A better way

When it comes to redistricting in New Jersey, one of two things is sure to happen: 1. If the governor's office and legislature are controlled by the same party, you get gerryman-2. If the governor's office and legislature are controlled by different parties, you get a veto. With the state locked into the second category, the long-standing squabble over creation of new congressional districts is continuing.

The plan pushed through by the Democratic majority under threat of a veto by Gov. Thomas Kean shows only minute changes from the old one which as we've said before — is a monstrosity.

Republicans have been pushing for a bipartisan commission to redistrict the state.

That is, despite its partisan source, a logical idea. Logical ideas, however, do not usually get very far with state legislators. The fate of this one is no dif-

As a result, the redistricting mess will end up in the courts, which will have to do the work that the state's elected officials should have done.

What's worse, it now seems likely that the whole business of redistricting will become another cliffhanger. January is almost half over; the filing deadline for candidates is in April. That means that candidates will have almost no time to plan for 1984 races. Even more important, voters will be left not only bewildered by district lines drawn at the last moment, but possibly so discouraged that they won't bother to go to the polls.

There is a better way. It's too bad that our legislators have been unable to find it.

Personally I believe it is time "to save the school system for the children" and not to air the personal animosities that the members of the hoard and their opponents have done. The majority of the Board of Education themselves in a malicious color

Let me remind those of you that read this, that if the will of the majority of the board is to reign supreme then the Board of Education majority are bound by no decisions except the ones that they make, and there is no appeal of what is right or wrong, for they have declared themselves the final judge! That majority that now sits on the board was elected on the strength of a metaphor. The word "Cause" was infused with life, creating a social Springfield, to be concise, it is a "Big City" political tactic that worked!! s the apathetic citizens who did not vote in the past two Board of Education elections that are to be criticized for not to sit on the board. Therefore we have only the metaphoric majority at sent. The non-voters are the true cause of the class neurosis that the residents of Springfield now pay for in hard 100,000 dollar bills, and the costs of long sleek limos usually reserved "for funerals" and the "out of sight rich." In

The keynote speaker will be Mary Berry, a member of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission who fought to keep her spot amid the controversial reorganization of that group. President Ronald Reagan tried to dismiss her last spring in order to replace her with his own appointee. While Berry and one_of_the other members filed suit to regain their seats, the issue sparked a power struggle between Congress and the President Berry kept her membership as a result of (Second of two parts) The increase in numbers of senior citizens — in the area, the state and the nation — brings with it an increase in the amount of medical care that is needed. But that care need not necessarily be in hospitals, according to the New Jersey-Hospital Association's Committee on Aging and Long Term Care. A report issued by the committee on "The Role of the Hospital in Serving its Elderly and Chronically III Population" persons in homes operated by the association's 78 member facilities. A handful of these homes are purely residential, but most also provide nursing service, he said.

The "facility of the future," however, will not be a "free-standing" nursing home, he predicted. "There needs to be coordination of services and it has to be under some central direction to make it work," he said.

Quoting a nursing home official who called alternatives to institutionalization "acuphemism for daughters," Hett said, "If you have middle aged daughters, you are going to be O.K. They will take care of you. But this type of care is croding."
Ruth Boer, president of the Home Health Assembly of New Jersey Inc.,

"We get the patient literally dumped on the home health agency because there is no place else to go," she said.

She added! however, that her major concern is "lack of communication" among health care agencies. "My biggest recommendation for every hospital is to talk to their communitybased agency," she said. "They are out there doing it...

Kenneth Dolland, executive director of the Home Care Council of New Jersey, predicted that home health care will change "dramatically" in the next decade or two.

"Studies have shown that the demand for health care by the elderly is extremely elastic," he said. "It is mainly governed by third party reim-

He called the existing home health care system "rather inefficient," explaining, "When you send a nurse or a doctor, a physical therapist or home health aide to visit one person in one home it is going to cost-a lot of money." To meet this problem, congregate living programs are "the only way to go," he said. "But until someone with more political clout than existing community agencies says we are going to go into that area, it is not going to happen.
