Springfield Leader

VOL 64 NO 28—THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 1993—24 SPRINGFIELD, N.J. Home of Jeffrey Katz TWO SECTIONS 50 CENTS

Lisa Capoco follows voting procedures at the F.M. Gaudineer School polling place Tuesday with her daughters, Melissa and Michelle. Springfield approved its local education budget as well as the regional districts, which funds Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Local budget OK'd, regional rejected

$8.9M approved 754-420 Four of six towns reject budget

By David Brown

Seventy-four local taxpayers in Springfield supported the local Board of Education's budget Tuesday, a 354 more than the 420 voters that approved the $8.9 million spending plan for 1993-94.

"We're very pleased the community has again expressed faith in the job we've been doing," said Board of Education member Keith Korner, who was re-elected to the nine-member board, along with Kenneth Fagendbaum and Stephen Fischlein, all incumbents and unopposed in their re-election bids this year. "This board is a unique collection of individuals," he said. "We're building on strength."

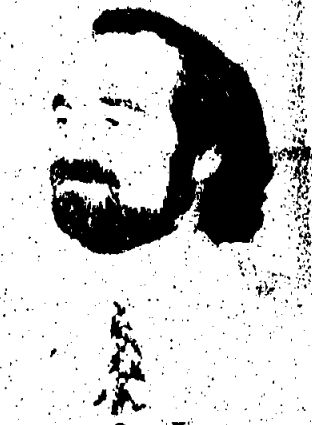

As they have done traditionally, Springfield voters approved the spending plan of just under $9 million, which hopped up the local tax bill for the average homeowner in the township by about $75 over last year.

Respectively, votes for and against the local budget were tallied as follows in the polling districts: District 1, 95-81; District 2, 124-103; District 3, 295-116; District 4, 228-116; Absentee votes, 12-4. The candidates each received over 900 votes of about 1,200 cast.

About 13 percent of the 8,791 registered voters in Springfield went to the polls this week, slightly lower than recent statewide figures of 17 percent last year and 18 percent in 1991.

The turnout in Springfield, however, was several percentage points higher than in many neighboring communities, which hovered around an average of 11 percent.

"I'm very pleased," said board President Gary Tiss, "that the public is aware we're trying to give the kids

"This is a win-win situation," Superintendent of Schools Gary Friedland commented as votes were still being tallied election night. "It's a win for the taxpayer because for education overall, there is no increase: it's a win for the students because they will continue to receive a high quality of education they've not getting. Everyone wins."

Board member Robert Fish focused on the student body of the district's schools: James Caldwell, Thelma Sandmeier, F.M. Gaudineer and Edward Walton — as the primary beneficiaries of a "cohesive and unified" board of education.

In other polling news, students at the James Caldwell School voted on a school memo and favorite author. Respectively, they were: "An Awesome Place to Learn," with 82 votes, and Dr. Seuss, with 66 votes from the junior citizens.

The Union County Regional High School District Board of Education closed a school, reduced its proposed tax levy — and witnessed its third budget defeat Tuesday in the last four years.

The 1993-1994 proposed $30,320,305 tax levy — a 1.73 percent reduction from the current year — was defeated by voters in Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth and Mountainside. Berkeley Heights, which had joined Mountainside last April in an unsuccessful bid to reject the 1992-1993 tax levy, this week joined Springfield in a doomed effort to adopt the measure.

As was the case last year, a large school election day turnout Tuesday by Kenilworth voters — who cast just 44 ballots in favor of the tax levy compared with 1,022 opposed — held the key to the budget's fate. In 1992, the municipal breakdown was Berkeley Heights, 386 yes, 282 no; Clark, 853 yes, 877 no; Garwood, 267 yes, 508 no; Kenilworth, 44 yes, 1,022 no.

"I'm looking for a $2 to $3 million cut," Rego said after the vote. "I don't care if they have to close another school."

Rego stated that rumors were circulating that the regional board had $2 million to $3 million in its proposed tax levy in the event of a budget deficit, which regional officials had expected. The Kenilworth mayor said that through officials and the town's auditor will analyze the regional budget to recommend areas for cuts.

Kenilworth voters had cast 944 in favor and 473 opposed.

The 1993-1994 proposed tax levy was defeated Tuesday 2,530 to 3,224. The municipal breakdown was Berkeley Heights, 386 yes, 282 no; Clark, 853 yes, 877 no; Garwood, 267 yes, 508 no; Kenilworth, 44 yes, 1,022 no.

GOP, Democrats enter local race

By Dennis Schaal

The three-way race for a seat on the Springfield Township Committee is an unlikely, but a "training" race began to come into focus last week as a Democrat, Independent and Republican met the April 15 filing deadline and declared their candidacies for the Nov. 2 contest.

Democrat Herbert Slovic, a construction industry executive, will take on Republican Joseph Cappa, an attorney, and incumbent Mayor Philip Kurmas for a position on the five member governing body.

The winner of the race will potentially be able to tip the political balance on the Township Committee since the remaining four members include two Republicans and two Democrats.

"There has been a constant political fight among some members of the government over the past two years," Slovic said this week in a prepared statement. "The Township Committee is not the place for these personal battles to be waged. It not only wastes the time of the citizens and the township employees but it makes it virtually impossible for the business of government to be attended to."

Kurmas, the incumbent Republican mayor who has effectively been dislodged by the local GOP campaign, announced two weeks ago that he will be seeking a third, three year term on the Township Committee through an independent candidacy.

In a statement two weeks ago, Kurmas argued that his re-election this time as an independent rather than as a Republican would help to thwart the "political maneuvering and backstabbing" that has characterized past campaigns and help "restore the citizens of the community of the best representation they can get."

"I hope to be qualified in the sense that I can approach whatever problems there are from a non-partisan point of view," Slovic said. The Democrat emphasized that he is "not running against" Kurmas, but is "training" for the office because "I know I can do the job."

LiCausi retains regional seat

By Dennis Schaal
Staff Writer

Springfield voters Tuesday returned incumbent Theresa LiCausi to the Union County Regional High School Board of Education for the final year of an unexpired three-year term.

The regional board had appointed LiCausi a longtime activist on the regional and local education scene, to the post last July following the death of Natalie Wald. Margaret Hough is the other Springfield representative.

LiCausi defeated Samuel Lubash, the owner of a steel construction firm in town, by a margin of 766 to 436. "I'm very happy about the election and I'll work hard to keep the quality of education on an upward trend," LiCausi said.

Her opponent, Lubash, had no comment Tuesday about the loss. Asked what triggered her victory, LiCausi said: "People in Springfield know that I've been very interested in the school system for a number of years and they know I've worked very hard at it."

Theresa LiCausi
"I'll work hard"

LiCausi added that she felt her endorsement by the Springfield Leader played a role in her victory.

During the campaign, Lubash had argued that the regional board was fiscally irresponsible and that he had the business savvy to trim the budget. He had indicated that he would vote against the proposed 1993-1994 tax levy, but he did not advocate that township voters do likewise.

The regional tax levy carried by Springfield but was rejected overall by regional voters.

LiCausi, who supported the tax levy and had voted last November to cease operating the high school in Kenilworth, stated during the contest that she wanted to return to the board to finish "the important things," the educational initiatives that the board has introduced.

Baseball on deck

Enrollment keeps going up every year and this is just the first year of Springfield Junior Baseball League president Sy Mullman. A record number of youngsters are enrolled for the 21st season which will commence with Opening Day ceremonies Saturday. A parade to start at City Hall will get rolling at 11 a.m.

Enrollment is going up in all the grammar schools and as a result we're getting more kids in the program," said Mullman, who served on the league's board for the past 10 years.

League play will also begin Saturday with games scheduled at Kenilworth Christian School — where the parade will end, the two Saturdays before the Springfield Post.

Mayor Philip Kurmas is expected to throw out the first ball. The Springfield Junior Baseball League consists of two teams, in a 1992 League, combined with teams from Mountainside, seven May 1 through 14, and K Ball competition.

Impires needed
Anyone wanting to umpire should contact Mullman at (201) 376-9929. The pay is $10 or $12 per game.

Republicans face challenge in 21st legislative district

By Chris Gatto
Staff Writer

Three Democrats have filed nominating petitions and will challenge three Republican incumbents in the race for the 21st Legislative District in November.

Rev. Robert Everett, vice president of the Union Board of Education, and Roselle Park Borough Councilman Michael Kurzwaki will challenge Assemblyman Monroe J. Lashner, and Assemblywoman Maureen Ogden, while Cathie Parsley Scudman of Millburn will challenge state Sen. C. Louis Bassano.

The 21st Legislative District includes Union, Springfield, Kenilworth, Roselle Park and Summit in Union County and Caldwell, Cedar Grove, Essex Fells, Livingston, Millburn, N. Caldwell, Roseland and Verona in Essex County.

Since none of the candidates seeking office in the June primary are opposed, it will mean that their names will also appear on the ballot in November's general election.

Other candidates who have filed petitions making them eligible for the fall race are Independent Linda Dye and Populist hopeful Joseph R. Ayotte. They are both seeking the Senate post.

While Bassano has filed petitions to seek re-election, there is a possibility that he may withdraw his name for consideration to accept a position on the state Casino Control Commission. The senator is expected to bring accepting the gubernatorial appointment, which would expire in August 1994.

A spokeswoman for the governor could not verify that Bassano was a possible replacement on the commission, saying an announcement will be made when a selection is official. The selection will have to be approved by a majority vote of the Republican-controlled Senate.

The senator, though, could choose to fill the commission post and later resign to join Whitman's cabinet, she would, she was in November.

The commission requires that no more than two of the five members on the body be affiliated with one political party. Erwin was selected in 1991 to fill the commission post and later resign to join Whitman's cabinet. Erwin would, she was in November.

Springfield resident lauded for service

By Dea Smith Lifestyle Editor

The first thing one notices when meeting Elizabeth J. Bataille of Springfield, administrator of Cornell Hall Convalescent Center, Union, is her warm, beaming, caring smile.

Then, after pinning her down for a moment — she is certainly on the go trying to make things easier for all of humanity — one notices her love of — inside and out — her genuine feelings and emotions for everyone with whom she comes in contact.

Universally loved and respected for her competence and kindness, this 5-foot-2-inch woman has been doing her job with efficiency, knowledge and gracefulness for the past 24 years.

Perhaps that is one of the reasons why she will be honored as the Citizen of the Year by the Union Hospital Foundation June 11 at a dinner at L'Affaire, Mountaineide, where all who know her will pay tribute to this unique woman.

"It's such an honor," she said glowingly during a recent luncheon date in the convalescent center. "And I'm thrilled to be getting it. We're going to have a little party here too."

"I just love Cornell Hall," Bataille exclaimed. "The day just flew by and I got involved not only with patients and staff and families and children and grandchildren, but it's a whole different ballgame from hospital work. In a hospital, the patients are only there a short time, and families don't get as involved as they do in Cornell Hall."

"We became like one big family. Everyone gets involved with one's welfare. They all try to help each other. Actually," Bataille explained with a smile, "there's a much closer relationship all the way around. We encompass the whole family. And here, it is more informal. We're on a first-name basis, we're more relaxed. It's a whole different way of nursing and working."

Bataille has such an impressive background in the medical profession that there couldn't be a more qualified person to take charge of the large facility in Union. She was graduated from Elizabeth General Hospital School of Nursing, where she received a registered nursing degree in 1959.

From 1959 to 1962, she worked in staff nursing at general hospitals, where she trained in operating rooms, emergency rooms, medical-surgical, recovery rooms, intensive care units and mental hygiene. Then she became a charge nurse in the operating room at UCLA Medical Center in Los Angeles, Calif., for two years. It was at that time that she was trained in highly specialized and routine operating room procedures including neuro heart surgery — "I worked with Dr. DeBakey, only the best" — kidney transplants, neuro surgery, orthopedic surgery and plastic surgery.

"I used to love the operating room. Before I even went to UCLA Medical Center, I worked in the operating room in the Santa Monica Hospital. We did a lot of research in surgical procedures in UCLA. We were the first ones to employ mammograms. It's fascinating to see the things they can do. I loved every bit of it," she exclaimed, "and I did it all! I never got tired of the operating room. I was always very busy and constantly learning. I miss those years, but I love this work."

In 1965, Bataille went into nursing administration at the Hospital Service Plan of New Jersey — Blue Cross — Newark, and from 1968 to 1974, was enrolled in a management training program at Rutgers University.

While Cornell Hall officials were sharpening their budget blades, Mayor Robert Ellement of Clark, another municipality where voters voted to reject the tax levy, assumed a more conciliatory stance.

"Based on the information I've seen in the regional budget, I don't think there is a significant amount of dollars that can be pared and still allow for a good educational system," Ellement said.

Regional Schools Superintendent Donald Morachuk commented after the vote that the results were "just as we expected." He argued that the proposal would have been defeated this year even if the board had voted to keep four schools open because the

Regional budget rejected

Seton Prep notes four

Seton Hall Preparatory School announced that the following residents of Mountaineer attained scholastic honors for the second trimester of the academic year. Those earning first honors with an average of 4.0 include Michael Ciani and Gregory Gutrich. The following students are commended for earning an average of 3.0 or higher: George McDonald and Michael Ross.

Academy assigns honors

The following Mountaineer students have received honors at Newark Academy in Livingston for receiving grades of "A" or higher in each of their courses during the winter term: Grade 10: Blair Gardiner, son of Dr. J. Bracke and Beth Gardiner; Grade 9: James Lopez, son of Manuel R. and Mary Lou Lopez; Grade 7: Jacob Mentlik, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Mentlik, and Grade 6: Doug McNamara, son of William J. and Constance McNamara.

Grade 10: Alyson Halpern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Halpern, Lisa Wolstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wolstein.

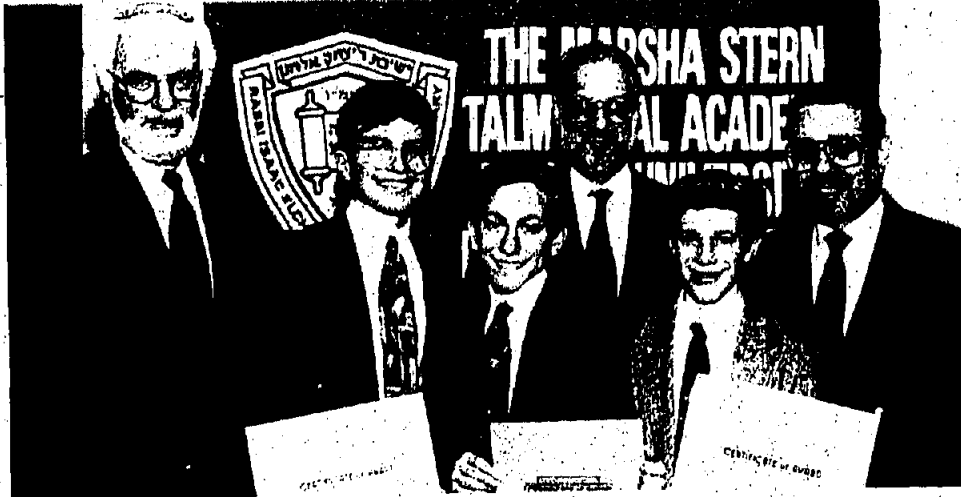

Grade 9: John Cpin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cpin, Stephen Horwitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Horwitz, and Adam Schuyler, son of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew P. Schuyler.

Gaudineer hosts brain marathon

On March 31, 48 third- and fourth-grade gifted and talented students from Clark, Kenton, Mountaineer and Springfield met at Florence M. Gaudineer School in Springfield to compete in the fourth annual Mental Marathon.

Students were divided into four teams and worked together to design logos for their team hats. They then competed for accuracy in solving logic problems, doing research, spelling tangrams, and completing analogies. All students were given certificates of participation. Members of the winning team received blue ribbons.

Outstanding scholars

Alec Borenstein of Springfield was among three students who were designated outstanding scholars at the annual Scholars Day ceremony sponsored by the Marsha Stern Talmudic Academy of the Yeshiva University High School for Boys in Manhattan. From left are Richard Galard, coordinator of general studies; Borenstein; Joseph Kra of West Orange; Rabbi George Finkelshtein, principal; Eliyahu Polak of Teaneck; and Rabbi Ellis Bloch, assistant principal.

Hats off to you!

News From the Stacks

Lobby sale this weekend
The Friends of the Springfield Library will hold a lobby sale at the library on Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Items for sale include glassware, linens, novelties, small appliances, tools, housewares, toys, furniture and more. Costume jewelry will be featured as its own table. The library is located at 66 Mountain Ave. For more information, call (201) 376-4930.

Beating college costs
"How To Beat The High Cost Of College" will be the subject of a workshop on college financial aid presented by Michael Gregson of the Professional Planners Group on April 28 at 7 p.m. at the Springfield Public Library. Gregson will address topics such as how the financial-aid system works and how eligibility is determined, what programs are available and what are the criteria for financial aid. He also will advise attendees about the best time to apply for financial aid and how to avoid the most common financial-aid mistakes. The program is free, but pre-registration is desired.

Student artists to be featured
The Donald B. Palmer Museum of the Springfield Public Library will feature student artists during May. Jonathan Dayton Regional High School students under the direction of Janice Meisner and James Caldwell Program — and students under the guidance of Helen Frank will present a joint exhibition.

On May 19 at 7:30 p.m., members of the BRAVI program at Gaudineer School will present a musical program and public reception. The BRAVI program, under the direction of Mark Majeski, is dedicated to expanding the realm of music creation and composition. This year's theme centers on "Women in Music" and "The World Around Us." Members of the BRAVI program who will perform in the library's meeting room include Ann Battinelli, Jennifer Saganlar, David Brinn, Sara Nggar, David Aizenberg, John Buscicchio and Claire Keller. The public is urged to support the students and their teachers by attending the art exhibit and the musical program. The art exhibit will run daily during library hours.

Thursdays for Preschoolers
The Mountaineer Public Library will conduct Preschool Storytime for children ages 3 and 4 on the following dates at 2 p.m.: April 22 and 29; May 6, 13, 20 and 27. The program will feature picture books, folk tales and special activities for preschoolers. The session will last approximately 30 minutes.

The program will be led by librarian Anne Lyman. Registration is required and may be done by phone, at 233-0115, or in person. Newark history featured
An audio-visual look at Newark titled "A Walk Through History: 325 Years in the United States' Third Oldest City" will be presented at the Mountaineer Public Library on May 4 at 7:30 p.m. Sponsored by the Friends of Mountaineer Public Library, the program is a multi-screen slide show and lecture, providing a historical tour of Newark.

The library program is free and open to the public, and the Friends will offer refreshments to the audience following the presentation. Call the library at 233-0115 for further information.

Conti speaks to seniors

Union County Surrogate Ann Conti will be the guest speaker at the Senior Citizens' Convention and Installation of Officers at L'Esperance Restaurant in Mountainview on May 6.

As surrogate, Conti established a Senior Citizen Lawyer Referral Service in Union County, coordinating with the efforts of her office with the Union County Senior Citizens Council, the Union County Bar Association and the Union County Division on Aging. She instituted a series of seminars on self-proving wills, and projected the Union County chapter of "Project HOPE."

The theme of the convention this year is "Involvement and Visibility." Anyone wishing to attend is welcome. For more information, call Executive Director Audrey Hoffmann at 964-7555.

Fishing derby slated

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders announced that the Division of Parks and Recreation and the East Central District Elks will once again sponsor a fishing derby for individuals with disabilities.

The annual event, open to all ages, will take place May 15 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Lower Lake area of Echo Lake Park in Mountainview. In case of rain, the derby will be held May 16 at the same time and place.

Registration is free, but only pre-registered persons will receive lunch. Prizes and fishing equipment will be made available by the Elks. Anyone interested in registering for the derby must do so by May 7. For further information or to receive the county's bi-monthly program brochure on recreation for people with disabilities, contact the Division of Parks and Recreation at 927-4930.

Speech group ends year
The final meeting of the Union County Speech-Language and Hearing Association's 1992-93 calendar membership year will be held May 19.

The dinner meeting will take place at Corina's Restaurant at 28 North Avenue W., Cranford, from 6 to 9 p.m. Tuition is $28 for UCSHA members and $32 for non-members.

Claire Kantor, executive director of the Summit Speech School, will speak on "Maintaining the Auditory Impaired Child in the Classroom." For more information, contact Syble Bleiweis at 753-5917 or Joan Nowak at 574-9872.

UCSHA's activities resume in October at the first meeting of the association's 1993-94 calendar year.

Carnival benefits palsy
During the week of May 4-9, the Cerebral Palsy League of Union County will sponsor a summer carnival at the Linden Airport, located on U.S. Highway 1. Carnival hours are 6 to 10:30 p.m. Tuesday to Friday and 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Among the many attractions are the hot house, ferris wheel, games, and a strong-arm contest. More than 40 booths and rides will make up the summer festival, and adequate parking is available.

Freelighter candidate Annette Quijano has challenged the date of candidates' running under Linden Councilman William Molloy's ticket off the line for a seat in the Assembly's 20th District.

Another contested race will be seen on the Democratic side, as three slates of candidates have filed for election to the Board of Freeholders.

As expected, Santagata filed nominating petitions by the April 15 deadline to be considered for election after a Republican Screening Committee failed to endorse him for re-election in the June primary. Instead, running on the Republican line will be Pappas and incumbents Linda-Loe Kelly and Linda DiGirolami.

But this week, members of the Union County Republican Committee have called for Pappas' removal from the party's ticket, according to sources who attended the GOP meeting this week.

"What happened Monday night is healthy," Pappas said. "Lou Santagata is entitled to run. Those that were there did not by any stretch of the imagination represent the majority of the Republican Party in Union County. Their action has no legal standing. I received a majority of the votes fairly and squarely. Frank McDermott has not asked me to step down, nor do I have any intention of doing so. I'm going to win in June and I'm going to win in November."

McDermott could not be reached for comment. Santagata, however, said he will "wait to see what happens" with the GOP committee's motion, which formally requested McDermott to ask Pappas to withdraw.

"The party's taken a black eye on this one," Santagata said. "I'm very unhappy about the whole thing." He added, however, that he is "pleased the people who do all the work for the party — the committee members — supported me Monday night."

"Depending on the decision, either party that has not achieved the relief they sought can apply to the Superior Court," he said.

The slate of freeholder candidates running on the Regular Democratic Organization of Union County are Quijano, an Elizabeth attorney; Hillside Mayor Peter Corvelli; and Fanwood Mayor Linda Stender.

Molloy's slate of freeholder candidates are Matthew Ambrolowicz of Elizabeth, Craig J. Eschert of Union and Robert Massey of Roselle.

The third Democratic freeholder slate hails from Plainfield and are running under Plainfield Mayor Harold Mitchell's leadership bid.

Cohen said the inclusion of the two Democratic freeholder slates running off the line does not indicate disaffection in the ranks. The two spin-off freeholder slates were filed solely to protect and benefit the main candidates with whom they are affiliating — Molloy and Mayor Mitchell, he said.

Admission is free, and all proceeds go to the Cerebral Palsy League of Union County.

But this week, members of the Union County Republican Committee have called for Pappas' removal from the party's ticket, according to sources who attended the GOP meeting this week.

"What happened Monday night is healthy," Pappas said. "Lou Santagata is entitled to run. Those that were there did not by any stretch of the imagination represent the majority of the Republican Party in Union County. Their action has no legal standing. I received a majority of the votes fairly and squarely. Frank McDermott has not asked me to step down, nor do I have any intention of doing so. I'm going to win in June and I'm going to win in November."

McDermott could not be reached for comment. Santagata, however, said he will "wait to see what happens" with the GOP committee's motion, which formally requested McDermott to ask Pappas to withdraw.

"The party's taken a black eye on this one," Santagata said. "I'm very unhappy about the whole thing." He added, however, that he is "pleased the people who do all the work for the party — the committee members — supported me Monday night."

"Depending on the decision, either party that has not achieved the relief they sought can apply to the Superior Court," he said.

The slate of freeholder candidates running on the Regular Democratic Organization of Union County are Quijano, an Elizabeth attorney; Hillside Mayor Peter Corvelli; and Fanwood Mayor Linda Stender.

Molloy's slate of freeholder candidates are Matthew Ambrolowicz of Elizabeth, Craig J. Eschert of Union and Robert Massey of Roselle.

The third Democratic freeholder slate hails from Plainfield and are running under Plainfield Mayor Harold Mitchell's leadership bid.

Cohen said the inclusion of the two Democratic freeholder slates running off the line does not indicate disaffection in the ranks. The two spin-off freeholder slates were filed solely to protect and benefit the main candidates with whom they are affiliating — Molloy and Mayor Mitchell, he said.

Admission is free, and all proceeds go to the Cerebral Palsy League of Union County.

Speech group ends year
The final meeting of the Union County Speech-Language and Hearing Association's 1992-93 calendar membership year will be held May 19.

The dinner meeting will take place at Corina's Restaurant at 28 North Avenue W., Cranford, from 6 to 9 p.m. Tuition is $28 for UCSHA members and $32 for non-members.

Claire Kantor, executive director of the Summit Speech School, will speak on "Maintaining the Auditory Impaired Child in the Classroom." For more information, contact Syble Bleiweis at 753-5917 or Joan Nowak at 574-9872.

UCSHA's activities resume in October at the first meeting of the association's 1993-94 calendar year.

Carnival benefits palsy
During the week of May 4-9, the Cerebral Palsy League of Union County will sponsor a summer carnival at the Linden Airport, located on U.S. Highway 1. Carnival hours are 6 to 10:30 p.m. Tuesday to Friday and 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Among the many attractions are the hot house, ferris wheel, games, and a strong-arm contest. More than 40 booths and rides will make up the summer festival, and adequate parking is available.

Freelighter candidate Annette Quijano has challenged the date of candidates' running under Linden Councilman William Molloy's ticket off the line for a seat in the Assembly's 20th District.

Another contested race will be seen on the Democratic side, as three slates of candidates have filed for election to the Board of Freeholders.

As expected, Santagata filed nominating petitions by the April 15 deadline to be considered for election after a Republican Screening Committee failed to endorse him for re-election in the June primary. Instead, running on the Republican line will be Pappas and incumbents Linda-Loe Kelly and Linda DiGirolami.

Nothing 'uncommon' about Whitman's bid

It's no secret that Christie Whitman is in good shape in the GOP primary. She's ahead in all the polls by a comfortable margin. She has a script and recovered from the illegal alien problems of a couple of months ago. An editorial writer recently called Whitman a very "disciplined" candidate. Translation? Whitman only talks about the things she thinks she has to talk about to win. She has a script and doesn't deviate from it. Whitman says the only real issue in this race is Jim Florio and his tax hike.

Whitman does have a point. No doubt it is smart politics to make Florio the issue. The only problem is that the "bush-Florio" strategy doesn't necessarily mesh with what Christie Whitman's campaign slogan, "Common Sense, Uncommon Leadership." In her first radio ad, Whitman states that the Florio tax hike resulted in economic disaster for New Jersey, causing the loss of 325,000 jobs. She added, "Higher taxes lead to fewer jobs, fewer taxpayers and less revenue. Florio taxes mean more tax cuts, more jobs and more taxpayers." Whitman calls for "a new pro-growth tax policy. Tax incentives for research and development and no taxes for one year on small businesses that are just getting started."

Common sense? OK. It is a questionable leap of logic — can you say national recession? — to say that it was the Florio tax hike alone that led to economic disaster. But a lot of folks will buy into the Clintonque talk about pro-growth and tax incentives.

Screening New Jersey

By Steve Aducci Jr.

Some will even call them common sense ideas. But does such common rhetoric about common sense justify Jim Florio's tax hike? It is, except for political pundits who pay taxes in other states.

And as for pro-growth tax policy and research and development tax incentives? Again, where's the uncommon leadership in proposing that? Bill Clinton, along with several GOP legislators and Cary Edwards, have already talked about research and development tax credits. It's hardly a new idea, much less a demonstration of uncommon leadership.

And speaking of taxes. About a month or so ago, Whitman boldly said she would roll back all the $2.8 billion Florio tax hike. When she was pressed by reporters as to how exactly she was going to do that without raising other state services, she backtracked. Today, all Whitman will say is that it is her goal to roll back the taxes. It could take six months or six years.

Why exactly does the Whitman campaign mean by "uncommon leadership" and specifically when did Christie exhibit it? Was it as a county executive? In that post, she voted to raise taxes, so it's doubtful that's what they are referring to. Was it as the head of the Board of Public Utilities? Maybe, but no one really knows what she did in that capacity.

Was it in the 1990 U.S. Senate race against Bill Bradley? She was an effective candidate, but the conventional wisdom is that any Democrat running that year was going to be in, especially one that refused to even discuss the Florio tax plan. A lot of people think her becoming an overnight political sensation was a fluke. I'm not so sure. But did she demonstrate uncommon leadership in that regard?

Christie Whitman is a decent, likeable candidate. If she wins the GOP primary, she will be a formidable opponent for Florio. She knows what people want to hear and is an effective communicator. But there is a whole range of critical issues outside of the Florio tax hike that she will not discuss. She is playing it very safe.

County plans March of Dimes walk

By Steve Aducci Jr.

The March of Dimes recently held its official kickoff for Union County. WalkAmerica at the Stratton Newark Airport which donated its services to the event. The local kickoff was the official opening for the annual, nationally sponsored, fundraising walk-a-thon that raises money for the March of Dimes Campaign for Healthier Babies. This campaign supports programs for medical research, community services, advocacy and health education.

In a brief kickoff program, members of the 1993 Union County Committee for WalkAmerica described their involvement with the event and explained why they support WalkAmerica. They also shared ideas for recruiting walkers and teams of walkers and talked about what the March of Dimes is doing to prevent birth defects and infant death.

Consider volunteering

Volunteerism is the backbone of any community. Without volunteerism, fund-raising projects and other vital services we enjoy would become almost nonexistent.

This week, April 18-24, is National Volunteer Week, a time to remember and recognize all those in our communities who have given of themselves to improve the quality of life in their towns.

From serving on a governmental body to providing emergency medical assistance to wiping down a vehicle at an annual car wash, volunteers are an integral part of our lives. In many cases, a community cannot survive without these selfless people.

There is a great deal of work that needs to be done in our community — and there are just as many people who could be tapped for their expertise. The exceptional efforts of dedicated citizens giving freely of their time often go a lot further toward creating tangible change.

Consider volunteering. Not just for National Volunteer Week, but perhaps for a long-term commitment.

Support your local library

This week is National Library Week as libraries throughout the nation celebrate with a theme of "Libraries Change Lives."

For hundreds of millions of Americans, the library is where they go to exercise their right to know about their past, to improve their present and prepare for the future.

Funded primarily with tax dollars, our libraries are the most democratic of institutions. This tax support — less than 1 percent of every tax dollar — guarantees free access of information to people of all ages — from all walks of life.

In more than 100,000 school, college and public libraries across the country, librarians make books and other information resources affordable, available and accessible.

This tradition of publicly supported library service should not be taken for granted. Now, more than ever, libraries need your support.

We suggest that people do the following in support of their library:

- Visit the library often.
- Get to know your local librarian.
- Consider a tax deductible gift to your library.
- Volunteer your time at the library.
- Join the Friends of the Library.
- Write to your state and federal legislators and demand that library services be viewed — and funded — as a necessary public service.
- Urge school and college administrators to make library funding a high priority.
- Write a letter to the editor of your newspaper to express your concern for libraries.
- Speak on behalf of libraries at campus or community groups to which you belong, such as the PTA, chamber of commerce, Kiwanis, League of Women Voters and faculty groups.
- Invite your librarian to talk to your group about library services and needs.

Avoid that surprise in the next tax season

By Steve Aducci Jr.

Don't risk being surprised next tax season with a hefty tax bill and possible penalties. The New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants recommends that you take the time now to determine if you have sufficient taxes withheld from your paycheck to cover your 1993 tax bill and, if necessary, to update your Form W-4.

If you're an employee, your employer is responsible for withholding income tax from your salary in addition to your wages and any bonuses, sick pay, vacation allowances and most fringe benefits are subject to withholding tax. This earned on your job must also be reported to your employer so they can be included with your regular wages when calculating your withholding.

Certain income you receive from gambling winnings this year will be subject to a tax withholding rate of 28 percent. Winnings from sweepstakes and lotteries will be subject to withholding if the proceeds are more than $5,000.

Beginning this year, almost all distributions received by employees from qualified pension, profit sharing, stock bonus, 401(k) and 403(b) plans will be eligible for rollover treatment, regardless of whether the employee has separated from service, retired, or whether the payments represent all or a portion of his or her plan account. Any part of an eligible rollover distribution (excluding an IRA distribution) that is not directly transferred to another plan will be subject to a mandatory 20 percent withholding for federal income taxes.

It's your responsibility to ensure that you pay both sufficient withholding on your wages and estimated taxes on income tax subject to withholding, such as interest, dividends, capital gains and business income. You will be subject to a penalty unless you pay at least 90 percent of your income tax by the original due date of your return. Depending on the amount of your income and other factors, you may be in compliance with current tax law if your estimated payments, including withholdings, equal at least 100 percent of the total tax due.

Money Management is a weekly column on personal finance distributed by the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants.

County government subject of dialogue

By Tom Canavan
Editor
State, county and local officials from across Union County will come together Sunday during a forum to weigh the pros and cons of county government.

Sponsored by Worrall Community Newspapers, the Union County Roundtable is a forum whose purpose is to bring together the people who have the ability to effect positive change in the county and to keep the public abreast of what county government is doing and what it should be doing. It will be held on the Cranford campus of Union County College from 3:30 to 4 p.m. Admission is free and the public is invited.

In "County Government: Burden or Blessing?" 16 panelists representing three levels of government and representatives of community organizations will have the opportunity to debate whether or not county government is effective for the taxpayers it serves.

"People seem to want to talk about county government, but it also seemed like the forum was never there," said Glenn Fannick, a co-producer of the Roundtable and managing editor of the company's Linden Leader and Roselle Spectator.

"This is a live opinion page meant to provide that forum," added Dave Brown, another of the company's managing editors.

Some of the topics to be discussed include: regionalization of services, the county budget, an overview of county services at the state and local levels, and the future of county government.

Hospital sets programs on kids, women

The public is invited to a free educational event sponsored by Children's Specialized Hospital in honor of Better Hearing and Speech Month in May.

"The Detection and Prevention of Speech-Language and Hearing Problems in Young Children" will be presented for parents and teachers on May 5 from 7 to 9 p.m. at Children's Specialized Hospital, 150 New Providence Road, Mountainside.

Professionals in the speech and hearing department of Children's Specialized will describe the normal learning process that child must acquire to develop the ability to communicate.

"Early identification of speech, language and hearing problems can help children avoid serious learning and social problems when they reach school age," said Ellen Kamel, director of the hospital's speech and hearing department.

Also reviewed will be signs of potential speech-language and hearing impairments in young children. The presenters will outline steps that parents and teachers can take to recognize and remedy these problems.

"Kindergarten readiness is a critical point in a child's life. Children who are affected by speech, language or hearing impairments... We believe it's very important for parents and teachers to be able to know when to seek professional assistance from a speech-language pathologist and audiologist."

"If hearing impairments go undetected, the result can be delays in speech and language development," explained Ellen Hansen, supervising pediatric audiologist in the hospital's speech-hearing department. "Both of these factors can affect learning skills and schooling."

Correa resumes duties

Navy Lt. Joseph E. Correa, whose wife, Andrea, is the daughter of Andrew and Mary Kovacs of Mountainside, recently returned aboard the aircraft carrier USS Ranger, homeported in San Diego from a six-month deployment to the Western Indian and Indian Ocean as part of the aircraft carrier USS Ranger battle group.

The USS Ranger was deployed to the Persian Gulf to enforce the United Nations "no-fly zone" over southern Iraq. The ship was also deployed to Somalia in support of the relief effort Operation Restore Hope. Elements of the battle group have participated in several joint exercises, including training with Russian naval forces in the Persian Gulf.

Correa visited ports in Yokosuka, Japan; Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates; Busan, Korea; and Perth and Sydney, Australia. While in Perth, more than 100 signatories volunteered their time to repair an amphitheater and to haul out material including bandages, toothpaste and soap.

Roselle Park's Agoglia hurls no-hitter

Panther softball team began week at 5-0; Brearley baseball squad plays home today

The Roselle Park softball team scored 54 runs during a three-game winning streak last week and the Panthers' softball team remained unbeaten at 5-0 heading into this week's diamond action.

Sophomore lefthander Nick Agoglia hauled a no-hitter to help the Roselle Park softball team defeat St. Patrick's of Elizabeth 2-0 in a five-inning contest in Roselle Park Thursday. The Panthers were 0-3 prior to the contest and had scored only four runs. They took a 3-3 lead on Tuesday's game at Bound Brook.

"This is going to be a big week for us because we play a lot of good teams in our conference (MVC-Valley)," Roselle Park head softball coach John Wigner said Monday night as his team prepared for games Tuesday, yesterday, today and tomorrow.

Roselle Park's baseball team, after losing 7-3 at home to Brearley Regional April 13, reeled off wins against St. Patrick's 2-0, St. Mary's 17-6 and Cranford 13-4.

Brearley's baseball team won its third straight when it defeated Johnson Regional 9-7 at home last Thursday. The Bears had their three-game winning streak snapped last Friday when they lost to New Providence 7-1 in a rain-shortened five-inning contest. Brearley takes a 4-2 record into today's home game against St. Patrick's.

Roselle Park softball: Junior right-hander and returning All-County and All-Conference selection Jessica DeLuca is off to a 5-0 start. She may be given a rest this week with freshman Jamie Fuvo and sophomore Amanda Davidson ready to take the mound.

The Panthers had a home game against Bound Brook Tuesday, a makeup game scheduled at Westfield yesterday, and conference games at 5:00 today and at home against Middlesex tomorrow.

All-County and All-Conference selection senior Kim Harts returns at second base for Roselle Park and All-County pitcher Allison Plecia fanned 12 and walked six in pitching his no-hitter. Jon Nicolo, Jerry Russo and Eric Bliss each had three hits vs. St. Patrick's with Nicolo driving in four runs.

Anthony Simone got the win in relief for Roselle Park in their win against St. Mary's. Starting pitcher Frank Altino pitched 5 1/3 innings to get the win against Cranford. Nicolo went 3-for-4 with three RBI

Roselle Park High School sophomore lefthander Nick Agoglia fired a no-hitter to lead the Panthers' baseball team to its first victory of the year last Thursday, a 2-0 conference win at home against St. Patrick's of Elizabeth.

Opening Day festivities Sunday

The Roselle Park Youth Baseball League's Opening Day ceremonies are scheduled for Sunday and are to start with a bake sale at Wolf Field at 9:30 a.m., followed by a parade at 1 p.m. that will commence at the middle school grounds.

An celebration of the 40th anniversary of the league, here's a brief look back at the history of the league and how it developed over the years. The league was started in 1953 by seven men.

The first year of play was in the spring of 1954 and the league consisted of six teams with the original seven men acting as coaches and managers. John Ostreicher was the league's first president and, along with Jack Asher, co-managed Fred Wolf, Robert Anderson, A. Otto Mike, John Adaso and Chick Cuccia, made up the seven original coaches.

In the beginning, the league ran from May 1 until the end of August and each team played well over 30 games. Today the season runs from mid-April through mid-July, although each team plays only 12 games, there are 40 teams in the league, representing over 450 children.

The girls' league was broken down into Senior and Junior Divisions with 11 teams in each of the end of the season. In 1977, a girls' softball tournament was started against teams from other towns.

Today, the RPYBL has over 400 families, 400 children, a T-Ball Division for 5-6-year-olds, a refurbishing shop, two batting machines, two electronic scoreboards and a baseball field. The league also sponsors All-Star teams which enter local area tournaments and girls' softball teams which travel well out of the area to play.

Brady, Biondi efforts lift Sun Devils past Knights

The following are results of Union Rebel Softball League games for the week ending Sunday, April 18:

Sun Devils 5, Knights 4: Peter Brady pitched a strong game as the immediate Health Care M.C. Sun Devils held on to defeat the Genesis Knights. Michael Biondi pitched the offense with three hits. Danny Grossberg and Brady had two hits apiece and combined to score all the runs for the Sun Devils. David Raffaele also had two hits. Dan Kautersack hit a home run and Matt Lazorowicz and Chris Alfino had three hits each.

Tigers 42, Razorbacks 2: The Union Elks Tigers exploded for a convincing win over a young Razorback squad. Corey Robinson hit a two-run homer in the bottom of the fifth for the Razorbacks.

Canes 20, Blackhawk 5: Home runs by Khalid Shaid, Billy Sherman, Brian Murphy and Rich Pielien helped The 5 Point Prime Canes win over the Union Minor League Blackhaws. Winning pitcher Darren Hlanowski was helped by strong defense that included a double play.

Canes 35, Razorbacks 2: The 5 Point Prime Canes defeated the Razorbacks with a host of players belting home runs. Round trippers were blasted by Darren Meyer (2), Greg Gelwick (2), Jean Habenski (2), Khalid Shaid, Brian Murphy, Billy Sherman, Rich Pielien and Darren Hlanowski. Patrick Holmquist had three hits and Darren Kelly hit the cycle and was the winning pitcher. Good defense was supplied by Clark Lasonen and Keith Slacia. The Razorbacks' offense was supplied by Greg Lecique's two-run double. Corey

Crescent Batting Cages set for start of season

The return of spring signals the much anticipated return of fast-pitch softball to the area. And no team is more eager to start the season than the Crescent Batting Cages of Union, a participant in the Men's Class A National Tournament in April.

According to Crescent manager Joe Folio, the team has undergone a radical roster change from last year's championship unit.

Even though we finished a commendable 31st in the 59-teams field at the Nationals, we feel that we can improve on that," Folio said. "We've recruited some excellent batters who are dedicated to playing and winning. In many respects, this year's team has much more potential than last year's squad."

Leading the Crescent crusade in last year's playoffs were Holly Tully and Steve Seftik, and first baseman John Folio. Tully was leading the team in batting and RBI last season until a serious leg injury cut short what was a spectacular season.

On the mound, Crescent will feature the contingent of Leah Valentine, Jim Greene, Pete Lima and Paul Guidi. Valentine, a recent addition to the team, is coming off a fine season in which he helped lead the PBC/Graham team to the National Tournament. Greene, one of the dominant pitchers in the state, was hampered by injuries last year, but showed his mettle with two brilliant performances (a win and a save) against eventual national champion D.C. Ties.

Lima was a 15-game winner for Crescent in 1990 and won the MVP award for his performance in the Metro-Newark/Hudson Tournament that year. This crafty veteran Guidi has also been successful in two seasons with the team.

The Crescent schedule includes play in two leagues (the Pasaic Township League at Meyersville and the Tri-State Travel League) as well as several tournaments. The season gets this weekend with a round-robin tournament in Allentown, Pa.

Seftik hit a stellar .380 in the Tri-State Travel League, then capped off his season with a game-winning RBI in Crescent's final game in the National Tournament. Folio, perhaps the finest hitting first baseman in the state, was among the league leaders with an impressive .400 batting average in the Travel League, which boasted 12 of the finest fast-pitch teams in the east.

The Crescent infield is anchored by the shortstop/second baseman combination of Dave and Mike Rennie. The brothers have consistently hit for high average with occasional power and speed. The material for the costume department, joining Crescent this year will be infielders Dave Palumbo, center fielder Chris Canullo and pitcher Steve Seftik.

Phillies 12, Orioles 4: Andrew Horton fired a three-hitter and had two hits to lead the Phillies. George Castro tripled, while Kevin Ahearn and Robbie Wozniak combined for seven RBI. Mike Melillo, Rob Davis

Yankees 7, Royals 6: Al Schardien pitched a one-hitter to lead the Yankees. Larry Gotlocko and Joe Pellegrino played well defensively to help seal the victory, while Dave Balnowski doubled for the winners. Garret Nann broke up Schardien's no-hit bid with a hit in the seventh inning.

Met 6, Yankees 4: Jim Pieper came in to relieve Tim Lincecum and pitched two strong innings to spark the Mets. Brian Kern had two hits and Matt Howard doubled for the winners. John Overberger played a fine defensive game behind the plate. Al Schardien pitched well for the Yankees.

'Peter Pan' will be flying high above RPHS's stage

By Bea Smith, Lifestyle Editor
When it comes to theater, there was a certain rite of passage for the four people in the play who actually fly. "The flying was done by a professional company based in Las Vegas called Flying By Foy's," said Hyman. "They did the original 'Peter Pan' on Broadway with Mary Martin. It's really extraordinary the way they do it. They set up the tracks and they teach us to fly. Literally! They put us in harness and they train us to fly."

"We have been flying since April 10," mentioned one of the students with a giggle. "Actually," said Hyman, "four people fly at the height of our show. The flying is synonymous with 'Peter Pan.' But they only fly at the beginning of the show and at the end of the show. Really, highlighting the play are the fantastic Indians, pirates, lost kids and the songs, rather than the flying. And of course, the song, 'I'm Birdy.'"

There have been many productions of "Peter Pan" throughout the country, but "Our Peter Pan" is excellent," Hyman continued. "Because some get to play Peter Pan, took the air like a bird. "We rehearsed three times a week in January, and four and five times a week in April. Some of the kids have been working about 16 hours a day. One of the other students explained that "we come at 8 a.m. and we've been rehearsing until 11 p.m."

"The commitment of the students on the show has been overwhelming," said the director. "The kids have had to give up their after-school break, and their social lives — and give their lives to me." The four students, Ryan, Karen, Nicole and Jessica, nodded in assent. "We have to do it last year, but we had just done 'Amigo' — a big show — and," he laughed, "we needed a year's rest before doing another gargantuan show."

"But 'Peter Pan' has been in the planning stage since 1992, really, almost a year in the planning. We played through some of the scenes at the local level. Then, we looked at the financial backing and went to the administration and the Board of Education. They were really supportive of what we wanted to do."

Hyman declared, "We needed financing for a $20,000 show. I know that sounds like a lot of money, but we will make it all back and then some. This is the project of the year for the drama department. This is our big project. In fact, the profits from 'Amigo' went to Project Graduation for the Class of 1991. The rest of the money is returned to the band, and let me tell you, the band has been fantastic."

"One of the board members, Terry Seftik, and Michelle Macey, a member of the Roselle Park Council on the Arts, hand-made all of the costumes. The material for the costumes came from others who had bought, we're all forgetting about. Without his support, we never would have gotten it done."

The director explained that he is grateful to more people than he could name for their help. "When we first started this project," he said, "Ernie Finizio asked, 'What can I do for you?' We're dedicating this show to him, not only because he'll be leaving us soon, but because he's been there for us from the start and there were times when he put his neck on the line. He built an entire theater school that's incorporable. While others were holding back, we're all forgetting about. Without his support, we never would have gotten it done."

For week of April 25-May 1
ARIES (March 21 to April 20) This will be a good week for making changes. You will be able to clear any unhelpful jobs and get a start on new ones. You will be able to get much better organized for work. Don't force yourself to reach unrealistic goals. Slow and steady wins the race! Try to have a sensitive approach with loved ones.

Taurus (April 21 to May 21) Try to pay special attention to younger members of the family. Some quality time spent together could be priceless. You will hear interesting news from an old acquaintance or friend who lives far away. You are in for an exciting and romantic weekend.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) You won't have to try too hard this week, as things are likely to go your way. You are probably going through a very sensitive period and will meet some very important business contacts. In practical matters, you will progress at a lively pace and, at present, finances look good.

CANCER (June 22 to July 22) Communication is the key to success, so you must try to be more open and outgoing. A new approach to your social life will help both your personal and practical aims. This is a very important week as well as love is expected, you could make a lifetime decision.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23) This could be a week of achievement — or of lost chances — depending on how cleverly you can turn things in your advantage. Being as right now will be a key factor for success this week. Follow your instincts all times. Use business as your main focus.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) For most people this week will be a busy one, but you will do well and all will be well. It is a good time to plan a trip or even a weekend getaway. With a little self-discipline, you'll be able to get through routine and look forward to fun times.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) You will be in an unusually happy mood this week. And you will be very successful in your work and in your love life. You will be a success at work and can look forward to a major salary increase! You are in for an extremely romantic weekend, and will make plans for the future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) Uncertainty about a love affair or friendship

Group prepares film screening of 'The Quarell' about two Holocaust survivors who meet in 1948 by accident. The film will be shown Wednesday at the Elmira Theater, Elizabeth. From left are Peter Kessel of Springfield, whose parents were Holocaust survivors, and who brought the film to Elizabeth; Jan Kovacs, director of programming at the YM-YWHA of Union County, Union, and Sheila Nashomer, Y membership and public relations director. Kessel also is on the Y Board of Directors.

Holocaust film to signify greater emotional feeling

By Bea Smith

When the prize-winning movie "The Quarell," about two Holocaust survivors who are reunited in 1948 in Canada, is shown Wednesday at the Elmira Theater, Elizabeth, it will have an even greater emotional significance. And that is because the film was brought to the attention of the YM-YWHA of Union County, Union. This is by sponsoring the screening, by a young man from Springfield, Peter Kessel.

Kessel is the son of Holocaust survivors Ida Kessel and Elizabeth and the late Moses Kessel, who died last year. He was born in this country and as a youngster grew up among second generation children of Holocaust survivors. His parents were very active in the YM-YWHA of Union County, Union, and the Jewish Education Center in Elizabeth, and Kessel, himself, is on the Y's board of directors. A businessman, owner of Kew-Kneepers Springfield which is co-sponsoring the film, he spends much of his time working with the Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey.

"It's important that everyone see the film, Jews and non-Jews," said Kessel the other afternoon, when he walked into this office with two Y people, Jan Kovacs, director of programming, and Sheila Nashomer, membership and public relations director. "I have many people to thank for this project, who have supported, particularly Bob Jagan, owner of the Elmira Theater, who has allowed us to use the theater to bring 'The Quarell' to the public by way of his movie house. And of course, there are Jeff Horn and Debra Siegel, managers of 'Harnes and Nobis of Springfield,' who agreed to provide an excellent display of Holocaust literature for sale in the lobby before and after the 8 p.m. showings."

The Canadian picture, which won a First Prize Award by the Santa Barbara International Film Festival and the

2 chamber music concerts set

The chamber music series, Monthly Music, will present the final pair of concerts of this season Saturday at 8 p.m., at Prospect Presbyterian Church, 646 Prospect St., Maplewood, and on Sunday at 8 p.m., at Temple Emanuel-El, 756 East Broad St., Westfield.

One can call (201) 762-8486 for additional information.

Family art exhibition scheduled

An art exhibit, "Families Our Future," will be held Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Elizabeth-Gas Co. Artium, Morris Avenue, Union.

Sponsored by Family and Children's Services in Elizabeth, in conjunction with its 100th anniversary, the exhibit will offer a display of the diversity and importance of family as seen by elementary school children.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 352-7474. Admission is free of charge, but a donation is requested.

ArtPRIDE Walk-A-Thon will benefit theaters in state

Dancers, musicians, clowns and street artists will provide "the inspiration" and walkers "the perspiration," the arts organizations from across the state unite for their first collective fund-raising effort in the ArtPRIDE Walk-A-Thon in Piscataway May 2 with the theme: "Walk: It's Good for Your Art."

The 6.2 mile event will begin and end at the Louis Brown Athletic Center on the Livingston College campus of Rutgers University. Registration will begin at 11 a.m. followed by opening ceremonies at noon in the athletic center. The walk officially will begin at 12:45 p.m.

People who are interested "in walking or helping with the walk-a-thon are invited to sign up for this festive event that will celebrate the contributions of the arts to New Jersey life and raise public awareness of the need to support their continued presence and success." It was reported. Walkers can sign up to participate by calling their favorite non-profit arts organization or the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, at 379-3636, Ext. 2623.

ArtPRIDE President Angelo Del Rossi, who also is executive producer of the Paper Mill Playhouse, said, "This event is the arts' response to the need to become more creative and self-reliant in finding ways to support our organizations. We believe the event is a first for the arts in the state. Besides raising funds, we must make the impact the arts have on our lives, our society and our economy."

Gov. and Mrs. James Florio are honorary chairman of a celebrity committee that includes actor John Aron, Jr. Both Williams, Linda Hunt, Eddie Bracken and Mary Stuart Masterson; singer/actress Sandra Reaves, New Brunswick musician Eric Scott, WVDK-TV newsman Roland Smith, Joseph Kallistatos and Paquito D'Rivera of New Jersey Symphony; Congressman Robert Menendez; former governor Thomas Kean; Sen. Frank Lautenberg; New Brunswick Mayor James Cahill, and Debra Ostroff, assistant dean of the Mason Gross School of the Arts. Co-chairmen of the walk-a-thon committee are Secretary of State Daniel J. Florio and Douglas S. Ekeley, an attorney of Riker, Danzig, Scherer, Hyland and Peretti.

It was announced that "in the spirit of the arts and the walk-a-thon will be more than a stroll around campus; it will take on the form of an inside-out parade, as walkers are entertained from the sidelines by dozens of artists representing the diversity of talents from around the state."

The "festive atmosphere" will begin at the opening ceremonies when singer/ pianist Ernie Scott opens the event in the athletic center. Scott was the Piano Man in the Broadway production of August Wilson's "The Piano Lesson," and is known to New Jersey audiences for his work in clubs and theaters, including Crossroads Theater Co., New Brunswick, where he has served as music director of various productions.

Also scheduled to entertain will be members of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, the American Repertory Ballet Co., the Jambou! Haver Dance of the Red Peonies Performance Project in Piscataway and a variety of street artists from clowns and jugglers to traveling minstrels and face painters.

The Nai-Ni Chen Dance Co. of Fort Lee will conduct a children's class, and the Poshart Players of Verona and George Street Playhouse Outreach Company will present children's theater performances.

Child care will be provided at the athletic center for youngsters not walking with their parents.

Walkers will have an opportunity to win prizes for two at five restrooms, the Piano Man in the Broadway production of August Wilson's "The Piano Lesson," and is known to New Jersey audiences for his work in clubs and theaters, including Crossroads Theater Co., New Brunswick, where co-sponsored with the Mason Gross School of the Arts at Rutgers, the rain-or-shine fundraiser's goal is $150,000, of which 60 percent will go to member organizations and 40 percent to ArtPRIDE. Walkers "are encouraged to sign up sponsors who donate a specific amount of money per kilometer on the 10-kilometer - 6.2 mile - walk. Each walker must be asked in name a designated arts organization to which the 60 percent share of donations will be given."

ArtPRIDE President Angelo Del Rossi, who also is executive producer of the Paper Mill Playhouse, said, "This event is the arts' response to the need to become more creative and self-reliant in finding ways to support our organizations. We believe the event is a first for the arts in the state. Besides raising funds, we must make the impact the arts have on our lives, our society and our economy."

Health & FITNESS

Women's health focus of Celebrate Life

The perfect lead-in for Mother's Day is the full-day celebration of women's health, called Celebrate Life!, on May 8 at the New Jersey Medical School Doctors Office Center. The DOC is located on the health sciences.

Celebrate Life! is a comprehensive wellness event designed to offer women a broad range of screening, counseling and educational activities concentrated specifically on women's health issues, such as breast cancer, osteoporosis, menopause, heart disease prevention, pain management, urinary incontinence, headaches, depression and nutrition.

These activities will take place at the new $55 million Doctors Office Center, which operates as the private practice center for faculty members of the New Jersey Medical School. The DOC houses in one ultramodern facility an array of diagnostic and therapeutic specialties in a setting that is sensitive to patient convenience and comfort. The services and presentations will be hosted by physicians who are active practicing members of the DOC staff as well as faculty members of the medical school.

"It's extraordinary that an event like Celebrate Life! is taking place here," said John Gardner, executive director of the DOC. "The DOC is actually a source of highly-specialized medicine for the most complex conditions. But our physicians also have a great interest in women's health issues and preventive care and education. The array of wellness services we're offering on May 8 is intended to help the mature woman stay as healthy as possible."

A major focus of Celebrate Life! is the availability of free breast exams, instruction in breast self-examination and reduced fee mammograms offered in conjunction with the American Cancer Society's Breast Cancer Awareness Program. Mammograms are low-dose x-rays of the breast which can detect cancers too small to be felt through physical examination. Women 35 and over who have never had the procedure can qualify for a reduced fee ($40) mammogram. All women, regardless of their age, can take advantage of the free exam and instruction.

Other screening activities will include free and reduced rate screening for diabetes, high blood pressure,

WISE Adult Day Care Center

Union Hospital's WISE Center helps older adults maintain their independence and improve their quality of life through special social and recreational programs.

If you or a loved one is alone or are physically or emotionally frail, think about enrolling in the WISE Center. The center offers individually tailored activities, transportation, hot lunches and social services, Monday through Friday. ### Celebrate Life!

A FULL DAY WELLNESS EVENT FOR WOMEN

We're making this year's Mother's Day weekend extra special by inviting you to "Celebrate Life!"

This full-day wellness event will be held on Saturday, May 8th, at the New Jersey Medical School Doctors Office Center (DOC).

It's a unique opportunity to learn about and discuss issues that affect you. If you are 35 or older and have never had this necessary screening.

The mammography program at the DOC has been accredited by the American College of Radiology, which means our staff and equipment meet the highest safety and quality standards.

Other free screenings include diabetes, high blood pressure, cholesterol and glaucoma. There are even demonstrations on low fat cooking and how to exercise.

It's a celebration too important to miss!

REGISTRATION to register and receive a schedule of events for "Celebrate Life!" call 1-800-982-DOCS.

OUR FACILITY The DOC is a brand new $55 million facility on UMDNJ's 46-acre Newark campus. We're located near all major highways and plenty of free parking is provided for your convenience.

DOCTORS OFFICE CENTER

13001 New Jersey Turnpike, Newark, NJ 07102

Auctions more popular, provide quick sales

The use of auctions as a marketing tool in the real estate industry is growing, dissolving the perception that this selling technique is limited to distressed properties. In many cases, properties auctioned are neither distressed buildings nor exhibit one or two faults. Very often, successful auctions involve properties located in economically distressed areas or in areas where there are either too many or too few buyers rather than physically distressed properties.

For those who need to sell their home quickly but have few results through traditional marketing methods, the New Jersey Association of Realtors suggests considering sale by auction as an alternative method.

According to a survey conducted in June 1992 by the National Association of Realtors of 131 United States auction firms, the number of real estate auctions held nationwide in 1991 was 4,400. The survey also found the number of bidders participating in real estate auctions increased by 27.6 percent in 1991.

"Auctions are a relatively new approach to selling real estate here in this country. This survey clearly shows the method is catching on in our market, attracting more and more companies and drawing more quality properties," said Gene Azzalina, NJAR president.

"Before you actually put your property on the auction block, however, take time to learn more about how the process works, including the bidder and may fees or commissions paid to an auction company or real estate broker who provides a buyer. Keep in mind there are several keys to a successful auction. They are well-informed buyers, strong publicity, an adequate viewing period and a full explanation of the sale terms," added Azzalina, broker/owner of Century 21 in Elmwood Park.

The most popular type of auction is a public one where properties are generally sold in "as-is" condition. Essen-
