Weaving-wonders shown at Trailside

A new and innovative exhibit titled "From Disposables To Home Decorating" will be on display at the Trailside Nature and Science Center until Monday, June 25.

The exhibit features unique weavings of different styles and colors created by fiber artist Joan Housman, all woven using recycled non-biodegradable plastic bags. The weavings serve as works of art and functional products as well. The rugs on exhibit at Trailside are available for purchase, but Housman will also custom-create rugs for purchase to coordinate with an individual's color scheme. The exhibit is available for viewing during Trailside's regular operation hours, from 1 to 5 p.m. daily. For further information, one can call Trailside at 789-3670.

Red Cross meets

The Summit area chapter of the American Red Cross recently held its 73rd annual meeting at the Canoe Brook Club.

Chapter Chairman Howard J. Wallis mentioned, as significant highlights of the year, the better distribution of community representation among officers and board members, a major revision of chapter bylaws, and the progress made by the Disaster Response Committee in completing agreements with member Harold A. Weideli Jr., mayor of New Providence, spoke to the group of 75 attendees on the subject of "The Role of the Red Cross in Emergency Management Planning," stressing that everyone should know what to do before the emergency happens and that everyone concerned should keep lines of communication open.

Directors of the board for the Summit area chapter were elected to serve three-year terms from July 1990 through June 1993 and to fill vacancles in the 1990-1991 and 1990-1992

Included among those elected to the board of directors was Joseph ons from Springfield.

Union County wins 9 national awards

Union County has received nine awards from the National Association of Counties (NACo) 1990 Achievement Awards Program, announced Gerald B. Green, Union County Freeholder chairman.

"NACo awards are given annually to member counties for programs and services that 'successfully address significant concerns,' and are cost efficient and innovative and benefit the residents," said Green. "It makes me extremely proud to know our county employees are constantly working to upgrade the quality of life of-our-citizens, as shows through these awards."

James Connelly Welsh, Union County Freeholder vice chairman, said that Union County "traditionally ranks in the top 10 percent in the nation" in receiving NACo awards. "Since 1976, we have garnered 172 of these prestigious awards, that are given for 'ingentrity and creativity." The 1990 winners are:

She decorates a wedding for famous singer

When Dawn Cushing of Union danced to the music of "How Much Is. That Doggie in the Window?" at her first dance-recital at the age of 3, she had no idea that someday she would be working for the singer who made that song famous - Patti Page!

Cushing, who is now 22 years old, a professional freelance floral desigser and a professional Gold Medal ice skater, wasn't even born when Patti-Page was at the height of her career. "That's the irony of the whole thing," the lovely Unionite muses during a recent visit to this office. "I'd done work in California before, and many of the florists there know me. So, when my phone rang three months ago, and this friend of Patti Page said she got my name from someone and requested that I design the floral arrangements for Patti Pago's wedding, I just checked my calendar, then agreed to do it. She simply said, 'I'm Cushing explains that "they paid for my trips out there and everything. The wedding took place just outside of San Diego, the day before Mother's month before and ordered all the flowers. Since she was remarrying, she didn't want a lavish wedding. Patti was wonderful to me. And she looks marvelous. In fact," smiles Cushing, "she looked like she was in her 40s.

"She married a man named Jerry Feliciotto. Her sister was her maid of honor, and there were five flower girls. and a little ring bearer. I created her bouquet in a romantic cluster of pink and white roses and lilies of the vallev. When I was showing her how to hold her flowers, and I helped her with her hair piece, she thanked me for everything. And she looked beautiful," sighs Cushing.

All night birdsong

for the birds

By JOHN B. WOLF

Union County College A popular song that tells how the nockingbird is singing all night long escribes the antics of a bird that once was unusual in New Jersey. Now its melodies are heard in most parts of the Garden State.

After the trafficking in caged "mockers" became illegal in 1906, the bird's population in the northeast states increased. Prior to 1900, the mockingbird was rare and ematic north of central New Jersey.

The peak of the breeding season for the "mocker" in New Jersey is late May and early June. It likes to emit its notes from a perch in a tall treetop. When you listen to one of these bird sing, you might note that it seems to exhaust itself by using all of its energy the Deep South, it is thought that the "mocker" sings "down the chimney after dark."

Be cautious when you walk near a shrub that holds a mockingbird's nest. This bird attacks dogs, cats and people that invade its territory or that pose a threat to its young.

The "mocker" is a member of a family of birds that is exclusive to the Americas. This group of avians also include the songs of other birds in the notes that they mimic.

Burning Issue

The first mistake was pressing charges against that lone flag burner outside the Republican Convention in Dallas in 1984. If he had been ignored — or just reprimanded for tastelessness - there would have been very few American flags burned. Now, however, because of the great national-hubbub started by the prosecution of that fellow, flag-burning has become a popular attention-getting device among protestors. Protestors, especially those who philosophically dwell on what used to be called the "lunatic fringe," crave the media's eye. Now they can get it almost at will - just burn a flag and the cameras will be there, whether you are protesting the American position on Lithuania or the price-of-pistachio-nuts. And if the police haul you away, all the better — you're a martyr to the cause. It will all be on the evening news, teaching others how to effectively protest. And that's not the worst of it. Now that the Supreme Court has invalidated a federal law prohibiting flag desecration, the issue has again come clamoring-to the main ring of the political arena. Nationwide, on all governmental levels, politicians will be forced to take a stand on whether or not a Constitutional amendment protecting the flag be added to the law of the land. Surely, any elected or campaigning politician who is against an amendment to protect the flag will be labeled unpatriotic by their opponents. Election after election is going to be won by whomever can wrap his or her self more thoroughly in Old Glory. What else, if anything, those elected can offer their constituents will not matter. Of course, the other dire problems that the cities and the states face - problems like garbage, insurance, acid rain, drugs, crime, homelessness - will not go away in the meantime. They will remain, ready to drown incompetent officials and swamp the rest of us.

Passions evoked from the flag-desecration issue promise to get hotter and hotter, being fanned by, mainly, demagogues. It s demagogues more than flag burners that we have to fear. Make no mistake. We also are sickened by the desecration of the American flag. However, we are even more sickened by the prospect of self-aggrandizing demagogues tampering with the Constitution and the American way of life. An amendment prohibiting flag desecration is also an amendment curtailing the right of individuals to protest, a right that the First Amendment protects. The United States is esteemed by democratic people throughout the world because it allows the free expression of different ideas, even ideas that most Americans find distasteful. The Founding Father most responsible for the form of the Constitution, James Madison, explained that to allow the free expression of unconventional notions is a healthy way of denying martyrdom to eccentrics. But too few people read Madison any longer.

We denounce the creation of a loophole in the Constitution, which could be used at a later time to deprive us of other First Amendment rights. We have to ask if it will soon be illegal to criticize the government, or even the president? If Americans who may not agree with their decisions. were forced to accept blindly what the government does, wouldn't we be turning away from democracy? Isn't that what the symbol of the flag is really all about — democracy? Our stance is unpopular since a poll suggests that 80 percent of Americans favor outlawing flag burning. Many of these people include veterans who fought for the freedom that many of us take for granted.

Service people, veterans, and all people who have taken part in the efforts to protect this nation, we ask you to remember that what you struggled and fought for was the United States Constitution and the American way of life, even more than for

Don't let demagogues fan your emotions to the end that your intellect plays no part in the elective process. We call for some measure of reason among the fiery passions. We ask for some common sense. The nation does not need a flag protection amendment. We all need, rather, to walk away from the whole thing — if that is possible — and defuse this issue by disinterest. This great nation cannot be hurt by some charred cloth. It and poisonous methane gas, little Each has adapted to living and feedcan be hurt, and hurt badly, by an abandonment of common birds are trying to warn this state ing in a slightly different habitat than to everyone who is or aspires to be a he has written a song which we must

'Domino effect' believer

The letter to the editor by P. Gardella of Mountainside, published in the May 24 issue of The Springfield Leader/Mountainside Echo, deserves a response While the defeat of school budgets in Mountainside and in the Regional District may be related to separate issues. I nevertheless believe that a "domino effect" exists when residents are asked to vote for two school budgets at the same time. When a voter casts ballots for two separate school budgets by using voting machines in close proximity to each other, it is just too easy for a decision made about one budget to carry over and influence voting on the second. Rather than considering each school budget on its own medits, a vote of ves or no in the first voting booth, may result in a similar decision being rendered in the second vot-

This voting behavior seemed to be reflected in the April 24 results. Regional District voters passed the budget in Berkeley Heights and Springfield. And, the local public school budgets were also passed in Berkeley Heights and Springfield. Conversely, the regional budget lost in Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth and Mountainside, And, in those four communities, the local public school budgets also lost. On the surface, there appears to be a relationship between passage or defeat of the local and regional district budgets. I must also take issue with the statement that our high schools operate fifty percent capacity." This erroneous comment was probably taken from an earlier letter to the editor-which-was-written by Harold Donaldson of Berkeley Heights. Mr. Donaldson was absolutely wrong by implying that our schools are 'half-empty." And, there is no need to perpetuate that falschood. Furthermore, to set the record straight, the Regional Board of Education has not failed "to address a long-standing problem of too few students in too many schools." The Board of Education has addressed this issue and continues to monitor it. Gardella may not like the Board's decision, i.e., to grow down into four small quality high schools and reduce our staff appropriately, but the Board of Education should not be criticized as if they have completely ignored or neglected the issue. On the contrary, the Board has squarely addressed the problem and continues to do so. They have not avoided their responsibilities, as

It is always easy to condemn a Board of Education when you don't agree with ts decision. But, don't accuse our Board of negligence when they don't deserve it. The members of the Board examine the issues, make decisions and take action which ensures that students will receive a quality education. They deserve accolades and praise, not condemnation or denigration by a resident ner, now is the perfect time to think about how you're going to enjoy your vacation. One relatively inexpensive way to see America's beauty and splendor is by touring in a recreational vehicle, or RV, suggests the AAA New Jersey Automobile Club.

A variety of options exist for people planning a vacation by RV. An RV vacation offers you the freedom to go anywhere at your own pace, and enjoy the comforts of home at rates that won't "break" your budget.

"You can fly to many major U.S. cities, rent an RV and travel to a variely of vacation spots," said Anno Machinist, manager of the AAA Travel Agency in Florham Park. "Or, rent the RV from a location near home and enjoy a round trip excursion to the scenic wonders of America, You'll be surprised how many people you'll meet from around the world."

Most RVs are comfortably furnished with a complete kitchen, living area, full bathroom and shower, and several sleeping areas. More luxurious vohicles feature microwaves, televisions and sound systems.

When you rent the RV you will be taking on your vacation, the rental agency will go over all the precautions and important information you will need to know to have an enjoyable vacation. Two of America's largest RV rental agencies are Cruise America and U-Haul International. Both operate an extensive emergency repair network, a toll-free help line for an additional fee, that include linens, blankets, kitchen utensils and cookware. AAA members can receive discounts up to 10 percent when renting an RV from Cruise America if reservations are made through a AAA

Travel Agency.
Although an RV's not as fuel officient as many of today's cars, the cost of a motorhome vacation is estimated to be about half of what you-would spend if you traveled by car, stayed at motels and ate in restaurants. Fuel will be one of your biggest expenses. The cost of renting an RV can range from $46-$171 per day plus mileage depending on the size and extra

"RV vacationers should plan ahead," said Machinist. "For example, make reservations at a campground with RV sites or at an RV park. Since most RVs have propane tanks, you should also plan your route carefully with this in mind. Most automobile insurance doesn't cover an RV so check into purchasing a rider from your insurance company. And, take time to practice driving a Large vehicles and vehicles carrying propane are restricted from many roads, bridges and tunnels. AAA members can receive personalized routings of their trip with markings and detours to accommodate traveling with a propane-tank-"Anyone driving an RV should be aware of the height of their vehicle and signs indicating height restrictions or low clearance on roadways," added Machinist.

Coach makes right call for student-athletes

By MARK YABLONSKY To many, Springfield's Harry Weinerman comes across as easygoing and knowledgeable. To others, he is a friend, one who cares and, above ill else, one who understands.

It is precisely these qualities thatmake him so well-suited for his newfound profession: one of working teen-agers and guiding them toward a college that is best-suited for them, both scademically and athletically.

Weinerman, a happy father of two and the well-known coach of the Springfield American Legion baseball team, began "Athletics & Academics Unlimited" (AAU) in April 1989. He did so because for years he had seen too many instances where promising young athletes - many of them down-to-earth and earnest - had enrolled in schools that at the time seemed to be good choices, only to prove just the opposite later on.

"I felt it was imperative that all potential." those nice young faces didn't have frowns on them." explained Weinerman, who is also a former scout for the Cleveland Indians. "Also, being he parent of a student-athlete and knowing the many pitfalls of the recruiting process, and knowing most young students and their parents are lost in the steps of finding the right college, I felt there was a viable need each day to and from work in order to afford your first home. River's Edge, a new townhouse community accessible, convenient Union, situated at 833 Valley St. off Vaux Hall Road offers first-time buyers luxurious nev townhomes close to Manhattan and all major employment centers in the Metropolitan area at an incredible

"River's Edge is the ideal nev home for a professional working couple looking to break into the expensive local market," explained Michael Romanelli, developer of River's Edge. "This new community is very close to many of the major highways that are essential to commuters. Routes 78, 22 and the Garden State Parkway are less than five minutes away by car from our fine location near downtown Millburn," he added. Romanelli also noted that a commuter bus line operates only one

Each of the 28 townshomes offered at River's Edge has two or three spacious bedrooms, an almost unheard-of 21/2 bailts, an ample amount of close and storage space, a big living room and formal dining room, a kitchen with elegant cabinetry and all appliances, a full basement and much more. Some units also offer a woodburning fireplace and outside rear decks as optional extras.

A unique feature of this new community is the private 11/2 -acre park that or that encircles the site. This pleasant area will offer residents walking trails and open space to enjoy.

River's Edge offers first-time buyers the unbeatable combination strategic location, high quality and luxury, and an affordable purchase price of just $134,900. There is also a low monthly maintenance fee of only $64. Be sure to visit the River's Edge Sales Center and furnished model. open daily, except Wednesday from 11 a.m.-6 p.m. and reserve your new townhome. For information or an appointment, call River's Edge in Union at 964-6253.
