Senior housing group seeks township help

By Blaine Dillip
Staff Writer

If it is not an organization which helps housing for senior citizens, it is interested in building a new facility in Springfield. The only problem is that they are having trouble finding a suitable location on which to develop a major apartment building.

"We have received a lot of applications from people in Newark and Union offering land for our purposes, but from no one in Springfield and we just can't understand that. And we are concerned that the town fathers have not given us an idea where it would be logical to put such an apartment building for seniors," said Herb Ross of the Springfield "Old 97" club.

According to Ross, they have suggested a few possible sites that seem to be suitable for the project.

"We suggested the Stop & Shop property which was originally turned down because they did not want that kind of activity because of the traffic flow and other concerns. Initially they told us that it was a good commercial site but that is not true. It would be an ideal location," said Ross.

Ross is also concerned that the township would like to see the formation of a Parks Department.

More money pours into Duffy's

By Kevin Sligo
Managing Editor

Despite residents' questions about the integrity of the firm, the Township Committee passed a resolution Tuesday authorizing the payment of an additional fee of up to $4,500 by Kelly A. Karpavicz for services related to Duffy's Corner parking lot, located on Morris Avenue.

The agreement from new bond proceeds authorizing and construction inspection services related to the completion of the contract to project for the Duffy's Corner lot, which was started during the summer. The contract was awarded without competitive bidding as a "professional service contract."

The resolution passed with three votes, committee member William Russo abstained, and committee member Bill Blitar opposed the resolution, citing the fact that the project has exceeded its original estimate of $3,514,400.

"This is now well over a $100,000 project which I feel is really unnecessary," Blitar said.

He added that the township ramp has been constructed in such a way that the ramp slopes toward Morris Avenue.

However, Deputy Mayor Herbert Slote refuted his claims of fiscal strain.

"What can be considered a cost overrun is not necessary. It is. Continued in the field will determine what the cost will be," he said.

He also refuted his claim that the ramp is close to the street.

In other news, the Township Committee authorized that funds have been allocated in full for the pool at the township pool. The upper level is looking for a pool of 12,000 gallons per day, and the lower level is looking for 11,500 gallons per day. In addition, the pool structure itself is looking for 5,000 gallons per day.

"We're going to have to do some major digging to get to the pool," said Sligo.

He added that this work would have been necessary eventually.

The township also authorized the creation of a building board at the Chatham School to authorize the upcoming renovation plans. The board will cost $600. Russo and Blitar voted against the board, questioning the necessity of the expenditure.

In their personal statements, both Russo and Blitar thanked those who contributed to the Clean Communities weekend, especially those who helped Saturday's rainwater. Committee member Roy Hirschfeld added that this would most likely be the last year for the rainwater program, since the state has announced plans for its discontinuation.

It appears that Clean Communities is on its way out, added Mayor Gregory Clark.

Recreation Department targets unsafe playground equipment

By Kevin Sligo
Managing Editor

If you built them, they will come. At least that is what the township hopes with regard to its playgrounds, which will soon be given a facelift in an effort to make them more attractive and safe. Several area playgrounds are in questionable condition as far as safety issues are concerned, and the town wants to take steps to improve the matter.

"For Alvin Park, we have requested that four different items be ordered for the playground. These items include an infant swing, a slide, and a steeple dish, which is a big round dish that small kids can climb around on. The big item we ordered is called a platform play area which has steps in for the kids to play on. We are trying to concentrate on Alvin Park first because that park was in the worst shape," said Roy Hirschfeld, Township Committee member and Recreation Committee chair.

The park at the Chatham School will also receive some attention as well.

"At the Chatham School we will be renovating by putting down some mulch as a soft play surface around the playground. I have also found that a lot of the equipment was damaged so we will be repairing that as well. The next park that we are going to look at is Irwin park," said Hirschfeld.

Something that the Recreation Department and Hirschfeld would like to see is the formation of a Parks Department, which would take care of the maintenance area parks in the township.

"Something that I will be proposing before the Township Committee will be to create, out of the existing Recreation Department budget, a Parks Department. The department would have two full or part time employees who will handle strictly maintenance, up-keep and the cutting of grass at all of the township parks. What we are trying to do is that we will not have to spend any extra money to create the department out of the existing recreation budget as far as salary and maintenance costs are concerned. The other possibility that we will present is the possible privatization of the parks where we would use a private contractor to handle all of the maintenance of the parks instead of hiring someone through the town. We will have to decide which will be the most financially sound idea," said Hirschfeld.

Apparently Hirschfeld is also concerned about some recent activities at the teen center at the Chatham School that he plans to correct as soon as possible. There was an incident of underage drinking by one of the teens at the center the evening of Oct. 4 that has prompted Hirschfeld to "examine how the teen center is being run."

"The teen center has had some problems, and there is an ongoing investigation of this alcohol related incident. What happened at the teen center was that a kid was carrying a beer can and was drinking it. The kid was carrying a beer can and was drinking it. The kid was carrying a beer can and was drinking it."

B'nai B'rith still searching for Springfield location

Springfield has had many its earlier housing requirements.

Springfield has until Jan. 3 to come up with an answer to their earlier housing problems, and we are trying to help. B'nai B'rith has a long history of providing senior citizen housing, and we've had quite a number of locations in the county.

They own a building in Springfield and the surrounding area. We have also gotten calls from people in Michigan and Florida who are from the area and have 'gone home' and would like to come back. If we can get the project underway, we just think that there may be some places to build that we are unaware of that the town may be able to put us in touch with.

The township states that they are really not in a position to find B'nai B'rith a suitable location, but that once one is found that they will do so.

Assemblymen support tax, spending reforms

Assemblyman Joel Weingarten and Kevin O'Toole, R-Union, introduced legislation that would reduce the administrative burden on employers of household workers by simplifying the system for reporting payment of gross income tax withholding and withholding.

The Weingarten-O'Toole bill would eliminate the existing system, which requires 13 separate filings and eight separate payments for each employer each year, and replace it with an annual filing as part of the employer's own gross income tax.

Under current law, employers of household workers must make a quarterly report and payment of the gross income taxes they withhold from an employee's pay a quarterly report to the Department of Labor on the wages paid to the employee, and a quarterly report and payment of the unemployment contribution they withhold from their employees' pay and the contributions they make to state unemployment.

The bill, A-2279, will be assigned to an Assembly committee for consideration.

Elizabeth pulls out of county chamber

The City of Elizabeth withdrew from the Union County Chamber of Commerce yesterday in protest over the hiring of Jim Coyle as the chamber's new president.

The move came after two weeks of trying to negotiate a deal, Mayor J. Cassano Thursday said, but the Chamber offer from the chamber, which came late Tuesday, was not good enough.

Coyle ran Republican Jim Ford's failed 1994 congressional campaign. Ford is now challenging Bollogno in the mayor's race.

Club meeting to be rebroadcast

A special meeting on a proposal by local residents for a Boys and Girls Club of Summit will be broadcast on TV-36 on Wednesday Oct. 30 and Nov. 6 at 1 p.m.

The meeting was attended by many residents and representatives of various city boards interested in progress for youth in this community.

The Lark's recommendations included the city's turning the Summit Recreation Center on Morris Avenue over to the club on a long-term lease of $1 a year and assuming responsibility for major maintenance. In return, the Boys and Girls Club would provide the governance and funding, and would employ professional and volunteer to plan, implement and manage the program activities.

Leukemia society sponsors bank costume day

The Leukemia Society's Northern New Jersey Chapter is gearing up for their Halloween fundraising event in conjunction with area banks called Costume for a Cure. Costume for a Cure is both a fun-filled and worthwhile event. Bank tellers come to work dressed in costume on Halloween day. Each bank's costume vote for their favorite costume by placing a donation in the canister at the window of that teller. The Leukemia Society provides each teller with a canister, a personalized sticker which explains his/her participation in the event and a flyer announcing the bank's involvement with Costume for a Cure. Prizes are awarded to the teller raising the most money overall in each participating bank, and a plaque is presented to the bank raising the most money overall.

Proceeds raised through Costume for a Cure are used to support the Leukemia Society's vital programs of research and patient financial assistance. Last year, twenty-two area banks and approximately 1,600 teller-supported this event, and together they raised $22,000 to help adults and children with leukemia.

Assembly bill to target mandatory prison terms

In an effort to crack-down on theft in the state of New Jersey, Assemblyman Joel Weingarten and Kevin O'Toole have introduced legislation that would impose mandatory minimum terms of imprisonment for individuals convicted of burglary. Weingarten said the measure would impose the mandatory minimum prison term for the crime of burglary in the second or third degree, and would require convicted burglars to serve prison sentences. O'Toole said the bill is a violent act against a fellow citizen, it is not a crime against a person, it is a crime against a society. "Burglary is a threat to citizens and families in urban and suburban communities," O'Toole added. "It is imperative that we do more to protect law-abiding citizens from individuals who show little regard for the personal possessions and property of others." Weingarten said he was alarmed by statistics in New Jersey 1996 Uniform Crime Report which showed an increase of burglaries in municipalities within the 21st Legislative District. According to the report, Cedar Grove, Livingston, Millburn, North Caldwell, Roseland, Rutherford Park and Springfield all reported an increase in burglaries. The intention of this legislation is clear, if you commit a second or third degree burglary, you will do more time and you will not be eligible for parole until the mandatory minimum prison sentence is served, said O'Toole. "While burglary may not be a violent act against a fellow citizen, it is nonetheless a violent offense that deserves harsh punishment." "Burglary is a threat to citizens and families in urban and suburban communities," O'Toole added. "It is imperative that we do more to protect law-abiding citizens from individuals who show little regard for the personal possessions and property of others." Weingarten said he was alarmed by statistics in New Jersey 1996 Uniform Crime Report which showed an increase of burglaries in municipalities within the 21st Legislative District. According to the report, Cedar Grove, Livingston, Millburn, North Caldwell, Roseland, Rutherford Park and Springfield all reported an increase in burglaries.

Museum tour offers stencil demonstration

The Miller-Cory House Museum will feature a stenciling tour of the history of stenciling and offer a stencil demonstration on Saturday, Oct. 27, from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Stenciling was a popular and efficient way to decorate early American homes. Prior to the availability of wallpaper, colonists stenciled a variety of designs such as flowers and animals on their walls and window frames. The art of stenciling originated in China, but it was the French who first used it on walls. Stenciling came to America in the early 1770s, and small artists traveled from place to place and earned a wage by stenciling people's homes. From West to East, in 1860, stenciling was in vogue, but it was the period during which most stencils were found. Mrs. Florence Mahalan of Westfield with demonstrated the techniques used to create a variety of stenciled ornamentation.

Imaging made easier at Union Hospital

The state-of-the-art non-invasive imaging technique in nuclear medicine is now available at Union Hospital. SPECT imaging provides physicians with a comprehensive look at the heart's electrical activity, which extends a patient's heart.

The first part of the nuclear stress test is conducted while the patient is resting. The nuclear technologist injects the patient with the first radioactive pharmaceutical. Approximately 15-20 minutes after the injection, the patient is imaged by a Gamma camera and are converted into a computerized image of the heart.

The second part of the exam is the treadmill stress test. An intravenous line is placed on the patient's arm and radioactive pharmaceuticals are placed on his or her chest. The patient is asked to walk on the treadmill until they reach a target heart rate. Before the end of the exam, the patient is injected with the second radioactive pharmaceutical. In approximately 15-20 minutes, the patient is imaged again by the Gamma camera and are converted into a computerized image of the heart.

The combination of both radioactive pharmaceuticals yields the maximum amount of information available from the test by capturing the unique properties of each isotope.

It's time to be in the know during National Diabetes month

November is National Diabetes Month, when the American Diabetes Association sponsors a series of educational programs...

There are 16 million Americans with diabetes, including half a million New Jersey residents, half of whom don't know they have the disease...

During National Diabetes Month, 1996, activities for people with diabetes and their families will be focused on the theme, "Diabetes: What to Know, Head to Toe..."

"Diabetes is a serious and lifelong disease that can lead to complications of the circulatory and nervous systems," said Howard Goldstein, MD...

The mission of the American Diabetes Association is to prevent and cure diabetes, and to improve the lives of all people affected by diabetes.

Give lips the 'service' they need this winter

Your lips look a little better this summer. They endured summer heat, sun, and wind, and they'll have a rough time this winter...

Many people don't even realize their lips are damaged, according to Dr. Charles Zugerman, associate professor of clinical dermatology at Northwestern University Medical Center...

The villains are sun and wind. Lips have little or no melanin for sun protection, and have a thinner outer layer to lose moisture to the wind faster than any other part of the face...

In the "Mature Adult" Years? Time - and Mammography - Still Two Powerful Tools In The Fight Against Breast Cancer

As a woman ages, the chances of getting breast cancer increases, and the risk is especially high for women over the age of 60. The best way to fight breast cancer is to take the time for early detection and treatment and St. Elizabeth Hospital has the most effective tool to provide you with the earliest possible diagnosis - mammography - which can detect breast cancer even before there's a lump.

The American Cancer Society says that while breast cancer remains one of the leading causes of death from cancer among women, the cure rate is nearly 90 percent - with early detection and treatment.

St. Elizabeth Hospital Participates in the American Cancer Society's Breast Cancer Detection Awareness Program. On Saturday, October 26, 1996 from 9:00 am - 12:00 pm, St. Elizabeth Hospital is joining forces with the American Cancer Society in the fight against breast cancer by participating in the Society's Breast Cancer Detection Awareness Program for women over 40 years of age.

If you are a woman, age 40 and over, who has never had a mammogram or who hasn't had a mammogram in at least two years, and who has no symptoms of cancer, and who is not pregnant or nursing, you are eligible to participate in this program to reach women who show no signs of breast cancer or disease.

This life-saving, three-part program will consist of a clinical breast exam, instruction in breast self-examination (BSE), and for those women meeting the program's criteria, a mammogram for the affordable price of $40.

The mammograms will be scheduled at your convenience at future dates. An appointment is required. To make an appointment, or to obtain further information, call St. Elizabeth Hospital's Educational Resources Department at (908) 527-5393.

Westfield resident awaits transplant

Maureen Forrester, a 30-year-old resident of Westfield, is in desperate need of a kidney transplant. She has been waiting three-and-a-half years to receive this transplant and her condition has become critical.

The victim of a terminal kidney disease called Medullary Cystic Disease, Forrester received a kidney transplant 11 years ago which her body rejected seven years later. She has been performing hemodialysis ever since to perform the functions of her diseased kidney.

Maureen, her husband Mike, and her parents, Mr. Jack Colony, and Mrs. Peggy Colony, are excited and so for the reason why it has taken so long for Maureen to become available. Maureen is registered as four transplant centers nationally and has not received a single phone call in three years.

Maureen's condition has worsened. Her inability to fight off infection and the debilitating nature of the dialysis has meant frequent visits to the hospital and extended periods of bed rest.

Maureen has the same dream as any other 30-year-old woman; but unless a kidney becomes available to transplant immediately, she will never have the opportunity to see their son, Mike.

Maureen Forrester is the daughter of The Hon. a residential hospital in Elizabeth. The Hon. is owned by the Center for Hope Hospital, Margaret Colony, Maureen's mother, is the president and co-founder of The Center for Hope Hospital.

The Center for Hope Hospital has cared for over 4,000 terminally ill individuals and their families since its founding in the late 1970's. As the administrator at The House, Maureen uses her skills as a social worker to help terminally ill individuals and their families through the most important time of their lives - their final days.

Maureen was diagnosed by the age of one year but remained asymptomatic until age 19 when she began experiencing fevers. Further evaluation led to impending renal failure and hemodialysis. After 7 months of hemodialysis, in March of '86, Maureen was fortunate enough to receive a donor for transplantation. Six months following a successful transplant, Maureen developed meningitis, which was thought to be secondary to her suppressed immune system. She received six weeks of treatment for her meningitis and was discharged with continued intravenous treatment. This transplanted kidney lasted for 7 years, although Maureen had to be hospitalized several times for infections, viruses and to have her spleen removed. In March of '93, six weeks prior to her wedding, Maureen experienced rejection of the transplanted kidney. Hemodialysis was started 2 times per week for 3 hour intervals. This made it necessary for Maureen to receive hemodialysis even while on her honeymoon. By the end of July, one month later, her condition worsened hemodialysis to 4 times per week for 3 hour intervals. Maureen is registered as four transplant centers, however over the last three years she has not received one phone call regarding a potential donor.

Maureen's condition has continued to deteriorate over the last three years as she awaits a donor for transplant. The Center for Hope Hospital would like to increase public awareness as to the importance of organ donations. Anyone with questions or information on organ donations can call the hospital at (908) 486-0700.

Question your prescriptions as a precaution

Each year, Americans take approximately 1.6 billion prescriptions, costing nearly $30 billion. Unfortunately, most patients do not ask questions about their medications. Not asking questions may lead to problems, including the over use or under use of drugs. Taking medication at the wrong time with respect to food can decrease the effects of some drugs and increase the risk of side effects with others.

Side taking medications improperly can cause side effects, the New Jersey Poison Information and Education System along with the New Jersey Society of Health System Pharmacists strongly encourage patients to ask their health care provider questions about their medications. According to Bruce Black, Pharm. D., the following questions should be answered before taking any medication:

- How and when to take it.
• How long to take it for.
• What foods, drinks and other medications to avoid.
• What activities to avoid.
• What are the common side effects.
• You should inform your health care provider of the following:
• The name of all prescription...

'96 GM engine program is tops

Perhaps the best thing about GM's 1996 truck engine program is that you'll continue to discover its many benefits throughout your ownership experience.

Turn the key on your 1996 truck equipped with a Vortec engine and you'll notice how quickly it starts, how smoothly it idles, how quickly it comes to life. Despite the temperature outside, you'll notice how quickly the heater warms up.

As you depress the accelerator, there's no hiding the engine's powerful punch. Engineers have used a variety of "designer" and "technological" techniques to enhance power at specific times during the driving cycle. This means more torque for off-the-line acceleration, better towing capacity and better 30 to 70 mph passing performance.

Your next surprise occurs at the filling station. Despite the additional horsepower, you'll find you're using no additional fuel. This new power comes with no strings attached—no trade-offs for fuel economy or emissions. All of GM's truck engines pass the strict new clean-air laws and are fully OBDII compliant.

Required maintenance — or the lack thereof — will come as an added bonus. The maintenance schedule for GM's Vortec engines has been significantly enhanced. That means more time between service on a number of systems, including coolant and spark plugs. That's a direct time and cost savings for truck owners.

In fact, engineers have poured over every detail of these engines in an effort to deliver customers the best product on the market. Every seal. Every sensor. Every system.
