COMMUNITY PROJECT PLANS—Barbara Brande, director of Catholic Community Services, goes over plans offered by CCS with a nurse and social worker. CCS makes its services available to all in the area. Counseling and aid is offered, particularly to the aged, the mentally ill, abused and disturbed children and the handicapped.

Brande helps CCS play a key role for everyone in need of aid in county

BY VICKI VREELAND

The name Catholic Community Services is not a program that offers services just to Catholics, but in fact is a nonsectarian agency that serves anyone in Union County.

CCS is an agency that will provide counseling and aid to anyone in need, particularly the aged, the mentally ill, abused and disturbed children, and the handicapped.

Barbara Brande, a former mayor of Cranford, directs CCS for Union County. Brande recently spoke to senior citizens in Springfield about how to take advantage of a new home health care program offered to seniors.

The program is a federally-funded pilot project designed to improve health care to seniors and to keep them in their homes as long as possible. It is being run in six states and in New Jersey only five counties have the program, Union County being one of them.

Catholic Community Services tries to locate the seniors in most need of care and then trains the helpers that go into the home. The helpers are AFDC mothers who are given a 60-hour training course by the nurses and social workers employed by the service in how to bathe seniors, do their grocery shopping, take blood pressures and any other general tasks that need to be done in the home.

The nurses provide the house mothers with a specialized care program for the individuals they take care of. The dual purpose is to provide the mothers with skills so they can enter the job market.

Brande pointed out that seniors make up approximately 18 percent of the county population. Springfield's senior population is approximately 29 percent, which is even higher than Union.

For senior citizens who are still active and enjoy working, CCS runs a "Retired Senior Volunteer Program." This program is run from 60 Prince St., Elizabeth and there are currently 730 seniors who participate.

The seniors are given lunch and are provided with insurance, and in turn they help out in school libraries, day-care centers, visit confined seniors and generally are there to help anyone who may need a listening ear.

"The biggest problems for seniors are health care, transportation, housing and not enough money to deal with this economy. They could not have possibly planned 30 or 40 years ago for the inflation problem today," said Brande. To help deal with these other factors, CCS offers transportation to seniors for doctor appointments.

The agency has 11 vans which not only transport seniors, but help persons who have to make periodic trips to hospitals, such as chemotherapy patients, cerebral palsy victims and mental health out-patients.

The agency runs a Senior Day Care Center in Roselle Park that operates three days a week. Children of the seniors may bring their parents there from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and the seniors can interact in a social setting. Meals are provided and exercise and arts and crafts groups are run. The agency also plans trips from time to time.

Brande finds it rewarding to be able to relieve family members from having to provide constant care to seniors. She told of one incident where children were found playing truant from school because they stayed home to take care of their grandmother.

Brande has been with CCS for over 20 years. She received her B.A. degree in education from Caldwell College and her Master's degree in social work from Fordham University. She recently ran in the 21st District's State Assembly race with Democrat Eugene Carmody but was defeated by Republicans Chuck Hardwick and Edward Gill. She is also a state-licensed marriage counselor.

The various other programs the agency offers is a course for the blind on how to be self-sufficient, a mental health clinic and family service counseling.

A case that Brande is proud to tell about involved a woman who for 20 years was unable to function in a job. The woman began counseling sessions with the agency's psychologists and psychiatrists and has now been working her present job for five years.

The agency also employs nursing home "ombudsmen" who go to the homes of elderly seniors and educates them about the availability and requirements of nursing homes. The agency also put together a directory of nursing homes which evaluated them as to cost and care.

The main center for Catholic Community Services is located at 210 St. George Ave., Linden. Fees for services are based on a sliding scale according to the individual's ability to pay. Anyone interested in obtaining information on the senior citizen programs may call 351-0070, for family service help, 486-2630 and for mental health service, 272-8910.

Adult Learning Center path to getting diploma

By VICKI VREELAND

With the able assistance of the Union County Regional Adult Learning Center, that elusive high school diploma can be achieved by interested adults. Free classes, friendly, dedicated teachers, no homework, and an optional attendance policy are parts of the program.

The Adult Learning Center, located at David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, caters to busy, working adults. "We bend over backwards to help students achieve their goals," said Carol Beris, director of the center. "We realize adults have many involvements, families, jobs, and there time is limited," Beris said.

Currently 500 adults, ranging in age from 18 to 70 and over, have made time in their schedules to do something they always wanted to do, earn their high school diploma. The students at the center come from a variety of backgrounds, but they have something in common; for one reason or another, something prevented them from getting a high school education.

Beris and the 17 certified teachers at the center are devoted to the belief that, "it is never too late." For many who have been removed from the education process for a period of time, the hardest move is to pick up the phone and make arrangements to start back to school. From that first telephone encounter, Beris and the staff try to be supportive.

After that, it's easy. Some students are ready to take their high school equivalency exam after a few short weeks of preparation. Others, although they are told by teachers that they are ready, opt to continue attending courses for sheer academic enjoyment.

A Springfield woman is an example of such a situation. Growing up in Nazi Germany, the 47-year-old student of the learning center was not allowed to education never died. The woman, who wishes to remain anonymous, enrolled at the Adult Learning Center three years ago.

After three months of classes, her teachers told her she was ready to take the exam. "I knew much more than I thought I did," she said. However, she decided to attend school for an additional three months. Now the graduate is in her third year at Union College and has received straight A's in her classes.

Beris said that it is very common for people who have gotten their high school diplomas in other countries to still want to earn a U.S. high school diploma. In that way, they have an opportunity to study American history and English.

Beris has seen high school dropouts and former drug addicts complete the program successfully and go on to achieve higher education. She noted that it is sometimes surprising to learn that people do not have a high school diploma. One graduate had served as president of many local organizations and was a very articulate and knowledgeable speaker; however she had never received her high school diploma.

Students who enroll at the center can choose between two programs that will lead to a diploma. The first is a state endorsed high school diploma earned through the General Educational Developments Tests (GED).

The GED test consists of five multiple choice tests in writing skills, social studies, science, reading skills, and mathematics. The adult center preps the student for the test and then administers a practice test.

The other choice a student has is a Union County Regional High School District diploma. The regional diploma is achieved through credits earned in life or work experience, rather than taking a test. It is recommended for an adult who already has some high school credits and has worked for a period of time. The adult must still demonstrate proficiency in reading, math and grammar.

The adult student receives counseling from an educational broker at the start, and throughout, their educational program. Barbara Lowenfish, who has a master's degree in student personnel services, is the center's job/career counselor. Lowenfish helps students decide their next steps after they have completed the program.

The classroom instruction itself is totally non-traditional. "It is not the I'm-going-to-call-on-you situation," Beris said. There is no reason for a student to be nervous in class.

The teacher sits with each student individually and assigns daily assignments. If the student cannot attend a night course, they can attend the same course during the day, and vice-versa. The student progresses on an individual basis, and complete the program receive their diploma. The center uses a graduation ceremony in June. However, Beris said there is no reason to hold up a student's diploma until then.

The Adult Learning Center comes under the auspices of the Union County Regional High-School-District 1. Dr. Donald Merachnik, superintendent of schools, "is very supportive of adult education," Beris said. Harold Lunkin serves as the director of adult and continuing education. The center is run through federal and state funds. It is located in portable classrooms adjacent to David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth.

Beris, who has a master's degree in reading, has worked at the center for over eight years. Before assuming the director position in September, she taught adult classes and worked as a counselor/broker. Beris enjoyed teaching adults because "they are highly motivated."

For further information about the adult center, call 272-4480 or 272-7580.

Committee gives OK to 2 new ordinances

The Springfield Township Committee met briefly last week to approve the final reading of two ordinances. One of the ordinances called for an increase in fees for dog licenses in accordance with a state increase and the other concerned a local parking regulation.

The parking ordinance amends one which restricted parking on a section of Mountain Avenue. The ordinance now permit vehicles to park there.

The township committee also voted to authorize the law firm Rosenblum and Rosenblum, Socacus, to represent the township in a tax appeal case against Troy Village that originated in 1981. According to Jay Kloud, township committee attorney, the township intends to file a petition of certification for a hearing by Superior Court to obtain outstanding taxes from Troy Village.

Troy Village has not remitted increased property tax to the township of Springfield because they contend they fall under the Freeze Act of 1979. The Freeze Act maintains that property assessments stand for the year they are assessed plus an additional two years. Troy Village's assessment increased by nine million dollars when the complex was converted to condominiums three years ago. Troy Village was assessed at six million dollars as an apartment complex. When the apartments were converted to condominiums, or separate units, the township assessed the property at 15 million dollars. Tenants maintain that there tax surcharge went up when the assessment increased, although Corrinne Eckmann, tax collector, still shows Troy Village with outstanding taxes from 1981. Eckmann said she had no choice this week but to advertise for a tax sale to be put on the lien for the property.

VIBRAPHONIST—Ted Piltzecker, a vibraphonist of the Festival of Music Arts-in-Education Agency, will perform in a Sandmeyer School assembly in Springfield on Dec. 16. As a jazz stylist, he uses familiar melodies in new ways on the vibraphone.

3 residents are charged with alcohol in car

Three Springfield men were arrested Thanksgiving night on Route 22 and charged with possession of alcoholic beverages in a motor vehicle. Police said arrested were Michael Trantula, 18, Mohawk Drive, Steven Srednich, 19, Skylark Road, and David Johnson, 19, Colonial Terrace.

Springfield detectives arrested four persons on Route 22 Wednesday night who had allegedly shoplifted at a supermarket in Plainfield and then escaped onto the highway towards Springfield. Shertel Benjamin, 28, of Newark, was charged with three counts of receiving stolen property.

Police said that three others were also charged with receiving stolen property, Ellis Evans, 32, and Samuel Nathaniel Warren, 32, both of New York City and Marlon Bradley, 34, of Elizabeth.

A Scotch Plains man was arrested last week at Springfield Avenue and Victory Road on three charges. Police said David Guyton, 24, was charged with driving while on the revoked list, possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana and possession of prohibited weapons.

A New York man was slightly injured in an automobile accident during Monday afternoon's severe rain storm. Silvio Simionescu, 32, of Brooklyn, collided with Moe Nadler, 80, of Union at Springfield and Morris Avenues. Simionescu was taken to Overlook Hospital where he was treated and released.

A 35-year-old woman pleaded guilty to shoplifting in Saks Fifth Avenue, Millburn Avenue, during municipal court Monday night. Marsha Cohen, of Manalapan, was fined a total of $350 and received a 30-day suspended jail sentence for attempting to steal two sweaters worth $1000.

A Leesburg man, who is currently serving time in the Leesburg Prison, was sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $800 for numerous motor vehicle violations in Springfield. Alfred Smith, 22, had 3 charges for disregard of a red light, leaving the scene of an accident, driving while on the revoked list, driving recklessly, and various other traffic offenses.

Greetings to people in military

Those who would like to send holiday greetings to home town friends in the armed forces can do so either through a letter to the editor of this newspaper, which is being delivered to Springfield residents in the services, or by sending cards directly to bases in the United States and overseas.

Among Springfield residents in the armed forces, and their addresses, are:

Christopher J. Smith
CBU 407 NAS
Corpus Christi, TX 78419

Parents who would like to have their sons and daughters added to the list can do so by sending the names and addresses to the Springfield Leader, P.O. Box 3109, Union 07083.

Certain YWCA classes remain open for current late fall term

SPRINGFIELD—There's still time to join the Summit Area YWCA, which is available to Springfield residents. Openings remain in select swimming, dance and exercise classes for women, men and children. It's all part of the YWCA's special Late Fall term, through Jan. 30, to help one stay in shape during the holiday season. There's a week break, Dec. 26-Jan. 3.

The YWCA's heated pool is a perfect place to shed winter garments and those extra pounds. Aquatics, a fun water exercise class for women, will now be offered Monday and Wednesday evenings, 7:30-9:30, in addition to Tuesdays and Thursdays at 11 a.m. A drop-in Master Swim Team is open to male and female swimmers 21 and older who want to improve strokes and timing. Competition may be arranged through instructors David Pease and Niels Schwarz. The Master Swim Team meets Mondays and Wednesdays at 7:30.

Non-swimmers aren't forgotten—An Adult Learn to Swim Class for beginners meets Tuesdays at 11 a.m. and Thursdays at 8:30 p.m. Intermediates come Thursdays at 11 a.m. or Tuesdays at 6:30 p.m. For scheduling of other classes for children, teens and adults, check at the YWCA, 79 Maple Street, Summit.

There's also plenty to do at the YW without getting wet. Frank Ashley returns this term to teach Modern Jazz and Modern Dance, for teens and adults. There are also co-ed Martial Arts classes taught by Christopher Goedecke; and Sidney Austin teaches Tai Chi using a total form of exercise for serenity, strength, control and balance of movements.

Weight-training classes will feature the YW's new Universal equipment. Advanced Fitness is open to men and women. Tickets are available throughout Springfield and will be available at the door on the night of the dance. Additional highlights of the event include a Chinese Auction, raffles, door prizes and free giveaways.

CARE slates Saturday gala

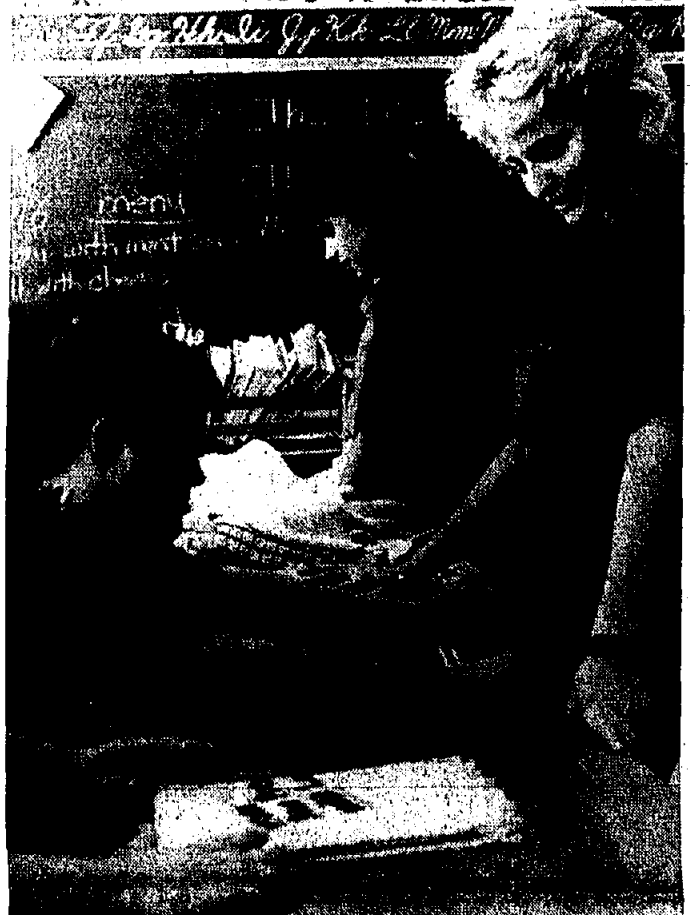

SPRINGFIELD—The Civic Association for Responsible Education (CARE) today announced that CARE will sponsor a gala winter dance Saturday night at Temple She'arey Shalom, South Springfield Avenue and Shunpike Road.

Entertainment will be provided by a professional disc jockey playing songs from the 40's through 80's. Food, dessert and refreshments will be served and everyone in Springfield is welcome to attend. Tickets are $15 apiece.

Tickets are available throughout Springfield and will be available at the door on the night of the dance. Additional highlights of the event include a Chinese Auction, raffles, door prizes and free giveaways.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS—Meeting to make final arrangements for the community-wide Central New Jersey Women's Plea for Human Rights for Soviet Jews to be held Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., at Temple Emanu-El of Westfield are the planning committee. Standing, left to right, is chairperson Sue Marcus of Springfield, Max Rockfield, Alex Malinin, and Susan Coen. Seated is Elise Malinin, Gloria Brown, Marthe Flashberg, Myra Stein and Selma Wasserman. This is one of a nationwide series of meetings planned for Human Rights Week (Dec. 4-10).

Boy scouts selling Christmas wreaths
SPRINGFIELD—The Boy Scouts of Saint James Troop 73, Springfield, are selling handcrafted Christmas wreaths outside Saint James Church on Saturdays and Sundays in Dec. 18. The price of wreaths is $3 and arrangements have been made to take advance orders.

The church is located at 45 So. Springfield Ave. Sales began Saturday following the 5:30 p.m. Mass and Sunday following the 8 a.m. Mass.

Korn slated for TV show

KENILWORTH—Kenilworth resident Frank J. Korn will appear on "The Joe Franklin Show" on Channel 9 at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

A frequent guest on the nationally syndicated, early morning program, Korn will discuss his latest book, "The Story of St. Patrick."

He first appeared on the show last January and has been on several times since, discussing his three books about Rome and the Vatican and his interviews with the last three Roman Catholic Popes.

Korn is chairman of the foreign languages department at Irvington High School and a professor at the County College of Morris. He and his wife, Camille, have three sons, Frank Jr., Ronald and John.

Memorial service set by Elks Lodge

KENILWORTH—An annual memorial service for members who have died this year will be held by the Union Elks Lodge 1585 on Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Elks Lodge, 281 Chestnut St., Union.

The Elks will hold a Christmas Party for crippled children on Dec. 11 at 12:30 p.m. in the lodge.

Any parent of a handicapped child up to the age of 10 and who lives in Union, Kenilworth, Roselle or Roselle Park who would like to sit and may call 608-1583 after 7:30 p.m. for information.

Santa plans visit

KENILWORTH—The Kenilworth Girl Scouts will sponsor a visit by Santa Claus at the Community Methodist Church, Boulevard, Saturday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission to see Santa will be a knitted clothing item, such as mittens, gloves, scarves or hats.

CARE court case remains up in air

SPRINGFIELD—The CARE versus the Springfield Board of Education case has been in the Office of Administrative Law in Newark for over a week now and it appears a decision will not be reached for quite a while.

However, Superior Court Judge Stephen G. Weiss has recommended that a private meeting be held between the board and C.A.R.E. members to try and reach a settlement. That meeting is expected to take place Tuesday.

Testimony has been heard by board members, residents, Dr. Leonard Di Giovanni, the board secretary, and Dr. Fred Baruchin, superintendent of schools. C.A.R.E. concluded its case Tuesday.

FAMILY ICE SKATING NIGHT—The Mountaintop Recreation Commission has reserved the Wanamco Ice Rink in Elizabeth from 6 to 8 p.m. Saturday exclusively for borough residents. Admission is free, and skate rentals are available at the rink. For additional information, call the recreation office, 232-0015.

Sons of Italy slates 1st election

KENILWORTH—The response of area residents to formation of a Sons of Italy Lodge has been successful in establishing the Lodge. Election of officers will take place next Thursday evening, Dec. 8.

That was the word from Dante Sarabbi, Esq., president of the State Grand Lodge, Order Sons of Italy in America.

The 8:30 p.m. session at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Garwood, is also open to any men and women who want to be part of the new Lodge, or who wish additional information on this, the oldest and largest fraternal organization of Americans of Italian descent.

"Order Sons of Italy is unique in that it is the only fraternal organization eligible for membership and also because we were among the first fraternal organizations to admit women on every level of participation," noted Sarabbi. "In fact, many Lodges are headed by women, and they hold key state and national posts."

Among those who have signed up for membership in the Garwood area are residents of Kenilworth, Dumont and Cranford, in addition to those from Garwood itself. Anyone from Union County is eligible to join if they meet the other qualifications noted above.

Persons interested in learning more about the new Lodge may call Phyllis Baldaucini at 241-5209; Steve Napolitano at 789-0914; International official San Fumosa at 731-3325; Ann Madorme at 272-7287; Rosalie Becco at 925-8150; or Ida Keszowski at 925-1443.

Among the major causes supported by Order Sons of Italy are the March of Dimes fight against birth defects, the Arthritis Foundation, relief for southern Italy earthquake victims, and a scholarship fund to assist college-bound students from New Jersey.

Puppet show slated

KENILWORTH—The Elizabeth Area Library Puppeteers will present a puppet show for children of all ages on Dec. 9 at 3:30 p.m. in the community room of the Kenilworth Public Library.

No registration is necessary. Jack and the Beanstalk and Three Billy Goats Gruff will be featured.

Fundraising drive is launched for the new senior citizens bus

SPRINGFIELD—A fundraising drive to purchase a new bus must come from the private sector. The state has allocated some funding, but it's less than half the amount we need to make the purchase," said Mrs. Seal.

Rebecca Seal, Springfield senior citizens coordinator, said that most of the funds for the new bus must come from the private sector. "The state has allocated some funding, but it's less than half the amount we need to make the purchase," said Mrs. Seal.

Helen Geller presenting a one-woman art show

SPRINGFIELD—Helen Geller, a resident of Springfield, is presenting a one-woman show at the Library of the Chatham, 214 Main Street, Chatham. The Friends of the Library will host an open house for the artist on Sunday from 2:15 p.m. to 4 p.m. Her exhibition includes portraits, landscapes and still-lives using a variety of media.

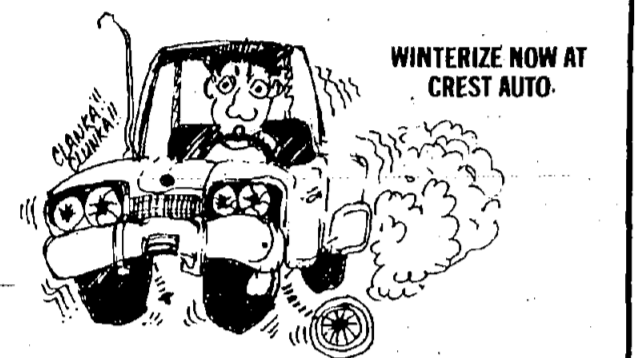

She has been awarded first place for her artwork at the West Hudson Community Arts Festival, the 18th Annual Plainfield Festival of Art, the Irvington State Show, the Kenilworth State Show, the Union Festival on the Green, the Metuchen Cultural Art Show, the Westfield Art Show, and the Clark Art Association Show. She has also been awarded best in show at the Hillside Creative Art Show.

Geller is a member of the American Artists Professional League and teaches art at Union County College.

BUS DONATION—Mike Alper, left, presents the first donation for a new senior citizens bus to senior citizens coordinator Rebecca Seal. Joining them is Alper Civic Association president Frank Florio. The civic group is organizing the fundraising drive. Donations may be sent to Springfield Senior Citizens, P.O. Box 675, Springfield, 07081.

Raid the cookie jar,

cut the mattress,

have a garage sale,

but open a Howard IRA.

A Howard IRA is the simplest way imaginable to get a tax deduction up to $2,000 now while saving for your retirement.

Why you should open a Howard IRA.

Anyone with earned income who is under age 70½ can open an IRA. So whatever it takes to put the money aside, it's worth it. You save on taxes now while preparing for a secure retirement later. If you're employed and your spouse isn't, you can contribute up to $2,000 in your name and $250 in your spouse's name for a total tax deduction of $2,250. If both husband and wife are employed, each can contribute up to $2,000 to an IRA and deduct up to $4,000 on their joint tax return. What's more, all IRA earnings are federally tax-deferred until you retire when you'll most likely be in a lower tax bracket.

So raid your cookie jar, cut your mattress or have a garage sale. But open an IRA at the Howard. You'll be glad you did.

Lourdes starts special Mass for 25th year

Our Lady of Lourdes Roman Catholic Church, Mountaine, will open a year-long observance of its 25th anniversary with a celebrated Mass Sunday at noon. Priests, who were on the staff of the parish in the past will accompany the pastor, Mr. Raymond J. Pollard, and associates in celebrating the Mass. The Rev. Gerard Mc Garry, the founding pastor, will deliver the homily. An informal reception, to which all are invited, will be held in the parish auditorium after the Mass.

The year's celebration will close with a celebrated Mass Nov. 18, 1984. The Mass will be followed by a dinner dance at the Clinton Manor, Union. Throughout the year, all events sponsored by the parish organizations, will follow the silver jubilee theme.

The history of the church began when Mountaine was part of the parish of St. James Church, Springfield, from March 17, 1857. Mass was first offered by the priests of St. James at Deerfield School auditorium.

On Dec. 13, 1858, the Archdiocese of Newark established Our Lady of Lourdes Parish and appointed Father Mc Garry pastor. The church was dedicated and the cornerstone blessed on Sept. 9, 1861 by Archbishop Thomas Boland.

From an original 57 families in 1858, Our Lady of Lourdes has grown to 1,035 families in 1983.

HEALTHY START TO HOLIDAY—Albert Rothfeld of Springfield, left, lights the first candle of the Hanukkah season with Rabbi Shalom Gordon, chaplain of Newark Beth Israel Medical Center. Rothfeld recently underwent coronary bypass surgery performed by Dr. Victor Paronset, director of the Department of Surgery. His two cardiologists were his brothers, Edwin L. Rothfeld, director of the Heart Station and Medical Critical Care Unit, and Donald Rothfeld, director of the Invasive Cardiovascular Laboratory.

Springfield rabbis to talk of descent issue Sunday

Three views of the Patrilineal Descent issue will be discussed at a breakfast Sunday at 10:15 a.m. in Temple Sha'arey Shalom, Springfield.

Participating in the panel discussion will be Springfield spiritual leaders, Rabbi Reuben Levine of Temple Beth Ahim, Rabbi-Israel Turner of Congregation Israel and Rabbi Joshua Goldstein of Sha'arey Shalom.

The Patrilineal Descent Issue, which redefines the rights of "Who is a Jew," was adopted by the North American Reform Rabbis at their 34th annual convention of the Central Conference of American Rabbis this past March.

The Reform Rabbis passed a non-binding resolution, which "recognizes that children born of mixed marriages of Jewish and non-Jewish parents are Jewish from birth and do not have to convert to Judaism. This decision runs counter to centuries of old Jewish law which recognizes the rights of children born to Jewish mothers as being Jewish, but contends that children of non-Jewish mothers and Jewish fathers are non-Jewish and must convert to Judaism if they so desire."

The program will be presented by the Sisterhood of Temple Sha'arey Shalom. A complimentary breakfast will be served before the discussion.

It was announced that reservations can be made by sending a request to the office of Sha'arey Shalom, South Springfield Avenue and Shunpike Road, Springfield, N. J., 07081.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 761-5663.

Special events are listed to benefit Union hospital

A carnival was featured recently at the annual ball of Memorial General Hospital, Union. More than 300 guests, including members of the hospital's board, medical staff, administration, employees and the community, attended.

"This year's ball," says Nadia Matkivsky, chairman, "combined the elegance of a black tie affair with the festivity of a carnival. It was the best we have ever had."

The event featured special effects including a Disneyland band and characters portraying everything from cavemen, royalty figures and clowns to jugglers, magicians and seers. Proceeds from the event have totalled about $20,000 and have been marked for the hospital's hospice program, which is being developed to attend to the special needs of the terminally ill.

Among the members of the 1983 ball were Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm Schwartz of Springfield, Joan Matthews of Mountainside and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Giacoma, Muriel Ehren and Dorothea Kusner, all of Union.

The Guild Association of the hospital has planned a number of benefit events, it was announced by Lisel Wadle, guild president. A special prize event will be held Dec. 15 with Bertha and Lena Weintraub as emcees.

The guild will feature holiday gift items at its Christmas bazaar and boutique Dec. 8 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the hospital lobby. Handicrafts and ornaments will be sold. Marge Kosmatus of Kenilworth is chairman.

A Christmas prize event will feature a pair of handcrafted ceramic angels with 24 carat gold trim and a ceramic Christmas plate. It was announced by Lola McCraith of Kenilworth, chairman. Proceeds will go toward the purchase of equipment for Memorial General's operating room.

Additional information can be obtained by calling the guild at 687-1990, ext. 2240.

Lox box event is set by group

Flo Okin Cancer Relief, Inc., will sponsor its annual lox box project Sunday under the direction of chairman, Roz Fink, Carol Sauer, Gail Stadlin of Springfield and Judy Epstein, Springfield, and Northeastern Bible College, where he received a B.A. degree in Biblical literature. He is listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges" and is employed by Howard Savings Bank, Livingston.

A summer 1984 wedding is planned.

The program will be presented by the Sisterhood of Temple Sha'arey Shalom. A complimentary breakfast will be served before the discussion.

It was announced that reservations can be made by sending a request to the office of Sha'arey Shalom, South Springfield Avenue and Shunpike Road, Springfield, N. J., 07081.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 761-5663.

Bazaar scheduled by Hadassah unit

An annual bazaar and benefit auction will be held by the Hillside Chapter of Hadassah Sunday at the Veterans War Memorial Building, Liberty Avenue, Hillside.

The benefit auction will be directed by Doris Leuz, and luncheon and snacks will be provided all day. It was announced by Miriam Korman, chairman.

Coordinators will be Pearl Randall and Dr. Alex Goldman of Springfield, Henrietta Golenberg and Arthur Hagler, presidents, will offer greetings. Mountainside can be reached by contacting Lois Kalish or Dr. Goldman.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 994-8446.

Dayton gridders fall short in upset bid

For the second straight year, Jonathan Dayton Regional High School football team outplayed state power Hillside. Unlike last year, however, the Bulldogs didn't come up with a victory.

Belenets on Stevens quintet

Senior Dan Belenets of Mountainide returns as a guard on the Stevens team. Coach Wally Whittaker, who went through his first year as head coach last season, has the same cast of players to work with but should have greater success this year.

"On paper our schedule looks more reasonable but who knows, teams improve every year," he said. "The Tech backcourt will be handled by two sophomores—Dan Bronson and Jim Clinton. They both had good freshman seasons and have benefited from a year's experience. They averaged about five points a game, but when playing at home they showed more of their depth chart has changed. The Ducks have 10 solid players and practiced after a fall of soccer. Also back from last year's squad is sophomore Carey Krueger who scored almost 10 points a game with accurate outside shooting.

Junior Dean Stragalis, a leader from Union, will also see action. "I am disappointed," said the Bulldog mentor. "I said we would finish at 5-0, but we didn't do that." But he couldn't complain about his team's effort against Hillside. Despite being outweighted by an average of over 30 pounds a man, on the line, Dayton rushed for 205 yards, with Brett Walsh rushing chalking up 92 yards on 12 carries for one touchdown, with Rob Martignetti gaining 73 on 17 attempts.

Sports this week

Hillside went ahead, 12-7, in the third period as Curtis Oida broke a short pass into a 65-yard gain to set up running back Keith Malaard's three-yard touchdown run. Malaard gained 104 yards to go over 1,000 for the season.

before halftime when Walsh scooped 28 yards for a touchdown after quarterback Rich Policastro was hit and fumbled just before he was to pitch back to Walsh, who alertly picked up the ball.

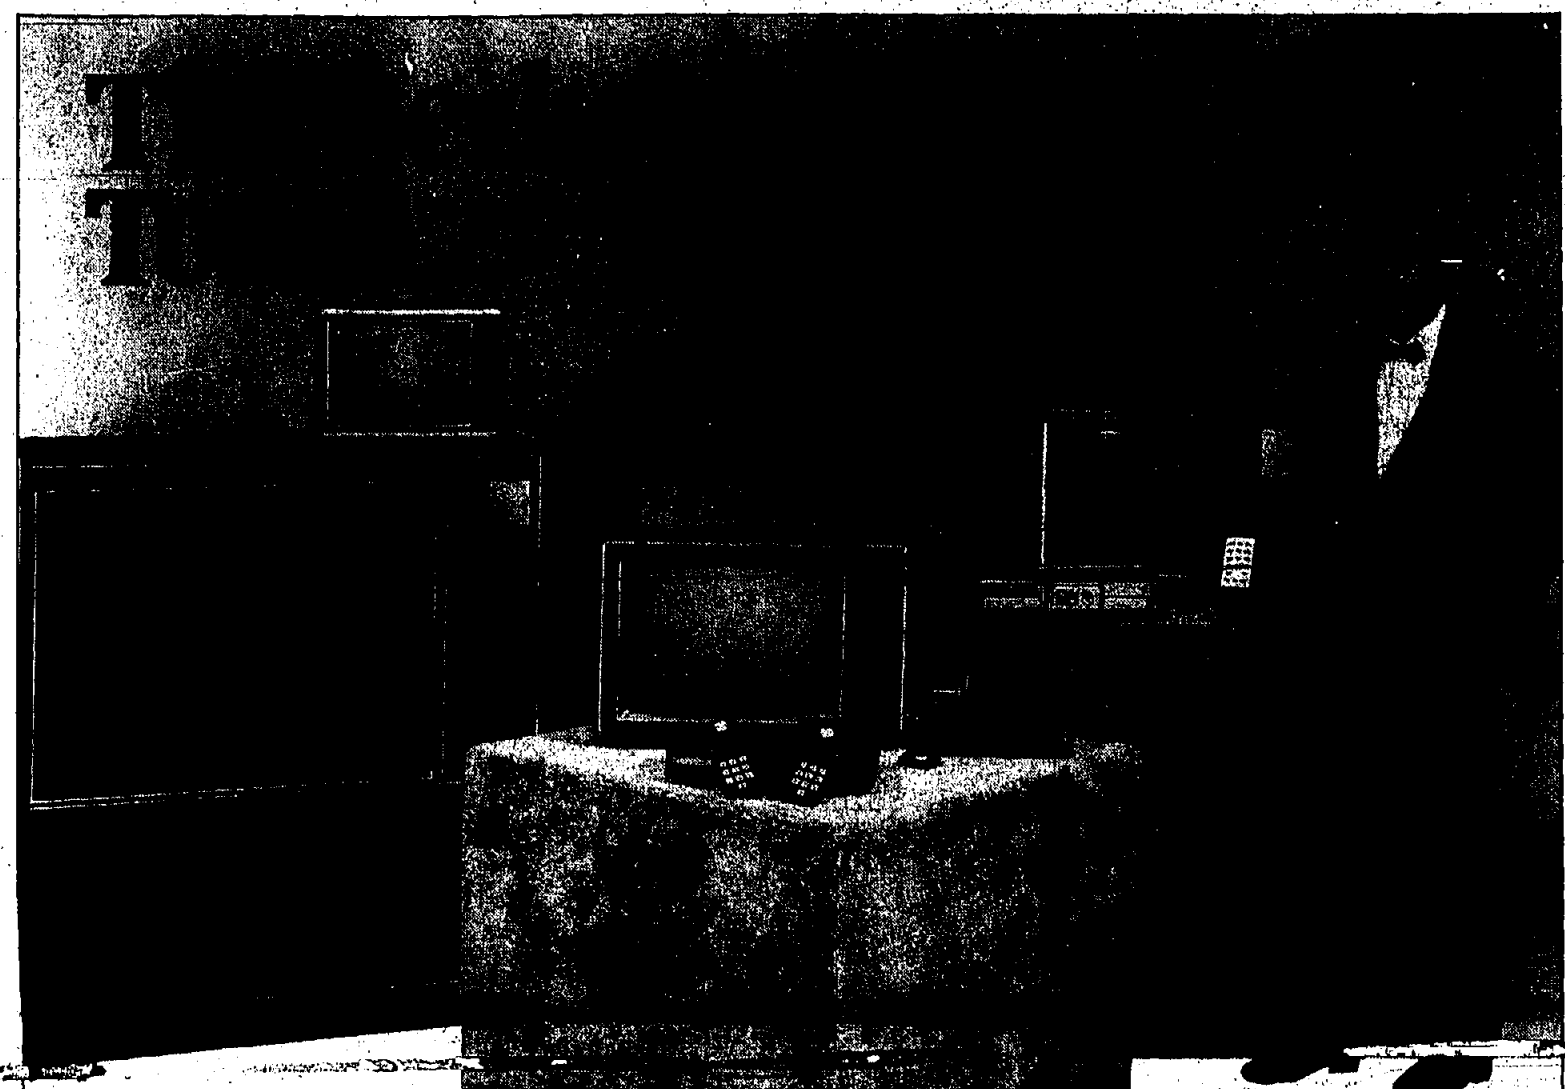

Hillside went ahead, 12-7, in the third period as Curtis Oida broke a short pass into a 65-yard gain to set up running back Keith Malaard's three-yard touchdown run. Malaard gained 104 yards to go over 1,000 for the season.

It wasn't much later that Dayton made its three threats at the Hillside goal line. "We got a first down on their four," said Policastro. "They couldn't control our option attack. But we couldn't get it. We had two on one on third down, but their defender tackled our man. On fourth down, I thought our runner had an opening, but it closed fast."

In Dayton's two other threats, the Bulldogs failed to get close after having first downs at the 11. On all eight plays in those two threats, Dayton kept the ball on the ground.

"We just couldn't pass against Hillside," explained Policastro. "Their defenders were all over the football when it went into the air." As for attempting field goals, the Dayton coach felt the rainy, muddy conditions would have a deleterious effect. He pointed out Hillside missed a short field goal attempt in the opening quarter.

3 Rec sports will conduct registration

The Springfield Recreation Department has scheduled registrations for its youth basketball, adult basketball, and gymnastics programs. Registration for youth basketball will be Saturday, 1 p.m., at the following locations: Small Fry League (third and fourth grades), James Caldwell School gym; State League (fifth and sixth grades), Gaudineer School girls gym; Ivy League (seventh and eighth grades) Gaudineer School, boys gym. There is a registration fee of $5. The adult basketball league for men 18 and over will hold registration next Thursday, Dec. 8, 8 to 9 p.m. at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School boys' gym. Teams will be formed and open play will be from 9 to 10 p.m. The gymnastics registration will be held Tuesday, 7-9 p.m., at the Gaudineer School girls gym. The program is open to all Springfield youth in the fourth through eighth grades with a $5 registration fee.

BREAKING THROUGH HOLE—Jonathan Dayton Regional High School ballcarrier Brett Walsh breaks through hole in line against Hillside Thanksgiving Day. Walsh rushed for over 90 yards and a touchdown, but it wasn't enough as the Bulldogs bowed to the host Comets, 18-7. Loss reversed an upset win over Hillside in 1982. (Photo by John Boutsikaris)

Christianson named aide for UCC girls

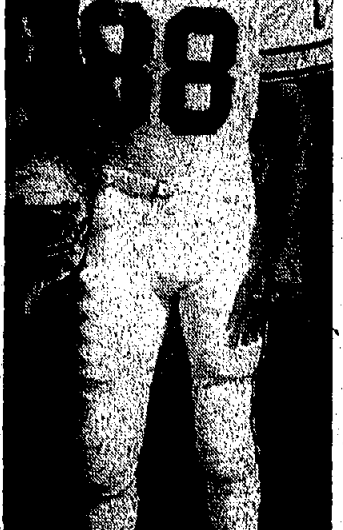

Rich Christianson of Union has been appointed assistant women's basketball coach at Union County College, it was announced by Irwin "Wynn" Phillips, athletic director. Christianson replaces T.C. Flynn of Roselle, who resigned because of a job relocation. "Rich is one of the best scouts and individual teachers I have ever had the pleasure of knowing," Fred Perry, Union County College's women's basketball coach, said.

Christianson, who was the assistant varsity and head junior varsity coach for the women's basketball teams at St. Peter's College in Jersey City, has also coached in the Amateur Athletic Union program and has worked at the Blue Star Basketball Camps in Towson, Md., one of the top basketball camps in the area.

In Amateur Athletic Union competition, Christianson's teams, in the 16 and under division, have won five of the past six state championships. "I enjoy working with the women's program because the athletes are more coachable and more willing to listen and learn," the new assistant said.

A graduate of Barringer High School in Newark and a former student at St. Peter's College in Jersey City, Christianson also works for Barchart Company in Newark as a sales representative. The new assistant coach learned his coaching skills while working with the St. Helena CYO team in Westfield.

"I have always enjoyed the women's game," the coach added. The Union County College women's basketball team opens its season tomorrow at home against Jessesborough Community College of New York. The Lady Owls finished last season with a record of 19-10. All home games will be played in the Campus Center, on the Cranford Campus, and open to the public free of charge.

Rosasco earns Region 19 honor as a defender for UCC soccer

Three Union County College soccer players have been named to the all-Region 19, National Junior College Athletic Association team. Ed Sakiewicz of Linden was named to the first team, while Oscar Nieto of Rahway and Otto Rosasco of Springfield were selected to the second team.

Union County College finished with a record of 11-7-1 after dropping out of the Region 19 tournament in the semifinals. They were knocked out in a 2-1 triple overtime loss to Brookdale Community College. "Sakiewicz scored the Owl's lone goal, his eighth of the season. The sophomore midfielder also added 12 assists. "Ed has all the tools to play soccer," said UCC Coach Tom Durkin of Roselle.

"He has the power, speed and skill to be a very good player," Nieto, a freshman midfielder, is attending UCC on a foundation scholarship. The biology major scored two goals while assisting on 10 others this fall. "Oscar has great ability and tremendous talent and skill," said Durkin. Rosasco, who served as team captain, was a mainstay in the Owl defense. The sophomore from Dayton Regional played the sweeper position this year. The computer science major was complemented by Durkin for his job as captain and team leader.

Brearley is 'Bury-ed' by Gov. Livingston

Riddled by injuries, the David Brearley Regional High School football team was "bury-ed" by Governor Livingston Thanksgiving Day.

Brearley bowed to its district rival from Berkeley Heights, 29-6, to close out a disappointing season with three straight lopsided setbacks and a 3-5-1 record. With several regulars sidelined due to injury, the Bears proved no match for GL, which posted a surprise winning season.

GL quarterback Mike Bury proved to be too much for Brearley. Bury tossed for 139 yards and three touchdowns to spark his club. GL scored its scorebook first in the opening quarter when John McDermott booted a 20-yard field goal. In the second period, GL took command behind the throwing of Bury. The GL signalcaller connected on a 31-yard touchdown strike to Anthony DiMuzio and a 20-yard scoring aerial to Chris Finley. These two touchdowns tossed lifted GL into a 15-0 lead at halftime.

GL put the contest out of reach in the third period when Bury connected on his third scoring strike, a 15-yard pass to Nick Scavina. McDermott, after missing the previous two extra points, hit to give Berkeley Heights a 22-0 lead. Brearley scored its only points in the third quarter when Dennis Miller ran for a three-yard touchdown. The leading ballcarrier for the Bears was Mike McSorley, who accumulated 58 yards on 11 carries.

GL scored its final touchdown in the fourth period when Tony D'Emilio ran three yards for the score. McDermott then added the extra point to make the final, 29-6. GL posted 241 yards in total offense from scrimmage. The Bears totaled 157 yards.

Yoggy boots for Susquehanna

Kirk Yoggy of Mountainide had two goals for the Susquehanna University soccer team that ended its 1983 season with a 6-7-2 mark. The Crusaders fared a bit better in the Middle Atlantic Conference by compiling a 5-6-4 record.

Leading scorers for Susquehanna were forwards Jeff Stolling and Tim Kinella. Stolling, a junior, and Kinella, a sophomore, each scored three goals while forward sophomore Yoggy added two.

Greg Cordasco, was Susquehanna's goalie, making 112 saves, an average of one per goal, while allowing only 14 goals or one goal per game.

He is a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Senior Center

By ADA BRUNNER
A bill that is of particular interest to senior citizens has been reported out of committee in the State Assembly. The measure would make millions in casino funds available for transportation services for the elderly and handicapped. The bill (A-3018), which is similar to a measure being considered by the state Senate, has received the unanimous backing of the Assembly Committee on Transportation and Communication. It would appropriate $5 million from the Casino Revenue Fund in the first year, $20 million in the second year and 15 percent in each subsequent year.

Of the total, 25 percent would go to New Jersey Transit to help make its facilities more accessible to the handicapped. This could include installation of lifts and ramps. The remaining 75 percent would go to the counties for their own programs, which could include such services as fixed-route or door-to-door transportation and fare subsidies.

For those who work with the aged, a series of training sessions is being offered by the Gerontology Center of Keap College of New Jersey in cooperation with the Union County Division on Aging.

The programs are being presented on the Kean campus on Morris Avenue in Union. "Identifying the Power Structure in the Community" will be the subject of a session to be held in the O'Meara Auditorium, Hutchinson Hall, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow.

Home ec group plans program

Officers and committee chairpersons of the Union-Somerset Chapter of the New Jersey Home Economics Association met recently at president Fran Hickman's home in Westfield to make program plans for 1984. The first meeting open to the general membership will be held next March and will be conducted as a town meeting. Officers and directors said they want to provide the kinds of programs and direction desired and needed by the membership.

The programs are being presented on the Kean campus on Morris Avenue in Union. "Fund Raising Techniques" will be discussed at another session to be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Dec. 16 at Downs Hall.

Planned Parenthood observing anniversary

Planned Parenthood of Union County Area is celebrating its 50th year of service as a voluntary, non-profit family planning health agency this year.

In 1933, the nearest birth control clinic was in Newark. Initial family planning services in the Union County area consisted of carpooling women to the Newark clinic.

Fifty years ago, in July 1933, the first clinic in Union County opened in Plainfield. Since then, growth has necessitated relocating five times. The most recent move was in December 1982 to expanded quarters at 203 Park Avenue in Plainfield.

Service for the first 33 years was concentrated in the western end of the county. In May 1966 the first clinic was opened in Elizabeth in the port area, serving the eastern end of the county, but rising demand has required the Elizabeth clinic to move twice since then. In March of 1982, the facility relocated in the downtown area of Elizabeth at 1195 E. Grand Street.

The intervening years also saw the establishment of family planning services in Middlesex County. At first the service was a branch of Planned Parenthood of Union County Area, operating out of Middlesex General Hospital. In 1972 Middlesex became a separate affiliate.

Today, Planned Parenthood of Union County has a professional staff of registered nurses and gynecologists who provide a range of services that includes medical exams, contraceptive education and supplies, venereal disease testing, pregnancy testing, cancer screening, counseling, community education, and referrals as needed to other agencies. Bilingual services are also available.

Last year Planned Parenthood provided 3,430 women counseling and medical and social services.

Further information is available from Planned Parenthood in Plainfield at 756-3736 or in Elizabeth at 351-5384.

October comes close to a soggy record

Union County residents experienced one of the soggiest Octobers on record this year, according to weather data released through Union County College's Cooperative Weather Station.

Total precipitation measured 6.22 inches, the second greatest total October precipitation on station records, according to Prof. Raymond J. Daly of Watchung, station director. The highest total precipitation for October on station records is 8.33 inches recorded in 1976. Last month's high rainfall on record at the station was 37 inches in 1963.

Total precipitation from January through October 1983 now stands at 53.84 inches, compared with only 36.18 inches of rainfall measured through the same period last year. The cumulative precipitation amount for the first 10 months of 1983 is the greatest total precipitation through October in the last eight years, according to station records. The cooperative weather station has been keeping records since 1960. The greatest total precipitation through October is 56.33 inches, recorded by the weather station in 1975.

There were 10 days with measurable rainfall during the month, seven of them with 10 inches or more. The greatest amount of rain to fall in a 24-hour period was 2.21 inches on Oct. 24.

Temperature-wise, October 1983 was only slightly warmer than is normal for the tenth month of the year. The maximum temperature for the month was 83 degrees recorded on both Oct. 4 and 5. The minimum temperature was a chilly 24 degrees gauged on Oct. 31.

The highest temperature for October is 87 degrees recorded in 1979, while the lowest temperature on record for the month is 22 degrees recorded in 1974, 1977 and 1982.

The mean temperature last month was 55.20 degrees, one-tenth of a degree higher than normal for October. October 1982 was slightly warmer with a mean temperature of 56.09 degrees, .99 of a degree above normal temperatures for the month.

The maximum average temperature was 65.74 degrees while the minimum average was 44.67 degrees. The highest daily average temperature was 69.5 degrees on Oct. 13. The lowest daily average temperature was 41 degrees on Oct. 30.

The most humid day of last month was Oct. 1 when relative humidity was measured at 100 percent. The driest day of the month was Oct. 22 when humidity was gauged at 57 percent. The average relative humidity per day for October 1983 was 76.38 percent.

No hunting allowed within the county

Union County Department of Parks and Recreation spokesmen this week reminded area residents that no hunting is allowed in any of the county's 21 municipalities.

The only shooting facility in the county is the trap and skeet range at Lenape Park in Cranford, open weekends for tournaments and practice shooting. Additional information is available from the parks department, 527-4900.

Planned Parenthood of Union County Area is celebrating its 50th year of service as a voluntary, non-profit family planning health agency this year.

In 1933, the nearest birth control clinic was in Newark. Initial family planning services in the Union County area consisted of carpooling women to the Newark clinic.

Fifty years ago, in July 1933, the first clinic in Union County opened in Plainfield. Since then, growth has necessitated relocating five times. The most recent move was in December 1982 to expanded quarters at 203 Park Avenue in Plainfield.

Service for the first 33 years was concentrated in the western end of the county. In May 1966 the first clinic was opened in Elizabeth in the port area, serving the eastern end of the county, but rising demand has required the Elizabeth clinic to move twice since then. In March of 1982, the facility relocated in the downtown area of Elizabeth at 1195 E. Grand Street.

The intervening years also saw the establishment of family planning services in Middlesex County. At first the service was a branch of Planned Parenthood of Union County Area, operating out of Middlesex General Hospital. In 1972 Middlesex became a separate affiliate.

Today, Planned Parenthood of Union County has a professional staff of registered nurses and gynecologists who provide a range of services that includes medical exams, contraceptive education and supplies, venereal disease testing, pregnancy testing, cancer screening, counseling, community education, and referrals as needed to other agencies. Bilingual services are also available.

Last year Planned Parenthood provided 3,430 women counseling and medical and social services.

Further information is available from Planned Parenthood in Plainfield at 756-3736 or in Elizabeth at 351-5384.

History society receives award for restoration

The Clark Historical Society has won a national award for its work in state and local history.

The society, located at 303 Westfield Ave., won a certificate of commendation for the restoration of the Dr. William Robinson Plantation Museum.

The American Association for State and Local History conferred the awards at its annual meeting in Victoria, British Columbia.

A national selection committee, composed of leaders in the history profession, reviewed 143 nominations. Thirty-seven awards of merit and 55 certificates of commendation were awarded to individuals, institutions, and historical organizations across the United States and Canada.

Nominations originate at the local level and are screened at the state and regional levels by a national network of judges. Only those nominations approved in these preliminary competitions are considered for national honors.

The American Association for State and Local History, headquartered in Nashville, Tenn., has given awards to local historians and historical agencies since 1944. A nonprofit educational organization with a membership of more than 8,000 individuals and institutions, AASLH works in the field of local history in the United States and Canada.

Agency recruiting young people to take part in 'Job Connection'

The Union County Youth Service Bureau is recruiting out-of-school youth between the ages of 16-21 who meet the income guidelines of the Federal Jobs Training Partnership Act for an intensive program called "The Job Connection."

Running through June 30, 1984, the program has the capacity to provide up to 75 youths at one time with assessment, training, work experience and job placement.

"The Job Connection" is being operated by the bureau in cooperation with the Union County Technical Institute and is targeted to serve economically disadvantaged youth. Participants will be involved in an initial vocational evaluation and assessment phase, which will help them establish realistic vocational goals. They will then select a hands-on training experience in one of five supervised work environments at the institute: food service, maintenance, auto repair, mechanics, horticulture-landscaping, and photo-typesetting.

Application for this program may be made by calling the Youth Service Bureau at 245-1230 and asking for "The Job Connection." Youths must be prepared to supply the following documents: social security card, birth certificate, proof of income, proof of residence, and proof of Selective Service registration for males over 18.

Arts grants awarded to groups, individuals

The Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs has announced the award of project grants to 15 Union County arts organizations and artists through funding made available by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts. A wide variety of professional and grass-roots activities will receive support.

The Westminster Dance Theater, Elizabeth, will offer a series of lecture-demonstrations combining live performances of classical and contemporary dance with dialogue to stimulate students of all ages. It will receive a grant of $705.

The Scotch Plains Cultural Arts Committee will mount a production of the original musical comedy, "Merri Olde New England," by two Scotch Plains residents, Mr. and Mrs. Skip Ungar, adapted to become a part of the Scotch Plains Tercentennial. It has been awarded $676.

The Young Men's and Young Women's Hebrew Association, Union, will organize an international choral group, composed of older adults and children. The group will meet at the Y on Green Lane, and plans to put on a musical program for the community. Its grant is $600.

Community Opera of New Jersey, Springfield, plans productions of "La Traviata," "Pagliacci" and "Cavalleria Rusticana," fully staged with professional lead singers, chorus, and orchestra. It has been awarded $657.

The Choral Art Society of New Jersey, Westfield, will hire professional musicians to accompany the chorus in a performance of Schutz motets and the Brahms "German Requiem" on Jan. 21, 1984. It has been granted $700.

The Creative Art Group of Cranford will invite the public to visit three Union County professional artists in their studios to see them at work. Printmaker Bunny Jackson, sculptor Gladys Reimers, and water colorist Rose Marie Gatto will demonstrate their techniques for visitors. The group will receive $253.

Visual artist Donald P. Lokuta of Union will produce a series of photographic portraits transformed into video images, reprinted on mural size photographic paper and tinted with oil pigments. He has been awarded $334.

The Suburban Symphony Society of New Jersey, Cranford, will conduct a program called "Introduction to the Orchestra" to make children ages nine to 12 more aware of the existence and nature of classical music, and to encourage them in the study of music.

The Union County Department of Parks and Recreation is planning its 1984 Summer Arts Festival. The grant will help hire professional musicians.

Christmas sale will be held by New Eyes on Saturday

New Eyes for the Needy Inc. will hold its Christmas jewelry and silver sale Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at New Eyes headquarters, 549 Millburn Ave., Short Hills.

Items being offered for sale, all donated by friends of the organization, include antique size jewelry, watches, silver holloware and flatware, rings with precious and semi-precious stones and other gift items.

Proceeds will be used to purchase prescription glasses for the needy in the United States and to help provide better sight for the medically indigent throughout the world.

Ridgway named president of County Hospital Society

David M. Ridgway, president and chief executive officer of Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, recently was elected president of the Union County Hospital Society.

A graduate of Western Michigan University, Ridgway received his master's degree in health care administration from George Washington University.

Other officers elected at the annual meeting include first vice president, Victor J. Frestone, president and chief executive officer Memorial General Hospital, Union, and second vice president, Thomas J. Foley, president and chief executive officer, Overlook Hospital, Summit.

The Union County Hospital Society was founded in 1970.

Members are Alexian Brothers Hospital, Elizabeth; Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside; Elizabeth General Hospital, Elizabeth; Memorial General Hospital, Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield; Overlook Hospital, Rahway Hospital; St. Elizabeth Hospital, Elizabeth; Fair Oaks Hospital, Summit, and John E. Rannels Hospital of Union County, Berkeley Heights.

singers and dancers for one or two of its free concerts in this annual program. The grant is $1,500.

The Westfield Community Band will also use its funding to support a series of free concerts, with five in Mindowaskin Park and others at area hospitals and convalescent centers. It will receive $700.

Solid Brass, a 10-piece brass ensemble based in Philadelphia, will premiere new works by New Jersey composers Carl Della Peruti and Davi Sampson in a concert planned for later this year. It has been awarded $675.

The Free Public Library of Elizabeth will present "Classic Films of Classic Works," a film festival of feature-length films based on the books of some of the world's greatest authors. It will receive $515.

Union County College will also present a film series, titled "Before You Can Say Jack Robinson: Black Baseball in New Jersey in the Era of the Color Line 1885-1950." A speaker series and exhibit of photographs and memorabilia will round out the program. The grant is $740.

Temple Shalom, Plainfield, will offer a spring concert of baroque music, featuring the New York Concertino Ensemble, a chamber orchestra of Russian emigres, in a benefit performance for the National Conference on Soviet Jewry. It has been awarded $473.

M.U.S.I.C. Inc., of Plainfield, will hold a concert of Romantic part songs by Schubert, Schumann, Brahms, Loewe, and Silcher, on April 28, at Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, Plainfield. It will receive $405.

The award of these grants is part of the state/county partnership program of the New Jersey State Council on the Arts. Awards are made annually to support new projects in the arts, selected by the Union County Cultural and Heritage Programs Advisory Board and administered by the county's Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs.

Unicorn plans two musicals at Tri-County

The Unicorn Productions Musical Theater of Plainfield has announced that it will present a "musical celebration" called "Lyrically Speaking" Dec. 9, 10, 16 and 17 at 8:30 p.m., and a Children's Theater musical, "The Adventures of the Country Mouse," Saturday, Sunday, Dec. 10, 11, 17 and 18 at 1 and 3:30 p.m.

"Lyrically Speaking" will be directed by Larry Rothweiler Jr. and David Goldstein. Among the performers will be Bill Perlach of Linden. Perlach was featured in a 16-week tour of the Busch Gardens Entertainment Corp. He also was featured in "Hats Off to Hollywood," "The Old Country," "Hats Off to Busch Gardens" and "Raz-matazz." He is in the premiere production of the Forum Theater Group of Metuchen musical, "Merrily We Roll Along." His other stage credits include work with Unicorn in "Snoopy," "The Robber Bridegroom" and "Grease."

"Country Mouse," written by Feather Schwartz, is directed by Norman Krisburg.

Tickets for both musicals can be purchased at the playhouse at 116 Watching Ave. (the Tri-County Arts Center, Plainfield), or by calling 757-7070.

Dickens 'Carol' set to Dec. 24

Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" is being staged through Dec. 24 at 8 p.m. (with the exception of Saturday) at the Actors Cafe Theater, in residence at 2300 N. Orange, Franklin and Freemont streets, Bloomfield.

This is the sixth production of the play at Cafe Theater. David G. Kennedy, producer-director, will again play Scrooge. Preceding the performance will be a reading of Dylan Thomas' "A Child's Christmas in Wales" by Kennedy.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 429-7662.

Concert series books violinist

Pinchas Zukerman, violinist, will perform Dec. 8 at 8 p.m. in Temple B'nai Abraham, Livingston. The Israeli-born musician will appear as part of the "Celebration of the Stars," a series commemorating the congregation's 130th anniversary.

Zukerman, who is music director of the St. Paul Chamber Orchestra, will continue performing during a 1983-1984 tour of the United States.

The spring schedule of performances will include comedian Robert Klein, March 24, 1984, and pianist Alicia de Larrocha, April 26.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 994-2290.

Disc & Data

By Milt Hammer

Pick of the LPs, "You and I," by O'Bryan (Capitol Records).

O'Bryan Burnett II was born Dec. 5, 1961, just 12 days before the Marvelette's "Please Mr. Postman" hit the top of the charts and began the Motown dynasty. O'Bryan started to play the piano at age six during a time when the Beatles were showing the world the instrumental possibilities of popular music. He started to sing a year later when groups such as the Fifth Dimension and Jackson 5 revealed the beauty of vocal harmonizing. And in 1979, O'Bryan started to write his own songs just as Parliament/Funkadelic were setting the world aflame with funk. In 1982, he synthesized all of those influences in his debut album, "Doin' Alright." Now 23-year-old O'Bryan has gone a step further to forge a powerful and distinctive musical style all his own on the new album, "You and I."

Although O'Bryan's mother was an accomplished vocalist in the local church in the Burnettes' hometown Sneads Ferry, N. C., she did not attempt to influence her son to sing. It just came naturally. O'Bryan won first prize in local talent contests sponsored by his elementary school and in consecutive years for his rendition of "Bon" and "With a Child's Heart."

In 1973, while R&B music made a return to Philadelphia on the east coast, the Burnette family went to Santa Ana, Calif. O'Bryan concentrated on developing his piano playing and though he stopped vocalizing in public, he was still a "singing bird, just hanging around the poles outside the school and airing it out."

Fortunately, his talents did not go unrecognized, and the director of the Young Adult Choir of the Second Baptist Church encouraged O'Bryan to join as a featured vocalist.

In 1978, O'Bryan made his debut in a southern California club, singing the male lead in the duet, "The Closer I Get To You." The response was overwhelmingly positive, inspiring O'Bryan to begin writing his own material to sing.

Last year O'Bryan was brought to the attention of Capitol Records by Don Cornelius, chief of the Soul Train Television Network. He recorded his debut album, "Doin' Alright," with Cornelius serving as executive producer on the project. The sessions were produced by a quartet of talented men, Ron Kelsey, Melvin Davis, Cornelius and O'Bryan.

O'Bryan wrote most of the music on the album, sang all lead and background vocals and played keyboards and synthesizers.

The first singing from "Doin' Alright" was the runaway R&B and dance smash, "The Gigolo." Though racy lyrics raised a few eyebrows, O'Bryan insists, "It's just about guys in general. I wrote the song right after I saw the film, 'American Gigolo.'"

On his new "You And I" album, O'Bryan sets new standards for himself and shows remarkable growth after just one year as producer/artist and singer/composer. O'Bryan's "Together Always" has the airy majesty of a love song that could become a classic.

Kean vocalists are featured in Yule Oratorio

Vocalists from Kean College of New Jersey, Union, will present the first of three parts of Bach's Christmas Oratorio Dec. 7 at 8:30 p.m. in the Linden Methodist Church, North Wood Avenue. Tickets can be purchased at the door or by calling the music department at 527-2107. James Cullen, an assistant professor of music, will conduct the series of six cantata-like pieces.

Three groups of singers will comprise the ensemble at the church. They are the Kean College Choral, and the Kean College Concert Chorus (two student groups), and the Kean College Choral Society. The society includes alumni, faculty, staff and members of the community.

Solo performances will be given by Sharon Bloodgood, Donald Meehan, Robert Pelaez, Joseph Sheehan, Adrian Torral, Mary Calandriello, Barton Deckert, Sue Indick of Mountainside, Alfred Moreton, Joel Grow, Eileen McGloin and Dr. Herbert Samenfeld, chairman of the psychology department at Kean College.

The Kean Choral Society, formerly known as the New Jersey Chapter of the Riedale Choral Society, also is directed by Cullen.

The three-parts of the oratorio are from the first three festive days of Christmas. The six parts are designed to be sung on the days between Christmas and Epiphany.

Actor from Vailsburg set for comedy at Seton Hall

The Celtic Theater Co., in residence at Seton Hall University, will present "Dear Liar" for five performances beginning Dec. 9. The two-act, biographical comedy, adapted from the correspondence between playwright George Bernard Shaw and the actress he "worshiped from afar," Mrs. Patrick Campbell, will star Brian Dowd of Vailsburg.

Dowd, a member of the Celtic Theater Company's executive board, has made on stage appearances with the group. He was seen recently as Maurice Browne in "Many Young Men in Twenty."

"Dear Liar" performances will continue in the Theater-in-the-Round of the South Orange campus Dec. 10, 16 and 17 at 8 p.m. with a special matinee performance on Dec. 11 at 3 p.m.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 761-9100 during business hours.

THE UNION HOFBRAU, located at 1252 Shuyesant Avenue, successfully combines good food, entertainment and atmosphere.

Oktoberfest, an event not to be missed

By TEDDI RUSSO

Oktoberfest, just a word? Absolutely not! It's a happening, as witnessed at the Union Hofbrau, an outstanding German restaurant located at 1252 Shuyesant Avenue in Union, for the past 18 yrs. From the moment you step inside the large, warm and comfortable dining room and meet Max, your host and one of the two owners of the Union Hofbrau, you realize these same adjectives can also be applied to him.

Although I've never been to Germany, my first impression was that this must be what an Inn there must look like. The wall hangings and plaques, the high beamed ceiling, the cheerful waitresses, each dressed in a different, characteristic costume, the tables covered with blue and white print tablecloths and lighted candles, all contribute to the atmosphere of truly being in Bavaria. Add to this the distinctive decorations, the flower wheels with their paper dolls and streamers and the festoons suspended from the rafters all around the room and you begin to get the feel of an Oktoberfest. And when the five piece Adler Family Band strikes up the music, with singing and yodeling, and the Bavarian Dancers come out to give a display of authentic folk dance, complete with thigh and ankle slapping, you know you're at an Oktoberfest!

In addition, the Union Hofbrau Trio alternates with the band to surround you with continuous entertainment. When the trombone player took to the floor to lead us in his Pied Piper march throughout the main restaurant, into the adjoining bar and back again, all to the strains of "The Happy Wanderer", I knew this was an event which must be experienced to be fully appreciated. The pleasure of this wonderful evening can best be summarized in one word, as we toasted each other several times during the evening, led by the Union Hofbrau Trio as they crowned yet another stein of beer — "Prost!" In fact, as they marched past our table the leader stopped to toast us personally...with our own beer! The entire atmosphere was one of gregarious warmth and revelry. Even the patrons, many of whom were as graceful and adept as the professional dancers, entertained us as well.

Now, you must be wondering if the food can match all this and my response is it can and it does. In a word, the food is "Wunderbar"! Starting with the Ochsenmaul Salad, a distinctive combination of thinly sliced pork tongue and cheek marinated to a turn, and marinated herring in sour cream, you know you're in the presence of authentic German cuisine. Max's partner, Gerhard, is the chef and what concoctions he creates. You must try his Fladchensuppe, (Huddle soup). It's a delicious cup of beef broth filled with shredded pancakes. My dinner partner had the onion soup AuGraton and declared it to be the best he'd tasted anywhere. We both chose braised veal with spaetzles, served in a luscious wine sauce good enough to dunk into. Served with red cabbage or sauerkraut and salad it made for a most satisfying entree. For dessert we had home made Apple Strudel and the best Black Forest cake I have ever sampled.

The prices are moderate considering the quality of the food, the surroundings and entertainment. Everything is ala carte. The veal was $10.75, the appetizers between $3.00 to $3.75, and dessert $2.50 to $2.75. The Union Hofbrau is open 7 days a week for lunch and dinner. They cater parties, banquets and private luncheons with a seating capacity of 180 to 200 people. There is free parking on the premises and across the street.

If you haven't attended this year's Oktoberfest, mark your calendar for next year. This is a treat not to be missed. In any event, each Saturday night throughout the year the Union Hofbrau Trio entertains and late in the evening Max himself takes to the bandstand and displays a lovely, soft crooning voice, with a delivery a la Dean Martin. Here, is a truly talented man, the consummate host, who not only greets you and makes you feel welcome but entertains you as well and most professionally. He puts on quite a show. Prost!
