Briefly told

A FLOWER SHOW will be presented by the Men's Garden Club of Westfield from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the Trailside Nature and Science Center, Coles Avenue and New Providence Road, Mountainside.

The program is free and open to the public.

PARENTS WITHOUT PARTNERS, Watchung Hills Chapter #18, will meet at the Sulpher Springs Inn, Springfield Avenue, Berkeley Heights, at 8:30 p.m. Monday. A dance will follow the meeting.

The group, an organization of single parents, also will hold an orientation at Franklin State Bank, 535 Park Ave., Scotch Plains, at 8 p.m. next Thursday.

THE PARENTCRAFT program at Overlook Hospital will begin two new courses next week.

A "Mother's Exchange," recently expanded to include fathers as well, will get under way with sessions starting Tuesday and Wednesday and continuing for eight weeks. The classes, held from 1 to 3 p.m., are designed to give new parents an opportunity to share experiences and learn cardiopulmonary resuscitation and obstructed airway techniques for infants.

A two-part pregnancy exercise course will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. Wednesday and Sept. 21. It is presented under the direction of a physical therapist. Nutrition information and fetal growth and development also are covered.

Additional information is available from the hospital, 522-2963.

THE EASTERN UNION COUNTY Chapter of the American Red Cross will begin a new class in Brattle at 9:30 a.m.

Wednesday at the Chapter House, 203 W. Jersey St., Elizabeth.

THE MOTHERS' CENTER of Central New Jersey, a non-profit organization which conducts both daytime discussions and evening workshops, will hold an open house from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Sept. 22 in its new home at Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, Plainfield.

Registration will be conducted for groups which get under way the week of Oct. 3. Further information is available by calling 322-4103 or 668-0499.

UNION COUNTY'S FIRST "Sports Bonanza" for mentally retarded and physically disabled youngsters will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sept. 24 at Rahway River Park.

Sponsored by the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation and Adidas, it will feature golf, tennis, basketball and other sports and games for participants from 8 to 18 years of age.

Parents must accompany their children to the event and registration is required. Further information is available by calling 527-4900.

What is All This Talk About Barter!

No question about it, Barter has taken the business world by storm. Thousands of business owners all over the country are trading goods and services of every kind to reduce their cash outlays and attract new business.

Barter transactions soared to over 20 billion dollars last year with projections of doubling by the late 80's.

And now Universal Trade Exchange (UTX to our friends) has openings in several categories.

You're in business to buy the things you want and need, aren't you? Well so are our other members and many of them want what you have to sell.

You get new business because members seek out other members for their needs. And, since our profits depend on how much

So, what can barter do for your business?
 • Increase sales.
 • Improve cash flow.
 • Increase buying power.

That's all!

'This is Springfield' gets rousing town reception

BY VICKI VREELAND

"This is Springfield," an updated, informative, historical guide to the town, was presented by the League of Women Voters at the township committee meeting Tuesday night. The first copy was ceremoniously handed over to Mayor Bill Ruocco by Co-President Marjorie Halpin amid a round of applause.

Through UTX you trade your goods and services at your current selling price and select an equal amount of goods and services from any other UTX member. You don't have to trade on a one-to-one basis.

The book, which was written by Library Director Cynthia Josephs and a staff of 12, got under way about a year ago. Jones said that while she was working at the library one day she pointed out to someone using the book that the information in it was over 10 years old. She said the reader challenged her to write another issue and so she undertook the job.

The guidebook has been purchased in large quantities by realtors, schools and the library. It is not only useful to new residents in the community, but old ones as well.

Township Committeewoman Joanne Tedesco said that she has "used the book many times and appreciates it."

Jones, who had no formal writing training, is pleased with the end result. There were 1500 copies printed and are selling at $3 each. The books are available for purchase at the library or the town clerk's office.

In other business at the meeting, a bid for renovation of the Sara Bailey House was awarded to Farrow and Bauer, Union, who offered the lowest bid in the amount of $25,670. Another bid was awarded to Warner Communications, Upper Montclair in the amount of $67,384 for the revision of the police department's radio communication systems. Councilman Phillip Feintuch said that "the old system outlived its usefulness."

School buses deserve caution

With the reopening of schools, Springfield motorists are reminded that they must stop for school buses when they are loading or unloading children.

If a driver is approaching a school bus from either the front or the rear, and it stops to discharge or pick up children, it must come to a stop at least 25 feet from the bus, according to the Department of Motor Vehicles, and remain stopped until all children are safely across the road and the bus has resumed movement.

Under a new law, adopted this year, the owner of any vehicle seen passing a school bus can be charged with the violation, whether he was actually driving or not. In the past, only the actual driver of the vehicle could be cited.

School buses are equipped with amber and red flashing lights to alert motorists when the bus is preparing to stop, and is stopped.

1st day always unique

There is nothing like the first day of school. For some, it is the renewal of old acquaintances; for others it is the making of new friends. And for others, it is the return to the more important task of getting an education. However it is looked at, the first day of school is always unique, something that manages to be both feared and cherished at the same time.

While the public schools in Springfield did not open until this week, St. James School got a jump and opened its doors for students last week.

Springfield Leader photographer John Boutsikaris was on hand to capture the emotions of that always memorable first day of school. In the top picture, Debbie Henn is wondering just when she is going to have to put that pencil to work.

And in the bottom photograph, teacher Annette DeCorte knows she has an attentive student in Tommy Fanning.

Kean town meeting set

Governor Thomas H. Kean will hold forth in his series of public town meetings in Springfield Tuesday.

Area residents are invited to meet with the Governor at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, 300 Mountain Avenue, from 7 to 9 p.m. Admission is free, with seating on a first come, first served basis.

"Since I began my town meeting program in April, it has come to be one of the most valuable experiences I have had as Governor, and one of my favorites as well," Kean said.

"I believe, as Governor, it is important for me to meet face to face with the people of New Jersey, to hear your problems and concerns in your words, and to respond in my own."

The public is invited to attend the town meeting and to take the opportunity to talk directly with Governor Kean. Questions will be accepted from the audience and need not be submitted in advance. Staff people from the Governor's Office will be on hand to respond to any unanswered questions.

New Jersey Network will air the town meeting on a tape delayed basis at 9 p.m.

Judge stops requests of exemptions

An administrative law judge has rejected the parents of 24 students in grades one through four who requested they be exempted from a new redistricting plan.

Judge Stephen Weiss upheld the Springfield Board of Education's denial of the exemption requests because he didn't feel the redistricting would cause the students irreparable harm. He was also not certain whether the matter fell under his jurisdiction.

The group CARE contends that the redistricting plan, which would transfer approximately 60 Sandmeier School students to the Caldwell School, was aimed at getting back against members of a previous board for their failed attempts to sell the Caldwell School.

Meanwhile, the Springfield Board of Education contends that the plan is an attempt to balance enrollments in the district's three schools.

Members of the four-member school government committee originally received 28 requests for exemption, and four were granted — three because the families were moving and one because of a physical disability.

Computer courses at Y

Springfield resident can avail themselves of Computers Can Be Friends—the theme of eight weeks of computer courses offered at the Summit area YWCA beginning Sept. 21.

Personnel from Mini Systems Institute will teach the classes at the YWCA, 78 Maple Street, Summit. For each class of 10 to 12, there will be four Texas Instruments 99/4A micro-computers and peripherals.

Six separate courses will be offered: "So I Have a Computer—Now What?" is designed for new computer buyers. All students will write simple programs and participate in a class project. The class will be offered Wednesdays, 8:30-10 p.m. and Thursdays, 6:30-8 p.m.

"Keeping up with the Kids II" will be offered to teens and adults. Wednesdays 1:45-3:15 p.m. It's for those who have some knowledge of personal computers but don't own one. Adults may also choose "Keeping up with the Kids II," offered Thursdays, 8:00-9:30 p.m.

Several courses will be offered to younger programmers: "Little People Meet the Computer" will familiarize second and third graders with computers and simple BASIC programs. It will be taught Wednesdays and Thursdays, 3:30-4:30.

Fifth and sixth graders may take "Young People Speak BASIC" Wednesdays or Thursdays 4:30-5:30 p.m. "Programming with a Youthful Beat" will teach seventh and eighth graders to design and develop a class-selected computer project. It's offered Wednesdays and Thursdays 5:30-6:30 p.m.

Registration applications are available at the YWCA, 78 Maple St., Summit.

Adult classes set at Dayton

The Union County Regional High School District No. 1 has announced its Adult Night School course offerings which will be conducted at each of the district's four high schools beginning Oct. 3. Evening classes will be conducted at Jonathan Dayton in Springfield.

New courses for this term include money management for women, holistic awareness, coaching an athletic team, low calorie french cooking, and country western dancing.

Also previous offerings such as foreign languages, aerobics, volleyball, arts and crafts, computer science, and more will be available.

Registration will be held in each of the schools on Tuesday, Sept. 20, between 6 and 8 p.m. Interested persons should refer to the Adult and Continuing Education brochure which was mailed to all area residents for a complete listing of courses or additional information, contact Harry Linkin, director of Adult and Continuing Education at 378-6300, ext. 89.

Frank is teaching a UCC course aimed at the hearing-impaired

"People who are hearing-impaired usually have heightened visual senses and art can mean a great deal to them, but they may not realize it until they become personally involved in some form of artistic expression."

That is the conviction of Helen Frank of Springfield, a professional artist and teacher, who will be the instructor for "Creator Drawing for the Hearing Impaired" to be conducted at Union County College this fall.

The non-credit course offered through the College's Division of Continuing Education will not be aimed strictly at the deaf or hard of hearing, however, Mrs. Frank said. In fact, she is anxious that hearing people as well as those with hearing impairments will participate, since it gives the hearing community a good insight into how deaf people can function.

The drawing course is designed for the beginner as well as the advanced artist and Frank invites high school students as well as adults to experience hands-on individual instruction in pencil, charcoal, water colors and pastels.

"Age is no barrier in the field of art," she said.

The 10 session course is scheduled to meet on Tuesdays from 6:10 to 8:10 p.m. beginning Wednesday, Tullin is $50.

Frank, whose works have been exhibited nationally as well as locally, attended Yale University and has taught art to the deaf. In addition to operating her own studio, Frank also teaches at the Gaudinier School in Springfield. She has a knowledge of basic sign language, and has been active for a number of years in a local organization known as Deaf Youth Deserve Early Education.

Registration information may be obtained by calling UCC, 278-2600, ext. 206 or 228.

Summer library program a smash hit

The Children's Department of the Springfield Public Library had a successful summer, and the E.T. summer reading program was popular with the young readers. As a finale to the summer activities, there was a drawing for a E.T. watercolor poster and an E.T. bank.

The winners were Dana Williams and Eric Fishman.

The winners of the weekly Carvel Ice Cream—Cone drawing were Claire Welach, Felicia Lobozzo, Elizabeth Baroford, Dan Curtis, Clair Welsh, Rachel Joy, Darren House Samantha Young, Deana Oberlander, Jon Petti, Philip Spohn, Lauren Tuma, Eric Naggar, Mike Jordan, Joshua Vorbel, Steven Greenwood, Samantha Holmes, Mary Lou Zotti, Dawn Mackison, Amy Mackison, Robyn Peet, Dana Poldexter, Amy Lipman, Kevin Murray, Joshua Jones, Bridget Ledy, Robert Zentz, Kristin Franko, Sally Kluch, Brian Gruber, Kevin Kravetz, Lorraine D'Alessio, Jill Palala, Amy Kirsch, Mary Anne McCarthy and Janis Notscher.

Several exciting activities are planned for the fall including story hours for three and four year olds, Saturday movie shows and monthly craft hours. For additional information, call the library.

Another low

The divisiveness and pettiness that marks the Springfield Board of Education seems to have reached another low - if that is possible.

A board member has been removed from a committee because he had the "audacity" to make public some letters he had received from the board president. The letters merely served to emphasize the absurd political split that dominates the board.

The residents of the township have a right to know how the board is being bogged down, with the main concern of too many of the members apparently being who is in control and not taking care of our community's most important resource - the children.

The Board of Education and its activities must be as open as possible. Any action by the board that is contrary to the standard of openness - a standard that is essential for any elected body - is detrimental to the community.

It seems certain members of the board are making as determined an effort as possible to silence anyone or anything that doesn't go along with their opinion. This stripping a member of his committee post just because he had the courage and decency to let the community in on the views of some members looks very much like an attempt to quash dissent.

These same members of the board are the ones who voted to have the Springfield Leader removed as the official paper of record. The fact that the taxpayers will have to pay 50 percent more to run a public notice in The Daily Journal and four times as much in The Star-Ledger doesn't seem to concern these members of the board. The fact that the Springfield Leader's circulation is almost 10 times as much as The Daily Journal's in the township doesn't seem to have much effect on these members, either. The fact that the Springfield Leader is the only newspaper that regularly covers the Board of Education meetings doesn't seem to impress these members, either.

The public's right to know remains our main concern. Based on its past record, the Board of Education would probably disagree by a 5-4 vote.

Letters to the editor

Inspiring quote Our town's paper

Recently there was a beautiful inspiring quote entered by Toby Greener of Lakeland Avenue. It is a philosophy I live by and find such great wonder in this adventure of life through this road.

It is reassuring to people still take precious time and use it to its truest advantage, as Toby did. Caring, sharing and saying "to find the beautiful, we must cry it with us."

The age old adage, tried but true, "everyone is beautiful, in their own way." Sometimes not taking the time to recognize their own beauty and passing it along as Toby did.

Thank you, Toby, God bless and let's have more of this. It's really what it's all about.

"Truth hurts"

The truth must hurt. Congratulations and thank you for continuing to report the truth. Surely the decision to change "official newspapers" was precipitated by a deeply-rooted sense of anger and vengeance-seeking on the part of Board President Gomez and his fellow CAUSE members Simpson-Fritzen, Monaco, Pepe, and Pelino after the Leader published Stu Appelbaum's letter on Sept. 1.

I'm confident that no one in Springfield is naive enough to believe that changing the official newspaper helps the board in the solicitation of competitive bids for purchased goods and services. Most intelligently run school systems have lists of approved bidders who receive all requests for bids by mail anyway.

Changing the official newspaper surely was intended to hurt the Leader economically and deprive the people of Springfield of a convenient way of finding out what's going on. Please continue to report the events as they occur. The people have a right and need to know. This type of economic censorship of the media is just one more example of the way CAUSE has begun to operate - if you can't change the committee member's mind, change the committee member. If you can change the newspaper's mind, change the newspaper; if you can't change the town's mind, change the town. What's next?

Scene around the towns

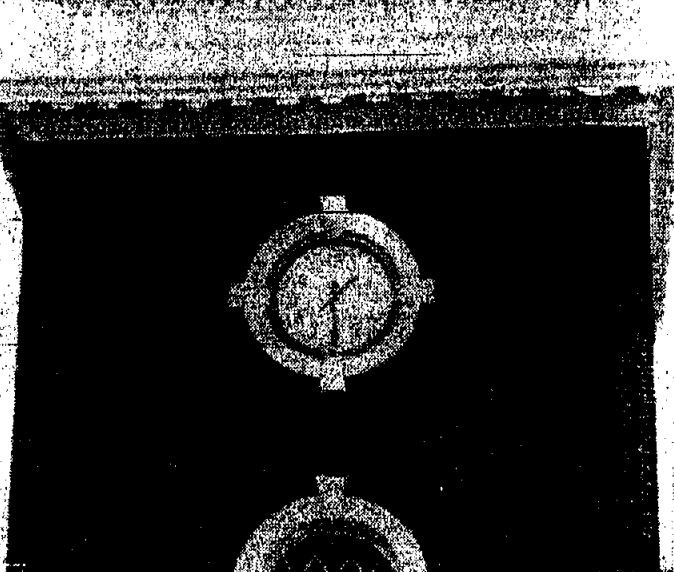

This week's Scene, located in Union, is a timely one - and not just because of the clock in the lower. If you can identify it, let us hear from you by 9 a.m. Monday. Write to Scene, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 3109, 1291 Stuyvesant Ave., Union 07083.

Last week's Scene was another roof. It was, as Joseph V. Sigogna Jr. of Linden pointed out in his fifth correct answer in series, "In lovely downtown Linden," on North Wood Avenue.

To be exact - and Andrew Fedorovich of Linden was just that - it was 117 North Wood Ave. He identified it as "the old Sam Friedman" building, at number 117, "between Elizabeth Avenue and Price Street."

Other correct answers came from Lisa Battilo of Kenilworth, whose score on identifying Scenes now stands at 26, and Lena Aaron of Linden.

'Dorm insurance' is available for students

A college student moving into a dormitory may cart along possessions worth several thousand dollars. According to the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants (CPAs), it makes financial sense to include some provision in the school year budget for protecting the investment in these valuables. It takes on greater urgency if people realize that new tax laws restrict casualty loss deductions. There are many ways to insure students' belongings, including "dormitory insurance" which is available to students on hundreds of campuses. Students may also be able to arrange additional coverage on their parents' homeowners policy for "off-premises" property, or, they may want to buy tenants' insurance.

Text describes the benefits of dormitory insurance, including coverage for theft, fire, and damage to personal property. It highlights that the policy is affordable, easy to install, and provides peace of mind for students and parents. Contact information for Valcor is provided.

Library column 'Young Doctor' proves incisive

By ROSE P. SIMON SPRINGFIELD-Following are reviews of popular books at the Springfield Library. 'DOCTORING WITH LOVE' by Richard Scher: This is a collection of essays by a surgeon-author whose descriptions lift the realism of his craft to the realm of poetry and fantasy. 'The surgeon is an explorer in the tropical forest of the body,' and 'a line of structures like the lashed of a closed eye marks the passageway.'

Scher believes that the time will come when the intern, cardiologist, and endocrinologist, will be able to control disease with medication, diet and prevention; that surgeons will be turned into pasture. 'The pieces are varied to include a wide range of admonitions to internes, surgical cases in which he has participated, visits to the wards, and several fine stories about patients, the hospital, and the staff. One of his tales concerns a cancer patient whose anguish he yearns to relieve, but cannot; another is about a young retarded aide and good friend who died (tellingly) while the doctor was on vacation. There is also the incident of the dying woman whose husband hears her cry out, not for him, but for a secret lover.'

Perhaps the most fascinating, poignant story is "Impostor." It tells of a man fleeing from justice and settling in some far off isolated area. Here he becomes a vital part of the community, for he has been able to treat and cure the sick. Respected and admired, he loves and is loved. One day the Inspector suddenly appears and exposes him as a fraud, a murderer and then... IMPROVING FAMILY LIFE "Traits of a Healthy Family," by Dolores Curran. After having received 501 replies to questionnaires sent to professionals dealing with various aspects of family life, Curran has drawn several interesting conclusions. Admittedly, it was an unscientific survey, but the characteristics rather than the negative ones usually heard.

The author compares the criteria which in the past described a healthy family, with those of the modern western family which has experienced sociological changes. The responses to the 56 positive statements were checked, resulting in the 15 traits commonly perceived in the family.

Korean flavor is added to 'new' restaurant

MOUNTAINSIDE—A downtown Mountainide restaurant will change its name next week to tout the Korean flavor which has been added to its American menu.

Proprietor Yang Kim is making the name change to reflect the Oriental fare which she has added to the restaurant offerings.

From its heavily-weighted lunch and submarine sandwich menu, Mrs. Kim has expanded her restaurant to feature specialties more prevalent in her native Seoul. Thus, dinners at "Young Kim's" may order Pulgoki served at the table; seawou tukim, dak kui or a number of Oriental favorites. But other popular American/French fare also is available as dinner selections.

"We offer all kinds of foods," remarks Kim, noting that she has retained the wide offerings of submarine sandwiches, full home-style American breakfasts and an expanded lunch menu.

But her reputation of late appears based on the Korean delights which have made the dinner menu a popular attraction for scores of local residents.

To mark the name change, Kim will provide free Korean hors d'oeuvres with any dinner ordered beginning next Monday, and continuing through the week.

Owning a restaurant is a "dream come true" for Kim, who worked for the U.S. Government in Korea, before moving here with her family a decade ago. Prior to purchasing Joanne's a year ago, Kim was employed by a Wall Street firm and operated a Middlesex cleaning establishment.

Information about "Young Kim's" is available by phoning 232-0242.

Once an educator, she's now hospital officer

She was a veteran educator with years of experience in her field, including 10 years as president of a college.

Then she decided on a new career.

"One doesn't come to this place with a formal education in recognizing human needs," said Sister Elizabeth Ann Maloney, who has switched to the field of hospital administration.

She made the comment in her office at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Elizabeth, where she is now chief operating officer and associate executive director.

And that "human needs" part is an important facet of her new job, she noted. "Hospital administration is not only management of an institution in the usual sense of the word, but an attempt to manage the health needs of a community."

Sister Elizabeth Ann, whose appointment to the hospital post was announced recently by Sister Margaret Doherty, SEH executive director, was the president of the College of Saint Elizabeth in Convent Station from 1971 to 1981.

Prior to that, she was associated with the college in the capacities of dean of studies, assistant to the president, and chairman of the mathematics department.

In 1981 she made the decision to change her career from education to health care.

Reflecting on what she has learned in her administrative career as an educator and why she decided to exchange the position of college president for one of hospital administrator, she said, "Career progression for a woman may be even more important than career path. When I was considering my career change, I was attracted to health care, because it is one of the most important ministries of the Sisters of Charity."

As a member of the Sisters of Charity of Saint Elizabeth herself, she said, "I was attracted to St. Elizabeth Hospital because it is one of our own institutions and has a long tradition of providing quality care to its patients. The hospital is located in an urban environment where the needs of the people are generally considered greater because of the population diversity."

Maloney said, "Women may limit their mobility in changing jobs or careers because they lack certain skills."

One of these skills, she said, is public speaking, which "provides a boost up the ladder — and becomes mandatory once you've arrived."

She added, "Another hindrance is the avoidance of mathematics, computers, and other complex equipment. My mathematics background has helped me tremendously in my career. It is important for a woman to set her sights high through goal setting, which is essential both to effective managing and getting ahead."

A career change requires strategic planning, Sister Elizabeth Ann pointed out. Reviewing the key elements in her own case, she said, "I've always wanted to improve the condition for people through education and good health. A hospital is a 24-hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week business, not only in providing health care, but also in fulfilling the needs of the community in education and other areas."

She emphasized that hospitals must maintain a close community involvement. "It's a lot of hard work, and I spend many 12- to 14-hour-days keeping us on top of emergency and routine situations."

She said she does not consider the long days a sacrifice. "I guess I've always looked at sacrifices as being opportunities (Continued on page 2)

Continuing education classes start Monday

More than 2,000 adults are expected to enroll in the fall session of Union County College's continuing education program which opens Monday.

Seven sites in Union County will be utilized for the more than 90 non-credit courses and seminars being offered in the evening or on Saturday mornings to accommodate adult schedules.

In addition to the Cranford campus, 19 courses are scheduled for the Scotch Plains campus, with others being conducted at Elizabeth, Cranford and New Providence High Schools.

Twenty-one new non-credit courses, workshops and seminars will be included in the fall program. In addition, three one-day workshops on microcomputers for the manager have been planned on Friday mornings.

Six special one-night sessions entitled "Insights," dealing with enriching an individual's lifestyle, developing personal skills or improving career potential, will be conducted for the first time this fall.

In the health field, two new courses will be conducted: "Management Principles for Health Care Professionals" and "Psychological Techniques in Health Care Management."

For the deaf and hearing-impaired, "Understanding Computers for the Hearing-Impaired" and "Handful of Stories," experiences related by deaf people who grew up in a hearing world, have been added.

"Pastel Techniques" has been added to the fine arts offerings and "Headlines and Deadlines: Today's Journalism" will be featured in the communications area.

For the business-oriented adult student, three courses, "Financial Statement Analysis," "Practical Inventory Control" and "Introduction to Forecasting" will be presented.

A special course, "Dynamics of Tax-Advantaged Investment," will be offered for the first time, including such topics as IRA, KEOGH and SEP retirement plans, as well as tax-deferred annuities and trust funds. New one-day seminars will include "Recent Changes in Labor Relations," "Stock Market Options" and "Organizational Intelligence."

In the "College for Kids" program, new offerings are "American Sign Language for Kids" and "Basic Martial Arts for Kids," both geared to the program's "involvement" formula for youngsters in the 11 to 15 age group.

Further information on any of these courses or workshops is available by calling Union County College, 278-2600, extension 206 or 238.

Second career under way

(Continued from page 1) for learning and broadening my horizons. The rewards are here in helping people who need us and being an advocate for good health," she noted.

On the contrasts and similarities in her two careers, she said: "In higher education and health care, cost containment is a high priority, but in health care there is a much more significant amount of control in expenditures and allocation of resources.

The pace in the hospital setting is much faster due to the frequent presence of crisis situations and greater diversity of activity. The immediate rewards one experiences when a patient regains good health is tremendous. In higher education, the results of the job we do are seen over the long run after the student graduates and is later successful."

A graduate of the College of Saint Elizabeth, with a master of arts degree from Fordham University, New York, Sister Elizabeth Ann has done graduate work at the University of Notre Dame, Indiana, and Yeshiva University, New York.

She is a member of the board of trustees of St. Mary's Hospital in Passaic and the council of the Southern Province of the Sisters of Charity of Saint Elizabeth. She also was a member of the board of managers of the Morris County Savings Bank.

She is listed in "Who's Who in America," the "World Who's Who of Women," "Dictionary of International Biography" and "Community Leaders and Noteworthy Americans."

Free eye screenings planned on Sept. 27

St. Elizabeth Hospital in Elizabeth will join 90 other hospitals throughout the state in offering eye health screenings during the week of Sept. 25 as a part of National Sight Saving Month.

St. Elizabeth will hold the free eye screenings to persons 35 years of age and older on Tuesday, Sept. 27. The screenings will take place in the SEH Outpatient Clinic, 225 Williamson St., from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m., under the direction of Anthony M. Spirito, M.D., SEH chief of ophthalmology.

Kean to be guest at GOP dinner next week

Governor and Mrs. Thomas H. Kean will be the guests of honor at the annual Union County Republican dinner dance, it was announced by Alfonso L. Pisano, the party's county chairman. Also expected to attend are several cabinet members, state legislators and county elected officials and party leaders.

The dinner dance will take place next Thursday at the Chanticleer in Millburn. It will begin at 7 p.m. with a cocktail reception.

The dinner committee is headed by finance committee co-chairmen William Palermo of Linden and William Franklin of Scotch Plains. Others assisting are: tickets, Ethel Allison of Mountainside; decorations, Lucille Masciale of Scotch Plains; and guest relations, Geraldine E. Mattson of Cranford.

Reservations for the dinner must be made in advance and may be placed with local municipal chairmen or by phoning the county Republican headquarters at 57 W. Westfield Ave.; Roselle Park.

Another Republican state official will be honored at the fourth annual awards dinner of the Northern New Jersey Chapter, American Society for Public Administration: George Albanese, state commissioner of human services and former Union County manager.

Albanese will be cited for representing professionalism and commitment to public service in his current position as well as in his role as Union County manager, according to Eleanor Landicina, president of the ASPA chapter.

She stated, "Commissioner Albanese, throughout his career, has demonstrated that efficiency in government and responsiveness to public needs can go hand in hand. New Jersey is very fortunate to have managerial leadership of this caliber."

The American Society for Public Administration is an organization "dedicated to advancing the science and art of administration in government and non-profit agencies," Landicina said. The Northern N.J. Chapter sponsors meetings, workshops and seminars. The society also recognizes those who have made contributions to public service, according to the chapter president.

The awards dinner will be held on Sept. 26 at the Manor in West Orange. Cocktail hour will begin at 6 p.m. For information regarding tickets and reservations, those interested can call 527-3022.

'Alcohol and Youth' topic of seminar set by council

The Union County Council on Alcoholism will hold a seminar entitled "Alcohol and Youth" tomorrow from 8:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

The program, which is open to anyone wishing to understand more about chemical dependence, will feature two teenagers from Alcoholics Anonymous. They will speak about their addiction to alcohol and describe how they managed to turn their lives around.

Gordon LeMatty, director of chemical health and instruction for Union Township public schools and a member of Union County Narcotics Board, will lead the discussion.

A film, "It Can't Happen To Me," also will be shown during the program. Those interested in attending the session, for which a fee of $5 is being charged, can get in touch with the Union County Council on Alcoholism at 300 North Avenue East in Westfield, 233-8810.

THE UNION COUNTY WOMEN'S Political Caucus will hold a candidates' wine and cheese party on Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Locust Inn, 350 West First Ave., Roselle. Tickets are $7.50.

"Candidates for the offices of freeholder, register and sheriff have been invited," according to Marie Hagemann, chairperson of the event.

"The candidates are invited to meet with members of the caucus and their friends and to present their positions on the issues that affect women. The caucus will endorse those candidates whose record and position are in agreement with the concerns and goals of the organization."

Serving on the committee with Hagemann are Betty Bradley of Plainfield, Kathy Brock of Summit, Phyllis Griffiths of Garwood, Helen Heumann of Roselle and Becki Perkins of Fanwood. Further information is available from Marie Hagemann at 241-4997 or Helen Heumann at 241-4971.

PLANS FOR A MINI-BAZAAR have been announced by Genevieve Pascale Di Vito, president, and Christian A. Hanns, chairman of the Clara Barton Auxiliary of the American Red Cross, Eastern Union County Chapter. The event will be held at the Chapter House, 203 West Jersey St., Elizabeth, on Saturday, from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

Briefly told

The American Diabetes Association gets back into swing Monday with its first meeting for the year.

"Coping with Diabetes" will be the featured topic of a program moderated by Patricia Murphy, R.N., of the Rutgers University faculty, who will present the film "Focus on Feelings," followed by a group discussion period. Some of the emotional issues faced by diabetics in the gradual acceptance and eventual management of their illness will be highlighted.

The group meets at 7:30 p.m. at the Westfield Rescue Squad, just off the South Avenue traffic circle in Westfield.

PEOPLE FOR ANIMALS will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Sunnyside Branch of the Linden Library, 100 Edgewood Rd., Linden.

Lester Pilkington of Union, a herpetologist, will give a talk on reptiles. In addition, plans will be discussed for a flea market at School 1 in Linden Oct. 1 and another fund-raiser at the Knights of Columbus in Union Oct. 2.

The meeting is open to the public. Those interested in joining or in the low-cost spaying-neutering program offered by People for Animals can call 374-1073 for further information.

Annual Slovak Heritage Festival is set by Arts Center

The eighth annual Slovak Heritage Festival will be held Oct. 2 at the Garden State Arts Center, Holmdel. This year's theme will be "Heart to Heart."

According to Joseph J. Talafous, a former municipal court judge and general chairman of the festival, "Our theme is representative of our appreciation of the support we have received from thousands of Americans for our celebration of Slovakian tradition. Each year, our festival draws several thousand participants from the Metropolitan area, and each year, we captivate a few more 'hearts' with our traditions and customs."

Among those attending the festival as special guests will be Stefan Blasko, author; three present and former New Jersey mayors and a Pennsylvania State Senator, all Slovak Americans. They are Mayor Thomas J. Duch of Garfield, Andrew W. Banick, former mayor of Carteret; Mayor George Hudak of Linden, and Michael A. O'Pake, senator from the 11th district, Reading, Pa.

Proceeds from the eighth annual Slovak Heritage Festival will be used to provide free programs for New Jersey's school children, senior citizens, disabled veterans and the blind.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 442-8600, ext. 222.

Revelers will hold musical auditions

The Revelers of Rahway, in residence at the El Bodegon Restaurant, 168 West Main St., Rahway, will hold auditions for pianist-musical director for the production of "Side By Side By Son-dheim." Additional information can be obtained by calling 381-2264.

Patti Murgo will direct the musical which is scheduled for production Nov. 4 through Dec. 3 every Friday and Saturday evenings.

'Sing-In' slated for Kean stage by choral units

Singers are invited to a "Sing-In" to be held Sept. 21 at 8 p.m. in the Wilkins Theater Building, Room 143, at Kean College of New Jersey, Union. Hosts will be the Kean Choral Society, formerly of the New Jersey Chapter of the Riverdale Choral Society.
 The chorus, which is starting its 13th year, performs choral masterworks in the winter and spring at Kean, at local area churches and nursing homes and in New York City and Riverdale, N. Y. Directed by Professor James Cullen, the group has been the recipient of grants from the New Jersey Council on the Arts and the Exxon Corp.
 Music will be provided, and refreshments will be served at the "Sing-In."
 Additional information can be obtained by calling 232-2348.

Five concerts slated

The Plainfield Symphony Orchestra, reportedly the oldest community orchestra in New Jersey, will enter its second season under the baton of George Marriner Maul. It will present five concerts this season, Oct. 8, Dec. 4, Feb. 12, 1984, March 18 and April 29.

Bellevue closes theater; to reopen as tri-complex

The Bellevue Theater in Upper Montclair closed its doors recently, marking the first extended closing since the theater opened more than 60 years ago.
 According to the theater manager, Gerald G. Hazell, the theater had previously closed only on a one-day basis for an occasional snowstorm and once for the installation of a Cinerama screen. The theater opened in 1922 with a silent film featuring the Gish sisters, a pipe organ providing the background music.
 Extensive renovations will include the installation of three screens, two downstairs, and one upstairs, in what is the present balcony. The upstairs theater will have the capability of presenting 70mm wide-screen features "which have proved a popular attraction in the past and is a facility that is rare in most multi-screen theaters today."
 All new automated equipment will be installed in the projection booths "for the most advanced technology now available in film projection."

 In addition, "a brand new concessions stand is being built to provide the theater's customers with rapid service."
 Hazell says that present plans "call for the theater to reopen at Thanksgiving."

Art exhibition set in Millburn

New Jersey artists, Susan Swartz and Albert L. Bross Jr., will be featured as the opening exhibit of the season at the Paper Mill Playhouse's Renee Foosner Art Gallery, Millburn, now through Oct. 23.
 Additional information can be obtained by calling 379-3636.

Disc & Data

By Mill Hammer

Pick of the LPs, "Rhythm Of Youth," by Men Without Hats (Backstreet Records).

Men Without Hats is a very optimistic band. "We're not trying to give people false hopes but we do want to make the soundtrack happy. Music is often used as a soundtrack for living; you hear it on radios, from shops, in your house. If you get people listening to the music and then have something to say on top of it, that's great," states Ivan, who is musical director and spokesman for the group.

Ivan is joined by his classically-trained brothers, Stefan Doroschuk (guitar and violin), Colin Doroschuk (keyboards) and Alan McCarthy (keyboards).

The debut album, "Backstreet Records," was produced by Marc Durand, who along with Ivan, has been the vision for the growth and development of the band. Men Without Hats was originally signed by Stic Records in England, who are distributing "Rhythm of Youth," through Sire in Canada. Domestically, their only introduction to the United States was "Folk Of The 80s," released through Stiff America prior to "Rhythm of Youth."

"Folk music doesn't necessarily mean somebody with a harmonica, a guitar and a checkered shirt. It's just somebody singing their generation, trying to say something about the people and the time around them. And for the Men, this doesn't necessarily mean singing about specific people or incidents—but, rather states of mind and ways of thinking.

"We make songs not sounds. We're not interested in searching out synthesizers for hidden squeaks and squawks, we put a lot of emphasis on melody and use our synthesizers as a means to the end.

"They (synthesizers) have gotten a bad name with some people because the 'cold wave' bands with their robotic feel. People are more capable of change when they're up and not alienated from their music."

Fall play added to Bard agenda

Ellen Barry, producing director of the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival, in residence at Drew University, Madison, has announced the addition of a fourth comedy, "Mass Appeal," by Bill C. Davis to the fall season entitled, "A Fall Carnival of World Comedy."

"Mass Appeal," which will run from Dec. 14 through Jan. 1, 1984 will join "Lol's Get A Divorce," Tuesday through Oct. 16; "Born Yesterday," Oct. 18 through Nov. 13, and the British revue, "Beyond the Fringe," Nov. 15 through Dec. 11.

What Is All This Talk About Barter!

No question about it, Barter has taken the business world by storm. Thousands of trading goods and services of every kind to reduce their cash outlays and attract new business.

Barter transactions soared to over 20 billion dollars last year with projections of doubling by the late 80's.

And now Universal Trade Exchange (UTX) to our friends has openings in several categories.

new business we send you, we promote trading very aggressively.

And there's hardly anything you can't barter for through UTX. Our network includes literally hundreds of New Jersey companies.

Through UTX you trade your goods and services at your current selling price and select an equal amount of goods and services from any other UTX member. You don't have to trade on a one-to-one basis.

You're in business to buy the things you want and need, aren't you? Well to be sure our other members, and many of them want what you have to sell.

You get new business because members seek out other members for their needs. And, since our profits depend on how much

So, what can barter do for your business?

- Increase sales.
- Improve cash flow.
- Increase buying power.

That's all!

Find out what hundreds of other North Jersey business owners in our TRADE EXCHANGE already know
