TWO SECTIONS — 50 CENTS

Local 810 Teamsters who were locked out of their jobs at Fisher Scientific Corp. during a strike over health benefits rally during a demonstration on Monday.

Lock-out stirs protests at rally

By Heather MacGregor
Managing Editor

Two people were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct, while protesting a lock-out of 77 workers from Fisher Scientific Corp., after the workers went on strike because of increased health benefit charges.

The members of Local 810 went on strike in October of 1991 because the company wanted workers to pay a large portion of their health care, said Ed Altire, a worker affected by the lock-out. The payment toward health benefits would have increased by 450 percent, Altire said.

Fisher Scientific rejected efforts made by union members to supply the company with a less expensive health care plan, he said. "If the company had wanted us that we could possibly lose our jobs if we didn't go back immediately, most of us, I'm sure, would have chosen to go back to work," he said.

The replaced workers were allowed to get their personal belongings from their work lockers on Monday after 22 months of being denied access, Altire said.

Downtown taking steps to revitalize

By Dennis Schaaf
Staff Writer

The push to revitalize the town's downtown business district may gather momentum next month when the mayor is expected to recommend appointments to the new Downtown Redevelopment Corp.

The DRC, once it is established, will run the Special Improvement District. The Township Committee appropriated some $25,000 in the current budget for the DRC.

In a mechanism similar to parallel efforts in places like Westfield, Millburn and New Brunswick, businesses in the SID will be assessed a tax in order to partially fund business improvements and promotions in the downtown area.

The town is also considering a major bond issue to finance renovations to parking lots, sidewalks and for new lighting.

Committee makes plans to improve

By Joy LaPre
Correspondent

Several resolutions dealing with spending of government, county and town funds to make capital improvements in the town were discussed at Tuesday's committee meeting.

The council voted to establish several resolutions regarding the spending of government funds to make improvements on town buildings and areas and build a recreation center.

Construction under way

By Heather MacGregor
Managing Editor

An investigation is being conducted to determine the weak points in the sewerage system that cause the township to exceed its flow rights from the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority.

Although the town has ample flow rights, there are times when Springfield exceeds its flow because the system is old and there are illegal connections to the system, said Township Engineer Robert Kirkpatrick.

Instead of replacing everything in the system, an investigation is being conducted to determine the points of overflow, Kirkpatrick said.

Construction continues on the bridge near the Thelma Sandmeyer School on Mountain Ave.

Mayor Philip Kurmos said he suggested sectioning the system so future township committees would have a pattern to follow. When all of the sections are maintained then the process will be repeated, starting back with the first section, he said.

A bond for $500,000 was set aside to maintain and renovate the miles of underground sewer, Kurmos said.

Service provides tips

"If work or vacation takes you away from home, the Postal Service reminds you that there are several options available when determining what to do with your mail," says Westfield Postmaster David DeFrancisco. "We will be glad to hold your mail at the post office for up to 30 days," said DeFrancisco. "Either stop by your local office or ask your carrier for a Hold Mail Card specifying the dates you want your mail held. Fill out the card and submit it to either your carrier or drop it off at your local post office before you leave. It's as simple as that." The Postal Service does not accept requests to hold mail for more than 30 days, submit a temporary change of address form and your mail will be forwarded to the address of your choice. Fill out completely, making sure to include the effective dates to start and terminate the forwarding. This service is commonly used when families travel to vacation homes for the summer. If you are going to be away for a few days and don't have time to notify the Postal Service, you might want to ask a friend or neighbor to pick up your mail from your box. Accumulated mail in a box is an advertisement that the house is vacant. Additionally, small receptacles, such as apartment boxes, have a limited capacity and once full, your carrier will automatically remove the mail and leave a notice for you to pick it up at the post office.

Hospital conducts swimming program

Children's Specialized Hospital will sponsor a recreational Summer Splash Swim Program for children 5 to 12 years old with physical disabilities. The afternoon program will be conducted twice weekly, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. The purpose of the program is to enhance the child's endurance and relaxation while improving socialization and recreational skills with peers.

Annual Night Out plans set

On Tuesday, Aug. 3, neighborhoods throughout Springfield are being invited to join forces with thousands of communities nationwide for the 10th annual National Night Out, which is sponsored by the National Association of Town Watch. Springfield will be one of 8,500 communities around the Nation celebrating this event. National Night Out is designed to heighten crime and drug prevention awareness, generate support and participation in local anti-crime efforts, strengthen neighborhood spirit and police community relations, and send a message to criminals letting them know neighborhoods are organized and fighting back. From 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Aug. 3, residents of Springfield are invited to lock their doors, turn on outside lights and spend the evening outside with neighbors, friends, and police. The Springfield Police will be visiting local neighborhoods with Mr. Grant the Crime Dog, during this time frame. Neighborhoods wishing to have block parties, or any type celebration should call the Crime Prevention Bureau at (201) 912-2243. Often alert neighbors notice suspicious activity in a local neighborhood resulting in the arrest and apprehension of a house burglar.

Summer movies
"Summer Fun at the Movies" is being featured by the Springfield Film Club, Temple Beth Ahm, 60 Temple Drive. The programs are open to the public, but reservations must be made. The movies will be shown on a 10-foot screen. The next movie is on July 25, "The Impossible Spy" story of Elliot Cohen, the Israeli spy, who almost became minister of defense in Israel. On Aug. 8 an unusual comedy, "Mortimer Griffen and Shalinsky," will be featured. After the movie there will be a discussion relative to Israel and Semitism. The movie scheduled for Aug. 22 is "The Outside Chance of Maximilian Gluck." Reservations can be made by calling Herb Ross, days (908) 964-1500 and evenings (908) 232-2926; or Joe Tenenbaum at (201) 379-9306.

Step toward economic vitality

Assemblyman Alan Augustine said the signing of a six-bill package of business tax incentive measures "marks a long overdue step" on the path toward re-establishing the economic vitality New Jersey enjoyed in the mid-1980s. "When the Republicans took control of both houses of the Legislature in January 1992, one of the key priorities on our agenda was to reduce taxes and develop a comprehensive program designed to get New Jersey's economy rolling again," Augustine said. "Enactment of this package represents the single most important achievement of the Legislature in fulfilling its pro-business agenda since the Republican majority voted to roll back the sales tax," Augustine said. Senate President DeFrancisco and Assembly Speaker Haytian should be credited for the outreach and responsiveness they demonstrated in working with the business community to forge this package. The six-bill package includes a series of tax credits, theoretical of business personal property tax and the adoption of a more favorable depreciation schedule. Since taking office in December 1992, Assemblyman Augustine has become a leading legislative advocate of the need to provide a more favorable economic climate for New Jersey businesses and has championed proposals to help promote the export of New Jersey-based products and services. The six-point incentive program includes the following components: • Repeal of the business personal property tax to help eliminate an unnecessary layer of red tape. • Provision of a research tax credit of up to 15 percent for 10 years under the corporate income tax for businesses that increase the investment in research activities within the state. • Reduction of corporate business tax rates for corporations registered under federal law as Subchapter S. This will be accomplished by allowing small, closely-held businesses to organize as corporations but to be treated as sole proprietorships for tax purposes. • Awarding of tax credits for corporations that create new jobs in New Jersey based on a formula adjusted according to company size. • Implementation of a one-year tax credit equal to 2 percent of the purchase price of an investment in manufacturing equipment. Additional tax credits will be available on the investment in each of the next two years for companies that create new jobs. • Adoption of the federal depreciation schedule in New Jersey's tax code, providing a more generous, favorable system for helping offset the tax impact of new capital and equipment purchases.

Environmental group seeks aid

Green Corps, a new national, non-profit environmental organization, will be talking to residents of Mountaintop in July. Conversations will go door-to-door to speak with citizens about the destruction of the world's rainforests and about what they can do to help protect them. The summer's campaign is focusing on the Mountaintop corporate family's involvement in rainforest logging and mining. Environmental groups around the world are calling Mountaintop one of the world's worst destroyers of tropical rainforests. According to the Japanese Association of Lumber Importers, the Mountaintop Corporation and the Meiji Trading Co., which Mountaintop owns, combined are the second largest importer of tropical timber in the world. David Leavitt, director of the Green Corps campaign in Princeton, said, "From Rwanda to Brazil, Canada to Siberia, the Mountaintop Corporation is involved in logging, processing, and trading timber with total disregard for the consequences to the global environment." Green Corps is working to bring consumer pressure on all Mountaintop products, including Mitsubishi vehicles, electronics, Nikon cameras, Volvo Rent-A-Car, and Kirin beer. "Our goal is to tell more than 50,000 New Jersey residents about Mountaintop's destructive practices. Consumers are telling Mountaintop that they won't buy their products until rainforest logging stops, permanently," said Chris Spruce, a Rowan College student and member of Green Corps' summer staff.

NJIT re-builds

New Jersey Institute of Technology student Paul Juliano of Springfield explains his project to redesign the former Essex County Jail in Newark into a facility for the university's School of Architecture to faculty members, from left, Troy West, Tony Schumann, Leslie Weisman and Pet Anders. NJIT is a public research university providing more than 7,700 undergraduate and graduate students with 50 degree programs in engineering, architecture, computer science, management and related sciences and technological disciplines.

Suspect arrested

police blotter

Edward Henneberry, 51, was removed to the Union County Jail after he was arrested and charged with burglary and theft, by the Springfield police, Monday. An area resident observed an individual on Kipling Avenue break a window in a house and climb through the window, according to Chief William Chisholm. The resident then called the police. Officer James Fine along with Officers Richard Mickles and Michael McVany responded and observed an individual fitting the description in the area, police officials said. The officers then arrested Henneberry, who was allegedly in possession of property that belonged to the homeowner.

Lightning Wheels prepare for games

Eleven members of the Children's Specialized Hospital Lightning Wheels, the junior wheelchair sports team, sponsored by Children's Specialized Hospital, will be competing in the 1993 National Junior Wheelchair Games in Columbus, Ohio. More than 250 junior wheelchair athletes, ages 5 to 18, from across the country are expected to gather in Columbus for competition, which began Tuesday and runs to Sunday. "We are proud that a record 11 members of our team qualified to compete in the Nationals," said Andy Chesnoff, coach of the Lightning Wheels. "Among our 11 are seven national record-holders and two who were previously named 'Sports N' Spokes Athletes of the Year.'" The young athletes will compete in track events ranging from 60 meters to 5,000, field events of javelin, shot put, club, softball throw, and swimming.
