Traffic-weary residents keep up their pressure

By VICKI VREELAND
Dissatisfied by what they see as a lack of progress on the issue, a number of Briar Hills Circle residents attended Tuesday's Township Committee to protest the traffic conditions on their street.

The residents were told at the last township committee meeting two weeks ago that no major reforms were intended for their street. The township committee reported to the group of residents that they would not initiate any plans to close Possum Pass to a section off of Briar Hills Circle or make the street a one-way.

However, Mayor Philip Feinlich stated that he would authorize, "an increased police presence" on the street, to monitor the speed of traffic.

The Briar Hills group has been battling with the governing body for the past 18 months in its effort to take measures to alleviate the heavy volume of traffic that flows through the circle. Randolph Grossberg, a chief proponent of the group, maintains that the street, "is being abused as its functional classification."

Mountain Avenue. A short stretch, known as Possum Pass, connects it to Charles Street, Mountaineer. The majority of Possum Pass lies in Springfield, however, it crosses the Mountaineer dividing line.

The road is used by both local travelers and out-of-town residents as an alternate route to Mountaineer, allowing them to avoid a heavily congested section of Route 22 West.

The township committee met unproductively with Mountaineer officials to arrive at a joint solution to the traffic problem. In its decision to leave the road open, the committee weighed heavily the concerns of members of municipal emergency squads who feel that any type of street restriction would impede their rescue service.

Grossberg made a 10-minute videotape of traffic on two separate days which he showed the township committee Tuesday night. The tape showed a sizeable amount of traffic.

POTENTIAL DANGER—A potential safety hazard exists to school children who play on the parking lot at the Florence M. Gaudineer School. Making deliveries to the Board of Education offices, located behind the school, pass the playing children.

Playground safety, 'look-outs' are among school board topics

By VICKI VREELAND
Two school safety concerns — the potential danger posed to students by vehicles that use the parking/playground area behind Gaudineer School and the possible introduction of a district-wide "look-out" program for school-age children — were topics of discussion during the Springfield Board of Education's April 18 conference meeting.

In regard to the Gaudineer situation, board member Stuart Appolunam introduced an agenda item to request that the Union County Safety Coordinator inspect the school parking lot, and offer safety advice.

Schools Superintendent Fred Baruchin said that since this year's relocation of the board offices to that school, vehicle traffic because of deliveries and visitors has flowed through the rear parking lot where the school children gather during lunch.

Baruchin said the original design allowed for both a parking area and a playground.

George Gomes, former president of the board, said the children should not be playing on the blacktop, only the surrounding grassy areas.

"It is a parking lot, and not a playground," Gomes said, "and it has been for the past 30 years. Presently what is being used is in violation," Gomes said.

The board recently leased space from the adjacent St. James School to provide additional parking, however, district staff members currently park in Gaudineer's rear lot.

Joseph Pepe, board member, suggested that if one parking lot be inspected, all of the school's parking and playground facilities should be. The board also authorized interim board attorney William Jeremiah to inquire about the possible purchase of property on Caldwell Place, adjacent to the school. Baruchin said the property has been of interest to the district for a number of years.

Cindy Matta, a member of the district's PTA, asked the board to establish a district-wide safety program, "Helping Hand," in Springfield. She explained that residents volunteer to display in a home windows a sign with a picture of a hand, showing that the home is a safe refuge for children who encounter problems on their routes to or from school.

Surrounding communities have the program in progress, and Matta has attempted to get it off the ground in Springfield. She requested that the board provide $2,500 to get "Helping Hand" started.

Board member Pietro Petino stated that he was concerned about providing the funds "and then turning it over to people who are not responsible to the board."

"The board of education should not take responsibility for kids off our property," said Lou Mohaco, board member. The board agreed to discuss the program at the regular business meeting April 30.

In other business, the board discussed the proposed school calendar for the 1984-85 school year. Baruchin said the calendar, recommended by the School Government Committee, is identical to that of the regional district, with the exception of Columbus Day.

The regional district has opted to close school that day whereas Baruchin said the local district, in the past, never closed for the holiday. However, he recommended that the board consider closing for the day to "allow families to spend the day together."

Petino supported closing. "It is the only day in the country to honor Italian Americans," he said, "and in light of what is happening in this town, I think we should close. By contract, staff members are allowed to take the day off with pay, even should the school remain open."

According to Baruchin, the recommended first day of school is Sept. 5, 1984 with the closing date scheduled for June 21, 1985. Baruchin said the committee, "tried to be discreet about curtailed sessions for next year."

This year's closing date is expected to be extended to June 22, to recover an additional school day missed for inclement weather this winter.

The board also discussed the possible addition of five nurses to the district, substitute pool, along with one substitute nurse, and school aides. Baruchin said there is always, "a constant need" for aides and substitutes.

Eve Harrison, a former lunchroom aide in the Thelma Sandmeier School, has been recommended by Baruchin and the school's principal, to be reassigned in the school's nutrition room where his name was left off the list indefinitely by administration last September, made many attempts during the school year to retain her job.

Board mulls actions on asbestos fine

By VICKI VREELAND
Steps that the district will take to defend its actions regarding the removal of asbestos from Gaudineer School were discussed during the Board of Education's conference meeting April 18.

William Jeremiah, interim board attorney, discussed the district's response to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's citation of the district. The EPA has recommended that the district be fined $5,000.

Jeremiah said he believed there was basis for denying the EPA's citation of April for failure to notify "employees and parents" that the Florence M. Gaudineer Middle School, rotunda ceiling contained friable asbestos.

Jeremiah said the federal statute was "ambiguous." He stated that the school complex in the vicinity of Balsara Way, was denied their request at a meeting held April 18.

In order to be granted the use variance, five affirmative votes were needed from the seven-member board, the deciding vote was 4-3.

Voting in favor of the complex were President Allen Siegel, Robert Haarsgaard, Ruth Goldstein, and Ronald Cliton. Opposed to granting the variance for the construction were William Halpin, Dr. Howard Walter, and Edward Chesley.

Greenbriar condo plan denied by Zoning Board

The Greenbriar Service Corp., which had applied to the Springfield Zoning Board of Adjustment for a use variance to construct a five-story condominium complex in the vicinity of Balsara Way, was denied their request at a meeting held April 18.

A use variance was required to accommodate Greenbriar's plans to construct a five-story complex, since local ordinance only allows for two-and-a-half-story structures. The complex was to be built at the top of Wilson and Shunpike roads.

Area residents who opposed the project from the start, applauded the announcement of the board's ruling. Greenbriar now has the option to appeal the case to the Springfield Township Committee.

Area residents who opposed the project from the start, applauded the announcement of the board's ruling. Greenbriar now has the option to appeal the case to the Springfield Township Committee.

Board member Pietro Petino suggested that if the district's legal appeals begin mounting in cost, it might be better served to admit guilt and pay the $5,000 fine.

Jeremiah also said he intends to use as a defense the district's incurred costs of $6,145 for removing asbestos in the rotunda area and areas in the other schools.

Parents surveyed on grad date

By VICKI VREELAND
Following protests from students at the April 18 Regional Board of Education meeting, the township committee proposed to postpone commencement exercises, surveys were sent out to parents asking for their feelings about the issue.

About 50 replies from regional high school parents, surveyed on a preferred date for commencement exercises, have been received in the regional superintendent's office.

Captain and prosecutor settle case out of court

By VICKI VREELAND
A six-week grueling ordeal for Police Captain Samuel Calabrese ended recently when the Union County Prosecutor's office agreed to settle his case out of court.

Calabrese was awarded a $110,000 settlement in March, when Juvenile and Domestic Relations Judge Robert J.T. Mooney dismissed the suit, "with prejudice," but the captain said Monday that the financial award did not compensate for the experience he went through six years ago.

In 1978, the Union County Prosecutor's office began an investigation of the captain by a report from a Springfield police officer of alleged misconduct by Calabrese. An 11-count indictment was handed down by the county grand jury charging the captain with various offenses, including defrauding township police, misconduct, and obstruction of justice.

He was investigated by two detectives from the prosecutor's office, who according to Calabrese, were "biased and prejudiced."

In 1979, after a six-week trial during which time he was suspended from the force, Calabrese was found not guilty of criminal charges.

Two years later, he and his wife, Virginia, filed suit against the Prosecutor's Office for defamation of character. Calabrese was represented by James Spagnoli, of Spagnoli and Thuring, Elizabeth. Named as defendants in his suit were John Stamler, the county prosecutor; Robert Woodruff, assistant county prosecutor, and the two investigators, Angelo Scrib and Lawrence Wlazn.

Also named were three members of the Springfield Police Department, Police Chief George Parsell, J.I. Richard Bromberg, and a former police dispatcher, Edward McNanny.

However, in 1982 the Supreme Court ruled that a police officer who committed perjury, could not be tried criminally, only civilly. Calabrese was forced to drop the three police officers from his suit.

Calabrese commented, "It is a crime that a police officer can commit perjury on the stand, which can lead to someone being indicted, and then that person has no recourse to get back legal fees he had to extend for defending himself from persons who tried to get him indicted."

Bromberg said of the decision, "I feel the judge did the right thing, because the case was also dismissed for lack of merit."

Stamler, the county prosecutor, referred all inquiries about the case to Graduation exercises had originally been scheduled for Thursday, June 21, but an additional snow day ran the school calendar one day short of the state-mandated 180 days, causing the postponement to Sunday, June 24.

Students presented the board with a 280-name petition, signed by seniors at all four regional high schools. They stated that a Sunday graduation impeded seniors who had arranged to begin summer jobs the day following the original graduation. The students would like to see graduation held Friday afternoon, June 22.

According to Superintendent Dr. Donald Merschnick, "We know how the students feel, and now we want to hear from the parents." The board advised the students that a Friday graduation would present two main problems — it could interfere with the schedule of working parents, and present difficulties for those who observe the Jewish Sabbath.

Merschnick said the responses, which are due to come in all week, will be tabulated on Tuesday and reported at the board meeting that night.

In other matters, the board approved the operation of a district summer school from July 2 through Aug. 3 in the David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth. In addition, at all four facilities, driver education, weight training and conditioning programs will be offered.

The board also approved a 2-year-old Summer Evening Musical Theater, also to be held at David Brearley. Merschnick recommended approval for the program as an "excellent activity for our students and graduates."

Approval was also given for two choral groups to participate in out-of-state competitions next month. Twenty-eight students from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, will participate in the Montreal Music Festival, May 18 to 21.

From Governor Livingston High School, Berkeley Heights, 39 students will attend the Florida World Music Festival in Orlando, Fla., May 8 to 13.

Serving the town

Keeping the community safe and secure is a grave responsibility and one that residents often take for granted. While many municipal law enforcement agencies must take on this responsibility alone, the Springfield Police Department is fortunate to have a helping hand — the Springfield Police Reserve.

The Springfield Police Reserve, a department of the Springfield Office of Emergency Management, is a group of community-minded individuals who volunteer two or three nights each month to augment the services provided by the Springfield Police Department. The volunteers conduct routine patrol tours during the year and provide traffic and crowd control at special community events. This service to the township frees members of the Police Department to continue their regular duties and respond to emergencies quickly.

Each spring, the Police Reserve conducts its annual membership drive. In order to qualify, one must be a resident of Springfield and have a valid driver's license. Recruits are trained in basic police tactics, first aid and personal safety, and in the use of firearms.

We urge all interested individuals to send their name, address and telephone number to the Office of Emergency Management, 30 Church Hill, Springfield 07081. Joining the Police Reserve is a good way to show you care.

Get moving

"A sound transportation system of highways and public transit is essential to New Jersey's economic vitality and the safety, comfort and quality of life of every citizen of our state."

Robert VanBuren made that point recently when he announced the formation of the New Jersey Coalition to Support Transportation, committed to working for enactment of Governor Thomas Kean's Transportation Trust Fund program.

The new coalition is a broadly-based one. Its executive committee includes representatives of organizations that are often at odds on other issues, including the New Jersey State AFL-CIO, the State League of Women Voters, the New Jersey Business and Industry Association, Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company and other organizations.

What is significant here is the diversity of organizations supporting the proposal to establish a trust fund which would provide $3.5 billion in capital spending for highways and public transit over the next four years without a tax increase.

It is tangible proof of the growing recognition throughout the state that, as VanBuren said, "a sound transportation system... is essential."

The danger, however, is that this growing recognition does not extend to Trenton, where virtually every proposal raised becomes entangled in political wrangling.

It would be well if our representatives in the state's capital were to remember another comment that VanBuren made when he announced establishment of the coalition: "There are no such things as Republican bridges in danger of collapse or Democratic trains that run behind schedule."

Letter to the editor

For charity's sake

Thank you for giving me an "A" for effort in your editorial on my proposed effort to permit state taxpayers to designate certain charitable organizations to receive contributions from state funds.

I share your concern about which organizations would be worthy to receive such funds. That is why there are only 17 designated organizations in the legislation, while at least 15 will be selected annually by the state Legislature. After the committee hearings, even more organizations may be able to participate. One item which should be corrected in the editorial is that the American Red Cross and the American Lung Association are included in my proposal, and along with 28 other organizations, would be eligible to receive contributions. I welcome any comments on the bill, and I hope all the many large and small organizations will be able to participate in the program.

Scene around the towns

From Kenilworth, the site of last week's Scene, we're heading over to Mountainside for this week's challenge. If you recognize the columned entranceway, let us hear from you by 9 a.m. Monday, Write to Scene, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 3109, 1291 Stuyvesant Ave., Union 07083.

Lots of people recognized the Easter picture last week, including Kim Harms of Roselle Park, who wrote: "The picture is the Blessed Mother in front of St. Theresa's School on Washington Avenue. I know it because I go to the school and I am in the third grade."

Debra and Tom Sevchuk of Union had similar reactions. "We knew the scene because that's where we go to school," they wrote.

Another student who recognized the photo was Laura Marie Olden of Roselle Park, who is in the fifth grade. "Every year, on the first day of school, my mother takes my picture standing there," she said.

Maria Calomme of Kenilworth doesn't attend St. Theresa's now, but, she noted, she is an alumna — a 1979 graduate.

The Easter scene brought back memories for Mrs. Sande Ballus of Springfield. "In the old days," she wrote, "we used to attend mass in the school auditorium, which is right next to the statues... We just saw and admired those beautiful statues on Palm Sunday, after mass at St. Theresa's Church — across the street. It's a very nice picture to have for one of our loveliest holidays. Thank you."

L. McClement of Springfield, another reader who recognized the statues, wrote, "My niece attended school (at St. Theresa's) and I have many pictures of First Communion, etc."

"The lovely religious scene for the week can be found at the front of St. Theresa's School on Washington Avenue in Kenilworth," Mildred E. Kendig of Kenilworth wrote. "It is so charming and inspiring I often stand and look at it in quiet moments."

Others who recognized the picture were Norma Poles of Union and Thelma C. Klingler of Kenilworth.

On the bright side

Pie in the sky? No, it's just gook on the floor

By GERRY DIGESU

"Where's the cheesecake you made today?" asked my husband, poking in the refrigerator for his favorite dessert.

"The kids drank it after school," he didn't say a word, ask a question or make a comment; just walked away. After many years, he's learned not to ask why or how because his opinion, he never gets a reasonable answer.

"Have any cookies?" he asked disgustedly. I handed him the Nabisco assortment. Would he believe that the cheesecake never progressed past the liquid state while baking in the oven? He would. After a countless number of my fiascos in the kitchen, nothing surprises him.

I can't figure out if I do a poor job in the kitchen because I can't stand being there or can't stand being there because I usually leave a trail of disaster in my wake.

Hand me a Bundt pan and I get weak in the knees. If there's any way I can't do it's bake. Once I made Christmas cookies and accidentally dropped one on the floor. It didn't break; it bounced.

The kids threw another one down harder and it bounced higher. Bouncing cookies. Inedible, but fun. I don't know what ingredient was added or left out in error, but the kids still ask for them once in a while.

Solution: I invested in a cookie press. Foolproof. Must have used the wrong combination of ingredients again.

Every cookie was beautifully shaped and colored with food coloring when placed on the cookie sheet. When removed from the oven, however, the mass resembled a psychedelic pizza pie which had to be pried off the tray.

Guests shared a chocolate pie with us one evening. Heed with whipped cream, the pie looked delicious but I couldn't figure out why there was so much. As I carried the blender to the pie plate, the bottom loosened and my pie was a river on the floor.

Next time I made it from the blender to the pie pan. After the pie was in the oven I smelled something burning and discovered the ingredients leaking out of tiny holes in the bottom of the pan.

Must have been on my daughter had poked holes in while making play dough pies.

Why my family insists on having Thanksgiving dinner at my house is a puzzle to me. Maybe they like the laughs. The first year I cooked a turkey, I left the bag of giblets inside, and another time Rod had trouble carving. He couldn't figure out what was wrong with his approach. I had cooked the bird upside down and he was trying to carve the rump. But this time my mistake included a hidden benefit.

The juice ran to the breast and we had our jacket turkey to date.

Too much popcorn sends the lid off the top of our ancient popcorn pan and popcorn shooting around the kitchen. Too much water covering the hambone produces disasture instead of, navy bean soup. Oh well.

Company again. Fancy stir-fry vegetables. No fuss, I used a Pyrex dish, cooked the vegetables, then needed to add extra water so they wouldn't stick. When the cold water hit the Pyrex, the pot exploded. Peas or an occasional carrot still drop off the ceiling, but the Italian vegetables blend right in with the busy wallpaper pattern on our walls and ceiling.

Come on over for dinner. If you dare.

New Jersey report

Senatorial courtesy a 'pernicious practice'

By GOV. TOM KEAN
One of the fundamental, underlying principles of our state constitution, as of the federal constitution, is the system of checks and balances that allows the three branches of government to maintain an equilibrium in governance.

The philosophy of three "separate but equal" branches of government and the checks and balances that maintain that parity is one of the reasons our Constitution has been so successful over the centuries, and has made America one of the most stable and free societies in history.

This system of checks and balances gives the governor the power to make various appointments to important positions in state government. In New Jersey the appointments are of the highest caliber. And it gives the Senate the power to make sure those appointments are, in fact, in the public interest.

It is because I support that system that I so strongly oppose a peculiar New Jersey institution known as "senatorial courtesy."

The phrase, I am sure, is familiar to many. What may not be so familiar is what the phrase really means, and how it circumvents the constitution.

Ordinarily, when I, or any other governor, make nominations for important positions, the nominations go to the State Senate. There, each individual nominee is considered first by the Senate Judiciary Committee, and then by the full Senate. That's the process outlined by the constitution. It is one which serves the public well, because it provides an opportunity for senators and other interested individuals to explore publicly the qualifications of any nominee.

Nominations are normally interviewed by committee members and asked to testify publicly before the committee. There, senators may question the nominee about his or her qualifications and offer an opportunity for the nominee to answer any questions that may have been raised about those qualifications.

The process is open and public. It protects the interests of the citizens of this state, who are entitled to know that the people holding important positions in government are of the highest caliber.

It gives the nominee the opportunity to defend, in public, against any criticisms that may have been raised about his or her character or abilities. In short, it provides for the free and open discussion of ideas; certainly a basic cornerstone of our democratic process.

The tradition of senatorial courtesy, however, shortcuts that idea of free and open discussion. This is why I, and so many others, oppose it and call continually for its abolition.

Senatorial courtesy is an unwritten tradition which allows any senator to stop and reject the nomination of anyone from his or her home county. Since most New Jersey counties contain more than one legislative district, this means that any single senator may meddle with the appointment of someone who is not even from his or her district.

In other cases, senatorial-courtesy allows that senator to completely block action on a nomination without offering any reason, publicly or privately. Simply refusing to "sign off" on a nominee is enough to leave that person hanging in limbo.

Some call it a backstab, many call it backstab. In the past it has been used as both, and there is no reason to believe it won't be used that way again.

There is reason to believe, as I do, that senatorial courtesy violates our constitution, and the fundamental principles of fairness that helped build our nation.

Further, this pernicious practice robs the public in two important ways: First, it deprives our citizens of their right to know how and why their elected officials act. They do. Second, it drives from public service many highly qualified people. It must be remembered that many of the nation's top government leaders are for positions that pay no salary and offer no material benefits. They are public service jobs in the truest sense of the term. College trustees and members of various commissions who perform valuable services for New Jersey for no salary or reimbursement fall in this category.

It is difficult enough to find men and women to fill these important positions. It is far more difficult when they know they may be subjected to publicity and controversy because their name is blocked by a senator who gives no reason why the nominee should not have the job. Many decline to serve rather than be subjected to such harassment.

Unfortunately, the issue of senatorial courtesy rarely makes the headlines unless it is being used to block an important appointment. But the maintenance of such a practice requires the support of all senators, all the time.

Senatorial courtesy should be abolished. It is a tradition I oppose at every opportunity, and I believe it is one that every voter of this state should oppose as well.

Until we erase this outdated and unfair practice, it will continue to beset backroom politics and character assassination. Help the voters of New Jersey will make their senators how they feel about this issue and vote it out of our end. We must make it clear that democracy requires the free and open exchange of information and that we will accept no less.

Changes will go into effect on Saturday for five NJ Transit bus routes serving area

NJ Transit this week reminded bus riders that changes in five routes serving Essex and Union counties and parts of Somerset and Middlesex counties go into effect on Saturday.

The five lines are the No. 8 Morris Avenue, No. 9 Clifton, No. 13 Broad, No. 39/46 Harrison/Union and No. 140/141 Somerville/Newark.

The proposed changes were discussed at four community meetings held in December in Union and Essex counties and at public hearings held in February.

Jerome G. Premo, executive director of NJ Transit, said that though some service is being discontinued, "only a small number of passengers will be left without alternative services. Some of the reroutings require passengers to transfer without additional charge."

The No. 8 Morris Avenue line is dropping service between Springfield and the Short Hills Mall, but affected riders in Millburn, Summit and Springfield can transfer to the No. 70 Lyons and Maple Avenues, a Green Lane trips are being discontinued, affecting fewer than 20 riders in Union and Elizabeth. Premo said.

Service on the No. 9 Clifton line is being extended, providing service to industries located along Ramsey Avenue and Chestnut Avenue in Hillside. In conjunction with the rerouting of the No. 140/141 line, the No. 9 Clifton replaces service on the Hillside-Union branch of the No. 39/46 line, which is being discontinued. The No. 13 Broad line is no longer going to provide service to 40th Street in Irvington or Chancellor Avenue at Valley Fair in Newark. The extension of the No. 39/46 route is covering this service. The No. 39/46 is also providing service along Chancellor Avenue between Valley Fair and the corner of Clinton Place/Lyons Avenue. In addition, the rerouted No. 39/46 replaces the service provided to Penn Station by the No. 13 Broad line.

The No. 39/46 Harrison/Union line is rerouted. The No. 39 Chancellor Avenue/Keary Avenue line and the corner of Hillside-Union branch via Vauxhall Road in Union and the corner of Chancellor and Maple Avenues in Newark is being replaced by portions of the rerouted No. 9 Clifton and No. 141 Somerville/Newark lines.

The new No. 39 Chancellor Avenue/Keary Avenue line is extended from Valley Fair, Newark, to 40th Street, Irvington via Chancellor Avenue, replacing the No. 13 Broad line service along Chancellor Avenue. Service between Valley Fair and the corner of Lyons and Maple Avenues, a provided by the No. 13 Broad line, is provided by the No. 39/46 line.

The No. 39/46 is going to provide service between 40th Street, Irvington, and Penn Station, replacing service now provided between Penn Station and destinations by the No. 13 Broad line. Frequency of service between Valley Fair, Newark, and the central business district of Newark is increasing. Four off-peak No. 140 express trips are being eliminated on the No. 140/141 Somerville/Newark line. However, alternate service is available between Duellon and Newark via the No. 148 and No. 141 routes with a transfer at Mountainside. The No. 141 service west of New Providence Road, Mountainside, is being discontinued. Alternate service between Mountainside and Bound Brook is going to be available via the No. 148 route. For service in Newark, a transfer will be necessary at Mountainside.

Westfield service is being discontinued on the No. 140/141 Somerville/Newark line. Service is being extended to Union County College in Cranford, which is expected to generate increased ridership.

The No. 140/141 is being rerouted via Salem Avenue and Liberty Avenue through Union and Hillside. In conjunction with the No. 9 route extension, this rerouting is providing service now provided by the No. 39/46 Hillside-Union branch. Intervals of service on the No. 140/141 line are being adjusted and coordinated with No. 49 Union route.

All No. 140 express service is being rerouted on the No. 68 line, and all No. 141 local trips are being rerouted on the No. 68 line.

"This is the first time restructuring and service level modifications have been made on these lines since NJ Transit assumed operation of them in October 1980 and July 1982. For some of the routes it represents the first change in over 40 years," Premo said. "We will continue to study the feasibility of restructuring of bus routes throughout the state to ensure that our service is responsive in the needs of riders. And, we will closely monitor what happens on these five restructured routes and make whatever adjustments are required in the future based on ridership demands."

For further information on the changes, riders can call (800) 773-3666, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Parenting is support group topic at YWCA

Parenting may be one of the oldest professions but there's surprisingly little job preparation for parents. The Summit YWCA is sponsoring an eight-week Parent Support Discussion Group to encourage mutual respect between parent and child through cooperation, responsibility, and self-reliance.

Melissa Novalis, who has a master's degree in Psychological Education, will lead the group. Novalis will offer parents a realistic and practical approach to meeting the challenges of raising children today.

The groups will be offered Mondays, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., beginning Monday and continuing to June 25 (no class May 28) or Tuesdays, 9:30 to 11 a.m., starting next week and continuing to June 19. Babysitting is available, by advance registration, for the morning sessions. Registration information is available by calling the YWCA, 273-4242.

Marathoners have come a very long way since Ancient Greece

BY ROSE P. SIMON
The following are reviews of books recently available at the Springfield Public Library.

LONG-DISTANCE RUNNERS
'Masters of the Marathon,' Richard Benyo.

The marathon developed over the centuries from the short Greek sprint (200 meters), was loved and renowned popularity in the U.S. and Europe. The present official distance is 26 miles, 385 yards. In 1896 it was treated as a special event in the Athens Olympics, then it appeared here in the Boston Marathon in 1917, the Munich Marathon in 1924, and by U.S. television for the first time, and was won by an American. Since then marathoning has boomed, with thousands competing in Boston and New York.

Benyo, also a runner, reviews records of Marathon winners since 1896 in Athens, when Spiridon Louis, a Greek watercarrier, finished first. He writes also of succeeding great runners—Clarence DeMar, Johnny Kelley (the Elder), Jim Trappes of England, Emil Zatopek from Czechoslovakia, Johnny Kelley (the younger), Derek Clayton of Australia, and Frank Shorter.

One of the most spectacular marathons was Abel's Bikila of Ethiopia, the first to win the Olympics Marathon twice. After World War II, Omni Mikasani of Sweden accepted a government appointment in Ethiopia. There, at a 6,000-foot altitude, he set up a training camp for the armed forces, of which Bikila was a member. Having won several races at home, he went to Rome in 1950 where, running free and relaxed, he pulled out ahead of the rest and won, an incredible victory at 2:15:11.2.

The author also recounts the persistent attempts of women to compete in the same races as men. Although individual women ran in special competitions, there was little interest aroused until a Norwegian woman Grete Waitz won the 18-mile race in New York in 1878 in a field of 1134. Since then, the number of women runners have multiplied, and in 1984, the Olympic Games will include Women's Marathon.

FOUNDER OF THE REFORMATION
'Martin Luther,' text by Peter Mann.

He was born in 1483 near Eisenlab, Germany, peasant son. His father, a miner who was often bested by financial problems, ruled his eight children firmly. Luther, deeply religious, was well-educated, first living in Mansfeld. Then at 14, he continued his studies (theological music etc.) in the larger city of Magdeburg. In 1504 he attended Erfurt University, where he was influenced by the eclectic humanistic studies. After earning his bachelor's and master's degrees, Luther, a brilliant student, planned to study law. One day, caught in a violent thunderstorm, he abruptly vowed to become a monk, he joined the Augustinians.

Mann, Catholic historian at the University of Mainz, is the author of the text which accompanies this magnificently illustrated volume. He describes Luther's life during his novitiate at the Erfurt Monastery, where he already began to feel uneasy about the sacramental confession, the celebration of the mass and other traditional ceremonies. Next he was transferred to the Wittenberg friary, studied his doctorate, becoming professor of Bible. For three years he served as vicar provincial of 10 Augustinian houses.

The author covers the major points in Luther's career: among them the indulgence controversy, threat of his excommunication, the War against the Peasants, his devotion to reforms of services and the teachings of the church. Also discussed are the polemical confrontations with his adversaries (from the left and the right), his lectures, the publication of his theses and treatises on new theological subjects and his shocking decision to marry and raise a family.

Luther's private life was a happy one. During his latter years he taught, lectured, and preached. He died in 1546. Mann claims that Luther was actually not the Reformer (differences were not yet too distinct), but that he certainly laid the foundation for the Reformation.

'Theater Careers,' by Jan-W. Greenberg.

Some people aspire to become actors, they're said to be "state-struck." But there are others who also love the theater, who wish to become involved in the behind-the-scenes operations. These can be dubbed "theater-struck." This book by a theatrical press agent, gives an overview of jobs required for the presentation of a play. There is no glamor, only the pleasure and satisfaction of being in some way connected with the world of the theater. Greenberg starts with some hard facts. You can make a living (not much more), there will be periods of unemployment, you may have to join, you may not have to travel to find work, you may not have fixed hours or days off, surroundings may not be appealing, illustrating interviews with several creative and business professionals will bring some insight into this exciting business. These tell us about their setup and procedure. She names artistic directors, managers, managers (general, company, house and business). In addition there are the necessary promoting people (press agents, public relations etc.) and the special needs of the musicals, musicians, vocal and dance arrangers.

'The show doesn't go on without many more set, costume, lighting and sound designers, members of the crew (property men, electricians, carpenters, wardrobe mistresses, etc.)

There is a variety of theaters in New York and elsewhere: commercial (Broadway, off-Broadway, dinner, touring) and non-profit (regional, university, community, children's). Greenberg describes some of the differences between the two types as well as their respective management.

In the sixth inning, Klingner led off with a single, moved to second on a base hit by Darren Jalone and went to third on a wild pitch. Rich Piccinato lifted a sacrifice fly to drive in Klingner who evened his record to 1-1.

Klingner pitched all the way striking out seven and walking two batters. Dayton, who was scheduled to play Bound Brook yesterday, takes on Roselle Park today at home at 7:45 p.m.

CAI approach: tell them help is available

By TIMOTHY OWENS

"Our concern is with the sick alcoholic and with alcoholism. Our concern is when abuse of alcohol or drugs results in death and injury and shattered lives."

These are the operating principles of the staff of the Center for Addictive Illnesses (CAI), according to Arthur S. McLellan, M.D., CAI president and director. Located in Morristown, the center is a joint venture of Overlook Hospital, Summit, and Morristown Memorial Hospital, and affiliated with Rutgers University.

CAI, which was originally part of Overlook and then moved to its present location about four years ago, has grown to become New Jersey's largest state-licensed, accredited, non-profit inpatient and outpatient treatment and rehabilitation facility for alcoholism and chemical (drug) dependency.

Part of CAI's approach to treatment of alcoholism and drug addiction is the education process, by which misconceptions about addiction can be corrected and, armed with proper knowledge and understanding, those afflicted will realize help is available.

"Most individuals consider and visualize the alcoholic in terms of skid row - total dysfunction," Dr. McLellan explained. "Yet, this really represents somewhere between 3 and 5 percent of alcoholics."

"Often the drug addict is thought of as the crazed person in the streetwise sub-culture, but this individual represents an extremely small percentage," McLellan said.

"The great majority of people who are disabled with addiction are people like you and me who for one reason or another have this disease. And it is recognized that alcoholism and other forms of addiction run in families with a very strong preponderance of evidence pointing to the factor of inherited susceptibility to chemical substances."

Blanche Rifendier, vice president-nursing at CAI, noted, "If you ask the public to close their eyes and give you a picture of an alcoholic, they're going to tell you it's a man and he's drinking out of a brown paper bag. They're not going to see their physician, their lawyer, their potential worker, their son or daughter as alcoholics."

Dispelling these misconceptions is essential to treatment according to those at CAI.

Robert Erickson, Ph.D., clinical psychologist at CAI, noted that untreated alcoholism is a progressive disease that can kill.

"While there's no cure, there is recovery," Dr. Erickson said. "And recovery can be more fulfilling than most alcoholics realize. Typically, recovering alcoholics not only pick up the threads of their previous lives, they live even better, more productive lives than before. And families tend to stay intact. So there's tremendous potential, tremendous reward for significant recovery."

One part of society that is recognizing this potential is the business world. Statistics show that alcoholism and drug abuse comprise the single major problem affecting job performance. The use of drugs on the job by factory workers, white collar workers and executives costs the American economy more than $25 billion per year — $16.6 billion of that amount in lost productivity alone. Employees dependent upon alcohol or drugs function at only 67 percent of their work potential and have accident rates 36 times the rate of their fellow non-addicted workers.

"For years," said Joan Theubel, director/corporate liaison with CAI, "industry has been aware of the personal and business tolls exacted by alcohol and chemical dependency. But for a long time, industry felt helpless to act against alcoholism in particular on the supposition that little if anything could be done for the alcoholic. Drug addiction was considered bad enough but alcoholism had to be a totally lost cause."

"The prognosis for good recovery on the part of many alcoholics has prompted renewed and intensified efforts on the part of industry to help their employees who wish to be helped overcome alcohol and drugs. Far from being unsympathetic, employers clearly understand not only the economic toll, but the terrible human burden of alcoholism and drug abuse and are sincerely anxious to alleviate suffering."

According to Theubel, although many individuals come to CAI on their own or through referrals from family, friends or physicians, increasingly, the center is helping employees referred to it through Employee Assistance Programs (EAP) at their place of business.

"An EAP is a concerted effort by the corporation to provide help for its employees," explained Theubel, "regardless of what the employee's problem might be — emotional, marital, financial, family, alcohol or

The Senior Citizens Council of Union County will hold its annual convention and installation of officers next Thursday at the L'Affaire restaurant on Route 22 in Mountainside.

County putting more emphasis on promotional programs: Grisi

Union County Manager Arthur J. Grisi has announced "a major shift" in the direction and operations of the county's informational and promotional efforts. It is designed to increase the county's visibility and better serve the public, he said.

The county's Office of Public Information is being expanded and drugs, counseling is provided, and, as required, referral to the proper professional agency or facility.

Several area corporations have set up EAPs, including the Mennen Company in Morristown, Ciba-Geigy in Summit and the General Motors Assembly Division in Linden.

Reflecting upon the "tremendous national cost to the United States of alcohol and drug abuse," GM Medical Director John Burling, M.D., emphasized the need for countermeasures "early on." What disturbs Dr. Burling is the prevalence of alcohol and drugs among teen-agers.

"Teens should be learning how to live and they should be developing their skills to live the fullest lives," Burling said. "Instead too many of them are becoming addicted to alcohol and chemicals."

The Substance Abuse Committee of GM Assembly Division's company EAP strive to identify employees with problems and to refer them to facilities such as CAI.

"Salvage rather than punish" is the philosophy at the plant, according to Burling.

Employers such as GM "typify the great efforts and major strides being taken by the industrial community to stem the economic losses associated with alcoholism and drug abuse and to stem the tide of human suffering too," said Theubel.

Commissioner George J. Albanese of the state Department of Human Services, former Union County manager, will give the keynote address. Also scheduled to make a presentation will be Sunchita Tyson, regional program consultant for home health programs for the elderly, U.S. Department of Human Services, Region II. Ann Zahara, director of the New Jersey Division on Aging, Department of Community Affairs, also will address the convention.

The theme for this year is "Health: Make It Last a Lifetime." In addition to several new resolutions to be introduced, the council will reintroduce a 1980 resolution on programs for preventive care and nutritional and physical well-being.

The "Young at Heart Singers," all members of Springfield senior citizens groups, will present several numbers with John McMurray directing and Madeline Lancaster at the piano.

Senior citizens groups are making table reservations and inviting their mayors and municipal officials to be their guests. Individual reservations are also being accepted. Anyone wishing to attend may contact the council office at 864-7555. Reservations are $8. No tickets will be sold at the door.

'Terms of Endearment' offers endearing moments to viewers

By BEA SMITH
 "Terms of Endearment," which has been endearing movie viewers in no uncertain terms at the Union Twin Cinema in Union Center, should have had a sixth Oscar added to its five Academy awards this year. That sixth Oscar should have gone to Debra Winger, who is so unbearably good as Emma, the daughter of Aurora Greenway, played by Shirley MacLaine, the recipient of the Best Actress award.

Winger, a comparatively new actress, is literally bursting with talent, and thanks to James Brooks, another Oscar-clutcher who won for Best Picture, Best Director and Best Screenwriter, she is given equal time in the film with MacLaine, a multi-talented, versatile veteran star. Whenever she pounces on screen, and that is practically all of the time, Winger dominates the scenes with her vigor and vitality, her youthful beauty and her unpretentious personality. She is unquestionably the finest young star to climb aboard the wagonload of superstar potential that Hollywood has to offer!

The versatile MacLaine (who, even now, is prominently displayed on Broadway in her own show), who has often been nominated for an Academy Award but never won one until this film, gives her finest performance in "Terms of Endearment." As Aurora, a firmly-determined woman, who cannot come to terms with human inadequacies, disapproving her daughter's husband, her daughter's pregnancies, her next-door neighbor's lecherous activities, she is truly superb. MacLaine puts all her talents to work to soften her role with many comedic moments. She is hilarious when she finally admits her attraction to her obnoxious, nebulous, former astronaut, next-door neighbor (played by

'Desert Song' for Paper Mill

"The Desert Song," which opens Wednesday at the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, will bring back Judith McCutley and Richard White, the two romantic stars of last season's hit "The New Moon." They will play the principal roles in the musical and will sing such numbers as "Desert Song," "One Alone," "Romance" and other Sigmund Romberg favorites. The show will run through June 10. "The Desert Song" first opened in New York on November 30, 1926.

Membership in arts center project soaring

Family and corporate memberships in Rahway Landmarks, the nonprofit organization spearheading the Union County Arts Center project, have nearly quadrupled since January.

"A year ago, when our membership seemed to be holding at about 150, we would have been encouraged to see it grow to 200," says Dan Costigan, the organization's acting publicity director. "It subsequently dipped to 108 due to slow renewals, but has now passed the 400 mark."

The arts center project involves purchase and restoration of the 1,400-seat Old Rahway Theatre at the intersection of Irving, Main and Hamilton in downtown Rahway.

Costigan attributed the accelerating support primarily to increased media attention. "From the beginning, we have had good press and radio support," he says, "but lately the press has become actively involved in the project, and we're starting to get good TV coverage as well."

R.S. Sawyer, Rahway Landmarks' membership chairman, adds that area organizations have also contributed to the current membership growth. "More than 60 recent joiners have come from just one local church," he says, "and the local AARP has lately become another prime source."

The Rahway Chamber of Commerce, Rahway Historical Society, and the Garden State Theater Organ Society are among other organizations represented in the project.

Sawyer also noted that, since many memberships are taken out by families, the actual headcount of members is probably greater than 500. Regular annual memberships cost $15, and there is a $5 discount for students and senior citizens.

As for acquisition funding, at last count the organization had raised $39,075 toward the $175,000 needed for purchase. Nearly $10,000 of the already collected sum has come from one media campaign, and at least another $10,000 has been contributed by the membership over and above annual dues. Most individual contributions have been relatively small, but some have ranged as high as $5,000.

Under terms of an option contract with the theater's present owner, Landmarks has until July 4 to raise the funds necessary for purchase.

EYELAB

NOW! EYELAB OPENS IN SPRINGFIELD, ROUTE 22.

Introducing The World's First Eyewear Department Store.

The world's first eyewear department store has opened on Route 22, Springfield. Experience it!

The day the first Eyelab opened, the lifelong dream of two dedicated opticians was fulfilled and the eyewear wearer was introduced to the world's first eyewear department store offering selection, quality, service, speed, and price—all in one unique and beautiful shopping environment.

Eyewear wearers reacted enthusiastically, coming into Eyelab in numbers far greater than any eyewear store anywhere had ever seen. And leaving feeling more satisfied than they had ever been before. As each passed on the experience to others, Eyelab began to grow and grow.

Now, the newest Eyelab has opened near you. A single visit will show you what the Eyelab experience is all about.

Regardless of what you read in this supplement, or what you may hear, you'll hardly be ready for the impact the moment you enter Eyelab. You'll see eyeglass frames in quantities and qualities you hardly knew existed... a sophisticated lens laboratory right in view—so you can see exactly how your lenses are made. You'll meet highly knowledgeable opticians and technicians in formal blue blazers who treat both you and their positions with utmost respect.

Truly a dream come true, your wishes fulfilled, in a showplace you will enjoy visiting even if you don't need eyewear right now.

The Price. The Real Price. And Nothing But The Real Price. So Help Us, Eyelab. Each year, Americans spend over 4 billion dollars in eyecare products and services. Eyewear is worn by one of every two adults. Yet, until Eyelab, the consumer has been served exclusively by small "mom and pop" sized stores, or equally small outlets of large chains.

Under this system, eyewear prices have risen 300%—in the past decade alone.

grand opening

The need for change is apparent.

Now, the change is here—all under one roof—in Eyelab.

20% to 50% Off.

Eyelab promises to bring you the lowest prices possible, through its strong combination of (1) buying power and experience (2) the no-middleman efficiency of its on premises full-scale laboratory, and (3) the willingness of its founders to accept lower margins of business profit than has been common among "moms and pops" and chains. This will save you as much as 20% to 50% off ordinary retail prices.

If you are one who's been turned off by confusion or high prices in eyewear stores or advertising, just say "Help me, Eyelab." And, Eyelab will.

All Under One Roof.

This tabloid will introduce you to Eyelab—with its hislab and herlab departments carrying ten times the frames of any vision center—with Eyelab Presents: the world's first fashion showplace for fine quality eyewear—with Kidslab, an optical store within a store, just for pre- and early-teens—with Sunlab carrying ten times the sunwear of even large department stores—with Lenslab, Eyelab's own high-precision lens making laboratory, filling almost any prescription while you wait.

All at Eyelab prices.

Eyexam 21 and Contacts 21 here too.

Within the same building as Eyelab, you will find the equally exciting service concepts created by two equally dedicated optometrists. Eyexam 21 is the new, more comprehensive, more valued eye examination. It includes a 21 point state-of-the-art eye examination. Contacts 21 may be the largest, most complete contact lens facility in the state. Both are here in this new Eyelab building in Springfield. Doctors are not affiliated with Eyelab.

"You will see more frames here than you might have thought existed. You will have your prescription filled here faster than you might have thought possible. You will pay less here than you might have ever expected."

Eyelab is our dream come true. It will serve you as no ordinary eyeglass store or chain outlet ever could."

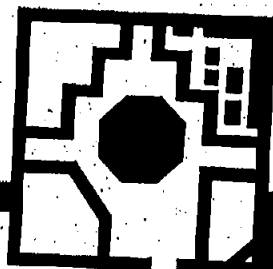

"Welcome!"

This message greets you as you enter the doors of Eyelab.

eye lab presents

Fashion Finds a Home.

To fine craftsmen, eyeglass frames, like fine jewelry and fine watches, are works of art. To top designers, frames help to dramatize, glamorize and personalize the wearer. To these craftsmen and designers, and to the quality-conscious people who follow them, EyeLab Presents: is dedicated.

EyeLab Presents: The Finest

Here is where eyewear fashion finally comes into its own, with presentations of complete designer collections, with frames of exotic and exquisite design and fabrication:

buffalo horn frames, tanned leather frames, wooden frames, snakeskin frames—even solid gold frames. And each created with a striving for perfection you may not have known existed in eyewear.

Here you will see the craft of the Great Europeans: Silhouette, Rodenstock, Neostyle—side by side with master innovators: Ted Lapidus, Giorgio Armani, Nina Ricci, Yves St. Laurent and on and on.

Each must earn entry to EyeLab Presents: by passing EyeLab's Fashion Review Panel, and by no other means, be its name familiar or unfamiliar.

Aren't you pleased you'll be able to see the finest the world has to offer?

At EyeLab prices.

nislab/herlab

Spanning EyeLab are the eyewear departments, known as nislab and herlab, each with its own purpose and function. Within them, scores of designer and fine maker frames are organized, by sex, by style, by price (from

At the end of the frame counters are fitting and adjustment departments. Here, regardless of where you obtained your prescription, lenses or frames, the service department is free. And, if EyeLab's adjusters can't solve the problem, EyeLab's repair shop is right next door.

Behind every EyeLab counter stands a professional who cares.

There are no trainees on the floor at EyeLab, no here-today, gone-tomorrow sales clerks. Whether you're looking for top fashion or bottom price, the conservative or the spectacular, EyeLab's optical specialist is equipped to help you all the way.

With some 10,000 frames from scores of makers and designers to select from, you'll be comforted to know you'll be shown the frames most suited to you.

All at EyeLab prices.

As one observer put it, "If you don't see what you want at EyeLab, you probably shouldn't want it."

kidslab

80% of what we learn comes thru our eyes. And 50% of learning problems in school-aged children can be attributed to unrecognized vision problems. These two statistical facts are enough to encourage the two founders of Eyelab to build a store with a store just for the kids.

To See Is To Know. To Know Is To Grow.

THE MOMENT A CHILD ENTERS KIDSLAB, HE KNOWS EYELAB IS ON HIS SIDE.

Simply identifying a vision problem is not enough. Good eye exams and proper lenses are not enough. The child must accept and wear the glasses. And, with the glasses many are "ordered" to wear, who can blame their balking.

In approach and in frame selection, Kidslab treats the child like an adult.

There are fun frames and serious frames, great European craftsman frames and designer frames and plenty of frames for the plenty of differences between kids. And, to help them, Kidslab is staffed with child-oriented specialists who are skilled in turning what at times seems to be a "bum rap" into a "good deal".

For the parent, the "good deal" is Eyelab's prices.

KIDS COMBAT GLASSES.

For young sports, check out Eyelab's collection of "short-sports" and other lenses and frames for young athletes. They are a must for every sport from hockey to King of the Mountain. Warning: "Mr. Macho Man" may refuse to take them off at bedtime.

THEY MAY COME HOME WITH SCRATCHES, BUT THEY WON'T BE ON THEIR GLASSES.

Every kid can have lenses made at Eyelab with a special hard finish "Super Shield"™—an invisible protective shield. We call these "Can't Scratch Me" lenses and they're always in stock at Eyelab. At Eyelab prices.

sunlab

Sun and Fun and Games and Gifts.

Last a fashion showplace to fit the sunlab craze. In Sunlab are ten times the fine designer and quality maker sunwear usually seen in department stores. Ray-Ban is here and Colors in Optics and Porsche Design by Carrera in profusion.

Sunsensor Lenses® by Corning are here and mirror-coated lenses by Bausch & Lomb and the latest photochromatic glass coated with plastic by C-Lite™—everything under the sun.

At Eyelab prices.

But you won't find poorly made sunwear here, the cause of eyestrain, fatigue and accidents.

Sportslab/Funlab/Giftlab

Here you'll also find Sportslab with all the frames for the games people play... from racquetball to riflery, from mountain climbing to SCUBA diving and every place in between.

Here, in Funlab, you'll try on French Welder's Glasses and Night Shades and even Crazy Eyes for the kids.

And, in Giftlab, you'll find gifts that aid Man's greatest gift—eyesight—from magnifiers of every type to specialty lenses and accessories, to binoculars and even Eyelab Gift Certificates, in case you're playing it safe.

At Eyelab prices.

lens lab

What You See Is What You Get.

ALL THE LATEST LENSES

Now ULTRA-THIN LENS

A breakthrough by the founders of Eyelab, Ultra-Thin is 25% thinner in the central body of the lens giving not only greater comfort through lightness but a more attractive look as well.

THE "INVISIBLE" BIFOCAL

Until recently, the only bifocal lens you could buy showed its not-so-attractive marks of distinction: a distinct line or box where lens power changed. Now, there is a new type of lens in which the power of the lens gradually changes from far to near vision. Magically, there is no dividing line. We call it, "The Invisible Bifocal", but it has very visible benefits, both in "the look" and in the looking.

New SILOR SUPER SHIELD™ New AMERICAN OPTICAL PERMALITE™

Breakthroughs in scratchproof lenses. Each resists scratching through an amazing new finish. Perfect for kids or anyone with an active lifestyle.

ALL AT EYELAB PRICES.

Ever since Man first discovered that lenses could aid his vision, he's been waiting for his glasses. Today, although some advertising claims imply otherwise, most prescriptions are fulfilled in an optical laboratory, far removed from the eyeglass store. In the majority of cases, the "short waiting period" for glasses will range from 2 days to 2 weeks. But, never at Eyelab.

And, heaven forbid the laboratory should make an error, for, then "back the lenses go" and your wait begins anew (but, never at Eyelab).

The Wait Is Over.

the lenses

Here, your lenses go through 18 stages of precision manufacture and at least 5 stages of quality control. All, if you choose, while you watch.

lab

Just a few years before they began to build their "dream store", the founders of Eyelab founded and operated what became the most successful lens-making laboratory in the Eastern United States.

What they learned, they have now applied to creating a "dream lab". Computerized and automated, outfitted with the latest developments and finest precision lens-making equipment and instruments, it is right on the spot, under the one roof of Eyelab.

One result? What took two days or two weeks, now takes two hours... or less. Another result? You can observe the precision craftsmanship and the superior quality control techniques applied to your lenses while they are being made. You not only know what you are getting but you can see where you're getting it from.

You'll see that in its experience, skill, precision, quality and concern, there is truly nothing to equal what you get from Eyelab.
