Mayor named to Assembly panel

By DOMINICK CRINCOLI JR. Mayor Jeffrey Katz has been appointed to a special advisory panel on state and local government by Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick, authorities said this week. The panel, called the Assembly Local Government Affairs Advisory. Council, was formed in March 1988 to help elected officials better respond to the needs of their constituents. It is composed of elected officials from around the state who volunteer their time, the mayor said, adding that members do not receive a salary for serving on the council. "Mayor Katz will be a valuable addition to the council," said Hardwick, R-Union. "The council has helped open the lines of communication between state and local officials on matters of importance to the citizens of New Jersey." The council consists of municipal and county officials who meet to discuss pertinent issues. Hardwick said a series of regional meetings are planned for the fall. "One of the major issues to be discussed is the tremendous burden caused by high priority taxes," said Hardwick. "The council will focus on . creative and effective solutions to lower tax rates." According to Hardwick, the council also will consider such issues as the upcoming Dec. 31 expiration of the local budget cap law and the establishment of a municipal government ethics package. "The council will continue to play a vital role in moving forward the Assembly's local government agenda, and I'm confidant Mayor Katz will make a alguificant contribution to the effort," Hardwick said.

The switch from Chisholm to Irwin Field-was apparently done out of respect to Rose Avenue resident Ellis Chisholm, the brother of Raymond who objected to the proposed rededication of the ballfield.

"It was an insult to the memory of my brother to dedicate a field to Roessner on the field that was originally dedicated to my brother,' Chisholm protested during the Sept. 12 Townshin Commince meeting.

perilous moment when he, along with three other local firefighters, were ordered out of the house moments. before the entire roof on the structure collapsed.

The firefighters narrowly escaped after death or injury from the falling roof, which collapsed only minutes after the firefighters arrived, he said. "We forced our way into the front door of the house after observing a red glow in the rear of the house," Schwerdt said. The foursome then ascended up flight of stairs to the second floor and down a ladder to the attic. chwerdt said he and fellow firefiel ters discovered the fire raging within a concealed space in the attic. What made the fire particularly dif-

Forget the raise

With this year's 12 percent tax hike for county government purposes infuriating residents - and with three freeholder seats up for grabs in November — you'd think the last thing the Union County Board of Freeholders would want to do is attract attention to a whopping raise being offered to a relative of a freeholder, But that's just what's happened.

Last month, by a 4-3 vote, the board awarded a $31,000 raiseto First Deputy County Counsel William Maccarelli, the father of Freeholder Jeffrey Maccarelli. The senior Maccarelli had been-pulling down $48,000 for a 20-hour work week, and under the resolution he'd be paid slightly more than $79,000 for 36 hours. To put those numbers in perspective, full-time attorneys in the department start at $27,000.

A couple of weeks ago, the state Attorney General's Officeinvalidated the raise because a majority of the nine freeholders' hadn't approved it.

* Now the freeholders are considering whether to appeal the state's ruling or to reintroduce the resolution. , Of course, either course of action would resurrect questions surrounding William Maccarelli's true value to the county and possible nepotism, right in the heart of the election season handing the Republican opponents of the board's 8-1 Demoeratic-majority a campaign issue on a silver platter. If the freeholders are smart, they'll forget the raise. But that's a big "if."

Democrats obstructed administration If this is the beginning of the fall season, can election day be far behind? Actually, you don't have to look at a calendar to know what time of the year it is. All you have to do is read the political back-stabbing that is beginning to surface in the newspapers. In particular, I am referring to an article which appeared on the front page of the Springfield Leader on Sept. 21 -In-it; Township Committeemen Bill Welsch and Sy Mullman bemoaned their fate at the hands of the "self-aggrandizing and -publicity-seeking" Republican majority. Among other things, they claimed they were being "excluded and frozen out of the town's most critical matters." Here are two mature men, elected to such a responsible position, who will have us believe that they couldn't contribute more because their hands were so completely tied most of the three years they "served." Their diatribe was clearly an attempt to shift the blame for not doing the job they were elected to do, and at same time defame the "other side." The shameful part is that they know what this administration has accomished... accomplished through dedication and hard work, in spite of their efforts at sabotage. Last year, when they had representation on every committee, they did.

nothing constructive. In fact, they third to do everything they could to stall the progress we were making. After all, why should they make this Republican ninistration look good?

The truth of the matter is that Mayor Jeff Katz, Committeeman Marc Marshall and I are not at all like they are. We are not puppets being manipulated by party bosses. In spite of what Welsch and Mullman say, we worked hard to appoint the right people for the right jobs, not merely handing out political a wildlife habitat. favors-as-did-so-many-administration We were all registered Democrats before we ran for the Township Committee, but switched over because we wanted to work with people who cared for Springfield and not for "power." We think and act independently from each other, and the one thing we have in common is a sincero desire to make Springfield a better place in which to live."

Mullman added a final touch of irony to the article when he went on to state, "A solution to partianship in town would be the elimination of political parties. Local government should be run like the Board of Education, where political affiliations are irrelevant and the interests of the town come first."

I personally find it very difficult to believe the sincerity of this statement. ng that Mullman was chairman of the Springfield Democratic Party last yea and is this year's campaign manager for the two Democratic candidates Based on the last two elections, I believe that the voters of Springfield are fed up with such tactics, and are ready to cast-their ballots not for a political party, but for people who really want to do the job. HILIP KIIDNOJ

Pool no longer a happy place for kids-Big Brother is alive and well and living at the Springfield Municipal Pool. On Sept. 1, at 5 p.m., my 12-year-old son and his two friends were playing at the pool on a cloudy day, with the pool being practically empty.

Playing in the children's swing area, they decided to climb a tree. They got a bench, climbed the tree and sat thero-to talk. dry and putting away the dishes. ____ need a license to work out on a Nauti-____ Leslie O'Malley came over to them told them to get out of the tree, get their I've even managed to see profes- lus machine. n were running, playing rough in the pool or fighting. Being the polite boys that they are, they did as they were told My son had to walk two miles to get home and was not at the pool when his . father went to meet and spend time swimming with him, as they did two to three times a week When I called to see what the problem was and tried to straighten out this situation, I was told that O'Malley felt that they had had enough amount of time at the pool for that day.

I did not know that she had the power to decide what amount of time was adequate for each member, and that our fee of $155 did not cover the hours of 12 noon to 8 p.m. My son and his friends had been at the pool exactly three

For the record, O'Malley stated that the boys were never rude to her, that they were not endangering anyone else's safety and that she never had to reprimant them in the past. O'Malley had no regard for their safety when she asked them to leave the pool and make their own way home.

At the Township Committee meeting on Sept. 12, I asked Councilman Marc. Marshall about the above. Marshall told me that he agreed entirely with O'Malley, and that she does have the power to decide when enough time is spent at the pool. Marshall said he witnessed this whole incident and that he, too, fools that tree climbing is a crime that does deserve the punishment of being /letters, please). : asket to leave the pool. He also had no concern for the children's safety in walking home and crossing Morris Avenue during rush hour.

I am not the only one who feels that our pool is no longer a happy place for our children to be and enjoy themselves in the summer. I ask that any parents who have had problems this summer to go to a Township Committee meeting or write to the committee members and let them know their feelings. If not, we can look for more of the same for our children next year. DIANE PRIGNANO

Complaint legitimate but inaccuate Mario Curiale, in his Sept. 21 letter to the Springfield Leader, has a legitimate

After building his house a few years ago adjacent to state property and know ing it was 25 feet from Interstate 78 - which has approximately 90,000 cars and trucks a day traveling on it - he has been beset with a number of problems. A drainage swale, constructed a number of years ago on the state property directly behing his, has been planned for dispersal of water from the newly-acquired-Union-County-composting facility, 1,800 feet away from him. He has distributed his letter to many neighbors on Baltusrol Top. There are a number of inaccuracies in it. Number One: the state Department of Transportation (DOT) constructed the sound barrier wall to exactly the spot that was designated on the sound barrier map: It extended well beyond the homes that had been there. Curiale's street did not exist at the time and when it was later put in, the DOT said its plans could not be changed. The DOT did plant abrubs, of a sort, at the base of the wall, perhaps not to anyone's liking. Curiale brought his complaint about the "ditch" to the Springfield Township.

Committee meeting on Sept. 12 and to the director of Union County Public. Works, Partick White. White and representatives of Clinton Bogert Engineering spelled out exactly what was involved in the leaf composing facility. Curials was assured both that evening and at a private meeting he had with authorities the next evening, Sept. 13, that his problem would be resolved. Yet, still he persisted in complaining. He attended the county freeholders meeting on Sept. 14 to continue to complain, even though it had been explained to him the two previous evenings.

He persists in saying there was no publicity about the composting. At the ownship Committee meeting, he was shown eight different articles in the, Springfield Leader since January referring to it, including notices about frecholder meetings where residents could see drawings and information about this

The entire concept was legitimate, and the county had the right to work on the property; just as the state had the right to build the highway without asking Curialo's permission. We in Springfield/Summit Citizens Organized to Protect the Environme

(SCOPE), along with White, Assemblywoman Maureen Ogden, R-22, Assemb-lyman Peter Genova R-21, Freeholder Chairman Brian Fahey and former Springfield Environmental Commission Chairwoman Marcia Forman - who first discovered the detailed plans and maps for the amphitheater in the Metcalf "Eddy report --- have worked-long and hard to, first, prevent construction of an amphitheater and, second, to obtain the remaining 93 acres for wilderness preservation, composting, etc. The state wished to construct a countywide motor vehicle inspection station and driver test complex on the 93 state-owned acres. If we did not fight for the leaf composting facility, which is the most benign and beneficial use of the land, we would not have saved the remaining property for open space, wilderness preservation, reforestation, walking trails, a tree nursery, an arboretum and

East year Curiale, a building contractor, was put on the Springfield Environ mental Commission to replace Forman, an 18-year veteran of the commission Obviously, Curiale has not bothered to even find out what's been going on in his own "backyard," no less the rest of the town. As Curiale himself says, "Let's not cry wolf."

News of campaign kickoff left out As one of the Republican candidates for Springfield Township Committee, I I it was necessary to write this letter to protest an editorial decision and to address the quarry issue raised by Mario Curiale last week. On Sept. 17, the Republican Party held its campaign kickoff party at Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Capriglione's house on New Brook Lane. and you did not publish the story. I find this action to be biased in favor of the nocrats, based upon the fact that you did publish the news of the Democrats' campaign kickoff party. I therefore would ask for equal time in the future. Second, Curiale raised the issue of leaf composting at the former Houdaille Quarry site and the township's "failure" to notify him and his neighbors of the

Not only were there advertised public meetings, but this matter was widely disseminated in the news media. Therefore, his position is without merit. However, Curiale might like to know that if I am elected, I will seek to eventually develop the quarry. I envision either a combination luxury high-rise condominium with a senior citizen complex and a small parcel of land set aside for a county park, or a large-scale commercial office complex of sufficient size to bring a large tax benefit to the township.

----If I am able to accomplish this in the face of a De -freeholder board. Curiale can rest assured I will send him a personal letter notifying him of all meetings. It is unfortunate that a worthwhile project such as the amphitheater at the quarry is now slated for Newark-It would have been good for the town, and I did support it and would support it in the figure support it and would support it in the future. JOHN R. FRIERI

The material for this month's School Page was submitted by firstand third-grade students in art teacher Lois Radding's class at Deerfield Middle School in Mountainside. The students' work, which was done using different colored sheets of, construction paper, crayons and magic markers, were made to demonstrate "what a circle can be" and "what a square can be." These drawings are some of the first to be created by Deerfield students for the 1989-90 school year.

New rabbi set to bring forth new year 5750

By BEA SMITH When the new rabbi, Robert Benjamin Rubin, at Temple Mekor Chayim, Suburban Jewish Center, Linden. presides at the High Holy Day services tomorrow, on the eve of the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashana, Sunday and Monday, and again on the eve and day of Yom Kippur, Oct 7 and 8, he will herald in the Jewish New Year 5750- Rabbi Rubin, who will blow the Shofar, which is a ram's horn, himself on Sunday and again on Oct. 8, says, "The purpose of blowing the Shofar is to challenge us to strive for important goals and to encourage us to rise to the challenge. It connects us and our history and our heritage to other synagogues and Jewish people in general around the world who are also blowing the Shofar on this holiday.

"Actually." says the 37-year-old rabbi of the Conservative synagogue. "it's a call of history but also a call of self-improvement - a call of coronation. God as King, is the major thought and theme."

Ruhin, who was installed as the synagogue's spiritual leader at a special service and reception last Sunday, and who moved from East Orange with his family - wife. Susane and sons-Daniel-62- and Jonathan, 2 has been trying to settle into his new home near the temple and to prepare for the most important Jewish holi days of the year at the same time.

With a good-natured smile, he savs it isn't too difficult to divide his time between these current events. Even though he's used to preparing for Sabbath services, he says, "We prepare for the High Holy Day services a little more intricately than for the other ser vices. But also we have to prepare mentally.

"After all," he says seriously, "Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur are a period of introspection - of looking uside ourselves and wondering how can we improve ourselves and help others and those around us --- our family, friends. And how can we improve the world and make it better? These themes are important.

"In addition to thinking of these themes all year long, Holy Week helps us to focus our attention and amplify our thoughts and feelings. And the Shofar is a good example."

Rubin, who was born in Chicago to "a synagogue-oriented Conservative family, consisting of two brothers, a "My first full-time job was as asso- says he met his wife at the seminary in the same for those in the synagogue sister, a step-brother and a step- ciate rabbi for Congregation Agudath New York. "I finished my major," Rubin says," "but I went to the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York instead. I liked chemistry, but I found the other more where I felt I wanted to spend my career and life. I wanted to focus my career on continuing Jewish studies and Jewish and communal activities. And I felt that being a rabbi was the way to do it on a full-time basis. I rediscovered it was part of my heritage as an adult and found it much more emotionally grabbing, fulfilling. I also had the desire to share the same kind of experiences with others.

"I envisioned being a rabbi in the field," he says. "You know, working, teaching, sharing heritage with others.

So. in 1977, Rubin was graduated from the Jewish Theological Seminary, where he received a master's degree in rabbinics. "As a seminary nt," he says, "I gained experi ence. As a student rabbi, I participated in High Holy Day services, pulpits, teaching and actually became a nursing home chaplain."

1.2.3.4.5,6* - COUNTY LEADER NEWSPAPERS- THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1989 - 15 Rosh Hashana message

Shalom! Greetings of peace! The Jewish New Year begins tomorrow evening with the holiday of Rosh Hashana, which continues on Saturday and Sunday. I have been privileged to join the Union County community by becoming the rabbi at the Suburban Jewish Center/Temple Mekor Chayim in Linden, and I offer

New Year's greetings to you at this time. "Shalom" is a word that we use to say "hello" and "goodbye." Literally "shalom" means peace. We greet each other with peace. We greet the coming holidays and the coming new year with peace. .True peace brings with it a sense of wholeness. When we are at peace we feel joy for being who we are - ourselves, members of our families and our communities, Americans, human beings and citizens of the world. We each feel our own special connection to God and to other human beings. We rejoice in these connections.

come the obstacles and difficulties that may disturb the peace in our lives and in the life of the world. When we listen to the blowing of the ram's hom ---"shofar" - on the Jewish New Year, we have a sense of peace and connection. On Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, Sunday evening, Oct. 8 and Monday, Oct. 9, we feel the "at-one-ment" and the inner peace as we stand and pray together. We are all part of a larger

The Hebrew name of the city of Jerusalem reflects a meaning of peace. In Psalm 122, it is declared: "Pray for the peace of Jerusalem. May all who love you be a peace. May there be peace within your walls and screnity within your palaces." We all pray that the entire world community will experience peace in the ycar ahcad. On behalf of myself, my family and the congregation of Temple Mekor Chayim, I extend to you a wish for a good new year and one filled with peace.

Linden tries to improve With a recent win against East Side Newark, 2-1, the Linden girl's socce am already has performed better than all of last year. Out of 18 games played in 1988, there were novictories and only two goals scored. Coach Santa Goleme stated the team's lackluster performance last season was due to man new players learning to play soccer and acquiring the skills to play their In this season, experience will again be an important factor in building strong girls' soccer team for Linden, which lost a number of graduating seniors, including a goalkeeper, "Everyone is inexperienced," Goleme remarked. "It's starting from stratch." , The past did not seem to haunt Dorothy Jozefiak and Charlene Barnett, a unior halfback and senior forward, respectively, who scored a breakaway and penalty point against East Side during the match. Regarding the morale-boosting win, the coach said, "The girls are coming out and competing. They never give up." The coach is hoping to make the team more competitive against the more stablished teams from Westfield, Kearny and Scotch Plains. What are their chances of accomplishing such a feat? "We have a pretty good shot," Goleme predicted.

Lensch joins Cougars

Linda Lensch of Roselle, someone with 14 years of playing and coaching. nce on the Major and Class A softball levels, has been appointed pitching and catching instructor for the Kean college softball-program. A former player for both Rutgers University and the University of Haven in Connecticut, Lensch will, as part of her duties, work with pitchers and catchers during the spring season, and also will run the school's fall softball program in place of Renee Clarke and M. Bridget White, head coach of the Kean field hockey and volleyball teams, respectively.

"Lensch is the current manager of the Linden Arians, a Class A learn that normally competes in the Garden State A Fast-Pitch League. The team-is member of the Amateur Softball Association. This past spring, she served as pitching and catching instructor for the Seton Hall softball program. "She brings to Kean a great of coaching experience over a vast spectrum," praised Clarke. "Her 14 years in ASA softball will help our freshman pitchers make a smoother transition from being throwers to pitchers," "I'm really happy to join the Cougars," Lensch said. "Kean has a good softball program, and I'm proud to now be part of it. I want to help us win a.

New album is well-written

By MILT HAMMER Now hear this --- Another listening treat this week is the "Brother Beyond's" album, "Get Even" on the Capitol Records label. The album is a smart blend of Brother Beyond-written songs, both produced by the band, as well as by ome of today's hottest producers.

The band produced "Be My Twin" "Act For Love." The highly regarded Stock/Aitken/Waterman wrote/produced both the first single, "He Ain't No Competition," and "The Harder I Try," Don Was, of Was (Not Was) worked with the band on "I Should Have Lied" and "Restless," and Richard James Burgess produced the Beyond-penned "Chain-Gang
