Robber wanted

By DOMINICK CRINCOLI JR.
The Springfield Police Department has released a composite sketch of a suspect who allegedly punched a 21-year-old Union female in the face before making off with her pocketbook in the parking lot of the Morris Avenue Taco Bell.

Police are looking for a black male between the ages of 19 and 21, approximately 5 feet 6 inches tall, 160-pounds, with dark brown hair and brown eyes.

At the time of the incident, the 21-year-old victim was accompanied by a Springfield resident, her 23-year-old female friend, authorities said.

According to Police Chief William E. Chisholm, the two women were exiting their motor vehicle at 10 p.m. March 14 when they were approached by the suspect.

The suspect allegedly punched the victim in the forehead and fled east on Morris Avenue with the stolen purse, Chisholm said.

The suspect is wanted for strong-arm robbery and assault by the Springfield police.

Anyone with information regarding the crime or the suspect is urged to call Springfield police at 376-0400, or Detective John D'Andrea at 912-2250.

No challengers in school race

By DOMINICK CRINCOLI JR.
Three incumbents and one newcomer will run unopposed for four open seats in Tuesday's Board of Education elections.

Incumbents for the two three-year terms are Jeff Rauchbach and Gary Tiss, both of Redwood Road. Newcomer Benito Stravato of Warwick Circle, who ran against three incumbents last year and lost, will assume the seat of Pietro Petino, who will not run for an additional term on the board.

Arthur Weinberg of Clearview Drive for the past two years has occupied a seat requiring re-election on a yearly basis. He will also run unopposed on Tuesday.

The following is a brief profile of the candidates.

Jeff Rauchbach, 39, is a controller with the American International Company in West Caldwell and has resided in Springfield for 10 years.

Elected to the board in 1986, he has served as chairman of the Finance Committee for three years.

Rauchbach has a daughter, Stacey, in the fifth grade at Gaudineer Middle School.

"I'm for progressive education," Rauchbach says. "I will see to it that we get the best education for the community's dollar."

Rauchbach possesses an accounting degree from Rider College near Trenton, and is a member of Temple Shalom.

Gary Tiss is 33, and operates a family-owned paper and wire manufacturing products company in Irvington.

Tiss, who has lived in Springfield all his life, is a product of the Springfield school system. He attended Sandmeier Elementary School, Gaudineer Middle School and Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Tiss has served on the Policy Committee, the Building and Grounds Committee and the Finance Committee, since joining the board last year when David Stein resigned to run for the Township Committee. He is currently a member of the negotiating committee for administrator's salaries and also was a member of the negotiating committee for teacher contracts.

His daughter, Colby, will be entering kindergarten at Caldwell next year, while another daughter, Ashley, will be entering kindergarten in two years.

Tiss attended night school to study business at Fairleigh Dickinson College in Madison.

"I fully support the administration of School Superintendent Dr. Gary Friedland," Tiss said.

"I will hold our administration responsible for the school system's passing the state monitoring next year," he said.

Tiss is a member of Beth Ahm Temple.

Newcomer Benito Stravato is 39 and has lived in Springfield for 12 1/2 years.

Stravato is the soccer coach and director of intramurals at Fairleigh Dickinson University in Madison.

His daughter, Maria, is a second-grade student at James Caldwell School, and his younger daughter, Juliana, will be attending kindergarten next year.

"I bring a fresh point of view to the Board of Education," he says, "and my point of view will be completely unbiased because I do not know any of the board members well enough to form any preconceived ideas," he said.

Stravato speaks Italian and Spanish in addition to English, and understands Portuguese and French as well. He would like to see education programs which involve foreign language training at early ages.

He is a parishioner at St. James Roman Catholic Church.

The Union County Regional Board of Education, which includes representatives from Springfield, Kenilworth, Mountainside, Clark, Garwood, and Berkeley Heights, reports three seats up for election on April 4.

The three-year term for the Berkeley Heights seat will have three candidates. Incumbent Harold Donaldson will run against newcomers Burton Zitomer and Jo Ann McGrath.

The Clark representative, Virginia Muskus, will run unopposed for another three-year term, as will the Springfield representative, Margaret Hough.

One-is-still

By DOMINICK CRINCOLI JR.
Some 150 residents, concerned over an anticipated approval to make Postum Pass a one-way street, confronted the Township Committee Tuesday night, only to watch the Committee table the disputed ordinance two minutes after the meeting started.

On a motion by Republican Committeeman Marc Marshall and second by Democrat William Weisbach, the Committee voted unanimously to table the matter until May 9. The governing body, however, agreed to the establishment of an ad-hoc task force composed of members from the two opposing resident groups, the Township Committee, the local and regional Board of Education and possibly police and "fire officials" from Springfield and Mountainside.

The ad-hoc task force will meet for the first time next Thursday night, according to Democratic Committeeman Sy Mullan, who was selected along with Republican Phil Kumos to represent the Committee on the task force.

Pitting the traffic congestion problem at Briar Hills Circle against the allegedly unsafe and inconvenient situation that would be created by a one-way Postum Pass, members from the two opposing, advocate groups, delivered comments that were equally forceful during the public portion of the meeting.

However, after concluding Tuesday's agenda, offering comments and hearing from a resident on an unrelated matter, the Committee left time for no more than 20 minutes of public input on the matter before adjourning into private session for an hour to interview applicants for the Township Building Inspector vacancy.

The ranks had dwindled substantially when public input was again solicited at 10:25 p.m.

A conflict of interest issue concerning the home of Briar Hill Circle resident Dick Marshall was discussed. Marshall, the father of Committeeman Marc Marshall, would receive special election status along with emergency vehicles and school buses to travel the wrong way on the one-way street.

Robert House, who is the spokesman for the group favoring adoption of the ordinance, attempted to discount any claim that a conflict of interest existed.

Lt. Donald Schwerdt leaves after 30 years

By DOMINICK CRINCOLI JR.
Beginning today Springfield residents will no longer have the expertise and over 29 years of experience of Lt. Donald Schwerdt on their side.

The senior officer of the Springfield Police Department, who had been with the force since 1960, put in his last day of work yesterday.

The 60-year-old lieutenant has been a life-long resident of Springfield.

The Brook Street resident joined his hometown police force after a five-year stint as a letter carrier with the Springfield Post Office. Before joining the post office, he worked as a tool and die maker with the General Motors Corporation.

Asked about motivations for the switch to police work, Schwerdt said, "I knew I'd be getting $500 more a year with the police force, and back then $500 more a year was a lot of money!"

Schwerdt was married to his wife, Geraldine, in 1956. The couple have seven children, two of whom are active members of the Springfield Fire Department.

Schwerdt also served seven years as a Navy boilerman on destroyers and aircraft carriers. He served from 1946 to 1949, and then again from 1951 to 1954, during the Korean War.

News briefs

By DOMINICK CRINCOLI JR.
During the months of January and February the Springfield First Aid Squad responded to 133 calls for help. Of these, there were 23 responses to automobile accidents, 23 to various township businesses, and they assisted surrounding towns on mutual aid 12 times.

Squad ambulances traveled over 635 miles while transporting patients to seven different area hospitals and three nursing homes. Oxygen therapy was utilized on 68 emergency calls.

Squad members volunteered 506 hours in performing the above services.

An earnest appeal for manpower is being made on their behalf. Membership information may be obtained by calling 376-0400.

Two students, one from Jonathan Dayton, were selected to participate in a statewide Skill Olympic Competition at Bergen County Vocational School.

Tom Balke, a cabinetmaking student at Jonathan Dayton, will participate in the April 14-15 competition, board members unanimously decided, at a total cost of $435 to the Board of Education.

Raymond Yanchus, head basketball coach at Jonathan Dayton, received approval from board members to attend the Dapper Dan Round Ball Clinic in Pittsburgh during the weekend of April 7 at a cost of $473 to the Board of Education.

"The Prince of Tides," Pat Conroy's 1986 best-selling novel, will be the focus of the next book discussion at the Springfield Public Library.

The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, April 4, in the library children's room at 7:30 p.m.

The book tells, in flashback, of the extravagant ups and downs of the Wingo family of the South Carolina low country. Tom Wingo is the narrator, as he talks to a New York psychiatrist after his post sister Savannah's second suicide attempt.

Receiving mixed reviews, the book was nevertheless praised for its ambition and energy and its colorful account of a troubled family.

The discussion is free and open to the public. Anyone wishing to read the book may ask for it at the library reference desk.

The next meeting will be on May 2, when Wallace Stegner's "Crossing to Safety" will be discussed.

The Children's Department of the Springfield Public Library has scheduled a four-week Toddler Story Hour Program for children 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 years old, beginning Monday, May 1 and continuing on May 8, 15 and 22 from 10:30 to 11 a.m.

A caregiver must accompany each child and mothers are requested not to bring other siblings to the library on these story hour days.

The library will also accept registration for a seven-week Story Hour Program for 3- and 4-year-olds. The group will meet on Tuesday mornings from 10:15 to 11 a.m. on May 2, 9, 16, 23, 30 and June 6 and 13. Another group of 3- and 4-year-olds will meet on Thursday afternoons from 2 to 2:45 p.m. on May 4, 11, 18, 25 and June 1, 8 and 15.

Parents can register their children by calling the library at 376-4930.

Melopoeta, the literary magazine published by students of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, has received a rating of "excellent" for its 1988 edition from the National Council of Teachers of English.

Rose Searies, head of circulation at the Springfield Public Library, gives Claire Weisbach, a student at St. James School, a prize for winning the baby picture contest held at the Library in February.

Suspect arrested, returns to the scene of the crime

Stanley A. Zdunek, 26, of Woodbridge, was arrested by Patrolman John Trampler on March 17 and charged with violation of a regulatory provision relating to firearms exhibiting the license of another and driving while suspended.

On March 21, Zdunek was again arrested and charged separately with shoplifting and harassment of a 7-Eleven store owner.

According to police, Zdunek was arrested as the result of a complaint filed by the 7-Eleven store owner who said several items were stolen from the store shelves by the suspect on March 17.

After being released from parole on March 18, Zdunek returned to the store and harassed the owner, police said.

A Wabeno Avenue resident reported a burglary at her home on March 21.

Stolen were approximately $8000 worth of jewelry, including two men's rings and one diamond bracelet.

A Springfield man who hit a pole while driving on Route 22 was found to be suspended.

John Gould, 25, was arrested on March 26 and charged with driving while suspended after hitting a pole on Route 22.

On March 22 Roger John Yeager, 34, of Parsippany, was arrested and charged with criminal trespass.

Yeager, a meter reader with the Public Service Electric and Gas Company, entered the home of a Rose Avenue resident without license or privilege to do so, police reported.

Stanley's Restaurant reported an attempted entry on March 25.

An estimated $1000 worth of damage was done to the rear of the building, to an industrial vent and industrial fan blades where thieves reportedly tried to enter.

A 1984 Buick was stolen from Cornell Parkway on March 22, a New Providence resident reported.

The car has since been found in Newark.

Michael Anthony Bonnick, 18, of Union and two juveniles were arrested for fighting on March 25. Patrolman John Trampler broke up the fist-to-fists at Bryant Avenue, and they were released on their own recognizance until their case is heard in the Springfield Municipal Court.

George H. Cousoullis, 45, of Springfield was arrested and charged with violating a final domestic restraining order issued by the Superior Court of Essex County and making terroristic threats against his wife on March 21.

The suspect was remanded to the Essex County Jail.

Ryan Willie Moore, 22, of Newark was arrested and charged with possession of stolen property and obstruction of the administration of law in the parking lot of the Morris Turnpike Shop-Rite.

Moore was observed wandering into various office buildings on Morris Avenue and was found to be in possession of stolen items when arrested, police alleged.

Moore was released into the hands of the Livingston police where numerous theft complaints were charged against his person.

Barbara Ewing-Johnson, 39, and Robert Johnson, 50, both of Kenilworth, were arrested on March 20 for outstanding contempt of court violations from the Springfield Municipal Court.

Ewing-Johnson also had warrants from Livingston, Kenilworth and Bedminster.

Jeffrey Peterson, 28, of Orange was arrested and charged with driving while suspended on Route 22 after being stopped by Patrolman Chris LaFragola on March 22.

A Milltown Road resident reported a missing "Hodstrom" model street scooter from his home on March 25.

A Livingston resident parked in the lot of New Woman on Route 22 reported her vehicle entered, and a pocketbook with $1400 worth of valuables stolen.

Ignatius D. Warnon, 24, of Hillside was arrested and charged with driving while suspended by Patrolman Paul Caron on March 21.

BEST AT BEE - Semifinalists of the St. James School Geography Bee conducted in association with the National Geographic Society are, from left, Dawn McGann, Gina Sarracino, the winner, Gamie-Matteucci, Kesha Nelson and Joseph Riley.

WAYS TO MANAGE CHRONIC ASTHMA are discussed on Overlook Hospital's "30 Medical Minutes" Communities-on-Cable television program that airs Mondays at 6 p.m. and Thursdays at 11:30 a.m. through April 13. Program host Connie Frank-Williams, right, discusses new developments in asthma treatment with, from left, allergist Dr. David Brown, Carol Evans and her daughter, Amy, 13, an asthma sufferer who has been helped to cope with her disease.

Champ up for $25,000

Gina Sarracino, an eighth-grade student at St. James School in Springfield, was the first round in the new National Geography Bee that is being sponsored by National Geographic World, the society's magazine for children.

The bee was kicked off the week of Jan. 9 in thousands of schools around the United States. The school winners, including Sarracino, then took a written test. Sarracino was one of the top scorers in the state of New Jersey and will be eligible to compete in the state bee on April 7 at Montclair State College.

The National Geographic Society will fly all first-place winners from the state bees, along with their teacher escorts, to Washington, D.C., to participate in the National Geography Bee finals on May 18 and 19.

The first-place national winner will receive a $25,000 college scholarship; the second-place winner, a $15,000 scholarship; and the third-place winner, a $10,000 scholarship.

Pediatric support now at Overlook

New Jersey's First Pediatric Advanced Life Support, PALS, course will be held at Overlook Hospital in Summit on April 3 and 4, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

PALS, developed by The American Heart Association and The American Academy of Pediatrics, is the first nationally standardized course for medical professionals and paraprofessionals treating emergency medical needs of infants and children.

Physicians, nurses, and paramedics from all areas of the state will be taught infant and child intubation, bag and mask ventilation, bone-marrow infusing fluids, and methods of starting IV lines.

Court fines motorists

Four were guilty of motor vehicle violations in Municipal Court this week.

Marie C. Samson, 38, of Irvington pleaded guilty to failing to keep right and impeding traffic by traveling too slow.

Judge Leonard B. Zucker fined Samson $50 plus $10 court costs for failing to keep right and $30 plus $10 court costs for driving too slow.

Olga D. Batiz, 44, of Short Hills, pleaded guilty to driving with no insurance and was fined $10 plus $10 court costs.

Antonio Canero, 60, of Springfield was found guilty of failing to yield to pedestrians and was fined $20 plus $10 court costs.

Donald B. Glassner, of Springfield was found guilty of failing to keep right and was fined $50 plus $10 court costs.

Stanley's Restaurant reported an attempted entry on March 25.

An estimated $1000 worth of damage was done to the rear of the building, to an industrial vent and industrial fan blades where thieves reportedly tried to enter.

Apathy?

Springfield residents don't seem to be very enthusiastic about this year's local school board election.

Four seats are to be filled on April 4; and all four are uncontested. Newcomer Benito Stravato is poised to join incumbents Gary Rauchbach, Gary TISS and Arthur Weinberg on the board.

If residents are so satisfied with the present administration that no one wants to challenge the incumbents on the ballot, then Superintendent of Schools Gary Friedland is to be heartily commended.

But if discord does exist, and if well-qualified dissenters have simply been too busy to get involved in education, then there will indeed be losers in Springfield on Election Day. They will be the schoolchildren.

Still, there is a reason to go to the polls on Tuesday. This year's $6.4 million school budget ought to be supported by the voters.

In 1986, the local and regional school tax levy represented 52 percent of the total tax bill, with the other 48 percent comprised of taxes for county and municipal purposes.

Three years later, the tables have turned. School taxes make up only 48 percent of the current bill, and county and municipal taxes comprise 52 percent. The elementary school system in Springfield represents 23 percent and Jonathan Dayton Regional High School 25 percent of the overall bill.

Springfield's 1989-90 school tax contains a 13-point tax increase for local and regional school purposes. That would require a resident living in a $100,000 home to pay an additional $130 in taxes.

By way of comparison, residents of Livingston face a 59.4-point school tax hike, or an increase of $600 annually on a $100,000 home. Union Township has proposed a school budget that would raise taxes by 24 points, and Rahway's education plan contains a 54-point tax increase. So Springfield's tax hike seems relatively modest.

Since Springfield residents are apparently happy with the performance of their Board of Education, they should have few qualms about approving a budget which that board has proposed.

Aid the cities

Everyone in the state Legislature agrees that New Jersey's cities need their help. What the lawmakers can't seem to agree on is how to do that.

The state as a whole has prospered during the 1980s, but that economic expansion has bypassed most urban areas. Meanwhile, the Legislature has failed to live up to its promises to increase school funding and to have the state assume more of the costs of local welfare programs and the courts.

So today most New Jersey cities face soaring property taxes, the curtailment of vital municipal services, or both.

To ease that burden, Democratic lawmakers have devised a plan designed to raise $430 million, much of which will go to aid the cities. The package calls for placing a new 3-cent tax on plastic containers, nearly doubling the 7.5 percent wholesale tax on alcoholic beverages, and repealing a state income tax deduction for homeowners and renters.

This proposal passed the Democrat-controlled State Senate earlier this month, but the Republican-dominated Assembly is balky.

Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick, R-21, who is against new taxes for such purposes, has gone so far as to say that the package won't even make it out of committee. He recommends that the state cut its own spending if it needs money to bail out financially strapped municipalities.

Unfortunately, state cuts alone probably wouldn't raise anything close to $430 million. So if the GOP lawmakers are sincere in wanting to give the cities a hefty infusion of aid, they ought to work out a compromise with the Democrats.

The Democratic plan has two good features. The plastics tax would discourage the purchase and use of non-biodegradable containers that, once discarded, have proven to be major environmental headaches. And we think the "sin tax" on alcoholic beverages would discourage overindulgence without putting tavern owners out of business, contrary to what they seem to fear.

Moreover, both of these taxes would be paid voluntarily. But the third aspect of the package — the repeal of the so-called Ford law that now lets homeowners and tenants deduct part of their property tax or rent from their state income taxes — could hurt cities as much as help them.

For many urban dwellers, property is their chief financial asset. To deprive them of their main, and perhaps only, state income tax break would run counter to the thrust of the urban aid package.

We'd like to see the Legislature's Republicans, rather than dismissing this plan outright, recognize the gravity of the urban financial crisis and work toward adoption of the better features of the Democratic package.

Goodbye to pool members, staff

I was recently informed that the Recreation Department was going to select a new manager for the Springfield Community Pool, someone who more closely fits the goals and objective of their program.

Since I may not have the chance to see many of you personally, I wanted to take this opportunity to say goodbye.

I would especially like to thank the many staff members with whom I have had the pleasure of working with over the last five years.

I would also like to say goodbye to the many pool members and friends that I have met and hopefully served well.

I am going to miss seeing all of you very much. I hope your summer will be as enjoyable as the past five seasons at the Springfield Community Pool have been for me.

School budget deserves approval

I'm taking this opportunity, both as a parent and as an interested member of the community, to urge you to vote on the school budget on Tuesday, April 4.

Through prudent measures, the Board of Education has prepared a budget which is well below the state "cap" (the amount of increase permitted by law), yet at the same time maintains and enhances educational programs and services.

As a parent, my interest in our school system is obvious. As community member, I believe that it is imperative to invest in our educational system, which directly improves the quality of life and pride in our town.

Let's come out and vote on the budget so that its passage will signal to one and all that we refuse to take the route of economizing. After all, our children are our best hope for the future.

It's time to curb college drinking

By PETER J. GENOVA, Assemblyman, 21st District.

One of the greatest challenges our society faces today is providing every student in the state of New Jersey with a quality education.

The educational process starts at the preschool level and continues throughout adulthood on a never-ending journey.

New Jerseyans, like most Americans, have an unquenchable thirst for knowledge — always willing to explore the unknown and discover new horizons. It is this desire to explore and to learn that has molded and shaped our great country for more than two centuries.

In this day and age, young people strive to gain acceptance to colleges and universities, seeking answers to the difficult questions and problems in our world today. Our institutions of higher education are the last stop for many young people before they begin living in the "real world."

Unfortunately for some students, college becomes the last stop of their lives.

Each year, we read about a growing number of college students tragically killed in drunk driving or other alcohol-related accidents. We read about students getting killed during a hazing incident or dying from substance abuse.

The "college experience," as some call it, is supposed to be a time for students to enhance their knowledge and to begin making plans for the future. And yet, it is a time for young people to meet new friends and enjoy the many activities that take place on a college campus.

But when young people lose their lives, it's time to reevaluate what type of fun and activities are beneficial to college students.

The Assembly committee also released three measures designed to control the use of alcoholic beverages on college campuses and to provide substance abuse services to students.

A joint resolution, AJR-103, urges the State Department of Higher Education to require each public and private college or university to adopt written policies regarding the use of alcoholic beverages on campus.

A-3450 would require all colleges and universities to appoint a staff person as its substance abuse awareness coordinator. The role of the substance abuse coordinator would be to administer the school's intervention services and to serve as an information resource.

A-1027 would provide a one-time appropriation of $100,000 to the Rutgers University Center of Alcohol Studies. The funds would be used to provide continuing education for substance abuse coordinators.

The legislation approved by the committee was recommended by the Special Committee on College Alcohol Abuse and Hazing. The formation of the special committee was prompted by the death of Rutgers student James Callahan, who died of acute alcohol poisoning following a fraternity party in 1988.

The story of James Callahan is very sad and very tragic. It is an occurrence that I hope never takes place again at any of our colleges or universities. Our students deserve the many benefits and experiences college has to offer without risking their lives in the process.

I hope all of my colleagues in the Assembly will enthusiastically lend their support to this very important legislation.

Caregivers need support as well

By LISA BERBIG and MARY BUDKOWSKI, R.N.

As our population ages, more and more "baby boomers" are finding themselves sandwiched between raising their children and caring for a parent who is seriously ill and no longer able to live independently.

In such cases, usually one family member assumes full responsibility for the parent's care — a job that takes non-stop patience and energy.

No human being can meet such extraordinary demands alone. Those caregivers who try burn out fast.

For many caregivers, support groups are key to survival. They offer an important source of emotional strength as well as suggestions about how to manage patient care.

A terminal illness, such as Alzheimer's disease, brings about significant changes in family roles. Adult children must assume the role of parent and, at the same time, must face the loss of the parent they love.

Switching roles like this isn't easy. The adult child who does the most caregiving often feels anger and guilt. Marital and other family relationships suffer. Caregivers also worry about their jobs, finances and their own health.

It's a good idea for caregivers to find new support groups that consist of a series of illnesses. Caregivers need a break — even if it's a short one — from their daily routine. They should not feel guilty about thinking of their own needs and wanting private time.

A long-term plan is another important consideration. Family caregivers must agree on what actions will be taken as an illness progresses. There is a mountain of legal and financial issues — such as wills, power of attorney and need to be addressed.

Support groups are held monthly and bimonthly at UMDNJ's Community Mental Health Center in Piscataway. These groups, led by family therapists, offer education about demanding illness and are a forum where caregivers can express their feelings.

Lisa Berbig is a registered music therapist and Mary Budkowski is a registered nurse at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (UMDNJ), Institute for Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders, has a statewide Resource Center. By calling (800) 421-2484, New Jersey residents can find answers to questions about social and health services, respite care, legal aid and support groups.

Lung group planning bike treks

The American Lung Association will hold a free information session on its TransAmerica Bicycle Trek and its new Pacific Coast Bicycle Trek today from 6 to 8:45 p.m. at the Clark Public Library.

The library is located at 303 Westfield Ave. in Clark, just off Exit 135, of the Garden State Parkway.

Rusty Burwell, a veteran of dozens of bicycle treks and one of the Trek managers, will talk about the 1989 Bicycle Treks of the American Lung Association and answer questions. There will also be some veterans who completed the 3,359-mile ride across America last year to tell about their experiences. Eighteen New Jersey bikers participated in that event.

This year, over 400 bikers are expected to raise $2.5 million in the third annual TransAmerica Bicycle Trek, scheduled for June 5-July 21. This year the American Lung Association is offering for the first time a Pacific Coast Bicycle Trek, from Seattle along the Pacific Coast to San Diego, scheduled for Sept. 25-Oct. 21.

Participating cyclists will raise a minimum $5,000 each, in pledges toward the $2.5 million goal. The lion's share of the funds raised will be turned back to local Lung Associations to help fight such lung diseases as emphysema, lung cancer, chronic bronchitis and asthma.

The TransAmerica Bicycle Trek takes participants from the shores of the Pacific over the state of Washington's Cascade Mountains, northeast across the Idaho Panhandle, to Glacier National Park in Montana, across the ceiling of the nation to Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Chicago and on to the Eastern seaboard.

Those who would like to attend the information session can call 388-4556.

Hospital cares for staff's kids

A long-standing goal was realized on March 13 as Rahway Hospital opened a child care center for the children of staff members.

The center, known as KIDS 1st, is located in the facilities of the Frederick Fairclough Eratton Building of Zion Lutheran Church, approximately one mile from the hospital.

KIDS-1st will be open for 12 hours daily and enrolls children beginning at the age of 2 months. The education-based program is certified by the appropriate state and local licensing authorities.

The center features a unique, flexible schedule designed to accommodate the special needs of healthcare workers who do not necessarily work a straight 40-hour week. In addition, provisions have been made for staff who wish to use the center on a drop-in basis, which may be beneficial to those who work the night shift and need the child care service in the daytime while they sleep.

The KIDS 1st concept has been developed by an ad hoc hospital committee comprised of Nancy Jackson, director of Community Relations, chairman; Ernestine Rogers, assistant vice president Human Resources; and Arlene Tomchik, assistant vice president Ambulatory Services; Future President of Elizabeth child care consultants to business and industry, has developed the curriculum.

Alba Bonick has been appointed director of Early Childhood Services for the hospital and will be responsible for the overall operation of the center. The daily program will be coordinated by Rogers.

Bonick, a resident of East Brunswick, received her bachelor's degree in management science from Kean College and is currently fulfilling requirements for the Early Childhood Certification for Parents.

She has been in the child care field for the past 8 years and says of her new position, "I'm looking forward to a very rewarding partnership.

Kids to learn how to cope with cancer in family

Cancer is a family problem and affects, in one way or another, all members of the family.

But kids can cope with a family member who has cancer a lot better than grownups realize, says Sheila Lanthan Walsh, R.N., Overlook Hospital's Pediatric Clinical Nurse Specialist.

"That's the idea behind the six-week 'Kids Can Cope,' Overlook's new support group for children and teenagers who have a family member with cancer: The goal is to strengthen family relationships during a stressful time by improving communication and providing information and support.

The support group, headed by Walsh and Sharon Altony, Child Life Specialist, will be held weekly for six weeks from 4-5:30 p.m., beginning April 11, in the seventh floor lounge at the hospital in Summit.

Groups will be divided into age-appropriate sections and are open to children and adolescents ages 5-19. Parents will attend a simultaneous support session directed by Susan Gilchrist, R.N., oncology clinical nurse specialist.

A major reason for the hospital's initiation of "Kids Can Cope" was the growing number of requests for help from parents of young children.

Parents have been asking physicians and the oncology and pediatric nurses, "How do we explain this to kids?" and "Should we use the word cancer?"

The problem is that many parents try to protect kids from bad news and from being hurt," says Walsh. "What happens then is that the child becomes more hurt because he or she becomes isolated from his or her family. The child knows there's a problem and nobody will talk to him or her about it. Parents need to help their children deal with the hurt and the pain."

"Kids are stronger than people realize," says Walsh. "They cope very well when they're treated with respect and offered the love and support they need." Pre-registration for "Kids Can Cope" is required.

To register, please telephone Overlook's Department of Health Education at 522-2963, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Anti-litter efforts sought

People and groups working hard to reduce and prevent litter are eligible for nomination for a Clean Communities "Glitter Award" from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection.

According to Clean Communities Program Manager Dee Howard, a simple application form is available to nominate municipalities, organizations, businesses and individuals for recognition at the Clean Communities' first annual "Glitter Awards" program to be held in May.

"We're sure that a wide variety of municipalities, Scout troops, garden clubs, businesses and individuals will be eligible," Howard said. "As long as they demonstrate how hard they've worked to 'Make New Jersey Glitter. And Can't the Litter!'"

Nominations must be submitted by April 28. Those who need information and nomination forms may contact Sandra Hurr at (609) 292-0331.

Part of the state's comprehensive solid waste management plan, the Clean Communities program is a three-fold attack on litter incorporating cleanup, enforcement and education.

Art show to come next month

Due to the severe snow storm on March 6, the Kenilworth Art Association meeting has been rescheduled for April 3.

The Kenilworth Art Association will open their 21st year with Steve Potaszy doing a watercolor demonstration.

The meeting is held at 8 p.m. at the Kenilworth Library ground floor level at N. 22nd St. and Boulevard, Kenilworth, N.J.

All those interested, please come to this free, friendly group demonstration.

Potaszy is well known to most New Jersey artists. He started drawing and painting at age seven and went on to further his art career, graduating from the Art Students League in New York City.

He also studied watercolor with Mapherson and this media became his specialty.

SHARING AND CARING—Jonathan Wilf and Pamela Bookbinder, four-year olds at Temple Beth Ahm on Temple Drive in Springfield, exchange Shalch Monos gifts with Lillian Levy at the Senior Citizens Purim Luncheon.

Theft program held

Ron Cunningham of the Youth Services Bureau presented a program titled, "The Myth About Shoplifting" to sixth- and seventh-grade students at Grace Wilkey Middle School in Roselle.

During the talk, shoplifting was clearly defined as stealing and subject to the law. The most common myths about shoplifting and the reality of each case were outlined as follows:

- Stealing doesn't hurt anybody. Retail stores must raise prices to cover the loss and the cost is passed on to the consumer.
- No one gets caught if they're careful. Maybe not the first time, but eventually they will, considering the various methods of surveillance.
- Nothing is going to happen. Many stores have a policy to call the police and press charges. If you are underage, your parents will be called and a signed statement taken.
- No one gets arrested for shoplifting. An arrest for shoplifting is considered larceny.
- A shoplifting offense won't give you a police record. If you are over 18 years of age, the records are no longer sealed and, therefore, can affect your future, especially when applying for jobs.

Get a clean bill of health

The Kenilworth Board of Health, in cooperation with Union Hospital, will be providing free Pap Smears for female residents over sixteen years of age living in Kenilworth, announced Michael Festa, Health Officer.

It is not necessary for women over 70 years, who have always had negative Pap Smear results, to have a Pap Smear done.

The dates for the screening are Tuesday, April 18 and Thursday, April 20, 1989, and appointments are required for the testing.

Appointments may be made by calling Diane Ball Union Hospital between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday by calling 851-7014.

Breast examinations will also be performed in conjunction with the Pap Smears.

Cancer of the breast, if found early and treated properly, is curable in most cases.

Remember, good health is worth waiting for and periodic check-ups are the best way to assure good health.

Math promoted

Harding school recently held its first annual 'Math Day'.

The purpose of Math Day was to promote mathematics and to help relieve math anxiety.

Students in grades pre-K through eighth grade, as well as the special education classes, participated in teacher-made games and activities, student-made games, and relays which focused on mathematics.

In some classes prizes were given to winners of specific games. All students received certificates of participation and math buttons saying "I Love Math."

Teachers and students enjoyed the day and are looking forward to next year's Math Day.

Programs can help kids

Project Child Find, Mountainside School District's effort to identify children, ages 3 through 5, with delayed development in speech or language, cognition, and behavioral patterns, is now underway.

This project is designed to locate those children whose condition would seriously impair normal educational development.

Children so identified are eligible for enrollment in the M.O.P.P.E.T. class, Mountainside's Preschool Program for Exceptional Talents.

The consultation, screening, and program services are available without cost to district residents.

For more information about the evaluation procedures, call Margaret Greydanus, Supervisor of Special Services at Deerfield School, 232-8828.

County workers may face layoffs

By MINDY ROSENTHAL
The chairman of the Union County Board of Freeholders' fiscal affairs committee said last Thursday that unexpected increases in the state-regulated pension fund may cause the county to cut personnel in order to avoid tax increases.

According to Freeholder Gerald Green, the county must allocate an additional $621,000 to the Public Employees' Retirement System. He said that this unanticipated expense will seriously affect the fiscal 1989 budget.

The freeholders did not specify which positions would be terminated. However, Green said that if layoffs become necessary, they will be made at the management level.

Freeholder Chairman Brian Fahey said that he hoped the board could find another means of cutting expenses.

Board will review county government

By MINDY ROSENTHAL
The Union County Board of Freeholders last Thursday passed a resolution establishing an 18-member review board that will evaluate the county manager form of government.

The bipartisan Union County Manager Form of Government Evaluation Panel will advise the freeholders on the advisability of forming a charter study commission to investigate the present governing system. It will present its findings no later than Aug. 1.

According to Freeholder Chairman Brian Fahey, the public will be able to vote on whether or not to create a commission in November, should the panel recommend a change in government.

obtained from the vote, was the only board member not to support the panel. He said that he did not want any politically active persons to serve on the panel.

In October, a grand jury recommended that a charter study commission be formed. The jury concluded that former County Council Robert Dougherty had appropriated $100,000 for health insurance benefits for retired employees without consulting the then-predominantly Republican freeholder board.

The jury in part blamed the misappropriation of funds on a poor relationship among the freeholders, county manager and county council.

Westfield Councilman James Hely expressed concern that the Aug. 1 deadline would be too late to put the issue on the November ballot. He said there was concern the panel might "dorm six" the issue, and recommended that the panel present its findings in June.

Hely added that the decision to form the commission should be left solely to the public, not the freeholders.

In response, Fahey assured Hely that the August deadline allowed enough time to put a referendum on the ballot.

The members of the panel are: Dr. Eugene Kestis, general director of Elizabeth General Medical Center; Frank Bolden, Johnson and Johnson; Harriet Davidson, League of Women Voters; Susan Felt, former publisher of the Suburban News; Thomas Long, superintendent of schools in Linden.

Also, Al Fontana, AFL-CIO; George Woody, director of a Roselle funeral home; Andrew Salmon, a municipal employee in Linden; Arthur Guillio, a former member of the Hillsdale Board of Education; Steven Edwards, Union County Planning Board.

Also, Roosevelt Williams, a member of the Union Board of Education; Robert Vreeland, a retired union leader; Martin Robins, a member of the Hudson Water-Town Transportation Commission; Fred Eckel, Clark councilman; attorneys Litanne Cocani and Marvin Braker; and Henry Johnson, publisher of Plainfield Today.

Fahey will serve as an ex officio member.

Democratic chairman backs Florio

Union County Democratic Chairman John Malone has endorsed Congressman James Florio for governor, saying Florio's experience and his record on issues important to New Jersey make him the best qualified candidate.

"Congressman Florio has been a leader in the fight to preserve our environment," Malone said. "The people of New Jersey are concerned about problems like ocean dumping, medical waste, radon and asbestos. In Jim Florio, they always have found a champion.

Malone also praised Florio for his work in Washington regarding senior citizens, transportation, and consumer protection.

Malone spoke at a press conference where other prominent Union County Democrats expressed their support for Florio.

Florio, who expects to officially announce his candidacy in a few weeks, said he was gratified by the warm show of support.

"We are at the beginning of a long road, and it is great to know so many people who care about issues and who care about our state's future want to join with us," Florio said.

"Union County is full of active Democrats who deal firsthand every day with the problems that face us. I'm glad to have them on board."

Support group meets

Women Against Violence, a weekly support group for women in relationships with physically, verbally and emotionally abusive men meets Tuesday nights. More information can be obtained by 355-1995.

College schedules April open houses

Union County College will commemorate April 1989 as Community College Month with open houses at its Cranford, Elizabeth, and Scotch Plains campuses.

Open houses will also be held at the college's Plainfield Center, and at affiliated nursing and radiography schools at both Elizabeth General and Muhlenberg Regional medical centers.

The purpose of the open houses is to familiarize the public with the myriad program offerings and specialized services the college provides as Union County's community college.

The Cranford campus will be open to the public on Sunday, April 16. The day will begin with a five-kilometer race at 11 a.m.

The open house will feature demonstrations of equipment and talks by faculty and staff. The open house will be held from noon to 3 p.m., followed by an International Festival from 1 to 4 p.m., featuring ethnic foods, crafts from various countries, and cultural performances.

The Scotch Plains campus will offer demonstrations on such equipment as the computer-aided design/computer-aided manufacturing system, amateur radio, satellite dish and lasers. Faculty and staff also will be on hand for the event from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Tuesday, April 25.

Other open houses include one at the Plainfield Center from 9 a.m. to noon, and again from 6 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, April 18; the Elizabeth General Medical Center Schools of Nursing and Radiography in Elizabeth, 6:30 to 8 p.m. on Wednesday, April 19; Elizabeth Campus located at 10 Butler St., Elizabeth, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Thursday, April 20; and Muhlenberg Regional Medical Center School of Nursing, 6:30 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, April 27, including information on the schools' of histotechnology and radiography.

Union County College's medical laboratory technology program will open its doors to the public and display its wares as students demonstrate the extensive procedures learned in this collegiate program.

The open house will be held in conjunction with National Medical Laboratory Week from 1 to 3 p.m. and again from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday, April 12, on the Scotch Plains campus.

Faculty and students will be on hand to provide prospective students with information on potential careers in the field and show them how skills learned at the college may be applied in the job.

Those interested in further information should call Professor Virginia VanDayne at 889-8447.

Motor Vehicles targets uninsured

New Jersey Motor Vehicle Service (MVS) will launch a major insurance verification program on Monday to better identify uninsured motorists and keep them off the road, MVS Director Glenn R. Paulsen announced today.

Under the new program, motorists who fail to produce proof of insurance when taking their vehicles to either state or private inspection station for annual inspections will be given 72 hours to produce such proof.

Paulsen, the 72-hour only involves the inspection requirement and is not authorization to operate an uninsured vehicle.

A bright orange, 72-hour rejection sticker will be placed in the lower left corner of the vehicle's windshield immediately above the old inspection sticker. The sticker will not be removed by MVS until the motorist produces valid proof of insurance. Formerly, motorists had from 30 to 60 days in which to produce such evidence and no special insurance sticker was displayed.

Motorists convicted to a first offense for driving without insurance will be fined $300, lose their license for one year, and be subject to a period of community service as set by the court.

A second offense carries a $500 fine, loss of license for two years, 14 days in jail and 30 days of community service.

The 72-hour period will give motorists who simply forget to bring their insurance identification orange, 72-hour sticker will be affixed above the old sticker," Paulsen said.

"I think this new uninsured motorist program is an important step in further strengthening MVS' regulatory role, without sacrificing its service goals," he concluded.

inspection teams that perform random inspection around the state in conjunction with various municipal police departments.

The orange sticker is in addition to, not a replacement for, any sticker currently in use by MVS, the Director added.

"If a vehicle has failed for both a safety/emission violation, as well as for no proof of insurance, both the standard red rejection sticker and the new orange, 72-hour sticker will be affixed above the old sticker," Paulsen said.

"In addition to being used by both state and private inspection stations, the new orange stickers will also be used by motor vehicle roadside

IRS warns about income not subject to withholding

Anyone who receives income that is not subject to the withholding of income tax, or income from which not enough tax is withheld, may be required to make estimated tax payments, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Such income includes but is not limited to self-employment earnings, alimony, interest, dividends, rent and capital gains.

Estimated tax is the total of expected income tax and self-employment tax (as well as certain other taxes) less any tax withheld and tax credits. These other taxes include the alternative minimum tax.

Generally, individuals required to make estimated tax payments may make quarterly installments or may pay all their estimated tax at one time. In order to avoid a late payment penalty, the one-time payment must be made by the due date of the first quarterly payment for which the taxpayer is liable.

Payments are due on April 17, June 15, Sept. 15, 1989, and Jan. 16, 1990. A payment voucher from the Form 1040-ES package should accompany each payment and should be mailed to the Internal Revenue Service Center for your state as shown in your 1040-ES package.

Extension initiates garden hotline

The Rutgers Cooperative Extension of Union County has installed a new garden hotline.

Starting this month, those who have garden questions may call 654-9852. The hotline, staffed by Master Gardener volunteers and Extension professionals, is open for questions Monday-Friday, 1-3 p.m. and Monday and Wednesday evenings, 7-9 p.m. regard to race, sex, handicap, color or national origin. Rutgers Cooperative Extension is a government-funded, non-profit organization.

Rutgers Cooperative Extension will hold a class on how to prepare a will on April 6 from 7-9 p.m. It will be taught by Union County Surrogate Ann Conti, and is free to the public. The number for registration is 654-9854.

You have until April 17, 1989 to make your 1988 IRA contribution

ARE YOU GAMBLING WITH YOUR RETIREMENT?

Invest in your future with a Howard IRA.

Do you have a retirement plan? If you do, will it be available at retirement? And, more importantly, will you be able to maintain the lifestyle you are accustomed to when you retire?

If you're like most people, you have dreams for the future — dreams that may come true if you take the steps now to secure your investment goals.

With an IRA from The Howard, you can save for the future without worry because you are assured of guaranteed growth. And, there's no fee for establishing an IRA at The Howard, no matter what type of investment you select.

Choose from our Insured Performance Fund, Certificates of Deposit, Money Market Investment and Regular Savings accounts. At The Howard, your IRA deposits are insured to $100,000 by the FDIC. That's in addition to the FDIC insurance on your non-retirement accounts.

Deductible or not, still an advantage

Depending on your situation, your IRA contribution may still be fully or partially deductible if you're an active participant in an employer plan. In any case, it's still beneficial to have an IRA.

The chart below illustrates the effect of Federal taxes on your investment and its value at retirement. As you can see, an IRA deductible or not, offers rapid accumulation of interest and tax deferral.

Value After	Deductible IRA	Non-Deductible IRA	No IRA
10 years	$ 25,635	$ 20,617	$ 19,333
15 years	47,115	37,163	34,446
20 years	77,737	60,294	51,710
25 years	121,993	92,803	75,347
30 years	183,632	138,695	105,935

This chart assumes a $2000 annual investment at 7%, compounded continuously (7.35% yield), while in a 28% tax bracket, withdrawn at retirement in a 15% tax bracket. A $2000 annual investment is equivalent to a $1440 after tax investment.

Nothing happens until somebody gets involved.

Crime. Drugs. Illiteracy. Jobs. Schools. The environment. Senior citizens. The handicapped. The poor.

Problems in search of solutions. In communities large and small. The kind of problems that take more than policies and programs alone to fix.

It takes people. People that get involved. By sitting on committees, raising money or being tutors, counselors or advocates.

That's when things begin to happen. We know. From experience. Because for as long as there has been a New Jersey Bell, there have been New Jersey Bell people working in the community.

For those of us who are Community Relations Managers, it's part of the job. But, for every one of us, it's part of our personal responsibility to our town, our neighborhood and our neighbors.

People. Us. You and me. When we set our minds to it, there's nothing we can't do.

CONTRADICTED COMPARISON

If I don't give it my all, I'm nothing because today too much of anything is never enough.

Why is it, do you all suppose, A person's life is likened to A candle rather than a shoe?

Leon Donecki

While footwear travels - place to place, Candles sit and take up space. (Given, there are people who take up space as candles do.)

A candle mold is all it takes, But - shoes are all of different makes. They're also changed from day to day, But candles, as they are, will stay.

MOMENTS OF LOVE

When your family is there to guide you, When your friends are there to support you, When your lover is there to hold you, That is the meaning of love!

When a parent holds a newborn baby, When a child mothers a doll, When an older sibling protects a younger, That is the meaning of love!

When the people all around you are smiling, When the world is pleasant, with nature blooming, When the sun warms your face and earth smells sweet, That is the meaning of love!

FRIENDSHIPS REACHING FOR THE BRASS RING

A bond 'tween friends is like a well-stored wine It's there for you for all the years to come. It's rare and fine, but never near well-done. Through good, through bad, through overlasting times. Togetherness does not a friendship make. Integrity and trust, however, do. In time of crisis, friends are there for you. And both must give so that they both may take. Contributing to one another's growth. Alongside you to share those special times. Complex yet simple as a child's rhyme. A bond of trust that benefits you both. Although a friendship may be rocky-Hyde. There's few things from true friends that you can hide.

ONE MODERN CANTERBURY TALE

From the world of the mass transit system. Comes the taxiab-driver, drat missed 'em. He is stocky and short, always sitting. Whistling songs out the window, weather permitting. Checked shirt, yellow cap, ready to race. He is well-known for the smirk on his face. Bold from racing through traffic in and out. Blasphemies streaming from his moustach-ed mouth. For all his brusqueness, quite chair-woman is he. Reading characters clearly and quickly. For unpleasant people, he his red lights - And takes extra time, 'round construction sites. For them, no stories or pieces of wit, And their motor runs fast, just a wee bit. But yet he does know his way around town. Over-Broadway, up on East, and then down. His heart and his clock run somewhat slower. For a sweet lady, her bill is lower. A man of the streets, his car yellow pale. Remaining nameless, he answers to "Hall."

Dinosaur artifacts on display

On Sunday, April 9, dinosaur buffs will have the opportunity to see a unique slab of the world's smallest dinosaur footprints, less than 1-inch long, a child-sized dinosaur footprint, and a full-sized dinosaur skull replica.

Robert Salikin will have these and over 200 pounds of dinosaur-related material to illustrate his talk "The World of Dinosaurs," on April 9 at 1:30 p.m. at Trailside Nature & Science Center's Mineral Club show in Mountaiside.

Other activities planned for the annual Trailside Mineral Club show include a slide show by Bill Bukowski at 3 p.m. on the unusual minerals found in local trap rock. At 3:45 p.m., Ralph Thomas will use a black light to illuminate the hidden beauty of fluorescent minerals from Franklin.

The 1-5 p.m. show is free and fun for the entire family. Minerals and jewelry will be sold and refreshments will be available for a nominal fee.

Trailside is located in the Wachung Reservation on Cotes Avenue and New Providence Road in Mountaiside. More information can be obtained from the center at 789-3670.

Bill would extend Vietnam vets' panel

Legislation sponsored by Assemblyman Peter J. Genova, R-21, that would extend the life of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Commission and appropriate the additional $125,000 for the group recently cleared the Assembly Veterans' Affairs and Defense Committee.

A 1985 state-law that authorized the creation of the committee gave it until this past summer to complete its mandate, noted Genova, chairman of the Assembly committee.

"In July, the committee announced the winner of a contest to design the memorial," the assemblyman said. "But construction has not begun yet and is expected to take some time when it does."

"I believe the panel should remain in existence until the memorial is dedicated so it can oversee its construction," Genova added.

The memorial will be built at the Garden State Arts Center in Hightstown.

Law Day essay contest underway

Alan J. Schinman, Linden attorney and chairman of the Union County Bar Association Law Day Committee, announced that the Union County Bar Association is sponsoring a Law Day essay contest to coincide with the Law Day ceremonies to be conducted on May 1 at the Union County Court House, Elizabeth.

The essay contest is open to all Union County high school students, both private and public.

The writers of the five best essays will be selected by the Law Day Committee and each winning essayist will receive a $100 U.S. Savings Bond. A total of $500 in U.S.-Savings Bonds will be presented by the Union County Bar Association.

The deadline for submitting the essays, which must be submitted through the student's high school, and which is limited to one essay per high school, is April 7. Each high school in the county has been notified of the details of the contest and any interested student should contact his or her principal.

How the teams look for the '89 season

By MARK YABLONSKY and SHARON CATES
 Can Union and Roselle Park, the two finalists in each of the last two Union County Tournaments, have strong seasons — even though both were hit hard by graduation? Can Brearley, Dayton and Linden improve on so-so 1988 records? Can Roselle rebound from a 1-13 mark?

Naturally, these questions and others will be addressed as the 1989 season progresses. For the time being, though, here's how the local softball teams within the County Leader coverage area shore up prior to the start of the 1989 season this week.

BREARLEY — Marge Egan might not be completely certain of her opening-day lineup, but she and her team can both be sure of one thing: Unlike the less-fortunate Brearley baseball team, the Lady Bears will be playing all of their home games this spring at one location. That's Blackbrook Park, a location right off of 7th Street, which is better known to many as "The Pit."

Of course, having one set location doesn't necessarily mean the Lady Bears will automatically improve on last season's rain-abbreviated 7-9 record, but it sure can't hurt any, either.

"We don't have to get on a bus and travel and play at other schools," agreed Egan, who is beginning her third season as Brearley coach. "And it's not far, so we can walk there."

"We should be competitive," Egan maintained. "We're still flipping a lot of players, but at the end of this week, after the scrimmages, we should be pretty well set."

Without doubt, senior Pam Ciesla, a backup pitcher last year to Kim Frolich, will handle the bulk of the pitching chores, with sophomore Kim Eagan ready to see some mound action as well. Because the team's number one catcher, Jen Loblanc, is temporarily under the weather, it looks as though junior Rebecca Gares may get the call instead.

But then again, that's not yet cast in stone. Gares can also play at first base, and if so, then Jackie DePalma could don the catching equipment. Such uncertainty also affects the situation at first base, where either senior Tori Lindino or Gares could be. However, if she doesn't play first, then the older Lindino has a job waiting at shortstop, where she'll team with second baseman Darlene Sica for a zesty one-two fielding combination. Michelle Lindino may also play at first.

Eagan, when she doesn't pitch, can play third base, and the same holds true for Ciesla, on days when she isn't on the mound.

Without fail, look for senior Lisa Faucher to patrol center field, with junior Tracy Hoefling a likely candidate to get the job in left. Either Jennifer Krug or Carole Rodriguez, both of whom are juniors, will be in right field.

DAYTON — Dean Brown, like John Wagner in Roselle Park, is showing a diversity of coaching ability by replacing Arthur Krupp as Lady "Dawg" skipper this spring. Brown, who is also the Dayton freshman football and Arthur L. Johnson varsity wrestling coach, is set at several positions, and like Egan, won't be totally certain of his lineup until opening day, this Tuesday, April 4, against Governor Livingston Regional in Berkeley Heights — the town, by the way, in which Brown happens to reside.

"I'm optimistic," said Brown of his team's outlook to date. "We're working with the pitching and right now, that's what we're focusing on."

Seeking to replace last year's starter, Dana Fisher, on the mound will be sophomore Sheri DeRonde, who is also a good bet to bat lead-off in the Dayton lineup. Senior Karen Geraghty, sophomore Sally Kisch and freshman Jennifer Minieri may also do some pitching, while Jodi Bromberg, a junior transfer from track, is a good candidate to handle the catching chores.

Aside from Brenda Hockstein at third base and Geraghty at shortstop, definitely look for junior Lauren Meixner to start in left field. With both good contact and solid power, Meixner will make an ideal number three-hitter right now, and that's one thing in particular that Brown is looking forward to seeing.

LINDEN — Like so many other local teams, a rash of rainouts last May limited the Lady Tigers to a mere 14 games, which resulted only in a 5-9 record. So there's obviously some improvement to be made.

And with starting pitcher Laurie Bykowski back in action, the potential for a better season is always there.

"I think we can be more competitive," said Linden assistant Santa Galea. "Laurie's got a lot more experience behind her. We're hoping to get the players to solidify behind her. If we get the girls to field the ball behind her, we should be all right. They just have to believe in themselves."

One key player for Linden appears to be senior Kerry Kramer, whose fielding ability has been switched from first base to shortstop this spring. Another senior returner, Kim Dowday, has been in center field until now, but first base is where she's needed the most.

Others hoping to make contributions are sophomores Jackie Baksy and Kim MacAvoy, both of whom are battling it out for the starting catching job.

ROSELLE — Last year, the Lady Rams finished their year with a disappointing 1-13 record; the year before, they never even finished the season. For 1989, Linden head coach Bob Giannotti is hoping for the best.

"It's hard to say what to expect this year since I wasn't around last year, but we're concentrating on improving our individual and overall team skills," Giannotti explained.

There are five juniors and one sophomore returning to this year's team, all of whom have played for the Rams since their freshman year.

"The experience is going to have to come from them," Giannotti said.

The Lady Rams have junior Sheri Brown returning at shortstop, and Giannotti feels she has a lot to offer the team, and that she is the "most consistent hitter," as well as a good base stealer.

"She's quick, she's at the top of our lineup and we're hoping to get her around the bases," the coach explained.

Shanalyn Palmer is another solid hitter who should also be an asset. Palmer, Giannotti added, "the top hitter, as far as long ball is concerned."

ROSELLE PARK — It's pretty tough to expect much more from the Lady Panthers, who have a combined 43-9 record over the past two years, including an appearance in the Group 1 final from the 24-4 team of 1987, and last year's 19-5 squad. But even with the loss of several key starters, Roselle Park is ready to go again.

For openers, senior Carolyn Bongard and her .404 batting average are back behind the plate, and also returning is senior third baseman Amy Endler, who led the team in walks, runs and stolen bases from the leadoff position last spring. Also back are seniors Michelle Finizio, who will be the center fielder; and Kelly Haro, who will be at shortstop.

Of course, the loss of Cathy Daly and her 18-5 pitching record has left a vacancy, but right there to pick up the slack will be junior Kim King, who put up good numbers at first base last year, and who seems ready for an even better season in 1989. Left fielder Michelle Hazlehurst could also get some pitching time, and so may Dawni Maura Geoghegan for the starting job in right for Sue Reilly's old job.

Returning junior Jennifer Smith will be the starting second baseman.

"We're approaching this season as we do every other season," said 12th-year head coach John Wagner. "We play good defense, get good pitching, and then use key hitting. And hopefully, we'll be right in the hunt this year."

UNION — Gone are Cathy Wilk, Liz Craco, Laura Poland, Adrienne Jackson and Laura Flour, to name a few. Replacing them will be promising, albeit less-experienced players. But returning are two premier right-handed fireball pitchers, Danielle Shanley and Carrie Collins, both of whom are enough to give opposing coaches fits.

That's about how it looks for Union, which is powerful where it counts the most — on the pitching mound.

"I expect that both girls are going to pitch well," said head coach George Hopkins, who owns a 147-23 record in his six previous seasons as Lady Farmer skipper, including last year's 21-5 mark.

Chris Flinn, Union's last three games of 1988, including a 2-1, state sectional playoff defeat to Westfield — Barber has earned the confidence of both Hopkins and his second-year assistant, Chris Flinn.

"With the pitching that we have and the young kids coming around... if we hit the ball and get some runs, then I figure that we're going to have a pretty good year."

With a 46-13 record in three years of varsity play to date, Stanley, now a senior, is ready to go after nagging control troubles last year limited her to a 5-3 record — although she quietly returned to the mound to win her last two starts of 1988. Collins, who stepped in to record a 16-2 record and 1.06 earned run average, not to mention 122 strikeouts in 125.1 innings of work, should also pitch quite often.

When Stanley doesn't pitch, she can pitch at third base, as can Collins. Shanley can also swing the bat, as last year's .386 average and 31 RBI's indicate. What's more, Stanley is a remarkable fielder; at two different positions last season, pitcher and center fielder, she fielded a spotless 1,000.

The big question, however, is whether or not Union can succeed without catcher Cathy Wilk, whose .403 batting average, 32 RBI's and solid defensive work aren't easy to replace. But in senior Trish Barber, the Lady Farmers won't exactly be hurting. Having gained invaluable experience when a knee injury to Wilk forced her into starting Union's last three games of 1988, including a 2-1, state sectional playoff defeat to Westfield — Barber has earned the confidence of both Hopkins and his second-year assistant, Chris Flinn.

Huber sinks 58 points; Minutemen win in OT

Ryan Huber, who became the all-time leading scorer in Springfield Minuteman basketball history earlier this season, kept up his hot shooting by sinking a total of 58 points during the senior Minutemen's 75-66 overtime victory against Chatham on March 18.

That game-high figure placed Huber among only a handful of former Springfield players who have scored 50 or more points in a single game. Rashad Lynn added 21 points in Springfield's overtime win, while John Beck and Pat Reddington both controlled the boards throughout. Brian Costello's play at the point guard position helped set the tempo of the game.

Finizio stars for Reds

Former Roselle Park tennis standout Cathi Finizio continues to star for St. John's University, just as she once did for the Lady Panthers fall team. Finizio, a sophomore majoring education with a concentration in mathematics, helped the Lady Panthers to a third-place finish in last fall's Big East Tournament — the highest finish in school history — with a 10-5 record at sixth singles, and an 11-2 record at third doubles. This spring, she's moved up to the number five singles spot, where she won three matches as the team itself took three of four in Hilton Head, S.C. recently, while losing Georgia State, Wright State and the University of Cincinnati, while losing to powerful Bowling Green.

In addition to her three wins at fifth singles on the trip, Finizio also won all four of her matches at number three doubles, including the decisive match in a 5-4 win over Georgia State.

Also, the Roselle Park resident, having made the Dean's List last fall, was placed on the "All Academic St. John's Athletes Honor Roll," and will be part of a special convocation ceremony this Tuesday, April 4.

Waste transfer rates probed

A New Jersey Assembly committee will review rates charged by solid waste transfer stations in Union and five other counties to determine if the rates are higher than necessary.

The full Assembly on March 20, at the urging of Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick, R-21, called on the Assembly Solid Waste Management Committee to conduct the inquiry.

"It has come to my attention that the disposal rates for these stations are higher than they should be," Hardwick said. "At a time when the cost of garbage is putting financial stress on just about everyone, these transfer stations should not add unnecessary costs."

Transfer stations are used by county waste disposal organizations to facilitate the transportation of solid waste to out-of-state disposal sites to lessen the already tremendous burden on state landfills.

The transfer stations are temporary necessities pending completion of planned resource recovery facilities.

Hardwick said he's heard repeated reports that station operators are charging rates far higher than the tipping fees the operators pay at landfills in other states.

"The committee will inquire into the way the Board of Public Utilities or the responsible county authority set the rates collected at these facilities, and which rates are necessary to meet the facility's capital and operation expenses," Hardwick said.

The findings of the study will be completed in six months.

"Union County residents have a difficult enough time making ends meet. If there is unfair, overbilling going on, we should correct it as soon as possible," Hardwick said.

Parents invited to third talk

Wednesday evening, April 5, is the date of the third in a series of parent education workshops currently being offered by Blanton-Peale Counseling Center of Cranford.

Pre-registration for the workshop is required; applicants should call 276-0590.

The focus for the workshop will be "The Loss of Childhood."

Meeting on aircraft noise tonight

The Aviation Development Council (ADC) will sponsor a public forum tonight in Cranford on the issue of aircraft noise.

The session is intended to provide an opportunity for New Jersey residents to discuss and address the impact and benefits of changes in air traffic procedures that were initiated by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) in 1987.

The forum will begin at the Cranford Municipal Building, Springfield Avenue from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., during which time residents can meet informally with technical experts from the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, and the Air Transport Association (ATA).

At the evening public meeting, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., an industry panel featuring a presentation by Daniel J. Peterson, Regional Administrator of the FAA, will be moderated by John J. Shelly, Executive Director of the ADC.

School boards encourage vote

The New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA) is urging Garden State voters to participate in the annual school election on April 4.

During the election, voters in approximately 550 of New Jersey's 606 local school districts will select members of their local boards of education and will approve or reject proposed school district budgets for 1989-90.

Jeremiah F. Regan, NJSBA president, emphasized the important role that the local school board plays in the educational process.

"During the 1989-90 school year, more than $8 billion in local, state and federal funds will be invested in the education and training of New Jersey's young people," he explained.

"Our local boards of education — the people we will be electing on April 4 — have the largest say on how these funds are spent. Local school boards also make decisions on curriculum, staffing and other areas that are vital to the future of the state's 1.1 million public school students."

Voting in the April 4 election represents a way for citizens to participate in the education of their communities' children — participation that is important to the work of local public school leaders, according to Regan.

Citizens can obtain information on polling hours and locations in their community by calling their local board of education office.

Small business meeting slated

Kenneth J. Sorrentino, president of Blue-Ridge Insurance Brokerage, Inc. of Hillside, will be the speaker at the Union County Chamber's Small Business Council meeting on Wednesday.

He will give an overview of IRC Section 89 — Qualification Rules and Non-Discrimination Testing Requirements for Welfare Benefit Plans and COBRA.

The program will start at 8 a.m. and end promptly at 9 a.m., with registration at 7:45 a.m.

It is open to all area business people and will be held at the Union County Chamber office, 135 Jefferson Ave., Elizabeth. If gates are locked, use the Madison Avenue entrance.

Seating is limited. To reserve seating, call the Chamber office at 352-0900.

Schwartz helps 'needy'

By BEA SMITH

Dorothy Schwartz of Springfield, former president of the Springfield Hadassah, sat comfortably in front of her television set in her living room on Monday, March 13, and beamed proudly as she watched "MacGiver" on Channel 7. Her son, Joel Schwartz, of Santa Monica, Calif., and formerly of Springfield, had written a script for the show. "I think he is a charming man," exclaims his mother, "and I'm very proud of his accomplishments. It's so thrilling to see his name on the screen."

Schwartz, a Harvard graduate, has worked with runaway children for many years, and the script for "MacGiver" was about the runaway children. In fact, says Schwartz, during a telephone conversation from Los Angeles to Union, "the story for 'MacGiver' is about a runaway girl who becomes involved with prostitutes and prostitution."

Schwartz, who has his own consulting firm in California, and who has written many plays and scripts, says "I have been working with runaway kids in Hollywood and Los Angeles for 13 years." His mother adds that "he saw that the situation was very bad, and he tried to get to the kids before the pimps got to them. He has appealed to the legislature in California, and he has received foundation money to open his own shelter."

He says, "I worked with a lot of these kids. I have set up three or four agencies, and in Los Angeles, I arranged for a 20-bed shelter for them in Hollywood. We've gotten good results, too," says Schwartz. "We found the hardest core kids, the ones hardest to work with. But it was a good opportunity, and we got a lot of support and we're really changing their lives. Six months later, we find that 95 percent of them are still in shabby living conditions. We find homes for them, or get them back to their own homes. They learn job skills. Some have gone into the job Corps, attended schools, joined the military. It's clear that what they really wanted was to be safe, and we provide the best opportunity for them. They start from the ground up and learn to live on their own."

"I always feel very bad," says Schwartz, "when I see some of the kids fall. But it's a good feeling to see them feeling very good about themselves."

Schwartz says, "I just finished testifying in the House of Representatives for a House Subcommittee on teen-agers and kids in Washington. I like to balance creative work with the socially responsible."

Born in Newark, Joel Schwartz was graduated from Weequahic High School, Newark. Perhaps he inherited some of his writing talents from his mother. "When he went to high school," says his mother, "he was editor of the school paper." She smiles, "When I went to high school, I was editor of the school paper. He won an English award, and I won an English award."

A member of the Hadassah for the past 55 years, and president of the Newark Hadassah once, Dorothy Schwartz says, "I've been writing plays for the last five years for the membership when I was president of the Springfield Hadassah," she says. "I wrote a parody on the 'Golden Girls,' 'Imelda Marcus,' and I did a takeoff on 'Stimulergella.' And I also wrote a thing on 'Ha-Das-Ah in China.' I guess it's all in the family."

Schwartz first award, according to his mother, was from the "Naval Reserve Training Center, when Joel was a teen-ager. The Navy had invited 41 high school journalists to spend a day on a Naval ship, and Joel won first prize for the best news story about the event. He also won an award for a writing project by the National Council of Teachers of English."

When he lived in Springfield, says his mother, "Joel was the dramatic director in charge of experimental theater workshop of the Springfield Association of Creative Arts."

After his graduation from high school, Schwartz attended Harvard, and was graduated in 1966 with a bachelor of arts degree in Asian Studies. He had a minor in psychology and sociology. He received a National Defense Education Act Fellowship and the David-McCord Prize for creative output.

"He had seven plays produced at Harvard," explains his mother, "and he worked on the Jewish family Service Oral History project reporting the history of the Los Angeles Jewish community, and he's presently working on a prospectus for the city of Los Angeles for the homeless."

"After Joel was graduated from Harvard," she says, "he hitchhiked throughout Europe. He lived in Wales for three months and studied Welsh. He also lived on the Isle of Santorini, Greece, and became fluent in Greek."

The following year, he worked as an assistant editor of textbooks at Prentice-Hall in Englewood Cliffs. He also was in the M.F.A. Program in Playwriting at the University of Minnesota, and had a Shubert Fellowship as a writer-in-residence. His thesis play, "Till," formerly called "Untitled" was published by Delta in 1971 in "New Theater For Now." "It was subsequently produced at UCLA twice," says Schwartz, "at the Claremont College in Pomona, Calif., Vancouver, British Columbia, Calgary, Alberta, and St. Petersburg, Fla."

From 1963 through 1970, Schwartz had been employed by the MacMillan Co., Prentice-Hall and the Boston School system, as consultant, writer and editor. He developed textbooks and supplementary reading materials from concept through production, including overseeing large press runs.

In 1969, Schwartz wrote "Silvovitz," a one-act comedy, produced at the Mark Taper Forum in its New Theater For Now series. From 1969 to 1971, he wrote industrial and corporate training films for AT&T in New York and Chicago. He says in 1971 he wrote "an erotic novel, 'Colorado Blue,' published by GK Inc., Chatsworth, Calif., and in 1972, 'I wrote 'Psalms of Two Davids,' in 'Playwrights for Tomorrow,' Vol. 9, which was published by the University of Minnesota Press."

In 1972, Schwartz received the Rockefeller OADR, Office for Advanced Drama Research, grant to write "A Rattle of Sheaths," which he says was "a full-length drama based on the life of Yukio Mishima, incorporating elements of Kabuki and Noh theater."

The following year, says Schwartz, "I wrote a short subject, 'Coming On,' which was produced by the American Film Institute. It was subsequently exhibited in the 11th New York Film Festival and 'Films on a Shoestring,' the New York City series."

Schwartz won awards in the Chicago and Atlanta Film festivals and received the National Cine Golden Eagle Award for United States representation in foreign film festivals. The short film is periodically shown on the "Arts & Entertainment" cable network.

Another short subject was written in 1974, called "Thursday Night Women," which was produced by the American Film Institute.

Schwartz says that from 1972 to 1974, "I had a sevenwriting fellowship at the American Film Institute in Beverly Hills. And interrelated one-act comedies had been presented as a public reading at the Meridian Theater in New York City. 'Till,' produced by Sierra Horizons Theater in Reno; 'The Emperor of San Francisco,' a full-length comedy drama, produced in the Plays-in-Progress Program of the American Conservatory Theater in San Francisco, and 'A Rattle of Sheaths,' a full-length drama, presented as a reading at the Mark Taper Forum in Los Angeles."

Schwartz taught psychology and world history to 11th- and 12th-grade students in performing arts prep school in Newbridge School. He also served as coordinator of Youth Services for the Teen Canteen, Travelers' Aid Society. "This was in 1983, and during that year, I created a dropout counseling and survival center for runaways and homeless youth at the downtown Los Angeles Greyhound bus station. I developed a fully funded, training program and a supervised staff."

That same year, he wrote the book and lyrics to his musical play, "Illusions," which was used as a workshop at the Metropolitan Studio in Los Angeles. In 1984, says Schwartz, "I wrote the stage production of 'Seeds,' which was produced by the CAST Theater in Los Angeles. The following year, I wrote 'Transplant Junkies,' a one-act comedy, produced by the New York City Theater in San Francisco — the three

And for the next two years," Schwartz recalls, "I was counselor-advocate for the Stepping Stone Youth Crisis Shelter. I provided individual, group and family counseling to runaways in crisis, as well as advocacy. I wrote proposals, developed a peer staff program, trained volunteers and supervised community outreach programs."

"It was during that period that I wrote 'Power Lines,' which was produced by Theater Rhinoceros in San Francisco — the three

WRITING IN CALIFORNIA — Joel Schwartz, formerly of Springfield, completes a book about China on his portable computer on the town of his home in sunny Santa Monica. Schwartz has written plays, books, and has served as consultant on major movie productions. He also has helped the homeless, teen-age runaways and drug addicts.

And for the next two years," Schwartz recalls, "I was counselor-advocate for the Stepping Stone Youth Crisis Shelter. I provided individual, group and family counseling to runaways in crisis, as well as advocacy. From 1985 to 1986, Schwartz served as director of Youth Services for the Gay and Lesbian Community Services Center, where "I oversaw casework and emergency services for runaways and homeless youth, with an emphasis on diverting street prostitutes," he says. "I developed a 12-bed independent living program for older youth and expanded the program to 24 beds. I also supervised a youth drug prevention program which included a countywide network of rap groups, peer talkline services, a youth-created newspaper and an in-school training program.

"I founded the Los Angeles Youth Network and served as executive director from 1986 to 1988 and generated full-funding for it. I also established a 20-bed shelter for homeless youth in Hollywood with counseling and independent living programs."

Schwartz also helped develop a community network of youth services, including public and private sector partnerships. "And in 1988, he became consultant for the city of West Hollywood and "developed program design and budget

'Blind Faith' is compelling

By BEA SMITH

The absolute fascination New Jerseyans seem to find in reading "Blind Faith," Joe McGinniss' best-selling account of the 1984 murder of Maria Marshall of Toms River, stems from the familiarity of sites and places. And its interest becomes horrifyingly personal.

In the first place, there's the Garden State Parkway, North and South, but mostly South. And haven't most New Jerseyans traveled both ways? Many know it like the back of their hand. In the second place, more than a few of us have traveled through, visited, stayed over or have friends in Toms River. Right? And in the third place, there's that special rainbow beyond the Garden State Parkway, Atlantic City and its glittering casinos. In the midst of it all — Harrah's Marina — its black-jack tables, its six fancy restaurants — its beckoning slots...

And so, when McGinniss reports on the elite of Toms River and their weekend social life, which entails having dinner at one of Harrah's Restaurants, which is about 40 minutes away from home, then spending a couple of hours at its blackjack tables, one understands that these people can lose bundles in gambling. So, it doesn't seem too outlandish that a Toms River resident would highly insure the life of his wife, and then arrange her murder to collect that million and a half. And if there's a mistress waiting on the sidelines, that's apparently additional gravy for him.

McGinniss, in his new book, "Blind Faith," published earlier this year by G. P. Putnam Sons of New York City, uses many fictionalized names for some important New Jerseyans; "to preserve privacy."

The Marshalls appeared to be an ideal family. Rob, a successful insurance salesman; his wife, Maria, a beautiful loving wife and mother, and their sturdy and handsome sons, Roby, Chris and John, all devoted to their home life and their parents. So what went wrong to agonizingly turn each life inside out?

Why did Rob pull over on a dangerously dark roadside off the Parkway on his way home from Atlantic City to check on a bad tire — only to find himself knocked out by "a someone" and his wife shot to death on the front seat? Why did he have such a weak alibi? Why did he have more than 3 million dollars worth of life insurance on his wife, Maria, even negotiating it on the morning of his wife's death? Why did his closest friends in Toms River turn their backs on him? Why was there a contract out on the person he supposedly paid to do "a job" and who procrastinated? And why did the second of his three sons originally suspect him of foul play and refuse to have the blind faith in him that the other two had throughout the entire proceedings and the court trial?

All interesting questions. And an effort is made by McGinniss to answer and justify them all in a classical work of investigative journalism. It is a frightening story filled with mysterious and haunting dialogue, moments of terror and moments of compassion for the children of the murder suspect.

What is so compelling about "Blind Faith" is that McGinniss, who uses only the real names of the Marshalls, Judge Mamel Greenberg and assistant prosecutor Kevin Kelly, with the identities of all others disguised, appears to be more interested in a murder sentence for Marshall than one for the man Marshall reportedly hired to kill his wife. In fact, it seems that this man has little or no importance and is now free to kill again.

The author, and the court and the townspeople tear Marshall's self-respect into shreds and toss him naked into the lapping flames of justice.

McGinniss has given the reading public a compelling story — the book really reads like a mystery novel — except for its truth...or at least, the way McGinniss sees the truth...All the same, he is to be congratulated for taking on so controversial a subject...even if many of the important questions still go unanswered.

New show at Forum

In a departure from its normal repertoire of musicals and comedy, Metuchen's Forum Theater will stage a dramatic production, "A Shayna Maidel," beginning tomorrow at 3:14 Main St.

The story of a family which is re-united following World War II, "A Shayna Maidel," which means "a pretty girl" in Yiddish, personalizes the tragedy of the Holocaust.

Written by Barbara Lebow, the play was originally presented at the Academy Theater in Atlanta, Ga., and recently ran off-Broadway.

Peter Loewy is the Forum's artistic director. "A Shayna Maidel" will run through April 23. Performances are at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with a 3 p.m. matinee on Sunday.

The Forum Theater is a not-for-profit organization. Funding has been made possible in part by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State and various corporations, foundations and individuals.

Legawiec offers class

Walter Legawiec of Mountainside will present three sessions on "Evenings with Polish Composers" at the Polish Cultural Foundation, 177 Broadway, Clark. The first class will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. and will focus on the ballet music of "Mr. Twardowski," based on the legend of the man who sold his soul to the devil, rode a rooster and traveled to the moon. In addition, the dances of the mountaineers of the Tatra region in Poland will be explored.

The next two sessions will be held April 12 and 19.

More information can be obtained by calling Diana Gaza, director of the studies program, at 763-1781 or the foundation office at 382-7197.

Musical journey planned

The Jewish Community Center of Central New Jersey, 1391 Martine Ave., Scotch Plains, will present "Galgalim" Sunday at 2 p.m.

The production, perfect for the entire family, is a musical multimedia journey through Israel featuring Bymie Lee and Haim Cotton.

The stage production features "a unique use of film and slides projected on a huge screen behind the performers. This special media effect transforms 'Galgalim' into a theatrical setting where the audience is enveloped into the emotions and aspirations of the two stage personalities."

Unique 40th anniversary event

By BEA SMITH
Jerry and Ruth Stock of Union have been celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary every weekend since Feb. 19, when one of the most astounding things happened to the couple.
They received a unique, surprise anniversary present from their children, Michael and Lynda Stock of Middletown and Dore and Andrea Beinhaker of Morris Township. The present came in the form of six envelopes...each directing the couple to a fantastically new experience.

at least, he knew, at this point what was happening. In the limo, I was presented with a bouquet of flowers. There was a bottle of champagne and little tuna fish sandwiches to hold us over. And the limo took me right to Michael Richards' beauty parlor in Union.
"The limo and my husband waited for me," she says, with a look of disbelief still filling her eyes. "Then the limo took us home to pack. And each time we were opening envelopes giving us various directions and instructions."

Ruth Stock grins. "Wait," she says, "the best is yet to come. The limo drove us to the Plaza Hotel in New York City, where we unpacked, and opened another envelope, which told us we were to have dinner at La Grenouille Restaurant in Manhattan. It's a lovely French restaurant, where some dear friends from Brooklyn met us for dinner. Marvelous," she exclaims.
"The next morning we opened another envelope that told us we had reservations for breakfast in the fabulous Edwardian Room at the hotel. Another envelope told us we had tickets to see 'Born Yesterday,' the comedy revival on Broadway."

The Stocks — he is a real estate manager — have four grandchildren: Joshua, 10, Blair, 7, and Allyssa, 2, children of Dore and Andrea; and Jenna Ariel Stock, 22 months old, daughter of Michael and Lynda. Dore is a lawyer, Andrea is a former schoolteacher, Michael an accountant and CPA, and Lynda is a real estate salesperson.
The Stocks are still dream-eyed about the fairy tale-type of weekend. Children have different ways of celebrating their parents' anniversary event, they say, but when it comes to a 40th wedding anniversary, for the Stocks, it has to be, at the very least, "awesome!"

Horoscope

For week of March 30 through April 6
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) New and exciting happenings wing their way to you this week. Everything from a sudden rise in income to a new career opportunity could be in the works.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Romance is highly favored this week and could lead to something much deeper and more satisfying than you may imagine. Acquaintances made now will lead to strong friendships later.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A recent investment isn't going as well as you'd hoped, but someone close to you will have some good advice on how to handle it. Your power of judgement and fair play create new opportunities for you this week on the job.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) This will be a week for meetings, meetings, meetings. However, great success is on the way and it is wise to capitalize on these opportunities. A wave of restlessness will move in this weekend, but try to avoid this.
LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) The powers that be are finally able to recognize your many business skills. As a result, a promotion could be forthcoming, as well as added responsibility. Don't be surprised by the number of people who will suddenly clamor for your attention and advice.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) Although you've been playing things pretty close-to-home lately, your social star will be shining this week. Someone new and exciting catches your fancy, but keep a cool, sensible head on your shoulders.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Someone who wouldn't seem the most obvious candidate for your support is pulling some important strings for you. As a result, something might occur which you would be wise not to share right now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) An annoying confusion surrounds social engagements, but all will be straightened out. Happily, your ability to function gracefully at social events will stand you in good stead and lead to greater opportunities.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Business and financial opportunities abound this week, to be sure, but choose wisely. Those schemes which seem to reach fruition most quickly are the ones to avoid.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)

This is your week to spread some sunshine. You're in an extraordinarily optimistic mood and this will convey itself to others. Social outings are advised and will lead to renewed friendships, as well as a possible romance.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) There are some important purchases you may have to consider regarding your living quarters. Meetings with financial experts and advisers will be fortuitous and lead to greater monetary success.
PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) Socializing and leisure activities are favored this week due to your natural magnetism. Take advantage of this as it will lead to new opportunities.

Paper works

Kay Walkingstick, whose works on paper have appeared in both solo and group exhibits throughout the nation, is having her recent works on display during this month at Union County College's Tamasulo Gallery on the Cranford campus.
Her works, which describe land from both abstract and realistic viewpoints, will be on display through tomorrow.
The duality in her work reflects her identity as half Cherokee Indian and half American white, and Indian symbols frequently appear in her paintings.
A professor of fine arts at Cornell University, Walkingstick has taught painting at Montclair Art Museum in Montclair, and has been an artist-in-residence at both Ohio State University and Fort Lewis College in Colorado.

Cardella to perform

Tap dance, ballet, modern dance and dance-theater will be featured in a 3-day concert program, April 6 to 8, at Rutgers University, New Brunswick.
Cathy Cardella, a graduate of David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth class of 1985, will perform in the concert. She is the daughter of Joseph and Lena-Cardella of Boulevard, Kenilworth.
Highlights will include premiere performances of three new works — "Gybe" by Don Redlich, "Disenchanted" by Leah Kreutzer and an untitled work by Claudia Gitelman. The three are on the faculty of Rutgers' Mason Gross School of the Arts.
Performances begin at 8 each evening at the Nicholas Music Center of the Rutgers Arts Center.
Other works on the program include Sherry-Aban's classical ballet "Moog Suite." The 1981 piece won the Northeast Regional Ballet Festival Monticello Award.
The program is sponsored by the dance department of the Mason Gross School at the State University of New Jersey.
More information can be obtained by calling the Rutgers Arts Ticket Office at 932-7511.

Abruzzo-Cohen troth

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Abruzzo of Pt. Pleasant Beach have announced the engagement of their daughter, Denise, to Jeffrey Marc Cohen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cohen of Delaware Avenue, Union.
The announcement was made on Jan. 7.
The bride-elect, who was graduated from Pt. Pleasant Beach High School and Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa., where she received a bachelor of science degree, and the State University of New York in Cortland, where she received a master's degree, is employed as a program development specialist at the New Jersey Commission for the Blind & Visually Impaired, Newark.
Her fiancé, who was graduated from Union High School, Juniata College, Huntingdon, where he received a bachelor of arts degree, and Seton Hall University School of Law, where he received his Juris degree, is employed as an associate at the law firm of Andora, Palmisano/Romano, P.C., Elmwood Park.

O LORD with Your Miraculous power, please convert my loved one from sinners to picturesque saint. May he find peace in his soul and freedom from entanglement. Blow the memory of inspectors in his past and remove the debris from his notorious nature. Lead my beloved in the path of greatness; grant that his life will be the expression of Godliness and Righteousness. In his daily walk with you, provide him with abundance of activities love in his heart towards his brothers on earth. Intervene Father, when my dear one finds himself trapped in the pitfalls of an evil and "irrational world". Bring this young man near the Heavenly Forest of serenity and tranquility, and place within his interior sweet blessings of Christian Fellowship. My final request: O Magnificent King is that he may abide in the Endless City forever. Amen in Jesus Name. An intercessory Prayer for Conversion of a Loved One. BY EDITH GRAY.
