Hospital benefit is held

The 1982 annual ball of Memorial General Hospital, which was held recently at the Meadowlands Hilton Hotel, Secaucus, was a "success both financially and socially." It was announced by Nadia Matkewsky of Short Hills, general chairman.

The event featured an appearance by John Gabriel of the daytime serial, "Ryan's Hope," and entertainment by Bobby Rydell and his orchestra.

More than 250 people attended, including state and local officials, civic leaders, industrial leaders, medical societies, physicians and hospital administration and employees. The benefit raised more than $20,000 for patient care equipment.

"This marks the 20th year when Memorial General Hospital has held a gala event such as this," says Mrs. Matkewsky. "Thanks to the dedicated efforts of our committee, the ball was the most successful one to date."

Motions could decide Turkey Day showdown

By RON BRANDSDORFER
 The idea that Dayton's Thanksgiving Day showdown with Hillside has lost any of its glamour simply because the Comets were knocked out of the playoffs — and the playoffs last weekend by state-ranked Caldwell. As a matter of fact, the game might even be more exciting now, since neither team faces a "honor roll" after tomorrow.

"We don't have an undefeated team any more," began Dayton coach Tony Policare, analyzing tomorrow's 10:30 a.m. matchup at Meisel Field in Springfield. "But we still have the Wabingo Conference National Division championship."

The big question, as both Policare and Hillside coach Larry Coppola would probably agree, is how the Comets will enter the halfgame emotionally. After all, they were pounded, 44-26, by Caldwell team — that has now won 19 straight games — in the opening round of the North Jersey Section II, Group II playoffs.

"Emotionally, it's tough to read how a team will come off that kind of a loss," Policare said. "They could come out of it dejected, with a lot of wind out of their sails, or with a little pride. They may be more eager to end their season with a win."

Despite the thrumping from Caldwell, it has been an incredible season for the Comets (8-1), who breezed through their regular season schedule with the greatest of ease, even demolishing Orange by a 54-0 score.

"We were able to scout them personally against Caldwell," said Policare, whose Bulldogs will enter the football program's second best record since 1983. "They may be the best offensive football team in Section II, all groups."

That's quite a compliment, considering the likes of Group IV powers Mount Airy and Elizabeth.

"They're just a great offensive football team," Policare added.

The Comets' attack begins with quarterback Grady Harris, passing the best thrower in the entire state. The senior has thrown for over 1,600 yards this season, and he loves to look for Jerome Jewell and Bryan Scipio. That trio could pose some problems for the Bulldogs, who like to pride themselves on their defensive ability. Policare has other concerns, too.

"Hillside just has tremendous team speed," he observed. "I'm sure there has never been a faster team on Dayton's schedule... ever."

To that end, Policare says he will probably double-team Jewell and Scipio on the outside and allow his all-around everything player, safety Kyle Judkins, to roam free in the secondary.

"Maybe it will turn out to be the Grady Harris vs. Kyle Judkins Show," Policare said. "The quarterback vs. the defensive back. They're both major college recruits."

The rest of Dayton's defense may also pose some problems for the Comets. Policare plans to start Pat Eschemplere at the strong safety and Mike McNary and Brett Walsh at the cornerback slots, with Ron Martignetti, John Baber, Joe Roesser and Tony Apicella at the linebackers and Jack Vogel, Nick D'Altille, and Anthony Castellani on the defensive line.

Expect to see Policare bring in another linebacker or pass rusher in a throwing situation, simply to put some additional pressure on the talented Harris.

While the pressure may be on the Bulldog defense, what with Harris and his sure-handed receivers, the most pressure of all may rest with Dayton's offense.

And that's especially true considering that Policare believes the Bulldogs will "have to score four touchdowns or more" to beat the Comets.

And that might just happen, since Policare calls Hillside's defense "suspect," even more so after the blasting from Caldwell.

"They put all their eggs in one basket — their passing and running game," said Policare, who builds his team around defense, "and Caldwell's offense just chewed them up."

Policare would now like to see his Bulldogs do the same thing.

The key to their attack is the passing combo of quarterback Rich Policastro to Judkins, the flanker. The Bulldogs will either build their game plan around

PLAYERS TO WATCH—There's no doubt that Hillside High has scouted the Bulldogs and will pay special attention to quarterback Rich Policastro (14) and wide receiver Kyle Judkins (89) when the two teams get together at Meisel Field tomorrow for the Thanksgiving Day game. (Ed Kisch Photo)

TOP THREAT—Brenley's hopes for a big Thanksgiving Day victory will rest partly on the strong shoulders of Joe Lopphoso (35), a talented running back. Lopphoso has been the Bears' top rusher this season. (John Shaffer Photo)

Bears need T-Day win to complete 6-3 season

By RON BRANDSDORFER
 Success hasn't spoiled Brenley coach Bob Taylor and his Bears.

Even though Brenley failed to qualify for the North Jersey Section II, Group I playoffs and thus missed out on an opportunity to defend its championship, Taylor isn't offering any sour grapes.

After all, the 5-3 Bears still have a chance to boost their two-year record to a sparkling 17-3 with a victory over Gov. Livingston tomorrow morning in the annual Thanksgiving Day game in Kenilworth.

"This game has taken on a whole new importance for us, for sure," said Taylor, whose Bears have spent more than a week preparing for the Highlanders. "We're looking to end our season on a very high note, and we need a big win on Turkey Day to do that."

That victory would also serve to take the Bears' minds off their 15-12 loss to Immaculata and, especially, a stunning 8-7 loss to North Plainfield.

"The North Plainfield loss was devastating," Taylor said. "You don't get over those easily."

Especially since it cost the Bears a spot in the state playoffs for the second year in a row.

But that's what makes the showdown with Gov. Livingston so interesting.

"We've been geared toward championships," Taylor explained, "so it's a letdown not to be playing for one. But this will be like a pride bowl for us."

"We've been geared toward championships," Taylor explained, "so it's a letdown not to be playing for one. But this will be like a pride bowl for us."

"We like to go into each game with a balanced attack," he said. "Then we like to probe the defense a little bit to see what they're giving us. We're going to play this game as we did the rest of our games this season."

And that could be enough to ruin Gov. Livingston's Thanksgiving Day appetite.

The Thanksgiving Day game has a lot of tradition, Taylor stressed. "We always have a big crowd for the halfgame and we have our pep rally the night before. The Turkey Day game is a spectacle in itself."

Toss away the W-L records: A solid season for Bear teams

By TOM VANDEWATER
 There was much more to Brenley's tennis and cross country seasons than won-lost records, according to members of the two Bear squads.

The harriers were 4-7-1, but the depth of the squad has increased in the past few years with the likes of this year's leading runners: Bob Neves, Aurelio Sisto, Fred Huss, Dan Verno, Mike Jedry and Frank Garrick.

"The season certainly has been a success as compared to other seasons. The kids really started running together and pushing each other. The key to cross country is definitely total team concept," said Coach Jim Hagan.

Brenley also had two outstanding girl runners this year in Yolanda Rehm and Lisa Galiszewski. Rehm received honorable mention for the All-Mountain Valley Conference team, placed 10th in the conference meet, ninth in the state sectionals and fifth in the all-groups, an exceptional accomplishment for a sophomore. She is the first Brenley girl to make the state sectionals.

Galiszewski is in her first year in the sport, and she won more than she lost in cross country, a feat with asthma. Hagan is predicting another strong team for next year. The starters should be Garrick, Verno, Huss, Jack Hayda and Sal Cardella, while Brenley will lose Sisto, Jedry and Neves to graduation. Hagan hopes to get more freshmen to try out for the team next fall.

Meanwhile, the girls' tennis team finished 3-13, winning two over Bound Brook and once over Middletown for the three victories.

"I feel the season was a success as far as improvement is concerned," said co-captain Suzanne Cardoso, who had a 12-2-1 record in third singles and reached the second round of the Union County Tournament.

Kris Studebaker and Julianne Zeyock took turns throughout the season playing first and second singles. Chris Tomchak and Claudine Vitale played first doubles and Terri Sauritis and Kim Sokol were the second doubles combination.

In addition to Students and Cardoso, also participating this year are Tomchak, Eileen Colten, Dornal Miller and Jackie Piret.

Dayton runners achieve goals during 1982's winning season

By BOB BRUCKNER
 Every season, all cross country coaches give their teams the annual pep talk, hoping that maybe, just maybe, the team will take the words of wisdom seriously and strive for the opportunity to participate in the state's Meet of Champions.

Then, many of these coaches become content with winning a conference title, a county title, or even having an outstanding dual meet record.

Dayton's cross country program is different. The Bulldog runners took their coaches' advice to heart and set out to accomplish some mighty big goals.

And, coaches Bill Jones and Martin Taglienti are happy to announce, Dayton's runners achieved almost every goal this past cross country season.

Jones' girls' team won the Mountain Valley Conference title as well as the state sectionals, while Taglienti's boys placed second in the sectionals and sixth in the conference.

And the girls topped off their sensational season last weekend by finishing 15th in the Meet of Champions — the annual meet featuring the state's best teams from all groups — at Holmdel Park. This means that Dayton Regional's girls' cross country team is the 15th best team in the State of New Jersey.

Crossing the finish line first for Dayton was Laura Richter, a junior who has been consistent all season. Richter, who was named first team, all-Mountain Valley Conference by the area coaches, placed 44th in the Meet of Champions.

Besides placing 44th in the big meet, Richter set a new Dayton record. Richter ran the best time ever of any Dayton female cross country athlete on the Holmdel Park course. Richter's time was 20:28. The Bulldog's number two runner, Mary Pat Pardeck finished the race shortly after Richter. Pardeck's time was 20:42.

Freshman Tracy Biber's selection to the all-conference first team has won her the respect of her Mountain Valley Conference opponents. She made that choice look very good by finishing 21:16 and among the top 40.

"We are very proud of Tracy," said Jones.

Also running well in the big race were Traci Karr, Nancy Gaglio and the captain, Beth Mortimer and Shirley Salemy.

"We were hoping to perform well and we did," said Jones.

According to Jones, who is delighted with his team, the season was a success because of the "hard work and dedication that every single girl on the team put into cross country."

He added that the team couldn't have achieved its goals without the support of Sandy Brenner, Margaret Taylor, Lisa Mortenson, Kathy Drummond, Cindy Moser, Nancy Rosenbauer and Shannon Kiley.

Lusardi leads Jets to easy 29-6 win

The Mountainide-Jets football team won, lost and tied in games against South Orange last week.

The heavyweights won, 29-6, as a 60-yard punt return by Jeff Stoffer, keyed by a block from Dave Martignetti, set up a score by John Lusardi. Dan Weaver added the extra point.

Lusardi then hooked up on a 60-yard pass play with Mike Gallaro for the Jets' second touchdown. Gallaro's two-point conversion gave Mountainide a 15-6 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, Lusardi hit Rob Fusco with a screen pass and he broke three tackles to score on a 25-yard run. Gallaro ran 49 yards for the game's final score, finishing the afternoon with 103 yards on 12 carries.

The Jet defense held South Orange to 38 total yards. Bill Quardt had six tackles, followed by Lusardi, Joe Castello, Gallaro, Fusco, Stoffer and Gary Beranete with five each. Beranete leads the team with 53 stops.

In the midweight game, South Orange won, 6-0, but not without some fine play by Mountainide's Marc Spagnola, Mike Sabatino and Louis Federico who combined for 20 tackles in defense.

The lightweight team played to a scoreless tie with South Orange. Playing good defense were Matthew and Richard Ventura; Greg Baronek, Michael Servello, Sean Stevens, Michael Rinaldo, Michael Jackson and Richard Antonucci.

Stevens and Servello were the top scorers for the team, with Servello stopping two to prevent South Orange scores.

Servello, Mike Price and Richard Beranete also made game-saving tackles for the Jets.

Happy Thanksgiving Day

County parks sets calendar

The Union County Department of Parks and Recreation has sent out an urgent request to organizations and groups sponsoring recreational programs in 1983 that may be of interest to county residents.

A master calendar of recreational events is an outgrowth of the Inter-agency Recreation Advisory Council, part of a federally funded five year Recovery Action Program to meet the leisure time needs of the Union County community.

Ellen Unger, a grants specialist with the Parks Department, asks that interested organizations submit a list of recreational activities for 1983 by Dec. 1 that would be open to all residents of Union County. Be sure to include dates, locations, eligible participants and a brief description of the event.

A special intensive, countywide publication effort will be launched to disseminate the Master Calendar upon completion. An 18-month grant from the National Park Service will finance part of the project.

With area surveys of recreational needs showing an increasing desire for activities close to home, the Parks Department has intensified its efforts to inform the public of available options.

recently instituted 24-hour Code-a-phone service provides a weekly listing of county events and programs at 333-8410. Participation in the master calendar effort on the part of local organizations is essential in making the project a success, Ms. Unger said.

Medical Center has largest frosh class

The largest freshmen class in the history of the Elizabeth General Medical Center School of Nursing is presently enrolled in the School's evening division. The 62 freshmen evening students join 88 daytime freshmen and 112 upperclassmen for a record total enrollment of 262 nursing students, according to Mary E. Kelley, R.N., dean of the School.

"Many of today's nursing students are making a career change from a varied assortment of professions," Kelley said, adding, "Students enrolled in our evening division have included teachers, lawyers, firemen and other professionals. The typical student is no longer a recent high school graduate." According to Kelley, the current freshman class also includes 22 Licensed Practical Nurses and 10 male students.

The School of Nursing of Elizabeth General Medical Center is one of a very few across the nation which conducts an evening program. Operated in conjunction with Union County College, students may attend on a full or part-time basis.

The program provides the student with the flexibility of taking up to six years for completion if the need arises. Graduates receive a diploma in nursing from the School of Nursing and an Associate in Science Degree from the College.

According to Carol Fasano, assistant dean of academic affairs, "The full and part-time evening program is a big asset for those who have families and are looking for a career change." She added, "Evening students receive the same, full nursing education experiences as do day division students."

MIGHTY MAMMOTH—Donna Gautier is carried around the ring in the mouth of a huge elephant in the 112th edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, which has its final performance Sunday at the Byrne Meadowlands Arena.

Animal acts highlighted in circus at Byrne Arena

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, booked at the Byrne Meadowlands Arena through Sunday, features 22 prancing elephants. It also highlights the Slavovics' bareback riding, miniature Shetland ponies led by Michu, the world's smallest man, 15 felines directed by Charly Baumann within the confines of the Great Steel Cage, and the only performing Baetrian camel in captivity.

Members of the Slavovl Troupe will attempt a double-twisting somersault, reportedly, a feat never before accomplished, and a three-man-high performed on horseback.

Alex Gautier, a sixth-generation circus performer, accompanied by his wife, Donna, and their two sons, Kevin and Michael, are in charge of elephants. Other star attractions are daredevil Elvin Bate, 17-year-old Miguel Vazquez and circus clowns. Additional information can be obtained by calling 835-3900.

'Christmas Carol' on McCarter stage

The McCarter Theater, Princeton, will open Charles Dickens' holiday show, "A Christmas Carol," Saturday. It will run through Dec. 12. Nagle Jackson will direct his adaptation of the Christmas classic. Additional information can be obtained by calling Veronica Brady, publicity manager, at (609) 452-6617.

'Messiah' set in Westfield

The Suburban Symphony Society and the Wesley Singers will present a sing-along "Messiah" with full chorus, soloists, symphony orchestra and the public Dec. 3 at 8 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church, Westfield.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 233-4211.

To Publicity Chairmen: Would you like some help in preparing newspaper releases? Write to this newspaper and ask for our "Tips on Submitting News Releases."

A concert is slated

The Kean College Choral and the Concert Chorus will present the first concert of the season Dec. 8 at 8 p.m. in the Linden Methodist Church.

The two groups will be assisted by guest singers from the New Jersey Chapter of the Riverdale, N. Y. Choral Society who will present excerpts from Handel's "Messiah" and Daniel Pinkham's "Christmas Cantata" with organ and brass.

The Choral also will sing Renaissance motets. James W. Cullen, professor of music at the college, will conduct. Lenora Thom of New York, an organist, will play.

The chorale will participate in its 12th annual tour for five days in January as part of the college's mid-year study program.

A second concert series is planned in late April and early May 1983 to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the birth of Johannes Brahms.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 527-2655 or 527-2107.

Disc & Data

Pick of the LPs, "Jon Stevens" (MCA/Big Time Records).

They're calling it "The Liverpool of the '80s." Whatever you wish to label it, the explosion of talent from Down Under (Australia) continues.

Jon Stevens is the latest, heralded newcomer from Down Under. Only 20 years old, his style shows tremendous diversity as well as a magnetism of alluring quality.

And quality with his debut album entitled "Jon Stevens" is all about. Superbly produced by Trevor Lawrence (associate producer with Richard Parry of The Pointer Sisters), Lawrence not only oversaw the technical aspects of the album, but also co-wrote five of the 10 tracks with Stevens.

Interestingly, one of the five, "Lower My Move," the first single, also was co-written by Jeff Barry "River Deep Mountain High," "I Honestly Love You," "Toll Laura I Love Her"), who was especially brought into the session to come up with a smash song.

Add to this even more class with a featured array of talented session musicians such as John Hillwell of Supertramp, Steve Lukather, Paulinho Da Costa, John Robinson of Rufus, James Newton-Howard, one of Elton John's band members for many years, and Paul Jackson Jr.

On signing with MCA in early July, Big Time has become the first independent Australian record company to have a production label in America. It was Big Time Records who discovered and developed the current Down Under success, Air Supply.

In these days of hyper-hyperbole, it's difficult to talk about major discoveries of possible superstars. However, it is less difficult to listen and enjoy 40 minutes of the best of what popular music has to offer.

Date is changed

Stage actress Colleen Dewhurst will appear Dec. 6 instead of Dec. 13 as previously announced at the Whole Theater Co., Montclair. She will be starred at 8 p.m. in a performance of "Molly Bloom," based on a character from James Joyce's "Ulysses."

Harpo Marx, Charlie Chaplin, Judy Garland, Leonardo da Vinci and Jack the Ripper all had one thing in common; they were lefthanded.

JON STEVENS

Two sessions with camera

A two-session workshop for adults in 35mm color photography, taught by Brent McCullough, will be given at the Montclair Art Museum on Sundays, Dec. 5 and 19, from 2:15 to 4:45 P.M. Registration is open now.

While no formal training is required for the workshop, participants should have a basic knowledge of photography and the use of a 35mm camera. The workshop should be of particular interest to artists wanting to photograph their own work.

After covering a brief history of color photography and taking a look at the work of some contemporary photographers, workshop participants will delve into the use of the camera, exposure meters and filters. They will be asked to complete a shooting assignment dealing with the problems of color, all subjects to be photographed as slides. A critique and analysis of participants' work will follow.

Brent McCullough is a professional photographer from Montclair, whose work has been published by Time-Life, Inc., The New York Botanical Garden, The Audubon Society, and the Sierra Club, among others.

Fee for the two-session workshop is $30. To register, call the museum's art school office, 746-5555.

Poets will read material at West Orange Y Dec. 7

Poets, Marilyn Mohr of South Orange and Marion Cohen of Philadelphia, Pa., will read from their own works at the Y-M-YWHA of Metropolitan New Jersey, 760 Northfield Ave. West Orange, Dec. 7, at 8 p.m.

Miss Mohr is the author of "Running the Track," a book of poetry published in 1979. She is the former editor of the Woodstock Poetry Review and the Catskill Poets Series. Miss Mohr was associate producer of a weekly television show, "The Velvet Trigger," in Woodstock, where she has appeared on cable television. Her poetry deals with Jewish culture and has been published in several literary magazines. A graduate of Brooklyn College, Miss Mohr teaches at Temple Sharey Tefilo-Israel of the Oranges and Suburbs.

Miss Cohen, contributing editor of "Mothering Magazine," has published anthologies of poetry concerned with mothering and the loss of children, including "Caesarean Poems" published by Brookside. She is the author of "The Weirdest Is the Sphere" and "Tuesday Nights" and was nominated for the Pushcart Prize by Letters Magazine in 1976.

Her poetry has been published in "Dark Horse" and in magazines, newsletters and feminist journals throughout the country. Miss Cohen served as coordinator for the Bicentennial Women's Center in Philadelphia in 1976 and has made appearances on radio and television in that area. She has a Ph.D. in Cultural Arts Department mathematics, is listed in Poets and Writers Directory and is a member of the Feminist Writers Guild.

The community is invited to attend the poetry reading at the Y. A donation of $1 will be charged to help defray the poets' expenses. Further information on the program is available by calling the Cultural Arts Department of the Y, 736-3200, ext. 511.

UCC opening doors for mid-year arrivals

Union County College will open its doors this spring to individuals who want to start their college careers in the middle of the academic year, which begins on Jan. 17, according to Patricia Kurisko, director of admissions and records.

Although many colleges and universities admit freshmen only at the start of the Fall Semester, Union accepts beginning freshmen for the Spring Semester also.

"We can do this," Kurisko said, "because our courses have been scheduled in a highly flexible way in order to meet the demand for spring entry in this area."

Kurisko reports that all programs on the Cranford Campus will be open to incoming freshmen in the spring. On the Scotch Plains Campus, freshmen will be able to enroll in courses in every area.

with the exception of the Health fields, in which only three programs will be open for enrollment: dental assisting, medical assisting, and practical nursing.

Union County College offers programs leading to an Associate degree in 40 areas including liberal arts, business, engineering, business, engineering and health technologies, the sciences, criminal justice and human ser-VICES.

Kurisko explained that people who start college during the second academic semester begin at that time for varied reasons. Some are high school graduates who have delayed college entrance, or may be part-time students who have decided to matriculate, she said.

"We also see many adults who are seeking new careers—or career changes enrolling at this time, as well as veterans who have recently left military service," Kurisko said.

High school juniors and seniors are also eligible to enroll at Union County College if they have the approval of their high school principal or guidance counselor, Kurisko said. Credits earned by high school students at Union County College may be applied toward an associate degree program at the College or they may be transferred to another college or university.

Additional information about the offerings at the College or application procedures for the spring semester, which will begin in January, may be obtained by calling the Admissions Hot Line, 272-8580 or 272-8581.
