Tenure of chair discussed

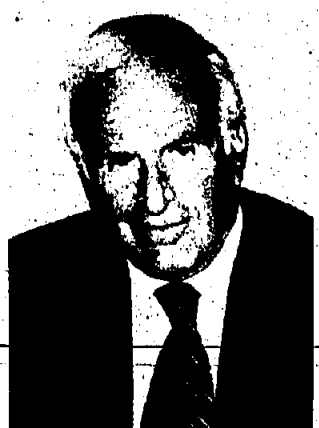

By David Brown
Managing Editor
Should the chair of a township working committee serve at the pleasure of the entire Township Committee, or have the independence inherent in an unexpired, full year term? That question has been a steady source of heated debate on the Township Committee since Mayor Philip Kurnos removed Committee member Jeffrey Katz from his post as chairman of the township's Public Safety Committee.

The volatile subject was once again thrown on the fire this week when Committee member Lee Elson introduced an ordinance to clarify the ambiguous language of standing legislation empowering Springfield's mayor to appoint committee chairpersons—or remove them.

"Every other appointment in this municipality has a definite term," said Katz when the ordinance was presented in the committee's work session preceding the regular public meeting. "The public deserves consistency."

Katz and his Republican colleagues on the committee, Harry Pappas, have criticized the mayor's replacement of Katz with Democratic Committee member Marcia Forman as politically motivated juggling.

Katz argued that the chair of any one of the five working committees, if not appointed for a specific, unalterable term, would be subject to political pressure and the threat of removal.

Philip Kurnos

"That's why members of the Planning Board and Zoning Board of Adjustment are appointed to a specific term—so they're not subject to that pressure," said Katz in one example.

Elson, however, argued the benefits of codifying such flexibility in the appointment process. "This ordinance is an example of the results of positive thinking," he told himself he was the greatest even before he started boxing. He knew he was going to knock out his opponents—he knew it to the point they knew it too.

According to Francis, the academy's program, the only one of its kind, was established 10 years ago and based on proven methods of success. "We went out and asked successful people what they're thinking when competing—how they do it. It's a matter of goal-setting and positive thinking," he said. "That's what

B'nai B'rith leads local relief effort

By David Brown
Managing Editor
Springfield B'nai B'rith Lodge 2093 is leading a local effort to provide financial and material relief to Florida's victims of Hurricane Andrew.

The 400-member lodge, a local branch of the nationwide organization, hopes to deliver financial and material aid to its South Florida affiliate to be distributed among the victims of one of the worst hurricanes in recent history.

Andrew, which hit the Florida coast Aug. 24, left an estimated 180,000 Floridians homeless, and resulted in damage which has been estimated as high as $20 billion.

"Our donations have not been allocated for anything particular," said Joseph Teisenbaum, co-president of the Springfield B'nai B'rith lodge, along with Herbert Ross of Mountside. "We'll send it down for them to use as they see fit."

Teisenbaum said the first shipment of money and supplies is expected to go out sometime this week. This and subsequent shipments will be sent via Delta Air Lines, which has offered its pro bono services for aid programs to the region.

While Teisenbaum said the lodge's inaugural donation drive on Aug. 30 produced about $400—which will be matched by B'nai B'rith—organizers are still soliciting medical and pharmaceutical supplies from various companies in the area.

"We're having problems getting things together," said Ross, outlining the combination of supplies B'nai B'rith in Florida categorized as most desperately needed.

Included on the aid list is mosquito repellent, Band-Aids, colic medicine, lotions, Cort-aid, childhood disease vaccines, Pampers and baby formulas.

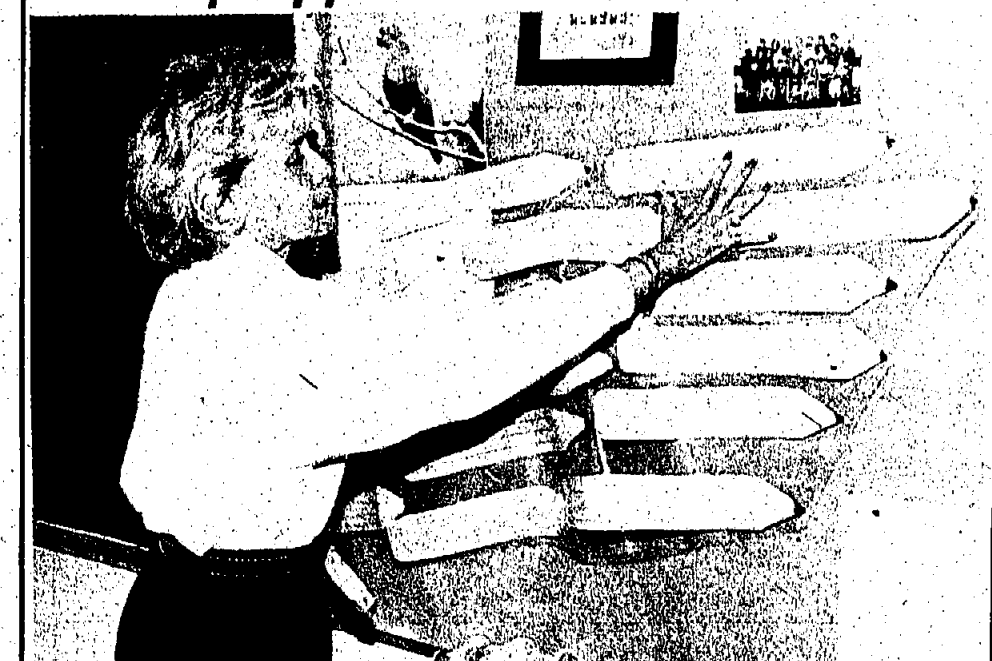

The list, however, is by no means restricted to these items. "They need everything," said Ross. "They were wiped out. You can't get a Band-Aid anywhere in the four-county area."

According to Teisenbaum, B'nai B'rith is hoping to join forces with Temple Beth Ahm in Springfield and other organizations to bolster the relief program. But he said the local response has not been overwhelming.

"Eight-hundred dollars was a good kickoff, but we'll continue this effort for as long as it takes," said Teisenbaum. He added he was pleasantly surprised by the amount raised upon the initial request for donations, particularly in light of the depressed economy.

B'nai B'rith responded similarly to a disaster some five years ago when it ran an aid program for victims of a Pennsylvania flood.

Township gains ground on five-acre search

By David Brown
Managing Editor
Springfield is gaining ground on ground they've been attempting to gain for some time now.

According to Committee member Harry Pappas, the township may finally have located a parcel of land in the Houdaille Quarry which might simultaneously fulfill a pledge made by the county and also the needs of Springfield.

Harry Pappas

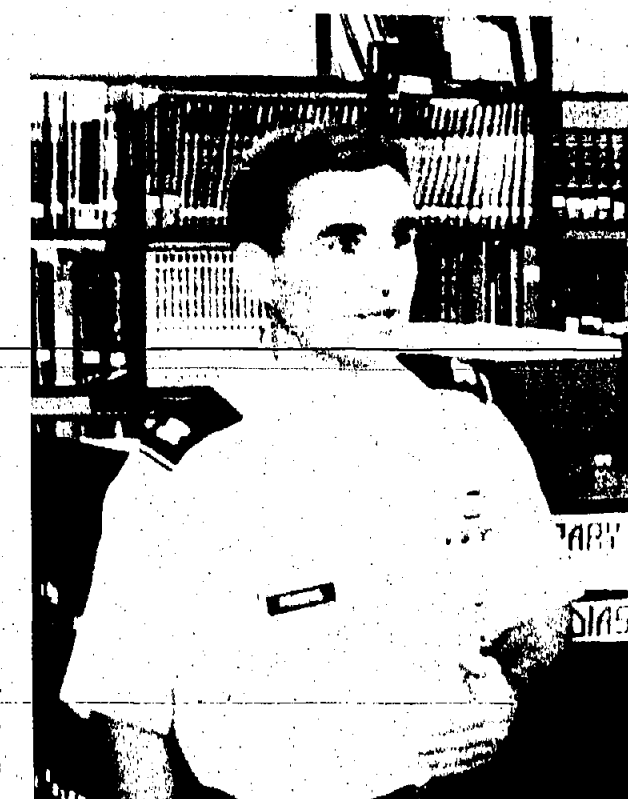

Officials in Springfield have long proposed relocating the township's Public Works garage on the promised five acres in order to free up space at the DPW's current location in the township proper.

The acquisition of the promised parcel, however, has been delayed by debate surrounding the status of the Houdaille Quarry, and the county's reluctance—and, at times, ability—to simply give up five acres of land.

Springfield's stewardship of any tract of land it acquired would be subject to the terms of the county's lease agreement with the state.

Union County now has a 25-year lease agreement with the state for 93 acres of the quarry. That arrangement, however, is being challenged in the Assembly, where legislators are attempting to extend it to its original duration of 99 years.

Pappas' most attractive find did not go unchallenged. Marilyn Schneider, chairperson of the Springfield/Summit Coalition for the Preservation of the Environment, peppered Pappas with questions about the proposal.

Army Captain William Francis addresses Jonathan Dayton's tennis team on the benefits of positive thinking last week at the high school.

See your future — be your future

By David Brown
Managing Editor

If you tell yourself you will remember every major point in this article, you probably will.

That is the power of positive thinking, and that was the message delivered last week to a contingent of young athletes preparing to begin tryouts for the high school tennis team.

"If you believe you can, you will," said Army Captain William Francis, a West Pointer who lectured the tennis team hopefuls on the thrust of the Military Academy's Performance Enhancement Program.

Francis, a Dayton graduate who made a name for himself as one of the top high school wrestlers in the state, encapsulated the academy's 12-hour seminar on performance enhancement into an hour and a half lecture to give the students a head start on the court as well as in the classroom.

"This method is very simplistic," Francis explained. "It's just a matter of thinking positively, capitalizing on your positive experiences and learning from the negative."

Equipped with video tapes, handouts, overhead projections and the storybook "The Little Engine That Could," Francis addressed the group at the invitation of Dayton tennis coach Rick Iacono, outlining the path to reaching one's true potential.

"It's all visualization and imagery," Francis said. "You have to see yourself where you want to be, whether it's acting someone on the court or being an A student. Self-image is the crux of performance enhancement. Eventually, you become what you think you are."

Francis offered former boxing champion Muhammad Ali as an example to make the process more democratic, he said. "It provides for a more orderly selection process. I see no significant value in having one person remain on one committee for an entire year."

Pappas termed the flexibility clause in the ordinance a "belter-skelter" approach to government, and "willy-nilly." "Where's the wisdom?" he said, reciting minutes from the committee's reorganization meeting Jan. 1 stating the appointments were made for the calendar year 1992.

Kurnos' decision to remove Katz from the Public Safety Committee was initially attributed to a conflict of interest, as Katz is a lieutenant with the Police Auxiliary.

Kurnos held firm to the decision throughout the debate, which escalated into a shouting match between him and Pappas.

Forman supported the move. "It may be expedient or more effective to shift committee assignments if the majority of the committee agrees," she said.

Forman, Elson and Kurnos voted in favor of the ordinance's introduction, while Katz and Pappas opposed it.

Mandatory recycling flow to be expanded

By David Brown
Managing Editor

Springfield residents will be required to include three additional items in the recycling flow in conjunction with the county's expanded program.

Corrugated cardboard, steel cans and plastic bottles will join the family of mandatory recyclables in Springfield upon the passage of an ordinance introduced this week by the Township Committee.

Springfield residents currently recycle newspapers, glass containers, aluminum cans, clean bottles and mixed paper, used motor oil and roofing material. Commercial establishments are required to separate the vehicle batteries, food waste in addition to the above residential requirements.

"This is the way of the future," said Mayor Philip Kurnos upon the introduction of the ordinance outlining the expanded program. "When recycling first began, residents complained, and said it was so easy to just throw things out and be done with it. But this is our environment. It's our future, and I'm pleased to see progress."

"I know this will cause some storage problems for some people," said Committee member Marcia Forman, "but we'll get used to it."

Forman is spearheading the search for a recycling coordinator for the township.

Mountainside VFW post mourns loss of Sanders

Leonard "Lenny" James Sanders, 99, died Aug. 28 at the J. P. Kennedy Hospital in Edison. Mr. Sanders was a student at the Lincoln School. He worked for many years in the stock room of the Diethelm-Corp., a division of Singer Corp. Late in life, he became a resident of the Senior Citizens Complex on Boynton Avenue. In 1988, he moved to the Old Soldier's Home in Menlo Park, Edison. At the memorial service, he was remembered by his friends as an enthusiastic and happy man, always ready to go places, having a youthful zest for life, always enjoying good food. A nephew, Ivar Johanson of Westfield, is his sole survivor. Interment took place in the New Jersey State Veterans Burial Home, 1100 N. 1st St., Jersey City, N.J. Mr. Sanders was preceded in death by his wife, Mrs. Mary Sanders, who died in 1962. He is survived by his son, William C. Doyle, Veterans Memorial Cemetery, Ameystown, with arrangements made by the McCriskin Home for Funerals.

Prout to head court reporters association

John J. Prout of Springfield was named a director of the 30,000-member National Court Reporters Association at the organization's 91st annual convention in Chicago. Owner of a mid-size freelance reporting agency, Prout has served on several NCRA committees and as a state delegate to their national convention. In addition, he is a member and past-president of the Certified Shorthand Reporters Association of New Jersey. Last year he served on the New Jersey Supreme Court Committee on Court Reporting. Prout was named a Fellow of NCRA's Academy of Professional Reporters in 1984 and received the CSRA/NJ distinguished service award in 1980. He is a graduate of the Merchants & Bankers School in New York City. NCRA is the professional association for the court reporting industry. Its members include official court reporters and freelance reporters who are responsible for making accurate transcripts of court proceedings, federal and state legislative proceedings, depositions, arbitrations, business and union conventions, and other events that require an exact record of what takes place. Its membership extends from the United States into Canada, Great Britain, Australia, Jamaica and the Bahamas.

Lori M. Kirchberger and Dr. Brian Canavan

Kirchberger-Canavan

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kirchberger of Cranford have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lori Marie, to Dr. Brian Canavan of Roselle Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Canavan of Verona.

The bride-elect, who was graduated from Cranford High School, attends Union County College, where she is studying for a nursing degree. She is employed in the radiology department at Union Hospital. Her fiancé, originally from Irvington, was graduated from Seton Hall University, South Orange, where he received a bachelor of science degree. He received his medical degree from the University of Ontario, Ontario, Canada, where he is currently a resident in the medical subspecialty of hematology/oncology.

A November wedding is planned.

Football scrimmage season for area teams in full swing

The hitting has begun. So too have the missed assignments, but for now these games are being played without a scoreboard.

Pro season high school football is in full swing. The area's No. 1 team last year (and the state's), Union, looked good at times and not so good at others during its home scrimmage against Dickinson of Jersey City last Saturday.

Senior linebacker/fullback Brian Sheridan (6-1, 210) had some big league hits on defense. Sheridan (in photo to the right) gained yardage against Linden last year) should be right at the top of any scout's list as one of the elite linebackers in the state.

Yesterday Union had a tri-scrimmage scheduled against Hunterdon Central and Bergen Catholic in Oradell. Saturday the Farmers' host St. Peter's Prep in their game scrimmage.

Other area teams and Watchung Conference opponents, Linden and Rahway, will have their game scrimmages this weekend. Linden, Rahway and Union will open on Saturday, Sept. 19.

Union's Rever named MVP

Lisa Rever, a 1984 Union High School graduate, was named MVP of the Women's Class A Post Pitch National Tournament at Wallace Marine Park in Salem, Ore. Pitching for the New Jersey Blue Jays, she hurled a complete game in defeating the Southern California Jazz 2-1 in 12 innings Aug. 16.

"It feels great to be the MVP, but I have to give all the credit to my team and my catcher (Cheryl Stez)," Rever said. "She calls the signs and my defense does a great job behind me."

Rever yielded 12 hits over 12 innings to the Jazz, but didn't give up an earned run in the game.

"I think I threw a good ball out there, but our defense really picked us up," Rever said. "They really deserve all of the credit."

For the double-elimination tournament, in which the Blue Jays of Bergen County went 6-0, Rever pitched 334 innings without allowing an earned run and had 21 strikeouts and three walks.

It was the team's first Amateur Softball Association (ASA) title.

Paul Clerckens socked a leadoff homer in the top of the 12th inning to give the Blue Jays the victory.

Rever, a physical therapist, helped her own cause by snaring a wild pitch drive up the middle to end the game. Not about to give up her first run of the tournament, Rever stuck out her glove and caught the hard hit ball.

"I've taken a couple off my log and a couple off my thigh in the tournament, so I've gotten used to doing that with my glove," Rever said.

SEASON-NEARING — The 1992 high school football campaign will kickoff Saturday, Sept. 19 for Union and Linden, seen here during Union's 10-0 win in Linden last November. Union (11-0) will be at Plainfield and Linden (6-3) will host Summit. Both will have their game scrimmages this weekend and will face each other Friday night, Nov. 6 at Union. Schedules of area teams appear on Page B2.

Cougars come back to take opener

Thanks to the performance of former Johnson Regional High School standout John Puzanovsky, Kean College went on to defeat Western Connecticut 16-14 last Saturday in opening Division 3 football action in Union. Puzanovsky's transfer quarter-back from East Stroudsburg, connected with Terence Brody for a 32-yard touchdown pass on fourth down and long with 4:44 to play.

The victory came in the debut of coach Brian Carlson before 762 at Zwiellinger Field.

Carlson, Kean's defensive coordinator for the past three years before replacing John Aulino this season, called for the pass when his team faced a fourth down and 11 on the Western Connecticut 32.

Freshman running back Bruce Ryans totaled 205 yards in total offense for the Cougars. He opened the scoring in the first quarter with a 59-yard punt return touchdown. On the ground Ryans gained 97 yards on 22 carries. He added 17 yards on receptions and 91 more on kick and punt returns.

EXTRA POINTS — Kean finished 3-7 last year and was outscored 175-160. The Cougars did not play Western Connecticut or Bridgewater last year. Opponents in 1991 not on this year's schedule include Pennsylvania power Lycoming College and Lowell University. Kean was blanked by both, losing at Lycoming 37-0 and to Lowell 24-0 at home.

Remaining schedule: Saturday at Bridgewater (Mass.) Sept. 19; Lipsia Oct. 26; Ramapo Oct. 2 at William Paterson Oct. 10; Montclair State Oct. 17 at Jersey City State Oct. 31; Gloucester State Nov. 6 at Trenton State Nov. 14 at Salisbury State

When Kids Can't Stop, Look and Listen:

The Problem of Attention-Deficit Hyperactivity

Thursday, September 17th • 7:00-9:00 PM
Presented by: James Cocores, M.D.

Between 2 and 4 percent of all children suffer from Attention-Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), often causing poor grades, emotional, and family problems. For these youngsters, concentration and self-control are almost impossible. Will they become addicted to alcohol, one of the most commonly prescribed medications? What causes ADHD? Do most children grow out of it?

- Does your child start projects but doesn't finish them?
- Does your child have trouble concentrating in school, even though he has above average intelligence?
- Does your child often make you and your family exhausted and exasperated?
- Is your child unable to sit still through a meal or a movie?

If you have answered yes to one or more of these questions, you may want to consult a professional for advice.

In his fascinating discussion of this baffling disorder, James Cocores, M.D., will explain why children with ADHD have difficulty concentrating and interacting with others, and the reasons these children are at risk of academic failure, irresponsible behavior, and substance abuse. Dr. Cocores is the Medical Director of the Outpatient Recovery Centers of Fair Oaks Hospital and author of the book "The ADHD-Cocaine Book of Drug and Alcohol Recovery." He has written several publications and done extensive research in the field of Attention-Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder.

This program is free, but reservations are requested due to limited seating. Attendees will receive a free copy of a book pertaining to the topic of the lecture.

Ashley aces Colorado competition

Johnson first singles player wins LIFE tourney

For one week last month Brent Ashley created quite a racket. Tennis racket to be more exact as the Clark resident excelled in a LIFE '92 Tennis Tournament that took place in Fort Collins, Colo. on the campus of Colorado State University.

Ashley, a senior at Johnson Regional High School, went 5-0 in matches (5-3 in games) to capture first-place honors.

The first singles player for Johnson was one of over 5,000 teenagers, from all over the world, who attended the Christian Youth Conference Aug. 9-15. It was the first time Ashley (his younger brother Drew also accom-

"I had a feeling I could win," Ashley said. "The altitude was different and I had to adjust by using high altitude balls. Some of the kids were really hitting the ball."

Ashley won two United States Tennis Association tournaments prior to leaving for Colorado. His first victory came against Peter Beckus of South Plains in the finals of the U.S.T.A. Metherwood Clay Court Annual Junior Championships. His second triumph was over Rasheed Abdul Haq of Plainfield in the Southern Regional Championships.

Just one day after returning from the Rocky Mountains, Ashley gained

Designer traces fashion bug to military service

By Lisa Batitto
Entertainment Editor

Being in the military for three years was just one of the events in Mayola Welborn's life that tapped her creative talent for designing and sewing clothes.

Welborn, who hails from Irvington, said she never had any formal training in sewing or designing, but while she was in the military, she had the opportunity to see "what people liked and what people wore."

But even before she signed up, Welborn had her first stab at creating clothes when she was a student at Berringer High School and her mother bought her a sewing machine.

"My family couldn't afford to buy me everything I wanted so I would purchase fabric for clothes because I wanted to look as nice as everyone else. People would ask me where I bought the clothes and when I said I made them myself, they would tell me that I had talent," said the mother of two who works for the Newark Postal Service.

Originally, Welborn only created clothes for herself, but eventually she started sewing for other women and men. She dubbed her line of clothing "Body Sculpture" because she said they "sculpt your body and shape you."

She recently had her first fashion show at the Peppercorn Lounge in East Orange and 65 to 75 pieces were modeled, running the gamut from lingerie to activewear to evening gowns. Welborn said she and her husband hired the models and master of ceremony for the show, and choreographed the music.

She credits the encouragement she received from her friends and with her decision to follow her dream to go into the fashion business.

Welborn said that when she sets out to design an outfit, she follows a strict routine.

"I buy material and before I sew, I lay it out to see what the fabric will look good as — a dress or pants suit, for instance. I draw my designs in advance, and I keep a pen and pad with me at all times and sketch. I look at colors and if I see a color I like, I look for it in fabric shops.

"Once I've created the size and shape for an outfit, I add frills and pleats," she said.

"I do a lot of sewing for wedding Ladies. They will say they want a dress for a certain occasion, then I'll come up with an idea and draw it from there."

Welborn said the line of clothing is suitable for people of all sizes and lifestyles.

"There is something for everyone — mini and long skirts, lingerie, bathing suits, party wear, evening wear, and business suits," she said. "The clothes are elegant, chic and trendy. The clothes are easy to fit into everyone's budget and a lot of them are handwashable."

"My fashions are not real exotic like in Paris; some are on a conservative level but my lingerie and bathing suits are chic and sexy," Welborn said.

Welborn said she admires many men's clothing designers, and top designers Willie Smith, Calvin Klein and Diane Von Furstenberg. She also likes the clothes that were featured in American movie classics because she said they were done "impeccably well."

Unlike all fashion designers, Welborn said she keeps in mind that not all women are perfectly proportioned. She said her clothes can be worn by full-figured women as well as petites.

"My clothes can be worn by all body types," she said. "My clothes can be transferred from petite to full-figured and still look nice. The models in my fashion show ranged from short to tall so you got a view of every type."

"Unfortunately, when many designers find one style, they play on it. For example, take mini-skirts. A lot of women are uncomfortable in them. I do not forget those who do not wear what is 'in.' Everything is not for everybody; you have to have a variety and not focus on one group of women," she said.

Straley works shown in visual arts exhibit

The Warner-Lambert Co., Morris Plains, is presenting an exhibition in its corporate headquarters atrium called "Dialogues With Reality: Painting by Richard Straley." The exhibition, organized by the New Jersey Center for Visual Arts, Summit, will be on view through Sept. 18 and will feature selected works from the recent exhibition of Straley's paintings at NJCVA, which was underwritten by Warner-Lambert.

"Richard Straley is an exciting, significant artist whose work is a true testimony to the resilience of the human spirit," said George S. Bolge, executive director of NJCVA and co-curator of the exhibition.

While teaching a painting class in 1980, Straley suffered a stroke which resulted in the paralysis of his right side and loss of speech. Following his stroke, Straley was asked to participate in "Project Zero," an experimental program for stroke victims at the V.A. Medical Center in Boston. After months of extensive testing, doctors determined that the areas of Straley's brain controlling creativity remained intact. This revelation encouraged Straley to continue to pursue personal expression through the use of his artistic knowledge, talent and sensibilities and to resume his artistic career in spite of physical limitations.

Straley began to paint with his left hand. His wife, family and friends encouraged him, before long, the work began to flow. A prolific artist before his stroke, Straley has returned to the easel, to rediscover himself both as an artist and as a person. His paintings "not only represent the persistent creativity of a creative individual confronting his environment, but they also symbolize the finest qualities of the unconquerable human spirit."

"Warner-Lambert is pleased to sponsor this exhibition which reflects of the company's ongoing commitment to providing support for the artistic and creative abilities of its employees," said Evelyn Self, Warner-Lambert's director of community affairs.

Waxman receives award

At the Governor's Conference on Tourism, local resident and Paper Mill Playhouse director of marketing Debra Waxman received the 1992 Pinnacle Award, a competitive industry-wide honor for outstanding contribution to the state's tourism industry.

The award ceremony was held at the Sheraton Meadowlands, was attended by Gov. Jim Florio, along with representatives of the hospitality, travel and cultural industries, and members of the New Jersey Council on the Arts.

Ensign Dillbeck, director of the state's division of Travel and Tourism, lauded Waxman's accomplishments, saying "Our congratulations for being the recipient of this year's Pinnacle Award. It is a well-deserved tribute to your unselfish efforts on behalf of New Jersey tourism."

"I have been truly excited to play such an important role in the ongoing success of the Paper Mill Playhouse since its reopening in 1982," Waxman said. "I look forward to working with my colleagues in the cultural and tourism communities to further strengthen the position of New Jersey as one of the nation's premier cultural and tourism destinations."

Waxman has been active in New Jersey's cultural and tourism industries for many years. She currently serves on the board of directors of the newly-formed New Jersey Travel Industry Association. As an eight-year member of the Garden State Tourism Council, Waxman has held various elected positions, including the presidency, for two years.

Additionally, she has served as a panelist on several workshops for regional cultural and heritage offices and is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Friends of Edison National Historic Site in West Orange and the Summit Child Care Centers.

For many years, Waxman has been an advocate of the need for partnerships between tourism and the arts to promote the state and has been instrumental in providing insight into the tourism industry as a guest lecturer at Kean College and at a variety of speaking engagements representing the state and the Paper Mill Playhouse.

Two executives named to performing arts center board

Two chief executives of New Jersey-headquartered pharmaceutical corporations have been elected to the board of directors of the New Jersey Performing Arts Center, expanding the center's governing board to 35.

The two, Melvin R. Goodes, chairman and CEO of Warner-Lambert Company, and Robert P. Luciano, chairman and CEO of Schering-Plough Corporation, "are outstanding business executives who bring to the board a wealth of experience and a solid record of innovative leadership," said P. Roy Vagelos, chairman and CEO of Merck & Co., Inc., and chairman of the NJPAC Board Selection Committee.

Vagelos said, "The executives on the NJPAC Board recognize that NJPAC will be an enormous new asset in retaining and recruiting employees for the New Jersey business community. Our two new board members further link industry's commitment to the center."

Goodes began his career at Warner-Lambert in 1965 and climbed through the international company's many divisions until being named chairman and CEO in 1991. Born in Canada, Goodes holds an MBA from the University of Chicago and is active on the boards of Chemical Bank, Chemical Banking Corporation, United Corporation, Joint Council on Economic Education, Queens University in Ontario and the International Executive Service Corps.

Following a legal practice with the firm of Rogers and Wells in New York City, Luciano joined the law department at Ciba Corporation in 1966. He held various positions with Ciba-Geigy Corporation and was named president of the pharmaceutical division in 1975.

In 1978, Luciano joined Schering-Plough Corporation as senior vice president for administration and following a series of job promotions, was named president and CEO in 1982. The chairman title was added in 1984. Luciano is chairman of the New

Volunteers needed for walk-a-thon

The North Central regional chapter of the American Diabetes Association needs volunteers in the Union/Essex/Hudson county area for its "Walk-a-thon" committee. Volunteers are needed to roll this walk-a-thon into action on Oct. 4. All are welcome, including sports enthusiasts, homemakers, college students and business people. Funds from the event will help to raise money to support education and research for the 14 million Americans who have diabetes. For further information, call Karen at 908-388-4733.

For week of Sept. 13-Sept. 19. ARIES (March 21 to April 20) This is a good time to be planning how to improve your financial situation. Your opinion may be sought concerning a community problem, and your ideas might reform a neighbor's good opinion of you. A difficult situation could be sorted out with the help of a Libra friend. TAURUS (April 21 to May 21) Romance is in the air now, and you might find it desirable to apply your energies to domestic matters which, in recent weeks, have received little attention. Have you GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) If you are involved — or interested — in health education, physical fitness training or active sports, you may find some new piece of equipment drawn to your attention, and you might be persuaded to part with some of your hard-earned cash. You're likely to find it was good investment. CANCER (June 22 to July 23) A quiet weekend is recommended. Complicated plans could cause you more stress than pleasure. A nice dinner at home with a few close friends might turn out to be the most enjoyable weekend option. Romance looks promising, and you might be contacted by someone from your past who wants to see you again. LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) This weekend could be a bit tricky. Try to avoid direct confrontations with loved ones. Tuesday or Wednesday, you could be pleasantly surprised to find that you've been invited to do some judging at a show or contest in your neighborhood. VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) You are in a particularly receptive frame of mind to assimilate factual information, so this is an especially good time to study for an exam. Financially, it looks like a rather delicate week, so you'll need to go careful with spending. LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Afternoon meeting during the week could bring a new relationship that may lead to an intense romance. A minor mishap may upset future plans, but it seems you won't miss out on anything significant. This is an excellent time to take a trip overseas. SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) There could be a minor disaster this week, but thanks to your resourcefulness, it could work to your advantage. The advice you give your friends now could be of great importance to them. Even if it isn't taken, the generosity will not go unnoticed. Young children could give you some very SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1992. EVENT: Flea Market. PLACE: Radermer Lutheran Church, 134 Prospect Ave., Irvington. ORGANIZATION: Radermer Lutheran Church. CLARK CHORUS TO PERFORM The Saenger-Chor Newark of Clark, an all-male chorus, will perform at the 19th Annual German Heritage Festival at the Garden State Arts Center, Holmdel, Sunday as part of a series of 10 ethnic festivals. The arts center is located at Exit 116 off the Garden State Parkway. The Saenger-Chor, under the direction of Manfred Kasper, will perform at the mall program as well as in the mass chorus at the main stage show. The festival committee, under the direction of Ted Hertz, has a full day of ethnic activities planned. The entertainment will begin at 9:30 a.m. with singing, dancing, German bands and a soccer tournament. The stage show will begin at 3:30 p.m. starring Karol Gott, Regina Thoss and Tommy Steiner. A 100-voice mass chorus also will perform under the direction of Knop and Johanna Toubson-Prussak. Tickets are available from the Saenger-Chor Newark. Contact Alfred Siefert at 201-373-2762, days, or 232-2567, evenings to purchase tickets. The proceeds from the festival help the Garden State Cultural Fund to provide free programs for New Jersey's senior citizens, school children, the disabled and the disadvantaged. JEWISH SINGLES SUPPORT GROUP TO MEET The Network for Single Living will begin its meeting for the new season and is having support group meetings for single Jews who are divorced or separated. The participants are encouraged to share their concerns with each other and to meet each other. One group will meet on Sunday at 8 p.m. at Congregation Agudath Israel, 20 Academy Road, Caldwell. Hannah Butinsky will facilitate the group discussion and sharing. There is no admission charge. The Network for Single Living is sponsored by Project Joseph of the United Synagogue and Rabbinical Assembly and has announced that it is now providing support groups for divorced/separated parents and widowed persons in various locations throughout the northern half of New Jersey. For more information, one can call 925-3836 in Linton or 944-3477 or by writing to Deerfield and Academy terraces, P.O. Box 390, Linden 07036. UNDERSTANDING SOCIAL SECURITY To have a better understanding of what Social Security means for you, you can request a free Personalized Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement. To get your free PEES from the Social Security administration, complete form SSA-700-APC by writing to the Consumer Information Center, Department 55, Pueblo, Colo., 81009.

Oil exhibition scheduled

The Renee Fossamer Art Gallery at the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, will present an oil painting exhibition through Oct. 25. The art displayed in the exhibition is an invitational exhibition featuring professional artists from New Jersey, Texas, Massachusetts, Vermont and Missouri. The artists included in the exhibition have been featured in leading art periodicals and magazines. Artists from New Jersey include Al Barker, Pat Denman, Paul McCormick, Lloyd Garson, Neil Paulino, Margi Cochran, Frederic Kirkerber, John Traynor and John Barnwell. Artists from out-of-state include Robert DeLeon, Robert Wisniewski and Dean Mitchell. Eddie Bracken and daughters, Susan and Carolyn, are special guests included in the exhibition. The Renee Fossamer Art Gallery is open for viewing Wednesday through Sunday, one hour before performance during intermissions of playhouse productions, and on Fridays from noon-3 p.m. Admission is free. For more information, call 379-3636, ext. 2272.

Say yes to your life

Alcohol is a drug, and you can get hooked on it. The younger you start, the more addictive it is and the more damage it can do. To find out more, write the National Council on Alcoholism, 12 West 21st St., New York, N.Y. 10010.

SCHOOL BUS PLEASE DRIVE CAREFULLY. School's back in session and in the excitement of the new school year, many school-age children, especially the young ones, may forget to look both ways when crossing the street or exiting the school bus. That leaves it up to you as a driver, to be extra careful around school-yards, neighborhood play areas, and departing school buses. So remember...when you see yellow, be sure to see red-as in red alert. Let's all slow down and give our children the chance they deserve. BRITTON & SELIG, PETER A. POA group will hold seminar

City of Newark officials, Business Administrator Olam Grant and Tax Assessor Joseph Frisina, will address the members of the Property Owners Association at its Sept. 16 general meeting. The seminar will be held at the Newark Airport Vets. Hotel beginning at 7:30 p.m. A legal forum will precede the featured program.

"With the recent renaissance and revitalization occurring in Newark, we feel it is important for the POA members to hear how they are affecting the multi-family industry," said POA President John R. Bridgeman. "It may give us ideas on how to renew the spirit in other communities."

Grant was raised in Vauxhall. He earned a bachelor of science degree in political science from Lehigh University and a juris doctor from Catholic University. Grant has spent his entire professional career with the city of Newark. He functioned as an assistant corporation counsel for seven years until 1986, when he assumed responsibility for directing the activities of the Law Department as the corporation counsel. As business administrator for the state's largest municipality, he administers a budget of $400 million to support the activities of 54,000-plus employees, who provide such services as public safety, environmental health, residential and commercial development, sanitation, code enforcement and revenue collections, to name a few.

Joseph Frisina has been with the city of Newark since 1970. He has been the tax assessor for the past 20 years. He received a degree in business from St. Peter's College in Jersey City.

Attendance at the meeting is open to anyone actively involved or interested in the multi-family industry. POA members can attend free of charge; there is a $25 per person non-member registration fee, which is applicable to dues for the year.

Property Owners Associated is dedicated to serving the needs of owners and managers of the multi-family rental properties. The organization comprises owners and managers of multi-family rental properties and other individuals employed by a related business. Through an organized program of information dissemination, project development and educational seminars, the association is keeping its members informed of all phases of the shelter industry.

For further information, contact the POA at 1000 Morris Ave., Suite 200, Union, 07083 or call (908) 964-5010.

Brides: Visions of beauty

Bridal beauty experts advise young women who are soon to exchange "I do's," to put an accent on the "eye" this season.

Makeup professionals at Elizabeth Arden suggest shying away from frost-colored shadows and looking toward soft shades — light grays and pinks. Complementary eyeliner in subtle grays or slate blues, coupled with plenty of mascara to frame the eyes, will ensure a radiant and romantic look.

But, for those brides-to-be with less than perfect vision, eyeglasses can get in the way. For many, glasses can shatter the dream of looking like the traditional and elegant storybook bride.

"With all eyes on the bride, no doubt she will want to look her best and feel completely confident in her starring role," notes Janice M. Jurkus, O.D.

"With the new contact lens technologies now available, eyeglasses needn't be a worry for the bride who has a lot of other things to think about," Jurkus adds.

For those planning to walk down the aisle, there is no need to compromise vision for the sake of beauty. In fact, there has never been a better time to consider trying contact lenses.

Dr. Jurkus advises brides to look into disposable contacts, which are traditionally given out in 13-week supplies. Not only does the use of a fresh, sterile pair of contacts each week offer obvious health benefits, but a spare pair is an excellent "safety net," should a lens be lost or torn on the big day or during the honeymoon.

According to Dr. Jurkus, now through the end of the year, Bausch & Lomb is offering a free trial pair of its See-Quence™ disposable and Medallist™ monthly replacement contact lenses to eligible consumers and suggests contacting a local eye care practitioner for details.

For the many who've considered contacts, but were told they couldn't wear them, Dr. Jurkus advises, "Ask your eye doctor again!"

Bausch & Lomb now offers nearly 50,000 lens options for people with an astigmatism — a condition that in the past has prevented comfortable soft contact lens wear for those affected. These "toric" lenses are also available to correct near-sighted and far-sighted conditions, which can sometimes occur in combination with astigmatism.

Brides-to-be should give themselves time — experts recommend two to three months — to make the transition from eyeglasses to contacts.

Govt. Bridal Originals.

All eyes are on the bride — Bride needn't sacrifice vision for the sake of beauty. Technologically-advanced contact lenses can correct many common vision disorders.

Nature plus recycled equals understated fashion for fall '92

ISPO, Europe's sport fashion show in Munich, revealed a tremendous range of trends, themes, colors and details throughout the collections for casual fall styles.

The burgeoning ecological wave has reached the traditional activewear and outerwear markets. Colors and textures are inspired by nature. They imitate fur, suede, wool and stone without being overly rustic. Prints are wicker, marble and treebark and kept to a minimum.

Fabrics are washed and bleached for soft cottony looks, and fake fur trims are the order of the day. Linen and faux sheepskin in trim a soft, buttery microfiber jacket. Steinhilber also used fake and real furs for trims on smocked microfbers.

At Head Sportswear, black and white faux pony fur hot pants are topped with vinyl slickers lined in the same fabric.

Checks and plaids of days gone by are making an important comeback — a recycled comeback. Look to the whole gamut of checks ranging from traditional tartan to creative toads.

Checks and plaids are at their fashion best when they are old looking, as if purchased in a thrift shop. This retro look inspires unusual checks and plaids of the forties and seventies.

Aged checks are good print grounds for photorealistic prints of baroque graphics, stretch and heraldic.

Current 1981 Sport used a washed down plaid in reds, blues and greens with yellow accents. At Colmar, traditional watchplaids were used in tailored outerwear.

Jans have tucked themselves right back into the fashion forefront as a casual or dressy item. For the more casual look, light colored jeans were shown with either plastic or real leather insets, or accented by new imaginative touches such as old gold embroideries or animal skin prints.

Designers that used jeans as a new fashion staple in their lines were L'Amour, Sportswear and S.T. Dupont.

Autumn casual style will show that understated is "in" and overdone is "out," and that fall '92 marked the departure of the more glitzy '90s.

Eternal beauty.

Designing a beautiful watch is a challenge. Creating a watch whose beauty will last unblemished year after year seems impossible.

Presenting the impossible: La Coupole 'Céramique'.

This unique sapphire and high-tech ceramic watch is more comfortable than any you've ever worn.

Made by Swiss craftsmen, with a precision quartz movement in a water-resistant case, La Coupole 'Céramique' sets a new standard for the fusion of technology and design.

For men and women.

A different world

The dome-like sapphire crystal is bonded to a case and bracelet of scratchproof high-tech ceramics (similar to those used in spacecraft).

Nutley store meets formalwear needs

Cozy Formalwear of Nutley, has served its areas' formalwear needs for more than 22 years with great service, quality and value. Cozy started in 1956 as a dry cleaning establishment. Ralph and his sister, Annette, took over the formalwear department in 1968.

The Savastano family has built a five-store formalwear operation in New Jersey. They have three downtown stores, one highway/strip location, and one highway freestanding store.

Ralph finds their formula for success is tied to excellent customer service in which the New York/New Jersey customer insists and its sales personnel development.

Ralph Savastano is proud of Cozy's team of top store managers, sales associates, plant personnel and office staff. There is a family feel to this operation. The Savastanos expect a great deal from their team and get it.

Cozy Formalwear currently employs 27 people. They operate an 8,000 square foot service center and cleaning and finishing operation within the Nutley operation. The facility was erected in 1966. The majority of the equipment, rack and rail system was installed by in-house personnel.

Ralph finds that utilizing the following methods of advertising gives them the best results: direct mail, yellow pages, telemarketing and fashion shows. Follow-up is critical for the success of the direct forms of advertising.

Cozy Formalwear is 100 percent retail rental. They focus their attention on providing fine retail and rental formalwear through their five stores.

Ralph approaches the formalwear industry with great zest. Ralph's sons, Albert and Ralph, Jr., are in school, but spend all their free time working in the family business. It looks like the third generation will be active in the firm's growth.

Cozy Formalwear is a premier formalwear operation ready for the challenges of tomorrow.

Beauty takes center stage

Few occasions are as magical as the day you get married. It's your time to be a celebrity, a star...the center of attention. As the bride, you make the choices — from the style of your dress and veil to your lovely glowing face.

Now that you've selected your wedding color scheme and theme, it's time to start thinking about the main centerpiece — you! A good rule of thumb for your bridal "beauty rehearsal" is to begin the day the invitations go out (assuming you're giving guests at least a month's notice).

Since this is a once-in-a-lifetime project, a certain amount of preparation is necessary. Here are some tips to help get you started:

- Looking fresh and natural is practically traditional for a bride. The photo album will be pulled out many times over the years, and the last thing you want is to look overly made-up or dated.

The best look to strive for is the radiant, clean-skin look that never goes out of style.

- The basis of everything is the right foundation. If you don't normally wear it, try out a few shades, matching the color to your face and neck — not your arms or hand.
- One foundation that produces a flawless look and is also good for your skin is Cover Girl Clean Liquid Makeup. Its clean scent and 10-shade range make it one of the most popular foundations on the market.
- For the blushing bride — Just being a bride is enough to make any woman's face glow with joy. Mother Nature sees to that, but even she can use a little help when it comes to putting the right amount of color in just the right places.

Test different blush shades, applying a gentle sweep of color just above the apples of your cheeks. Cover Girl Classic Color Blush, available in six shades, is ideal. Its luxurious finish and mirrored compact make it perfect for the "sneak touch-ups" you'll need to keep on blushing all day.

- Water, water everywhere — If being happy makes you cry, you can bet you'll shed a bucket of tears on this day. That's why it's important to wear a waterproof mascara.
- Look for a lash extending mascara in a shade that complements your hair color for the prettiest, driest lashes even through tears of joy.
- Kitable lips — For the most beautiful, lasting bridal lip look, use a product that provides long-lasting matte color.
- Cover Girl Remarkable Lipcolor, a new product with one-third more color pigment, features excellent coverage that lasts all day. Choose from 24 beautiful shades that include, cream and frost.

Model Carol Alt makes a radiant bride...and so can you.

Bridal shop offers dependable service

Helmar Fashions offers its customers dependable service with 20 years of experience in the bridal field.

The owner, Maria Kranko, established her first bridal shop in 1972 in Linden and moved to Elm Street, Westfield in 1976. After four years, due to a lease expiration and increased business, it became necessary to move to the present location on North Avenue with a larger store area and ample parking for customers.

Experience is a very important factor when it comes to planning a once-in-a-lifetime affair like a wedding. Everybody involved in the planning of this wedding wants to feel confident that every dress ordered will arrive in the correct size and order, will be custom-fitted to perfection and ready in time for the wedding. Maria Kranko has been giving this feeling of confidence to everyone of her customers and being in business for 20 years, 16 of which in Westfield, as well as numerous repeat customers, proves it.

Repeat customers, meaning from prom to bridesmaid to bride, for special occasions and yes, even second-time arounds. With a large selection of advertised designer wedding gowns, informals, suits and bridesmaids dresses, you can be at ease once you have ordered your dress at Helmar Fashions and, after the initial deposit, no other payment is required until the time of fitting, shortly before the wedding. Give yourself ample time to order the right dress for your dream wedding and share that feeling of confidence with all of Helmar Fashions' customers.

Palmucci's has wide assortment of gifts

Palmucci's Fine Gifts at 211 W. Scott Ave., Rahway, is owned by Louis Palmucci, a native of Rahway. A small store with a variety of gift items and 14k jewelry items.

Something available for that new baby from a group of Beatriz Potter/Bunnykins, Royal Doulton China line. Citizen watches are always available at a 20 percent discount.

Engagement rings, wedding band ensembles and custom design jewelry are never a problem. Introducing an additional 5 percent to all bridal couples who purchase their bridal party gifts through Palmucci's Fine Gifts.

Friends or relatives interested in giving a handmade item but don't have the time or ability to knit or crochet may purchase an afghan for the bride and groom or maybe a gift for a new baby. All afghans are made by the owner's mother.

Closed Monday and Wednesday. Open late on Thursday from 11 a.m.-8 p.m., Tuesday and Friday from 11 a.m.-6 p.m., and Saturday from 11 a.m.-5 p.m. The phone number is 908-376-0458. Visa, Mastercard and American Express are accepted.

Nail perfection — Beautiful, well-groomed nails complement your overall appearance.

Since you can't run out for a manicure half-way through the reception, do the next best thing: apply an anti-chip protecting topcoat to keep your polish looking fresh and just-applied from the moment you walk down the aisle until you say goodnight!

How to create a romantic haven in your bedroom

People are flocking to bed and breakfast inns in greater numbers every year. The appeal is not the breakfast, it is the luxury of sleeping in a beautiful bedroom that's so enticing.

"Why not create your own romantic bedroom with all the amenities you find in a Bed and Breakfast?" asks Louis Nichole, a home fashion designer.

"A beautiful bedroom," he states, "is a private retreat, a sanctuary from stress, an oasis for communication."

In decorating your first bedroom, Nichole wants you to think "inviting" and "transitory." The Nichole look of 18th and 19th Century Europe has been translated to sheets, wallcoverings and trimmings at affordable prices so that everybody can create their dream bedroom.

A Nichole twin sheet from J.P. Stevens Ultra collection in about five yards of fabric. With twin sheets selling for $7.99 to $9.99, you can afford to use sheets as fabric (the cost is less than $2 a yard) to make bedroom slipcovers, draperies and table covers.

On the Louis Nichole list of what makes a bedroom romantic:

- A big bed — The right size is, of course, purely a personal matter. Some couples love the luxury of a king-size bed, others prefer the coziness of a queen size bed. Still others opt for sleeping in twin beds.
- Whatever the size, be creative about where you place your bed. It doesn't have to be centered against a wall. Louis often places a bed away from the wall, building a comfortable headboard against a wall behind the bed.
- Or the bed can be placed close to the window to take advantage of the view, leaving plenty of space to set up the rest of the room comfortably.
- A canopy — Nothing is more romantic. All kinds of canopies, from basic to elaborate, can be created affordably by using sheets and window valances.

A simple "swag" of sheets around metal bedposts creates an airy, open "canopy."

• Patterns and more patterns — Decorating with Louis Nichole sheet patterns is virtually mistake-proof, because Louis does the coordinating for you.

• "Palatial" sheets, for instance, coordinate with dust ruffle, pillow shams and condoleters in a lustrous color scheme of olive, white and bronze.

• Do-it-yourself projects like covering hat storage boxes in the same sheet pattern or making matching slipcovers, identify the look of mixed pattern patterns.

For even greater pattern variety, you can build an extensive sheet wardrobe over several seasons, as your budget permits, with Nichole "Classics," a group of patterns in rose, butternut and powder blue designed to blend with the entire Nichole sheet collection.

• Comfort — At Louis Nichole sees it, the Comfort Factor includes lots of pillows, the coziness of a big comforter and good reading lamps.

The unique tapestry and lace shades on his antique-style lamps for Grosjean of Palladeville impart the same romantic feeling as his sheet patterns.

Your goal in creating a romantic bedroom should be luxury without time consuming and expensive upkeep. Think of sheets as more than stylish bed-covering. They are affordable "fabric" that can be transformed into dozens of items, including canopies, slipcovers, window draperies and shower curtains.

Using this easy-to-take-care-of, no-iron, percale fabric, everything in your bedroom can always be kept fresh and immaculate, giving romance the perfect environment to flourish.

Send a photo and a brief description of your bedroom decorated with Louis Nichole sheets to "Most Romantic Bedroom Contest," Louis Nichole, Inc., 105 E. 29th Street, New York, NY 10016. Grand Prize: Win a complete bedroom ensemble, including window treatment, sheets, dust ruffle, comforter and pillow shams. For more information, call (212) 685-0205. Deadline for entries is Sept. 1, 1992.

BRIDAL SPLENDOR — The bride is the center of attention in this romantic ball gown designed by Michele Picolone for Alfred Angelo Dream Maker. Hand-beaded re-embroidered lace accents a bodice of French satin. The pleated sash collar is softened with lace and pearl drops and the full satin skirt and semi-cathedral train are edged with beaded lace. The crowning touch: a flowing veil.

Selecting the perfect sweet as your wedding treat

The wedding business is booming! In fact, according to the Floral Report, nearly 2.4 million ceremonies took place in 1991. And, according to a 1990 Bride's magazine readers' survey, the home economist at Duncan Hines, who have been developing reliable cake mixes since the early 1940s, offer an easy-to-follow recipe with instructions for a tiered cake that can be made in a variety of flavors.

The Duncan Hines home economist recommends that before any final decision is made about the wedding cake, the bride and groom should consider the following details:

• Flavor preference — Why serve a traditional white cake if the bride and groom are chocolate lovers?

Duncan Hines Moist Deluxe Cake Mixes are available in 16 flavors, giving the opportunity to take alternatives restricted to white vanilla cake with a plastic bride and groom smiling from the top tier, today's collections run the gamut of flavor and decoration. The home economist at Duncan Hines, who have been developing reliable cake mixes since the early 1940s, offer an easy-to-follow recipe with instructions for a tiered cake that can be made in a variety of flavors.

The Duncan Hines home economist recommends that before any final decision is made about the wedding cake, the bride and groom should consider the following details:

• Flavor preference — Why serve a traditional white cake if the bride and groom are chocolate lovers?

Duncan Hines Moist Deluxe Cake Mixes are available in 16 flavors, giving the opportunity to take alternatives to the traditional white cake. For example, a tier cake with alternating layers of chocolate and strawberry, or orange and spice, are possibilities.

• Decorations — Since the wedding cake is on display for all to admire and photograph, its ornamentation is of major importance.

The cake's decoration can be coordinated with the flowers and color palette of the bridal party bouquets and bridesmaids' dresses. There also are many different frosting motifs, such as basket weaving, ruffles, gingham, shells, drop strings and beads, to make your wedding cake beautiful.

• Number of guests — It might seem an easy and obvious consideration, but a head count will determine such important decisions as the number and dimensions of the layers. The home economist at Duncan Hines suggest that for each box of cake mix, twelve people can be served.

Cake instructions:
First — Preheat oven to 325°F. Grease and flour pan.
Add — For each box of cake mix:

- YELLOW CAKE
- 1/4 cups water
 - 3 eggs
 - 1 tablespoon oil
 - 1/2 cup flour
- CHOCOLATE CAKE*
- 1/4 cups water
 - 3 eggs
 - 1 tablespoon oil
 - 1/2 cup flour

Mix — Blend at low speed until moistened. Mix 2 minutes at medium speed, scraping bottom and sides of bowl with spatula for uniform batter. Pour batter into pan (about 3/4 full) and bake immediately.

Cool — Cool 15 to 30 minutes in pan on wire cooling rack. Remove from pan using rack in support larger layer.

*Use Yellow cake instructions for French Vanilla, Lemon, Orange, Banana, Spice, Fudge Marble, Pineapple and Strawberry Duncan Hines Cake Mixes.

Use Chocolate cake instructions for Devil's Food, Swiss and Dark Dutch Fudge Duncan Hines Cake Mixes.

Thoughtful gifts please newlyweds

If you are stumped for a gift idea for the wedding couple, consider personalized baskets that capture their future dreams.

For instance, if the couple wants to build a house in the woods, a tool chest filled with an electric screwdriver, a book of houseplans and a subscription card to a design magazine, shows you believe in their future together.

If their plans include a trip to Europe, consider gathering the flavor of a particular country in a lovely basket. If Paris is in their plans, a French cookbook, a map of Paris, a bottle of France's most popular liquor, B&B Ligurian, and perhaps spices from the Provence region will start their plans off right. What's more, your gift will always be remembered. WB929270

Bridal trousseau thrives in tough times

Has today's bride-to-be given up dreams of pampering herself with a luxurious trousseau during these recessionary times?

Certainly not! Just as the large wedding is as popular as ever, packing a suitcase filled with a new lingerie wardrobe remains a bridal tradition. In fact, the average bride spends nearly $1,000 building her honeymoon trousseau, according to a recent Brides magazine survey.

"Clearly, women are not willing to sacrifice their romantic fantasies when it comes to this once-in-a-lifetime event," says a spokeswoman for the Woolite® Fashion Forum, which researches fashion trends and provides fabric care advice to consumers.

Brides can take heart, though: The varied styles and fabrics of today's lingerie make it easier than ever to select a trousseau that will take them far beyond the honeymoon. To help, the Woolite Fashion Forum offers some tips on current lingerie styles and how to care for them:

- "Ready-to-wear" lingerie appeals to today's fashion-forward bride.
- Lacy bustiers create beguiling silhouettes when paired with jeans or pants; silky camisoles easily replace the traditional blouse underneath a smart suit; and the silk chemise makes for a chic evening look when worn alone or under a jacket.
- Some lingerie fashions continue to take their cue from menswear.
- Boxer shorts and oversized shirts with feminine touches like floral prints and jewel-tone colors are timeless favorites that are comfortable and fun to wear.
- Important on your first night together as Mr. and Mrs., the honeymoon peignoir can add romance for anniversaries to come.
- A full-length gown embellished with lace and accompanied by a coordinating robe is as popular as ever, particularly in luxurious fabrics like silk.
- Brides needn't shy away from silk; while delicate, many silks now are washable. To keep the peignoir a treasured part of your life for years to come, launder in the gentle cycle, or in a basin of cool water, with Woolite, which won't damage silk fibers. When drying, hang on a padded hanger — a wire one can cause permanent rust stains — and never put silk in the dryer, since it can disintegrate.
- For the modern romantic, sexy teddies, corsets and the new bodysuits or body stockings made from stretch lace are enticing options.
- This lightweight fabric retains its shape nicely, providing for a better fit and longer garment life. It's also safe and convenient to wash spandex and other fine fabrics in the gentle cycle, using pH-balanced Woolite with cool water.
- Also, use an all-fabric bleach like Snowy® on spandex, rather than chlorine bleach, which breaks down fibers and causes discoloration.
- To help the new bride care for her lingerie, Woolite offers a free brochure. For a copy, write to: Woolite Care Booklet, P.O. Box 686, Department SC, Riverton, NJ 08077-0686.
