Tribulations of black women

By ROSEY SIMON
The following are reviews of books currently available at the Springfield Public Library.

"BLACK WOMEN IN AMERICA: A Labor of Love, Labor of Sorrow," by Jacqueline Jones.
Black women have felt the weight of racial discrimination, compounded by sexual prejudices from 1850 to the present. This study recounts their work as slaves and wage-earners and their respected status as wives and mothers in the community during this period.

Even when they entered the labor force. Then, though freed and liberated, they remained tied to overwhelming wage-earning and child-rearing responsibilities. With the rising employment, especially among black men, single mothers were often forced to accept public assistance or menial jobs.

Although today some black women have entered the ranks of the professional, factory workers, data processing operators, or hospital workers; many work only part time, or, as in the ghetto, not at all. The writer suggests that, for real progress, black women, black men, and white women, should join together to achieve salutary, social status.

ALL-AMERICAN ACTRESS

"Mary Tyler Moore," by Joan Bondorf.
The subject of this biography has enduring charm and respect-ability. Not only does she have a perfect figure, she has a perfect personality. As well as her jobs, with equanimity and dignity. Even as a little girl in Brooklyn—she was born in 1937—Moore lived only by her dancing lessons and the movies. It paid off when her family moved to California and she was hired to be the Hopalong Cassidy girl.

Later, during the 1960s, her association with the "Dick Van Dyke Show" became "the most intensive learning period of her life," bringing her well-deserved recognition. After her marriage to Grant Tinker, she signed with Universal for 10 years, but had only one film success: "Thoroughly Modern Millie."

Canines not postman's best friend

Dogs may be known as "man's best friend" to most, but not to the nearly 7,000 letter carriers nationwide who were the victims of a rash of dog bites while delivering mail last year.

The problem seems to be seasonal and increases as the weather gets warmer and pet owners let their dogs outdoors more," said Joseph J. Benucci, postmaster manager of the Newark Sectional Center.

Benucci reported a recent incident where a Newark letter carrier was attacked by a German shepherd and not only was bitten, but suffered a hip injury when shoved against a porch railing.

Carriers are mandated to carry a dog repellent spray, Benucci said.

But most victims are attacked from behind without any warning or time to act. He added that the spray will not cause permanent damage, just a temporary sting to the dog's eyes.

The U.S. Postal Service said one of the major causes of dog bites to carriers is unrestrained dogs. Another occurs when a pet owner opens their door to take their mail from the carrier and the dog runs out.

Pet owners who do not restrain their dogs are risking lawsuits and interruption of mail delivery to their homes. The Postal Service will seek to recover damages when a carrier is bitten, and it counsels bitten carriers who want to sue on their own. Benucci cited one case where a

Railroad grade crossing is reconstructed

The Route 208 railroad grade crossing in Cranford will be closed beginning Tuesday for reconstruction, according to Ronald Weening, Senior Transportation planner for the Union County Bureau of Transportation.

The reconstruction is expected to take approximately six working days, depending on weather conditions. Detour signs will be posted. However, the recommended detour route for cars coming from the Elizabeth area is to turn right off 1st Avenue in Roselle onto Locust Street, turn right, go under the railroad overpass and turn left onto 1st Avenue.

Trucks use the same route except they turn onto Linden Road in Roselle-Roselle Park instead of Locust Street. The 59 bus will not operate on South Avenue between Centennial Avenue in Cranford and Amsterdam and 1st Avenue in Roselle.

The reconstruction is being undertaken by the N.J. Department of Transportation and the Delaware Otsego Corp., the present operator of the railroad.

United Way plans event

Mary Portney of Portney Financial Services, and president of the United Way, will highlight the results for the year. Nida Thomas, campaign chairwoman, will outline the campaign achievements.

The luncheon will begin at noon at a cost of $14 per person. The public is invited.

More information can be obtained by calling the United Way at 553-7171.

Dayton's netters taking no prisoners

By MARK YABLONSKY
The game is a fiercely competitive one. Its key element is having the ability to hit a ball at top speed past the opposing defense in order to compile more points. So far this season, the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School tennis team has done just exceptionally well.

Funny year, sad finish

When a well-known sportswriter wrote a book nearly 20 years ago entitled "Baseball is a Funny Game," he might well have been referring to the kind of season that the David Brearley Regional High School baseball team is having.

Too much pressure?

By RON BISHOP
We are writing about children. Standing by a bowed chain-link fence watching a girls' softball game recently, this thought hit me — like the proverbial ton of bricks.

Clearly, we don't have the resources to have what is called a "beat" reporter covering every professional sports league. We also try to give the local weekly reader stories they can't find in large dailies. They have their own coverage constraints to deal with.

On both planes, we are dealing with emulation. While kids emulate their favorite players, sportswriters describe their emulations by their own emulative prism. I read other papers and "The Sporting News" to see if there are any stylistic tools that I might use to jump ahead of my colleagues.

Primping for the prom

It's that time of year again: Kids are getting formal. They're dressing in gowns and tuxedos and traveling in limousines. They're attending class nights, banquets and proms. And they're either dancing the night or looking forward to it as the highlight of their high school years.

While the type of affair, style of dress, method of transportation and theme songs may vary from year-to-year, some things never change: Class members still spend a lot of their high school years raising funds for the prom bid — this year's bids range in price from $25 to $50; girls worry about what to wear and who will be their date; boys worry about who to ask and how to get there; parents stay up all night worrying about when the kids will get home, and everyone worries about the where and how of the traditional next day events.

For a round-up of the 1986 prom season in some nearby towns, see Page 2.

For week of May 15 through May 21

ARIES (3/21-4/20) The pace of daily activities is stepped up early this week. Take the initiative in career matters. Changes in style or appearance may be on the agenda for some. Later, you sort through emotions; exercise and over-all fitness programs are begun; and healthier mental attitudes are the making.

TAURUS (4/21-5/21) Curb the urge to splurge during this week. Impulsive buys could strain your budget. Consult others before making important decisions as you may need their support for success. Later, those at a distance, in-law or legal issues assume importance. Publishing or education may touch some lives.

GEMINI (5/22-6/21) Many continue to feel the need to implement overdue changes. Avoid drastic measures and consult with professionals for the best results. CANCER (6/22-7/23) You may be packing or unpacking your bags early in the week. The social scene continues to be light-hearted, and fulfilling an obligation may actually be pleasant at this time. Later in the week, your mood becomes more serious; but your blinding may not be very realistic for the moment.

LEO (7/24-8/23) Current vicissitudes find workable solutions early this week. Others may accuse you of being selfish and some may experience internal anger revolving around daily activities. Later, careful observation will give you an edge. The motives of others confuse you, and troubled friendships may be severed.

LIBRA (9/24-10/23) The coming week should see more co-operation come your way. Domestic issues, smooth over, and major home or property improvements are on the agenda for many. Later, be alert to your own health needs; burning the candle at both ends is bound to catch up with you. Keep tabs on career going on.

Later, insurance, tax, pension or other legal papers will assume importance for many. Aim for a co-operative spirit, and safeguard your financial security.

SAGITTARIUS (11/23-12/21) Career or residence changes are in the air for many. More involvement in family matters is indicated, and the same time you may be feeling the need for more freedom than personal relationships allow. Later, you enter a more social period, and recreational activities are favored.

CAPRICORN (12/22-1/20) You may encounter some trouble while your important alliances, early in the week. You are more assertive now and others may be seeing a new side of your personality. Later, advancements or promotions are in the air; expand creative ventures; and take advantage of a surplus of energy.

AQUARIUS (1/21-2/19) Stick to the tried and true early this week. Avoid impulsive spending and pay attention to the important changes that are taking place behind the scenes of your job. Later, a financial bonus and pat on the back may also come with a new opportunity. Dealing with ideas and those in authority are indicated.

PISCES (2/20-3/20) Daily obligations and deadlines irritate and annoy early this week. Confrontations are likely and frustrations as well. Children or younger people may prompt your concern on more than one occasion. Later, social, romantic and recreational activities are on the agenda for many.

Music from 'RAD' energetic

BY MILT HAMMER

Pick of The LPs: 'RAD' (Music From The Motion Picture Sound Track, Curb/MCA Records).

The exciting new movie 'RAD' takes you into the thrill-packed world of BMX bicycle racing and freestyling. BMX, the strongest, lightweight bikes that teenagers discovered could be adapted to the same sort of acrobatic stunt-manship as skateboards. Combine this incredible athleticism and speed with motocross racing which uses a course studded with treacherous skill-demanding obstacles, and you get a sport as riveting as they come.

Directed by Hal Needham "Smoky and the Bandit," 'RAD' weaves a story of courage and adventure as it follows the fortunes of Cru Jones, played by newcomer Bill Allen, a small town hazy who dreams of racing Helltrack, the most diabolical motocross track ever conceived.

The music from 'RAD' is as contemporary and energetic as its subject. The lead track and first single, John Farnham's "Break the Ice," soars with all the grace and energy of a BNK leaping up the wall of an empty swimming pool and clearing a five-foot chainlink fence — the very stunt that inspired an classic "Send Me An Angel." Sparks offer the hit "Makin' You Can Dance," in open side II, and the Mael brothers' music has never had a keener edge than in this percolating track. Jimmy Haddox circles on the muscular "Baby Come Back," while former LHM River Band lead singer Farnham returns with "Thunder in Your Heart," a song that captures all the adrenaline-charged emotion of both competition and new love. The album closes with the love theme from 'RAD', James DiPasquale's gently moving "With You."

'RAD' stars Bill Allen, Lori Loughlin, Jimmy "Bandit" Conner, Talla Shive, Ray Watson and Jack Weston. It is a Talla film II/Robert L. Levy Production directed by Hal Needham and produced by Robert L. Levy from an original screenplay by Sam Bernard and George Edwards. Jack Schwartzman was the executive producer of this Tri Star release.

OUR LITTLE GIRL ON DRUGS?

How could it be possible? We've always tried our best to be good parents, but lately we've felt her slipping away from us. Her grades haven't been as good as they used to be. She seems sullen much of the time and she was always a happy child until this began. We've been talking it over and we just don't know what to do.

Sound familiar?

Workshop for women to be held tonight

Women Helping Women of Union County will sponsor a Community Education workshop tonight at 7:30 in the Guild Room of St. Paul's Church, Westfield.

Dennis McLelland, an admissions officer at Union County Vocational-Technical schools, will speak on non-traditional careers for women. There's No

Such Thing As A Man's Job Anymore.

A separation-divorce group, which held its first meeting May 7 in the church, will meet for six weeks to discuss problems related to the changes brought on by separation and divorce.

There will be a repeat of the topic, "The Hispanic Woman in a Changing Environment," with Nancy Albacate and Elysee Mashpoch-Esquivel. The talk and discussion will be held May 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the ladies' lounge of the Community United Methodist Church, Roselle Park.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 232-6787.
