Community Update

Books to borrow

Springfield Free Public Library patrons wishing to borrow selected library materials over the summer may do so by requesting vacation loan at the time of check-out.

Twenty-eight day fiction, some books-on-tape and nonfiction upon approval may be checked out from the adult department until Sept. 9. Children's materials must be approved by the children's librarian.

The Springfield Free Public Library is located at 66 Mountain Ave. Summer hours are Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Tuesday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Group to chat

The Springfield Free Public Library Great Books Discussion Group, which has been meeting since last fall, is planning to continue meeting throughout the summer. The group is reading and discussing short works and selections from classic authors such as Aristotle, Plato, Rousseau, Kant, Thoreau and Tolstoy, to name a few.

The group will meet July 21 and Aug. 25 between 10 and 11:30 a.m. in the library meeting room. On July 21, the group will discuss "After the Ball" by Tolstoy. On Aug. 25, they will discuss "Habit" by James. The discussion leaders are May Daniels and Rhoda Rosenfeld, who have both received training from the Great Books Foundation.

New members are invited to participate. Books may be picked up at the circulation desk. The Springfield Free Public Library is located at 66 Mountain Ave.

Legion sends delegates

The American Legion Post 228 and the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 228 of Springfield sent delegates to the New Jersey Boys State from June 19 to June 24 and delegates to the New Jersey Girls State from June 26 to July 1 at Rider College in Lawrenceville.

The event provides a week of learning the organization and procedures of county and state governments. It is under the direction of the state organizations of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary.

'What to Buy'

When patrons come to the Springfield Free Public Library looking for information about office equipment and computers, there's no better reference periodical than What to Buy for Business, the leading consumer guide to business equipment.

Published monthly, it is an excellent resource for buyers seeking value, reliability and good service. It reduces advertising, so readers can count on it for unbiased advice.

There are "What to Buy" reports on all major types of office equipment — copiers, fax, computers, photo systems, mailing equipment and more. It is not available on newsstands or in book stores.

Most reports include detailed charts — summarizing the specifications and pricing of available models. The charts also include recommendations on the best buys, often accompanied by warnings on the bad ones.

Resident group reorganizes to monitor supermarket

By Mark Devaney
Staff Writer

The Colonial Association, which represents the residents of the north end of Springfield, particularly those in the Short Hills Avenue, Tower Drive, Lewis Drive and Balfour Avenue areas, recently elected Angelo Franzoni as its president, and the first order of business is to monitor the renovation of the Saks property.

According to a press release issued by the organization, the association was reorganized in anticipation of Stop & Shop's purchase of the Saks Fifth Avenue property in Springfield. The plans were finalized in January and Saks plans to be completely moved out by Nov. 1.

The Stop & Shop has made public its plans to demolish the existing building and erect a "super" supermarket in its place.

At a recent Colonial Association meeting, an executive committee of Springfield residents and residents from the Glenwood section of Short Hills was formed in order to keep residents informed of the ongoing application for the use of the Saks property.

Franzoni and others in attendance stated their belief that the proposed "super" supermarket will not only have an adverse effect on the quality of life in the area but will also cause severe traffic problems on the already congested Morris and Millburn avenues.

"Traffic is horrendous as it is now," Franzoni said. "Stop & Shop will want to make that building bigger."

According to Franzoni, the group of concerned citizens simply "wants the town to respect the ordinance as it is written. It has worked for so long, why change it? If they're going to build something, build it within the ordinance."

"If they give special preference to Stop & Shop, that'll be the end of the neighborhood, it'll be another Morris Avenue," said Franzoni.

He stated that the Colonial Association has "organized with Short Hills people and residents from Millburn. Millburn is very concerned about traffic. They've already sent letters to the Springfield Township Committee and the Springfield Planning Board, as well as the appropriate Essex County officials."

The Colonial Association's immediate plans involve "putting pressure on both Springfield and Millburn to do the right thing by the residents," Franzoni explained.

"We also voted to hire an attorney and have found one. Finally, we appointed block captains for each area affected. We've established a network; a few people can't do it," said Franzoni.

Meanwhile, the group's non-paying membership has grown so large that their next meeting will require a large public facility. Referring to the last gathering, Franzoni said, "It was so big that we can't hold them in houses any more."

The Colonial Association has been in existence since approximately 1957 and represents roughly 30 to 60 households.

Board OKs attendance changes

By Ray Lehmann
Managing Editor

"You can't learn if you're not in school" is the policy the Union County Regional High School Board of Education was operating under as it approved the first reading of the proposed changes in the district's attendance policy at their monthly meeting this past Tuesday.

Under the terms of the suggested policy, the only absences that would not be charged against a student's record would be religious holidays. Previously, the district allowed for excused absences for the purpose of college visits and driver certification tests.

The overall effect will be a reduction in school absences, said board Vice President Joan Toth, presiding over the meeting in the absence of President Burton Zimone.

An issue of debate was the suggestion by policy committee Chairman Robert Jeans that the board approve his committee's proposed changes in the total number of excusable absences. This despite the fact that at their last meeting, the board had approved remaining with the previously set standards.

Jeans suggested a change from six days allowed to five for 1.25 credit courses, from nine to seven for 2.5 credit courses, from 12 to nine for 3 credit courses, from 14 to 10 for 3.75 credit courses, and from 18 to 14 for 5 credit courses.

The informal motion was defeated, but with the understanding that it be re-revoted.

County GOP Committee selects replacement for Keefe

By Tom Canavan
Editor in Chief

Roselle Park Planning Board Chairman Henry Kurz was selected by the Union County Republican Committee last week to replace James Keefe on the GOP ticket for the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Keefe resigned from his freeholder seat only four months before the general election to accept the position of county councilor.

The committee chose Kurz June 29 during the GOP reorganization meeting. Kurz defeated Kenworth Borough Councilman Dennis Schultz, his only challenger after Union Township Committee Chairman Frank Lehr withdrew from the race earlier in the day.

The Republican ticket in November's election will be Kurz, incumbent Freeholder Chairman Frank Lehr and former Cranford Mayor Ed Foote.

Kurz said this week that the new ticket, which will face Democrats Peter Corvelli of Hillsdale, Bob Everett of Union and Harold McNeil Jr. of Plainfield, provides a balance that will ensure a Republican victory in November. This year's election is another pivotal race because one loser among the Republican ticket would guarantee a Democratic majority on the board.

"It's a good balance because Frank is from a city, Summit, so he is familiar with the problems of a large city. Ed is from a township, so he is familiar with the problems of a township, and I am from a borough. They're the smallest entities, at least in Union County, and I bring a lot of borough experience," Kurz said. "And the fact that Roselle Park is the most densely populated borough in the county, it presents a lot of problems because of the breadth of experience I have at the county and local levels would perfectly complement the experience of the other two candidates."

The experience Kurz said he will bring to the freeholder ticket includes his 12 years as a Roselle Park councilman from 1970 to 1982, his five years as Planning Board chairman, vice chairmanship of the Roselle Park Environmental Commission, and chairmanship of the mayor's blue ribbon panel which conducts research into personnel matters in the borough. Kurz was appointed to the mayor's negotiating committee, and served on the police, fire and finance committees of the Board of Education.

While on the council, Kurz served as council president, and served on the police, fire and finance committees. He was the council's representative to the Board of Health and Recreation Department.

At the county level, Kurz is a member of the Union County Parks and Recreation Advisory Board and was a member of the regional Morris Creek Flood Control Commission. He also was a member of the Union County Psychiatric Board.

"I've always believed that Union County is the linchpin county for northern New Jersey," Kurz said when asked the focus of his campaign. "I don't think we get our due and fair shake because we're not the large city of Newark. We're adjacent, but overlooked."

"We probably have one of the best park and recreation systems in the state. We have one of the major East Coast seaports, one of the most modern international airports, and we're losing jobs. Why?"

"We are blessed by the two major highway systems in the state — the Parkway and the Turnpike, in addition to Route 1. We have the ideal geographic location, but we're killed in the labor force."

Kurz said that in conjunction with Gov. Christine Whitman's administration and her "commitment to keeping jobs in New Jersey, counties have got to work hand in hand to effectuate that. We need an incentive for people to come into our county. I want jobs that are here to stay and I want to have new jobs that will make Union County a strong county."

Republican Chairman Frank McDermott said he is pleased with Kurz's selection.

"We have by far the superior team as far as the freeholder slate," McDermott said Tuesday. "Henry has been a businessman all his life. His presence on the ticket will be to encourage everyone to wake up and say Union County needs economic development."

"I've always believed that Union County is the linchpin county for northern New Jersey," Kurz said.

He backed Kurz over Schultz because Kurz "is more philosophically similar to me. I felt comfortable supporting him and am confident that he'll do a fine job as freeholder. He is someone who will represent his constituents," Muller said.

Employee is arrested on fireworks charges

Allege he used property to distribute

By Mark Devaney
Staff Writer

An employee of Autoland on Route 22 in Springfield was arrested this weekend and charged with using the establishment and its property to distribute illegal fireworks.

On Friday at approximately 7:30 p.m., Autoland contacted the Springfield police regarding two juveniles in their property in possession of large quantities of fireworks. The two youths, 14- and 15-year-old boys from East Orange, were selling fireworks according to Springfield Chief of Police William Chisholm.

Officer David Harling and Officer John Cook apprehended both juveniles, each of whom was in possession of various types of fireworks, close to 834 items, ranging from skyrocketers to blockbusters, Chisholm said. Each teenager also had a price list stating what they were selling.

It was further determined that the two juveniles were brought to Autoland by Anthony Njoko, 42, of Elizabeth, an employee of the car dealership. Both youths were selling fireworks for him, according to Chisholm.

Police checked the vehicle that Njoko had driven and discovered that it contained about 400 additional fireworks, including items like skyrocketers, one of which amount to an explosive the size of one half a stick of dynamite.

The vehicle had been traded in to Autoland by a resident of Englewood and the transaction had been handled by Njoko. Instead of turning the vehicle in, Njoko had been using it as his own personal means of transportation, Chisholm said.

Njoko was charged with possession of with the intent to distribute fireworks, a fourth degree offense, and with the unlawful taking of a motor vehicle without consent.

Njoko was released pending action by the Union County grand jury. The two juveniles were released to the custody of their parents with further action pending by the Springfield Juvenile Unit.

Altogether, 2,040 separate explosives were confiscated, Chisholm said.

In another fireworks incident, the Springfield police responded to complaints from residents regarding fireworks being thrown from a motor vehicle.

Officer William Wisley stopped Joseph Vorhees, 19, of Springfield. His vehicle was found to contain 230 explosives. Vorhees was charged with possession of fireworks and was released with a scheduled appearance in Springfield Municipal Court.

"I've always believed that Union County is the linchpin county for northern New Jersey."

— Henry Kurz
New candidate

Henry will see it through.

McDermott said Keefe was a "great candidate, but Henry will make up in his diligence the sparkle and attractiveness Keefe had."

A grassroots campaign is expected from the ticket, McDermott said, and will include "going to the people. You've got to be out there talking to the people," he said.

Muller, who withdrew from the race hours before the voting process, said he is confident that Kurz would be a solid freeholder.

He backed Kurz over Schultz because Kurz "is more philosophically similar to me. I felt comfortable supporting him and am confident that he'll do a fine job as freeholder. He is someone who will represent his constituents," Muller said.

Crime victims to benefit from Lustbader bill

Crime victims in the state would reap the benefits of a bill sponsored by Assemblyman Monroe Jay Lustbader that was released from the Assembly Judiciary, Law and Public Safety Committee this week.

The legislation would increase the violent crimes compensation board services available to crime victims. To more accurately reflect the functions of the board, the measure would also change the current name of the VCCB to the "Victims of Crime Compensation Board."

"The purpose of this legislation is to ensure that adequate assistance is available for victims of drunk driving offenses and fraudulent schemes directed at our state's senior citizens and the disabled from the Violent Crimes Compensation Board," said Lustbader, R-Essex, Union.

"As innocent citizens have their lives darkened instantly by the irresponsible act of a drunk driver, we must ensure that adequate assistance is available for them through the VCCB," Lustbader added.

"There is no doubt that motor vehicles and boats can kill innocent people if they are not operated carefully and responsibly," said Lustbader. "Anyone operating these machines under the influence of drugs and alcohol poses a dangerous threat to the safety of other citizens who share the state's roadways and waterways," Lustbader added.

"If the life of an individual or family is affected by the irresponsible and illegal operation of an automobile, boat or commercial vehicle, those persons are entitled to compensation. This bill will empower the VCCB to provide that assistance," Lustbader added.

The bill provides that victims would be entitled to receive compensation from the VCCB for compensation caused by persons who violate the laws against drunken driving, drunk boating, or the operation of a commercial motor vehicle by a person with a blood alcohol concentration of 0.04 percent or more.

Persons convicted of these offenses would be required to pay a $50 assessment to be used by the VCCB to satisfy claims by victims. The bill would also clarify that at the time of sentencing a defendant who has not yet paid a VCCB assessment, the court must order that the assessment be deducted from any income the defendant receives from a prison work program. Public incarceration or be deducted from any prison account maintained for the inmate's benefit. The bill would also allow awards for monetary losses suffered by crime victims who are elderly or disabled or an limited income. In such cases, these victims would be eligible for compensation in an amount up to $200, or for emergency awards up to that amount, whether or not these victims suffered personal injury in connection with the crime.

"While we cannot erase the personal pain and loss felt by the victims of drunk driving offenses and irresponsible boat or commercial motor vehicle operators, the Legislature seeks to enhance the ability of the VCCB to better serve these victims in a variety of ways," Lustbader said.

The bill would also eliminate the current requirement that a crime victim must have incurred certain minimum out-of-pocket losses before being eligible for compensation. Additional funding made available to the VCCB through the previously enacted state law makes it possible for the VCCB to provide compensation to eligible crime victims without the need for a minimum loss requirement.

With a greater focus on rising instances of victims falling prey to juvenile crime, the bill would also provide the VCCB access to records concerning juvenile offenders.

Under current law, the VCCB must be given access to law enforcement records in order to identify offenders, offenses charged, adjudications, dispositions of the charges, sentence ordered and the payment of penalties and restitution. While this information is readily available to the VCCB for adult offenders, similar information concerning juvenile offenders is not. This information would remain confidential.

Additionally, the release of certain child abuse records would be made to the VCCB maintained by the Division of Youth and Family Services, in order to provide compensation services to child victims.

The bill, A-1629, was released by a unanimous vote of the committee and now heads to the full Assembly for consideration.

Franks explores Healthsouth

By Catherine King
Correspondent

Seventh District U.S. Representative Bob Franks visited Linden's Healthsouth rehabilitation facility yesterday to gather information for the ongoing health care reform debate, which will be voted on in Washington, D.C., within the next two months.

"Health care is so vast," Franks said. "If one doesn't go out and visit health care facilities in person, there's no way you can experience them anecdotally."

Franks' visit gave him a better understanding of the physical and occupational needs in addition to Healthsouth's operational structure, he said.

The ultra modern facility is filled with high-tech exercise machines used in physical and occupational therapy.

"I didn't realize a facility of this size and scope is operating in Union County," he said. "I am delighted."

With all the discussion about the health care debate, many question how health care is provided to the 35 million Americans who have ongoing disabling conditions.

Representatives from Health-

Regional board OKs changes to policy

South explained to Franks that the solution to disability lies in medical rehabilitation. Fifteen percent of Healthsouth patients are insured by Medicare, 40 percent through workmen's compensation, and the rest through health maintenance organizations, a Healthsouth representative noted.

"Our motto is Healthsouth gets people back to work...to play...to live," said Executive Communications Assistant Kim Spier.

Alm Roth, the regional vice president of northeastern New Jersey's Healthsouth facilities, said that the rehabilitation field is greatly concerned that physical and occupational therapy will be provided in the current health care plans. "We want to make sure physical therapy is covered," said Roth.

Healthsouth also works to become involved with the community, and has provided $30,000 to cerebral palsy patients, Roth noted.

Healthsouth has recently been studied by Northwest National Life, which documented savings of up to $30 for every dollar spent on rehabilitation. "Saving money is our theme," Spier said.

Susan McCarthy, director of marketing, confirmed the facility's belief in reducing health care expenses. "We're getting disabled people back out there. We're putting ourselves on the line. Insurance companies come to us and we have to prove it," she said.

Franks consulted several physical therapy patients to become more acquainted with rehabilitation results.

One patient, Jessica Sheehy of Linden High School, recently visited the facility and will be playing basketball. Having received treatment since late April, she visits three times a week for about an hour and a half each time.

"At first I was a little intimidated, but the rehabilitation therapist make you feel very comfortable," she said. "Hospitality, staff, Sheehy will have completed her therapy within the next month.

Healthsouth, headquartered in Birmingham, Ala., currently has more than 300 locations throughout the country, including 45 rehabilitation centers, 251 outpatient centers and four medical centers specializing in orthopedic medicine.

David Scott Schiffman of Springfield graduated with honors May 26 from Yeshiva University at its 63rd annual commencement exercises at the Paramount at Madison Square Garden.

Schiffman received a bachelor's degree in sociology from Yeshiva College, the Undergraduate Men's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, in order to provide compensation services to child victims.

In addition to the new absentee regulations, the policy also outlined disciplinary actions that could be taken against a student for cutting class.

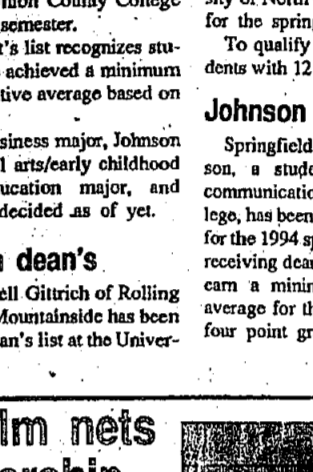

In other business, the board approved several administrative changes for the 1994-1995 school year. The positions of assistant superintendent of Personnel and administrative assistant for Public Relations will be abolished and merged into the new position of administrative assistant for Personnel and Public Relations, giving the board a projected savings of $105,000.

Also being abolished are the positions of assistant superintendent of Special Education, to be replaced by the new position of district supervisor of Special Education, who will supervise all special education, home instruction, resource room, and support in the district. This move will reportedly save the district an additional $100,500.

Resident completes three-part leadership institute program

Hanna Praport of Springfield, director of Union County College's Industry-Business Institute, has completed a three-segment leadership institute program which is designed to bring together businesspersons and workforce development professionals statewide in an effort to improve New Jersey's workforce.

Praport attended sessions on April 27 and 28 at Merck & Co., Inc., in Kenilworth; May 24 at Janssen Pharmaceutica, Titusville, and June 16 and 17 at Beneficial Management Corp., Peapack. The Leadership Institute was co-sponsored by the National Alliance of Business and the New Jersey Employment and Training Commission.

Praport was specifically selected for participation in the Leadership Institute based on her position with the college in setting up customized training programs for numerous companies throughout northern New Jersey, among other educational and training projects that she directs.

During the Leadership Institute sessions, Praport and her colleagues attended workshops featuring guest speakers and films, and then broke down the larger audience into smaller groups for topical discussions and brainstorming, reporting results to the larger group.

She noted upon her return that a major problem facing New Jersey's employers has been a gap between workforce needs and the skills being learned by students, resulting in a dearth of appropriately skilled workers for today's marketplace. While an ample supply of workers is available to fill jobs, and many jobs are open, labor analysts have noted a major gap between workers' skills and the skills needed to successfully perform available job duties.

Suggestions made at the sessions to correct this situation included creation of more partnerships between education and business sectors, and better publicizing the availability of monies for such purposes. Improved training programs also were on the participants' priority list, with a centralized system needed to market such opportunities. Labor market information was another area that participants agreed should be more aggressively marketed. In the area of training, not only do potential employees need to learn technical skills, but also they need to have work attitude training to foster more committed work ethics among employees.

Praport, for her part, said that she has created a line on which she would do extensive follow-up within the realm of her position at the college. This would include increased work with small businesses in similar fields to form training consortia, thus saving the individual firms money by collectively offering instructional programs by the college for the entire group.

"In this way, they could pool their monetary resources," says Praport. Praport also says that listing her own name and Industry-Business Institute's services in a statewide directory would further increase her channels through which she would network to businesses on how the college can help them achieve their training goals.

"We look forward to the long-term effects of our efforts," said Praport. "In the next several years, it is expected that the majority of those participating in the workforce already do so, but their skills need to change to keep pace with changes in new technologies."

Praport joined the college staff in 1987 as Industry-Business Institute coordinator, and was promoted to the directorial position last year. She holds a bachelor's degree from Fairleigh Dickinson University and a master's degree from Kean College of New Jersey.

Both sides need to listen

As we move further into this era of political correctness, it seems that just about anyone talks to, no matter what their political stripe, considers them to be an "environmentalist."

It could be traced back to 1988 and then-presidential candidate George Bush. Bush was a veteran of an administration that, under the direction of Secretary of the Interior James Watt, had completely gutted our national parks and wildlife preserve system by selling huge tracts of protected land to big business. But nonetheless, he proclaimed to all who would listen that he would be "the environmental president," like some messiah who would trample on the likes of Exxon, Merck and Ogden Martin.

There has been quite a bit of concern recently about legalized hunting in the Watchung Reservation, and those in favor of and opposed to the hunt have used the rationale that they believe in their cause because it's the environmentally conscious thing to do.

They wouldn't hear it. Whether right or wrong, what he said seemed to threaten their cause, and the Guardians wanted only to hear that he was against the hunt. This is akin to the many hunters who have never had an environmental concern in their lives — until their favorite hobby was threatened. It's then that they will start digging through just about any obscure scientific journal to find every possible defense for making key chains out of antlers.

This type of dialogue does not result in any kind of reasonable solution. The participants don't debate — they defend, ducking jobs and keeping their guard up, lest the other side lands a blow.

One thing is certain. Until both sides are willing to actually listen to intelligent discussion about the subject, such as is being attempted by the reservation's Deer Subcommittee, the biggest loser of all is the environment.

That 'pot of gold' plan may involve stakes

Money Management

As companies across the country continue to trim their work forces, thousands of workers face the opportunity to trade their jobs for enhanced early retirement deals. What should you do if your employer offers you what seems like a pot of gold in exchange for your early exit from the company? According to the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants, even the best early retirement package involves important career and financial stakes that dictate careful scrutiny of the package's pay and benefit terms.

According to CPAs, if you're presented with an early retirement offer, the first issue to address is whether you really have a choice. If your company is looking to reduce its payroll in general, or is targeting specific individuals or departments? Is it likely that outright layoffs will follow the voluntary early retirement program? Your decision-making process should begin with a realistic assessment of your job security, your prospects and marketability, and the future of your company.

Assuming the early retirement offer is voluntary, the next step is to carefully evaluate the package you are offered. Early retirement packages generally tempt employees with a combination of benefits.

Some of the better early retirement packages include company paid medical insurance coverage for a specific time period, although rising medical costs are making this benefit increasingly rare. However, federal law

State acquisition protects Highlands area

State We're In

On June 9, a bright spring afternoon in the New Jersey Highlands, at a place called Pyramid Mountain, Governor Whitman signed Green Acres acquisition measures permitting local governments to acquire 2,464 acres.

While there were many projects on the list, none were more important than those sponsored by Senator Bob Marun and Assemblywoman Carol Murphy, both of Morris County, to protect lands in the Highlands.

Random development there is threatening the water supply for half the state's population. Indeed, even as the governor was speaking, bulldozers were tearing at the forest a few yards away as another subdivision started.

The mechanical chain underscored the need for creation of a national forest to protect significant sections of the ridge.

The New Jersey Highlands, stretching from the New York State line between the Ramapo and Walkkill rivers southwesterly to Phillipsburg on the Delaware River, not only furnishes drinking and industrial water supplies for 4 million people but also

From The Editor's Notebook

By Tom Canavan
Editor in Chief

Webster's definition of "subpoena duces tecum" is "a writ commanding a person to produce in court certain designated documents or records."

Our company's Union Leader Managing Editor Chris Gatto received one of these "subpoena duces tecum" this week, but the "official" document came with such glaring errors that I engaged a lawyer to handle the matter.

The "official" document was delivered Friday by Guaranteed Subpoena Service of Union on behalf of the law firm of Fisher and Fisher, which is suing the Union Township Committee over the Price Club application and all the controversy that surrounded the Route 22 hearing.

What do we do? We must comply with the law. This is an "official" document, remember? It's an order.

We went back to the first request and deduced that the firm must want the article written by Scott Ruffolo, with an "E" for "Editorial" and "L" for "Letter" and "S" for "Service" and "P" for "Public" and "A" for "Accountants."

I had two questions, which I didn't bother asking Lamm, that I asked Chris. First, with the mistakes in the "official" document, is it truly an "official" document? Should we have requested a second subpoena with the correct information on it?

The second question is if Lamm was able to refer to the appropriate edition of the Union Leader and read us the correct information, that means they have a copy of the "document" they are requesting. Therefore, why do they need Chris Gatto to bring one to the court house?

I guess it's one reason why I've grown to distrust lawyers.

Governor Kean's political star is burning out

Screening New Jersey

Former Gov. Tom Kean went to the Iowa straw poll last week. In a much-publicized speech, he extolled his "policy of inclusion," and warned the GOP not to allow itself to be taken over by religious right.

Kean told the Republicans that if they exclude "every woman who has had an abortion" and "every son and daughter who is gay" from the party, then "we relegate ourselves to the sidelines."

Kean's comments were directed largely at the Pat Buchanan/Jerry Falwell wing of the GOP, the folks willing to exclude anyone who doesn't buy into their version of so-called "Christian values."

As usual, the national press loved the speech and praised the views of their favorite Republican moderate.

Prevention is key to keeping children lead free

Be Our Guest

One in six children in the United States has high levels of lead in his or her blood, according to the U.S. Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry. While lead poisoning is a silent threat to all children, it does not differentiate between socioeconomic or geographic boundaries.

Once we realize that lead is everywhere, we can begin to initiate a prevention plan.

In recognition of National Lead Poison Control Week, July 19-25, pediatric physicians at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, which created the idea of a national lead poison education week, suggest screening regularly.

MAJOR UNION CENTER UPGRADE WINS TOWNSHIP APPROVAL

A Colonial-style streetscape featuring new sidewalks, lighting and trees, complemented by additional parking, walkways, and small park areas... Union Center is primed for a massive multi-million dollar facelift, following formal approval of the first two phases of the project by the union township Committee in June.

"The streetscape plan is an essential component of our overall strategy to enhance Union Center," said Alan Rubin, chairman of the Union Center Special Improvement District which oversees the central business district. "We are spending our businesses' tax surcharges on marketing, promotions, parking, and other basic programs. The physical upgrade of Union Center is equally as important if our district is to compete with neighboring CBDs. We are delighted that the Township Committee unanimously agreed to the aesthetic improvements."

The first two phases, which include new sidewalks, lighting and tree plantings, is estimated to cost $1,060,000 of surplus funds and a federal Community Development Block Grant, which still must be approved by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). No local tax revenues will be expended in the project.

The township expects to break ground in August on the first stretch along Stuyvesant Avenue between Vauxhall Road and the historic cannon on Elmwood Avenue. The streetscape will extend about 20 feet east and west of Stuyvesant Avenue on Morris Avenue. Phase three of the project extends the streetscape along Morris Avenue and is expected to be completed by Spring, 1995. Phases four and five, which involve additional parking, walkways, and parks, are still on the drawing board.

"On behalf of the SID's Board of Directors, its members, and the Union residents, I wish to thank Mayor Petti and the Township Committee for its support," added SID executive director Michael Minelli.

Glimpse into history

Meeker Inn, built in the early 1800s and shown in this Union Township Historical Society photo taken in 1908 by Edwin D. Parnell of Millburn, made Union Center a popular stopping place for travelers going to and from New York by way of the Staten Island ferry at Elizabethtown. Several families operated it after the Meekers, including the Hiseys, the owners when this picture was taken, and Eugene O'Reilly, who was still there in 1916. Later, the building was occupied by small shops — a vegetable market, shoe repair shop, insurance office, sign painter and barbershop. The Union Center National Bank purchased the site in 1920 and erected its building there.

New Streetscape designed by architect shown on front cover

Potter Architects of Union has been hired by the Union Center Special Improvement District to design a new streetscape to improve the appearance of the Center and make it more shopper-friendly.

"Union Center is one of the most visible components of our community," stated mayor Jerome Petti. "As mayor, I believe the area deserves top priority since people identify the Township of Union with Union Center."

Alan Rubin, chairman of the SID, added that the SID Board of Directors "believes Union Center needs to plan ahead to the next century and ensure that it will feature all of the amenities shoppers expect. Our Board of Directors, in conjunction with Mayor Petti and the Township Committee, agree that a comprehensive make-over of Union Center is in order."

Among the improvements to be considered are sidewalks, street lights, trees benches and other street furniture, and parking configurations. Accessibility for the disabled will also be incorporated into the plans. The Union Center SID has applied for a federal Community Development Block Grant to fund the project.

Fabio and Fowler sparkle in annual North-South tilt

By J.R. Parachini
Sports Editor

EWING TWP. — The atmosphere on the field was electric. For these players, it was the last time that they would be able to put on the moves that have made them famous the last four years.

For area football standouts Michael Pringley of Linden, Frank Chmiel of Elizabeth, Kendall Ogle of Hillside, Nick Fowler of Roselle Park, Frank Fabio of Union and Paul Segro of Johnson Regional in Clark, last Thursday evening's 16th annual First Fidelity North-South Football All-Star Classic before 5,052 at Trenton State College was their last high school curtain call.

They now go from being All-Conference, All-Area, All-County, All-State and All-America to being just one of many All-Everything players.

Although the South defeated the North 21-16 to take an 8-6-2 series lead with its second straight victory, the six players from Worrall Community Newspapers' readership area played well and represented their schools in fine fashion.

Pringley and Ogle are headed to the Atlantic Coast Conference with Pringley attending North Carolina and Ogle on his way to Maryland. Chmiel is headed to the Ivy League to play at Princeton and Segro the Big East to play at Temple. Fabio will attend Nassau, N.Y. Community College and after two years there hopes to get a chance to play Division I at either West Virginia or Rutgers. Fowler will attend Northfield Prep in Northfield, Mass. and then its on to Division I-AA Yankee Conference representative New Hampshire.

"Even though we didn't win, I'm still proud of our team," said Pringley, who was in on 11 tackles and had two fumble recoveries. "It felt real good to be playing with the best players and against the best players."

Chmiel, who played inside line-backer, had one solo tackle and five assists.

"It was good competition and I liked it a lot," Chmiel said. "As far as teamwork, it was hard to put everything together with the defense because of all the different kinds of coverage, but as far as our relationships, friend wise, we got along real well."

Ogle and Fowler were not given the chance to run the ball as much as South running backs Derek Carter of Dunellen, Charles Bowles of Metuchen, Eric Lampkin of Notre Dame and James Jenkins of Oakcrest, but each showed what they could do in running and passing situations.

"It was good, but I just wish I could have gotten more playing time," said Ogle, who scored the North's first touchdowns in two years in the second quarter on a four-yard run and who rushed for 21 yards on four carries, and caught one pass for 14. "They wanted to spread the offense out and get the ball to me and the other tailback (Orin Marshman of Irvington) but we fell behind kind of early and we fell away from that."

Ogle and Fowler both leave as their high school's all-time leading rushers. Ogle rushed for 3,389 yards and Fowler 3,175.

"It was a good experience and I had a lot of fun and was glad to get the chance to play," Ogle said.

Ogle scored unassisted on a four-yard run near the end of the first half to get the North back in the game at 14-9.

"It was a belly-left play and all I had to do was follow Frank (Fabio)," Ogle said.

Fowler gained 10 yards on five carries and caught two passes for 35 more yards.

"This was a lot of fun and I had a really good time," Fowler said. "I'm a little disappointed we lost. I haven't lost in two years and I don't know how to react, but again it's only an All-Star Game."

Fowler caught a key pass late in the game when the North was driving for a potential go-ahead touchdown. However, the South came up with its fifth interception on the next play.

"Overall, I had a lot of fun," Fowler said. "I had a great time working with the coaches and my teammates."

The South squad was led on offense by its running game and that was led by Carter, a diminutive, 5-9, 170-pound tailback. The high-scoring running back, who will attend Hudson Valley Community College in Troy, N.Y., led all rushers with 121 yards on 14 carries and scored the game's decisive touchdowns on a 19-yard run in the third quarter.

Defensively, the South picked off five passes, four of them hauled in by DeLoe's 6-3, 200-pound free safety Jason Poles, headed to the Big East and Syracuse University.

Elizabeth's Cicarelli Inducted Former Elizabeth head football coach Frank Cicarelli was one of five coaches inducted into the New Jersey State Football Coaches Association Hall of Fame at halftime. The others were Peter Natale of Ridgely Park and Fair Lawn, Hal Schunk of Froehd Borough, Tom Carley of Audubon and Hadron Township and, posthumously, Tyrone Lewis of Red Bank and Howell.

Cicarelli was Elizabeth's head coach for 19 seasons from 1960-1978. He coached Elizabeth's first undefeated team, its 1970 squad that went 9-0 and outscored the opposition 304-31. He succeeded Joe Kania and was succeeded by Don Somma in 1979.

Blue Stars defeat Braves to capture Mountainside crown

The Blue Stars battled back from a midseason slump to win the Mountainside Youth Baseball League's National League championship.

The Blue Stars, coached by Chuck Ferricola and Jason Feldman, were represented this year by Michael Crisciollo, Daniel Drake, Jimmy Grammenos, Scott Santos, Nick Mancinelli, Tina Grammenos, Jason Guidicciolo, Robert Johnson, Philip Stalle, Greg Zimmerman and R.J. Fahrion.

Stalle pitched a complete game, eight-hitter to earn the mound victory against the Braves.

He struck out eight.

Stalle also went 2-for-4 at the plate, while Guidicciolo and Drake scored two runs each.

R.J. Fahrion played well at catcher for the Blue Stars.

Union White Sox play an exciting brand of baseball

By J.R. Parachini
Sports Editor

If you want to see 210 hitters who complain about not getting enough money, I suggest you go to Yankee or Shea Stadium.

If you want to see a brand of baseball where the players compete for the love of the game, then I suggest you give Rabbin Field in Union a try.

That's what the Union White Sox of the Central Jersey Baseball League call their field of dreams.

"We just love to play baseball and that's how everyone in the league feels," Union coach Bill DeMarco said. "These players have a lot of commitments and take a long 36-game-plus season very seriously. We play a very good brand of baseball that is exciting to watch."

Union's entry in the league began the week in second place in the Eastern Division with a 13-7 mark, one half game behind the 14-7 Woodbridge Cards. New Providence led the Central Division with a 13-6 record and North Hunterdon the Western Division with the league's best mark at 16-4-1.

The league consists of three four-team divisions. This year's All-Star Game is set for this Saturday in Whitehouse at Whitehouse Field. A home run contest will take place at noon, with the game to follow at 1 p.m.

Union had a home game scheduled against Branchburg last night and tonight are scheduled to play the Woodbridge Giants at Woodbridge High School at 6.

The All-Star teams were set to be

Central Jersey

"We had some key injuries that hurt us," DeMarco said. "In the beginning, everybody was hitting the ball well from 1-9 in the lineup."

Through the team's first 17 games, Union had four players batting .400 or better. Dan DeMarco, the team's centerfielder, was at the top with a .444 batting average, followed by first baseman Kevin Bradley at .419 and leftfielder Filucci and second baseman Planer at an even .400. Napolitano, the team's third baseman, was batting .390.

Prior to yesterday's game, Dunbar led the team in home runs with two and Filucci in RBI with 14. Dan DeMarco had 12 and catcher Chris Dorsett 11.

The roster consists of Union residents Dan and Bill DeMarco, Filucci, Napolitano, Planer, Dunbar, Mezza, Schmidt, Doug Della Donna, Mike Jakubowski, Anthony Lanzl, Adler, Chris Shaw, Dave Shaw, Lilola, Matt McMundo, Ed Collins, Justin McElligot, Don Anselloni and player-coach Peter DeLoe.

Other players include Maplewood resident Bradley, Cranford residents Dorsett and Sam Carpenter, Jose Rodriguez of Kenilworth and Ryan Venckas of Westfield.

The starting pitchers include Dave Shaw, Lilola, Adler and Collins, all right-handers. The bullpen consists of Chris Shaw, Anselloni, Carpenter and Venckas, with Venckas the only southpaw.

Union bowed out of the league playoffs in the first round last year, losing to Hillsborough of the Central Division two games to one. The White Sox qualified for the Tournament of Champions by virtue of their Eastern Division championship.

"One goal we set was to win our league playoffs," DeMarco said. "We feel we can do well in the Tournament of Champions again if we qualify."

Springfield falls to Westfield

Having to face Westfield in any kind of swimming meet is no easy task. That's who Springfield had to start off with this year and although it did not beat Westfield, not many teams here, Springfield swimmers still turned in excellent performances.

Westfield defeated Springfield 278-165 in Westfield last week in the first match of the season between Division 4 teams in the North Jersey Summer Swim League.

Springfield was scheduled to swim at Summit Tuesday and today is scheduled to host Mountaineer at 6 p.m. at the Springfield Community Pool in its first home meet of the season.

Barbara Maul took third in the 12-hander girls individual medley event, an event where each swimmer swims one length of the pool using butterfly, backstroke, breaststroke and freestyle techniques. Nathan Demer earned second in the 12-hander boys event.

Christine Johanson and Laura DiCocco took first and second, respectively, in the girls 100-meter IM, with John Catallo the lead boys' finisher for Springfield in the 1300-yard race at fourth.

Union hoop camp July 25-29

The third annual Union Basketball Camp, in conjunction with the Union Township Recreation Department, has added a third session at Union High School.

Section 3, for youngsters age 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, will take place July 25-29. Besides teaching stations, lectures and games, each youngster will be placed in competitive situations each day to insure that experience can be gained in dealing with the varied complexities of the game of basketball. Each player will be exposed to the meaning of discipline, hard work, setting goals and having fun.

Campers will be able to use the latest equipment with a ratio of one coach to every seven campers.

There will be a physician and trainer on call at all times. There is a maximum medical insurance coverage on camp injuries in excess over any other collective insurance.

Thorough videotape analysis of each individual camper will also be provided.

The cost per camper is $50. Brochures, which include the camp application form, can be obtained at schools in Union.

Additional information or applications may be obtained by writing or calling: UHS coach Ted Zawadzki at 432 Colonial Avenue, Union, N.J. 07083, telephone: 908-688-2412.

Youth Swimming

Westfield's talented swimmers presented tough competition for Springfield in the freestyle events. Christine Gryzowski placed fourth in the 8-hander girls event and Andrew Elekas was fourth for the boys. Tara Cortiglano and Bryan Demberger each placed third in the 9/10 group.

In the 11/12 group, Helene Jettelso placed fourth and Mike Wituck placed third. Springfield swimmers Leticia Perez and Mike Karow each finished fourth in the 13/14 group.

Laura DiCocco placed first and Liz Barcelo third in the 15/17 girls group. Mike Reheis was fourth in the boys 15/17 event.

Springfield swimmers performed better in the backstroke events, opening with Colleen Spadoni and Jennifer Karl taking second and third, respectively, for the 8-hander girls. Elekas took fourth for the 8-hander boys. David Filipp won the 9/10 boys and Cortiglano was fourth for the boys. Erik Kozma placed third for the 11/12 girls in the backstroke, while Westfield swept the boys. In the 13/14 backstroke, Leah Dupberger took a first for Springfield for the girls, while Chris Siano pulled out a third for the boys.

Chris Johanson and Jen Metach finished first and second, respectively, for the 15/17 girls, while the 15/17 boys were swept by Westfield.

Danielle DeCagna placed fourth in the 8-hander breaststroke for Springfield, with Matt Stigliano taking second for the boys. Karen Bocian and Daniel DeCagna both placed second in the 9/10 breaststroke events.

Maul won the girls 11/12 breaststroke, while Mike Quick pulled a third for the boys. Jennifer Roggerman placed fourth to a Westfield sweep in the 13/14 girls breaststroke, while Matt Reheis took first for the boys. Megan Madara and Meach took first and second for the 15/17 girls, with Catallo pulling a third for the boys.

Matt Stigliano took third for the 8-hander boys in the butterfly. Bocian placed second for the 9/10 girls, while Demberger and Filipp pulled first and third, respectively, for the boys.

For the 11/12 boys, Denner placed third. Demberger took first for the 13/14 girls, while Reheis was second for the 13/14 boys. Chris Stracey and Hareford were first and second, respectively, for the 15/17 girls in butterfly, with Reheis third for the boys.

Westfield enjoyed much success in the relays, winning all but one. Springfield's 13/17 freestyle team of Matt Reheis, Siano, Johanson and DiCocco was victorious.

C.R. Vail baseball triumphs

In Roselle Park Youth Baseball League Minor Boys' Division playoff action last week, C.R. Vail defeated Anthony's 10-5. Danny DeLone-Danne had three hits. Bob Worshinski defeated Jo-Mar Deli 14-4. Winning pitcher Matt Russo struck out eight and hit a home run and two doubles. Travis Meadows had three doubles and Mike Donnarumma three hits. Kenny Flis played well defensively. Executive Coach Mangela Realy defeated 7-5. Tony Rizzo and Mario Salerno, Russo and Donnarumma had two hits each.

In Major Girls' Division playoff action, Donato Fiorist defeated Jodi Bost 19-4 to improve its record to 10-1-1. Joanne Olmick and Danielle Bieliski combined for the most victory. Laura Metzel went 4-for-4 and Bieliski blasted another home run.

In other playoff action, St. Sigebert Ryan Field 2-4. Kristina Porzelli pitched a home run to spark the winners.

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Retired engineer returns to his 'first love' — art

By Ben Smith Lifestyle Editor Claude Picard of Elizabeth had two ambitions in life when he lived in his hometown of Montreal, Canada — to be an artist and to be an engineer. And both of those ambitions came to fruition in his lifetime. In fact, he has utilized both fields in his artwork, "Metamorphosis," much of which can be seen at the Lee Malarm Art Gallery in the Union Library on Morris Avenue, Pitcairne Park. The exhibition of oil and watercolor paintings will be displayed through July 28.

"Picard, who retired as an engineer in 1985, 'came back to my first love — art,' he said in a charming French accent during a recent visit to this office. He has since had numerous group exhibitions in which he won a number of prizes, and solo exhibitions. He was included in collections and is affiliated with seven art organizations, one in Canada and six in the United States. In Union, he won first prize during a recent Festival on the Green, of which he said he is very proud.

He attributed his many talents to his French parents. "My mother," he said, "was an artist, too. My father was an engineer. I'm an engineer. When I was 16, I attended the Beaux-Arts of Montreal. But during the war they closed down, so I decided to become an engineer."

During his years in Canada, Picard was married and had five children. His wife was very ill. "At that time, I did painting as a hobby, but more than a hobby, because I let my stress go to the painting of landscapes. And after she died, he came to America, where he met his present wife. They were married and resided in Elizabeth. "She is a Russian engineer woman. "She is a Russian engineer woman," he said, "and she does real estate for Degan Boyle in Union. I help out as a hobby. It gives me a chance to meet people."

"My children are all married, and," Picard said, "all talented. One daughter, Claudine, is an artist too. But she has a family and doesn't have the chance to express herself. The other girl, Marina, is a ballerina for the Toronto Company of Ballet, as well as the Moscow or New York ballet. This is her way to express herself. A son, Serge, is a teacher. Marie has 10 companies." He smiled and gestured.

DINING REVIEW III Amici By Dennis McCarthy Staff Writer III Amici Ristorante at 1700 West Elizabeth Ave. in Linden offers a vast range of continental Italian cuisine with each dish painstakingly prepared as though it were the specialty of the house. Several nights a week, diners can experience the culinary craftsmanship of Amici's master chefs as they carefully blend Italy's most famous styles of cooking in what owner Giovanni Lavarato described as "a combination of Northern and Southern Italian cuisine." Best of all, it's offered at a price you can afford. Beginning with hot appetizers, which range in price from $5.95 to $7.95, my dining companion and I sampled entry class entrees, flavoured with porcini, celery and garlic sauce and topped with bacon. Other treasures from the sea include zuppa di marzuola in a mild marinara sauce, tender shrimp scampi, and clams organetto. All are fresh, and cooked to perfection. We agreed that an appetizer not to be missed is the spicchio alla romana. Layers of bread, mozzarella cheese and prosciutto baked with a sauce of olive oil, garlic, capers and anchovies. This flavorful treat is offered as an option with a special $21.95 full-course dinner. Those who don't enjoy anchovies should have no fear of this dish. Both the capers and anchovies add only a pleasant hint of taste. From among the entrees we enjoyed a rich, delicate carbonara, cooked al dente with prosciutto, onions, bacon and cheese. From the evenings special for $13.95 we sampled two dishes that should not be passed up when available. Delicious, pinto crepes stuffed with finely chopped spinach in a delicate cream sauce are out of this world.

Generous portions from the entire menu are available for $2 to $4 less during lunch hours between 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Dinner hours are 4:30 to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 4:30 to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 2 to 9 p.m. on Sunday. Perfect for all occasions is Amici's banquet room, which accommodates 175 people. A special wedding package including a complete dinner and open bar is offered at $29.95 per person. Lavarato and his partner, Michele Cavelli, are right at home among their customers. "We want to create a friendly, family atmosphere," Lavarato said. "I make everybody feel comfortable." This column is intended to inform our readers about dining opportunities in the area.

Stage set for performances of 'Annie'

Tickets are available for Linden Summer Playhouse's 1994 musical production, "Annie." The award-winning musical will be performed at the Union County Arts Center, Irving Street in Rahway, on July 20, 21, 22 and 23. The July 20 performance will be for senior citizens only and will be free of charge. All other performances will be for senior citizens only and will be free of charge. Pro senior citizen tickets for the July 20 performance are available at the George Center in Linden from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily. Reserved seating for the other performances may be ordered by calling (908) 272-3382 or by sending a check and a non-refundable choice of performance in a stamped, self-addressed envelope to 16 Windsor Place, Cranford, 07016. Tickets are $7 for adults, $5 for students and senior citizens.

This heartwarming musical based on the comic strip character "Little Orphan Annie" is directed by Martha Watson, choreographed by Alison Dooley and under the musical direction of Ruby Robertson, all Union County residents. A cast of nearly 50 young people from elementary school to college students — has been selected for the show. Seventeen municipalities from Union, Middlesex, Hudson, Essex, Morris and Bergen counties are represented among the cast members. A backstage crew of area residents also has begun set preparation. Linden Summer Playhouse's production of "Annie" is the 16th consecutive show presented by the theater group. A nonprofit, largely volunteer organization, Linden Summer Playhouse is funded in part by the New Jersey Council of the Arts through a grant administered by the Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs. Funding has also been received from the Summit Associates Inc., of Edison. Rehearsal facilities for the Playhouse are provided by the Linden Recreation Department. The Linden Summer Playhouse cast list includes: Westfield: Allison Siko-"Molly"; Jenny Korczyk-Orphan; Lauren Mazzareo-"Miss Hannigan"; Sabrina Hyman-"Sophie the Kettle"; and a "Boylan" sister; Larchmont: O'Brien-"Mrs. Greer"; and a "Boylan" sister; Larchmont: Kelly Korczyk, Rebecca Williams and Suzanne Viero-ensemble chorus and dancer. ### horoscope

July 10-16
ARIES - March 21/April 20
A festive event will be this week's focus. You'll finally meet a person who you've been hearing about for a long time. It's taking a trip — long or short — be extra-careful when packing. You could forget an important item. An old friend will be in touch. Don't neglect your diet.

Taurus - April 21/May 21
A chance meeting with an old friend puts you in a reflective mood. You'll realize how much time has changed you. A midweek inconvenience at work will keep you from attending a social engagement. Use the weekend to relax and catch up on household chores. Avoid shopping sprees.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21
You'll see an interesting side to someone you thought was dull. Perhaps first impressions are not always the most accurate. A telephone call on Tuesday will be significant. Something you've wanted for a long time can be yours. Take advantage of free time at the end of the week.

CANCER - June 22/July 22
A relaxing week. You may even feel as if you're discovering life all over again. Set aside some time for studying and learning. Be extra sensitive to your partner's feelings, especially if he or she is going through some type of transition. Domestic affairs monopolize the weekend.

LEO - July 23/August 23
Putting in the extra effort at work will pay off doubly. If you're involved in any type of creative work, you're sure to shine this week. If a friend has disappointed you recently, it's up to you to set some things. This person may not even know about your feelings. You'll find a new friend. A midweek possession turns up in an interesting way.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23
A welcomed change in your daily routine is both exciting and frightening. If you can squeeze out any free time from your busy schedule, spend it by yourself. Libras choose to be around other people, but they require quiet time. Use, especially when the pressure's on. Don't let little things upset you this week.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22
Deception of any kind, even little white lies, will get you in touch of trouble. Make multifaceted your policy and you'll be able to uphold your reputation. Your problem-solving abilities will be called upon at work. Make an effort to get your finances in order. Don't borrow any money!

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21
It will take a large amount of discipline to stay focused this week. Try to concentrate your energies on the subject at hand rather than on what seems most interesting. Even if an investment pays off, resist the temptation to reinvest in a long shot. A light and playful weekend is in store.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20
Don't neglect unfair behavior and stand up for what you believe in. A disagreement with a Leo of the opposite sex may be the cause of aggravation midweek. Make sure you clearly restate your viewpoints. Now's the time to plan for major financial investments.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18
Don't accept defeat without a fight. A situation that seems impossible really isn't. It's up to you, however, to find a creative way around such obstacles. If weekend activities involve athletics, be sure to bring along the proper gear. Good news comes in the mail.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20
Insecurity is the only thing that will keep you from success this week. Believe in yourself and you will go far. Through a new friendship, you'll discover different side of yourself. A family member will come to you for a favor. Take the time to lend a hand.

YOUR BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK
The next 12 months. Those caring the bonds of marriage will learn to give as well as receive. Through change, you'll reach a new level of maturity. Fitness and exercise will be concerns throughout the year. New friends and colleagues will have an impact on your outlook. Someone you've introduced to in October could turn out to be a very close friend. Single Cancans will find love when they least expect it. Before making any major purchases this year, be sure to shop around. A happy ending to a long struggle will make December a special month.

Who's entitled to benefits under Social Security?

Q. I am a married woman who has never worked outside of our home. I am 62 and my husband is going to retire later this year when he reaches age 65. What kind of benefits am I entitled to?

A. You are entitled to a wife's benefit based on your husband's earnings record. If you choose to receive this benefit before 65, the payment amount will be a reduced amount. If you wait until age 65, you get the full wife's benefit, which is 50 percent of the amount your husband is entitled to at age 65.

Q. I will be 63 in a couple of months, but my husband is five years younger than I am. Do I have to wait until he retires to receive Social Security benefits?

A. A married woman age 62 or older can receive benefits on her husband's Social Security record only if her husband is entitled to retirement or disability benefits. Since your husband is not yet 62, you cannot receive benefits on his record at this time — unless he is entitled to disability benefits. However, if you have worked long enough in jobs covered by Social Security, you may be eligible for benefits based on your own work record, and your husband's age and entitlement status would not be a factor.

Q. When a Social Security beneficiary dies, does the funeral home notify Social Security or is notification to the family?

A. Many funeral directors voluntarily provide death information to Social Security. But family members of a deceased beneficiary still have the legal responsibility to provide notification.

Q. I am getting SSI and food stamps. My young grandson recently came to live with me when his parents divorced. Can my food stamp allotment be increased to help pay for the extra food I'll need to buy?

A. It depends on the circumstances of your living arrangement — and other family members are contributing anything for your grandson's support. If he is in your care and you are providing for all of his needs, then the allotment may be increased to allow for the extra food you have to buy. Contact the nearest food stamp office for more information.

Q. My mother-in-law, who is 67, suffered a stroke this past winter. She is improving but is still unable to speak so that we can understand her. Can Medicare help pay for a therapist?

A. Yes. Speech therapy is among the services covered by Medicare medical insurance. Contact your Medicare carrier for more information.

Q. My eldest daughter recently had a successful kidney transplant operation, which was covered by Medicare. Of course, special medical care will still be needed while she recuperates. Does Medicare cover medical services following her operation?

A. Your daughter's Medicare coverage will continue for 36 months after the transplant operation.

Q. I've been told that I will need to show a birth certificate and mar-

Senior Watch
By Ron Pollack

Who should help workers buy health insurance? Their boss, or their 60-year-old grandchild? That's the heart of the debate over how to pay for health reform.

Older Americans know better than anybody that we can't delay health reform. Today, many seniors can't afford their medicine, what they have to shell out for health care is skyrocketing, and nobody is protected from the crushing financial burden of long term care.

We all know that health care costs money and somebody has to pay. President Clinton believes that America's businesses should live up to their responsibility by helping their workers with health insurance. The alternative, proposed by politicians and lobbyists who seem to have no grandpianos, is to take the money to pay for these workers out of — you guessed it — Medicare. What should be done with money saved by cracking down on fraud, waste and overcharge in Medicare? President Clinton wants to use those savings to give you prescription drug coverage and begin a new long term care program to help you get care at home. But some politicians want to take that money away from Medicare and use it to subsidize businesses that don't pay their own share of health costs.

The owner of a national chain of fast food restaurants recently told the president that he doesn't want to cut into his profits by offering health insurance to his many workers across the country. Maybe he'd prefer it if seniors — living on fixed incomes — pay for health insurance for his employees.

A majority of business owners live up to their responsibility to help their workers. Already, nine out of 10 Americans with private health insurance get it at work. President Clinton believes that everyone who works should get health insurance at the job, with employers and employees sharing the cost.

Some other business owners want to insure their workers, but the insurance companies charge them exorbitant rates, or won't cover them at all. Under the president's reform, small businesses will get discounted insurance, and insurance companies will no longer be allowed to raise premiums two to three times the rate of inflation, as they do today.

And, most important, President Clinton's reform makes it illegal for insurance companies to charge more for older workers.

That fast food restaurant owner is pretty snooty. He wants to protect his profits instead of his workers. And he passes the costs onto us. Here's how it works: when he doesn't insure his workers, they still get health care, but we pay for it. Doctors and hospitals just tack the hidden surcharge for people who can't pay onto everybody else's bill.

The threat to Medicare is real — if Congress fails to pass the president's reform. Year after year, politicians and lobbyists have launched assaults on Medicare. Now they want to bleed Medicare to pay for the health care of workers whose employers refuse to pay. That's just not fair to older Americans.

The only fair thing is for all responsibility to live up to their responsibility.

The president's reform is the best way to protect Medicare. That's why the National Council of Senior Citizens and Families USA support it, and why AARP says that the President's reform is the "best option for senior citizens."

Ron Pollack is executive director of Families USA Foundation.
