Black bear in 'surprise visit'

By MARK YABLONSKY

A black bear, described by one Springfield police sergeant as "walking around like a senior citizen," made a surprise visit to Springfield last Thursday afternoon after reportedly having been seen in Warren and Berkeley Heights earlier in the week.

The bear, estimated to be nearly 6 foot tall and weighing somewhere around 250 pounds, first appeared in Baltusrol Golf Course early in the morning and was last seen in the vicinity of Shumpke Road sometime around noon, according to police estimates. In between, however, the bear had made its way close to the main center of town near Morris Avenue, wandering throughout various backyards near the James Caldwell School, including Keeler Street and Caldwell Place.

"It was a good-looking bear," said Norman Powell of Hillside Avenue, who stopped his car momentarily when the animal crossed in front of him on Shumpke Road, shortly before 9 a.m.

"A cute little thing. He seemed quite content and happy. He didn't seem to bother anybody. He didn't even bother looking before he crossed the street," he added jokingly.

"When I first saw him, I said to myself, 'my God, what a big dog,'" said Baltusrol groundskeeper Joseph Flaherty, who first sighted the bear at about 7:10 a.m. in his course truck some 300 yards away. "But as soon as I saw him moving, I knew it was a bear."

Flaherty said the bear eventually made its way from the sixth tee on the lower course to the second tee on the upper course, where it then passed within a short distance of women golfers, before making its way into the woods beyond. Around an hour later, police received a call saying the bear had been spotted in a backyard of a Wilson Road residence.

"I knew he weighed more than me because his front paw is as big as my legs in diameter," said Sgt. Vernon Peterson, who, along with other members of the Springfield force, came within several feet of the bear when it was near the Caldwell school vicinity. "He just wandered around and he didn't bother anybody. He just kept walking where he wanted to."

Police eventually diverted the bear back to the Shumpke Road area, where he then disappeared. Although the bear was not considered to be dangerous, Peterson says he advised Caldwell school personnel to bring children who were out for recess indoors to avoid either frightening the animal, or from being scared themselves.

Robert Lund, the supervising biologist of the state Division of Fish, Game and Wildlife, said it is not at all unusual to see bears appear in unlikely places at this time of year, since it is now mating season for them. Lund, who said there was a "99 percent probability" that the animal was a male, explained that bears live predominantly in the northern third of the state, and that the division itself has received nearly 40 "bear calls" within the last two weeks.

Lund, however, did give some advice to anyone who might spot a bear within their vicinity.

"Enjoy them, but don't feed them," cautioned the biologist. "If you start feeding them, eventually they'll knock on your door for more. You're turning a wild animal into a pest and it's not good for either one of you. Eventually, pests get shot."

Lund also emphasized that for the welfare of the animal, bears are only moved by wildlife personnel in "the most extreme cases."

16 candidates nominated by town's voters

By MARK YABLONSKY

A total of 16 candidates for national, county and local office were approved to run in November's general election by Springfield voters in Tuesday's primary that saw slightly more than seven percent of the town electorate turn out.

Leading the way was top vote-getter Matthew J. Rinaldo, the incumbent 7th District Congressman who garnered 322 ballots, as compared to 257 for his Democratic challenger, June Fischer. Lyndon Larouche supporter James J. Cleary of Bound Brook, who ran under the title of FDR Democrat, received only 15 votes.

In local action, Republican Township Committee candidates Stanley Fink and Howard A. Massler received 297 and 290 votes, respectively, while Democrats William M. Welsh and Sy Mullman gathered totals of 255 and 257. A total of 10 other candidates for county office, including sheriff and freholder, were on the ballot as well.

Only 652 of the town's approximate list of 9,200 eligible voters cast ballots, leaving the official turnout at 7.1 percent. Figures for the county turnout could not yet be determined at press time, since a large number of poll workers did not record Democratic or Republican vote totals for their respective machines, deputy county clerk John Blain said.

Springfield's relatively low turnout margin was not considered to be an aberration.

"That's not unusual for a primary, unless you have something exceptional happen," said Township Clerk Helen Maguire.

A new job for ex-county manager

By MARK HAVILAND

Former Union County Manager Louis Coletti, seven months after he was ousted from his executive post in the public sector with the county, has been named to an executive post in the private sector.

The board of directors of the New York Building Congress selected Coletti, 54, to become chief executive officer of the organization, it was announced by George A. Fox, president of the New York Building Congress. The organization is comprised of "anyone that has anything to do with the building industry," according to Coletti.

In a recent interview from his Linden home, Coletti said that he expects to be named president of the public affairs corporation by the end of the summer and Fox, who Coletti serves under in the hierarchy of the organization, would be then become the organization's chairman of the board.

The New York Building Congress deals with issues affecting the building industry in that state, Coletti explained, and one of his responsibilities will be to lobby on behalf of the industry before legislators and other government officials in New York City, and at the state and federal levels.

For example, New York City Council President Andrew Stein had put forth a proposal recently to review and change zoning requirements so that the height of future skyscrapers would be limited. Coletti said he indicated to Stein that while the Congress shared some of his concerns about the need for rezoning, they were opposed to the limitations.

"My knowledge of the legislative process is an asset," Coletti said.

Coletti explained that the congress is made up of two divisions. The New York Building Congress is a non-profit research corporation, while a separate "umbrella subsidy" is geared toward lobbying, the Council for Business and Labor. Coletti also serves as the lobbyist for the latter branch.

"For legal and tax purposes, there are two separate organizations," Coletti explained.

"We're the only organization in the country's building industry that has labor on its board of directors," Coletti explained.

Coletti referred to this distinction as a very advantageous position which enables the organization to mediate potential labor disputes which might arise.

The congress began the executive search for candidates for the position last December, Coletti explained. A field of 100 candidates for the chief executive position, he added, was narrowed down to nine individuals and then three finalists.

"I was contacted in early April for the first interview, and at the second interview, I was offered the position," Coletti said.

"What made this opportunity so enticing is that there are very specific plans to double the size of the operation," Coletti explained.

In retrospect, Coletti said that he is glad to have made the switch from the public to the private sector. Recalling his strained relations with the Union County Board of Freeholders and other county officials which led to his ouster, Coletti said that his management style clashed with the county's system of management.

After holding positions as economic development coordinator for the Department of Human Services, director of correctional services at the Union County jail for the county's Department of Public Safety, and as deputy county manager, Coletti was named to the county manager's post in 1984. Coletti was ousted in November following a year of difficulties with the freeholders, including an investigation by the Union County prosecutor's office that Coletti prompted into the board's appointment of special attorneys as labor negotiators. Legal attempts by Coletti to regain his position were unsuccessful.

County Counsel Robert Doherty has been serving as manager in an acting capacity since Coletti's ouster and until a new manager is named, a move expected before the end of the month.

"My style as an executive could be classified as a strong executive, getting things done quickly and effectively, which did not always mesh with the public sector way of doing things," Coletti explained.

"When you're in the public sector, there are other factors that are intangible," he added. "The advantage of private sector freedoms is that they tell you to get it done and report back later. That's why it operates better than the public sector."

In a written statement, Fox saw a role for Coletti in the organization's future expansion. "The Building Congress has decided to increase and broaden the level and extent of our involvement in urban building affairs," Fox explained. "Bringing Lou aboard will enable us to implement new programs, coherently and regularly."

Coletti received a B.A. from Rutgers University in English and economics in 1973, and a master's degree in public administration from New York University in 1977. He is currently an adjunct professor in public administration at Jersey City State College.

Coletti is active in a range of civic groups including the United Way, the March of Dimes and the American Cancer Society.

Development OK'd

By MARK YABLONSKY

Preliminary and final approval for much of the proposed Planned Unit Development slated for the far southeast corner of town was granted by the Springfield Planning Board Tuesday night by a 7-1 margin.

After two special hearings earlier between the board and the developer, Arden Associates, and a special subcommittee meeting by three board members one week later, a large portion of the uncertainties involving the 53.2 acre site were resolved, leading to Tuesday's board decision.

Receiving both preliminary and final approval were the site's commercial and retail store area, as well as its residential space, which is expected to consist of 312 townhouse units. The proposed office space, targeted to lay within 210,000 square feet north of the residential area, received preliminary approval, with the final go-ahead to begin construction pending on final adjustments made there.

Among the major issues to be resolved — that had delayed earlier approval — were the widening of the paved roadway leading into the residential area and the solution to a proposed fire substation, due to concerns by board members William Cleri and Stanley Kalsh that traffic at the site in late afternoon would greatly hinder the ability of firetrucks to enter the area.

The roadway will now be widened from 30 to 36 feet to allow for more loading and pick up within the retail area, a concern that had been brought up earlier by board member Fred Bayroff, Arden principal owner Joseph Wilf has agreed to donate roughly 75 by 100 feet of the land to allow construction of the substation, the final details of which are expected to be known shortly.

"Thank you all," said a beaming Arden attorney Bruce Pitman to the board after the vote had been taken.

"They fulfilled basically all our wishes in the overall scheme and layout of the development," said board vice-chairman Richard Colandrea, who along with chairman Azeglio T. Pancani Jr. and Township Engineer Harold Reed, formed the subcommittee that resolved most of the final obstacles.

Cleri, also the town's mayor, was the lone board member to vote against approval, citing a "philosophical problem" with the concept, rather than a vote against Wilf, who the mayor praised as someone who "builds with integrity." Cleri has repeatedly said the land would be better suited for industrial development.

Registration set for story hours

The children's department of the Springfield Public Library is accepting registration for its summer story hour program.

The story hour for 3-year-olds will be held Tuesday mornings from 10:15 to 11 a.m. throughout July and Aug. 5. Story hour for 4-year-olds will meet Thursdays from 10:15 to 11 a.m. July 3, 10, 17, 24, 31 and Aug. 7.

Story hour time is a group experience leading to further enjoyment of books and reading, a library spokesman said. Parents may register their children by calling Patricia Fennimore at 378-4930.

Seeing is believing

Several commendable programs are under way in Union County this year to make young people aware of the dangers of drinking and driving. And the parents, teachers, teen-agers and town merchants who have joined forces to drive this point home deserve to be praised for their efforts.

Recognizing that lectures and speeches often fall on deaf ears, these community members have come up with a few dramatic ways to convince teen-agers that "drinking and driving don't mix."

At Linden High School, Project P.R.I.D.E., Promoting Respect Interaction and Developing Esteem, arranged for a car, which had been demolished in a drunk driving accident, to be parked in the school lot during prom week.

The Chemical Substance Abuse Program at Roselle Park High School sponsored a similar program, parking a wrecked vehicle on school property last week. This visual reminder of the dangers of drinking will remain at the school until the end of the month.

In Roselle, students at Abraham Clark High School heard a talk by a member of the Union County Prosecutor's staff on chemical substance abuse. At class night this month, cards warning that "Friends don't let friends drink" will be distributed.

PICTURE THIS — As the saying goes, 'One picture is worth a thousand words.' School officials in Roselle Park are hoping that students will make a mental picture of this wrecked car. The vehicle, demolished in an accident involving a drunk driver, is parked at the high school to remind young people of the dangers of drinking and driving. Several other school districts in Union County are conducting similar programs. (Photo by John Boutskaris)

In Union, males attending the high school prom found a message warning of the dangers of drinking and driving in the pocket of their tuxedos. Merchants in town contributed to the anti-drinking efforts by posting "prohibition" signs in their stores.

The Safe Rides/Safe Homes Program of Springfield and Mountainside, instituted in March, provides rides for area teen-agers. Adults members of the community and young people are "on call" during the weekend to safely drive home any teen-ager who has been drinking.

A man crippled as a result of a drunk driving accident spoke to students at David Brainerly High School, Kenilworth, about the possibility of their being involved in such an incident. A poster campaign against drinking and driving also was conducted.

These programs respond to an urgent need to make young people aware of the dangers of using chemical substances and then getting behind the wheel of a car.

Every year during this, the height of the high school partying season, we hear about a tragic accident involving teen-agers and drinking. Despite the fact that drinking is illegal in this state for those under 21, hundreds of teens in New Jersey alone are involved in drunk driving accidents every year. According to the Surgeon General, 10,000 young people between the ages of 15 and 24 are involved in such accidents yearly. The use of chemical substances and drugs, including alcohol, is the leading cause of traffic fatalities for this age group, according to the surgeon general.

Those schools and community members who have promoted a "seeing is believing" attitude this year need to be recognized for facing the issue in a manner which just might drive the point home to those who insist, "it won't happen to me."

Letters to the editor

'No Dumps' group cares

On May 19, members of the NO-D.I.C.E. (No Dumps In Clean Environments) organization from East Greenwich Township testified before the New Jersey Senate Judiciary Committee opposing the confirmation of four members of the New Jersey Hazardous Waste Facilities Siting Commission.

There are many reasons why we chose to do this. One important deficiency in the existing commission is that after years of study and hundreds of thousands of dollars paid to technical consultants, the Commission is ready to site a land placement facility — a toxic waste dump — without knowing what this facility will look like. According to Frank Dodd, commission chairman, the technology for building this facility is still "being developed."

NO D.I.C.E. feels that there are many other deficiencies in the process, including the fact that we had a public hearing with the commission in March without the benefit of the engineering studies which led to the selection of East Greenwich as a potential site. Furthermore, there are many questions about environmental and public safety which the commission is unable to answer even at this late date.

At the hearing, Judiciary Committee Chairman E.T. O'Connor asked Senator William Gormley to introduce two of the nominees. Senator Gormley struggled valiantly, but could not pronounce their names (one, Max Weiss, has an easy name) and admitted that he did not know them. This elicited chuckles from most of the Senators.

Why is that important? Because Senator Gormley had just finished introducing Drew Altman who was appointed Commissioner of Human Services. At that time, Gormley admitted to having interviewed Mr. Altman for several hours. This shows clearly that the State of New Jersey doesn't seem to care too much who sits on the Hazardous Waste Facilities Siting Commission, as long as they — the legislature — don't have to take responsibility for facility siting.

NO D.I.C.E. cares. We are going to examine the credentials of every present and past Commissioner member and make the State of New Jersey and the members of the state legislature aware of exactly who governor Kean has appointed.

Incidentally, the four Commission members were confirmed by unanimous vote.

WalkAmerica participants thanked

On behalf of the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation and the North Jersey Chapter, I would like to offer my sincerest gratitude to this publication for the outstanding coverage of our WalkAmerica. I would also like to congratulate the 10,000 walkers who raised $1 million in pledges to other school districts in Union County are conducting similar programs.

A special "hat tip" salute is extended to the following volunteers whose dedication and hard work made WalkAmerica a tremendous success: Union County employees, United Trust Company, Kean College, Union County College, Union County Paratransit, Union County Police, Union County Office of Emergency Management, Union County Sheriff's Department, Blue Knights, Girl Scout Troop 422, Highway AARP 067, Twin Mothers Club, Plainfield, and National State Bank.

Checkpoints were sponsored by: Airco Industrial Gases, CWA Local 1060, Tuscan Dairies, and Roy Rodgers.

Special thanks to WJDM and WNJR Radio for providing music for walkers.

Pringle lauds private schools

The Springfield Leader of May 29 read as follows: "Friedland prepared to lead school district." This is the reason that the public schools are failing and pulling the country down.

If the article read "Friedland prepared to lead school district with the help of God" we would have some hope for the future. Without God's help in the public schools we must turn to the private schools which are academically superior also.

From personal experience they are academically superior also.

Recycling is antidote to waste 'poison'

By DAVID MOORE

Another needed attempt to impose mandatory recycling in New Jersey is embodied in legislation, S-1478, recently introduced in Trenton. Sponsored by Sen. Paul Gontluik, D-28, this bill replaces one which died unadopted at the end of the last legislative session. A closely related bill, sponsored by Assemblyman Arthur Abston, R-26, awaits lower house action again.

Recycling, using things over instead of making them from scratch, has been a popular concept in environmental circles for a long time. Now its usefulness has become visible to a wider group — the officials at all levels who are trying to figure out how to cope with our collective problem of solid waste disposal.

Recycling is good because when we flush reusable materials from the waste stream, less waste is left for disposal. That's perfectly clear. It also reminds us of the arguments for recycling in the first place, such as needing less energy to recycle than to fabricate from raw materials, less expense through recycling than from mining or otherwise producing virgin materials, and saving irreplaceable natural resources for the benefit of our grandchildren.

Back during World War I, a popular cartoon showed two British soldiers peering from a battlefield shell-hole, one saying, "If you know a better 'ole, go to it!" Finding a better 'ole, or any 'ole at all, is recognized as New Jersey's problem in terms of solid waste disposal. Nobody wants a 'ole, or landfill, in his/her neighborhood, and few can blame them. But the result is a kind of anarchy in which government at various levels is demonstrating an inability to cope.

Aside from all that, dumping useful materials in a 'hole' makes no real sense. And anyway, too often the 'hole' leaks, introducing further contamination of our drinking water.

But Utopia hasn't been built yet, and the obvious value of recycling cannot be realized fully until some important factors are dealt with. As one could expect, money is a big factor — undoubtedly the biggest. Because when you start collecting recyclables, you'd better be able to find a market for same, or else you've started your own junk pile.

Money, of course, can come to the rescue by providing the incentive to get the recycling job done properly. Both the current and proposed recycling acts contain grants and aid programs. It's interesting to note that the money flows now through away along with their garbage by failing to apply for tonnage grants and, even worse, by often failing to list all the stuff that's recycled when they do.

Recycling is compatible with other forms of solid waste disposal, including what's called resource recovery. That's a big idea, too, which burns waste and thus produces heat to make steam to generate electricity. Speaking of Utopia, landfills and resource recovery options may not be perfect either. You might have to choose markets became saturated with New York glass.

A bigger problem is plastics, which come in so many kinds and types that one cannot tell them apart, although many need to be recycled separately. Both bills call for plastic containers to be marked as to type, so as to facilitate the relatively untouched plastic recycling potential.

In the long run we've got to confront the fact that per capita waste output keeps going up. It may eventually mean standardized packaging and mandating new ways to throw away less. For now, supporting mandatory recycling is an essential first step toward ending our productivity for poisoning ourselves!

Library column

Author traces Jewish history

BY ROSE P. SIMON

The following are reviews of books currently available at the Springfield Public Library.

"The Road from Babylon," by Chaim Raphael.

In Israel today there are two opposing, yet united groups of Jews whose backgrounds over the centuries, have differed historically and culturally. The Sephardim (the Hebrew word for Spain) lived in Spain and Portugal, although now Jews from all over the Mediterranean and the Near East countries are included. There are the Ashkenazim (the Hebrew word for German) who were dispersed throughout Europe.

Raphael writes an account of the origin and migrations of the Jews; the influence of the Romans, Greeks, Christians and Muslims on their lives; the dominance and decline of each group; their persecution, expulsion, mass conversion and assimilation of each; and the prominent leaders in each era. Trends in education, the professions, and trade, are noted. The author pays special attention to the Sephardic Diaspora during the 16th and 17th centuries, and traces the migration of the Sephardim to the West.

Then came the Nazis and the uprooting of both groups everywhere, and the tremendous gathering of disadvantaged Sephardim (the minority was educated) to Israel, already dominated by the mostly Westernized Ashkenazim. Gradually, with their integration into the mainstream of Israeli life, improvement in living conditions, increase in fertility, entrance into the political, religious and professional fields, the Sephardim have made sensational strides. But there is much being done to "bridge the gap", while retaining their unique ethnic and cultural heritage.

"Winnie Mandela," by Nancy Harrison.

Truly one of the great black women in the struggle against South African apartheid, Winnie Mandela; in spite of continuing persecution, torture, arrests, imprisonment and beatings, still remains fearless, unbowed, and passionately committed to the cause of the now illegal African National Congress (ANC).

After her father's school was closed, Winnie was sent far off from the Transkei to prepare for a career as a social worker. A fine scholar, she soon became interested in the goals of ANC; repeats of pass laws, the right to own land, equal justice in the courts, and one vote for one man.

Winnie's involvement in the Defiance Campaign, her arrest, her brilliant lawyer Nelson Mandela brought her close to the struggle. Her visits to Johannesburg, then to the apartheid Soweto ghettos, broadened her vision of the grim realities of her people's status. She became the first black medical social worker. In 1958, at 19, she married Nelson Mandela, who soon became hers; the goals of ANC.

The almost incredible series of horrendous events which occurred in the lives of the Mandelas and others in the apartheid South Africa, Winnie was her first black friend. It is shocking to read of the cruelty (sometimes the absurdity) of other South African regulations as applied to the blacks. One is arrested for even speaking to a "banned" person, the loss is cause for arrest, one may not travel or move without permission, homes may be ransacked or burned suddenly, only on suspicion.

Both imprisoned, the Mandelas have received assistance and awards from abroad. Separated for 23 out of 28 years of married life, they continue to work for others, even though they are severely limited. Deeply religious and non-racial, they still are non-violent and call for international sanctions.

WATERCOLORS—Alice Gardner of Westfield, a popular local artist who specializes in watercolors of New Jersey and New England, will be exhibiting her paintings at the Springfield Public Library this month. Gardner is a member of the Summit Art Center and has exhibited her work at many area art shows. The exhibit may be viewed during regular library hours.

LEGALLY SPEAKING
by JOEL I. RACHMIEL, ATTORNEY AT LAW
Former Ass't. Union County Prosecutor (1973-1979)

When is a house not a home? When it's a multiple dwelling. So says the N.J. Supreme Court in upholding in local ordinance a "mother-daughter new addition" which added a separate foyer, entryway, bedroom, living room, kitchen and heating system for the homeowner's 74-year-old widowed mother who lived in the town's zoning code-ban against multi-family residences. A lone dissenting justice of the Supreme Court would have sent the matter back to the lower court to consider whether the ordinance's prohibition was validly applied to a family which was merely attempting to provide both closeness and independence to an elderly parent.

Board reviews conduct code

By MARK HAVILAND
Regional Board of Education discussed aspects of a revised student code of conduct at a meeting Tuesday night at David Brearley Regional High School in Kentonworth.

Superintendent of Schools Donald Merachnik said that the new code was in response to a directive by the state Board of Education that each school district develop its own code of conduct. It will come up for a vote by the board within a month.

George Cuzzolino, assistant principal at Brearley, made the presentation of the revised code-of-student conduct before the board and answered questions from board members.

"It serves as a codification of various material that we had scattered through all our manuals and it serves to standardize our practices," Cuzzolino said, adding that it was an attempt to revise the former Guidelines for Disciplinary Assistance, adopted in 1978. "The crux of the matter is that for the first time there's a responsibility," he said.

Teachers bear the greatest responsibility for supervising the students who have the advantage of constant exposure to the student. Cuzzolino said. The Brearley principal also said that school officials had to consider increased student use of smokeless tobacco

"In every school, we have maybe 25 to 50 students who are chronic offenders, constantly on the disciplinary rolls," Cuzzolino stated. Board member David Hart proposed that a detention policy for Saturdays should be limited to one offense because some students were at the Saturday detention on a repeated basis.

"We felt that if we gave them a suspension that interferes with their personal time rather than taking them away from classes and schoolwork, it would be better," Hart explained.

Another policy in the conduct code discussed by the board allows the principal or assistant principal to periodically inspect student's lockers.

"In accepting the use of a school locker, a student shall have been deemed to have consented to such periodic inspections," the code under review reads. "A student who accepts the use of a school locker will be deemed to have waived any right any right or expectation of privacy with respect to his locker."

The language in this policy is basically taken from that earlier opinion," Skok explained. "You're always going to have a question of credibility whether you have two people witnessing for it."

Board member Melvin Altman discussed two aspects of the conduct code, suggesting that the dress code section was rather vague and reminding the board that teachers should also be expected to conform to certain codes of conduct so students don't feel the policy is "one-sided."

"This is not made for teacher expectations, but for student expectations," Merachnik explained.

The board also discussed, but did not vote on Tuesday, a separate policy governing the administration of medication to students.

Two arrested for possession

Two young adults have been arrested by Springfield police in connection with illegal drug possession. One of the suspects was also found to have been wanted on a bench warrant that was later recalled.

Jeff Miller, 22, of Springfield, was apprehended by Patrolman George Geisinger on May 29 at 8:30 a.m. at the corner of South Springfield and Hillside-Avenues on charges of possessing legend - prescription drugs and a hypodermic needle.

Also charged with driving while suspended, Miller's bench warrant from Union that was listed at the time of his apprehension was later recalled.

Albert Barksdale, 20, of South Plainfield, was stopped a day earlier by Patrolman Judd Levenson at 12:10 a.m. at Echo Plaza.

Barksdale was charged with possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana and possession of cocaine in the form commonly referred to as crack.

In Municipal Court Monday night, Clinton Horton of Springfield pleaded guilty to having three delinquent parking tickets from each of the last two years and was charged $45 for contempt of court, $9 in regular fines, and $20 court costs.

Ronald Harris, 35, of Scotch Plains, pleaded guilty to driving with no insurance and was fined $100, $15 in court costs, and handed a six-month license revocation.

Felix Schatzberg, 20, of North Plainfield, pleaded guilty to driving with a suspended license and was fined $50, $15 in court costs, and given an additional 30-day revocation.

Oscar Hanzo, 30, of Summit, pleaded guilty to having no insurance and was fined $100, $15 in court costs, and given a six-month license revocation.

Hanzo also pleaded guilty to being an unlicensed driver and was fined $200 and $15 in court costs. Additionally, no license will be issued to him for an extra 180 days.

Wayne Morrison, 24, of Roselle, pleaded guilty to having no insurance and was fined $100, $15 in court costs and given a six-month license revocation.

Morrison also pleaded guilty to having an unregistered and unlicensed vehicle and was fined $10 and $10 in court costs for both offenses.

Phillip Cuttone, 21, of Maplewood, pleaded guilty to displaying only one license plate on a vehicle and to using plates from another vehicle. He was fined a total of $50 and $25 in court costs for both offenses.

In addition, Cuttone was fined a total of $20 and $20 in court costs for pleading guilty to driving an unregistered vehicle and to having no drivers license in his possession.

Edward Rossini, 51, of Roseland, pleaded guilty to having no insurance and was fined $100 and $15 in court costs, along with a six-month revocation of his license.

Vincent Sabini, 35, of Millburn, was found guilty of operating equipment on Short Hills Avenue that obstructed the roadway and was fined $25, $15 in court costs and $30 payable to the state Violent Crimes Compensation Board.

TRUMAN AWARD—Harry S. Truman Foundation Chairman William G. Chirgolis of Springfield presents U.S. House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. with the organization's annual Commemorative Award in honor of the late President's Birthday at a recent Memorial Dinner in Kansas City. Chirgolis, a resident of Mount Pleasant Avenue, has been the Truman Foundation's Chairman of the Board since 1980.

Borough to impose temporary ban

The Mountaineer Borough Council is expected to introduce an ordinance this month that will impose a temporary ban on development. The impetus for this action comes from the need to update a contract with Cranford Township, covering the amount of sewage the borough sends through the Cranford system to the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority.

The borough and township have a long-term agreement which defines the permitted sewage flow. Monitoring of the flow from Mountaineer has shown that the borough may be exceeding that amount.

Therefore, there will be negotiations over the next few months between the two municipalities to develop a new contract. In addition, the borough is presently pursuing application as a member of the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority.

rather than the present situation as a customer.

The ban will be instituted for a 90-day period during which all major development will be banned. It will affect only developments which could create a daily flow of 2,000 gallons per day or more. There shall be no effect concerning the development of single family homes and other small buildings.

Schering files competition lawsuit

Schering Corporation filed suit on May 19 in the Federal District Court for the Eastern District of New York in Uniondale, N.Y., charging a manufacturer and a distributor of food supplement products with unfair competition.

The suit charges the defendants with selling a diet product that simulates Schering's trade dress.

In addition, Cuttone was fined a total of $20 and $20 in court costs for pleading guilty to driving an unregistered vehicle and to having no drivers license in his possession.

Edward Rossini, 51, of Roseland, pleaded guilty to having no insurance and was fined $100 and $15 in court costs, along with a six-month revocation of his license.

Vincent Sabini, 35, of Millburn, was found guilty of operating equipment on Short Hills Avenue that obstructed the roadway and was fined $25, $15 in court costs and $30 payable to the state Violent Crimes Compensation Board.

Runner-up wins award

Patricia Kukan, 16, of Rancocas Hollow, Mountaineer, was recently selected first runner-up in the Miss New Jersey National Teen-ager Pageant. Seventy-three girls participated in the pageant.

Patricia also won the citizenship award which is based on scholastic achievements and leadership. With the award she received a $10,000 fellowship scholarship to Eckerd College in Florida.

Each state winner of the citizenship award will be considered for one of the five $16,000 regional titles, scholarships.

Designer 'costumes' children

The world of high fashion has its glamour and challenge. But making the chic women of New York look beautiful doesn't compare to the satisfaction of helping disabled children "dress up" for special occasions.

For retired fashion designer Louise Miller of Westfield, a volunteer at Children's Specialized Hospital, the broad smile across the face of a youngster she has outfitted in a costume for a special role in the course of Activities of Daily-Living therapy, is a personal reward which parallels those she experienced on Seventh Avenue.

For the past 15 years, Miller has dedicated her time and talents to the children of this pediatric rehabilitation facility. Her late husband, Roy, was also a volunteer at the hospital.

"Designing costumes that are fun and serve a therapeutic purpose is quite a different challenge than those I faced during my professional career," Miller said.

Working with the hospital's occupational therapists, the volunteer designer creates clothing, costumes and accessories which are used to teach dressing skills. The costumes allow the children to "play" as a cowboy, nurse or clown while learning skills which can be quite complex to a disabled child, according to Occupational Therapist Paula Emma.

"It's really wonderful that we have volunteers with skills which enable us to broaden our creative approach to rehabilitation," Emma said. "All I had to do was set the goals I hoped to achieve with each costume and Miller did the rest. She selected the fabrics, added beautiful creative touches of her own and sewed the finished garments. The kids love them."

Miller, whose late husband Roy was also a volunteer at Children's Specialized, is one of many retired individuals who give of their time and skill as volunteers at the hospital.

According to Shirley Blegler, community coordinator designing costumes is just the latest successful volunteer project accomplished by Mrs. Miller. "Over the years, Miller has designed and sewn banners, aprons, curtains and just about anything else we needed at the time," Miller takes particular pride in designing special clothing for patients whose physical disability precluded dressing in a conventional manner.

Miller, a longtime member of Twig L. Senior Auxiliary, is pleased that her skills are needed at Children's Specialized. "My service to the hospital and the children is a source of great joy to me," Miller said.

Louise Miller is one of several retired professionals whose skills are making a difference at the hospital, according to Mrs. Blegler. "Whatever the skill, we have a need for it," she said.

Further information about the volunteer programs at Children's Specialized may be obtained by contacting Blegler at 233-3720.

VOLUNTEER COSTUME DESIGNER Louise Miller has found new avenues of creative expression at Children's Specialized Hospital.

Altercation leads to arrest

A 19-year-old Kentonworth man was arrested May 29 following an altercation with a juvenile on the grounds of David Brearley Regional High School in Kentonworth.

John Chessa, 19, of 220 North 9th St., was arrested and charged with trespassing, disorderly conduct, two counts of harassment, assault of a police officer and resisting arrest. Chessa was released on $750 bail.

Kentonworth Police Officers Henry Moll and Richard Wood responded to a report of an altercation, that was occurring between Chessa and a juvenile. Chessa kicked Moll, according to police.

The officer was taken to Memorial General Hospital in Union and released.

Bard Festival season is set

This season at the professional (Actors' Equity) New Jersey Shakespeare Festival, Drew University, Madison, 16 attractions, including dance, drama, music, comedy and children's shows, will be offered in the 1986 festival season, June 25 through Dec. 14. Performances at the festival are Tuesday through Saturday at 8 p.m., with matinees all Saturdays and some Wednesdays and Sundays at 2 p.m.

Complete performance schedules are available by writing to Shakespeare, Madison, N.J. 07940 or by calling the box office at 377-4487.

Six major productions will be offered by the festival's resident acting company. Beginning the season will be William Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar," which previews June 25 and 26, with a press opening June 27. Two weeks later, Shakespeare's "Antony and Cleopatra" will join the summer repertory, previewing July 9 and 10, with a press opening July 11. Completing the summer repertory will be "The Two Noble Kinsmen," previewing Aug. 6 and 7, with a press opening Aug. 9. Written by Shakespeare at the end of his career in collaboration with John Fletcher, author of romantic tragicomedies, "Two Noble Kinsmen" is a re-telling of Chaucer's "The Knight's Tale," a tale of "imprisoned knights and fair ladies."

Little known, it has reportedly been produced 11 times this century in England or America, five of these in this country.

The festival's production will alternate nightly with "Julius Caesar" and "Antony and Cleopatra" through the close of the summer repertory on Sept. 21.

In the fall, the festival will offer Sunday at 7 p.m., Mondays at 7 or 8 p.m., with matinees all Saturdays and some Wednesdays and Sundays at 2 p.m.

From July 7 through Sept. 8, Monday Night Special guest attractions will be offered, each for one performance only.

Beginning the series on July 9 will be actor William Shust as Anton Chekhov in "Chekhov On The Lawn" by Elliot Weiner.

On July 14, the New Jersey Ballet will perform at the festival, the 15th consecutive year. For the ballet's program, from classical diversions to jazz music, reservations are recommended. Ticket prices: USA, America's pre-eminent theater for young audiences, will return to the festival on July 21 with "Lady Liberty," a musical celebration of 3 judges selected

The director of the Summit Art Center and two professional artists have been selected as judges for the art contest being sponsored by Rep. Matthew Rinaldo for high school students in the 7th Congressional District.

Rinaldo identified the judges as Mrs. Ann Williams of Flemington, Harry Devlin of Mountaintop and Frank Loysacco of Union.

Mrs. Williams is the newly appointed director of the art center. Before assuming the directorship last February, she was an assistant professor of fine art at Beaver College in Glenade, Pa. She completed her undergraduate work at the University of Michigan and holds a master's degree in fine arts from the Tyler School of Art at Temple University.

Devlin is an artist and author who was a commissioned newspaper artist during World War II and later was an editorial cartoonist for Collier's Magazine. He has had one-man shows at the Tilden League Club in New York City and the Morris Museum in Morristown. He is a past president of the National Art Society and served for several years on the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.

Loysacco, who is known professionally as Frank Loysacco, is an illustrator of children's books and the creator of art for record albums and magazines, including Reader's Digest. He has had one-man shows at the Society of Illustrators in New York City and Union College in Cranford.

Rinaldo said each secondary school in the 7th District has been invited to enter up to three qualifying works of art to be selected by the school's art teachers. The winning entry will be displayed this summer, along with art from other Congressional districts across the country, in the U.S. Capitol building.

The artwork will be on public display at the Schering-Plough Corp. in Kenilworth from Monday through June 13. The winning entry will be announced at a reception to be sponsored by Schering-Plough the evening of June 13.

'EXTREMITIES'—James Cronin attacks Janet Sales in stage drama at New Jersey Public Theater, 118 South Ave., Cranford, weekends now through June 14. The play was written by William Mastrosimo of New Jersey. Additional information can be obtained by calling 272-5704.

Open house slated

The Engineering/Maintenance Department at Memorial General Hospital, Union, will hold an open house tomorrow and Saturday.

The open house, which will consist of free question and answer sessions and work demonstrations by the department's staff, hospital tours and a mini-bazaar will be held from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

"This open house is a chance for our department to share our accomplishments and expertise with the general community," said Ron Phillips, MGH's engineering/maintenance director. "It takes a diverse range of technical skills and much personal dedication to manage the day-to-day operations of a hospital, and we want to show people how successful we have been in maintaining a high level of efficiency at Memorial General."

Among those on the department's staff who will conduct the work demonstrations and the question and answer sessions will be Al Salk, MGH carpenter; Union; Helz Stahl, painter; John Follen, electrician; Elizabeth Enzo, maintenance power plant supervisor; of Bloomfield, and a representative from Lombardi Landscaping, architects of the MGH grounds.

Chlorine Equipment Manager John Nearhoff of Lynchhurst will also be available to explain the basic saving techniques involved in maintaining the hospital's life support systems and electronic medical devices. The sessions will be held in the hospital's classrooms and those attending are asked to enter the hospital through the main lobby.

In connection with the open house, the Memorial General Hospital Guild Association will sponsor a mini-bazaar in the main lobby tomorrow. Among the items to be discounted during the bazaar are electric heaters and wallcovering kits.

The first 400 people attending the open house will receive a household tool kit and other kits.

For further information on the open house contact the MGH Public Relations Department at 686-8554.

HAVING A HEART—Walter Halpin, Union County Clerk, extends best wishes along with a donation to Mary Lou Diaz of Mountaintop, the American Heart Association Jump Rope for Heart coordinator at St. Anthony's School, Elizabeth. The contribution was raised at a dinner honoring the memories of the late William J. McGowan, former superior court judge. Nathan Gershen of the Union County Adjuster's office and John Disano, formerly with the County Buildings and Grounds Department. It will be used to further heart research, education and community services. Roselle's Center for Hope Hospice was also a beneficiary of the dinner.

Route 24 to be closed for two weeks

The Department of Transportation has announced that there will be lane closings on Route 24 Westbound between the Morris Avenue overpass and Baltusrol Way in Springfield, Union County, beginning on May 27 for two weeks for installation for noise barriers.

State alters unemployment calculation

"It will be the most profound change in the administration of the unemployment compensation law since New Jersey began paying benefits in January 1963," acting commissioner George M. Krause of the New Jersey Department of Labor said today.

Krause is referring to New Jersey's imminent conversion to a wage record state for unemployment compensation calculation.

"Although New Jersey employers have been submitting the quarterly earnings of their employees on form WR-30 ('Employer Report of Wages Paid') for some time now, this information has not been used to calculate benefits," Krause said.

"The conversion, which will be in place for all unemployment claims filed as of July 6, will involve using these wage reports to determine both claimant benefit rates and eventual employer charge liability," Krause said.

"In order to avoid confusion as to requirements, responsibilities and possible penalties, I would urge employers and other involved in the preparation of tax and report forms to take advantage of the educational seminars the Department of Labor is currently offering," Krause added.

Krause said it is important that the WR-30 form be filled out correctly, as it will be the Department of Labor's primary source document in dealing with both the employer and the claimant.

"The claim of anyone filing for benefits beginning July 6 will be determined by his or her earnings in the first four of the previous five quarters," Krause said.

James A. Warren, director of the Division of Unemployment and Disability Insurance, said the new system will change the way employer charges are made as well as benefit calculations.

"Currently, benefits paid are charged to the account of the most recent chargeable employer for whom the claimant worked," Warren said. "With the wage record system, all of the employers the claimant worked for during the chargeable period will have their accounts charged proportionately."

"Local office forms mailed to the employer will change function, and, in some cases, substance," Warren said.

Ware said employers, accountants, and business journalists can find detailed information on the new system in the Department's publication, "Employer Update." He urged employers to also take advantage of the Krause's invitation to attend the seminars the Department is holding at various locations throughout New Jersey.

The seminars, conducted by the Department of Labor experts, address every conceivable question raised by the changes in the law.

UCC honors 3 area students

Five Union County College students were honored for their participation in extra-curricular activities May 28 at the College's Annual Awards Night ceremonies in the Campus Center Theatre.

UCC Keys are awarded on a point system for active participants and service to the College and the community. Students must earn a total of 10 points over a two-year period, with no more than five points accumulated in any one year.

Students who were awarded UCC Keys were: Rene S. Antoniewicz, Linden; Leta S. Dorly, Westfield; Kim Kinal, Roselle; Anthony Faglia, Union and Alveda B. Roseta, Elizabeth.

Antoniewicz, a liberal arts/communications major at UCC, was chosen to be listed in the 1985-86 Who's Who Among Students at Union County College. She was editor-in-chief of "The Scroll," the student newspaper, news director of WCPE, the student-owned and operated radio station, a member of the Student Government Association, a member of the tennis team, and a peer tutor at the Academic Learning Center.

A liberal arts major at UCC, Kinal was secretary of the Student Government Association representing the College's 4,000 full-time students. STORM EMERGENCY CHECKLIST

Reporting the problem

- Call PSE&G. Look on your bill or in the phone directory for the number.
- Give location, nature and extent of the trouble.
- If damage is widespread and our phone lines are busy, the trouble has probably been reported.

While power is being restored

- Don't go near or try to move fallen power lines. Notify the police or fire department.
- Turn off all major appliances. This will prevent an electrical overload when power is restored.
- Don't heat your home with any combustion equipment such as your gas range or kerosene stove unless properly vented.
- Keep a flashlight handy. Also, keep a battery-powered radio for service restoration information.
- If your neighbor's power comes on and yours does not, please call again.
- Avoid opening your refrigerator or freezer. Food will keep cold for hours, and frozen food for a few days. If power is not restored within 24 hours, consider contacting friends or relatives not affected by the outage and transferring your food to their homes. Before transporting, wrap frozen foods in thick newspaper, blankets, or insulated boxes to prevent thawing.
- Avoid opening outside doors. You'll conserve heat in winter, and cooler indoor temperatures in summer.

We won't keep you in the dark.

We don't know when or where a storm is going to hit that will cause a power outage. But when it happens, we want to restore your power with minimum inconvenience to you. If power is out in your entire house, and also in the neighborhood, call us immediately. We'll respond as quickly as possible. If only part of your house has been affected, the problem could be your circuit breakers or fuses. Check them first before calling.

Meantime, the suggestions on PSE&G's Storm Emergency Checklist might help ease your situation until power is restored. Clip it out and keep it handy.

That's people-to-people service.

No matter what the weather, we want to help you use energy more wisely. Look for our "Seal-Up and Save" energy conservation messages with your bill, or in your local newspaper.

Legion convention

The Union County American Legion and Union County Auxiliary will hold their annual convention today, tomorrow and Saturday at Roselle Park Post 60 on Westfield Avenue in Roselle Park.

The opening of the convention will be today at Chestnut and Grant in the municipal parking lot 7 p.m. with flag retirement ceremonies for the proper disposal of unserviceable American flags. The flag ceremony is a community service performed by the American Legion for the residents of Union County who may have a colled or unserviceable American flag that may be disposed of in a respectful manner. Flags may be left at Post 60 American Legion Home or any American Legion Post Home in Union County for this purpose.

Presentation of colors will be made by the Roselle Park Post 60 color guard. The invocation will be by Union County Chaplain Charles Brane of Rahway Post 499. Mayor Robert Zeglarski of Roselle Park will be guest speaker for this occasion. Department executive committee member Douglas Barrow of Summit Post 322 will be master of ceremonies. Also to appear on the podium are County Commander Gordon Fugee and Warren Davies, past national executive committee member who will present a new American flag and new American Legion Banner to the county. The flag retirement program will be conducted by Commander Gordon Fugee; Joseph Gelys of Johnson, Jeter Post 279; Carl Axt of Scotch Plains Post 209 and Larry Finn of Rahway Post 499—vice-commanders of the county.

Tomorrow delegates from 24 American Legion posts in Union County, representing more than 4,000 Legionnaires, will assemble at Roselle Park Post 60 to report and dispose of Legion programs for the 1985-1986 year.

County Commander Fugee has announced that on Saturday the legion sessions will be concluded with awards presented to the winners of the essay contest, coloring contest, history and scrap book contest and post of the year. Election and installation of the officers for the 1986-1987 year will complete the three day program.

On Saturday evening a testimonial dinner honoring Commander Fugee and President Laura Sharpe will be held at the Union Elks on Chestnut Street in Union.

The Union County Convention Committee members are general chairman, Roger Hyer, co-chairman Robert Palmer; gifts, Al Moeller; rules, William Cox; publicity, co-chairman, Joseph Rybak and Ruth Simons; dinner-dance, Anthony and Jeannette Pollari; parliamentary, Fred Malchow; registration, John Stamer; distinguished guests, co-chairmen, Douglas Barrow and Jesse Cox; resolutions Warren Davies; program and printing, Al Moeller; and hospitality, Anthony Antonucci.

Five awards presented

The Union County Historical Society awarded five history awards at ceremonies Sunday at the Abraham Clark House on West Ninth Street and Chestnut Street, Roselle. The awards were given in memory of five trustees and officers of the society. They include Arthur Cole, Elizabeth Pate, Robert W. Parsons Sr., Richard E. Crane and Theodore L. Mayhew.

The five students are all seniors in Union County high schools. They were selected by the history departments and the administrators of their schools. The schools, according to Michael Yesenko, memorial chairman, were selected by a drawing by the society.

The students are Eric Kahn, Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield; Gerald Highberger, Linden High School; Linda Edmonds, Covenant Christian School, Cranford; Peggy Ryan, Rahway High School; and Kenneth Wallace, Summit High School.

This is the second time that the society will honor students. Last year's recipients were William Lipkin, Jewish Education Center, Elizabeth; Srinidhi Annabharani, Abraham Clark High School; Roseller, Tona Rubinfeld, Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School; Scotch Plains; Alexander Cladakis, St. Mary of the Assumption High School, Elizabeth; and David Petruziello, of Union High School.

Meetings of the society scheduled for Sept. 14, Oct. 16; and Sunday, Decem. 7, are tentatively scheduled for the Abraham Clark House.

Refreshments for the meeting will be supplied by Betty MacDonald. Ruth Frolich is president.

APPEAR IN CONCERT—Kim, left, and Kelly Brandyberry of Union appeared with the Essex County Youth Orchestra under the direction of James Buchanan in Washington, D. C., over the weekend. Their final appearance of the season will be held Sunday in a pre-concert engagement for the New Jersey Pops at Waterloo Village.

Estate help given

For senior citizens living on modest social security benefits, obtaining legal help for estate planning is extremely difficult or impossible. But now, Union County Legal Services Corp., with the Union County Division of Aging, is offering low income seniors the opportunity to have a will drafted at no charge.

This new program came about as the result of Union County Legal Services Corp., 60 Prince St., Elizabeth and 344 East Front St., Plainfield, receiving a grant from the local Division on Aging to purchase word processing equipment to accomplish will drafting.

The Division on Aging made the funding available as part of its commitment to the elderly who reside in Union County.

"This year has been a significant year for the Division on Aging, we launched a Senior Citizen Legal Program that allows seniors of modest income to secure legal help on a reduced fee basis," Phil Pearlman, director of the Division on Aging said.

"That program was developed by our Senior Citizens Council and the Union County Bar Association, but we realize that seniors, too poor to qualify for that program also had similar legal needs, and that is why we made this grant to Legal Services," Pearlman added.

County concert series begins

The 1986 Union County Department of Parks and Recreation's Summer Arts Festival began last night at Echo Lake Park, Westfield.

"Highlighting the silver anniversary series in a variety of musical styles, this year's series offers something for music lovers of all ages and tastes."

The 1986 Summer Arts Festival continues as follows:

- June 11, An Evening of Jazz.
- June 18, A Choral Celebration.
- June 25, Jewish Heritage Night.
- July 2, The New Jersey Pops Orchestra.
- July 9, The Big Band Sound.
- July 16, Polka Night.
- July 23, Broadway Tonight.
- July 30, A Country Western Revue.
- Aug. 6, Italian Night.
- Aug. 13, 8th Annual Blue Grass Festival.

Concertgoers are encouraged to bring lawn chairs or blankets to sit on. A dance floor, snack truck and a Parks Department information booth will be available. Summer Arts Festival T-shirts, in a variety of colors, will be on sale.

Union County's organized senior citizen and handicapped groups may take advantage of free concert transportation provided by the Parks Department and the Union County Para-Transit unit by calling 627-4916. The Monday prior to the concert they wish to attend.

The Summer Arts Festival is funded through grants from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts, The Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs and The Music Performers Trust Fund, local 151, along with donations from local community minded businesses and industry, budget appropriations, the sale of Summer Arts Festival T-shirts and individual donations.

Up-to-the-minute concert information can be obtained by calling the Park's 24-hour hotline at 352-8410.

Heritage Days planned

Two full days of entertainment are planned for Heritage Days Festival 1986 set for Saturday and Sunday in the heart of downtown Trenton.

Julius LaRosa and Donna Fargo are coming to Trenton to share the Headliner slot. LaRosa will perform on Saturday and Fargo on Sunday.

Heritage Days Festival is an annual event that celebrates the spirit, pride and traditions of people from different ethnic backgrounds and cultures that make the Capital City one rich in history and culture. Admission to the festival and all entertainment is free.

Almost 100 food locations will serve the specialties of 25 nationalities and cultures to keep visitors satisfied and crafters will be displaying and selling their wares both days.

To commemorate the re-dedication of the Statue of Liberty, Heritage Days has taken as its theme this year, "Experience the World." Displays, films and a play called "Lady Liberty" will be presented to promote an understanding of the ideals and principles embodied by the nation's great symbol.

Hours for the Heritage Days Festival 1986 will be Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday, from noon to 5 p.m. The festival will be held rain or shine both days on the Trenton Commons, in Mill Hill Park and on Front Street between Broad and Montgomery.

The Trenton Commons Commission is the Heritage Days Festival sponsoring organization. For more information, contact Jim Ort or Elaine Wilson at (609) 392-9589.

THE LADY IS COMING!

To commemorate the renaissance of Lady Liberty we plan a special issue June 26. To help us celebrate, we invite our younger readers to participate in an art contest. The winning entry will be used as the cover for the special section. The winning artist will also receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond and a certificate.

CONTEST RULES

The contest is open to all school children up to grade 12. Entries should be based on the theme of Liberty and contain some rendering of the Statue of Liberty.

Entries can be any size as long as the subject matter is vertically positioned and the art is drawn or painted on a light-colored background.

All artwork must include identification of the artist on the back, including full name, address, daytime telephone number of a parent or guardian, the child's age, school and grade level.

First prize is the use of the winning entry as the special section cover, a $50 U.S. Savings Bond and a certificate. Second and third place winners will also receive a certificate.

All entries must be submitted to the office of County Leader Newspapers, 1291 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, by 5 p.m. Wednesday, June 11.

Following the publication of the special section, artwork will be returned only if it is submitted with a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Those wishing to arrange to pick up entries may do so by calling the editorial department ahead of time.

Judging will be conducted by the County Leader Newspapers editorial staff and its decision will be final.

Family members of County Leader Newspapers employees are not eligible to enter the contest.

We can all celebrate!

Others can also be part of this historic occasion. We seek contributions from our readers of old pictures, remembrances and other material for this issue. We seek people who may have had an experience connected with the Statue of Liberty, with Ellis Island, and with the American dream.

Those who wish to contribute in our schools who have contributed their pennies to the campaign to resigne the Statue of Liberty. Essays on what the statue means to youngsters are welcome.

So many of our older readers have remembrances of "making it in America," during the turbulent years of the 1920s, '30s, and '40s. Please write to us about your life during these years.

Many readers also are members of organizations which preserve the heritage of other cultures, and if you have stories about life as an immigrant, we would like to hear about it!

Further information is available by calling 686-7700, or send your stories or pictures to Lady Liberty, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 3109, Union 07103. Contributors wishing that their material be returned must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Churches cite 80th year of summer services

The United Methodist Church of Linden and The Reformed Church of Linden will be celebrating 80 years of summer union services this year. It was reported that the union services, which began in 1907, allowed each church to offer their pastors four weeks of vacation. "Although this is still important, the services have gone beyond a matter of convenience to one of great fellowship in Christ."

Methodist hymnals. A covered dish luncheon will follow the program. TEMPLE SHARLEY SHALOM of Springfield will hold a special installation service tonight at 8:30. Rabbi Joshua Goldstein will install officers and trustees for the 1986-1987 year. They are Mel Schlosser, president; Myron Krop, Sande Mand and Arlene Newman, vice presidents; Harry Wehrman, treasurer; Megan Pindock, corresponding secretary; Flo Lippman, financial secretary, and Carol Blum, recording secretary. Also to be installed are members of the temple board of trustees, Michael Marcus, Frank Goodman, Bill Moesch, Kathy Bassin, Rosalee Joel, Richard Levy, John Schlager, Mark Weisholz, Morris Grossman, Roberta Krumholz, Bruce Schwartz and Stuart Applebaum.

THE REV. MATTHEW GARIPPA, pastor of the Mountaintide Gospel Chapel, 1180 Spruce Drive, has announced that a free screening of the movie, "The Prodigal," will be shown Sunday at 6 p.m. in the chapel. Nursery will be provided. The World-Wide Pictures presentation, starring award-winning actor, John Hammond of "North and South," Hope Lange and John Cullum, and was produced by Ken Wales. World-Wide Pictures is the film organization of the Billy Graham Association, and the evangelist has a cameo role in the picture. About the movie, Mr. Garippa says, "We as servants of Christ are not just interested in entertainment, but desire to be used to help individuals and families find answers to today's problems and trends in God's eternal word, the Holy Bible."

A SPAGHETTI DINNER will be held by the Holy Name Society of St. George Roman Catholic Church, Linden, Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. in the church hall at 417 McCandless St. Linden. Additional information can be obtained by calling 925-9564.

Council Jewish National Fund, has appointed Julius Sommer of Hillside as chairman of the 11th annual Jewish National Fund supper to be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union. Additional information can be obtained by calling 623-3823.

THE UNITED METHODIST Women of the Community United Methodist Church, 455 Boulevard Kenilworth, will hold a strawberry festival and bake sale on June 14 from 1 to 3 p.m. The festival will be open to the public. There will be a donation of $2 for dessert and beverage to be paid at the door, it was announced.

TERRY NOVACK, regent of Court Immaculate Heart of Mary, Catholic Daughters of the Americas (CDA), has announced that on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in St. Michael's auditorium, Union, the Catholic Daughters of the Americas will present awards to the winners of the Catholic Daughters' annual poster contest. The winners, all of St. Michael's School, are: Samara Salazar, first place; Cathy Curiano, second place and Michele Benedek, third place. The presentation of awards will be at the beginning of the meeting. A slide presentation, "The Restoration of Miss Liberty," showing the work being done by the French and American craftsmen, will be shown. Refreshments will be served, including cakes baked by the members. All members are invited to attend.

AT THE ANNUAL meeting of the Catholic Women's Club of Elizabeth on May 21, officers were elected. An organization meeting will be held June 16 at 1 p.m. at the home of Alberta G. Slinger, 352 Martin Rd., Union. Plans will be made for the coming year.

CONGREGATION BETH SHALOM in Union will honor Joel Goodman at a dinner-dance on June 17 at the Crystal Plaza, Livingston. Goodman has been a member of the congregation for 28 years. He was president of the Men's Club and served in various capacities on the congregation board.

Jewish Council to fete Koltenuk

The Jewish Community Council of Union Township and the Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey will honor Mary Koltenuk of Union for 30 years of "dedication and commitment to Jewish organizations and concerns" at a gathering June 29 at 7:30 p.m. in Temple Israel of Union, Morris Avenue. It was announced by Elliot Levin and Lewis Schwarz, co-chairmen of the Union Division of the United Jewish Campaign.

The special evening will feature a keynote presentation by Dr. Gerald Melzer, director of the Institute for Inter-Religious Studies at Bar-Ilan University in Israel, who will speak on "Prospects for Peace in the Middle East." Co-chairmen Levin and Schwarz believe that "the opportunity to honor a woman of value such as Mary Koltenuk and the opportunity to hear Dr. Melzer, a man who has such keen insight into world Jewish affairs, combine for a program not to be missed."

The honoree, who was born in Russia, near Kiev, went to Canada in 1922 with her family and received an Orthodox education. On a visit to New Jersey in 1950, she met her husband, David. They lived in Newark until 1955, when they moved to Union. Soon after their arrival, they joined Temple

Israel and became active members. Among her activities, Mrs. Koltenuk served as a temple trustee, Sisterhood president, recording secretary and on fund-raising auxiliary committees. The woman became a Bat Mitzvah at the age of 10 with the first adult class, says she's "proud to be a life member of the Union Chapter of Hadassah," where she has held every executive board office and served three terms as president. She is serving her sixth year as treasurer. She also served as a delegate to the 62nd Hadassah National convention in Israel in 1982. The following year she was named Union Chapter Woman of the Year. Mrs. Koltenuk also is active with the Union Branch B'nai.

She joined the YWHA in Elizabeth and was an early contributor and volunteer when work started on the new building on Green Lane, Union. In recent years, she volunteered at Super Sunday to the United Jewish Campaign. The Koltenuks have a son, Steven, a daughter Susan, and a grandson, David Aaron. Additional information about the event can be obtained by calling Steve Reitman, federation director of Jewish Community Development, at 551-5066.

The Challenge: Finding a credit card rate as low as 15.8%

First Jersey National Bank will meet your challenge! Effective May 1, 1986, First Jersey National Bank became the first major bank serving New Jersey to reduce credit card rates dramatically. We cut our annual percentage rate to 15.8% on all cash advances, 15.8% on that part of the purchase balance above $1,500, and 17.8% on purchase balances under $1,500. So you can save up to four percentage points on interest compared to our major competitors.

Compare our rates. How much will our low 15.8% rate save you? If you carry any of these major cards, you'll save a bundle!

| Bank Name | Purchases under $1,500 | Purchases above $1,500 | Cash Advances |
|----------------------------|-------------------------|-------------------------|---------------|
| Citibank | 19.8% | 19.8% | 19.8% |
| Chase Manhattan | 19.8% | 19.8% | 19.8% |
| New Jersey National Bank | 15.8% | 19.8% | 19.8% |
| Horizon Bancorp | 19.8% | 19.8% | 19.8% |
| First Jersey National Bank | 17.8% | 15.8% | 15.8% |

Save up to 20% on finance charges. If you pay off your 19.8% accounts with a 15.8% cash advance from First Jersey, you'll save 20% on finance charges. For example on a $2,000 balance, you'll save $80 a year. On a $5,000 balance, you'll save $200!

Early-bird bonus! If you apply by July 31, 1986 and use your new First Jersey credit card to pay off a balance of at least $500 from any major credit card company, we'll waive your annual fee of $15 for one year. This offer is available to all First Jersey cardholders.

Introducing George. This low rate on credit cards is just a hint of what's to come. First Jersey is in the process of installing George, the most efficient banking services delivery system in the country. We already offer a statewide network of ATM's. One name in central air conditioning is a household word.

Whirlpool
HEATING & COOLING

In the central air conditioning business, the Whirlpool name has become a household word — a name you know — a name you can trust — for quality, dependability, and service. Chances are, the Whirlpool name is already an important part of your household. Maybe it helps you cool, wash clothes, or do the laundry.

Millions of American families also depend on Whirlpool to keep their homes cool and comfortable — even on the hottest days of summer. And when you think about it, it makes a lot of sense to trust your family's comfort to the name you've depended on so many times before — Whirlpool.

Best of all it's from Whirlpool

Firecracker run slated July 4

The Seventh Annual Cranford Firecracker Four-Mile Run, which has developed into one of New Jersey's premier summer races, is scheduled for July 4.

Starting time is 9:30 a.m. with post registration beginning at 8 a.m. The start and finish are at Nomahegan Park, Springfield Ave., Cranford, opposite Union College. Parking and restroom facilities are available. This event is being run by the Cranford Jaycees. Prizes will be awarded to the first three finishers in each of eight age groups.

Race coordinator is Jack Martin, Westfield High School track coach and president of the Union County Track Coaches' Association. Timing will be done by Peter Mogendorff.

Further information is available by calling John Bashaw 276-4816.

Running races in reservation

For the seventh year, running races are being held every Tuesday evening at South Mountain Reservation at the Deer Park Road just off South Orange Avenue.

The races are two miles at 4:30 p.m. and a four-mile run at 7 p.m. These races are sponsored by the Sneaker Factory Road Racers of Millburn and the Essex County Department of Parks.

The runs are held on traffic free park roads and age groups awards are given each week. Runners of all ages and ability levels are encouraged to participate.

Information is available by calling 376-0231.

Tripucka camp set July 7-11

Kelly Tripucka will sponsor his fourth annual basketball school from July 7-11 at Bloomfield High School in Bloomfield from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

Tripucka's camp focuses on the basic skills and fundamentals needed to make a player successful in the game of basketball. The activities include: individual instruction covering all phases of the game, daily lectures by Tripucka, demonstrations by visiting athletes such as Boston Celtic center Robert Parrish, and lectures from college coaches such as Seton Hall University Big East Coach F. J. Carlesimo. The camp also has foul shooting contests, tournaments, stations and one-on-one tournaments.

For more information about the camp or for a free brochure, call 325-6180.

GRAND CHAMPIONSHIP
Coach of the Kean College soccer team was named "All-Regional Coach of the Year" in the Mid-Atlantic Region of Division III schools. She led the team to a regional championship this year, her second at Kean.

BRIAN MURRAY of Union, a sophomore computer information systems major at Messiah College, lettered on the Falcon track and field team. His main event was the javelin.

GLENN PROPOIK of Kenilworth, a sophomore at Albright College, recently received a varsity letter for golf.

SANDY FISHER, senior co-captain of Kean College's softball team, was recently named to the first team All-American squad. The first baseman finished her season with a .286 batting average and fielded six 970 accuracy.

TIM KINSELLA of Linden, a senior at Susquehanna University, was recently named the soccer team's "Best Offensive Player" at the annual All Sports Banquet.

JILL DEMARK of Springfield was an outfielder with the winning Kean College softball team. The team placed second in the New Jersey Athletic Conference and won the at-large Region before being eliminated at the division III nationals. They ended the season with a 39-9 record.

ED GRZYBOWSKI and SCOTT WOLFRAB of Linden were members of the winning Kean College baseball team, the Metro New York/New Jersey Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference champions. The team finished the season with a 29-22 record.

Graybowski was named to the Division III all-state team as a utility player because of an injured arm.

The Union County College golf team turned in one of the best performances ever, finishing third in the Garden State Athletic Conference Tournament at Rutgers University Golf Course in Piscataway, N.J.

The Owls carded a 331 to trail Middlesex County College, 328, and Bergen Community College, 330. Union was paced by sophomore captain Len Siler and Chris McEvoy, both of Roselle Park, who each shot an 80.

Siler and McEvoy were forced to a sudden death playoff to determine the second place finisher.

Bill Camarlingi of Roselle Park shot an 85 for the Owls.

Kean College men's tennis team had a tough schedule to play this past season but played all of their opponents with much effort and perseverance.

A record of 4-8 is not indicative to the court's performance on the court, according to tennis coach Tony Ochrimenko.

"All our games were uncomfortably close and could have gone either way," Ochrimenko said he is pleased with this season's team, which compiled a 4-8 record. "Conceding that we played opponents who have been playing tennis for 10 years now, and we've played so well against them, makes me feel really good about next year's team," he added.

Penczak a scholar-athlete

By DENNIS ORLANDINI

Gerry Penczak of Roselle has been named Union County College's Scholar-Athlete. Penczak maintained a 3.89 scholastic average, just missing a perfect 4.0 average.

Penczak who played soccer, received the award after maintaining the highest average of more than 130 students involved in intercollegiate athletics at UCC.

Assistant Athletic Director Fred Perry said that Penczak did outstanding academic work despite the demands on his time from the soccer team.

The Computer Information Systems major was also "very visible" in student activities, Perry said.

Penczak, who was graduated from the two-year school this spring, will attend the Rutgers Newark campus in the fall, according to Perry.

Perry said that Gerry wasn't the first Penczak to play for UCC athletic teams. Penczak's sister, Kath, distinguished herself on UCC's women's basketball team. The UCC official added that another sister, Mary Beth, a senior who starred on Roselle Catholic High School's tennis and softball teams this year, should continue the family tradition by attending UCC and playing sports there beginning this fall.

OUTSIDE WALLS

When buying a home, one of your future maintenance considerations must be the exterior walls. Brick and stone walls are the most durable and maintenance-free. They'll withstand the test of time. The historic castles of Europe are good examples of durability. They resist the effects of weather and are fire and termite proof. The primary danger to exterior walls is the cost of construction. Cement block walls generally cost less to install, however, many people do not consider them esthetically appealing and they might need painting.

Wood walls and siding, including lap siding, shingles and shakes, are less expensive to install. Although less durable than masonry, they are easy to work with and are an excellent insulating material. However, painting or restaining is required and wood is subject to termites and water damage.

Aluminum siding is impervious to insects and resists most weather damage. It also resists fire and rotting, and is sometimes cheaper than wood siding. However, it can fade and dent and should be grounded in the event of electrical storms.

MAPLEWOOD NURSERY—Owned and operated by Wayne Maudsley, the Maplewood Nursery in Springfield offers a wide selection of plants, shrubbery and gravels to beautify a home's exterior.

Nursey meets springtime needs

Springtime is the time of year associated with cleaning and sprucing up the house. After homeowners are through with storing their winter clothes and beautifying their home interiors, most shift their attention to the grounds outside.

Many have already resurrected their lawnmowers and gardening equipment from hibernation, but others decide it may be time for a new look. That's the time to turn to the Maplewood Nursery in Springfield.

Owned and operated by Wayne Maudsley, the nursery is located at 160 Springfield Ave. Maudsley said the store offers a complete line of material to suit the needs of any homeowner or business.

"We sell decorative gravel and mulches, tiny trees and shrubbery and stones to use on walkways, steps and patios."

But, while customers know they need something to give the exterior a face lift, most are lost as to where to begin.

Should we get plants or shrubbery? What about a few small trees? How would a brick arrangement look on my lawn?

Maudsley noted that most customers who come to him, aren't sure of what they want and look for a lot of answers before they ever look at a bush.

"Every person needs help," Maudsley said. "They usually want to know how much of something they need and where it will grow best?"

But no matter what they need to know, Maudsley is the man to ask. The Maudsley family, beginning with Wayne's father, Ray and his uncle Bill, have been in the business for 50 years. The nursery started on Springfield Avenue in Maplewood and moved to its new location just over three years ago.

Although Maudsley has two full-time employees, he maintains the store is still pretty much a one-man operation. Maudsley handles everything from the bookkeeping to loading trucks.

Noting that the nursery business is a competitive one, Maudsley said he tries to keep his prices low to stay on top of his area rivals. The same goes for his customer service.

"It's not always easy to give the kind of service we want because it's usually very busy. But I do give the best help and service to the customer that's possible," he said.

Maudsley added that, although his stock moves out at a quick pace, he does few extra things with his live shrubbery to keep it fresh.

"We're one of the few nurseries that water the stock in the ground. We plant the trees and water them there."

Another unique feature he offers is the sale of items in bulk, which keeps the prices considerably lower.

"We can sell things by the yard instead of the bag full," Maudsley said. "Selling items by the truck load can mean a big savings for the customer."

This time of year, Maudsley said, is particularly busy on Saturdays, when the store is full of homeowners. During the week he usually deals with landscapers and masons.

Of course, the nursery business isn't the type of industry that stays open all year long. Maudsley said he sells Christmas trees in December but right after the holidays he has a two month vacation until the weather begins to warm up.

"As the seasons change we deal with different stock," Maudsley added. "That's what keeps things interesting."

With summer just around the corner, homeowners may think that a little gravel along the driveway or a few bushes under the bay window may be just what the old house needs.

But before you pick up a rake or shovel, it may be a good idea to stop at the Maplewood Nursery and pick up a few hints from Wayne Maudsley.

TV show for Jersey's Marty DeRose

By BEA SMITH

Who would have thought that the guy on the 8-by-20-foot long billboard on the New Jersey Turnpike near Exit 15-E in Newark — north and south — is the same guy, who, more than 40 years ago, threatened the well-being of this reporter?

The billboard says, "See New Jersey's Own, Marty De Rose, Sing...starting June 8 on CTN Cable Network." Can this dark-haired, square-jawed, handsome fellow be the same young ragamuffin, who uncontrollably threw rocks, old shoes, sticks and half-eaten apples at all the girls in the Ironbound neighborhood of Newark, including this reporter and his then-10 sisters?

All the girls may have run from Junior then; but, in the past 30 years, they have been running in the opposite direction. Toward him! Especially, during his night club appearances, recording sessions, radio and television shows, everyone had been flocking to see the talented, handsomely-tanned, exceptionally polite singer known as Marty De Rose.

"I certainly do remember you and your family when you were a tenant in my father's house," De Rose, who now lives in Maplewood, grinned. "But I just can't remember being that bad!"

This reporter, in reminiscence, began to edge away during De Rose's recent visit to this newspaper office to talk about his role as a headliner in the new Cable Television Network half-hour music series, "Let the Music Play." Amused, the singer quietly explained that the show, which will begin tomorrow night at 9, will continue for 13 weeks. "The statewide cable will reach about 1,400,000 homes in New Jersey. You see, during the day, the network's format is educational and at night it becomes commercial. The producing company of the show is Pentagram, and the sponsor is the ILA (International Longshoremen's Association). And more than half of our 18 plus members of the Music Makers band, led by Pete Korey, our conductor, come from Union County. Al Liebowitz, who plays the trumpet comes from Mountainside, and Herb Steir, who plays the saxophone, comes from Union."

"My whole singing career has been right here in New Jersey. More than half of the people in New Jersey have seen me perform at some time or other during my 30 years. In the past 10 or 15 years, I traveled to places such as New York, Chicago, Ill., Ohio, but mostly, I'm known here in New Jersey."

De Rose explained that the dominant theme of each program in the series will be a presentation of "some of the best and most recognizable music of America's scores." There will be songs of yesterday and of today that "graphically demonstrate that a musical presentation is more than the constant thunder of hitting cord upon cord, but rather a harmonic blending of notes and lyrics that join into a melodious union to tell a story, convey an idea or produce an emotion for the listener." The program, he indicated, "has all of the ingredients to provide the variety, entertainment and relaxation that has been missing from the TV viewers' menu for much too long a period of time."

De Rose waved his hands, and this reporter ducked. "I want it to be a memory lane type of "show," he said enthusiastically, "of the 1940s, 1950s people. Really, just opposite of the constant MTV. I want to get the mothers and fathers of those who watch MTV to watch me! We're going to use only songs that were million dollar sellers; songs that will make folks tap their feet and remember. I'm a ready singer, and lately I've been singing such songs as 'The Talk of the Town,' 'Maybe You'll Be There,' 'Begin the Beguine,' 'My Way' and 'Without a Song' to similar citizens. In the month of April, I did 17 after-noon jobs for 40,000 senior citizens. I did some at the Manor in West Orange, at the Redwood in Totowa, some at the Birchwood in Whippany, at L'Affaire in Mountainside and some in Blairstown in Newark. And the band can be seen in Echo Park in Mountainside during the summer.

He shook his head and grimaced. "Do you realize that kids are the bosses now. There's a 27-year-old girl who is head of MCA Records now. What can she do for me? And her assistants are boys and girls who are 18-to-20-years-old."

When Marty was a little boy, he dreamed of singing as well as his father, who owned a barber shop on Ferry Street in Newark, and who sang with the old Caruso records, while snipping hair and shaving beards. His only brother, Carmen, now a retired lawyer, had a powerful voice and used to sing around the house, with and without the Italian records. And his sisters, Grace, who is now deceased, Marie, Kitty, Minnie, Christina, Geraldine, Gloria, Anna, Dolores and Barbara, all had lovely voices which were heard while they did their chores.

And their gentle, sweet-tempered singer got sick. So, there I was, introducing the 'stripping' stars, singing on stage in the wings and trying to be a straight man to the comedian. I used to introduce such stars as Blaze Starr, Georgia Southern, Lily La Mont and Ann (Bang Bang) Arbor. With Ann, I would say, 'And here is Ann'—then I'd shoot a pistol—'Bang Bang' pause. 'Arbor.' The drums then drowned out everything," De Rose grinned.

The singer said that he had been under contract to "four major record companies. The most popular of my songs back then were 'After the Day is Ended' and 'Where Are You?' And that was in the 1950s. I did the Catskill circuits and appeared on the Dick Clark Show, the Lawrence Welk Show and on a show called 'Everything Goes' for ABC-TV network. We were on for a year, but we bucked the Johnny Carson Show, and we never made it."

De Rose, who resides in Maplewood with his wife, Rosemarie, and their two daughters, could not keep my eyes open in school.

"I played many, many night clubs in Newark back then. When I was 17 I was the last singer to work the Empire Burlesque Theater in Newark. That was 1955, I think. Minsky's Burlesque Theater stayed open until a little longer."

How did De Rose get to sing in a burlesque theater?

"Well," he laughed, "I happened to be singing on Halsey Street in a place called The Hour Glass, and the manager of the Empire heard me sing and offered me a job because his singer got sick. So, there I was, introducing the 'stripping' stars, singing on stage in the wings and trying to be a straight man to the comedian. I used to introduce such stars as Blaze Starr, Georgia Southern, Lily La Mont and Ann (Bang Bang) Arbor. With Ann, I would say, 'And here is Ann'—then I'd shoot a pistol—'Bang Bang' pause. 'Arbor.' The drums then drowned out everything," De Rose grinned.

"My new endeavor is in television," De Rose said seriously. "I would like to find a channel, such as Channel 9 or 11, that could allow me to do a whole different format that consists of unknowns who are multi-talented people. Those who just can't get into the doors. On a big scale, I would like to do a musical show for those who never get any exposure. And do you know how many talented people like that are out there?"

"I would get the bands to play the shows and have them appear to show their talents."

"It would be rewarding for them and rewarding for me to know that I was able to help all of those unknowns to at least get their feet in the door without the door slamming on them."

Marty De Rose grinned. And the rocks, old shoes, sticks and half-eaten apples were completely forgotten.

"The Wiz" is due at center

The Union County Arts Center, formerly the Railway Theatre, and the Union County Education Association will be co-producing "The Wiz."

Open auditions for actors, singers and dancers will be held Tuesday and Wednesday at 7 p.m. and Saturday, June 14, at 1 p.m. at the Union County Arts Center, 1601 Irving St., Rahway. Those interested should bring a recent photo, a resume of all music, dance and acting experience and sheet music for a vocal audition.

Rehearsals will begin Sept. 3, with productions on Oct. 24, 25, 26, 31, and Nov. 1.

Any adults interested in set construction, costume, make-up, or stage crew should contact the UCEA office at 276-3883, 824 South Ave., Cranford. Questions concerning auditions should be directed to M. Watson at 322-8591. Any civic group interested in a benefit performance should contact the UCEA office.

Sky's the limit at party

With Halley's Comet fading out of sight, the sky's the limit for observing at Amateur Astronomers' spring star party Saturday at the Sperry Observatory at Union County College.

James Chenard of Union, AAI star party chairman, said there's a possibility of some good observations since the new moon will assure a dark evening sky.

All area residents interested in stargazing are invited at no charge, Chenard said. Observations will begin at 8 p.m. and continue until 10:30. The rain date in the event of inclement weather will be June 14.

The party will feature viewing through the 24-inch reflector and 10-inch refractor telescopes located in the twin domes of the Sperry Observatory. In addition, smaller telescopes will be set up around the oversized sundial adjacent to the Observatory by AAI members. Individuals may also bring their own telescopes if they prefer, and AAI members will explain to them what they are observing.

The ringed planet, Saturn, rising in the southeast at sunset, and Mars, which appears about two hours after sunset, together with Venus, will be visible throughout most of the night. Viewing will also include the star cluster in the Hercules constellation and other deep sky objects, according to Chenard.

The Sperry Observatory, which is operated jointly by the College and AAI, is the only observatory in the state open to the public on a regular basis, Chenard said.

For further information on what's happening in the spring skies, call the Sperry Observatory's Hot Line, 376-5749, for around-the-clock reports on celestial events.

LaDanse teams win awards

The competition teams at the LaDanse School of Performing Arts, Linden, participated in the regional Showstoppers Competition in Englewood in April, winning awards in every category in which they competed.

The directors are Tina Corbin and Hedy Labak.

The senior competition team took the first place awards in both the senior tap and senior jazz categories qualifying them to participate in the national finals to be held in Cleveland, Ohio in July.

The primary competition team received tap awards in three categories: tap, jazz and group novelty. And the Junior Competition Team took fifth place in the tap category.

Winning teams, along with all the students at LaDanse, are preparing for their annual dance recital June 21 and 22 at Jefferson High School, Elizabeth.

16th annual Italian festival Saturday

The 16th annual Festa Italiana at the Garden State Art Center, Holmdel, will be held Saturday, it was announced by Renato Biribini, general chairman.

"Good seats are still available for the stage show, starring Nelson Sardelli and Dana Valery," he said. Renato Naldi, an opera performer, will be starred.

Ticket information can be obtained by calling Chris Albanese at 758-3314.

Two scholarships are being given in the amount of $2,000 each to boys and girls of Italian-American heritage. Further information can be obtained by calling Anthony Carpinello, at 373-6913 or Angela Chiccolini at 839-3782.

Proceeds from Festa Italiana will go to the Garden State Cultural Center fund which sponsors free afternoon programs for senior citizens, disadvantaged youth, disabled veterans, the blind and for all school children throughout the state.

'S.O.B.E.R.' campaign under way in county

The Union County Council on Alcoholism is conducting a public information and awareness campaign called S.O.B.E.R.—Show On the Bottle. Enjoy The Road—and for young people—Stay Off the Bottle. Enjoy The Road—funded by the N.J. Office of Highway Safety.

The campaign is designed to alert people, especially during the holiday season, to the dangers of drinking and driving. The goal is to prevent alcohol-related highway accidents and fatalities.

The council is asking families and their teenage children to party responsibly. "This holiday traditionally marks the beginning of the summer season; the time for proms, graduation and parties," said Irene Flynn, SOBER coordinator at the council. "These occasions usually involve alcohol and other drugs and often end in tragedy."

The S.O.B.E.R. campaign conducted by the council is aimed at teenagers, parents, hosts and guests of holiday parties. A party planner, "Life of the Party Pack" and the pamphlet, "Just Say No" are available at the council. The party planner offers tips on how to prevent guests from driving when drunk, what to do before the party begins, recipes for non-alcoholic beverages and party activities.

The "Just Say No" pamphlet offers practical suggestions on how to refuse a drink and is especially useful for teenagers.

Flynn stressed that a well planned party which accents food, non-alcoholic drinks for youth and those who choose to be alcohol-free, and offers activities to enhance socializing can avoid the possibility of drunken driving after a party.

Those who are interested in obtaining literature on drinking and driving of the "Life of the Party Pack" and the "Just Say No" pamphlet can call the council at 233-8810 Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The council is located at 300 North Ave., Westfield.

Senior theater group to give show

Autumn Stages, a Senior Adult Literary Theater group, will present "Bag of Keesakes... Recollections, Recipes, and Remedies" Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Schering-Plough auditorium, Gallop Hill Road, Kenilworth.

The cast is made up of senior citizens and the audience will have an opportunity to participate and share memories and recollections in an evening of storytelling, dramatic improvisation, song, dance and mime.

Musical lifts audience

"Candide," a rich, lavish, colorful production, set more than 200 years ago, and musically revealing Voltaire's satiric observations of life in Europe, is seen upon the Paper Mill Playhouse stage in Millburn. The presentation, which boasts of music by Leonard Bernstein, a book by Hugh Wheeler, adapted from Voltaire, lyrics by Richard Wilbur, additional lyrics by Stephen Sondheim and John LaTouche, orchestration by Bernstein and Herby Kay, and additional orchestration by John Mauser, gloriously lifts an audience from a mundane world of every day living to a rather extraordinary musical experience.

"Candide" may be offered as a "musical," but it is more like an opera, with very little dialogue and huge amounts of music and musical dialogue.

To tell the simple story of the adventures of an ordinary lad named Candide, played by Robert Johnson, who also doubles as co-director with choreographer Phillip William McKinley, the exiled Voltaire, himself, as he is portrayed onstage by Sal Mistrizia, narrates the tale and goes to great lengths to uncover "the best of all possible worlds." He manages to tear the boy from his beloved Cunegonde, a baron's daughter, delightfully played by Maureen Brennan, who won a Tony nomination and Theater World award for playing the role in Harold Prince's interpretation of "Candide." Through lively operatic music, the innocent Candide is bounced about decadent Europe seeking "the best of all possible worlds," until he is finally seduced and disillusioned into learning that there is no such thing.

The unusual Paper Mill offering the final of the season, which will run through June 23, has some of the most spectacular settings and backdrops ever devised on the Paper Mill stage. We tip our hats to Michael Anzini, scenic designer, Brian MacDevitt's lighting effects are superb as are the costumes of the various periods thanks to Guy Geoly, costume designer, and Alice S. Hughes, costume coordinator.

Special praise must be given to Young Johnson in his double role as star and director. He has undertaken an enormous job, and he is talented enough to allow the show to run smoothly as he exerts his energies in lively song and dance.

It really is delightful to welcome back to the Paper Mill many of its veteran performers, such as Brennan, Jack Harold, Kenneth Kantor and Marsha Bagwell. Their operatic voices, resoundingly wonderful, join those of Johnson, Mistrizia, Mary Joy, Patti Allison, Patrick Quinn and Rebecca Spencer.

With the talented assistance of Jim Coleman, musical director, Candide's exploits are enhanced by some extraordinarily lively music. Although the music is not the burning-after-the-show kind, it certainly is pleasant to an audience that loves music. Particularly inviting are such numbers as "Life Is Happiness Indeed," "The Best of All Possible Worlds," "Oh Happy We," "It Must Be So," "Gilder and Be Gay," "This World," "I Am Easily Assimilated," "To the New World,"

Review

"My Love," "The Old Lady's Tale," "Alleluia," "Sheep Song," "Governor's Waltz," "Bon Voyage," "What's the Use" and "Make Our Garden Grow."

Of all the outstanding props in "Candide" the best and most astounding was the show-stopping hot-air balloon, which, with basket and inhabitants, climbed into the air of the theater.

"Candide" is such an unusual, busy entertaining musical offering, that it would attract audiences even without the hot air balloon.

It is, in fact, a true tribute to the Paper Mill as its final offering of the season.

For week of June 9 through June 12

ARIES (3/21-4/20) You receive important information early in the week. Take time to mull this over before taking or planning responsive action. Local travel and dealings may lend some spice to routine days. Later, you weigh personal commitments carefully, and changes in residence or living arrangements emerge.

TAURUS (4/21-5/21) This week will focus attention on favorable work and money trends for most. Promotions or advantageous job changes are indicated and extra cash may be part of the package! Later, you realize important domestic changes are in the works; children are cause for celebration, and not upon "lips" now!

GEMINI (5/22-6/21) You may be feeling a bit angry early this week. This will bring disagreements to the surface and allow you to let others know just where you stand on key issues. Later, stand your ground; money interests improve; and be extra careful in what you say and how you say it — others twist your words.

CANCER (6/22-7/23) Through no fault of your own, you may not be as effective as usual during most of this week. Misunderstandings are indicated. Later in the week, tone down a rebellious attitude; new light is shed on an old problem; and some quiet time alone may help you get back in touch with important issues.

LEO (7/24-8/23) Your spirit of enterprise is sparked early in the week. You seek new experiences and new encounters. Public dealings are indicated and group activities are favored. Later, financial interests improve, possibly connected with a mate or partner. Be wary of having your feelings bruised unnecessarily.

VIRGO (8/24-9/23) Many will find that past efforts are rewarded during this week. Like it or not you may be in the limelight; special achievements are indicated. Later, help through others is crucial for new ventures to succeed; financial disagreements are possible; and getting some straight answers may be difficult.

LIBRA (9/24-10/23) You will appreciate an earlier look-up as the week progresses. Stalled or changed plans are now put into action, and influential tips can put you miles ahead. Later, try to postpone binding agreements. Something better may come along. Seek the advice of professionals when in doubt.

SCORPIO (10/24-11/23) Some continue to feel the need for more independence and freedom. Legal hassles continue to plague some and all are feeling subtle, though powerful, forces re-shaping their lives. Later, moral obligations are stirred: Have you been taking someone or something — for granted???

SAGITTARIUS (11/23-12/21) This isn't the time to go it alone. A co-operative spirit surrounds you now so take advantage of it.

AQUARIUS (1/21-2/19) This promises to be an active and rewarding week for many. New involvements are indicated. Be sure to protect your health and overall well-being. Later, you must make some decisions, often concessions. So many opportunities are flooding in now, you must choose and select, or you'll spread yourself too thin.

PISCES (2/20-3/20) This week ushers in a rather exciting though very busy period. Home interests will vie with your outside opportunities. This could generate some tension in domestic matters. Later, your personal popularity soars. Do for broke and accept the opportunities that come your way... perhaps once in a life time!

Retired Railroaders seeking members

The Retired Railroaders Club, a group of local retired railroad workers who meet once a month, is looking for new members. It was announced, and men and women who are retired from any railroad are invited to attend.

The group meets on the first Saturday of every month (except July and August) at 11 a.m. at the Senior Citizen Center, 1306 Easterbrook Ave. Rahway. The club sponsors "interesting discussions," guest speakers, social events, and serves refreshments at every meeting. The next meeting is on Saturday at 11 a.m.

Playhouse to meet

The Linden Summer Playhouse will hold a meeting Monday at 7 p.m. at the Greater Recreation Center, Helen Street, Linden. All parents of cast members are urged to attend, as well as Playhouse committee members.

One week after surgery that removed a cataract and implanted a permanent lens in her eye, Pearl Booth pronounced the results "wonderful!"

"I couldn't see or read well before, and now I can hardly believe it," she says. "I was surprised at how quick and easy the operation was. There was no pain at all. I went in at 9 and was coming home by 1 o'clock."

As performed by the surgeons of the Northern New Jersey Eye Institute, the Intraocular Lens Implant procedure requires only a local anesthetic. Advanced microsurgical techniques can remove a vision-impairing cataract and insert a safe, permanent replacement lens within half an hour.

"I'm so pleased with it," Ms. Booth says. "I would advise anybody who needs it to have it done."

The Northern New Jersey Eye Institute is a comprehensive ophthalmology center dedicated to thorough, effective care for disorders of the eye. Call 763-2203 for complete information about Intraocular Lens Implant surgery, cataract support groups, or the many other eye care services of the Institute.

OUR LITTLE GIRL ON DRUGS?

How could it be possible? We've always tried our best to be good parents, but lately we've felt her slipping away from us. Her grades haven't been as good as they used to be. She seems sullen much of the time and she was always a happy child until this began. We've been talking it over and we just don't know what to do.

Sound familiar? WE CAN HELP.

An 8-pound, 11-ounce daughter, Lindsay Liotta, was born April 29 in St. Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston, to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Michael Liotta of Afleri Court, Union.

Mrs. Liotta, the former Lisa Barone, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Barone of Mountaineer. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Liotta of Union.

A 7-pound, 8½-ounce daughter, Lauren Nicole Messinger, was born April 26 in Elizabeth General Medical Center, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Messinger of Union. She is the couple's first child. She joins a half-sister, Kristin.

Mrs. Messinger, the former Erma Mastroiacosa, is the daughter of Mrs. Antonietta Mastroiacosa of Union, and the late Mr. Matteo Mastroiacosa. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Messinger of Colonia. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis O'Brien of Elizabeth.

 opportunities for self-growth, making new friends and community service." Her number is 636-3488.

Ann Dillon of Union was selected by the club to attend the Girls Citizenship Institute program at Douglass College, New Brunswick, June 16 through 20. It was announced by Kathy Seiple, education chairman. Miss Dillon, who is completing her junior year at Union High School, has served as sophomore class representative and Student Council representative. She also is a recipient of varsity letters in cross country and track and has a junior letter in basketball. She plans to attend college. Girls Citizenship Institute is a program conducted by the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs for girls who are completing their junior year in high school. During her five-day stay on the Douglass campus, Miss Dillon will join girls from all over New Jersey. She will attend career seminars, hear a variety of lectures and participate in athletic and recreational activities.

THE WILSON PARK Wednesday Social Club of Linden will end its season with a luncheon-theater party Wednesday. The club will travel to the Brookside Manor, Scotchtown, N. J., in the Shawangunk Mountains. Featured will be live music, dancing and a show. A bus will leave from the Wilson Park Recreation Building on Summit Terrace, Linden, at 9 a.m. Chairmen are Lottie and Frances Rosenband. The club is sponsored by the Linden Recreation Department.

THE SUBURBAN League of Deborah will sponsor a bus trip to the Atlantic City on June 12. It will leave Springfield's municipal lot on Morris Avenue opposite Caldwell Place at 10:45 a.m. and will leave Atlantic City at 7:15 p.m. Additional information and reservations can be obtained by calling 233-6560 or 374-1508.

THE HILDA GOULD Chapter of Deborah will sponsor a yard sale June 13 and 14 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 640 Maple Ave., corner of East Curtis Street, Linden. Mary Fried, chairman, has reported that the sale will include new items, household goods, bric-a-brac and clothing for men and women. In the event of rain, the sale will be postponed to June 20 and 21. Proceeds will benefit the Deborah Hospital Foundation.

THE CLO CLUB of Roselle will sponsor Jennifer Jedznik as a delegate to the Girls Citizenship Institute at Douglass College, New Brunswick, June 16 through 20. Miss Jedznik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jedznik of East Fourth Avenue, Roselle, attends Roselle Catholic High School, where she is an "outstanding student." In addition to a high scholastic average, Miss Jedznik is a class officer and a member of the Student Council. She is active in the ski club and drama group and is a "Distinguished American High School Student." Clo's alternate delegate, Ellen Tomer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Tomer of Christiani Roselle, Roselle, also is a student at Roselle Catholic High School. She is an honors student and is a participant in a wide variety of school activities.

THE SPRINGFIELD Lodge of B'nai B'rith will celebrate its 30th anniversary Wednesday evening at the Short Hills Caterers. It was announced by Herbert Ross of Mountainside, chairman of the 30th anniversary committee. The lodge was chartered in June 1954 and according to Harry Newman, president, it has raised more than $300,000 for the B'nai B'rith Foundation and over the 30 year period has signed up more than 2,000 members. Special charter moments will be presented to members who were at the initial chartering ceremonies and have continued their membership for the past 30 years. They are Leonard Golden, Lewis Gash, Arthur Minimin, Cantor Irving Kramerman and David Zurav. Dr. Howard Walter is chairman of the dinner-dance with Myron Solomon in charge of the program. Rabbi Reuben Levine, spiritual leader of Temple Beth Ahm in Springfield, is chaplain of the event.

AN ANNUAL STRAWBERRY festival will be held by the GFWC Woman's Club of Connecticut Farms, Union, June 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the American Legion Home, Bond Drive, Union. The fund-raising event which will feature social games will be open to the public. Proceeds will benefit special high school awards and NJFWC scholarships. Reservation can be obtained by calling 699-2022.

The club has announced that Beth Schaefer, a Union High School junior, will be this year's WCCF delegate to the Girls Citizenship Institute sponsored annually by the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs. She will participate in vocational seminars and social activities at Douglass College, New Brunswick, June 16 through June 19.

Applebaum is soloist

JODY APPLEBAUM

Jody Applebaum, daughter of Rita Applebaum of Winchester Avenue, Union, was the soprano soloist in the Philadelphia and South Jersey premieres of Andrew Lloyd Webber's "Requiem." She appeared Saturday night in the First Baptist Church of Philadelphia and Sunday night at the Haddonfield United Methodist Church.

Applebaum is known as an interpreter of sacred music. She has bachelor and master of music degrees from Temple University, where she has been a guest artist with many Philadelphia-area organizations, including the Philadelphia Oratorio Choir, the University of Pennsylvania Choir and Choral Society, the Pocono Choral Society and the Haddonfield Symphony.

Her repertoire covers all of the major mass and oratorios in the literature, and she was recognized for her outstanding achievements by the National Federation of Music Clubs, who awarded her top honors in the oratorio and concert music category of their Young Artist Competition for Pennsylvania in 1984.

This January, Applebaum took part in the Second International Singing Competition of Pretoria, and she won a special award for the best interpretation of German art songs.

Applebaum has been accepted to the doctoral program of Peabody Conservatory, Baltimore, Md., and will begin her studies this fall, as a student of Phyllis Bryn-Julson.

Exhibit at Y

Fifty-five artists, who have participated in studio art classes at the YM-YWHA of Metropolitan New Jersey this year are being represented in the annual Y Artists Studio, an exhibition and sale which will continue in the Y Art Gallery now through June 22 at 760 Northfield Ave., West Orange.

The Y Artists Studio will include sculpture, watercolor, paintings and drawings. The studio can be seen Sunday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Friday. The art gallery at the Y is closed on Saturdays.

Leo Schlemowitz is resident artist in the Y's sculpture studio. Award winning artist Nancy Korde will lead the Y's watercolor classes. Laura Young, who has an M.F.A. from Rutgers University and has taught in colleges throughout the Metropolitan area, will lead the painting workshop at the Y. Artists exhibiting their works in the Y Artists are Pearl Mackta of Springfield and Doris Krueger of Union.

The exhibit also features the work of students in paintings in oils and watercolor, a workshop for gifted teenagers.

Further information on the Y Artists Studio can be obtained by calling 734-5200, ext. 523.

Auditions set by NJYS

Auditions for the New Jersey Symphony for the 1986-87 season will be heard from Tuesday to June 19 in the United Methodist Church in Summit. The NJYS program provides orchestral training for talented young musicians through grade 12.

Candidates are selected to participate in one of three orchestras: the New Jersey Youth Symphony, the Preparatory Orchestra or the Orchestral String Training Ensemble.

The Youth Symphony, led by Music Director George Marringer Maul, and assistant conductor and director of ensembles, Bernard J. Yammotta, is open to advanced students, grades 8 to 12, who study privately.

The NJYS Preparatory Orchestra, led by Conductor Barbara H. Barstow, is open to intermediate to advanced students who study privately. Barstow also leads the Orchestral String Training Ensemble (OSTE) for young string players.
