pork barrel programs that are largely funded because they serve the political interests of a controlling coalition. Cutting waste, fraud, and abuse also would save billions, along with closing tax loopholes that have allowed profitable companies to reduce their federal tax liabilities at the expense of the national economy.

CEEB asks another one: "Is some acidity in precipitation essential to the world's evolved biosystem?" The answer is hard to prove, but common sense tells us that we and every other living thing evolved in the presence of very natural and mild acid rain. The bottom line, of course, is that now the acid is too strong. Indeed, a good definition of pollution is too much of a good thing.

It's up to the citizens of New Jersey and other states to tell their elected representatives in Washington whether they even strengthen existing facets of the Clean Air Act, or to weaken it to give industry a break. The Dingell-Lukens "Dirty Air Bill" now considered by the House Energy and Commerce Committee is a good target for that comment. Lacking any controls for acid rain or toxic air pollutants, it is the nation's most lax increase pollution levels in parks and wilderness areas.

Most importantly, you can use an annuity as part of your overall estate plan, and at the same time shelter current assets from taxes.

Q: Do you think it is necessary for a woman to have insurance? — P.S., El Cajon, Calif.

A: Emphatically yes. If she is young with no dependents, she should at least have medical insurance and disability insurance. If she is married, and has children, it is even more important; also she should have life insurance. If her death should occur while the children were young, life insurance proceeds would go towards stabilizing the family with child care and household help, not to mention funeral expenses.

Up to $17 billion could be cut from the defense budget through improved management, procurement, research and—curbing personnel—level increase. This would not require reductions in major weapons systems that are vital to maintaining a strong defense. The savings could go higher in future years if the Soviet Union agrees to President Reagan's proposal to negotiate a reduction in nuclear weapons.

Revenues could be increased by several billion more by closing tax loopholes that have allowed wealthy speculators to avoid paying taxes on a vast array of unproductive investments. Over the past three years, these tax breaks have taken $200 billion out of the Treasury.

The proposed cuts would make substantial inroads into the deficit without imposing any new taxes or cutting military growth below the President's proposed rate of seven percent. This bold action would help stabilize the economy, keep inflation down, lower interest rates, and lead to the creation of desperately needed jobs.

Assuring—steady—employment—for working men and women is not only the government's responsibility, but government must work with business, labor, and the financial markets to create the biggest source of jobs in the economy can expand. That favorable climate — with reasonable interest rates, far-sighted economic development, job training, education programs, a consistent tax policy, and the end of the federal deficit is what I am working for in Congress.

Eagleon Poll

Cleaning up hazardous wastes

While a majority of state residents wanted immediate clean-up of New Jersey's hazardous wastes and chemical dumps regardless of the cost, New Jerseyans were divided about how to pay for the clean-up bill — the individual companies responsible or a combination of industry and government. An Eagleon Poll of 603 state residents in 1980 also found chemical and toxic waste problem in New Jersey.

State residents did not agree on who should be responsible for paying for cleaning up the hazardous waste disposal sites. While 48 percent felt the individual company should pay, an almost equal 41 percent said both industry and government should pay to clean up New Jersey's abandoned hazardous waste disposal sites. In comparison, the October 1980 survey showed 78 percent "very," 18 percent "somewhat" and 2 percent "not at all" concerned about the hazardous wastes in New Jersey.

Only a recent said the clean-up of hazardous wastes was not an important problem and the money should be spent on other important problems. These findings are basically unchanged from October of 1980.

The poll found fewer New Jerseyans aware of toxic waste storage and disposal problems than in October 1980. Thirty-six percent in the recent survey said they had heard or read "a great deal" about this problem compared to 58 percent in the October 1980 survey.

"The decline in New Jerseyans' awareness of toxic wastes as well as this shift in the intensity of their concern since October 1980 may be because of the types of attention that was given to the problem in 1980. National coverage of the toxic waste problem in Love Canal, New York during the summer of 1980 showed the effects of these hazardous materials on individuals, and people became directly involved with this problem through the media," said Janice Ballou, the poll's associate director.

Blood cell separator aids leukemia victim

At Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, a 21-year-old West Kensington man... The doctor explains that the donor relaxes on a couch while thin tubes are connected to each arm. As his blood is drawn into the blood cell separator, centrifugal force causes the heavier red cells to be pushed to a special section of the machine from which they are returned to the donor.

Declar explains that, although platelets have a storage life of eight days, while cells survive only eight hours. The easy mobility of the unit, allowing it to be brought to the bedside of the patient, decreases the precious minutes formerly wasted transporting cells from outside blood centers.

Declar explains that leukemia, a disease of the bone marrow where red and white blood cells and platelets are normally produced and passed into the blood stream, often overwhelms healthy cells and inhibits their production. As the number of red cells drops, the patient experiences severe anemia.

The separating and transfusing process can take from two to four hours. In that interval, 10 pints of blood, nearly all the blood the donor has, will have passed through the unit and have been returned to him. Since a healthy person replaces white cells and platelets within hours, the same donor can undergo the process every few days.

Union Y to conduct class on being a step-parent

Thursday evenings from 6-8 p.m. will be led by Linda Kahn, M.S.W. and psychiatric social worker. Kahn, formerly associated with the League for Family Services in Bloomfield and the Jewish Family Service of North Jersey, is in private practice in Millburn. She specializes in bereavement counseling and marital and family therapy.

The special concerns and joys of step-parents will be explored in "Being a Step-Parent — Living or Visiting Together," a parenting course being offered at the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA on Green Lane in Union, beginning Thursday evening, May 13.

The six-session workshop will address the differences between the step-family and the intact family, covering the issues of divided loyalties, membership in two households and the children of the new couple.

Free Sterling Interest Checking

You can't afford to be without it!

Investors Savings believes everyone should earn the maximum allowable interest on a checking account—and shouldn't have to pay service charges or maintain a high minimum balance.

And minimum balance requirements can be incredibly high; some financial institutions demand that customers keep as much as $1,000 or even $2,000 in a checking account in order to earn interest.

That's why Investors created Sterling Interest Checking. With it, you can have a free checking account that pays 5 1/4% per annum with only a $50 monthly minimum; and the very same $50 also earns you interest.

Sterling Interest Checking is truly one of the most exceptional offers in the country. So the question becomes not whether you can afford another institution's checking, but whether you can afford to be without the truly fine benefits of Investors Sterling Interest Checking.

Beth Ahm sets Teach-In event in Springfield

Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield, will hold its third annual Teach-In April 30 to May 2. Dr. Samuel Schafner, historian, educator and rabbi, who heads Metropolitan Chicago's Board of Jewish Education, will be the scholar-in-residence for the weekend.
Dr. Schafner, who was ordained by the Jewish Theological Seminary, received his doctorate in Jewish history from that institution. He had served as rabbi of Temple Gates of Prayer, Flushing, N. Y., and as adjunct professor of Jewish history at Queens College of the City University of New York.
Neil and Anne Moisew, adult education co-chairmen, have announced that the theme for the Teach-In will be "It's 5742—Do You Know Where Your Children Are?"
The weekend's activities will include presentations by Dr. Schafner Friday evening, Saturday morning and Sunday morning, and a sponsor's reception on Saturday evening.
Arthur and Claire Falkin are overall chairmen.

Temple to fete its cantor at dinner dance

Temple Sh'arey Shalom, Springfield, will honor its cantor, Irving Kramerman, at a celebration of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the temple May 6 at the Short Hills Casino. A dinner dance will be featured. Dinner dance chairmen are Audrey Silverman and Rosalie Joel, both of Springfield. Program chairman is Leiby Zucker, also of Springfield.
Kramerman served as cantor at Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield, before coming to Temple Sh'arey Shalom in 1956. He has been active in civic and religious organizations in the Springfield area. The cantor is a charter member of B'nai B'rith of Springfield, a founder of the Civil Defense unit, manager and coach for Little League baseball and has been active in the chaplaincy service of Overlook Hospital, Summit. He is a member of the Cantorial Assembly of New Jersey and is the only cantor from a Reform Temple.
Kramerman and his wife, Millicent, have been married for more than 40 years. They have a son, Frank of Springfield, a daughter, Reva of Ewing and a grandson, Gregory.

Taste Marvel!

Latest research confirms MERIT delivers the taste of cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

Many low tar cigarettes make taste promises. But only 'Enriched Flavor,' MERIT offers proof not promises. Proof through extensive smoker taste tests.

MERIT Taste Sparks Switch. In a separate part of this extensive new study, MERIT smokers report that taste is a major factor in completing their successful switch from higher tar brands.

MERIT Taste Does It. In impartial new tests where brand identity was concealed, the overwhelming majority of smokers reported MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading higher tar brands. Even brands with up to twice the tar.

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 former higher tar smokers say MERIT is an easy switch, that they didn't give up taste in switching, and that MERIT is the best-tasting low tar they've ever tried.

Moreover, when tar levels were revealed, 2 out of 3 chose the MERIT combination of low tar and good taste.

Year after year, in study after study, MERIT remains unbeaten. The proven taste alternative to higher tar smoking—is MERIT.

A COMPLETE REFERENCE OF FINE RESTAURANTS

Chestnut's new look has a refreshing feel

By GAIL CASALE
Spring is especially the time of year for rebirth, changes and new beginnings. Keeping this in mind, now also is the ideal time to visit the all-time favorite Chestnut Tavern Restaurant with its very attractive new look.

Chestnut Tavern's philosophy of "catering to everyone" as opposed to only those who like Italian food. Contrary to common belief, some of the restaurant's American dishes are equally as popular as the more familiar Italian specialties.

Particular favorites include the tender veal and eggplant parmigiana, and delightfully satisfying linguine with shrimp scampi sauce. I especially like their baked ziti, which oozes with tasty mozzarella cheese and swims in delicious tomato sauce.

Other worthwhile mentions include the pork, chicken and steak Murphy. Sautéed in potatoes, mushrooms and onion, the meats are a unique dining delight.

There also are the traditional pasta dishes and seafood specialties to select from such as Fettuccini Alfredo and the tempting shrimp à la Parmigiana. Don't forget to order a side helping of toasted garlic bread, a welcome addition to any Chestnut Tavern's many specialties.

For the business and professional who appreciate a hearty appetizer are served from 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Choose from a variety of sandwiches, salads, basket and hot platter specialties. I recommend the chef's salad: bowl chock full of cold cuts, fresh child vegetables and other delicacies.

Round off your meal with one of Chestnut's Tavern's many scrumptious desserts. Like a piece of rum cake or a long-awaited relief from the so-called Italian restaurants which flaunt this poor taste for decorating.

Why shouldn't the result be sheer elegance when the job was done by true professionals like Midas Fixtures and Food Service Equipment located in Union? Peter Midas, who has been in the business for almost 40 years, is renowned for redecorating eating establishments throughout the state as well as the country. When it comes to sprucing up old interiors and breathing new life into a formerly dreary atmosphere, Peter Midas is the man who can transform the dull into something exciting!

Some of the other features reflecting Chestnut Tavern's new mood are the additional trimmings at the bar. While sipping your favorite drink under the acrylic drop ceiling, notice the more subdued lighting. Technically, Midas refers to it as "decorative illuminated soffit." This softer glow aims primarily to soothe you after a hard day's work. If the fine combination of vintage wine and dimmed lighting doesn't relax you, surely nothing else will.

Matching booths, tables and bar top made of charming English oak further complement the contemporary Italian-American scene. The seats are spacious and plushly lined for your comfort and relaxation. Replacing the tablecloths are neatly arranged place mats suitable to the simpler decor. Everything inside the new Chestnut Tavern Restaurant goes together like salt and pepper.

Dee, the owner, commented that the new look will further accentuate

A SMART NEW LOOK awaits you at the recently renovated Chestnut Tavern Restaurant located on 649 Chestnut Street in Union. Home of delicious Italian-American specialties for 34 years, the restaurant interior is completely redecorated for your dining pleasure.

Star is fabulous as both sexes

By BEA SMITTI
The enchanting, fabulous Julie Andrews, who starts in the title role of "Victor/Victoria," continuing in an exclusive engagement at the Bellevue Theatre Upper Montclair, cannot give a bad performance in whatever she does on screen or on the stage. And she is given a wide range to demonstrate her versatility in the film comedy, which was produced by her husband, Blake Edwards, and Tony Adams. Edwards also directed the movie from his own screenplay.

CIRCUS LEADERS—Ringmaster Jack Harms and ringmistress Phyllis Maspolitano will appear in the 11th annual All American Circus at the South Mountain Arena, West Orange, Wednesday, April 29, May 1 and 2. Additional information can be obtained by calling 482-0102 or 731-5551.

The picture, which is ordinarily set in 1934 in France, begins with a rather intriguing tale of a starving singer (Miss Andrews, with hair cut short, and her feminine body adorned in handsome male clothing) which Preston, particularly in a lower octave, is rousing fantasy (as always, anyway), particularly to the music of Henry Mancini.

The Middlesex County Community Education will sponsor a kick-off concert for the Institute of Christian Learning Saturday at 7 p.m. at the Brunswick Presbyterian Church. It will feature tenor Tony Valenti. Additional information can be obtained by calling 548-6000, ext. 350.

The stage in the Performing Arts Center at the college will be transformed into the year 1865 when Anna Cora Howard's musical comedy, "Fashion," is presented April 30, May 1, 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. Additional information can be obtained by calling 549-6000, ext. 357.

Thomas Keane to be feted
The South Orange Chapter of the Friends of the New Jersey State Opera will honor New Jersey Governor Thomas Keane, Patricia Badydanzig and Mr. and Mrs. James Cherry at a benefit champagne reception at 2 at the Chateau Acadia, historic mansion-home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wood, 12 South Harrison St., East Orange.

Gov. Keane was instrumental in launching the opera when he cosponsored the New Jersey State Legislature and served on its board for 10 years. He has been a member of the opera since 1979.

Additional information can be obtained by calling Judith Cherry at 681-5981 or Adrianna Griffith at 373-7887.

Dayton girls place 4th in Saturday relay meet

It was very easy for the Dayton girls' track team to take fourth place Saturday afternoon at the Morris Hills Relays. All they had to do was repeat their past dual meet performance.

Sports this week

thanks to a shutout of the Middlesex Blue Jays and an 84-38 romp over the Brearley Bears.

Then, in the 300-meter relay, Kelly, Richter, Brenner and Beth Mortimer took third place. Also placing in the 300-meter run was the second team of Roberts, Marge Taylor, Shirley Salemy

Netters boost hot streak with romp over Johnson

No one ever said tennis would be easy for Dayton's boys' tennis team, but everything has been a breeze so far this season.

In fact, the Bulldogs hadn't lost a single match through their first four outings, knocking off their first four by 5-0 shutout scores.

Coach Dave Cowden's team was certainly in top form last week. With No. 1 singles player Michael Berliner returning to the lineup after missing one outing with an ankle injury, the Bulldogs rolled all over Kenilworth.

Berliner showed no ill effects at all, breezing to a 6-0, 6-0 victory. And Dan Schlager at the second spot and Pete Sommer at No. 3 were just as impressive, rolling to 6-0, 6-0 decisions.

The situation wasn't any different in doubles, as Robert Steir and Dan Freedman shut out Brearley's pair at No. 1, and Tom Daniel and Kipp Levinson matched that feat at the second spot.

The Bulldogs did have to work for their victory against Clark's Johnson Regional. Berliner enjoyed the afternoon, powering to a 6-2, 6-2 win, and Schlager was very impressive once again at No. 2, romping to a 6-1, 6-2 victory.

Sommer showed some of his character at the third slot. After falling 3-6 in the opening set and coming back to win 6-0 to force a third set, Sommer dropped behind 5-6 in the final set, but Sommer came through, blanking his opponent in the next game to set-up a tiebreaker. And he won that one, 7-1.

In doubles competition, Steir and Freedman ripped their feet, 6-2, 6-2, at first doubles and Daniels and Levinson won 6-1, 6-2, at the second spot.

All of which makes the Bulldogs 4-0 as a team and 20-0 individually. But some tough competition is just around the corner. The netters will host Middlesex this afternoon on the courts in front of the high school and will welcome Gov. Livingston on Saturday morning at 11 a.m. That latter match, in particular, should be a battle for the Bulldogs. And on Tuesday, Dayton will head to Spotswood for the third leg of the three-match set against Mountain Valley Conference foes.

Also participating in the 1600 relay was junior Mitch Cutler and sophomores Tom Lausten and Walter Clarke.

In dual meet action, Ken Palazzi placed first in the 300 meters against North Plainfield, and Scott Connolly took first in the 1600 meter run. Casey finished first in the 400 meter run and Rusty Grimaldi won the pole vault contest, as Dayton won the meeting, 82-49.

The will meet Metuchen this afternoon and Spotswood on Tuesday, both on the road, in dual meet showdowns, and they'll also take part in Monday's Union County Relays in Plainfield.

Also participating in the 1600 relay was junior Mitch Cutler and sophomores Tom Lausten and Walter Clarke.

chris was second and Rickerhauer grabbed third.

The 400-meter run was just as exciting for the sprinters to first place as Hochstein came in second.

Gaglio finished first in the 800-meter, while Parodici completed the 1600 in 5:35 to capture first place. Salamy and Janis Leber also placed in the 1600.

And in the 3200, Dayton swept once again, as Rickerhauer placed first, Jane Kato placed second and Levine grabbed third.

In the field events, Sadin, one of the team's best athletes, placed first in the javelin contest, while Kelly placed second.

Against Brearley, Kiell placed first in the high hurdles. Gaglio finished first in the intermediate hurdles and Sadin placed first in the 100 as well as the 200 meter runs.

Also, Cocchia took a first in the 400 meters. Mortimer placed first in the 800 and Parodici placed first in the 1600.

Parodici finished first in the 3200 as Commarato placed first in the high jump competition. Finishing fourth in place in the long jump.

Sadin, against Brearley, earned first place in the javelin contest and Drummond placed first in the discus event. The team of Mortensen, Gaglio, Hochstein and Mortimer won the 1600 relay.

The Dayton girls' track team will travel to Metuchen this afternoon for a 3:45 dual meet and will participate this Saturday in the Summit Relays.

Following the Summit Relays, the girls will take part in Monday's county relays and challenge Spotswood away on Tuesday.

As for the boys, they were pretty flat last Saturday afternoon at the Morris Hills Relays. But they weren't swift enough to place among the big winners at the prestigious meet.

There were some bright spots, though. In the 3200-meter relay, the team of Sal Colatriglio, Scott Connolly, Jim Stevie and Mark Stevie ran a composite time of 18:17, while first team of John Apicella, Anthony Bachus, Herb Foster and Bob Casey did a nice job in the 400-meter relay.

In the long jump event, Casey leaped 19-4. Bacehus managed a 17-2 and Apicella was right behind at 16-7.

After all those events, Dan Connolly stole the show in the 1600-meter relay. Connolly completed the race in 5:07.

ALMOST—Kenilworth's Anthony Vizoni just managed to beat the pickoff attempt from Dayton's Vin Cocchia to first baseman Geoff Bradshaw. The Bulldogs were upset by the surprising Brearley Bears, 4-3, last week. (John Sharfer Photo)

3-1-1 Bulldogs getting ready for three Mountain Valley foes

By RON BRANDSDORFER What's better than a 6-5 loss and a 6-5 win? A 6-5 victory. None other than a 5-5 tie.

"It was one of the happiest non-victories we've ever had," explained Dayton baseball coach Bob Lowe after the Bulldogs managed to come fighting back in the late innings to pull out a 5-5 tie with Ridge on Tuesday in a game called after seven full innings because of darkness.

That ballgame could easily have been the Bulldogs' second loss of the season. One inning later, Dayton, against Brearley, 6-3—just as it could have been a victory No. 4.

It certainly was a wild one. The Bulldogs, coming off a sparkling 13-1 rout of Verona Saturday and an 8-6 victory over Hillsdale, allowed Ridge to jump out to a 4-0 lead after four innings.

But Dayton came back with a pair of runs in the fourth, as Kirk Yeggy belted a single and Vin Cocchia boosted his batting average to a team-leading .523 with his second homer of the season, a two-run shot.

But the Bulldogs were still down, 5-2, in the fifth inning. That's when Cocchia started getting tough on the mound. In fact, he battled his way out of bases loaded, one on jama, in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings.

And in the sixth, the Bulldogs made it 5-4 on Tim Black's two-run single. One inning later, Dayton loaded the bases with nobody out but could score just one run, thanks to Ron Pasco's two-out walk on a three-out play. And the game was called right after the inning ended.

"It was the way we came back that was impressive," Lowe said. "We easily could have folded right there, down 4-0 and 5-2."

The Bulldogs simply have too much offense to do that, as Verona and Hillsdale found out. Against Hillsdale, Lowe gave the baseball to soph Rich Pollicastro, and he came through with a six-hitter. Vin Cocchia and Larry Zavodny belted the big hits.

In the romp over Verona, John Cocchia and Joe Roesser had three-out hits, and Cocchia pitched Esemplare and winning pitcher Zavodny each cracked a pair of singles. On the mound, Zavodny finished with a five-hitter and five K's.

Now the Bulldogs will get ready for three games against Mountain Valley Conference foes: home this afternoon against Middlesex, home on Saturday (11 a.m.) against Governor Livingston and away on Tuesday at Spotswood.

Ukrainians set annual festival at Arts Center

Preparations are under way for the 8th annual Ukrainian Festival to be held Saturday, June 19, at the Garden State Arts Center in Holmdel.

Stan Jakubowicz, chairman of the 1982 Ukrainian Festival, said this year's festival will offer an array of performing and dance ensembles from the U.S. and Canada and nationally-known Ukrainian celebrities.

The festival will again include an afternoon program and athletic events. Cultural exhibits will include Ukrainian Easter eggs, embroidery and paintings.

Public Affairs Council of AAA to support roads-dedicated tax

The Public Affairs Council of the AAA Automobile Clubs of New Jersey has announced it will support the Kean Administration's proposal for a dedicated gasoline tax revenues to transportation improvements.

"Even though the governor's proposal will result in higher gas prices in New Jersey and we support it reluctantly, on balance New Jersey motorists will benefit in the form of improved roads and highways," said Jack Staskewicz, state chairman of the council and president of AAA-West Jersey.

The council represents approximately 600,000 motorists belonging to the six AAA clubs in New Jersey. The council acts as their advocate before the state and federal government concerning issues which affect the interests of all New Jersey motorists.

"Nobility, least of all the AAA, wants to see motorists saddled with higher gasoline taxes. But we cannot allow our natural reluctance to pay higher taxes to get in the way of responsible efforts to improve the shameful condition of New Jersey's system of roads and highways," he explained.

According to Staskewicz, Governor Kean's plan to extend the sales tax to include gasoline will, in the long run, benefit New Jersey motorists by increasing the amount of funds available to upgrade the condition of the state's deteriorating roads and highways.

"We believe that our members are willing to go along with a modest increase in gas taxes provided the additional tax revenues are dedicated to funding desperately needed transportation projects," he said.

Staskewicz cited what he called the "crisis conditions which exist on New Jersey's roads and highways" as the major reason for the Triple A's reluctant decision to support the Kean gas

Rebuilt parts make sense for older cars

High interest rates and rising prices are postponing many new car and truck purchases.

Consequently, many owners are keeping their vehicles and fixing them up.

In fact, the average age of cars in service today has climbed to 6.5 years, the highest it's been since 1953, according to officials of the Automotive Dismantlers and Recyclers of America. The older a car gets, the more maintenance it needs, and keeping it running smoothly with used or recycled auto parts often makes good sense.

In purchasing recycled automotive parts, the consumer benefits in a number of ways. Since recycling centers are not limited by high overhead, limited storage facilities, delivery charges or long back orders normally associated with new parts and because recyclers usually have immediate access to parts for cars that have been around 10 years or more, the consumer normally pays a price one-third to one-half the cost of a new factory-built part.

Frequently the purchase price of an entire assembly, such as complete engine with carburetor, intake and exhaust manifolds, starter and other items, will be less than that of a new or rebuilt engine block alone.

And because the factory installed all the components, a used engine will usually operate trouble-free. Here are a few common-sense guidelines on buying recycled auto and truck parts:

- Whenever possible, deal with a licensed yard, preferably a member of the Automotive Dismantlers and Recyclers of America and other professional organizations. Ask for a receipt as you would for any purchase.

- Have an expert technician diagnose each specific automotive problem, so the right part will be obtained and thereby prevent the problem from happening again.

- When buying an electrical part, select one that has been bench-tested rather than merely road-tested and get a guarantee.

- When purchasing an engine or transmission, always supply the size and model number of the car and don't accept parts that have accumulated more than 70,000 miles.

- Whenever possible, bring the old part in for comparison.

- The smart consumer always shows for the best price and product. Get price quotations from the auto recycler as well as new and rebuilt parts jobbers.

Don't loose cool when cooler stops

It's hot and the car's air conditioner stops working.

Do not panic: It may be one of several problems that are easily repaired.

Many people make the mistake of asking the mechanic to recharge the system when it isn't working right.

Instead, ask for a check-up, advise Car Care Council. The trouble could very well be only a burned out fuse, a broken vacuum line or a loose drive belt. A small amount of refrigerant to top off the system might be all it needs.

If the system needs a recharge, there may be a leak in the system. Play it safe, says CCC, check out the system before that long summer trip.

Car service on move with 'roving repair'

Car doctors who make house calls?

Cooperatives that encourage you to do your own work and mail out annual reports?

Such is car care in the 1980s.

Mobile repair shops that catch up with you and your car—at home or on the job—is a relatively new, fast-moving trend.

Typical is George Boyce, Jr.'s Car Care Inc., a Florida-based repair service and franchising business that started on a shoestring in 1976 and has exploded to include a fleet of cars and trucks on the road daily, making dozens of house calls for new and repeat business in and around Sarasota.

With the spread of Boyce's technique to other cities through Car Care Inc. franchises, Boyce set up training courses for shops with master mechanics "who perform the necessary work on your car at your home, place of work or wherever it is needed at anytime of the day or night."

Boyce says the average cost of on-the-spot repairs for his customers is lower than normal because there isn't the overhead. The on-time Boyce charges for making a service call, he says, is when a technician makes a diagnosis and the customer decides he wants to do the job himself.

PROFESSIONAL TOUCH—Here, at one typical co-op, a professional mechanic administers a free diagnostic check—part of a Saturday open house for community residents. The co-op says it's trust rather than price that promotes their facilities. But members generally reap a decided dividend in the fact they pay for labor and the length of the repair warranty.

Boyce likes to compare his roving technicians to doctors. "They work on humans; we work on iron. And a top-notch, highly-skilled technician with years of experience should not diagnosis for free."

A master mechanic goes to every job—in a truck stocked with around $40,000 in parts and equipment. Most jobs can be done in about an hour, he says.

Just about the only major tool Boyce doesn't have is a lift—"and 97 percent of the work on a vehicle does not have to be done on a lift," he maintains. "You only have to jack it up maybe two inches off the ground for brake jobs, transmission service, oil changes, shocks and rear ends."

Woolley Fuel had role in popularizing deisel

Woolley Fuel Co., Maplewood, played a role in popularizing the now commonly used diesel fuel.

About 15 years ago, according to a spokesman, the company purchased its first new diesel-powered heating oil delivery truck. Its operation was so satisfactory and efficient that when the company added another vehicle, it also was diesel powered.

When Mercedes and General Motors diesel cars became popular, the spokesman continued, the firm thought that with experience and knowledge of diesel fuels, it could pass its knowledge along to consumers. The company installed the first card-operated diesel fuel pump in the East and formed a diesel card club that records the card number and gallons on an office computer when diesel fuel is purchased and bills the customer monthly.

The spokesman said: "We have found that with careful quality control and winterizing our fuel in season, a large gallonage from satisfied customers has resulted. Many of our accounts come from great distances to purchase their fuel from us because it is super premium diesel fuel, which is not offered at highway stations serving over-the-road trucks."

Limit vacation load with downsized car

Going vacationing with a downsized car and trailer?

The best advice, according to Car Care Council and Automotive Information Council, is to limit vacation packing to the things most needed.

If there's a possibility that the downsized load still may be putting a strain on the car, the trailer, or their components, check with the dealer.

With a downsized car, there's always a temptation to overload, observes Car Care Council, adding that while that new fuel-efficient vehicle may be lighter in weight than its predecessor by 1,000 pounds or more, people fail to make that distinction in considering what to take on a trip, tending to expect the same load-carrying capability. And this, the council points out, is a mistake. The relatively greater increase in weight can affect handling and can cause the car to bottom out on bumps. It also can cause headlights to blind oncoming drivers because of the lowered rear end of the car.

To be sure the new, lighter car is travel ready, as much weight as possible should be trimmed from vacation gear.

If the cargo still is overweight, overload shock absorbers can help maintain a level ride. The owner's manual lists the maximum permissible load for each make and model of car.

The downsizing trend in automobiles has been followed by trailer makers who have reduced weight by 30 to 40 percent to make them easily towable for today's small-engine cars, reports the Automotive Information Council. Even boat trailers have been reduced in weight by almost a third. Trailer makers are using lighter-weight, high-strength steels for the chassis and axles and are substituting plastic for doors and compartment covers. Walls of some of the travel trailers are made of a light but strong honeycomb material. Improved aerodynamics also reduce the pulling load.

One 25-footer weighs only 1,800 pounds, versus 4,000 pounds a few years ago, which means the new version can be pulled by a compact car. Some 16 to 20-footers can be pulled by subcompact.

AIC advises checking with both the car dealer and trailer dealer to get pulling capabilities and trailer weights before buying.

Trailer sales people express enthusiasm about today's front-wheel drive vehicles.

One trailer dealer said front-drive provides greater control, and better performance for trailering because the car is pulling the unit, which provides better tracking.

Paint 'doggy bag'

The Car Care Council advises car owners to ask the shop for a "doggy bag" of surplus paint after their car has been repainted. A small can of the same batch used to paint the car can be used to touch up surface scrapes and scratches.

Not too swift

America's first automobile race was something less than the Indy 500 for speed.

Of the more than 80 entries that showed up for the 52-mile contest at Chicago on Thanksgiving Day 1895, only six started. Just two finished.

GM study reinforces value of buckling up

More than two million persons suffered disabling injuries from motor vehicle accidents in the U.S. in 1980 — $3,330 lost their lives. This — in a nation where, according to the National Safety Council, only 10.9 percent of all motorists regularly use occupant safety restraints.

How many of these injuries and deaths could have been prevented had seat belts been compulsory no longer is a matter for conjecture.

In the Canadian province of Ontario, for example, where the use of seat belts is required by law, accidents in which safety belts were not worn by 30,206 drivers resulted in injuries to 8,780 or 29 percent while 570 were killed.

In contrast, of the 285,392 drivers involved in accidents who were wearing seat belts, only 38,216 or 14 percent were injured; 143 were killed.

Will drivers take greater risks where they're compelled by law to buckle up? Not according to a study by three General Motors researchers.

Risk-taking — measured in terms of how closely one car follows another in high-flow freeway traffic — was analyzed in Ontario, with a seat belt law dating back to 1976, and in Michigan where there is no such law.

Observers collected data on 4,812 cars and light-duty trucks by photographing each vehicle as it passed a reference mark and recording the time interval between the successive photographs.

They determined that 51 percent of the drivers in Ontario used their shoulder harness, compared with only about 17 percent in Michigan. Using actual driving behavior under compulsory conditions, the study challenges the hypothesis that claims the benefits of seat belts and other motor vehicle safety equipment may be diminished to some extent because of various offsetting types of behavior adopted by drivers when these things are required by government.

The GM study shows just the opposite: These drivers who used their shoulder harness took less rather than more risk.

In a second study, GM researchers sought a correlation between tailgating and the driver's previous driving record.

Accident-involved drivers or those with traffic violations were more likely to tail other vehicles, the observers found, than accident-free drivers or those without violations.

Auto service employs many

When somebody refers to the "automotive business," many people mistakenly think only in terms of shiny new cars rolling off assembly lines and into dealer showrooms.

There's another dimension — the automotive service industry, an after-market workforce of 2.5 million — four times larger than the car manufacturing and distribution system.

Since it is estimated that American vehicles roll up nearly 1.5 trillion miles each year moving people and freight from point to point, the aftermarket parts and service industry is an essential part of the nation's basic health.

Get autos in shape for summer

The warm, pleasant days of summer, quickly approaching, will bring motorists by the millions onto the nation's highways and country roads.

Most breakdown situations are the byproducts of neglect — forgetting or being too much in a hurry to check or replace something simple — a check that any person with only the most basic knowledge of a car can perform.

For those who plan to do routine maintenance themselves — and it's estimated nearly 80 percent of car owners now do at least a part of their own automotive maintenance — here is a list prepared by Champion Spark Plug Company of easy, under-the-hood and around-the-car checks.

When a car needs a tune-up, it could be robbing its owner of up to 11 percent of the gasoline used. On many new cars, the spark plug wires are numbered to eliminate any confusion when checking or replacing spark plugs. Simply pull a plug wire and, using a spark plug wrench, unscrew and remove the plug. Then check the firing end. Obvious signs of fouling and/or wear indicate that the plug should be replaced.

It's a simple matter to tune the engine when the car has electronic ignition — just install the plugs and check the timing.

Whatever the make or year of the car, starting performance, and emission control characteristics can be improved by routinely installing new spark plugs once a year. Older cars may need new ignition points and a new condenser as well.

Out of sight, out of mind. Maybe this is why shock absorbers are among the most neglected items on the average car. To test them, press down firmly on the fender or bumper near a tire and bounce the car. When you stop bounce-ing, the car should, too. If it doesn't, the shocks need to be replaced.

Worn brakes can be a killer.

One test of brakes is to depress the brake pedal hard and note the amount of free play before the pedal stops. If it goes too far, or if it feels spongy, have the brakes checked. If pumping several times restores the brakes to a normal feel, there could be a problem in the system. Dirty or malfunctioning headlights are a major cause of reduced driving visibility. Wash all lights with soap and water periodically then turn them on and stand back and observe.

Don't neglect the lights on the instrument panel. The bulbs are normally easy to reach and replace if necessary. Test the horn at the same time.

Listen for revealing rattles from the undercarriage when the car is moving or idling. Often this can be an early clue that trouble is brewing in the exhaust system. Look under the car for muffler or tailpipe damage and loose hangers.

If the battery is the refillable type, check it regularly to make sure there is sufficient water in all the cells. A dry battery won't last long. Check the battery monthly in cold weather, weekly in hot weather, and daily on long trips.

Clean the battery terminals with a baking soda-and-water solution to dissipate any corrosive acid buildup. Check to be sure the cables are tightly attached to the terminals and that the rubber coating is in good condition. Remember that automotive batteries contain sulfuric acid, so avoid contact with skin, eyes or clothing.

Each type of operating fluid in the car has a vital job to do.

When oil gets too low on the dipstick, vital internal parts of the engine may be damaged. Check it at least weekly. Coolant loss can result in sudden engine overheating and possible severe damage to the engine. It would be checked weekly.

removing any dirt from around the cap area. Dirty or contaminated hydraulic brake fluid can be the cause of sudden brake failure.

Low transmission fluid can cause transmission slippage erratic operation, eventual overheating and damage to the transmission. Check the dipstick monthly with the engine running.

The air filter sits conveniently over the engine, highly visible and easily accessible, usually secured in its housing by a single wingnut. Every six months, dislodge the air filter and hold it up to the light. If you can't see through it for dirt, replace it.

Wash the car regularly, preferably once a week. Wax the car at least twice a year.

Don't leave pet in hot car

Don't leave a pet in a closed car on a hot summer day — even for a few minutes.

A car parked in the sun on a 90-degree day can register interior temperatures of 130 degrees within 15 minutes, and an animal could suffer heat exhaustion, heat stroke and possibly death because normal body temperatures for many pets are about 100 degrees.

Even rolling the windows down a few inches is really not all that helpful, says Automotive Information Council. The air doesn't circulate properly, so hot air inside the car doesn't get replaced.

Dogs and cats don't perspire as humans do. They rely on panting to exchange body heat. If the temperature inside the car is hotter than the body temperature, their heat-exchange system can fail.

Signs of heat exhaustion include heavy panting. The sides of the body may heave along with the panting and the tongue may become a deep red or purple color.

Poor roads, bridges a major crash factor

Before starting out on that vacation this summer, be warned: Obsolete road and bridge conditions, the second leading cause of road accidents, are responsible for nearly four million collisions annually.

What's more, these accidents are costing U.S. motorists some $8.55 billion a year, according to the Road Information Program (TRIP), a non-profit Washington-based agency.

Only driver errors—such as drunk driving or falling asleep at the wheel—cause more accidents than roads themselves, TRIP says.

Safely advanced traditionally have concentrated on the vehicle and its driver, while the roadway, a crucial partner in the driving process, often is forgotten, the agency maintains. These are the 10 most common problems:

- NARROW LANES—New roads are required to have at least a 10-foot lane width, but many older roads do not. Speed should be adjusted when using narrow lanes to allow for additional reaction time when approaching a disabled vehicle, pedestrians or emergency vehicles.
- LACK OF SHOULDERS OR NARROW SHOULDERS—Too little shoulder space also is a chronic problem on older roads and some bridges on the nation's interstate highway network also lack adequate shoulders.
- STEEP RISES AND DIPS IN THE ROADWAY—A steep rise in the roadway will restrict a driver's sight distance and could lead to disastrous results for someone driving even at normal speeds. A stopped school bus, disabled vehicle or even road construction could be waiting on the other side.
- IMPROPERLY BANKED CURVES—A properly designed curve will aid a driver when negotiating the curve. But curves suffering from obsolete design problems still pepper the nation's road network. It's vital that a driver slow vehicle speed while approaching poorly banked curves and maintain a slow speed while going through the curve.
- PAVEMENT EDGE DROPS—If the level of the shoulder is lower than the roadway, a driver should take special care when moving from the shoulder to the roadway.
- SHORT, ENTRY AND EXIT LANES—Multi-lane highways built today must have entry and exit lanes long enough to allow drivers to exit safely from or merge into highway traffic. But many older highways are plagued with lanes that are too short. When entering the highway, a motorist should check the oncoming traffic flow while keeping an eye in front for stopped traffic. The proper turn signal should be used and speed adjusted to the traffic flow as soon as possible. Those exiting should move to the side of the highway nearest the off-ramp, signal properly and gently slow the vehicle as the exit approaches. Be alert for drivers trying to enter or exit the highway and accommodate them whenever possible by moving to available through lanes.
- BRIDGES WITH REDUCED WEIGHT POSTINGS—As a bridge ages, traffic officials usually reduce the allowable weight limits on the bridge to stretch its life. There is no assurance that a bridge is capable of withstanding the same weights that the road leading up to it can handle. Watch for signs limiting bridge weights and obey reduced speed limits that often accompany the weight reductions.

Many former farm and country roads, pressed into heavier service as the nation continues its urban sprawl, are handling a heavier traffic load than they were designed for a half-century or more ago.

The bulk of the nation's highway and bridge network was constructed before the 1940s, when vehicles traveled more slowly and there were fewer of them. According to TRIP, the best defense against highway mishaps resulting from road and bridge problems simply is on-going driver awareness.

First few minutes crucial for victims of car crash

Knowing what to do at the scene of a motor vehicle accident is important for any motorist. The first few moments can be crucial for a victim with serious injuries.

Proper first aid can reduce the effects of injuries or even keep a seriously injured person alive. An inexpensive first-aid kit carried in the glove box or trunk could prove indispensable at a time like this.

The Automotive Information Council offers these tips for aiding auto accident victims:

- Avoid causing a second accident.
- If you are busy giving first aid, someone should call for help immediately. The caller should report the location of the accident, what kind of help is needed and the number of persons involved. Persons giving this information should always stay on the line a moment to confirm any information.

TIMELY TIPS

1. Test soil in lawns, flower beds, and vegetable gardens. Remember different plants require different nutrients.
2. Start hanging baskets indoors 6 to 8 weeks prior to frost free date in your area.
3. Start hanging baskets for use on patios, decks, and porches. Use perlite in place of sand to provide drainage and lighten weight in potting mixes.
4. Check gardening and pruning equipment. Replace broken handles, clean, and sharpen.
5. Feed trees, shrubs, perennials, vegetables and houseplants.
6. Finish spring cleanup. Rake leaves and prune winter damage.
7. Cut new edges around flower and vegetable beds. Install edging to prevent invasion of grasses and weeds into the beds.
8. Get ahead of broadleaf weeds in the lawn. The unique tri-act chemical Yarmalis provide a broader spectrum of eradication.
9. Plant early vegetables such as cabbage, lettuce, beets, radishes, peas, etc. Protect tender plants from frost damage with hot caps.
10. Apply mulches in garden to keep down weeds and conserve water. Black plastic, salt hay, straw, and wood chips may be used.
11. General pest control on ornamentals may be necessary. Spring panicle worms and other chewing insects may show damage on new growth.
12. Terrestrial swarms may be seen. Foundations around the home may be treated with Chloridan. Read the label and follow the manufacturer's recommended rates and directions.
13. Check for white fly and mealy bugs on house plants.
14. Prepare for Gypsy Moth invasion. No one method will provide complete control. Chemical, biological and mechanical controls are available.
15. Pre-emergent crabgrass controls must be applied now, before crabgrass starts.
16. Prepare the beauty of summer and invite Nature to visit your garden by hanging bird feeders and bird houses.
17. Pick or prune off spent flower blossoms on rhododendrons, bulbs, etc.
18. Water in all newly planted trees, shrubs, annuals, vegetables. Never rely on Mother Nature to do this job. Select the right sprinkler for the right job. Don't waste water.
19. Make gardening easier. Dress accordingly and wear protective clothing.
20. When using a pesticide, READ THE LABEL, FOLLOW THE MANUFACTURER'S RECOMMENDED RATES AND DIRECTIONS, PLEASE!!!
