Sensible Citizens Revolt Against Park — the politically active group of residents in respect to light bus. Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders used their ideas of allowing freight trains to pass through the township.

In addition to circulating petitions that will be submitted to freeholders, SCRAP recommends residents mail letters of protest to:

• County Manager Ann Baran at the Union County Administration Building, sixth floor, Elizabethtown Park, Elizabeth 07207.

SCRAP also suggests residents contact Rep. Dick Zimmer, who represents New Jersey's 12th district in Congress, and express support of his efforts to curtail the "beak" spending they allege would partially fund the railroads of Union County. Zimmer may be reached at 133 Franklin Corner Road, Lawrenceville 08648.

Gaudin School students perform 'On the 20th Century' in the school's auditorium. The school boasts active theater and music programs.

'20th Century' arrives at school

By Cynthia B. Gordon
Staff Writer

Gaudin School students put on their dancing shoes and performed "On the 20th Century" during the weekend as part of their continuing series of theatrical performances.

The school has enjoyed thriving drama and music programs, staffed with students with display talents and dedication uncommon among young people, according to parents active in the production.

The play, which tells the story of an actress who applies to make it in movies and of a producer who seeks financial backers, was chosen because of its complexity. Director Mark Majeski said the play would give the students the opportunity to use their technological skills.

Many teachers, parents, students and other "helping hands" were involved in the production.

"It was a very difficult show and they did it," said Jeffrey Katz, one of those behind-the-scenes helpers. "The kids do an excellent job and work their hearts out."

Sharon Katz praised all those that helped put the production together, and thanked Majeski for special appreciation.

"He's the most giving and talented individual," she said of the director, who puts in 12-hour days. "This man performs miracles with these children."

What got me involved was that I was so impressed with his dedication and his commitment to the kids and belief in the kids, even when they didn't believe in themselves," she added.

"I wanted the children to have the experience of working with a contemporary musical, because most of the musicals that are done are by Rodgers and Hammerstein," said Majeski, a 20-year veteran of Gaudin. "This play was written in 1977 for Dribbble."

According to Majeski, the music was very challenging and some numbers were filled with five-part harmonies. The set was built and designed by eighth-graders. "It empowers the students so that they feel there's ownership," he said. "They will carry the experience with them for life."

"We like to do the actual Broadway shows," said Susan Bergoy, the music teacher who serves as musical director. "They get more of an education."

"It was a real lot of fun. We're looking forward to next year," she added.

"It's part of an educational experience the students began in previous grades and intend to continue."

Budget includes 12-point tax hike

By Jay Hochberg
Managing Editor

The Township Committee this week approved the 1995 budget for Springfield, which includes a 12-point increase in municipal taxes.

Mayor Marcia Forman estimated the property tax increase on a home assessed at $150,000 to be $180 above the figure paid the previous year.

The budget exceeded the limit established by the state's Local Government Cap Law by about 1.5 percent. The Township Committee authorized such an increase during its meeting on March 14.

Before passage of the budget, which was unanimous on Tuesday, the committee voted to amend the spending plan. Due to a combination of expenses and an income shortfall, the 1995 budget was increased by about $20,000.

The shortfall was attributed to about $440,000 the Township Committee expected to receive from the state for its Clean Communities program. The committee was informed several days ago that the money would not be available.

One of the added expenses involves the maintenance of the public library, to which $5,000 was allocated, for a total of more than $633,000.

The second expense will cover legal costs incurred by the township in Council vs. Affordable Housing-related litigation, Forman said.

The funds appropriated in the budget total nearly $15,446,000.

The Township Committee will address the capital improvement fund in early April.

Township Committee member James Holmes said the expected 12-point hike to be the largest part of a 20-point total hike Springfield residents will face this year.

Holmes estimated a 4-point increase in the school tax; a 3-point increase in the regional high school district tax; and a one-point hike in the county tax.

Hearings and votes on these three budgets will be held in April.

Concerning the Union County Regional High School District's proposed 1995 budget, Forman said the township will not join Montclair and Kenilworth in their bid to audit the district's books. The committee will continue its policy of not discussing Springfield's opinion regarding the proposed deregulation.

The new budget offers an "efficient and fair manner" of serving Springfield residents, Township Committee member Roy Hirschfeld said, adding that "the budget and the township was a week" before Forman became mayor.

"We have an obligation to provide services," he continued. "Nobody likes taxes but we need to create better services."

"Budgeting the township's money was an 'arduous task' due to the 'snaky process,'" said Township Committee member Gregory Clarke. "But we did it on a line-by-line basis, discussing nickels and dimes" on every item in the budget.

The discussion among committee members "sometimes grew heated" regarding various spending lines and cuts, he added.

"We have had our individual differences; that is normal," said Forman. "But we put them aside."

"This has been a year of catch-up on work that should have been started earlier," she also said, referring to future renovations to the firehouses, Department of Public Works garage, and the building on Levin Field, as well as the replacement of two suburban municipal fuel tanks.

Forman attributed the tax hike to payroll and benefits for municipal employees, money refunded in tax appeals and fees the township must pay for utilities and sewerage service.

"The township is not a profit-making organization," she added. "But a township has to provide services and pay for them with taxes."

Deputy Mayor Herbert Sileo too attributed the tax increases to payroll and utility services, referring to an expense that the township can do nothing about.

In other township business, the committee passed a resolution in support of Elizabethtown Water Company's application for a grant from the State Department of Environmental Protection's Environmental Claims Administration.

The company seeks the money in order to reactivate the Springfield Well Field, which was shut down in 1989, to reduce area ground water levels.

The Township Committee has concluded the municipalities of Millburn and Union, state Assemblywoman Marlene Oshes and Mayor Louis Iudico, state Sen. C. Louis Bassano, all R-Union, DEP Commissioner Robert Shinn and Gov. Christine Whitman, and has urged them all to support Elizabethtown's grant application.

Merachnik backs hike in dropout age

By Joseph Wohlgenuth
Correspondent

Although his ideas on raising the age a high school student can drop out aren't popular among educators' labor unions, State Sen. Ronald L. Merachnik said the Union County Regional High School District superintendent in his opinion.

Rice, a Democrat who represents Essex County, said he's "angry and appalled" at the opposition from the NJEA and the principals' and superintendents' organizations regarding his proposed bill that would require students to stay in school until they either turn 18 or graduate.

"So far, he has the support of Donald Merachnik, the Regional High School's superintendent."

Bill S-246, which would raise the legal age for dropping out of school from 16 to 18, was approved by the Senate Education Committee in January and is awaiting action in the Senate after being moved through the Senate Budget and Appropriations Committee.

"This bill takes a long-term approach to education and to many social problems we have today," Rice said. "It will remove the stigma of 'drop-out' and tell young people growing up today, and those who will grow up in the future, that you're in school for the long haul."

Merachnik said he supports the spirit of the would-be law, but he also stressed that passage of the bill depends on its wording.

"I agree with the intent of the bill," Merachnik said. "Rice is right on track."

"If the schools are going to be mandated to keep kids in school until the age of 18, procedures need to be changed," he added, hinting at the need for specific language in the bill before it becomes law.

Merachnik, supervisors, Jonathan Dayton, Arline L. Johnson and Governor Livingston regional high schools, and while the dropout rate in his district is less than 1 percent a year, "the other districts with large dropout percentages need to change their program," he said.

Some of the procedures that need to be changed, according to Merachnik, include schools offering more credit access to the computers and desktops from payroll.

According to Friedland, Berkeley Heights uses a similar loan/lease program, as does the school district of Bethel Park, Pa.

The computers will be made available to school officers at affordable prices because of the large number of units that will be purchased. Participants will be supplied with the needed accessories, including software and printers.

Board approves computer plan

The Springfield Board of Education approved its Staff Computer Loan/Lease Program during its meeting March 20.

According to Superintendent of Schools Gary Friedland, school staffers were unable to re-implement a program in which they agree to pay approximately $2,000 for the use of computer equipment for a period of two years.

The money to cover the costs will be deducted from the paychecks of those who enter the program during those two years.

"It's an economical way to train the staff as well as move on to this technical age," Friedland said. "It allows the teachers to practice and develop proficiency in their computer skills and apply the skills to the classroom for educational purposes."

The computer systems are compatible with the type of computers that are used within the school system.

"There is no investment for the Board of Education," he continued, referring to possible Board of Education expenses. "The board provides

CENTER BUILDS PARTNERSHIP WITH HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

In a collaborative effort with Habitat for Humanity, Newark, Inc., The First Occupational Center of New Jersey is building homes and futures. Two clients of the Center's Family Development Program, Kristina Patruski and Janice Blackmon, recently completed a two week job evaluation at Habitat for Humanity in Newark. Habitat for Humanity, Newark, Inc. is devoted to producing affordable housing in partnership with working low-income families. Kristina and Janice are enrolled in the Center's Family Development Program which provides job training to individuals receiving public assistance. Past participants in the Family Development Program are coached on various jobs in the community, so as to ease the transition to painful employment.

Reflecting on the Center's participation in this cooperative home building initiative, Reverend Chris Leslie, the executive director of Habitat for Humanity, Newark, Inc., comments, "I am delighted that Habitat for Humanity, Newark, Inc. is creating partnerships with the First Occupational Center of New Jersey. This is a wonderful opportunity to introduce women on welfare to the construction trade, as well as get them into the job market."

"We certainly enjoyed our experience at Habitat and hope to participate in the construction of our own house sometime in the future," concurred "home builders", Kristina and Janice.

Melitta Stewart, Director of Family Development Program stated, "The experience for Kristina and Janice has been an excellent way to introduce these women to non-traditional occupations. This is one of the growing emphasis of the administrators of the Division of Family Development in the Department of Human Services."

GET UP, GET OUT, GET GOING

A Vietnam Veterans Children's Services workshop was presented on Wednesday, March 22, 1995 at the Holiday Inn in Totowa. The workshop entitled "Get Up, Get Out, Get Going" featured a panel of four speakers discussing various camping and recreational opportunities for individuals with disabilities living in New Jersey.

The four panel members represented several different types of experiences available in New Jersey. The panel included Karen Brockel from Somerset Hills Handicapped Riders, Peter Swann from First Valley YMCA Camps, Jeanne Hunt from New Jersey Tournament of Champions, and Deborah Aronson from New Jersey Wheelchair Athletic Association. Each speaker gave an overview of their program, followed by the opportunity for the audience to ask questions of the panel.

In addition to the panel, literature was available regarding other recreational opportunities in New Jersey for special needs populations. Each workshop participant received the OCNJ Guide to Recreational Opportunities in Southern New Jersey. The Guide was developed by the Center several years ago and is updated annually.

In addition to the workshop series, which was free and open to any interested individual, Vietnam Veterans Children's Services (VVCSS) offers information and referral, tutoring, counseling and service management to New Jersey Vietnam Veterans who have children with special needs. VVCSS is funded by the Agent Orange Class Assistance Program.

THE LIVING SKILLS CENTER

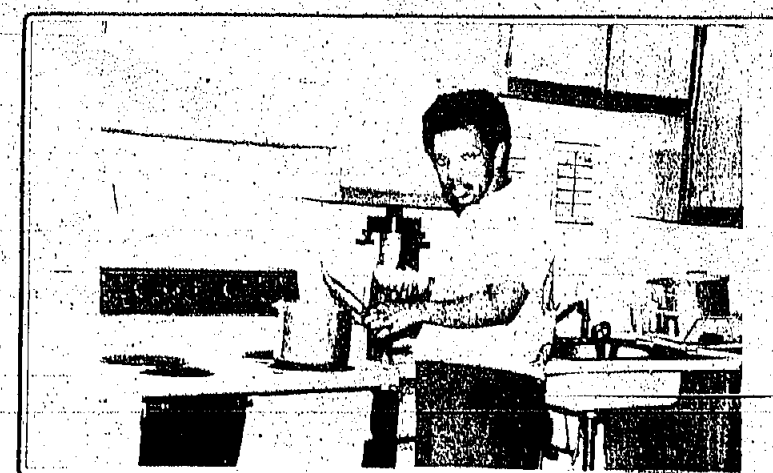

The Living Skills Center is an integral part of the Lakeside School, a division of the First Occupational Center of New Jersey, located at 123 Cleveland Street in Orange. The goal of the Living Skills Center is to assist students in their transition from school to independent living. It does this by providing hands-on opportunities for the students in daily living activities.

Band director takes pride in his concert musicians

By Bea Smith, Lifestyle Editor
When the Union Municipal Band... "During the winter," Bunnell explained during a visit to this office last week...

Bunnell said he takes pride in his musicians... "Actually," he said, "we have more than 80 on the roster, but at any one concert, we have from 50 to 65 people..."

"The hand is open to any serious musician in the area... I wish more high school students who are really interested in pursuing music as a career or a vocation to take advantage of this opportunity to enlarge their horizons..."

"Any fall," he declared, "I like to really serious about it should take advantage of this opportunity and get involved in community projects... I have people coming from nearby and faraway places..."

"Since Bunnell became music director of the Union Municipal Band in 1990, he said, "I believe the band has probably tripled in membership, and the caliber has really risen to quite a high level..."

"The program on Monday, which will be given free of charge, with Barry Furrer as assistant director and Thomas Maliszewski as guest conductor, will include the Liberty Bell March by John Philip Sousa...

"Born in New Providence, Bunnell's family moved to Summit when he was a young boy... "I graduated from Summit High School," he said, "and during the time I was a student there, I knew I wanted to be a musician..."

"Also on the program will be 'Flute, Flute, Flute,' by Edward Madden, featuring the Flute Section...

Union Municipal Band Flute Section will take part in the 'Music From the Stage, Screen and Opera House' concert scheduled for Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the Brien Middle School auditorium...

A folk arts festival set

"Do you practice a traditional folk art or craft that is part of your cultural heritage? Do you sing Puerto Rican jíbaro songs or African American capella gospel music? Embroider Hmong pajamas? Cut Polish wycinanki? Create Korean ethnographic game dice? Are the arts part of your cultural heritage?"

"We have all the concerts planned for this year," Bunnell said. "This fall, we will celebrate the 'Music Man' or 'Oktoberfest.' We always do one big production in the fall, and for that, we sell tickets... I directed about 70 musical shows... I also directed the 'Prince of Pezangay' production in the fall..."

"I had retired as a supervisor of music in the Madison Borough school system, where I had served for 32 years... I also am the choir conductor at the Springfield Presbyterian Church, and this is my 33rd year there..."

"No one is enjoying 'retirement' as much as I am," Bunnell chuckled. "And I'm going to do this until I drop," he shrugged. "I love it!"

Participants do not have to live in Union County, but must be from New Jersey... "The Folio Arts Festival is supported in part by a grant from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts..."

"Born in New Providence, Bunnell's family moved to Summit when he was a young boy... "I graduated from Summit High School," he said, "and during the time I was a student there, I knew I wanted to be a musician..."

horoscope

April 2-8 ARIES - March 21/April 20 If you use available information wisely, you may be able to further a financial scheme. Weekend plans may have to be rearranged as others involved are not as flexible as you had anticipated. There could be some adversity at work. Don't try to cover up mistakes.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21 It's a good time for local travel. Don't be afraid to expand your horizons this week, especially on Wednesday. You could even discover a new side of yourself. The topic of money should be avoided in conversations with loved ones, especially if already in a touchy subject.

CANCER - June 22/July 22 There are more works in Union County in need of documentation. The subject, "Volunteers are encouraged to join in this opportunity to foster knowledge about the New Jersey communities in which they live and work."

then shop around. Patience will lead you to a good deal. A project that has been on hold can now be tackled at full force. Don't be afraid to put new ideas to the test. A love relationship is cause for concern.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23 Slow down the pace of your day-to-day activity, or it will end up slowing you down. Try to relax, and don't jump on ideas. If a long-term project is the cause of frustration, try to find a white. Greater ideas will come with time. An old friendship will take on new meaning and will suddenly become more important to you.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22 A change of scenery will bring back the enthusiasm you may have recently lost. With that, the chance of a new romantic relationship is likely. If finances have been an issue, now's a good time to straighten things out. Long-awaited news will finally arrive with an unexpected result.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21 Don't let day-to-day frustrations get the better of you. Try to relax, and tend to daily matters when you're more relaxed. Go for quality, rather than quantity, when shopping this week. Although honesty is really the best policy, you may find a little white lie a better answer.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20 Quiet pleasures, rather than lively activities, will be better for your health and your wallet this week. This is especially true if you have been putting in a lot of hours at work. Learn from the mistakes of others when it comes to handling romantic relationships.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18 Your imagination and creativity will give a pet project extra flair. Don't let others discourage you from doing the unusual. Let your imagination be your guide. A younger person in your family will play a role in the week's events. You may be called upon to lend a sympathetic ear.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20 A good mood helps you get through the week with ease. Complicated tasks will seem simple, and problematic situations will seem easily manageable. Think of a new way to handle an ongoing problem. Looking for love? It is. This could be a very special week for you.

YOUR BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK The next 12 months This could be a very... maybe the most crucial year in your life. Make the right decisions and all you've ever wanted could be yours. Just remember, you must act on an opportunity when it presents itself because most opportunities go as quickly as they come.
