SUMMITER HELD AS DRUNKEN DRIVER

Arrested After Car Collides Head-On With Another

Charged with drunken driving, Victor A. Dunder, 29, a carpenter, of 34 DeForest avenue, Summit, was arrested by Patrolman Nelson Siles Sunday at 6 p. m., after his car had collided with one driven by Grove A. Stanton, of 811 Dorlan road, Westfield, in front of the Municipal Building, at Flermer avenue and North Trivett avenue. Eric Gustafson, of 317 Millburn avenue, Millburn, a passenger in the alleged drunken driver's car, was slightly injured with cuts about the head and face.

After Stanton signed a complaint against him, Dunder was taken to headquarters, where he was pronounced unfit to operate an automobile by Dr. Henry P. Dengler, and was held in $250 bail for appearance before Recorder Spinning.

TO GIVE LECTURE ON "THE ORIENT"

Will Be Held Tonight In the Presbyterian Church

Roger Underwood of Elizabeth will give an illustrated talk on "Traveling In the Orient," tonight in the First Presbyterian Church at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent Society. Mr. and Mrs. Underwood, who recently returned after a four-months trip around the world, took with them a moving picture camera and have taken many interesting pictures. Mr. Underwood is a former trustee of the historical church, and Mrs. Underwood is the daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Frazer who was for many years pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark. Some of the pictures taken are colored ones of cherry blossom time in Japan.

No tickets of admission are being distributed, but a free will offering will be taken and the proceeds given to the Ladies' Society. The public is invited to attend the lecture. After the entertainment a reception will be held in the chapel for Mr. and Mrs. Underwood and refreshments will be served.

ASK ABOLITION OF AUTO JUNKYARD

A petition, signed by residents of Springfield Heights, asking that an automobile junkyard which exists near their residence in Mountain avenue be abolished, was presented to the Township Committee at a special meeting Wednesday evening by Frank Carter of Remig avenue. Bearing twenty-six signatures, it asked that action be taken immediately. Mr. Larson explained to Mr. Carter that an ordinance for the removal of these places, which are a detriment is being prepared now by Mr. Weeks, the township attorney and will be presented soon to the board.

Consulting Engineer, Following Conference With Committee Submits Report To It

SEWER TRENCHES NOT COMPLETELY SETTLED

Because of sewer excavations, Springfield streets cannot be paved at the present time, but must have settled sufficiently before any paving action can be taken, according to a report given to the Township Committee the early part of this week by Thomas F. Rowe, the consulting engineer, after Mr. Rowe, together with the members of the town board made an inspection of every street in the township.

According to Mr. Rowe's report, "The surface conditions of Springfield streets are such that they hold surface and sub-surface waters. From the inception of frost until weather moderates, there is always a doubt whether final settlement has taken place. In many streets here, there exists a 14-foot and 16-foot pavement with the original surface or ground acting as shoulders. Traffic naturally takes the path of least resistance which would avoid the center line trenches, therefore cutting deeply into the unprotected shoulders. To eliminate this, attempts have been made to remove mounds from center-line trenches. The main factor for relief lies with the arrival of spring and summer temperatures, with attendant drying up of underground conditions. Relief will occur at this time."

The following part of the report shows the plan of action for relief: "Thoroughfares first restored to their original order will be those upon which the greatest volume of traffic is experienced. No condition exists in Springfield which does not exist anywhere else, namely that the municipality suffers the inconvenience attached to installing sewer pipes. Those who have been inconvenienced by the construction work will bear with the engineer and governing body that full and complete relief will follow shortly."

"The weather of the past winter has been such that constructive work was impossible. At one time extremely warm weather was prevalent and the layman assumed that that would be an excellent time for construction work. But in twenty-four hours, the temperature was back to freezing. When the time came there will be no delay for complete restoration of street surfaces."

THOMAS F. ROWE, Consulting Engineer.

WANTED—COACH DOG FOR FIRE COMPANY

The Springfield Volunteer Fire Department is well-equipped, and has supplies of every kind, with inhalators, chemicals, etc., but it lacks having a coach dog, a white dog with black spots, as nearly every fire-house in the country has. If any reader should know of a family in town or out-of-town who would give a coach dog to the local department where it will be given a good home and excellent care, the members of the volunteer company would appreciate the good deed.

EXPLORER TELLS OF AFRICAN TRAVELS

Colonel Harry Eustace Lectures In James Caldwell School

A motion-picture exhibition and talk on "African Animals and Jungle Life" was given in the auditorium of the James Caldwell School Monday morning by the well-known African explorer, Colonel Harry Eustace, before four hundred pupils and members of the faculty. Colonel Eustace, who has been traveling in the African jungles for thirty-six years, has collected a motion picture of some rare jungle scenes and as he flashed them upon a screen in the auditorium, he gave an explanation to each picture. The lecture lasted for an hour.

Animals of all sorts, lions, tigers, hippopotamuses, rhinos, giraffes, zebras, monkeys, and every African beast known in nature were exhibited. Several of the scenes were thrilling, especially one in which two rhinoceroses battled to death. In the lecture, Colonel Eustace spoke of narrow escapes he had when several animals nearly trampled him to death. The Colonel exhibits his pictures throughout the entire United States and is accompanied on his trips and lectures by his wife. He has lectured in Paris, London, Yonkers, as well as cities on the Pacific Coast here. During the World War he served in the British Army in Africa as a scout.

Biggett were also presented with roses, as well as William Wagner, president of the society. Consider a few of the basic facts that make the new Chevrolet Six such a thoroughly sound investment.

It offers a great six-cylinder valve-in-head engine, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower... assuring the smooth, quiet, resilient performance which is so essential in a modern automobile.

It offers the all-weather braking efficiency of internal-expanding, completely enclosed 4-wheel brakes—big, powerful, quiet and easy to apply. It offers the modern riding comfort of four long semi-elliptic, chrome-vanadium steel springs—under the cushioned control of Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers.

It offers the greater beauty, comfort and safety of bodies by Fisher—built of selected hardwood and steel... and providing thousands upon thousands of miles of quiet, care-free service.

In fact, every important engine advancement has been incorporated in the new Chevrolet Six. With all these important advancements—coupled with greatly reduced prices for the entire Chevrolet line—it is only logical that thousands are saying every day—"The New Chevrolet Six is a wise motor car investment!"

Smith, Claire Dampfeler, Camille Ladner, Anna Richards, and Dorothy Plant. Miss Perrot is the coach of the team. A game was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, but it was cancelled.

The boys' team lost to Linden Junior High on Tuesday by the score of 38 to 11.

The school orchestra, with Mr. Mayer in charge, will give its first exhibition Monday in the assembly period.

Stop, Look, Listen...and if necessary, Get Out!

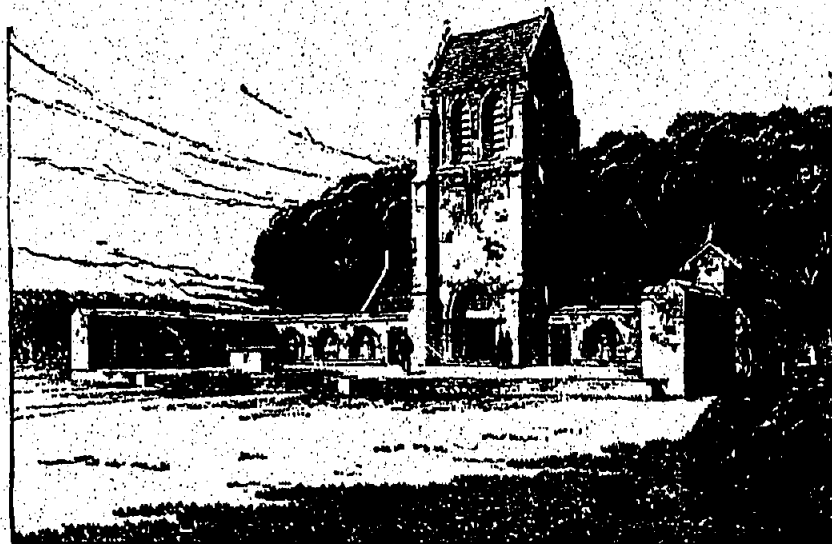

That, in effect, is the mandate of the United States Supreme Court to motorists who use railroad grade crossings. In this ruling, the highest court in the land held that, regardless of warning sounds or signals, it is incumbent on the driver of an automobile to get out of his car if that is necessary to determine definitely whether a train is dangerously near. If he does not do this, he enters the crossing at his own risk.

In New Jersey alone in the past ten years, 800 lives have been lost in grade crossing accidents. Most of this appalling toll might have been avoided by ordinary care and vigilance. Much of it would have been avoided if New Jersey were not lagging far behind almost every other progressive State in the matter of grade crossing abolition.

New Jersey highway traffic has increased more than 600% in 15 years and will continue to increase for many years to come. Railroad traffic, on the other hand, is not above the level of 1920 and there is an impending decrease due to the heavy diversion of traffic to the highways. Obviously, New Jersey and its citizens must accept a fair share of the responsibility for the gradual abolition of the 2932 grade crossings in the State. Just as obviously, every motorist who must use grade crossings has the sole ultimate responsibility for his own safety.

Be more than careful when you approach a railroad grade crossing. Heed the warning signs and signals. But remember, even these may fail—and death is always lurking there.

ORGANIZED RELIGION

The newspapers for weeks past have carried stories of the campaign which Soviet Russia appears to be waging against organized religion in its dominions.

This campaign has proceeded to the extent, in the opinion of the clergy, amounting not merely to propagation of non-belief, but actual persecution of religion.

Conflicting accounts come from Russia. Some stress the hardships inflicted on orthodox faiths. Others deprecate the reports. Officialdom itself denies persecution. The authorities claim the right to foster such ideas as they may wish to entertain on any subject, and to disseminate them among their own people, leaving it to the people to decide.

Some observers think there is more agitation outside of Russia than in Russia itself over the subject. The understandable protests which have been lodged by the respective heads of the great religious faiths may have an effect opposite to that intended.

Russia has, in the past, shown an inclination to resent external advice or suggestion. The Soviet Government has, in fact, shrewdly made use of them to organize their followers more closely and even gather within their fold hostile internal units, on the plea of aggression from outside.

Any attempt to root out religion is futile. Though the Soviets may properly arrogate to themselves the right of non-belief, just as properly they should not seek to take away from others the right of belief. The instinct to religion is older than government. Certainly it has deeper roots than a mere temporary and questionable expedience, such as Bolshevism is.

The more radical Soviets may take strange comfort in tilting against traditions and institutions which others hold in reverence. But there are millions today, there have been millions in the past, and there will continue to be millions who find solace and supreme consolation in religion, and to whom faith is the most felicitous of blessings. Some faith, whether it be of a prescribed form, or individual to the person, is an inescapable outlet for unanswerable questions, and is necessary to peace of the soul.

History contains examples of Orthodoxy seeking to suppress the desire for free expression. Russia furnishes an instance of a contrary sort, with boasted freedom of thought itself becoming the bigot.

—and the Worst is Yet to Come

Rambling Around SPRINGFIELD

On the first page of this newspaper is a request from the fire company for a coach-dog or fire dog. The article was already written when the author was warned to differentiate as to the breed of dog which would fit the purpose. One fireman remarked that perhaps if the article did not mention the kind of dog every "mutt" and "garbage-hound" in creation would be dumped at the steps of the firehouse. However, this would prove beneficial for the dog-pound authorities during an unmuzzled season drive, but, being serious, if any one does have a fire-dog pup, that is, a white spotted Dalmatian canine, give him to the fire company and honorable mention of the good deed will be told everywhere.

Federal census enumerators will thrive about April 1, and then the great riot will begin. Questions of birth, employment, will be hurled at every doorstep, and quite a few census-takers will be hurled out of homes. Women, in response to questions of age, will say: "Why, of all the nerve! I'm twenty-five if I'm a day." According to regulations, if a person refuses to give his age, as he is allowed to do by law, then the approximate age must be ascertained by looks and appearance.

Some women look as young as the "girl with the school-girl complexion," while others look like a dowager of the Victorian Age. So, be prepared, in glancing over the statistics of the federal census about April of next year, if one is in doubt as to the authenticity of the average of married women in the United States, or even men, just save yourself hours of doubting, truths, or mistruths, and multiply the given number by 137 1/2 per cent. You're sure to be in the right.

Residents of Springfield who are up in arms about the surface conditions of their streets as a result of the sewer excavations will be of a compromising nature after they have read the report of Thomas F. Rowe, consulting engineer, which is in another column of this newspaper.

Most of the people in town, as the article reads, are of the opinion that as soon as warm weather appears, then and only then is the proper time to start to fix the streets. Of course, after a frost appears in twenty-four hours, no comment is made, only a "It's certainly got colder today. It seems impossible to forecast weather conditions."

"This is the same proposition contractors run up against in planning to remove inconveniences to property owners," as Mr. Rowe states in his report. "Just as soon as a positive forecast can be made that the weather is mild and favorable, then action in repairing streets will be taken."

SPRINGFIELD BUSINESS REVIEW

COAL FIRM HAS OLD BACKGROUND

Union County Coal & Lumber Co. Was Founded in 1840

The Union County Coal and Lumber Company is the oldest concern of its kind in this section. Founded in 1840 by Ziba Sickley, one of the pioneer settlers of Springfield, it existed at the time Springfield was a dot on the map and contained nothing but cow pastures. It is at present under the management of Nicholas C. Schmidt, who purchased it in 1919 from the present Tax Assessor Elmer Sickley, son of the founder. Mr. Schmidt is vice-president of the First National Bank and vice-president of the Battle Hill Building and Loan Association.

From a small clientele, Mr. Schmidt has built the business up until now it is enjoying the patronage of many of the surrounding towns, such as Millburn, Wyoming, Short Hills, Mountainside, Maplewood, Union and a large portion of Springfield.

The company specializes in the sale of Lehigh and Plymouth Red Ash Coal and assures excellent delivery service, having available for the purpose four powerful trucks and two teams of horses. There is also two automobiles used for the office.

Besides selling coal, one may obtain at the company lumber, trim, sash, door and builder's materials.

Evidence as to the size of this concern is shown by the fact that its grounds occupy fully four acres on both sides of the Rahway Valley Railroad, extending close to two hundred yards on each side. A large coal trestle built by Elmer Sickley in 1906 is nearby the office of the company on Mountain avenue. When the railroad was opened in 1906, the first load of coal off the trains was used for the company's stock, and in 1860 the older Ziba Sickley took the first load of coal off the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad in Millburn, when that route was opened. At that time the yards of the company were in the rear of the present Lyons building in Morris avenue.

The Union County Coal and Lumber Company is this year selling for the first time that popular fertilizer, Vigoro, and can supply any amount desired.

Your Birthday by Stella

Is this your birthday? You are honest and straightforward, and you have a keen sense of appreciation in music and literature. You have high ideals, and if you will only live up to them you will find success—and probably plenty of money before you die.

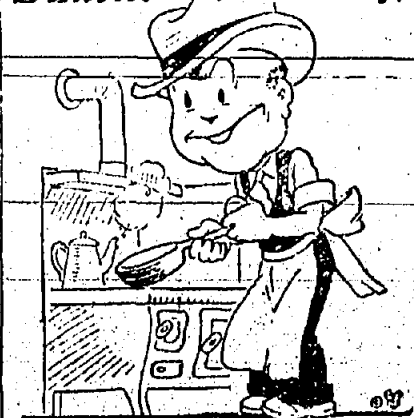

Then you are steadfast in your convictions no matter what other people think. Once you have made up your mind concerning a thing it is difficult for you to change it. However, you are fair-minded, and once a person can convince you through actual facts that you are wrong, you are gracious enough to admit it and to alter your opinion.

Women born on this day are also very sympathetic, and they are interested in people—and in humanity in general. The problems of those about them are of interest. Women born on this day will probably have a large number of love affairs in their lives—perhaps because their sympathetic nature attracts the opposite sex—and a man always likes to have some one interested in him. Guard against being a flirt, however, for this will only bring you unhappiness. But once you have found your real love, your home life and marriage will be steadfast and happy.

Among those who were born on this day are: Sydney Shields, actress; Simon Cameron, statesman; Oliver Wendell Holmes, Supreme Court Justice; Homer Davenport, cartoonist and E. P. Roe.

Chitterling of West Orange, an authority on landscape gardening, addressed members of the Ladies' Benevolent Society of the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday afternoon on the subject of "Trees". Mrs. Chitterling, a sister of Mrs. Isabel Rumyon, owner of the Elizabeth Nurseries, told of the effect of beautiful trees on communities and added that the Oranges here in New Jersey were ranked with such cities as Portland, Maine, Springfield, Mass., and many others as one of the heaviest tree-laden cities in the United States. Mrs. Chitterling criticized the removing of trees for highway purposes and failing to compensate for the loss by planting trees to take the place of those cut down.

AT ROTH-LYRIC

On Broadway and those of New York who attend stage play producers in that city are unanimous in stating that George Roesner's farce-comedy drama, "She Got What She Wanted," was the most talked of presentation on Broadway last season. Knowing this to be a fact, in looking about for the next offering of the Counts' Stock Players, Mr. Counts decided that this celebrated whimsical comedy-drama would fill the bill nicely. Accordingly, "She Got What She Wanted" will be staged at the Roth-Lyric Theatre, Summit, on Wednesday of next week, March 12, where, no doubt, it will do what it has done everywhere else, attract great attendance.

"She Got What She Wanted" right now is in great demand for stage presentation by stock companies in theatres throughout the entire country. Last week there were exactly thirty-two cities and towns in the United States and Canada in which "She Got What She Wanted" was presented anywhere from one to six days during the week. Such is the tremendous success and popularity of this play as a stock players attraction. So you can readily see that its entertainment value is an established fact.

George Roesner, its author, has been equally as successful in his writing for the vaudeville stage, as well as that of the spoken drama. "She Got What She Wanted" is not just a simple comedy affair, with one laugh provoking incident following another, void of rhyme or reason, as its title might cause one to think. Of course the comedy angle predominates and exceeds the dramatic episodes; but the drama is there, that is just enough to be a pleasing contrast and to better emphasize the humorous side of the play.

The next offering by the John E. Counts Players at the Roth-Lyric Theatre, Summit, will be the New York World Pulitzer prize-winning play, "Hell Bent for Heaven," a splendid story, and it will be staged here on Wednesday, March 19th, at half-past eight.

AT ROTH-STRAND

Ellen Beach Yaw is said to be a consistent "first nighter" at the opening of any new Duncan Sisters attraction, whether it be stage or screen. The great prima donna's interest in the two girls' dates back to the days when she took them under wing and gave them their first vocal lessons. She was one of those present at the premiere of "It's a Great Life," in Los Angeles. This is their brand-new talking, dancing and singing picture which is now being shown at the Roth-Strand, Summit, this Friday and Saturday. It was directed by Sam Wood and filmed with technicolor sequences.

"The Voice from the Sky," the 100 per cent sound and dialogue mystery-serial-story-in-ten-chapters will be presented as a Saturday matinee special, Chapter No. 1, "Doomed," will be screened this Saturday afternoon. Wally Wales and Jean Dolores are the featured leading players.

A mysterious voice, known as the "voice from the sky" booms out on the ether at periodic intervals, warning the nations of the world that unless they disarm, he, the "voice from the sky" will nullify all electrical energy and bring the world to a standstill.

One of the oddest hobbies known is credited to P. Mason Hopper who co-directed with James Forbes, Norma Shearer's new starring talking picture, "Their Own Desire," which is to be at the Strand Summit next Monday and Tuesday.

Hopper, an expert amateur chef, collects rare cook books in any language, having a library of more than 1,000 volumes containing unusual culinary recipes.

Robert Montgomery plays opposite Miss Shearer in the adaptation of the Sarita Fuller novel. The supporting cast includes Lewis Stone, Belle Bennett, Helen Millard, Cecile Cunningham, Mary Doran and June Nash.

Fashionable London in action—a café glittering with uniforms and brilliant gowns—the forced, hectic safety of Piccadilly—the sinister wail of the Maron, the air raid warning siren—out of the streets—crowds rushing in terror through the darkness—the wavering pencils of searchlights feeling through the clouds—the distant crack of shrapnel and the oncoming roar of Zeppelin bombs and crashing buildings—such is the beginning of one of the many spectacular scenes in "The Sky Hawk," a movie-tone all talking picture, opening at the Strand, Summit, next Wednesday and Thursday.
