Regional BOE budget proposal receives OK

By SUZETTE STALKER
The Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District 1 Tuesday adopted a $33.5 million proposed tentative budget for the 1990-91 school year — representing no increase over last year's figure — but eliminating a number of district staff positions.

The regional district includes Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, which serves both Springfield and Mountainside; David Brentley Regional High School in Kenilworth; Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark and Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights.

The proposed budget includes a $33.1 million current expense portion, with nothing appropriated for capital outlay. A total of $444,947 has also been allocated for debt service, which helps to pay off past district projects which have already been completed. Board President Natalie Waldt announced that the board, in order to achieve a zero percent increase, had to reduce by 35 the number of district staff positions in 1990-91, though it has not been determined which staff members, or what subjects or schools, will be affected.

Board members emphasized, however, that the reductions will be made from areas where there is insufficient student enrollment, and that educational opportunities for students would not be affected by the cuts.

Media spokesman Thomas Long added that any resignations of retirements by current staff members would likely reduce the number of staff members who would need to be cut. District officials project that between eight and 15 staff members could leave on their own within the next year.

"The development of the budget was very difficult, and a heart-rending process as well," Waldt remarked during the meeting. "We want to give our students the best education we possibly can."

She was asked by all six of our communities' (Brentley serves Garwood as well) to be prudent in our spending and to make cuts, and what we came up with was a no-increase budget."

explained that the influence of district taxpayers, coupled by declining student enrollment throughout Union County, were the primary reasons for the exceptionally tight budget. District officials project that enrollment will decline in the regional district by 108 students in 1990.

Burdge denied that budget cuts were made in response to the state Department of Education's recent New Jersey School Report Card, covering school districts throughout the state, which listed the regional district as having the highest cost per pupil in New Jersey.

District administrators have noted that the regional district's cost per pupil was high because it was compared in the report to other districts composed of mainly elementary schools. The cost of elementary education is less than at the high school level.

"I think the Board of Education has been very seriously impressed by the taxpayers who have indicated that this board should have a very serious containment policy," remarked Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald Merachnik.

"Because of this, and because of declining enrollment the Board of Education took the position that a zero increase in the budget would be entirely appropriate in terms of taxpayers' support of education in the district," he added.

According to Burdge, the board must now submit the proposed budget to Union County Superintendent of Schools Dr. Vito Gagliardi for his review. A public hearing on the budget is scheduled to be held on Tuesday, March 6, at Arthur L. Johnson. The tentative budget will be voted on in April.

Salary hikes determined by office effectiveness

By RAY BOGUSZ
An ordinance amendment approved at last week's Township Committee meeting increased the salaries of more than 20 Springfield municipal employees.

Township Committeemen had met with municipal department heads earlier this year to set guidelines on how the offices of the latter should be run. An evaluation of employees' adherence to these guidelines, including response to citizens' problems, compliance with community wishes, treatment of personnel and capacity to work within budget constraints, determined the proper amount of increase in pay.

The wage increases were larger than those of previous years, with the average raise in pay being 10 percent — though several raises were as large as 15 percent.

Township Administrator Helen McGuire received an increase from $12,840 to 14,124. McGuire, who also serves as township clerk, had her salary increase for that position raised from $32,323 to $35,555. Deputy Township Clerk Kathleen Wieniewski received an increase from $18,190 to $20,009. Tax Assessor Theresa O'Reilly obtained an increase from $37,073 to $40,780. Tax Collector Corinne Eckmann received a raise from $32,858 to $34,501. Eckmann, who also serves as tax search official, obtained an increase from $690 to $935 in their capacity.

Township Engineer Leo J. Eckmann received a raise from $48,453 to $53,298, while Assistant Engineer Robert Johnson went from $35,229 to $38,047. Township Prosecutor Joseph M. Gans acquired an increase from $25,680 to $27,734. Recreation Director Brian McNary received a raise from $18,100 to $20,815. McNary, who also serves as Swimming Pool director, had an increase from $4,900 to $5,635. Public Works Supervisor Sylvester Boettcher had his salary increased from $38,297 to $36,627, while the salary of Public Works Foreman Kenneth Hornish increased from $28,787 to $31,090. Police Chief William E. Chisholm obtained a raise from $46,869 to $51,556.

Committeeman Philip Kurms, who voted in favor of the salary increases, said that the raises lead to better performance by municipal employees. "This system gives the office holders goals," he explained. "If their performance within the guidelines laid down by us increases, they can look forward to a commensurate salary increase. When they do a good job, there is a reward."

Committeeman William Welsch, who voted against the salary increase measure, agreed that raises were called for, but disagreed with their size.

"While Springfield is quite fortunate in having an exceptional, hard-working group of department heads, and raises for 1989 were certainly appropriate, such large increases, in my opinion, were unwarranted."

Schools implement state non-smoking regulation

By RAY BOGUSZ
The Springfield school district, along with other districts throughout New Jersey, became smoke-free under a statewide law that went into effect Dec. 14. The law prohibits faculty and office workers, as well as students, from smoking inside school buildings.

The Springfield Board of Education had been discussing implementation of the non-smoking law, which was signed by Governor Thomas Kean in June, for the past several months, according to Superintendent of Schools Gary Friedland.

While some New Jersey schools have expanded on the law — broadening the ban to cover school premises — the board has decided to follow the exact structure of the statute, which limits the ban solely to school facilities.

Superintendent Friedland explained that the board felt enforcement of the ban on school grounds would be difficult, especially in the case of parents picking up their children. A Smokers' program has been offered in the schools since September to help ease staff members through the transition. No problems are expected, according to Friedland.

"The staff has received the idea very positively. There have never been any problems, and I have a great deal of faith that the faculty will follow the rules."

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield is following the legislature in much the same manner.

Smoking by students and faculty is not permitted inside school buildings, yet again, the ban does not extend to the school grounds.

"A complete ban was found to be impractical," explained Dr. Donald Merachnik, Superintendent of Schools of Union County Regional High School District 1.

"It would be very difficult, for example, to prevent smoking by visitors to our sporting events. Therefore, board policy in this matter follows the state ruling."

SANTA'S HERE! — This jolly Santa Claus face, which adorns the entrance to the Springfield Fire Department, really shows off the township's holiday spirit. The decoration is one of many festive ornaments which can be seen on houses and businesses all around the area.

Dayton chorale singers will present 'Messiah'

By SUZETTE STALKER
The voices of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School students past and present will blend together Dec. 23, when the school's chorale presents its 16th Annual Alumni Messiah Concert, to be held at 8 p.m. at the Community Presbyterian Church on Meeting House Lane and Deer Path in Mountainside.

Jonathan Dayton, located on Mountain Avenue in Springfield, enrolls students from both Springfield and Mountainside.

Vocal music instructor Brenda Kay stated that current chorale group, including 27 junior and senior students, will be joined by about 40 to 60 chorale alumni for the free concert, which will be open to the public.

One of three Dayton chorals, the chorale represents the most advanced vocal music group.

The group will perform Part 1 of Handel's "Messiah," a classic holiday masterpiece written in the 18th century, which the chorale singers study during the year. A 90-minute version of the piece, comprising a series of difficult solo and choral movements, will be performed by the group.

"It is something which has really become a tradition in the community," Kay remarked. "I have heard people say that they feel the holidays have begun once they have heard this concert. It has become part of their holiday celebration."

Kay reports that Dayton's chorale alumni return home for the holidays from near and far away, with many of them lending their voices to help make the "Messiah" an annual success.

She noted that 1983 graduate Vincent Van Pelt, a former Mountainside resident now working in Tokyo, Japan, is expected to perform with the chorale while home for Christmas this year.

"I got a note from one of our other former singers, a Springfield resident, who told me she wouldn't be able to come because she's getting married that very night," Kay continued. "But we'll be expecting her back next year."

The "Messiah," according to Kay, is "a very difficult work to learn, and vocally, it's very challenging and demanding. There are many different scenes, different rhythms. They're are seven different movements which the chorus has to learn, interspersed with the solos. I think it's very unique that this can be done at the high school level."

The concert will be performed this year in honor of Jonathan Dayton Principal Anne Romano, who will be retiring in March after 46 years as an educator and administrator at the high school.

"We are going to dedicate the concert to her for all the years she spent at the school," the vocal music instructor explained. "She has always been a strong supporter of the music department and this is one of the ways to show our appreciation."

The chorale performers will be accompanied by a professional, 13-piece orchestra comprised of area musicians, according to Kay.

This event is being underwritten again this year by the Jonathan Dayton Chorale Parents Society, which serves as the chorale program's support group. A free-will offering may be made to the Chorale Parents Society in order to help defray the program's expenses.

Senior legislation OK'd

Legislation sponsored by Assemblyman Peter J. Genova, R-21, that excludes senior citizens' shared living arrangements from the definition of a boarding or rooming house has been approved 76-0 by the Assembly.

"Senior citizen shared living arrangements should not be subject to rules and regulations that are applied to boarding and rooming houses," said Genova, whose district includes Kenilworth and Springfield.

"Sometimes, senior citizens cannot live on their own because of physical or economical reasons, but they want to keep their independence," the assemblyman added. "Shared housing allows seniors to live in a warm, friendly and family like atmosphere."

"It would be a shame to see senior citizens discouraged from living in shared housing because of regulations designed for boarding houses," Genova stated. "I think shared housing should be encouraged so senior citizens can live comfortably with friends and companions."

College brings joy to those far away

GOOD FOOD — Jackie Slawicki's kindergarten class at St. James School in Springfield learned about the basic food groups and what is important for good nutrition. Students, from left, Michael Murray, Carly Scalera, Diana Keating and Marcella Ostrowski stand in front of the bulletin board that was part of that lesson.

Raymond Gomez is an unmarried soldier stationed in Germany. So is Julie Biles, as well as several other Army personnel who are guaranteed they won't be alone for the holidays, even if they're miles from their hometowns.

Union County College students, faculty, and staff will bombard them with well-wishes for the holidays, thanks to the efforts of the Center for Adults Returning to Education (CARE), a group of college students bent on making the Christmas season a special one for others.

Its coordinator, JoAnn Maguire, read an article in a local newspaper outlining a national program, "America Remembers." The program gathers the names of selected military personnel stationed overseas who are not expected to come home for the holidays, and distributes small lists to civil groups interested in sending holiday cards and/or gifts.

Maguire thought it would make an excellent project that would involve CARE participants and others connected with the college, something that would elicit camaraderie while also helping cheer up some lonely soldiers.

Proposal to honor MIAs

A proposal calling for the state to provide $20,000 to the Department of Veterans Affairs and Defense for the purchase of POW-MIA flags now required by law to be flown at the principal public building of each municipality, county and the Statehouse, Bassano said.

The legislation, sponsored by State Sen. C. Louis Bassano, R-21, was unanimously approved by the Assembly in a 72-0 vote on Nov. 27. The bill was merged with identical legislation sponsored in the Assembly by Assemblywoman Elizabeth Randall, R-39.

So a decorated box adorns a table in CARE's office on the college's Crawford campus, a box that contains letters written by college friends.

Some envelopes contain attractively painted Christmas cards; others are notes of encouragement from those who choose a more personalized approach. Still others have combined-greeting cards with a mailing of baked Christmas cookies to sparkle the holidays of those abroad.

"The response has been fantastic," said Maguire. "We waited for weeks after writing, and we didn't think we'd be able to get the project off the ground."

"But we heard from them ('America Remembers') just in time," she said.

The campaign, in existence since 1983, services those in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and Coast Guard, under the sponsorship of Taco Bell Restaurants. Some 130,000 troops have been "cheered up" each year, thanks to these efforts.

UCC did not receive any further details about the recipients of their kindnesses, except their names and location of their unit in Germany. They also were told each of the nine recipients are unmarried. The names are: Gomez, Biles, Kevin Hincic, Scott Blankenship, Tony De Marco, Diane Kehrlein, Dorothy Young, Joyce Melton and Susan Markman.

"We're so excited about this," said Maguire, noting that CARE participants are pleased to be part of such a previously successful effort.

The Springfield Public Library has just received a new shipment of Books on Tape from the Mobile Audio Cassette Circuit to which it is a member. These cassette books are ideal for the busy seasonal shopper with little time to read.

New unabridged books include "Breathing Lessons," by Anne Tyler; "A Brief History of Time," by Stephen Hawking; "Clear and Present Danger," by Tom Clancy; "In Search of Excellence," by Thomas J. Peters and Robert H. Waterman, Jr., and "In the Hour Before Midnight" by Jack Higgins.

The cassette books and complete catalog of cassettes are located opposite the reference desk. Unabridged Books on Tape may be borrowed from 14 to 28 to days, depending on their length.

Director attends program

Catherine Sparkman, director of the Passaic Public Library and a resident of Mountainside, recently participated in the statewide Library Leadership Institute sponsored by the New Jersey State Library.

Sparkman is one of 25 participants from all types of libraries who were selected to attend the six-day Institute, which began in September and included weekend sessions in October and November. Those attending were exposed to a variety of knowledge and information needed for effective library leadership.

The program, presented by Diversified Solutions of Upper Saddle River, covered a wide range of topics, including Managing Change, Leadership Styles, Communication Skills, Listening Skills, Group Dynamics and Decision Making, and Team Building. Training included speakers, videos, self-assessment tools, and a variety of group activities.

All sessions were held at the Palmer Inn in Princeton. Leslie Burger, a member of the Administrative staff of the New Jersey State Library, is the coordinator for the Institute.

LOOK WHAT WE LEARNED - The students in Bernadette Damato's fourth-grade class at St. James School in Springfield recently completed a science project on the water cycle. Each student made a poster showing how the water cycle works. The students above are displaying some of the posters that were made as part of that project.

'Tis the Season to be Singing

We Three Kings of Orient Are
John H. Hopkins

We three Kings of Orient are,
Beating gifts we traverse afar,
Field and fountain,
Moor and mountain,
Following yonder star,
O, star of wonder, star of night,
Star with royal beauty bright,
Westward leading, still proceeding,
Guide us to thy perfect light.

2. Led by the light of Faith serenely beaming,
with glowing hearts by His cradle we stand;
So, led by light of a star sweetly gleaming,
Here came the Wise Men from the Orient land.
The King of kings lay thus in lowly manger,
In all our trials born to be our Friend,
He knows our need,
He guards us all from danger,
Behold your King!
Before the Lowly bend!
Behold your King!
Before the Lowly bend!

We Wish You A Merry Christmas
Old English

We wish you a merry Christmas,
We wish you a merry Christmas,
We wish you a merry Christmas,
And a happy New Year.
We all know that Santa's coming,
We all know that Santa's coming,
We all know that Santa's coming,
And soon will be here.

Silent Night
Franz Gruber

Silent night! Holy night!
All is calm, all is bright.
Round yon Virgin Mother and Child,
Holy Infant so tender and mild,
Sleep in heavenly peace,
Sleep in heavenly peace.

2. Silent night! Holy night!
Shepherds quake at the sight!
Glories stream from heaven afar,
Heav'nly hosts sing alleluia,
Christ, the Saviour, is born!
Christ, the Saviour, is born!

3. Silent night! Holy night!
Son of God, love's pure light,
Radiant beams from Thy holy face,
With the dawn of redeeming grace,
Jesus, Lord at Thy birth,
Jesus, Lord at Thy birth.

It Came Upon the Midnight Clear
Richard S. Willis

It came upon the midnight clear,
That glorious song of old,
From angels bending near the earth,
To touch their harps of gold.
Peace on the earth, good-will to men,
From heav'n's all gracious King,
The world in solemn stillness lay
To hear the angels sing.

2. Still through the cloven skies they come,
With peaceful songs unfurled,
And still their heavenly music floats
O'er all the weary world;
Above its sad and lowly plains
They bend on hovering wings,
And ever o'er its Babel sounds
The blessed angels sing.

3. For lo, the days are hastening on,
By prophet-bards foretold,
When, with the ever-circling years,
Comes round the age of gold;
When peace shall over all the earth
Its ancient splendors fling,
And the whole world give back the song
Which now the angels sing.

I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day
Henry W. Longfellow

I heard the bells on Christmas day
Their old familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet the words repeat
Of peace on earth, good-will to men.

2. I thought how, as the day had come,
The bellies of all Christendom
Had rolled along the broken song
Of peace on earth, good-will to men.

Assemblyman preparing to bid farewell to politics

By JOSEPH PICARD

Although only 45, Peter Genova, a three-term Republican state Assemblyman from the 21st Legislative District, will retire from politics at the end of the month.

Among other towns, Genova represents Kenilworth, Roselle, Roselle Park and Springfield in the Assembly. The local Republican organization is certain to miss Genova. In five candidacies for public office, he was never defeated.

"I started in politics in 1974," he recalled. "It was not by design, but because of the birth of our first child. Ed Goodkin was my wife's doctor. He was also a Republican politician who was at one time the mayor of Union. He asked my wife and myself if we'd like to serve as district leaders, and my feeling was 'anything for you, Doc.'"

Genova's wife gradually distanced herself from politics, but Genova himself got more and more involved "as a grunt," he said.

In 1980 he was groomed as a candidate in the Union Township Committee race.

"I defeated Jim Roberts," Genova said, referring to a present township committeeman in Union. "In all honesty, I think my victory had to do with the nationwide Reagan landslide."

But Genova won re-election to Union's governing body in 1983. He was serving this term when District 21

PETER GENOVA

Assemblyman Ed CHI died in office in February 1985.

Genova won a special election, and was re-elected in 1985 and again in 1987. It was in the latter term that Genova did what he feels is his most significant legislative work.

"What I am proudest of is the bill I introduced which became law and established the New Jersey Department of Military and Veterans' Affairs at the cabinet level," Genova recounted.

"Before that, we had had this Department of Veterans' Affairs through the Division of Human Services, where just too much funding was transferred away from veterans' needs, like housing and health care, and from initiative programs for vets," Genova, who served in the Air Force from 1962 to 1966, said.

In all, Genova said he has solely or in partnership introduced 26 pieces of legislation which have become state law.

Garden offers Yule dinners for homeless

By BEA SMITH
"No one should be alone at Christmas," says George Handrinos of Maplewood, owner of the Garden Restaurant at 943 Maple Ave., Union. "Therefore, we are offering 1,000 free Christmas dinners to the homeless and senior citizens on Christmas Day. There will be turkey, pumpkin pie and coffee, entertainment and a gift."

Why is Handrinos playing his own personal Santa Claus to the needy?
"Because I was one of the needy during World War II in Greece. I remember one Christmas when we had nothing. And I also remember how the American Red Cross fed us. Now, I want to do something for these people. I want to give back — to bring back many good feelings."

Handrinos, a quiet, soft-spoken, middle-aged man, who is offering free Christmas dinners to the needy for the second year in a row, explains that this year "we are better organized. Last year, Christmas was very rewarding even though we couldn't get too many people to come. But we did it. We picked people such as families with small children sleeping in a car. We tried to get the homeless, sleeping by the railroad tracks, to come, and some of them were afraid of us. Actually, we did get about 150 to 200 people to come. We want to make it a bigger success this year. Our goal is 1,000 people. I feel," he sighs, "if we fed just one person, it would make me feel better because of it."

"We're much better organized this year," says Michael Porcelli, owner of Porcelli GMC Trucks in Elizabeth, and president of the committee which was formed to provide Christmas dinners this year. "The committee includes Maureen Burns, who works for George, and is committee coordinator, and Dr. Theodor O. Gramberg, pastor of the Elmore Presbyterian Church in Elizabeth. We also have participating churches, senior citizen groups, the Salvation Army and George's own staff of workers as volunteers. I am arranging for buses and private cars to be at various locations to pick up the people and bring them here to the Garden Restaurant. We also are trying to recruit to the peo-

ROOM AT THE INN IN UNION — George Handrinos of Maplewood, left, owner of Garden Restaurant, 943 Maple Ave., Union, stands with Mike Porcelli and Maureen Burns, Christmas dinner chairman, before their open door. ple whose homes were burned during that fire in Newark.

"We have numbers to call for transportation information and arrangements," says Porcelli. "People can call the restaurant at 555-0101, or the Elizabeth Port Presbyterian Center at 354-4450 or the Elmore Presbyterian Church at 352-1943, mornings only. Volunteers who would like to drive or to serve for an hour or two can call these numbers, too."

"There will be gifts, which will be arranged by Maureen, entertainment by the Platinum II with Vince Stemer and Steve Fuller, and a visit from Santa Claus," adds Handrinos. "It originally started," says Porcelli, "when a group of businessmen who had lunch every day at the restaurant, realized that George wanted to do this year. We wanted to organize this project properly, so we donated free time and money for this special gift. We started to meet at the beginning of November and we've had about a half-dozen meetings already. And George provided beverages at the meetings," he smiles.

"All the food and the kitchen help will be supplied by George. The servers and the rest are volunteers, who have some time on Christmas Day to give of themselves. I don't like to give of someone, to kind of help to give us some time throughout the day."

"Last year, I was a volunteer," explains Porcelli. "Last year, there were more volunteers than people we could help. We had food for about 600 people. What was left over we donated to churches."

"I organized it this year to make it a better event. People are coming from church groups, soup kitchens, and we're reaching out in Newark because of the fire. Our theme actually is 'No One Should Be Alone at Christmas.' It gives one such a warm feeling to be able to do this. And for those who would like to volunteer, we only ask for an hour or two hours. This year we're going to make it a better Christmas for people who need Christmas the most."

"Maureen has worked all year for this event. She also sells items to the customers to raise money for the Red Cross and for the homeless all year round," says Porcelli. "She's just a

"There are a lot of lonely people out there," says Porcelli, "especially in the senior citizen complexes. And the ones who don't have a family get very depressed. Some people even get suicidal around Christmas time."

"Yes," says Handrinos. "That is why we are doing this for the people. Christmas is a highly emotional day. We want to let the people know that it's not for people who are alone. This day someone cares about them. They are not alone." Handrinos adds, "No one will be turned away."

"The money for the gifts," says Burns, "has been arranged by the business customers of the Garden Restaurant. It's not so much, but it helps," she smiles.

"Our wholesalers are donating turkey, stuffing, vegetables and coffee," she says. "And this year, our wholesalers will be donating their time to serve 1,000 dinners. They are Margaret Gillespie, Christine Alasco, Beverlyanne Sporer and Lorena Gaspar. There will be free entertainment with a new piano player at the bar called Emerson. Preparing Christmas dinner can be simplicity itself

The two-career family is becoming the norm in contemporary society. With this increase in activity away from the home comes a corresponding decrease in the amount of time that can be devoted to running the household. Unfortunately, this means having less time to prepare family meals. But less time does not have to mean a less special meal.

The following menu is simplicity itself. Most of it can be prepared well in advance of the holiday, leaving only the tending of the main dish for Christmas itself. Round out the meal with a delicious selection of cheeses, smoked foods, pates, breads and pastries from a local specialty food shop.

At the Butterball Turkey Talk-Line, they like their vegetables crisp. If your Christmas dinner guests prefer more tender vegetables, it is recommended that you blanch the parsnips, rutabagas and carrots in this recipe for three to five minutes before adding them to the roasting pan.

19- to 10-pound Butterball Turkey or L'il Butterball Turkey, thawed if frozen.

Vegetable oil
4 medium parsnips, peeled and cut diagonally into 1/2-inch slices
1 medium rutabaga, peeled and cut into 1/2-inch chunks
2 large red potatoes, scrubbed and sliced into 1/2-inch thick slices
2 orange-baby carrots, peeled and sliced
1 large knob celery root, peeled and sliced

Bea Smith
Lifestyles Editor

Trimmed (or locally available root vegetable)
1 1/2 bulb fennel, trimmed and cut into 1/2-inch thick crosswise slices
1 1/2 cups sliced shallots, peeled and sliced
8 tablespoons unsalted butter, melted
3/4 cup dry white vermouth or white grape juice
Coarse salt, to taste
Freshly ground pepper, to taste

Remove neck from body cavity and trim neck cavity; refrigerate for another use. Rinse turkey and drain well. Turn wings back to hold neck skin in place. Place turkey, breast side up, in open pan, about 2-inches deep. Insert meat thermometer deep into thickest part of thigh next to body, not touching bones. Brush skin with oil to prevent skin from drying. Further basting is unnecessary. Roast in a 325 degree oven. When skin is golden brown, shield breast loosely with lightweight foil to prevent over-browning.

About 1 1/2 hours before turkey is done (from neck cavity directions for approximate roasting times), place vegetables in roasting pan surrounding turkey. Drizzle vegetables with the melted butter and vermouth. Season with salt and pepper. Roast vegetables alongside turkey for remaining time, stirring vegetables occasionally. Check turkey for doneness. Internal thigh temperature should be 180 to 185 degrees. Thigh and drumstick meat should feel soft. When thigh is pierced, juices should be clear, not pink. Remove turkey to serving platter. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes for easier carving. Cover vegetables with aluminum foil until serving time. To serve, arrange vegetables on platter surrounding turkey. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

For a Sweet Potato and Pineapple Pudding Trifle, here is a recipe that manages to be sweet, citrus, fluffy and crunchy all at the same time. Serve as a contrast to a palette of more savory vegetable preparations or let it star alongside the Christmas turkey.

2 pounds sweet potatoes
4 tablespoons unsalted butter, softened
3 tablespoons brown sugar
2 egg yolks
1 1/2-cup can crushed, unseasoned sweet potato, undrained
3 tablespoons golden rum or 2 teaspoons rum extract

In a large saucepan, cook fresh sweet potatoes, covered, in enough boiling water to cover for 25 to 35 minutes or until tender. Drain, peel and cut up. Place potatoes in a large mixing bowl. Using electric mixer, beat potatoes until mashed. Add the butter, brown sugar and egg yolks. Beat mixture until smooth. Add the pineapple, rum, orange peel, ginger, nutmeg, salt and pepper. Stir until mixture is well-blended. Turn pudding into a greased 3-quart soufflé dish. Spread Praline Topping evenly over pudding. Put in refrigerator up to two days before.

To complete the recipe, bake in a 350 degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until pudding is heated through and praline mixture is golden brown. Preheat broiler. Broil pudding 6 inches from heat for 1 minute or until praline topping begins to bubble. Remove from oven. Let stand 5 to 7 minutes before serving. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Yule is celebrated

This Sunday, St. Stephen's Church, 119 Main St., Milburn, will observe the end of the season of Advent with a 9 a.m. Holy Eucharist and begin its celebration of the Christmas season after sunset on Christmas Eve. A children's Christmas service will be held at 4:30 p.m. and a Festival Choral Eucharist at 11 p.m., will have pre-service music beginning at 10:30 p.m. On the morning of Christmas Day, Monday, there will be one morning service of Holy Eucharist at 10 o'clock. The rector, the Rev. Gordon Holy Tremaine, will be the preacher and celebrate at all three services, and Dr. John Eric Floren, organist and music director, will be in charge of music.

The Christmas story will be told in dramatic form at the 4:30 p.m. children's service in a pageant written and acted by St. Stephen's Youth Group for the younger children.

Participating in the pageant will be Debbie James as Narrator, Marianne Clarke as Mary, Andrew Broad as Joseph and Gordon Thompson as the Magi. The choir of Mountaineers as Gabriel, Wise Men and shepherds will be Jim Alder of Mountaineers, Keith Babiarz of Springfield, Elizabeth Lopez, and Clifford Sangster of Union, and Susanne Spreest of Springfield. The Junior Choir, directed by Floren, will sing a Polish carol, "The Coming of Our King," and a German carol, "Quempas Carol." Among the members of the Junior Choir are Jill Siefert of Mountaineers and Laura Spreest of Springfield.

A special program of pre-service music will begin at 10:30 p.m. with Pachelbel's "Magnificat" played on the Beckerath organ by Floren, followed by Bach's chorale setting of "Break Bread, O Beautiful Heavenly Light" sung by the Senior Choir.

Floren will conduct the choir in Werner's "In Dulci Jubilo," with Gordon Thompson of Mountaineers as organ accompanist.

The service of Christmas Choral Eucharist will begin at 11 p.m., as the entire congregation joins in singing the processional hymn "O Come, All Ye Faithful." An English and two French carols will be sung at the offertory by the Choir.

Churchgoers have been requested to "share the blessings" of Christmas with others. "Donations of food deposited in the 'Food for Friends' barrel at the church door will be distributed to those in need through Apostles' House in Newark. Wrapped gifts for children ages 1 to 17 brought to the children's Christmas service will be distributed throughout the year by the Interfaith Hospitality Network of Essex County.

The traditional service of Lessons and Carols celebrating the events of Christmas and Epiphany will take place at 10 a.m. on Dec. 31. Nine readings from the Old and New Testaments, followed by singing the Christmas story will alternate with hymns and carols sung by the Choir and congregation. The nine lessons include Middle School and Milburn High School students. Among them are Suzanne Spreest of Springfield and Gordon Thompson of Mountaineers.

Also featured will be Richard Cole of Mountaineers as baritone soloist in "The Three Kings." Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 8 a.m. on Dec. 31.

Hanukkah Festival

"The light of freedom overcoming the darkness of tyranny" is a key message of the festival of Hanukkah, which Congregation B'nai Yeshurun, Short Hills, will celebrate during the eight-day holiday observance beginning at sundown tomorrow evening.

A Hanukkah family worship service tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary will highlight the celebration of the Festival of Lights. The service will be led by Rabbi Barry Hewitt Greene, senior rabbi; Rabbi David C. Levy, Cantor Norman Summers and student Rabbi Joshua Aaronson. "The True Meaning"

OPINION

Utility rate hikes

This is supposed to be the season for giving, but some of the utilities serving Springfield must think it's the season for taking.

Within the last few weeks, Elizabethtown Gas Co. decided to seek two customer rate increases totalling 11.8 percent; Elizabethtown Water Co. was granted an 11.7 percent customer rate hike; and Public Service Electric & Gas (PSE&G) Co. obtained a 2.3 percent rate increase.

A lot of the extra money the utilities will be receiving are adjustments that reflect rises in wholesale gas and water prices, so the companies won't necessarily profit from their windfalls. But other expenses covered by the new rates are for capital improvements that shouldn't have been undertaken without sufficient money in the company's coffers.

Moreover, the state Board of Public Utilities (BPU) approved the Elizabethtown Water and PSE&G increases just days before revealing that home heating oil prices, already 17 percent above last winter's rates, are expected to rise yet another 10 percent or so by the end of the winter.

Did the BPU knowingly hold up its report on heating oil price trends until after the utilities' requests were approved? We don't know, and we certainly don't expect the BPU to admit it even if that was the case. But the timing certainly makes it look as though the BPU tried to soften the shock of its acquiescence to an assortment of higher utility rates by delaying the bad news on the heating oil front.

Meanwhile, while one state agency acting supposedly in the public interest was shelling out fat rate hikes to privately-held companies, another was paring rates down.

The Department of Insurance last week ordered five insurance companies that together make up more than 28 percent of New Jersey's homeowners' insurance market to reduce rates to policyholders by between 12.9 percent and 39 percent.

The savings that will result from these actions will total a whopping $2.5 million annually statewide, according to the department. That suggests that there had been some serious gouging going on.

So if there's a Santa Claus in Trenton, it's got to be the Department of Insurance. We wish its commissioner, Kenneth Merin, and his staff a most happy holiday.

But all the BPU deserves is a lump of coal in its stocking—which, in light of higher prices for heating oil and gas, it will probably burn.

Not so hasty

Chuck Hardwick's tenure as Assembly speaker is in its final days, and so is Republican control of the lower house. It appears they're getting in their last licks. A spate of major legislation, ranging from raises for top state officials to deregulation of the garbage industry to aid for homeless, is rapidly advancing through the state Legislature.

Hardwick, who represents Springfield and the rest of the 21st Legislative District, has been particularly anxious to post two bills before the Assembly for votes. One is a measure that would require minors seeking abortions to notify their parents. Another is the Clean Water Enforcement Act, which would impose mandatory fines on corporations and municipal sewerage plants that pollute waterways.

Both bills are tied up in committees. However, as speaker, Hardwick has the power to depart from normal legislative procedures by pulling the bills out of their respective committees and putting them up for votes before the full Assembly. And he's suggested that's just what he might do.

The trouble is, both measures face significant opposition. Four of the five committee members reviewing the parental notification bill have voiced strong reservations about it. And even environmentalists are split on the clean water measure, since fining public sewerage plants for every violation would prove costly to taxpayers, and the Department of Environmental Protection argues that continuing its policy of selective prosecution of polluters would be more effective.

Hardwick's haste to short-circuit the legislative process during a period of frenetic lawmaking activity sounds to us like a prescription for bad laws.

He and the outgoing Republican majority ought to leave the fate of such far-reaching bills to the speaker and Assembly majority who will take office next month. Unlike the current lame-duck legislators, the incoming Assembly members would be unlikely to act on bills as though they will all turn into pumpkins at midnight.

Newspaper's actions are suspicious

Four weeks ago, Township Committeeman Marc Marshall blasted the Springfield Leader and its reporter, Dominick Crincoli Jr., for exposing the truth about Marshall and the administration.

Less than two weeks later, reporter Crincoli was summarily fired. This dismissal coming as it has, hot on the heels of Marshall's extreme displeasure with Crincoli's reporting, looks highly suspicious. Have Marshall and his colleagues caused the Springfield Leader to knock under? Are those in power now going to color the content of future reporting?

Until now, the Springfield Leader has appeared even-handed in its reporting and has made its calls as it saw them. With the sudden dismissal of Crincoli, will this policy now change? Will the Leader now report only the administration's version of the "truth"?

How ironic that while the world is aflame with the torch of freedom, in our small corner, the torch seems to be flickering.

Was Leader intimidated by politician?

News of the firing of reporter Dominick Crincoli Jr., so close on the heels of the vituperative attack of a disgruntled local politician, raises serious questions as to the present and future stance of the Springfield Leader in regard to local politics.

The citizens of Springfield have a right to complete and unbiased coverage and reasonably accurate reporting of local news.

Politicians often misstate or take extreme positions which lead to controversy. In either case, public statements and actions of politicians is news, although literal word-for-word reporting is rare.

Is this firing a coincidence, or, did the Springfield Leader yield to political pressure under threat of duress and harassment?

Editor's Note: The Springfield Leader and reporter Dominick Crincoli Jr. mutually agreed to end their professional relationship two weeks ago. The agreement was unrelated to any political developments in Springfield. We will continue to report the news as we see it and comment on the news on the editorial page.

Genova related to his constituents

Some recent political squabbling in Union is unfortunately tending to obscure an even sadder development — the untimely retirement of Assemblyman Peter Genova, R-21, who represents Springfield in the Assembly.

Working together with Peter in the Republican Party for over 13 years, I've watched his political stature grow as he easily won consecutive terms in elective positions.

It does not take great academic credentials to understand this phenomenon, because one need only apply simple logic. Peter's continued success at the polls is the result of an increasingly mature, sophisticated and discerning electorate correctly perceiving the fine qualities of a candidate for public office.

Men and women who are repeatedly re-elected have developed an enduring bond with the voters, a certain "comfort level" which is established when an officeholder regularly demonstrates competence and sincerity in the fulfillment of responsibilities.

Such an ability to relate to the feelings and aspirations of a constituency obviously transcends party lines. While limitations should be in effect on the number of successive terms for any office, it's not hard to grasp why people tend to reelect Peter Genova.

We, of course, regret Peter's decision to retire in consideration of the demands of his private sector career, but a man or woman does what he or she must do.

I believe Peter's attitude toward elective office is best summarized in a comment he made to me: "An officeholder not only owes his job to the voters, but also owes them his dedication to the spirit of public service."

Give blood over the holidays

This season is a time of year, more than any other, when a spirit of good will permeates our society. This benevolence peaks, as exemplified by boundless acts of kindness and generosity.

This is a time when people are especially nice to each other, and sharing and giving are almost commonplace. This is a time of renewal, restoration, revival, resurrection, resurgence, renaissance, rebirth and regeneration.

It is a time when most people feel good about themselves and others. It is a joyous time when people exchange gifts with friends and relatives.

However, it is ironic that much too often the true meaning, message and spirit of this season is somehow overlooked.

We frequently neglect our less fortunate brethren. We forget that this is the season, more than any other, for charitable giving to the most needy people in our society.

Perhaps the most precious gift that a person can make is the "gift of life" — the donation of a pint of blood.

It is incongruous that during this time of the year, when the spirit of giving is prevalent, blood banks literally dry up. Due to the lack of blood donors, surgery and other medical procedures have to be suspended until the supply is replenished. Those whose lives are thus threatened include burn and accident victims, organ transplant recipients, hemophiliacs and sufferers of blood disorders.

So, if you are able to donate, why wait? Why don't you visit your nearest blood bank today?

Martin's deadline to move now July 1

JOSEPH MARTIN

By SHARON CATES

A last-minute resolution presented by Union County Freeholder Joseph Suliga giving County Manager Joseph Martin an extra 6 1/2 months to move into the county was approved by the freeholder board last Thursday.

Five of the nine freeholders voted in favor of the extension through July 1. The extension was presented on the last day of a 90-day time period imposed by the freeholders for Martin to relocate here.

Freeholder Chairman Brian Fahy and Freeholders Suliga, Paul O'Keefe, Michael LaPolla and Walter Boright voted in favor of Thursday's resolution. Freeholder Vice Chairman Jeffrey Maccarelli and Freeholders Gerald Green and James Connelly Welsh abstained from voting. Freeholder Neil Cohen was absent from the Dec. 14 meeting.

In September, Suliga presented a previous resolution that would give Martin, who resides in West Caldwell in Essex County, 90 days to become a Union County resident. That original resolution was passed 5-4.

Martin, who was appointed to the $95,000-a-year position in August 1988, agreed at the time he was hired to live in the county.

However, after rumors surfaced of a possible charter change, which would have eliminated his position, Martin felt it was in his best interest to postpone the move, before uprooting his wife and three school-aged children from their home.

On Thursday, Welsh questioned Suliga's motives and intentions behind the extension proposal, while Green questioned its impact on other county employees in "similar" situations to Martin's.

"I am extremely disappointed with the resolution," Welsh stated. He explained that Suliga, since spearheading the original deadline for Martin, had since taken a "360 degree turn."

"You have to ask why," Welsh continued. "Was it done to gain some control over the county manager?" Suliga defended both resolutions.

"I feel that I was successful in bringing attention to the issue," Suliga said, referring to his original resolution. "Now the county manager has made a good-faith effort in attempting to sell his house and move into the county, and I feel that effort justifies an extension."

Green, who will become chairman of the freeholder board in 1990, also expressed disappointment with Suliga's second resolution.

"I have mixed emotions about this, because I do not know how fair it is to Martin," Green stated. "I also don't know what affect this will have on other county employees."

A job performance evaluation that Martin has been asking the board to complete for several months is another issue that split the freeholder board. Martin had asked that the board issue the evaluation before it compels him to move into the county.

Suliga has stated that Martin's evaluation and his residency deadline are separate issues that "should not be tied together."

Green claimed, however, that the two issues are dependent on one another. "If the evaluation is bad, Martin will leave anyway," Green explained. "If the evaluation is good, he will stay."

Also dividing the freeholders was whether Martin's job evaluation should be completed before the end of the year, or whether the board should wait until the three newly-elected freeholders are sworn into their new positions on Jan. 1.

Green explained that the three freeholders-elect — Elmer Ertl, Walter McLeod and Casimir Kowalczyk — may have to work with Martin for the next three years, so they should be involved in the evaluation.

LaPolla noted, however, that the three freeholders who will be leaving the board at the end of the month — LaPolla, Fahy, and O'Keefe — should evaluate Martin because they have worked with him since August 1988.

"I don't think it's fair to allow the three new freeholder members to evaluate the county manager after working with him for such a short time," LaPolla said.

No deadline was set by the board for Martin's evaluation.

Third county employee sues freeholders

By SHARON CATES

Another Union County administrator has filed a lawsuit against members of the county freeholder board, claiming their interference in daily operations has put his job in jeopardy.

County Director of Public Works Patrick White's suit is the third such suit filed against the freeholders in as many months.

White's complaint is similar to those filed by fellow county employee Harry Pappas, acting director of county Central Services, and Robert Morgan, director of the county Division of Buildings and Grounds.

As defendants, White named the entire freeholder board and, individually, Freeholder Vice Chairman Jeffrey Maccarelli and Freeholder Joseph Suliga.

Suliga is the only freeholder named individually as a defendant in all three suits.

White, who has been employed in the county since 1979, was promoted to his present position in 1985. After the 1985 election, the then-acting Union County manager, Robert Doherty, asked White for his resignation, according to papers filed with Superior Court of New Jersey in Elizabeth.

When White, a Democrat, did not succumb to pressures from Doherty or the then-Republican majority on the freeholder board to leave his position, he was demoted to a "considerably lesser position at approximately 50 percent of his prior salary," according to the suit.

The suit also alleges that both Maccarelli and Suliga have attempted to remove White from his position in order to make his department head position available for one of their "political favorites."

In 1988 White was reappointed as director of public works by Superior Court of New Jersey in Elizabeth.

When White, a Democrat, did not succumb to pressures from Doherty or from White's office for Maccarelli who had allegedly White's position to Daniel Seib, Joanne Seib's husband.

After the rumors surfaced, Joanne Seib, who was reportedly hired at the insistence of Maccarelli at the "highest possible salary level" was transferred to another division in White's department, the suit claimed.

Suliga, according to the suit, had planned to fill White's position with Malvin Eickel, "a political favorite of Suliga's" who is currently a subordinate of White's.

In September of this year, rumors surfaced that Joanne Seib, a clerk in White's office, had removed papers

COUNTY LEADER NEWSPAPERS THURSDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1989 — 2,3,4*

SECTION B

B-Ball squads beaten; matmen take second

Both the boys' and girls' basketball teams at Jonathan Dayton Regional High had a tough start this past weekend, but things worked out better for the wrestling team, which finished second in the season-opening Sparta Tournament on Saturday. And the swim team is off to a 2-1 start.

BOY'S BASKETBALL

Ridge 67, Dayton 62

Senior Brandon Giordano had five of Dayton's first seven points in the opening quarter when the Bulldogs jumped to an 18-10 lead in Friday night's season-opener in Springfield, but foul trouble put the 6-4, 190-pound center on the bench for all of the second quarter, when Ridge outscored the 'Dawgs, 20-11, to grab a 30-28 lead at the half.

Meanwhile, Ridge center Ken Warman had quite a night for the visitors, scoring 16 of his game-high 24 points in the first half — and eight in each quarter. So, as Dayton head coach Ray Yanchus put it, "He was the guy who was killing us in the first half."

It also wasn't a bad night for sophomore guard Andy Huber, who sank 19 points for Dayton, with eight coming in the first quarter, and eight more in the final stanza. In all, Huber connected on 7 of 12 shots from the floor, including a perfect 2-for-2 from three-point range, as well as 3-for-3 from the foul line.

The 'Dawgs, who were scheduled to face Arthur L. Johnson in Clark on Tuesday night, will return home tomorrow night for a 7:30 p.m. encounter with Roselle Catholic.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Lady Bulldogs can be expected to hold their own against most of their opponents this winter, but not without Lauren Meixner — or so it appeared after losses to both Ridge and Middlesex last Friday and Saturday, respectively.

Meixner, who averaged nearly 14 points and just under 16 rebounds a game for Dayton last year, joined teammate Jennifer Francis in fouling out of the season-opener with Ridge. And that's why the home town exploited the absence of both players to break a 36-36 tie after three quarters with a 14-2 burst in the final session, giving Ridge the 50-38 decision.

To make matters worse, a wrist injury also sidelined Meixner for the following afternoon's game with Middlesex, and without her to worry about, the Lady Blue Jays ended up with a 43-28 win.

Coach Arthur Krupp's team, after playing host to Arthur L. Johnson Regional of Clark on Tuesday, will travel to Roselle Catholic for a 4 p.m. start tomorrow. While Meixner was not expected to return for either game, Krupp is hopeful that she will be ready for next week's Christmas Tournament in Cranford (Dec. 27-28).

WRESTLING

It was quite a start for the Dayton matmen, who turned in a fine performance to grab a second-place finish in last Saturday's season-opening Sparta Tournament. The Bulldogs fashioned the 102.5 points, out of reach of champion Pope John's 133, but solidly ahead of third-place Hackettstown's 84 points, Lenape Valley (66.5), Hanover Park (62), Pequannock (46), Parsippany Hills (44), and Sparta (35). Finished-out the placements in the eight-team field.

Dayton crowned three tournament champions, and all are seniors: Jason Yee in the 112-pound weight class, Peter Carpenter in the 125-pound category, and 130-pounder Chris Moreno. Yee began his championship march by pinning Ted Ranney of Pequannock in just 21 seconds, and then he outpointed Hanover Park's Severio Marinelli, 15-6. An 11-0 win over Jim Colabella of Lenape Valley gave Yee the 112-pound title.

Carpenter, after pinning both Dan Mohan of Pequannock and Sean Hare of Hackettstown, won his title with an 8-4 decision over a Pope-John opponent. And Moreno won the 130-pound crown by sandwiching pins of Parsippany Hills' Bob Blount and Lenape Valley's Thomas Falleni around a 5-1 win over Hackettstown's Jack Palmer.

Senior Mike Mast won two matches in the 145-pound class to come away as a runnerup.

SWIMMING

There were first-place finishes galore for the Bulldog swim team throughout the past week, with Dayton topping Roselle Catholic, 114-47, and Elizabethtown, 94-75, before losing to Scotch Plains, 93-63, last Friday. Individually, six swimmers — freshmen Marty Visitation, Ben Schneider and Laura Leyrer; sophomores Rob Biewerth and Eric Nagger; and senior Steve Fowler — won eight events between them. And a pair of relay squads also placed first, giving Dayton its huge victory margin. Visitation won two events — the 200-yard individual medley in 2:32.4, and the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:17.2 — as did Fowler, who captured the 100-yard butterfly in 1:01.2, and the 100-yard backstroke in 1:09.1.

Against Elizabethtown, Fowler and Visitation kept it up by winning two more events each, not counting their roles in helping the 200-yard medley squad to a first-place finish of 2:00.62, a win with both Chris O'Toole and Jim Alder.

The co-ed Dayton team will now enjoy its holiday break, before returning to action against Union on Jan. 3.

IN FOR TWO — Brearley forward John Anglim registers a layup during last Friday night's season-opener in Kenilworth between the Bears and Roselle Park. Anglim had 14 points in all as Brearley won, 48-39.

Brearley teams win openers

Although both wins came under somewhat different circumstances, it was a satisfying opening night for both the David Brearley Regional High boys' and girls' basketball teams, both of which defeated Roselle Park last Friday night. The boys won, 48-39, in Kenilworth, and the girls were victorious, 39-34, in Roselle Park.

For the boys, Sterling Williams and Keith LeBlonde netted 14 points apiece as the Bears charge early on, and left the court at halftime with a 30-17 lead. During the first two quarters, Williams had 11 of his points, and LeBlonde seven. Scott Bermingham paced the Panthers with 18 points.

In the girls' game, though, things were a little different. Down by a 21-13 count at the half, Brearley coach Margo Egan switched to a press at the start of the third quarter, and the results were quite impressive. Outscoring Park, 10-5, to creep within a 26-23 margin after three quarters, the Lady Bears went for broke in the final stanza and came out on top, 16-8, to win by five points.

Super shooter Kim Egan, a two-time All-CLN selection, sank 12 of her 22 game-high points in the final period, and all but four of her team's points during that time. Both Darlene Sica and Patricia Anglim added their only baskets of the game to complete Brearley's comeback.

The press had done its job well.

"That I really think was the answer," said Egan the coach. "Patric's, Kim got really hot. She just got free and the shots started to go in. But the press was the biggie."

Both Brearley teams will be in action tomorrow against St. Patrick's at 4 a.m. The boys will be at home, while the girls will make the short trip to Elizabethtown.

More changes may come due to NJSIAA's decision

By MARK YABLONSKY

Almost no one thought it had a chance to pass and the reviews may be mixed, but one thing is certain: last week's decision by the full membership of the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association to remove the long-standing restrictions on Thanksgiving Day football games is likely to set the ball rolling for future changes, some of which could be as monumental.

By way of an extremely close margin — by some nine votes — a proposal automatically moving regularly-scheduled Turkey Day games up by one week if one or both teams are involved in sectional playoff competition, was approved. In no uncertain terms was this just another vote.

Indeed, the impact could prove to be huge and widespread statewide in years to come. Until now, traditional holiday rivalries such as Roselle-Roselle Park and Union-Linden have been regarded "as some kind of a sacred cow" in the words of one local coach, who suggests the change. While many have long been unhappy that both rounds of the sectional playoff format are interrupted by Thanksgiving games, there are others who cherish both tradition and the belief that, in the event of an unsuccessful season, their team's involvement in a holiday game is tantamount to a playoff appearance.

But what is particularly intriguing about the NJSIAA's vote is this: if a long-standing barrier such as mandatory Turkey Day games can be lifted, many feel that it may only be a matter of time before other, previously unthought-of proposals — also gain enactment.

That includes the notion of a new statewide realignment, in which teams of one Group size will all be

"It's Step One and I think it's a positive step. I'm not sure about regionalization, but I do think it'll be the forerunner of a couple of moves."

Lou Retino

placed into one conference — i.e., a conference of North Jersey, Group 4, Section 2 squads; one of North Jersey, Group 3, Section 2 teams, and so on. That regionalization notion is favored heavily by football coaches such as "Union's" Lou Retino, given the complexity and inequity of the current power-point system in football.

"It's Step One and I think it's a positive step," said Retino of the Thanksgiving changes, which now mean that, beginning next fall, the Union-Linden game will be played one week earlier, if either the Farmers or Tigers — or both — make their section's playoffs. "I'm not sure about regionalization, but I do think it'll be the forerunner of a couple of moves."

Among the changes Retino foresees include:

• Having all nine regular-season football games count toward playoff seeding, rather than just the first eight, as is now the case.

• Beginning the season one or two weeks early so that football post-season play will include the crowning of respective Group champions. Football is the only major sport that stops with a sectional champion.

"Yes, I definitely think that they're heading in the right direction," agreed Roselle head coach Lou Grasso, whose Rams won this year's North Jersey, Group 2, Section 2 championship. "Eventually, in the next few years everything is going to focus on the playoffs."

Which is well and fine with many other coaches, including Bob Taylor of Brearley Regional, who feel that in high school football, "the main focus" should be on post-season play and not holiday games, which are construed by some as being something of an inconvenience. But not everyone is thrilled about the change in Thanksgiving games.

Traditional rivalries, and all that goes with them have remained popular during the years, and even Grasso admits he has mixed feelings about the recent NJSIAA's full membership vote because of that sentiment.

And others, such as Roselle Park High athletic director William McNeese, are even more critical.

"Number one, I did not think it would pass," said McNeese, who feels that the NJSIAA does not have a "true philosophy" of dealing with sports overall statewide. "I'm disappointed that it did pass. I think the reason is pretty obvious in terms of the Roselle-Roselle Park game and the importance of it, not only for the kids but for the community. And I don't think the NJSIAA should have the right to take that away."

"And as far as the state playoffs are concerned, I think the state really has to sit down and look at a viable solution," he concluded. "And this isn't a viable solution."

BUMPER PLATES — Ken Udut of Roselle, left, and Jonathan Petersen of Union display the 15 kg bumper plates they won for their school recently, the Val-Deane School in Mountaintop. Udut placed fourth and Petersen seventh in the 1989 High School Clean and Jerk Competition. The event is sponsored by the United States Weightlifting Federation under a grant from the U.S. Olympic Foundation.

Wrestling trio wins for Union

Earl Finney, Dan Lilley and Rob Vieira all won championships to help the Union High wrestling team to a third-place finish in the season-opening Governor Livingston Regional Tournament this past Saturday in Berkeley Heights.

The Farmers came in third behind Lacey Township and Hunterdon Central.

Finney won the 119-pound weight class by beating three opponents, the last of whom was pinned at the 2:58 mark. The 125-pound title went to Lilley, who easily defeated opponents from Marlboro and Scotch Plains, before squeaking out a 3-2 decision over Tony Leonard of Hunterdon Central. Lilley, who is now a junior, had also won the tournament in both his freshman and sophomore years.

Vieira also won the 160-pound title in style with three victories, the last of which was a 6-4 decision over a Lacey foe.

Runnemess were Dominic Acque, who lost to the outstanding tournament wrestler, John Stout of Lacey, in the 140-pound final; and Scott Firth, who went down to Hunterdon Central's Nick Giacchi, 10-8, in the 130-pound title bout. Bob Kuldaneck (170 pounds) and heavyweight Scott Platt took third place finishes, while David Gollin (103 pounds), Ken DeHart (112 pounds) and Vinnie Alberto (189 pounds) came in fifth.

The Farmers, following yesterday's dual-meet opener at Plainfield, will wrestle next at the Parsippany Tournament one week from today, on Dec. 28. Next comes a meet in Irvington on Jan. 3.

Enjoy your holiday season!

With three straight wins last week, the Union High boy's swimming team now has a 4-0 record. The wins were over Montclair, East Brunswick and Columbia.

In the 95-60 win over Montclair, first-place finishes came from Erik Myer in the 200-yard individual medley and 100-yard backstroke; from Kevin Smith in both the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events; and also by Steve Waszak in the 200-yard freestyle. John Waszak won in the 100-yard butterfly, Paul Ulrich in the 100-yard freestyle, and Scott Stephenson, in the 200-yard breaststroke.

Union also captured both relay events to complete a solid sweep of first-place finishes. That was also the case in a 90-65 swimming of East Brunswick, with Ulrich, John and Steve Waszak, Stephenson, Greg Lear, Smith, Myer, and Frank Acque earning firsts.

AP cites Maksimow, Session

Two players from the CLN coverage area, Andre Maksimow of Union and Rayshaw Session of Roselle, are members of this year's 1989 Associated Press New Jersey high school football team.

Maksimow was selected Second Team defensive honors with AP, while Session was the association's Third Team defensive unit.

Maksimow, a 6-3, 245-pound standout at defensive end and offensive tackle for Union this year, is also a two-time selection for First Team All-CLN honors. Session, another member of this year's CLN First Team, recorded 61 tackles and 26 quarterback sacks as a linebacker for the North Jersey, Group 2, Section 2 champion Rams.

43 for Endler

The Moravian College women's basketball team had a 3-0 week recently, as Roselle Park's Amy Endler came through with superlative efforts in two of the games.

Endler, the team's leading scorer at 14.8 points a game, netted 21 points in Moravian's 70-48 win over Albright, and then added a career-high 22-point showing in her team's 83-63 win over defending national Div. 3 champion Elizabethtown.

Endler has now led her team in scoring three different times this year.

Worrall Publications promotes manager

Paula Cohen, retail advertising manager of County Leader Newspapers, has been promoted to the position of co-operative advertising manager for Worrall Publications.

Worrall Publications, a chain of 16 newspapers serving communities in Essex and Union counties, is the parent company of County Leader Newspapers.

Cohen, a Union resident, has been employed by Worrall Publications since 1983. She worked as an account executive and assistant advertising manager prior to becoming retail advertising manager.

In her new position, Cohen will administer the Essex and Union advertising program to sales representatives throughout Worrall Publications.

"There is no one within or without the firm more qualified to fill this very important position, which will offer a great service to our advertisers," said County Leader Newspapers Advertising Director Ralph Brownlee, commenting on the promotion.

Brownlee added that Cohen "has demonstrated loyalty, perseverance and professionalism throughout the nearly seven years she has been employed by Worrall Publications."

PAULA COHEN

"It's also a good step for us, because Paula will remain with our firm to assist and direct account executive Lisa Schellich to take over her duties in the service of one of our most important advertising market areas, Union Center. Our expectations and, more importantly, our confidence is high."

Hercky's business booming

By creating a full-page, four-color, pre-printed "Form Function. Fabulous," insert ad, Hercky-Pasqua-Herman of Roselle Park was able to solve a marketing communications problem for its client, Just Normlicht Inc. of Newton, Pa., a leading producer and distributor of color-correct lighting systems for the printing and graphic arts industries.

Just Normlicht Inc. needed to reach a narrow target market segment defined as color separators and commercial printers with at least 20 employees. A full-circulation ad buy in graphics arts trade magazines such as American Printer, Graphic Arts Monthly, and Printing Impressions was evaluated as not being cost-efficient, as these publications reach a much larger audience than the narrow one defined by Just Normlicht.

In order to avoid paying for waste circulation, the agency recommended that Just Normlicht implement a demographic insert program. Since these trade publications are by subscription-only it is possible to control distribution by selecting only those subscribers that match the specific characteristics required.

The "Form Function. Fabulous," ad depicts the company's brand-new 3-B Duplex Color Proof Station. It promotes the dual benefits of superior performance and unique aesthetics featured by the West-German manufacturer and enhances the company's image. It also generates significant sales leads for the color-proof station product featured in the ad, as well as the entire production line.

CELEBRATING a total of 100 years of service with GAF Corporation in Wayne are Henry Haman, left, of Roselle and Fred Daiser of Cranford. A company reception and dinner were held to mark the special occasion of each of these employees' 50th year of service with the firm.

Lotto 'toons' take stage

Move over Roger Rabbit — the New Jersey Lottery "Toons" are taking center stage.

New Lottery commercials, using technology reminiscent of the popular movie "Who Framed Roger Rabbit," pair real people with animated characters resembling Lottery tickets to generate sales for the New Jersey Lottery and its games.

In the commercials, created by Venet Advertising/NJ of Union, the animated tickets sing and dance their way into the shirt pocket of an unsuspecting but delighted man.

Each ticket represents a different New Jersey Lottery game, and through animating displays a personality indicative of that game. The Pick-6 ticket — the Lottery's million dollar pay-off — wears a gold top hat and shoes to portray his monetary status as well as signage and brochures at Lottery agent locations.

KCMP, New York, animated the spots. The original music score was adapted by Newfound Music of Fairlawn.

Dealer spies slight rise in vehicle sales

A key member of the New Jersey Automobile Dealers Association's 1990 leadership is Regional Vice President James V. Tino, who heads Multi Chevrolet in Union.

Tino noted that auto and truck sales in New Jersey and the nation have been in a slide since the record-breaking year of 1986. A glut of vehicles combined with substantial discounts to buyers and heavy economic pressure on dealers by manufacturers have trimmed dealer profit margins to slim proportions, he explained.

"Indeed, conditions threaten the very survival of a number of our members," Tino added. "Thus, the first objective of NJADA's leadership and staff will be to work with our members to effect every feasible economy and to take advantage of the latest retailing and service efficiencies so they can survive this 'down' period in a traditionally cyclical industry."

Including a note of optimism, the dealer leader observed that "we may have bottomed out this summer." He pointed out that car and truck sales in the state were substantially higher — by 9,700 units — in September and October than the same months of 1988.

"Another month or two of gains," said Tino, "and we'll really be seeing the light at the end of the tunnel."

Homes assisted

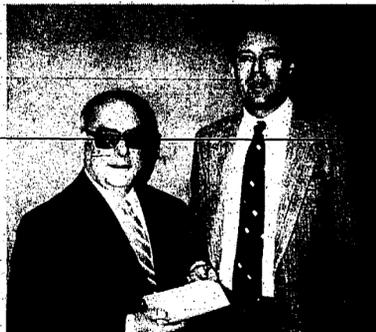

EZ Painter of Milwaukee donated 300 of its Bristolero paint brushes to be used for painting 10 low-income houses slated for renewal in Toledo, Ohio. Sponsored by the Toledo-area sales office of Xerox Corporation, the University of Toledo and the City of Toledo, "Touch-Up Toledo" benefited homes in the Bancroft, Upton and Monroe Street areas.

Red Devil donates new art supplies

Red Devil Inc. of Union and EZ Painter of Milwaukee enthusiastically joined Toledo, Ohio, companies in donating supplies this fall for "Touch-Up Toledo," a community home renovation and weatherization program for low-income residents.

Red Devil is a leading manufacturer of decorating, maintenance and repair products, offering a wide range of chemicals and tool products. EZ Painter is an industry leader in production and merchandising innovations for paint applications.

Red Devil contributed 200 double-edge "Flip Over" scrapers to the "Touch-Up Toledo" project. A long-time professional's choice, this traditional straight-handled scraper uses a 2 1/2-inch blade. Its heavier-duty construction makes big jobs easy — perfect for this 10-home rejuvenation task.

GOOD GUESS — John J. Davis, right, president of the Union Center National Bank, presents a $100 savings bond to Michael Alfano of Wevanna Avenue, Union. Alfano came the closest to guessing the amount of money contained in the giant jar that was on display in the bank's lobby. The amount of money guessed, $3,137, was collected from customers and visitors at L&J Auto Body in Kenilworth and will be distributed to local charities.

Howard Bank gets prepared for loan losses

The Howard Savings Bank has announced that because of deteriorating real estate markets, it expects to increase its reserve for possible loan losses by approximately $70 million in the fourth quarter of 1989.

The Howard has two branches in Union and one in Springfield. As a result of this increased reserve, the bank projects an after-tax loss in the range of $65 million for the fourth quarter, and an after-tax loss in the range of $45 million for the full year 1989, or about $3 per share.

"This is obviously a significant disappointment, but it is a step we have to take at this stage of a worsening business cycle," said Donald P. McCormack, chairman and chief executive officer of the bank.

"We have the financial strength to deal with these losses. The bank has reported a profit each year since it became a publicly owned company in 1983 and has paid consecutive quarterly dividends for the past three years. We expect to declare our next regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents per share in January 1990," he said.

Shipside Services moves to new Elizabeth locale

Shipside Services Inc. recently broke ground for its new 40-acre site in Port Elizabeth. This marks the successful expansion of a business acquired just two years ago with the financial assistance of The National State Bank.

National State Bank, based in Elizabeth, has branches in Linden, Newark, Jersey City and the City of Toledo. "Touch-Up Toledo" benefited homes in the Bancroft, Upton and Monroe Street areas.

the company in a financial advisory capacity.

Shipside Service operates a 22-acre parking facility for trailers awaiting on-loading or off-loading at Port Elizabeth. With 1,250 slips available, the company operates at a very respectable 75 percent capacity.

Schering contracts new drug

Schering-Plough Corp. has announced it has signed a contract to license Intradur, a unique, once-a-day oral nitrate drug for treating angina pectoris, from Haasle, a subsidiary of the Swedish firm AB Astra.

The agreement gives Schering-Plough, which has major installations in Union and Kenilworth, rights to develop and market Intradur, an isosorbide 5-mononitrate, in the United States.

According to the American Heart Association, there are approximately 2.5 million angina patients and 300,000 reported new cases each year in the United States. Angina is a progressive disease typically marked by severe chest pain due to heart muscles that are experiencing oxygen deprivation. At present, there is no product comparable to Intradur on the U.S. market.

"Intradur will complement our highly successful line of Nitro-Dur transdermal nitroglycerin patches with a strong entry in the oral nitrate market, which commands a significant share of all nitrate prescriptions," said Donald R. Conklin, president of Schering-Plough Pharmaceuticals.

"As the first once-daily product in the oral market segment, Intradur will have an important advantage over competing products," he said.

"In addition, Intradur uses a proprietary delivery system that provides patients with an appropriate nitrate interval, in concurrence with the nitrate regimen now recommended by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to minimize the development of tolerance," he added.

A WORD OF ADVICE TO DISSATISFIED BANK CUSTOMERS EVERYWHERE.

If it seems your bank is more interested in their own finances than they are in yours, there's a very effective way to express your displeasure. Take your business elsewhere. At Carteret, we know that's your prerogative. So we do everything in our power to make sure you don't exercise it. For example, we offer interest-earning checking accounts with no monthly fees* And special senior citizens' checking that's absolutely, positively, in every way free. We never charge an ATM fee, either. And our savings and CD rates are among the best in New Jersey. We even offer a wide selection of consumer loans and mortgages. (So far this year, we've loaned over one billion dollars.) So if you're looking for a bank that's as concerned about keeping your business as they are about getting it, call 1-800-225-0165, ext. 15 for the Carteret branch nearest you. Then stop in and talk to us. You'll never want to leave.

*Minimum balance of $500 to earn interest and avoid service charge. Minimum balance of $100 to open. © 1989 Carteret Savings Bank, PA. Deposits federally insured up to $100,000.
