

Lowell is labelled as 'Poet of Significance'

By ROSEF SIMON
 SPRINGFIELD—Following are the reviews of the recently published book for reading at the Springfield Public Library.

POET OF SIGNIFICANCE
 "Robert Lowell," by Ian Hamilton

Robert Lowell IV is considered the major American poet of the mid-1900s. He was the first son (b.1917) of the union between two celebrated Boston names—the Winslows and the Lowells. As a youngster he was pugnacious, rebellious, unpopular, and until the 1930s, a below average student. Then, his bent for writing (essentially verse) began to emerge, his first poem being published in 1935.

The author interviewed Lowell's friends and acquaintances, had access to letters, notes, and an outline of a biography. He reports on his parents (a domineering mother, a submissive father), his educational background (Harvard, Kenyon), his friends (Blair Clark, Randall Javorek, Merrill Moore, Allen Tate), his marriages (Jean Stafford, Elizabeth Hardwick, Lady Caroline Blackwood), and his literary career.

Through most of his life, Lowell was mentally unstable, resorting to drink, and requiring hospitalization (drug therapy was required). Somehow, he was able to teach, lecture, travel, and write copiously (most of his poetry was autobiographical). His work was widely acclaimed, recognition having been given by the granting of fellowships, the National Book Award, the Academy of Arts and Sciences and a Pulitzer Prize.

LITERARY MEDITATIONS
 "Moving Target," by William Golding.

Here William Golding, author of the noteworthy "Lord of the Flies" and "Rites of Passage," brings us a collection of 16 nonfiction pieces (lectures, book reviews, and travel articles). These are divided into two sections: places and ideas.

In the first of these—Wiltshire—he extols the charms of his favorite county in England (pre-historic Stonehenge, Roman relics are to be found); where he has lived for 50 years. A 1965 Holiday Magazine article, "An Affection For Cathedrals," reveals the English (and American) reverence for the antique, sometimes unworthy, but nevertheless, real.

His examples, Golding recalls two English cathedrals, with which he is most familiar—Winchester and Salisbury—both of which he compares. Other travel articles are: "through the Dutch Waterways," "Delphi," and two essays on Egypt.

In ideas, one of the essays named "Intimate Relations," Golding probes the reasons people have for the practice of keeping a diary or journal. He says, "in diaries people paint a careful, judicious and often unconscious por-

'Plunge for Funds' slated

SPRINGFIELD—The bi-annual "Plunge for Funds" will be held at the Summit YWCA's pool, Friday, April 29 from 6-11 p.m. and Saturday, April 30, 6 a.m.-4 p.m. Interested swimmers will pledge money for each lap the participant swims or will pledge a flat amount. All funds go to the YWCA's scholarship programs and equipment for swimming, dancing and gymnastics programs.

The YWCA encourages local companies to sponsor teams. "Plunge for Funds" becomes a real office challenge," says Ed Rochat, vice president of the Mahan Agency of Summit. Rochat and five of his co-workers swam for almost two hours during the last Plunge for Funds. The Mahan Agency donated money based on the laps its employees completed. "It was informal and fun," says Rochat, the Agency's top swimmer.

This year, four different prize packages are offered to the three adults and three youths under 18 years of age who raise the most money—yearly plunge tickets to swim at the YWCA, worth $80 each, or two YWCA classes of the winner's choice. Other top swimmers are offered a free hamburger and soda from McDonald's.

Swimmers may sign up for scheduled swimming hours by calling Pat Cronin at the Summit YWCA, 273-4242.

Candidates of CARE stress unity in town

"Last year this town was torn apart by a bitter board of education campaign that set neighbor against neighbor and disrupted friendships. My fellow C.A.R.E. candidates and I seek to heal the wounds and reunite the town in a campaign for quality education."

"C.A.R.E. is seeking to recreate the climate of hate and divisiveness with its flyer of lies about us. The day after our flyer claiming we would close that school."

Falgenbaum asks, "Why have they started these dirty tricks again? Are they only concerned with winning and don't care about the people in town? Does C.A.U.S.E. have such little respect for Springfield residents that they will try to drag us into the mire again?"

Enough is enough! If C.A.U.S.E. can't concern itself with the issues of education, they obviously don't belong on the board of education," the C.A.R.E. candidates said.

Dolores Johnson said, "We are running a campaign that addresses the specific issues of quality education. We do not try to deceive the public by masking a lack of knowledge of the issues with dirty tricks. The business of the board of education is education. The board must turn aside the sectional interests that this year made it an ineffective body."

"By implementing planning techniques," she continued, "we can properly direct resources to achieve the goals that have eluded the current board. For years, Springfield used the IPI math program when all other New Jersey towns had abandoned it. Barbara Brande of Cranford said they will try to drag us into the mire again?"

"Enough is enough! If C.A.U.S.E. can't concern itself with the issues of education, they obviously don't belong

Russo dinner being planned as fund-raiser

The Russo for Senate Committee has announced plans for a dinner-dance on April 22 to help finance the New Jersey State Senate campaign of Union Township Mayor Anthony E. Russo, who is seeking to return to the body in which he served from 1978 until 1981.

Russo was chosen March 19 as the 1st District State Senate candidate by a Democratic screening committee which also selected former Mayor Eugene Carmody of Roselle Park and Barbara Brande of Cranford as his running mates for the Assembly.

Joseph W. Stritt of Union, chairman of the fund-raiser, said plans call for a cocktail hour to be followed by a dinner and dancing. The affair will be held at the Town and Campus, Morris Avenue, Union.

Stritt said the Russo for Senate Committee hoped to raise enough money to enable the Union Township mayor to conduct an "aggressive" election effort. "Two years ago, Anthony Russo was the target of a high priced campaign financed by out-of-state interests," he said. "We need to raise as much money as possible to offset that effort."

The survey listed a wide variety of activities ranging from very physical activities such as gymnastics, tennis, and kayaking to quieter pursuits like chess, oil painting, and knitting.

"Students ranked their favorites and we've already had some concrete results," stated Y Director Bill Scallani. "We are now registering for a whole set of new programs especially designed to give the junior high schoolers what they told us they wanted."

YMCA schedules spring events

SPRINGFIELD—How many times have you heard youngsters say, "I'm bored, there is nothing fun to do around here?" The Springfield YMCA heard it often and decided to do something about it.

Several months ago the Y, which is located at South Springfield Avenue and the Slumplek directly across the street from the Gaudinier School, approached the school administration for an effort to develop programs for students that would better meet their needs and interests. In cooperation with the school, a student poll was conducted.

The survey listed a wide variety of activities ranging from very physical activities such as gymnastics, tennis, and kayaking to quieter pursuits like chess, oil painting, and knitting.

"Students ranked their favorites and we've already had some concrete results," stated Y Director Bill Scallani. "We are now registering for a whole set of new programs especially designed to give the junior high schoolers what they told us they wanted."

CAUSE candidates tackle school issues

Pietro M. Pelino, Joe Pepe, Peter DeTone and Elaine Auer, C.A.U.S.E. candidates for the Springfield Board of Education, presented their views at the League of Women Voters Candidates night Thursday at Gaudinier School.

According to the C.A.U.S.E. candidates, "We all believe in an outstanding educational system for all the children of Springfield."

C.A.U.S.E. says its commitment includes the support of the following: a sophisticated computer education program; relocation of the media center to Gaudinier School thus increasing its availability to more students; the innovative-textbook approach math program which will replace the I.P.I. program; and constant review and update of existing programs including the purchase of textbooks and other necessary equipment.

The C.A.U.S.E. candidates say they will work for the continued growth and development of the educational system.

Schell's book in discussion

SPRINGFIELD—"The Fate of the Earth" by Jonathan Schell will be featured at the next book discussion at the Springfield Public Library, Tuesday, 9 p.m., in the meeting room.

Schell's work, published in 1982, describes the horror of a full-scale nuclear holocaust and the emptiness of a world devoid of human beings, and it urges action to bring about a more rational world order. The book was called "a work of enormous force" by the New York Times and was a best seller for 16 weeks.

Schell, born in 1943, is a staff member of The New Yorker and the author of several previous books on public affairs and the military.

The next book to be discussed will be Diane Johnson's "The Shadow Knows" on May 3.

Yonkers contractor wins bid for Rt. 78

SPRINGFIELD—The Department of Transportation has announced that Yonkers Contracting Company Inc., of Yonkers, N.Y., is the apparent low bidder on a construction project at the Interstate Route 78 underpass at Baltusrol Road.

The bid was for $1,646,571.50. The work includes grading, paving and structural bridge lifts.

According to the C.A.U.S.E. candidates, "We represent the best alternative because they care about all the children, the neighborhood school concept, excellence in educational programming, and a unified Springfield."

A new season

A week ago, we were huddled in our heaviest coats, grumbling that winter had returned.

But it really wasn't so. The crocuses bravely blooming in otherwise bare lawns told us that. So did the calendar, which last week marked the official start of spring.

Any doubts left after that should be erased this week. Passover, the festival that marks the deliverance of the Jewish people from bondage in Egypt, is under way. Easter, with its solemn reminder of resurrection, is almost upon us.

Nature may still have a few cold days stored up to fling at us in April. Nevertheless, spring — the season of hope — has arrived.

Let's try again

There may still be some ancient left among us who remember those far-off days when the need for automobile insurance reform was not yet apparent in New Jersey. But for most of us, it has been a fact of life for all our adult lives.

The New Jersey Legislature did act, once. That was back in 1973, when it adopted what optimists referred to as a "reform" measure — no fault insurance, with a $200 threshold for law suits. Under the no fault provision, a person's own insurance company pays medical costs for injuries suffered in an accident, no matter who was at fault. Under the $200 threshold provision, if the injured person's medical costs are more than $200, he or she can sue.

The theory was that this would eliminate costly law suits and so keep insurance costs and premiums down.

How well it has worked is attested to by the fact that today, 10 years after no fault was established, automobile insurance costs in New Jersey are the highest in the nation.

The lack of backbone in New Jersey's no fault law was, of course, apparent long ago. Certainly it was apparent to the trial lawyers who fought its enactment then and are now fighting proposals for any significant increase in the threshold. We recall the comments of one attorney back in 1973 as he discussed what he would do if a client came to him with auto accident injuries and medical bills of less than $200. "I'd just keep sending him back to the doctor till the bill came to $200," the lawyer said.

Now the Legislature is once again getting ready to wrestle with the problem. But inching up the threshold to a few hundred dollars more — $500 has been suggested — won't help. What the beleaguered New Jersey motorist needs is genuine insurance reform.

One way to achieve this would be with a bill sponsored by Assemblyman Dean Gallo and supported by the Kean administration. This measure would raise the threshold to a realistic $1,500 and require it to be adjusted annually to stay in line with inflationary increases in medical costs.

Certainly, some change in the present system must be made, and quickly, if most of us are not to be faced with the unpleasant alternatives of driving without insurance or, in this state with so little public transportation, staying home permanently.

Scene around the towns

"Let's have another easy one." That was the reaction of Harvey Pfifer of Irvington when he spotted last week's scene photo, above, taken in his home town. The monument at Campdown Common, between Nye Avenue and Springfield Avenue, carries a veterans' plaque, he pointed out. "In the background is Schraft Drug Store, Coleman's Tuxedo..." he added.

A lot of people agreed that it was easy. Peter Lord of Irvington was one of them. "The picture... shows a portion of the Navy monument in the Campdown Common, Nye and Springfield Avenues," he wrote. "There are two dedication plaques beside it. The one on the north side, dated April 7, 1981, honors all officers and enlisted men who have served their country since the beginning of the service," he said. He added:

"The second, on the west side, dated October 13, 1981, honors Fireman 1st Class Robert Weychoff and all Navy and Marine personnel who fought and died at Pearl Harbor, December 7, 1941. 'I am, perhaps, more aware of the monument than others, because my son Steven finished a four-year enlistment aboard the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Coral Sea just last August.'"

Irvington is not one of the towns he knows best, David Allison of Linden wrote, "but this anchor is located in the middle of town near the business center," in "a triangular-shaped park known as Campdown Common... at Springfield Avenue and Nye Street. The other anchors... and chains... were dedicated to all the men who served in the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps, and...

The State We're In

Water purifying gadgets pay off

By DAVID F. MOORE
There's been good news coming out of Trenton about holding new programs by the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) to move into high gear in its efforts to clean up hazardous waste dump sites throughout this state we're in.

Therefore, I'm hoping nobody will take me for a spillover if I address these words to the concept of installing one's own water purifying gadget. It's especially a prop for those with private wells.

Despite the mammoth job being planned by DEP, I doubt if anyone at that agency will dispute me when I warn that merely cleaning up drums at a dump site will not necessarily do the job. It's essential that such cleanups occur, but in a frightening number of cases, I suspect it will be too late to avert pollution of underground water-bearing formations, or aquifers.

Money Management

Some costs are deductible for handicapped

If you are handicapped, or you have a handicapped dependent, you may have more special medical expenses than most people. Although medical expenses are deductible on your federal income tax return, the IRS tax code does not define "handicapped," says the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants, which means confusion and possibly lost benefits to the handicapped.

The only tax break specifically designated for the handicapped is a $1,000 exemption for blindness. In 1980, more than 185,000 taxpayers claimed that exemption. Because this exemption reflects only one segment of the total handicapped population — which may be as high as 36 million — it is important to be aware of all potential tax savings.

Some costs are deductible for handicapped

Most of us cannot deduct health club fees and expenses, but a handicapped person can if the doctor prescribed the activity, such as special exercise or massage for a particular handicap. There are many more deductible expenses connected with helping the handicapped maintain a stable life-style, so check with your tax advisor. You owe it to yourself to save all you can.

Special education expenses for handicapped people may also be deductible as medical expenses, the cost of a guide dog is deductible, and so is the salary of a person you engage as a guide if this is necessary for a handicapped person to get to work or school.

Special foods or beverages ordered by a doctor may also be deductible if taken only as part of the treatment. This is not a valid deduction if the food is part of your general nutritional needs. A doctor's statement is necessary to back this up, but don't hesitate to claim any deduction for which you are qualified.

Irvington residents who lost their lives while fighting for their country. Robert Kornfeld of Springfield; Edna G. Burton of Irvington; Theresa Baron of Irvington, who pointed out that this is the second Irvington scene which she has identified correctly; Grace Zwald of Irvington; William H. Hermes of Union, who reported that he is 88 years old, and Nancy DeVillo of Union.

Our Easter Scene is in Kenilworth. Those who recognize it should let us know by 9 a.m. Monday by writing to: Editor, Springfield Leader, 1291 Shuyvesant Ave., P.O. Box 3109, Union, N.J. 07083.

When a drum of toxic chemical rusts through and the contents ooze down, the poison is on its way unless a cleanup crew can scoop up the contaminated soil and send it to a hazardous waste disposal site.

Once an aquifer becomes tainted, there's very little that can be done to purify it. About the only technique available is to pump out the water, push it through carbon filters and let the water return to the environment. Such "flushing" treatment can be effective, but it's very costly and may have to go on for years or even decades, with no guarantee of final success.

That's why we are going to be hearing more and more about personal water purification technology. I'm indebted to the publication Hazardous Waste News for the following information. If you like to know more, write to its publisher, the Environmental Research Foundation, Box 648, Lawrenceville 06848.

The recent announcement that New Jersey leads the country with 65 sites eligible for Superfund federal cleanup monies strengthened the idea of home water purifiers. I've been getting a lot of questions about them.

As yet there's no law requiring water companies to test their product for many of the various kinds of toxic wastes which are finding their way into the water supply. The New Jersey environment, Assemblyman Raymond Lesnik of Union's years would require this as a safeguard, but as of this writing it has not won passage in the Senate. That's why home purifiers might interest everyone, not just the owner of a well.

Think and vote

In response to last week's article from CARE, I would really like to know why the "CARE" candidates care about? Two of the candidates are newcomers who have rarely been seen before this year.

The other two are committed to the closing of James Caldwell School. CAUSE spent a year campaigning to save our schools while Mrs. Zamarrá and Mrs. Johnson spent this time trying to close down the only school on the north side of town, James Caldwell School. They and their associates thought that it was fine to bus 200 young children across town in spite of the existence of their neighborhood school well within walking distance.

"Why would 'CARE' choose these candidates? They are not the 'middle of the road'! They are only committed to Sandmeier and Walton Schools. Last year, the voters, representing a cross section of the town, chose candidates who were committed to keeping all the schools open for the benefit of all the children.

I hope the voters will wisely choose CAUSE candidates: Mrs. Auer, Mr. DeTone, Mr. Pepe, Mr. Pelluso. These candidates will not only maintain the neighborhood schools, but will work to make the Springfield public schools the best in New Jersey.

Battle of flyers

The more things change, the more they remain the same. The old adage is true and the campaign for the Board of Education election is another example to prove it.

CAUSE and COSTS waged the battle of the Blue Flyer vs. the Green Flyer last year. The Blue Flyers have appeared on our doorsteps again. CAUSE claims to be "outraged by the fiscal irresponsibility of the Board of Education."

Myrna Wasserman was asked to explain the rationale behind the sale of the Chisholm building to the highest bidder instead of to the township. "It is my understanding that the senior citizens do not want the building. The township doesn't know what to do with it. The township approached the senior citizens to ask about the building. As of yet, there has been no formal offer by the township on the table. I would like to hear what the township has to offer," Wasserman said.

Joseph Pepe said: "The Chisholm building and property are nothing new to the board of education. There was a letter received by the township to the board members, but was never shown to the members. The property is to be used for recreation by the senior citizens or any other town function. If sold to the Greek Orthodox church, they pay no taxes. It should go the town for a minimal fee and remain under ownership of the board of education."

A question for Ken Falgenbaum involved the decrease in student enrollment. "The board of education might be in a position in the future with an increase in student population.

Plans for Chisholm

I attended Candidates Night sponsored by the League of Women Voters and held in the Gaudinier School on Thursday evening, March 24. Certain representations were made to the audience by candidates for the school board. Some of those representations were accurate, others were inaccurate, and I take this opportunity to correct, for the record, the position of the sub-committee representing the Township of Springfield in its negotiations with the school board.

I remind the readers of this letter that Mayne Ruocco and I consulted that sub-committee. We represented to the school board, that is the committee representing the school board, that it was the intention of the Township Committee to maintain the Chisholm School for the following purposes:

1) A recreational center for the township at large with specific emphasis on youth.

2) A home for those agencies and activities that presently use the Sarah Bailey Civic Center. This will free the Sarah Bailey Civic Center to be used solely as a Senior Citizen facility.

3) The continued use of the area surrounding the building for outdoor recreational facilities.

4) Possible use of a portion of the building for offices which presently are operating at Town Hall in facilities that are far from efficient.

At no time was it represented to the school board or its committee that the Township Committee sought to use the Chisholm School for offices alone. We stated it then and we restate it now, that the prime concern of the Township Committee was the expansion of the recreational program and to give the town's youth a place that they can call their own.

Township Committee Member
PHILIP FEINTUCH
Local 76 funds the proposed sale of the Chisholm School by the Springfield Board of Education to be in extremely poor judgment and in clear violation of the public trust given to the board by the people of Springfield. We cannot understand how the board can believe that it has the moral right to sell a building paid for long ago by the taxpayers of Springfield to anyone other than those same taxpayers.

Clearly, the building could be put to various uses by the township, which might include turning it into a new enforcement building housing the police department and municipal court. For some years the PBA and the chief of police have complained that their headquarters in that area is the municipal building is too small for our needs. This has caused severe space limitations for such things as prisoner search, interrogation and confinement as well as record maintenance and office space for expanding special services. Currently, the detective bureau is confined to space that is woefully inadequate for the proper function of that essential part of the department. If the township was able to convert the Chisholm School to such a law enforcement building, it would not only insure a better operating police department, but it would leave additional space in the current municipal building for other agencies.

While certainly this remains as only one suggestion for township usage of the Chisholm School, the membership of PBA 76 believes that whatever the Township Committee chose to do with the building it would be better than selling it to the Board of Education for use as an office or church, which the township currently has more than its share of, and we therefore call upon the board to give title to the building to the people of Springfield.

Vice President, PBA Local 76

Want 'sensible' board

I received a flyer last weekend that told me CAUSE is "outraged by the fiscal irresponsibility of the Board of Education." Oh, really? In last year's election, CAUSE candidates won two seats on the board. That gave them three seats. The record shows that they vote as a bloc... The other six members are of such divergent opinions that they seldom, if ever, agree with each other, let alone anyone else, on anything.

So CAUSE, if you're outraged, welcome to the club. However, you're as much to blame as anyone else.

Thank for help
I would like to thank the Police Department and the First Aid Squad on their prompt and efficient response to a recent illness of my husband.

We all should be thankful we live in a town where competent emergency service is just a phone call away from Smithfield Drive.

MILDRED DIAMOND

For CAUSE
Johnson's Zamarrá? Are they wolves in sheep's clothing? It is my recollection that Mrs. Zamarrá fought vehemently last year to close the Caldwell School; now that she is running for the Board of Education this year, she wants all schools open?

Mrs. Johnson, I recall, was treasurer for COSTS, now she is saying she's a member of a broader-based group. It all looks to me like the same people with the same views who don't give the residents of Springfield credit for any intelligence.

The same people under a different name can only be trying to pull the wool over everyone's eyes. Wake up Springfield! A CAUSE last year is still a CAUSE this year with nothing to be gained. We must continue to elect our name. Vote for CAUSE on election day! Vote for Pietro Pepe, Joe Pepe, Peter DeTone and Elaine Auer. And don't be duped by people who don't CARE.

Freedom of speech
Springfield, New Jersey, has not seceded from the Union; therefore, the laws of this community are still applicable. The Constitution contained in the U.S. Constitution, including Freedom of Speech. We are able to openly condemn the actions of a corrupt government, we criticize government we debate, abortion, civil rights and gun control. It has, however, become apparent that we do not question the motives or criticize the behavior of the candidates for the Board of Education who are endorsed by CAUSE for fear of reprisal... This is outrageous in a democracy.

No one in this country should be afraid to campaign for the candidates of his choice, whether by telephone, word of mouth, distributing written material or walking door-to-door. Fear of this nature should certainly not exist in the suburban community in which we are raising our children to be kind, loving, caring and concerned individuals.

The CARE pledge
We've heard their song before. CAUSE is trying to rekindle the fires that burned Springfield in last year's Board of Education election by dividing our town and pitting neighbor against neighbor. Their campaign is still based

Easter Message

By REV. GEORGE SCHLEIBINGER
Is there anything about life as certain as the reality of death? This biological fact is not as disturbing as the pitiful wail of a tormented soul "that if a man die shall he live again?"

Is life only a candle waiting to be blown out? Is there a possibility—a certainty, that there is an eternity in which life will not simply go out, but where I am expected? As a Christian pastor, I want to joyfully declare that there is Someone who beckons from eternity. Someone who placed His hand upon us and will not leave us to the abyss and darkness of death. Could this be the author of the Chorale from the St. Matthew Passion hopefully records these words: "When I—one day depart, depart thou not from me."

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Callahan; a sister, Mrs. Eleanor Weisgraber; a brother, Frank; five grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

George LaTorre, 88

KENILWORTH—A Mass for George LaTorre, 88, of Kenilworth, was offered Tuesday in St. Theresa's Church, Kenilworth, following the funeral from the Kenilworth Funeral Home, Kenilworth. Mr. LaTorre died Friday in the Whitehouse Nursing Home, Orange.

Born in Italy, Mr. LaTorre lived in Newark before moving to Kenilworth four years ago. He owned a tailor shop in Newark for 25 years before retiring in 1956.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Elvira Kowalczyk; 11 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Children and Youth' programs scheduled by Legion Auxilliary

Jeanne M. Fugee, president of the Union County Organization American Legion Auxiliary, has announced that the month of April has been selected by the National and State American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary in recognition of "Children and Youth."

Mrs. Fugee has reported that "many girls and boys throughout Union County are supporting education and scholarship programs, National and State American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary programs for 'Gift of Life,' 'Toys For Tots,' 'Key's Syndrome' and 'Special Olympics for Special Children.'"

Preparations are now underway for organizing activities implementing the first American Legion/American Legion Auxiliary-operated Infant Hearing Assessment program. She announced that volunteers from the legion and auxiliary will be trained in the operation of test equipment in the program for screening and detection of hearing impairment in new borns.

Mrs. Fugee also reported that the Union County Organization American Legion Auxiliary has made arrangements for a puppet show for the children in Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainide, April 18. The Legion and American

A TOOTHY LESSON - Caldwell School students Anthony Cohen (left) and Ricky Lissy are taught proper dental care by Dr. Irwin Hammer, DDS, during Children's Dental Health Month. Hammer discussed the restoration of teeth and allowed children hands-on experience filling cavities in models using regular dental instruments. The students learned the names and functions of the teeth and the facial bones as they handled life-size replicas. Dr. Lee Kasperov, orthodontist, helped the children create impressions of their own index fingers to show how the procedure is performed in the mouth. (Photo by Don Rust)

Lori Kadish is an intern

Springfield resident Lori Kadish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kadish of Berkeley Road, has been named an intern with the Planned Parenthood Association in Atlanta, Ga., according to Georgia Gov. Joe Frank Harris. Miss Kadish, 21, is a psychology major at Emory University. The Governor's Intern Program provides the opportunity for outstanding college students to learn about state government by working in an executive agency for one academic term.

Date planned by Miss Kozub

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kozub of Springfield have announced the engagement of their daughter, Linda, to Nicholas Joseph Lucanegro, son of Mrs. Lillian Lucanegro of Iselin, and the late Mr. Nicholas Lucanegro. The announcement was made today.

The bride-elect, who was graduated from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, attended the American Academy of Dramatic Arts and Union College, Cranford. She is employed by Keyes, Martin & Co.

Her fiancé, who was graduated from the John F. Kennedy High School, Edison, attended Middlesex County College. He is employed by Middlesex County.

An October wedding is planned in St. James Roman Catholic Church, Springfield.

It's only Easter, but Santa's here

By PETER M. GAVIGAN
There are only 269 shopping days until Christmas. To be sure, Easter is a mere 72 hours away and those who like to celebrate holidays one at a time may not start thinking about Santa and Co. until sometime in mid-December. But one group of elves has already started its Christmas campaign; its goal: to raise more than 100,000 toys for needy boys and girls.

The Ayuda Toy Drive is run by volunteer inmates and correction officers at Rahway State Prison. Since 1979, the group has distributed more than 162,000 gift-wrapped toys to needy, handicapped and crippled children in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania. But the continuation of this effort hinges on the support and assistance of groups like the Elks, the Lions, the Masons, the Knights of Columbus and, most important, generosity of individuals.

"Again, we are asking for donations of slightly-used or new toys," said Rick J. Rowe, program director — "a toy that you would want your own child to play with."
That dusty doll, which has not been cuddled in years and sits beside the silent set of trains, collecting dust in the attic, could, once again, brighten the face of a young child.

Rowe explained that the toy drive program takes its name from the Spanish word, "ayuda," which means "help." He said he began the drive after his youngest daughter visited him at prison at Christmas time and, in her innocence, expected him to have a present for her.

A Woodbridge native, Rowe is serving a life sentence on several felony convictions. He also is founder of the Lifers Group Juvenile Awareness Program in which long-time inmates attempt to teach young offenders the realities of life behind prison walls.

He said that he and others at the prison realized that, while they could not celebrate the holidays with their own children, their efforts in the toy drive could help make Christmas a little happier for someone else's child.

Last year, the group collected some 50,000 new toys, donated by manufacturers, while residents contributed another 50,000 used toys. However, the director noted, many of the used toys were broken or unusable and had to be discarded.

Rowe noted that the entire drive — collection, inspection, wrapping and distribution — takes up the better part of a year, with some 25 inmates volunteering their free time to sort, clean, repair and gift-wrap the toys.

"We also have 35 volunteer correction officers who use their free time to pick up these donated toys from Santa at our many drop off sites at more than 130 police and fire departments throughout the state," Rowe said.

"We have already started this

New directors named

Newly appointed directors of pathology and radiology have assumed positions at Alexian Brothers Hospital, Elizabeth, it was announced by J. Peter Certo, president.

The new appointees are Jerome A. Molitor, M.D., radiology, and Kurt E. Gerstmann, M.D., pathology.

Dr. Molitor, who was director of the Department of Radiology, St. Louis City Hospital, until being named to his new post, is board certified by the American College of Radiology in diagnostic radiology, therapeutic radiology and nuclear medicine. A graduate of the St. Louis University School of Medicine in 1968, Dr. Molitor has also served as the director at Matoon Memorial Hospital, Matoon, Ill.

A medical educator, Dr. Molitor also served as assistant professor in diagnostic radiology at the St. Louis University School of Medicine.

Dr. Gerstmann comes to Alexian Brothers Hospital from a position as chief of pathology and laboratory services, New York Infirmary Beekman Downtown Hospital, New York City.

Born in Germany and raised in Israel, Dr. Gerstmann received his medical degree from the University of Geneva Medical School, Switzerland, in 1967. A fellow of the American College of Pathologists, he serves that organization as an inspector for laboratory accreditations.

Dr. Gerstmann is an adjunct professor of life sciences at the Center for

County map is issued

A 1983 Union County map is now available by mail or at central pick up sites in the county.

The 30-by-40-inch color map is the most up-to-date one available of the Union County area, according to Arthur J. Grisi, county manager.

The map includes streets, highway and railroad changes and many other alternatives. We also had the cartographers include the newly marked county road system — identified by blue and yellow pentagonal signs,"

Grisi said. In addition, the back of the map has been redesigned to allow easy contact and access to county facilities and services.

Maps may be purchased from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday to Friday at the Administration Building, Elizabeth, or at other alternatives. We also had the cartographers include the newly marked county road system — identified by blue and yellow pentagonal signs,"

Consumers' corner Every minute counts

Union County has four poison control centers, according to Ellen Bloom, director of the Union County Division of Consumer Affairs. They are at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Elizabeth, 527-5859;

Santa's here

year's drive," he continued, "by mailing 1,000 letters to toy manufacturers and companies throughout the country, seeking a small gift of joy for our less fortunate."

He admits that this year's goal of 100,000 toys will not be an easy one to reach.

"This is a very large undertaking," he said, "and all help, no matter how slight, is very much needed."

"This year, permission has been given by the prison administration for those civilians who wish to volunteer their time to work on the toy drive by sorting and wrapping to do so," he continued.

"Also, the toy holding area has been moved outside the prison walls, but it is still located on prison grounds," Rowe added. "Four 40-foot containers have been donated by one of our sponsors, the Sea Land Services. These containers have been put together into one unit to form a storage and working area. Another one of our sponsors, Budget Rent-A-Truck, has loaned us several of their trucks to be used to pick up toys from our drop off sites. Our only cost is for the gas used for this purpose."

"Let us all hope that together this year we will be able to help Santa's helpers," he concluded.

Overlook Hospital, Summit, 522-2232; Memorial General Hospital, Union, 687-1900, and Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, 668-2000.

"Make sure the appropriate phone number is taped onto your phone or on the wall next to your phone. Minutes may mean the difference between life and death in cases of accidental poisoning. Call now and check which is the right number for you," Bloom said.

"Most household poisonings can be avoided," Bloom said, "if adults take proper precautions with hazardous products. Do you? If you're not sure, the United States Consumer Product Safety Commission has a few suggestions to help." She said that these are:

- No matter how attractive a hazardous product may be, children usually can't be poisoned by something they can't get their hands on. Therefore, one key to poison prevention in the home is keeping all medicines and other hazardous products locked up when not in use.
- Don't depend on close supervision. It's impossible to watch a child every minute and children can move very quickly.
- Always read the warning labels on hazardous products. These labels will tell you the seriousness of the danger and list all hazardous ingredients. If your child is accidentally poisoned, the first thing a doctor needs to know is the identity of the poison. The label will also tell you what immediate first aid you can give.
- Keep all hazardous products in their original containers. Never store them in cups, soda bottles, or other containers that do not contain food or drink.
- Avoid taking medicines in a child's presence. Children imitate adults, particularly their parents.
- When giving medicines to children, give them only the proper dosage. Don't think that because a little medicine gives relief, more would do an even better job.
- Promptly dispose of prescription drugs by flushing them down the toilet once the illness for which they were prescribed is over.
- Do not store any other hazardous products with medicines that are to be taken internally. There are many look-alike containers on the market. You or your child could make a tragic mistake.
- Be careful when using a hazardous product. Always keep it out of children's reach. If you are interrupted while using the product, take it with you.

Colman show will open at Tomasulo Gallery

Photographer/artist James Alan Colman will exhibit a selection of his photographs at Union County College's Tomasulo Art Gallery on the Cranford campus starting Friday, April 8.

The Colman show, the sixth art show of the current college year, will open with a reception at 8 p.m.

Born in Newark, Colman is a graduate of Rider College and Rutgers University. He also attended Princeton University and received a master of fine arts degree in photography and art criticism in 1982 from Rutgers.

Much of Colman's camera art has been shown in New Jersey museums and art galleries. The Bergen-

Community Museum, North Bergen, the Eye for Art Gallery, Princeton, and the New Jersey State Museum, Trenton, have all presented one-man Colman exhibits.

In group photography shows, Colman has been invited to display his works at the Iowa International Invitational Photography Exhibit in Grinnell, Iowa; the Catskill Center for Photography in Woodstock, N.Y.; the Neirug Gallery, N.Y., and the New Jersey State Council on the Arts Fellowship Show, N.J. State Museum, Trenton.

Currently, Colman is a teaching assistant in photography at Rutgers University, New Brunswick. He has had photographs published in the New York Sunday Times, Transaction Society Magazine, Camera 35, U.S. Camera Annual, New Jersey Monthly magazine and other publications in the photography field. In addition, he has received a New Jersey State Council on the Arts grant and also the New Jersey State Council on the Arts Fellowship Award in 1977-78.

The April 8 reception is free and open to the public. The Tomasulo Gallery is located in the MacKay Library on the college's Cranford campus, 1033 Springfield Ave., across from Nomahegan Park. The Colman show will be on display Monday through Saturday, 1 to 4 p.m., and Monday through Thursday, 6 to 9 p.m., from April 8 through April 29.

Registration to be held for classes

The Acting Studio in Cranford will hold registration for the spring term on Monday and Tuesday. Classes for adults and children will begin April 9 and run for 10 weeks, ending June 17.

The basic acting class, called "The Actor Prepares," teaches techniques for stage or TV. Other classes are "Character Acting," "Building a Scene" and "Scene Study." There is also a special class for "Television Acting Technique."

Other classes offered at the Acting Studio are "Speech and Diction," "Dance for the Theatre" and

"Improvisational Acting."

Musical classes include "Musical Performances," "Singing Techniques," "Voice and Performance" and "Sight Singing."

There are comparable classes for children aged 7 through 12. In "Children's Production Class," students put on a play, sometimes a musical, during the term. The last production class produced a musical version of "Story Theatre." Children's classes are held after school and Saturday.

David Christopher, who has been running the Acting Studio for six years, is the primary acting teacher. His classes are limited to eight students. Angela Intill is singing teacher. Her classes are private lessons, except for the combined "Voice and Performance" class, which she shares with Christopher.

Brochures and information about times and costs are available from Christopher at 276-0276.

Writers' contest set

The Kean College Alumni Association is sponsoring a writing contest on subjects of juvenile interest for Kean administrators, faculty, staff, alumni, students and members of the public.

Categories are: Best fiction, easy reading or picture book; best fiction, young adult; best non-fiction, including poetry, cookbooks, sports, or other subjects, and best illustrations.

Prizes in each of the four categories will be $50 for first place and $25 for second and third.

Briefly told

A FINANCIAL AID workshop, the third scheduled for this spring, will be presented by Union County College in the Union County Room of the MacKay Library on the Cranford campus from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

The workshop will offer assistance in filling out the 1983-84 financial aid form. Information also will be available on the types of funding available to college students.

Designed for high school seniors, students from other colleges and their parents, the workshop will be repeated May 5 and June 7.

Elizabethtown Gas Co. will be the speaker at the dinner meeting. Her topic will be "Secretaries on the Upgrade."

A chapter "Secretary of the Year" also will be named at the meeting.

THE 'ANNUAL HAPPENING '83' of the St. Elizabeth Hospital Foundation, snowed out by a February blizzard, has been rescheduled for April 9. It will be held from 7 p.m. to midnight in Roselle Catholic High School, Raritan Road, Roselle.

$250,000 for the $10.4 million hospital addition now under construction. Tickets for the "Happening," at $10 each, may be obtained by calling 527-5527 in the daytime or 289-0099 in the evenings.

OVERLOOK HOSPITAL in Summit will offer a new four-part basic cardiac-life support course next month. The classes, open to anyone 14 years of age and older, will be held from 7 to 10:30 p.m. April 12, 14, 19 and 21. Participants will learn one- and two-man cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), infant and child CPR and obstructed airway techniques for both adults and children.

There is a $25 fee for the course. Those who complete it will receive American Heart Association certification. Interested persons can call 522-2365 for further information.

'GETTING A JOB IN SALES' will be the topic of a workshop to be held by EVE (Education, Vocation, Employment) at Kean College in Union from 7 to 9 p.m. April 21. Registration should be completed by April 14. Salespeople from a variety of fields will discuss job opportunities.

Hydrant flushing set

For many, the first robin is a harbinger of spring, but for customers of the Elizabethtown Water Company, the coming of spring is announced by its annual hydrant flushing program. Each spring, Elizabethtown Water Company flushes its hydrants to make sure they are functioning and ready for service when needed.

As a hydrant is flushed, the water, which in most cases has not moved in 12 months, is rusty and discolored. When this passes through the hydrant and is replaced by clear water, the force of the new water rushing through the pipes loosens small particles of rust and sedimentation.

For a period of eight to 10 hours, the water coming from the taps in nearby houses may be discolored, Elizabethtown officials said.

But aesthetically pleasing, they added. Users can overcome this problem by placing a filled bottle in the refrigerator. As the sediment sinks to the bottom, the water regains its aesthetic quality. All flushing is done between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. The flushing program, which starts on Monday, from Abraham Clark High School in Roselle have scheduled reunions. The Class of 1933 will hold its 50-year reunion on Sunday, June 5, at 2 p.m. at the Galloping Hill Inn, Union. Alumni are being asked to get in touch with the committee chairman, Wendell Compton, 38 Brant Ave., Clark, 388-0433.

The Class of 1973 has started planning its 10-year reunion. Graduates can contact Bob Green, class president, 1014 Drake Ave., Roselle 07203, telephone 245-7136.

January and June 1983 graduates of South Side High School, Newark, are completing plans for their 45th reunion on May 15 at the Maplewood Country Club.

Those interested in attending can call Ruth Schwartzbach Chalet at 379-9029, Dorothea Drizin Klein at 752-1456 or Gert Klubrick Kirsh at 686-0539.

The Newark Academy Alumni Association will hold its annual reunion dinner at 6:30 p.m. April 16 at the school, 91 S. Orange Ave., Livingston. Special recognition will be given to the Classes of 1933, 1938 and 1973. Other classes celebrating reunions are 1913, 1918, 1923, 1928, 1938, 1943, 1948, 1953, 1963, 1968 and 1978.

Committee members include Debbie Moorehead of Union and Michael Melneck of Linden.

will be completed by June 5. The company will place advertisements in local newspapers indicating the dates when flushing is scheduled for specific areas.

Those interested in attending can call Ruth Schwartzbach Chalet at 379-9029, Dorothea Drizin Klein at 752-1456 or Gert Klubrick Kirsh at 686-0539.

The Newark Academy Alumni Association will hold its annual reunion dinner at 6:30 p.m. April 16 at the school, 91 S. Orange Ave., Livingston. Special recognition will be given to the Classes of 1933, 1938 and 1973. Other classes celebrating reunions are 1913, 1918, 1923, 1928, 1938, 1943, 1948, 1953, 1963, 1968 and 1978.

Committee members include Debbie Moorehead of Union and Michael Melneck of Linden.

will be completed by June 5. The company will place advertisements in local newspapers indicating the dates when flushing is scheduled for specific areas.

For a period of eight to 10 hours, the water coming from the taps in nearby houses may be discolored, Elizabethtown officials said.

But aesthetically pleasing, they added. Users can overcome this problem by placing a filled bottle in the refrigerator. As the sediment sinks to the bottom, the water regains its aesthetic quality. All flushing is done between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. The flushing program, which starts on Monday, from Abraham Clark High School in Roselle have scheduled reunions. The Class of 1933 will hold its 50-year reunion on Sunday, June 5, at 2 p.m. at the Galloping Hill Inn, Union. Alumni are being asked to get in touch with the committee chairman, Wendell Compton, 38 Brant Ave., Clark, 388-0433.

Spanish theater to offer Mexican farce in Union

The Spanish Repertory Theater Co., New York City, will present "Te Juro Juana Que Tengo Ganas" ("I Swear, Joan, I Want You..."), a Mexican comedy of errors, April 27 at 8:15 p.m. in the Little Theater at Kean College of New Jersey, Union. It will be presented as part of the college's Hispanic Festival. The farce was written by Mexican playwright Emilio Carballido.

Rene Buch will serve as director, and Robert Weber Federico designed the sets. It was announced that tickets are free of charge, but should be obtained in advance at the box office. Additional information can be obtained by calling 527-2337. Dr. Mary F. Lewis, English professor at Kean College, will discuss "Lysistrata" in Downs Hall Room A April 26 at 1:40 p.m., and in Room W-200 at 7:40 p.m. as part of the Kean College Theater series. The series will conclude with the presentation of "Asistophanes" "Lysistrata." The talk is one in a series of programs conducted during the spring semester by the English Club, and is free of charge. Dr. John Bauer, club advisor, may be contacted for additional information by calling him at 527-2269.

DINING COMFORT — A relaxed atmosphere and fine cuisine highlight the popularity of the Cedars Restaurant and Lounge, located at 1200 North Avenue in Elizabethtown.

Cedars: from early bird to late night, it's special

By GAIL CASALE
What makes a restaurant special? It's a combination of elements working together to create a comfortable, relaxing atmosphere. The Cedars Restaurant and Lounge, located at 1200 North Avenue in Elizabethtown, is a prime example of this. The relatively new operation at Cedars is seven months old and features a relaxed atmosphere. As you walk in you're greeted by a spacious walking area edged with paneled walls, design-cut mirrors, and stylish prints. To the left sits the attractive lounge featuring a cocktail hour served Monday through Friday from 4 to 7 p.m. with drinks at half-price and complimentary hot and cold buffet.

The capable staff of hostess, "Peaches" owner Gus Mikros and manager Alex Cutolo, assure your visit to be a pleasurable one. The bartenders are educated on the latest exotic drinks. We found this out through first-hand experience. My friend attempted to test his knowledge of the trade by ordering the unfamiliar "red devil" (Alabama slammer with a kamikaze shot), but she failed to stump him. The final product was a refreshing spark prepared just right. Gus, the owner, and Alex, the manager, are two competent gentlemen who have been in the restaurant business most of their lives. Gus, who also owns the Mark Twain Diner in Union, has been in the field for 20 years and said he has "always loved it."

Cedars' dishes are prepared along the same quality standards. Whether you happen to be an epicure or have more basic tastes, the menu is extensive enough to satisfy either. We visited the restaurant for lunch and dinner and both were equally enjoyable. The advantage of the dinner specials available daily and the Early Bird on Saturday and Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. Included with dinner are a complimentary glass of wine, salad, potato, vegetable and coffee. Monday nights, enjoy the 1 1/2-lb. lobster dinner at only $10.95. What a great way to start the week.

Some house specials mastered by Chef Solomon are the unique gin steak made of pan sauteed sirloin, gin, heavy cream, dill and Worcestershire sauce; lobster served in whiskey is enhanced by a creamy sauce. I recommend the Cedar's Special Butterfly Steak composed of tender sirloin split in half served in a delicate wine sauce. Everything at the Cedars is freshly cooked to order, with the careful preparation well worth the wait. For lunch, each table is topped with a bowl of pickled garden salad and bread sticks. Lunch specials, featuring about five items, are available daily.

Numerous varieties of pasta, seafood, prime cut beef, sautees and refreshing salads are offered at lunch and dinner. The restaurant, which seats about 150, stays open later than most eating establishments in the area. When you're hungry the Cedars will be around to appease your snacking craving when most others won't. Hours are from 11 till 2 a.m. and 3 a.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, serving dinner daily until 11 p.m. For your dancing and listening pleasure, live music can be heard in the lounge Tuesday through Saturday evenings. A spacious parking lot on the premises will have a security force on duty soon. Reservations are recommended at lunch and on weekends; major credit cards are accepted.

The Cedars has just what you're looking for in a restaurant. Delicious food, an inviting atmosphere, accommodating staff and convenient location. I recommend it for lunch, dinner and as a wise suggestion for your Easter dining.
