Rallying around the tree

By DOMINICK CRINCOLI JR.
Thanks to the donation of Springfield nursery proprietor Phil Statile, a live Christmas tree now stands proudly on the front lawn of Town Hall.
"When I was a boy my father used to take me to Town Hall to observe the lighting of the 50-foot Norway spruce that stood in front of the building," said Lenny Statile, a landscaper architect, by trade, who installed the 13-foot tree.
"I wanted my kids to enjoy the same thing," he said of this annual holiday celebration, which was revived this year after being discontinued several years ago.
Sharon Katz, The Spirit of Springfield, the local PBA and the senior citizens pooled resources to organize a tree lighting and holiday celebration last Thursday night.
"This night is an indication of what we hope to be a future celebration for continuing years," said Mayor Jeffrey Katz to the crowd of about 100 people.
Phil Kurnos delivered his now-familiar, "What affects one person on Tooker Avenue affects us all," speech, stirring up sentiments of community pride in the crowd.
The lights went out accidentally while Kurnos was speaking. "Hey, you got some real power," teased one onlooker, Kenneth Citron, who identified himself as a waiter from Irvington.

"I came for the donuts and coffee," he confided.
Statile's donation signals the end of a recent township practice of chopping down a live tree for display in front of town hall during the holidays. The Norway spruce was installed about a month ago and will grow to a height of 30 feet in an approximate height of 30 feet, according to Statile.
Residents gathered around 7 p.m. and were soon enjoying Christmas caroling supplied by Deacon Ed Porter, Youth Minister Grace O'Brien and four girls from the St. James Church Youth Group.
"Deck the Halls" flowed through the cassette player sound system supplied by John Cottage and the Emergency Management Systems team.
Barbara Wall, spokeswoman for Spirit of Springfield, said her group and the PBA donated the donuts and candy canes while the senior citizens supplied paper goods.
"It is important for me and my children to be part of the community," said resident Jamie Lehrhoff Levine to a question concerning her presence at the event.
"I have recently moved back to Springfield after having grown up here," she said, noting her satisfaction with what the community has to offer.
Lenny Statile said the dedicated tree cost $450 wholesale, $1,200 with installation.

Springfield gets $30,000 in aid

Springfield this week received $35,000 in aid for the resurfacing of Millway Road from Meisel Avenue to the Union Township line under the state's Municipal Aid Program. The receipt of the funds was announced by state authorities this week.
The funding is part of the New Jersey Transportation Trust Fund Authority Act which has been renewed, permitting the continuation of the Municipal Aid Program, according to DOT Commissioner Hazel Frank Gluck.
Under the renewed program, the annual available formula funds were increased to $21.25 million plus $5 million for depressed urban centers. This year, total requests for projects increased to over $125 million.

Still going strong

By DOMINICK CRINCOLI JR.
Bill Garner has become what one might call a fixture in Springfield.
After 95 years of consecutive residence in town, Springfield's oldest living native is all smiles.
"I love Springfield — always have, always will," confided Garner, a few days after his Dec. 7 birthday.
Garner, who served as Grand Marshal of Springfield's Bicentennial parades in 1976 and 1980, was born in 1893 on Morris Avenue. He moved with his family in 1920 to the house built by his father at 99 Diven St.
In the early years Garner made his living as a sort of jack of all trades, which included chauffeuring, truck driving and lumberyard work.
Married to his wife, Louise, in October of 1916, his family in 1920 to the house built by his father at 99 Diven St.
In the early years Garner made his living as a sort of jack of all trades, which included chauffeuring, truck driving and lumberyard work.
Married to his wife, Louise, in October of 1916, the majority of his working life was spent with a private family in Short Hills where he and his wife worked as butler and cook respectively.
His wife died in 1980.
"I, along with my father, worked on the special police department back in 1917 when the Police Department had just formed," Garner says.
Garner served in World War I as a truck driver and was stationed in Fort Dix.
He has worshipped in the Methodist Church since he was 5 years old, and says he looked to the church leaders in the pulpit for role models.

Gaudineer students travel to the capital

Approximately 70 seventh-grade students and eight staff members from the Florence M. Gaudineer School in Springfield recently traveled to Washington, D.C., under the direction of Merle Murphy. The group was headquartered at the National Clarion Hotel in Arlington, Va. Using this as a base, the group visited many of the popular attractions and some a little less known.

Under the supervision of a professional guide, the students began their tour with a visit to Arlington Cemetery. After seeing the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, everyone viewed the monument to the Challenger Crew and finished up at the Kennedy gravesite. Leaving Arlington, the buses headed towards the FBI building. Following a general tour of the facility, the students saw a demonstration of FBI weapons.

That night, the children viewed the major monuments of Washington and participated in ceremonies honoring Thomas Jefferson, seeing the words that they had memorized from the Declaration of Independence on the walls of the Jefferson Memorial. The view of the Washington Monument from the Lincoln Memorial highlighted a very special evening.

The second day was spent visiting places such as the Capitol, Library of Congress, Archives, Supreme Court and more. Free time during the day was spent at the National Museum of Space and Aeronautics. That night, after a dinner at the Pavilion at the Old Post Office, the group was treated to a return ride to the hotel by subway. For many, it was the very first time on this type of mass transit.

On Friday, the last day, the students went to the Vietnam Memorial. A special presentation and mini service honored two POW's and Richard Benmet, the only Springfield resident to die in action. A wreath and plaque were placed at the Wall. The remainder of the morning was spent at the American History Museum.

A wisecracking group arrived home about 5:15 p.m.

Overlook offers CPR training

Overlook Hospital will offer a 3 1/2-hour CPR course on Jan. 24 from 7 to 10:30 p.m. in Overlook's auditorium. The course is open to the public, and anyone over the age of 14 is encouraged to attend this class to learn the life-saving technique of CPR. Those individuals who attend the course will receive a review booklet and a course completion card. The class is limited to the first 25 registrants. There is a $12 registration fee to cover operating costs.

The "Little Heart Saver Course," for infant and child resuscitation, is a one-session course to be held on Jan. 27, from 7 to 10:30 p.m., and is an off-shoot of the Adult Cardiopulmonary (CPR) resuscitation courses. The course could be especially helpful for parents, baby sitters and child-care professionals. The fee is $12.

In addition, Overlook Hospital will offer a four-part Basic Cardiac Life Support Course (CPR), open to anyone over the age of 14, to be held on Jan. 30, 31, Feb. 1, and 2, from 7 to 10:30 p.m.

In this two-hour, one-night course, offered during the month of October at Overlook, or at your place of business, adults are taught by emergency medical services personnel trained and experienced in handling these types of situations. Students learn not only what to do, but also what not to do until trained emergency help arrives.

The small investment of $5 per person for the course can bring the peace of mind that comes with being prepared. Each class is limited to 20 students so that each can get the individualized instruction and hands-on practice necessary to be thoroughly prepared. Arrangements can also be made to bring Emergency! First Five Minutes to your place of business, church, or other community location on request.

Those who would like to register or obtain further information may call 522-2365.

BOE tables smoking ban

By PAUL FEYTON

The Union County Regional District Board of Education has delayed the implementation of a district-wide smoking ban which was to have taken effect Feb. 1. The school board is awaiting for a Jan. 9 hearing before the Public Employees Relations Commission which will decide if an injunction filed by the local teachers union to prevent the implementation of the ban should be granted.

At a Dec. 21 hearing before Charles Tadduni, a PERC hearing officer, it was agreed that the ban should be delayed until after the teachers unfair labor practice charges can be heard before the entire PERC board.

According to a statement issued by the regional district, if an injunction had been granted at last week's meeting, the decision on the improper labor practice charge might not have been forthcoming until the fall of 1989.

"...the meeting of Dec. 21 revealed that PERC did not wish to treat this matter through the normal hearing and appeal process. They felt the issue at hand was of such significance that an expedited process was required. Therefore a full hearing before all commissioners of PERC is scheduled for Jan. 9, 1989."

A decision on the matter is expected by February, according to the statement.

Dr. Donald Marachnik, district superintendent of schools, said the school board continues to maintain that a smoke-free environment is best for the health and welfare of staff and students.

"Our board took the position because of the health and welfare of the students and staff. The board believes there should be no smoking in the schools by anybody. We desire smoke-free schools," said Marachnik.

Marachnik said the BOE's decision was based on an opinion rendered from the Office of Legislative Services for New Jersey State Legislature which said a smoking ban could be legally imposed.

George Canellis, a Westfield attorney representing the teachers, was on vacation and could not be reached for comment.

According to published reports, both sides will have the opportunity to present documentation during oral arguments supporting their positions for or against the ban.

The smoking ban was approved earlier this month by the school board. The ban, if upheld, calls for a no-smoking policy by teachers as well as all district employees, students and visitors at the district's four high schools. The ban includes all district property, athletic fields and district vehicles.

Currently, teachers are permitted to smoke in designated areas of the school. Students have never been permitted to smoke in the schools.

In addition to the teachers' charge, the Union County Regional Education Association, which represents the majority of non-teaching staff, has filed a grievance with the school board as well.

VAN HART HONORED — Ethelyne Grimsley, at podium, president of the Union County School Boards Association, reads from a resolution being presented to David Van Hart during the recent fall dinner meeting of the Union County School Boards Association. Van Hart, a teacher of mathematics and computer science at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, was honored at this event by the UCSBA for being selected as their 1988 Union County Teacher of the Year in accordance with the state Department of Education's Teacher of the Year program.

Local residents finish on top

Three local residents were among the winners of major events at the 55th annual Fall Troop Show, held recently at the Watchung Stables in Mountainside. The show was sponsored by the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation.

The Junior Instructors Outstanding Service Award was won by Stephen Gotz of Kenilworth. A first-place trophy and ribbon were presented to Gotz for winning the event, which is judged on an individual's riding ability.

Second place in the Senior Championship event was awarded to Michelle Hanf of Mountainside, who received a ribbon for her placement in the show.

Awards were given as each event ended throughout the three days of competition.

Also, the newly built Administration Building of the Watchung Stable was dedicated in the early morning of Oct. 29.

Book discussion to be Jan. 3

Beryl Markham's autobiography "West with the Night" will be featured at the next book discussion at the Springfield Public Library. The meeting will be held in the children's room of the library Tuesday, Jan. 3, at 7:30 p.m.

Markham, an English woman born in 1902, was taken to Africa by her father in 1906. She grew up with African children, helped her father breed and train race horses, and became an aviator, flying mail and passengers around East Africa.

In 1926 she became the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic from east to west, reversing Lindbergh's feat.

Her life story, published in 1942, was a best seller and was highly praised by critics. "She speaks with eloquence close to exhortation," said one. When the paperback version was published in 1983, it too became a best seller and was again critically acclaimed. Markham died in 1986.

The book discussion is open to the public free of charge. Anyone wishing to read the book may ask for it at the library reference desk. The next meeting of the group will be Feb. 7, when Iulo Calvino's "Mr. Palomar" will be discussed.

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield is one of 20 area high schools registered to compete in Fairleigh Dickinson University's fourth annual Computer Programming Contest. The six-hour contest will be held Jan. 11 on FDU's Florham-Madison campus, and is sponsored by the FDU student chapter of the Association for Computing Machinery.

CARE lets students get away

CARE (Center for Adults Returning to Education) is a haven at Union County College for students and staff to mingle and, at this time of year, a place to share holiday cheer. CARE is a place for non-traditional students — mothers, senior citizens, part-timers, or a bit of both — "a place where students get an oasis from the hustle and bustle of campus life," they agreed.

The holiday celebration marks the one time during the year that students show their appreciation for what goes on down here, said Joann Maguire, assistant, CARE director. She said that students frequently come to CARE, "to have a shoulder to cry on, to get that support they need while going to college."

Cohen plan battles illegal dumping

Neil Cohen, Union County freeholder, has announced that in early 1989 he will introduce an ordinance to combat the illegal disposal of garbage that has been plaguing the communities in Union County.

Cohen further noted that this comprehensive ordinance will be the first of its kind on a county level in New Jersey, and will serve as a prototype for the rest of the counties in this state.

"We are going to utilize and employ all available resources within the county, including our citizens, to combat this problem," Cohen explained. "The County Police will work with local police departments to establish a hot-line network to encourage reporting of dumping incidents. As part of the law enforcement effort, undercover county and local police will act in concert to stop this midnight garbage dumping in our communities."

After violators are identified, and appropriate evidence is compiled, the Union County Regional Environmental Health Commission will work with local health agencies to investigate and assist in the prosecution of all offenders.

County GOP back Hardwick run

Calling him a proven leader, proven vote-getter and proven winner, 175 Republican leaders and office holders from throughout Union County are urging New Jersey Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick (R-Union) to enter the race for Governor of New Jersey.

The list of prominent Union County Republicans supporting a Hardwick-for-Governor candidacy was released by Republican State Senators Donald T. DiFrancesco (R-22) and C. Louis Bassano (R-21), and Republican State Assembly members Peter J. Genova (R-21) and Maureen Ogden (R-22).

State Senator Lou Bassano (R-21), who represents the same district as Hardwick, pointed out that the unified support of the county's Republicans for a Hardwick candidacy is clear evidence that the Assembly Speaker is what it takes to attract people to his candidacy.

CARE lets students get away

CARE (Center for Adults Returning to Education) is a haven at Union County College for students and staff to mingle and, at this time of year, a place to share holiday cheer.

CARE is a place for non-traditional students — mothers, senior citizens, part-timers, or a bit of both — "a place where students get an oasis from the hustle and bustle of campus life," they agreed.

Nestled in a basement office in the Mackay Library at the Cranford Campus, the CARE center sports cozy furnishings like a neighborhood night lounge, complete with coffee maker and camaraderie. At times, workshops are held there on such topics as AIDS, child abuse, and career choices.

The holiday celebration marks "the one time during the year that students show their appreciation for what goes on down here," said Joan Maguire, assistant CARE director. She said that students frequently come to CARE, "to have a shoulder to cry on, to get that support they need while going to college."

This year, she said that friends at the James Caldwell School, Springfield.

COUNTY LEADER NEWSPAPERS 1201 Bluffsant Ave., Union, N.J. 07083

Cohen plan battles illegal dumping

Neil Cohen, Union County freholder, has announced that in early 1989 he will introduce an ordinance to combat the illegal disposal of garbage that has been plaguing the communities in Union County.

Cohen stated that this ordinance is the culmination of nearly 11 months of study, research, and dialogue by many towns, officials, and governmental agencies.

Cohen further noted that this comprehensive ordinance will be the first of its kind on a county level in New Jersey, and will serve as a prototype for the rest of the counties in this state.

The rash of illegal garbage-dumping incidents in Union County has posed severe environmental and health problems. These incidents include commercial and residential waste as well as construction and demolition debris and cause groundwater contamination and blocking of streams and sewers.

Cohen noted, "It has been increasingly apparent that due to the high cost of garbage removal, an incentive has existed for individuals to utilize our parks, streets, and open spaces for their private, and free-of-charge landfills." He further stated that this novel and creative ordinance will be a strong first step toward necessary deterrent measures to avoid the catastrophe of the toxic waste dumping era of several years ago.

"We are going to utilize and employ all available resources within the county, including our citizens, to combat this problem," Cohen explained. "The County Police will work with local police departments to establish a hot-line network to encourage reporting of dumping incidents. As part of the law enforcement effort, undercover county and local police will act in concert to stop this midnight garbage dumping in our communities."

"After violators are identified and appropriate evidence is compiled, the Union County Regional Environmental Health Commission will work with local health agencies to investigate and assist in the prosecution of all offenders. The Union County Law Department will act as counsel in the prosecution of violators."

"All fines collected will be distributed equally between the county, the municipality where the dumping incident occurred, and the Union County Regional Environmental Health Commission to recoup all expenses associated with the program, such as investigations, inspections and litigation and to reimburse local governments for all cleanup costs that result from illegal dumping," he explained.

"In order to assure the success in the fight against illegal garbage dumping, "the county will appropriate $100,000 in 1989 to the Union County Regional Environmental Health Commission to start up the program," Cohen said. "The Commission and county will also be eligible for funds and matching grants from the N.J. Department of Environmental Protection, to train and equip county and local police and health inspectors to investigate illegal dumping incidents," he added.

"This program is being implemented in an effort to eradicate this most serious health problem and to deter others from this illegal activity. We realize that the issue of sorting garbage disposal costs must be addressed, but in the interim, we cannot allow illegal dumping to destroy our most important natural resource — our environment," Cohen stated.

County GOP back Hardwick run

Calling him a proven leader, proven vote-getter and proven winner, over 175 Republican leaders and voters from throughout Union County are urging New Jersey Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick (R-Union) to enter the race for Governor of New Jersey.

The list of prominent Union County Republicans supporting a Hardwick-for-Governor candidacy was released by Republican State Senator Donald T. DiFrancesco (R-22) and C. Louis Bassano (R-21), and Republican State Assembly members Peter J. Genova (R-21) and Maureen Ogden (R-22).

At a press conference held at the Holiday Inn in Springfield, the state elected officials said that the list of Union County Republicans urging Hardwick to run is significant because it contains the names of all 21 municipal Republican chairmen and virtually every elected Republican official at the county and municipal level.

"Union County Republicans are united in urging Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick to toss his hat into the 1989 race for governor of New Jersey," said state Senator Don DiFrancesco. "This is the first time in my memory that this county has rallied so significantly around one candidate for governor. This support will add a real boost to Chuck's campaign should he enter the race."

State Senator Lou Bassano (R-21), who represents the same district as Hardwick, pointed out that the unified support of the county's Republicans for a Hardwick candidacy is clear evidence that the Assembly Speaker has what it takes to attract people to his candidacy.

"We want Chuck Hardwick to know that if he decides to run for governor, he'll have the strong backing of Republicans throughout his home county. Chuck is a proven winner in Union County and we know he'll win statewide. As a matter of fact, a recent poll of Republican mayors statewide showed Chuck as the leading potential candidate for governor," said Bassano.

Bassano was referring to a poll taken in November by the Princeton Public Affairs Group that showed that among Republican mayors statewide, Chuck Hardwick is favored by a margin of 41 percent to 29 percent over U.S. Congressman Jim Cooper.

Former State Senator Frank X. McDermott is also a key supporter of a Hardwick-for-Governor candidacy.

Cops nab shoplifter

Police blotter
As Woodside, Queens, man who is wanted on several warrants by the New York Police Department was arrested for shoplifting from an Echo Plaza supermarket this week, authorities reported this week.
John Joseph Bilski, 23, of Woodside, N.Y., was arrested by Springfield plainclothes officer Peter Davis and charged with shoplifting from the Echo Plaza Acme, possession of narcotics paraphernalia and fugitive warrants from the state of New York on Dec. 18.
A computer check with the Mountainside police revealed that the suspect was wanted by New York authorities, said

Tentative regional budget OK'd

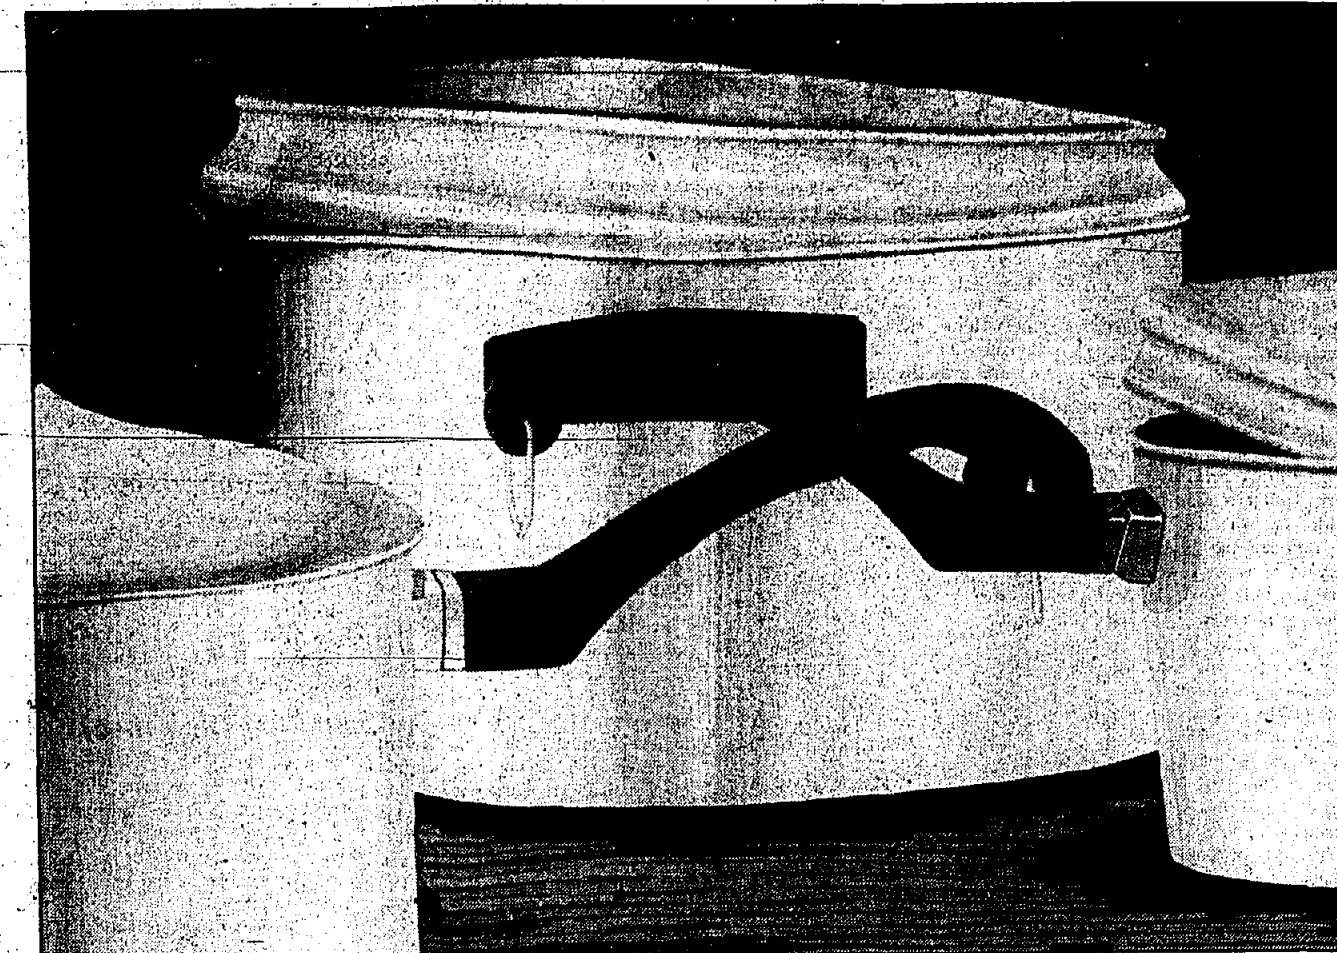

By DOMINICK CRINCOLI JR.
The Union County Regional Board of Education has approved a tentative budget of $32,461,778 for 1989-90.
The proposal is about 6% percent more than last year's budget. The Regional Board of Education covers four high schools and six townships, including Jonathan Dayton and David Brearley Regional High Schools.
Besides the current expense portion of the budget, the tab includes $564,224 for debt service.
Harold Burdge, board secretary, said this year's budget is a $1,979,761 increase over last year's.
Under the proposal, a total of $26,444,033 will be raised by taxpayers.
Next, procedurally, the budget will be submitted to County Superintendent of Schools Dr. Vito Gagliardi for review. A public hearing on the budget is scheduled for March 7 at David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth.
The budget could be altered at that time, according to Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald Merachnik.
The proposed budget will go before the voters on school Election Day, Tuesday, April 4.
The budget includes no provisions for capital outlay expenditures.
"It is a very fair and realistic budget which enables the district to do a number of things for students while keeping the budget increase below 6% percent — which is pretty good," said Merachnik.
Some highlights of the budget follow:
□ Approximately $1.6 million of the increase can be attributed to negotiated salary adjustments and negotiated fringe benefits, said Burdge.
□ Approximately $405,000 can be attributed to an increase in the cost of hospital premiums for district employees.
□ $81,000 has been allotted for new band uniforms. Students at Arthur L. Johnson High School in Clark received $30,000 and students at Governor Livingston High School in Berkeley Heights received $51,000 for uniforms.
The Governor Livingston High School Marching Band, which includes bagpipers in its ranks, was earmarked for funding for the uniforms three years ago, but the project was continually put off, said Burdge.
The Governor Livingston band has won many awards, and has traveled to London and Florida in recent years.
The budget money will not be spent before July 1, 1989.

HONORED — Martin Taglienti, a teacher of business administration at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, was recently honored by the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association at its 12th annual award of Honor Luncheon for his outstanding service to youth as the head coach of the boys cross country team. And the ice cream man
Would ring his bell
As he came down the street.
The ice cream would melt
And drip down my arm,
And my puppy would
Gladly lick it up.
The swing on the front porch
Would creak out a tune
From its rusty hinges
While the birds sang
To its melody.

With the spring breeze
Gently blowing

I can recall the sound
Of happy children

I would play hard
During the day

Daddy would play his old records,

Their songs
As three squeaky-clean children
Fell fast asleep
In the hot, sticky air.

Looking back at '88: The Year In Review

By MARK YABLONSKY
Editor's note: This chronological roundup of the 1988 Union County sports calendar will run in two parts; the first eight months of the year are featured this week.

If you'd prefer not to remember 1988 as the year of the underdog in local Union County sports, then at least see it as the year of the unexpected. Certainly, 1988 had some big surprises, many of which aren't likely to be forgotten anytime soon.

Without doubt, fans and parents in both Kenilworth and Garwood will always recall with fondness the triumphs of their Brearley Regional High basketball team upsetting local baseball powers Scotch Plains and Elizabeth while en route to winning the coveted Union County Tournament, which is no small task for a Group 1 school.

And football fans in Springfield and Mountaineer won't forget the Dayton Regional football team, which made one of its infrequent trips to post-season action by winning its first eight games, eventually settling for an 8-2 record. Linden fans had enough to cheer about, mainly because the Tigers won the UCT boy's basketball championship by downing mighty Elizabeth, ending EHS's four-year grip on the title.

Of course, not all was well in the Watching Conference. The ongoing controversy in the WC is still far from over, what with as many as five member schools wanting out — even as two new schools are about to come in.

And Lou Rotilio's Union High football team saw its four-year grip on the North Jersey, Group 4, Section 2 championship end, although a younger, smaller Farmer squad still found a way to make it into post-season action.

All in all, 1988 was a year to remember — the good and the bad, the expected and the unexpected, and most important of all, many of the participants who made it all possible.

JANUARY
Staci Weinerman makes the night of Jan. 15 a big one by sinking 28 points in Dayton's 63-48 win over Roselle Catholic, enabling her to become the all-time leading scorer in Dayton girls' basketball history.

By the time she's done, Weinerman's 502-point season leads her as the school's all-time leading scorer outright — including boy's competition.

In its biggest challenge of the season so far, the Linden High boy's basketball team, behind a 23-point effort from guard Antoine Allen, defeats arch-rival Elizabeth, 59-56, in front of a standing-room-only crowd at the Thomas Dunn Sports Center in Elizabeth, also on Jan. 15. While the game carries the least amount of importance than any of the three Linden-EHS showdowns to come, it does give the Tigers first blood — and the eventual number one seed in the upcoming Union County Tournament.

FEBRUARY
Three local area football standouts, Mike Chalanski of Brearley, Scott Baldwin of Roselle and Mike Ferroni of Union, all sign letters of intent with big-name schools.

Roselle Park and Union, the two dominant wrestling teams in the County Leader coverage area, finish first and second, respectively in the Union County wrestling tournament at Elizabeth. In particular, Union's 171-pound senior, Larry Guarino, wins an unprecedented fourth straight UCT title. Then, to no one's surprise, Roselle Park later blazes both New Providence and Brearley to win the North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 title, but the Panthers go on to suffer their only loss of a 17-1 season in the Group 1 final to Paulsboro, 38-20, on Feb. 20 in Roselle Park.

A full executive committee of the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association rejects final appeals from both East Side and Malcolm X Shabazz High Schools of the Newark Schools City League to join the Watching Conference. Numerous other schools statewide see their appeals to jump conferences turned down by the NJIAA as well — for the time being, that is.

Less than three weeks after losing, 67-59, to Elizabeth in the first-ever — and for the time being, last — Watching Conference championship game, the Linden High boy's basketball team makes up for it by defeating the Minutemen, 50-45, to win the Union County Tournament on Feb. 27 in the Dunn Sports Center. The Tigers, in winning their first UCT crown since 1983, end Elizabeth's four-year reign as county champions.

MARCH
With a Rocky-type atmosphere serving as the background, the Linden High boy's basketball team, as expected, takes part in "Elizabeth IV," that being the North Jersey, Group 4, Section 2 championship game on March 8 in Union. But this time, the heroes are reserved for the Minutemen, who overcome a nine-point deficit late in the third quarter to beat the Tigers, 70-64, for the sectional crown. Elizabeth then goes on to win the overall Group 4 title by beating Paterson-Kennedy and Camden.

Eight wrestlers from the CLN area — Mark Farmer of Linden; Anthony Calicchio, Chris Tokarski, Mike Sizer and Dave Fischer of Roselle Park; and Steve Lilley, Larry Guarino and Mike Ferroni of Union — all qualify for state tournament competition in Princeton. Guarino loses a tough 4-2 decision to Jamie Wicks of Delaware Valley in the final round of 171-pound activity, but Ferroni completes an overpowering 33-0 season by pinning Matt Parks of Central Regional to win the state's heavyweight title.

The Roselle Park High girl's softball team, behind a sizzling 8-0 start, draws the number one seed in the Union County Tournament play, beating out second-seeded, 9-1, Westfield, whom the Lady Panthers had upset, 4-3, earlier. Union, at 7-3, earns the number three seed in a 17-team field.

The Roselle Park High softball team, by virtue of a sizzling 8-0 start, draws the number one seed in the Union County Tournament play, beating out second-seeded, 9-1, Westfield, whom the Lady Panthers had upset, 4-3, earlier. Union, at 7-3, earns the number three seed in a 17-team field.

Robert Valentino of Springfield, a 18-year-old senior attending Delbarton High School in Morris Township, is presented with the annual Brian Piccolo Award by the Springfield/Mountaineer chapter of UNICO, the nation's largest Italian-American organization. During his senior year, Valentino is accorded First Team, All-Northern Hills Conference honors in football and basketball.

The David Brearley Regional High basketball team celebrates its designation as the number four seed in Union County Tournament play by beating Mountain Valley Conference rival New Providence, 5-3, behind Mike Chalanski's six-point lead — even though Big Cheese finally allows his first runs of the season. Numerous big-league scouts are on hand in New Providence to watch the game.

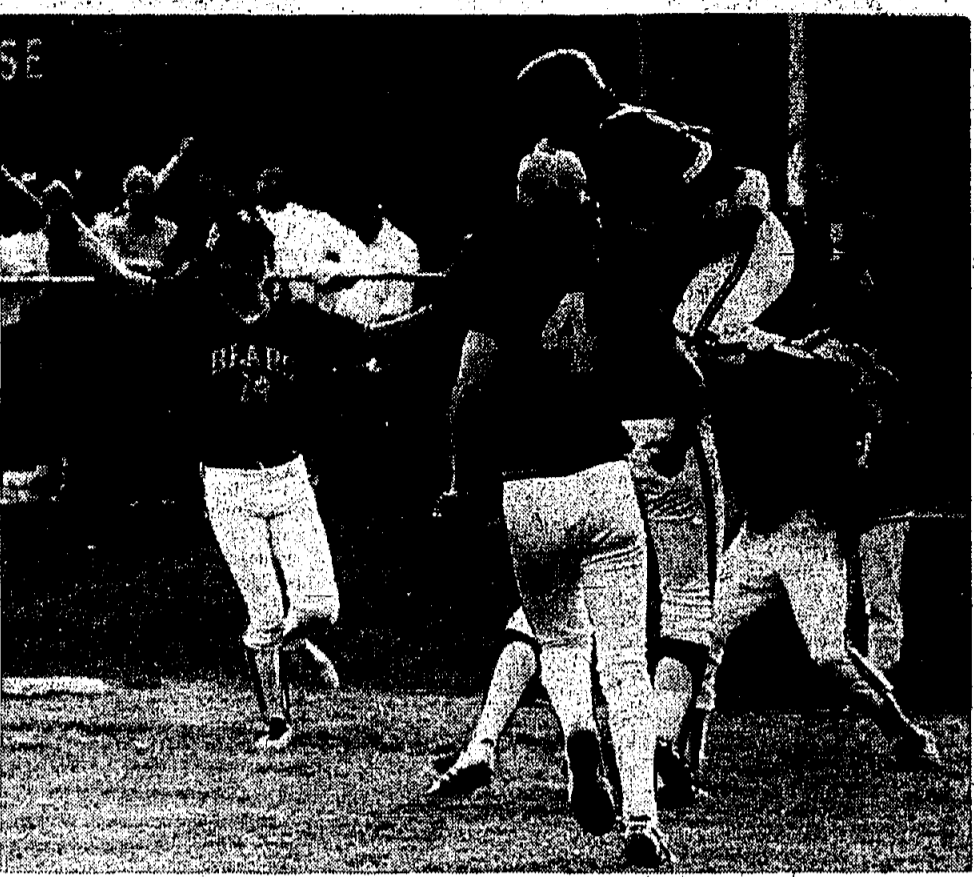

Kim Schiefer of Roselle Park, a senior with both county and state-wide recognition in field hockey, receives an annual $5,000 scholarship to attend American University in Washington, D.C.

MAY
In true Cinderella-type fashion, the Brearley Regional baseball team, behind the dominant pitching of Mike Chalanski, wins the school's first-ever Union County Tournament by beating Hillside, Scotch Plains, Elizabeth and Rahway. In the four UCT games, the Bears outscore their opponents, 25-4, with Big Cheese winning all four times, including a no-hit, 18-strikeout effort against Hillside on May 9 in Kenilworth, and a magnificent one-hitter in a 2-0 upset over Elizabeth on May 22 in Union.

The Union High girl's softball team wins its second straight UCT title by blanking Cathy Daly. It is also the second straight year in which Union beats Roselle Park in the UCT finale.

JUNE
Only six days after winning the county tournament title, the Bears lose to Glen Ridge, 5-3, in the North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 championship game in Parsippany on June 3. Glen Ridge baseball standout Dave Kennedy ends Bear's hopes for a Group 1 title by driving in four of his team's five runs, including a three-run homer in the top of the seventh that enables the Ridgers to withstand a two-run rally from Brearley in the bottom of the ninth.

Both Roselle and Union make first-round exits from state American Legion, tournament play, but before both teams take it to the full five-game limit. Roselle, after winning its first two games, splits its next two games, thus leaving further advancement up to a do-or-die game with Princeton on Aug. 3, a game that Princeton wins, 4-3, in 10 innings. Meanwhile, Union wins three of its first four games, beating Clifton, Caldwell and Bordentown, while losing to Gloucester. However, Union is forced to meet Gloucester one more time, in another all-or-nothing game on Aug. 3. Ace hurler Howie Adler, who beat Clifton in the opener, succumbs to fatigue and Union loses, 14-11, as Gloucester joins Keamy in the state finals in Lyndhurst. Union figures back from an early 11-2 deficit to make it an 11-10 game by the sixth inning, but jump off to a 4-1-1 start in Union County League play. On the other

Roselle is awarded one of the 10 spots in the Memorial Field in Linden, while Union plays in New Brunswick. Kenilworth, which finishes in seventh place with a 15-12-1 record, faces sixth-place Elizabeth in a preliminary semifinal and loses, 17-1, at Williams Field in Elizabeth. 'Dawgs please Yanchus

If you ask Ray Yanchus where he sees the Bulldogs heading at this point of the season, he'll tell you that he still doesn't know. But ask him how he feels about a 2-1 start for his Dayton Regional boy's basketball team, and the long-time coach will admit that he's "pleasently surprised."

And really, he ought to be. For a team that began play with just one bonafide standout, a couple of returning part-time players, and a few totally inexperienced performers, it's no mere drop in the bucket to defeat both Passaic Valley and New Providence just prior to Christmas. In particular, Sica, an eight-splice from both Passaic Valley and New Providence, and a well-known Group 1 football power for years now, has made impressive strides in basketball recently under Art Cannato, and can play tough within the Mountain Valley Conference on most occasions.

The Pioneers certainly did that last Tuesday night's game with Dayton in New Providence. But so did Dayton, which pulled out a well-earned 49-45 decision to give the Pioneers their first defeat of the young season.

Making up for last year's 62-52 defeat to the same team in Springfield, the 'Dawgs pulled this one out not only because of Dave Lissy's 17 points, but also because of 10 more from junior Brandon Giordano, who also added eight rebounds. In fact, the play of the 6-4 Giordano, who had 16 points and 11 rebounds in Dayton's 53-50 win over Passaic Valley, has been a major plus for Dayton's good start.

So has the play of Matt Lynch, who had 21 points in the first two games, and who has joined with Lissy up front to take care of a large portion of the team's ballhandling. Giordano, in the meantime, was originally targeted to be a center by Yanchus, but as the coach explained, he's acting more like a power forward instead.

And it would be hard to ignore the efforts of senior Rob Feinberg, who came in off the bench late in the third quarter against the Pioneers, and used his 6-6, 205-pound frame to contribute six points and four boards in the final 8:30 or so of play. And what of Peter Glasman, another senior who may not be scoring all that much, but who is pulling down big rebounds, and who, as Yanchus said, is playing an "all-around solid game?"

"What's happening is, we're not just getting balanced scoring, but balanced defense," explained Yanchus, also pointing out that swingman Paul Taler had seven rebounds against New Providence. "We've got people who are all involved in the game, which goes a long way."

And the team's assist total? "Well again, that's a deal where everybody is contributing," Yanchus added. "Which just fits into the total scheme of things the way we want them going — and we want to keep it going that way."

In this week's Cranford Tournament, the Bulldogs took on Highland Park on Tuesday night, and suffered their first defeat of the season, 57-52. Lissy scored 26 points.

Minutemen done for '88

The Springfield Minutemen Football Program recently ended for the 1988 season. The Minutemen participated in the Suburban Youth Football League, which consists of towns in the surrounding area.

This year, Springfield was represented with a "C" and "B" team. Their games were played on Sunday afternoons.

The "B" team with boys in Grades 7-8 were only scored once during the whole season.

Lady Bears enjoying their 2-0 start

By MARK YABLONSKY

When you have a shooter like Kim Egan, it's tempting to rely on her for most of your scoring. That's the way it seemed to work out for the Brearley Regional High girl's basketball team in a season-opening, 34-30 victory over Dayton on Dec. 16, when Egan accounted for 22 of Brearley's points. But not against Roselle three days later. Because even though Egan dropped in a game-high 25 points against Roselle last Monday, that was less than half of the scoring the Lady Bears got in their 56-32 win, putting them at 2-0 on the year.

Also, coach Marge Egan told her players to watch out for guard Jenny Fullman, Roselle's best overall player, as well as the team's true outside shooting threat. By late in the third quarter, Fullman was out of the game because of fouls.

"The big difference was that we had balanced scoring," said Egan, pointing to 10 points by Darlene Sica, and eight spice from both Jen LoBianco and Terri Longino. "And I just said, 'stop number 23 and we beat Roselle. Stop Fullman and we beat Roselle.'" Those were my final instructions, and when she fouled out, that was a plus."

Of course, once Fullman left the game, it was complete domination for Brearley, which outscored the Lady Rams by an 18-5 count over the final eight minutes of play to put the game completely out of reach. So, heading into Wednesday's game with Parsippany Hills in the Chatham Tournament, Egan was smiling about what her team

A holiday bite of The Big Apple

Holiday time in The Big Apple — New York City — the aroma of chestnuts roasting on Fifth Avenue, bells ringing at St. Patrick's, ice skaters gliding beneath the giant tree at Rockefeller Center.

Animated store window fantasies are alive with music and dance, red and green lights shine atop the Empire State Building, a giant snowflake glitters above Fifth Avenue at 57th Street, and Santa is in town at Herald Square.

"Christmas, Hanukkah, and New Year's — there's nothing like the splendor of The Big Apple during the year-end holiday season," according to the New York Convention & Visitors Bureau.

Theater, on and off-Broadway, museums, shops, restaurants, sports, music and dance blaze with excitement. All five boroughs — Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens, Staten Island, and The Bronx — glow in full holiday dress.

The traditional tree-lighting ceremony in Rockefeller Center on Dec. 5 signaled the official opening of the 1988 holiday season in New York City. This year's giant tree is a 75-foot Norway spruce, and it will be gloriously illuminated with 18,000 lights on five miles of wire. In the Central's Channel Gardens, sculpted angels with golden trumpets create a greeting-card-perfect holiday setting.

Hanukkah, the eight-day "Festival of Lights," was celebrated in The Big Apple with the lighting of menorah candles all over town. A giant, 32-foot menorah is set up in Grand Army Plaza on Fifth Avenue at 59th Street, with candlelighting ceremonies.

From the majestic tree at Rockefeller Center to spectacular store window displays all over town, New York City sparkles with the joys of the season.

One of the best free shows in town is a stroll along Fifth Avenue. To view some of the world's most elegant shops and top attractions all decked out for the holidays, walk down Fifth Avenue from Central Park at 59th Street, where hansom cabs line up, and head south to 34th Street.

You first might want to visit Central Park's Wollman Rink, just off Fifth Avenue at 60th Street, for a spin around the ice, or drop by to see the polar bears in the newly renovated Central Park Zoo at 64th Street.

Highlights of a Fifth Avenue holiday walk include: FAO Schwarz toy store, newly located in the General Motors Building, the giant lighted snowflake at 57th Street, the windows at Tiffany, Trump Towers, its five-story atrium is filled with poinsettias, and its glass-sheathed exterior is layered with lighted trees, and Japan Air Lines' origami-ornamented tree.

At Cartier, you'll find the entire building is glistrapped in a huge red ribbon, while two giant wooden toy soldiers stand guard at the door. Then pause to enjoy the splendor of St. Patrick's Cathedral and the charm of Saks Fifth Avenue's animated windows performing scenes from "The Vetveten Rabbit."

Continuing down Fifth Avenue from dazzling Rockefeller Center, gaze at Patience and Fortitude, the huge stone lions in front of the magnificent New York Public Library at 42nd Street, proudly adorned with holiday wreaths. Did Patience just wink at you? Next revel in the sophistication of The Big Apple in the '30s as presented by Lord & Taylor's "Most Distinguished Art Deco Building in New York City" animated windows.

At 34th Street, B. Altman's animated holiday window display features "A Folk Art Christmas," and across the street, a speduction of "The Nutcracker" now to Dec. 31, and the big Apple Circus sets up tent at Damosch Park now to Jan. 1.

"The Magnificent Christmas Spectacular" resounds at Radio City Music Hall, now to Jan. 4, spotlighting the high-kicking Rockettes.

Big Apple sports fans can keep warm at Madison Square Garden. Hockey fans shouldn't miss the New York Rangers at Madison Square Garden, when they take on the Chicago Black Hawks Dec. 31. Fast-paced thoroughbred action can be enjoyed at Aqueduct Racetrack in Queens.

Many Big Apple museums celebrate the season with a wide-ranging array of yuletide exhibits, concerts, films and performances for the entire family. The Metropolitan Museum of Art displays an 18th-century Baroque Tree and Neapolitan Creche, and presents a series of medieval concerts. At the American Museum of Natural History, the origami tree is decorated with thousands of handmade paper ornaments, and neighboring Hayden Planetarium presents "The Star of Christmas."

The Cloisters up in Fort Tryon Park features dried herb and flower decorations, 14th-century statuary and medieval music. Ukrainian Christmas decorations are on view at the Ukrainian Museum, and the story of Hanukkah unfolds at the Jewish Museum. The Visitors Bureau's free winter calendar of events should be checked for holiday attractions in the museums of all five boroughs.

And it isn't necessary to spend a lot to have lots of fun. Economy-minded revelers can join the throngs in Times Square to watch the lighted "Big Apple" descend the flagpole atop 1 Times Square, or sip champagne in Central Park as runners start the New Year with a five-mile race at midnight beneath a fireworks-lighted sky. In upper Manhattan the majestic Cathedral of St. John the Divine presents its sixth annual New Year's Eve Concert for Peace, free.

And if anyone misses the Dec. 31 festivities, there's still time to catch the Chinese New Year celebrations on Feb. 6, to usher in 4687, the Year of the Snake — there's always a reason to celebrate in New York City!

Uncork 1989 with Big Apple celebratory flair

The countdown to 1989 has begun! To toast the new year with Big Apple Flair, the New York Convention & Visitors Bureau offers some savvy celebratory suggestions.

"From the traditional to the avant-garde, from the formal to the free, New York City is the setting for grand old New Year's Eve memories. Ringing in the new year in The Big Apple can be inexpensively fun-filled or lavish — everything's possible in The Big Apple," according to the Visitors Bureau.

The world's most familiar New Year's Eve celebration is the gathering of hundreds of thousands of revelers in Times Square for the stirring spectacle of the one-minute descent of the 6 foot, 230-pound, red-lighted "Big Apple."

A tradition since Dec. 31, 1907, the hollow aluminum ball, originally modeled after the 19th-century waterfront time balls that helped captains set their chronometers, drops from the flagpole high atop 1 Times Square to mark the arrival of the new year. Since 1981, the ball has renewed The Big Apple in honor of the Visitors Bureau's world-famous campaign.

To entertain the waiting throngs, the Marriott Marquis Hotel, located in the heart of Times Square at Broadway and 45th Street, will feature a fanfare of pre-midnight activities including an explosive "Soft Rock Laser Spectacular" in association with WNSR, Soft Rock 105-FM Radio. The laser light show will project from the hotel, all across Broadway, electrifying the growing air of excitement and anticipation.

Competing with Times Square for the limelight, Central Park features a five-mile run at the stroke of midnight with more than 3,000 runners, many in tuxedos and gowns. Open to all, the race offers prizes for the best costume, and every entrant receives a T-shirt, Champagne, in addition to the customary water, will be served at aid stations. Start and finish of the 9th annual race is Tavern on the Green at West 67th Street. Entry details can be obtained from the New York Roadrunners Club; (212) 860-4455.

Lighting up the sky above Central Park at midnight are fireworks. Best viewing is at either side of Sheep Meadow, 72nd Street, the reservoir running track, East 90th Street, and the park entrances at 96th Street and Central Park West, or near Tavern on the Green at Central Park West and 67th Street.

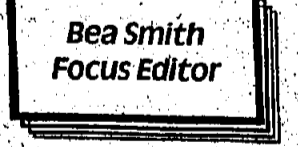

Grand Army Plaza arch in Brooklyn is also the setting for free New Year's Eve entertainment and fireworks.

On New Year's Eve, South

Street Seaport is a reveler's delight! The 11-block historic district, a pedestrian mall, bustles with free special events and street performers, including carolers and strolling storytellers. Additional information can be obtained by calling (212) SEAPORT, 732-7678.

The grand hotels of New York City are traditional centers for New Year's Eve festivities. The event in the main ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria will be broadcast live on CBS-TV and features "Happy New Year, America," with special guests Gladys Knight and the Pips, (212) 872-4997.

The Big Apple events and activities were prepared and compiled by Bea Smith.

A holiday yeast

The holidays are a special time for families to pull together, each member important in the process of creating festivity. The traditional cookie bake-off has been the ideal for developing a sense of family, especially with today's busy lifestyles and working parents.

This year change the cookie session to an introduction to yeast baking. Holiday yeast breads involve the children in new skills — myriads of shaping and kneading. They've always done cookies before — cut or dropped or pressed. But breads! That's a sophisticated skill to brag about, with mistakes easily corrected in the shaping. Besides, in reading the recipes, parents will find the ingredients are usually more nutritious than those in many cookies.

These recipes selected by the test kitchen staff of Red Star Yeast offer youngsters the art of yeast baking, giving them the experience of experimenting with a variety of shapes and flavors. Preparation is easy with Active Dry Yeast and Quick Rise Yeast; the all-natural yeast that cuts rising time in half. Both leavening agents yield excellent results.

Sugar Plum Trees will make two trees from a sour cream base dough that is easy to handle. The trees are drizzled with a confectioners' sugar glaze and then can be decorated with candied fruits and nuts.

Old Fashioned Spicy Buns yield 32 square rolls filled with currants, apricots, honey, cinnamon, allspice and ginger. During the last five minutes of baking, they are sprinkled with vanilla sugar.

The New England Cranberry Nut Bread is a nutritious recipe that includes oatmeal, raisins, nuts and cranberries among its ingredients. With this recipe, children will learn to shape the two 9-by-5-inch loaves the recipe yields.

And in the process of sharing, the children feel the pride of contributing their efforts toward creating a joyous holiday spirit among all the members of their family.

SUGAR PLUM TREES
This special Christmas coffee cake in the shape of a tree is made with a sour cream dough and fruits of the season.

- 3 to 3 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 packages Red Star Active Dry Yeast or Quick Rise Yeast
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 1/2 cup water
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup chopped candied fruit
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 tablespoons butter, softened

Oven 375 degrees. Makes two trees.

In large mixer bowl, combine 1 1/2 cups flour, yeast, 3 tablespoons

To shape tree, place one strip horizontally on a greased cookie sheet to form tree top. Place three strips vertically underneath. To form branches, place remaining strips on both sides in a diagonal pattern. Place folded ends of each strip toward the outside and press ends to cookie sheet. Cover; let rise in warm place until almost doubled, 15 to 20 minutes (10 to 15 minutes for Quick Rise Yeast). Bake at 375 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes until golden brown. Museum audio tours

Two new self-guided audio-tours of the Metropolitan Museum's permanent collection are offered to the public — "The Building and Its History," narrated by Edward I. Koch, mayor of the city of New York, and "Masterpieces," narrated by Philippe de Montebello, director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Each tour includes a recorded Acoustiguide, narrated by the tour host and an annotated floor plan showing the location of the stops along the tour path. Visitors will move through the museum to discover the works and architectural elements in their gallery contexts. Both tours will be offered to the public indefinitely.

"Masterpieces" with the director, de Montebello, features 19 of the Metropolitan Museum's greatest masterpieces, from the boat models of the ancient Egyptian tomb of Mekura to a Mayan figure, the Assyrian palace reliefs of Assurnasirpal II, and paintings such as Rembrandt's self-portrait of 1660, Jacques Louis David's "The Death of Socrates," and Claude Monet's "Terrace at Sainte-Adresse."

The tour also is available in Spanish, French, Italian, German, Japanese, and Chinese, in addition to English. De Montebello will narrate the English, French, Italian, and Spanish versions.

"The Building and Its History," narrated by Koch, takes a look at the magnificent building in Central Park that has been the home of the Metropolitan Museum since 1880 and at a few of the great New Yorkers who contributed to its development over the decades. The tour also features some of the architecture in the Museum's collection that has come from other times, places, and cultures — for example, the Egyptian Temple of Dendera, a Chinese Ming-style garden, a patio from the 16th-century Spanish castle of Velaz Blanco, and the entrance facade from Louis Comfort Tiffany's Long Island estate, Laurelton Hall.

All tours originate at the Recorded Tours Desk, which is located in the museum's Great Hall inside the main entrance at Fifth Avenue and 82nd Street. Tours can be started Tuesdays through Sundays between 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. The public can request information of the tours by calling (212) 570-3711.

Simon trilogy at Mill

"Broadway Bound," Neil Simon's third play in his semi-autobiographical trilogy, will open at the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, Wednesday, Jan. 4, and will run through Feb. 5.

Paper Mill audiences first met Eugene Morris Jerome as a perceptively observant teen-ager in "Brighton Beach Memoirs," then as a new recruit enduring the rigors of basic training in "Biloxi Blues."

In "Broadway Bound," Jerome returns home to Brooklyn after his stint in the Army, determined to realize his life-long ambition to be a writer.

Marc Riffon, who played the lead in the first two plays of the trilogy, is back as a slightly older Eugene, while Rudy Goldschmidt, Barbara Caruso, and Alan Mixon return to the Paper Mill stage as the rest of the Jerome family.

Performances of "Broadway Bound" are Wednesday through Sunday at 8 p.m.; Thursday matinees at 2 and Saturday and Sunday matinees at 3. Reservations can be made by calling the box office at 376-4343.

MARC RIFFON

An audio-described performance for the visually impaired is scheduled for Feb. 4 at 3 p.m. and a sign-interpreted performance is slated for Feb. 5 at 8 p.m. More information on Paper Mill's accessibility programs for the handicapped can be obtained by calling John McEwen at 379-3636.

Mill to celebrate holiday

The Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, will celebrate New Year's Eve with a musical comedy revue featuring the stars of some of Paper Mill's popular productions. Musical selections from the recent sold-out hit "La Cage aux Folles" will be performed by the show's stars Lee Roy Reams and Walter Charles with Kay Cameron, musical director, from "La Cage," returning to conduct the orchestra.

The cast will sing a medley of tunes from the 1940s including "The Jersey Bounce," "I'll Be Around" and "In the Mood." John Scherer from "1776" will perform the 40s classic, "As Time Goes By."

Tickets for Paper Mill's star-filled New Year's Eve celebration at 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. can be reserved and purchased by calling the box office at 376-4343.

Folk music is available

Pushcart Players, a professional theater company for young audiences based in Verona, has announced plans to open an all new production of "American Sampler" next month. Available for school assemblies and other sponsors through June 1989, "American Sampler" is a folk-musical about the birth and development of the United States.

In the Pushcart tradition, "Sampler" uses theater to "reach back over the centuries and link young viewers to their American past. Beginning with the arrival of the first settlers in the 1600s, the play moves through key events in history, culminating in an international medley describing the new wave of immigration at the turn of this century."

Pushcart Players is an Actors' Equity Association company which specializes in theater for young and family audiences. Celebrating its 15th season, the group's "ongoing mission is to introduce theater with substance, merit and compelling content to children in schools, local theaters or community centers, regardless of geographic or socio-economic circumstances."

In an effort to make the curriculum-oriented content of Pushcart productions more accessible to teachers and students, all performances are accompanied by study guides and an informal discussion period with the cast following the show.

Funding from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation, Hoffman-LaRoche Inc., Metropolitan Life Foundation, Mutual Benefit Life, Victoria Foundation and other individual contributors helps Pushcart keep fees within budget limitations of most sponsors.

'Inspirational' album

By MILT HAMMER
Good Listening: "The Land Before Time" is an epochal, animated feature set in the age of dinosaurs, produced by George Lucas and Steven Spielberg and directed by Don Bluth who directed "An Animal Tail."

This adventure fantasy promises to be a major holiday release.

Boosting its appeal is the richly textured and inspirational score by James Horner, released on LP by MCA Records.

Horner's credits place him among the top film composers working today. "Cocoon," "Aliens," "48 Hours," "Star Trek II" and "Willow" are among his best-known scores. He began work on "The Land Before Time" over two years ago before animation on the project began. He found the film a uniquely challenging project.

"I think that 'Land Before Time' is one of my proudest, most gentle scores," Horner says. "With an animated film, you have the liberty of writing

Disc 'n' data

"The Land Before Time" is the story of a troupe of fanciful young dinosaurs and their quest for survival in the danger-filled prehistoric world. Involved in the project from the very beginning, Horner composed music that became integral to the on-screen action. His subtle, stirring and often tender themes add much to the film's magic.

A featured part of the score is the song "If We Hold on Together," written by Horner with lyricist Will Jennings and performed by Diana Ross. The track, released as a single, is only available on the soundtrack.

classical symphonic music, something you can't get away with today with live action. There are less constraints."

When it came time to record the score, the music was performed by The London Symphony Orchestra and The King's College Choir, Wimbledon, England.

No doubt about it — "The Land Before Time" promises to be one of the animated film milestones of the decade. Appropriately, its sound-track LP contains one of James Horner's most creative and satisfying scores to date.

Time For A New Year

Horoscope

Aries (March 21 to April 19) You're looking at a decision about an impending vacation. However, make sure it's something your whole family can enjoy as well. Although you have some creative ideas at work, wait a while.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Utilize one of your best talents — the power to observe — this week. A situation at work could be used to your advantage, but keep this under your hat for now. Social activities are not favored.

Gemini (May 21 to June 20) You're withdrawing once again which is putting quite a damper on a budding romance. As difficult as it may be for you, try to refrain from any communication. Despite this, variations win your way.

Cancer (June 21 to July 22) Stop insisting on putting your foot down at home. You're on the wrong track and others are sensitive to this, so they will be unwilling to listen to you. Try to do some reflecting on this.

Leo (July 23 to Aug. 22) The beginning of the week will find you in a rather lethargic mood pointing out that perhaps you need to start taking better care of your body. Get as much rest as possible this week.

Virgo (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) This is a great week to arrange your aesthetic nature by redecorating. Perhaps some new furniture is in order. A romantic concern has you very distracted at work, but rise above this.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You're being uncharacteristically realistic this week. Put a curb on this. Romance is highly favored, so go for that candlelit dinner weekend with your loved one. Concerns on the job are on your mind.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Although you're brimming with a lot of innovative ideas, this is not the time to try to implement them. Others are not as receptive at this time as you would like to bide your time.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) This is a week to pull out all the stops. Utilize your imagination both at home and at work. Pay attention to what a male is suggesting to you. It's something which could lead to success.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) Your workload is overwhelming, but you will find the energy and motivation to deal with it. You realize that all your procrastinations have led to naught. A loved one is distressed at this time.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) Those close to you need a loving, patient, understanding approach as opposed to the stubborn stance you tend to take. Should you decide to force an issue, nothing will be resolved.

Pisces (Feb. 19 to March 20) Your intuition is leading you the right way as far as your career is concerned. However, you may need to do some thinking about your finances. Perhaps a tax matter needs to be cleared up.

Degnan: Homes do not take 'forever' to sell

In a continuing effort to provide facts to the public and dispel misconceptions about the real estate market, Degnan Boyle Realtors is attacking the myth that "homes are taking forever to sell" by emphasizing results to the contrary.

In a poll of its offices throughout Essex, Morris and Union Counties, Degnan Boyle reports recent sales of more than 150 of its listings that were on the market 60 days or less.

"We've had many homes sell in just a week or two," noted Peter J. Degnan, president of Degnan Boyle. "This really points to the importance of proper pricing and motivation. The homes that we've sold quickly are homes that were priced fairly by owners who truly wanted to sell."

"While the market has changed and prices now are not escalating at the break-neck pace we saw in 1986 and early 1987, business is steady, and homes are selling — with the help of realistic approaches by our sales associates and their clients," continued Degnan. "Pricing is the key, and we have to stress current market conditions when we counsel homeowners. Sometimes that means convincing owners that the price they have in mind may not be appropriate. That's our responsibility as an experienced Realtor."

Degnan Boyle is a leader in New Jersey real estate, with 15 offices — including Holmes Realtors, Summit — throughout Essex, Morris and Union counties.

TIMELY CLOCK — These stately-looking clocks will add a decorative touch to any room. Do-it-yourselfers can manage construction in a very short time. The wall clock measures 7/8 by 9 1/4 by 15 1/4 inches, the shelf clock is 1 1/2 by 7 1/4 by 12 inches, and the desk clock 3/4 by 4 1/4 by 7 1/2 inches.

Project of the week

Our clock trio will allow you to know what time it is in any room of the house... and they are so easy to make, everyone has the time to do it! The wall clock measures 7/8 by 9 1/4 by 15 1/4 inches, the shelf clock is 1 1/2 inches by 7 1/4 inches by 12 inches, and the desk clock 3/4 by 4 1/4 by 7 1/2 inches. We used purple heart, walnut and birch dowels, brass rods and rosewood plugs, but you can select any wood combinations of your choice. All clocks are battery operated.

Trace the full-size pattern for the correct clock directly onto the wood and cut the pieces required. Using the template included on the plan will assure your placement of the shaft and plugs to be centered. Clock movements and hands are available nationwide, but if there is not a source in your area, we list an address on the plan. Build just one or a whole set... they are a great gift idea.

To obtain Clock Trio, Pattern 807, please send $4.50. For a collection of five other clock designs such as a grandfather, calendar, pendulum and more, order Clock Packet, C38 for $8. Note: C38 does not include Clock Trio 807. Prices include postage and handling. Also available is Patterns for Better Living, a catalog picturing over 700 woodworking and handcraft projects for $3.95. Send check or money order to Steve Ellingson, c/o County Leader Newspapers Inc., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, CA 91409-2383.

Census statistic

Some 13.4 million two-worker families where the wife was 18 to 44-years-old had children in 1987, up from about 8.3 million in 1976, according to a report by the Commerce Department's Census Bureau.
